Richardson, assistant teacher and student at the college.

It is not necessary to inquire if people attend all these exercises. As a rule our people are good and the exercises will be a pleasure to all. The exercises will be worth your time.

Cars of Cattle Shipped to Buyer in Illinois Saturday

One hundred and seventy five head of cattle, making five cars, were shipped from Crowell to Illinois Saturday by A. C. Adkins and Brown Brothers of Truscott. The shipment was consigned to W. M. Taylor and to Round Grove, Ill. The cattle were short age two's and were fed for the market. They averaged $44.50 per head. The shippers are Knox County, while the cattle were Foard County products, most of them. It is said that Adkins and Brown Brothers will have other shipments made later from Crowell which will likely total cash values amounting to $50,000.

Auto Will Open Bids on 800,000 Pairs Auto Plates

Austin, Texas, May 11.—June 17 has been fixed as the date for the Board of Control to open bids for 800,000 pairs of automobile number plates for 1925. This contract will call for an expenditure of approximately $900,000 as the last year's plates cost the State about $1.12 per pair. Number plates will be purchased annually and supplied to licensees. The Highway Commission has abandoned the annual seal system because of the large number and consequent evasion of tax payment.

Bransh Mash For Grasshoppers

In the present emergency, this information is given to assist the farmer in controlling grasshoppers. Poison bran mash is the most practical remedy for these pests.

The formula is as follows:—
Wheat bran — 25 lbs.
White arsenic or paris green 1 lb.
Lemons or oranges — 6 lbs.
Low grade cane or sorghum molasses — 2 qts.
Water — 2 qts.
Mix the bran and poison thoroughly with the water. Dilute the molasses with an amount of water as named, and mix with the bran and poison. Squeeze the lemon juice into this diluted molasses, then grind the rind of lemons with a meat chopper and mix this also to the liquid. Then mix thoroughly with the poison mixture. After an even mixture has been obtained, add more bran and mix, until a mash is obtained so that when squeezed in the hand it readily falls apart.
Grasshoppers feed in the morning, and as the bran loses its attractiveness when dry, it should be applied so as to be as moist as possible at this time. If to be spread along a fence to kill the hoppers as they come to the field, it may be applied late in the evening. Where the hoppers are at work over the field, however, the application will have to be made during the night, and as it may dry out during the night, because the ground is hot and dry in the evening, it may well to wait until morning about 5 a. m. to apply. Where applied along fence rows to stop migration, it may well to sow thickly. When necessary to apply to a field, sow in strips several rods wide, alternating with sown strips of about the same width.
Properly applied, this poison mash is fully effective.
Do not omit the fruit, using juice and rind as directed. This is necessary to attract the insects.

Y. Welch and Wife Returned from Mayos

Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Welch who have been at the Mayo Institute for several weeks for an operation for Mrs. Welch, arrived home Monday. Mrs. Welch is much improved and on the road to rapid recovery.

We hear of lots of people being confined to their beds, but when is the family auto ever confined to the garage?

Farmer Gets House And All Its Contents Destroyed by Fire

As the result of a fire caused by an oil stove, the house in which J. L. Farrar and family lived one and a half miles west of Gamble school house, with practically all its contents is a heap of ashes.

The fire occurred Sunday afternoon at about 1 o'clock. Mr. Farrar had just left for a neighbor's house when he happened to look back in the direction of his house and saw his wife running towards him carrying two of the little children. She was too much excited to know what to do except to get away from the burning house and at the same time Mr. Farrar saw the smoke going out at the top of the house. But before he could get back it was enveloped in flames and nothing could be done either to save the building or its contents. All was destroyed, even the wearing apparel of the family except what they had on.

Mrs. Farrar said that she had turned the fire to the oil stove out but when she discovered the stove ablaze she tried in vain to extinguish the fire with a bucket of water.

Mr. Farrar is a tenant and was living on the G. C. Morgan farm. His loss is estimated at something like $500 and he carried no insurance. Mr. Morgan's loss will be much heavier and so far as we know he carried no insurance.

Neighbors made up a purse of some $40 in the community and on Monday morning swelled the donation in town, most every one making a contribution to help the stricken family.

GOOD CREEK NOTES (By Special Correspondent)

There were several visitors at our Mothers' Day program Sunday. Among them were Mrs. Fox and children, W. O. McDaniel and family of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Halbert, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stone of Foard City and quite a number from the Black community whose names we failed to learn. After the program rendered by the children, Bro. Stephens of Chalk, made us a talk on Mothers. There was a bountiful dinner served and if any one went away hungry, he alone was to blame.

Our school closed last Friday with a picnic at the Good Creek bridge. Mesdames Brian and O'Connell of Crowell were visitors at the school picnic last Friday.

Oscar Whitley and wife of Chalk were also in attendance Mothers' Day. Ed McDaniel of Crowell visited Ragsdale Davis and attended the party at Bill Cox' Saturday night.

Grover Owens and wife were Good Creek visitors Sunday. Walter Gray, wife and son, Ralph, of Balls came in Saturday for a short visit with Mrs. Gray's father, Grandpa Jones, who is still very feeble. They returned to their home Monday. Miss Helen Fox accompanied Miss Ima Cox home for the week-end.

Sheriff Campbell of Crowell passed through Good Creek community Sunday.

FARMERS AND IMMIGRATION

The complaint has been made that restricted immigration makes farm labor scarce and thus tends to increase the cost of labor on the farm.

Authorities on the subject assert that the contrary is true—that restrictions placed on immigration has helped to maintain at a higher level the economic condition of farm labor and to give the farmers a better home market.

While farm labor has not been as plentiful during the past two or three years as it was previously, and while the farmer has been compelled to pay more for labor than formerly, it requires a wide stretch of the imagination to see how immigration has had any effect.

Farm labor costs naturally went up after the war on account of higher living expenses and the high wages which were paid in industrial centers, which were paid in increased wages as the demand for labor increased and in the due course of time drew men from the farm. Consequently, farmers had to meet the offers of other business or lose their help.

The view that immigration has affected the farmer is far-fetched. Restricted immigration has been in effect two years, but farm wages were mounting before that time.

It is largely propaganda of a few selfish manufacturers who clamor for a protected market in which to sell, but want the barriers let down so that they may employ the cheap labor of Europe and thus accumulate larger profits.

It was logical to start an inquiry into to gasoline prices. Everybody knows the gasoline washes out oil stains.

Congress might install a radio set, and get information without all the bother of official inquiries.

City Accepts Lowest Bid On Paving Five Blocks Around Public Square

At a recent meeting of the city council the bid made by Jordan Construction Company of Plainview, Texas, for the paving of five blocks in the business section of the city of Crowell was accepted and a contract was made. This company submitted the lowest bid on brick paving, which the council decided was the best kind of paving to put down. The Jordan Construction Company also submitted a bid on asphalt paving, which was 10 cents per square yard cheaper than brick. The company's bid on brick was $3.25 and on asphalt $3.15.

Other bids on brick were as follows: J. L. Scott of Abilene, $4.59; James Contracting Company of Dallas, $3.62; King Contracting Company of Fort Worth, $3.44; Valiant & Toomey, Inc., of Fort Worth, $3.33; J. P. Foty of Vernon, $3.30.

Bids were also submitted on concrete paving as follows: J. L. Scott, $3.21; J. P. Foty, Vernon, $3.18; James Contracting Co., $3.00; W. G. Douglas of Fort Worth, $2.69. This bid however was found to have been a mistake, and from all other figures submitted by the company it was evident that the figure 2 should have been a 3. Besides, concrete paving has never been considered by the council as advisable at all. Opinion has been favorable to brick. One other kind of paving was considered, that of asphalt and a number of citizens made a trip to Quanah where the Jordan Construction Company is now putting asphalt but this is a comparatively new kind of material being used for paving and since brick has proven a success for half a century where it has been used and since there is only 10 cents difference in the cost of each put in here, opinion was strong in favor of brick. The price of $3.15 made by the Jordan Construction Company on asphalt here is higher than the price made to Quanah but the company felt that they could not go to the expense of preparing for a small job like this without making a price that would cover the expense.

The bid of $3.25 on brick, only 10 cents more than that on asphalt, was considered the best bid submitted for the reason that brick will entail less maintenance expense. For asphalt to have been considered favorably as a good business proposition the difference in the cost of the two, brick and asphalt, would have had to be at least 30 cents per square yard in favor of the latter. The contract of the job here will carry a guarantee for five years that it will not show signs of deterioration within that time. In other words, it will be as good within five years as it is the day it is finished without any maintenance expense.

The entire cost of the job completed will be $54,290.13. It will include three blocks of Main street, extending from the city hall to Swain's Garage, and the north side and the south side of the square, Commerce and California streets. The work will be paid by the city, the county and the property holders.

Work is expected to commence as soon as the paving ordinance now running in the News is published and material has been placed on the ground, which should be only a few days.

Marrs Sustained on Scholastic Fee Ruling

Austin, Texas, May 11.—The State Board of Education Saturday sustained S. M. Marrs, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, in his ruling that scholastics residing outside the limits of a district and attending school in the district must pay tuition for that part of the term covered by the taxes of the district. The pupils are privileged to attend the district school free during the period it is sustained by the State and county taxes, but thereafter must pay tuition under the ruling made in an appeal from action taken by the Austin School Board in demanding tuition from pupils residing outside the district. The action of the State board sustains the position taken by the Austin board.

Some of the towns had but few representatives but all had some and they were all bubbling over with enthusiasm, each boosting his own town and community.

They say there was not as many people present Tuesday and Wednesday as had been expected on account of rains, but without doubt Brownwood had its 30,000 they say, Thursday.

Mrs. N. P. Ferguson Passed Away at the Sanitarium Tuesday

Mrs. N. P. Ferguson underwent an operation at the sanitarium Sunday, May 4, from which she never recovered and death came Tuesday afternoon.

The deceased was born at Little Rock, Ark., January 13, 1869, going with her parents when a baby to Jefferson, Texas, where her early childhood was spent. Later Weatherford became the home and it was there that she married N. P. Ferguson Dec. 14, 1887, her maiden name being Ella Potter.

At an early date the family removed to Crowell where they have resided since. Nine children were born to the family, five of whom are living. The deceased is survived by her husband, N. P. Ferguson, three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Sellers, Mrs. C. L. Graham, both of Crowell, and Mrs. W. E. Clay of Sherman, Texas, and by one son, J. G. Ferguson, of Crowell. Funeral services were held at the residence at 3 p. m. Wednesday, Rev. T. C. Willett conducting them. The body was then laid to rest in the Crowell cemetery.

Mrs. Ferguson's health had been bad for about three months and the only hope of recovery was through an operation.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in these hours of sorrow.

DAVE SOLLIS OFFERS FOR CO. COMMISSIONER

Dave Sollis authorizes the News to say that he is a candidate for commissioner Precinct No. 2.

Mr. Sollis is too well known for the News to give him an introduction to its readers, but we may say this much that he has been a resident of Foard County long enough to prove to one that he knows something about public affairs. Before coming to Texas from Oklahoma Mr. Sollis was one of the road builders of that country, having made that work a specialty. He believes that he can help solve the difficulties in road work in his district.

Mr. Sollis is a man of good judgment and no doubt will make us a public servant worth a great deal to the county. He will make the race subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

CORPUS CHRISTI MAN SPEAKS HERE WEDNESDAY

Negroes Defy Sheriff and Battle Follows; Many Shots Exchanged

During the session of the grand jury last week members of the family of Luke Wells, a negro living 2 miles north of Thalia on Sam Russell's land, were subpoenaed to come before the grand jury but they did not appear.

Again on Wednesday of this week the jury sent Henry Earl Thompson, the bailiff to summon the negroes again and they would not come and that any attempt to bring them would be resisted. Thompson returned with the negroes' message and the grand jury issued a warrant for their arrest and sent the sheriff and six deputies after them. When Sheriff Campbell reached the negro house he saw that they were in the house and he called to them, saying that he represented the law and wanted them to go with him to Crowell to appear before the grand jury but that he had come with no intention to harm any one and wanted no trouble. While he was talking to them a bullet whizzed by his face, and still he plead with them not to shoot and that he wanted no trouble. But the shots soon began to come faster and the sheriff and his six deputies found whatever protection their cars offered from the flying bullets and began to pour lead into the negro house. Operations by the negroes were somewhat handicapped when a shell hung in one of their guns and put it out of commission. The negroes were finally forced into the open where they surrendered.

The negroes had prepared themselves for resisting the officers and had one high-powered gun, two targets and two six shooters. One negro boy 12 years of age, after he had emptied his six shooter, broke away and ran off but was finally captured and brought to town. Most of the shooting done by the negroes was by three women and one boy. It is thought that Wells did not do any of the shooting.

In the battle Wells received a few shots from a shotgun but his wounds were insignificant. The two cars bearing the sheriff and his deputies showed several signs where bullets had struck. In one instance Dwight Campbell said a bullet plowed the dirt within about an inch of his foot.

The deputies accompanying the sheriff for the negroes were R. J. Thomas, Dwight and Charley Campbell, Henry Earl Thomson, and Bill Harris.

There is some feeling among our people as the result of this incident and some action is likely to be taken to persuade the negroes to leave this country.

A GREAT STEP FORWARD

The fact that the foreign governments interested in the reparations question, including Germany, have accepted the Dawes report as the basis for final settlement, is the greatest step toward better world conditions that has been made since the signing of the Armistice.

The United States should be proud that three American business men could evolve this plan in a few short months.

The honor of consummating such a program for the benefit of humanity falls to the lot of but few men.

YOU GET QUALITY AND QUANTITY WHEN YOU TRADE WITH US

There are many articles in our stock of groceries that we could sell cheaper if we were willing to sell the lower grades, but our experience has taught us that there is no economy in saving our customers a cent or two on an article by sacrificing quality.

Crowell, Texas, May 16, 1924

Greece can never cool as long as the neighbors stir her up. Looks like anybody ought to know that.

Our ku klux reader got mad and stopped his paper. He is a little too sensitive. We did not do a thing only kick his dog.

The once rosy-cheeked girl who used to wash the dishes for her tired mother now washes them for her well-rested daughter.

If the summer continues as it has started in "Cool Colorado" will have little to offer summer tourists. Texas is cool enough, thank you.

Another reason the old time religion was good enough for me is because when they had that kind one hat would last mother for summer and winter.

One argument in favor of getting your fortune while you are young is that when you get ready to join the church maybe you can forget how you got it.

An exchange says that sometimes a man is so anxious to be popular that he stretches the truth. Shux, we've seen them so anxious to be popular that they would actually tell lies.

One reason we are always glad when election is over is because we are then free to say what we think without fear of causing our favorite candidate loss of votes. A fellow has to be mighty careful till next day.

One great American, whose name we can not recall, once said, "Talk to the point and when you have reached it, stop." If all the senseless jabbering of one day were recorded it would make thousands of volumes, an amazing waste of time and energy, to say nothing of the positive harm much of it causes. Talk to the point and stop.

Deep down in our hearts aren't we glad we are not the only ones who have troubles? Suppose we were we would think the world is against us and life would be a failure. It is often the mistakes and sins of others that cause our troubles, but they are an advantage as they are mastered and thus appropriated to our own good.

The Dallas News says that the Northern Methodists will let the women preach but they won't let the men run the missionary societies. Aren't there about as many women Methodists as there are men Methodists? In that case who ever heard of the men having the opportunity of letting the women do things? If the women are going to preaching it's their own business and they are attending to it without molestation or assistance.

Do you feel better today than you did yesterday? Hope so. Better feelings are always the result of right action. If you stab somebody today, your life tomorrow will be crowned with triumphant pleasure if you correct the mistake. Otherwise there will be a gnawing sensation that you have not just done the proper thing. When one makes a mistake he must correct it at the place it was made. When one takes the wrong road he will find the right one at the point where he took the by-path.

As long as money is in your pocket, there is a temptation to spend it.

When deposited to your account in a safe and reliable bank, such as ours, there is a desire to keep it.

Many a successful man attributes his success to the cultivation of a habit to keep his money in the bank and instead of taking from it, add to it little by little. Men have started out with small salaries and saved in that way until they accumulated money with which they could do something worth while.

Get the habit. Try saving part of what you make by putting it in the bank and you will be surprised how rapidly it will grow.

WHEREAS, in accordance with section 2 of resolution entitled a resolution to carry into effect chapter 11 Title 22 of the revised statutes of the State of Texas, authorizing cities and towns which have accepted the benefits thereof to improve the streets, highways and public places thereof after advertising for bids for said work of improving said streets between the points above named, has been let to Jordan Construction Co., and

WHEREAS, a contract has been entered into between the said City and the said Jordan Construction Co. on the 9th day of May, 1924, for the performance of said work, and

Things in General

President Coolidge has called a national Outdoor Recreation conference.

That's all very good. Few people get all of the outdoor recreation they need.

But why not have a national Stay at Home conference or observe a Stay at Home Week if we can find a week some time during the year that is not being used for something else?

If we could, with such a conference or special week, induce even a small portion of the people to stay at home one whole week—making allowances for the time duty called them away—we could revolutionize this community or any other community.

Staying away from home is one of the greatest evils of our boasted twentieth century civilization. We complain about our flapper daughters and our wayward sons roaming at large and where they wish; about no place for them to be amused, and then object to the kind of amusement they do find; but we never seem to think that parents—all parents—are the example that young people follow.

More young people would probably stay at home and find diversion if they could find their parents at home now and then and if parents would give some thought and attention to making the home attractive for their children and their children's friends. But perhaps we should not be too harsh with our roaming, restless parents; neither should we be too critical of our young people.

The demands upon parents are so great from their home and their multitudinous obligations on the outside that it is little wonder that they have drifted into a position where too little attention is paid to the home.

All parents are not guilty of being indifferent towards their homes, but the condition exists to such an extent that it is worthy some thought and consideration.

La Casa Mas Importante

Messrs. Boman, Magee, Self, Shults, Kenner and Rascoe treated the pedagogical crew of Crowell school to a delightful moonlight banquet last Wednesday night. Mr. Rascoe rounded up the bunch on his truck and we rode the "hay" out to Pease river. We played on the bridge, gathered wild flowers and built sand forts until it was rumored that there was quantities of delicious punch at camp waiting to be passed around. That was right; it was delicious even the Decker did say he put onions in it.

Before many more games could be played we gathered around the rustic board spread with barbecued spring chickens and about a dozen accessories to go with it. Somebody got a glimpse of Oscar and Glenn with a bucket full of rizzards but before anyone had time to think, Oscar was shaking and complaining of being cold—the bucket was empty. Rather a mysterious coincident. The ??? was it cold? Any how we almost froze eating that ice cream, which they peddled around in pinky cones, and had to gather around the campfire to warm up.

It was just another one of those jolly affairs we have had so many times this winter. Only this was "La Casa Ma's importante."—Reporter.

The Constitution

The national oratorical contest for high schools and secondary schools, which is being held in all parts of the United States, beginning with county contests and progressing into district, territorial, state and zone contests, until the winner is eventually selected in a final event in Washington, is proving of value not alone to the contestants, who are limited to a discussion of the constitution, but to those who have had an opportunity of hearing the orations.

Anything that arouses interest in or a desire to study the constitution of the United States is commendable.

The entrants in the contest, in preparing their orations, no doubt had some difficulty in interpreting the basic law of the land.

They found that the constitution provides for three branches of government—legislative, judicial and executive. The authority of each is clearly defined.

But if they have been following the news from Washington, they probably concluded that the three branches of government now are investigative, judicial and executive.

They doubtless recalled that one school of thought advocates a law which will give congress authority to pass legislation even though it is declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court.

The youthful orators were probably very much confused trying to square up the terms of the constitution with the trend of affairs in the present day.

But they expounded the constitution, its glorious success in piloting a republic through dangerous waters for nearly a century and a half, and its value as an ever-present, dependable friend in perilous times.

The young students will have performed a very valuable service if they influence any considerable number of people to study the constitution and to come to some appreciation of the part it has had in making this the greatest nation in the world.

The Logical Medium
Live merchants advertise because they want the people to know about the goods they have for sale, especially when bargains are offered.

People read the advertisements because they want to know what they can buy to best advantage, and this can be determined only by knowing what the merchants have to offer.

The local paper is the logical medium between buyer and seller. It is the means whereby the merchant talks to his customers. He can't call on them individually, so he speaks to them collectively.

The one should use it and the other should read it.
