Home Demonstration Notes

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

We seem to be doing very well on our tailoring school. Have only two more meetings before we are through and everyone seems to be keeping right up with us.

Mr. Burkett and I will be gone all next week attending the annual Extension Agents' Conference in College Station.

Mrs. Eula J. Newman, specialist in Home Management, will be here Nov. 8 and will meet with the West Side H. D. Club for a demonstration on family economics. I do hope you will all plan to attend this meeting. The rest of the clubs will have this demonstration in January.

Our recipe this week is—

Chow-Chow

1 quart chopped cabbage, 2 cups chopped green tomatoes, 3 chopped onions, 1½ chopped sweet green peppers, 1½ chopped sweet red peppers.

Mix well and put into enameled pan or stone jar. Put in layer of vegetables and sprinkle well with salt, continuing until all the vegetables are used. Cover the last layer with salt. Let stand overnight and drain well the following morning. In a separate vessel put:

1 quart vinegar, 2 cups sugar, 2 tablespoons ground mustard, 2½ tablespoons celery seed, 1½ tablespoons white mustard seed, 1 teaspoon cloves (tied in a bag).

Heat to boiling, add the well-drained vegetables, and cook slowly until tender (about one-half hour). Pack into sterilized jars and seal. Process in water bath ten minutes at simmering temperature.

St. George is the patron saint of England.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

"Women of Today" is the theme being currently studied by the Columbian Club which held its October 19th program in the home of Mrs. Fred Youree. During her devotional, Mrs. N. J. Roberts paid a touching tribute to the late Mrs. E. L. Kincaid, the loss of whose talent and leadership in the club is irreplaceable. Interesting and timely news items were given in response to roll call and Mrs. Jack Roberts Jr. presided over the business meeting and also took charge of the program which followed. Mrs. Roberts reviewed the ingenuity and the wonderful spiritual character of Helen Keller.

The story of Camille Kelley, juvenile court judge, was told by Mrs. S. T. Crews. Judge Kelley emphasized the importance of love in a youngster's life, and stated flatly, "There is no such thing as a bad child—rather, a misdirected child or one lacking the proper treatment and sufficient love."

A refreshment plate was served by the hostess at the conclusion of the meeting.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Harriet Halbert was honored at a party on Monday afternoon, Oct. 24, at her Foard City home to celebrate her 5th birthday.

The house was decorated with Halloween cut-outs and each child was presented a mask and favor depicting the Halloween season.

Games and animated stories were played by the group after which cake, ice cream and lemonade were served.

Those enjoying the party were Debra Raspberry, Mary Jan Welch, Rene Cooper, Cathy McLain, Joy Traweck, Hollis Halbert, Margaret Kralicke, Vicki Spikes, and the honoree, Harriet Halbert.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

Plans were completed for the annual Hobo Stew when the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. W. J. Garrett on Oct. 21. The event is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 29, at 7 p. m. at the Community House.

The public is invited to attend the affair. They are asked to bring their own dishes and something for the stew (canned foods, potatoes or cooked meats). Games of bingo and dominoes will be played. Members are asked to bring cakes or pies for bingo prizes.

The opening exercise consisted of a poem, "Wings," given by Mrs. Garrett. The Lord's Prayer and the first verse of "The Old Rugged Cross." Roll call was answered with "My favorite Bible verse." Those appearing on the program, "How well do you know your Bible," were Mrs. Garrett with a quiz, Mrs. Cecil Carroll with a quiz, and Mrs. Archie Campbell with "Women of the Bible."

In the absence of both the president and vice president, Mrs. Garrett conducted the business discussion. The hostess gift was awarded to Mrs. Dave Shultz. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Frank Gamble, Dave Shultz, and the seven members present.

The November 4 meeting will be with Mrs. Cecil Carroll with holiday foods and table service as the demonstration.

FOARD CITY H. D. CLUB

Mrs. Fred Traweck also gave a report on the EEE committee and the club voted to pay $1.50 per member for dues instead of having a bakery sale.

All those present enjoyed making the craft Mrs. Baylor Weathered and Mrs. Tom Woods demonstrated.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK URGES TO "UNITE FOR FREEDOM"

American Education Week, Nov. 6-12, 1955, will be observed in the Crowell High School and the Crowell Elementary School.

"Freedom is an eternal goal which has united men throughout the ages. The American Legion has faith in our schools which have held to the unified objectives of recognizing basic individual rights. This fundamental virtue has helped to keep us a free and united people and has made our nation the bastion of freedom to all the world, a beacon light of hope to those nations ruthlessly held in slavery by a godless dictator." Earl Cockle Jr., author of the above quotation, was national commander of the American Legion in 1951, one of the co-founders of American Education Week, which Crowell schools will observe along with all schools of the United States.

The citizens of the community are invited to visit the schools during this week and to become more fully acquainted with the school program.

THE SPIRIT

One of the hardest working groups on the Crowell High School campus this year are the cheerleaders. Their biggest job is keeping up the school spirit at the pep rallies, football games, and generally, throughout the halls of CHS. Sometimes the "going gets rough," but these six whooping Wildcat fans never falter. One of their many tasks is working up their "yells" and routines in order to make the rallies livelier and more interesting.

Nevertheless, the entire student body's aid is needed because, no matter how faithfully they try, six girls just can't make enough noise at a ball game. So come on gang, let's show that we really appreciate them.

CORONATION OF QUEEN GAIL CLIMAX OF ARCHER CITY-CROWELL GAME

"Presenting the football sweetheart of 1955" said Captain Jim Henry as 900 eyes fastened themselves on the queen and her escorts who had driven the length of the field in two convertibles driven by Jack Wishon and Fred Youree.

"Let Me Call You Sweetheart" began playing in the distance as the queen with her escorts, Prince Thomas of the House of Crowell and Prince Jim of the House of Henry walked to the center of the stadium with her court following. The attendants were Princess Barbara of the House of Fairchild and Prince Fred of the House of Youree; Princess Betty Jane of the House of Ingle and Prince Bill of the House of Graves. The chosen color of the court ladies was red as the queen was attired in a dark red velvet dress with black accessories. She wore white pearls with matching ear rings. Barbara chose a red wool suit with white and brown accessories and Betty Jane wore a red velvet suit with black accessories.

Gail, a senior, stands five feet, two inches, has blonde hair and blue eyes with an olive blonde complexion. She was cheerleader for four years and head cheerleader her junior and senior years, a class officer her freshman and junior years, class favorite freshman year, band reporter, assistant editor of the "Wildcat," member of the basketball team, the Dramatic club, and also a Thespian.

Gail will also preside at the annual football banquet. It is an honor to be chosen as Wildcat Queen; and to follow in the footsteps of tradition, the Wildcat team made an admirable choice in the vivacious and popular Gail.

The Elementary School players substituted for the Wildcat co-captains, Ray Gibson and C. T. McDaniel.

NEWS, VIEWS AND INFO

New speed warnings, flashing signs on highways, may soon warn motorists that they are exceeding the speed limit. A civil engineering student at the University of Michigan has devised a new system which should either warn the speeding motorist or take down his license plate number. Two photo-electric relays would be placed along the highway a few feet apart. If the speed exceeded the limit on the highway, the relays would trigger either a camera which would photograph the license of the car, or a sign placed farther down the highway. "Slow down, you are driving over 60."

Quote from a letter received by Mrs. Sloan from Gerry Knox, who is attending Midwestern University. "The English here is easier than I had expected, or I learned a little more in school than I thought I did. Tell those kids that I said they had better absorb some of that English, or they will really regret it after they enter college. About three-fourths of your grade here counts on your English language and how you use it. I realize now that I should have studied harder than I did."

Attention, CHS students! Come to the Junior Adelpian box supper at the Down Town Bible Class building Saturday, Nov. 5, at 6 o'clock. Come on and join the fun. Eat delicious food with your favorite girl.

SUB-JUNIOR COLUMBIAN CLUB

The Sub-Junior Columbian Club met in the home of Mrs. Ector Solis October 26.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Arleta and Linda Teague. The club was then adjourned until November 9 when it will meet in the home of Francene Coffey.

CANTEEN CONTINUES TO CLICK

A large crowd of Archer City and Crowell youngsters attended the Teen Canteen Friday night after the football game.

The Canteen was attractively decorated with black and gold for Archer City and Crowell. The decorating committee this week was Zonell Eddy, Gail Knox and Barbara Fairchild.

Favorite dance records were played until 12 o'clock.

The whole student body wishes to thank Eddy Rickard and the Band Parents Club for their loyal support in making the Canteen a success.

Sponsors Friday night were Mesdames Bernice Sanders, Lee Black, Percy Taylor and J. B. Fairchild.

The canteen will not be open Thursday night after the Lockett-Crowell game; however, we plan on a big time for all after the Henrietta game.

The Crowell boys kicked off to Archer City after an unsuccessful conversion attempt and successful conversion attempt and ran the ball back 68 yards for a score. This made the score 19-6. Billy Everson intercepted a pass in the same quarter and ran it back 18 yards for another Crowell score. Gibson converted to make the score 26-6.

The Wildcats' final score came in the final quarter on an 18 yard pass from quarterback Edward Howard to end David Carpenter. The extra point attempt was good. This made the count 33-6 which was the final score. Crowell led in first downs 12 to 6. The Wildcats played without their regular quarterback, Printiss Gidney. Larry Sledge and Edward Howard filled this position. Excellent blocking was shown by the Crowell line. The "B" team composed mostly of freshmen, finished the game in the fourth quarter.

1956 Chevrolets Go on Display Friday, Nov. 4th

Continued emphasis on the superior performance and rakish lines that contributed importantly to record-breaking sales this year are Chevrolet for 1956 its most distinguished new passenger cars. Scheduled for debut at dealer showrooms across the nation Friday, Nov. 4, the latest models carry increased horsepower, a fleet, rugged appearance and are offered in the broadest array of bodies ever produced by the company.

New in the low-price field is a four-door hardtop sport sedan. This car has no obstructing center pillar in the window area and is fashioned with the same styling that made the Chevrolet sport coupe a sensation of the automobile market since 1950. Also introduced for the first time are nine-passenger station wagons, bringing the company's total number of 1956 bodies to 19.

Power Increased
Of prime interest to buyers who appreciate the security of ready acceleration is an increase in horsepower extending from the six-cylinder engine to the pace-setting 140-horsepower. The Super Turbo-Fire V8 which, in a recent performance test, set a new all-time record at Pikes Peak in September, develops 205 horsepower. Among outstanding safety features in the 1956 Chevrolet line are the availability of seat belts and shoulder harness; improved, precision-aimed headlights and crash-tested door locks to minimize the possibility of doors being sprung open by shock or collision. The safety lock was introduced in Chevrolet models last summer. The design includes a flange on the door portion of the car which overlaps another flange on the cracker mounted on the body pillar. The overlap, or interlock, is designed to prevent disengagement of the two parts in event of collision.

New Paint Harmony
Lively paint schemes are offered in accord with the increased consciousness of car buyers. Choices range from black to a newly developed pigmentation in beige and red. Original two-toning series each of three price-graded series an exclusive pattern. Solids and 14 two-tone combinations are on the 1956 color chart.

Novel trim ideas, with particular attention to the low-price One-Fifty series, are evident in the interior as well as the exterior treatments. Charcoal shades are new.

Gas Inlet Concealed
Chromium molding, applied for the first time on the One-Fifty series, sweeps along the sides of the 1956 bodies to increase the sleek, ground-gripping aspect of the cars. Headlamp visors are more pronounced. Parking lamps are square and set low over the reshaped bumpers. A novelty is the location of the gasoline filler, concealed by the hinged rear left tail lamp.

The following bodies will be available in the 1956 Chevrolet line:

One-Fifty Series — Two- and four-door sedans, utility sedan and two-door, six-passenger station wagon.

Two-Ten Series — Two- and four-door sedans, Delray coupe, sport coupe and sedan, two- and four-door six passenger station wagons and four-door, nine-passenger station wagons.

Bel Air Series — Two- and four-door sedans, sport coupe and sport sedan, convertible, Nomad station wagon and four-door, nine-passenger station wagon.

These 19 models compare with 14 available at the start of 1955 production.

In place of the two sizes of different horsepower that were present in the 1955 line, six-cylinder output will be concentrated on one 140-horsepower engine with an 8 to 1 compression ratio. This engine may be coupled with either the Powerglide automatic transmission or the manual shift.

Mileage Improved
Of traditional economical, valve-in-head design, the new six is equipped with a high liftcamshaft, hydraulic valve lifters and extra alloy exhaust valves which are added to minimize the build-up of deposits. The new engine provides even better performance than its predecessors, particularly for highway passing. Gasoline mileage has also been improved.

In addition to sixes, the 1956 Chevrolets may be powered by a variety of V8s, a type of engine which totaled almost a million in the company's 1955 model production. One develops 162 horsepower and is installed in cars with the standard shift. The second is designed for Powerglide and produces 170 horsepower. The Super Turbo-Fire with four-barrel carburetor furnishes 205 horsepower. Fitted with a new head, the compression ratio of the Super is at an all-time Chevrolet high of 9.25 to 1.

V8 refinements include a new high lift camshaft which results in more power for the regular Turbo-Fire Powerglide engine and the Super. Hydraulic valve lifters are standard on all eight.

Full Flow Filters
Another high spot is a full-flow oil filter as an optional item. The filter is attached to the block and assures full filtering of lubricant to cylinder walls, bearings and other moving parts of the engine. Should flow through the system be restricted for any reason, the oil is by-passed around the filter. Accomplishments are reduced engine wear and longer life for moving parts.

Overdrive Among Options
Optional equipment that scored high favor in the 1955 line again is offered by Chevrolet. These include the gas-saving overdrive, power steering, power brakes and push-button control of seat adjustment and window lifts. Compact air conditioning mechanism that fits under the hood and tinted glass are other optional items on the list.

A host of mechanical improvements promise even more trouble-free service than previous models of the company. Rear engine mounts have been reformed for isolation of noise and vibration. An electric water temperature gauge replaces the former tube type. Enlarged exhaust cross-over passages will make for quicker warm-up in cold weather. Dual exhausts are extended to station wagons where the Super Turbo-Fire V8 is specified. New sealed beam headlamps give better illumination of roadside ditches and are standard on all cars. A precision headlamp aiming device is exclusive to Chevrolet's field.

Directional signals, formerly an extra cost item, are now standard equipment. The 12-volt ignition system pioneered by Chevrolet in the low-price field has been improved. Batteries carry a 36-month warranty instead of 21. Spark plugs have ribbed porcelain insulators that offer 25 percent greater resistance to flash-over.

Seat Belts Available
Arrangements to offer special kits containing factory-approved seat belts and shoulder harness components were announced by Chevrolet several weeks ago. The development followed an extensive review by company engineers of quality, strength of webbing, buckles and attachments. The approved devices, said Chevrolet, will exceed the specifications of the Civil Aeronautics Authority for aircraft seat belts.

A new method of mounting V8 generators reduces vibration and noise. To guard against water and

Restock Tests by Game and Fish Commission Aimed at Future

While Texas hunters are concentrating on the fall wildlife harvest, Game and Fish Commission technicians are looking ahead to future seasons, according to Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

He said he was reminded of this look-ahead program by some current planning board developments such as:

Release of the first sage hens in an experimental restocking program near Marfa in the Big Bend country;

Negotiations looking to possible trapping of Aoudad sheep in California for release in the Palo Duro Canyon country in the Panhandle.

Plans to resume trapping of Big Horn sheep in Arizona for restocking the Black Gap Wildlife Refuge.

life Management area West of the Pecos next year.

Reports that at least part of the one hundred fifty Spanish red-legged partridge have survived their first summer in the Panhandle (near Childress).

Meanwhile, the fisheries staff is going ahead with experiments to determine whether some marine species may be profitably adapted to far-inland lakes which have a heavy salt content. Latest move in this direction was transplanting of a consignment of speckled trout in Lake Kemp, near Wichita Falls, where redfish and blue crabs previously had been released experimentally.

Speckled trout, a great favorite among sports fishermen along the Gulf Coast, is a voracious predator and might help reduce the overpopulation of rough fish in inland waters.

Perhaps the most spectacular of the experimental projects was the dawn-to-dusk flying of the sage hens sixteen hundred miles from Montana to Marfa in far west Texas. The fast hop by Warden-Pilot Frank Hamer was scheduled since technicians said the game birds might not survive more than forty-eight hours in captivity. Only two of the eighteen trapped sage hens were lost in transit.

The Executive Secretary said the restocking projects listed represent "a very small phase of our restoration work since we are primarily engaged in enhancing our native species." "The tests are mentioned," he added, "to reflect the varied efforts comprising a modern wildlife management program. In a state as large as Texas, where the contrast in habitat is so great, we are constantly exploring possibilities for stocking areas which now are barren of wildlife."

Average annual rainfall in Texas produces 362,000,000 acre-feet of water, says the Texas Water Conservation Association. Of this quantity, only 1 1/2 percent soaks into the ground to replenish the spring flow in streams.

Rates are cheap: 50c an hour for one child, 75c for two or more, and the service is reliable. The girls will be open for business any time when not in school. If interested, please call Patricia Todd, phone 125-R.

Critical Time for Prussic Acid Poisoning in Livestock

The next few weeks may be considered as the critical period so far as prussic acid poisoning in livestock is concerned, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

Prussic acid is a chemical which forms in members of the grass family, especially Johnson and sudan grasses and the sorghum group, following wilting. The old belief, points out Patterson, that second growth sorghum grazing is particularly dangerous is not necessarily true. For, he says, the only difference between second growth and first growth grazing is there are apt to be young, rapidly growing lush sprouts at this time of the year when frost or drought can cause wilting. If the second growth is not wilted, it is no more dangerous than first growth material for grazing.

Patterson does say that caution should be exercised in putting livestock on susceptible plants following frosts.

Farmers and stockmen should be familiar with the symptoms of prussic acid poisoning so that a veterinarian can be summoned as soon as the first indications of poisoning appears. Time is important for even with early warning some animals may be lost. The first signs of prussic acid poisoning are rapid breathing and a staggering gait. Bloating doesn't necessarily precede or go along with prussic acid poisoning.

Since prussic acid is a volatile material, it is safe, says Patterson, to graze frosted or wilted fields within five to ten days following the cause of wilt. After the material has resumed normal growth or has cured out following frost, it is again safe for grazing and fields should be utilized, says the veterinarian.

The Isle of Wight is in the English Channel.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stinebaugh have returned to Crowell from their farm near Norris, S. D. They will spend the winter here.

Mrs. Percy Ferguson left this week for Bayard, N. M., for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Haskell Smith, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coffey returned to their home in Fayetteville, Ark., last week after spending two weeks here visiting their children.

John Coffey Jr. went to Dallas Tuesday to bring back a truck load of Ford tractors for the Barker Implement Co.

Yes Ma'am, you can have a housefull of servants for pennies a day!

Yes Ma'am, they're your electric servants, and you pay their wages with your electric service bill. Total cost—just a few pennies a day for the average family!

You know, you've about doubled your use of electricity in the last 10 years. So your monthly service bill is more than it used to be. But the average cost of a kilowatt-hour of electric service in homes served by WTU is 22% less than it was 10 years ago.

And when you think of all the things your electric service does for you—don't you agree, it's the biggest bargain in your family budget?

How to Get Things Done

There are two ways to get things done. One is through the use of force, coercion and threats. The other is to offer incentives and high hopes. A good example of these diametrical opposites is found in oil production in this country as contrasted with Russia.

Searching for oil is a long-shot proposition. The great majority of wells drilled in new territory turn out dry and worthless. One Texas oilman has actually sunk 196 dry holes in a row. But he's still working and still hoping. For, if the dream of a big strike is realized, he'll be able to reap a good profit in return for the time and money and labor he expended, and the risks he freely took.

In Russia, according to a Soviet geologist who escaped to this country, it's a criminal offense to fail to strike oil. Under Soviet law, a geologist who brings in a dry hole can be, and sometimes is, packed off to forced labor in Siberia.

How do these two systems of getting results work out, comparatively speaking? Here's the answer: American oil men produce close to 6,500,000 barrels of crude oil daily to Russia's 1,000,000 barrels. Putting it another way, we produce 46.3 per cent of the world's oil, while Russia together with all her satellites produces only 11.5 per cent.

You can make a man work by putting a gun in his back—but you'll always get minimum results. Prison labor is less productive than free labor. And that's why an economic system based on free enterprise—on getting results by voluntary action spurred by inducements—is always far more productive than a system based on the power of government to order men and women about.

The Right Thing

As was to be expected, shouts of outrage arose from socialist-minded groups when the Federal Power Commission, by unanimous decision, approved a license to the Idaho Power Company to build three power dams on the Snake River. This uproar should not be allowed to obscure the solid logic back of the FPC's action.

The controversy involved, which has gone on for years, is basically simple. Snake River power would be developed either by a tax-financed federal high dam at Hells Canyon, the cost of which has been estimated at nearly $400,000,000—or by the three smaller dams which would be financed entirely by regulated, tax-paying private enterprise, would cost about $160,000,000, and, together, would produce almost as much power.

Dixon-Yates and A Principle

The Dixon-Yates contract (whereby taxpaying private enterprise would build a $106,000,000 electric power plant in Arkansas to feed power into the TVA system) was cancelled for the reason that the city of Memphis decided to build a municipal plant of its own, thus lessening the demand on TVA. Following the cancellation, President Edgar H. Dixon of Middle South Utilities said in a speech at the University of Mississippi: "My associates and I have been asked what we would do if, knowing what we know now, we were faced with doing it again. My answer to this has been, and is still, that the principles involved are so important we would do it again . . . If this contract had been offered to us as an isolated piece of business, I doubt sincerely that we would have been interested in it. There certainly was not enough profit incentive even if all went well to make it attractive and the risks involved were substantial . . ."

The great principle at stake in Dixon-Yates was whether the tax money of all the people should be used to build and extend socialized federal power system when non-federal enterprise is ready to provide the power. President Eisenhower thinks it should not be so used, and that was why he favored Dixon-Yates. And—despite misleading propaganda—the cancellation of Dixon-Yates was not a victory for the opposition. It was a victory for the Administration—because no new federal power development is involved.

There are signs that the public at large is beginning to see this principle in true perspective. As the Savannah Morning News has said, "Only about 10 per cent of the people are served by government subsidized electric power. It's a safe bet that the other 90 per cent are tired of paying higher taxes to provide electricity to this minority."

Blind to The Facts

The advocates of public (socialized) power had their ears pinned back by Congressman Mailliard of California, who pointed out that 70 per cent of all electric power produced by TVA is generated in steam plants at a cost to American taxpayers of some $91,000,000 a year—$9,000,000 of which comes out of California wallets.

Commenting on this situation the Elsinore, California, Leader-Press said: "In other words the 'cheap' power developed under government ownership is cheap only to those who use it. It is mighty expensive to the rest of us who get nothing for the money we pay to run TVA turbines. Furthermore, in rebuttal of the continuing cry that private utilities exist only to gouge the consumer, the group of Ohio valley electric companies that supplies power to the Atomic Energy Commission, has just announced that, because of technological improvements, they will be able to cut the cost to the government by at least $1,000,000 a year under the charge originally accepted by the AEC."

"In spite of these and other revelations of the fallacy of public ownership, the socializers continue to chant of 'giveaway' and 'gouge' every time a sound, economical partnership between government and private industry in the power field is suggested. The facts seem neither to impress or to face them."

Accurate shooting is not a thing of the past for Texans. When Army reservists from throughout the five-state area of the Fourth Army held matches at Fort Hood this year, the winners in both pistol and rifle competition were the Texas teams.

Topographic maps, of prime importance in charting both underground and surface water supplies are available for only about fourth of the state of Texas.

Texas ranks third among 48 states in use of water by industry.

Keep Your Checking Account Above the "Safety Level"!

Yes, it's embarrassing—and it doesn't make a good impression—to be "caught short" and not have enough funds in your checking account to write the check you want to write.

Maintaining an ample balance at all times is good business practice. Then you are always prepared for any emergency which may arise or any opportunity to make a profit by having ready cash in your checking account.

It pays in many ways to keep your checking balance above what you consider the "safety level."
