John B. Sneed Shot on Paduach Street

Quanah, Hardeman Co., Texas, July 2.—John Beall Sneed, prominent ranchman, seriously wounded shortly after noon Monday at Paduach, Cottle County, was brought here about 4 p. m. Monday for surgical attention. Following an X-ray diagnosis of Mr. Sneed's wounds, Dr. McDaniel said that the patient has a splendid fighting chance to recover. The X-ray showed three bullets close to the kidneys and liver. Bullets from two shotgun explosions, took effect in Mr. Sneed's back. One wound in the back of his head is not considered dangerous. He is suffering also from buckshot wounds in the back of his left thigh. The dangerous wounds were inflicted in the region of his kidneys and his liver. His left hand also was shot. Says He Will Recover. Mr. Sneed was conscious throughout the forty-five-mile trip from Paduach to Quanah and told those who accompanied him that he would survive the wounds. He was accompanied by W. Q. Richards Jr., Dr. Will McGowan and J. A. Crump in an automobile driven by Mr. Richards. Dr. McGowan gave first aid to the patient before the trip to Quanah began. Mr. Sneed was in Paduach from his ranch headquarters about eight miles away, according to the story brought here by his companions, and started home between 12:30 and 1 o'clock. His automobile was parked in the middle of the street, in front of the Carroll Motor Company. He stepped up on the running board of the car and was halfway in the car when a shot rang out. The shot shattered the windshield of the car and struck Mr. Sneed in the back of the head. Startled by the report of the shotgun and half-dazed from the onslaught, he stepped out of the car and asked a passerby if an automobile tire had blown out. Almost instantly there was another report and the shot struck him in the back of the leg and in the small of the back. After the second shot he walked into the Ellis Tin Shop and a search was begun for the man who had fired the shots.

Third Attack

Several minutes later C. B. Berry was taken into custody at a coal bin back of the First National Bank building and in the vicinity of the spot from whence the shots had been fired. Berry formerly lived in Paduach and had grown a beard prior to his arrival here on Monday. The wounding of Mr. Sneed occurred shortly after 12:30 o'clock and the trip to Quanah was started shortly after 2 o'clock. The patient stood the trip well and his vigorous good health is expected to be a point in his favor. The shooting of Mr. Sneed Monday is the third attack made at Paduach within the past in which the same persons were concerned. Wood Barton, husband of a young daughter of Mr. Sneed, was killed at Paduach last fall. Several weeks ago C. B. Berry was seriously wounded here and Mr. Sneed surrendered to officers. Berry was brought here and later went to Wichita Falls. He had not been seen in the vicinity of Paduach until Monday, since he was brought here for treatment.

Returns from Oklahoma Visit

G. D. Owens of Lubbock stopped over here Monday for a few days on his return from a visit with his son, J. C. Owens, of Tuttle, Okla. Mr. Owens has been up there nearly three months. He states that crops have not suffered for rain and that only a short time before his return they had a good season. Wheat was about like it was in Foard County. Mr. Owens expects to be here a few days. He owns a farm in this county but makes Lubbock his home and is a booster for that county.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Henry left Sunday for Fort Worth where they joined the excursion party for the Northwest, including a trip into Alaska. Mr. Henry told the Sunday school at the Methodist church, of which he is superintendent, that on next Sunday he would be in a service in Yellowstone National Park, and that each Sunday they were out they expected to be in a religious service. The schedule provides for it. They anticipate a very pleasant and profitable trip.

WE SHOULD EXPECT LOWER TAXES FROM ROAD AMENDMENT

No Extra Taxing Power Is Given the Legislature by Reason of Amendment

The first question asked by most people who have not given the proposed amendment very much thought is "How much will this thing increase our taxes?" That is a perfectly proper question to ask for we all expect to dig up taxes when any public improvements are to be made, but in the case of building our state highways as this amendment proposes there will be no extra taxes placed on the people of Texas. That is, not ad valorem taxes. Of course, the highways will have to be paid for if the amendment carries. But how is it to be done? The News does not assume to take the position of an informant in this matter, but it does wish to present what it understands about it. We understand that the highways will be constructed by means of excise taxes, just as the amendment specifies, and not by an ad valorem tax. To better understand an excise tax suppose we substitute the more commonly used term "occupation" tax, which it is understood has particular reference to the sale of gasoline. If we bear in mind that the users of the roads are going to pay for their construction and maintenance by means of the tax that is now imposed and that will be imposed on gasoline, we should have no difficulty in deciding in favor of the amendment. We have been told already a number of times by the president of the Highway Association and by state officials that the amendment will not increase the taxing power of the Legislature. This amendment will not empower that body to levy one cent of taxes on the people for road building. Keep your eyes on the press from now until the 28th and you will find that this is the explanation being given by those who have had to do with the proposition. Now, there is a reference to an ad valorem tax in the amendment, but this is caused by an error, which does not in any way, alter the amendment. You can see that for yourself. When the House passed on the proposition that body favored a State bond issue, but when it went to the Senate that body knocked out the clause authorizing a bond issue but since all this was done near the closing days of the session, in the rush of things the clause referring to an ad valorem tax was left in the amendment through an oversight. But since the bond issue clause was eliminated, the other was rendered null and void. So that portion of the amendment referring to ad valorem tax is to be disregarded entirely. Now, we make the affirmation that if the amendment carries it ought to enable us to reduce our taxes, because of the fact that the expense of maintenance of state roads will be taken over by the state and because of the further fact that all of the automobile tax that goes into the county treasury can be applied on the county roads, whereas now not one cent of that money can be thus legally applied. In Foard County this fund has been running about $4,000 per year. It will run a little higher than that since the automobile license has been raised. The amendment will release every dollar of this money for maintenance of county roads, which ought to make possible reduction of the county road and bridge tax. There is this further fact to be considered. If the amendment carries our taxes will not be increased thereby. If the amendment does not carry our taxes will not be decreased, but Texas will continue to pay its prorata of taxes to the federal government, a part of which will go to help build roads in other states, while we will build whatever roads we have out of our own pockets and without federal aid. Another thing just here is that Texas' allotment of federal aid is five or six times as great as that of New York, while New York is one of the great centers of wealth and must furnish the cash for building Texas roads. Not, however, unless the amendment carries. But better than all this argument is the fact that a system of roads

Judge Owens Attend- ed Dallas Meeting Last Week

Judge Jesse Owens returned from Dallas Sunday where he had attended the convention of the county judges and commissioners of the various counties of Texas who had met in that city for the purpose of discussing the proposed amendment to the constitution authorizing the State Highway Association to take over the state roads and supervise their construction and maintenance. Judge Owens thinks the press did not properly represent matters relative to the opposition that developed or rather that that opposition was magnified. Quite a lot of fuss seems to have been made but when it came to a vote as to whether the amendment should or should not be endorsed it went sixty some odd to 25 in favor. What opposition there was seems to have been due to either a lack of information on the proposition or a disinclination to turn over to the highway department authority which the commissioners have always possessed, that of the supervision of the roads through their counties. There seems also to have been some commercial interests bent on getting an unfavorable expression from that body for the effect it would have in the final vote. These, of course, if they really manifested themselves, were seeking to defeat the amendment because they are fearful that they themselves may lose business under State supervision. Judge Owens thinks the county judges from over Texas at the convention represented in a fairly reliable degree the sentiment of the people of Texas, and if so, he thinks the amendment will carry.

A Comparison of Cotton and Poultry

Joe Couch thinks there is not much profit in a one-crop policy. And he does not lean towards cotton so much as he does towards hens. Joe gives the News these figures relative to his experience with cotton and tells what his wife did with poultry: A year or two ago he started in to raise a cotton crop and of course the initial outlay had to be made and it cost him rather heavily. It was necessary for him to spend $2,000 buying machinery and making his crop. When the fruits of his labor were accounted for he found that he had not only spent $2,000 but that he was in the hole $700 besides. It was rather bitter experience. That same spring his wife spent $40 for chickens, stock for raising purposes and for turkey eggs for setting. The result of her experience was that she sold $185 worth of stuff from that business and furnished the home table and then had a good sized bunch of poultry left when the season was over. Joe does not mean to say that it is dangerous to raise cotton but he is strongly inclined to the diversification idea. He believes the one-crop practice will ruin a fellow. He is a great believer in poultry and thinks the average farmer ought to have not fewer than 500 hens on his farm. He also believes that the poultry people over Foard County ought to organize for the benefits it would be to the industry, especially in the matter of marketing eggs. Speaking of the poultry industry in California he said that there they sold eggs only for the table and eggs for hatching, and as a matter of fact the eggs marketed were infertile.

Two Credits Withheld

The following explanation from the State Department of Education as to why two credits are withheld from the Crowell school is self explanatory. These are one in English and one in Physics. English—Refused for the following reasons: (1) First year work indicates a very weak foundation; work in the grammar school should be improved. (2) Composition work indicates little working knowledge of the structure of paragraphs and of the fundamental principles of composition; it is almost wholly narrative, indicating a rather purposeless assignment of these subjects. (3) Answers on examinations are rather elementary and the penmanship is very crude. (4) No outlines or bibliographies are submitted. (5) Care is not always exercised in form of papers. The teacher is to be commended for the care exercised in the correction of errors in spelling, grammar, and punctuation and also in careful selection of test questions, but the pupil do not yet have a ground work to enable them to come up to the standards of three-unit high schools. Physics—Accrediting is refused for the following reasons: (1) The type of note book used does not conform to the requirements of the Committee. (See Bulletin 151, page 34, and Bulletin 136, pages 17 and 63.) Notes on experiments should be written separately in students own words and give a complete, though brief description of what is done, its results and conclusions. (2) The results of experiments often fail to prove, or prove the opposite of what is the case. While a second performance is often directed by the instructor in such cases, such performance is not shown.

ENCAMPMENT OF BOYS CLUBS AT VERNON NEXT WEEK

A Good Time and a Profitable Occasion Are Promised for 3 Days

The club boys of Foard and several other counties belonging to clubs have been anticipating, no doubt, a splendid time at Vernon during the encampment which is to be at that place July 10, 11 and 12. The county agents are bringing things to look forward to a fine time for the boys. The club boys of this county will leave here on the morning of July 10, and return in the afternoon of July 12. County Agent Fred Rennels is notifying the boys by letter this week relative to what will be expected of them in the way of baggage, etc., for camping. Among the things they may take with them will be bathing suits, provided they have them and wish to go bathing. A bathing pool at Vernon will be at their command. Rapid Progress in Building Lee Highway

Great activity is manifested all along the line in the completion of Lee Highway, with work progressing and contracts being let in every state and the marking of the road, which has been carried across Virginia and California, now under way in Tennessee, and other states. At the dedication of the Zero Milestone in Washington June 4, Lee Highway Association was accorded federal recognition never before given an organization of a similar character. An Ex-President, six Cabinet officers, State Governors and high officials of the National road organizations and the Shriners were in attendance. The ceremony drew the largest assembly ever held near the White House and an amplifier repeated the addresses so that every word could be heard by some 200,000 people, it being the opening of the great Shrine Convention. In his address accepting the Zero Milestone, President Harding said, "There is not in existence at present a single road from coast to coast which can be used unimpeded throughout the entire year. So, in the spirit of patriotic ambition for a national highway unification, Lee Highway Association has planned to connect Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, with a boulevard from the Lincoln temple to the Lee Mansion by way of the Arlington memorial bridge; thence by way of Manassas battlefields, into the heart of the South, and thence to the Pacific." Although Lee Highway Association has been functioning only three years, it has succeeded in opening and putting in commission a practical motorway across the continent, which is today in all probability nearer completion than any other road. When construction now under way or soon to begin is finished, 90 per cent of the entire mileage across the continent will be safe, smooth surfaced road; 58 per cent being hard-surfaced, 30 per cent light surfaced (gravel, rock, a little sand-clay) and 7 per cent a graded road or gritty substance across the table land of West Texas always in superb condition and as safe and comfortable as a concrete road. The remaining 10 per cent consists of odds and ends of little improved road, these gaps being found in each of the states.

Two Accidents Happened at Quanah on the Fourth

Two serious accidents are reported to have happened at Quanah Wednesday. One boy named Bagley, about 10 years of age, was struck on the head by a ball while a game of baseball was in progress. He was reported to have been killed at first, but as we go to press Thursday at 4 p. m., the report says that he is still alive. It is not stated how serious was the accident. Late in the afternoon Lee Wright, 18-year-old son of J. D. Wright of Margaret received a broken leg and was otherwise injured when he was caught by an automobile that overturned on which he with others was riding to the lake near Quanah. He was reported to be in a very serious condition yesterday and his recovery is uncertain.

Some Good Wheat Yields

The wheat yield this year is not high. Perhaps it runs about 8 or 10 bushels. There are two crops, however, that report good yields. A W. Crisp of the Rayland community has just threshed a crop that made 20 bushels to the acre. The acreage is not definitely known. Frank Weatherall of Foard City is reported to have made 15 bushels to the acre on 50 acres. These are the highest yields of which we have heard this year, and would be splendid for any year. (3) Drawings often do not appear where an essential part of experiment ("Composition of Forces," "Magnetic Field") (4) It is often impossible to determine from this method, where the manual is so detailed, whether students understand principles involved or are merely following directions. (5) Report of visiting supervisor shows class work below standard. The school is advised to use a different manual and to consult Science Bulletin 136 for detailed discussion.

Mrs. Crawford Hostess

The home of Mrs. C. Q. Crawford was the scene of a pretty and enjoyable party on last Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Crawford was hostess to a number of friends. The house was artistically decorated in cut flowers, the centerpiece for the library table being very prettily arranged with zinnias and sweet peas.

Several hours were spent in playing 42, the hostess serving refreshing punch throughout the game. Genial conversation afterward prevailed and a tempting ice course was served. Each guest declared it to be a most pleasant and happy afternoon.

Grocery Saving

The advantage you have in buying groceries at this store is that you pay for your own groceries and nobody else's. The credit system makes losses unavoidable. These losses must be paid for. Who is to do it except the good customers? We have eliminated these losses by the cash system and consequently can sell you stuff at prices that do not have to include losses entailed by bad debts. Furthermore we handle our business ourselves and thus save expense of hired help. This saving is transferred to the customers. Some Newspaper Rules

A Texas newspaper recently issued the following rules, which explain themselves:

"Fifty cents per line will be charged for all obituary notices of business men who get their job printing in another city; twenty-five cents per line will be charged for like notices to all business men who do not advertise, while all delinquent subscribers will be charged fifteen cents per line on passing out to the New Jerusalem. Advertisers and cash subscribers will receive the best there is in the shop free gratis when they shuffle off.

"Those who extend the paper no business and are continually knocking the editor, or the paper, or lambasting the community and its citizens, drop banana peelings on the sidewalk spit like a dime or try to sell us a gold brick, will soon be given the truth, which won't look good in print, when they give up the ghost.

"Better send in your orders for job printing and advertising, pay up your subscription, get to boosting this paper and its editor and speak in glowing terms of the town and its people, for an epidemic of hog cholera is said to be abroad in the land."

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

KIMSEY & KLEPPER, Owners and Publishers

Crowell, Texas, July 6, 1923

We are wondering how the people of Havana took Governor Neff's Fourth of July speech. It is likely that that was a wasted oration, but Mr. Neff perhaps did not care much for he left the city the same day.

Give Montana another chance. Maybe she can outlive having had a prize fight within her bounds in the year of our Lord 1923. Remember there were other places once within Uncle Sam's domain where people went wild over such things.

The members of the locating committee for the West Texas Tech are in no hurry to find the right place, or rather they are not rushing to make the announcement of the location. We shall be satisfied if the committee puts it on the Lee Highway.

The Dallas News paragrapher sagely remarks: "You can go to church by radio, but you can't go to heaven that way." Of course not over the present road, but maybe we are expecting an improved highway to be built that will make the way easy.

One of the tasks Uncle Sam has is that of Americanizing the foreigners. If this were done as they come to this country the immigration problem would automatically solve itself. Foreigners becoming true citizens of this country are an asset to it.

Lieut. Governor Davidson will make many friends in Texas if he continues to pursue the policy he has chosen in the matter of respecting the real authority of the governorship. He could have followed the example of other Lieut. Governors in the absence of the governor in handing out pardons, but Mr. Davidson has a sense of propriety too keen for that. He refuses to use that power, as most men in the same position would do if they are not too strongly influenced by usurping propensities.

If the estimate of business for this year made by Secretary Sloan Simpson of the Farm Bureau Association is anything like accurate, it would seem that the association is a thorough-going proposition this year. His visit to the East where arrangements were made for $40,000,000 with which to handle the cotton crop indicates the confidence capital has in it, which is more than three times the amount used last year. It is expected that the association will handle four times as many bales this year as last year.

This is the last week the proposed amendment will appear in the News. It may be that some of our readers have not read and studied this amendment as closely as they intend to, and if that be true they had better do it now or else file this issue of the paper for reference later. We will not be able to furnish you with copies of the paper in which the amendment appears after this week. We insist that every one do this and prepare himself to cast his vote as he thinks would be for the best interests of Texas.

The live business men of a town who advertises in the columns of the local paper furnish important news—store news. They have a weekly message of commodities and prices that the public is interested in all the time. More people read ads than one would think. Only a few days ago the Bell Grain Company advertised for sacks, and sacks they received until they had to ask the News to discontinue the ad to save themselves from being swamped with sacks. The very fact that this company advertised for sacks meant that grain was being shipped, which was news. It had the double value of telling that fact and also of placing the Bell Grain Company before the public as being in need of the things which the ad brought. There is always an element of news in advertising and ads bring the buyer and the seller in touch with each other and make possible business transactions.

It ought to be possible for every good sensible man to see the value of co-operation in community building. Every man in a community is either a builder or a destroyer. He is either an asset or he is a liability. He may be a large asset or he may be a small asset. The same truth applies if he is a liability. No man fills his place as he might and measures up to the fulness of his opportunities if he fails to ally himself with the highest and best interests of his community. The word which explains this is "co-operation." There are other men in business who have as much right to expect your business patronage as you have to expect theirs, and if the business people of a town do not recognize and observe this truth some legitimate interests suffer. The town or the community constitutes a body and the individual interests are the members. No member can suffer without the body sustaining hurtful effects. The same thing applies to the moral and religious interests. Permanency and power as means of accomplishing things worth while come as the result of co-operation.

Pastor Speaks for Christian Education

Every faculty of man must be touched. Not only must his mental faculties be developed, but his spiritual nature must be developed if he would come into his full power and usefulness.

This was the thought that ran through the entire argument of the sermon delivered by Rev. T. C. Willett at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Paul was educated at the feet of one of the greatest educators of his day, but he was not prepared for the great work which counted until God had touched his life.

God calls prepared men for special duties. They may not always be prepared when he calls them, said the preacher, but their greatest success depends on their willingness and their actual acceptance of the preparation that is at their command.

All men—men of mediocre station—are called to duties, and their highest success depends upon God's being allowed to direct their lives. So there is work for each one and preparation provided for each. It is left to him to accept.

The speaker said that educators have come to recognize the need of Christian education. The church has led the way, and the leading schools and universities are dominated by Christian influences. It was pointed out that the leading schools of Europe had their beginning as schools of theology. The same is true in the United States. Such universities were named as Harvard, Yale and Chicago. Out of 500 of the leading schools and universities of this country more than 75 per cent are owned and controlled by the church, and from these have come the outstanding leaders of the religious and political circles in the United States.

The speaker emphasized the importance of educating the children in Christian schools and that through these schools should the foreigner be Americanized. There is only room in this country for Americans, he said, and when one comes to this country to make it his home he should leave behind him his loyalty to foreign institutions and his foreign ideas that will bring him into conflict with American ideas.

Speaking of the possibility of the average boy or girl getting an education the preacher pointed out examples of many who have worked their way through schools and universities and graduated with the highest honors, thus showing that as a possibility, even though shortage of funds confronts one. It need not be regarded as an obstacle that can not be removed.

A summing up of the whole matter would lead one to realize the fact that responsibility rests on the individual in most cases and he becomes just about what he is willing to be, and he is directed just about as far as he is willing for God to direct him both in his preparation and his life work.

Tourists Are a Unit in Complimenting Our Roads

More tourists are now coming through Crowell than have ever come. Not a night passes and seldom does a noon hour come that there is not from two to half a dozen cars at the camp grounds. Invariably they have nothing but praise for our splendid roads in Foard County. One traveler recently remarked that he had traveled over a large portion of the state and had found no roads yet so good as those in Foard County. This is a fine advertisement for this county and it means that when the highways in adjoining counties are put up in good shape that much more traffic will be turned through this county.

When foreign governments enact laws they expect Americans to obey them when within the territorial jurisdiction of those governments.

When the United States enacts laws the same principle should apply to citizens of other countries when those citizens reach American territory.

These are statements of common fairness and justice that no self-respecting person can question.

Congress has passed a law which prohibits any American ship from carrying liquor on board. The same law prohibits any foreign ship from entering an American port with liquor on board, except for medicinal purposes.

Foreign ship owners (and we suspect some of their governments, as well, are endeavoring to flagrantly disregard that law and the authority of the United States by carrying a full supply of liquor, that for voyage home being sealed by consular agents to be opened after the ships leave American waters for their home ports.

It is a shrewd trick, and if allowed to succeed will drive American passenger ships from the seas unless the law is amended.

Here is the meat of the coconut.

If a British ship, for instance, is allowed to disregard the law it will have plenty of "wet" goods for its passengers as soon as it passes out of American waters.

An American ship, making the same trip, would be required to obey the law and require no liquor on board, except for medicinal purposes.

Which ship would get the business and how long could an American ship continue in commission under such discriminatory conditions?

If foreign ships entering our ports can not obey the law they should be forbidden the right of entry. Either that, or American ships should be placed on an equal footing.

The government should stand pat and compel a strict observance of our laws as long as they are in force.

Only an imbecile would be guilty of slicing off his own nose.

Presidential elections are a good thing in one way. They allow a lot of politicians the glory of being "mentioned."

It's quite true that the Lord provides our daily bread, but He expects us to do the eating.

WHAT THE HIGHWAY AMENDMENT MEANS

PRESIDENT EXPLAINS MEASURE TO BE VOTED ON JULY 28

NO BONDS ARE AUTHORIZED

Places State Roads Under State Supervision—Rural Roads Under Counties

Waco, Texas.—W. V. Crawford, president of the Texas Highway Association, issued today a statement outlining the provisions of the proposed highway amendment to the State Constitution to be voted on by the people on July 28.

"In spite of all the discussion in the press," he said, "there seems to be a widespread misunderstanding of the proposed amendment. The many inquiries we have received indicate that a great many people do not know what it provides. It occurs to me, therefore, that a simple statement of its provisions is very necessary.

"The amendment proposes to add the following provisions to the State Constitution:

"The Legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the State, to be under the control of the State, and in order that the State may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities for the establishment and maintenance of such system of highways, the Legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes, in addition to those permitted for other purposes in the Constitution, but such ad valorem taxes shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by vote of the people of this State as provided for hereinafter in this section.

"When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the State as provided in Section 4 hereof the Legislature is authorized to make provision for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore constructed by the counties in the State.

"Provided, also that, save for the State highway system, in all other respects, counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes and bridges within their respective boundaries and the constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof."

"Then there is a section authorizing and directing the Legislature to enact legislation to put these provisions into effect.

"First of all it should be said that the provision which refers to ad valorem taxes can be ignored, for the section which would have authorized the issuance of bonds was stricken out by the Senate. It was intended to strike out also the reference to ad valorem taxes, but in the rush of the closing hours of the regular session this was overlooked. But it is inoperative and the same as though it had been stricken out. For it applies only to the section which was stricken out, and no ad valorem taxes could be levied if the amendment is adopted.

"If that point is kept in mind there should be no difficulty in understanding the amendment. It provides for the creation of a state highway system and for the levying of 'specific excise taxes' for the establishment and maintenance of such a system.

"If the amendment is adopted the designated state highways will be taken over by the state and the counties will be relieved of the duty and expense of constructing and maintaining such highways in the future.

"The excise taxes it authorizes does not increase the power of the state to raise revenue. The state can levy excise taxes now, only they are called occupation taxes. But one-fourth of all occupation taxes must go to the school fund, and this amendment would make possible the levying of such a tax for road purposes only. The gasoline tax is an instance of this. Gasoline can no be taxed for roads without also taxing it for schools under the present constitution. Under the amendment it could be taxed for roads alone.

"And finally the amendment provides that counties shall retain all their present powers and revenues with respect to roads. This will relieve the counties from constructing and maintaining state highways and leave them all their present revenue for purely county roads. The provision for compensating counties for roads taken over is a matter for the future and will require further action of the Legislature.

"The system which this amendment would inaugurate in Texas is the same as that in operation in all the other states in the Union with the exception of two or three. A Federal law requires that every state must have such a system within the next three years or forfeit any further Federal aid in building highways."

POINTS PICKED UP ON THE PIKE

Here is news that, if authentic, will have an important bearing on the future market value of foreign bonds.

A noted editor and writer is back from Europe, where he made a special study of existing conditions.

He says England is taxing her people heavily and paying her debts. That will inspire greater confidence in English bonds, and they will find a ready market.

France, he says, is raising money to carry on the government by negotiating new loans, instead of by taxation—running deeper into debt. In view of this information French bonds will not be so attractive to the American investor.

Russia, according to him, is being systematically misrepresented by certain powerful newspapers and interests. They are, he says, making satisfactory progress toward government by the people. This statement is illuminating, in view of the harrowing stories we have been reading since the war.

Norman Hapgood is the editor in question—a brilliant writer well known in this country.

An agitator rises to remark that the industrial situation in this country is bad because a million men are out of work.

But he is wrong. He is even misrepresenting the facts of the case.

Instead of being bad, our industrial situation is marvelous, considering the chaotic condition that existed immediately following the close of the war.

Doubtless there are a million men out of work, but that is not an unusual number when we consider that there are one hundred and ten millions of people in this country.

There always has been and always will be large numbers of people out of employment for the simple reason that about a certain per cent of the population don't want to work and can not be induced to work. They are tramps, bums, crooks, drones, agitators and general all round undesirable citizens.

There are others who would willingly work, but are physically incapacitated.

There are others who, if they can not find work in one particular trade, will not work at anything else.

Still others find it more comfortable to allow their wives and children to perform the manual labor while they enjoy a life of ease.

We have every reason to be satisfied with existing conditions. They are not perfect, never have been and never will be perfect, but they are vastly better than anywhere else in the world today.

This country is rich and prosperous and our people are happy, because as a rule we attend to our own affairs and do not meddle with those of other countries.

We will become richer and more prosperous and happier as time goes on if we continue our policy of non-interference that has proven so wise and successful in the past.

We are capable of handling our own affairs. The Old World should do the same.

Foreign entanglements do not appeal to a majority of the American people.

President Harding declared in a recent speech that a reduction in freight rates can only be brought about by the consolidation of the railroads of the country into a small number of systems, under "rigorous government supervision."

He has our permission to try the experiment. Any old port in a storm is better than no port at all.

AMENDMENT INVOLVES A THREEFOLD DUTY

Wortham Says Highway Measure is Interest of County, State and Nation

Fort Worth, Texas.—It is to the interest of the county, of the State and of the Nation that the proposed highway amendment to the Constitution should be adopted at the election on July 28, according to Louis J. Wortham of this city, vice president of the Texas Highway Association.

"It is to the interest of the county—of every county," he said, "because the maintenance of cardinal highways through the county for the benefit of State traffic absorbs too much of county money and county attention. The adoption of the amendment would place these highways under the State Government and thus relieve county funds to be applied to purely county roads. It would mean the serving of all the people in every county in the State."

"It is to the interest of the State because it will insure the construction of a State system of connected highways and the permanent maintenance of such highways. Moreover, it will insure the co-operation of the Federal Government in the building of this system, for if the amendment is lost we shall lose Federal aid for highway construction."

"It is to the interest of the Nation because it will insure that the money the Federal Government spends in Texas will contribute toward the creating of a national highway system. That is the only justification for the expenditure of Federal money for highways. The Federal Government has no right to spend the people's money in the construction of disconnected county roads. It will also insure that roads built with Federal assistance will be maintained, and thus protect the investment of the Federal Government in Texas."

"An citizen of a county in Texas is not merely a citizen of that county. He is a citizen of the county, a citizen of the State and a citizen of the United States. In all of these capacities he should vote for this amendment, for the interests of his county, the interests of his State and the interests of his country demand it."

Amendment Insures Federal Aid

Austin, Texas.—It will be necessary for Texas to adopt the highway amendment to the Constitution on July 28 to insure the continuance of Federal aid, according to R. M. Hubbard, chairman of the State Highway Commission.

"An amendment to the Federal aid act," he says, "requires the State to provide a State fund to match the Federal money and to take over the construction and maintenance of the State system. The authority now in the counties will have to be given to the State, as far as the State roads are concerned. This can only be done by amending the Constitution. The amount allotted to Texas to date is approximately $31,000,000 and the allotments in the future will be many millions more. The adoption of the amendment means that we will be assured a connected State system of roads."

Campaign for Salvation Army to Be Put on in the Fall

Envoey E. R. Baldry of Salvation Army headquarters in Dallas was here this week in the interest of the Salvation Army. He meant to put on a drive for funds, but decided to postpone the matter until this fall.

The procuring of funds for the Salvation Army will be under the supervision of the local advisory board at Crowell, which will enlist the assistance of a number of the ladies of town, some of whom have already consented to help.

MRS. C. R. FERGSON'S MOTHER DIES IN HOUSTON

A message was received here the latter part of last week telling of the death of Mrs. C. R. Fergson's mother, Mrs. Cammack, which occurred in Houston Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Fergson were summoned from Wichita Falls, where Mr. Fergson was attending Federal court, and they arrived in Houston before Mrs. Cammack's death.

The remains were shipped to Waco where they were interred Monday morning.

It would never do for the government to own and operate the railroads of this country. Every congressman would be demanding free passes for all of his constituents.

Our Sublime Faith

The celebration of Independence Day in America was notable this year, as it has always been since our forefathers signed the Declaration of Independence.

People from abroad who witnessed the celebration in various sections of the country were attracted by one particular feature which transcended all others. That feature was the sublime faith of Americans in America.

It is such faith that makes nations and peoples great.

THE SERVICE OF A FAILURE

BY J. H. PUELICHER
President American Bankers
Association

J. H. Puelicher

When Governor Walton of Oklahoma signed recently the repeal of the bank deposit guaranty law in that state, he performed an economic service to the whole country. I might even say that Oklahoma in passing that law, enduring its evil consequences for fifteen years and then frankly casting it aside as a failure, has performed an economic service to the nation. There could be no more convincing argument against the passage of similar laws in other states than Oklahoma's disastrous experiment.

The Oklahoma guaranty law was the first of its kind. It was enacted in response to the panic of 1907. But experience has only proved again that there is no substitute for sound banking. Relying on the fancied security of the guaranty law, people entrusted their banking to many who were unfit for the trust. Bank failures have been so many that the fund, supposed to guarantee deposits, created by assessments on banks, was long ago depleted.

It is estimated that with total liabilities created under the law in the form of warrants and sums owing to depositors amounting to $12,000,000, there are in the hands of the Banking Board uncertain assets of nominally $15,000,000, ranging in value from zero to only thirty or forty cents on the dollar, resulting in a deficit of many million dollars. Sound, well-managed banks have been heavily taxed by assessments to the fund, and the maximum amount that could be assessed on solvent banks is insufficient to cover the deficit.

It has been well said that guaranty laws make for looseness in banking methods, and saddle on the competent and honest the sins of the incompetent and dishonest.

Let us have only laws that raise the standard of banking. Let us have no laws that debase it.

NEED FOR UNIFORMITY IN BUSINESS LAWS

How Collection of Just Debts May Be Prevented by Differing
State Statutes.

An effort to bring about better coordination and greater uniformity among state laws dealing with business and banking is being made by the American Bankers Association.

It is pointed out that, although the country is a unit commercially, and citizens of any one state may do business that reaches all over the country, most laws governing business transactions are made by the different states, with application limited to their own local jurisdictions and often in conflict with laws in other states. It is held that state laws should be uniform so that the same transaction will not be subject to different sets of rules according as state laws differ.

To illustrate the disadvantages of conflicting laws, the following illustration is given: Mr. Jones lives in New York where the statute of limitations outlaws a note in six years. He falls into the error of assuming that the same rule prevails everywhere. He visits Maryland and loans $1,000 to his friend, Mr. Smith, taking a promissory note. As the note carries interest Mr. Jones is in no hurry for his money and he believes Smith to be financially responsible. Finally at the end of four years Jones concludes he has loaned Smith the money long enough and seeks to collect the note from him. But Smith can deny liability and point to the statute of Maryland which Jones is surprised to learn outlaws a note after three years.

Changes Recommended
The particular subjects of legislation recommended by the association for enactment by State legislatures during 1923 include uniform acts on negotiable instruments, bills of lading, warehouse receipts, stock transfer, and fiduciaries.

Under the head of laws for better protection of banks in particular transactions are proposed measures dealing with limiting liability on certified check; instruments based on gambling or usurious consideration; time limit on stop payment; payment of stale check; adverse claim to bank deposit; payment of forged or raised check; deposits in two names; deposits in trust; competency of bank and corporation notaries; non-payment of check through error; Saturday afternoon bank transactions, and forwarding check direct to payor.

Under the Federal Reserve and foreign banking are recommended laws on membership of state institutions in Federal Reserve System, and foreign banking. Penal laws proposed deal with false statements for credit; slander and libel of bank; checks or drafts without funds, and burglary with explosives.

GOOD-BY TO CLOTHES MOTH

Scientists Said to Have Discovered
Preparation Fatal to That Household Pest.

The clothes moth, which it is estimated destroys ten thousand tons of wool each year, may be absolutely controlled by the use of a new chemical called "Eulan F," which may be used in wool finishing. The substance is harmless to human beings, but wool impregnated with it is not eaten by the larvae of the moth except when starvation threatens, and it is then speedily fatal. The chemical has been prepared by the dye works of Leverkusen at Jena, Germany, by Doctor Meckbach and his collaborators.

Although it is preferably applied to the woolen article during or after the finishing process in the factory, it may be added subsequently to the completed goods by soaking them in a cold 2 per cent solution, or it may be sprayed on. The goods are then rinsed with pure water, and the Eulan finish is then said to be permanent for three or four household washings before needing renewal. A similar process may be used with furs.

The success of the new preparation, which is claimed by its inventors to be complete, comes after many years of experiment. It was noted 50 years ago that wool dyed green was safe from moths, and this was later shown to be due to the use of pigment called "Marius Yellow" in the dye. It remained then to find a chemical which would have this effect on the caterpillar, but be odorless and without effect on the color, or finish of the goods. This the inventors say, they have done and that tests extending over several years have demonstrated the efficacy of this remedy against this great enemy of the careful housewife, against which the sole protection had previously been a kind of gas attack through the use of strong-smelling chemicals.

Resolutions

Whereas the all-wise and ever-powerful Creator and Ruler of the universe has in His infinite wisdom seen fit to take from among us our dearly beloved friend and fellow member, Mrs. A. E. Williams, and whereas the Adelpian Club has lost a faithful and efficient member:

1. That while after the manner of our humanity we mourn our loss, yet we are made glad because of the privilege that was ours to know and love her as a friend and associate and because of the promise that through faith, this friendship and association will be renewed.
2. That we commend her life as an example of a noble type of womanhood and worthy of emulation.
3. That we extend our sympathy and love to her bereaved family and relatives.
4. That three copies of these resolutions be made, one to be placed on record in the club books, one to be furnished her family and one to be sent to the Foard County News for publication.

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."

If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need. Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed—Perfecting Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)
