Just to Remind Some and To Inform Others, We Make the Statement Below

We do not stock the finest Furniture made for few people in Foard County would buy it. But we are in touch with those who do carry it and can get it quickly if wanted.

We do carry a good dependable grade of furniture of all kinds, and buy it mostly from what is known as "The Big Six Lines," which means that six big furniture factories co-operate in loading into same car at a big saving to everyone concerned. By buying in such manner we save the cost to us and we pass it on. It helps us—we help our customers.

We know absolutely all the time that our prices are as low as any one's on the same class of goods. We will not buy low class goods at all just to make a price. We want our goods to give satisfaction, and as a rule nine-tenths of them prove satisfactory. The goods that we buy in less than car lots are bought that way by nearly every dealer. So our prices are always in line.

We solicit your patronage based absolutely on our ability to sell you on same basis as any other reliable dealer.

Lower Machine Prices

--a factor in the brighter outlook

Our 1922 reduced prices on farm machines are now in effect. They apply on practically our entire line of International Harvester grain, hay and corn harvesting machines, plows, tillage implements, seeding machines, etc.

In determining these prices, the Company has made a careful study of market and labor conditions and has based the new prices on the lowest possible raw material and production costs that can under the most favorable conditions be forecast for the season of 1922.

At these new prices no farmer can afford to postpone the purchase of needed machines, especially if his present equipment can no longer do the work satisfactorily and with economy. True economy consists not in using worn-out machines but in farming with the most efficient equipment available.

You will, of course, continue with that part of your present equipment which is in good order and satisfactory, but it is better economy to buy new machines than to repair or operate those that are too old to be efficient. It is also better economy to buy larger machines if the capacity of those you have is so small as to limit the returns from labor.

Our 1922 reduced prices will enable you to replace to your present and future advantage the old with efficient, modern machines. As Mr. J. R. Howard, President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, has said, "The farmer who needs additional machinery and equipment pays for it whether he buys it or not."

If you are interested in learning the new prices or in looking over any individual machine we are at your service.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT AWFUL TREACHEROUS

Next Dose May Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. 65

Cleanliness.

"I can stand for most anything 'cept a feller bein' dirty," remarked Lew Cornstassel to the bunch gathered around the cracker barrel in the general store. "There's old Abe Scroggins, for instance, who's so durned ornery he only takes a bath twice a year. I ain't much fer braggin', but as fer back as I kin remember I ain't never missed takin' a bath on the first Friday of every month, summer an' winter." —The Leatherneck.

Kentucky Leads in Tobacco.

Forty-six billion of the 62,000,000,000 cigarettes manufactured in this country last year were consumed here, the remainder were exported. In addition to the cigarettes manufactured 20,500,000 cigars and about 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco were turned out. Kentucky raised the most tobacco, while New York has the largest number of tobacco factories. Tobacco last year brought into the government in the form of revenues nearly $500,000,000.

Custom Many Centuries Old.

Before sunrise people went to the spot to pay their toll, and afterward they were entertained at breakfast.

OH! MY BACK!

The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer in Crowell

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills revive sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Here's Crowell proof:

Mrs. G. L. Nash, says: "My back was in pretty bad shape. All through the small of my back and up into my shoulders was a steady ache all the time and nights it hurt so I could hardly sleep. When I got up I was so lame and stiff I couldn't straighten. At times I became dizzy and I had spells of headache and my kidneys were weak. Doan's Kidney Pills bought at Fergeson Bros. Drug Store cured me of the attack." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nash had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 40

"Gossip" by housewives is forbidden by the municipal of the German township of Suhl, because of the loss of time and neglect of duty occasioned thereby. Police have orders to arrest all women found gossiping on doorsteps or over garden walls. Gossip is allowed only on Sunday afternoons and after sunset.—Vernon Record.

This German town can boast of a real achievement, but it's no use to ask how it accomplished it. No American town can do it as long as the women can vote.

Will Hays has just quit his job in the cabinet at a salary of $12,000 a year and will work for the movies at more than $12,000 a month. It's a fine route to replenishment of a dilapidated fortune and the beauty of it is that one doesn't have to stay with the movies long. He can get out, as did McAdoo, and let somebody else have the job. Getting into the cabinet is where the rub comes.

One may always have the satisfaction of knowing that he is causing somebody happiness by commendable or uncommendable deeds. If the latter is true, and you stand condemned, it's sweet to the tongue of the gossip to say so.

Coal comes as ballast for ships free of transportation charges from Europe to New York and sells there at $5.00 per ton, while we pay $15.00 for the home product here, but then it's worth more to be warmed here.

4th Lyceum Number at School Auditorium Tonight

In bringing the Lyceum numbers to Crowell, the ladies of the town have endeavored to furnish the old as well as the young with some kind of clean entertainment. Realizing the monotony of life in a small town they have made honest efforts in this direction, willing and glad to receive as their reward, the consciousness of having done their best. In featuring the fourth number, two Southern girls, to whom the old songs and stories of ante-bellum days are a birthright, make up the Dixie Duo. One is a gifted musician and soloist, the other a reader of no mean ability. As their name suggests, their program consists of songs, jokes and stories, sung and told by real Southern girls, in costume of pre-war days. They are represented as high class entertainers.

Candidate for Representative Opens Campaign

Goree, Knox County, Texas, Jan. 16, 1922.

To the voters of Representative District No. 114.

Since announcing as a candidate for the office of representative, I have received assurance of support from all parts of the district and from people engaged in all the different kinds of work represented in the district. This has been very gratifying to me because it indicates to me that my friends believe that I will render true and honest service to all and not foster class legislation. Cognizant of the fact, that you should want to know my position on questions that may influence you in your support of me, I wish to briefly state my belief on questions that I hope to have an opportunity to discuss with you more fully at a later date.

I consider the prohibition and woman suffrage questions settled, but some further legislation may be needed regarding their application. I have always favored prohibition and equal suffrage and, therefore, would favor the enforcement of the prohibition laws and some changes in the laws regulating voting. Inasmuch as, a complete registration of the voters is commendable, I would require all voters to be registered, but I rather believe that a change should be made in the payment of poll tax. I do not favor forcing the women to pay a poll tax of $1.75. If they, the women, are to be put on equal footing with men, I would favor collecting only one dollar state poll tax from every registered voter.

The schools will call for serious consideration during the next few years. I would favor a change in the method of appropriating the state school money. I believe the money should be appropriated on the basis of community needs instead of on the basis of numbers. I would work for a better system of schools, but I am more especially interested in the rural schools of the state. I favor the abolishment of the teachers institute as now organized. When a teacher from a district that maintains only six months of school, attends and receives pay for a week at an institute more than 4 per cent of the schools funds are being paid for the institute alone. I do not believe that a district is benefitted to that extent. I would substitute a requirement that teachers attend normal institutes during the summer months.

I am opposed to the present prison system of the state. We spend millions in the support of the penitentiary system when it should be self supporting. The prisoners should be made to build the highways of the state and raise their own food on the present farms and make their own clothing in the prison factories. By such methods, the tax payers would be relieved of the burden of the state prisoners, and at the same time build good highways at a low cost.

The fact that practically 70 per cent of the people of the state live on the farms, ranches and in the small towns, suggests the importance of legislation in the interest of the agricultural and live stock interests. I will favor any plan that will materially assist the farmer and stockman in getting a fair profit from his labor. I favor a further extension of the service of the State Department of Agriculture, A. & M. College and the Agricultural Experiment Stations.

Inasmuch as, more than one-half of our people are living in rented homes, the question of "homes for the homeless" is an issue that should receive our closest study and attention. I will favor any plan that will assist the renters to buy homes on long time with low rate of interest.

I shall present my views on other questions from time to time and will appreciate hearing from citizens of the district on any question of public importance.

Sincerely yours,
E. L. COVEY.

Are You a Gambler?

A farmer who fails to Diversify his crops is Gambling with Nature. If he wins, all right; if he loses the year's work is gone, and it will take at least two successful years to make up his loss. By that time he will probably lose again.

Authorities everywhere agree that the most successful farmer is the one who "plays the game safe" by Diversifying his crops sufficiently to insure at least a partial success.

LIKE OLD SANTA

People of Northern Siberia Emulate Kriss Kringle.

Appropriate Entry Into Homes Is Through the Roof, Which Is Door, Window and Chimney.

Santa Claus is not the only person in the world who enters homes by way of the chimney, for in the little town of Kamenskoye, way up in north-eastern Siberia, on the Peshing gulf, nearly every one does it. The house is shaped like a perpendicular X. Starting with a ground floor that is about 25 feet in diameter, the frame walls, constructed roughly of drift-wood, lean inward for about 12 feet, then turn outward for another 10 or 12 feet. They do not touch each other in the center, but leave an opening of from three to five feet wide.

That opening is the door, the window, the chimney, all in one. A pole rests against the outer side of the house high enough to reach the top of the structure. On the upper side of the pole steps are carved in which to insert the toes when climbing. A similar pole, set upright in the center of the house and up through the chimney, is also furnished with steps for ascent and descent.

The first effect of this strange arrangement is that visitors are recognized, not by their faces, but by their feet.

The house is so constructed that the fireplace is directly underneath the chimney. Naturally, the smoke goes up to greet the newcomer, and soot covers every side of the chimney, ready to attach itself to him. The pot is always hanging over the fire, full of melting snow or boiling water and fish or reindeer meat. The rest up the chimney is dressed in heavy furs, the hairy side turned outward. As he comes in touch with pole and chimney a gentle spray of hairs comes easily drifting down, accompanied by showers of soot. The pot below is usually open. Hence the food is mingled with hairs and soot.

Reason exists for the peculiar shape of the Kamenskoye house or yurt. During the worst of winter no doors or windows at the side of the yurt would avail. The snow piles up on every side as high as the house itself. Then the people can walk straight up to the chimney, and the dogs crowd around the opening in the top for warmth and to enjoy the rising odor of cooking fish and reindeer. Sometimes one dog pushes another down the chimney. If the cover of the pot is off the reception proves rather too warm for the unfortunate victim. But Ivan is there to catch him by the neck and take him to the top of the house, where the snow will soon reduce the heat of his blisters. The episode has not spoiled the dinner.

In spite of the fire within, the house is not comfortably heated because of the opening on top. Snow, too, comes easily drifting in. It is necessary, therefore, to have tents inside the house. They are made of heavy furs, and are placed on the wooden platform that surrounds the fire. In these poles the dwellers find refuge when the smoke becomes too trying or the atmosphere too frigid. Inside the pole stands a wooden bowl of seal's oil with dried moss floating on its surface, to be lighted at the pleasure of the occupant.

Of Course Not.

Illustrative of this thing, Ames W. Butler, secretary of the board of state charities, tells the following story of an occurrence in a certain Indiana county not so very long ago:

There was a poor family in a township. The father was a wanderer and of not much account. There were six children and the mother was left most of the time to provide for them. The township trustee had been helping the family out of the township poor fund.

One day a son in the family got into trouble. The sheriff and agent for the county board of guardians drove to the home. The boy was away. The mother seemed anxious to see that the law should have its course with the son, and to avoid an extra trip and expense the sheriff suggested:

"Well, then, I'll not come out after him when he comes back, but you bring him in."

"Why, I can't bring him in now," explained the woman, "our machine's broke."—Indianapolis News.

Statue of Christ as Peace Symbol.

Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, in a sermon the other day, said that the Christian people of the world should construct a huge statue of Christ, using material from scrapped battleships and cannons, and place it upon a mountain top to stand as a symbol of lasting peace. "The nations of Christendom," he said, "should at this time when the armament conference at Washington is attempting to prevent future wars, express their unanimous longing for peace by planning the erection of the statue to the Prince of Peace."

Brilliant Sign Has Few Lights.

An electric sign recently tried out with success replaces the individual lamps in the rim of the letter with small mirror reflectors, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. These reflect the light supplied by two 25-watt lamps, placed near the center of the letter and fitted with opaque caps, so as to be invisible from the front. An arrangement of this kind will offer a considerable saving in lamp renewals and current consumption.

"Survival of the Fittest."

Samuel Elliot Morison, author of "The Maritime History of Massachusetts," comes of New England seafaring stock, about which many deep-sea tales might be told. According to a family tradition, two of Mr. Morison's ancestors were shipmates on a brigantine which was wrecked in the Pacific ocean toward the end of the Eighteenth century. The crew had to row almost a thousand miles in a small boat before they reached land, with the usual accompaniment of drawing lots to see who would furnish the meals. One of Mr. Morison's ancestors perished; the other survived, and on reaching home two years later found that his daughter had married the victim's son. The two families remained on the best of terms, but it was considered poor form to refer to the "survival of the fittest" in the family circle. Mr. Morison did not tell this incident in his "Maritime History," as he did not expect anyone to believe it.

OF ANCIENT DAYS

Much Is Told in Collection of Old Documents.

Legal Papers Recovered by Investigators Reveal Life of People During Early Christian Era.

What is described as one of the most important collections of ancient documents yet discovered, consisting of more than 100 legal papers dating from the reigns of the Roman emperors Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula and Claudius, has been brought to Ann Arbor by Prof. Francis W. Kelsey of the University of Michigan. Professor Kelsey spent some time in Egypt in search of records. The collection is held to be important because it reveals the life of people during the early Christian era.

The records obtained by Professor Kelsey constitute a part of the files of a record office in or near Tebtunis, Egypt, and were discovered four months ago. They are written on papyrus and are chiefly in Greek, a few being Demotic. They are believed to have been covered with sand soon after the record office fell and with few exceptions are preserved perfectly.

The earliest record is dated 7 A. D. and bears the signature of a woman who agreed not to bring claim against her brothers. Another record, of the same period, is a contract of common law marriage.

Among other records are contracts of sale covering both personal and real property, including lands, vineyards and houses. There also are leases, agreements regarding loans, a contract of indemnity, receipts for wages, a receipt for dowry, official orders, petitions to public officials, tax receipts, documents relating to transferring ownership of slaves and part of a registry of deeds.

What is held to be the most important record is in the form of a roll, more than seven feet long and written on both sides. It is said to be a perfect example of an ancient book or scroll of the kind mentioned in the Bible, particularly in the Book of Revelations.

The scroll, dated 42 A. D., contains on one side abstracts of a number of contracts and on the other is a registry of the contracts, written in the record office of the second year of Emperor Claudius.

Between ten and fifteen years will be required to decipher all of the records and to explain them in their relation to Roman history, according to Professor Kelsey. The university professor asserted there could be no question as to the authenticity of the records.

Another collection brought to the university by the professor includes a papyrus book of twelve leaves, in which are written the incantations and formulas used by a master magician. There are charms and curses for various occasions, one being a love charm. In the prayers God and the angels are invoked as well as the pagan deities of Egypt.

treatment, back pay, vocational training, and compensation were secured for disabled men.

Moneys received by the United States from foreign countries in payment of debts would go to ex-soldiers under a bill introduced in the House. This measure supplements the American Legion's adjusted compensation bill.

Twenty hospitals in three years is the record of one disabled fighter discovered by the American Legion. Physicians at Fort Lyon, Colorado, where this patient is now being treated, say that he at least will never suffer from getting in a rut.

To lay proper emphasis on the five optional provisions of the pending adjusted compensation, the American Legion will present its case before every chamber of commerce in the country. The hue and cry raised against the "cash bonus" clause in the bill has befogged the issue, Hanford MacNider, national commander, charges. Appointment of Senator McCumber, author of the bill, as chairman of the Finance Committee, is expected to speed up Congressional action on the measure.

Hanford MacNider, commander of the American Legion, has announced the appointment of the Legion's national legislative committee, as follows: Dan F. Steck, Ia., chairman; John R. McQuigg, E. Cleveland, O.; Earl M. Cline, Nebraska; Wm. R. McCauley, Bloomington, Ill.; James M. Hanley, Mandan, N. D.; Mat H. Murphy, Birmingham, Ala.; J. G. Scruggs, Carson City, Nevada; Wm. F. Deegan, New York; Joseph H. Thompson, Pittsburg; James A. Drain, Washington, D. C.; George L. Berry, Pressman's Home, Tenn.; Wilbur M. Brucker, Saginaw, Mich.; John Thomas Taylor, Washington, D. C.; John D. Markey, Frederick, Md.; Aaron Sapiro, Lexington, Ky.; John H. Sherbourne, Boston; Paul Edwards, Seattle Wash.

Highway Garage

The Highway Garage, while not complete yet for the handling of everything that comes in the way of a garage, is in position to take care of a large portion of the business. The experience of a first class mechanic, is that of Bruce Lee, whose services are available to those who need car work done. Then in the vulcanizing department is W. L. Finn, who is a master in his line. He can now take care of your work, and in the near future he will be in position to dispatch his work more rapidly than now by reason of the fact that he has purchased several hundred dollars worth of modern machinery, which will make his one of the completest vulcanizing plants in the whole country.

With the belief that we can serve you as well as any garage in town, we ask a portion of your patronage. Come to us with your car troubles of any kind and we will treat you right in every way.

American Legion News

Legionnaires throughout the country have been invited to join the second annual ascent of Mount Hood by the American Legion post at Hood River, Oregon. The eleven-thousand-foot climb will be made by the party during the summer, in continuance of a custom started by last year's expedition.

President Harding has received the first consignment of cherries from the Argentine to arrive in the United States. They were brought from Rio de Janeiro by the steamship American Legion, which broke all records between that port and New York by a 10 day run.

The famous surgeons, Drs. William and Charles Mayo, will treat former soldiers of the world war in a $200,000 hospital which the American Legion posts of Minnesota will erect. Patients will be charged according to their ability to pay, as determined by Legion officials.

English and civics will be taught at American Legion posts in Greater New York, at the request of the Board of Education. This furthers the Americanization campaign already under way.

The sunny South appeals to jobless ex-service men, according to statistics of the American Legion employment bureau at Birmingham, Ala., which recently registered 145 men from all parts of the country and only 105 residents of Birmingham.

All states are planning exhibits in connection with the conference of American Legion officials to be held at national headquarters January 19 to 20. The conference will be attended by General Pershing, Secretary Denby, and a representative of President Harding.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU MEETING WELL ATTENDED

Some two hundred and fifty farmers met in the district court room last Saturday afternoon to hear a report of the delegates who attended the annual Farm Bureau Convention at Dallas.

T. F. Davis made the first address, giving an account of some of the most important work that has been accomplished in grading and marketing of cotton, and also in organization work the state over. Mr. Davis was followed by Miss Bess Edwards, district home demonstration agent, who stressed the importance of the women organizing to solve their problems.

Miss Edwards also mentioned the progress that had been made in Iowa and parts of Texas by organized women in marketing their butter, eggs, poultry, etc. She also stated the importance of having girls clubs for sewing, cooking, poultry and home improvement instruction.

Miss Edwards was followed by R. B. Bell, who was a delegate to the convention at Dallas. Mr. Bell stated that "The farmers are not organized against any man's business, but are organized for our own business, and need the merchants and bankers' support, and we believe they need ours."

He also emphasized the necessity and importance of every man and woman who is farming being members of the Farm Bureau. Mr. Bell remarked in conclusion that the Dallas convention was the greatest meeting of farmers ever held in America.

J. F. Long was next to report in regard to the progress of the Cotton Association. Mr. Long stated that he found that all of the accounts in which he was interested to be in a very simple form, and their book-keeping system was very efficient and easily understood.

He also mentioned the fact that the association is making preparations now for financing the coming crop. Mr. Long stated that the association has, in his opinion, been a wonderful success in the short time of its operation.

Dr. Maine told of profits made from selling wool through the Farm Bureau. Prices outside the pool were 10c and the bureau paid from 12c to 36c per pound by selling later.

H. M. Ferrin stated that, in his opinion, the Farm Bureau was a wonderful organization, and it was here to stay, and every farmer should join.

Plans were also discussed relative to having community meetings at least once each month.

The Hall County grand jury which recently closed returned 21 felony and 10 misdemeanor indictments. ONE-THIRD OF ARMY ON MEXICAN BORDER

No Further Soldiers Will Be Sent There Until Inspection Is Finished

Washington, Jan. 14.—One-third of the regular army in Continental United States is on duty on the Mexican border, according to a letter from Secretary of War Weeks to Representative Garner of Texas. Mr. Garner suggested in a letter to the department that an ample force be maintained on the border to give protection to all sections of the frontier, and that the cavalry probably would render the best service. The department is said to recognize the importance of the cavalry in this respect, but the matter of adding additional forces to the border is to await inspections now in progress by assistant Secretary of War Wainwright and Major General Harbord, who are to visit all posts and garrisons from Brownsville to Nogales. The department has before it requests from the Big Bend district, near Marfa, for additional troops.

The War Department is preparing to dispose of 20,000 horses and mules as surplus stock this spring, which is a result of a reduction of the army and the costs of operation. It has been suggested, however, that troops now on the border, or those to be sent there, would not be dismounted.

Neff Asks Citizenship of Texas for Their Support in Law and Order Campaign

Austin, Jan. 15.—All patriotic and law-abiding men and women of Texas are urged by Governor Pat M. Neff to join with him in a "definite campaign for the education and development of public sentiment in favor of the maintenance of the law" in a statement, made public late Saturday by the Governor, addressed "to the people of Texas" and signed "Yours for the law."

The Governor also urges upon every preacher who preaches, every editor who writes and every speaker who talks Sunday, Jan. 22, to preach a sermon, write an editorial and make a speech on that day "advocating the supremacy of and obedience to the law of the land." District judges also are requested to open court Monday, Jan. 23, "with an address on the enforcement of the law."

The text of the Governor's statement follows:

Holds Government Together

"The law is the foundation of civilization. It is the cement that holds together the bricks of established government. Obedience to the law is the first and highest obligation of the citizen. Loss of respect for the law marks the beginning of the breakdown of civilization. When people scoff at the law or those attempting to enforce it, they are aiding the cause of anarchy."

"On every side we hear the underground rumblings of revolt against law and order. The crime wave is lashing the ship of state and tearing it from its moorings. Life and property are unsafe. Every day callers make, and every mail brings, appeals from every section of Texas asking for aid to suppress lawlessness, claiming that local authorities cannot or will not enforce the law. We have an unprecedented growth of crime."

"I further request every school teacher in the State open school Monday, Jan. 23, with a talk to the students on the importance of obeying the law. I beseech the forces of righteousness in every nook and corner of Texas to join hands in a united effort to clear this State of every character of lawlessness."

"I also call on every county and district judge in Texas, who holds court on Monday, Jan. 23, to open court on that morning with an address on the enforcement of the law. I suggest that each prosecuting attorney and sheriff be called on for remarks. I hereby invite the people to assemble at your respective courts to encourage you with their presence and to hear what their officers have to say."
