Crowell Garden Club Has Annual Flower Show

"Beauty As We Find It" was the theme for the annual flower show sponsored by the Crowell Garden Club on Monday, April 27, at the Community Center. In the horticulture division, Mrs. Hubert Brown had five blue ribbon entries. Other blue ribbon winners were Mrs. Chester Hord, Mrs. C. M. Carroll and Mrs. L. A. Andrews. In the artistic division, there were ten classes. Blue ribbon winners in this division were Mrs. Hubert Brown, Mrs. L. A. Andrews, Mrs. Robert Hammonds, Mrs. Virgil Johnson and Mrs. C. T. Hord. In the junior division, blue ribbon winners were Ronni Sue Oilphand and Elizabeth Pittillo. In the educational division, "Let's Litter Less" was the theme. Posters were arranged to give information regarding litter on the highways. In Foard County, twenty-five loads of litter are picked up annually. Labor for each load costs about $30.00. In Texas, one and one-fourth million dollars were spent in 1962 to pick up the litter on the highways. It is interesting to know that Texas picks up one-fifth the nation's litter. Mrs. John F. Carmichael and Mrs. M. C. Neal of Vernon judged the entries in each division. Both Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Neal are nationally accredited flower show judges. Refreshments were served by Johnnie Faye Easley and Mrs. C. T. Hord to approximately fifty guests.

He was born December 18, 1885, in Collin County. At one time he was a cowboy on the Witherspoon Ranch. He was married to Miss Bertha Johnson August 18, 1907, in Crowell. They lived on their farm in the Foard City community until several years ago when Mr. Ferguson retired from farming and the couple moved to Crowell to make their home.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, Floyd Ferguson and Howard Ferguson of Crowell; two daughters, Mrs. J. G. Adcock of Truscott and Mrs. John Rader of Crowell; a brother, George Ferguson of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. Lena Schornick of Claremore, Okla.; five grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. Library Book Shower Extended Through May 11

The book shower for the Foard County Library has been extended through May 11. Mrs. Veatrice Brock, librarian, reports several donations have been received.

Both new and used books are being asked for, with special emphasis on 29 cent children's books for the pre-school section. These books are needed, according to the librarian, so that mothers of small children will be encouraged to let the children choose their own library books. The inexpensive books will not last as long as cloth bound, but the two- and three-year-old children can be allowed to handle these books with few exceptions, because of the ease in replacement.

The Library Committee has suggested that biographies of President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson are needed at the library. Also needed is a new copy of Mother Goose since the present copy of this beloved children's classic has been read until it is nearly too tattered for use. It has also been pointed out that the library lacks a copy of "Roadside Flowers of Texas," the popular guide to wild flowers of this state with illustrations by Mary Motz Wills.

It's Never Too Late to Learn

Students, there are three more weeks of school left—two more for you seniors! What are you going to do with them? You have a choice of either studying as little as is possible to get by on or trying your very best to learn as much as you can in these last few days.

You won't be taking the same subjects again—how hope! You will never again have such a good chance to learn that algebra formula, that important event in your nation's history, that Spanish verb, or that punctuation mark. Now is your last chance to learn those things you'll need to know in your future career; now is the time to find out about those things you've always wondered about; now is the time to learn all the things that seem rather silly at the present, but about which everyone should have a general knowledge.

If you had planned to forget about lessons the last two or three weeks of school, won't you reconsider your plans? Since you have to go to school anyway, you might as well learn something. Time is too precious to waste sitting in a school room with a glassy stare. Why don't you try to learn more these last few days than you have in the last six weeks? You might have to "get with it" if you undertook such a project, because, more than likely, you have learned more in the last six weeks than you realize. Dust those textbooks off and study for the remaining days of school.

F. H. A. Stages Mock Fashion Show

A mock fashion show was the program when the F. H. A. Chapter met for a regular meeting on Tuesday, April 21, in the auditorium. Everything from a tissue dress to an evening gown was modeled in the show, narrated by Carolyn Hickman. Gayle Smith played piano introductions as each of the models, members of various homemaking classes, entered the stage. The girls are to be commended for an amusing and interesting program. Saunna Martin, Joy Traweck and Carla Browder were chosen first, second, and third, respectively, in competition for the most original costume.

In the business session, Beverlie Gray read the list of nominees for various offices to serve in 1964-65. It was voted to have a Mother's Day Tea on Friday, May 8. Suella Smith read a "thank you" note from Mrs. King.

On Thursday, the following officers for next year were elected: president, Evelyn Fiske; first vice president, Elaine Crowell; second vice president, Jean McCurley; third vice president, Renee Daniel; fourth vice president, Betty Welch; fifth vice president, Charlotte Drabek; parliamentarian, Janis James; historian, Joy Traweck; sergeant-at-arms, Billye Sue McClain; secretary, Janell Gray; and treasurer, Suzetta Abston.

Library News

(Note: In last week's "Wildcat," the library reporter featured two of the four senior librarians. This week features the other librarians, Ronni Sue Oliphant and Terri Thomas.

Terri is secretary of the Library Club this year. She has been a faithful worker, working many hours in the library each week. Terri has always cooperated in the club work, and her wonderful personality will be missed very much next year.

Ronni Sue Oliphant is the president of the club this year. She was elected the first library club sweetheart, and will be featured in the 63-64 annual. She lends her services by working in the club many hours a week. She has done very much for the library club and has always conducted the meetings in an efficient manner. She and the other graduating seniors have left a valuable gift to the library club. The poem, "Flight" is now framed for the library. Each time a librarian reads this poem, she will remember the contribution of the 63-64 seniors: Ronni Sue, Terri, Nelda and Elizabeth.

F. F. A. News

The Crowell chapter of F. F. A. met Thursday, April 23, at the F. F. A. hall at 7:30 p. m. The boys planned the annual Father and Son barbecue; the date set is Thursday, May 27, at 7 p. m. The different F. F. A. awards will be presented at this banquet, and the program will be a film.

On Saturday, April 27, at 3:30 a. m., the poultry team, consisting of George Myers, Lee Looney and Harvey Ward; the livestock team, composed of Junior Meehell, Don Ray Borchardt and Steve Weathered; and the dairy team, composed of Johnny Robertson, Jimmy Gillespie and Mike Payne, left for Texas Tech in Lubbock to compete in various judging contests. They finished late in the afternoon and returned home that night. Results of the contest have not yet been received.

This coming Friday, May 1, the poultry judging team—George Myers, Lee Looney and Harvey Ward—will leave for College Station where they are to compete in the state contest to be held at Texas A&M. The team is eligible to go to state because it won second place in the area contest held a few weeks ago. Mr. Myers will accompany the boys.

Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom

"A Night to Remember," theme for the Junior-Senior Banquet and prom for 1964, was fulfilled Friday evening, April 24, when one hundred juniors, seniors, junior class mothers and fathers, and faculty of CHS walked across a red carpet into the school cafeteria. Two sophomore boys cut a red ribbon at the entrance as Mr. and Mrs. Graves and Mr. Black led the procession through a flower-bedecked trellis.

The interior of the cafeteria was "a dream world" of blue and white decorations. Stars and "angel hair" clouds hung from the ceiling, blue streamers adorned the white paper covered windows, and blue candles centered in beautiful flower arrangements adorned the tables.

Otis Smith, president of the junior class, acted as master of ceremonies. Ken Ferguson offered the invocation. Then, after the delicious meal, Otis gave the welcome, and Kenneth Carroll, president of the senior class, gave the response. Gayle Smith played a lovely piano number entitled "All I Do Is Dream of You;" then Ricardo Traweck read the traditional junior prophecy. Betty Ann Welch and Mary Ann Ramsey, accompanied by Gayle Smith at the piano, sang "Enchanted Evening," after which Nelda Chappell read the senior will. As a climax to the banquet, Scherry Goodwin, on behalf of the junior class, presented Mr. and Mrs. Graves a beautiful Sheffield silver tray.

After the tables were cleared away, the prom began. The music was provided by Albert Lykins and a group of musicians from out of town.

The juniors wish to express their appreciation to the class mothers and fathers for all their help and to Mrs. Opal James and Mrs. Betty Eddy for providing the sumptuous food. Thanks also go to the sophomores who served and otherwise helped with the banquet. The class wishes to say a great big thanks to their sponsor, Mrs. King, and her husband for making the banquet and the prom truly "A Night to Remember."

Senior Will

(Editor's note: The following is a copy of the senior will as it was read at the Junior-Senior banquet.)

Faculty and students of Crowell High School, you are here assembled to listen to the last will and testament of the Senior class of 1964. Listen then one and all while I read the document:

We, the members of the Senior Class of CHS, being of bewildered mind, of weak heart, and being on the verge of a nervous breakdown after having just served a twelve-year sentence in an institution, do make and publish this, our last will and testament:

I, Bobby Bond, leave the memory of my good looks to all the unfortunate girls who must stay at CHS without me.

I, Gamble "Wolf" McCarty leave my maps of all the roads of Thalia and nearby communities to Mary Ann Ramsey. We know Mary Ann needs to follow a map because "love is blind."

We, Nancy Archer and Carla Browder, leave to Jewell Harris and Freddie Wehba, our formula for getting out of school—get a small pox vaccination that takes!

I, James Neceley, leave to Toye McCurley, my ability to be accepted into Yale—Yale, Okla!

I, Beverlie Gray, will to Ella Ann Cates my personal list of "do's" and "don'ts" for finding a ring under a bongo drum. I hope you have the same luck I did.

I, Barry Barker, leave my girls in every port and my ability to skip bookkeeping when a practice set is due to Danny Patton.

I, Fleta Smith, leave my office job and a book entitled "How to Open an Obsolete Filing Cabinet or Kick It and Mumble Appropriate Four Letter Words" to Jean Burkett.

I, Pat Cates, leave Jimmy Gillespie to Sandra Ellis along with instructions for ten hairdos that look becoming sprinkled with leaves and a list of ways to open a locker door from the inside.

I, Woody Lemons, as treasurer of the senior class, will to Evelyn Fiske, Evelyn Eubanks and Donna Bell, all the money left from the senior trip and also a book of instructions on how to divide a piece of bubble gum three ways.

I, Paula Sparks, leave my ability to go with "city fellers" to Suella Smith.

I, Joy Little, leave to Ruthie Doyal the caution, "Watch those stairs on dress up day."

We, John Carl Borchardt, Larry Henry and Pete Campbell, leave to Mike Cates our ability to be late to English class every day.

I, Ruth Sanders, leave to Patricia Jackson my latest invention—a truck detector! It's something no girl who lives on a highway should be without.

I, Kenny Ownbey, leave my ability to descend the stairs in three easy strides to David "Song Bird" Denton.

I, Ronni Oliphant, leave to Betty Ann Welch and the other librarians a six-volume set of Ways to Collect Fines from Chinchey Students.

I, Nelda Chappell, leave to Saunna Martin my love for guys in uniform.

I, Mike Shrode, leave my most prized possession, my hot rod, to Ronny Clifton. Breaking down or running out of gas at the right time are two of its more popular conveniences.

I, Arcina Garrett, who never misplaces even a ten-centy-weensy little punctuation mark, do hereby bequeath my great skill to Sharon Glover and Dolores Eubanks.

I, James Corder, leave to Bill Harris my curly locks and a bottle of "greasy kid stuff."

I, Kenneth Carroll, leave my ability to go with every new girl in school to Seth Halbert and my wire cutters and wrenches to Ronnie Denton.

I, Jo Wynn Ekern, do bequeath to Scherry Goodwin the job of trying to get the fans at ball games to yell—cheers, that is!

I, LaRue Gidney, bequeath my English notebooks to Gayle Smith so she'll have something to read in her idle moments on her trip to Washington, D. C.

I, Kathy James, will to Elaine Crowell and Sandra Weathered my place at Mrs. Todd's kitchen table with the request that it be used frequently during practice sets.

I, Dennis Garrett, will my ability to drive to Otis Smith.

I, Carolyn Hickman, leave a map of Houston to Ken Ferguson with the assurance that he will make good use of it on the next Student Council trip.

I, Judy Little, leave to the next Wildcat typists the typewriter with the cylinder that won't turn. I hope you have as much fun as I did typing!

We, Beverly Thompson and Brenda Durham, leave our list of Vernon boys to Barbara Womack and Betty Kajs.

I, Jimmie Moore, leave my short memory of CHS to "Tricky" Ricky Traweck.

I, Phillip Welch, leave to Mike Gamble my secret for becoming president of my class two consecutive years (sophomore and junior), and also all the headaches that go with the honor.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex.—Top finance officials of the state now feel reasonably sure the next fiscal year for Texas governmental operations will dawn with an unfamiliar general revenue surplus on hand. Texas' hard-pressed general fund has been in almost constant deficit for more than six years. As of March 25 it still was $36,600,000 in the red.

However, budget-makers are impressed with optimistic U. S. Treasury reports that the income tax cut is going to boom state and local revenues by putting more money in circulation. (Theory: more money spent, more sales taxes collected.)

"There will be a surplus. The question is how much," commented a veteran finance observer. Ideas on "how much" stretch all the way from a relatively modest $35,000,000—estimated by the comptroller's office—to upwards of $90,000,000.

While the feeling is general that the Legislature will begin its budget writing next year with prospects of money on hand, the surplus likely will not be big enough to avert a new tax bill.

Public school teachers are campaigning for a $405 annual pay raise which would cost the state $68,000,000 for the next biennium. Texas Commission on Higher Education has endorsed a program which totals $86,000,000 additional spending for the college and university system for 1965-67.

Other state agencies are continuing to grow and few have been known to ask less money.

Cooper my book entitled Meals for Two or TV Dinners by Candlelight.

And at the special request of the teachers, Myrtle Taylor, and Mr. Huskey, we all just leave.

The surplus should provide protective cushion. However, financial experts that taxpayers won't get 1965 legislative session was LOAN REGULATIONS POSED—"The terms "payments," "no red tape," all payment in easy installments considered misleading under by money lenders under actions proposed by Francis A. Kell, regulatory loan commissioner. Miskell served notice of first four "rules of practice procedure" for lenders and held a public hearing on the May 8.

Regulations cover books and records, advertising, tests and collection practices.

Under other proposed lending rules, almost any "positive" term such as "new rates" or "new type of loan" must stand a rigid test of accuracy. Miskell also proposes business solicitation by routes as "credit cards" and "letters of credit," claiming the routers have an established standing.

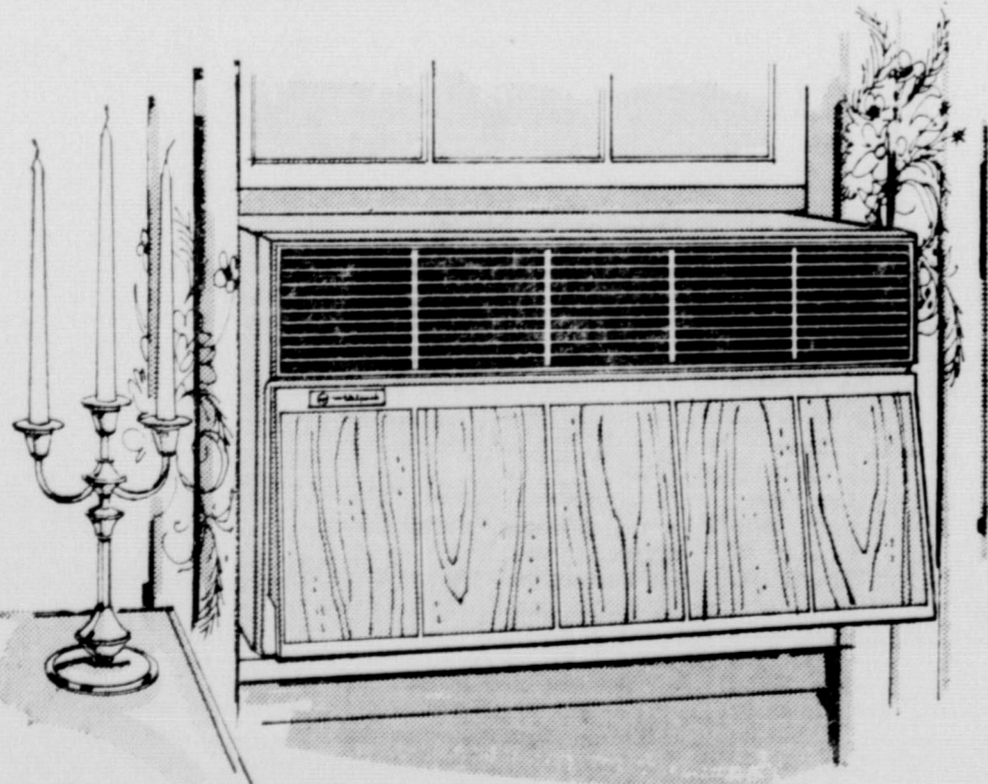

Strong-arm collection procedure would be strictly prohibited, fact, under the rules, no could not solicit payment, anyone other than the borrower, members of his immediate family or signers of the note. Engr could be called on to help by their own consent.

Miskell gave the loan firm til May 1 to submit their views on the rules.

The regulatory loan agency set up by the Legislature last to regulate loans up to $10,000 just now is moving into full operation.

Livestock Feeding Survey Made W. T. C. C.

A new livestock feeding survey was conducted this week by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, revealing a total annual capacity of 2,412 head in West Texas. The WTCC says is a 50 per cent increase during the past year.

W. L. Stangel of Lubbock, chairman of the Livestock Feeding Survey of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced results of the survey, saying that there are now 132 feedlots in the 132-county area with a total capacity of 2,412 head of cattle at any one time. The total capacity for the month of April is 1,302,412 head, Dr. Stangel said.

Material for the feedlot survey was gathered as a public service by the Southwestern Public Service and Pioneer Natural Gas Co., of Amarillo; by the West Texas Utilities Co. of Abilene, and Texas Electric Service Co. of Fort Worth, Dr. Stangel said. The Texas Chamber compiled the information and prepared the survey.

Sixty-seven counties reported for more feeders. Tarrant County (Fort Worth) has the highest number, 22. Comanche County reported 17 while Hale County and El Paso County listed the greatest feedlot capacity, being able to feed 50,650 head at one time or 126,625 in a 12-month period. Parmer County's 14 feeders have a capacity of 36,000 head at one time and El Paso 25,000 head at once. Tarrant County lots can handle 21,975 head and Hale County 22,085.

Dr. Stangel, dean emeritus of the School of Agriculture at Texas Tech, said nearby counties in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas have a total of 90 feedlots with a feedlot capacity of 144,439 head at one time.

Stangel said the number of feedlots in West Texas had increased greatly since the West Texas Chamber staged its first livestock feeding tour to Iowa in 1960. Since then there have been three other tours, two into Arizona and California and another this October into a number of West Texas and eastern New Mexico cities where there is considerable livestock feeding.

"We feel like these tours have been of tremendous importance in promoting livestock feeding in West Texas," Stangel said. "We believe our people have gone out and viewed livestock feeding operations inside and outside of Texas and have either installed new feedlots in our territory or expanded existing ones," he said.

"We cannot underestimate the economic value of livestock feeding to West Texas. It is becoming a big business for us," Stangel said.

Copies of the feedlot survey are available free from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Box 1561, Abilene, Stangel said.

Texas Records Worst Year in History for Traffic Tragedy in '63

Texas motorists, barreling along the streets and highways at a clip of 99,000 miles each minute, killed themselves at the rate of one person every three hours and 12 minutes to rack up the worst year in history for traffic tragedy in 1963.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reported this week that DPS Statistical Services officially closed the traffic death book for 1963 at noon Sunday, recording an all-time record of 2,729 motoricides.

"This tragic toll of lives was 308 or 13 per cent higher than in 1962, and 129 or five per cent higher than the previous all-time high of 2,611 in 1956," Garrison said.

"Even though many more miles were traveled in Texas last year than in previous years, the fatality rate per 100 million miles traveled increased from 4.9 deaths in 1962 to 5.2 deaths in 1963.

"We are shocked and saddened by this terrible loss of human life in our state, which was accompanied by untold suffering among an estimated 161,000 persons who were injured, and a staggering economic loss of $432,715,000."

In order to point up the magnitude of the traffic situation in an effort to bring about public awareness of its seriousness, Garrison listed these facts:

—The 312 motoricides in December 1963 was the highest number for any month on record. Second high was 303 in December 1959.

—Only one day during 1963, Tuesday, Sept. 3, was motoricide free. It followed Labor Day when 22 persons were killed in traffic.

—On both Sunday, May 5, and Friday, December 20 there were 25 persons killed in 17 accidents.

—During 1963 there were 21 days with 15 or more motoricides. There were only 19 in 1962, 14 in 1961 and 13 in 1960.

—The worst accident in 1963 occurred on September 2 in Liberty County where 10 persons were killed in a head-on collision near Dayton. The last previous 10-death accident occurred on February 15, 1959, in Hidalgo County under similar circumstances.

—The estimated economic loss from motor vehicle traffic accidents in 1963 was $137.72 per second.

The Public Safety Director pointed out that the 13 per cent statewide increase in traffic deaths in 1963 was reflected almost equally in rural and urban areas. The rural traffic death increase was 13 per cent, while the urban increase was 12 per cent. He added:

"The fact that this upsurge in traffic fatalities appears to be part of a current national trend—and I might add that many other states had their worst traffic year in 1963—does not alter the seriousness of our situation here in our home state.

"Certainly, with these facts before them, the people of Texas are challenged to do everything in their power to halt this trend which, incidentally, seems to be continuing into the new year.

"The records consistently re-

flect that two things stand out in general as the leading causes for serious traffic accidents — carelessness and willful or unwitting disregard for the laws of safety.

"Therefore, we wish to issue an urgent appeal to all Texans to charge themselves with the responsibility of doing a better and safer job of alert driving and thus bring down this terrible toll of lives and suffering and economic loss in our state."

Screwworm Cases Are Decreasing

The number of screwworm infestations being detected in the Southwest is steadily declining and screwworm eradication workers are marshalling all available forces to overwhelm the livestock pest this winter and bring about eradication.

Texas farmers and ranchers have been detecting less than 100 cases per week; at the same time, production and release of sterile screwworm flies is reaching all time high proportions. Last week, nearly 150 million flies were released.

During November, livestock producers in 84 Texas counties reported 860 screwworm cases. During the same month last year, 2,710 infestations from 163 counties were recorded.

Cold weather has apparently driven most of the native screwworm flies into the South Texas Plains area where they can normally survive the winter, program officials said. They expect, however, that occasional cases will occur outside of this "overwintering area."

A further reduction in screwworm cases because of high sterile fly production and weather unfavorable for screwworm survival, should speed the arrival of the day when the insect will be extinct in the Southwest, eradication workers declare. Assistance from farmers and ranchers, who treat livestock wounds and infestations and report screwworm cases, will allow that time to come even faster, they said.

Yarborough Runs on "Record of Accomplishment"

"I seek re-election to the United States Senate on a record of accomplishment," Senator Ralph Yarborough said this week.

"I have been your Democratic United States Senator for seven years. In those seven years — working with and for the people of Texas—we have made major steps forward in education, agriculture, conservation, and many other areas."

Listed as major accomplishments by Sen. Yarborough are:

Tax Cut: Senator Yarborough has fought for the just-enacted tax cut—to stimulate the economic progress of this country. He helped slash one and a half billion dollars of fat from foreign aid last year.

Education: Sen. Yarborough co-authored the 1958 National Defense Education Act which provides loans for thousands of Texas students in 77 state colleges and universities. He co-authored bills expanding federal aid to school districts burdened by heavy inflow of children of federal personnel, and co-authored the 1963 law for expanded vocational education. He was a leading sponsor of the Health Professions Educational Assistance Act, 1963.

Agriculture: Sen. Yarborough is a leading supporter of soil and water conservation programs, rural electrification and agricultural research. He co-authored the bill to cut foreign meat imports, and is now investigating depressed cattle prices.

Veterans: 15 laws bearing Sen. Yarborough's name have been passed on behalf of veterans.

Water conservation: Sen. Yarborough vigorously supports water conservation programs.

Would Cut Down on Number of Bills

"In one part of ancient Greece, it long was the custom, when a man proposed a law in the popular assembly, he did so on a platform with a rope around his neck. If the law passed, they removed the rope. If it failed, they removed the platform. If this system were instituted in our Congress, it would, no doubt, cut down on the number of bills introduced each session."—Wichita, Kan., Democrat.

Official Memorandum By JOHN CONNALLY Governor of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The right to vote is a treasured instrument of a democracy, and a solemn responsibility on the part of every American citizen of voting age. Unfortunately, it is a responsibility that is often treated lightly, for many eligible voters consistently fail to exercise their right and duty to cast their ballot.

Texas will vote in the primary elections on May 2 to select their nominees for public office at the local, state and national level.

On the same day the party precinct conventions will be held to select delegates to the county conventions and to consider resolutions affecting state and national policy. These conventions are the genesis of our entire political and governmental structure.

It is vital to our state and nation that as many persons as possible participate in these essential functions of representative government.

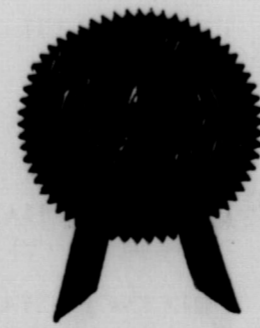

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate Saturday, May 2, 1964, as

and urge all eligible voters to participate in the primary election and precinct conventions of the party of their choosing.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 29th day of April, 1964.

Foard Pioneer Is Community Leader

by Virginia Shirley

In 1949, Mrs. N. J. (Jack) Roberts was given the Foard County Chamber of Commerce's distinguished citizen award for her numerous outstanding activities, and she hasn't slowed down yet, despite her 82 years.

She has held a unique office for 37 years—that of president of the Crowell Cemetery Association. Through her untiring efforts (for all money comes from contribution), the Crowell Cemetery is one of the best kept of any in this area, as the association even manages for a year-around caretaker.

Her hobby of keeping scrapbooks has developed into a prized collection of outstanding historical data, not only of Foard County, but of Cynthia Ann Parker, the cyclone that hit Crowell April 28, 1942, and of pictures of court-houses over the state of Texas. In her unusual library, Mrs. Roberts has every issue of the National Geographic published during the past fifty years, all bound.

TELEVISION SERVICE

Crowell Radio & TV

The former Lou Ellen Young, Mrs. Roberts came to Crowell in 1892. She was born to the late Mr. and Mrs. Willis Young in Denton County on Aug. 23, 1882. The family moved to New Mexico, and when her mother passed away, she and her brother and sister were sent to Crowell to live with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. L. C. Finney. Due to her grandmother's failing health, the children then lived with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cope. Cope was the second sheriff of Foard County.

Mrs. Roberts attended school at the old Crowell College until it burned in 1897. Then she enrolled in Lockney Christian College—a three day trip from Crowell by wagon—and attended school there for nine months until a new building was constructed in Crowell. In her scrapbooks she has priceless pictures of these old schools in Foard County, and of school mates who attended with her. Her school photographs, though, only include the "honor students," as they were the only ones who were awarded a trip to Quanah to have their pictures taken.

In 1901, she decided to become a teacher, and her first school was at Diantha, a community school ten miles south of Thalia on the Seymour highway. She estimates this was one of 20 to 30 schools in Foard County at that time. She received $35 per month, and recalled she paid $8 for room and board. The people in the communities boarded the teacher, and Mrs. Roberts remembers her first family lived in a half dugout, and that she had the room on top which was on the level with the ground. For that year of teaching, she had been given a one-year county teacher's certificate, and then in the summer of 1902 she attended "summer normal school" at what is now North Texas State University (then Texas Normal College and Teacher Training Institute.) She had to take an examination which was sent to Austin for grading before she learned she had received a four-year teaching certificate issued by the state. She has this certificate in her scrapbook.

On April 23, 1906, the former Lou Ellen Young was married to Jack Roberts, son of Judge and Mrs. J. C. Roberts. Judge Roberts was the first county judge of Foard County. They went to New Orleans on their honeymoon, and while there rode in an automobile for the first time. Upon their return, they built their home on the corner of Logan and First streets in Crowell where they have resided 57 years. Roberts retired from his abstract business in 1957.

Three sons were born to them. One son, Jack, died eight years ago. A second son, Joe Roberts, is a civil engineer at Fort Worth, and the third, Dr. Tom R. Roberts, is a physician at Dallas.

Through the years, Mrs. Roberts has more than earned that citizen's award given to her in 1949 in recognition of her accomplishments. She was chairman of the Foard County Red Cross Chapter during World War I, and in the first Ford sedan in Crowell distributed yarn to school houses where the ladies would gather on Sunday afternoons along with their families for community singing. The yarn was knitted into socks, helmets and sweaters and was ultimately sent to men in the services through the Red Cross.

Foard County News

The pictures of George Washington still hanging in the classrooms of the Crowell grade school were presented to the school by her in 1932 when she was county chairman of the George Washington's Bi-Centennial National Celebration. She was a member of the county National Youth Administration Advisory Board under Franklin Roosevelt's administration.

While county chairman of the Texas Centennial in 1936, she had the Foard County highway marker placed two miles north of Crowell on U. S. 283. She has been prominently identified with the erection of memorial monuments in Foard County, particularly the two near old Margaret. One depicts the spot where Cynthia Ann Parker was re-captured at the Pease River Battlefield; the other marks the first county seat of Hardeman County before the area was divided and Foard County was formed.

Mrs. Roberts has taught a woman's Bible Class at the Christian Church for forty years, has been a member of the Columbian Club since 1912, and is a charter member of the Vernon Garden Club. Through her interest, the historical museum in the Foard County court house was established.

Agriculture Dept. Provides Services to Texas Consumers

The agency headed by Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White provides more direct services to Texas consumers than any other department of state government, White's office reported this week.

During Commissioner White's administration of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the report said, programs which directly benefit all Texans have been begun and increased to such an extent that consumer services are now five times greater than when White took over. Direct consumer services under White's department include such important programs as checking for honest weights on all goods for home and industry sold in Texas, inspection of egg grades and quality, quality tests of all brands of automobile antifreeze, inspection of numerous kinds of fruits and vegetables, and inspection of nursery products.

In addition to responsibility for fairness in the sale to Texans of the billions of items which come under these programs, White's agency is in charge of numerous additional laws and services which benefit Texas farmers. Laws to insure quality of seed the farmer uses, to guard against insect pests and diseases, to protect grain that the farmer stores, to assure careful applications of farm chemicals —these and many other programs of service and assistance for farmers and ranchers are Commissioner White's responsibility. Farm-related programs have since tripled in volume and since White took office as Texas sixth Commissioner of Agriculture.

Would Compound the Disaster

"If soaring deficits should off a major new wave of inflation—some leading authorities think is almost certain—the dollar's purchasing power would far offset any tax saving. Then, beyond that, the waning of American prestige and economic power in today's world would compound the disaster, to unknown dimensions. Kennett, Mo., Dunklin Democrat

Texas Has Inhabited Long Time

Geology proves without doubt that West Texas has been inhabited longer than any other part of Texas. Man fashioned his spears and hunted gigantic mammoth species have been extinct thousands of years. The westward push of Texas civilization was halted for half a century by Indian warriors, so it took a long time to erect a parallel to the frontier. Fort Belknap (Newcastle), Fort Griffin (Albany), and Fort Richardson (Jacksboro), were erected in the Brazos River country and played an important role in the development of the west. In Wilbarger County was Doans which was the last supply station before crossing Red River into the Indian Territory and their well stocked store was supplied by freight wagons from the rail terminus. In the Panhandle were Adobe Walls, Fort Elliott (Mobeetie) and Tascosa.

It would seem that the carefree life of the Comanche was interrupted when the pioneers and their wagon trains penetrated into the frontier, but actually the last Indian story in this area occurred before Hardeman County had a permanent population of very many people. It was estimated in 1878 that 25 persons were residing in Hardeman County and they were stockmen or cowboys. By 1880, the population had doubled, and it was at this time that the first settlers reached what is now Foard County.

It was in 1879 that Fred and J. H. Estes heard of the silver mining excitement at Leadville, Colorado, and left their home in Cooke County. They were traveling in a wagon and when they reached the site of the present town of Harrold, they were joined by Joe Earl, an ex-Confederate soldier, who owned a good horse. At Doan's Crossing, they were told that a band of Kiowas had escaped their reservation. Mr. Doan knew that the Indians were on the warpath and advised the men to remain there. Earl told Mr. Doan that he was the Indian's friend. Mr. Doan told him that the Indians were nobody's friend

Never Too Young To Learn Safety

Phil Silvers switches roles from comedian on his Saturday night CBS television show to his private-life role as father of twin 2½-year-old daughters, Candy and Cathy. Phil gives the youngsters some pointers on fire prevention and safety from the Junior Fire Marshal Magazine. This spring, more than 4.5 million boys and girls in the Junior Fire Marshal program, a public service activity sponsored by The Hartford Insurance Group in elementary schools across the country, are carrying out a special campaign to survey community fire and accident causes. The popular TV and movie performer's twin daughters have been named honorary Junior Fire Marshals.

when they were on the warpath. That night, April 12, 1879, they reached the R2 Ranch headquarters near the present town of Chillicothe. Worsham and Co. owned the R2 at that time. About noon the next day the party reached the place just north of the Quannah Cotton Oil Mill; Earl was a little ahead of the Estes brothers when they saw the Indians, about thirty-five in number, led by Chief Sun Bow. The Indians saluted and shook hands; the Estes brothers believed that they were friendly. They pointed to Earl and asked how many men were down there. They told them that Earl was alone and immediately they rushed to him and killed him. Fred and J. H. took their horses from the wagon, mounted them, and headed back to the R2 Ranch. Four of the R2 men went back with them to the scene of the slaying. They found that Earl's body had been badly mutilated and burned.

They returned the next day with a blanket and buried Earl in a crude grave which they dug without the aid of tools. They piled a bunch of rocks on his grave. The rocks were his only marker for a number of years, but later the citizens of Quannah placed a headstone which reads, "Joe Earl, April 13, 1879, Killed by the Indians."

With this burial, Quannah has the unique claim that the cemetery preceded the town, for Earl was its first occupant. At the time of the incident, there was not an organized county within ninety-five miles, so the only legal forces able to cope with the situation were army groups at Fort Elliott (Mobeetie), some ninety miles to the northwest and those at Fort Sill, about the same distance to the northeast.

It would be interesting to know which course the Estes brothers took, whether they continued their journey to Leadville, or returned to Cooke County. In the early 1900's, J. H. Estes was living at Corpus Christi and made a trip to Fort Sill where he saw Chief Sun Bow in person, but Chief Sun Bow could not recall the incident.

Up until this time vast herds of buffalo roamed across this area. Farming in this area had not entered the minds of the people. Jim Moody, who lived across Wichita River in Knox County, made the modest claim that he killed the last buffalo that was killed in this area. It was in 1880 in the Wichita River country on Negro Creek some twenty miles west of Truscott that the buffalo was killed. Of course, Mr. Moody did not know that this would be the last one in the area. Bill Harrison and Joe Ratliff were with Mr. Moody at the time the buffalo was killed.

Two Important Dates Coming Up for Wheat Farmers

In connection with recent legislative action relating to the 1964 wheat program, there are two very important dates to wheat producers, according to County Agent Joe Burkett.

Wheat producers who wish to participate in the program must sign an agreement at the county ASC office before the close of the day May 15. This agreement must be signed if the producer is to be eligible for price support loans and is to qualify for marketing certificates.

The second important date is May 1. If a producer wishes to divert more than the minimum acreage, the wheat must be destroyed by this date.

If the producer wishes to divert only the minimum acreage and is now overplanted, he will be given 15 days to destroy the excess wheat following measurement of his land and receipt of official notice from the ASC office, even though this might be after May 1. Measurement and official notice may come after the May 1 deadline, but the 15-day period for destroying the excess still holds, the county agent said.

Mesquite Bean Jelly

The much-maligned mesquite bean might enjoy some semblance of culinary glamour in the near future, says Joe Burkett, county agent. As most Texans know, the mesquite tree and its bean pods are not always welcome in cattle country. The beans are eaten and scattered by livestock and wild life, causing widespread infestation of pastures with new brush and trees.

Stockmen have for many years been trying to eradicate, or at least control the pest. Success of these campaigns has varied.

Ross LaGrange of Rio Grande City, senior horticulture major at Texas A&M University, figures that maybe man should learn to live with mesquite. As long as the plant persists so vigorously, it should be utilized.

LaGrange is working on a system of making mesquite bean jelly in his advanced fruit and vegetable processing course. The class, headed by Dr. E. E. Burns, has already come up with such novelties as prickly pear jelly and cantaloupe sherbet. Another project underway is the making of perfume from peach flowers.

Right now, LaGrange's research is at a near-standstill because mesquite trees haven't put on any beans this early in the season. But once he does get a supply in the green pod stage, he will boil them down to extract flavor, sugar and pectin. The extract is then concentrated to the desired jelly thickness.

Burkett said the final color is amber. The beans are high in pectin content, a jelling agent. Actually, mesquite beans are nothing new on human menus. Indians ate them regularly. And pioneer women learned to make jelly from the pods in the early days when getting and keeping food supplies was often a problem.

Esso Announces New Million Dollar Grant to Higher Education

A new million dollar program of grants to higher education has been announced by M. J. Rathbone, Chairman of the Board of the Esso Education Foundation. The money is to be available for experiments which will test more effective use of existing human and material resources at the underdeveloped level. The new program is in addition to the Foundation's regular annual grants to higher education which have amounted to a total of $15 million since it was established in 1955. In Mr. Rathbone's words, "Because of the tremendous growth in the number of young people wanting education beyond high school and the country's need for better educated manpower, all segments of the American community have much at stake in higher education's total effort to improve the quality of education for more and more students."

New Postal Service on Saturdays

The limited adjustments in some postal services ordered in Washington March 10 by Postmaster General John A. Gronowski to save $12.7 million will begin to take effect in Crowell and other cities May 4. Postmaster Ted Keeder said this week.

Mr. Keeder said service changes planned locally include the following:

1. Parcel post deliveries: parcel post will continue to be delivered on rural routes, star routes, and local window delivery service six days a week.
2. Window service: There will be one consolidated window open on Saturdays after May 4. Normal service will be conducted through this window except there will be no money orders issued. There will be no Sunday or after hour service.

The postmaster emphasized that no essential major services are affected under the orders. There will be no change in home delivery or special delivery, for example. Regular business mail deliveries will continue as usual. Letters and other first class mail will be handled with the same priority as ever.

The economy step, Mr. Keeder explained, is in line with President Johnson's programs under which the recent federal income tax cut was provided.

Camp Fire Girls

The Ki-Nun-Ka Camp Fire girls had an all-day hike and picnic at the Boy Scout campsite on the Wichita River last Saturday. The campsite is on the Minnick Ranch which is leased by Paul Shirley.

The girls had a trail lunch on their hike, and then returned to the campsite and prepared their meal of roasted weiners, "walking salad," and a desert called "sommores," made from toasted marshmallows, chocolate bars and Graham crackers.

The hike was one of the requirements for the Woodgather's Rank which the group has just started on. Those who participated were Mieke Owens, Kristi McLain, Sara Bell, Peggy Welch, Rita Coffey, Niki Woods, Kay Shirley and Charlotte Walker. Adult leaders who went were Mmes. Clinton McLain, R. J. Owens and Ray Shirley.

Junior Columbian Club

The Junior Columbian Club met April 22 in the community center. The Junior Adelpian Club members were honored guests at a tea. The program was a fashion show put on by several Columbian senior girls.

Plenty of Available Candidates

"We don't know how it happened, but our worthy representatives in Congress somehow summoned the moral fortitude to deny themselves a $10,000 annual pay increase. A good share of our Federal employees are no doubt entitled to modest pay increases, but we just can't see including our Congressmen and Senators in the boost—particularly at the outlandish rate of $10,000 a year. If they don't want the job at what it's paying now, there seems to be plenty of available candidates to succeed them."—Manistique, Mich., Pioneer-Tribune.

Young People Invited to Register for Reading Course

Young people of Foard County and the Gilliland and Truscott communities are invited to register now for the 1964 Summer Reading Course sponsored by the Foard County Library, according to Mrs. Beatrice Brock, librarian. "Reading is the Key" will be the theme of the reading course from May 20 through August 31. It will be open to young people from pre-school through high school. "Reading ability can take a nose dive without summer reading activity," a recent survey reported. The Library Committee, headed by Mrs. Robert Kincaid, is urging parents of students to register their children to prevent the loss of reading skills, to help make gains in reading and to heighten enjoyment of reading. Parents of pre-school students, and this includes two year olds as well as those entering first grade in September, are reminded that reading readiness is aided by a mother's reading to a child at regular intervals before the child enters first grade. A log of books read by each registrant will be kept at the library. Those who read 12 books, or who's mothers read them 12 books in the case of pre-school children, will be awarded a certificate between August 15 and August 31. The certificate holder will be entitled to a free five cent drink or ice cream at either local drug store. Children whose families have paid the yearly library membership of $1.00 may register without charge. Others have the option of paying $1.00 for a year's membership for the entire family, or 35 cents for a summer membership restricted to the children of the family. Members of the Cin Ka Wa Maka Camp Fire Girls of Truscott were the first to register for the course. Their trip to the library completed a requirement for the Trailseeker rank and earned an honor bead in the citizenship craft for Bette Barry, Nancy Looney, Elvera Palacio and Rosalinda Quintana. Mrs. Roy C. Daniel has made three attractive posters to help advertise the summer reading course. Others willing to make a poster or posters for this community project are asked to leave their names with Mrs. Brock at the library.

Army Offers Free 4-Year Nursing School

Sgt. Maurice A. Wilson, US Army recruiter, 1809 Wilbarger St., Vernon, announced this week that the U. S. Army had established a new program whereby young men and women interested in the field of nursing may qualify for a tuition paid four year college course.

He explained that those accepted to participate would be enlisted in the Army Reserve and receive the cost of tuition and books in addition to military pay. They will attend an accredited college or university of their choice during their freshman and sophomore years. At the end of the second year, students will be transferred to the Walter Reed Army Institute of Nursing, Washington, D. C. During this phase, students will matriculate at the University of Maryland and upon graduation will be awarded a BS degree in nursing.

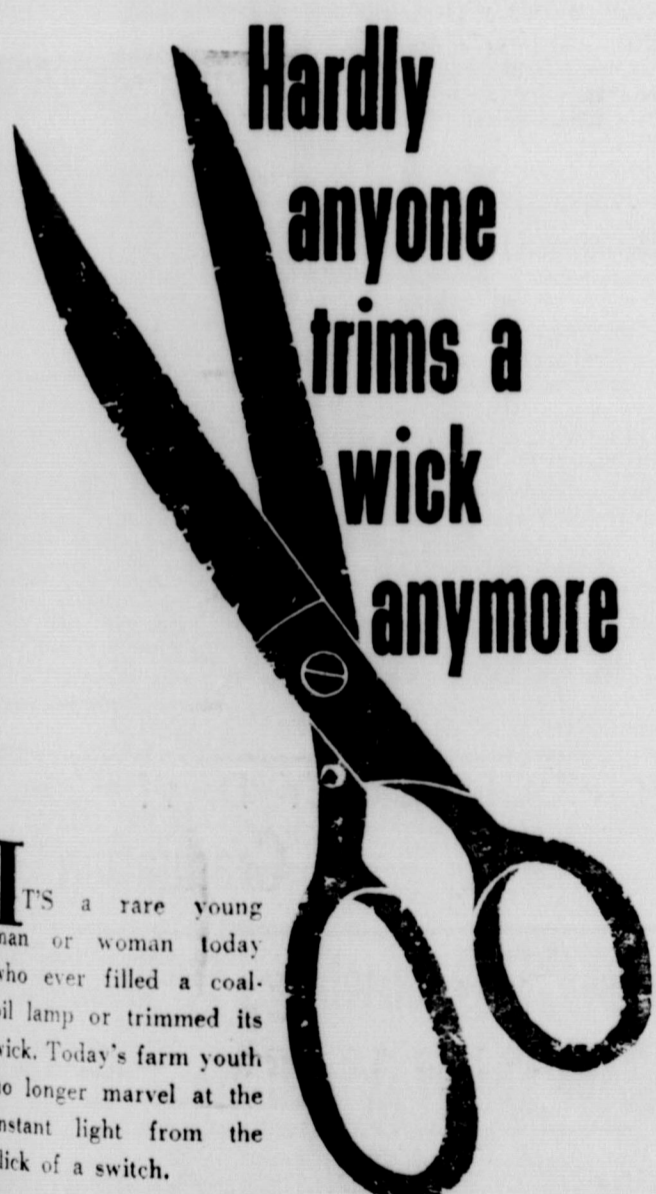

Sgt. Wilson further explained that, following graduation and licensing, students will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Army Nurse Corps, with an obligation to serve on active duty for at least three years as Army officers.

High school graduates who are U. S. citizens and have not reached their 24th birthday on the date of enlistment and can meet the mental and physical requirements are eligible for this new program.

Complete information may be obtained by writing or visiting Sgt. Wilson at the Army Recruiting Station, 1809 Wilbarger, Vernon, or by calling him collect at LI2-6762 or 2-4543.

Card of Thanks

We are grateful for each kindness shown us in our recent sorrow, the loss of our beloved brother, uncle and cousin, C. B. Graham Jr. Your kindnesses shall ever be cherished. May God bless each one. Mrs. Edith Graham Waechter and family and other relatives. 43-1tc

IT'S a rare young man or woman today who ever filled a coal-oil lamp or trimmed its wick. Today's farm youth no longer marvel at the instant light from the flick of a switch. Those so-called "good old days" are gone forever and we're glad of it! It took a lot of hard work and belief in the dream of electricity to make it so when their dads and grandfathers organized this electric cooperative. Now, electricity is taken for granted — except if the power fails. It's our job to see to it that the light doesn't fail, that there's plenty of power not only to light every rural home but to run the many machines which have made it possible for fewer and fewer farmers to provide food for growing millions of Americans.

Two Minutes With the Bible

Sickness and Sin

One thing that really concerns this writer about modern life, is how sin is constantly called sickness. A man commits some moral outrage and they say he is sick—they even tell him that.

I want to see a man some time ago who had fallen into unspeakable immorality and it had caught up with him. For years his sanctimonious life had been a sham; now the mask was torn off and he was in trouble—real deep trouble.

I had been telling him that now his best course was to make a clean confession—to the courts and to God. But someone else had gotten to him first. While he listened, this man had told his wife: "You must get Jim to see that he's sick and needs help. I'm not condoning what he has done, but I'm hopeful that if he gets the proper help he can be cured."

Miss Marilyn Kinnibrough of Floydada and Teddy Horne of Plainview spent the week end visiting relatives in Gilliland.

What a way to evade the sin question! Of course the man was sick—I imagine you and I would be sick too if we lived as he had.

But let's get this straight: His sickness came from his sin, not his sin from his sickness. He would have been far better off to sob out his heart in contrition before God and for his sin than to excuse his conduct on the grounds of illness.

Rom. 5:12 says: "By one man sin entered into the world and death by sin," and Rom. 6:23 says: "The wages of sin is death."

The sobering fact is that while there may be differences in the kinds of sins we commit, or in the degrees of our sin, Rom. 3:23 declares that there is no difference in this, that "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God."

That's why we are so pleased and proud to proclaim "the gospel of the grace of God," how Christ paid the penalty for our sins that we might have a perfect standing before a holy God, "being justified freely by His grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (Rom. 3:24). "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift" (II Cor. 9:15).

Impatience is a common trait. We want to get places in the quickest way. One of the major causes of traffic accidents is a driver's crowding too close to the car ahead. The only reason for crowding is that the rear driver "can't wait." It is the impatient driver who endangers not only his own life but that of others.

YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

Question: Is it necessary to buy Savings Bonds in a safe deposit box?

Answer: You certainly can keep Savings Bonds in a safe and a safety deposit box.

If, despite your precautions, bonds should be lost or destroyed the Treasury will replace them. For this reason it is well to have a list of your bonds, with the serial numbers.

Question: Recently I found partially filled albums of Savings Bonds my children brought home when they were in school. Are they worth anything?

Answer: They certainly are. By adding the difference between their value and $18.75, you get a $25 Series E Bond at bank. Or, if you simply want the stamps can be redeemed at the post office.

Question: I own a $1,000 Series E Savings Bond and need this money in cash. Is there any way this can be done?

Answer: Yes. Any Series E Bond of a denomination more than $25 maturity value can be redeemed in part with the order being reissued bearing original issue date. However, amount reissued must be an authorized denomination bond or multiple thereof. For example, you could obtain a bond, plus the current redemption value—in cash—of a $500 bond.

JIM LANGDON—A WINNER!

Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon is a 49-year-old native Texan with a winning record in public office. When John Connally appointed him to the Railroad Commission, the Governor said:

"I have for several weeks been attempting to find a man I consider to have outstanding ability, integrity and honor... I am happy we have found that man—Judge Jim C. Langdon."

Jim Langdon has fully lived up to Governor Connally's expectations. He has conducted his office in the spirit of Governor Jim Hogg, who had the Commission set up in 1891 to look after the public interest in railroad and freight rates. It now regulates also truck and bus rates and the production of oil and gas. Judge Langdon will continue to keep transportation rates in line and see to it that our oil reserves are protected against waste and greed. This will help keep down Texas gasoline prices, already among the lowest in the nation.

Jim Langdon was elected District Judge twice and re-elected Chief Justice of the El Paso Court of Civil Appeals.

ON THE OTHER HAND—

Jim Langdon's Opponent Is a 10-Time Loser!

Jesse Owens, 69-year-old attorney, is still running for office after 38 years and TEN DEFEATS. He has lost the following races:

- 1932—Defeated for District Attorney by Ed Gossett.
- 1940—Defeated for District Attorney by T. Gene Rogers.
- 1946—Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by Tom L. Beauchamp.
- 1952—Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by K. K. Woodley.
- 1956—Defeated for Court of Criminal Appeals by W. A. Morrison.

that winter of 1954, and had a long talk with his minister, Russell Martin of the First Christian Church, Miami, Oklahoma.
There was quite a lot to decide. Ronnie was a promising Cardinal bonus baby. He had just finished batting .315 in his first year of professional baseball at Hannibal, Mo., and had been named to the loop's All-Star team.
On the other hand, there wasn't any decided religious tradition in his family, but he had come under Martin's influence as the Miami minister was building an outstanding youth program which has already sent thirty-eight new ministers and evangelical workers into the field.
Most people did not figure the young baseballer could—or should—make the shift from athletics to the ministry.
There were three, though, who thought he might make it—Ronnie himself, Martin, and the Miami schoolgirl who later became his wife, Darlene Mustain.

"At that time, she was probably the only one who really was sure I could do it," Ronnie recalls.
Ten years later, he is minister of First Christian Church in Cleveland, Okla., one of the most active churches in the northeastern part of the "Sooner state."
Its official membership is six hundred, largest Christian church in the state for a town under three thousand population. Epps has been there three years and has seen 250 additions to the church, about 140 by conversion.
Sunday school attendance averaged 220 in 1960; it is over 300 now, and an all-time record of 428 was set last Easter.
The church recently dedicated a new $110,000 building. There are fifteen classrooms, two nurseries, a fellowship hall which seat 225, and an intercom-connecting the secretary's office with any portion of the building.

The sanctuary, seating 425 with an overflow room for another 75 worshippers, is the heart of the building. There is a flow of warmth when you enter—something like meeting the young minister or one of his congregation for the first time.
A red carpet blankets the floor, translucent Cathedral glass sifts and softens the outside light; overhead lighting comes from suspended incandescent bulbs; with indirect lighting along the sides.
The church is operating this year on a $31,473 regular budget. That takes care of "going expenses."
But one of the most striking facts about the church's budget is that almost one-third, $9,000, went to missions last year.
That money has not gone only into far-off lands; it has helped establish two other Christian churches in this area—the East Bartlesville Christian Church in 1960, and the one at Collinsville in 1961.
That is part of the story. Another part involves Epp's continuing work with the youth program, a reflection of his own experience at the Miami church.
He recalls his own thrills as an athlete, dreaming of being a Cardinal big leaguer, playing under John Lingo in the Miami American Legion program, being signed professionally by the Red Bird's Clifton Ambrose (Runt) Marr in 1953.
He went for a summer's seasoning in the fast Kansas amateur Ban Johnson League, led the loop with a .409 batting average, turned pro and kept wondering why he wasn't doing something for his God beside playing ball.
He is an articulate young man and he sums up his feelings about the whole experience this way:

"A lot of people seem to think I gave up a lot to become a minister, but I really didn't give up a thing. I never lost my dream of wanting to become a big leaguer, but I did decide it was more important to be a big leaguer for God than for professional baseball.
"And as for thrills—well, everytime I see someone coming down the aisle on Sunday morning for conversion to Christianity, it's just like slapping one (baseball) out of the park. I'm batting for the Lord now and am glad of it."

Collective Farming Not Efficient
"It will come as a surprise to many, we know, that long ago, before World War I, Czarist Russia, in a favorable harvest year, exported 10 million tons of grain. Soviet propagandists, native and foreign, have taken pride in pointing up a contrast between progress under communism and the so-called hopeless backwardness of precommunist times. But the record export figure of 10 million tons of grain has never been equaled in 46 years of Soviet rule—and this year it seems likely that the Soviet will have to import grain to a total of 10 million tons or more. Collective farming seems no more efficient than does nationalized industry."

News items below were taken from the Thursday, May 4, 1934, issue of The Foard County News:

Dick Todd will compete in the 120-yard high hurdles and the broad jump at the 24th annual state meet of the Texas Interscholastic League at Austin this week end.

A general rain over Foard County amounted to more than 2 inches at Crowell this morning.

Miss Maymie Lee Teague won first place in the event for the judging of children's clothes in the State Home-Making Rally held in Austin last week end.

Under the Bankhead bill, Texas will be allotted approximately 3,332,000 bales of cotton to market, tax free. Foard's allotment as it now stands, amounts to 7,200 bales.

Justice Precinct No. 1, the Crowell precinct, was officially extended at a recent session of the commissioners court to include Vivian, Good Creek and Foard City.

In closing Friday of this week, Gambleville will be the first Foard County school to end its 1933-34 school term.

A deal was closed last week whereby about one hundred Foard County wheat farmers have secured the interest of T. L. Hughston of this city in his grain elevators at Crowell and Foard City. The "Farmers Co-Operative Elevators," the name adopted by the new organization, is already receiving wheat at its Foard City elevator. Hubert Brown has been selected as general manager for the two elevators.

A variety of entertainment and bargains are in store for those who visit Crowell Monday for the regular monthly Trades Day and all indications point to another successful First Monday event for the people of this section.

Otis Gafford returned home Thursday from Chillicothe, Mo., where he has been the past four months in school.

Miss Frances Hill spent the week end in Oklahoma City with her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Clark, and family.

See-the-Fair Sweepstakes to Be Offered by Coca-Cola Bottlers
"Win a World's Fair trip for yourself and 25 friends, or $25,000 in cash." This out-of-the-world prize may be won by some lucky resident of Crowell. The trip, or the cash, is the grand prize in the "See-the-Fair" sweepstakes sponsored by the Vernon Coca-Cola Bottling Company and other Coca-Cola bottlers throughout the country. Robert Lee Wilson of Vernon Coca-Cola Bottling Co. said the 5-week national sweepstakes would begin April 13 and run through June 1.
"If Crowell doesn't claim the first prize winner, there are over 4,000 other prizes Crowell residents may win," Mr. Wilson said. Every week during the five-week activity, 20 families (father, mother and up to 4 dependent children) will win 5-day expense paid trips to the Fair. And every week 800 other winners will receive Kodak movie cameras, projectors, slide cameras and other valuable prizes.
Theme of the Sweepstakes is the 1964-65 New York World's Fair, slated to be one of the great cultural and commercial events of this generation. Anticipated attendance is 70-80 million. Tops of bottle caps with removable liners designed especially for the Sweepstakes will be decorated with a sketch of the "Coca-Cola Tower," containing the world's largest carillon at the World's Fair. Beneath the caps, consumers will find a fascinating collection of World's Fair exhibits including Eastman Kodak, Ford, General Motors, DuPont and over 100 others.
Consumers may enter the sweepstakes via official entry blanks found in magazine ads, newspaper ads, and cartons of Coke and Sprite, together with branded cork liners from any three promotion crowns, or facsimiles thereof.
Mr. Wilson said that drawings for the weekly consumer prizes will be held on May 4, 11, 18, 25 and on June 8, when the grand prize will also be drawn.

Waco Judges Help Appeals Court Here

The Texas Supreme Court, apparently feeling that the docket of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo is overloaded, has directed the 10th Court of Civil Appeals in Waco to lend a helping hand.

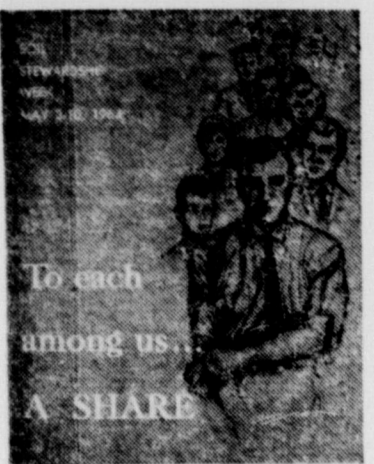

Two members of the Waco court are in Amarillo today hearing oral arguments in the cases allotted them. The two judges are Chief Justice Frank G. McDonald and Associate Justice Frank M. Wilson.

The Texas Supreme Court in equalizing the dockets of the civil appeals courts in the state has assigned 13 of the appeals filed in Amarillo to the Waco court.

Under statute the cases must be heard in the court in which they are filed. For this reason the Waco judges are hearing arguments in Amarillo.

Elmo Payne, clerk of the Amarillo court, says the Amarillo judges heard oral arguments in nine cases on April 6-7 and currently are working on their decisions in those cases.

The Seventh Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo encompasses the largest Supreme Judicial District in the State of Texas—with 46 counties, Payne explained.

An Eleventh Commandment

In 1939, the United States government sent one of its leading soil scientists, Dr. Walter C. Lowdermilk, associate chief of the Soil Conservation Service, to the Near East to learn, if possible, why the vast population and flourishing cities of Biblical times had ceased to exist.

Dr. Lowdermilk and his party made exhaustive examinations over many thousands of square miles. They inspected ruined cities, many of which they found buried deep under the products of soil erosion, ancient abandoned irrigation systems, dried up stream beds, barren deserts, and remnants of one-time forested areas.

From his findings reported in "The Conquest of the Land Through Seven Thousand Years," Dr. Lowdermilk concluded that man's failure to be a good steward of God's gift to mankind was the direct cause of the waste and desolation that greeted his eyes.

Before leaving, Dr. Lowdermilk was invited to make a radio broadcast in Jerusalem summarizing his findings. Pondering what he might say, the night before, he wondered if Moses might not have added an 11th Commandment to the Children of Israel had he been forewarned of the calamity to befall the land. He put his thoughts on paper and broadcast for the first time what has since become known as an "Eleventh Commandment."

"Thou shalt inherit the Holy Earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt safeguard thy fields from soil erosion, thy living waters from drying up, thy forests from desolation, and protect thy hills from overgrazing by thy herds, that thy descendants may have abundance forever. If any shall fail in this stewardship of the land, thy fruitful fields shall become sterile, stony ground and wasting gullies, and thy descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from off the face of the earth."

Local VFW Condemns Action to Abolish Chaplains in Service

A chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union has notified the Secretary of Defense that action will be taken to show that Chaplains in the Armed Forces are in violation of the Constitution of the United States.

In an effort to condemn such action, Crowell V. F. W. Post 9177 has adopted the following resolution:

WHEREAS, it has come to the attention of Allen-Hough Post No. 9177, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at Crowell, Texas, that the right of the United States to pay Chaplains to teach religion to service men has been challenged and that the Secretary of Defense has been notified that action will be taken to prove that Chaplains are in violation of the Constitution of the United States, and

WHEREAS, Chaplains have served in the Armed Forces of our country even before we were the United States, and have given spiritual guidance and counsel to the men in our armed forces in all parts of the world in peace as well as war time, and have proven their worth over and over again, and

WHEREAS, to remain silent and inactive while an aggressive few bring about this tragedy constitutes cowardice tantamount to treason and would result in stripping our Armed Forces of one of its most vital and potent resources and provide an open door through which communism may creep in and anchor its lethal roots.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by Allen-Hough Post No. 9177, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at Crowell, Texas, in open assembly, that vigorous protest be made instanter to any effort by any person or combination of persons, organizations, firms or unions seeking in anywise to eliminate the use of Chaplains in our Armed Forces or to cut down in anywise the number thereof, or to do anything which would in anywise effect or curtail the present effectiveness of our Chaplains.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be sent to our Congressman, our Senators, the Secretary of Defense and to every member of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Done at Crowell, Texas, this 18th day of April, A. D. 1964.

The delegates from VFW Post No. 9177 presented this resolution before the assembly at the spring convention of District 15, Department of Texas, Veterans of Foreign Wars, which was held at Seymour on April 19. It was adopted by that convention and will be presented at the department convention in Dallas on June 21.

VFW Post No. 9177 would like to express its appreciation to Judge Leslie Thomas for the wording of this resolution.

Publication Laws Pertaining to Local Agencies

Vernon Stauter, (Article 20B)—Annual financial statements; publication by school, soil conservation, road and other district.

"The governing body of each school district, junior college district, road district, soil conservation district, water improvement district, water control and improvement district, fresh water supply district, drainage district, navigation district, river authority, conservation and reclamation district, or any other kind of district organized under section 52 of Article III or Section 59 of Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas, shall cause to be prepared an annual financial statement showing the total receipts of each fund subject to its orders during the fiscal year, itemized according to source, such as taxes, assessments, service charges, grant of state money, gifts, or any other general source from which such funds are derived; showing total disbursements of such funds, itemized according to the nature of the expenditure; and showing the balance on hand in each fund at the close of the fiscal year. The presiding officer of such governing body shall submit such financial statements to some newspaper in each county in which the district or any part thereof is located, and the publication shall be made within two months after the close of the fiscal year. Provided, however, if the district is located in more than one county then such publication may be in any newspaper having a general circulation in said district. If there is no newspaper published in the county, then the publication shall be made in a newspaper in an adjoining county."

Texas Publication Laws, (Article 1023)—Cities, Towns and Villages—city council shall publish statement of receipts and expenditures.

"The city council shall, at least ten days before the expiration of each municipal year, cause to be published in a city newspaper a correct and full statement of the receipts and expenditures from the date of the last annual report, together with the sources from which the funds were derived, and showing for what purpose disbursed, the condition of the treasury, together with such information as may be necessary to a full understanding of the financial condition of the city."

Texas Publication Laws (Article 1025)—Cities, Towns and Villages—establishing official paper for publishing ordinances.

"The city council shall, as soon as may be after the commencement of each municipal year, contract, as they may by ordinance or resolution determine, with a public newspaper of the city as the official paper thereof, and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notices and other matters required by this title or by the ordinance of the city to be published."

regular term of said court in each year said clerk shall publish once in some weekly newspaper published in his county, or if there be no paper published therein, then by posting four copies of such exhibit, one in each commissioner's precinct, one of which shall be at the courthouse door, the other three at public places in such precincts, an exhibit showing the aggregate amount paid out of each fund for the four preceding quarters, and the balance to the credit or debit of each fund, also the amount of indebtedness of said county, with their respective dates of accrual, and to whom and for what due; also the amount to the debt or credit of each officer or other persons with whom an account is kept. The cost for publishing the same shall be paid by order of said court out of the general fund of the county." Attorney General's Opinion: "Publication mandatory. Requirement for publication of quarterly report of county clerk is mandatory, cost thereof to be paid out of general fund of the county."

Jim Langdon Favors Greater Oil Production

Land owners were assured this week by Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon that he favors greater oil production in Texas.

Although the Railroad Commission cannot consider prices (only physical waste), he said, it is logical to assume that the greater the production the bigger the royalty checks for several hundred thousand land owners in the state.

However, if production exceeds demand, then the price of oil decreases. Any excess over-production, such as occurred in the 30's in East Texas when oil sold for 10 cents a barrel, will cut deeply into the checks received by owners of mineral rights in land from which Texas' oil and gas are produced, Langdon said.

"A market demand law prevents the production of more oil than can be sold," Langdon said. "This guards against economic waste by instituting a system of sound conservation."

Langdon repeated this week that he is opposed to excessive foreign imports, but unfortunately imports are controlled by the federal government, and not by the Texas Railroad Commission. He said he was against federal control of petroleum.

"The platform that my opponent in this race is advocating amounts to a program of deliberate waste. It is a program of anti-conservation that would depress oil prices and certainly have an economic effect in all parts of the state," Langdon said.

As for lower crude prices making gasoline cheaper to consumers, Langdon said the opposite effect would result. "Many independent operators are having a hard time staying in business at present prices," Langdon said. "We would have fewer and fewer companies controlling more and more of our oil, thereby creating a monopoly-type situation."

Help Keep a Texan President

 candidate for governor

For the first time in history, the President of the United States is a Texan. Party leadership in his home state will affect his own future.

President Lyndon B. Johnson must be returned to the White House in national elections this November. To carry other states, he must have unquestionable support from Democrats in Texas.

The eyes of the United States are upon Texas in its nomination of a Democratic candidate for governor. The gubernatorial nominee will most likely be called by the National Democratic Party to go into other states to campaign in behalf of the national ticket.

This means the Democratic nominee must be a man who supports President Johnson and his program—a man who would be recognized throughout the nation as an asset to the Democratic Party—a man who is 100 per cent Democrat.

That Man is Don Yarborough

Texas needs the aggressive leadership of Don Yarborough to take the state government away from the lobbyists and return it to the people. And Lyndon Johnson needs Don Yarborough's leadership to win the confidence of the nation.

Don Yarborough is on record as a Lyndon Johnson Democrat. He has always been a Democrat. Don Yarborough has always supported the National Democratic Party and its nominees. He has endorsed President Johnson's administration.

This is not the case with John Connally. Connally would contribute toward a possible defeat for President Johnson.

Although Connally has mouthed support for President Johnson, he has deserted the Democratic Party before and who knows when he may do so again? Democrats in the other 49 states know he is antagonistic to the President's program. They know he led Democrats into the Republican Party in past national elections. They know about Connally's conspiracy with Allan Shivers this year to recruit a former Republican to try to defeat Texas' only Democratic U. S. Senator, Ralph Yarborough, in the Democratic primary.

Democrat Don Yarborough is the only candidate for governor of Texas who would help carry the nation for Lyndon Johnson's election this fall.

Gordon McLendon Blasts Pending Civil Rights Bill

Gordon McLendon concentrated his fire on the pending civil rights bill in the waning days of his campaign for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator.

He followed a schedule designed to reach, through personal contact and communications media, the greatest possible number of voters before the May 2 primary. His itinerary calls for thousands of miles of travel into all sections of the state by plane and helicopter.

"My opposition to the bill being debated in the Senate actually is a crusade for civil rights," he declared. "I'm not in favor of denying any of our citizens the rights granted them by the Constitution, but I am against the passage of this bill because certain sections of it threaten the civil rights of all citizens. Those provisions would deny everyone, regardless of race or national origin, the right of trial by jury and deprive us all of control over our property—including our very homes.

"Some of the people who are demanding the passage of this bill, without changing a word punctuated mark, evidence the leaders who are supporting this high-powered campaign know exactly what they are doing. They see in this bill its disregard of fundamental liberties, another instrument of power over the lives of the 'can people.'"

McLendon emphasized the only way of registering an opinion on the principles in the campaign is to vote Democratic primary.

Umbrella Houses Fair Exhibit

A building resembling a giant red umbrella floating on a circular wall of water — this description isn't from the pages of science fiction. It is about how visitors will describe the "Triumph of Man" exhibit now almost ready on the site of the 1964 World's Fair in New York.

Staged by The Travelers Insurance Companies to mark the Red Umbrella's centennial, the exhibit will be as striking inside as out. Completely free of inside supporting columns, the giant umbrella-shaped dome soars to form a 63-foot-high ceiling.

Under The Travelers Red Umbrella, visitors will travel through millions of years in only 18 minutes. Ingenious lighting and sound effects will take them from prehistoric times through man's cliff-hanging adventures with many cultures and civilizations to show how growing intelligence and skills have helped him survive in an increasingly complex world. To top it off, the exhibit will wind up with fascinating scientific glimpses of the space age.

Making the "Triumph of Man" exhibit both entertaining and authentic is the job of Harry L. Shapiro, head of the anthropology department of New York's famed Museum of Natural History. In his opinion, "The public is ready for this exhibit—to understand it, to learn from it, to be entertained by it—and this is what a Fair should do."

A Fair should also awe visitors—and there is no doubt at all that The Travelers' dramatic umbrella will do just that!

Don't Use Plant Pesticides on Farm Animals

Using pesticides on animals which have been formulated for plants can be dangerous, warns County Agent Joe Burkett. His advice, don't do it.

He points out that although the same material may be used in some cases on animals or plants, the concentration and chemical formulation may be vastly different. If the insecticide is manufactured specifically for plant use, the formulation may contain solvents that speed up absorption by animals and results in poisoning. The difference can mean a sick animal.

Trouble most often comes, says the county agent, when directions on the labels are not closely followed. Pesticides are safe when used as intended by the manufacturer and in accordance with their recommendations.

When pesticides are used on or around animals, Burkett offers these suggestions as trouble preventative measures—apply pesticides only when needed for the control of a specific pest problem; use only recommended pesticides and at the exact rates specified; read the label prior to each use of the pesticide and follow the instructions to the letter.

Also, use care in treating crops to be used as livestock feed and observe all limitations and precautions; be careful when treating for other pest problems in areas open to livestock. Particular caution is advisable when treating around water, feed or milking utensils.

And finally, Burkett advises that pesticides be stored in their original containers so there will be no confusion when they are used and be sure to keep the label securely fixed to the container. Read and follow the manufacturers' directions as listed on the label.

Publications are available on the proper use of pesticides on both plant and animals at the county agent's office.

Bad News for Cotton Bollworms and Cabbage Loopers

Two of the country's most destructive insects, the cabbage looper and cotton bollworm, have been successfully controlled by mass-produced insect viruses that are harmless to man.

Both insects are well known pests in Texas and as John Thomas, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service puts it, just ask any Texas cotton producer about their resistance to

Can Be No True Economy Until...

"Continual demands for economies and efficient governmental operations when the government tries to substitute economies and efficiency for the people complain bitterly all the politicians raise their howls of anguish. As a result government is damned if it does not... so many of the government's financial problems caused by pork barrel projects, such as unnecessary water projects, dams, roads and the like, which are purely political and done for campaign purposes until these are stopped, there will be no true economy."—Boro, S. District Meeting of T. H. D. A. Held in Crowell Tuesday

The annual meeting of District III of the Texas Home Demonstration Association was held in Crowell on Tuesday at the First Methodist Church. There were one hundred and eighty-nine women registered.

Mrs. Florence Low, assistant director for Home Economics for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, spoke on "Family Life Abroad." The American Home Economics Association, of which she is president, toured seven countries last summer. She participated in the International Home Economics Federation meeting in France and then toured the other countries to observe family life. Mrs. Low is also on President Johnson's Committee on Consumer Interest and goes to Washington for a committee meeting on May 8 and 9.

In Russia, Mrs. Low found that nearly all families live in apartments that are very meagerly furnished by American standards. Rent is low and the tenants pay according to their ability to pay. The average family has no modern appliances, such as refrigerators. The food consists largely of bread, meat and potatoes. They have very little fruits and vegetables.

The Russians make the best provision of any part of the population for its children. Six per cent of the children population is taken care of through day care nurseries while the mother works. The children are given very good care as far as physical things are concerned.
