Laymen's Revival Ends at Methodist Church Sunday

One of the most successful revival meetings ever to be conducted at the Crowell Methodist Church came to a close with the Sunday night service. Services were held only at night, except on the two Sundays included in the 8-day meeting, and large crowds attended each service.

Judge Leslie Thomas, teacher of the Down Town Bible Class, a Bible student of unusual ability, and a forceful speaker, did the preaching. His constant appeal was for sinners to become Christians by accepting Christ as their personal Saviour. Judge Thomas made it plain from the start that he was interested only in the salvation of souls and the revival of "lukewarm" church members, regardless of the denomination to which they belong.

Great interest was manifested throughout the series of services and the crowning event came with the two services Sunday, morning and evening, when the altar was thronged with people as converts or for re-dedication.

Sam Mills conducted the song service.

Special prayer meetings were held for all groups each day. An early morning prayer meeting for the men was held at 6 a. m. and also one at 6:30 p. m. each day. The women's and young people's prayer meetings were also held in the evening.

Rev. Grady Adecock, pastor of the church, says, "It was the greatest manifestation of God's power working on the hearts of the people that I have ever witnessed in my life."

The next meeting of Council will be held on March 12.

National Home Demonstration Week will be May 1-7 and Council members were asked to discuss this with their clubs so that county-wide plans could be made at the next meeting.

Daily Production of Crude Oil in Foard County on Increase

Estimated daily crude oil production for Foard County has been increasing for the past several weeks, according to production figures printed each week in the Sunday edition of the Wichita Daily Times for the North Texas (Wichita Falls) District. Daily production for the county for last week was 363 barrels and for the previous week 365 barrels.

Reports from new producing wells in the Thalia field no doubt accounts for the increased production. Up until a few weeks ago, the daily estimate was around 200 barrels per day.

Feature at Rialto March 2 and 3 Will Be Billy Graham Picture

Religion's man of the year, Billy Graham, will be featured on the Rialto Theatre screen Wednesday and Thursday, March 2 and 3, in "The Mighty Forest." It is an inspiring story centering around the resurgence of religious faith in the world today. The press across America and Europe have proclaimed Billy Graham as the world's number one preacher today; and to him, is a great deal of the credit due for the spiritual awakening at this time. Time Magazine says, "Billy Graham is the best-known, most talked-about Christian leader in the world today. He sincerely considers himself nothing but a tool of God."

Completing the program at the Rialto next Wednesday and Thursday will be "The Bob Mathias Story," featuring this country's greatest present-day athlete and certainly a model for all American youth.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
COURTESY

Courtesy is the one medium of exchange which is accepted at par by the best people of every country on the globe. It is sentiment, cloaked in reasonable and businesslike expression. It is the embellishment which adds tone and harmony to matter-of-fact routine. It is the oil which lubricates the machinery of commercial good fellowship, and promotes the smooth running of the many units of an organization.

DR. HAYDEN I. JENKINS VETERINARIAN
 504 W. 10th St. Phone 54
 Quanah, Texas

Courtesy radiates a spirit of good feeling which assures us that we are not working entirely for what we get out of work in a material way, but for the pleasure of polite, transaction and friendly association as well. Life is not too short, and we are never too busy to be courteous. No man is too big to be courteous, but some are too little.

SEARCH ON FOR SCIENTISTS WITH ENGLISH AND SPEECH ABILITIES

There has been a growing recognition, which is borne out by facts and figures, that there is a shortage of men in the scientific field in the United States who also have expression of speech and choice of words as well as ability in their special field.

This is reflected in the fact that the views of the men in the engineering and scientific fields are seldom able to express their opinion to the public or to their employees, as they cannot speak with clearness and poise or write without making too many errors. The select group engaged in this vocation possess perhaps the highest average of any group in the United States. If they could express their opinions and views, it could be a great influence on the American people.

The field of engineering and science is open to high school students with more opportunities than ever before. If you are an average high school student, there are many opportunities in this field. It is one that you should consider when choosing your life's vocation. Adequately trained high school instructors are especially in demand.

The 6th grade students gave Mrs. Zelma Hulse a surprise birthday party last Friday, Feb. 18, in their classroom. They all joined in on "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Hulse to start the party. She received many gifts and cards.

OGLESBY SPEAKS AT CHS ASSEMBLY

Rev. Robert Oglesby, pastor of the Thalia Methodist Church, visited the High School auditorium last Tuesday, Feb. 15, to bring the faculty and students an inspiring message.

He stressed the need for preparation for our future daily lives as well as for our spiritual lives. He indicated that we should strive to be honest and sincere in everything that we do and to take God with us in our everyday actions and thoughts.

QUANAH LOSES TO CROWELL—THOMAS STONE

CHS gained this personality from Quanah this year. Thomas Stone, a tall dark haired boy with a dark complexion, has a cheerful "hello" for everyone he meets. He is our idol for this week. To the ones who know him, his outstanding characteristics are his "cool" manners and cheerful personality.

Regardless of time, season, or weather his favorite pastime is riding around with the gang and "shooting the bull." He has no outstanding movie stars. As for sports, he can think nothing better than an exerting basketball game topped by a tall glass of cold milk to renew his energy.

FRESHMAN PROJECT — BLOUSES AND SKIRTS

After a fairly successful campaign in which she struggled to teach the freshmen home economics classes the finer phases of the culinary arts, Mrs. Doyle Kenner, home economics instructor, has begun her new battle against ignorance on the subject of sewing. Using offensive strategy, she is carefully pointing out that anyone can sew; however, the students repeatedly return the fire in the form of "can't's." Nevertheless, they are fighting a losing battle and we are certain that Mrs. Kenner will eventually conquer all (with the exception of perhaps a few stragglers). At the immediate time, the hurried freshmen, numbering 25, are busily working on cotton shirts and blouses for the coming summer. A few have finished, but some are still ripping out zippers.

and Electra. The following played for Crowell: Roy Payne, Larry Sledge, Lockett, Prinitess Gidney, Cates, Harvey Smith, Owen, Ray Thomson, Jimmy and Melvin Washburn.

No gasoline—no, not a single one—has higher octane than
New 1955 GULF NO-NOX

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out

but octane alone is not enough ... New No-Nox burns clean!

Only a gasoline that burns clean can make its full octane power really work for you. Instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place; it moves the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—to the refinery.

more complete protection!

Gulf treats new NO-NOX to protect every part it touches against harmful deposits.

See for yourself: Compare clean piston "A" from engine using new NO-NOX with piston "B" from engine using the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline that Gulf refines out. Both pistons, at left, from Gulf test engines, ran the same number of hours under the same conditions.

Fill up with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference, right from the start, in full engine power that lasts. You'll get:

- More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines.
- Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most.
- Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

It's super-refined... to burn clean!
 The '55 gasoline for all high-compression engines

GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public

- We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox.
- It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection.
- This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by all the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

Farmer Named Outstanding Soil Conservationist

E. A. Kennedy of Chillicothe was named the "Outstanding Soil Conservation Farmer" of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, according to O. T. Holmes, board chairman, and received an award from the Quannah Chamber of Commerce at the 37th annual Chamber of Commerce banquet held in Quannah Monday night.

Kennedy was selected for this honor by the district board of supervisors for soil and water conservation practices carried out on his 809 acre farm during the past seven years. The farm is located 6 miles southwest of Chillicothe.

Not only has Kennedy installed the conservation practices but he continues to carry out all recurring practices and is one of the leading advocates of soil and water conservation methods in this district.

The practices carried out by Kennedy, who uses a diversified system of farming as recommended by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, is as follows: contour farming, 809 acres; cover crops, 809 acres; crop residue management, 809 acres; terracing, 19.4 miles; waterway development, 2; and rotation of hay and pasture, 10 acres.

Mr. Kennedy feels that one of his most important practices is cover crops, and some of his land has been covered with legumes three or four times during the seven-year period. Records show that Kennedy has increased the average yield of all crops on his entire farm about 30 per cent.

Not only is Kennedy a soil conservation farmer, but he serves as A. S. C. county chairman and is interested in and takes an active part in all community projects. Since becoming a district cooperator in 1948, all of Kennedy's cropland has been rotated and covered with a soil-building legume. Chinese green mung beans are one of the principal summer legumes used on his farm. As only 65 days are required for Mung beans to make a crop, Mr. Kennedy was able to harvest the beans and fallow his land for a period to store moisture before planting the next crop. Other legumes planted by Kennedy are Austrian winter peas, vetch, cowpeas, alfalfa and guar.

In addition to the 10.4 miles of terraces constructed on the Kennedy farm to conserve moisture and control water erosion, a waterway was constructed and established to alfalfa to take care of excess terrace water. Coupled with the contour farming and stubble mulching practices, Kennedy's farm is the outstanding soil conservation farm in the district for 1954.

Local Rotary Club Distributes Copies of "The 4-Way Test"

The Rotary Club of Crowell has chosen the distribution of "The Four-Way Test" as one of its projects for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the founding of Rotary. In this connection, it has had printed 1,600 blotters with the "Four-Way Test" to be distributed throughout the county to business firms and individuals. Each Crowell Rotarian has placed in his business a 12x18-inch framed Four-Way Test, and paid for one to be placed in the class rooms of the high school.

The Four-Way Test

1. Is it the TRUTH?
2. Is it FAIR to all concerned?
3. Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

These 25 words were written in 1922, during the depths of the depression, by Herbert J. Taylor of Chicago, who is President of Rotary International during its Golden Anniversary year. Assigned by creditors to save a company from bankruptcy, he found that debts were $400,000 more than its assets. His company made a good product but so did its competitors and they had the added

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

We are about to finish our demonstrations on Variety Meats and next month we will work on Barbecues.

Our clubs have all gotten off to a very good start this year and at the council meeting Saturday your presidents reported that you had voted to accept all the committee recommendations. I hope that you are actually making plans to carry out those recommendations now. Also each club has a copy of the THDA Plan of Work. These are actually recommendations from the THDA and I hope that you will consider them carefully and plan to carry out some of them too.

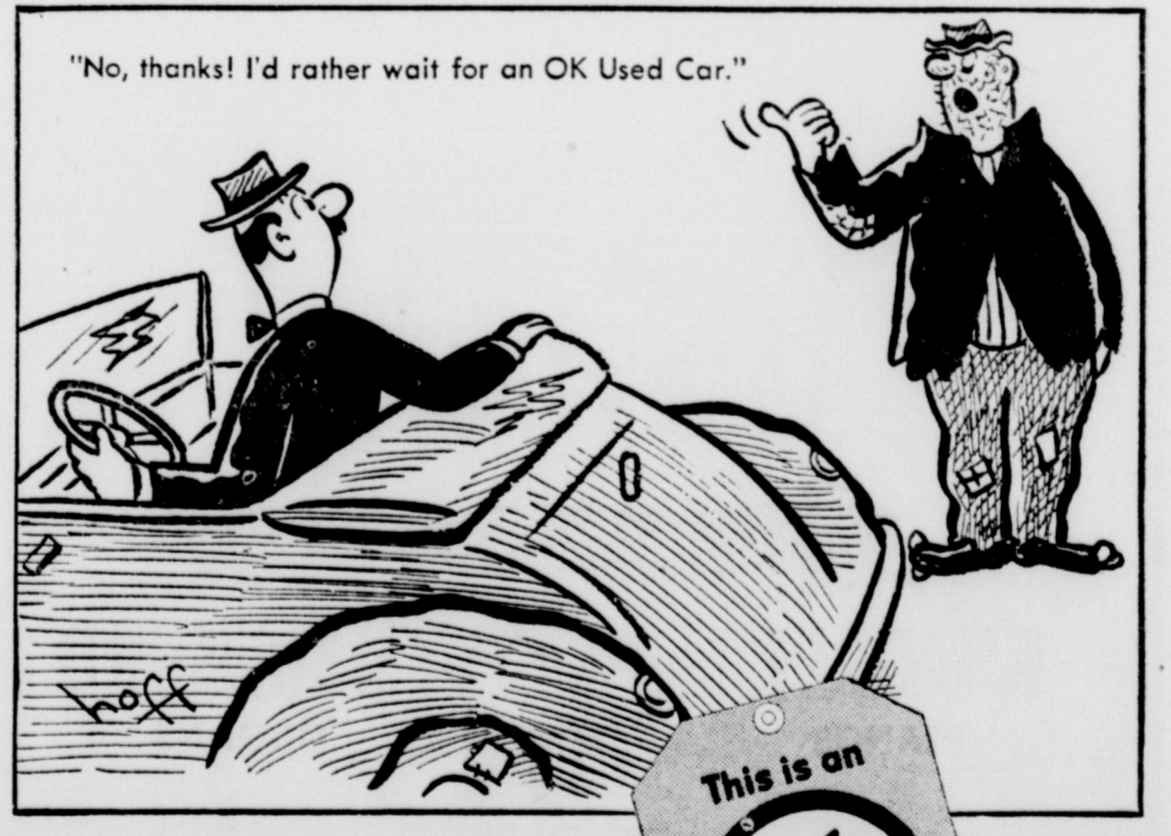

Mrs. W. M. Cox, who is vice chairman of council, was called on unexpectedly Saturday afternoon to preside at Council and she did a very nice job. If you are vice president of your club, it is your responsibility to be ready at all times to preside if necessary. With a little thought and study on it now, you can be as well prepared as Mrs. Cox was and do as nice a job.

Our recipe this week is for: Poached Dried Beef and Eggs: 1 package (4 oz.) dried beef, 1/2 cup cream, 4 eggs, 1/4 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese.

Use scissors to snip dried beef into shreds. Place in an 8-inch skillet and pour cream over beef. Cook slowly until cream is absorbed but beef is still moist. Break eggs onto hot beef. Sprinkle cheese around eggs. Cover. Cook over low heat for 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Austin Highlights

by Senator George Moffett

About 1400 bills are introduced in the Texas Legislature at its regular session each two years. These bills deal with a wide variety of subjects.

and thoroughly understand what is involved in each bill introduced. Consequently, worthwhile information is welcome about pending legislation.

A member particularly appreciates a letter that gives information as to why the writer is for or against a particular bill.

It is not unusual for a member of the Senate to receive 35 or 40 letters and telegrams each day, and he places a high value on those which supply information as to why a certain bill should be changed, or why it should, or should not, be passed.

Some members go away on week end trips; others use this period for catching up with their mail, writing amendments to bills that will come up later, or studying information on pending legislation.

In order for a bill to become a law, it must pass through each branch of the Legislature by a majority vote. If it is amended in the second branch, it must be returned to the original branch where a vote is taken as to the acceptability of amendments tacked on in the second branch. When so many bills are before the Legislature this is a cumbersome process, consequently not many bills make the full trip through the Legislature until after the first 60 days, and some do not make it at all.

Comments on particular subjects will be made in future communications.

State Capitol NEWS

by VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

Veterans land sale scandals overshadowed lawmaking in both branches of the Legislature for another week.

Investigations spread still wider. Involved were three departments of the state, both chambers of the Legislature, grand juries of Travis, Bexar and DeWitt counties, and probably others.

More of the approximately 80 "block deals" were brought before investigators.

Mike Rowan, a former executive secretary of the Veterans Land Board, testified that several legislators had exerted "unusual influence" to push veterans' applications through.

He named Senators Doyle Willis of Fort Worth and Warren McDonald of Tyler and Representative Douglas Bergman of Dallas. Rowan said it was "unfair" but he couldn't remember names of the others.

Dennis Wallace, longtime chief clerk of the Land Office, reported that his name had been "signed" by someone else, to minutes of the Veterans' Land Board.

So far Atty. Gen. Shepperd has filed nine suits for forfeiture of block sales and recovery of a total of $1,539,505 to the state.

Tax Slow Down With land sales taking legislative precedence, taxes, the Legislature's big problem, have taken a back seat.

Rep. Jerry Sadler sharply reminded the House revenue and taxation committee that the session was one-third over and no revenue bills had been reviewed or acted upon. He demanded an "immediate" hearing on his bill for a $3.30 per barrel hike on beer tax.

Rep. Charles J. Kirkham of Cleburne offered a new tax plan—a "read use" tax, as a substitute for the administration's two-cent gasoline tax hike proposal. So far the gas tax hasn't been heard by committee.

Kirkham's plan would levy a $5 fee on commercial motor vehicles, plus a graduated tax scale based on gross weight, ranging from six mills to 22 mills, all estimated revenue to go to highway purposes.

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

This week the House will consider a bill which, if passed, will increase the cotton allotment for this year. Briefly, the bill is as follows: It provides for an increase of three per cent in the allotment for each state. This should give Texas approximately 228,000 additional cotton acres. The first thing that will be action of the Secretary of State's office. The Senate bill has been heard and parked in sub-committee.

Water Bills, Too Favorable report has been given by a Senate committee to the administration's $100 million state bond issue plan for aid to water districts. Rival measures for the same amount of bonds have been put in House sub-committee.

Passed by the Senate were two of the water bills, regulating pollution from oil wells, and requiring reports to the state by water districts.

Advertising and Newspapers Representative Vernon E. Smith of Fort Worth introduced a bill specifically prohibiting the Board of Examiners in Optometry from making any regulations restricting optometrists' advertising.

Attorney General Shepperd had previously ruled void, such an order made by the board but rescinded.

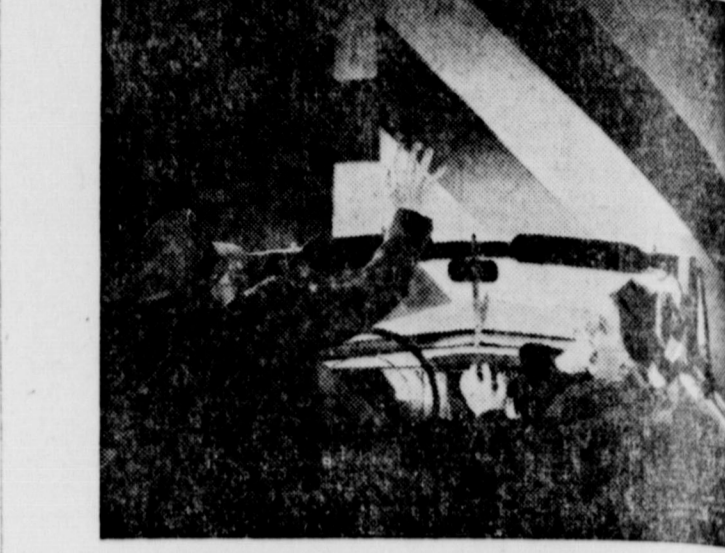

Rep. E. "Kika" de la Garza of Mission introduced a bill to prohibit any court, grand jury or legislative committee from attempting to compel a newspaper or press service employee from revealing the source of his information.

Red Ink "In the red" for the first time in 13 years is the State Treasurer Jesse James announced that banks have agreed to cash warrants without discount.

Treasury calls were set for the 5th and 20th of each month, and James said the time lag would not exceed 20 days. The general fund is to get back on a cash basis around May 1.

Auto Dealers' Fight Authorized car dealers won the first round of a bitter fight with the "independents" or used car dealers. A Senate committee voted a favorable report on Sen. Gus Strauss' bill to license all dealers. The bill also would prohibit sale of new cars by dealers not having agreements with manufacturers or distributors.

Completed with this additional acreage will be to bring every cotton allotment up to at least five acres. It will take approximately 28,000 acres to accomplish this which will leave roughly 200,000 acres to be distributed among the counties through the state, 10 per cent of which can be reserved to the state committee. In other words, the counties of the state will have at least 180,000 additional acres which can be used to take care of the most serious situations that have been caused by the allotment. That is, that they can take care of individuals whose allotments have been cut so much that it is now less than 50 per cent of their 1954 plantings, Texas, under the present law, received an allotment of 612,779 acres for cotton. It meant that there was a shortage of 761,278 acres which the state committee had the right to adjust inequities of the state. Actually, our state committee used 126,651 acres in care of hardship cases. The balance of the reserve is to be used to take care of "trends" in the state, those acres where the trend has been to increase cotton production.

Statement on Public Schools Week in Texas, March 7-12

from Honorable R. B. Anderson, Deputy Secretary of Defense

Today we are only fairly into an era quite different from any other in our national life—one which will test to the utmost the capacity of our democracy to cope with the gravest problems of modern times, and on a scale never before seen in human history.

It is an era which will particularly challenge the whole institution of public education, for not only have we an unprecedented number of young people to educate, but our present day pattern of living demands that the public schools perform many of the educational functions which used to be performed by the family, the community, and by business and industry.

Public Schools Week affords a splendid opportunity for the people to know their schools better, to gain a better appreciation of the work that has so far been accomplished and for each to recognize his own particular and personal responsibility for that great unfinished portion which is yet to be done.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express thanks to all who visited me and for all the nice cards and every prayer while I was in the hospital and each visit since I came home. Especially do I thank Dr. Kralick, Dr. Eaines and the hospital staff. May the Lord bless you real good. Mrs. Della Fox. 32-1tp

Wheat Producers Compete with Huge Carryover in 1955

Wheat growers will heap their 1955 production on an estimated national carryover of some 1,600,000,000 bushels. And, as a result, the government's support program is expected to hold up the price, says Joe Burkett, County Agent.

Based on current prospects, carryover stocks probably will be reduced during the 1954-55 marketing year with further cuts due the following year.

Burkett says total wheat supplies for the current marketing year will approach 1,844,000,000 bushels, the largest in history.

The agent expects wheat exports to rise above last year. He says domestic consumption and exports are expected to top the 850,000,000 bushel crop in prospect for '55, making possible the reduction in carryover stocks.

Under the present farm program, wheat grown must be supported by parity between $2.5 and 90 per cent. The national support level for the 1954 crop was $2.24 a bushel. The support this year cannot go below $2.06 a bushel.

Sanitation Is Essential to Disease Prevention

Good sanitation is a must in good poultry management, says Joe Burkett, County Agent. Poultry raisers should pay particular attention to cleaning their poultry houses and the grounds around them. Places that are kept continually wet around water faucets and drinking fountains constitute a disease hazard. The ground in and around the poultry house should be kept clean and dry at all times.

All dead birds should be disposed of immediately by burning or by digging a deep hole and burying, so dogs and cats can't dig them up. It is a bad practice to dump dead birds along roads or in ditches and fields. Dogs and other animals are likely to find them and spread the disease to poultry flocks and in the vicinity where they are dumped. All sick birds should be removed and isolated from the flock as soon as they are detected to prevent spread of the disease.

It's highway robbery!

For sheer fun out on the road, Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher priced cars. If you demanded something extra in driving fun... something really special in the way a car handled and felt and responded to your wishes... you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet for 1955 has changed all that. In fact, it's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars on their own home-grounds—out on the highway.

Talk about excitement! You have 162 high-compression horsepower under the hood with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (180 h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models if you want it.) Or you can take your pick of two new "Blue-Flame" 6's—the hottest, highest powered sixes in the low-price field! Any one of these three engines brings you all the good things that come from Chevrolet's long leadership in valve-in-head design.

As for drives, just name it. Chevrolet offers new Overdrive, Super-Smooth Powerglide (extra-cost options), or a new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission.

Most of these visitors were from the western states and they enjoyed the comfort of the recently renovated Oldsmobile customer drive-away building. UNIVERSAL USE FOR CABLE Braidless, plastic-insulated cable, pioneered by Packard Electric Division of General Motors, is now finding almost universal use throughout the automobile industry. The plastic-insulated cable has a high degree of resistance to abrasion and is impervious to the effects of grease, oil and anti-freeze solutions. Its smaller overall size reduces the bulk of wiring assemblies. By eliminating the need for braid and lacquer insulation, the new cable does not support combustion and is virtually fireproof.

THE WILDCAT

JOE V. SMITH PLANS FUTURE IN MECHANICS

Joe V. Smith, a quiet boy with blond hair, blue eyes, and a warm smile for everyone, stands in the position of senior of the week. He states that he likes all subjects about the same, favoring none. His favorite sports are basketball, swimming and horseback riding; however, he favors football.

On a cold, lazy winter night, Joe is never bored because on nights like this, he has so many books to read; namely, read books by Zane Grey, watch TV, or attend a good Martin-Lewis show with his wife, Doris.

To aid that "middle age spread" Joe V. can think of nothing more pleasant than fried chicken with all the trimmings.

Joe Vernon's future plans are quite clear to him—he is a mechanic as he loves to rebuild motors of cars.

Lots of Gasoline Needed to Keep Airlines Flying

The domestic scheduled airlines are major customers of the U. S. oil industry.

To keep America's fleet of scheduled airlines flying, millions of gallons of gasoline are purchased each year.

Figures for a recent year show that domestic scheduled lines used 685,534,977 gallons of gasoline and 7,145,093 gallons of oil.

That amounts to an hourly consumption, day and night for the entire 12 months, of more than 70,000 gallons of gas and oil. Hourly expenditure for gas and oil amounted to about $15,024— or more than $131,000,000 for the entire year.

Cuttings from most shrubs and trees will grow into new plants when properly managed, says Mrs. Mary D. Brown, C. H. D. A. Mrs. Brown says that plants that root easily from cuttings are: nandina, junipers, abelia, coral berry, jasmine, spirea, crape myrtle, flowering willow, ligustrum, butterfly

Selection is important. Limbs grown during the past year usually root well. For planting outside, cuttings should be about the size of a pencil in length and circumference. Small limbs and leaves should be taken off the cutting that goes into the soil. Several leaves may be left at the top. Limb cuttings should be planted so that about one inch is left above the soil. At least one bud must be left above the ground—better two buds.

For planting cuttings outdoors, choose a place which has not been fertilized lately and which is well drained. A protected place as the north side of a well good location. Most plants well in sand but good garden which has not been over-fertilized is often used.

When only a few plants needed, they may be rooted in cans or flower pots. In this the cuttings will need to be watered. Three to five inches is the right length.

Cuttings set outside should be allowed to grow in the open bed until next winter, when they may be transplanted to permanent places in the home garden.

Cuttings from most shrubs and trees will grow into new plants when properly managed, says Mrs. Mary D. Brown, C. H. D. A. Mrs. Brown says that plants that root easily from cuttings are: nandina, junipers, abelia, coral berry, jasmine, spirea, crape myrtle, flowering willow, ligustrum, butterfly

Selection is important. Limbs grown during the past year usually root well. For planting outside, cuttings should be about the size of a pencil in length and circumference. Small limbs and leaves should be taken off the cutting that goes into the soil. Several leaves may be left at the top. Limb cuttings should be planted so that about one inch is left above the soil. At least one bud must be left above the ground—better two buds.

For planting cuttings outdoors, choose a place which has not been fertilized lately and which is well drained. A protected place as the north side of a well good location. Most plants well in sand but good garden which has not been over-fertilized is often used.

When only a few plants needed, they may be rooted in cans or flower pots. In this the cuttings will need to be watered. Three to five inches is the right length.

Cuttings set outside should be allowed to grow in the open bed until next winter, when they may be transplanted to permanent places in the home garden.
