WE WILL HAVE RODEO AND CLUB FAIR

Preparation Being Made for Best Rodeo Ever Held; Barbecue Will Be Had First Day

Some weeks ago initial steps were being taken to have a county fair, but so many uncertainties crowded in upon the matter in hand and the consequence no definite plans were made for a county fair. About the time that this would have to be given up as a failure it was decided that a fair was held. The committee found itself at sea and decided the best thing to do was to get to the bottom of the matter and leave the fair to take care of itself.

While in the city the surveyors of the new road were taken care of by the Cottle County Chamber of Commerce. Every request for information, or any other request they made was granted, and this live bunch of boosters is at work overtime doing their utmost to land this railroad for this section. The hearty co-operation of a Chamber of Commerce makes tedious work, such as surveyors often get up against, doubly easy, and words of appreciation from these men were heard for the assistance the Paducah Chamber had granted them.

It is not that the surveyors are not to be denied the credit of demonstrating what they are doing along these lines. So Mr. Miller will have them here with their products, whatever they may be, and a number of boys in the club which will show what they are doing in this line, as well as boys in other clubs. Mr. Rennels' members will supply for the most part the products for exhibits, and the club and fair together should attract the patronage of everybody in the county.

The date, Sept. 15th and 16th, which will make it possible for practically everybody to attend, regardless of the fact that the boys of the county have already been out on their feet for the rodeo. The rodeo will always be a leading feature, possibly, of a county fair, and club work is coming to be more important, so we are all interested in these. Then it is up to us all to make them the best possibly this year as the nearest thing practicable to a county fair. Next year perhaps we shall have ample grounds for a permanent association whose main purpose it will be to put on a real fair in grand style.

RAILROAD SURVEYORS WORKING AT PADUCAH

Things have looked like business as usual the new railroad proposition in this section. The latter part of last week and the first of this saw the surveyors in the city, and closely adjacent thereto, but they have now finished their work close by, and are out in the Hackberry country.

Some little trouble was had with the hills in this part of the survey, but they overcame that. So far as can be learned the surveyors are favorably impressed with this part of the country as a portion of the proposed route for the new road.

The entire citizenship of this portion of the route are very enthusiastic over the prospect of getting the enterprise. The people are showing an admirable spirit of hearty co-operation, and none seem disposed to do anything which would retard the progress of the road building. It has been fully realized by our folks the real aid such a line would be to this section, and a direct outlet to Fort Worth is very much desired.

RECRUITS WANTED FOR GUARD SERVICE

Captain Q. R. Miller Here to Get Recruits and Thus Relieve Many Needed at Home

In a letter to the News from Captain Q. R. Miller of the 142nd Infantry, commanding Co. I, Mr. Miller states that he expects to be in Crowell from Sept. 7 to 10 for the purpose of recruiting men for service at Denison.

By doing this, says Capt. Miller, "we will be able to grant furloughs to more men who are badly needed at home, for school and other purposes."

Men enlisted during this tour will serve at Camp Ellis, Denison, Texas, which is situated in a beautiful park in the very heart of the city. The men on duty here will draw both state and federal pay, which makes the salary part very attractive.

My personal opinion is that service here will not last very much longer, only long enough to make the service seem more in the nature of a vacation."

Capt. Miller will have his headquarters at the Magee Toggery store where he will give any information that may be desired relative to the matter. Those who may wish to see Capt. Miller will remember the date, Sept. 7 to 10.

Olds Sells Feed Business

J. H. Olds sold his feed business last week to the Hughston Grain Company and J. R. Allee, one of the owners of the grain company, is in charge of the feed store and will give it his personal attention. The building is still owned by Mr. Olds and is leased to the purchasing company for a period of one year with an option for further lease contract for one year.

Mr. Olds will continue with J. M. Jonas in the buying of cotton seed.

Gets Home Destroyed by Fire

W. R. Kenner received a message the first of the week from his daughter, Mrs. Will Teal, of Burk Burnett, stating that their home and the contents had been destroyed by fire. They failed to save anything except the clothes they were wearing.

Dr. Clark Returns Home

Dr. Hines Clark returned home last Sunday from Denison where he served six weeks with the Texas National Guard. Dr. Clark received a permanent discharge and will remain in Crowell to look after his practice.

Mrs. Belle Allee left last Thursday afternoon for Rockwood to visit her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Hart, and family. She expects to be gone for a month.

CROWELL SCHOOL STARTS WITH 500

Every Department Full and Some of the Grades Running Over; An Additional Teacher Employed

The Crowell school opened Monday morning with 500 pupils. A program was rendered in the auditorium to a full house, a large number of the patrons having gone to manifest their interest in the education of their children.

Every one who has our school at heart feels a very great pride in the general interest which has been manifested in the work. It seems to have grown beyond expectations and the board and faculty feel that they have behind them the strength of a united town and community pulling together for a greater Crowell school.

After an enrollment of the students in the various grades had been made it was found that there were more than 80 pupils in the 8th grade. It was thought that a full corps of teachers had been provided for the work, but the congested condition of the 8th grade and the others all full, made it necessary to employ an additional teacher, which brings the teaching force, including the superintendent, up to 15. Jesse Owens was employed as this additional teacher until Jan. 1, 1923, when he will enter upon his duties as County Judge.

The regular teachers are: First Grade, Misses Lottie Woods and Inez Sloan; Second Grade, Miss Era Higdon; Third Grade, Miss Florence Black; Fourth Grade, Miss Winnie Self; Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Grades, Miss Ina Mapp, Miss Jessalene Cates, Mrs. R. T. Groves, Alvin Hysinger; High School, Miss Ethel Ross, Miss Litha Crews, Miss Lena Rasor, Dow W. Tate, Principal, and R. C. Campbell, Supt.

A lot of work has been done this year on the school building. One of the important things done was the fitting up of a room for the unders in the basement. For several years there has been a demand for such arrangements as have been provided at last and there are about 30 of these little folks in the school. Other work has been done making the building more attractive and more comfortable. New equipment for the science hall has been purchased, and the city water has been piped to the grounds of the building. In fact, everything possible has been done to make this the best year in the school's history, and the work starts out with that encouragement.

Miscellaneous Shower

On Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Miss Winnie Self was hostess to a large number of friends in honor of the charming bride, Mrs. Thomas Hughston. Upon arrival the guests registered in a pretty bride's book, after which they were invited into the dining room where refreshing punch was served by Misses Litha Crews and Floy Cheek. Each guest was asked to write a short word of advice to the bride. The reading of these proved to be very interesting and amusing.

Arranged in one corner of the dining room was an artistic, realistic well, with real bucket and pulley. The well was beautifully decorated in green and rose, and upon the entry of the bride, she was asked to draw from the well. It proved to be filled with beautiful gifts of cut glass, silver and linen, all of which attested to the popularity of the bride and groom and the love and esteem in which they are held.

Mrs. Baxter Johnson read in her very pleasing manner several numbers. Toasts were given to the bride and groom, to the mothers and to the girls left behind. Congratulations to the bride concluded one of the prettiest parties of the season. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. M. L. Hughston.

BACK FROM COLORADO

M. Bond and wife returned last week from a visit with relatives at Carval, Colo. Mr. Bond says they had a very pleasant trip and enjoyed very much the cool climate of that country.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Roberts gave a barbecue and picnic Wednesday evening at their farm south of town honoring their sister, Miss Leona Young, of Dallas, who is here spending her vacation.

J. B. Andrews of Quanah was here Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Andrews.

All Over Texas

The final tabulation of the vote in the second primary gives Mayfield a lead over Ferguson of 43,791.

A woman jumped from a train moving at the rate of 30 miles an hour near Big Sandy without serious injuries. She had recently suffered a nervous breakdown, it is said, and possibly her mind had become effete.

State Treasurer C. V. Terrell has given out figures showing that there is a deficiency in the State Treasury of $376,810, and that it will be six weeks before August warrants can be cashed.

The sheriff and deputy of Wilbarger recently captured the largest still yet located in Wilbarger County, the capacity of which is 60 gallons. It is reported to be a 1923 model. Only a small amount of liquor was taken and no arrests were made.

A fellow giving his name as Claude Bean is being held as a suspect in the Odell burglary on the night of August 13. The fellow was arrested at Burk Burnett.

Erie B. Mayfield spent $9,574.93 in his campaign for United States Senator. $10,000 is the limit that can be expended by any senatorial candidate.

The Wellington Leader issued a 16 page "Fair Edition" of that paper last week, which was a creditable number of the paper.

Dengue fever has broken out in some of the Southern cities and is alarming some of the people. This is said to be caused by a certain kind of mosquito, which is being fought vigorously in the sections affected.

The announcement has been given out by President Bizzell of the A. & M. College of Texas to the effect that no student will be allowed a private car this year, the reason being that cars are the cause of profitless expenditure of time on the part of those pupils having them.

Clarence Ousley writes a lengthy article in Sunday's Star Telegram stating his position with reference to the primary election law. Mr. Ousley would have the law relative to the first primary stand as it is, but would do away with the second primary and substitute therefor a convention composed of delegates representing the candidates numbered in proportion to the vote received by each candidate. These in convention would select from some candidate in the first primary or from one on the outside, if they so wished.

Free trips to the state fair will be given this year, as usual, by three banks at Vernon to the winners among the agricultural club boys at the county fair.

Encountered Transportation Difficulties in Trip to Missouri

Asked what kind of trip he had to Buffalo, Mo., J. H. Self replied that the trip was not so good on account of the transportation troubles. If he had been inclined to walk he could have saved time on some portions of the trip. But of course, he had a pleasant visit with his father at Buffalo and other relatives there and at Springfield. Crops are nothing to brag about up there, according to Mr. Self, and judging from what he says about the land it must seem to be getting poorer every year. A great amount of the land he says is washing away.

One thing we have noticed is that it is very seldom that any one ever goes away from Foard County and finds a country that measures up above this country. One may long for the old home, but when he goes it does not look right. The hills are to close in and the fields are too small and the roads are too rough. He nearly always comes back to Foard County a bigger booster than ever for this country.

TEXAS COTTON CROP IS ESTIMATED LOW

Austin, Sept. 1.—The Texas cotton crop for the present season is estimated at 2,462,400 bales in the September cotton report of the state department of agriculture issued here today. This estimate shows a reduction of nearly 300,000 bales over the August 1 estimate.

J. B. Andrews of Quanah was here Sunday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Andrews.

NO CARS HAD FOR CATTLE SHIPMENTS

Cattlemen Make Appeals to Road Officials and to Congressman for Relief

When the Orient Railroad only needs business to enable it to keep on its feet and then be utterly powerless to satisfy the urgent demand for cattle cars, makes a situation that is very unwelcome, and perhaps the would-be customer of the road is the greatest sufferer. J. W. Bell has a lot of cattle for which he has been doing his very best to get cars in order that he might put them on the market. He has made his demands to the officials of the road and to Congressman Jones, so far without avail. These are bound to understand the seriousness of the situation with Mr. Bell, whose cattle have been ready for the market for some time and which are now in close quarters on account of grass and water shortage. He is not by himself in this predicament. Several days ago H. J. Crocnoe stated that he had 16 cars of cattle for which he could not get a single car.

The proposition looks uglier still when it is said the grain men can get cars, but the livestock men must patiently wait and see their profits, already made if they could only get their livestock to the markets, changed into actual loss.

That is the serious situation that has been confronting the livestock shippers in this section.

Mrs. Crowell's Mother Dead

Mrs. N. A. Crowell of this city received a message Wednesday stating her mother, Mrs. Mary Fite, of Resaca, Ga., had died September 4th from an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Fite was 88 years of age and was the mother of 12 children, 4 of whom survive her.

Mrs. J. W. Cope was here a few days this week from Seymour visiting the family of her niece, Mrs. N. J. Roberts.

Cotton Coming from Rayland

W. R. Parrish continues to bring his cotton from Rayland to Crowell, and says he expects to do so as long as the buyers here are paying the market for the staple. Mr. Parrish has a fine crop which is yielding half a bale. He has some cotton that is going near a bale to the acre. The staple is good, says Mr. Parrish. His earlier cotton was the best. This had time to practically mature before the effects of the dry hot weather were felt. The late cotton, says Mr. Parrish, will not be so good.

Other farmers in his community are beginning to get their cotton out, and should they follow the example set by Parrish quite a lot of the crop of the eastern portion of the county will be marketed in Crowell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Harrison and children were in Sunday from Paducah visiting relatives.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments. If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all drug stores. E 85

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND LOOSENS TEETH

The Very Next Dose of This Treacherous Drug May Start Trouble

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

Many foresighted thinkers believe that the great war just closed is only a prelude to a greater one yet to come. Unfortunately, however, the Lord doesn't tell all that he knows.

Ford Sets Good Example

The world needs many more men like Henry Ford. He is an individual like whom there is not another. Immensely rich, and yet his riches have been acquired through a business method not practiced by all captains of industry. He is not a profiteer, but is one who goes after volume rather than profit, and he hates to see other men bleed the public just because some of them can do it.

Recently he shut down his great automobile factory because the coal dealers tried to hold him up. If we had enough men like him the price of coal might be kept down, but just as long as the big interests will submit to others profiteering off of them, and they themselves pass it on to the other fellow, the final burden of which must be borne by the consumer, who can not help himself, we, the masses, will be forced to submit to conditions that are unjust. This might be applied to other commodities as well as to coal. This is used merely as an example.

Editor Bisbee Dead

The news of the death of W. F. Bisbee, editor of the Benjamin Post, reached us last week but we had not gotten the particulars until the item came out in the Post of last Friday.

Mr. Bisbee died on August 27th at the Knox City Sanitarium after having undergone an operation.

He was a native of Michigan and came to Texas several years ago and settled in Knox County where he was married to Miss Myrtle Alexander of Benjamin in 1902. He is survived by his wife, two daughters and four sons. Mr. Bisbee had been owner and editor of the Benjamin Post for six or seven years.

To the Citizens of Foard County

I wish to express my gratitude for the support given me in the recent primary. My appreciation shall be proven to you at all times endeavoring to do my best. The kindness and loyalty that was shown me throughout the entire campaign shall never be forgotten. And I hope to make one of the best Clerks you have ever had, so that none of you need ever regret having cast your vote for me. I have no ill feelings toward those who saw fit to vote against me. That was your privilege. So let's all cooperate together for that is one step upon which I can make a success.

Yours truly,
MRS. GRACE G. NORRIS.

Texas Cotton Crop Report Shows Great Damage Last 30 Days; Indicates Production 2,462,400 Bales

The report of the acreage and condition of the Texas cotton crop, up to Sept. 1st, was compiled by R. E. Yan-tis, statistician, and made public today by Commissioner Geo. B. Terrell. The report shows great damage to the crop caused mostly by drouth, during the last thirty days.

In giving out the report Mr. Terrell said:

"This report covers 193 counties, practically all the cotton producing counties, with from one to fifteen reports from each county. The reports received are from presidents and secretaries of farmers' institutes, county farm demonstration agents, county commissioners, bankers, merchants and individual farmers, and verified, as far as possible, by our field men. The drouth seems to be the cause of the greatest damage, as a large per cent of the cotton was late, especially in the western and northwestern parts of the state and in the flooded districts, and had no mature bolls when the drouth set in. Damage by boll weevil and leaf worms was also reported. The report indicates a condition of 58.67 per cent, and a yield of one-fifth of a bale per acre, while our report for August 1st indicated a condition of 71 per cent and a yield slightly more than one fourth of a bale per acre.

Taking the Government figures of 12,312,000 acres, planted, which I believe to be too high, it indicates a yield of 2,462,400 bales, as compared with 2,179,145 bales produced last year.

If the yield in other states is as low in proportion as that of Texas, the total crop of the South will be less than 10,000,000 bales, and warrants a price of at least 30 cents per pound. There will be a cotton famine next year, and nothing short of a conspiracy can keep the price from advancing.

WILD ASSES IN SCRIPTURES

Mention of the Animals is Made Many Times in Pages of the Old Testament.

Wild asses are mentioned several times in the Old Testament; for instance, in Daniel 5:21, referring to the punishment that came upon King Nebuchadnezzar, it is stated: "And he was driven from the sons of men; and his heart was made like the beasts; and his dwelling was with the wild asses." An account of the wild asses in practically the country over which Nebuchadnezzar reigned, is given by an ancient Greek writer who had been a soldier in Mesopotamia and Assyria. This writer is Xenophon, who lived from 430 to 355 B. C. He was an officer with the Greek force that joined the expedition of Cyrus the Younger, king of Persia. When in that country the officers of the Greek force were murdered, and taking command of the ten thousand of his countrymen, Xenophon led them northward through a hostile country to the place on the Black sea now called Trebizond. His account of this feat is called Anabasis, the up-country march, and is a Greek text-book in our high schools and colleges.

Writing of the districts of Assyria, Xenophon states that "Of wild creatures the most numerous were wild asses. . . . The asses, when they were pursued, having gained ground of the horses, stood still (for they exceeded the horses much in speed), and when the horsemen came up with them, they did the same thing again, so that our horsemen could take them by no other means but by dividing themselves into relays, and succeeding one another in the chase. The flesh of those that were taken was like that of red deer, but more tender."

Other references to wild asses in the Old Testament will be found in Job 24:5; Isaiah 32:14; Jeremiah 14:6.

S. E. Tate, wife and Ed and Earl Manard returned Saturday from Henryetta, Okla., where they had been visiting the former's mother, father and other relatives for two weeks. Legion Convention at Orleans October 16 and 20

New Orleans, Aug. 5.—The life of the World War fighter on land and sea and in the air will be portrayed in the entertainment program for visitors to the American Legion national convention in New Orleans, October 16-20, according to plans of the convention entertainment committee.

Amusements ranging from placid French village scenes to great naval and aerial displays will be arranged to entertain the ex-service visitors. Three large downtown squares will be used for street dancing and the scheme of decoration will be in imitation of the well known French village squares. There will be the familiar tables lining the sidewalks and refreshments will be served by waiters in appropriate costumes.

Cruisers, destroyers, eagle boats and submarine chasers will represent the United States Navy in the convention naval show. A fleet of one cruiser and six destroyers has been ordered to the convention by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, and invitations have been sent to England, France, Italy and other allied powers to send battleships.

A fleet of twelve United States hydroplanes will fly from Pensacola to New Orleans for exhibition during convention week. On one of the convention nights the planes will fly over the business district dropping flares and smoke bombs as a reminder of the air raids made by German planes over the American trenches and billets.

The "Pike" at the famous Spanish Fort amusement park is to be dressed in Mardi Gras garb. The dance pavilion redecorated for the week after the fashion of Creole days, will vary its modern dance program with exhibition dances of the minuet and Virginia reel. Music will be provided by the New Orleans Marine Corps band. An elaborate display of fireworks will be one of the features at the park. A number of pieces will be reconstructed battle scenes.

Three large halls will be scenes of carnival balls, similar to those held during Mardi Gras season. Elaborate preparations are being made and special costumes designed for the balls, which will take place on the second night of the convention.

One of the most spectacular sights during convention week will be the parade of 50,000 Legionnaires on the

HENRY RESIGNS AS MEMBER OF KLAN

Waco, Sept. 1.—Robert L. Henry, former Texas Congressman and defeated candidate for the nomination as United States Senator at the July Democratic primary, today announced his resignation as a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He lauds the principles of the klan in his announcement, but said he declines to affiliate with the organization "on account of the conduct of the high officials of the order in power at Atlanta, Ga., and in Texas."

In the recent Senatorial campaign the klan was generally understood to have supported Earle B. Mayfield, who won the nomination. Henry was an avowed member of the klan. Mayfield's political opponents charged him with membership in the organization, but he did not commit himself.

During the campaign friends of Henry asserted the klan membership was acting upon orders from "higher ups" in not supporting Henry.

The new Goodyear
Cross-Rib Tread Cord

Did You Get the Bottom Price, After All?

The man who buys a "long discount" tire usually finds himself troubled by the above question.

Did he pay less for the tire than his neighbor might have paid, or actually did he pay more?

Did he get the bottom price, when all is said and done, or could he perhaps have driven a sharper bargain?

Was the net price really more than he might have had to pay for a tire of established reputation and value?

In the belief that the average motorist prefers a frank and open transaction, we built the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord and discounted the "discount" in advance.

Instead of listing it at a high price, to enable the dealer to attract you with a so-called "long discount," we list it as low as we profitably can.

We build it of high-grade long-staple cotton, using the patented Goodyear method of group-ply construction, and sell it at a lower price than you are asked to pay for many "long discount" tires of unknown worth.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

THAT MORNING LAMENESS

If you are lame every morning, and suffer urinary ills, there must be a cause. Often it's weak kidneys. To strengthen the weakened kidneys and avert more serious troubles, use Doan's Kidney Pills. You can rely on Crowell testimony. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. C. C. Ashbey, Crowell, says: "My back was so bad I could hardly stoop to do my housework. Right through the small of my back and across my hips was a steady, dull ache. At night my back ached so I could hardly sleep, and I was unable to straighten when I got out of bed in the morning. It seemed as though every muscle was lame and sore and when I stooped I got so dizzy I could hardly stand. My kidneys weren't acting right, so I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me entirely." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ashbey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Home of Schaffner & Marx Clothing

if you have liberal openings on all four sides of the house there will be less drafts through the house than when only two sides are open. Anyhow, we know that at this time of the year fresh air in abundance is our only chance of preventing chicken pox and fall colds. A lack of air is what is causing all the trouble, and not too much air as some people are prone to think. Get out there with a saw and hammer and increase the ventilation. Do not be afraid of drafts, now. In the winter time of course we do not want drafts upon the hens at night; but now, it is a different thing.

Cleanliness

We have observed that flocks of chickens that are kept under more or less filthy conditions contract the disease much earlier than those kept under more sanitary conditions. We recollect one flock kept in a dirty back yard, much too small, with the kitchen slop thrown in with the chickens, no green food and lacking in grit, that every fall, earlier than usual contract this disease. Clean up and give the chickens at least half a chance to live. Plow and spade up the ground if necessary and reduce the number of chickens.

Symptoms of the Disease

Very often, but not always, sore head is accompanied with colds in some form. The symptoms of colds are running at nostrils, sneezing and coughing. These are accompanied by a characteristic odor. In the case of sore head, patches of sores covered with scabs, resembling nodules from the size of a pinhead to that of a pea, on the surface of the comb, wattles, earlobes, face and other unfeathered parts of the head, appear. Sometimes these sores increase so in number that they make the bird blind and very unsightly. We believe that the symptoms are so well understood it is not necessary for us to devote much space for that purpose.

Introducing the Disease

The disease is caused by a filterable virus, and it spreads very fast. It may be introduced by pigeons, birds or by fowls from shows, from infected coops, etc. It is a good plan to quarantine all fowls purchased or returned from exhibitions, for a period of ten days.

Treatment

Many remedies have been recommended. We have found the use of a special vaccine the best for preventing this disease. This vaccine is now being prepared by the Veterinary Department of A. & M. College of Texas at College Station. It is supplied at cost, together with the proper syringes for injecting it, also full instructions. We would suggest that you write this department for the vaccine. Remember that the vaccine is not a cure, but more of a preventative, and must therefore be injected in the very early stages of the disease or before it has started. It is a preventative vaccine and used quite extensively in California, in the Petaluma district.

A good remedy is epsom salts about once every two weeks. This salts is to be given at the rate of one half teaspoonful per half grown chicken and in case the disease is present, we increase this dose by doubling the amount. We give it dissolved in water and use the water to moisten a part of the dry mash mixture. In this way all of them will get a dose of epsom salts.

We paint the sores with tincture of iodine and keep it up until the bird improves.

To each 100 pounds of dry mash we add five pounds of powdered sulphur. This is placed before the affected fowls as a feed.

HOW TO PREVENT AND CURE SORE HEAD AND CHICKEN POX

By F. W. Kazmeier, Poultry Husbandman, A. & M. College of Texas

In the fall of the year on the farm, in the back yard and on the specializing poultry farm there is one disease that is looked upon with great dread and fear. Only this morning a man told me that chicken pox was all over his side of town, among the chickens. This disease spreads very rapidly. At this time of the year, the germ appears to be in the very air the chickens breathe. If your chickens are not affected now, be on your guard, because it will only be a question of a short time before signs of it will be cropping out. Watch for it!

We have found that there are two forms of sore head or chicken pox; there is one, the sore head alone, this is easily cured and seldom causes any great mortality. The other is sore head accompanied with colds and roup. This is extremely hard to cure and generally causes a great mortality.

The big thing to remember in controlling all poultry diseases is to resort to preventative measures rather than curative measures. This is especially true with reference to this disease. One of the greatest ways of preventing this disease is by feeding the chicks so they are full and properly nourished. We have found that improperly nourished fowls are much more likely to contract this disease. For this reason, we place great stress on the feeds and feeding at this time. We see to it that the fens have plenty to eat and drink at all times. We also see to it that the feed is properly mixed. We have experienced this year more than ever the importance of feeding chickens skim milk in some form. It develops them rapidly and keeps them so very healthy and well nourished that they are much less apt to contract the disease. This is very important. First go out to the feed house and see to it that your hens are not under nourished. Feed them well, give large quantities of milk and green food.

We feed the following dry mash, which is kept in hoppers before them all the time: Equal parts by weight of wheat bran, wheat shorts and cornmeal and 20 per cent of meat scraps. In addition, we give one feeding a day of screened corn chops. They have all the grit, green food, milk and fresh water, they can drink. They have plenty of shade, and we place the hoppers and drinking vessels in the shade. This ration as given is fed to our growing stock.

Culling and Isolation

We cull our stock closely every week. All weak and stunted looking individuals are at once disposed of. We have found that the weaklings are always the first ones to contract the disease and spread it to the rest of the flock. Dispose of all runts.

Every day the entire flock is carefully examined for signs of the disease. If any signs are found, regardless of how small the infection, the bird is at once isolated. This is important, because the disease spreads so very rapidly. It pays well to go to this little extra trouble. During September and October, especially is it important to be on the lookout for this disease. After a rain or spell of wet weather, this disease is more apt to show itself. Watch for it! If you discover birds with slight colds, be sure to remove them also, because colds often are the forerunners of sore head.

Crowding and Ventilation

Of all the many causes, over-crowding in the houses and on the roosts are the greatest causes of this disease. Cull out the flock so they are not crowded on the roosts at night. This is important. Do not overlook it. All the birds should be able to find room on the roosts. Do not allow the hens to roost on the floor or on the ground. In the case of growing chicks, it is important that you teach them to roost early in life. The earlier the better. Get them on the roost.

Chickens overcrowded on the grounds are almost sure to contract the disease sooner or later. Give the chickens more room. If necessary move them into movable houses and scatter the houses out about the farm. This will do much to help control the diseases.

The ventilation is important. Only this week we entered a hen house so close and stuffy it is a miracle that not all chickens had colds and chicken pox. Go around to all your hen houses and coops and see that they have large openings on all four sides. Do not be afraid of drafts. A draft on the chickens at night while they are on the roosts at this time of the year is desirable. It is also true that

Motion Picture Films

The Federal Trade Commission has issued a complaint against the American Film Corporation of Chicago, Ill., distributors of motion picture films. The case against the film company involves the question of unfair methods of competition in the leasing and selling of old and second class motion picture films, under different titles than originally presented to the public, without proper designation and explanation to the exhibitors to whom such films are leased or sold, although the contracts for such films called for first run or new photo plays. This practice, the complaint states, had the tendency to deceive and mislead the exhibitors and their patrons into the belief that these new-named pictures had not been previously displayed.

The Soldiers' Bonus

Those people who have been predicting that the soldiers' bonus bill would go through the Senate in a hurry evidently did not calculate concerning the great opportunity presented for the display of political oratory by supporters as well as opponents of the proposition. When the House passed the bill the politics of the situation was apparently all on the side of the bonus. Since that time the opposition has had time to make itself heard, and a tremendous pressure has been brought against the bill by the business interests of the country, while ex-service men have appeared in surprisingly large numbers to oppose the bill. The polls that have been conducted by magazines and newspapers have likewise showed a great division of sentiment throughout the country, and this no doubt has heartened President Harding who has insisted that if Congress passes such a law that it should also provide the means for paying the bonus requirements.

All the wise-acres around Washington are agreed that the bill will pass, but one man's guess is as good as another's as to whether the President will sign the bill or not. If he vetoes it there is a close question as to whether there is a condition in Congress that will pass it in spite of the Executive disapproval. Ordinarily the vetoes of a President are sustained as it takes a two-thirds vote to pass it over his signature. But sometimes, and that quite often in recent years, Congress has been very ruthless regarding the President and his vetoes. The fate of the bonus bill is very much in doubt.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my appreciation to my friends and customers for the splendid patronage they extended to me during the period of my business in the handling of feed. It was certainly appreciated and I hope that I showed my gratitude by the service I tried to render.

General Crop Conditions

Crops in general have not made particular improvement east of the Mississippi River or in the western part of the corn belt, but conditions have slightly improved in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast States during August, according to the reports of correspondents of the United States Department of Agriculture. Washington and Oregon have received sufficient rain to relieve the drought in the Southwest and western Texas and New Mexico has resulted in deterioration of ranges.

Small grains are still being threshed in the east as far south as the Chesapeake Bay but the bulk of the wheat threshing is finished south of the Great Lakes. Unsatisfactory yields are reported in the Ohio Valley with quality only fair. In the Dakotas fair weather has favored harvest of small spring grains and in Montana of winter grains. Threshing returns in that State show a high quality of rye and in South Dakota the quality of the spring wheat is good so far, with relatively light rust damage. Threshing has been delayed by rains in Iowa and Nebraska. Threshing of wheat is practically completed in Oklahoma and a very low yield is indicated. Wheat harvest is nearing completion in Utah and Wyoming, well under way in Idaho and the harvesting of barley and oats progressing. Considerable oats will be cut for hay in Wyoming. In California the harvest of the grain crop has been completed with good yields. In Washington and Oregon winter wheat is mostly harvested, spring wheat and oats in those States are too far advanced to be benefitted by recent rains and production may be about half of normal.

Plowing for fall seeding is in progress in Virginia and the western part of the corn belt but has been hindered by a hard, dry soil near the Ohio River. Movement of wheat to market has been slowed up in both Kansas and Missouri and in Kansas considerable grain is going into the stack on account of low prices.

The cotton crop continues to suffer rather severely from the weevil, especially in Georgia where the weather has been more or less cloudy. Picking is general in the southern half of Texas and near the Gulf Coast in the eastern part of the belt.

East of the Mississippi River corn has progressed fairly well.
