BEAVER NEWS

(By Special Correspondent)

Beaver school closed Friday. We regret it very much as the pupils were doing so well.

Lovie Johnston spent Saturday night with Buford Randolph in the Jamison community.

Robert Byrd who has been ill with pneumonia for some time is improving at this writing.

Jim Fanning, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. John M. Johnston, left Tuesday for Oklahoma.

Frost came Monday night. We do not know whether it will damage anything or not, but hope not.

Garnet Jones who had been attending a business college at Abilene returned home the 18th of March.

W. E. Robbins and Mr. Chandler of Foard City community visited John M. Johnston and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Grimes of Harold, Texas, spent the week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Gray.

Miss Susie Randolph of Jamison community spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Mack McGregor, of this community.

A number of people from this community are attending the revival meeting at Foard City. We think it is accomplishing much good.

Frank Peoples and Olin McGregor spent last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Randolph, of the Jamison community.

John Randolph and sister, Miss Lucy, and Miss Sallie Scott left last week for Collin and Ellis counties where they will visit friends and relatives.

The Beaver boys played basket ball with the Crowell boys Wednesday. The score was 10 to 16 in favor of Crowell. On Thursday at the Crowell courts they played Margaret, the score was 12 and 14 in favor of Margaret.

There was an Easter egg hunt at Mrs. Laura Johnson's Sunday for the grownups and one at Mrs. Maggie Johnson's for the children. It was such a cold day we don't imagine there was as large a crowd present as there would have been had the weather been pretty.

The last freeze did not seem to injure crops and fruit, but it was rather severe on early gardens.

The old adage, "If March comes in like a lamb, it will go out like a lion," is about to be verified this year.

The Home Mission ladies held their meeting at the hall on Tuesday afternoon. They did not come to exhibit their Easter bonnets but came prepared to do good work.

Our most enterprising citizen, Mr. Graham, is building a concrete cellar or storm house. It will be storm-proof and rat-proof, which is very essential under the present circumstances.

Our M. E. pastor has announced that there will be a pie eating at the church on Friday evening. We did not learn the object of the supper, but no doubt it will be for some good purpose and it will afford an opportunity to eat pies like our mothers used to make.

Our postmaster has gone to considerable expense to have a nice post-office and it affords the school children a fine place to do their stunts, wrestle, scuffle and scrap, while the larger ones do their spooning and some of the boys out of school age make it their business to come for their mail about the time school closes.

Everything nowadays works like the old teeter board at the old red school house where I got my education. When one end went up the other end came down, and occasionally some one fell off and got all broken up, and we are expecting some of our people will get teetered before long. Hens have gone up to 20c per lb., eggs teetered down to a dime. Flour $3.60 to $3.50 per 50 lb. sack, while wheat is $1.25 per bu. Hides 1c per lb. and shoes from $5.00 to $15.00 per pair and everything else a teetering. Buyers are offering $1.00 to $1.25 for the new crop of wheat. It cost us that much last year to harvest and thresh and market the crop and the indications are that the expense will be nearly the same this year.

This stove uses a wick to absorb the oil. It has the long "burner" and we think it undoubtedly the best oil burning stove made.

There is no stove that burns oil and uses a wick in doing it, we think, near so good as the New Perfection.

We also sell the Red Star Stove, a stove that has no wick of any kind, just a heavy cast iron burner, that burns any kind of approved liquid fuel or natural gas.

FOR SHAME!

It is reported that the defendant in a certain notorious murder trial, which resulted in the acquittal of the accused, has been offered large sums by publishers for the story of her life, and is also much sought by moving picture concerns. Such things are a burning shame. We do not need to tell the story of this case in order that people should understand what we are talking about. Unfortunately, they are already fully informed as to that.
It is a sordid story of illicit love and a wrecked home with which we are becoming disgustingly familiar. It is a shame for publishers and picture men to seek to exploit this story for gain. It is a greater shame that the public taste for such things justifies purveyors to the public in thinking that such exploitation would bring great gain. If this woman has a trace of the womanhood which her defenders represented her as having, the only safe and decent thing for her to do is to learn some helpful work and remove herself from the public gaze in the quiet pursuit of her occupation. Similar cases show that people will pay their good money to satisfy a morbid curiosity, and then cast her off for having paraded her shame.—
The Presbyterian Advance.

IRRIGATION

The disposition to underrate the value and possibilities of the great area known as West Texas is persistent. Particularly is this true in those portions where the rainfall is not sufficient to assure crop production. Recent information from Washington bearing upon the growing use of irrigation is likely to come as a surprise to many Texans, who were under the impression that they had a fair knowledge of what is going on in the State.

In a vague sort of way most people know that irrigation is resorted to in West Texas, and as a rule the thought brings to mind a more or less limited truck-growing area and tales of the enormous mosquitoes which frequent irrigation ditches. But the fact that there are literally thousands of acres under irrigation in widely separated counties is not generally appreciated.

In Webb County, for instance, there are 7,480 acres under irrigation, while up in the Panhandle Bailey County has 2,195 acres. In Bexar nearly thirteen thousand acres are artificial-

KEEP AMERICA AMERICAN

Americans have become so accustomed to the orderly working of their political institutions that they take everything as a matter of course. Indeed, to judge from the behavior of many citizens, it might be said with fairness that "familiarity breeds contempt." We talk glibly about our blessings, but we do not seem to appreciate them over-much.

Take for example the recent change in administration of our national government. After eight years of power one group moved out and another group moved in. There was no display of force, no fear of violence, no uncovering of plots. Officers of the retiring government met their successors with every possible courtesy and help in getting a fair start. Cheers and good wishes from people of all parties followed the outgoing leaders and greeted the newcomers. It was a good deal like changing the watch on a ship at sea.

And all this was simply a symbol of something greater in the nation itself. The reason for the change in personnel of Government was not personal ambition, or political scheming, or armed force. The people of the country by their votes on election day registered a decision. That decision was final. It was made after full and free discussion without any element of coercion. Alternative policies and leadership were presented to the electors and they made their choice. Under fixed constitutional forms this choice automatically established itself on March fourth. The old government went out; the new government went in, with no interruption of the business of the country.

Compare this with Russia or Germany. Russia got rid of its ruler by murdering him and his family and by the usurpation of a proletarian dictator who achieved and retained his power by bloodshed, terrorism, confiscation. Germany exiled her ruler and scrapped his constitution. And both countries sit upon a smouldering volcano which at any moment may blow them to pieces.

It is this difference which constitutes the glory and greatness of the American and of the other English-speaking nations. And it is this very difference which is the object of attack from without and within. So long as America, the British Empire and France remain what they are, Russia cannot continue as the home of class dictatorship and political violence. Either we must come down to her level or she must come up to ours. If the American system is right the Russian system must be wrong, for they are as unlike as day and night.

We have in our political institutions a priceless possession. Let us preserve and protect these institutions against foreign foes and domestic traitors and prove ourselves worthy of them by making them more effective. We shall cure American ills only by a wise and lawful use of American institutions and a just enforcement of American law. Our safety lies in the intelligence and character of our people. —Leslie's.

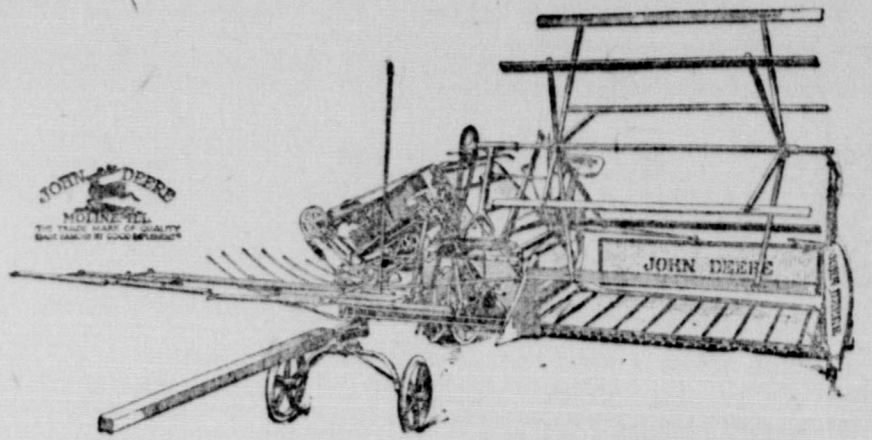

THE ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelpian Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Shirley with Mrs. Joe Couch as hostess.

Early French Art was the subject under discussion with Mrs. T. E. Womack as leader. Some of the topics touched upon were: The patrons of art in France and their influence in the development of art love, the types of pictures painted by Poussin and the importance of his establishing a school of fine arts in Paris, Lorraine's paintings as to subject, style and charm, the effect the change in court-life of the 18th century held on art and the work of Greuze, Verwt, Madame Le Bruir and David.

Some of the current events were especially good. Mrs. M. S. Henry discussed Chicago at length. She told of its growth from a village to a city ranking 4th in size in the world. She spoke of its commercial importance, its record of being the cleanest city on the globe, its manufactured products, especially Pullman cars, its transportation facilities and its future possibilities.

The club was glad to welcome Mrs. McGonagal as a guest. A delicious ice-course was served. —Reporter.

Built Better--Lasts Longer Costs Less to Operate

It's real economy in the long run to buy a John Deere Grain Binder. Its strong construction, the proper application of better materials, and its improvements to insure most effective operation under all conditions are apparent the minute you see it.

Without these unusual qualities no binder could possibly have built up the enviable reputation for service and long life that has been established by the John Deere in every grain growing section in America.

JOHN DEERE GRAIN BINDER

Take the main frame, for example. It's strong, wide steel bars are widely overlapped and hot-riveted together. The main bearings are self-aligning—there's no twisting of the frame or binding of the bearings.

The wheels are extra high and have wide traction-giving tires. They furnish ample support for the machine and extra traction in wet fields.

The John Deere makes better bundles. Its three packers instead of two insure this. This binder handles extremely short or heavy tangled grain better than others with less clogging—less scattered grain.

Its bundle carrier is unusually easy to operate—little effort to dump or return to position—and it can be adjusted as wear develops to keep it in easy-working order.

The Quick Turn Truck is another feature you will like. It keeps the binder running straight, permits square turns, takes off side draft from the horses, and, because its axle is flexible mounted, the wheels hold to the ground.

There is no other binder that will give you the years of satisfactory service that you can get with the John Deere—it's real economy to buy this better machine.

Crop Dope

We had a talk this week with Mr. Merrill, manager for J. Rosenbaum Grain Co. in Texas, and he tells us that they now have a man traveling in every wheat state in the Union, who does nothing but follow up crop complaints, and reports every day to their head office in Chicago.

He tells us that at this writing the wheat condition is around 100 per cent perfect. Their opinion is if we do not have any crop scares that wheat will gradually work lower. If along in May we have a drouth or bug scare there is a chance for a rise.

Use your own judgment govern yourself accordingly.

COCHRAN GETS TWO YEARS; FACES TWO OTHER CASES

Asperment, Texas, March 26.—E. J. Cochran, sentenced to two years in State prison by a jury here late yesterday on a charge of life insurance fraud, will face two indictments in connection with the "empty grave" case at the next term of court. Judge Chapman yesterday ordered the additional cases against Cochran continued until the next term.

He also ordered continued the cases against C. O. Hoggett and Wayne Ussury, alleged accomplices in the hoax which involved the framing of the subterfuge "burial" of Cochran and the subsequent alleged swindling of two fraternal societies out of about $5,000. Hoggett faces seven indictments and Ussury four.

Cochran was sentenced to two years yesterday on a charge of securing $5,000 from a Dallas insurance company through his "fake" death. The jury deliberated eight hours before returning a verdict.

Cochran was a prosperous farmer and the father of five children. He was supposed to have died March 10, 1919. The funeral ceremony was gone through and the coffin buried. Three insurance policies were paid to his widow. Mrs. Cochran died in May, 1920, more than a year after the fake funeral. In October, 1920, more than eighteen months after he was "buried," Cochran was arrested on a goat ranch near Sterling City. Prior to that time the grave had been opened and the coffin found empty.

Petroleum.

Kansas ranked third in the production of petroleum in 1918, according to a publication of the United States geological survey, just off the press, received by J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture. California ranked first and Oklahoma second.

The production of Oklahoma was given as 103,347,070 barrels. California 97,381,997 barrels and Kansas 45,451,017 barrels. The increase in petroleum products was much greater in Kansas than in any other state, amounting to a gain of 8,914,892 barrels, as compared to 6,336,740 barrels in Texas, 4,650,400 barrels in Louisiana and 3,654,447 barrels in California. The report shows a falling off of production in Oklahoma in 1918, as compared to 1917, of 4,160,401 barrels.

Are Manufacturing Paper From Cotton Linters

Dallas, March 28.—With the continued low price of cotton linters, increasing interest is being manifested in the manufacture of paper pulp from this material, according to the Research Department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has received many requests for information of this new industry. Plants have been erected, or are in the process of erection, at Commerce, Memphis, Tenn., Augusta, Ga., and Hopewell, Va., for the manufacture of paper pulp from cotton linters, and letters have been received by the Texas Chamber of Commerce from other cities where the advisability of erecting such factories is now under consideration.

The forest products laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture recently made an exhaustive study of the value of cotton linters as paper material, and its conclusion states that "Pulp made from cotton linters and shavings is well suited for the manufacture of book, writing, blotting and other high grades of paper, and is at least the equal of the best grades of wood pulp used for this purpose; if the paper industry will avail itself of this new source of raw material, there is every indication that a large tonnage can be produced, and at a cost to compete with wood pulp."

Hawk Makes Fatal Mistake.

The other day the family of B. P. Malsbury of Malystown, N. J. heard a crash of breaking glass and discovered a bay window broken, and flapping helplessly about the floor, a large hawk.

Knocked to the floor, also, was a freshly stuffed ringneck pheasant, which Russel Malsbury had shot during the gunning season and had just brought home from the taxidermist as a gift for his mother. The stuffed bird had been left in the bay window while the family admired it, and the hawk, probably sighting it from a nearby tree, had made a 100-yard swoop for its intended prey, only to crash through the unsewn glass barrier and injure itself fatally.

New Pumice Stone.

A material noted by a commerce report as promising increased future use is "Koka Seki," a Japanese variety of pumice stone. It is found only in the small group of Nijilma islands (Now Islands), lying off the Idzu peninsula about 30 miles south of Tokyo. It has been used locally from ancient times as a building material; but its great tensile strength, durability and resistance to temperature of 1,300 degrees Centigrade adapt it especially for boiler and furnace construction, as well as linings for safes and refrigerator insulation. It can be easily cut, takes nails, and can be painted or plated with metal.

Be Sure It's a Rumely

Over 80 years ago—when the idea of power on the farm had hardly yet kindled—the Rumely ideal in power farming machinery building was born—the ideal to design and build farm power equipment so supremely good that it could not be surpassed.

And now for over 80 years every step in the process of designing and building Rumely products has been held firmly to this ideal. Years of hard farm service have proved the supremacy of Rumely design, and likewise the superiority of its construction.

Take the Rumely OilPull tractor, of which there are four sizes. It is the only tractor guaranteed to burn kerosene under all conditions at all loads up to its full brake horsepower. It has an unequalled record for long life—many of the first OilPulls built, over 12 years ago, are still working as steadily as ever. It is the only tractor possessing the distinct advantage of an oil-cooling system. It is the only tractor with a double lubrication system.

Then there is the Rumely Ideal separator, five different sizes. Like the OilPull tractor, it has exclusive and advanced features of construction. It threshes fast and clean and has a remarkable capacity.

The Rumely Universal steamer is built in three sizes. Built complete in the Rumely shops, unparalleled in the consumption of fuel and water, and known the world over for its steaming qualities, the Universal steamer holds the highest rank as the standard steamer of the world.

The new Rumely 1 1/2 ton farm truck is especially designed for farm conditions and is the result of a long period of experimentation and investigation by the Company's engineers. Every feature has been tried and found eminently satisfactory for farm truck use.

If on your farm you want power farming equipment that will do your work well, at an uncommonly low cost for fuel and upkeep, and will hold up under the strain of hard work year after year for an unusual number of years, then make your choice a Rumely. Let us help you make your selection.

Theford's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennesse Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theford's Black-Draught, the genuine, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver.

"I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it."

Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities.

Theford's Black-Draught Liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theford's. E. 28

Like Ponce de Leon, People Today Are Apt to Believe What They Want to Believe.

Ponce de Leon didn't originate the idea of a spring of eternal youth. That was not in his mind when he sailed for the new world. He sailed with Columbus upon the latter's second trip and was appointed governor of Porto Rico, where he believed gold existed in abundance. While exploring the island he met an old savage, who told him that not only was there gold to be found in another country to the northward, but also there existed in the land a spring whose waters brought eternal youth. So the restless adventurer set out upon his search and discovered Florida.

All of which is stated not because the information is new, but to call attention to the fact that Ponce de Leon believed the eternal youth proposition because he wanted to, remarks a writer in the Columbus Dispatch. All of us, to this good day, do the same thing. We believe that which we desire to believe, whether it is good or bad. We believe the scandals we hear about others when we want to believe them—and we reject them if we do not want to believe such things of the persons connected with the scandal.

Further, we usually hear that which we are desirous of hearing. The wily old savage wanted to get rid of Ponce de Leon. He knew enough of human nature and of Spanish nature to be aware that gold—and youth—would prove highly interesting to the invader. That was what Ponce de Leon was expecting to hear—especially the story of gold. But the old savage, to make the gold story all the stronger and to lure the invader from the island all the more surely, added the eternal youth proposition to the story which the explorer was expecting to hear—and thereby was he successful in ridding his island home of a troublesome character.

Superstitions.

The Woman's Press club gave a party at an Indianapolis hotel, which was followed by a playlet. The woman who had charge of the property list, in her excitement, forgot that a broom and dustpan were among the articles needed. At the last moment, as the guests were arriving, she rushed downstairs and started to enter the elevator with the articles. The middle-aged man in charge halted her and said:

"Madam, you can't take that broom up in this elevator."

She tried to explain that it was to be used in a playlet and had been forgotten, that she would tuck it away in a corner, and it could not possibly interfere with any one's comfort on the trip up. "No," he replied. "You can take the dustpan all right, but woman, not for anything would I take a broom in my elevator. Why, don't you know it is bad luck?"

She didn't know it, but she had to get out of the car, and smilingly walked up the nine floors.
