C. OF COMMERCE DECIDES TO HAVE RODEO AND FAIR

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last week steps were taken looking to the putting on of a rodeo and other attractions, but some difficulties were encountered which made the proposition look doubtful. Since then we have had copious rains and everything looks better for a rodeo and fair, so a called meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday took the matter up again and decided to have a rodeo and county fair this fall. The date will be October 2nd and 3rd.

Judge Jesse Owens was appointed as manager and Fred Rennels as assistant manager of the proposition, and they are to have the backing of the citizens of Crowell.

The value of a good county fair can not be estimated, while the entertainment offered by a rodeo is always good and many people will come to see that alone. Others will come to a fair just to see what the farmers are doing. The two go together well and each is a drawing card to get people together.

It may not be quite so easy to get a good display of farm products as it has been some years, but we can make a creditable showing and the fair will be worth while. It is not so hard to put on a rodeo, perhaps, when weather condition have been unfavorable.

If everybody will help in this matter Foard County should have a real good rodeo and county fair, something that we will all be proud of. That is what every one should do. Boost for them both together.

Meeting a Success

The revival meeting at the Christian church closed Sunday night with a great victory for the forces of righteousness. There were twenty-three additions to the church, sixteen of these by confession and baptism. The Bible school was given quite a "boost" during the meeting, as the attendance jumped from 32 the Sunday before the meeting commenced to 108 last Sunday, which was the largest number present at the Bible school in several years. The attendance was unusually large and the interest was all that any one could ask, during the entire meeting.

There was the very best co-operation on the part of the Christian citizenship, and a wonderfully sweet fellowship prevailed all the while. The song and praise service led by Bro. Guy E. Curtis, and the work of Miss Edwina Hocker at the piano, more than measured up to the most sanguine expectations, and was a special feature of the services. The singers of the different churches helped in a beautiful way, and the singing was always an inspiration. The preacher gave the very best messages possible, and they were always received with great interest. This evangelistic team began a meeting at Knox City Tuesday night, and they ask that they may have the prayers of every Christian for the success of their labors in that meeting. We especially thank every one who helped in any way towards the success of the meeting, and we urgently request that you one and all, will do your best to stay on the job for the Master. How about 600 in the Bible schools of Crowell next Sunday? Can the Lord count on you? There were only 268 in all the Bible schools of Crowell September 5th, and last Sunday there were 385. There should not be less than 1000 attend the Bible schools of Crowell each Sunday.

Come on folks, let each one of us get on the job for Jesus and His church. "Pray for us, that the word of God may run, and be glorified."

In His Name,

MONTH OF AUGUST GIVES US 5.32 INCHES OF RAIN

August of 1923 passes out with a good rain record. We had three good rains, the first one two weeks ago amounting to 1.30. That one was followed by another in a few days of 2.30 and the last one last Sunday night amounting to 1.72 inches, making a total for the month of 5.32 inches.

Baylor Professor Here in Interest of Institution

W. H. Pool, professor of Latin in Baylor University for more than 30 years, was here this week attending the Baptist association. He was representing the institution of the denomination looking to procuring students from this territory.

Mr. Pool has been in Baylor so long that he has become a part of the institution and he would feel himself out of place anywhere else. He has helped to educate some of the leaders in Texas today, among them being the Governor of the State.

He travels almost over the entire state. This is his second trip to Foard County, the one prior to this being in 1902, before there was a railroad here or any of the modern brick business houses. He speaks of the old wooden court house at that time and the yard which was sown in turnips. He sees a very great outcome in the country and the town since then.

Will Extend Invitation to Postal Association

The Chamber of Commerce which was in session Tuesday expressed its desire that Postmaster Leo Spencer extend the invitation to the Postal Association, which was in session at Munday this week, to come to Crowell for its next session.

YOUNG MAN DIED AFTER AN OPERATION

Albert Jackson Meason was born May 8, 1904, and died August 23, 1923.

The deceased was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Meason and had been stricken with an attack of appendicitis, taking sick Sunday and undergoing an operation on Tuesday following.

He had had two attacks of the disease before and had been troubled with it for four years. He was so affected this time as to cause the family to think it was not appendicitis, but when the operation was performed it was discovered that he was in a very serious condition and his recovery was doubtful. Death occurred Saturday morning about 9 o'clock.

Albert Meason was known as one of the best and quietest young men in Crowell. He was very devoted to his parents and was loved by all who knew him. His father says he never knew the boy to speak a harmful word of a person in all his life. When death was approaching he said to those by his bedside that he was not afraid to go and passed away leaving the assurance that all was well with him.

The family are grief-stricken over the young man's death, which came early in life, but they have the deep sympathy of their friends, who are helping them to bear the burden of sorrow.

Makes Piece of Furniture from Foard County Product

Claude McLaughlin was displaying an electric light stand last week which he had made at the turning lay at Self Motor Company's garage. The furniture was made from a Foard County mesquite tree and was as beautiful as walnut. It had been oiled and was dark in appearance, resembling walnut more than any kind of timber. It is the first piece of fine furniture known to have been made from mesquite.

Miss Lola Huddleston left last Saturday after a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. R. Beverly. Mr. and Mrs. Beverly took her to Quanah where she took the Ft. Worth & Denver, arriving in San Francisco Tuesday. She sailed Wednesday at noon for the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Kenner returned Thursday of last week from Addington, Okla., where they had gone to visit Mrs. Kenner's sisters, accompanied by Mrs. Kenner's mother, Mrs. L. M. Tucker. Mrs. Tucker remained at Addington.

Mrs. Clarence McKown and children of Vernon are visiting relatives in Crowell.

Next Monday Trades Day Should Bring Crowd From All Over County to Crowell

Business Men of This City Are Making Offers in Merchandise That Will Make It Worth Your Effort to Come

The News is trying to make its entrance into every home in Foard County this week, bearing messages from the various business men of Crowell on bargains offered for next Monday Trades Day. If a single home has been overlooked it is not the fault of the News management.

There is a double page in this issue containing small ads from 22 business firms here and each one of these offers one special price on some commodity. A number of these advertise merchandise at actual losses. Why then are they doing this, you say? Because they want an opportunity to prove to you that they are selling merchandise as cheap as can be purchased anywhere in this country. They want your trade and they are willing to offer inducements that should bring it to Crowell. The men whose small ads appear on this double page ad are responsible for this advertising. Besides the fact that they are making special offers practically all of them will make the closest prices on their goods not here advertised that they can possibly make. So we ask that you read every advertisement in this issue of the News and then come to Crowell Monday. It will be one of the big days for this town and for all who come.

Let the crops grow. The rains are fine and the cotton and feed will now take care of themselves. If you have a few dollars that you can spare they can be very profitably placed just now. You are going to make some more in the near future. Foard County is putting on her Sunday clothes and we are going to see bountiful crops harvested, after all the discouragement we have had by reason of the fact that the dry weather continued a little longer than we liked. Nearly six inches of rain for August is going to work wonders.

We take pleasure in making special mention of the firms making special offers in this ad. They are: R. B. Edwards Co., dry goods and clothing; W. R. Womack, furniture; Quick Service Station, automobile accessories and tubes; Massie-Rasor Grocery Company, flour; M. S. Henry & Co., glass tumblers and pitchers; Self Motor Company, porcelain for Champion plugs and accessories; Barry & Wishon, automobile accessories; Ferguson Bros., Osato Indian Tonic; Wm. Cameron & Co., screen wire; L. A. Beverly & Company, cold patches and accessories; Self Dry Goods, O. N. T. thread; Russell Grocery Co., Maxwell House Coffee; J. H. Self & Sons, white plates and saucers; Owl Drug Store, Tancro Blood Purifier; Swain's Garage, accessories; Matthews-Crawford, syrups; Santuary Cafe, discount on everything; Crowell Dry Goods Co., special on gingham; Fox & Sons, flour; Magee Toggery, shirts and ties; Cicero Smith Lumber Co., automobile paint; The Foard County News, subscription.

These and some other firms in town are also offering 32 premiums, varying in price each from $5.00 down. It means that hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise will be sacrificed on Monday. The buyers will be benefitted and Trades Day will be stimulated, so that the business men and all together will reap benefits in the future.

Come to Crowell Monday, rain or shine. You'll help to make a bigger crowd and you will go home feeling glad that you came. Put the wife and kids in the tin "Lizzie" and come. The roads are good and it makes no difference how ram-shackled the old Ford is it will no doubt come barking in like a fox hound after a jack rabbit. You may win a premium on it, and if you don't you'll find out who does win one. You may be as ugly as sin, but what difference does that make, you'll be the proud possessor of a prize because of that unenviable gift of nature. Our last word would be to you—COME!

YOUNG PEOPLES' CHRISTIAN FEDERATION

The Young Peoples' Christian Federation will meet at the Methodist church Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The following program will be given:

Devotional exercises led by Bro. Willett.

Round table discussion—"what I mean to the community," led by Sam Ivie.

"By-standers" and "stand-byers" represented by a group of young people.

Song—"Follow the Gleam."

Debate—Resolved: "The boy is of more benefit to the community than the girl." Affirmative—Mattie Russell and Mary Clayton Giddings. Negative—Ernest King and Roy Sloan.

The program will be followed by a lively social hour. All members of the young peoples' organizations of the different churches are urged and all other young people are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Baptist Association Closed

Wilbarger-Foard Baptist Association was in session here from Tuesday until Thursday, inclusive. A very large representation from the various churches in the association is reported to have been present.

A report of the occasion will be left to the reporter of the Baptist church, which will be expected later.

Meeting at Claytonville

A meeting is in progress at Claytonville, E. J. Smith conducting same. The meeting started Thursday night of last week and will continue over Sunday. Up to yesterday there had been seven conversions and one restoration.

Mrs. J. T. Carter and two sons, J. T. Jr., and George McKinney, left last Saturday for Ft. Worth where they will make their future home. They made the trip in a car. Mr. Carter meeting them in Wichita Falls. Mr. Carter has been in Fort Worth for several months and is in the employ of Washer Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Return from Great Trip

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Henry returned Monday from their great trip through the West and into Canada and Alaska.

It was very fine and they have much of interest to relate. While it was very interesting to visit Alaska, Mr. Henry thinks they saw no scenery more sublime than that which is to be seen in Yellowstone National Park.

The return trip embraced considerable travel over Canada, and he thinks if there is any difference in the beauty of the Rockies in the United States and Canada, the latter country has the advantage over us.

The trip was one of great pleasure and profit to Mr. and Mrs. Henry and their friends are pleased that they took advantage of the opportunity of making it.

Postmasters and Carriers from 4 Counties to Meet

Postmasters and Rural Letter Carriers from four counties will meet in Munday on Monday, Sept. 3—Labor Day—for the perfection of an organization of these workers in the counties of Baylor, Wilbarger, Foard and Knox. The call for the meeting has been issued at the suggestion of Postmaster General Harry S. New by Leo Spencer, postmaster at Crowell, J. H. Atterbury, postmaster at Benjamin and John Reneau, postmaster at this place.

The Rural Letter Carriers of these counties already have an organization and will meet here for the purpose of discussing their problems and methods of improving the service, while the postmasters have not as yet organized and this meeting will be held in conjunction with the Rural Letter Carriers in order that the postmasters may become organized and discuss problems that are of vital interest to the welfare of the postoffice department.

Postmaster Reneau in discussing the meeting states that there are more than twenty-five postmasters in the four counties and almost one hundred carriers and it is expected that a good attendance will be had at this meeting, as many postmasters have expressed an interest in the organization and the carriers are to be here in large numbers.

It is likely that some arrangement will be made for the entertainment of the visitors while here by the Chamber of Commerce or the business men individually, and we trust that the business people of Munday will see to it that the visitors are well cared for in the way of entertainment while in the city.—Munday Times.

Some Fine Maize

When fellows say there is no good maize in Foard County they do not know what they are talking about. There are many fields of real good maize and feterita. There are some sorry ones, as is true every year.

Fred Rennels has on display some maize grown by Edwin Birdsong of the Good Creek community which he estimates at nearly a ton to the acre. He has already gathered most of it and the yield already ascertained justifies the estimate. This maize was planted every other row, that is just half the thickness of the usual crop.

He also has a fine crop of cotton, the entire crop consists of 60 acres and he says it now promises more than a fourth of a bale to the acre.

C. E. Dunn, also of the Good Creek country, has 80 acres of cotton estimated to make 25 bales. The cotton in both these instances was blown out early in June and had to be planted over, and is therefore very late. Mr. Dunn also can show some feterita about as good as one ordinarily sees, but it is thin on the ground, which fact will add to its yield.

Undergoes Operation

Hartley Easley underwent an operation for appendicitis last Friday and is reported to have stood the operation well and is improving.

Earl Teel came in Monday from Fort Worth. His wife and small son will come later. Mr. Teel is in the chicken business with his grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Teel, but was forced to be away for several months on account of ill health.

BOY DISAPPEARS FROM HOME AND NOT HEARD FROM

John Foster, 17-year-old son of J. T. Foster, who resides on the Ben Smith farm operated by Len Johnson, disappeared from the home of his father Sunday, August 19th, and has not been heard from since.

Mr. Foster was in Crowell Tuesday and conveyed this information to the News. According to Mr. Foster, the young man was a good hand to work on the farm and had never appeared to be dissatisfied with farm life. He says, however, that he and another boy in the community where Mr. Foster lives, had at one time said something about going to Collin County to pick cotton, that matter seems to have been given little consideration, and the other boy did not go away. Young Foster had no money that the father knew anything about.

Little or no trace is to be had of the boy's whereabouts. The family came from Bowie County, Texas, to this county last December.

M. O'Connell's Sister-in-Law Killed in Fort Worth by Interurban

About 9 o'clock Wednesday night M. O'Connell received a message saying that his sister-in-law, Mrs. O'Connell, had just been run over by an interurban car and killed in Fort Worth.

Mrs. O'Connell was a widow lady and had a family of five children. Her husband died a few years ago. She resided in New Mexico and at the time of her death she was visiting in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connell left immediately after they received the message and took the Fort Worth & Denver train at Quanah.

Roads Oppose New West Texas Line

Washington, Aug. 27.—The Interstate Commerce Commission Saturday granted leave to the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway Company to intervene in the matter of the finance application of the promoters of the Texas Panhandle & Gulf Railway for permission to construct a line from Tucumcari, N. M., to Seymour, Texas, a distance of 303 miles, and from Perrin, Jack County, to Fort Worth, a distance of fifty-seven miles. The connecting link is to be made through purchase of the Gulf Texas and Western.

A protest against granting the authority has been filed by the Fort Worth & Denver and the Wichita Valley, which are intervenors in the application. The petition shows that the territory to be served by the new line is now served by them, and that if the proposed line is constructed it would affect the traffic and business generally of the two protesting lines. Dallas has indicated an interest in the new route and probably will be represented at the hearing to be held the latter part of September or the first of October. Fort Worth business interests will appear before the commission in support of the construction which will give it another direct route through West Texas and to rail connections in New Mexico.

In New Mexico

R. W. Bell writes the News from Glorieta, N. M., and wants the paper sent to him at that place. He says they are in the hills and like it very well. He says it rains there every day. There is some humor in the statement that they claim they have good crops but he has never seen them.

"Fine climate," says R. W., "sleep under two quilts, but it is a little warm in the middle of the day. Think I will stay another month or two but sure coming back to Foard if I live."

Meeting Closed at Black

Rev. Chas. Marts closed a revival meeting at Black Monday night with nine additions to the church.

This is the second splendid revival Bro. Marts has conducted in his charge since coming on the work.

Yes You Can Reduce Table Costs

It's nearly all in the merchant who sells you your foodstuffs. If he buys judiciously himself he is able to sell you without charging exorbitant prices. Buying for our string of stores enables us to do this. We also sell at a close margin of profit, and therefore make it to the advantage of our customers to buy from us, because we are in position to help reduce materially your table costs.

We do not that, however, at the sacrifice of quality, because that can not be done and effect a saving to the customer, for cheap quality in groceries makes them the dearest in the long run.

You Can Save Repair Bills by Keeping Your Car in Condition

The trouble with most people is that they allow small defects to run too long before hunting the repair man. Thus little defects become big ones, and repair bills are proportionately large.

If you will bring your car to us as soon as it begins to "act up" we will materially reduce your cost of maintenance.

O. K., You Bet!

Do not listen to people who are always predicting that this country is going straight to the "demnition bow-wows," wherever that may be.

Some minds run in narrow grooves and are never able to climb out. They are fixed upon ultimate failure, and nothing but failure will satisfy them. The owners of such minds work their tongues instead of their brains.

As a matter of fact, it is doubtful if this country was ever on a more solid and substantial basis than it is today. Not through any aid extended by the prophets of evil, but simply because the great mass of the people continue to work and forge ahead while other countries bicker and lag behind.

We do not know where the "demnition bow-wows" are, and we never expect to find them.

Greater Than All

Co-operation is the life of a town. Antagonism is its death.

It is well for us to keep these facts in mind when we consider the affairs of this town.

We all want community life. None of us want stagnation and death.

Of course we do not all think the same, and it is well that it is so. Diversity of thought and expression bring out the best and the worst of every question that we have to consider.

The advocates of all sides having placed their views before the public, it then becomes the province of the people to judge as to which will conform most to their interests, and adopt that course.

It is then that co-operation creates, or antagonism destroys.

It is then that we show up as loyal and progressive citizens, or as mere trouble makers.

Co-operation is greater than all of the seven wonders of the world.

Babies make a lot of noise, and some of them keep right on at it until they grow up and die.

Rambling Thoughts Gathered in Passing

"We kill our presidents with overwork and allow our vice presidents to do little or nothing," remarks a writer with brains under his hat.

There is food for an encyclopaedia of thought in that statement, lamentably true as it is.

Some day the burdens of the presidency will be divided, and the vice president will become an important cog in the governmental machinery, instead of an ornament under pay.

Perhaps Mr. Coolidge, having tasted of the bitterness of political sweets, will be the executive to advocate this needed reform in our system of governmental control.

Who knows?

When the czar of Russia took a tumble his chief of staff fled with his family to Constantinople.

While there the general busied himself in writing his memoirs, quite in keeping with the dignity of his aristocratic past. His wife, more practical, took in washing while their two daughters hired out as cooks.

Now they have applied for entry into the United States.

But this would be a bad place for the general, quite distressing, you know. Men work here, while the women take life more easily when there is any ease to be had.

France is willing to reduce the amount of reparations Germany is to pay her, provided we cancel an equal amount of the war debt France owes us.

Very interesting—quite generous indeed.

We, didn't start the war, and over on the other side they say we didn't stop it.

And since we didn't start it, and didn't stop it, and owe no debts for others to cancel, they propose that we step up nobly and hold the bag.

And it's a fine large bag, too, with a hole at each end.

Somebody has been saying nice things about you, and they believe what they said.

It isn't necessary for you to know just what their good opinion is. It is sufficient that you simply live up to it.

And not knowing what they said the only way in which you can be sure of deserving their good words is to climb higher and forget to slip back.

President Coolidge seems obsessed with the idea that the operators and the miners should adjust their differences, that the coal mines should be worked, and that the public should be able to buy coal this winter.

Strange, indeed!
What right has the public, or even a president, to interfere with the periodical scrap of the miners and the coal barons?

The public is only the public. Let 'em freeze!

In Detroit two small boys poured oil over another boy and then applied a lighted match.

The spectacle was all that the two expected—more than the one desired. Small minds run in queer channels.

Attend Family Reunion

D. W. Pyle and wife of this place and their son, R. L. Pyle, and wife of Vernon attended the Pyle annual reunion at Abilene last week, the reunion convening on Monday and closing Wednesday.

The Pyle family reunion became a great affair and for many years was held annually without a break, but finally there was a period of 14 years during which no reunion was held, but for the last several years it has been kept up.

There were members of the Pyle family at the reunion at Abilene from a distance as far as 550 miles away. The members of the family are scattered over Texas, Oklahoma and several of the Southern States. There were 53 present on this occasion.

It has not yet been decided where the next reunion will be held, said Mr. Pyle, but officers were elected for the next year. A report of the election was given in the Abilene Daily Reporter as follows:

Officers for the Pyle reunion for the ensuing year were chosen at a short business session held Tuesday morning. The meeting was attended by all members of the family attending the family reunion that is being held at Smith Hall at Simmons college.

The officers chosen were: Dr. J. M. Pyle of Mineral Wells, president; Mrs. W. D. Scudder of McAlister, Okla., secretary; and Mrs. Dora Killian, secretary of the committee on arrangements for the next reunion.

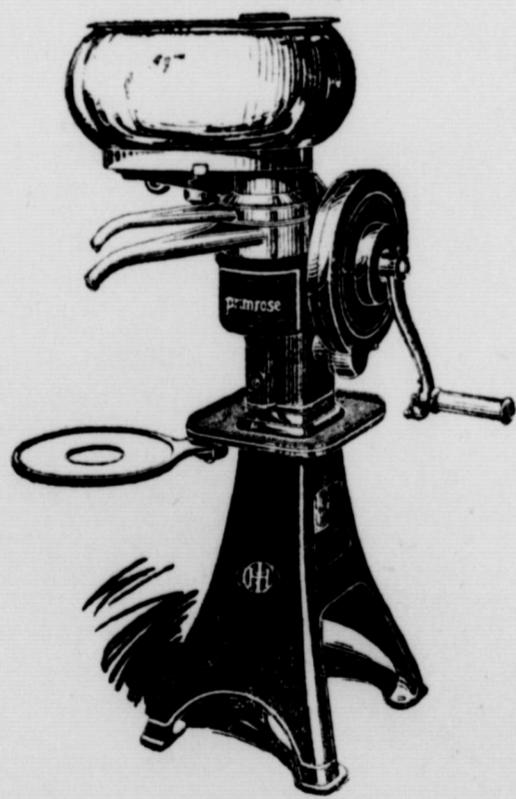

A banquet was served to the members of the family at noon on Tuesday, with Dr. J. N. Pyle acting as

McCormick-Deering Primrose Cream Separator

Users of cream separators appreciate the new supply can on the McCormick-Deering Primrose Cream Separator. It is made of one piece of steel—strong and seamless—easy to wash. It is anti-splash—you can fill it without splashing milk over the top. The supply can is reinforced around the bottom to prevent injury if dropped.

It is shaped to drain toward the faucet, which is inside the can and protected from damage. The Primrose faucet has two openings, insuring a steady flow of milk to the regulating cover. The faucet plug has a stop pin which will not allow the operator to turn past the "wide-open" or completely closed point.

These are just a few of the features of the Primrose. Come in and let us tell you the complete story. Primrose Cream Separators have the qualities you want—clean skimming, light running, and long life.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.) 13

God made the heavens, the earth and the fulness thereof. And we know some people who are selfish enough to think He should give it all to them.

If some people would confine themselves to what they know they would soon cease talking.

The fellow who loafs on the job will ultimately find time to do nothing else.

When the farmers learn that their business is one to be conducted by themselves the day of their salvation will have dawned. That means that they must at least have something to do with solving their marketing and buying problems.

Astronomers tell us that on September 10th about 2 o'clock p. m., we shall have an eclipse of the sun, visible in this part of the country. Also they say that it will be more than a thousand years until we shall see another like this one. Better not take chances on seeing the other one.

President Coolidge once said: "America has always preferred to take her great men from the soil. Rarely has she bestowed her choice on those nourished where city pavements separate them from the mother of us all." Which statement is a great truth supported by history.

A few of our people are undertaking to put on a county fair, which is to come October 2 and 3. They will need the support and backing of all Foard County citizens, and with it they can not make a failure. A county fair should be a permanent proposition. Let Foard County people get behind those who are assuming the responsibility and the job can be made comparatively easy.

According to the annual report of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, boll weevil have cost the South one and a half billion dollars during the last five years. We do not believe they are worth what they have cost, although a certain town in Alabama has erected a monument to the boll weevil's memory and have quit raising cotton and gone to raising the things that supply home needs.

"Too much regulation results in too many laws," says the Governor of California and he had made a fight for tax reduction and the cutting of law-making to a minimum. When one stops to think about it, it does look foolish always to be passing laws. Why not devote some time to correcting what have already been passed? Perhaps some of our legislators think they must pass laws in order to gain favor with their constituents.

West Texas is one of the greatest countries on earth. Many have known that for years, but some of us have not learned it. Take it over a period of fifteen years and it measures up as well as any country. Our total crop failures come seldom, when they do come it is on account of continued dry weather, but these, it seems, are more seldom than failures in other countries because of too much wet weather. The promise is now that we shall have a bumper crop in this country. Great is West Texas.

Klansmen are reported to have made a raid on an editor in Mexico City but the editor seems to have been handy with a six shooter and saved himself from harm, but laid out one of robed figures. Those klansmen must have been trained in the same school as were those who tried to take matters in hand in a Pennsylvania city when they went so far as to try to direct traffic, thus assuming the duties of the regular city officers. The result was a clash and a knockout. Still, there are those who uphold such mobs as Americans.

Foard County has no hard-surface roads and until traffic has been greatly increased we shall not need them. Our dirt is firm and roads are easily constructed and comparatively inexpensive to maintain. When our highways are dragged after a rain they are almost like paved roads and are holding up well under the increasing traffic of today. Besides, the road beds are becoming more solid. It is not unlikely that when we need roads with harder surface to stand traffic gravel will be the solution.

Mr. Neff's declaration that he is not a member of the klan might have been fruitful of better results had it come earlier, but it might have lessened his chances of election to the Governorship if he had been outspoken during the State campaign. Looked at from the standpoint of reason, if it was right to remain silent then, why would it not be right to remain silent now? If that was an unimportant matter then, what has made it important enough to speak on definitely now? The announcement of his position on the matter, important or unimportant, will not receive the hearty applause of order loving citizens, as it would have done a little less than a year ago.

END OF THE GASOLINE WAR

The gasoline war among the oil companies appears to be nearing its end. In some communities it seems, indeed, to have terminated. The casualties have not been heavy. Profits have been lost, but no corporation lives, and the lost profits, one may suspect, will be retrieved by the time the year's balance sheets shall come to be made up. Altogether, the outcome promises to be just about such as the motorists could have wished. They have had a season of cheap gasoline, or gasoline at lower prices in many instances than the cost of production. And that boon lasted probably to the extreme limit of desirability. It could not have lasted much longer without putting some of the companies out of business, and so creating something like a monopoly. And a monopoly would have extorted a heavy price for the boon that has been enjoyed.

Competition such as has obtained among the oil companies for the last month or so is not a good thing for the public, albeit it used to be the notion of our antitrust laws that the fiercer the competition the better. Now the antitrust laws have learned that such competition, or rather such warfare, is in reality causative eventually of the very condition which they were meant to prevent. So now the laws make fair competition, rather than unrestricted competition, their ideal. It may not be easy to give a water-tight definition of fair competition, but when a commodity is persistently sold at less than the cost of production there is reason at least to suspect that the competition is not fair, and that it is designed to create a monopoly.—Dallas News.

"INTERNATIONAL BANKER" A MYTH

Otto H. Kahn Refutes Idea That Foreign Finance Activities Dull Allegiance to America.

BANKING REFLECTS BUSINESS

"International Farmer" and Other Business Men Who Sell to Foreign Markets Create Demand for International Financial Service.

The idea that bankers engaged in financing foreign trade and in handling foreign bond flotations are a particular cult of "international bankers" actuated by motives differing from those of other bankers was refuted recently by Otto H. Kahn of New York, in an address before the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

"There is no such thing as an 'International Banker' in America, as the meaning of the term is generally understood," Mr. Kahn said. "He exists in the imagination of people all too numerous, but he does not exist in the flesh. You might just as well speak of the 'International Farmer' because the farmer sells a certain percentage of his crops to Europe, or of the 'International Manufacturer.'"

"The banker maintains, and can maintain, international contact, and conduct international business, only to the extent that American industry, commerce and agriculture are international. True, the banker must take within his purview continuously the conditions of affairs and the current of things throughout the world, but so must the exporter and importer, and so must the farmer take into account the prices and tendencies of the world market in Liverpool.

Banking Mostly Home Business
"The American banker's market is the home market. His success is conditioned upon the capacity and willingness of the American investor to absorb the securities which he offers. His very existence depends upon the confidence and co-operation of the public and of his fellow-bankers—and any banker whose activities would justly create the impression that he was actuated by cosmopolitan rather than by American interests would very soon lose that confidence and following.

"The business which he does for his own account in, with, or for Europe, is inconsiderable as compared to the business he does in America. His principal functions in relation to Europe are to provide the requisite banking facilities for export and import and for travelers. That part of his functions which consists in financing loans of foreign governments or industries has hitherto been, with sporadic exceptions, of relatively inconsiderable proportions as compared to the vastness of the volume of his transactions in financing American industry, commerce and enterprise.

Necessity for Foreign Credits
"In saying this, I do not mean to imply that there is anything that calls for apology in the floating of foreign loans in America and in the loaning of American funds to Europe, provided such loans are considered sound as to security and are made for legitimate, constructive purposes. Indeed, such loans ought to, and I believe will, be made in increasing measure, when conditions in Europe will have become such as to warrant it.

"It is manifest that the promotion of our export trade, including, of course, the export of farm products, requires us, under the circumstances as they now are and are likely to remain for some time, to aid the purchasing power of other nations by extending to them financial facilities to a reasonable extent.

"It is the function of the banker to be instrumental in carrying out such transactions. In doing so, he is the means of serving a useful national purpose, just as he served a useful, indeed a highly important national purpose, in being the means of attracting and bringing European capital to America in former years when conditions were reversed and such capital was nothing less than vital to the development of this country and the realization of its opportunities."

MILLINERY RESPONDS TO EVERY TYPE AND MOOD

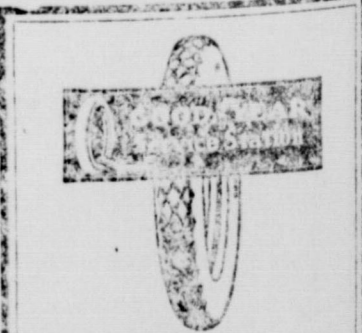

TO EVERY type and mood millinery responds most graciously this season. There are no arbitrary rules. Becomingness is the watchword. When one comes to think of it one's hat is wonderfully expressive of its wearer. Our coats and dresses we take as a matter of fact bought from the standpoint of serving the season through, but when it comes to hats, they answer to the caprice of the moment.
In the collection of fashionable bonnetry pictured herewith, a wide range of ideas is presented. The lace draped model is of oriental influence. There is no lessening of interest in lace, rather is it that lace appears in a more impressive way. Tiny straw hats now bear long lace scarfs attached with a pin or a cord of lace edging. Another charming item is rocco ribbon, which is a very narrow sort in rainbow colorings. It is this dainty ribbon which is stirred and twirled into curls on the close-fitting bonnet to the left, until the entire shape looks as if it were made of crinkled silk.
Oriental colorings are everywhere present in millinery and especially are they featured in printed silks such as are used to drape across the front of the helmet-shaped hat to the right, which is topped with genuine haircloth.
A tiara trim with Egyptian motif is carried out with a fancy silk straw braid in the model to the left.
The little hat with rolled rim is covered with maize colored chenille cloth and great golden yellow plums with deep green foliage.

Tricks.
A horse stopped by the curb, and a man with a rope got out and crept toward the unsuspecting collie dog which was busy munching a large bone he had found on his morning ramble. Just a few more steps and he would have the dog caught, when a small boy, like a young cyclone, swept by him shouting and waving his hands. In less than a minute the dog, ever alert to any excitement, was disappearing around the corner.
"Heah, you young rascal, don't you try any of yoah tricks on me!" angrily shouted the dog catcher.
"Tricks?" grinned the small boy. "I ain't playing any tricks on you. I am only running to school 'cause I am late."

The Christian and His Diseases

Substance of Sunday Morning's Sermon Delivered by Rev. P. R. Huckleberry of the Christian Church Near the Close of a Two-Weeks' Revival

Text—"For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep."

Christians are those persons who believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and who have accepted Him as their Lord and Savior. They have been born again, born of the water and the Spirit. They are new creatures, saints, peculiar people, zealous of good works; Spirit-led and Spirit-filled men and women. Going to church makes no one a Christian, but Christians go to church at every opportunity. Hebrews 10:25.

Christians are saints, and saints are Christians. If you are not a saint while living, there is nothing in death to make you a saint. Only saints will go to Heaven. Christians are only found where the Gospel has been preached and obeyed, and nowhere else. Romans 1:16. The Gospel is the seed of the Kingdom of God, and Christians are the fruit of the seed sowing. Christians are "The Light of the World," and if their lights are not burning brightly, something is wrong. Some of our lights are very dim lights. Some are like tallow dips, and need snuffing! Some are under a bushel, and some are dirty, coal-oil lamp Christians, and need cleaning and filling with the oil of life, (Word and Spirit.) Jesus says: Let your light, etc.

Christians are the "Salt of the Earth," and if their influence does not make the world better, there is something wrong again. As the salt preserves and saves, so Christians must save those with whom they come in contact, else they will be in danger of being spoiled by their association. If the salt does not save the meat, both meat and salt are thrown out together.

Many Christians are "weak and sickly" and need "treatment" and the treatment must be suited to the particular disease with which the patient is afflicted. An Irishman's wife was ill, and when Pat was asked if she was dangerous, he answered: Faith, no, she's too weak! Many Christians are too weak to be dangerous to the powers, Sin and Ungodliness. "For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep." Sleep in sickness, "many sleep," and "Tsetse" fly has inoculated them, and they will sleep and sleep, until they sleep the sleep of eternal death. They need to hear the voice of the Holy Spirit, when He says, "That it is now high time to awake out of sleep," and, "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

Some Christians have malaria, or the bad air disease. They catch this disease from keeping bad company, and living in a poisonous social atmosphere, such as bridge parties, dances, progressive euchre, and kindred ailments. This is where the "Culex Anapholes," of sin injects the "plassodium-malaria" into the religious circulation of their "Christian activities" and they have a very dangerous case of "chills and fever" known as indifference, neglect and disobedience. These Christians need a full dose of reproof, correction and instruction in righteousness.

Morbus Sabbaticus" is a very popular and common complaint these days. Sunday Sickness! According to the Presbyterian Journal, "the attack comes on very suddenly every Sunday morning; the patient sleeps well Saturday night, and wakes Sunday morning feeling quite well; eats a hearty breakfast, but about church time the attack comes on suddenly, and continues until the morning service is over. Then the patient feels better, eats a hearty dinner, takes a walk, talks politics, and reads the Sunday papers; he eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack, and stays at home. He retires early, sleeps well, and wakes up Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work, and does not have another attack until the next Sunday. The peculiar features of this disease are as follows: First, it always attacks members of the church. Second, it never makes its appearance except on Sundays. Third, the symptoms vary, but it never interferes with the sleep or appetite. Fourth, it never lasts more than 24 hours. Fifth, it generally attacks the head of the family, and is very contagious, especially to boys. Sixth, no physician is ever called. Seventh, the disease is becoming fearfully and alarmingly prevalent.

A Saturday night dose of Bible reading and study of the Bible school lesson will usually cure this disease.

Supersoundness is sometimes found in West Texas. This is a sort of elephantiasis of the soul. Some people are so sound they are like a bass drum—all sound. They consign everybody to hell that has a progressive thought, or finds a new Bible truth. There is no peace or Christian advancement where they abound. They suspect everybody of heresy, or unsoundness, and are like the Scotchman who said there were only two men in the world that were sound, himself and his brother, Sandy; and he sometimes had his "doots about Sandy."

One of the most distressing diseases is "Congestion of the Wallet." The work of the church has been retarded in all ages by this persistent malady. Some Christians give of their means liberally and enjoy it, while others give out of their stinginess with great distress. Heart failure is the invariable sign and accompaniment of this disease. Jesse Brown Pounds once said, "We have men in our church who are willing to stake their lives on the correctness of our position as to the mode, subject and design of baptism, but when it comes to the collection they are only willing to stake a nickel on it."

The "She-did-it" is the first disease described in the Bible when God asked Adam about his conduct, he replied, "She did it," the woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat." And then the Lord asked Eve, and she caught the same disease and said, "The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat." Yes, the Devil did it! We are always ready to blame everybody except ourselves. "Before you mark another's sin, bid thine own conscience look within!" Thou hypocrite! First cast out the beam that is in thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye."

One disease, said to afflict women more than men, although I rather doubt it, is "palpitation of the mouth," or "chronic verbal eruption," an eczema or breaking out at the mouth. Luther Benson who wrote "Fifteen Years in Hell," told of a woman in a small town in Illinois who went from house to house, from morn till night, with blistering tales of blight, and would go to church on Sunday and sit up and sing, "O For a Thousand Tongues!" Benson exclaims, "what would the state of Illinois have done if she had had a thousand tongues like the one she had!"

There are many other diseases of Christians which we will not mention this morning, but we hope you may see the necessity of living a life of holiness and godliness, and be willing to give both of your time and means, to the end the Kingdom of God may be enlarged, the world may be evangelized, and every one may have the privilege of hearing and obeying the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Financing Our Schools

Four years ago the State Board of Education made a per capita apportionment of State school funds for the succeeding school year of $8.50; three years ago the apportionment was $14.50; two years ago the apportionment was $13; last year it was $13 and this year $12. Three years ago the Legislature was convened in extra session by Gov. Hobby and an appropriation of four million dollars was made out of the general revenue fund of the State to supplement the available school fund. This extra appropriation made possible the jump from $8.50 to $14.50. Since that time appropriations have been made to supplement the available school fund each year and in order that the apportionment might not fall below $13 the recent session of the Legislature transferred from the general fund to the available fund three million dollars for the last scholastic year; two million for the ensuing year and two million for the next year. In order to do this it was necessary to put the State on a deficiency basis amounting to several million dollars for two years. When the State Board of Education met a few days ago to make the apportionment for the ensuing year and after setting aside $1,500,000 for the purchase of free text books, it was agreed that the scholastic apportionment should be only $12. This caused Superintendent Marrs to say that "the situation looks unusually bad and the public schools of the State will be able to operate for only about four months during the coming year."

The problem of financing our public schools is attracting the best thought of the State's public spirited men and women. Some are contending that the State should largely finance the schools from public funds gathered through a system of State taxation, while others contend that local districts should bear the larger proportion of the expense. In order that an intelligent solution of the problem might be suggested to a future session of the Legislature, the recent session of the Legislature provided for an educational survey of the State, which report, it is hoped, will be ready for the 1925 session of the Legislature and out of which legislation may result in a more equitable and adequate system of financing our public schools, as well as the higher institutions of learning. Public educators and other interested citizens of the State were in a conference in Waco this week looking toward a solution of these matters.

The present plan of financing the public schools is more or less unequal in its burden bearing, more particularly as to that portion provided by an ad valorem property tax. The State maximum ad valorem tax for public school support is 35 cents on the $100 valuation of taxable property. In addition to this the Legislature, during the past few years, appropriates out of the general revenue fund for public school purposes, including rural aid, an average equal to a 20 cent ad valorem tax, a total of 55 cents ad valorem tax, or a total of about fourteen million dollars annually. This fund is equally apportioned among the scholastics of the State. The inequality of this tax burden is in the large discrepancy in tax valuations. Some counties, according to the records, render their property for State tax purposes at an average of twenty per cent of a fair valuation, while others run as high as forty to fifty per cent. This inequality of tax values and State tax burdens can only be remedied through some central State power. An effort was made by the recent session of the Legislature to provide such a plan, but failed.

Not only is there inequality in the plan of providing the State's part of the public school fund, there is too much uncertainty as to the amount the Legislature may provide and too much politics mixed up in the appropriations. It causes a division between the public school forces and the higher institutions of learning, both groups depending upon the Legislature for appropriations out of the general revenues. For the public schools there should be an equalization of tax values and a sufficient ad valorem fixed as to provide ample funds as the State's portion in the support of the public schools.

Another interesting thing in connection with the financing of the public schools is the variance in local community interest. According to the Records of the Department of Education at Austin, we find some counties providing a local tax equal to three, four and five dollars per capita, while others provide from thirty to fifty dollars. Carson County shows a local tax of $53.82. Of course much of this variance is due to discrepancies in scholastics, but is largely due to the fact that local communities find it less burdensome to get their school funds from the State.

The Herald believes that our public schools should receive first consideration in the State's plan of public education and if there is to be any neglecting of either group, let it be the higher institutions, but there is no need for either group to be neglected if the burden is properly and intelligently distributed. So it behooves every citizen of Texas interested in the welfare of our schools to give earnest consideration and support to those who are endeavoring to work out a plan that will give Texas a school system second to none.—Panhandle Herald.

and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, ... when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."

That plaintiff has title under and by virtue of Five Year Statute of Limitations by virtue of a deed registered, and has had peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of the above described tract of land, cultivating and enjoying the same, and paying all taxes due thereon, for a period of more than five years prior to the filing of this petition.

Plaintiff further represents to the Court that he has title to the above described tract or parcel of land by virtue of the Ten Year Statute of Limitations by virtue of he having had and held peaceable the above described land and premises and had had adverse possession of same, cultivating and enjoying the same for a period of more than ten years prior to the filing of this suit.

Plaintiff further represents to the Court that on or about the first day of January, A. D. 1923, the defendants entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from plaintiff the possession thereof, to his damage in the sum of five thousand dollars.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the Court that the defendants, their heirs and representatives be cited to appear by publication as made and provided for by law, to appear and answer this petition and that upon final hearing hereof he have judgment for the title and possession of said land and premises, and that a writ of restitution issue for damages and for cost of suit, and for such other and further relief special and general in law and equity to which he may be justly entitled.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Foard County—Greeting:

Pitcher Plants.

The pitcher plants are for the most part found in bogs. The leaves of all of these, while varying in details of structure, are pitcherlike in shape and modified for the purpose of alluring, catching and digesting crawling or flying insects and a few other animals.

Insects, spiders, and the like, are attracted to these plants partly by the brilliant colors of their pitchers and partly by the nectar drops exuded by the honey glands. They move to the lid where the secretion along the outer margin is abundant. From here they step upon the inner surface of the lid and sip the honey on the conducting surface. Upon reaching this surface they waver and slip off and fall into the water detentive region. They find exit impossible on account of the downward projecting hairs. They drown in the water and their bodies are digested by a juice secreted by the glands lining the lower portion of the pitcher cavity.

Running insects such as cockroaches and ants are the principal prey of pitcher plants, but flies and wasps are also caught. A drowned rat was found in one specimen of Nepenthes.—Exchange.

THE BEST BOOK

THE soft-toned clock on the library mantle struck twelve, and the little boy chasing a butterfly, and who lived in a frame, was just stepping out of it to run on the broad shelf below, when he stopped.

Someone was talking. It was the magic hour, but Little Boy had always been the only one who took advantage of it. He looked about the room—no one was in sight. He must have been mistaken.

But no, there it was again! "I tell you I am the best book to read," said a voice. Little Boy looked at the books in the case that reached around the sides of the room. Yes, it was the books. They were quarrelling.

"I have a much handsomer binding than you. I am quite new, so of course I shall be the most popular."

"You can never tell the worth of a book by binding," said an old book.

"I Am 'Alice in Wonderland.'" with a worn cover as it slid out of the case a little way to be better heard. "I am the book that is best loved. I am sure of that."

"Oh, just hear that old book," said a bright new one leaning far out of the case. "Why, my dear old book, you are as old-fashioned as the hills. I have a story that makes people sit up all night to read."

"Yes, and as false as is your imitation leather binding," said a real leather-covered book. "You are fiction. Not a word of truth in you. Don't brag."

"I have facts, real true things from which people can gain knowledge when they read. I am the most popular book here, I am sure you will all agree."

"Goodness, hear it talk," said a shrill voice and another book leaned out so far it tumbled on the floor.

"Ha, ha," laughed the other book, "you are where you belong on the floor. You are full of wise sayings, but so old no one ever looks at them these days. Every one knows them."

Out from the case leaned a red book. "You seem to forget that people wish to be amused," it said, "and when they open my cover they begin to laugh. I am full of funny sayings and jokes, so you all can stop your quarrelling, for I am the most popular book here."

Little Boy stood listening. He was afraid the books would all tumble out, they were so excited, when out from a book jumped a little girl and, bowing to all the books, she said, "I am ashamed of you! The idea of quarrelling about which is the most popular!"

"Don't you know that there are all sorts of people in the world and that they all like different books? If they didn't, there would be only one book and then where would you be, for you must know that grown-ups and children all love to read about me."

"It is Alice," said the clock in a soft voice to Little Boy.

Little Boy had never had a playmate; he began to smile. "Alice," he said, "do come and play with me. Perhaps we can catch the butterfly."

Alice turned around. "Oh, I can't," she replied. "Don't you know who I am? I have to be in the story or there wouldn't be any. I am 'Alice in Wonderland.' Did you never hear the story?"

"No; tell it to me," said Little Boy. "I will have to go back into the book," said Alice, "but if every one will be quiet I will tell the story."

And all the books in the big case, knowing Alice told the truth, slid back into their places. The clock ticked very softly while she told Little Boy her wonderful experiences.

And every night after that at the magic hour Little Boy left his frame on the wall to listen to the story of "Alice in Wonderland," for, just like all folks, big or little, he is never tired of hearing it.

SWAGGER SUITS TAILORED IN CLASSIC PERFECTION

WHILE the general character of suits this season is ornate and of varied novelty, the classic tailleur has lost none of its prestige among a patriotic clientele. The Paris couturiers are turning out many suits of the youthful type, mostly in black and navy and the new peccan shade. The skirts are fairly short, and the jackets are often decidedly so. These are finished with odd little pockets and rows of self-colored buttons, or with braid bindings around the edge. Almost without exception one sees the popular fox scarf as an accessory.

For suits similar to the one shown in the illustration pattern (will) is the preferred material. A welcome note in this elegant model is the bell sleeve, for in summer time a tight cuff precludes the practicability of wearing it over a crushable lingerie blouse. The lapover skirt is another feature worthy of mention, as shown in this suit, for it is a very pleasing style.

A distinctive model which departs from the usual is a youthful short coat-suit developed of navy poplin, with bias pipings of white pique.

Noted among the most fashionable suits are models of pique with all-over-embroidered, side-fastened jackets or box-coats. The demand for the side-tie coats is insistent, and very charming they are.

In the severely classic tailleur's notched collars, linked fronts and narrow straight skirts are correct.

Among the newer modes pin-checked tweeds in both regulation and side-tie jacket styles are favored.

D. 1923, the same being the 24th day of September, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 27th day of August, A. D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1169, wherein Furd Halsell is plaintiff, and George House, Etta V. Grainger and J. P. Plaintiff further represents to the court that on or about the first day of January, A. D. 1923, the defendants entered upon said premises, and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from plaintiff the possession thereof to his damage in the sum of five thousand dollars.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the Court that the defendants be cited to appear by publication as made and provided for by law, to appear and answer this petition and that upon final hearing hereof he have judgment for the title and possession of said land and premises, and that a writ of restitution issue for damages and for cost of suit, and for such other and further relief special and general in law and equity to which he may be justly entitled.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

The seven-year itch has struck the Hog Creek neighborhood again, and old Doc Dewberry says that it is an epidemic, and that the quickest way to cure it is to let it run its course.
