"Texas oil and transportation are vitally important to our war effort," Mr. Jester said. A native of Corsicana, Jester is a graduate of Texas University and served from 1932 to 1935 as chairman of the university's board of regents. Lee Smith, of Throckmorton, high man in Saturday's primary for Lieutenant Governor, issued the following statement today:

"According to late returns I am leading Senator Beck by over 35,000 votes. This is, of course, very gratifying to me. I am grateful to the many loyal friends throughout Texas who faithfully labored in my behalf. I had not a single paid worker. These friends carried my candidacy to the people. I trust always to be worthy of such confidence.

"The recent campaign was one between gentlemen. All my opponents were excellent and worthy men. There was no abuse and no bitterness.

"In the run-off campaign, I am sure the same high type of campaign will be conducted. Senator Beck is my frined and I am sure our campaign, though strenuous, will be pleasant."

Warning To Speeders

Speeders were given a stern warning today by Mr. Ralph Ashlock, Chairman of the Callahau County War Price and Rationing Board, that speeding tickets issued against them by either state or local police will cause them to for feit their eligibility for new tires or retreads.

"Abuse of tires by speeding must be stopped," Mr. Ashlock emphasized.

"We have been advised by Mark MeGee, the Texas OPA Director, that carbon copies of all speeding tickets issued on the highways-by the Texas Highway Patrol will be forwarded to the local board.

"We are asking city police and county officers in Callahan County to extend this same assistance to us in enforcing the vital wartime necessity for conserving rubber."

Mr. Ashlock said the local board had been requested by the state OPA office to regard speeding as an abuse of tires and as reason for voiding a person's eligibility for new tires or retreads. After such an offense, the speeder will have to give the local board conclusive proof that he is observing the 40-mile speed limit imposed by the Office of Defense Transportation, before he again can become iligible.

"OPA and OT inspectors are beginning to the the license numbers of speeders, Mr. Ashlock said." and those numbers will be sent to our board. A lot of city delivery trucks and even hig freight line trucks and public buses still are ignoring the 40-mile limit. They may ignore it, but we are not going to. The next time those fellows apply for tires, if we find thee've been speeding, they will know that we mean business."

Sgt. Harold Alexander and Sgt. Forrest Dale Frankie are at home for a few days visit. The boys with Sgt. Ray Black recently returned to Sheppard Field from Chanute Field where they completed their advanced training and are now instructors in Sheppard Field.

You were leav ing to protect them, to protect home and fireside. When you are issued a uniform and walk down the street, even strangers will feel that you are protecting their homes A part of the oath every man is asked to take as he becomes a soldier is:

"I will bear true faith and ellegiance to the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA; that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against ALL THEIR ENEMIES WHOMSOEVER'.

Only those who are physically and mentale fit are allowed to wear the uniform of a soldier. You may be assend that every effort will be made to give you good food and medical care that you may return to your homes in a good or better physical condition as you are now. It has always been that the strong protect the women, the children, and the aged. This is total war and others will follow to help you; even at this time, women are joining the ranks as soldiers. Freedom and not conquest is the issue. The folks back home will be making sacrifices while you are in the service.

... and ELECTRIC POWER, too, has grown to Meet the Wartime Needs of 1942!

Plenty of Electricity on Hand

WASHINGTON, July 22. (A)-J. A. Krug, chief of the power branch of the War Production Board, expressed confidence today that war production would not be crippled by a shortage of electric power.

"We have sufficient electric power," he said, "to meet all the requirements of war production and for essential civilian needs, if used isely—as far as we can see ahead."

West Texas Utilities Company

WAR DEPARTMENT figures show that today's average soldier is nearly an inch tafler and ten pounds heavier than in 1917-a great gain for one generation and a real tribute to the men of science and the men of industry who helped build Bill's husky frame.

We're glad electric service had a hand in it.

Food experts discovered new vitamins and better diets for Bill; doctors developed new serums, drugs and healing techniques; and electric research worked out new and better ways to refrigerate . . . preserve . . . his food so it would be fresher, safer, cheaper,

Even before Bill was born, electric servants freed his mother of much household drudgery -so that she and her children might be healthier and happier.

At the same time that the electric industry was helping Bill to develop into a stronger, healthier man than his dad, it also was expand1942. In back of Bill today is plenty of electricity for building tanks and planes, guns and ships . . . power to run the factories making weapons with which Bill will win the war!

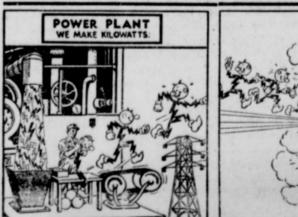

ing to provide the power vitally needed in

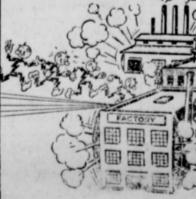

Actually, this country now has five times more electric power than we had in 1917.

And over 90 per cent of ALL the nation's commercially generated electricity is being provided by companies like this institution ... companies that developed the American way, free to work and create things that men and women want and need for everybody's benefit.

This company "grew up" that way-organized by a few men with foresight to see West Texas' great need for ample, cheap electric power. Today it represents the savings of thousands of small stockholders, operating under good business management, regulated by the government, paying taxes, and providing excellent service at low cost.

One new field director, after a month on the job, describes himself as "worrier for warriors" but adds, "I love it because it enables me, as representative of the Red Cross, to help our men in uniform fight a better fight for their country, their loved ones and the freedoms they believe in."

One-half of the money contributed by the American people to the Red Cross War Fund is allocated to "Services to the Armed Forces" and enables the field directors to do their work on military posts, with the soldiers, sailors, and marines wherever they may go, and frequently, to be on hand when the "boys" arrive at remote bases.

Congress told the Red Cross before the World War that its job was to serve "as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their Army " Today the field and Navy. . directors and their belpers, are translating those simple words into action on the world's far-flung

Today the Red Cross finds itself -among other things-a personal advisor in time of trouble, a missing persons bureau, a source of a loan to reach a sick mother, provider of footballs or boxing gloves, operator of a motion picture chain with a "theatre" in almost every post hospital recreation center in

Wherever our forces go in the world they are accompanied byor preceded by-a small Red Cross task force of field directors, recreation workers, and medical social

But the "worriers" would not be able to "worry well" for the "warriors" if it were not for the home service workers in 3,747 chapters and 6,131 branches in American cities and towns. They are the other end of the link between the men and their homes. Most of them volunteers, the home service workers stand on call day and night to notify field directors of conditions at home or answer his requests for family information.

This 24-hour-a-day, two-way system of communication and ready aid, although just now becoming familiar, is one of the biggest jobs of the Red Cross today. Efficient performance of the tasks assigned to it has brought-and will continue to bring, throughout the war. peace of mind to thousands of soldiers and their families.
