Crowell Rotary Club Presented With Charter

The newly organized Crowell Rotary Club held its first banquet Monday night when Ellis Boyd of Fort Worth, district governor, formally presented the charter for the Crowell club. About one hundred and forty people were present and most of this number were visiting Rotarians and their wives from other cities.

The Vernon club, which is responsible for the local organization, probably had the largest delegation present with the exception of Wichita Falls. A bus carrying 30 Rotarians, and one or two passenger cars brought the Wichita representatives. Quannah was present with around thirty people. Electra and Childress were well represented and the attendance in general was much better than was expected due to threatening weather that existed over this section Monday.

R. H. Nichols, editor of the Vernon Record, presided as toastmaster and conducted the program in excellent fashion, allowing only two speeches, these coming from Ellis Boyd, who presented the charter, and M. S. Henry, president of the local club, who accepted it.

The banquet started at the Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. with John Myers leading the assembly in a number of songs. This was followed by the invocation from Rev. Neeley of Quannah. The first number after the wonderful banquet served by the Baptist ladies was a whistling solo by Rob Cooper. Mrs. Adolphus Wright and Mrs. Tully Klepper followed with a vocal duet. The crowd cheered both numbers.

Miss Annie Lee Long, "Miss Crowell" and Miss Frances Hill, "Miss Greenbelt," were next introduced as messengers to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention at Fort Worth. The loud applause which accompanied the introductions was ample proof that this district of Texas is proud of its beautiful representatives. Toastmaster Nichols next introduced the various delegations present.

The feature of the program came with the address of Governor Boyd which ended with the formal presentation of the charter for the local club which was accepted by President Henry who responded with a well chosen address. Governor Boyd explained the principles and objects of Rotary and the service that it could render. He discussed the duty of each individual Rotarian and various things that must be done by each if the club was to be the success that it should be. Mr. Henry thanked Governor Boyd that every effort would be made by Crowell Rotarians to follow the suggestions outlined in his address. He ended his address by thanking the Vernon club for establishing Rotary in Crowell. He thanked the many visitors for their presence and the interest that they have shown in the baby club of this district.

T. B. Richmond, manager of the club, extended an invitation to the Rotarians to attend the feature picnic shown Monday night as his guests. The banquet ended shortly after nine o'clock and a number of people took advantage of his gracious

Crowell Girl Weds Truscott Ranchman

The marriage of Mr. Chris Moody to Miss Mabel Hunter took place at the Christian parsonage in Quannah June 8. Rev. Neeley, pastor of the Christian church of that city, performing the ceremony.

Mr. Moody is a young ranchman of Knox County and Mrs. Moody is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hunter of this county. She is a graduate from the Crowell high school, having finished her course two years ago. She taught school at Gilliland the past term.

The newly-married couple will make their home on their ranch ten miles from Truscott.

Santa Fe Company Buys Big Slice of Orient Stock

The announcement is made that the Santa Fe Railroad Company has purchased 40 per cent of the Orient stock and is negotiating for the remainder of it.

This announcement is received by all the friends of the Orient with much joy, and especially by the people who are served by the road. It is looked at as a guarantee that the road is to be made a permanent line by reason of the fact that the Santa Fe comes into possession of the property, because the Santa Fe can make it the line it should be in the service of an immense territory in Texas.

It is said there is not likely to be any good reasons why the deal should not be consummated if the negotiating parties are satisfied with the deal.

It is understood that one condition of the sale is that the completed portions of the line are to be finished. That means that ultimately the line is to extend from Kansas City to Topolobampo, the objectives in the mind of its promoter many years ago. The Santa Fe can complete the line and make it one of the big trunk lines of the United States, and it will bring development to a vast empire both in Texas and in Mexico.

The Orient has been tried in the balance. It has seen dark and uncertain days. It has appeared as a fatherless child, but somehow it has stemmed the tide of opposition and risen above ridicule. Possibly it has been due to the co-operation of its patrons and promoters in a grim fight for existence until the fates chose to turn in its favor the wheel of fortune. The Southwestern portion of Texas is coming into its own and the Orient appears as a good piece of property after having survived the ordeals of two decades. Nobody wanted it, but now the Santa Fe is willing to pay millions of dollars for it. Wonder if there are those who are still inclined to declare that the Orient ought never to have been built. Few, if any, roads in the country were ever needed more, and the very fact that it has at last come to a stage in its existence where it is considered a good piece of property by such a road as the Santa Fe is evidence that its existence has been justified.

NEWS TO MOVE

The News is planning to move into its new building Friday and Saturday, June 22 and 23. To make it possible to get into the new building on those two days we are hoping that the News can be off the press by Wednesday evening. We are therefore asking our advertisers to co-operate with us to the end that we may do this. You can do it by getting in your ad copy Tuesday.

We should like to insist also on our correspondents getting in their communications one day earlier next week. It may become necessary to cut them short, but everybody will understand this and allow for it.

We only ask our customers and co-operation of our customers and friends in this matter. When we get moved we are going to have you all come to see us.

The Crowell Rotary Club is to meet in regular weekly luncheons on Wednesday.

Former Foard Co. Resident Kills Plainview Man

Sunday's daily papers carried an article giving account of the killing of Oscar J. Thompson in Plainview by Chief of Police H. H. Murray.

It is not the intention of this item to give the particulars of the tragedy as it was reported through the daily press, but to call attention to the fact Murray was formerly a citizen of Foard County and lived in the Foard City community. Many people will remember Murray. He has been away from Foard County for a number of years and has been on the police force in Plainview for some time. According to the account, Murray had arrested Thompson, a young man 26 years of age, and the latter was trying to get away in his car when Murray mounted the running board and shot Thompson.

Miss Winnie Self Sailed Last Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Self received a letter from their daughter, Miss Winnie, who left here last week for New York where she went to take the ship with the Armstrong Party for Europe.

Miss Winnie had arrived in the metropolis about ten o'clock a. m. Friday morning. The party got off the train at Jersey City and went the remainder of the distance on a bus. They had to ferry across the Hudson and she was very much impressed with the beauty of the great river. She spoke of the scenery through Virginia as being very beautiful, but they went through Washington in the night and therefore did not get a good view of that city.

Miss Winnie stated in her letter that their boat would leave last Saturday at 3 o'clock. She was enjoying the trip so far and felt that it was going to be a very enjoyable one throughout.

Crowell Will Send Princess for District

When the big parade comes off in Fort Worth Tuesday Miss Frances Hill of Crowell will act as princess for the Upper Red-Bease River Valley section, comprising nine counties, Foard, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Cottle, Childress, Motley, Hall, Donley and Collingsworth.

Mack Boswell, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, received a communication last week from Homer D. Wade requesting him to get in touch with the other counties and select a princess for the group of counties and Miss Hill was decided upon. This was entirely satisfactory to the other counties. Gordon Gribble was chosen as escort to Miss Hill.

Miss Annie Lee Long has been chosen as princess for Crowell, whose escort is Sidney Miller.

These princesses, with those from every city and town in West Texas affiliated with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will head the delegations from their respective towns. They will be presented at the T. C. U. Stadium, seating 20,000 people. As Miss Long is presented the name of Crowell in letters of fire will be thrown 20 feet into the air. The same will take place as each princess is presented, the name of her town being flashed. After this, each princess will be saluted with bombs and a display of fireworks to match the gown worn by the princess. The delegates from the nine counties above named will be conveyed to Ft. Worth by three special trains.

The big parade on Tuesday will be the most spectacular feature of the convention. It is estimated that there will be at least one thousand in the parade, representing the various towns and counties over West Texas. The parade will cover the business district of the city and will be of considerable length and will cover

Traveler Passes Counterfeit Bill and Is Captured

A man with a woman and some children driving an automobile drove up to the Eastside Filling Station east of Paducah Tuesday and bought some gas. He told the woman running the station he had only a $20 bill but did not present the bill until she had secured the change, part of which she had to get from a neighbor. She placed the change in front of the man and as he was scooping it off the table she asked him for the $20. "Oh yes," he said, "here it is," and gave her the bill doubled up and dashed to his car with the change and drove off. The woman discovered that the bill was not good and called to him as he drove away, telling him that the bill was not good. He replied, "yes, that bill is all right."

The woman could do nothing but call the officers, which she did and they got on the case, and phoned to the sheriff here. Mr. Campbell watched for him and drove out west to see that he found Crowell safely. He met him and followed him back to town and picked him up after he had arrived.

The sheriff of Cottle came and took the man and his companion back to Paducah.

The bill which he had passed was a $100 bill with the corners of a $20 pasted on three corners of the $100 and the other corner torn off. It is said that it was easily detected.

quite a considerable length of time.

Just how many people will be in Fort Worth to represent Crowell is not yet known, but many have signified their intention of taking advantage of the fine railroad rates and availing themselves of the opportunity of attending the event. It is a thing of very great importance and every one who can spare the time should go. The expense will be a negligible matter.

Vivian Ranchman Finds Sheep to Be Profitable

Not many ranchmen in Foard County make the sheep industry a leading one in their business, and yet the experience of those, at least some of them, is that sheep are very profitable. Just why more ranchmen and farmers do not raise sheep is not clear. Perhaps it is because of the fact that there are a good many wolves in the country to prey upon them. Possibly it is also due largely to the fact that they simply have not gotten into sheep raising, not realizing the profit.

One ranchman in particular has had very marked success this year with sheep and we think the matter deserves mention. This is the case of Allen Fish of Vivian.

Mr. Fish a few months ago bought 60 ewes with their lambs, paying $16.00 for each couple, making an outlay of $960.00 for them. In addition he bought 10 lambs, paying for them $5.00 each, which made a grand total investment of $1010.

At shearing time he got wool from the 60 ewes amounting to $2.50 per head, or $210 profit. His lambs are now worth $10.00 each, the 70 head being valued at $700. This gives him $910 profit on an investment of $1010. In other words, if he were to sell the lambs now at $10 each he would have realized a sum of money just $100 less than the initial outlay and would have the 60 ewes left. These cost him just a little more than $1.66 each.

Mr. Fish has recently bought the two sections of land from his mother, Mrs. J. E. Fish, which he has had leased and where he has lived for the past 14 years.

The southwestern portion of the State is pre-eminently a goat and sheep country. That section is no better than Foard County. It is not so good, for it is less favorably adapted to agriculture and sheep and goats constitute the leading industry for that reason. There is good money in sheep and any farm in the county, it seems, might well afford to have a few, and in the hilly and breaky sections more attention might be given to them.

Those farmers who have tried the sheep raising business say that they do not hurt pastures, unless, of course, they are overstocked. One sheep to the acre can be run with a full pasture of cattle with no hurt to grazing, we are told. The fact is that pastures are improved with that number of sheep, for the simple reason that the sheep eat the weeds and allow the grass to form in turfs. They eat grass, too, but they make it possible for the pastures to afford more grass by thinning out the weeds.

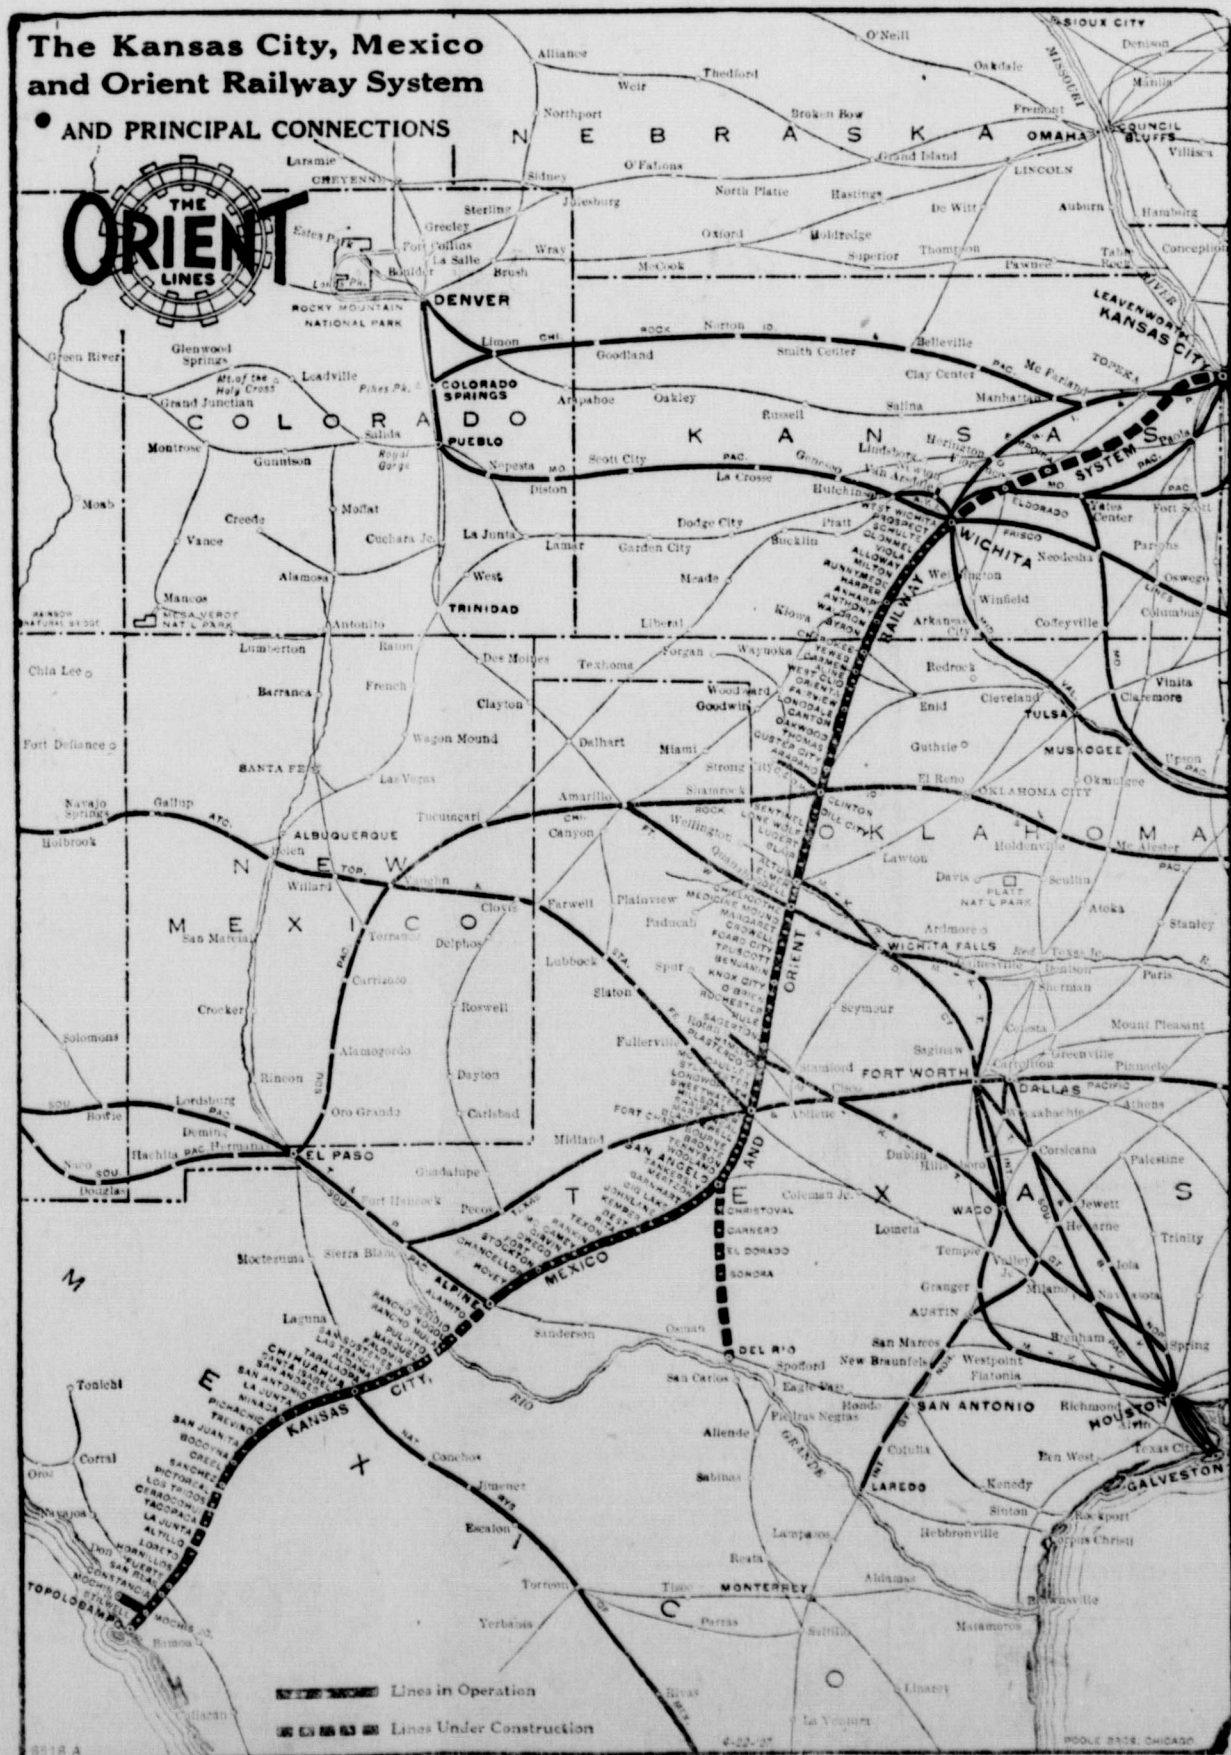

This is not the experience of the writer. We never raised sheep in Texas, but it is the report of successful sheep and cattle men in the county.

Congressman Marvin Jones Coming June 19

The News is in receipt of a communication from Hon. Marvin Jones' secretary stating that Mr. Jones will be in Crowell on Tuesday, June 19, to speak to the people here in the interest of his candidacy for reelection to the office of representative from this district to Congress. He will speak in the district court room at 3 in the afternoon of Tuesday.

Mr. Jones is no stranger to the people of Foard County and has many warm friends and supporters here. He will discuss the issues of the day and tell the people where he stands upon matters of legislation and the measures he favors for the interests of the people of his district.

As has been said before, the voters owe it to candidates and to themselves to hear all the candidates so that they may give each one due consideration at the polls. Mr. Jones is an interesting speaker and will have something to say to the voters that will be worth their time and consideration.

She professed faith in Christ and became a member of the Margaret Baptist church when just a young girl. It is impossible to tell all the good of a life that has been lived rightly. She loved her church and in her own beautiful, unassuming way did what she could to further its interests. She was a loyal friend and a loving wife and daughter.

She died June 5th in the Baptist Hospital in Ft. Worth following an operation. She was injured in an automobile accident in Vernon several years ago and never fully recovered, the operation being the outcome of the accident.

The W. M. S. of the M. E. church met Monday, June 11, in Bible study. After devotional exercises, Mrs. Self led our lesson. The books of Jonah and Nahum were presented in such a way that they were both interesting and instructive. Our attendance was off just a little but let each member of the society make an extra effort to be with us next Monday at 4 o'clock.—Reporter.

Crowell, Texas, June 15, 1928

The average person knows nothing about how much free publicity the country newspapers are called on to use each week. It is little less than amazing. A few years ago the American Press Association gave a premium for the biggest batch of this stuff saved over a period of a year. Some paper in Oklahoma got the prize. We have forgotten how many pounds it amounted to, but our recollection is that it was more than 100. This is stuff that is sent out through the mails, most of it being matter that takes the lowest postal rates. They have got to sending it now as first class mail, but it always bears the earmarks of publicity dope on the outside, and we judge that 90 per cent of it goes into the waste baskets in the print shops of the country. But it is not confined to the mails. It is absolutely astounding that so many people have the gall to come into your shop and ask you to print a little "news" story for them. Maybe they have put a $2.00 ad in the paper and then want a $3.00 "news" story free of charge. The story is advertising, else they would not want it. They are not caring anything about the class of news you get for your paper, but they do want the "news" story because if they can get it printed it means just so much free advertising. Wonder what a business man would think if the printer were to go into his store and buy a tire and want him to throw in a tube; buy a sack of flour and ask for a pound of soda free; purchase a suit of clothes and expect the merchant to give him a shirt. That is the same principle and yet we have men going over the country asking the newspapers to do just those things in expecting them to open their columns to "news" stories. It will cease when the country papers have the courage to turn it down.

"Trying to make an impression has a bad result," says the Quannah Tribune-Chief. And then the paper calls attention to the amusement caused by the girl who returns from her finishing school and springs ether and neyther on her hearers to show them how well educated she is. But, isn't a very large per cent of the actions of everybody who tries to go higher in all things commendable, stimulated by the desire to create an impression? Suppose we were the only one on earth we would have no audience to play before, so we would likely be slouchy in our dress and speech.

The News plans to be in its new building on the east side of the square by the first of week after next. Its plans now are to move Friday and Saturday, June 22 and 23. It will be a big job and we are going to ask our customers to be patient with us, because the moving is certain to interrupt our service in some manner, but we are hoping to be in position soon to render better service than ever.

The people of Crowell and Foard County are very much pleased over the fact that the Santa Fe has bought a large portion of the stock of the Orient. It is only reasonable to conclude that the company will ultimately possess the entire property, and when it does the future of the road is certain. One might say that already, for an independent line, it has emerged from many threatening crises.

Special Train Fare
$4.90 on Tuesday
Only to Convention

The special round trip fare of $4.90 from Vernon to Fort Worth and return will be in effect for the middle day of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, which is June 19th, Tuesday. This fare can be secured only for the special train that is to leave Vernon with the Crowell and Vernon delegations and the tickets for this train can be secured only from the local chamber of commerce.

Arrive Ft. Worth 8:30 a. m.
The ordinary fare from Vernon to Fort Worth for just one way is $5.88 and the special round trip fare of $4.90 can be secured only on a special train basis. This train will leave Vernon around 3 a. m. Tuesday and will arrive in Fort Worth at about 8:30 a. m. with two other special trains from this district. On arrival all of delegates from the three trains of the Upper Red-Bease River Valley will assemble in a parade from the station to the business section. Six bands of this district will also be in this special parade which will be headed by our own Frances Hill who is the official sponsor for this entire district. Gordon Gribble, her escort, will be with her. Following this parade the delegates may go wherever they please. The time for the return of the train Tuesday night, has not been decided upon.

Airplane Pageant
Tuesday is by far the biggest day of the three-day convention and the outstanding feature of this affair, the delegation day parade, will take place in the afternoon. Baseball game, and literally hundreds of other things that one may expect to see at such a convention will take place. Possibly the outstanding feature of the convention will be the airplane pageant Tuesday morning. Large numbers of army planes, and private planes from every part of the Southwest will take part in this unique affair which is expected to be the largest of its kind ever held in Texas.

Advantages of Train
By arrangements for special trains, many people of this district will be able to enjoy the convention, which without a doubt will be the largest ever held in Texas to this time, at a minimum of expense. Loss of sleep may be expected by the special train route, but that is better than possibly the loss of a car or accessories by theft, traffic jams, parking worries, and the general worry of having to watch after an automobile. Besides the trip by special train is much cheaper and by far safer. Anyone who has ever gone with a large delegation on a special train knows that a 100 percent better time may be expected, so why not make up your mind to enjoy Texas' largest convention at the small expense that will be involved by going by special train? You will not only enjoy yourself more but at the same time you will be helping to put Crowell and this section of Texas on the map.

Crowell Princess
Miss Annie Lee Long is the Crowell princess for this convention and Sidney Miller is her escort. Grady Halbert will represent Crowell in the "My Home Town Contest." Other features from Crowell are being

J. W. Cope of Seymour
Injured in Car Accident

It will be a source of regret to the many friends of J. W. Cope of Seymour, pioneer settler of this county, to learn that he was seriously injured in a car accident in that city last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Cope is agent for Chrysler cars in Baylor County and had sold a car to a man who had never before driven a gear-shift car. He had been instructing him in the operation of the car and had just gotten out and was examining something about the car when the man at the wheel accidentally got the car in reverse when it hit Mr. Cope, knocking him down. In some manner he was dragged for some distance. He suffered a broken hip and was probably injured internally. His suffering has been intense. Mrs. N. J. Roberts and son, Jack, Jr., visited Mr. Cope Monday.

OUR WORK WITH THE BOYS

A probation officer who has come in contact with boys for years, has declared that one boy mishandled, not understood or unnecessarily committed to a reform school is a life marred and may be the ruin of other lives.

Boys need the influence of a good home and sympathetic parents. Lacking these, they need a friend who will show enough interest to guide them along the right paths until they reach the age of discretion.

A reformed tramp and convict, writing in a magazine, adds further testimony that boys who run away from home or are left orphans, have little chance if they ever have the misfortune to be sent an "institution."

Not long ago a man sixty-four years old was sentenced in an eastern city for pocket-picking. He had already spent over forty years in jail. Another one, twenty-three years old, got a long term for robbery. He was put in an orphan's asylum at four and has been out of "institutions" only two years since.

Multiplied evidence can be found that boys, once they become "institutionalized" and "standardized" according to the rules and regulations, have little chance of becoming good citizens.

Regardless of whether you have a boy, you are in a measure responsible for the future of the boys with whom you come in contact. If you are not an influence for good in their lives you are not meeting your responsibility.

Let's try to devise ways of making every boy a better boy for the benefit of those who will carry on where we leave off.

FOARD CITY BOY
WINS BABY AT SHOW

Raymond Canup of Foard City was the lucky one holding the ticket at the Rialto Wednesday night that entitled him to the baby that was given away free.

Raymond is a young man of about 16, but he took care of his prize in a manner that showed he was proud of having won the baby. It was necessary, however, for him to take the baby out of the house to quiet it, as its crying was somewhat disturbing to the audience. The last time we saw them they were going out of the building, the baby squealing and Raymond trying to pacify it with a bottle of milk. It was a fine Duroc pig.

VOLUME

Two great factors contributing to the reduction of grocery prices at our store are the volume of our business and our buying power.

It stands to reason that the man who sells but few goods must sell at a big profit. On the other hand it is as equally true that the man who sells most goods can afford to sell at a smaller margin of profit. This fact, together with the other fact that we have tremendous buying power, makes this the big bargain store for grocery buyers six days in the week.

Following are a few price quotations for Saturday, June 16:

Canning

The season for canning and preserving is here. Last year there were 10,000 tin cans alone sold in Foard County which were used for the preservation of fruits, vegetables and meats.

The modern steam pressure cooker and canner should be a part of the equipment of every farm home. Many products that are difficult to preserve when canned by the steam pressure method are easily kept.

Corn, beans, tomatoes, peas, sweet potatoes, okra, beets, cucumbers, pumpkins, are usually available, or at least some of them, throughout the growing season.

Poultry

It has always been considered impossible to raise turkeys in confinement, but this idea seems to have been exploded by a number of persons who have been raising turkeys in much the same manner that chickens are raised. Those who have made the greatest success from this method keep the hens confined to a large pen during the laying season, the eggs are hatched in an incubator and the young turkeys brooded artificially just as chicks. This method is worth investigating in as much as it would take some of the chances out of turkey raising.

A few weeks ago Dave Sallis bought 100 White Leghorn baby chicks at a price of $11.00. Mr. Sallis sold $14.00 worth of cockerels, has eaten twelve, given two away and has 50 pullets left. Very few investments pay a bigger dividend than good poultry properly cared for.

Bind Weed

There has been several inquiries recently coming to this office regarding a weed which seems to be of some relation to the morning glory, but it is very much harder to kill. There is nothing that will grow on the land where these weeds or vines have gotten thoroughly set. It seems to be very hard to kill by cultivation alone, however, close enough cultivation will finally kill it.

Salt is recommended to kill this weed. It is applied one-fifth inch deep over the soil after vines have been cut. This kills the land for some time, but usually the bind weed when first discovered, is in small patches.

Ferguson Bros. tried the salt rem-

And fill your gas tank with that GOOD GULF, let it be one gallon or ten gallons, the service is the same, none better.

But as important as is the service, let it not be forgotten that the product counts. In the final analysis it's the performance of your car that you want. That's what you get in that GOOD GULF. First, it shoots you out of a traffic jam in second speed. Then when you've struck a long smooth highway, notice how your motor settles down to a long-distance run with nary a sound. It is performance that counts! And gulf performance means POWER!

VIVIAN CHURCH NOTES

The Christian revival of three weeks' duration closed last Sunday. There was only two conversions but much good was accomplished in the way of reviving the church people of the community to greater work. The Christian church brethren were re-organized with a membership of 26. Plans were made for the organization of a Woman's Missionary Society and a Young People's Christian Endeavor Society. Four tithers were enlisted and a definite financial program arranged for the church.

Next Sunday, June 17th, is the regular preaching day for the Christian church, at which time Bro. C. V. Allen will preach both morning and evening. Just before the evening service at 7:30 there will be a special Endeavor service for the special benefit of the young people.

This Endeavor service will be in charge of three young people who are leaders of the Christian Endeavor Society of Quannah. At this service a Young People's Society for the Living young people will be organized.

METHODIST CHURCH

Special preparations are being made for all the services at the Methodist church Sunday.

The superintendents and teachers in the Sunday School have the welfare of the entire student body at heart and are carefully preparing their work. The members of the school can encourage and help in the work by being present on time, being attentive, and by co-operation.

Worship at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. Both services should be well attended by the members of the church, and all visitors will be warmly welcomed.

Young people's service at 7:30.

New Herman Allison Home in Covina, Cal., Recently Completed

The following article relative to the completion of the beautiful new home of Herman Allison, of Covina, California, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. J. W. Allison of this city, is taken from the Covina Argus of June 1st:

"Adding another distinctive type of modified Spanish architecture to the growing number of fine residences in and near Covina, the home built for Mr. and Mrs. Herman Allison on Covina boulevard has just been completed by A. W. Feist, architect and builder, of Covina.

"The home compares well with any of this type to be seen in southern California, and is of distinct credit to Mr. Feist, who is also the architect and creator of many modern residences throughout the valley. Set in the midst of an orange grove, its contrasting colors with the green of the foliage gives it a compelling beauty. Mr. Allison is of the firm of Damerel and Allison, shippers and packers of oranges.

"In the upper balcony the bright-colored spindles, exterior drapes and general scheme lend a romantic aspect to the building. The patio, designed on the best Spanish tradition, is a charming spot, with tile floor and steps, the treads being in blue Moorish tile. The fountain is built of lava rocks from the Blackwood ranch near Glendora, where there is a peculiar outcropping of this beautiful stone. The water drips from an earthen pitcher on the changing colors of the rocks, and palms soften the colorings, the water set with lilies.

"The hall is circular and arched, with openings into the livingroom and diningroom. All interior walls are in two-tone stucco. The livingroom fitted with recessed bookcases. Large circular windows face the boulevard, and double doors enter into the patio.

"The diningroom is well lighted in the east and south with small-paned Spanish windows. The furniture is an exact replica of a famous castle in Spain—chairs, table, buffet and china closet—with an addition of a small copper teapot, an heirloom of the family. The kitchen is finished in a delicate shade of cream and pink, with built-in Kelvinator electric refrigerator.

"The breakfast room is large, and finished in pink, with a touch of light blue in the circular china closets. These give the Spanish effect, while dark drapes with bright figures subdue the light. This room opens into the walled garden, flanked on the east by the servant quarters, and bears an exterior resemblance to Ramona's home. The garden is landscaped, with a fireplace in one corner. The servant quarters have a bright livingroom, modern kitchen, bath and shower, with built-in bed. The basement contains a Payne gas heater, and the laundry room is fitted with all the modern conveniences.

"The guest room in this home is downstairs, and is a large room with bathroom in ivory tile, with a border of black. This room faces the west. All the woodwork in the bedrooms is in ivory. Upstairs there is a large bedroom on the west, with three exposures, extending across the entire wing. In the north end there is a sewing room, and there are two bedrooms on the east. All these have commodious closets, and the one for the daughter, Marjorie, has a dressingroom, with bathroom in green tile. The hall is conveniently arranged with linen closet and cedar-lined closet with shelves for bedding.

"The light fixtures are fitted as ceiling lights in halls and diningroom and are candle-shaped, with side-lights elsewhere. There are wrought iron hand-made candlesticks in the livingroom, with brass reflectors.

"One of the features of the furniture is that of a new Steinway piano, a gift to the daughter, Marjorie."

HAVE FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held at the home of M. P. Oswalt last Sunday, at which there were 37 relatives of the Oswalt family present. R. D. Oswalt and his family of this city, a son of M. P. Oswalt, was present. Other children and grandchildren from Abilene, Stamford and Wichita Falls attended. Mrs. Mary Lou Oswalt, aged mother of M. P. Oswalt, now 87 years old, had the pleasure of being one of the attendants and being with children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The occasion has come to be an annual affair, the last one before that of Sunday having been held at Quannah. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. M. P. Oswalt. There were born to Mr. and Mrs. Oswalt eleven children, ten of whom are living and all being present at the reunion.

Things Worth Knowing

The ancient Egyptians knew how to make glass in blue, yellow, red, green, violet and black. The African gold coast provides half the world's cocoa supply. At formal dinners in China about sixteen main courses are served. The bird population of the United States is estimated at 4,000,000,000. Pennsylvania is the mushroom growing center of the United States. The main points of interest in Palestine are now reached by good motor roads. There are about fifty pyramids in the Nile valley. Shark fishing is one of Florida's industrial projects. Wood fiber is stronger when it is dry, but cotton is stronger when it is wet. The Yukon river is navigable for large steamers up to Whitehorse, Canada, a distance of 2,000 miles. New York state, with a wealth of $49,000,000,000, ranks among the states fourteenth in per capita wealth. Moving picture projection booths mounted on automobile trucks are carried about the countryside of Italy to present nationalistic films. An expedition from the Field Museum has sailed for British Honduras to seek new light on the ancient culture of the Maya race.

An Investment with an EXTRA DIVIDEND

THERE'S a big difference between an investment and a speculation. You can speculate in any old gasoline and hope it will deliver a satisfactory number of miles per gallon. You can invest in Summer Conoco and be sure of an extra dividend—a bonus of extra miles.

Your purchases of gasoline during the touring season represent a substantial investment. Make sure that the returns from that investment are the highest you can get. Fill at the Conoco pump.

Maine Rivals Idaho in De Luxe Potatoes

Augusta, Maine.—Again leading all states in potato production, with shipments of 42,088 cars from the 1928 crop, valued at $27,000,000, and probable increases over this total for the crop now being marketed, Maine growers are watching with intense interest a new departure in salesmanship in this state.

Like the orange of the South and the apple of the Far West, the Maine tuber is coming out in a de luxe edition. Two cars a week are leaving Presque Isle loaded with these vegetable aristocrats of Aroostook county, carefully graded, brushed and closed in special cartons and boxes.

Recognizing that loading potatoes out of the field was a harmful practice, growers were urged to install grading machines. They did, with the result that now every potato warehouse in Aroostook, the great northern county which produces 92 per cent of the state's crop, has been equipped with power graders.

For the better appreciation of potato connoisseurs, as represented by club, hotel and home consumers, grading machines separate the largest and best potatoes, of good form and the highest quality. Belts carry them past the hands of experts, who pick out the most nearly perfect. Brushes remove whatever soil clings to the tuber and bring out the glow of the skin.

These vegetable aristocrats are then placed in 15-pound cartons and 60-pound wooden boxes.

Salt Mines in Use 2,500 Years Ago Found

Vienna, Austria.—Salt mines that were operated on an extensive scale, with very "modern" shafts, tunnels and drifts, more than 500 years before Christ, have lately been explored near Hallstadt, Austria, by Dr. Adolph Mahr of the Vienna state museum. In addition to knowledge of the mining methods of these prehistoric men of the early iron age, the exploration yielded also numerous articles of leather and wood, well preserved against decay during the ages by their burial in salt.

These finds included pick handles, torches, wedges, mine timbers, felt caps, shoes of wood, leather and felt, leather hand-protectors, and many other articles. The exploration was backed by two Americans, Prof. E. W. Hade of the University of California and Major Goishall.

CIRCLING OF GLOBE IN 280 HOURS FUTURE POSSIBILITY

German Expert Enthusiastic Over Prospects for Travel by Dirigible.

Leipzig.—The dirigible was declared as safe, commercially inexpensive and fit to ride out storms by Dr. Hugo Eckener in an address before the Leipzig Aeronautical society here. The audience included the consuls of the United States, Spain and Argentina.

Doctor Eckener, who is a recognized authority on dirigibles, said there was room in aeronautics for both the plane and the dirigible, but he asserted that the dirigible had the advantage because the larger it was the better paying proposition it became.

If regular weekly flights were made the entire cost of the ship could be written off in two years, he said.

Horizontal storms were powerless against a dirigible and only vertical blasts were dangerous, he continued. These vertical blasts could be overcome, he said, by driving through them at full speed, and asserted that the Shenandoah disaster occurred because that dirigible flew into a severe thunderstorm at half speed. He said the reduction in the number of gas and air valves was a contributing factor, asserting that the outside air pressure of the blasts which forced the ship alternately up and down could not be adequately counterbalanced by valving out gas.

Doctor Eckener disclosed that a new gas would be used in the forthcoming trials of the LX-127. He said it would be a kind of volatilized benzine with a specific gravity of 1.05. He predicted that this would permit static equilibrium to be maintained and would answer the question as to the handling of dirigibles in vertical air currents.

He also prophesied that as soon as tanking stations are established a dirigible could make a flight of 10,000 miles around the world in 280 hours in flying time.

He explained that the project of placing the LX-127 in regular service between Spain and Argentina had been postponed because the royal Spanish decree had made Spain's subsidies conditional upon similar guarantees by Argentina and that some kind of a hitch had arisen at Buenos Aires.

Fear Sharks? Beebe Says They Won't Bite

New York.—Dr. William Beebe, ichthyologist, home from the Florida keys, where, with only a helmet for protection, he dived 25 feet in an underwater photography experiment, is more firmly convinced than ever that sharks and barracuda do not attack humans.

"Shark and barracuda swam an around me while I was under water, and none offered to attack," he said. "They saw me and moved away."

SICKLY, PEEVISH CHILDREN

Children suffering from intestinal worms are cross, restless and unhealthy. There are other symptoms, however. If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. OUR SCHOOL ANNUALS

This is the time of year when school annuals make their appearances, both in high schools and colleges, and in this connection one should pause long enough when they see one of these publications, to give it a good investigation.

When one turns the pages of a school annual, it points with distinction to each individual in the class that is outgoing. Each pupil is classified as to his or her class activities, and in a measure it indicates what may be expected of that person after the school door is closed behind him.

Business men and others seeking out prospective employees, can do well by turning to a school annual, and looking over the list of boys and girls. It won't take long for a good business man to pick out the boy or girl who can fit into their needs; it won't take long to find out the boy or girl who has been active in school undertakings—one who has been alert at all times. That is the type that every employer demands.

Classes for Public Sentiment

The prosperity of this community and the success of the enterprises in which they are engaged depends in a large measure on public sentiment.

It comes from the public mind—the way in which the people of the community view any project or any activity that transpires.

Public sentiment is the greatest asset we have because it is the aggregate thought of all of the people.

How do you, as an individual, help make up the public sentiment? Do you take a pessimistic view of everything that is proposed for the welfare and common good of all the people living here, or do you take an optimistic view and try to foster things that are beneficial?

You belong in one class or the other. Submit yourself to a careful and scrutinizing cross-examination and see if you have been fair when proposals for the betterment of the community have been made.

It is purely a personal and individual proposition. Although public sentiment is the combined view of all the people, it may be swayed in either direction by an overabundance of pessimism or optimism. Which side are you on?

After all, happiness is the cheapest thing on earth, but too many people think it costs money.

GOOD INTENTIONS

Some people mean well, but never do well. Their lives are paved with good intentions never carried out. They are always intending to do something that never gets done.

Instead of taking a just pride in accomplishment, they are continually humiliated by the inadequacy of their excuses.

They do not even drift with the tide of humanity, but unresistingly are switched into the eddies of life.

For them there is a beginning and an end, but nothing in between.

They have neither true friends nor bitter enemies, because they do nothing to inspire either friendship nor enmity.

They are nameless because no one takes the trouble to name them.

Buck up—and start something.

STILL WORLD'S BEST SELLER

While we are English speaking people, it does not seem possible that there is in existence in this world 175 or more languages in use among the peoples who have native tongues.

While this number is exceptionally large, it is interesting to note that the Bible is the most widely circulated book of all the languages, and is printed in 169 different languages.

The Bible continues to be the world's greatest seller when it comes to books. This announcement has just been made by the American Bible Society, whose report states that more than ten million copies were printed last year, and which establishes a new record for any single year.

In all there were more than ten million copies published by the society in the vast number of 169 languages and dialects, reaching into sections most remote from our own locality.

The latest language in which the Bible has been edited, is that of the Luba Lulu language, spoken by two and a half million natives of the Bantu race in the Belgian Congo. So it is on down the list, where the book has been printed into native tongues, for people living in countries, many of whom are unknown to most of us.

STIFLING COMMERCE

When you hoard money away, you assist in stifling the commercial activity of your home community as well as the whole country at large.

If you put it in the bank, the banker lends it to someone who uses it to produce something. That keeps other people at work and keeps the money in circulation.

If you lend it on a mortgage or buy bonds, it serves the same purpose. It keeps circulating and everybody is benefited.

When money keeps moving, it enables many people to move.

And the fellow who can't move ahead is in sorry straits.

The dollar that is hidden away is in a bad place.

If you have any such dollars, bring them from their hiding place and put them to work.

THE INFLUENCE OF EXAMPLE

People who go through life clinging to the false idea that what they do matters not a bit to others, and that what others do matters not to them, are due for a very rude awakening sooner or later.

Life is this age is so complex, with all of its frills and furbelows, that practically every act of each individual reacts either for good or for evil in the life of some other person.

The man who drinks intoxicating liquor, who obtains contrary to law, may think that he is deceiving everyone, but he deceives few, and at the same time his disregard for law sets an example that doubtless leads others to follow in his footsteps.

So-called respectable citizens may be the pattern for the lives of less influential citizens, who commit petty offenses because they see those who are supposed to have good judgment, having a part in small infractions of the law.

Regardless of your station in society, you may rest assured that anything that is not right, which you may do, will have a detrimental effect somewhere along the line.

Boys and young men and girls and young women, who are harshly criticized for some actions that are regarded as improper, did not invent all of the misdeeds in which they indulge.

They first had the example set by those who were older and should have known better.

The next time something not entirely within the law or the bounds of propriety occurs to you, would it not be just as well to consider the effect it might have on others?

No one can afford to be selfish, especially when the lives of others are concerned. Live and let live. Yes, but live right and let others live right.

BEAUTY PARLORS OF ANCIENTS

Beauty isn't the only thing that's just skin deep. It seems not only beauty but culture, civilization and shifting positions of the sexes can be told by the elaborateness of cosmetics and personal adornment.

Because experts, contending that the rise of races from savagery to civilization is told in the patronage of beauty parlors point out that excavation in the UK region, historic cradle of civilization, indicate that Babylonian dandies went in for permanent waves and personal adornment.

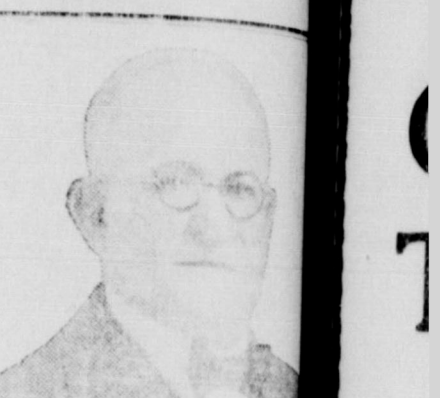

Prince Dug, a warrior of 4,000 years ago, according to testimony implements found in his tomb, lavish user of nenna, perfume, powder and rouge—and applied lipstick with a generous hand.

Women of that civilization, far out-classed by male gorgeously, but now beauty experts declare situation is reversed with women seekers of cosmetic adornment, highly specialized art of modern cosmetologists contend shows high degree of modern civilization.

Excavations 4,000 years hence showing modern day beauty aids, is contended, will indicate the age of our culture and the part played by modern males still in the admiration, but substituting the modern, those more tangible evidences of civilization, for personal adornment.

BEGIN CULLING THE POOR LAYERS

(By F. W. Kazmeier, Bryan, Texas)

If you have a good sized flock and the feed bill is beginning to over balance the egg receipt bill each week, then it is high time to start culling your flock. At least once a month every bird should be handled.

Cull Molting Birds
Cull out and sell all pullets that have gone into a molt at this time.

The Good Layers
Are healthy, vigorous, active, good eaters with plump, bright red combs and those having a large, moist vent, thin pliable pelvic bones spread well apart; a wide spread between pelvic bones and rear end of keel bone; birds with large, soft, pliable abdomens, are the late molters.

In yellow shanked varieties, now, have pale shanks, toes, beak and skin and those with a pronounced flatness of the top of the skull giving top of head a flat appearance, with the eyes set close to the top of head and comb.

Have the eyes set well forward in the head under the front half of the comb, and they appear very prominent and large.

The Poor Layers
Are those that are sick, weak, poor eaters with shrunken hard, dull or whitish colored combs.

Are those with thick, stiff pelvic bones, that are close together almost touching each other, with a small spread between rear end of keel and pelvic bones, small firm or hard abdomen and a small yellow vent.

Are those that have already started molting or are going to start before August fifteenth.

Are those where the top of skull slopes or appears round, with the eyes set far away from top of skull or low in the head.

Are those with a long, snakey appearance of head, the head appears long, narrow and weak.

Are those that want to go broody often and for a long period at a time.

Are the last off the roosts in the morning and the first back at night.

Are poor in flesh and emaciated in appearance, but sometimes they are very fat, and in the case of such breeds as Rocks and Reds, show an abnormally fat condition in the abdomen.

RECENT BRIDE IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. C. H. Moody, who, before her recent marriage, was Miss Mable Hunter of Crowell, was honored Tuesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. C. H. Gillespie and Mrs. Harry McCutcheon of Truscott at the Christian church.
The church was attractively decorated in colors of pink and white. Beautiful evergreens were banked before the altar in great masses.
The Bridal Chorus was rendered by Miss Ila Masterson as the bride entered on the arm of her sister-in-law, Miss Beulah Moody, of Knox City. The bride was cleverly toasted by Miss Ada Craig; this was preceded by a solo, "I Love You Truly," sung by Miss Betty Chilcoat.
Many lovely gifts were presented to the bride. Refreshments were served to her many home friends, as well as several out-of-town guests. Contributed.

Back-Yard Importance Not to Be Overlooked

One important room in the home should face the back yard. The yard is the only spot on the lot which has privacy and usually, if the owner is a beauty lover and garden enthusiast, this is the most beautiful spot as well. Much of the beauty is lost if only the kitchen faces it. No one wishes to spend much time in the kitchen.
Should the floor plan of the house place the living and dining rooms on one side, and the kitchen and bath on the other, have the driveway, if any, on the kitchen side, as a drive generally does not afford a good view from the living and dining-room windows and the noise of the passing motors, combined with the fumes from the exhaust, is most objectionable.

Sometimes it can be arranged to have half of the drive serve as a walk, but if this cannot be done have the walk as near to the side of the lot as possible, to provide a large unbroken lawn area.

Using this method, many leisure hours can be spent profitably and pleasantly; probably, as there is enough time during the winter to allow one to take into consideration every little detail, through out every difficulty and be fully prepared to start work early in the spring.

Garage in These Days Need Not Be Eyesore

Did you ever consider how your garage, whether it is attached to your house—or detached, can be made to take on a certain degree of artistry in its appearance with a little effort on your part?

Decorative hardware, for instance, gives a pleasing look to a homely door. This hardware may be in the form of metal trimming, bolts, nail heads, or hinges.

Window boxes along the side windows of a garage give a touch of attractiveness. If awnings are used on the house they can also appear on the garage.

The newer garages are no longer hostile to the eyes during the landscape. And what can any one not be able to have if he has the means, any more than an elaborate house, they may be pleasing and appealing to the eye. If detached from the house, they may be an addition to the landscape rather than a blot upon it.

Give Average Costs

Average cost of single houses in 1926 is estimated at $8,512, according to statistics compiled by Building Age which covers construction operations throughout the country. Average cost of double houses was placed at $7,818, and multi-family houses at $15,000.

T. M. Parker informs the News that the Bon Ton Cafe is to have a new home as soon as it can be constructed.

Mr. Parker has been planning to build for some time and he is now ready to start the work.

Tearing down the old building is starting and Mr. Parker is moving his cafe into the sheet iron building west of Shelton's Cash Grocery where he will continue business until the new structure is ready for occupancy. It will be joined to Mr. Shelton's store on the east with the wall of the store building as partnership property. The building will be concrete throughout and will be 25 feet wide and 61 feet long.

Mr. Parker plans to make this one of the most attractive and up-to-the-minute establishments of its kind in town.

SPLINTERS

VOL. 1 June 15, 1928 No. 15

Published in the interest of the people of Crowell and vicinity by the Cicero Smith Lumber Co.

R. J. ROBERTS, Manager.

Well Texon Tattler was not dead nor had he quit writing Texon Tales for he was in last week's paper strong. He refers to Splinters again with a doubt if anybody reads them. Right here we want to say everybody reads Splinters. Mr. J. J. Handley told us he reads Splinters and every one knows Mr. Handley does not have time to read on by the best reading. Did you read Tattler's tale about the doves he saw on the other side of the Pecos? If he had not mentioned about the oppressive heat he encountered we would have tried to believe the dove story—am afraid the heat caused Tattler to see things as they wasn't.

Cultivator and n d planter tongues in oak and pine—painted, ready to put in. We have them.

Brick laying was begun on the Ferguson Bros. building on the east side of the square Monday.

There are a lot of little vexing things that happen in the lumber business. Then a customer comes in and says, "I liked the service and the quality of the materials I got here," and the vexations vanish right away.

Another big shipment of B. P. S. Paint just received. B. P. S. Paint covers more for the dollar, that's the reason we sell lots of paint.

L. G. Andrews returned from a fishing trip to the Big Lake the first of the week. He reports no fish but lots of water. It rained nearly all the time he was down there.

Mr. A. Y. Norman, who has been confined to his home with the flu for several days, was down town the first of the week.

When planning that new home or remodeling the old one see the samples of Oriental stucco in our office.

Tom: What's the trouble between those two gold-diggers?
Jim: "They've been jumping each other's claims."

"Have you heard that they're going to put beads on Ford's?"
"No, why?"
"To make them look like Lincoln's."
