REV. J. O. HAYNES

MARGARET METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour Rev. O. P. Clark will dedicate our church at Margaret.

This also will be the beginning of our revival meeting. Rev. J. O. Haynes of Hereford, Texas, will be with us and will do the preaching. Rev. Haynes is one of our strongest pastor-evangelists. He is a graduate of Southern Methodist University, a successful pastor and also a successful evangelist. We extend an invitation to all Christian people to assist us in this meeting.

Come one and all that we may help you.

T. M. JOHNSTON.

Building Tinning and Plumbing Shop

A 25 by 40 foot tinning and plumbing establishment is going in on the east side of the square, the house being built by Ferguson Bros. on their property. O. O. Hollingsworth will put in the business and operate it.

This will be a first-class establishment in every particular. Mr. Hollingsworth is an experienced tinner and plumber and has been working for M. S. Henry & Company for more than a year.

Club Boys Left Tuesday for Annual Encampment at Vernon

Although the days are unusually warm, that fact did not prevent a goodly number of the club boys from going to Vernon Tuesday for their three-days annual encampment.

County Agent Fred Rennels had been in communication with the club members for several days and he was assured that a fair representation would go and in that he was not disappointed. They had looked forward to this event with happy anticipations and they were enthusiastic over the bright prospects of a great encampment this year.

It is a great thing for the boys. They get many good lessons that will be of great benefit to them in the years to come.

Mr. Rennels said he was very anxious that a number of mtn go also and take the short course planned for them, but it is doubtful if many of them found it possible to turn loose their work and go.

2-Months Old Baby Dies With Whooping Cough

The two-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Griffin died Tuesday morning with whooping cough and was buried in the afternoon in the Crowell cemetery.

The child had had a severe attack of the disease and was unable to throw it off.

REV. J. M. FULLER

WILL LEAVE FOR REST

Rev. J. M. Fuller has been advised to go to a cooler climate for a time in order that he may gain back his strength lost in his recent operation. He and his family intended to leave yesterday but the trip was delayed on account of a wire stating that Mrs. Fuller's brother had undergone an operation. They may not leave until Monday. However, that is undecided at this moment. In case they do not leave until next week he will fill the pulpit Sunday.

Temptation Not Sent But Permitted, Says Pastor in His Sermon

The second of a series of sermons on Jacob and Esau was delivered by the pastor of the Methodist church Sunday morning and then continued Sunday evening. It had to do with the temptations that came to Jacob. Here the pastor spoke of temptations not as something that God sends but as a thing he permits. These are beneficial because they reveal a person to himself and tend to bring out and develop the finer natures of a man. Without temptations one may never know the possibilities of the real person. It takes genuine manhood to overcome temptations. Here the preacher spoke of the temptations that come to a preacher. Some of these are to shrink from preaching the truth in the fear that it will not please some folks, or possibly it might cost one his position, but he emphasized the fact that truth should be spoken and let it have its effects.

One may think himself to be all right until temptation reveals himself to himself and then he awakens and his better judgment tells him what to do. This was illustrated in the case of the Prodigal son. When he found himself he was ready to change his course. Too many people think they can get along without God. It's a great day in a man's life, said the preacher, when God permits a temptation that brings him to a place where he realizes his dependence. Only such things can make it possible for there to be a genuine depth of conviction and a real change in the life of a sinful man. Change of mind is not enough, there must be a change of heart. Temptation is not a sin, he pointed out, and neither is it necessary for one to yield to its power.

It was pointed out that Jacob's father's request gave him an opportunity to be tempted and then he was further influenced by his mother because of her unscrupulous love for her son. He yielded and became more and more entangled in the web he had commenced to weave and never really came to his senses until he found himself overtaken by night as he started for his wife and found himself alone with God. It was while he was asleep that God spoke to him. He speaks to some men today while they sleep, said the preacher. It's the only chance he has with some.

The main thought one is to get from the message, as we see it, is that temptation simply brings to a person an opportunity. It has its place in the process of spiritual development and the character of that development is to be decided by man himself. He must choose and act.

Gasoline Tax Can't Be Used on Highways

According to an item in the Star-Telegram of Tuesday the gasoline tax in Texas amounting to approximately $9,000,000 a year can not be used on the highways of Texas without an official ruling by the attorney general. The matter has already been submitted to him for a ruling.

The failure of the 39th Legislature to appropriate three-fourths of this money to the highways is given as the cause of this predicament, and it will mean that the highways will be deprived of the use of $6,750,000 annually. At least that is the position Comptroller Terrell takes.

Mercury Reaches Another High Point

Last week the News reported a temperature of 106 one or two days. That is supposed to be about the highest for the week. At least we have no information of a higher temperature. But this week we saw it with our own eyes standing at full 108 in the shade.

This is just about the warmest time we have ever experienced in this great country, or any other, as for that matter, and we have heard nobody say he ever saw it far above that mark at any time in the history of the country.

But it can't stay this way long. One of these days it will rain to beat the band and then everything will cool off and cotton and feed will come like everything. It may happen before these lines get into metal. If it does, we'll tell it at the bottom of this item.

Crowell's Water Is Pure, According to Report from Austin

The last sample of water sent off to the laboratory at Austin to be examined was pure, according to the report that came back.

So there need be no fear that it is safe to use the city water. The water will be examined about every two weeks, we are informed, and a report will be published from time to time.

It should be said that everything will be done that is possible to safeguard the health of the people in Crowell and should the city water become contaminated it will be made known and the cause removed as soon as possible. But so long as precautions are taken in keeping it in pure condition it is not likely to become impure.

New R. R. Promoters Trying to Raise Stock

The last mention the News saw about the C. H. Powell promotion proposition of a new railroad from Fort to New Mexico was that those interested in the proposition are trying to raise the amount of stock necessary to assure the building of the road.

The people behind this proposed road think the Santa Fe and Burlington systems do not intend to build but merely want to keep the T. P. & G. from building if possible. And representatives of this proposed new road will appear before the Interstate Commerce Commission on July 30 and make protest against either the Santa Fe or the Burlington systems building, on the claim that the new road first laid its plans to extend into the new territory and made considerable progress in that direction before there was anything said about extending branch lines from the other roads.

The amount to be raised by the sale of the stock runs up into the millions. A campaign has been on in Fort Worth to raise $300,000 as the initial start on that fund.

In all probability the granting of a charter by the Interstate Commerce Commission permitting either or both these systems to build would mean that the independent proposition would have hard rowing. Looking at the proposition from this stage of the game it appears that the best that could be hoped for Mr Powell's proposition would be a final sale in case his road is actually started. The territory may not belong to the Santa Fe or the Burlington any more than to anybody else, but they both hold a position that would give them an advantage over an independent line that would make its building and operation an uphill task.

It is rather difficult to understand how an independent line could maintain itself through a country so much of which is practically worthless except for ranching purposes as is the territory through which Mr. Powell's road proposes to build. It proposes to cut the southwest corner of Foard County, almost exclusively ranch lands, leaving the agricultural sections of the county to depend upon the Orient and Fort Worth & Denver. A portion of Cottle is also ranch, as well as Knox. The fact is, it looks like it will be traversing a very hard country for many miles in order to connect the Plains country with Fort Worth. If it were a proposition planned by a system like the Santa Fe then it would look more like business. But the new road must be self sustaining. Practically all the tonnage claimed from Foard County as justifying the building of the road will naturally go to other roads because of its remote location in the county.

Another thing that looks hard for such road is the disinclination of property holders at this age of automobile traffic to put money into a railroad promotion proposition that gives insufficient guarantee of permanency.

This is our honest belief. We may be mistaken. We are speaking from the standpoint of one disinterested in the proposition because we can not see how it would benefit or hurt Crowell or Foard County whether it builds or not over the proposed route. It would be a great help to Crowell should it build through this place, and it would mean a bigger tonnage for the road, but even then it would not get all of it.

Co-Laborers of the M. E. Church Entertain Husbands and Families

The beautiful lawn at the home of Mrs. W. C. McKown was the scene of an entertainment given by the Co-Laborers of the Methodist church last Thursday evening to husbands and children of the members of the class as guests.

Something like 30 make up the roll of the class and they are the young women of the Sunday School. These, with their husbands and children, with a few invited guests outside the class, constituted the happy crowd, numbering perhaps 75 in all.

No description of the table with its load of eatables could do justice to the occasion. Putting it in the vernacular of the street, it was a "big feed." That is a fitting description and the word, "big," should receive most of the emphasis. It was big in quantity, in quality and in manner of its service, all of which reflects very high credit on the members of the class.

It was a great time for every one present and without a single exception every person seemed to enjoy it to the fullest extent. And not the least features of that enjoyment were the innocent contests that brought yells of laughter to the happy, laughing bunch.

Mrs. C. P. Sandifer is teacher of the class and she was one of those present to help carry out and enjoy the program.

Water Reservoir Recently Cleaned Out

The big concrete reservoir was cleaned out this week from top to bottom, which accounts largely for the low water pressure for the last few days. As soon as there can be a full storage again there will be sufficient water supply, it is claimed, for all domestic purposes.

During these dry months it is hard on the water supply of most small towns and Crowell is not entirely beyond the effects of these drouths. And yet it has never been found necessary to ask the people to curtail their use of water and it has been turned on for their use all the time. We believe it would be wise to use water conservatively during these times in order that we may not experience a shortage.

Road Being Built To Well on Ranch

Work is in progress on a road leading from the highway through the G. J. Benham community to the well to be drilled on the Johnson & Herring ranch 15 miles northwest of Crowell.

That means that the machinery and material for the well will be shipped to Crowell and unloaded here and hauled from here to the well.

It is understood that when the road is completed everything will be ready for work to commence looking to early drilling. It is reported that all the land titles have been prepared and the lease contracts closed.

County Valuations For This Year Are Greater Than Last

Last year the valuations of Foard County were $4,882,000. This year they are $5,050,000, which shows an increase of $168,000 over those of the previous year, or an increase of a little more than three and a half per cent.

One thing that was raised by the equalization board is the valuation of the Orient railroad. For some years a valuation of $1,000 per mile has been accepted but the board raised that property to $5,000 per mile. The school board of the Crowell Independent school district also raised the Orient to the same figures.

This is one of the items that were raised. Some farm property that has been rather low came in for its part of the raise as well as some city property. The matter of justly equalizing the taxes has always been a difficult one, but property is more often rendered too low than too high. Unfortunately that seems to apply more to the man who has large holdings than to the small man. Full rendition would not be a bad thing, in our opinion.

Oil Activities Are Increasing in County

With each week more wildcatting is being done in Foard County in oil matters and interest is becoming greater all the while. Following is a brief summary of developments at the present time.

The Texas Company on the McCoy property is still fishing for a bit at a depth of more than 1400 feet.

The Humble Oil & Refining Company and the Navarro Company are this week putting in the material and machinery for the drilling of a 3,500 foot test on the middle of the southwest corner of section 34, block L, near the Cottle County line on the west. These people, it is understood, will drill with a rotary bit. A road is being put in shape for travel from the highway to this site.

The Derrick has been erected on the George E. Fagg well 4 miles north of Thalia on Section 2, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Survey. The test is to be 2,500 feet. The commencement of operations awaits the perfecting of abstracts to property.

Ira J. Eley of Tulsa, Okla., will drill a well on the Long Bros. property 5 miles south of Thalia. The acreage has been blocked and it is expected that drilling will commence as soon as abstracts can be made. The acreage amounts to 3,500 acres and the test is to be 3,000 feet.

Dan Holmes has been taking leases on the Worsham & Wishon ranch looking to drilling in the near future. Archison & Pain have reached a depth of more than 800 feet on the Marion Hughston property east of town and it is said the structure is very favorable.

It is reported that the big companies and men who know structure are very optimistic over the outlook for oil development in Foard County.

Local Showers Do Not Help Crops So The Farmers Say

Not only do the dashing local showers do crops no good, but they actually injure feed, at least, say the farmers. They may benefit cotton slightly but they say after a shower when the sun comes out feed is literally cooked.

What we need is a good general rain over the county and unless we get it some of these days crops are sure to be cut short. Cotton has not hurt much yet but feed is actually suffering and perhaps it would require quite a lot of raining to help feed.

Plans Are Discussed for Poultry Show Here

Quite a number of the poultry raisers of the county met at the court house last Saturday afternoon and discussed plans for the poultry show this fall. Sentiment, of course, is strong for a show, but the time for holding it is sometimes a hard proposition on account of the fact that a judge can not always be had at any time. Arrangements are being made to secure a good judge and the date is left open until it can be known at what date a judge can be had.

It was the opinion of those present that the show should come earlier this year than has been the custom in the past, and if a judge can be had it is planned to have it not later than the first week in December.

It might be said that our poultry breeders have in mind this fall the biggest poultry show in the history of the county, and they hope to extend the invitation to breeders outside of this county to show here. This seems to be a very fine idea, as it will bring people from other counties to Crowell and they will have an opportunity of seeing just what Foard County has in the way of poultry. The advertising value of it will be worth a great deal to the county and to the poultry interests here.

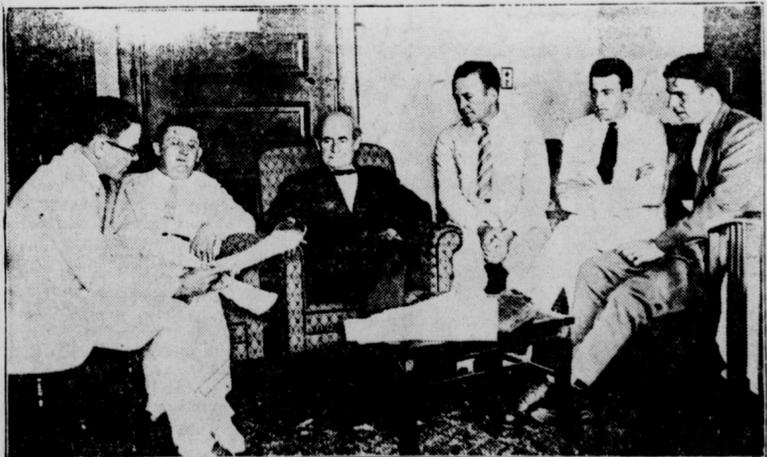

Foard County has many flocks of purebred poultry that will compare favorably with the best in any county. It has been demonstrated by the fact that some of them have been exhibited in shows in other counties and took prizes.

W. A. Matthews was elected as a director to fill the vacancy caused by the going away of Frank Arp.

Election for School Consolidation Did Not Carry Friday

The election at Claytonville and Good Creek for school consolidation failed to carry in either district last Friday. However, it was very close in each and tied in one. The vote was 6 for consolidation and 7 against in the Claytonville district, and 9 for and 9 against in the Good Creek district.

The vote was rather light in both districts, which indicates a lack of interest to some extent.

DISCUSSING THE SCOPES EVOLUTION TRIAL WHICH STARTED IN DAYTON, TENNESSEE ON JULY 10, 1925

Sunday School Class Picnic
Sunday, July 12, the Sunday School class of Mrs. H. E. Ferguson enjoyed an outing on the Ferguson farm east of Margaret. Not more than thirty minutes after the morning church services were over the girls were ready and "raring to go." Each member had one guest.

We arrived at our destination about 1:30 and were soon enjoying a fine picnic lunch. The afternoon was spent in hiking, horse-back riding, plum cutting and wading. Everyone gathered a bunch of cat-tails as a souvenir of the trip. Just before coming home we ate supper, but we were not as hungry then, even after the strenuous exercises of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ferguson was accompanied by her husband and children. The guests of the afternoon were: Bro. and Sister Fuller and children; Misses Irene Patton, Ila Lovelady, Gussie Todd, and Mildred Cogdell. The members of the Sunday School class present were: Misses Bevie Jewel Ringgold, Jewel Brown, Marion Cooper, Althea Saunders and Everell Saunders.—A Guest.

Orient Officials Make Tour Over Road

W. R. Lence, Assistant to the President; J. J. Lane, General Traffic Manager and A. J. Cleary, Superintendent, of the Orient Railway, completed a tour of the Texas division last week inspecting cotton handling facilities. An extensive study is being made of the cotton situation this year in an attempt to improve cotton handling methods.

Mr. Lence came to the Orient after many years experience as agent of the Missouri Pacific at Kansas City, which at that time maintained one of the largest freight stations in the United States.

Preparations are being made for an ample supply of cars for the shippers located on the Orient. As far as practicable, it is planned to load cotton as fast as it comes from the yards and avoid the confusion incident to holding it on platforms. Another improvement in handling methods is to take all shipments when offered and issue bills of lading for them without delay.

To avoid delays and the expense of rebanding bales, the cooperation of the gins is requested in the elimination of "rolling" bales. Experience has proved these defective bales are due largely to the "speeding up" of automatic distributors in gin boxes.

A meeting of the local agents on the Texas division has been called for August 22, to consider cotton handling in all its phases. The object of the meeting is to consider ways of increasing the efficiency of service to the shipper. Present reports indicate a large cotton crop over the entire West Texas country and the Orient asks the co-operation of gins and general shippers in handling the movement speedily.

At the M. E. Church

It is with regret that it is necessary for me to leave my work for a short time in order to regain my strength. The intense hot weather coming before I had time to gain my strength from operation, I find myself unable to stem the hot weather and gain any strength. We are going into the mountains of New Mexico where it is cool. We appreciate greatly the board of stewards granting us a leave of absence. Also the interest manifested and the kind words spoken by the people of Crowell. We sincerely hope to return soon much improved so we may render more efficient service. Just before leaving we have received telephone telling us wife's brother has been operated on which has delayed the trip until tomorrow and possibly until Monday. Should I remain until Monday will fill pulpit Sunday.

FARMING PLEA MADE BY LEE

Quanah, Texas, July 13.—R. Q. Lee, president of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, visited Quanah on his campaign of West Texas in an effort to turn the people toward diversified farming and irrigation. The capacity of the grill-room at the Hotel Quanah was taxed to accommodate the selected business men and farmers who were hosts of Mr. and Mrs. Lee and Porter Whaley at luncheon and they followed closely his appeal to Texans to get away from an extensive program of cotton and diversify and practice intensive cultivation.

The Dallas News campaign for more cotton on fewer acres he described as one of the greatest constructive agricultural programs ever attempted. He departed from his usual line of speaking to dwell at length upon the lessons to be gained from The News' cotton contest and he urged his farmer hearers to practice and his city friends to encourage the adoption of the principles established by the great educational campaign put over by The News.

Individual irrigation projects, he declared, would prove the salvation of the farmers of all Texas. He cited a number of instances of farmers in his section who irrigated small patches of five to twenty acres and annually produced $600 to $800 of crops an acre.

He is actively pushing a program of individual irrigation in Eastland County and his home of Cisco is establishing a model demonstration irrigated farm for educational purposes. An irrigated garden, or, if possible, a several acre truck patch, Mr. Lee said, is a necessary adjunct of every farm not only in West Texas, but East, North and South Texas as well. He quoted figures showing that such projects are within the reach of the average farmer and called upon patriotic Texans to take up the program of irrigation to insure Texas prosperity.

R. R. Gilliland, president of the Quanah Rotary Club, presided, and Judge C. Y. Welch introduced the speakers. Porter A. Whaley discussed the fight made by his organization in defense of the common point freight rates and declared that millions of dollars are saved for West Texas by maintaining this schedule. Mrs. Lee, Col. C. C. French and B. M. Whittaker made brief addresses.

ORIENT RAILWAY CALLS ATTENTION TO PROBLEMS

CONFRONTING NEW MANAGEMENT

Some persons may have the mistaken idea that reorganization solved the Orient Railway's operating difficulties. Such a step did nothing to remove causes which contributed to the trials of receivership. Two chief difficulties harassed the Orient management during receivership and still exist. The line where completed serves a new territory and does not provide sufficient local traffic to meet costs of operation. It lacks completion which is necessary to make it a trans-continental carrier as originally planned.

There has been an increasing local traffic with the development that has come to southern Oklahoma and west Texas. However, it will require several years for local traffic to reach a point of sufficient volume to become an important factor in the Orient's maintenance. We are able to handle California business satisfactorily through arrangements with our connections. We are constantly improving this service.

It is the purpose of the new company to complete the line from Kansas City to our Pacific port of Topolobampo in Mexico, as quickly as funds for this purpose can be procured. Our immediate problem is the replacement of equipment necessary to maintain the quality of service. The new company is determined to give its patrons completely new (new) are to be bought to augment under construction. The road bed is being re-tied. We feel the Orient is now able to offer a service comparable to any other western road.

The policy of the new company will be to maintain the co-operation of our patrons by giving the best service our resources will permit. We hope to maintain the cordial relationship that always has existed between the Orient and its people. Our chief aim is to serve our people well. Toward this end our program is directed.

We solicit your constructive criticism and suggestions.

KNOWLEDGE

If we are honest with ourselves, we will all have to admit that we don't know much. But neither does anyone else, and in that there is great satisfaction. It's a comforting thought to turn over in the mind.

Knowledge is only relative, anyhow; so don't let it worry you if someone makes a display of knowing something about a particular subject about which you have no information. You know more about the job you are holding down and both of you would stand dumb before an Einstein or an Edison.

There are more books of facts than any person can absorb in a lifetime. In fact, there is such a vast amount of information even in the Sunday newspapers that no one has the mental capacity to remember a very small part of it.

All any of us can do, then, is to eat the pie and leave the ice cream, or vice-versa, according to taste, leaving it to nature, or Providence, or our sub-conscious mind—whatever that may be—to bring us in contact with our greatest fields of usefulness.

The things that we actually know, by dint of experience, will always be few. The things that we assume to know, such as that the world is round and that light travels at a certain speed, are numerous. But the things that we do not know at all are beyond computation.

Wife of an American author fought a bull in Spain, just to show that American women are not afraid of anything.

About the time you have forgotten an unpleasant experience, some dumb bell comes along and reminds you of it.

One penalty of becoming "cultured" is that you have to give up common sense.

GROWING COMMUNITIES

The rapid growth which many progressive cities and towns have enjoyed has been one of the marvels of American life.

People who are ambitious to have their own communities get ahead in the procession often ask how it is that these advancing places obtain such quick gains.

Investigation would commonly reveal that such progress is not always the result of favorable locations. The citizens of such places have not sat down and waited for opportunities to come to them. They have done some hustling on their own account.

The reputation that any community has for being a live place has a lot to do with its advancement. Nothing breeds success like success, applies to communities equally as well as to individuals.

People like to buy real estate or engage in business in places that appear to be alert and growing as they feel that their investments will increase in value. They enjoy the feeling of life and activity that is apparent.

Chambers of commerce, boards of trades and boosters clubs have much to do with the development of communities. Results that such organizations obtain are broader than the surface indications disclose.

It is commonly true that when men band themselves together in associations of this nature, they usually achieve some of the definite results they aim for, in the shape of public improvements, and new industries, in addition to a better community spirit.

But even if an organization of this type does go along for a time without much tangible achievement, the mere fact that the business men are working unitedly for new facilities and advantages, creates an atmosphere of progress.

The activities of such an organization are reported in the newspapers and discussed by travelers and residents. The idea spreads that such a community is an active place where the people are hustling to get things done. When Crowell gets that sort of reputation, it will grow of its own momentum.

Results That Last!

Proven by Crowell People

Thousands of kidney sufferers have tried remedy after remedy with only temporary benefit. That's mighty discouraging! But on kidney remedy has earned a reputation for lasting results and there's plenty of proof right here in Crowell.

Read the experience of one who used Doan's Pills years ago and now makes his endorsement even stronger.

A. L. Johnson, prop. feed store and wagon yard, Crowell, says: "My back ached with a steady, bearing-down pain. When I stooped a sharp pain caught me and I could hardly straighten. I couldn't sleep well nights, either. Mornings, my back was sore and lame and sometimes I got so dizzy I could hardly see. I had a dull headache, too, and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills fixed me up in fine shape." (Statement given April 8, 1919.)

On February 18, 1924, Mr. Johnson said: "Doan's Pills gave me a lasting cure."

Buy Tubes as Carefully as you buy Tires

THERE are two ways a car owner can buy tubes.

He can go out looking for price—and get it.

Or he can buy tubes that will give his casings a chance to deliver the mileage that is built into them.

U.S. Royal and Grey Tubes are built to give mileage and get mileage.

They resist heat, hold their shape and retain their elasticity.

To get all the mileage out of a new casing or to make an old casing last—put a U. S. Royal or Grey Tube inside it.

D. 1924, by J. S. Ansley, a single man, and J. L. Ansley joined by his wife, Ola Ansley, for the better securing the payment of eleven (11) certain promissory vendors' notes, dated January 31st, A. M. Yowell, S. W. Weatherall and G. W.
