AND CROWELL INDEX

VOLUME XXXV NO. 14

CROWELL, FOARD COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1925

16 PAGES $2.00 A YEAR

COLDEST WAVE EVER KNOWN AT SEASON HERE

The norther that blew up Friday night was followed by a drop in temperature that made one realize that winter is almost here. It was the coldest ever known at this season of the year. The temperature went to 50. It is nearly a month earlier than the first cold spell last fall, which came about the middle of October.

General rains have followed the cold wave and the ground is thoroughly soaked and where wheat has been sown it is coming up and will soon furnish abundant pasturage for stock. A large per cent of the crop has been put in the ground already, some farmers being entirely through. Something like two inches of moisture has fallen over the county.

The cotton farmers, of course, are not rejoicing because of the fact that picking is interrupted, but in the long run it may prove beneficial should the next Government estimate show a shorter crop than the last one did.

Guns Greet Texan Trying to Obtain La. Cotton Pickers

Quanah, Texas, Sept. 25.—Accosted by three men with sixshooters very much in evidence, and told to return to Texas without trying to take any cotton pickers from their state with him, Edwin Johnson lost no time in leaving Minden, La., last week, he said on his arrival here.

Mr. Johnson went to get pickers for himself and several of his neighbors, and had already arranged with a group of negroes to come back with him, when he was warned, and later definitely told to leave without the pickers.

The men gave as the reason for their drastic action that the negroes were deeply indebted to the commissaries maintained by the plantations and sawmills in that section of Louisiana; and that if they came to West Texas to pick cotton they would not return to their home until all the money they earned has been spent, and the white folks of their home section would have to feed them over the winter months until the next harvest there.

First Number of Lyceum to Be Here on October 15th

Sarah Mildred Wilmer, impersonator, will deliver the entertainment of the first number of the lyceum course here on the night of October 15th.

Miss Wilmer is said to be an artist of wonderful ability.

The White-Brown Lyceum Company has the contract to put on this season's lyceum course.

GRAND JURY REPORT

The grand jury's report is very short this time, containing only a few lines and those had reference to the findings of that body. There were reported by the grand jury only three felony cases and three misdemeanor cases.

It is fortunate for a people that they live in a county so free from crime as is Foard County. Our jail is never full and often there is no one in it at all. We think it is a record to be proud of that such report can be given as the above.

Senior Class

The senior class of '26 and '27 were summoned to a meeting wherein they might organize. The president of the preceding year acted as speaker of the house. First of all, Miss Arrington was elected class sponsor by an overwhelming majority. The class officers were elected as follows: President, Teddy Burrow; vice president, Mary M. Bell; secretary, Bernice Schlagal; treasurer, Lottie Russell; parliamentarian, Foster Russell; class yell leader, Ruth Calvin; class reporter, Donald Norris.

Green and white were selected for the class colors, and the white rose the flower.—Reporter.

Attend Funeral of Nephew Killed Recently in Mexico

Mrs. Leo Spencer and Mrs. J. H. Lanier went to O'Brien Saturday to attend the funeral of their nephew, Graden Teaff, who was killed on Friday, September 17th, at Tampico, Mexico.

The young man was 22 years of age and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Teaff of Lorain. The death of the young man is said to have been due to an accident. He was working with an oil company.

He was a very fine young fellow and had before him the promise of a successful life. He had recently graduated from the high school at Gorman.

Returns from Mayo Brothers, Rochester

John Ellis and J. H. Lanier returned Sunday night from Mayo Brothers, Rochester, Minnesota, where Mr. Ellis had been for some weeks and where he had undergone a physical examination by the doctors at that institution.

For a good many years Mr. Ellis' eyes have been failing him and his health recently began to decline and a diagnosis of his trouble by specialists was thought advisable. His trouble is a tumor on the brain and he intends to return to Mayo Brothers when his physical condition is built up and will undergo an operation. He is now on a treatment for the building up of his strength and will return to the institution about October 10, for an examination.

The doctors told Mr. Ellis that his chances for recovery would be fairly good when his health is improved to something like normal. They told him also that if he did not undergo the operation he might expect to become totally blind within one to three years. On the other hand a successful operation would mean complete recovery and a return of his former health.

Commissioners of Wilbarger County Want Our Agent

The county commissioners of Wilbarger County have elected our county agent, Fred Rennels, to succeed Mr. McGown, who has resigned as agent in that county.

Mr. Edmonds, who has the district work in hand, was here and met with the commissioners of this county two weeks ago and asked that Mr. Rennels be released from the work here that he might take the Wilbarger field. The commissioners agreed to let Mr. Rennels go if it was his desire to go and provided Edmonds would place as good a man here, which he agreed to do. And while Mr. Rennels has been elected to take Wilbarger his going to that field still depends upon a satisfactory arrangement here. But that the arrangement will be made is practically certain and in all probability Mr. Rennels will go to Vernon.

He has served as agent here for the last five years or more and has grown in favor with the farmers of the county as well as with the business men of Crowell and it had looked as if Fred had become a permanent fixture here. His going will be a matter of regret to all our people and his place will not be easily filled. He has made us a county agent that we are proud of and he is in the class of the best to be found anywhere.

GINNERS' REPORT

Prior to September 16, 1925, there had been ginned in this county 11 bales. Prior to the same date this year there had been ginned in the county 180 bales, or more than sixteen times as much as last year.

Of course this does not necessarily mean that the crop is bigger than it was last year, it means simply that cotton has opened earlier. However, it is the opinion of most people that we have a larger crop than we ever had. It is estimated at from 20,000 to 25,000 bales.

A letter from Rev. Ed Phillips yesterday states that Judge Morris will go to Tahleah, Okla., to hold a revival and he will go to Spearman alone.

1926 Will Have Big Rain Record; Over 28 Ins. Now

August and September have been big rain months. August has to its credit 4.27 inches while September comes along with 4.75 inches, making a total for the two months of 9.02 inches. On Sept. 10, we had .90, on the 26, 2.25, on the 27, .50, on the 28, 1.10. Up to the present the rainfall for the year has been a little more than 29 inches. The following record since 1913 will show the reader that this year is certain to have a big record and in all probability much larger than it is now.

1914	29.69
1915	28.60
1916	16.97
1917	11.27
1918	19.68
1919	39.49
1920	25.80
1921	16.32
1922	16.84
1923	37.97
1924	16.88
1925	24.30

The ten-year average from 1916 to 1925, inclusive, was 22.25 inches, while the ten-year record from 1913 to 1922, inclusive, was 23.30 inches.

It is interesting to note the relation of good crop years to heavy records of rainfall. The biggest crop years have always followed the biggest rain years. For instance 1915 and 1916 were great crop years, and these big crops followed the heavy rain records of 1914 and 1915. Then 1920 was a crop year that will be remembered for all time, following a record of 39.49 inches in the year 1919. 1921 was a fair crop year, but the next bumper crops came in 1924, following the rainfall of 1923 amounting to 37.96 inches. This year has proven a fair crop year following the record of 24.30 inches of last year. If the same thing holds good, as no doubt it will, 1927 will be another great crop year, since we already have 23.32 inches of moisture for this year and three months yet to come.

It is reasonably safe to say that next year will see another bumper wheat crop, followed by great cotton and feed crops, for the same conditions that make a big wheat crop also have very marked effect on all other crops.

RAINS PUTTING LOTS OF WATER IN CITY LAKE

The rains this week have put several feet of water in the city lake and now there is an abundance for all purposes. The mayor tells us that even if it should cease raining now there would not necessarily be a water shortage before next spring and possibly not then. But when it is once full there is not likely to be a shortage at all.

One of the fine things about this water is that it is much softer than that of the wells and even though it has been running in from the water shed it is as clear as can be. This, together with the fact that the water undergoes a purifying process, makes it a very fine thing for the city. When the water reaches its destination it is pure, no germs and no fears that it is contaminated in any way.

An abundance of pure water is something of which Crowell may well be proud. We can not estimate its worth to Crowell.

MADE TRIP TO ARKANSAS

W. R. Ferguson made a trip to Evansville, Arkansas, week before last to visit his sister, Mrs. H. C. Matterson, and to accompany his mother, Mrs. F. G. Ferguson, back to Crowell after she had made an extended visit with her daughter in that state. Mr. and Mrs. Matterson are former residents of this county, having left here in 1918. Mr. Ferguson reports a very pleasant trip to Arkansas and says he enjoyed the fine apples but he has no desire to live in that country.

A fool-proof airplane won't be worth much without a foolproof pilot.

W. H. Stephens Dies Wednesday in Eureka Springs

The following account of the death of W. H. Stephens of Vernon, father of Mrs. R. L. Kincaid of Crowell, is taken from Wednesday's Vernon Record:

W. H. Stephens, 76, wealthy Vernon oil property owner, died at 12:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Eureka Springs, Ark., according to a message received here. Death was caused by heart failure, the message states.

Funeral arrangements have not been perfected, but the body will probably be returned to Vernon for burial, according to Will Stephens, a son.

Mr. Stephens' death came as a sudden shock to friends and relatives here. The first news of his illness was received late Tuesday evening from Eureka Springs, where the aged oil man was on a honeymoon with his bride of a month. This was followed by the death message Wednesday, and details have not been received.

The discovery well of the South Vernon oil field was located on Mr. Stephens' property, and a major part of the oil activities in the vicinity of Vernon was centered on the Stephens land during the early days of the field. Many wells on the tract, which is located ten miles south of Vernon, are still producing.

Before the discovery of oil on his property, Mr. Stephens engaged in farming here. He came to this county in 1907, and moved to Vernon soon after the discovery of oil. He was one of the most prominent laymen of the Methodist church, and served the church as a steward.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ida Smith Stephens, three daughters, Mrs. Walter Hoffman of Vernon; Mrs. R. L. Kincaid of Crowell; Mrs. J. F. Carmichael, Snyder, Texas; three sons, Will Stephens of Vernon; C. E. Stephens of New York City, and A. P. Stephens of Dallas.

STOLEN TRUCK LOCATED AND ARREST IS MADE

Some few weeks ago during the heavy rains, and at a time when the roads were in an almost impassable condition a practically new Ford truck was stolen from Wadlington & Klepper. The fact that the roads were in an almost impassable condition at the time lead them to believe that the car had not been taken out of the country.

Through Marshal C. R. Elliott a reward of $25.00 was offered for the return of the truck and postal cards were sent to all garage owners throughout this section to be on the lookout for the truck. As a result of the cards the truck was located by a garage man at Benjamin and a lad of some fifteen years was placed under arrest. He was given a trial at Benjamin last week and received a one year suspended sentence.—Munday Times.

Covey Not Heard from on School Consolidation

The people of Crowell Independent school district have been waiting anxiously to hear from Representative Covey relative to the matter of consolidating by legislative act Lone Star and Jameson school districts with the Crowell district, but as yet nothing has been heard from him.

It had been thought that this was the quickest way over the difficulty encountered on a technical point that caused the attorney general's disapproval of the consolidation act.

Delay has already resulted in the starting of a new school building and it appears that more delay is to follow. Of course it is not known whether or not the proposition can be put through by legislative act at this time, neither is it known just how much time will be required even if it can be done.

In case it can not be handled in this way, then the districts will have to hold another election, as they did before, which means further delay in starting the building.

This is an unfortunate thing but nobody is responsible for it and the situation will be remedied just as early as possible, we are told.

Week's Rain Has Ruined Prospects of a County Fair

During the last week, commencing Saturday, we have had almost continuous rain, not heavy at all times, but either raining hard or drizzling. The consequences are that those who have been working to have a county fair are facing a very hard proposition. They had hoped it would cease raining in time for the roads and the fair grounds to clear up so that people could attend but in this they have been disappointed. And now it is too late to call it off. It is just one of the many unforeseen conditions that can not be avoided.

Poultry Show Changed to Get Burton As Judge

The Foard County Poultry show has been changed from December 2, 3 and 4, to December 30, 31 and January 1st, 1927.

This was done in order that Walter Burton might be had here as the poultry judge. Burton is of Arlington and is recognized as one of the most competent poultry judges in the country, and so anxious are our leading poultry breeders that they have the best judge obtainable that they have seen fit to make the change so that Burton's services might be had here.

There have been for years a growing interest in the poultry business in Foard County and the birds of the leading breeders here have come to be the very strongest competitors for prizes when shown in the various poultry shows of West Texas. The show this year will be better, it is thought, than ever in the history of the county.

City Tailors Buy The Magee Toggery Cleaning Department

This will not be moved from the rear of the Magee Toggery place of business but will be operated as heretofore. The City Tailors will employ the very best skill to be had in order that they may give the trade the best service to be had anywhere.

The Magee Toggery business will be confined exclusively to that of gents furnishings and plans are to continue to improve the business until it is one of the best gents furnishing establishments in West Texas.

Wreck on Orient Near Pease River

A wreck happened on the Orient between Crowell and Pease River Tuesday when two freight cars went off the track, holding up traffic for a few days.

The heavy rains have had hurtful effect on the railroad.

CROWELL MEN ATTEND ROAD MEET FLOYDADA

A luncheon was served by the chamber of commerce of that city to the visiting representatives from Foard, Motley, Cottle and Lamb Counties, after which a business session of about an hour was gone into. In addition to the representatives from the above named counties there was present the son of Dr. Johnson from Roswell, N. M. Mr. Johnson represented his father in this meeting and made several valuable suggestions as to taking care of the interests of Lee Highway.

The purpose of the meeting was to decide upon marking the highway, or at least to take steps looking to its marking. Progress was made in that the matter was put into the hands of Mr. Johnson and a committee of four to work out some of the details and figure the cost and at the next meeting submit their report. The cost will be prorated among the counties according to the mileage of the Lee Highway through those counties, and at the next meeting, which will be held at Plainview on October 15th, representatives from the various counties will speak for their counties as to whether or not they will stand their portion of the cost.

That is about the substance of what was done at the Floydada meeting, as we understood it. Several short talks were made as to the need of marking the highway, and especially what it means to the tourists.

The fair was on at Floydada and it was a very attractive one. Those people are proud of their town and their county. They are a fine set of people, accommodating and courteous and our stay of a few hours there was the most pleasant.

MILLIONS MARSHALED FOR COTTON RELIEF

The bankers of Texas propose to raise a large sum—a hundred million dollars has been set as the goal—for steadying the cotton market. At first glance it sounds like a speculative enterprise. But when it is learned that the true purpose is to permit the gradual disposition of cotton as the market may require the impression received is altogether different. The bankers aren't going to gamble with their own or with anybody else's money. They are simply going to finance the farmer at 6 per cent in the belief that the farmer can well afford to take his time about selling cotton at less than the cost of producing cotton.

Holding for speculative profit is a wager with fortune. Similarly an effort to hold off the market a ruinously large crop would be at best but a partial success. But the undertaking to prevent a wholesale dumping of the crop as fast as picked offers the hope that it will get satisfactory results. There is little doubt that, without some such arrangement, millions of dollars will be lost to Texas farmers simply because they can not afford to await the orderly marketing processes of a national sales plan.

Some farmers have already been caught in the market, and many others will lose a great deal before the machinery for their relief can be perfected. The situation is one of haste if anything is to be attempted at all. Threats of acreage reduction next year will not affect the market this year. If there is in fact a surplus crop this year the acreage next year will almost certainly be reduced. That has been the rule hitherto. It is rather soundly grounded in human nature. Fingers that have been burned dread the fire—for a reason.—Dallas News.

FIRE SCARE

The fire alarm was given Saturday morning when the beaver board near the flue caught on fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thompson after a fire had been built in the stove, the first of the season. A little caution on the part of residents might be advisable as they put up their stoves and get ready for the winter.

Work Will Save Her

French Consul Maurice Heimann sat at a dinner in San Francisco:

"France is in a bad way, but I'll tell you a story that will show you how she's going to pull through."

"Father," said the son of a French peasant, as he leaned on his hoe, "they say the balance of trade is turning against us."

"Yes," said the peasant, "so they do." "They say the franc will fall below 30 to the dollar, father."

"I fear it will, boy. I fear it will." "They say a return to the gold standard would ruin industry."

"Humph." "And that government securities are substantially without a market."

"Well, well! And do they say anything about a lad stopping to lean on his hoe to talk when he might just as well hoe and talk at the same time?"

Odd Use for Dental Wax

The big guns of our men-of-war, although huge and unwieldy, sometimes develop ailments that require a most painstaking and minute diagnosis to determine the remedy. The linings of these monstrous are machined and rifled with great accuracy, and upon the perfection of this rifling depends the correctness of flight of a projectile. Recently, to learn the nature and extent of the damage to the interior of one of the big guns on a battleship, the dentist was pressed into service. He crawled inside the barrel and made an impression of the defect in dental wax. In much the same manner as he makes an impression of the cavity of a tooth. The result of his examination showed what was needed for the gun.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Keeping Guns in Storage

"Mussolini," he said, "will get Italy into trouble. He's too much like the ex-kaiser."

"Once, in pre-war days, Krupp came to the ex-kaiser and said that Denmark had ordered a magnificent equipment of field artillery from his firm. Did he think it would be wise to fill this order?"

"Fill it, by all means," the kaiser said. "Give them the best equipment of field artillery you can turn out."

"Then he laughed and slapped his chest and added:

"If I want those guns at any time it will be easy enough to go and get them." — Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

No Rest for the Weary

A doctor who is in charge of a well-known hospital in Oslo has been registering vigorous complaints against those who insist upon presenting his institution with wireless sets. He declares the use of a loud speaker deprives the patients who are really ill of their chance to rest quietly. He further declares that even healthy persons will soon be seeking sanctuary in hospitals to evade the torture of civilization's clamor and therefore the institutions of health must bar the scientific toys.

FIRST UPHAM GAS IS TURNED ON IN VERNON

Vernon, Sept. 13.—Natural gas from the Shamrock fields was brought into Vernon through the mains of Northern Texas Utilities company Sunday night. The first gas was burned shortly before midnight Sunday when a large gas torch was lighted.

It is brought to Vernon by a two-inch line which taps the main line at Quanah. This line is to serve the immediate needs of the city until the main line is completed.

Workmen were blowing and testing the distributing mains in the city and it was announced by A. H. Raborn, general superintendent of the company, that a number of consumers would be supplied with gas by noon Tuesday.

Mr. Raborn requested that consumers refrain from lighting the gas until they had been given permission to do so by the company, which probably would be by Tuesday noon. The N. T. U. is an Upham subsidiary.

APRIL FOOL JOKE IS CENTURIES OLD

Impossible, However, to Trace Its Origin.

Swift, in his journal, to Stella, entered, according to the Mentor Magazine, under date of March 31, 1713, that he, Doctor Arbuthnot, and Lady Masham had been amusing themselves that evening by contriving "a lie for tomorrow." A man named Noble had been hanged a few days before. The "lie" concocted by these three was that Noble had come to life again in the hands of friends, but was held once more by the sheriff, and now lay at the Black Swan in Holborn, in the custody of a messenger. "We are all," says Swift, "to send to our friends, to know whether they have heard anything of it, and so we hope it will spread." On the following day, April 1, the learned dean sent his servant to several homes to inquire among the footmen, not letting his own man into the secret. But nothing could be heard of the resuscitation of Noble; when he concluded that "his colleagues did not contribute" as they ought to have done. One April fool joke that failed!

The first day of April, All Fools' day, has long been in America and most European countries a day that enjoys a character all its own, in that it is consecrated to impositions upon unsuspecting persons. While the date is well remembered, yet the origin of the custom cannot be traced with any degree of certainty. In the literature of the past century there are many references to it, and yet beyond that it is scarcely possible to go.

April fooling is an immemorial custom in India. The Hindus practiced precisely similar pranks on March 31, when they held what is known as the Hull festival. There is an old tradition among the Jews that the custom of making fools on the first day of April rose from the fact that Noah sent out the dove on the first day of the month corresponding with our April, before the water had abated. To perpetuate the memory of the great deliverance of Noah and his family, it was customary on that anniversary to punish persons who had forgotten the remarkable circumstances connected with the date by sending them on some fruitless errand similar to that on which the patriarch sent the luckless bird from the ark.

Painting a house would be more fun if so many of the neighbors didn't wonder why you picked such an outlandish color.

Telephone Courtesy

"Telephone Courtesy" is the title of a little pamphlet issued by the Cleveland office of the Erie Railroad for distribution among its employees. Some of the advice given is just as applicable to the general telephone using public as to the Erie employees:

In all intercourse over the telephone no armor is so becoming, no influence so great, as a courteous and affable manner.

The manner in which you use the telephone indicates largely what you are.

Patrons judge the service of the business you are connected with by the service they receive from you over the telephone. That is natural, for you are a direct representative.

We have proved to our satisfaction that courtesy is a good investment.

Discourtesy hurts the person who uses it more than the person towards whom it is directed. One discourteous action by you over the telephone to a patron or prospective patron does an injury to every man whose name is on the payroll; and a place on the payroll is far better than one in the breadline.

Kind words are just as cheap as unkind words.

He who sows courtesy reaps friendships.

It is said that the country is overcrowded and anyone will agree after seeing a half dozen riding in a two-passenger automobile.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lary. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by

Margaret A. Hall, Battle Creek

Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans

Sarah T. Rorer Philadelphia

Kate B. Vaughn Los Angeles

From New England to New Orleans, Golden Gate to Philadelphia, comes praise for the Perfection.

Six famous cooks in their own kitchens baked, roasted, broiled, fried and stewed 197 different dishes on the Perfection stove. They subjected the stove to cooking tests far more severe than the average housewife would in a score of years.

MEETS EVERY TEST

Every dish was deliciously cooked. And each of the six famous cooks was satisfied with the results achieved on the Perfection. They recommend it for every cooking task.

They are praising the Perfection for its good cooking performance, its cleanliness (no sooty kettles), its dependability, convenience and safety. They find the Perfection fulfills every cooking requirement.

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

KIMSEY & KLEPPER, Owners and Publishers

Crowell, Texas, October 1, 1926

A solution of the farmers' big problem in producing and marketing the South's staple will never be found, in our opinion, until some of the tenant problems are solved. Too many renters go the exclusive cotton route. It may be the fault of the landlord. If so, he might profit by a more liberal policy of not only permitting but actually encouraging more diversified farming among his tenants. The one-crop farmer, be he owner or tenant, will always find himself working against great odds. Plenty of everything that can be raised on the farm would be a mighty strong fortification for the farmer against ruinous cotton prices.

Foard County's 18,000 bales of cotton last year and its promises of 20,000 or 25,000 bales this year put it in the class of the big cotton counties, the acreage considered. But Foard County is not a one-crop county. Our crops of 700,000 bushels of wheat harvested and our thousands of tons of matured feed distinctly proclaim the possibilities of diversification.

It is as much the duty of any citizen to report to the officers of law as it is the duty of the officers to run them down. No one has a right to complain that law is not enforced so long as he himself does not act the part of a good citizen in helping to enforce the law. The people have just about the kind of law enforcement they want.

Wonder if a sidewalk building campaign could be started in Crowell about this time? It would not be a big job to build them if all property owners were willing. When the mind is made up half the job is done. Each year, with an increase in population, the need for them becomes more imperative. It is absolutely impossible to cross some of the streets without wading mud half-leg deep.

The great spirit that has always responded to the appeal for assistance in case of calamity to another section or a neighboring city has recently been in evidence among the American people. They were ready to help stricken Miami with open purses and no section of the country will ever regret having responded to the call to help relieve the homeless and suffering of that land and city.

The call was sent out more than a week ago for cotton pickers for all West Texas. Some counties have advertised for a thousand and fifteen hundred. Foard County wanted 500 a week ago, but just now she needs none. When the weather clears up there will be a greater demand than ever.

POLE SOUGHT IN 1897 BY SWEDISH AIRMEN

Fate of Balloonists Still Remains Mystery.

New York.—Whichever of the flying men bound for unknown polar regions this summer is the first to reach the pole, he probably never will be certain that he actually was the first man to fly there.

Twenty-nine years ago, with far cruder equipment than any of the adventurers this summer are taking, three Viking airmen tried to sail through the sky to the end of the earth. There is some evidence that they passed over the pole, or very near it, although what finally happened must be relegated to Eskimo legend.

The leader of the party was Prof. Salomon August Andree, a Swedish scientist and civil engineer interested in ballooning. His companions were two other Swedes, Nils Strindberg and Knut Hjalmar Ferdinand Fraenkel. Professor Andree was convinced there were trade winds blowing through the upper atmosphere from Spitzbergen, across the pole to North America, which would carry his balloon in safety over the polar ice cap.

Carried Many Bottles. He carried the last word in scientific apparatus for his day—only a generation ago. In place of radio apparatus he carried a large quantity of bottles that he could drop overboard with messages and a few carrier pigeons. Professor Andree's balloon measured 97 feet from top to bottom, the bag alone being 75 feet from summit to opening. It consisted of three thicknesses of silk glued together and covered with five coats of varnish.

On July 6, 1897, the party left Trondhjem, Norway. On July 8 they passed the North cape, and on Sunday, July 11, at 2:30 in the afternoon, it took off from Dane's island, Spitzbergen, with the pole 600 miles to the north. The day was clear and a strong wind was blowing. As the balloon started it narrowly escaped striking a rock in the Sweerenburg sound. As it rose out of the varying undercurrents of air it swung about like a carrier pigeon getting its bearings, and then, meeting the upper currents which Professor Andree predicted, it started away at the rate of about 22 miles an hour.

For an hour the balloon could be seen from shore. It was equipped to stay in the air 60 days and carried provisions for four months.

One carrier pigeon returned a few days later with this message: "July 13, 12:30 p. m.—82.2 degrees north latitude, 15.5 degrees east longitude. Good progress toward the north. All goes well on board. This message is the third by carrier pigeon. "ANDREE."

In September, 1899, a buoy which Professor Andree was to have dropped overboard when he passed over the pole was picked up on the shore of King Charles island and identified by the inscription, "Andree Polar Expedition."

Found Year Later. A year later a bottle containing note No. 143 was found near Vardoe, in the most northeasterly part of Norway.

That was all. Years went by without another trace of the expedition. Liberal rewards were offered by the king of Sweden for genuine relics of the expedition. Many parties were organized and spent thousands of dollars searching the Arctic regions for remains.

At last, in December, 1906, a friendly Catholic priest, who had won the confidence of the Eskimo tribes near Beludeer lake, 900 miles north of Prince Albert, in the province of Saskatchewan, Canada, brought back an uncertain tale. Bishop Pascal of the diocese of Prince Albert saw an Eskimo carrying a revolver and noticed that other members of the tribe seemed to have an unusual quantity of rope.

When he inquired they told him that a great "white house" had come down from the sky, that the men in it had starved to death and that the rope had come from the house top.

A month later Father Furquatte, another priest, brought back additional news. The Eskimos admitted, he said, that the white men had hunted game. This angered them and they killed the white men.

One other subsequent report with the stamp of authenticity was made. Christian Leder, a Norwegian explorer, said Eskimos told they saw the balloon come from the sky and saw smoke and thunder come from strange sticks which "two devils" carried. One of the "devils" they killed with their arrows, but when the other made signs that he was not hostile, that he was hunting birds only, the tribesmen realized that they had killed a human being and fled in fear. They saw no more of the other man.

Suffered weak, nervous

"I WAS in a very weakened, run-down condition, surely in need of a tonic and builder," says Mrs. J. R. Wynn, of Anna, Texas. "I was so weak I had to go to bed, and kept getting weaker."

"I suffered with my back so much. I was very nervous, couldn't rest good at night. I couldn't eat anything—I just wasn't hungry."

"I had read so much of Cardui, I thought best to use it. I took seven or eight bottles, and by the time I had taken them I was stronger than I had been in several years. I can highly recommend Cardui."

Thousands of other women have found that the tonic effects of the purely vegetable ingredients of Cardui were just what they needed to help restore their appetites, to help bring them easily and naturally back to normal health and strength. Its action has been found to be of great benefit in many common female ailments.

What "dependable" really means

The public not only believe in the goodness of Dodge Brothers Motor Car, they believe in the men who build it and the men who sell it.

That is why the word DEPENDABLE is associated the world over with Dodge Brothers name. It goes beyond the product and embraces every department in Dodge Brothers great organization.

THE GOLDEN EGG

There are few colleges or universities that can not trace their beginnings to the church. A brief examination of the 591 colleges and universities listed in the World Almanac discloses that nearly half of them have direct denominational affiliation. Others that were founded by churches have drifted away from church moorings when they became self-sustaining.

In view of this fact, it is strange indeed that the Society for the promotion of Atheism has the temerity to announce boldly that it proposes to organize a society of atheists among the students of every college in America.

Without the Christian church America would have no educational system worth the name and no college in which to organize atheist societies. So it seems that the atheist organization would kill the goose that laid the golden egg.

This attitude on the part of new fangled societies is not uncommon outside the church and college field. We find the same tendency to kill the goose that laid the golden egg in social and political life. The parlor socialists rail at the economic order. The malcontents and reformers all want a change from the fancied wrongs of our system. They lose sight of the fact that our country is the marvel of the ages; that in this land civilization has reached its highest state and human liberty is better safeguarded; that there is a social consciousness that has never been equaled in history.

COPPER MONEY USED BY ANCIENT GREEKS

Really Marked Beginning of Metal Currency.

The first money of the Greeks was the copper pot. Everybody wanted copper pots and, therefore, anybody would exchange whatever else he had for them. Copper pots became a common denominator in the market, tending to replace barter. Then some young Greek hit upon the idea of making up the copper of which pots were made into strips and using them in the markets instead of pots. William Atherton Du Puy tells us, in Current History, "These strips were called 'obols,' and six of them made a handful. They were the first actual money of the Greeks. They marked the be-

Two hundred years before Caesar, silver displaced copper as money in Rome because it had been shown to be a handier metal for the purpose. From that time on it was the predominant money metal until, 2,000 years later, gold took precedence.

In 1518 the count of Schlick opened up a silver mine of considerable productiveness in St. Joachim's thal, or hale, in his native Bohemia. He appreciated the dire need of the Middle ages to have more money as a medium to facilitate trade. So he made his silver into coins and placed on them a picture of St. Joachim. In honor of his native community he called these coins St. Joachim's thalers. They soon became known as Joachimsthalers; then they got over into Germany and were called thalers. Later, in the Netherlands, they were called dalers. They crossed to England and were known as dollars. Joachimsthalers were, in fact, the first dollars.

After the discovery of America, Spain gained a dominance which was largely due to the possession of silver from Mexico and Peru, which provided her with a circulating medium. She made a coin, the "piece-of-eight" of pirate stories, which was a dollar. England could not furnish currency for her colonists, so the latter began to use Spanish pieces-of-eight, which were comparatively abundant. They liked these coins better than the English shillings and pounds, and so, when they set up a money system of their own, they modeled it on the Spanish rather than the English scheme. So did a dollar currency, destined to loom large a hundred and fifty years later, come into being.

Marco Polo brought the idea of paper money back from China. Many nations have since printed paper money and most of them have had a great deal of difficulty in maintaining a stable value. The United States tried a number of experiments in paper money, but when the Civil war came it had of that sort of currency only the issues of state banks which were of uncertain value. The dollar issued by the banks of one state might be worth 40 cents and those issued by another state might be worth 90 cents.

Grooms Mules With Vacuum

Capt. A. C. Fitzhugh, Third Field artillery, Fort Benjamin Harrison, has invented a vacuum cleaner which does the work of grooming the army horses and mules. The machine is constructed after the general fashion of vacuum cleaners, but has certain features especially adapted to cleaning animals. The nozzle is equipped with a brush of special make, with which the backs of the animals are massaged in a manner similar to that followed with the old grooming brush.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

(By West Texas C. of C.)

Stamford—With the close of the first week of September, most city public and rural schools are either now open or have openings underway. Reports from school systems seem to indicate a general rise in enrollment over the state, and indicate improvements in the administration and organization of many institutions.

A partial list of schools with record attendances include: Munday, Haskell, Hale Center, Tulia, Sager-ton, Artesia, Rule, Lubbock, Mobeetie and Plainview. Among an incomplete account of school developments are the following: A new school building and auditorium for Carey; heating plants, new home economics building, and a new school building for colored pupils at Brady; new school building at Mineral Wells; new text books, and repaired building at Jacksboro; teacherage for Vivian; two new trucks and larger school cafeteria for Littlefield; increased faculty for Hale County rural schools, departmental system in all grades of the Wheeler schools; new buildings at Sandhill; ward school at Floydada, also addition of home economics and commercial departments.

Balmerhea—A contract was recently let for the construction of a graded road to Maderia Springs, work upon which has already begun.

O'Brien—Two modern gins, equipped with latest machinery, cleaners, burr extractors, etc., and with a capacity of 100 bales a day, have been opened here. Three cotton buyers will work in the district this season.

Childress—C. W. Mullen, staff writer for the Oklahoma Farmer Stockman, was recently in the city to collect material for the magazine he represents. His articles will tell Texas of the success of Childress County in leading the production of dairy products and poultry so that other localities may follow its example.

Memphis—Recent developments here include the opening of a coffee shop and dining room at the new Memphis Hotel, a new garage business, a dry goods store and bakery.

Stamford—Counties in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce territory will have opportunity to "strut their stuff" if the "Raised in Texas" dinner to be given by officials of the State Fair of Texas at Dallas is kept as representative as it is planned. The dinner, the demonstrated climax of a year of diversification in Texas, is to consist of a menu of everything from soups to nuts, strictly Texas products from Texas farms. Agricultural exhibitors at the Fair are to be the honored guests. Counties can contribute such products as their particular section is noted for producing to the "Raised in Texas" dinner.

Bledsoe—Bledsoe will be one of the leading shipping points over Texas and New Mexico this year if expectations are realized. Receipts of cattle at the Santa Fe stock yards have been growing rapidly, 25 cars of cattle being shipped recently. Shipments of cotton and corn will go out within the next two months besides a large quantity of grain sorghums. Twelve thousand acres of cotton are growing around Bledsoe, none of which will produce less than a quarter bale an acre, according to authoritative estimates. It is believed that the bean, maize, kaffir, cane and higeria crops will produce in proportion.

Stephenville—A parade lead by children will be a unique feature of the fall fair at the sixth annual Erath County exposition, according to plans of the committee in charge. All children eight years old and under are invited to join the group and lead the march over the course planned.

Vernon—Plans have been made here to open war on coyotes, prairie dogs and rodents of Wilbarger county late this fall. A. L. Coleman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has announced his intention of returning to this section to kill the pests and to distribute poison for their extermination.

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

IN the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorsers who acclaim the merit of Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Almost Has Fire from An Oil Heater

Last Saturday morning an oil heater exploded in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. It was sitting near a bed and would have soon caught the bed clothing.

Killed While Working in Gin

News came last Saturday stating that Tom Pearce had happened to an accident while working in a gin at Ralls in which he suffered several broken bones in the chest and otherwise internally injured. Later another message came that he was not expected to survive and Sunday morning his sister, Mrs. C. F. Hunter, and his father-in-law, J. H. McKown, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Clint White, all left for Ralls but did not arrive before Mr. Pearce died. He lived until some time Sunday morning when death came.

Mr. Pearce was 48 years of age and is survived by his wife and three daughters, besides two sisters, Mrs. S. W. Gentry and Mrs. C. F. Hunter, and one brother.

Mr. Pearce resided in Foard County for many years, removing to Portales, N. M., and then to Ralls.

Texas Potash Fields to Surprise Germans, John Spellman Says

The $20,000,000 spent annually by American industry for potash bought in France and Germany will some day be spent in Texas for the product from mines to be developed in West Texas, John M. Spellman, president of the society for the scientific development of Texas' Natural Resources predicted Saturday.

Mr. Spellman referred to recent statements by a leading German potash industrialist that "France and Germany have nothing to fear in a competitive way from Texas potash fields." He said that Europe would be surprised some day to learn that potash in extremely large quantities can be mined at shallower depths and more cheaply in Texas. He announced that a banquet will be held shortly by the society at Dallas to celebrate the fact that the Federal Government has decided to explore Texas potash fields.—Dallas News.

Columbian Club

Mrs. Maurice Kenner was hostess to the Columbian Club Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 29, when roll call was answered with "My Favorite Flower and Why," and Texas birds and flowers were studied. Mrs. Q. R. Miller gave a splendid paper on "Our Song Birds." An interesting round table discussion on "Plant a flower and encourage a neighbor to plant one," was led by Mrs. M. O'Connell. "The Flora and Fauna of Foard County" was the subject of Mrs. C. R. Ferguson's paper, and Mrs. S. P. Ferguson gave vivid description of the Davis Mountains—the Texas Rockies.

Those present other than the members were Mesdames Garland Burns and Shults. At the close of the lesson Mrs. Kenner served a delightful salad course.
