District Governor of Rotary Visits Local Rotary Club

At the Wednesday noon meeting of the club the visiting governor delivered a very interesting and timely talk to members of the club and one visitor, Judge Leslie Thomas.

In giving a definition of Rotary, Mr. Larmour quoted a former secretary of Rotary International, who said, "It is easier to tell what Rotary does and is doing, than to give an accurate definition."

"Rotary is lived, and it grows," Mr. Larmour said, "and is one of the greatest tonics today in the world of turmoil and strife."

Although Rotary lost 359 clubs in the Axis dominated countries of Europe, Rotary International has made a gain of 235 clubs within the last four years. It now has 5,178 clubs throughout the world with a membership of over 210,000.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

An interesting light on why war costs are so great is revealed in a recent investigation by Representative Engel of Michigan. Representative Engel found that girls who formerly worked at five and ten cent stores for $18 a week after two weeks training are being paid $65 a week. This is more than the base pay of a Major in the army. Machine gun assemblers, after a few weeks training, are paid from $4,700 to $8,750 a year. General Somervell's base pay is $8,500 a year. Girls learning to mend shoes are being paid $55.80 a week by the Government. Soldiers in the service are paid $50 a month. Engel is a member of the House Appropriation Committee. He recently spent forty-four days visiting forty-seven war plants of the country. The average weekly wage of English workers in war plants is $22.78 for men, and $11.72 for women.

In the last six months the RAF have dropped 13,500 tons of bombs on an area 40 miles in the Ruhr Valley in Germany. During the coming month the bombs dropped are expected to increase 45 per cent.

The Liberty Bell is 12 feet in circumference around the "lip," 7 1/2 ft. around the crown and 3 ft. from lip to crown. The clapper is 3 feet 2 inches long. The bell weighs 2080 pounds and cost about $300 at the time it was cast. The Liberty Bell, now on exhibition in Independence Hall, was the third attempt to cast a bell to be placed in the state house in Philadelphia, capital of the then "Province of Pennsylvania." The original bell was ordered in 1751 so as to be ready for the new state house, then nearing completion. The bell was cast in London and arrived in Philadelphia in 1752. While being tested it cracked. It was recast by an American firm and the second bell also broke while being tested. A third one, the present Liberty Bell was cast. This cracked fifty-nine years later on July 8, 1835, as it was tolling at the time of the funeral of Chief Justice John Marshall.

According to the War Foods Administration, United States prison farms have approximately 500,000 acres planted to crops by the inmates of Federal and state penal institutions.

There are on file in FBI headquarters at Washington finger prints of nearly 68,000,000 persons. Of these 4,500,000 finger prints have been taken of civilians.

at their request. The demand for American flags has been so great since the war started that some manufacturers are over a year behind. Last year over $5,000,000 worth of flags were sold in this country. This year the total promises to be considerably larger.

Flying Garage

A jeep is shown being loaded into one of the huge gliders being built for the army. The noses of the gliders are hinged. They are towed to the destination of their cargo by bomber planes.

The service will consist of patriotic songs rendered by an all-male choir and an address by I. T. Graves, Crowell school superintendent, on "The Relation of Scouting to the Church."

The Scouts themselves will also participate in the program and each boy will be honored in an investiture service by Scoutmaster Eaton. Troop 49 has 23 members.

This will be a short and inspirational program and the public in general is invited to attend and give every possible encouragement and support to Scouting in Crowell.

"We are especially anxious that the parents and friends of these boys be present," Mr. Eaton said. "There is nothing more important in a boy's life, aside from his home, the church and school, than Scouting. So, let's give them every possible encouragement by being present," Mr. Eaton continued.

Livestock Feeders Can Help Solve the Protein Problem

Seven important steps that livestock producers, themselves, should take to insure better distribution and utilization of the limited protein concentrate supply this season, are now advocated by agricultural leaders as follows:

1. Each producer of cottonseed, peanuts or other raw materials should see to it that his seed moves promptly to the crushing mill in order that it may be converted into feed products, oil for food and other products needed in the war.

2. Ask for, and use, only the minimum amount of feed that you must have for your livestock.

3. Adjust your livestock numbers to the feed shortage so that sudden drought, cold or other conditions will not find you with more than you can feed or handle. Heavy culling now is important, also, to supply meat needed by our Armed Forces, civilians and allies.

4. Help protein to move in an orderly manner. Do not ask for, or expect, a year's supply in August or in any other single month. Co-operate with your mill manager in a program that will give you feed through the season as needed, not too far in advance of your needs.

5. Follow carefully the emergency feeding recommendations that College, Experiment Station and Extension authorities have drafted in most states. These practical recommendations for each state's conditions may be obtained through county agents.

6. If you can possibly do so, raise more protein in the form of legume hays, green winter pasture and other feedstuffs.

7. Save protein by saving your livestock—prevent death losses. Better care, sanitation, and disease prevention that prevent losses of weight or deaths help to reduce waste of protein. Get rid of animals that don't use feed efficiently, then give those you keep every opportunity to produce more meat and milk per pound of feed.

4-H Camp Called Off

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

If we had been able to carry out our plans, myself and some twenty-six 4-H Club boys and their leaders would now have been in a District 4-H Club camp at Lake Pauline enjoying an occasional swim and other features of camp life.

However, the boys and myself cheerfully complied with the request to call the camp off, for the time being anyway, because of the outbreak of infantile paralysis in this section of the state.

The following boys had planned to attend the three day camp: James Hopkins, Kenneth Simmons, R. L. Ballard, Ray Meadors, Roy Meadors, J. M. Meadors, Ray Longino, Wayne Lindsay, Jas. Allen Toie, Kenneth Polk, Wayne Shultz, James Weathers, Bruce Bleasoo, Wade Patten, Waldon Johnson, Marion Gobin, J. V. Cunningham, C. D. Campbell, Carl E. Steele, Chas. Steele, Billy Joe Halenack and five other boys who failed to sign their names to the cards sent in, also three adult leaders had planned to go, J. C. Prosser, Howard Bursey and J. M. Jackson.

Besides these, other boys had declined to go, because of the Polio outbreak.

This war-time showing and indicated the universal interest in 4-H Club work here in the county.

All the 132 members of these clubs are actually producing Victory food in the feed lot, garden and on the farm.

How To Avoid Feed Famine

Right now, Texas has the largest cattle population in its history. And while a lot of beef is moving to markets now, there'll still be a big number to feed through the winter and into the spring of 1944. Frankly, the situation is going to be tight, and the feed shortage could get disastrous.

Because of this possible shortage and high feed prices, specialists of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service are urging every farmer or stockman in Foard County, who has available land and should we get the moisture, to plant a late feed crop. Barring tough weather, which is our perpetual gamble, the farmer who does this will come out on top any way you figure it.

If you have any unplanted acres and get sufficient season you can plant feed as late as August 15th, and it'll still mature enough to make hay, bundle feed or silage. Hegari, blackhull, Kaffir or any of the combine types or 60-day milo, will do the trick. So if you don't have the machinery for the labor to harvest these crops as hay or silage or bundle feed, you can leave them in the field and let the cattle graze these crops all winter. At present prices of feed, beef and milk, this late feed ought to be worth from $10 to $20 per acre when it's grazed. That way you'd save the cost of harvest, because the cows would be doing the work.

Livestock experts point out these crops fed as hay, bundle feed or silage will furnish carbohydrates principally. The smart stockman or farmer will plant wheat, oats or barley for winter grazing to help meet the need for protein.

Unfortunately the weather has seriously injured our early feed crop and if we do not get relief from this intense heat and a beautiful rain the younger feed and cotton will ultimately suffer. Let us hope these changes will come.

Some of this feed can be salvaged as silage or it may be grazed. Some of it, of course, has made a fair yield and can be harvested. In fact, there is some good feed to be harvested.

Cull Out Non-Producing Hens

Authorities claim there are 30 million laying hens in Texas today. Of these 20 per cent, or 6 million, are not producing at present, and will not make a profitable production later. If this is true, why not get them out of the flock now rather than wait until September and get them off feed and out of the way of your pullets which will soon be producing. It is estimated that this would save 72 million pounds of feed in the state. This would be a tremendous saving.

It is also estimated that poultry growers in Texas are also losing 300,000 eggs a day.

This means a loss of vital war food that should be saved.

This loss is caused by fertile eggs and by heating damage before the eggs reach market. The first can be prevented by removing the roosters.

Damage from heating can be prevented by using an old time cloth and water cooler and by keeping the eggs in a wire basket before they are put in the cases and by marketing twice each week.

Since we have gone to the trouble of producing and feeding more poultry than ever before in the history of the country, it is practical to save all of it we can. The loss of 883 cases of eggs per day would mean 8330 pounds of powdered eggs worth $8,000.00. Every patriotic grower will do all he can, I am sure, to prevent this loss.

Roosters To the Block

Old roosters should be sold as soon as the hatching season is over. Young cockerels should be separated from the pullets and laying hens until the next breeding season.

Better eggs and bigger money returns to producers result from

SYNTHETIC RUBBER NEWS

Phillips Petroleum Company
Announces the Completion and First Operation of its 90,000,000 Lb. Butadiene Manufacturing Plant

For an annual production of rubber equivalent to 11,000,000 tires

A MODERN miracle of petroleum research and chemistry has figuratively transformed a few acres in the Panhandle of Texas into one-third of a million acres of rubber plantation.

Here rubber will be drilled from the depths of the U. S. earth, instead of tapped from East Indian and Malayan trees.

From wells overlying the greatest raw gas field ever discovered, will come the natural gas to be processed into butadiene, the basic and major ingredient in synthetic rubber.

This great plant . . . designed and built by Phillips . . . based on Phillips research . . . using Phillips own patented processes . . . independent of German research . . . will make butadiene for an equivalent of 30,000,000 rubber trees.

Thus is brought nearer the no-longer distant day of U. S. self-sufficiency in rubber. Thus is Victory made more certain. And with that great day will come the full peacetime benefits of this outstanding wartime development.

Brief Notes about Phillips as Trail Blazer in the Synthetic Rubber Field

Tires containing rubber produced from Phillips butadiene have been on the nation's highways for more than two years.

In 1941 Phillips produced, for commercial rubber use, more than four times as much butadiene as any other oil company.

Phillips has freely supplied technical data on butadiene, styrene, and other related processes, to the petroleum and other industries participating in the Government rubber program. As a matter of company policy, Phillips advocated the production of butadiene by all dependable processes, from all possible raw materials, including products of the farm.

And ye shall tread down the wicked; for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the Lord of hosts.—Malachi 4:1.

An important part of the plans for the postwar world consist in what each community is going to do to take care of those who return home by providing employment at least until adjustments can be made.

A woman columnist in a mid-west daily noting that the manufacturers of baby buggies and children's furniture cannot keep up with the demand thinks there is something the matter with an industry that cannot meet production needs with nine months advance notice.

Supposing the headlines Monday read, "The Army Has Struck for Higher Pay. No More Fighting Unless a Two Dollar a Day Increase is Granted." That would jolt us wouldn't it?

LET'S GET GOING!

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

A number of editors have spoken with regret of the disagreement that has arisen between Vice President Wallace and Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

It is not our purpose to go into the charges in an effort to discover whether or not they are true. Very obviously no private individual, not gifted with time and money and the right and ability to search the records, could have an opinion on the matter until all the facts were brought to light and laid on the table to be studied and weighed.

In fact we are in favor of more of these discussions. There is, as a rule, so much soft pedaling of the facts that very often we, out in the highways and byways, cannot get the facts and cannot find out what is really going on.

In the handling of public money and public affairs, publicity, in my opinion, is the best safeguard that the taxpayer can have. When things go along too quietly and smoothly, murder can be committed and the man who foots the bill will never hear of it.

Waste is the soul of war. In fact, they are in many respects synonymous terms. But there is much unnecessary waste in war—waste that could be prevented with a little common sense.

It is things like that that tend to shake the faith of John Q. Public, and not the outbreaks that bring out the facts. It is far better to give the people the facts and let them form their own opinions than it is to have them form their opinions on rumors and whisperings.

Prevents the "Bends"

Before our fighting pilots take to the air for stratosphere flying they must be "sued-up." To do this the pilot just before he takes off pedals a stationary motor driven bicycle to reduce the amount of nitrogen in his blood.

The stationary bicycle is an inexpensive piece of equipment, but the vast quantities of this and other materials of war make it imperative for all of us to keep our fighting men well supplied by greater and greater purchases of War Bonds.

TREASURY BARNACLES

Listening to promoters of so-called electric power, one would assume that electricity on the farm was unheard of preceding the birth of the Rural Electrification Administration in 1935.

Grover C. Neff, president of the Wisconsin Power & Light Company, and chairman, from its inception, of the Committee on Rural Electric Service established in 1921 by private electric companies (12 years preceding the REA), dispels this idea.

In Mr. Neff's opinion, four million farms each using 500 kilowatts a month, instead of the present average of 100 for REA and 180 for private company farm customers, are necessary for full benefit from rural electrification.

"Farm electrification calls for radical changes in farming methods and machines, processing of many farm products on the farm, and joint studies by electrical and agricultural engineers, manufacturers of agricultural and electrical machinery, and electric operating companies.

Pre-School Child Should Be Prepared for School Opening

Austin.—"Be sure that your pre-school child will be ready to go to school in September," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bells for the first time next fall. "If you have not already done so, start now to prepare your child for the added strain of school life.

"First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents and physicians should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year of age; the matter is entirely in the hands of parents and their doctors during the earliest years of life. At school age, however, vaccination becomes absolutely necessary. If your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately so that the scar will be completely healed before school opens."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly desirable, Dr. Cox believes. This disease, which causes serious illness and deaths among young children, can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your physician or to the nearest clinic for a complete physical examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to know that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equal terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defect there will be time to build up his general health and correct defects before September. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

development. But this is not the end of the job for the railroads. It takes men to man the weapons. The railroads must move millions of men from their homes to military training camps, and then from these hundreds of camps to ports of embarkation for distant fighting fronts.

With all of this, the job of the railroads is still merely beginning. Gasoline and rubber shortages have caused millions of people to turn to the railroads. In the first three months of 1943, passenger-miles—that is, the number of passengers carried for a distance of one mile—were about 90 per cent more than they were in the corresponding period of 1942. Throughout the war, the railroads have had to carry on their own peacetime duties of keeping the nation fed and clothed and warm and at work, as well as shouldering those of other agencies which formerly shared in this task, such as coastwise shipping.

It is not surprising that the public has a warm spot in its heart for the railroads. They have done and are continuing to do a job as

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Barbed wire used by Uncle Sam's fighting forces is vastly different from that used on American farms. Army and Marine barbed wire is much heavier and the bars, about three inches in length, are more vicious than ordinary barbed wire.

The Marine Corps pays fifty cents for each twelve yards, or 36 feet of this specially manufactured barbed wire. The Army and Marine Corps needs thousands upon thousands of feet for defense warfare. Your purchase of War Bonds and Stamps will insure sufficient quantity for their needs. Invest at least ten percent of your wages in War Bonds every pay day.

Who are non-essential travelers?
You are the judge of whether or not your trip is essential—and your judgment is what our government is relying upon.
Please consider these points when you think of traveling on the railroads this summer and for the duration:
1. Your trip may take a Pullman berth or chair car seat needed by men in uniform traveling under orders.
2. Your trip may delay war workers, not in uniform, in reaching their vital jobs.
3. Your trip may deprive men and women in the service of a furlough trip to visit their homefolks.
If you do take a trip, plan for it in advance, travel light, consider taking a box lunch to avoid delayed meals in the diners, and make up your mind to put up with certain inconveniences and crowded conditions.
WHAT ABOUT VACATION TRAVEL?
Vacations should be spread out over the year, not confined to summer months.
A vacation trip should be confined to one round trip only, starting and returning on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.
Travel in chair cars whenever possible, and please carry only one piece of luggage.
Consult your Santa Fe Agent about your travel plans. You'll find his friendly advice helpful.

Enough to Go Around
Now, for the first time in years, both farmers and manufacturers can work for the biggest possible yield without thinking about the market. This year they can sell all they can produce.
As things look now, this condition is due to keep up for some time, but we can't count on its lasting forever. Certainly nobody wants a prosperity built on war! So it's high time that everybody concerned—and that is everybody—gave some thought to keeping things running after the war.
You're busy, we know. So are we. The important thing right now is seeing that there's enough of everything to go around. But we've been devoting a little attention to the problems of the future, too. We feel that the people who have the producing job to do can contribute a lot to the solution of those problems.
And we hope that you, too, busy as you are with growing more food than this country's ever produced, will be turning these problems over in your mind. For if America's farmers and manufacturers, working together, can't find a way to keep the richest country on earth producing enough for everybody, and let the producers make a living in the process—if they can't, why then, who can? RCAF CARRIES THE WAR 'ROUND THE WORLD

YOUNG Canadians wearing the badge of the Royal Canadian Air Force are flying and fighting in most of the theatres of war around the world. The roundels on the map above show the amazing distribution of R.C.A.F. personnel. These on the map of Canada mark the training and operational command headquarters. Squadrons and other formations of the R.C.A.F. are located in the United Kingdom, the Middle East and in Ceylon. At other indicated points, large numbers of officers and men of the R.C.A.F. are serving with R.A.F. units. In Alaska formations of the R.C.A.F. are serving with the United States Army Air Forces.
Spring of 1943 was a period of hammer blows, smashing out of the air to cripple the Nazi war economy. By day and by night centres of Axis industry and transportation felt the strength of growing United Nations air power. German war plants are being transferred to the east and to the south in an effort to escape beyond the range of the Lancasters and Halifaxes.
Planes of the R.C.A.F. bomber group participated in the largest night operation of the year when more than 600 bomber aircraft struck at Pilsen in Czechoslovakia and Mannheim and Ludwigshafen in Germany. It was good bombing weather, and the attack had a devastating effect on two of the enemy's largest and most important armament centres.
There are about 38 R.C.A.F. squadrons serving in the United Kingdom and elsewhere.
A majority of R.C.A.F. personnel overseas is serving with R.A.F. squadrons. R.A.F. units in every part of the world include Canadian personnel. Canadians make up one quarter of the "Flying Garrison" of Malta. The 1,000th Axis aircraft destroyed by a Malta-based plane was shot down on April 28 by Squadron Leader John Lynch of Alhambra, Calif., a U. S.-born R.C.A.F. flier.
About 2,000 Canadian airmen are taking part in the air battles over the deserts of the Middle East. In a fierce air combat over Tunisia on April 20, Sergeant Michael Askey of Winnipeg, a 20-year-old R.C.A.F. pilot shot down three enemy aircraft. Flight Lieutenant James Francis Edwards, 21, has destroyed 10 enemy aircraft over the Tunisian desert.
R.C.A.F. reconnaissance squadrons continue their fight against submarines along the Canadian coast. On April 26 Canadians carried out two of the 13 attacks on Kiska in the Aleutians, a U.S. Navy Department communique stated.

TOWN and FARM in WARTIME

Prepared By OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

(A weekly news digest prepared by the OWI rural press section.)

GASOLINE—"A" book coupons No. 7, good for four gallons outside the East Coast area, must last through September 21. Within the shortage area "A" book coupons No. 6, good for three gallons each, "B" and "C" coupons cut to two and one-half gallons in twelve of the Northeastern states of the shortage area. "B" and "C" coupons good for three gallons in the remaining five states of the Eastern shortage area. All gasoline coupons in the possession of car owners must be endorsed with the owner's license number and state of registration.

SUGAR—Stamp No. 13 good for 5 lbs., through Aug. 15. Stamps Nos. 15 and 16 are good through October 31 for 5 lbs. each for home canning purposes. Housewives may apply to their local ration board for more if necessary.

COFFEE—Stamp No. 22 (1 lb.) good through August 11.

FUEL OIL—Period 5 coupons valid in all zones through September 30. Period 1 coupons in new fuel oil rations are good for ten gallons each. Occupants of oil heated homes are urged to return their applications for next year's fuel oil rations to their War Price and Ration Boards promptly.

SHOES—Stamp No. 18 (1 pair) is valid through October 31.

MEAT, ETC.—Red stamps P, Q, R, and S, expire July 31. Red stamp T is valid July 25, expiration August 31, U is valid August 31, V is valid August 8, expires August 31; W is valid August 15, expires August 31.

PROCESSED FOODS—Blue stamps N, P, and Q remain valid through August 7.

To Equalize Gasoline Rations.—Equalizing of gasoline rationing throughout the United States east of the Rocky Mountains will be recommended by the Petroleum Administration for War within sixty days. This action, aimed to spread the burden of war equally among all people, will probably result in some increase in gasoline rations in the East and some decrease in the Middle West and Southwest, according to Petroleum Administrator Ickes. It is not anticipated that there will be enough gasoline for driving which is not necessary.

Corn Needed For War Industries.—Farmers who sell their corn to a country elevator buying for the Community Credit Corporation before August 19 are guaranteed extra payments to cover any increase in corn prices between the date they sell and October 31. Marvin Jones, War Food Administrator, has commended farmers who sell corn to relieve shortages in war industries and for feed, and has announced that more than 6 million bushels have been purchased since July 1.

Home Canning Jars.—More home canning jars and covers were made in the first five months of this year than in the entire year of 1942, in anticipation of an unprecedented volume of home canning. Housewives will profit from a study of directions that come with each box of jars and covers, for the new three-piece canning top—glass lid, metal screw band, and rubber ring—must be used differently from other types of covers. Quality of jars and covers produced this year, says WPB, is high.

Soldiers Get Jobs.—Men discharged from the armed services because of disabilities have a direct contact with the Veterans Employment representative in their own home town through a division of the United States Employment Service. Every attempt is made to inform the veteran of his re-employment rights under the Selective Service Act, help him get special training through the Veterans Administration, and to help him get a job in actual war production work.

Return Empty Bottles.—Empty beverage bottles should be returned as soon as possible, says WPB's Conservation Division, to relieve the unnecessary drain on essential war production that results when new bottles must be made. All old beverage bottles can be put back into use, because they are completely cleaned and sterilized at the bottling plants.

No New Tires For Spares.—New tires will not be rationed as spares in the next few months except to such persons as firemen and doctors, OPA announced recently. Drivers that do not have a fifth tire usable for a spare occasionally, may get a certificate for a used or recapped tire for that purpose.

Need Turkeys For Soldiers.—Because turkey will be the main course of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day dinners on every battlefield, American turkey raisers have been asked by the WPA to supply about 10 million pounds of turkey meat during August and September for shipping to armed forces overseas. The public is asked to refrain from eating turkey for a few weeks until this urgent demand for the armed forces has been met. Later in the fall civilians will have a supply of turkey approaching normal.

Home Repairs Are Essential.—Wartime restrictions on building an all-time record production of new homes make it important that houses should be kept in good repair, according to Federal Housing officials. New home building is largely restricted to war industry areas and the majority of American families must depend on their present housing for the duration of the war.

Price Ceiling For Hogs.—A ceiling price of $14.75 per hundredweight, Chicago basis, will be set on live hogs early in August, according to the OPA. This action was concurred in by the War Food Administration. The ceiling is below the 22-year high, but is above prices which live hogs brought before 1942.

Hose Grading Not Required.—Women's rayon hosiery does not have to be labeled as Grade A or Grade B, the OPA said recently, although ceiling price and gauge or needle count regulations are still in force. The choice as to whether the Grade A or B marking will be placed on rayon hose is left to the dealer.

Oven Canning Not Recommended.—Home canners have been warned against the oven method of canning food by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Not only is oven canning slow and unsatisfactory, but it may lead to serious accidents as a result of misunderstanding of canning techniques. Disadvantages of oven canning mentioned by the USDA are: "Juice bubbles out or steams away; peaches and pears are likely to darken. For the vegetables that need high heat to kill bacteria, oven canning is not safe. Even though the oven goes to 250 degrees F., or higher, food inside the glass jars stays at about the boiling point." And the boiling point of water, 212 degrees F., is not sufficient heat to kill dangerous bacteria in a reasonable time.

War Prisoners In U. S.—Prisoners of war interned in the U. S. total 65,058, the War Department has announced. Of these 43,355 are Germans, 19,441 are Italians, and 2,262 are Japanese. The Japanese are interned at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, and the others in 37 prisoner of war camps situated in 20 states.

Postpone Induction of Students.—Induction of students 18 or 19 years old may be postponed until the end of their academic year, the Selective Service Bureau of the War Manpower Commission has announced, if their call to the armed forces comes during the last half of a school year. This applies to students in high school and similar institutions.

Dry Onion Prices.—Maximum prices that show an increased return for the farmer over last year have been established for dry onions at the country shipper level. Existing prices at retail will not be raised—and may even be somewhat lower—says OPA.

Burlap Bags.—Farmers who grow potatoes, and potato packers, can now buy as many burlap bags as they did in 1941, according to a recent ruling by the War Production Board. Previously they could buy only half that amount.

How To Hard-Surface Machine Parts.—How to make new and worn machinery parts last longer by a method known as hard-surfacing metal issued by the Office of Described in an illustrated maintenance Transportation. Full directions are given to welders for repairing tractor, automobile, and truck and trailer parts. Copies of the manual may be obtained free from the central office in Washington or from field offices of the ODT.

Vehicle Registration Down.—Although the registration of private and commercial motor vehicles in 1942 was 5 1/2 per cent less than in the peak year 1941, it exceeded the registration of 1940 by more than half a million. Public Roads Administration of Federal Works Agency reported after completing its annual compilation of motor-vehicle registration statistics.

North American P-51 Damaging to Axis Transportation.

Dallas, July 21.—New disclosures concerning the armament which has made the North American P-51 Mustang fighters the scourge of Axis transportation on land and sea were made by the company here today.

Some of the Mustangs recently produced are equipped with four 20 millimeter cannon, it was announced, making the airplanes capable of exploding locomotives and destroying small merchant ships while retaining their qualities as fighters.

The cannon-equipped Mustangs have been credited with playing a large part in the systematic destruction of the vital Nazi communication and transportation system inside Adolf Hitler's European fortress.

Only recently two Mustang pilots of a Royal Canadian Air Force Army Co-operation squadron reported that in slightly more than thirty minutes the pair accounted for a round dozen railway engines.

Two other RAF squadrons are credited with destroying a total of 35 locomotives and destroying or damaging seven tugs, seven armed trawlers, 10 barges, several factories, many assorted road vehicles, one parade of troops, and a barracks apparently housing S. S. Guards.

Prior to installing the armament used on this particular version of the Mustang, North American conducted a series of exhaustive tests of the 20 millimeter cannon extending over many months. Test firings of the cannon were made on the ground and in the air, in fast climbs from sea level to 30,000 feet, while motion picture cameras and other instruments recorded the results for study by armament engineers at North American's Inglewood, Calif., plant.

Demonstrating its deadliness, the Mustang's cannon tore out gashes a foot long and three inches wide in a target test wing section during firing tests at the Inglewood, Calif., plant.

North American previously has disclosed that a versatility of armament has been incorporated in the Mustangs since they were first designed in 1941. The earliest model used by the Royal Air Force was armed with four .50 calibre and four .30 calibre machine guns. Another version of the airplane used against the Nazis bristled with six .50 calibre guns.

As additional testament to the ease with which the Mustang lends itself to design as well as armament changes, some months ago a large number of the Mustangs also were converted into dive-bombers, which the United States Army Air Forces has designated the A-51. More recently, too, the War Department disclosed that another model of the Mustang is being powered with the Rolls-Royce engine manufactured by Packard.

Installation of the 20 millimeter cannon in the Mustangs demonstrated for the first time that a number of big guns could be used successfully in a fighter without causing "bumps" in the surface of the wings.

Wing Commander Hopkins of the RAF co-operated with Project Engineer George Gerhens and Duane Omoro, North American armament engineer, in the cannon project.

In connection with the series of experiments that preceded the installation of cannon in the Mustang, an incident occurred which demonstrated the skill of American armament experts. The first 20 millimeter cannon sent to North America was an old gun that had been put through a series of torture chamber tests. This weapon was intended only for installation in the wooden mock-up of the airplane and not for actual firing.

Although this particular cannon had been fired with sand in the barrel, and while red-hot had been immersed in water and dropped to the ground from a flying airplane, the aircraft armament men replaced the broken parts, repaired it and actually made firing tests with it against a steel wing section in order to expedite completion of the cannon project.

The Mustangs, which are in production at both the Inglewood and Dallas divisions of North American, have been used as bomber escorts and fighters by the Royal Air Force and as reconnaissance-fighter-ground-strafer planes by the British Army Co-operation command.

The United States Army Air Forces is also ready to send them into action in the coming offensives against the Axis in all parts of the world.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

The coal miners have agreed to work until next October with proviso that mines remain under government jurisdiction. They appear to feel that a state of socialism in the coal industry bereft of wage negotiations, is preferable to the bargaining processes between employer and employee inherent under the American system of free enterprise.

Commenting on such "arrangements," the Saturday Evening Post observes: "Up to now, the only means of enforcement considered available when a strike menaces war production, is to seize the factory or the mine in which a strike is threatened. In other words, we meet the situation, not by punishing the individual who refused to arbitrate or negotiate and ordered the strike, but by taking over the property of his employer who may have obeyed all 'directives,' agreed to every proposal to negotiate and conducted himself in a generally responsible manner. The result, of logic guided all such transactions, would be that the communists, who want the government to seize industry, could attain their heart's desire simply by fomenting enough strikes!"

Blame for interrupted coal production rests on the Federal government. Until one-sided legislation such as the Wagner Act is corrected, giving both employer and employee equal rights; until the present administration abandons expediency and favoritism in labor matters; until top officials in the Federal government stop putting political careers ahead of country justice and the trend toward socialism will continue. And as socialism broadens its grip, labor unions march toward oblivion, as in dictator nations where state socialism has displaced both labor unions and private enterprise. The miners are playing with fire when they promote destruction of ownership and operation of private enterprise.—Industrial News-Review.

It's impossible to know whether the grade crossing accident illustrated here resulted because "three's a crowd" or because the driver had only one hand on the wheel.

The official description of the accident says "a roadster, driven by a young man with two lady passengers, disregarded lowered crossing gates and drove through them into the side of a locomotive. Fortunately they were not injured, but the automobile was damaged."

The National Safety Council conducting a special campaign stop these accidents, which every day delay 38 trains a total of 6 hours—a heavy drain on the nation's war transportation effort. Driver-carelessness is the cause almost all grade crossing accidents, according to the Council.

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

After being blown through a window by a bursting shell and stunned by a 14-foot fall during the bombardment of Sand Island, Marine Staff Sergeant Dale Lester Peters of Breckenridge, Michigan, struggled to remove large aerial bombs from nearby burning hangars. Three words worth 50% of his salary!

BIG EUGENE COLLEARY is short on words—but he's lo-o-o-g on action!

A machinist at Brewster Aeronautical Corporation, his vital job might be considered quite a contribution to America's war effort. But not by Colleary! He wanted to do something big.

So Eugene Colleary signed over one-half of his salary to the purchase of War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan!

You might expect a man who's putting 50% of his salary into the war to crow about it—to tell (at some length) exactly what, how, and why he figured his 50% would help to win the war.

But Colleary's answer to any question about War Bonds is a three-word statement which covers the matter as completely as a book: "I'm an American," he says. And that's that!

FIGURE IT OUT FOR YOURSELF! Are you lending ALL you can?

Weren't there a few dollars in your last pay envelope that could have gone into War Bonds—but didn't? Get out your pencil right now, and see if you can't boost the percentage you're putting aside for Uncle Sam—and yourself!

BOW YOUR HEAD

American citizens should not overlook the fact that John L. Lewis called off his coal strike only on condition that the government would operate the mines. The government strictly obeyed Mr. Lewis' terms. The implications involved in that capitulation of government to labor leader dictatorship, are staggering. The pattern is now perfected to set aside the right to private ownership and operation of property and establish state socialism, strike by strike.

Discussing this situation, the New York Times says: "Mr. Ickes may declare that the government has no desire and no plans for nationalization of the coal industry. He may declare that it hopes to return the mines to private ownership 'at the earliest possible moment.' But meanwhile the government does precisely what Mr. Lewis has demanded."

"Even Mr. Ickes, after saying that he hopes government operation will be 'exceedingly brief,' adds, 'but I regret to say there is nothing that leads me to believe that this will be so.' And he emphasizes the fact that the government is settling down to a long tenure of operating the mines at Mr. Lewis' insistence by announcing the appointment of Mr. Newton, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, as head of a government organization being built up to operate the mines."

"Thus the United States government, whatever its verbal protestations may be to the contrary, has in its action accepted the terms of John L. Lewis. It has done nothing to enforce the War Labor Board's order for a contract. And the government will continue to operate the mines, according to Mr. Ickes (meanwhile him) until there is reasonable assurance that the miners will work for private owners. This means that not only the miners, but any other group of workers, can now force government operation of an industry simply by declaring that they will not work for private owners."

"What the Administration is saying, in brief, is that it must accept John L. Lewis' terms because it is powerless to do anything else. It might review its labor policies of the last ten years, the one-sided set of laws it has placed on the books, and the one-sided enforcement policies of its agencies, to learn how it came to be so powerless."

And that is a picture before which every red-blooded American should bow his head in shame—government impotent before a labor dictator—government violation of private property rights for a labor dictator—government collecting dues for a labor dictator—government powerless to employ a workman not sanctioned by a labor dictator—government the puppet of a labor dictator.—Industrial News-Review.

The Scouts will furnish an interesting part of the program and there will be an "All Men's Choir." It is a men and boys day at the church, but this does not mean that the general public is not invited for they want you as an audience. Program is announced in this week's Foard County News. To miss this service will be to miss a rare treat. Come, and they will make you glad. There will be no services at the evening hour—pastor away in revival.

During the latter part of August and the first of September there will be a reorganization of the Sunday School for the fall and winter work. We will appreciate whole-hearted co-operation of the membership in making this fall and winter the best in years. A willing working staff will go far toward a successful year's work. The success of the past has been in large measure because of the fine co-operation and sincere interest on the part of the official staff. The best is none too good for God's kingdom. Until we have reached that coveted goal there are better days ahead for us as individuals and the church as a whole. Shall we not bring this about by renewed efforts, and lay secure foundation for the months ahead. H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

Christian Science Services "Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 1. The Golden Text is: "O God, thou art my God; early will I seek thee: . . . Because thy loving kindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee" (Psalms 63:1, 3).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens, and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds" (Psalms 36:5). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one,—and are the Scriptural names for God" (page 275).

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Warren Filkin, Ph. D., Member of the Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Secret Marriages Occasionally we hear of young people wanting to get married and to keep their marriage a secret. But it seems to me that the very purpose of a marriage ceremony is to make the marital relationship public.

I wonder if there isn't a similarity between the marriage relation and one's relationship to the Lord Jesus Christ. Sometimes we hear people say they are Christians but do not want anybody to know about it. I cannot understand such a situation.

When I was married I went several miles out of my way to tell some friends that I had been married to the girl whom I had courted for more than five years. If I had been inclined to keep the matter a secret, it would have done no good, for I am sure everybody looking at me could have told that I had just been married. I could not conceal my ecstasy over the happy union with the girl I loved so much, and I did not want to conceal it.

What would my friends and acquaintances have thought if I had been ashamed of my young wife? What would have been my reaction if I had found out later that she was ashamed to be called my wife? Suppose someone had asked her, "Are you married?" and she had replied, "Well, we don't talk about that. It's a delicate subject, and I'm very self-conscious and bashful. Let's change the subject." Would you think this young woman was really in love with me?

What then can be our opinion of those who say they love the Lord Jesus and yet are ashamed deemed him with His own blood? As the husband would be brook-enhearted with a wife who was ashamed of him, is not Jesus brook-enhearted when a believer is ashamed of Him? Then let everyone who believes on Christ in his heart be unashamed to confess Him. Let him be unafraid of what anybody might say or think. Let him remember the word of Proverbs 29:25: "The fear of man bringeth a snare; but whose putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe."

To Identify Future Army Fliers

Young men of 17, who volunteer and are accepted for enlistment in the Air Corps Reserve, will be presented with this official Air Corps lapel button to be worn with civilian dress while they are on an inactive status, the United States Army announces. The new badge, which will identify its wearer as a member of the United States Army Air Forces, is silver-finished with a blue enamel center. Upon reaching the age of 18, the young Air Corps Reservists will be eligible to begin their preflight training. If they are high school or college students at that time, their call to active duty may be deferred until the end of the current semester, provided it is completed within 6 months after they reach the age of 18.

The Light Heart Knows No Heavy Burden: The happiness of mankind runs like a golden thread through all of Christ's teachings. Mankind is commanded to do thus and so because the doing of it will result in his greatest degree of happiness. He is commanded not to do thus and so because the doing of it will lead to his unhappiness. When man is happy and his heart is light and free from the burden of worry and fretting, he works more efficiently and gets more done. He feels free to go ahead and take on most any physical load. In fact, when one's heart is light and free from care and worry all physical loads seem light. On the other hand when worry and fretting or depression caused by concern for wrong doing clutches at the heart, even light physical loads seem heavy, tasks seem harder and efficiency reaches its lowest ebb. The secret of an efficient life is a carefree and light heart and the secret of a carefree and light heart lies in obedience to Christ's will.

A sure sign that a child has not received good home training, is to have the child to ask, when told to pick up her clothing from the floor, "Who's coming?"

Following the wedding ceremony, an informal reception, presided over by Colonel Decker, was enjoyed by members of the wedding party at the Officers' Club.

Mrs. Reeder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Haygood of Cameron. Lieut. Reeder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Reeder, who resided in Crowell and received his high school education here.

Both Lieut. and Mrs. Reeder are former students of the University of Texas, having graduated with the class of 1942.

The young couple will make their home in Brownwood for the time being.

Picnic for Rev. and Mrs. Fitzgerald Mon. Evening at Cub Hut

A large crowd of friends attended the picnic given at the Cub Hut on Tuesday evening to honor Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Fitzgerald and family, who left Wednesday morning for their new home in Crosbyton. A bountiful picnic supper was spread on tables and seats were provided on the lawn. The invocation was given by W. F. Kirkpatrick.

Following the supper, a splendid program was rendered, the first number of which was a singing which was led by John Raso. A prayer was offered by Rev. Fitzgerald. A quartet composed of John Raso, Ebb Scales, Ernest King and J. P. Davidson, sang two numbers. Mrs. I. T. Graves gave a reading on "Friendship." After the program, gifts were presented to the pastor and his wife, gifts representative of the love and good wishes which are extended to them as they depart for a new home and work.

Mrs. Frank Moore, with chosen words of friendship, presented Mrs. Fitzgerald with a beautiful mantle mirror. I. T. Graves, in the name of the church and friends, presented Rev. Fitzgerald with a gold watch and chain and with a Dixon Bible, to take the place of the one which was ruined in the storm. Mr. Graves expressed his appreciation for service rendered by the loved pastor while here. Both Rev. and Mrs. Fitzgerald responded with words of thanks and appreciation.

With the singing of "Blest Be the Tie," the picnic was brought to a close.

Sgt. E. T. Evans Weds in Floydada on July 4

The marriage of Tech. Sgt. E. T. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans of Vivian and Miss June West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. West of Floydada, was solemnized in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride on July 4, with Rev. Phil H. Gates, officiating.

The nuptial music included "Melody of Love" and "I Love You Truly" sung by Misses Ruby and Opal West and "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" played by Mrs. Lake D. Wilderson.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar placed before a long mirror and between two mantles. On either side of the mantles white candles burned in tall candelabra.

Miss Lucille West attended her sister as maid of honor. W. H. White of Amarillo served the groom as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white sheer mesh accented by navy shoes. She wore a white hat with short veil. For something old, she wore a cameo locket belonging to her mother. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses and baby's breath. The maid of honor was attired in a light blue crepe suit with white accessories and a bouquet of gardenias.

A reception was held at the West home, where a three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served to the wedding party and guests. The table was decorated with pink and white sweet peas and lighted candles.

After the reception, the couple left for Terre Haute, Indiana, where they will make their home. The bride is a graduate of West Texas State College and attended the University of Colorado. For the past three years she has taught in the Phillips High School.

Sgt. Evans also is a graduate of West Texas State College and Paducah High School. Before entering the military service, he taught in the Phillips High School.

He is now stationed at Terre Haute, where he is studying electrical engineering which will prepare him as an instructor in that field.

The marriage of Ray Evenson and Miss Olga Meharg, both of Crowell, took place in Frederick, Okla., on Tuesday, July 19. The couple was accompanied by the groom's two sisters, Mrs. Clyde Sellers and Miss Lena Evenson. The ceremony was performed with the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Evenson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meharg, and was born and reared in Foard County. Mr. Evenson is the son of T. E. Evenson and has resided here for several years.

The couple will reside here. They went to Oklahoma City after the wedding and returned Saturday.

LIBRARY NOTES

To the members of the Library who appreciate facts rather than fiction, who have a desire to get close to the heart throbs of other nations, and to any one who enjoys good reading, the following new books which have been added to the Library will have an immense appeal:

"The Unknown Country" by Bruce Hutchison, is a book of interesting information and historic events of Canada and her people. The author is an authority on Canadian affairs, political and economic, and, most of all, he believes in Canada. It has been largely successful because it is a book about humanity in its pleasant mood, that of humor, and, as long as people laugh, it will live.

"Miracle on the Congo" is the first story of the fighting French, by Ben Lucier Burman. It is in its fourth printing. It brings hope and cheer to America and is the first book on the Free French Front movement. It was written by a famous American novelist who was the first to reach Free French Africa and the first to radio to the world the news that France still lived.

Mr. Burman saw, long before the American diplomats, the enormous strategic importance of the Free French area as a supply bridge across Africa without which the victory in North Africa would have been a failure. One of the leading newspapers says "It is some of the finest writing that has come out of the war."

BEHIND THE MIRAGE

The OPA, in its price roll-back moves, has implied that retailers are enjoying huge profits as a result of wider margins and greater volume of business.

The National City Bank of New York has published revealing figures on the margins and profits of retail food distributors. In 1942, the year OPA claims merchants made so much money, a representative group of food chains suffered a substantial drop in net income, due largely to narrowing profit margins, which are now down to one per cent of sales. As the National City Bank points out: "The decline since 1939 in net profit margins of this group of grocery chains serving millions of families throughout the United States, simply means that the advancing wholesale prices of food, higher wage payments to employees, rapidly rising expenses, including those of preparing the multitude of government reports required, mounting costs in connection with point rationing, and sharply increased taxes, have in the aggregate exceeded even the tremendous expansion made in their volume of sales."

"The 1942 net margin of one per cent per dollar of sales, means that if a family having an income

Anniversary Sale to Be Held at Wehba's Grocery

In celebration of the third anniversary of the establishment of Wehba's Cash Grocery in Crowell, a birthday sale will be held at the store in the Ringgold building Friday and Saturday of this week.

The store was opened July 27, 1940, in the Self Motor Co. building by Fred Wehba, owner and manager. A few months ago the store was moved to the double Ringgold building on the corner northwest of the square.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS NURSES

From the American Red Cross, official recruitment agency for the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, comes word of an "alarming" decrease in the number of applications by nurses for service with the armed forces.

This decrease should be disturbing to parents, wives, sisters, friends of all servicemen.

They know that many attacks on many fronts lie ahead and that the wounded can't wait!

It is more than a Red Cross problem, this finding more nurses. It is a community problem in every community.

Relatives and friends of the men in service, knowing the urgent need, must create the public opinion that sends more nurses to the bedside of our wounded fighters.

Communities must share more and more of the younger nurses now on civilian duty. Hospitals, doctors, industries must release the eligibles for war service. Retired nurses must become active again during the national crisis. Red Cross nurse's aides and women trained in Red Cross home nursing must strengthen the home front.

"We are indispensable," writes an army nurse to the folks back home. "The girls say they feel better than they have for years. It makes us proud to be Americans watching these boys. They really are too wonderful for words to describe. No matter how hard the going is or how many hardships they suffer, our boys can always smile."

They will smile, indeed, so long as there is kindly nursing care by courageous, qualified American girls.

There are the miracles of sulfa drugs and Red Cross blood plasma, amazing new techniques in X-ray and surgery, and the joy of being flown in great hospital planes to the home land for recuperation. But, through it all, for the wounded man, nothing can replace the comforting ministrations of trained hands and the morale lift of a girl who has nursing know-how and is sure "you'll be out of here soon."

DO YOU KNOW THAT.....

Dimitri Mitropoulos, widely-known conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, is spending his vacation as a volunteer worker with a Red Cross mobile blood procurement unit which is visiting Minnesota cities. When working hours are over he obliges with piano numbers, including even "bookie-wookie" numbers, if requested.

Twenty-nine countries of the world have honored the American Red Cross through the issuance of Red Cross postage stamps. The first country to issue such a stamp was Portugal in 1889.

Red Cross nurse's aides now are serving in 57 army hospitals. American Red Cross clothing worth $20,000 was sent to American seamen stranded in Russia at Archangel and Murmansk during the past winter and garments also went to others in Great Britain.

A 20-year average compiled by the American Red Cross shows that more disasters have occurred in May than any other month. April, March, June and July follow in that order in number of disasters.

of $2,400 spent 30 per cent of its budget, or $60 per month, on food, including meat, milk, eggs, fresh fruit and vegetables as well as staple groceries, the net return to all the retail distributors handling this business totaled, on an average, but 60 cents per month, or less than the usual price of two movie tickets.

Merchandising profits today are largely a mirage in the light of existing conditions. This is not the time to try to fool the public into thinking that the retail industry has a bottomless sock which can absorb any so-called "price roll-back." It will take more than catch phrases to supply the public now.—Industrial News-Review.

Lieut. G. D. Reeder Weds Cameron Girl at Camp Bowie July 19

Miss Ella Beatrice Haygood of Cameron became the bride of Lieut. G. D. Reeder of Camp Bowie Monday evening, July 19, at 8:30 o'clock.

The impressive double ring ceremony was read by Chaplain V. T. Kessel at the Post Chapel in the presence of close friends of the couple. Mrs. Thomas A. Yacouel was matron of honor and her husband, Lt. Thomas A. Yacouel, attended the groom as best man.

Following the wedding ceremony, an informal reception, presided over by Colonel Decker, was enjoyed by members of the wedding party at the Officers' Club.

Mrs. Reeder is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Haygood of Cameron. Lieut. Reeder is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Reeder, was reared in Crowell and received his high school education here.

Both Lieut. and Mrs. Reeder are former students of the University of Texas, having graduated with the class of 1942.

The young couple will make their home in Brownwood for the time being.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, July 20, in the home of Mrs. Fred Diggs with fifteen members and the home demonstration agent, Miss Elizabeth Elliott, present. Roll call was answered by "How I substitute for sugar."

A very interesting demonstration was given on re-seating chairs and stools.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Milburn Carroll on Aug. 3.

Picnic for Rev. and Mrs. Fitzgerald Mon. Evening at Cub Hut

A large crowd of friends attended the picnic given at the Cub Hut on Tuesday evening to honor Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Fitzgerald and family, who left Wednesday morning for their new home in Crosbyton. A bountiful picnic supper was spread on tables and seats were provided on the lawn. The invocation was given by W. F. Kirkpatrick.

Following the supper, a splendid program was rendered, the first number of which was a song which was led by John Rasor. A prayer was offered by Rev. Fitzgerald. A quartet composed of John Rasor, Ebb Scates, Ernest King and J. P. Davidson, sang two numbers. Mrs. I. T. Graves gave a reading on "Friendship." After the program, gifts were presented to the pastor and his wife, gifts representative of the love and good wishes which are extended to them as they depart for a new home and work.

Mrs. Frank Moore, with chosen words of friendship, presented Mrs. Fitzgerald with a beautiful mantle mirror. I. T. Graves, in the name of the church and friends, presented Rev. Fitzgerald with a gold watch and chain and with a Dixon Bible, to take the place of the one which was ruined in the storm. Mr. Graves expressed his appreciation for service rendered by the loved pastor while here. Both Rev. and Mrs. Fitzgerald responded with words of thanks and appreciation.

With the singing of "Blest Be the Tie," the picnic was brought to a close.

Molly Pitcher Tag Day, Aug. 4

The modern Molly Pitcher will greet you throughout the nation on August 4th when brigades of Mollys will tag every buyer of War Bonds and Stamps. They will carry on the tradition of the Revolutionary War heroine who has gone down in history because she aided her fighters at the battle of Monmouth in 1776.

Sgt. E. T. Evans Weds in Floydada on July 4

The marriage of Tech. Sgt. E. T. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans of Vivian and Miss June West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. West of Floydada, was solemnized in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride on July 4, with Rev. Phil H. Gates, officiating.

The nuptial music included "Melody of Love" and "I Love You Truly" sung by Misses Ruby and Opal West and "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" played by Mrs. Lake D. Wilderson.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar placed before a long mirror and between two mantles. On either side of the mantles white candles burned in tall candelabra.

Miss Lucille West attended her sister as maid of honor. W. H. White of Amarillo served the groom as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white sheer mesh accented by navy shoes. She wore a white hat with short veil. For something old, she wore a cameo locket belonging to her mother.

Her arm bouquet was of pink roses and baby's breath. The maid of honor was attired in a light blue crepe suit with white accessories and a bouquet of gardenias.

A reception was held at the West home, where a three-tiered wedding cake and punch were served to the wedding party and guests. The table was decorated with pink and white sweet peas and lighted candles.

After the reception, the couple left for Terre Haute, Indiana, where they will make their home.

The bride is a graduate of West Texas State College and attended the University of Colorado. For the past three years she has taught in the Phillips High School.

Sgt. Evans also is a graduate of West Texas State College and Paducah High School. Before entering the military service, he taught in the Phillips High School. He is now stationed at Terre Haute, where he is studying electrical engineering which will prepare him as an instructor in that field.

Chicago, Ill.—A Red Cross gray lady noticed a soldier-patient seriously poring over a series of maps, train and bus schedules at an air force station hospital.

"When do you expect to go home?" she asked pleasantly. "Oh," replied the boy, equally cheerful. "I ought to get a furlough in about six months."

UNCLE SAM NEEDS NURSES

From the American Red Cross, official recruitment agency for the Army and Navy Nurse Corps, comes word of an "alarming" decrease in the number of applications by nurses for service with the armed forces.

This decrease should be disturbing to parents, wives, sisters, friends of all servicemen.

They know that many attacks on many fronts lie ahead and that the wounded can't wait!

It is more than a Red Cross problem, this finding more nurses in every community.

It is a community problem in every community.

Relatives and friends of the men in service, knowing the urgent need, must create the public opinion that sends more nurses to the bedside of our wounded fighters.

Communities must share more and more of the younger nurses now on civilian duty. Hospitals, doctors, industries must release the eligibles for war service. Retired nurses must become active again during the national crisis. Red Cross nurse's aides and women trained in Red Cross home nursing must strengthen the home front.

"We are indispensable," writes an army nurse to the folks back home. "The girls say they feel better than they have for years. It makes us proud to be Americans watching these boys. They really are too wonderful for words to describe. No matter how hard the going is or how many hardships they suffer, our boys can always smile."

They will smile, indeed, so long as there is kindly nursing care by courageous, qualified American girls.

There are the miracles of sulfa drugs and Red Cross blood plasma, amazing new techniques in X-ray and surgery, and the joy of being flown in great hospital planes to the home land for recuperation. But, through it all, for the wounded man, nothing can replace the comforting ministrations of trained hands and the morale lift of a girl who has nursing know-how and is sure "you'll be out of here soon."

DO YOU KNOW THAT.....

Dimitri Mitropoulos, widely-known conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, is spending his vacation as a volunteer worker with a Red Cross mobile blood procurement unit which is visiting Minnesota cities. When working hours are over he obliges with piano numbers, including even "bookie-wookie" numbers, if requested.

Twenty-nine countries of the world have honored the American Red Cross through the issuance of Red Cross postage stamps. The first country to issue such a stamp was Portugal in 1889.

Red Cross nurse's aides now are serving in 57 army hospitals.

American Red Cross clothing worth $20,000 was sent to American seamen stranded in Russia at Archangel and Murmansk during the past winter and garments also went to others in Great Britain.

A 20-year average compiled by the American Red Cross shows that more disasters have occurred in May than any other month. April, March, June and July follow in that order in number of disasters.

of $2,400 spent 30 per cent of its budget, or $60 per month, on food, including meat, milk, eggs, fresh fruit and vegetables as well as staple groceries; the net return to all the retail distributors handling this business totaled, on an average, but 60 cents per month, or less than the usual price of two movie tickets.

Merchandising profits today are largely a mirage in the light of existing conditions. This is not the time to try to fool the public into thinking that the retail industry has a bottomless sock which can absorb any so-called "price roll-back." It will take more than catch phrases to supply the public now.—Industrial News-Review.
