Former Residents Like Crowell Best

The following article is reprinted from The Mandrel, company publication of the Ray Geophysical Companies, Mr. Tanner and his family lived in Crowell last year.

When you say "ball of fire" to Alvin Tanner, he thinks immediately of the time that he was observer inside an instrument truck completely enveloped in exactly that. A cap wire had blown over a high line with instant and electrifying effect. Fortunately, Alvin was at the moment touching nothing that would add him to the circuit, and the only injury was to his nerves. He drove the truck to Houston that night for repairs, and found that all the high line potentiometers were burned out, and most of the amplifiers ruined.

Now party manager on conventional seismic crew 3-336 in Albany, Texas, Alvin started his doodlebugging career as a jug hustler for Sun Oil Company in 1943. He worked as shooter and then observer before quitting in 1947 to return to school. In 1948 he left college to join Texas Seismograph Company as observer. He was party manager for that company when they joined the Ray organization in 1962.

Tanner was born and raised near Athens in northeast Texas. He finished high school in Athens and in 1941 married Floyal Maess, then in 1942 joined the Air Force. The Tanners have one son, Keith, who is ten years old. Keith won first place last fall in a Punt, Pass & Kick contest. This past summer he hit eleven home runs in league baseball play. Alvin himself is an avid football fan, and likes to hunt and fish. The whole family bowls and enjoys it very much.

The Tanners nominate Crowell (near the Red River, west of Wichita Falls, Texas) as their favorite doodlebugging base. The town is very small, but its 2,000 residents are the friendliest the Tanners have ever found, and returning to Crowell is just like going back home.

County Receives Moisture in Snows; Mercury Falls to 7

Since Saturday, Dec. 21, Foard County has experienced the coldest spell of the winter and also has been the recipient of two snows and a coating of ice.

Saturday, Dec. 21, a light rain which fell most of the day froze on contact with the ground and made driving extremely hazardous. Then that night, about three inches of snow fell. The snow remained on the ground through Monday and most of it had melted by Christmas day, which was a beautiful day of sunshine and mild temperatures. The weather stayed clear until Sunday morning of this week, when another cloud cover moved into the area. Snow began falling later Sunday afternoon, turned to rain for awhile, and back to snow again after dark. The ground was covered Monday morning, and most of it melted during the day.

A heavy fog enveloped this area most of the day Tuesday, Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

The moisture derived from the two was .18 for the first and .3 for the one this week.

High and low temperatures recorded for the past two weeks follow:

Dec. 18: high 44, low 26.

Floyd "Doc" Borchardt to Seek Re-Election

Floyd "Doc" Borchardt has authorized the News to announce that he will be a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 3 in and for Foard County, Texas, subject to the action of the Democratic Primay. In authorizing the announcement, Mr. Borchardt says: "It has been a pleasure to serve as Commissioner of Precinct Number Three, and I have especially appreciated the courtesy and cooperation afforded me not only by the people of the precinct but of the entire county, and if the people should see fit to re-elect me to this position, it will be my privilege to exert my very best efforts on behalf of the precinct and the county at large."

Phony Tree Doctors

Questionable tree doctors, who not only take citizens for tremendous amounts of money but may harm trees, are being reported from across the state, says Wendell Home, plant pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Unfortunately these so-called tree doctors also give reputable silviculturists a bad name, says the specialist. These operators usually claim that they have secret formulas that will cure ailing trees of all problems. He may drive nails into the tree or spread some "revitalizer" around them. When asked about his cure-all, he usually explains that it is so new that research has not heard about it as yet.

Horne recommends that an unbiased authority, such as the local county agricultural agent, be consulted to diagnose the tree's ailment before bargaining with people that make such claims. It is also advisable for the home owner to inquire about the operator's qualifications to work on trees. Most of the questionable operators usually have no formal training in tree care or plant pathology. The reputable ones are always glad to give their background and qualifications and are willing to back up their claims with scientific data, points out the specialist.

Home owners are reminded by Horne that there are no miracle cures for tree ailments, and when new treatments are found, research and educational organizations immediately make the information available to the public without charge.

Walter Lippman Views a Changing World

Walter Lippman views a changing world: "We are in the 1960s, and we must search our minds lest we accept unexamined the assumptions of the postwar years . . . The paramount theme of the 1940s was the necessity of American intervention to save European civilization from destruction. The paramount theme of the 1950s was to consolidate the western world against the onset of a revolutionary communism. The paramount theme of this decade as we know it thus far is that we are emerging from a two-power world and entering one where there are many powers."

Teens Turn Out by Thousands To Join March of Dimes TAP's

Thousands of teenagers across the nation have found a way to have fun while doing an important community project. They have joined the Teen Age Program (TAP) of the 1964 March of Dimes in the fight against birth defects and arthritis.

Many are helping to carry out the public education program against birth defects, today's greatest unsolved childhood medical problem. Others are assigned to help with the Mothers' March for the March of Dimes. A great many choose to think up their own projects in their schools or suburbs.

Whatever job it is important, because the fight against birth defects is vital to every young person who plans to have his own family someday, after completing school and career preparations.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU: Little Virginia Paige, 5, who was born with a birth defect, gets acquainted with Philip Dawson, 16, of Jamestown, N. Y., and Judy Meyers, also 16, of Aurora, Colo., who were appointed national co-chairmen for the 1964 Teen Age Program (TAP) of the March of Dimes. Thanks to the latest medical techniques, provided by March of Dimes funds, you'd never know that Virginia, who lives in New York with her parents, was born with a serious birth defect.

Heading the TAP program are Judy Meyers, 18, Aurora, Colo., and Philip Dawson, also 18, Jamestown, N. Y., who are the national TAP co-chairmen for the 1964 March of Dimes this January.

Judy, a freshman at the University of Colorado, was a vice president of Mu Alpha Theta, mathematics honor society at Aurora High School, and Philip, a freshman at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, was a member of the National Honor Society at Jamestown High School.

Both young people feel that a high scholastic rating is not only desirable but necessary in today's world. Both feel that good marks give a teen leader added prestige with his peers.

"It's terribly old-fashioned to think that the Big Man on Campus is a 'C' student," Judy and Philip said. "More often than not, he's an 'A' student who is also aware of the importance of community activities."

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Meyers of Aurora. She became a March of Dimes volunteer several years ago because she wanted to do something useful." She decided to study languages at the University of Colorado for the same reason, because she thinks that linguists can be of service to their country in the coming years.

Philip, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dawson of Jamestown, comes from a family active in community service. His father is a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church of Jamestown, and a district commissioner for the Boy Scouts of America. Philip first heard of the March of Dimes through his mother, who was active in the Mothers' March for the March of Dimes during the years the Salk vaccine was being developed and tested.

Currently, Philip plans to go on to law school after college. He has tentative plans for a career in politics, "because I feel that this is an interesting part of our present-day life."

Both young people feel that if teens throughout the country are told the importance of the March of Dimes programs against birth defects, arthritis and polio, they will volunteer in great numbers for January's March of Dimes.

They based their predictions on two things, (1) neither Philip nor Judy ever had any trouble in finding volunteers for their March of Dimes projects in their home states, and (2) both teens pointed to the fact that the Peace Corps never has any trouble in finding volunteers.

"Young people today want to do something useful, along with putting forth every effort to do justice to their scholastic programs," the two national March of Dimes volunteers said. "Just because a teen wears sloppy clothes sometimes and is a little loud other times doesn't mean that he doesn't want to do something worthwhile. The vast majority of teens want very much to be good, useful citizens."

State Capitol Highlights

Austin, Tex. — Pres. Lyndon Johnson's holidays would exhaust most ordinary mortals.

The President arrived in Austin on Christmas Eve, his homecoming delayed by a congressional crisis over the $3,000,000,000 foreign aid bill. Abandoning his announced schedule, he went to the Governor's Mansion for a 30-minute visit with Gov. John Connally.

Stopping his party's helicopter at the ranch of another close friend, A. W. Moursund, the President joined Moursund in an hour of deer hunting, before he finally got home to hang up his Christmas stocking. There he spent a happy time with his family and relatives and numerous close friends.

Christmas Day at the LBJ ranch also found the President confronted with problems. He expressed concern over the fighting in Cyprus, penned messages to Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders and General Cemal Gursel, President of the Republic of Turkey.

Then he took newsmen on a tour of his ranch, handed them ashtrays as presents, and explained a cut he had just ordered in federal employment. All this he did before settling down to his Christmas dinner and the opening of presents under the tree.

Before dawn the next day, he and former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee left "The Little White House" on a deer hunt. Both bagged bucks.

The President was back at the ranch house, working in his office, before noon and conferred with Secretary of State Dean Rusk by telephone, repeatedly, on the Cyprus crisis.

Later, he named a nine-member committee of experts to evaluate foreign economic and military aid programs and recommended how to strengthen them.

In doing his homework for the important Erhard visit, Johnson conferred in person with these distinguished government officials at the ranch: Secretary Rusk, Under Secretary of State George W. Ball, Special Ambassador Christian Herter, Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for national security affairs.

Theodore Sorensen, special White House counsel, was summoned to assist in preparation of the new President's first state of the union message. It will be delivered before the Congress on January 8.

Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and John A. McCone, Central Intelligence Agency director, were among others called to confer with the President, in addition to regular staff members.

Press members from Washington and foreign countries, as well as the native Texans of the State capital beat, were invited back to talk and eat with the President on Friday.

In addition to official talks, there was a program of fun for Chancellor Erhard, a portly expatriate professor. He toured Fredericksburg, home of many German-speaking Texans, and attended church at Bethany Lutheran Church there Sunday. More than 200 turned out for a barbecue luncheon honoring the Chancellor at the Stonewall High School gymnasium three miles from the ranch.

When Erhard departed, Johnson turned immediately back to the national budget and went into a huddle Monday with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and the joint chiefs of staff.

So it went as the President wound up his "holiday" and prepared to return to the regular schedule in Washington.

PRESS COVERAGE — For many years, Austin's stately Driskill Hotel has been President Johnson's home away from home. Now it is the home away from home for some 75 to 200 news reporters. They "cover" the White House, whether it is on the Potomac or the Pedernales.

The Crystal Ballroom, usually the setting for brilliant Christmas and New Year's ball, has been a working pressroom during the 1963 holiday season. The "Press Center" covers the hotel's mezzanine and extends to quarters occupied by White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger and his staff.

In the Driskill, the press corps waits for word of cuts in federal employment, the President's luck at hunting, statements on Cyprus and on repercussions from his meeting with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

One of Many Reasons

Senator Strom Thurmond writes: "To a communist the life of any individual is not worth much because it is society—the planned society—which counts most. To an American who cherishes freedom and individual rights, a life is indeed dear, even where deep political differences exist. Under the American system we settle our differences at the ballot box. Under the communist system, ideological differences are settled with a blood-bath, individually and collectively. This is just one of many reasons why we cannot continue to tolerate the communist ideology, especially in our own midst."

No Clickety-Clacks In Glued Rail Tracks

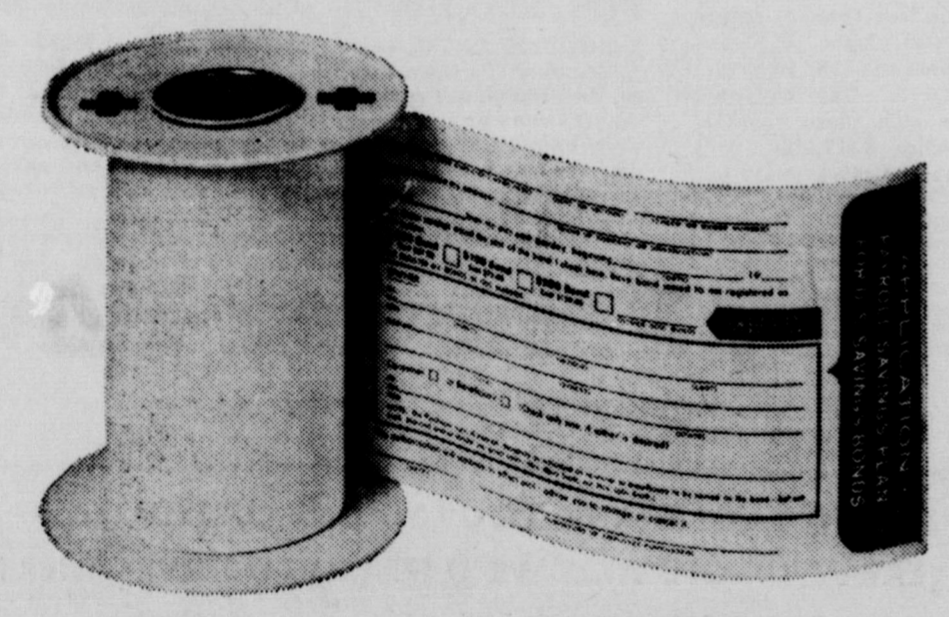

1. (Above) Joint bars and rail ends are sandblasted prior to application of epoxy glue.

2. (Below) Epoxy resin glue is applied to area of contact between rail and joint bar.

3. (Above) Joint bars are replaced and bolts tightened.

4. (Below) A portable propane heater is used to heat area to about 275 degrees Fahrenheit.

Welding rails into 1,440-foot sections removed the clickety-clack, provided a smoother ride, and reduced the problem of damage to rail ends by substituting one joint where there were formerly 37. And for the remaining joints, which average about 8 per mile, Santa Fe Railway is now experimenting with an epoxy resin glue in their current program of laying 245 miles of welded rail during 1963 that may minimize maintenance even more. Gluing ends of the long rails increases strength of the joint assembly, helps keep rail ends in alignment to reduce pounding by passing trains, and greatly reduces the possibility of gaps between rail ends during extreme temperature changes. If tests prove successful, the same process may be applied to the more than 1,800 track miles of welded rail already in service on the Santa Fe.

INSTANT STICKTOITIVENESS

for people who keep slipping up on saving

If you're long on planning to save money, and short on following through, here's an idea that's tailor made for you: The Payroll Savings Plan.

It starts you saving instantly. Doesn't cost you a nickel's worth of will power. And it can give you thousands of dollars in savings before you know it.

The idea of the plan is cunningly simple: you don't save your money, you put somebody else up to it. Your employer.

Every payday you have him set aside a small amount from your pay and put it towards the purchase of a U. S. Savings Bond. You don't see the money that's being saved, so you hardly miss it. And since your employer's not as apt to forget about saving—your nest egg builds up fast.

Millions of Americans use the Payroll Savings Plan to save money, so you know it works. The money you save this way helps your country, too, by giving Uncle Sam financial strength to stand up to the enemies of freedom.

Why not say the word to your paymaster and get started saving this pay-day? Your new perseverance will amaze your friends, your family and yourself.

- #### Quick facts about Series I Savings Bonds
- You get $4 for every $3 at maturity

Miss Margaret Faske Is Bride of Roy S. Brown

Miss Margaret Ann Faske of Wichita Falls and Airman 2-C Roy Stephen Brown of Sheppard Air Force Base were married Saturday, Dec. 21, at 5 p. m. in the Zion Lutheran Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Faske Sr. of Crowell and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Huling T. Brown of Summerville, W. Va.

Rev. Gerald L. Theis, pastor, read the vows in a setting of greenery and white gladioli. An archway, entwined with greenery, featured a white wedding bell at the top.

Musicians were Mrs. Otto Streit, organist, and Mrs. Freddie Guggisberg, vocalist, both of Vernon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white lace over tulle designed with long sleeves and scalloped neckline trimmed with bridesmaid sequins. The full skirt with tiers of lace and pleated nylon net extended to a chapel train in the back. Her elbow-length veil of nylon net was fastened to a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried white gardenias and stephanotis on a white ribbon.

Miss Evelyn Faske of Crowell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was red chiffon designed with a draped bodice with a drape across the shoulders. She wore matching pillbox hat with a short veil and carried a bouquet of gaiety clematis.

Henry A. Faske Jr. of Crowell, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Davis Gossett and Danny Wood, both of Wichita Falls, cousins of the bride. Tony Dantz and Wilbert Sanders, both of Vernon and cousins of the bride, were candlelighters.

The reception was held in the parish hall. Assisting were Mrs. Don Barry, Misses Mildred Graf and Brenda Glissen, all of Wichita Falls, and Miss Gladys Kleschick of Vernon.

The couple will make their home at 2141 1/2 Avenue J, in Wichita Falls.

The bride attended Crowell High School and Midwestern University where she was an Indianette and served as treasurer of Gamma Delta. She is employed at White Stores Inc., as a typist.

Miss Goleman and Aldon Ray Garrett Wed in Cisco

Miss Patricia Lynn Goleman and Aldon Ray Garrett were united in marriage at 4 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 21, in the First Methodist Church in Cisco. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. French Jr., pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Goleman of Cisco. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garrett of Crowell.

Traditional wedding music was played by Charles Kille of Abilene at the organ. Soloist Stanley Webb sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Bobbie Goleman was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a bell skirted dress of Kelly green rayon acetate with overskirt of green chiffon, accented by a bow in back. Her hat of green net featured a bow of matching color, and she wore dyed-to-match shoes. She carried one long-stemmed white rose.

Best man was Charles Ter Brink of Crowell. Tom Goleman, brother of the bride, was usher, and Jimmy Jeffcoat was groomsmen.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length dress of broadcloth acetate with pearlized midriff, accented by a bow in back.

The groom attended schools in the advertising department. West Virginia and is stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base where he is assigned to the civil engineering division.

Crowell Schools Still Short of Meeting State Standards

The report of the accreditation visit of a team composed of J. A. Marshall and W. R. Swann from the Texas Education Agency in Austin has been released by Mike Bird, president of the Crowell school board. The date the team visited the school was October 29, the third such visit since 1961. Their recommendation was "that the Crowell Independent School District be advised that it still is not meeting all accreditation standards fully."

The report further stated: "Lack of adequate physical facilities appears to be the main problem of the Crowell Independent School District in providing a sound instructional program."

The Crowell district operates two school programs. One is a 12-grade program which uses an 8-4 instructional organization, with an enrollment of 340 students in the North Ward Elementary School and a staff of 17 teachers headed by a part-time principal, and 165 pupils in grades 9-12 with ten teachers and a full-time principal.

The other is an eight-grade program for Negro pupils (South Ward Elementary School) with 52 pupils taught by three teachers, one of whom serves as head teacher. Negro pupils in grades nine through 12 are transferred to Vernon.

The accreditation team noted some improvements had been made since the last visit, though the basic physical plant and facilities remain unchanged. An architectural firm has developed plans for proposed additions and remodeling, and school board members hope that action can be taken on a school bond election within the next year.

Six deficiencies were listed in the report, namely:

(1) Although much information has been accumulated on individual students, much remains to be done in this area. The Crowell schools have neither a school nurse nor a counselor, and the individual students' cumulative records lack the organization necessary for evaluating academic progress, health records, reasons for leaving school, test scores and career planning. Full utilization of the records cannot be made until pertinent information is pulled together into one folder and made more easily available to staff members needing this information for guidance purposes.

(2) Lighting throughout the system is generally poor. The large library space has only six covered drop lights, not strong enough to provide the recommended light level needed for reading and other close work on dark and cloudy days. Similar situations existed throughout the system.

(3) Most classroom furniture in both elementary schools is of an old type not well adapted to present teaching needs and methods.

(4) There are only two rest-rooms in the North Ward Elementary School to serve 340 children whose ages range from 6 to 13 years.

(5) A severe imbalance existed between the programs and facilities in the South Ward Elementary School and the North Ward Elementary School.

(6) Instructional media and teaching techniques observed in grades seven through 12 did not appear to be on a par with those observed in grades one through six, indicating some overuse of a traditional, textbook-centered approach.

(7) There are only two rest-rooms in the North Ward Elementary School to serve 340 children whose ages range from 6 to 13 years.

(8) A severe imbalance existed between the programs and facilities in the South Ward Elementary School and the North Ward Elementary School.

(9) Instructional media and teaching techniques observed in grades seven through 12 did not appear to be on a par with those observed in grades one through six, indicating some overuse of a traditional, textbook-centered approach.

(10) There are only two rest-rooms in the North Ward Elementary School to serve 340 children whose ages range from 6 to 13 years.

Two Minutes With the Bible

"From Death to Birth"

"Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever" (1 Peter 1:23).

We are prone to think of death as following birth. People are born to live their lives and then die.

Spiritually, however, it is the other way. St. Peter, by divine inspiration, says that we must be "born again" because:

"All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away: But the Word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached to you" (I Peter 1:24, 25).

This new birth is a spiritual matter, necessitated by the fact that by nature men are "dead in trespasses and sins" (Eph. 2:1). Thus believers are not born again in the same way as they were first born, but are born again—given new life, by believing the Word of God.

God's Word, in this passage, is called "incorruptible seed"—seed that cannot die. Once the Word takes root in one's heart, once he believes and receives it, it never dies, but produces in him "everlasting life."

"The Word of the Lord endureth for ever, and this is the Word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (I Peter 1:25).

The Word of God takes root in one's heart only as he believes the gospel, the good news, about Christ's redemptive work. Peter himself proclaims this wonderful gospel:

"... Ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold... but with the precious blood of Christ..." (I Peter 1:18, 19).

"Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree..." (I Peter 2:24).

"For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God..." (I Peter 3:18).

Believing this good news, dead sinners are "born again."

Excellent Variety Offered in January Plentiful Foods

Plenty of variety should be the keynote to meal planning for Texas homemakers during the first month of 1964.

Meat, vegetables, fruit and nuts are included in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's January plentiful foods list, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Featured among plentiful this cold-weather month are two versatile vegetables, canned corn and potatoes. For the meat dish, beef and pork supplies are expected to be very large. Apples remain abundant, and pecans and peanuts once again are on the list.

Continued large marketings of cattle and hogs during December are expected to keep prices noticeably lower than last year. Live beef prices in late November were running about 85 per hundred-weight below prices of a year ago and hog prices were about $2 lower.

A record 283 million pound pecan crop is holding market prices 10 to 15 cents per pound below those of last fall. Last year's crop was only one-fourth as large as the 1963 production.

Although apple supplies are slightly less than a year ago, peanut crops exceed last year's output.

put and the 1963 crop is 15 per cent above average. These abundant foods listed by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service usually are more economical and offer better selection for quality, reminds the Extension Service.

"Taxes, Loopholes and Morals"

In a new book, "Taxes, Loopholes and Morals," published by McGraw-Hill, Jerome R. Hellerstein says that in 1962, "About 125,000 leads suggesting possible tax frauds were screened and evaluated by the IRS (Internal Revenue Service); some 14,000 possible tax evasion cases were considered, and about 3,500 full-scale investigations were conducted; 1,736 persons were indicted for tax frauds, and 1,146 convictions were obtained."

Dollars-and-Cents Value of Education

Columnist Sylvia Porter has summed up the findings of a study concerning the dollars-and-cents value of education. On the average, men with less than 8 years of schooling will have lifetime earnings (from age 18 through 64) of $143,000. The average steadily rises with more schooling, and reaches $417,000 for those with four or more years of college.

Guy Todd, chairman of the Board of Deacons, welcomed the visitors. Prayer was offered by Glenn Goodwin. The first part of the program consisted of songs and music furnished by the Church, Junior and Youth Choirs.

The Cherubs, directed by Mrs. Faye Statter, sang "Away in a Manger" and "Timothy's Carol." The Juniors, directed by Mrs. Patry Hammonds, sang three numbers, "Alleluia," "Mary's Baby Boy" and "The Babe in Bethlehem's Manger," after which they joined the Youth Choir in singing "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing."

A special number, "Behold the Morning Cometh," was sung by Jon Ann Carter. "Go Tell It on the Mountain" was done by the Youth Choir, with Freddie Wehba as soloist. The choir then sang "The Message of the Bells" and "Christ Came to Bethlehem."

"Gesu Bambino" was sung by Gayle Smith. "Carol for the Christ Child" was sung by Frances Cates and the choir. This was followed by "Love Came Down at Christmas" by the youth choir.

"The Shepherds' Psalm" was sung by Gary Lee Cates, who played the part of Jonathan, a shepherd lad, in the play. He was accompanied by Charles Branch on the guitar. Other shepherds were Robert Taylor, J. D. Hasby, Ken Ferguson and Charles Branch.

A trumpet fanfare was played by Wendell Callaway and Paul Stapp, followed by "The Angels' Song" sung by Mrs. Hammonds and the choir with Mrs. Hammonds portraying the Angel. "Silent Night" was sung. Virginia Stapp played a flute obbligato. Then "Come Hasten, Ye Shepherds," was rendered by Patricia Cates and the youth choir.

"Mary's Song" was sung by Mrs. Laverne Russell, who played the part of Mary. Jeff Bell was Joseph and James Welch represented the innkeeper.

and Junior Choirs came back on stage and sang, "What Can I Give?", "Sleep Little Jesus" and Brahms' Lullaby, "Long Ago in the City of David." The program was concluded with Mrs. Statter and the Youth Choir singing "Glory to God." The benediction was offered by the pastor, Rev. Glenn Willson.

Work on the Johnson Gas Plant of the Texas Company, 18 miles airline distance west of Crowell in Foard County, is proceeding at a rapid rate and the site of the natural gasoline producing plant is taking the form of a small town. Leo Spencer, county administrator for relief work in Foard County, left Monday afternoon for Austin to submit five projects for approval of state relief officials. Projects submitted for approval include: improvement of the local athletic field, cutting court house lawn down 30 feet on each side; improving of post road north of Thalia; extension of time on road project in Precinct No. 1.

Spending of the Company Dollar

It is reported that, in 1962, the 100 largest companies in this country spent 55 cents of each income dollar for goods and services bought from outside their own organizations. The next largest expenditure, 25 cents, represented wage cost. Taxes took nine cents, profit came to six cents, and five cents was spent to replace tools. Only about half of the six cent profit was distributed in dividends. The other half was used for business expansion to create more products and more jobs.

Profit Is Basic and Indispensable
A publication of the West Texas Utilities Company says: "Whatever you count it, profit is basic and indispensable to all societies. . . . A very simple definition of profit is merely what is left when the costs of some activity are deducted from its revenues. It is the margin for growth and the energizing agent for production. It is the reward to the venturesome, the return for effort expended. To the corporate manager it may be dollars in a bank; to the Soviet farm minister, the seed grain in a warehouse; to the native islander, the racks of dried fish stored against the future. Whatever its form, profit is vital to any society."

SIX FLAGS '63 SEASON ENDED—The ancient narrow-gauge steam engine circled the mile and one-half track around Six Flags Over Texas, then ground noisily to a stop at the depot. Its work, after carrying more than 1,430,000 passengers in 1963, ended. The farewells by the park attendants were brief but impressive. After a complete overhaul during the winter months, the old "Iron Horse" will once again be put back in service along with many new rides, attractions and shows on April 18, 1964 when Six Flags commences its 1964 season.

Visitors were Mrs. Inez Spencer and Mrs. A. L. Daniels. The president, Mrs. Charlie Cavin, opened the meeting with a prayer, and Mrs. Mae Solomon was in charge of the program. Mrs. Mary Moore read the scripture, Matt. 1 and Luke 2. Mrs. Daniels gave the book, "My Son," by Armand L. Currie. The group sang Christmas carols, and Mrs. Spencer played a piano solo. A Christmas story was given by Mrs. Solomon.
From the beautiful Christmas tree, each received a gift. The hostess served refreshments.

Maybe He Does

All Are Fanatical Communist Adherents
J. Edgar Hoover of the Federal Bureau of Investigation says: "The communists are eager to capitalize upon all areas of misunderstanding and unrest. Their cause is the cause of Soviet Russia, for the Communist Party, USA, is an inseparable part of the sinister international conspiracy which is financed and directed by the Kremlin. No amount of lies and duplicity can conceal this carefully documented fact. . . . Make no mistake about the communists in this country! Whether they are members of Soviet-bloc diplomatic establishments in New York and Washington—or whether they are fanatical adherents of the Communist Party, USA—all represent the same ideology of treachery, deceit, and subversion."
