MULESHOE SCORES — Littlefield Wildcats again cleaned up on the Muleshoe Mules, 26-8 at Littlefield Friday night before a near-capacity crowd.

The Mules, however, played a much better brand of ball than the score indicates. Here is the Mules' only TD; Joe Adams is enroute to the goal in the picture at left, and in the picture at the right, Dan Smith has just charged through the Littlefield line to tally two more points.

Ray's 'Ritin'

By RAY MARTIN
Mama and I went to a wedding last Sunday, one of those where everybody sweated and the groom shook. The bride's mother was stony-eyed and didn't cry at all like the bridegroom's mother, but the bridegroom's mother and his little sister both wept copiously. Neither of the fathers, fortunately, wept.
But in this wedding it was the minister who got flustered; he rattled through with a single-ring ceremony when it was supposed to have been the double-banded type. In fact, the maid of honor stood there all through the ceremony with the groom's ring snugly stashed away on her thumb. In fact, don't ever recall before going down the receiving line and shaking the hand of a bridesmaid wearing a man's ring on her thumb, a brand-new, unused male wedding ring. After somebody called it to her attention, she slipped the ring off and planted it on the new hubby's finger just like it had been done at the proper place in the ceremony.
And the preacher apparently skipped over a few pages in his ceremony and forgot the papa altogether. The papa finally went to his pew and sat down, feeling more useless than a condemned man with a season football pass.

Of course the air-conditioning didn't work, and somebody brought along a tiny baby who cried just as the bride was saying her "I do's" until we never did know for sure whether the bride actually said her "I do's." The minister, however, seemed satisfied and went on to other sections of the ceremony, so I presume she said "em."
And for another thing, the groom forgot entirely to kiss the bride; they just walked back down the aisle.
Even so it was a very beautiful wedding and both "his" and "her" sides of the church were well filled. In fact, both teams seemed to be pretty evenly matched, audience-wise.
Afterward there was the reception with a monstrous $50 cake and "boiling" punch and everybody told the bride how pretty she looked (which she did) and finally they left on a honeymoon to Acapulco and we all got in our various cars and went elsewhere. The bride's mother relaxed for the first time in weeks, and everybody went to eat. Big weddings like that, you know, make a fellow hungry, although you'd think that $50 worth of cake would be enough for everybody.

Basically there was little difference between the wedding which we attended last Sunday and the one in which Mama and I were the principals 31 years ago last July. Nothing, that is, but the size of the wedding, the size of the cake, the number of

This Was Not Our Year Again! Littlefield Wins

BY JAY SPAIN
This was to have been THE year but now the Mules will have to wait until next year to beat the Littlefield Wildcats. Littlefield swamped the Muleshoe eleven Friday night to the tune of 26 to 8 to hold the winning streak the Wildcats seem to possess when they meet up with the tough Mules.
Muleshoe received the kick-off on the 16-yard line and ran it out to the 28. Three plays later they had moved the ball only 2 yards and had to punt.
Littlefield took the punt on their own 45 but fumbled on the second play and Sophomore Ronnie Swint, Mule tackle took possession on the Wildcat 49.
The Mules again could not move the ball in three tries and had to punt.
The Wildcats ran one play for seven yards and then sprung loose Quinton Hodge for a 56-yard punt. Three plays later he carried the pigskin over for six points. Larry Wood kicked the extra point and the Wildcats moved out front to stay.

Muleshoe received the kick on their 20 and ran out to the 26 before they were stopped. Two plays later Ronald Sitton of Littlefield snatched a Muleshoe fumble on the Mules 31 to set up the second score of the ballgame.
As the first quarter ended Littlefield was on the Mules 16 and three plays later pushed over for six more points. A pass play for the extra points was no good and the score was reading 13-0.

The Mules then decided that they had taken all the abuse they wanted. They took the ball on their own 25 and six plays later had moved down to the Wildcat 33. Then speedy sophomore halfback Joe Adams slipped through the Littlefield line and ran over for a TD. Fullback Dan Smith then charged the line and made the two extra points.
Littlefield took the kick on their 25 but couldn't move the ball and had to punt from their own 22. Muleshoe then took the ball but was unable to make yardage. As the half ended Muleshoe had the ball on their own 15 yard line with the score reading at 13 to 8 in the Wildcats favor.
As the second half opened Littlefield received the ball on their own 27 and ran it out to their 43 yard. Eleven plays and three first downs later they had moved only to the Mules 23. Muleshoe then took possession and moved out to their 31 before they punted to the Wildcat 11 yard line.
Littlefield couldn't move the ball and punted it to their own 49. Two plays later Quinton Hodge intercepted a Mule pass on his 40 and ran to the Muleshoe 25 before he was stopped. That ended the third quarter.

Eight plays later Ray McKinney tossed a pass to Larry Coffman who ran over the touch down. The kick for the extra point was blocked.
The Mules received the kick on their 20 and moved to their 41 before they had to punt. Littlefield took over on their own 49 and two plays later McKinney tossed a pass to end Rickard Funk who ran over for another touchdown. Wood's kick for the extra point

Methodists Here Open Doors To 'Persons of All Races'

The church this past week after a lengthy discussion of various proposals dealing with integration of races.
The board also passed a resolution of appreciation for the "action and manner of action of the Muleshoe school board in opening the doors of Muleshoe (senior) High school to Negro students."
The board rejected this resolution: "We call upon and encourage the local merchants, cafe and restaurant owners and motel and hotel proprietors to act in Christian conscience that service and accommodations be made without regard to race. This would be in keeping with what the schools, hospitals and several business establishments have already done."
A second resolution recommending recreational opportunities be opened to all races also was rejected.
Those opposing the resolution urging desegregation of cafes, motels, etc. said such a step would violate the free enterprise system which permits an individual to operate his business in the manner which he sees fit. Such a program, however, is in included in the national civil rights

In a double ring ceremony read at 12 o'clock noon Sunday, September 1, Miss Karron Lavelle Knight became the bride of Cleatus Eugene Rhodes at the First Baptist Church in Friona with the pastor, the Rev. Bill Burton officiating.

Mrs. Wayne Ware, Lubbock, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Tresa Hamilton, niece of the bride was flower girl. They wore dresses of yellow satin, designed sleeveless, with scooped necklines and white chiffon overskirts. They carried bouquets of yellow and white pom-poms.

These flowers made a lovely corsage.

When she arrived in the East, she was greeted by Hazel Nowell, Worthy Matron of Muleshoe Chapter and presented a lovely 50 year pin and a Grand Chapter Certificate, setting forth the fact that she is a 50 year member. The Certificate contained the signatures of Thelma McReynolds, Worthy Grand Matron; Hal Burnett, Worthy Grand Patron and Rebecca L. Miles, Grand Secretary, and the Seal of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star.

Wynnie Dunn sang, "An Evening Prayer" and dedicated it to the Honoree, and gave the Biography of the composer of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds"; then asked the entire group to rise and sing the beautiful song, as a tribute to Mrs. Dyer. Ruth McCarty accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. Dyer was initiated into Lockney Chapter No. 437, August 12, 1913. She served as Worthy Matron in that Chapter in 1915, and held various other offices. She became a member of Muleshoe Chapter April 2, 1940.

MRS. E. E. DYER

She has served long and faithfully, in the Order, and is an inspiration to all who know her. A beautiful cake, in the shape of an open Bible, baked and decorated by Jewell Strong, bore the inscription, "50 Years, O. E. S. Alleene" and was placed in the center of the refreshment table.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tries to shed some light on international finance this week, his letter indicates.

Dear editor: Sometimes the difference between a big man and a little man is that the big man just owes more money.

I don't know why I mention this, unless it was because of an article I read last night while I was going over some bills I was supposed to pay before the 10th of the month.

According to it, the United Nations is 100 million dollars in debt and its financial situation is getting worse instead of better. This has shocked a lot of people.

Now I'm not going into the philosophical purposes of the United Nations, that's out of my field, although if the world ever eliminates war it'll probably be through a single police force, but don't ask me how we can swing it.

What I was interested in is the financial aspects of the organization, I mean, what's so surprising about the fact the UN is head over heels in debt?

You take 75 or 100 countries, each one of which is head over heels in debt, and let them form a super-organization like the UN, and what can you expect?

guests, and a few things like that. We married in the middle of the depression when a $10 bill was as big as a horse blanket and was much harder to come by.

We got married in a church, but it was the size "small" wedding—no bridesmaids, no best man, no guests, no reception. Just relatives, of whom we both had only a few. I had $10 in my pocket, and the preacher already had been paid.

But the size of the wedding, I've come to learn through the years, doesn't seem to be a gauge by which one can measure in advance the length of time the wedding will last. I've known big weddings that lasted for years and big ones that hardly lasted long enough to get the license back from the clerk's office. And the same thing is true of some small weddings, too.

Having been married for 31 years, however, gives one a right to discourse at considerable length on how to make a marriage last, but by the same token, anyone who's been married that long has learned enough to know that he doesn't know anything about it. It's like raising children: Only old maids know the secrets.

But there are some things that a fellow learns about marriage through experience: That it takes considerable doing on the part of both the principals to make it work, and I hasten to add that the effort is well worth it.

Faith and common interest are the two things that I think make it work best. Without either of those, the marriage won't work. I've known too many couples who loved each other dearly but couldn't stand the sight of each other; their interests were that different. You gotta like the same things, even to spinach and cauliflower or learn to like spinach and cauliflower if you don't like 'em at first.

And that concludes today's lecture on the subject of how to make a marriage work.

AREA GAMES

Frona Finally Wins - Topples Farwell 26-13

West Texas football outfits took to the field Friday to blast the lids off their 1963 season under area-wide cloudless skies that was made to order for the fans but a bit on the warm side for the players.

Several teams upset the dope, but Frona pulled the big surprise of the entire area, ending a 27-game losing streak when they downed Farwell Steers 26 to 13. Milton Hargus, halfback, was the hero, and the Frona Star pulled a four-page extra Saturday, telling about the game.

Sudan Hornets set up an early scoring play to lead the way to a 20-12 win over Morton Indians. Mike Smith scoring in the first quarter but the biggest scoring play came later when a 32-yard pass from Thomas to Allen was good for a tally. Morton's Charles Ledbetter scored Morton's first TD from a three-yard plunge, but it was quickly followed by another Sudan score, a 61-yard pass play from Thompson to Smith.

In eight-man football, Three Way downed Southland 30-20 with Tommy Dupler scoring three of the TDs. He ran 10, 2 and 12 yards and passed to Tom Terrell for two more points. John Tucker ran over an extra point attempt and scored 10 yards for another touchdown.

Cotton Center ripped into Bula, 34-20 with Manuel Quintanilla catching two touchdown passes and scoring another around end. Bula scored on a 15-yard run by Risenger and Bula's last score came on a 10-yard pass from Risenger to Archer.

In other games, Denver City smacked Seminole 41-0. Canyon beat Dimmitt 14 to 8. Springlake beat Bovina 25-8. Lorenzo beat Whitharrel 20 to 0, and Amberst blanked Meadow 13-0. Lazbuddie was smothered by Wilson 34-6. Cooper nosed New Deal 8-0.

Tours and demonstrations will occupy the attention of the visitors Friday afternoon, and at 7 o'clock in the evening, a fish and barbecued beef dinner is to be served. Hale County State Bank and Goodpasture Grain & Elevator co., are donors, and Lions clubs from District 2T1 and 2T2, will serve the dinner.

Of primary interest to the farmers will be the six-stop mobile tour of the farm. After boarding a truck or trailer, the first stop will be devoted to flame cultivation with Jack Parks in charge. Traveling between stops 1 and 2, guides will point out research on various forms of phosphate applied to cotton. Second stop is a soybean breeding project with Barry Love in charge. Recharge demonstrations will mark the third stop, and fourth stop will feature castorbean variety and fertilizer tests. Crop rotation will be shown at stop 5, and the final stop will explain important microclimate studies on cotton.

Ancient Buried City is Now Being Restored in Mexico

Mexico City's oldest "suburb" is a buried city to which the only regular commuters nowadays are archaeologists. They began commuting back and forth last year in the execution of a vast program of excavations, the biggest restoration program ever undertaken here, and the most expensive! $1,300,000.

Teotihuacan is not a suburb in the real sense because it is much older than Mexico City. Its founders abandoned it centuries before the Aztecs showed up to build Tenochtitlan, the original name of the great, modern metropolis which is now the capital of Mexico. As Mexico City grew over the centuries, however, spreading out northern fringes reached close to across the Valley of Mexico, its the buried city of Teotihuacan.

Yet few tourists realize they are looking down upon a carefully planned city with plazas and avenues connecting the multiple structures shrouded under centuries of dirt, rocks, and shrubbery.

The first of these dwellings, the "Palace of the Butterflies," has now been uncovered by the archaeological team in charge of restoration. Archaeologists began the digging at the Pyramid of the Moon, sister structure to the Pyramid of the Sun.

Clearing away the crust of earth from the "Moon" and its dozen stepped platforms in the plaza below, they plan to move methodically down the "avenue of the Dead" looking into each mound on either side from temples, palaces and houses. Bulldozers and dump trucks are leading the procession, removing tons of dirt. Behind them move the experts with scalpels and magnifying glasses. And behind the explorers, come the specialist gathering up bits of pottery and stone to reconstruct the findings.

Their work is slow and tedious, but the first discovery is hurrying them on with great excitement. Named the Palace of the Butterflies for its decorative scheme, the first structure was uncovered from an irregularly-shaped mound at the base of the Pyramid of the Moon.

Archaeologists began digging into the mound last summer. Their picks brought them to a stairway lined with carved stone serpents. Off the side of the stairs was a huge, two-ton serpent's head. But the excitement was just beginning.

At the top of the stairs the diggers uncovered the entrance to a beautifully-decorated palace. It was unlike anything ever found at Teotihuacan, with bas-relief carvings of animals and birds, mica-inlaid murals, and painted plaster couches where the priests of the time apparently lounged in religious meditation. On the stone columns were clusters of carved butterflies — or insect-birds resembling butterflies.

The building itself had apparently been burned—there were traces of heavy roof beams as evidence — but it resembles the "split-level" planning for our day, rambling down a hillside.

Jorge Acosta, leader of the archaeological team, is still analyzing and restoring the rich range of art including surprisingly well preserved murals. Art objects found being uncovered will be put on display in a brand new tourist museum which has been constructed at Mexico City's oldest "suburb".

The four new hybrids have shown to be equivalent to RS 610

Have you counted your blessings lately? Everything seldom seems perfect to any of us, but when we stop long enough to take stock of our situation as citizens of America, particularly the United States, we cannot help being overwhelmed by the freedom and opportunity we enjoy in comparison to any other place on earth. Some of these blessings may even cause us to be lax in our appreciation of the circumstances that made them possible. You can still, just barely, if you are not too influential an individual, openly oppose and expose movements such as the following:

The first four points above have been put into action. You should know that Farm Bureau is on the list and that one Texas County Farm Bureau has been investigated and found to owe thousands of dollars in back taxes and penalties.

The above quote is from "Facts For You", prepared and published by Texas Farm Bureau under the direction of Bill Wedemeyer, Director of Research and Education.

Whether you love, hate, or do not care about Farm Bureau, we hope you will read and re-read the above five points of action that apparently are being activated. See what is happening, then prayerfully write your congressman to let him know you are deeply concerned.

Farm Bureau has always actively and openly opposed Communism both locally and nationally. We are sure that if it is forced to dissolve, it will dissolve opposing Communism. We know the membership and leadership locally and statewide well enough personally to be sure of this. We are sure the same permeates the leadership and membership nationally, as well. How do you stand as an individual American Citizen?

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS

By MELVIN R. EVANS

- ATTENTION HUNTERS — or should I say Attention Mr. and Mrs. America, the gun you hold may cost your life or the life of a loved one.
- Hunting season is again upon us and we, all of us, must take every effort to prevent firearms accidents.
- As law enforcement officers we hope every year that we won't encounter a hunting accident.
- If each of you, hunter or not, will follow the 10 commandments of safety we can reduce accidents that involve firearms.
- Below, the commandments are listed:
1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. This is the first rule of gun safety.
  2. Guns carried into camp or home, or when otherwise not in use, must always be unloaded, and taken down or have actions open; guns always should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
  3. Always be sure barrel and action are clear of obstructions, and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying. Remove oil and grease from chamber before firing.
  4. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble; keep the safety on until you are ready to shoot.
  5. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know the identifying features of the game you intend to hunt.
  6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all horseplay while handling a gun.
  7. Unattended guns should be unloaded; guns and ammunition should be stored separately beyond reach of children and careless adults.
  8. Never climb a tree or fence or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.
  9. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water; when at target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.
  10. Avoid alcoholic drinks before or during shooting.

Auto Stickers Are Now On Sale

AUSTIN—Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that the new 1964 vehicle inspection sticker became available September 1 at all official inspection stations in Texas.

"During the summer months, the department has conducted intensive re-training schools for all owners and mechanics of inspection stations," Garrison said. "These men are now qualified and they are ready to serve the motoring public in their vehicle inspection needs."

More than five million vehicles registered in the state are required by law to be inspected at one of the 5,000 official stations between now and April 16, 1964. Operators of vehicles not displaying the new sticker by that date will be in violation of the law.

Garrison urged motorists to get their vehicles inspected at the earliest possible time—and pointed out:

"Since the vehicle inspection program began in Texas, vehicle defects as causative factors in motor vehicle accidents has been reduced from 13 per cent in 1951 to five per cent in 1962. We have every reason to hope that with continued voluntary compliance with this law, accidents can be further reduced."

Cotton Growers Meeting Slated
LUBBOCK—Jack Hurt, manager of California Planting Cotton Seed Distributors in California's San Joaquin Valley, will relate that organization's "success story" to members of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at the PCG annual meeting next Thursday. The meeting is to be held in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium, beginning at 10 a.m.

"Through a steady improvement in the quality and uniformity of their cotton, growers in the San Joaquin Valley have come from the producers of an unwanted fiber to producers of cotton now consistently sold at a premium," says PCG Executive Vice President George W. Pfeifferberger, "and I just want High Plains cotton growers to hear that story as an example of what can be done."

The annual meeting this year is being dedicated to the man who has been PCG's president since its inception in 1956, W. O. "Mr. Bill" Fortenberry. Fortenberry, retiring as president, will become chairman of the board of directors and is being honored with a silver and bronze plaque in appreciation of his years of service.

The meeting will include the election and installation of officers, a financial report, and a report to the membership on the year's activities. Featured speaker for the event is Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, who will be introduced by Congressman George Mahon. A free barbecue lunch will be served and Under Secretary Murphy will speak immediately afterwards.

In addition to all-cotton door prizes to be given throughout the day, two couples will be awarded all-expense paid trips either to the Ginner's convention in Dallas or on the tour of Textile mills sponsored each year by PCG.

Roger Hornsby's 42 home runs hit for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1922 is still a record for National League second basemen.

COMMUNISM — Part V

What's Communism's Future?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
 AP Special Correspondent

THE WORST may be yet to come for world Communists, already severely shaken by the Soviet-Chinese feud.

Up to now the battle has been between two Communist parties, ostensibly over ideology. I may move on—to a feud between governments.

If that happens, the point of no return will have been passed. Red leaders around the globe will face dismal prospects of progressive splintering and slow disintegration in the world Communist movement.

Slender threads now link Moscow and Peking. For East and West, this can mean an entirely new phase of the cold war. It can mean that some day in the distant future Moscow will find more ground for common cause with the West.

But for the foreseeable future, the West will have two fronts to watch. It will be trying to counter the Kremlin's political and economic campaigns to advance communism short of world war. At the same time it will be trying to contain violence in Asia.

There is danger now that the impatient Red Chinese, wearied of waiting for the Kremlin's green light, may on their own step up the war in South Viet Nam.

But for the U. S. S. R., too, it will begin to look like a two-front conflict. Moscow, pursuing an avowed goal of world revolution through attrition against the Party Congress in 1961. But he has been on the defensive, clearly, in explaining it to those of the world's Communist leaders who seem to suspect they are being used as pawns for Soviet power politics.

Almost plaintively, Khrushchev has denied Peking's charge that he has been "begging for peace." He has claimed his policy remains unrelenting ideological war against the West, that it already has damaged the West in the Middle East; Algeria, Southeast Asia and elsewhere. He insists he has shown results by creating suspicions and divisions inside the western alliance.

The Chinese brush it aside as nonsense. If they had their way, Khrushchev and those who support him would be deposed. But the chances of this seem slight. The dispute seems to have strengthened Khrushchev's standing inside the U. S. S. R. as the man who promises peace and an era of abundance.

Thus the prospects are for more divisions and splits within splits in the Communist world, and for a time of vast confusion.

Services Held For Ernest E. Hughes

Funeral services for Ernest E. Hughes, 67, long time resident of West Camp were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Steed Chapel, Clovis, N. M.

The Rev. Raymond A. Quick, West Camp, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. J. Paul Tucker, pastor of the Clovis First Nazarene Church.

Hughes died in a Veterans Hospital in Phoenix, Ariz. after a lengthy illness.

Burial was in Muleshoe Cemetery with Steed Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Lloyd Stevens, Vernie Townse, Sterlyn Billington, E. M. Walker, Champ Porter and Claude Rose.

Hughes would have been 68 Sept. 17. He moved to the West Camp area in January of 1926 and had farmed in the area until last year, when he and his wife moved to Tucson, Ariz. because of his poor health. He had lived in Taylor County, Texas as a child and grew up in Ballinger. He was in service during World War I.

Survivors include his wife, Alta of the home; and children, J. C. of Clovis; Mrs. Juanita Schenoy of Sacramento, Calif.; Leroy of Dalhart; Kenneth of Albuquerque; and Mrs. Maxine Smith of El Paso, also 14 grandchildren. He was preceded in death by one daughter, Wanell.

Split Affects Europe
 There seems to be rising trouble for Moscow with its European satellites. Albania, tiny isolated and out of reach of the Muscovites, stands alone in Europe openly on the Chinese side. But the split has affected others.

Romania, though pro-Moscow, has made significant overtures to the Chinese, apparently as a means of defending herself against a Kremlin attempt to dominate and direct her economy.

The feud encourages satellite leaders to plump for more freedom of action in their own countries. Czech, Polish, Hungarian and even Bulgarian leaders may be secretly pleased with some aspects of the split, although they support Moscow. The feud tends to give them more importance. Perhaps they can get more concessions from the Kremlin, so long as it needs their support.

Only the East German regime seems wholly and willingly a creature of Moscow.

Khrushchev's policy of guarding against the accident which might touch off World War III was sanctified by the 22nd Soviet ### BUDAPEST (AP) — A research group for acoustics at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences estimates that the average human being talks for one hour a day or 2.7 years of his life. If transformed into writing, this lifetime of talking would fill 1,000 books, each with 400 pages.

Visitors at High Plains Field Day To See New Gin, Laboratory, Shop

Visitors to the Seventh Annual Field Day, Friday, at the High Plains Research Foundation 45 miles east of Muleshoe will be shown through the new gin, the new seed processing laboratory, shops, offices and implement storage building. These buildings are now under construction at the Foundation. Contractors are working hard to complete most of the structures in time for the occasion.

The 20-saw gin, damaged by fire, has been rebuilt by the Murray Co. and Mitchell Co. of Dallas, and the Moss-Gordon Co. of Lubbock. The gins will be seen in the building but will not be ready for operation. Hosts will be present to explain how the gin will operate. These hosts represent the cotton industry and members of the Board of Trustees of the Foundation. The gin is in a building separate from the other structure.

Hosts will also guide visitors through the main building to show the Seed Processing Laboratory, the shops, offices and the new machinery and storage facilities. Both of these buildings replaced the structure destroyed by fire early this year. The machinery will be installed in time to process the 1963 research harvest for all crops.

Guests at the Field Day will be greeted upon arrival by representatives of the Chambers of Commerce in the area, and by members of civic clubs. Chambers of Commerce represented among the greeters will be from Dimmitt, Tulin, Littlefield, Balls, Olton, Hale Center, Floydada, Plainview, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Civic clubs include the Kiwanis, A. B.

C. Optometrist, Rotary and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Charles Young, Executive Vice-President of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce is Chairman of the greeting committee. He was directed this activity for all seven Field Days at Halfway.

Frank Moore, President of the Foundation, has secured Congressman George Mahon as the principle speaker at the conclusion of the day's activities. Members of the Board of Trustees will be introduced by Harold Hinn, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

There will be six stops on the mobile field tours which will start at 1:30 p.m. and continue until the barbecue at 5:15 p.m. Trucks and trailers with bench seats will transport the visitors over the 310 acre farm. Guides on each truck or trailer will describe the research underway between stops. Members of the Foundation staff will explain major research projects at each of the six stops.

Guides on each truck will be members of Young Farmers chapters, Soil Conservation Personnel, County Agents and Vocational Agricultural instructors. Ollie Limer, County Agent for Hale County, Lee Dent, Manager of the Hale Center Chamber of Commerce, and Mervyn Igo, Halfway Farm Machinery Co., have for many years dispatched the tours for the Field Days, and will again function in this capacity.

The last stop on the field tour will be at the farm and ranch equipment display. This will be around the Halfway Community Building. This feature has grown in size and participation each year. The Lions Clubs in the area

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

THE FUTURE BELONGS TO YOUTH

The world belongs to God and the future belongs to those who live and move in such a belief. Young people of today, the now of life, must come to the full realization that the world belongs to God. They must go forth with the solid determination to adjust to the present, and to build for the future. Youth must go forth with pride in self. Self-respect must be kept so that others will respect the individual. Youth must live in goodness, honesty, sobriety, and strength of character. This draws respect from all people. The most important thing is that youth walk in the fear and love of God.

Youth is a time for high ideals. George Washington once said, "You must labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience." It is our conscience that makes us live in His image, as we were created to do.

Youth must be optimists. They should not look for an easy life, but work to make it a worthwhile one. Youth should exercise the joy and strength of prayer. Do not pray for a soft life; pray to be a stronger person. Do not pray for tasks equal to your strength; pray for strength equal to your tasks. America was founded by the bold, and it cannot be maintained by the timid. When I was a teenager Hitler and Mussolini were on the march. War has come and gone. War will come again unless God controls life.

William Penn said, "unless God rules our lives, tyrants will rule them." The true meaning of freedom is that we are free to live like human beings and children of God.

You know the old Roman Empire lasted only as long as there were any real Romans, and America will last only as we are filled with the Christian principles of our rich heritage. Religious principles are the basis of all true social principles; religious obligations are the foundation of all genuine social obligations; religious reform is the cornerstone of all real social reform. The future belongs to youth who hate not, but strive to live in love.

Frankly Speaking—In order to improve our circumstances we must first improve ourselves. Good thoughts can never produce bad results; bad thoughts can never produce good results. By the aid of well-directed thought and growing self control youth can belong to the glorious future. Youth belong to God and the world belongs to God.

The Empty Pew

W. JENE MILLER

One Sunday morning after the worship service I went to dinner with a young man who was planning to enter the ministry. "What do you plan to preach he asked me.

And for the first time in nearly 15 years of preaching I stopped to consider that problem. I figured that it was not to present some great idea. The world has had great ideas since the time of Hammurabi. I figured that it was not to present some great idea since most people know as many, if not the same ones, as I know.

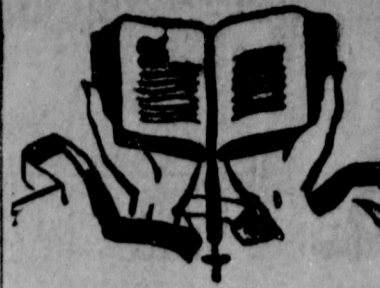

So I told him to look at the people he preached to. Not as names on a roll. Not as a crowd to honor his speaking ability. But as persons trying to find out how to live.

In any congregation in any worship service in the world these people are the same.

There are those whose loved ones face death. There are those who know that their own health is bringing them near immediate death. There are young people whose futures are about to explode because of some past folly.

There are business men whose businesses are about to go into bankruptcy. There are married couples on the verge of divorce. There are those with haunting memories and haunting guilt. There are people whose feelings have been deeply hurt.

There are those who will encounter sudden and terrible collapse in the near future, though they do not yet know it. There are those who look on life with

Today's Meditation

FACING LIFE'S GREATEST REALITIES

The thinking person will sooner or later face the great realities of life. They are always about us. Only the human mind has the capacities to grasp these realities and confront them with sanity and understanding.

What are these great realities of life?

(1) There is life itself—your life and my life. What is life for? Why are we born into this mysterious cosmos of existence? Then what will you do with this great power crowned with intelligence and an inherited and innate power of morality and ethics. Morals and ethics are taught us, but the power to grasp them and use them are innate in every normal human being.

(2) Then there is the reality of God Who created this universe and gave us our being. How strange is the mystery of creation! How Wonderful is a God Who was powerful enough to create this great cosmos of which we know a small portion! God confronts us through creation; through our existence; through His Omnipotence. Through His simple faith and naive trust. There are the confused who are wondering where to turn next. There are the arrogant who think they know it all.

There are people. And there is God.

Omniscience: His love, plans and purposes for this whole existence.

(3) Then there is the thought of the reality of Immortality of the soul. Do men live again when this human body of clay returns to the earth from which it came? Do men live on after holds and have always believed in life after death. Is this spiritual instinct of the human family a fallacy or a fact? Our physical instincts do not deceive us. Can we therefore trust the deeper and finer instinct of the soul?

(4) Moreover, we face our depraved and sinful nature which leads us to eternal damnation. Sin leaves man in a state of loss. It deprives him of the higher immortality that leads to God's heavenly home. Sin itself would not, we believe, destroy our soul's essence of immortality, but it makes it unfit to live with God and the many kinds of personalities that will enter heaven.

(5) Furthermore there is the reality of Jesus Christ, our Lord. That he one time lived in this world in the Incarnation is confirmed by both sacred and profane history. He existed before He entered into humanity as the Son of God? He came to save mankind by not only forgiving them their sins, but by giving them a new kind of life which He called "ETERNAL LIFE." This is the life of the soul in which He imparts those eternal elements that are like God in nature and essence, but surely not in degree lest we be little gods. The whole business of the men to Jesus Christ Who is the great life giver of the universe. In Him is life and He is the life (light of men). Let us trust Him for this life and let Him in His own way impart it to our souls.
