The Advantage of Being an American

How much do we really appreciate our American Heritage? So often, we take it for granted just as we take the process of breathing for granted, but someday, we might not have that heritage if we don't begin to realize how precious it is.
The other day I read a story about an African boy who traveled over ten thousand miles just to attend college in the United States. How many Americans would go that far to take advantage of the things America has to offer? It is good for us to hear of and to see such incidents, because they tend to bring out our patriotic spirit and to make us realize how fortunate we truly are. The fact that we aren't aware of the wonderful opportunities which are offered us only demonstrates that when we can easily have something we don't want it, but when it's as far fetched as the heavens, we think it is the most precious thing in the world.

Student Council Elections Planned

The main order of business at the Student Council meeting Feb. 5 was to discuss plans for the election of officers of the 1962-63 Student Council.
In order to run in the election, a person must secure a petition with the names of ten persons who will support him, and he must pay an entrance fee of $1.00. Campaigning can begin Monday, February 12, and the speeches and election will be Thursday, Feb. 15. Run-offs will be held Friday.

Library News

Attention, auto lovers! On display in the library is a new reference book, "The Treasury of the Automobile," by Ralph Stein.

Mr. Stein has been interested in cars almost all his life. Today, as automobile editor of "This Week Magazine," he writes regularly about cars for the largest audience enjoyed by any expert. His book tells about the extraordinary Eighteenth Century beginning of the automobile, the early races and rallies, the later electric cars and steamers, sports cars, etc. The book is illustrated throughout with beautiful colored pictures. Any automobile lover will enjoy reading this book.

Spanish Supper

Last Thursday night, the home of Linda McClain was the site of much activity as the Spanish Club met for a delightful supper. The candlelighted room and soft music produced an atmosphere which perfectly complemented the delicious food. After eating, the club members tried some Latin dances—mambo, samba, rumba. The Spanish Club wants to thank Tamara, Dorothy McClain, Mary Sandlin and Mrs. ten Brink for preparing the food and the Bill McClains for inviting the group to their home.

Blind Gymnast Entertains

On Thursday, Feb. 1, a Southern Assembly physical education program was presented at 1:30 by Eddie Motter. Totally blind from childhood, Eddie performed unbelievable hand balancing stunts and amazing feats on the parallel bars that he has never seen. He had a message for the youth that was stimulating and morally elevating. This program—entertaining and inspiring—was of value to all.

The Search for Charlie Brown

Where was he? Charlie Brown was nowhere to be found! Lost in the cold, outer world was the leader of the Charlie Brown combo. Just think, Charlie Brown lost in a placid oblivion unworthy of even Adolph Eichmann. Our search was futile. Everywhere, Charlie had been but had left. We were not on the trail but slow on the draw. However, at last, we encountered the improbable

Charlie Brown sipping cider in the shade of the old apple tree. Joyous was the occasion for a reunion! Charlie Brown had been found!
Sports fans, the glass world of basketball has fallen in on us again. Monday has again dripped past our team by one unconspectacular point, leaving the district in a three-way tie. Have you ever seen such a mixed up situation as we've had? Next week will tell the tale about the winner of the western half of the district.

"Twist" Party

The Freshman class met at 7 p. m. Thursday, at Teen Town for a class party. Admission for the dance was a quarter. Everyone learned to do the "twist," and they enjoyed it thoroughly. We wish to thank our sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wall, for making the party a success.

Band News

Friday night the Crowell band held its annual Talent Show. The proceeds, about $200.00, will help the stage band to buy new uniforms and to finance their annual trip to Brownwood. The winners were: first place, Gail Smith, piano selections; second place, drill team, dance routine; third place, a group of 8th grade students with a hill-billy act. Other entries were Faunette's twirling corps; Diane White's twirling solo, and a sixth grade play. Between acts, Sue Sanders sang "I Don't Know Why" accompanied by the Charlie Brown combo. Before and after the program, the Crowell stage band played. The Crowell High School band would like to thank everyone who had a part in this show, especially those who attended.
This coming week end, the stage band will go to a contest in Wichita Falls. We all wish them the best of luck and hope they come home with a first place trophy.

The Blab

With all the sickness this week, not much has been happening. However, we managed to scrape up these tidbits.
Monday night at the Talent Show: Carolyn - Dale, Barbara - Paul Bax, Gena - Gerald, Sue - Jackie, Vicky - Claude, Beverlie - John, Larry - Alta.
Ronnie and Carria were seen together Wednesday and Thursday nights in the city.
Tuesday night together after the ball game: Carria - Ronnie, Alta - Larry, Barbara - Jon Lee, Chuck - Faunette, Terry-Barbara.
At the canteen Friday night were Phillip-Ruth.
Together after the freshman party were Bill H.-Sherry S., Ken-Elaine, Freddy-Jean, Otis J.-Jill C.
At the ball game Friday night were Jackie - Sue, Ronnie - Carria, Bob - Lynda, John - Beverlie, Dale - Carolyn, Jim Mac - Gaye, Jon Lee-Mary Ann.
Mary Sue, who was your new admirer Saturday? The scandal editors know.
Newest campus romance: Hodge-Pearl.
At the Plaza Saturday night were Jackie - Sue, Bob - Lynda, Larry - Alta, James Riley - Earlyn, Kenny - LauRue, Johnny - Mary Ann.
Seen at Quannah Saturday night were Boob - Eddy.
Making the rounds Saturday night were Judy L.-Dale D.
Larry - Alta, Johnny - Barbara were at Barbara's house Sunday night.
Carria, Chuck and Faunette visited Saturday night with Ronnie in the hospital.
The sparkle on the third finger of Sue's left hand is nearly as big as the sparkle in her eyes. Best of luck to Sue and Jackie.
Triangle of the week: Otis S.-Violet-Otis J.
Why is Freddy's favorite expression, "No, I better not."
Kathy J., you had better watch your good friends. They are trying to beat your time with Lynn Newell from Quannah.
Bulletin: Beware of six or nine girls in either a gray '58 Impala or in a '56 blue and white Olds.
Broken steady—Bob-Lynda.
Couples Sunday afternoon were Boob-Eddy, Donald-Sharon, Bob-Lynda, Carria-Ronnie (at the hospital).
Couples at the United Youth Sunday night were Gerald - Gena, Kenny-LaRue, Beverlie-John.
What was wrong with Sharon, LaRue and Barbara Sunday? Sick? Seen riding around Monday night were Bill H.-Arcina, Kenny-LaRue.
Hey, Woody, with your skill and luck, you might make a fortune.
We wonder how some people manage to get a vacation in the winter.
Can it be possible that Beverlie Gray is going to open a dance studio specializing in the twist? No, no such luck.
Why was Kenny the wallflower of the Spanish Club dance? LaRue, do you know anything about this?
Paul Bax's new nickname—P. S.
Why were Junior and Sammy running around at the airport Friday night?

Resolution for Public Schools Week in Texas

Whereas: the security and future progress of our Nation depend more than ever before on the adequacy of our schools, and
Whereas: Since the founding of the Texas Public School System 108 years ago, the growth and development of our State has been tied closely to the educational advantages available to Texas citizens and depend upon the continuance and furtherance of educational opportunities for all Texas children, and
Whereas: The Texas Citizens' Committee for Public Schools Week has worked diligently and effectively since 1950 in cooperation with local school officials to bring the one purpose of Texas Public Schools Week to the attention of all the people in Texas; and records show that the number of people visiting public schools during 1961, the eleventh year of the observance increased to more than 2,000,000; and
Whereas: Members of the Board are grateful for this continued interest of the people of Texas in their public schools,
Be It Therefore Resolved: That the State Board of Education

hereby designates the week of March 5 through March 11, as the twelfth annual Public Schools Week in Texas, and all citizens in the State to a public school during that week.

That the State Commission of Education and the State Department of Education staff join with the State Board of Education in encouraging school administrators and teachers to work with individual parents, parent-teacher associations, and other organizations and agencies interested in improving educational opportunities available to the children of their respective communities, and
That Public Schools Week suggested as an appropriate week for local school officials to plan school events and educational programs which will give to each pupil and to each citizen who visits the schools a better understanding of the vital importance of the public schools in a country governed by and for the people.

Filter Protects Air Intake System For Family-Size Fallout Shelters

A suburban family takes to earth—as mother passes the children to father at the entrance to their underground fallout shelter. A new dry-type Purulorator air filter prevents radioactive contamination of air intake systems.

Rahway, New Jersey — Development of a dry type air filter which prevents radioactive contamination of air intake systems on fallout shelters has been announced by Purulorator Products, Inc., here. The new filter — a variation of the company's standard automotive air filter — provides complete filtration of all airborne particles as small as five microns (the smallest-size particle visible to the human eye is 40 microns).
According to Purulorator filter engineers, the new filter is most necessary on large family-size shelters equipped with air intake systems which may draw fallout particles into the shelter. For small shelters where the air is not being pumped in, Civil Defense bulletins say a simple hooded air intake pipe or elbow-

Instructional Improvement and School Accreditation

The responsibility for determining what it takes to make a good instructional program is that of the local community. The State has the responsibility for establishing minimum standards only and to give leadership to local schools in improving the program.
In carrying out its legal responsibility, the State Board of Education in 1961 approved revisions in the principles and standards for accrediting elementary and secondary schools. These changes resulted from a two-year curriculum improvement study conducted by a state-wide committee and by local schools.
The revised principles and standards will replace present standards in September, 1962. Local schools are now making plans to implement the standards which were made available to schools by the Texas Education Agency in November, 1961.
The Principles and Standards for Accrediting Elementary and Secondary Schools provide the basis for local schools to evaluate programs of instruction, to determine the extent to which standards are being met, and to locate areas for improvement. Course descriptions, grades 7-12, were included to assist local schools in developing courses of study.
In visiting and observing schools during Texas Public Schools Week, parents and other citizens may be interested in discussing with school personnel the effect of the revised standards on:
1. School Board Policies.
2. School Objectives.
3. Course Offerings.
4. 7th and 8th Grade Requirements.
5. Graduation Requirements.
6. Preparation of Staff.
7. Teaching Methods (local guides and courses of study, teacher plans, and the like).
8. Guidance Services.
9. Special Services to Students (cafeteria, library, school buses, and other services).
10. The Instructional Materials.
11. The Activity Program.
12. The School Plant.
13. Balance in Educational Opportunities on All School Campuses.

66 or More Casualties
 in 1961 Hunts

Reports of 66 hunter casualties were received from wardens of the Game and Fish Commission for the calendar year 1961, according to T. D. Carroll, coordinator of information and education of the Game and Fish Commission.

Of the 66 reports, all but three involved guns—shotguns, rifles, or pistols. One hunter was the victim of a heart attack, one lady fell from a hunting stand in a tree and was badly bruised, and one male hunter fell from a tree and broke his back.

Twenty youths (under 21 years of age) were victims of shooting accidents—seven of them fatal.

In 36 of the 63 shooting accidents, the victims were also the shooters. Included in this number were eight pistol victims, most of whom were practicing the "quick draw."

Rifles were the firearms involved in 33 of the accidents—shotguns in 22.

Nineteen, or 30 per cent, of the shooting accidents reported by field men were fatal. Women were listed in two of the accidents, though only one was involved in a firearm accident. The other fell from a tree.

The reorganization of the Game and Fish Commission went into effect September 1, 1961, at the beginning of the hunting season. Many field personnel were shifted to new areas and this, no doubt, influenced the efficiency of their reporting.

A check of news clippings from the various newspapers published in the state revealed 10 hunting accidents reported for the months of November and December which were not reported by Game and Fish Commission field men, who reported 30 during that same period of time.

Of these 10 additional casualties, six were fatal and, of the six, four were known to be youths. During the months of November and December, eight hunters reportedly fell victim to fatal heart attacks while hunting. The average age of these victims was 54.4 years.

Several unusual accidents occurred. One man broke his ankle stepping from a jeep. In another instance, a jeep overturned and the hunter's leg was lacerated when he fell on his gun.

Two youngsters were injured in target practicing—one the victim of a ricochet. Another youth, a 15-year-old lad, was fatally shocked when the water pipe he was lifting to dislodge a rabbit came in contact with a power line.

Most of the accidents were the result of careless gun handling. However, in six instances, according to Game and Fish Commission reports, victims were mistaken for deer. One hunter mistook two hunters for deer and injured both of them at the same time. Of the six "mistaken for deer" casualties, one was fatal.

One accident concerned a 14-year-old boy sitting in a tree, who was mistaken for a bird and fatally wounded by an adult hunter.

Although the official Uniform Hunter Report of the Game and Fish Commission was recorded as received (66 accidents, 19 fatalities), there is no doubt that the totals were appreciably higher and that 25 or more Texas hunters lost their lives in hunting accidents during 1961.

Riverside H. D. Club

At the second January meeting of the Riverside Club, the members assembled at the club room at 2 p. m., Jan. 30, Mrs. Adkins brought the opening exercises.

Plans for entertaining the county federation were discussed. The president appointed necessary committees.

Mrs. Ayers, as leader, presented a very interesting program on civil defense with all present taking part in an informal discussion. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Ayers on Feb. 6. The recreation chairman, Mrs. Bachman, had a very clever contest. Mrs. Bachman, the hostess, served bottled drinks and cookies to eight members and two guests. Mrs. Hardy became a member of the club.

New Records

President Philip A. Flegler of the Edison Electric Institute reports: "During 1961 the total electric utility industry achieved new records in power production, capability and sales—despite a business recession in the first months of the year and a lower than expected increase in business activity during the later months. This continued growth maintained the United States' commanding lead over all other nations in the world in electric power. During the year, too, investor-owned electric companies announced plans for an $8-billion, 10-year program to strengthen and add to their nationwide network of transmission lines. This will more than double the present company investment in transmission facilities."

Placement Tests Scheduled Feb. 17 for Peace Corps

A new round of Peace Corps Placement Tests will be given at 8:30 a. m. February 17 in centers throughout the country.

Those taking the tests will be considered for the many new projects scheduled to begin this spring and summer in Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

Anyone interested in applying for these projects may do so by taking the tests and then filling in a Peace Corps questionnaire, or vice versa.

Among the many fields providing opportunities for Peace Corps service are teaching, nursing, engineering, plumbing, carpentry, agriculture, medicine, home economics, architecture, city planning, geology, physical education.

While some of the projects call for technical skills, many others require men and women without such formal or specialized training. Among these are liberal arts graduates for community development projects and people with general farming backgrounds to serve as instructor-demonstrators in poultry and livestock care, irrigation, fertilization, and horticulture.

"No one should automatically exclude himself from consideration because he considers himself either too highly skilled or not skilled enough," Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver said in announcing the tests. "We will match qualifications to the growing requests we are receiving from abroad."

The minimum age for applicants is 18; there is no maximum.

At the testing centers, each person will be given his choice between two types of placement tests.

One is for men and women who would like to be considered for positions as secondary-school or college teachers. To take one of these tests, you need a bachelor's degree but you do not need to be an accredited teacher.

The other test is for everyone who wants to serve in the Peace Corps.

After a break for lunch, anyone who wishes may return for an additional optional hour of testing in a field not covered by the morning session.

Prune Freeze-Damaged Plants, But Not Now

If you're like most other Texans, you have some ornamental plants in your yard that were damaged by the recent hard freezes. The natural inclination is to remove the damaged growth, but Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist, advises against being too hasty.

If there is any doubt that twigs and branches have been killed it is best to wait a few weeks until such damage can be easily seen, says Smith. At that time, prune the plant back to live wood by making the pruning cut several inches below the last sign of dead wood.

To find out how much of a shrub has been killed, use a knife or the thumbnail to scratch into the cambium layer, just beneath the bark, says Smith. Discoloration of this layer is a sign that the plant needs cutting back below such damage. If any bark has been split or cracked, this area should also be cut out. Often the damage is to the outside twigs and branches, and the plant will need only a slight clipping back.

Pruning shears should be dipped in a disinfectant such as 70 per cent denatured alcohol between cuts, the specialist advises. With trees and large shrubs the cut end should be painted with shellac. After the shellac has dried, a wound dressing or disinfectant tree paint should be applied to the exposed area. You will get best results if you inspect the dressed surfaces periodically and recoat them once or twice a year. Before recoating, clean the wound with a stiff wire brush to remove all blisters and loose flakes. Be careful not to cover the new growth with these additional applications of wound dressing.

Smith says one way to lessen damage in case of another freeze is to water the plants thoroughly as soon as pipes thaw. This prevents drying, which causes more damage than the cold.

For more information on pruning, contact your local county agent and ask for a copy of B-977, "Modern Pruning Methods."

Methodist W. S. C. S.

The Methodist Pioneer Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. Clarence Bounds, Monday, Feb. 5, at 3 p. m. with Mrs. Fred Webba presiding.

The group sang "Faith of Our Fathers," then Mrs. R. J. Thomas led in prayer. Mrs. Webba presented the meditation scripture from Psalms 22, after which Mrs. G. L. Cole gave "The Progress of the Church in Latin America." Mrs. Webba gave an interesting discussion on "The Mission of the Methodist Missionary Work in Latin America and Cuba." Mrs. Frank Fleisher dismissed the group in prayer.

A lovely refreshment plate was served by the hostess, Mrs. Bounds, to nine members.

Monday, February 12, at 3:30 p. m., all three circles will meet in a business session at the church.

$173 Billion

During the 1962 fiscal year, says the Tax Foundation, total government spending in this country will come to $173 billion. That amounts to about a third of the gross national product (which is the value of all the goods and services we produce) and represents $3,050 for every American family.

National Guard Members May Be Drafted

Ready reservists of the armed forces who have enlisted under age 26 in the reserve or National Guard since October 4, 1961, and those who enlist in the future, are now subject to immediate induction by draft boards if they participate unsatisfactorily in the reserves.

This is a provision of recently changed draft regulations, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, pointed out this week.

Draft boards do not act to induct the unsatisfactory reservist until he is certified in writing as unsatisfactory by the reserve of which he is a member.

Public law 87-378, passed in the fall of 1961, authorizes this action. Prior to passage of this law, only men who enlisted in the six-month program under age 18 1/2 were liable for immediate induction upon certification for unsatisfactory service.

"Draft boards do not determine whether the reserve service is unsatisfactory," Colonel Schwartz emphasized. "That is a function of the armed forces reserve."

When unsatisfactory reservists are inducted, they are inducted into the branch of the armed forces of which their reserve component is a part, he said.
