Congressman Ed Gossett Speaks Saturday

Congressman Ed Gossett, candidate for reelection as representative from the district, spoke in Crowell Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in a speech of interest in the campaign.

Without reference to any of the candidates, Mr. Gossett told the audience what he had voted for in Congress and mentioned the dangers that the country is faced with at this time.

The country is now faced with serious problems which vitally affect her peace and security. The campaign in so far as it can be mentioned.

Foreign Policy
The peace is a sacred trust. To this end, America must remain forever the strongest power on earth. She must renege on her policies of isolation and appeasement. She must deal with the aggressors.

Domestic Policy
The strong abroad we must have at home. The greatest danger to the home front is selfish minority pressure.

Few Congressmen have been as active or outspoken against the groups as have I. The dangerous of these groups is Political Action Committee.

led by communistic Russian Sidney Hillman. I have been active in defeating some of the radical schemes of said groups, such as the FEPC and the National Labor Relations Board, which sought to guarantee employment at government expense.

because of my effective opposition to its program of nationalization, because of my condemnation of its dangerous political activities, the PAC-CIO is active against me and has placed me at the top of its purge list for a vote for Ed Gossett is a vote against this gang which seeks to dominate and destroy American democracy.

Since I came to Congress I have spoken, worked and voted on labor policy. On June 1, I stood on the floor of the House and criticized the President's failure to deal firmly with the forces of industry and labor.

I condemned monopolies, insisted on equal restrictions and equal rights for both the bosses and the labor; and have fought to the rights of any individual. I called for action of John L. Lewis when he took the coal mines in the midst of the war. I was the first member of Congress to condemn his coal strike and to predict its consequences. The government should protect equal rights for all citizens from racketeering.

Gossett touched on bureau regimentation, agricultural compensation and the assistance.

MIGHTY ATOM . . . The grim secret and the revelation of the horrifying effects of radioactivity following the atom bombing of Japan was given the world here by a man of science who saw it. He is Col. Paul D. Keller, 98th division surgeon stationed at Gsaka. He asserted Japanese scientists knew the "how" of the atom bomb but could not put it to work. The above picture, furnished by Colonel Keller, shows the twisted remains of a railroad right-of-way in the bombed area.

Seymour's Rodeo and Old Settlers' Reunion, July 25-27

Final preparations have been made to stage the Golden Anniversary of the Rodeo and Old Settlers' Reunion at Seymour, Texas, on July 25th, 26th and 27th. Night shows only will be held beginning at 8:30 with elimination contests during the day, but something doing all the time.

The rodeo grounds have been freshly painted with a silver gray and additional chutes have been added, also 1,500 additional seats in addition to the huge stadium already on the ground.

The program will consist of all major rodeo events, dances, street parades and the Old Settlers' Picnic.

The rodeo grounds are situated on top of a hill and have one of the finest Bermuda grass arenas in the state. No heat, no dust and will be illuminated with powerful flood lights.

Seymour is the originator of the two ring arena in the South where you will see one of the fastest shows produced anywhere. At the Seymour rodeo, you will see more broncs and Brahma bulls attempted to be ridden at one performance than at any other rodeo in Texas. There will also be special feature attractions that have never been shown anywhere before in Texas.

$3,000.00 cash prizes will be given the contestants in all contests with special added prizes.

Seymour is recognized as having the largest original amateur show in Texas, as professional performers are barred from this show. The rodeo grounds join the City Park where there are 35 acres of well shaded camp grounds with electric lights, city water, barbecue pits, tables and benches and everyone is cordially invited to bring chuck wagon, bed roll or camping outfit and make free use of these facilities, as the people of Seymour expect to try and make every one feel at home.

Interment followed in the Crowell cemetery under direction of Womack Funeral Home.

Charles Thomas Schlagal was born in Salem, Washington County, Ind., on Feb. 8, 1867, and came to Texas, to the Margaret community in 1907. He married Miss Evelyn Thompson in Salem on Dec. 13, 1887. Six children were born to the couple, all of whom survive. Mr. Schlagal opened a barber shop in Crowell in 1909 and operated same until ill health caused him to sell it in 1941.

He had been active in affairs of his town, county and state and after having served as sheriff in Indiana, served a long period as mayor of Crowell. ## Employers Being Furnished Workers Under New Program

Several hundred Texas workers have been placed on jobs under a newly inaugurated U. S. E. S. program, S. H. Southall, manager, reported Tuesday.

The new regional clearance program is operated to assist employers who need special types of workers, as well as to benefit communities having unemployment.

The plan involves shifting of unemployed workers in labor surplus areas into localities where employers indicate need for their skills. Each USES office in the Fort Worth district is integrated with all others in the region, which includes Texas, Louisiana, and New Mexico, to provide a maximum amount of information on labor supplies and demands.

The Vernon office area is always given first attention in the placement programs as the process of matching workers and jobs locally is the primary aim of each USES office.

Examination of the application files have shown workers with skills for which no jobs are open here in the Vernon office area. This plan for clearing workers to other points in the state, region or nation will place workers in jobs where there is need for their skills and also help the Vernon office employers find workers with the qualifications which they want.

Explaining the workings of the clearance plan, S. H. Southall, manager, said that every two weeks USES offices receive reports from the 136 offices in various parts of the nation giving the number of job hunters in their files having skills which cannot be placed locally. Also included are jobs for which qualified workers are not available locally and a list of occupations for which the demand for workers is anticipated.

Following are examples of some of the clearance openings now listed with one or more of the 146 offices in the region:

Chemists, manager advertising, cabinet makers, planer operators, electricians, draftsman, stenographers, upholsterers, carpenters, bricklayers.

Candidates and Rotarians Will Compete in Soft Ball

The Crowell Parent Teacher Association is sponsoring a softball game in Crowell Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock between the members of the Rotary Club and the candidates.

The proceeds of the contest will be used by the PTA unit to furnish a room in the school building for their own meeting place during the school year.

This game should furnish plenty of thrills with some old-time players showing how the game should be played. The following will see action in the game: Candidates—Ebb Seales, Foster Davis, Howard Gamble, Bill Bell, Ed Dunn, Ernest Breedlove, Pete Gohin, Leslie Thomas, Charles Ferguson, R. N. Barker, Rude Magoon, Jimmie Franklin, Joe Johnson, A. B. Wisdom, Bill Bond, Tom Bursey.

Rotarians—Grady Halbert, Allen Sheppard, Rolla Jones, Marion Crowell, Grady Graves, Jim Cates, Jack Seale, Virgil Smith, Richard Ferguson, Merl Kincaid, Joe Burkett, James Weiss, Hubert Brown, Herbert Edwards, Archie Howell, George Self and Irving Fisch.

The local ball park is the place. Saturday, 8:30 p. m. is the time.

PTA Gives Reasons For Membership in PTA Unit

Mrs. Henry Earl Thomson, publicity chairman of the local Parent Teacher Association, has submitted the following explanation of reasons for joining the PTA.

"Today parents are eager as never before to understand the educational process, to know what the schools are doing and why. In turn, they want to support the public schools, morally and financially, and to join the teachers in maintaining it on a high level of efficiency. The Parent Teacher Association provides a common ground to bring these two groups together in a better understanding of the privileges and responsibilities of each.

"Every patron of the schools or persons interested in the welfare of children is eligible for membership. If you are already a member of the P. T. A., we solicit your renewal of membership at your earliest convenience and new members are always welcome. Let us come together and study the problems and needs of the children and school and work to maintain high standards."

1946 School Tax Roll Completed

The 1946 tax roll of the Crowell Independent School District has been completed by L. A. Andrews, Assessor-Collector, and payments are now being accepted.

The total taxable value of property in the district for year 1946 is $1,786,220.00 whereas the 1945 value was $1,715,470.00. This shows an increase of $70,750.00 and is due primarily to natural growth, such as new homes and other buildings.

C. P. Sandifer was again the first to pay current school taxes, he having paid his 1946 taxes this week and received official receipt No. 1.

Tax collections for the year 1945 were extraordinarily good, as a total of ninety-seven (97) per cent was collected and before taxes became delinquent. This is all time high record for collection of school taxes in this district.

Deadline for Getting Pictures of Service Men and Women in World War II History Book Set for Sat., July 27

Since the deadline for getting pictures and write-ups in the Foard County World War II History Book is set for Saturday, July 27, only a short time, two weeks and two days, remain for parents or other relatives to see that a picture and brief history of every veteran in the county is included in this book.

There were between 500 and 600 men and women in Foard County who served in World War II and it is very much desired that a picture of every one can be obtained. The largest number of pictures and write-ups that can be secured will make the book just that much more interesting and valuable and should include EVERY single individual who rendered service.

The News staff would make the book complete, but it is entirely dependent upon the co-operation of the service men and women or their relatives to accomplish such a huge undertaking.

Up to the present time, the response has been entirely satisfactory. Tuesday afternoon more than 250 pictures had been received and they are still coming in regularly. However, this is far short of the full number of courageous men and women who responded to the call of their country in whatever capacity it may have been and served well in the struggle for victory.

Bank Deposits Up Over $700,000 in First Half of Year

Total deposits in the Crowell State Bank on June 29, were $2,909,671.64, according to the bank statement being printed in this issue of the paper. This amount is an increase of $728,516.31 over deposits for the December 31, 1945, call, and probably exceeds bank deposits at any time since the first bank was organized in Crowell.

Total liabilities and total capital accounts of the Crowell State Bank, as shown in the statement, are $3,190,682.13.

Officers and stockholders of the local bank are R. L. Kincaid, president; J. M. Hill, vice president; Lee Black, cashier; Merl Kincaid, active vice president; Floy Haney, assistant cashier; Edna M. Hill and H. E. Ferguson.

July 31 Dead Line to Report Farming on Contour of Row Crop

The County Committee of Foard County ACA has ruled that July 31 will be the last date for reporting performance for contour farming of row crop, according to A. V. Sheppard, secretary of county committee.

All producers who have obtained approvals from the county office for contour farming of row crop are urged to report this practice as soon as possible, but it is necessary that all producers report their performance before July 31. This is necessary because no performance can be accepted after July 31. All producers are urged to give this matter their immediate attention so that they will not lose the payment for which they are otherwise eligible.

AGRICULTURE in County

(Joe E. Burkett, County Agent) SOIL TESTING LABORATORY ESTABLISHED

A soil testing laboratory has been set up at Texas A. & M. College to make chemical analysis of soil samples. The service, as set up by the Board of Directors, is open to the general public. The laboratory will be operated by the Division of Chemistry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, in co-operation with the School of Agriculture and the Extension Service. Fees will be charged ranging from 25 cents for pH test to $7.50 for a complete soil analysis.

An analysis of a sample of soil improperly taken is without value," Dr. J. F. Fudge, who is to be in charge of the laboratory, pointed out. He urged that persons wishing to submit soil samples write to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas, and ask for sampling directions.

Information with reference to the soil, its use and location, is also needed, and a form provided by the laboratory must be filled out and returned with the soil sample.

After the analysis is completed the results will be turned over to the Extension Service where M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist, and his associates will make recommendations for the improvement of the soil in the light of the chemical content and history.

The county agricultural or home demonstration agent in the county concerned will receive a copy of the analysis and recommendations, and will be able to aid in the solution of any other problem which may arise in the light of local conditions.

BE ON ALERT FOR TERMITES

Termites are found in every section of Texas and do as much damage in this state as elsewhere in the nation, according to Charles A. King, Jr., entomologist for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, who is recommending a vigorous war against these under-cover agents.

It is especially important now to conserve lumber and other cellulose building materials necessary for repairs, remodeling, and essential construction. He points out. Termite damage in the nation is estimated at 337 million dollars every year.

The next few weeks termites still will be swarming, which makes them easy to discover. Termites are what is known as white ants and can fly during the swarming season. Later they lose their wings. The pests form concealed canals in which they travel and can eat away wood until "you'll step through the dining room floor before you know they're around," King warns.

If infestation is discovered, consult local county Extension Service agents on control. King advises. Measures also are listed in Farmers Bulletin 1911 issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Where new construction is planned, King recommends these precautions: Remove all wood or cellulose materials from the building site. Don't place any untreated timber in contact with the ground. Make sure there is at least 18 inches of clearance under buildings which don't have cellars, basements, or concrete slab foundations. Provide good drainage and cross ventilation under buildings of frame construction. Allow at least two feet of screened opening for every 25 lineal feet of wall. Seal spaces around pipes and other floor or wall openings with coal tar pitch. Inspect for termites at least twice a year.

GARDEN, LAWN JOBS LISTED FOR JULY

Home gardeners and landscapers need to look ahead, for jobs done now will pay rich dividends in the fall.

For flowers which bloom in the fall, plant now amaranthus, cockscomb, cosmos, four o'clocks, marigolds, periwinkles, petunias, portulaca, sunflowers, zinnia, and zinnia, advises Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service.

She suggests planting these in half-shade, using a cold frame or canvas covering to protect the seedlings from the hot sun. Some thriving young plants now may be placed in the full sun. These include ageratum, bachelor's button, cockscomb, cosmos, four o'clocks, cosmos, periwinkle, petunia, salvia and zinnia.

Bulbs and tubers which may be planted in July are dahlias, gladiolus, oxalis, water hyacinths, water lilies, and waterpoppies. Texas bluebonnet seed may be sowed now, but these will not come up until fall, so plant where they are to remain, the specialist says.

Where fall blooming plants are forming long awkward branches, these may be cut or pinched back. Among those which may require attention are dahlias, chrysanthemums, poinsettias, and liatris. Tall growing plants may need to be staked. Cuttings made of shrubs, trees and many flowers (such as petunias and carnations) will root immediately now if given half shade and plenty of moisture.

The specialist gives this advice on watering: Give all plants a long slow soaking and let them show signs of thirst before water-

Remedy for the Blues

People sometimes complain of having the blues, of suffering from melancholy thoughts. Someone suggests that it might help the blues of some of them, if they would get out and get some reds in the face through active exercise.

There is some truth in that idea. One man who was an enthusiastic golfer used to say that when he got depressed about his work or something, it helped him to get out on the golf links. He forgot about his troubles while he was zipping the ball over the grass. Any form of activity seems to give people more confidence in their own ability, and a feeling that they will be able to rise above their troubles.

As one just sits at home and broods over his difficulties or fears, these seem to count more than they should. The active exercise is likely to restore his confidence and hope.

Allan Shivers Cites Platform

Senator Allan Shivers' platform for lieutenant governor briefly includes: Real assistance to Texas war veterans, increased salaries for teachers, a first-class university for the colored, better highways and farm-to-market roads, redistributing full payment of old-age pensions, reorganization of the legislature with 60-day sessions each year, an expanded public health program, reorganization of the pardon and parole system, equal responsibility for both labor and management, economy in state government.

And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.—Zachariah 8:8.

It is the labor leaders and management of industry who get together and quibble and quibble over wage increases but it is John Q. Public who pays the bill. Incidentally under the present scheme old John has no voice whatever in the matter, except to ask, "how much?"

Noting our calendar says that the year is half gone, we are again impressed with the old but true saying, "Time flies."

More and more it is becoming evident that if the people of this country want the best type of government for all the people they must turn out and vote at every election. The pressure groups and those with axes to grind always turn out and vote to the man. Figures show that a little over half the people in the country vote at any election. If we, the people, want truly representative government we are going to have to bestir ourselves at election times and vote. Unless all the people vote we will not have representative government. In fact we have representative government in about the same ratio that the voters turn out to vote.

It should mean something to the starving people in other parts of the world that there are 2,500 flour mills in this country that are shut down because of the export of wheat and grain to famine areas of the world. The other countries of the world may doubt our sincerity about some things but when it comes to stripping our own cupboards to feed them there should be no doubt about the sincerity to that.

It wasn't Billy Conn who took the whipping in the recent Louisville fight in Yankee Stadium, New York. It was the boxing sport. It will be some time before sufficient confidence is restored in fight managers that a million dollar gate will be possible in a boxing contest. Charging $100 to see a contest which the management must have known wouldn't be worth the money won't make friends for managers or the sport.

A lot of folks get behind in their letter writing for the reason that they try to write too long letters. Several short letters at reasonable intervals are better than long letters at widely separated intervals.

The ideal condition in a government would be to have the people who make the money, spend it.

HISTORY

Creation of the War Department—August 7.

The War Department of the United States was created by the Act of August 7, 1789, passed at the first session of the First Congress. It was the second of the executive departments to be set up by the government. As originally set up the War Department had jurisdiction over Army and the Navy. In 1798 the two departments were separated.

Birthday of Izaak Walton—August 9: Izaak Walton was born August 9, 1593, in the parish of St. Mary, Stafford, England. At the age of eighteen he went to London where he became a worker in an iron foundry. In 1653 he published a book, "The Compleat Angler, or the Contemplative Man's Recreation." It, at once met with popular approval and five additions were published before his death. Since his death over a hundred editions have been published. Because of his book fishermen are referred to as disciples of Izaak Walton. A large number of fishing clubs, large and small, in this country are named in his honor.

What We Think

(By Frank Dines)

I lived in the period preceding and immediately following World War I. I experienced rise in prices that continued until they reached, up to that time, unheard of peaks, and which ended in the crash of 1929 and the depression that followed.

I saw during that period, in the space of a few years, a complete change in the economy of the nation—a change from even, normal, peace time operation to the wild era of speculation in which all time high prices were paid for anything and everything. People seemed to lose all regard for money. They were concerned only with the possession of things. This period was followed by the crash in 1929 in which inflated values went to pieces, and, almost overnight, people became concerned with money rather than things, and the country started on the swift toboggan into the depression which lasted until the war in Europe.

The depression took down with it many who had previously felt their financial position secure. It presented an impasse to business and development and progress that the best business minds of the day could not penetrate or surmount. As we went deeper into the depression the question became not one of overcoming the depression but of surviving it. Survival by business was accomplished only by radical retrenchment and rigid economies which but further added to its woes.

The point was finally reached when the government was forced to step in, and, by a system of doles, support several million who suddenly found themselves without means of a livelihood. The paternalism of the government was finally brought to a complete end when the war in Europe opened up new markets for the industries of this country and created employment for workers.

At this point I want to call attention to the fact that the pattern which preceded the inflationary period of the late 1920's, and which ended in the debacle in 1929, and the subsequent depression, was no different than the pattern which is being followed today. We are doing exactly the same things today that we did in the late twenties in exactly the same way, and in my opinion, we are heading for the same unfortunate condition.

I do not see how we can possibly escape it. There is the same heedlessness that was in evidence in the late twenties, the same blind disregard of the consequences, the same ruthless emphasis on today and today only.

I do not presume that anything that I might say will influence one single person to step out of the crushing crowd and trim his sails for the inevitable storm. I have lived long enough to know that you can't talk to a man of peace when the red lust of battle burns in his veins and you cannot talk of moderation when the mob spirit is in the air.

If I were to advise anyone it would be to keep free from the lure of the whirlpool, refrain from all panic and needless buying and get all the resources possible in sound savings that will not suffer a collapse in value when the crack-up comes—as I have a conviction it will.

It will not come this year nor possibly in 1947, but it is coming as surely as the stars are in the heavens and it is going to take down with it the usual quota of heedless ones who refuse to read the clear cut record of the past, and who believe that by some magic they can escape the inevitable day of payment.

The United States Supreme Court has received considerable unsavory publicity the past few weeks. It needs working over. The Supreme Court is the most dignified department of our government and like Caesar's wife should be above suspicion.

After all it is a good thing for the American people to experience a shortage once in a while. Otherwise in this land of plenty we are in danger of taking abundance too much for granted. We take for granted abundance and sometimes forget to be thankful for it.

"You have to be a trained seal to balance a budget days!" complains Mrs. Brodie.
"Everything costs so much! Take clothing—when you get it," says Mrs. Brodie, "and look at the price tag—food—that's simply skyrocketed! House furnishings—find a house to furnish—are way up!"

"Electricity has been coming down steadily for years!" says Mrs. Brodie, "is just about the thing in my budget to balance!"

To the Citizens of Foard County:

Especially to you whom I will miss in going around over the county, I want to be better acquainted with you and you with me.

I moved to Foard County 46 years ago with my parents. I was one year old at the time. I have lived at Crowell ever since, except some 2 1/2 or 3 years that I spent in the Armed Forces of the U. S. in World War I. I saw combat service in France during that war. I am aware of the importance of the job I am asking you people for. I have had some experience in police work. I was on the Police Force in the State of Washington in 1944 up near Seattle.

Enforcing the law is no small task, but I believe, if given an opportunity, I can work for the people of the county and State satisfactorily to a majority of you.

Now, if I do not see you individually and you do not know me too well, please ask your neighbor about me. He will know me. Then if you think I am capable of handling or performing the duties of the Sheriff's Office, state your approval by voting for me July 27th. I will try, and with your help, I am sure that I will make you a good officer.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 14

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JESUS AND SUPREME LOYALTY TO GOD

Lesson Text—Exodus 20:3-6; Joshua 24:18, Luke 14:25-27.

Memory Selection—No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.—Matthew 6:24.

The first three commandments bring man into the presence of God, where he is taught how to worship God in spirit and in truth.

"The first commandment (Exod. 20:3) bids us worship God exclusively; the second (vv. 4-6) bids us worship him spiritually. The first commandment forbids us to worship false gods; the second forbids us to worship the true God under false forms" (Farrar).

We shall lose much of the value of our lesson if we confine the application of it to Israel. We miss the point if we think only of the gods of wood and stone which the heathen worship and fail to apply the truth to any and all idol worship of our day.

The loyalty to God of which our lesson text teaches may be summarized in four words. It is a loyalty of

I. Purpose (Exod. 20:3). Jehovah means, "I will be what I will be," or "I am that I am." (Exod. 3:14). His very name declares God to be the self-existent, eternal one. How infinitely gracious then is the use of the word "thy" in Exodus 10:2! He—the great I AM—is my God, a personal God. It must be our constant purpose to worship him only.

There are many things concerning which we do not speak dogmatically. There are even Christian doctrines about which spiritual and earnest men may honestly differ, but regarding God we say with absolute assurance and complete exclusiveness—there is but one true God. If he is what he claims to be, if God is not to be declared to be a liar, then it is beyond the realm of possibility that there could be any other God.

Hear it, men and women of America who in an enlightened land and age bow down in heathenish worship "before the god of gold, the god of self, the god of wine, the god of success, the god of fame, the goddess of pleasure, the god of licentiousness." The one true god says, "I am Jehovah.

Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

II. Performance (Exod. 20:4-6). What is in the heart must show in the life. The second commandment calls for the undivided devotion and worship of man. It expressly forbids idolatry in any form. The injunction is twofold.

(1) Men are forbidden to make any material likeness which to them represents a being to be worshiped. It matters not whether it be an image of what men believe God to be like, or the image of an angelic being, a heavenly body, in fact, "anything that is in the heaven above," or on the earth, such as a man or animal; or under the water, such as a fish. (2) If such objects have been made either by ourselves or others we may not bow down to them, nor render any service to them. Let us all examine our religious ceremonies and practices in the light of God's commandment.

Observe that obedience to this command brings rich blessing to "thousands" (v. 6), whereas disobedience is a curse not only to the man who disobeys, but also to his descendants.

III. Promise (Josh. 24:16, 22-24).

Before the aged leader of Israel came to the close of his life he called leaders of the people, whom he had led in the taking of the Promised Land, and urged them to continue in the way of faith and loyalty to God.

They promised rather readily, but he made clear to them that God was not interested in lip service. They were to prove their promise by putting away all strange gods. This they agreed to do. Wherein they failed, they suffered defeat, and wherein they kept their promise, God blessed them. We may learn from their experience.

IV. Practice (Luke 14:25-27). It is not always necessary to choose between our natural affections for those near to us and our loyalty to Christ, but if the time comes for that decision, Christ must come first without question and without hesitation (cf. Matt. 10:37).

The word "hate" (v.26) does not carry with it any thought of malice or personal dislike. We know from other scriptures that we are to honor our father and our mother (Exod. 20:12). The one who fails his own is declared to be worse than an infidel (1 Tim. 5:8).

The point is that no personal loyalty or responsibility is to stand in the way of our devotion to Christ. Our own lives must be counted as a glad sacrifice to him as we take up our cross—in the crucifixion of self-will and devotion to his will (see Gal. 2:20; 6:14).

Under Texas Skies

(By A. Garland Adair, Curator of History, Texas Memorial Museum.)

Publishers and editors who gathered recently at Corpus Christi for their annual Texas Press convention heard reports from fellow members regarding the rural improvement program initiated by the Texas Centennial of Statehood Commission. They were also informed that every member of the association will be invited to become members of the centennial commission as rapidly as the invitations and letters of appointment by the governor can be written.

While the commission co-ordinated historical observances will continue to be held throughout the year, the revitalization of Texas agriculture, second phase of the commission's scheduled program, is destined to project itself into the second century of statehood.

Following the American Legion sponsored program at Brenham and Old Washington, held the 27th and 28th of June, another centennial program, featuring the life of San Houston, will be held at Huntsville on July 26th, one day prior to the democratic primary. Then on December 12, at Galveston, a program will be given commemorating the centennial of the first federal court in Texas.

Responding to the suggestion of Commission Chairman, Karl Hobbittzelle of Dallas, work was begun four years ago in the interest of a program that would project itself into and through the next century. The revitalization of rural life in Texas was decided upon by a committee of representatives of all of the leading industries, institutions and business concerns of the State.

The Centennial Commission proposes that the State of Texas, at its next legislature, create and finance a co-ordinating and fact finding commission to assist farmers through rural community planning.

The eleven proposed Commissioners of the "Texas Rural Development Commission" are to serve in official capacities, and are to be a policy-making body. The members are to be nominated by the governor and approved by the legislature. Their terms are to be four years, with their initial appointments to be of such duration as to perpetually stagger their replacements through the years.

Commissioners are to be selected as follows: One from the University of Texas; one from the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas; one from the State Department of Education; one from Texas Tech; one from the State Department of Agriculture; three to be nominated by the executive committees of the three regional Chambers of Commerce of Texas; and three laymen, one of whom shall be a dirt farmer and one a cattleman.

The first United States mint was established in Philadelphia. It has been in continuous operation since 1793.

Lamour, de Cordova Starred in Musical

Director Mitchell Leisen has concocted another formula for fun and frolic which can be summed up in three words, "Masquerade in Mexico," the Paramount picture which will be shown at the Rialto Theater on Sunday and Monday, June 14 and 15. Dorothy Lamour and Arturo de Cordova will be starred and are supported by Patrick Knowles, Ann Dvorak, George Rigaud and Mikhail Rasumny.

According to preview commentaries, it's a gay whirl of music, merriment and breath-taking costumes which definitely make the Dorothy Lamour of the old srong days seem comparatively demure. She is reputedly more glamorous than ever in the svelte, sophisticated creations designed by Edith Head.

Home Town Thoughts
A city where people take pride in their home institutions and business development, is likely to be making constant gains and further improvement.
If a town is not trying to make constant gains in the advantages it offers, it is to be feared it will lose out in competition with more progressive places.
Some people claim that advertising is not read by the general public. Newspaper people know that if they make a mistake, a lot of people notice it. Advertising is still more conspicuous, and people read it eagerly.

Good Support Needed
When plans to accomplish any desired improvement are started in a community, a good degree of popular support is usually needed to accomplish these gains. The backing of a lot of people is needed to talk about the proposed improvement, and convince people that the defect complained of or the gain desired should be remedied or accomplished.
A good deal of agitation is often necessary to accomplish desired gains. Committee meetings may be necessary, perhaps a public meeting should be arranged, and public speakers may be needed. Where a lot of people take hold to help in such plans, enthusiasm is aroused, support is gained, and the desired improvement is likely to be accomplished.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Kenneth S. Wuest, Member of the Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Jesus of Nazareth, Who Is He?
Modernism claims that Christ is only human, and just one of the many religious leaders. But in Hebrews 1:1-3 we find that he is better than they in eight particulars.

First, he is the Son of God, therefore, very God of very God; they were only human beings.

Second, he has inherited all things. Third, he is the Creator of the universe and the organizer and controller of all its activities. Fourth, he is the brightness, the outshining of God's glory. That is, there radiates from him as from God the Father and God the Spirit the glory of the essence of deity, for he is a co-participant with the other Persons of the Triune God in the essence of deity.

Fifth, he is the express image of God in that he is the expression of the substance of deity. Jesus of Nazareth gave the human race a picture of what God was like. He as God the Son lived in a human body and expressed himself through that body. Sixth, he upholds and controls the movements of the universe. He rotates the earth upon its axis and sends it in its revolutions around the sun. Seventh, he paid for sin on the cross by his death, and has thus provided salvation for the believing sinner. Eighth, he is seated on the right hand of God, the place reserved for the Son of God.

What do you think of Jesus of Nazareth now? Is he your God and Saviour? If not, won't you just now believe that he died for you on the cross, and trust him as your Saviour from sin.
"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house" (Acts 16:31).

Man Had Brick in His Stomach for 10 Years

Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

Control of Atom Bombs

The American people would be likely to favor very strongly the international control of the production and use of atomic energy in warfare. A force which is capable of producing such terrible destruction, needs the combined power of all nations to see that it is not used for aggression and conquest.

When it comes to organizing such international control, the attitude of Russia becomes a major consideration. The Russian government shows such suspicion of the aims and plans of the democratic countries, that it seems unlikely, as things now stand, that it would permit its scientific laboratories and producing plants to come under the inspection of an international atom control commission.

If Russia will not permit thorough international inspection of these facilities, it seems unlikely that the United States would allow the representatives of Russia to participate in inspection of its own work on atomic energy.

It requires a staff of seventeen persons in Washington to handle the millions of dollars of torn and burned currency sent in from all parts of the country for redemption.

Strict Personal Hygiene Important to Protect Health

Austin.—In addition to the general instructions for community sanitation which are important in preventing poliomyelitis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, this week issued an urgent warning to every individual in Texas to practice strict personal hygiene to protect his own health and that of those about him.

"Of course, cleanliness and personal hygiene are ordinarily taken for granted," Dr. Cox said, "but at this time with the incidence of poliomyelitis having reached a total of 292 cases, I would like to re-emphasize some personal sanitary measures which may help in preventing the spread of this crippling and often fatal disease."

The State Health Officer stressed the importance of scrupulous cleanliness of the person. Frequent bathing and immaculately clean clothing are vitally necessary. Oral hygiene with thorough brushing of the teeth and the use of a mild antiseptic are recommended. The nasal passages should be kept clean and dental defects corrected immediately.

Sanitation and thorough cleanliness in the home are instinctive with the average housewife, but at this time their importance to health must be re-emphasized.

Home sanitation includes those taken-for-granted measures such as washing the dishes in hot, soapy water and rinsing them in hot, clear water; keeping sinks, bathtubs and fixtures scoured clean and rinsed with a mild antiseptic solution; sunning and airing bed clothes, ridding the home of flies, rats and roaches which, since poliomyelitis is believed to be a filth-borne disease, are suspected as being responsible for transmission.

"If good personal hygiene is combined with good community sanitation and hygiene, it is hard for any disease to get a foothold," Dr. Cox said. With such a dread disease as poliomyelitis prevalent in the state, no precaution should be overlooked and no bars should be left down for its entrance."

The steel and coal strikes resulted in a loss of 13,000,000 tons of steel which cannot be made up this year, say steel officials.

One-fourth of the pepper consumed in the United States is used by the meat packers.

Home Town Initiative

There are many people who can see defects in their home town, but many of them are not likely to do anything about these faults. When successful movements of improvement are started, they are apt to start with a few people determined to do something about these defects. So they talk and argue about the necessity of making these improvements.

They may bring these situations up before some organization, and ask what can be done to accomplish the desired improvement. Their constant effort convinces many that something should be done to secure the desired gains. So movements to make such an improvement get adherents. A town owes a great deal to the people who had the initiative to start such improvement movements.
