Four-Door Sedan

Fully equipped, $665, f. o. b. Detroit

Inside and out, the new Ford Four-door Sedan shows improvements of far more than usual importance. It is lower and sturdier in appearance. New cowl, hood, radiator and apron add size and finish to the front. Sun visor, and wide, well-finished aluminum doors with bar handles perfect the design of the body. Silk window curtains, deep broad-cloth upholstery; dome light, door lock, window regulators and handles, all finished in nickel, complete a refinement you would expect only at a far higher price.

J. G. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Abston and baby were shopping in Vernon Friday.

Bud Grey and Fred Maine were hauling cotton seed from here to Vernon Monday.

A Mexican got one of his fingers badly crushed here Wednesday. Hugh Thompson took him to Crowell where Dr. Clark dressed it.

John Thompson and wife spent Sunday night in Vernon with their aunt, Mrs. J. F. French.

Bro. T. S. Teddlie of Vernon filled his appointment at the Church of Christ here Friday night, Saturday and Sunday at 11 a. m., 3:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. Owing to the inclemency of the weather there was not as many present as usual.

One of our townsmen, J. A. Abston, received a message Saturday from Oakley, Tenn., telling of the death of his mother, Mrs. Manda Abston. She was 74 years of age. Her children who live in this country are, J. A. Abston of Thalia, W. J. Abston and Mrs. Kennel Edens of Rayland, and Mrs. J. F. French.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Johnson and John Holder and family of Tahoka spent Saturday night with the former's sister, Mrs. J. G. Thompson. They were enroute to Petrolia to attend the funeral of the father of Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Holder, Clayton Holder, who died at the home of his son, Will, near Tahoka. The body was shipped to Petrolia for interment accompanied by Will. The other children went through in a car. Mr. Holder was a pioneer settler of this county, having settled on land on North Beaver Creek in 1885. He moved to this county from Weatherford. He has made his home with his children since his wife's death.

Masquerade Party

The Class No. 9 of the Methodist Sunday School gave a Halloween masquerade party Wednesday evening Oct. 31 at the home of Miss Catherine Clark. The house was beautifully decorated in the Halloween colors.

After partners had been chosen the guests were ushered up-stairs where a witch sitting behind a large pot told the fortunes of each one. Several contests were participated in. Cornelia Beidleman came closest to pinning the head on the witch. Granval Lanier and Esther McCoy guessed the names of several pieces of music. Christine Campbell won the chewing gum contest. After the contests several games were played.

Mary M. Bell and Christine Campbell entertained the guests with music while delicious refreshments were being served. The following were present: Mary M. Bell, Lottie Russell, Helen Hill, Lucile Kimsey, Christine Campbell, Esther McCoy, Bernice Schlaga, Ila Lovelady, Cornelia Beidleman, Hazel Dykes and Catherine Clark; Haskell Norman, Roy Barry, Clifton French, J. H. Lanier, Granval Lanier, Lebert Swain and Bill Elliott.—Contributed.

And now we have the information that Mr. Debs will again run for president. But of course, He isn't dead yet.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medical Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity.—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean ver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No singer.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Our druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.) 13

FOUR MEN FINED IN MOOREHOUSE CASE

Bastrop, La., Nov. 12.—Judge Fred M. Odom Thursday overruled the motion of the defense in the Moorehouse misdemeanor trials that he refuse or disqualify himself. The defense immediately gave notice that it would immediately apply to the Supreme Court for writs of prohibition and certiorari. The defense had charged that the court was biased and prejudiced.

Judge Odom fined Capt. J. K. Skipwith, exalted cyclops of the Morehouse Ku Klux Klan; W. G. McIntosh, Benton Pratt and Marvin Pickett $10 and costs. They were convicted Monday of carrying firearms on the premises of another.

The fine was the limit and the court said that in default of payment the term in jail would be five days. The court said the only reason it did not send them to work on the roads was because it had been shown the raid in the course of which the offense occurred was with the permission of Sheriff Carpenter.

Former Lieut. Governor Davidson Announces for Governor of Texas

In 1922 when I voluntarily declined to stand for reelection to the office of Lieutenant Governor, then held by me, I stated that I would be a candidate for Governor in the Democratic primaries of 1924. Carrying out that declaration of intention, I now formally and finally announce to my friends and to the voters of Texas that I shall definitely be a candidate for Governor in the 1924 primaries, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

My major principles and policies will be: More business in government and less government in business; a reformation of our taxing system by which it will be simplified and equalized; an economic business administration by which the tax rate will be reduced, financial deficit overcome, the state live within its income, and state warrants become worth a hundred cents on the dollar; elimination of useless state bureaus, commissions and offices; financing and betterment of our educational system, and so far as possible extricating it from politics; adequate compensation for teachers, better facilities in rural schools, better buildings and equipment, and a full school term everywhere; complete reorganization of the penitentiary system; the building of a complete system of hard-surfaced highways, and the use, so far as practicable, of the penitentiary system in carrying out a highway building program; fewer laws and better laws, and the absolute enforcement of all laws, including the prohibition laws; such amendments to existing laws as will make equal all the rights of women with men, that they may realize the full fruits of the suffrage which they have been given; conservation of the natural resources of the country by government action; promotion of a plan whereby the farmer and producer may receive substantially the full market price for his product. I believe in the right of labor to organize for its protection by the promotion of efficiency and craft education. I am opposed to the militant strike, and believe every American citizen has the constitutional right to work when and where he will, without interference, let, or hindrance.

The Ku Klux Klan was an issue in the last campaign, and gives evidence of being an issue in this campaign. In October, 1921, while I was Lieutenant Governor of the state, I voiced my views on this question and at the same time my opposition to the Klan. I view the situation now as I did then. I believe in the administration of the law by the constituted authorities and not by any kind of bloc, group, association, clique or clan, however pure its purpose. Every citizen is entitled to his day in court. The creating or fostering of racial, religious or class strife among our people by any individual, group of individuals or organization, or the taking into their own hands the enforcement of law, determination of guilt or infliction of punishment, is a menace to our liberties, destructive of our fundamental law, and inconsistent with the ideals and purposes of the American people. In this connection I heartily endorse the resolutions passed by the American Legion at its San Francisco convention, and by the American Federation of Labor at its Portland convention.

I am not the candidate of any special interest, bloc, group or association, and no man would be worthy of the great office to which I aspire unless prepared to serve all classes of our citizens without fear or favor. If elected, I can and will bring to the administration of the office a broad and versatile business experience and a liberal experience in the affairs of state and government. With that experience, I propose to put Texas on a business basis, and by the same token to substantially lighten the terrific load of taxation with which our people are burdened. I know it is possible to have good government in Texas, and to properly support all of our institutions at a far less cost than now prevails. I know it is possible to put the government of this great commonwealth on a cash basis and overcome the tremendous financial deficits of the past. To sum it up, my candidacy for Governor of Texas is based largely upon economic reforms, education, and the enforcement of the law.

Personally we do not care about seeing old King Tut in his tomb unless we knew just exactly how to act under the circumstances.

France plans complete reconstruction as an achievement by the close of 1926. But it is not likely that her program will include the payment of her war debt to Uncle Sam.

What is the use in trying to be somebody else than one's self. The world is certain to find out who you are sooner or later and you will sell for just about what you are worth.

A sad fact it is that the German people are now reaping the fruits of the folly of their leaders in plunging that country into war, according to reports. Disease, poverty, hunger are among the distressing conditions over there.

An Ohio man has had stolen from his home ten rugs valued at $50,000. We did not know there were rug thieves, and we shall make this item profitable by taking extra precaution hereafter to prevent the stealing of our $13.00 one.

The Dallas News says that since the ex-Crown Prince has gone back to the farm he will try to raise Cain. But we don't think he will succeed, since beans will be one of the essentials and the ex-Crown Prince does not know beans.

In this issue we have a half page ad from the three gins here, insisting on the farmers and cotton pickers picking cotton clean and not permitting green bolls to be gathered. This is not only an annoyance to the gins but means actual loss on the part of the farmers. You will do well to read the ad and put into practice its admonition.

Three candidates have announced for Governor, if we are not mistaken. These are Joe Burkett, lawyer of Eastland, Adjutant General Tom Barton of Amarillo, and Lynch Davidson of Houston. These men represent three different vocations and any one of them, perhaps would make Texas a good governor. Davidson is a business man. Barton has been in military service. Perhaps few have commenced to make choice from among these and will not until they have heard further from them and know more about what they stand for. Texas voters should use judgment in the choice of a man for governor. We wish that mud slinging might be eliminated from the campaign and that a fair deal be given the candidates, as well as the voters, for mud slinging is not fair to either.

When a person dies of course the papers must say something about the deceased. As a rule nothing bad is said. To a certain extent that is justifiable, although justice might demand that the whole truth be told. The paper refrains from telling all the truth and confines itself to a mention of the good qualities, for there is something good about most people. But once in a while a paper will dare to tell the ugly side of a man's life after he has just taken his departure from earth. The Star-Telegram quotes an English publication as having printed these lines about one who had died: "The deceased, indeed, was a most strange man. Although bringing the children into the world, he had a strong antipathy to them being in his house, while their mother naturally championed their remaining, which caused unhappiness. In his business life he was an arrogant, autocratic and quarrelsome man, and a dictator of the worst order. He at any time of his life, had but a few friends, and those he soon lost. His mannerisms were distasteful to the last degree, and his expressions on the sanctity of marriage will be treated with ridicule, for it is known for some years past that he showed his affection to many. He was, in plain words, a hypocrite. It is a recognized saying, 'speak not of the dead,' but what can be said of a man who dies and leaves his fortune to others, and to a loving and faithful wife not a penny to provide for a large family."

Fixed Principle

Some people say there is no such thing as a "fixed principle."

We maintain that the man who "saws wood and says little"—who works with his hands and his head—who spends a little less than he earns—who uses a good bank in every possible way is more likely to prove a success than the man who does not do these things.

We can prove that this is a winning principle at least, if not altogether a fixed principle.

We are anxious to back that sort of men.

GROCERIES

We are still handling only the best groceries it's possible for us to buy at prices just as cheap as as its possible to sell the kind of GROCERIES we handle. We have no third grade or short weight cans or anything but first grade, if it's possible to be had in the market. We make no claim to being the cheapest place to buy GROCERIES, but we will not be under-sold on our QUALITY.

Any time you are offered QUALITY GROCERIES cheaper than we sell the same article, watch your WEIGHT and LABEL for there is a catch somewhere.

Pebbles Picked Up in Passing

Does France owe us, or do we owe France?

Since the government of the United States loaned the French government some billions of dollars with which to prosecute their war with Germany we have been under the natural supposition that France is indebted to us just that amount, plus the interest to date.

But apparently French statesmen entertain different views on the subject.

Now listen to the latest wail from over there—this time from Francois Marsal, former minister of finance of the French republic and intimate friend of President Millerand.

This distinguished French political leader puts it naively, but bluntly and thusly.

The American government loaned France, by opening up credits, nearly three billions of dollars. This money was used by the French in buying food and war supplies from American firms.

The American government, says the distinguished Frenchman, has already gotten back 80 per cent of the amount loaned by levying excess war taxes. This, says Mr. Frenchman, leaves only 20 per cent of the debt to be accounted for. Astute reasoning, eh?

Again, says Mr. Frenchman, they made their allies pay the cost of rail shipments in France with French money, which was very much deflated in value, while France had to pay freight rates from America in good American dollars. That, in the mind of the astute Frenchman, entitles them to another scaling down of the debt.

And still again Mr. Frenchman hand us a chunk of his remarkable reasoning.

When we Americans declared war against Germany, he claims, we were "utterly ignorant of cannons." The French, he asserts, taught us their system of seventy-fives, which they had only evolved after ten years of labor and research. That secret, chirps Mr. Frenchman, is surely worth something. Another slice from the debt.

But that isn't all. Just open your ears and listen to this warble from the financial son of France.

His country was ravaged, he insists, by the allies as well as by the Germans, and 1,500,000 Frenchman gave up their lives. And that, he contends, should still further reduce the debt—if there is any debt left to be reduced.

Food for thought in the above? Not a bit of it. It has all been thought out in advance by this distinguished Frenchman of abnormal brains, carefully prepared for easy and painless consumption by the dull and lethargic American mind. We are not not supposed to think. Our part of the brilliant scheme is to swallow the bait—to swallow it so thoroughly there remains no opportunity for coughing up the hook.

But why stop at swallowing the bait and cancelling the debt? Could we expect the French to be satisfied with so small a slice of pie?

We still have our wealth, and our factories, and our raw materials and our lands and homes.

Why not hand them all over to our dear friends of sunny France—ourselves included?

But even then they would probably howl for more—for has it not been clearly proven that we owe France.

Cotton Manufacture

Rufus Wright of Sweetwater and a committee of West Texans when in New York City recently on other business called on the officials of Converse & Company, who are among the largest dealers in the sale of cotton goods in the world. These people were called on for the purpose of discussing with them the possibility of developing the textile industry in Texas, and particularly West Texas.

While officials of this company are of the opinion that Texas offers wonderful potentialities for textile industrial development they nevertheless will not recommend at this time the putting in of mills in Texas because of the excessively high price of textile machinery. They claim that it will cost $80 a spindle to put in one at this time, whereas most of the mills now operating in the United States have been put in at a cost of $40 per spindle. An adjustment must Having your interest at heart and desiring to give you the best service possible, we feel that your attention should be directed to the class of cotton being brought to us to gin. In your anxiety to save your crop you are pulling, or permitting to be pulled, GREEN BOLLS which cannot be ginned except with a considerable loss to you in grade and to us in time consumed. You are also bringing us WET cotton which is equally hard to gin satisfactorily. Your co-operation in the solution of this problem is earnestly requested. We do not want to refuse to gin your cotton but may be compelled to take such action if greater care on the part of you and your pickers is not taken in gathering of cotton.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Ladies Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church met Thursday, Nov. 8th, for an all-day session to observe the week of prayer. The programme was so arranged by the thoughtful president as to enlighten and educate all those present who were not thoroughly familiar with Bethlehem House of Nashville and the Laurah Haggard School of Soo Chow, China. The study of these two training schools was indeed very interesting. The morning programme touched on the Bethlehem Center, the training school for negroes in Nashville, telling first what they were doing and how important it is that we support this school. The afternoon programme told of the training school in the Orient, known as Laurah Haggard School of Soo Chow. A very successful meeting was closed with a small offering from each individual to help maintain these two schools. The late covered luncheon served was enjoyed by all.—Reporter.

At the Methodist Church

We had a good year last year. Above an average for the last ten years. This was made possible by the faithful cooperation of the entire community. On behalf of the church I want to thank every person and every institution that in any way helped us to do our work. In this connection I would mention especially the banks of Crowell and the Foard County News. The Methodist church wants them to know and every one else to know that we appreciate their kindness and their most splendid services rendered us. May this be a great year of material prosperity for them.

Next Sunday is "Dollar Sunday." Winter is here now and our running expenses are higher than they were through the summer and so our incidental offering must be increased to meet this increased expense. Let every member that comes to church next Sunday bring a dollar for the incidental offering and if you haven't been coming regularly bring more than a dollar. If you can't come send it in by somebody or mail it to the pastor. Get your dollar to church next Sunday. Every member of the church wants to do his part in paying its running expenses.

A message and a welcome at the Methodist church.
T. C. WILLETT, Pastor.

A TALK WITH A CROWELL MAN

Mr. W. B. Wheeler, Machinist, of Crowell Tells His Experience

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We therefore, give here an interview with a Crowell man: "Before I started using Doan's Kidney Pills my kidneys were in bad shape," says Mr. Wheeler. "My back ached most of the time and my kidneys were inflamed and they acted too freely at night. I had to get up two or three times to pass the kidney secretions which were filled with sediment, the color of brick-dust. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and started using them. It took only three boxes of Doan's to cure me." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wheeler had.—Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Baptist Church Notes

Bro. Billington took the noon train Tuesday for Galveston where he will attend the State Convention that began Thursday morning.

Bro. McCrory of Margaret will preach both hours Sunday, and he is a dear lover of music. Let's make him happy with our very best.

Now if you are planning to stay away Sunday because the pastor is not here please give it another thought and see if you are not needed just as much, if not more, in his absence.

The Baptists have made a step or two lately that everybody in town will be glad to hear. We'll tell you later. Watch these notes.

The Woman's Auxiliary is very much awake to all opportunities and our pledge of five hundred on finishing the auditorium of church is about half in hand and the pledge only a week old. Mrs. Campbell is one of the best presidents and co-operation is perfect, not a cross or hitch of any kind, if you follow her leadership.

Come to church Sunday ready to play, sing or anything that will help in real worship.—Reporter.

A FREE GIFT

for You November 30th

Those who are thinking of having pictures made for Christmas please read this and think it over. Photographers as a rule do more business from Nov. 15th to Dec. 25th than all the rest of the year, and for this reason we are expecting somewhat of a rush which will begin soon. In order to take care of the business and give our customers the very best that can be had for the money, and at the same time get a good portion of our work out in this month, so as not to be so badly rushed in next month we are going to make this offer: Anyone having from $5.00 to $8.00 worth of photographs made at the Sink Studio during the month of November we will give absolutely free one nice 8x10 grey unmounted portrait enlargement finished from the same negative. Remember this is good for November only.

VALLEY FARMS ASS'N.

A co-operative organization for re-selling farms and parts of farms where people are overloaded or owing to the financial depression or other reasons, are having to sell. We have a number of bargains which will not last long. For $150.00 to $300.00 per acre we can sell you improved farms that will grow citrus fruit or anything else adapted to this climate. For $50.00 to $200.00 we can sell you land more or less subject to overflow, some of it improved. There is no better land in existence than this land. The above prices are what we might term special. We also have the "dry farming land, prices varying from $20.00 to $50.00 for unimproved, and from $45.00 to $100.00 for improved land. The higher prices usually indicate land closer in and better improved. Now and then a small citrus orchard is included in the improvements. The Citrus Industry is by far the big thing for the Valley. We ginned up to September the 10th, 1923, 80,000 bales of cotton.

Truck consisting of cabbage, onions, lettuce, carrots, spinach, beans, etc., is an important crop. The staple crops are cotton, corn, broom-corn and forage crops. The dry farming section specializes on cotton and onions. In some instances we can give liberal terms. We sell at the owner's price. We always have some trades on hand.

Call on or address the Foard County News, Crowell, Texas, or Walter G. Stewart, secretary, McAllen, Texas.

(We always have some trades both in the Valley and out of the Valley. We are a sort of a "Clearing House.")

Standard Storage Battery

Let Us Prolong Your Battery's Life

Neglect is the greatest foe your battery has. Unless it receives the proper attention at frequent intervals, your battery will not stand up half as long as it should.

The extra water-space provided in its construction, the patented flexible rubber seal, the unit-weld process of joining the plates in each cell into a rigid, extra strong group, render the Standard Battery practically free from most battery ills.

Its construction makes it the ideal battery for the Southwest, where climate and rugged roads are particularly hard on batteries.

Evaporation, heavy drain of the power, vibration and all the other ills your battery is subject to, can be prevented from becoming serious troubles by catching them in time. Drive in at least every two weeks and let us go over your battery. No charge for test, inspection, distilled water.

We measure our success not by the number of new batteries we sell, but by the old batteries we save. Let us do our part with yours.

BILLY RESCUES

By MOLLIE MATHER

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

I KNOW this story does not place Billy in a very good light, but there is a saying that "the end justifies the means." He is my chum's fiance and whenever any of the girls want a favor we feel free to ask Billy.

Judith Warrington, my chum, is not the least bit jealous, because she knows she couldn't have reason.

Billy Blair is honest and true. Judie herself is a dear, and we made her home our headquarters. You could drop in at any time and find a welcome from Judie and her father.

Judie just remembers her mother, who died when Judie was a little thing. But the picture of her that hangs in Mr. Warrington's library makes you feel sorry all over again that such a sweet mother might not have lived to bring up her daughter.

Of course gone of us ever thought Mr. Warrington would think of taking another wife—especially after all the years. But as mother says, you never can tell. And even when Judie's father began inviting Eleanor Forest to Judie's parties, we never for a moment supposed he could have a personal interest.

Eleanor Forest was delightful to me until my cousin Rolf, who lives with us, got to taking her around. Rolf said I was jealous, but he changed his opinion when Eleanor turned her attention to Burns Holden. Then when she was introduced to Mr. Warrington at the club where Burns Holden plays golf, and Burns told her boastfully how rich Mr. Warrington was, Eleanor looked up innocent as peaches and asked, as if she was interested on Judie's account—"And he never married, did he Mr. Holden, after Judith's mother died?"

"No," Burns assured her, "Mr. Warrington is still a widower."

I wasn't a bit surprised when I saw Mr. Warrington teaching Eleanor to play golf. But Judie was surprised. And when her father spent his evenings seated at Eleanor's side in the garden, apart from others, and drove her alone to her stopping place, Judie could not contradict the people who insisted that Mr. Warrington was serious in his attentions—Eleanor had told them so.

"Think," Judie said to me sorrowfully, "of that instance—oh, of that girl in my dear mother's place."

I couldn't think of it—it made me angry. And Eleanor already was wearing the triumphant air of the victor. We talked it over with Billy one evening when Eleanor had gone to Cedar Point for two weeks, and Mr. Warrington was driving out there every other night.

"That man," said Billy determinedly, "should be rescued. She's dangling Holden in the office, in case the richer one eludes her purpose."

"Oh, dear," remarked Judie again, "I can't help seeing right into my poor father's disappointed future."

"Disappointed is mild," said Billy, "make it tormented future. Eleanor is an inevitable flirt."

Suddenly he turned and looked up at Judie. "Dear," Billy asked, "how much do you trust me? Enough to spare me at Cedar Point for a week, and allow me to mingle there with the fair?"

There was an odd expression in Billy's eyes—sympathy, perhaps anger. But Judie was not engaged to him without reason. "Oh spare you, Billy," she replied, unquestioning.

"I'd like to drive out to Cedar with you, Mr. Warrington," Billy said one night. "I've a confession to make regarding a young woman to whom you may later hear I have been attentive. I do not want you to think me disloyal to Judith. Eleanor Forest is accustomed to much masculine attention, and so when we drove to the city club, or danced at Winden Point it was at her own suggestion, and with Judie's consent. Burns Holden, I think, is the more favored among Eleanor's admirers."

"Eleanor Forest?" Mr. Warrington interrupted benignly. "Is there not some mistake? Eleanor Forest, who has been our guest here?"

You could tell from the words and the astonished tone that Eleanor had told Judie's father a different story.

"We will see her together, if you drive me with you to Cedar, Mr. Warrington," Billy answered quietly.

I think it dawned on Eleanor's elderly lover then that Billy's confession had its purpose. Silently he motioned toward his waiting car and the two drove on to Cedar. Judie and I sat until very late awaiting their return.

"It seems terribly unkind," said the tender heart of Judith, "to steal a march on one like that."

"Better than have that mercenary, deceitful person steal your father's happiness," I answered. The car drove in just as Judie and I had decided to retire. Billy came first.

"It's all right," he said, "our friend did not await my introduction. She burned her bridges behind her."

"So, you two were acquainted all the time," she greeted. "Mr. Holden has just told me of Mr. Blair's engagement to your daughter, Mr. Warrington."

Then the little lady saw the disillusionment in Mr. Warrington's stern gaze. "Mr. Holden and I," she added boldly, "are very good friends." When we went down to the library Judie's father was standing before the lovely portrait of her mother—and I could not help but think there was relief and peace in the smile he gave us.

THE STATE OF TEXAS,
 To the Sheriff or any Constable of Foard County—Greeting:
 You are Hereby Commanded to summon The Emerald Oil Company, a corporation, by making publication of this Citation once each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest county to said Foard County, Texas, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Foard County, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Crowell, Texas, on the 1st Monday in December, A. D.
 1923, the same being the 3rd day of December, A. D. 1923, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 8th day of August, A.
 D. 1923, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 252, wherein R. A. Farmer is plaintiff, and The Emerald Oil Company, a corporation, is defendant, and said petition alleging:

 Plaintiff represents that The Emerald Oil Company, a private corporation, whose office and their places of residence and their whereabouts being unknown to plaintiff; that during the year 1921 the defendant by and through its agents, servants and employees, employed plaintiff for an indefinite period of time, that said employment continued until the 8th day of August, A. D. 1923. That defendant agreed to pay plaintiff two dollars per day and furnish him with all necessary groceries as long as plaintiff was in the employment of the defendant. That at the time of the filing of this suit plaintiff has not been discharged by the said defendant.
 That during the time plaintiff was in the employment of the defendant, he had purchased certain articles of merchandise for the use and benefit of the defendant as set forth in plaintiff petition, in the sum of forty dollars, for which amount defendant has refused to reimburse plaintiff.
 That on or about the first day of January, A. D. 1923, defendant breached its contract with plaintiff in that defendant has wholly failed and refused to pay plaintiff for his labor done for the said defendant from the first day of January, 1923, to the 8th day of August, A. D. 1923, to the plaintiff's damage in the sum of $634.00. That said contract was made in Foard County, Texas. That defendant owned certain personal property located on Section 38, L. B. L.
 X, S. P. R. R. Co. survey, in said
 Foard County, Texas. That said money is due and unpaid, that he has good reasons to believe and does believe that defendant is about to dispose of its property or place the same beyond the jurisdiction of this court, that he will probably lose his debt unless he have his Writ of Attachment.
 Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited within accordance of law by publication to appear and answer to plaintiff's cause of action, and that upon final hearing he have judgment for the amount of his damage, Writ of Attachment, Order of Sale, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, general and special in law and equity, that he may be justly entitled.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Crowell,
 Texas, this, the 30th day of October,
 A. D. 1923.

(Seal) GRACE NORRIS,
 22 Clerk Co. Court, Foard Co., Texas.

First Notice A GREAT STORY YEAR

A golden sheaf of stories is in preparation for 1924 readers of The Youth's Companion. There will be stories of Western ranch life and thrilling adventure; stories of gumption in getting a job and making a success at it; stories of lively prinnages on the athletic field—football, baseball; stories of girls in school and college and working their way in the world of business; stories of the old farm folks down in Maine, told intimately by C. A. Stephens; stories of Caleb Peaslee's shrewdness and horse sense; stories of resourcefulness and pluck in situations of danger and extremity; stories of the sea and of the mountains—stories to please every fancy of old readers and young, for readers who love the story of character and for those who like best the story of swift action. It will be a great year in the history of The Youth's Companion.

The 52 issues of 1924 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now and receive:

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of and I then remembered my mother used to take it. After the first bottle I was better. I began to flesh up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.
