If you don't think there is something wrong with the hide market, ask J. T. Davis, of Sterling, Texas. After considerable bargaining they managed to sell the hide for $1.55 and purchased the bridle reins for $1.50. Davis is now trying to figure out how many bridle reins his bull's hide will make and who will get the profit.—The Cattleman.

THIS MAN HAS 'SOME BEAN'

He Was Kicked on Head by Mule and Animal's Leg Was Broken

Huntsville, Ala.—The claim of Joseph Jones of Merrimac that he has "some bean" was borne out when his story that he had been kicked by a mule on the head and that as a result the animal was lying helpless with a broken leg was investigated and found to be true.

Jones said his way was blocked by a stray mule and he made a threatening gesture to frighten it away. It refused to stampede, however, meeting the assault with a well directed kick to the brow. The mule's leg was broken in two places. It was pronounced a helpless cripple and shot. Jones will recover.

Crowell, Texas, February 4, 1921

The establishment of an A. & M. College for West Texas has been agreed upon by all interested parties having the matter in hand. The location is to be somewhere west of the 98th meridian and north of parallel line 30. Agriculture and military tactics are to be taught but electrical and mechanical engineering are not to be taught. It was argued that West Texas will not justify such equipment of an institution as the A. & M. at College Station, a proposition which seems to have been agreed to by all parties. That the agreements reached are based on justice to all is presumed by those of us who do not know all the details. Perhaps some West Texans were over enthusiastic in wanting this to be an independent institution equal in all respects to the A. & M. at College Station, but such an institution as is planned will meet West Texas' most urgent needs in an agricultural way for some time.

Governor Neff believes in a rigid enforcement of the law and asks for a repeal of the entire law providing for the suspended sentence. This he says is the "vehicle in which a great number of criminals, both old and young escape punishment for the gravest of crimes." As to law enforcement he says: "When a government ceases to enforce her laws it ceases to be a government and becomes a mob." He attributes the wave of crime over the country to loose methods of enforcing the law. The law-abiding citizens of Texas will heartily support his position.

An irrigation proposition is on foot in the Colorado Valley of Texas, which if made a success, will be the means of irrigating thousands of acres for a distance of 20 miles along the river. Water is to be impounded by a draw 2,000 feet long and 100 feet deep. Local parties interested in the proposition are seeking legislative assistance.

Drillers are reported to have passed through a blue shale formation near Benjamin and are now in hard lime. The geologists claim this to be identical with the formation in the Burk Burnett field and believe the next sand reached will be a big oil producer.

The Federation of Woman's Organizations of Wilbarger County are to put on a clean-up campaign for Vernon on February 1st. The organization is responsible for the work done in this particular last year, which is said to have been very successful.

Germany is bucking like a bay steer about the war bill soon to be presented. Germany ordered a dish of war without figuring the cost and got it. Now the cook has to be paid.

At the close of the lesson the hostess, assisted by Mrs. McLaughlin, handed a tempting refreshment plate to Mesdames J. C. Thompson, H. Speck, Misses Bess Thompson, Mildred McLaughlin, and club members. Misses Thompson and McLaughlin favored those assembled with instrumental solos during the afternoon.—Press Reporter.

QUICK TO SEE OPPORTUNITY

Really Clever Way in Which Thief Got Away With Watch Belonging to English Judge.

A gentleman once fell asleep on a train from Bournemouth to London. When he arrived at Vauxhall he found that his watch and chain were gone. The complications that followed make an interesting story, which Montagu Williams tells in his book, "Leaves of a Life." The gentleman's sole companion in the carriage was busily engaged in reading a newspaper.

"Has anyone entered this compartment while I have been asleep?" asked the gentleman, turning to him.

"No," was the answer.

"Then, sir, I must request you to tell me what you have done with my watch?"

The other traveler protested his innocence and said he had seen no watch and that he knew nothing about the matter. When the train arrived at its destination the suspected man was taken to the police court, where a charge was laid against him before Sir James Ingham. He was remanded until the next day.

The next morning, when the prisoner was put in the dock, the prosecutor entered the witness box. The latter wore a very dejected appearance and, before any questions were put to him, said he wished to make a statement.

"I do not know," he began, "how to express my regret for what has occurred, but I find that I did not lose my watch after all. I communicated my loss by telegram to my wife at Bournemouth, and she has written to say that my watch and chain are safe at home."

Sir James did all he could to throw all upon the troubled waters.

"It was a most remarkable occurrence," he said. "To show, however, how liable we all are to make these mistakes, I may mention, as an extraordinary coincidence, that I myself have only this morning been guilty of precisely the same oversight as the one in question. I was under the impression when I left my house in Kensington that I put my watch into my pocket, but on arriving at this court I found that I must have left it at home by mistake."

When the business of the court was over, Sir James Ingham wended his way home. On entering his drawing-room he met one of his daughters, who exclaimed: "I suppose you got your watch all right?"

"Well, my dear," replied the chief magistrate, "as a matter of fact, I went out this morning without it."

"Yes, I know, papa," his daughter replied, "but I gave it to the man from Bow street who called for it."

There had been an old thief in the back of the room who heard Sir James giving his experience. He had slipped out, taken a hansom and driven to Sir James Ingham's residence, and, representing himself to be a bona fide messenger, obtained the valuable watch, which was never heard of again.

MANY HAVE WRITTEN OF WAR

From Homer to the Present Day Correspondents Have Accompanied the Armies in the Field.

War correspondents, who have a distinguished place in the latest honors list, form an ancient tribe if we reckon Homer as one of them, remarks the Manchester Guardian. Sutherland Edwards maintained that the editor of a Greek paper entitled Chronos sent Homer out to Troy to describe the incidents of the siege, which really lasted only about seven weeks. But when it was at an end the Greek chiefs had no desire whatever to go home; and as Homer (or "O'Maher"—to give his name in its original un-Hellenized form) was a very good fellow and drew a large salary with an abundant allowance for expenses, he readily accepted the idea proposed by the wise Ulysses—to keep the war going in the columns of his paper as long as he could manage to write about it. His correspondence was too good not to publish; and meantime the Greek chiefs went about amusing themselves.

There were no newspaper correspondents in the peninsular war, nor in the Waterloo campaign—though Rothschild, in 1815, had a correspondent of his own who kept close to Wellington's army and supplied his employer with news of high financial value. After the peace of 1815 the first war of importance in Europe was the one between the Carlists and the Christians in Spain, which, beginning in 1831, dragged on in desultory fashion until 1837, when a British legion having been formed to assist the Christians, it attracted much attention in this country. British opinion was divided, Queen Christina finding support among the whigs, Don Carlos among the Tories. Both armies were accused of committing atrocities, so the Times and the Morning Post sent correspondents to find out how the war was really being carried on. Capt. Henningsen, who represented the Times, was an admirable writer and a professional soldier, whereas Charles Gruneisen, who went on behalf of the Post, possessed no military experience. Still, he proved the more successful of the two, for Henningsen's letters never reached the Times, Gruneisen's, on the other hand, appeared in the Morning Post, and on this rests the claim put forward, not by Gruneisen himself but by his friends, for classing him as the earliest of our war correspondents.

LITTLE MONEY MAKERS OF THE FARM

The field for Poultry Raising hasn't been scratched yet, for never before has there been such a demand for chickens as right now. Then why shouldn't every farmer get a share of the profits?

Nature's incubator—the setting hen—is too slow to meet the present world-wide demands for Poultry. On the other hand, a good incubator, properly managed, turns out a multitude of strong, healthy chicks and is as important about the modern farm as a planter, cultivator or a Ford car.

If you haven't time to tend to it, buy one for Mother and the Girls and let them get a little of the immense profits in Poultry Raising. The SAFETY HATCH Incubator which we handle is one of the very best makes on the market; easy to operate and sure to give satisfaction.

EARLY HATCHED CHICKS WILL LAY EARLIER

By F. W. Kazmeir, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College, College Station

Practical poultrymen have long ago learned that early hatching is the secret to success in the poultry business. We do not believe there is anything just quite so important.

We are sure that you will want eggs again next fall and winter when they are scarce and high in price. If this is correct, it is a good plan to prepare now. First you must have young stock, because hens, even young hens, will not give a profitable fall or winter egg-production. Early hatched pullets are your only chance for fall and winter egg producers. Are you going to have them?

As a rule setting hens are scarce, early enough to be relied on to hatch early pullets. You cannot depend on setting hens. It will be necessary for you to do one of two things, namely: First purchase an incubator and hatch the eggs. The incubator is always ready. Second, to purchase baby chicks from some of our more responsible hatcheries. This is a very good way and generally the most successful.

Advantages of Early Chicks
1. Early hatching necessitates incubating the eggs from the better layers, because the best layers lay in the winter and early in the year. To raise winter layers it is well to hatch from winter layers, because they may inherit the winter laying habit.

2. Early chicks are stronger when hatched and for this reason will develop better and with less mortality than late chickens.

3. Early chicks develop into the best layers.

4. Early chicks grow faster and longer and develop better and larger.

5. Early chicks mature in time for fall and winter eggs.

6. Early chicks develop in time for fall and winter shows. Late chicks cannot do this.

7. Early cockerels, those not fit for breeders, can be disposed of as fancy broilers at high prices. Late broilers are a drag

"Oh! What A Difference!"

That is what everyone says who comes to our store and hears the pure musical tone of Edison's Amberola Phonograph, after listening to shrill "talking machines" and the metallic sound of ordinary phonographs.

That is what you will say when this revelation of pure melody greets your ears. No wonder Edison's Amberola has proved its marked superiority over ordinary phonographs in great public tests.

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

is the world's greatest phonograph value—the "master product of Edison's master mind." Just consider its genuine Diamond Point Reproducer, which forever does away with the bother and expense of changing needles!

And Amberol Records are just as far superior to ordinary records. They are practically indestructible, and give years of enjoyment after ordinary records have broken and been thrown away.

When you consider that you can own Edison's Amberola on practically your own terms you must realize you owe it to yourself and your family to come to our store without delay and let us play the world's best music for you on this wonderful phonograph. Don't delay your visit—come today, tomorrow, as soon as possible—we will expect you. Bring all the family and your friends, too—they will all be welcome.

TEXAS MUSIC CO., Crowell, Tex.

8. Early chicks pass the most critical stage before hot weather begins.

9. Early chicks develop not only better frames and bodies; but also a better coat of plumage.

10. Early chicks as a rule, develop into better breeders.

There is no question but that "early hatching" and "early chicks" are by far the most profitable. We have always noticed that the most successful poultry raisers practice early hatching very extensively.

The Texas farmer and farmers' wives can well afford to read this article very carefully. It will mean dollars and cents to them.

The majority of people hatch their chicks too late. Remember the early chick is the money maker. One early chick is worth the price of three late chicks.

Time to Hatch

The heavy breeds like the Brahmas, Langshams and Cochins should be hatched in January and February or earlier.

The medium weight breeds like the Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Orpingtons, Sussex, Minorcas, Rhode Island Whites and Dark Cornish should be hatched in February and March or earlier.

The small breeds, like Leghorns, Anconas, Andalusions, Spanish Hamburgs, and Lakenvellers, should be hatched in March or April or earlier.

Small breeds hatched in February or earlier should not be forced for rapid development, so they will not start to laying too soon and then go into a partial moult.

It is a good plan to have a few exceptionally early chicks to produce eggs in July and August when the hens stop laying even though some of these pullets should later go into a partial moult.

PUTTING IN BIG CISTERN

E. Swaim is putting in a 200 barrel cistern at the garage for the purpose of storing water for use at his place of business. The great roof area of the building will furnish an abundant supply of water to fill such a cistern by an ordinary rain and when it is once filled should seldom be empty.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

When members of the Dubois County, Ind. board of commissioners heard complaints of breaches of etiquette in care of the county flag, they placed its guardianship in the hands of Dubois County Post of the American Legion at Jasper, the county seat.

New York members of the American Legion are aiding in a search for Lieutenant Thomas Dunn English, formerly of the 78th Division, and grandson of Thomas Dunn English, former congressman, lecturer and author of "Ben Bolt." Lieutenant English was shell shocked at the front.

The state legislative committee of the Missouri Department of the American Legion will present to the state legislature bills which provide for the following: a $10 bonus for every month of service of Missouri veterans; the designation of November 11 as a legal holiday; the legalization of boxing contest; that ex-service men shall have preference in public employment and a reappropriation of the soldiers' and sailors' memorial fund.

A. H. Vernon, commander of the Minnesota department of the American Legion has taken steps to prevent the discounting of government certificates issued to disabled soldiers. He has asked the Federal Board for Vocational Education to arrange with federal reserve banks or post offices to cash the certificates without discount. If this can be done, disabled soldiers will be saved many hundreds of dollars.

The conduct of members of the Harry W. Congdon Post of the American Legion at Bridgeport, Conn., is so exemplary that it has enrolled four clergymen. The post rolls include practically every profession and trade, but lawyers and doctors are most numerous. The present commander is a lawyer, the two past commanders are a lawyer and a physician and the medical profession also claims three members of the executive committee.

Dr. H. Grant Thorborn, of New York, and Dr. H. Kennon, of Cincinnati, have been appointed members of the American Legion Committee on Hospitalization. Dr. Thorborn is a member of the faculty of the School of Medicine of Columbia University and examining physician of the New York Tuberculosis Association. Dr. Dunham is president of the Ohio State Tuberculosis Association and a professor at the University of Cincinnati. He is an international authority in the field of roentgenology.

Adjutants and treasurers of ten thousand posts of the American Legion are busy collecting post, department and national dues for the year, 1921. Reports indicate that the "button membership," those who are members of the Legion but who are behind in their dues, will be substantially decreased. The clarification of the Legion's position in regard to Organized Labor and political activity together with the vigorous fight it has made for the sick and disabled war veterans are believed to have encouraged the payment of dues and to have gained many thousands of new members.

Exemption of veterans from paying poll taxes was refused endorsement by Vermont American Legion post commanders and adjutants and members of the state executive committee at a recent conference which was attended by F. W. Galbraith jr., National Commander of the Legion. A bill which was introduced in the state legislature did not meet with the Legion's approval because the ex-service men held that it was their duty to pay taxes the same as any other body of citizens.

The compulsory study of American history and civics in the public schools, as recommended by H. J. Ryan, chairman of Americanism Commission of the American Legion, was endorsed at the first annual state convention of the Indiana Department of the Legion's Auxiliary. The principal speakers at the convention were Colonel L. R. Gignilliat, state commander, and Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since... I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments. If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

FACTS ABOUT COTTON

About 60 per cent of the world's supply of cotton is grown in America.

Cotton is indigenous to all tropical and semi-tropical countries.

Sea Islands, grown off the Atlantic coast of the United States are the finest cottons in the world.

Boll weevil has about destroyed the Sea Island cotton industry.

Boll weevil first appeared in the United States at Brownsville, Texas, in 1892.

A single pound of cotton has been spun into a single thread more than 1,000 miles in length. The prospect is that there will be an unspun supply of American cotton at August 1, of 9,607,000 bales. Before the war the average amount of cotton on hand at that date was about 1,200,000 bales.

The "Visible Supply" of cotton, and the total supply on any given date are two entirely different things.

Manufacture of cotton goods is the very foundation of British wealth.

There is now enough unspun cotton in the world to last about two years.

The average price of middling cotton at 10 leading cotton markets in the South Saturday was 14.03 cents.

The statistical year for cotton runs from August 1st, to July 31st.

Maternal Impressions in Canaries.
An interesting contribution to the voluminous literature on the subject of "maternal impressions" is made by Dr. W. F. Schrader, of Fort Wayne, Ind., in Clinical Magazine for December, 1919. Dr. Schrader has been breeding canaries quite extensively for eight years. Until last July no crippled or deformed chick had ever been found among his nestlings. At that time daily flights of an army airplane over the city invariably threw the birds into a state of excitement and terror, and during this period twelve eggs were laid. Only seven of the eggs hatched, and every chick of the seven was deformed; three had no anal vents, two had extra pairs of wings, and two had twisted legs held at full length beneath the bodies. The same parent birds have since raised two broods each, and there was not a single crippled or deformed bird among them!—Scientific American.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Crowell Baptist church rendered a program at the Fifth Sunday meeting at Margaret last Saturday. The large number of ladies present, also the program rendered manifested the interest of the society in the associational work.

The program was rendered under the direction of the W. M. U. but included representatives of the Young Woman's Auxiliary and Sunbeam Band. Mrs. J. E. Billington conducted the meeting.

The purpose and aim of the society for the year, together with the points necessary for obtaining the standard of excellence were discussed by Mrs. T. N. Bell and Mrs. B. W. Self. Miss Cora Carter, president of the Y. W. A., gave in a concise way, the work and plans of the Young Woman's Auxiliary. The Sunbeam Band, also fostered by the W. M. U. under the leadership of Mrs. Billington, rendered a program of songs, scripture quotations, readings and prayer, which did credit to the church.

Special music was rendered by Mrs. T. N. Bell and Miss Una Self.

The W. M. U. met at the church Monday in a social and industrial meeting with thirty-four ladies present. The main purpose of the meeting was for quilting three quilts which was almost completed. The society has decided to set aside each Monday afternoon for quilting. Every woman of the church is invited to be a part of this band of workers. Come and meet us next Monday at 3 o'clock.—Press Reporter.
