GASOLINE PLANT STARTS OPERATION

PRODUCTION AT JOHNSON PLANT BEGAN MONDAY

First production of natural gasoline came Monday at the Johnson Gas Plant of The Texas Company, thus beginning a new chapter in Foard County's industrial history.

The estimated production for the first day of operation was 3,500 gallons of natural gasoline, a product which is used to step up the gravity of ordinary gasoline. The plant's capacity at present is about 5,000 gallons daily.

Work of clearing the site for the plant, which is about 18 miles air-line distance west of Crowell, was started on Nov. 23, 1933. At that time Texas Company officials expected to have the plant in operation by Feb. 1 of this year, however, manufacturers of necessary supplies were swamped with orders and could not make their deliveries to the new plant as originally scheduled.

Natural gas, that is being processed into gasoline through the application of pressure in the processing equipment, is coming from the Texas Company's Johnson No. 3 well, about one thousand feet east. The plant is of the vapor rectification type and incorporates a number of new ideas never before used in a gas processing plant. Ray Mills, formerly of Burkhurnett, superintended its construction and will have charge of its operation.

Starting New Test

Drilling will start soon on another well for the Texas Company, about one thousand feet northwest of the plant in order to secure an additional gas supply for the plant. Although the Johnson No. 3 well would have a total capacity of over one hundred million cubic feet of gas daily if all of its sands were producing, yet only about eight million cubic feet from this well are available, coming from the last sand, since the others were sealed up.

The oil output of the Johnson No. 3 has been voluntarily restricted to 750 barrels daily. This well blew in as a producer of oil July 20 and was completed on July 28 at 3,571 feet. Upon completion of a four-inch line to the Gulf Production Company's main line, about one-half mile northeast, drilling proceeded six feet further and on Oct. 9 the well flowed 2,776 barrels of high gravity oil in 24 hours' time.

After that oil men and others regarded the completion of this well as the most important happening in North Texas oil circles since the bringing in of the Fowler well that was responsible for the Burkhurnett boom of 1918-19.

The Texas Company owns a unitized block of approximately 10,000 acres on the L. K. Johnson and the Dora B. and Leslie McAdams property. A 694-foot dam to create a lake to provide water for the gas plant and future drilling activities, was completed several weeks ago on Good Creek at a point about 4 miles northeast of the plant. A heavy rain is now needed to fill the lake.

A 3-inch line to handle the plant's output has been completed to a loading rack on the Santa Fe tracks at Foard City, a distance of 15 miles.

A good dirt road is now being completed from the pavement on Highway 28, at a point about 12 miles west of Crowell to the new scene of activity through the co-operation of the C. W. A., county, and the Texas Company. The new road is about 9 miles in length.

Crowell and Margaret Juniors to Play For County Title Tonight

The junior basketball championship of Foard County will be decided here tonight in a game at the local gym between the Margaret and Crowell juniors. Thalia and Foard City will also play in tonight's program for third place honors. This event was to have taken place last Thursday night but was postponed due to inclement weather.

Admission tonight is only 10c and 15c and the proceeds will go toward paying for ribbons, trophies and other expenses in connection with the county meet here on Friday and Saturday of next week.

The exhibition game between Crowell and Margaret high schools that was to have been played last Friday was also called off on account of the weather and postponed indefinitely.

High. During that time the Wildcats have played 181 games, have won 157 and lost 24. The record for each of the 7 seasons follows:

1928—Won 7.....	Lost 3
1929—Won 18.....	Lost 4
1930—Won 18.....	Lost 3
1931—Won 29.....	Lost 4
1932—Won 29.....	Lost 3
1933—Won 33.....	Lost 1
1934—Won 23.....	Lost 6
Total—Won 157.....	Lost 24

Crowell won the county championship each year following 1928, Thalia winning that year in an extra-period game. Crowell lost to Hedley in its first game at the district meet in Childress in 1929. In 1930 the Wildcats went to the final game, but lost to Estelina. Since then, 1931-32-33-34, Crowell has reigned supreme in District No. 4.

ANNUAL COUNTY INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET WILL BE HELD IN CROWELL FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MARCH 16-17

Baseball's Greatest

NEW YORK. John J. McGraw (above), 60, called baseball's greatest figure, died last week with his beloved New York Giants as world champions. It was McGraw who picked and developed Manager Bill Terry and turned over to him the management when health failed in 1932. No man was happier than McGraw last Fall when the fighting Giants beat Washington for the world title.

The Foard County Interscholastic League meet, the outstanding event of the year for all schools of the county, will take place in Crowell on Thursday night, Friday night and Saturday of next week.

Large numbers of students from all parts of the county will compete in the various literary and athletic events that are scheduled at that time.

Ribbons and trophies, costing over $50.00, have been ordered and will be distributed to first, second and third place winners in the meet.

While many of the events will be free, small admission charges of 10c and 15c will be made for the musical and speaking divisions of the meet that take place in the school auditorium. Besides the expense for awards, there will also be other expenses and it is hoped that the public will attend the interesting school contests in large numbers, not only for their own enjoyment, but also that their small admission may help the expenses of the meet.

Thursday Night Program

The program next Thursday night at the school auditorium will include high school choruses, quartets and duets and rural quartets and duets. Rural chorus events will be Friday morning.

The principal athletic events of the meet will take place Saturday, March 17. A complete program of the county meet will appear in next week's issue of The News.

MOFFETT SENDS INFORMATION ON RECENT SESSION

George Moffett of Chillicothe, representative for this district in the Texas Legislature, has returned from a recent session of the Legislature and has sent The News the following information regarding it:

"We had a rather warm session, and I am glad it's over. I doubt if there will be any more sessions this year. Among the important bills passed were:

"First: The Moratorium on Real Estate Foreclosures, which directs strict Judges to use their discretion in stopping foreclosure proceedings when same would work an unjust hardship upon the owner of the property and cause it to be sold for less than its real value. It was thought better to let the District Judges over the State exercise their judgment in these matters than to put down hard and fast rules in the law, for the reason that conditions are not the same everywhere, and, therefore some flexibility was needed.

"Second: The Legislature authorized the issuance of $5,000,000 worth of new relief bonds, which are to be backed by an equal amount of Federal funds, making a total of $10,000,000 available for relief in the immediate future. Since much difficulty was encountered in selling the bonds issued last fall it was deemed best to increase the interest rate on these last bonds and, otherwise, make them more attractive to buyers.

"Third: A Centennial Commission is created to lay plans for a proper observance of the patriotic events of the early history of our State, which are vastly different from that of any other State.

"Fourth: Several bills were passed strengthening the laws concerning the withdrawal of this natural source from the earth so as to stop waste.

"Fifth: The time of payment of automobile registration fees was moved up to April 1st. However, the bill to reduce the license fees did not pass. In my judgment license fees could be reduced, as they are somewhat higher in Texas than in most other States, and I have actively supported and sponsored a bill to bring about a reasonable reduction during the past two sessions.

"I am glad to say the Legislature did not levy any new taxes, nor did it undertake any expensive investigations.

"Sincerely,
"George Moffett."

Farmers and Stockmen Making Applications For Production Loans

Applications for production loans to farmers and stockmen in Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties are now being received by T. N. Bell, secretary-treasurer of the Crowell Production Credit Association. According to Mr. Bell, all loans will be made on a business basis and according to the security furnished by the applicant.

"The loans that will be made in this county and the other three counties served by the Crowell association must be good loans and loans that are collectible if the association is to continue as a permanent service to farmers in this and other communities, as intended," Mr. Bell said.

"Fortunately, not all farmers in this county need credit," he continued, "but for those who do the association stands as a business organization—not as a charity institution. Loans may be obtained for periods of 3 to 12 months by any eligible deserving farmer or stockman who needs credit and has security; but if a farmer or stockman is eligible for credit it must be extended on a business basis."

Each applicant has to state in his application what property he is offering to secure the loan, Mr. Bell said. Security for these loans will consist of first liens on crops, livestock or other personal property on which a lien, or chattel mortgage, may be taken to secure the loan adequately. The lien may be taken on property already in the possession of the borrower, or to be purchased with the money borrowed. It is not intended that production loans shall be secured principally by mortgages on real estate. Where this type of security is taken it will be regarded only as additional collateral.

Mr. Bell said that the charges on production loans would be as low as possible in keeping with business credit. A small fee is charged to inspect the property offered as security by the applicant, but usually no charge will be made for inspection if the loan is not granted.

The minimum amount that can be loaned to any one eligible borrower is $50.00. The interest rate is 3 per cent above the discount rate of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, and charged only for the actual number of months the loan is outstanding. The present discount rate of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank is 3 per cent, which would make the interest rate to the farmer-borrower 6 per cent per annum.

Loans may be obtained for general agricultural purposes including the costs of growing, cultivating, or marketing crops; and for the production of livestock, and dairy and poultry products.

Most of the loans will run from 3 to 12 months, and are to be due and payable at the time when the crops and livestock financed are sold.

Each farmer or stockman borrowing for the first time automatically becomes a member of the association, since each is required to own voting stock in the association equal to $5 for every $100.00 or fraction thereof he borrows. The stock may be purchased with a part of the loan proceeds. It is the only voting stock in the association, and may be purchased only by borrowers, each having only one vote regardless of the amount borrowed.

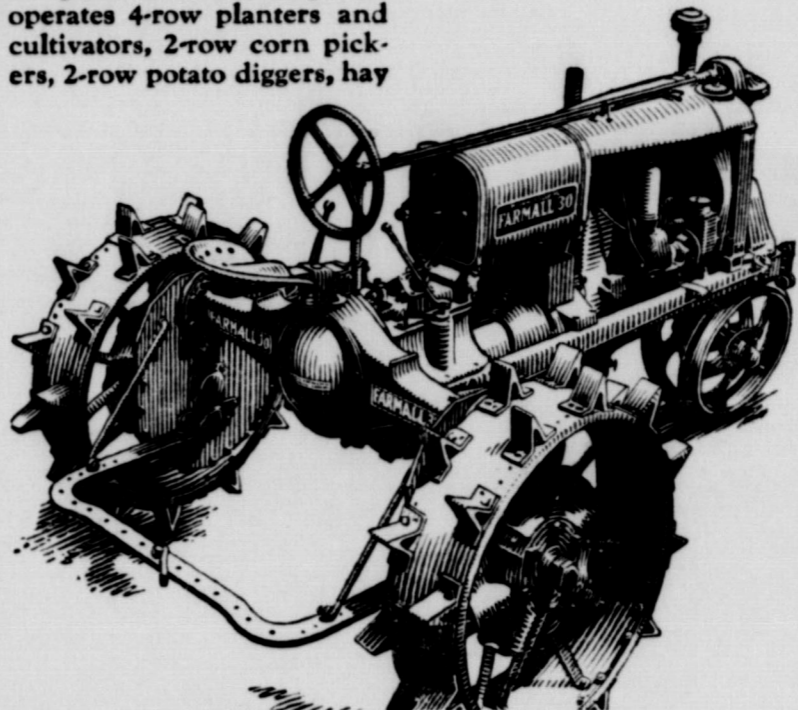

A farmer or stockman who becomes a member of an association does not have to "stand good for" the loans of the association, or the debts of other borrowers. The stock carries no double liability.

The Crowell Production Credit Association, which is authorized to make loans in this county, is one of 50 which have been established in this state. Most of the capital of the association is provided by the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, which is supervising the work of associations in Texas.

The Big FARMALL 30 is the Tractor for Large Acreages in Row-Crop Farming

FOR large-scale, row-crop farming, we recommend the McCormick-Deering Farmall 30 Tractor. It has all of the exclusive features that made the original Farmall so popular. Its engine provides smooth, abundant power for all drawbar, belt, and power take-off work. The Farmall 30 pulls a 3-bottom plow, operates 4-row planters and cultivators, 2-row corn pickers, 2-row potato diggers, hay tools, grain harvesting equipment, and other machinery. Let's get together on a demonstration of the Farmall 30. Besides this model, there are the 1 and 2-plow Farmalls; the 10-20, 15-30, and the new W-30; and two sizes of Tractor-Tors in the McCormick-Deering line.

LAMESA WINNER OF REGION NO. 1 CAGE TOURNEY

The Lamesa High Tornados proved too much for the Wildcats of Crowell, the Owls of Hedley and the Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo and won the championship of Region No. 1 of the Texas Interscholastic League with well-earned victories in the regional tourney at Burton Gymnasium on the campus of West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon on Friday and Saturday.

Each of the teams competing in the tourney had previously won the championship of their own districts, Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4. Lamesa is now eligible to participate in the state finals at Austin Friday and Saturday in competition with the following regional winners: Denton, Athens, Brownwood, Harlingen, Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio, Jeff Davis of Houston, and El Paso.

Last year Crowell entered the state finals after winning the bi-district championship over Wichita Falls, the method of elimination which was abandoned this year in favor of regional tournaments. After defeating Big Spring in the opening round, the Wildcats lost their only game of the season to those Jeffersons of San Antonio in the quarter-finals.

The double elimination system was used in the tournament at Canyon with Crowell defeating Amarillo in the opening game by the score of 24 to 17. The Sandies gained the lead on a free toss, however, the Wildcats soon overcame this lead and remained on top throughout the rest of the game.

Lamesa beat Hedley 27 to 15 in the first game for these two teams. Friday night the two winning teams and the two losing teams played each other with Crowell losing to Lamesa by the score of 46 to 10. Amarillo beat Hedley 27 to 27 to gain the right of playing Crowell the next morning to determine the team that would play Lamesa in the final game Saturday night.

Crowell and Lamesa played on fairly even terms in the first quarter, however, the Tornado from the South Plains proved entirely too much for their smaller opponents. Both teams played in the first quarter with gold jerseys. Officials requested one of the teams to change at the end of this period and a coin was tossed. Crowell missed the toss and had to play with the Teachers College maroon and white sweaters for the latter three quarters of the contest.

In the game with Amarillo the following morning, Crowell was leading 8 to 0 at one point of the game and was on the heavy end of the score at the end of each of the first two quarters. Amarillo's third-quarter rally of 14 points gave the Sandies a lead that was too much for the Wildcats to overcome. Although Crowell scored 9 points to Amarillo's 4 in the final stanza, the Sandies gained a 27 to 24 victory to eliminate Crowell from further competition.

Lamesa beat Amarillo in the final game Saturday night by a score of 35 to 23.

The Crowell team of eight players and Coach Grady Graves were transported to Canyon by L. A. Andrews and Glenn Rasberry.

KNOX PIONEER WOMAN BURIED AT TRUSCOTT

Funeral services were held at the Christian Church in Truscott last Thursday for Mrs. J. R. Craig, 70, who died the previous day following a long illness. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. V. Allen, Christian minister of Crowell, assisted by Rev. O. C. Stapleton, Methodist pastor of Truscott. Interment was in the Truscott cemetery.

Mrs. Craig was one of the earliest pioneers of this section, coming to Knox County with her husband in 1855 in a covered wagon. They met with all the difficulties and hardships that attend such a move into a frontier country, however, they remained here and played an important part in the development of this section of Texas.

Mrs. Craig whose maiden name was Mary Etta Lyons, was born at Eureka Springs, Ark., on Nov. 19, 1863. She was married to James Riley Craig on Oct. 7, 1877, to which union was born nine children, six of whom survive. Two children died in infancy and one, Mrs. Trudie Coffman, died in early womanhood.

The surviving children are: Henry Craig and Mrs. Frank Moorehouse of Benjamin, Mrs. Ada Barham, Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Van Browning and Mrs. Seth Woods, all of Truscott. J. R. Craig died in Truscott on Aug. 1, 1927, at the age of 66.

The deceased lived a faithful Christian life during her earthly career and her kind nature gained her hundreds of friends who mourn her loss.

News: Mrs. Lewellyn Morgan, dress cleaner and pressed by Wright Cleaners. Hog calling—E. W. Burrow, $1.50 cash from Leo Spencer; R. H. Jones, $1.00 cash, and Dave Solis, 50c cash, from F B M Association.

Christian Church
Our new pastor, Rev. Wm. J. Spreen, of Fort Worth, began his work with us last Sunday, preaching morning and evening. Attendance was good at both services. Rev. Spreen brought helpful messages. Quite a large number of people from other churches worshipped with us at the evening service, and all in all, the day's services pointed toward better times for our congregation in His service.
Rev. Spreen is a man of ability, experience and earnestness, with special experience in educational and young people's work and under his leadership the church should make much larger headway in all of its efforts. Let's get behind Bro. Spreen and give him that fine support that we so well know how to give.
Come next Sunday. Tell your friends and neighbors about the services, bring others with you and let's really be in earnest in our service of our Master.
C. V. ALLEN, Elder.

Methodist Church
Vesper services at 5:30 in the place of night services will begin at the Methodist Church next Sunday. We hope that at this first service many will attend. Now that a large majority have expressed their desire for the change let no one make an unfavorable comment thereon, at least until it has been given a thorough trial. Your pastor's attitude has been that a free discussion be given the subject and a decision to make the change be made only after a positive and decided demand for a change be expressed. We invite visitors from our brethren of other churches of the town, since the hour does not conflict with their services, and we will be glad for our members to visit these churches. Our score Sunday was 294, a welcome increase but not as many as we should have. We are learning and singing new hymns together with songs we once sung years ago. The aged and children are given an especial invitation to be present at the Vesper hour. This has proven to be very popular with many churches that use it.

Truscott-Foard City Methodist Church News
The time of our revival services at the Truscott Methodist Church is drawing near. Just two weeks from Wednesday night of this week our meeting will begin.
Rev. Bascom Morton is no stranger to the people of Knox County, having held meetings at Vera and Benjamin in the years 1928-29.
Rev. Morton was a successful pastor for a number of years and has been in the evangelistic work something like ten years. Brother Morton has been very successful as an evangelist and has returned to the same communities each year for a number of years for evangelistic meetings. He is a deeply consecrated man and a true Gospel preacher. He has several sons who are licensed preachers and a daughter serving as a deaconess in the City of Nashville, Tenn.

Whether we have a great revival of religion depends not wholly on the evangelist, nor the pastor, but on every church member. Do you want to see a genuine revival, and feel a revival? Then begin by praying for it and put feet to your prayers by working for it.
Our Sunday school attendance improved a little Sunday, but if we are to have 80 per cent of our church members enrolled in Sunday school and 80 per cent of our Sunday school attendance in the preaching services—morning service at 11 o'clock and evening service at 7:30—we still have very much to do. Mrs. W. F. Hickman's class had the best average attendance in the Sunday school last Sunday. We are sure that will be increased next Sunday.
Jesus at the age of 12 said to his mother, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" Is this not a challenge for every one?
The Foard City Epworth League will meet Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The Methodist women of the Foard City community will meet Monday afternoon March 12th, 2:30, at the church.
O. C. STAPLETON, Pastor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Parables of the Kingdom.
Lesson for March 11th, Matthew, Chap. 13.

Golden Text: Isaiah 9:7.

The characteristic method of Jesus was to herald His message in the form of vivid pictures, or parables. In this way He guaranteed that the gospel would be surely remembered, for pictures always remain in the mind more easily than argument or exposition devoid of imagery. "Truth embodied in a tale" is a very effective form of instruction.
In the beautiful chapter chosen for our lesson there are eight striking parables. An entire period could be devoted to each of these appealing stories. Two of them, the parable of the sower, and the parable of the tares, are full length sketches. The others are vignettes merely. Suppose we look at four of these miniatures.

Consider the parable of the mustard seed. Here we have a prophecy of the expansion of the divine Kingdom. The mustard seed, proverbially the tiniest of all grains, becomes, at last, a mighty tree, its splendid branches lifted heavenward for the refuge of birds and the comfort of man. So it is with the commonwealth of God. The life of Jesus was obscure. Few heard His gracious but urgent gospel. At the time of His cruel death His movement was a mere speck upon the horizon of men's interests. But look at it now! Through the long centuries it has gathered to itself many peoples until it stands before day, a great treasury of the life.

The parable of the leaven illustrates the permeating quality of God's Realm. Note that leaven, unseen, and silent, the vine kingdom advances in the hearts of men, as an invisible force. Shunning notoriety, it returns, it makes its presence unobtrusively, calmly, without blare of trumpets. But its influence is none the less effective!
The parables of the hidden treasure and the pearl of great price illustrate the surpassing worth of heavenly commonwealth. In these there is exultant joy in possession of wealth of surpassing value.

Christian Science Church

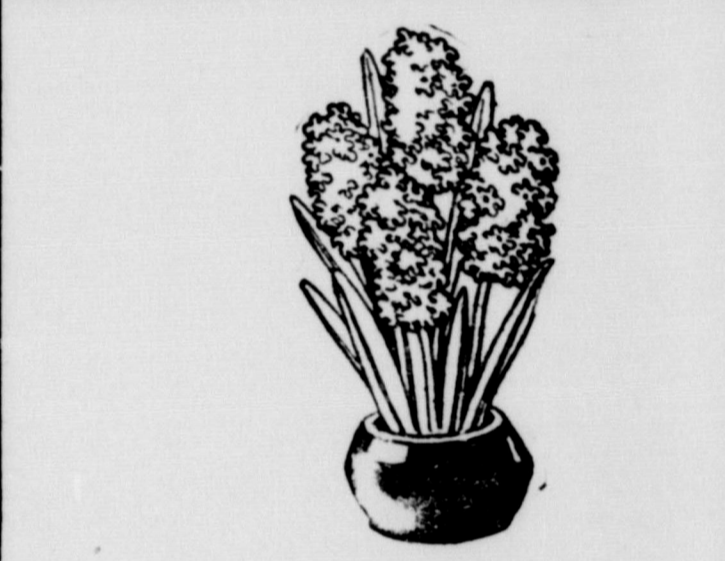

"Man" is the subject of the sermon which will be given at the Churches of Christ, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, Sunday, March 11.

The Golden Text is: "For what manner of love the Father has bestowed upon us, that we called the sons of God" (1 John 3:1).

Among the citations which will be given in the sermon are the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Father-Mother God" (1 John 3:1).

"Many happy returns of the day" said George H. Payton of England, as he shot his wife's birthday.

with all my worldly goods I thee endow—"

His worldly goods? She turned hot and cold. She hardly knew what she was doing when the minister shook hands with her. Then he spoke to Richard kindly and frankly; she felt the change in his tone. He seemed to know that Richard was sincere.

She was shaking hands now with the witnesses; then they walked down the long aisle—they two alone—past the vacant pews under the low gallery.

Richard opened the swinging doors and the cold spring air met them like a friend.

Across the city square the blue shadows of the dusk had gathered. Terror and homesickness clutched at Nancy's heart; she looked up and met Richard's eyes, they frightened her; he saw through her, she knew he did!

"Richard, I must go home!" she panted.

"I'm going to take you home," his voice shook, "my home is yours now, Nancy."

"Oh, I don't mean that. I meant I'll have to tell father and mother now!"

"Then—" he paused an instant, not looking at her, you want to go home tomorrow?"

"Tomorrow?" her tone was tinged with agonized dismay. He meant to stay here then—or to go farther away still!

"You want to go now?" he asked quietly, "at once?"

"Oh!" she drew a long breath, "if I could—"

He was silent. They had reached the corner of the street and he stopped abruptly, apparently lost in thought.

"You mean—you'd like to go home alone?—that—" he choked.

her green eyes looking at them. She leaned forward, startled, bowing to them, and Nancy's cheeks grew rosy. Helena's eyes looked as if they knew.

"I felt a beastly coward, not to come to tell your father and mother."

or thought they knew—something! Nancy, trying to hide her own trembling, saw her looking back, her eyes on Richard, and Richard red under his tan.

"Haddon's going on the train with us," he said quietly, they were in sight of the station now. "He told me so last night. A pleasure trip—it won't bother us, Nancy."

She thought it would; she did not like Helena, and Kingdon Hadden was Helena's husband, and the president of the bank where Mr. Gordon had worked as a trusted clerk for twenty years. Helena would wonder why Nancy was going to Washington with Richard. Would they have to tell him? Her heart sank—it would make it so hard before—before it happened. Unconsciously she faltered; her very lips grew pale. Richard saw it. Up to this moment he had been carried along by a rush of feeling, by the depth of his own passion for her, but now—in a moment—the thing fell to pieces. They were almost at the station when he stopped short.

"Nancy," his voice was harsh and broken. "I—I wish I knew—you make a fellow feel like a brute! I can't go on with this—if I'm forcing you to marry me against your heart!"

She stood still at his side, her profile toward him. She did not lift her eyes.

"I—" she struggled with herself, and then steadily: "I pledged myself to marry you—if you want to refuse—"

"Nancy Virginia!" he caught her hand and held it fiercely. He fairly hurt it but she did not wince.

They stood a moment thus, and then walked on; the force that was driving him now was too strong even for him, or he made no effort to resist it.

At the station, Richard held the door open and Nancy stepped inside. She stood still inside the station door. She was conscious that Richard had left her for a moment and, looking across the station, she saw him talking to a tall thin man who stooped a little. Haddon, of course! They knew each other well, Richard was the banker's physician. Was he telling him about her?

Nancy's heart beat hard.

No, Richard had not told Haddon; the banker never looked her way at all. Suddenly she felt as if she wished he had. Why hadn't Richard—

"I thought you wouldn't want to talk to Haddon all the way, so I didn't tell him you were here," Richard said, coming up and taking her bag. "The train's going in two minutes, Nancy, we'll have to get aboard."

The church was almost empty but there were some rosters in the white marble font, a little way from the group of witnesses, strangers, two women and a man—the church sexton.

"In the face of this company, to join together this man and this woman—"

Nancy's mind staggered back from it. She lifted her white face and looked full into the minister's eyes. She was shaken by their look, their odd, questioning look. A pang of fear shot through her.

Nancy stood beside Richard, but she no longer lifted her eyes. She did not want to meet that look again.

"Not unadvisedly or lightly, but reverently, discreetly, advisedly, soberly, in the fear of God."

How solemnly he spoke. He was seeking to let her out and searching her, not Richard. He must be doing it on purpose!

"Nancy Virginia, wilt thou have this man to be thy wedded husband?"

He paused; his strange voice seemed to grate and pierce her, to try to drag the truth out of her. He was doing it on purpose!

"I, Nancy Virginia, take thee, Richard, to be—"

Her ears were ringing now and her lips were dry. She had said it, she had repeated it after him, chokingly, meaninglessly, like a parrot. She would see him all her life with that book in his hands and his spectacles slipped down his nose. But she had heard her own voice repeating it, and now it was Richard's turn.

"With this ring I thee wed, and

Pure Milk Nature's Most Perfect Food; Test Cows Regularly

Austin, Texas.—Pure milk is Nature's most nearly perfect food, according to the Texas State Department of Health, and persons should be sure that the cows which produce the milk they use are in a healthy condition.

It is estimated that 2 per cent of all milk cattle have bovine type tuberculosis. Tuberculin testing of cattle will definitely prove whether the cow has tuberculosis. If a person owns their own cow, she should be tested, and if milk is being purchased, the purchaser should make sure that the cattle in the dairy he patronizes are free of this disease. These tests should be made each year, and if milk stock is to be purchased, they should be tested before completion of the sale.

About twenty-five per cent of all tuberculosis in children is of the bovine type—fatal bovine tuberculosis after the fifth year is rare. It generally attacks the lymph glands and bones. When not fatal, this disease, when it attacks the joints or bones, usually leaves the child crippled for life.

The C. W. A. has created a fund to pay for the destruction of each tuberculin cow. Of course, the disease must be certified by an accredited veterinarian. The State Live Stock Sanitary Commission and State Department of Health are very anxious to control this disease. The former to improve the dairy herds and the Health Department to protect the public health. Every one can help by purchasing that the cows where they purchase milk be tuberculin tested.

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

WHOLESOME FACTS

Can you pardon my taking pride in these reports of treatment in our most serious diseases? Remember—cancer is the only ailment that, left to itself, invariably kills!

Dr. Mason, of Rochester, reports:

"Out of 3,444 (cancer) patients, 1,776 obtained 5-year cures."

Dr. Breckwith, Birmingham, England:

"Fifty per cent of cases of cancer of the cervix—neck of the womb—CURED."

Dr. Jackson, Philadelphia:

"About eighty per cent of cancer of the larynx can be cured—and by a relatively simple operation."

Dr. Bellhorn, New York:

"Sixty-four cases show 5-year cures, in 11.3 per cent."

A marvelous report for the medical profession to make. None of our most outstanding cults have done anything like it. In fact, they have done nothing! Just blow-hards, wind-bags.

The war on cancer has been waged with X-Ray, radium and surgery. These are the only agencies known that have any value in cancer; and they must be applied early.

If possible malignant cases would only be examined at the very first suspicion—yes, even earlier than that—the mortality from cancer would be reduced to less than half in the next year! Isn't that worth paying attention to? Don't apply to a cultist; go to your physician and make inquiry about the little spot.

Don't wait till you are positive it's cancer; be safe. It will pay you. I know what I'm talking about. The war is on!

"I'm going to take you home," his voice shook, "my home is yours now, Nancy."

For a long moment the man struggled with the mounting passion and fury in his soul. Then he turned quietly, without making her even aware of the tremendous effort he had made to control himself.

"Come with me now," he said coldly. "I've taken rooms at the hotel here, close by. You need rest—I can see that—and I must talk to you."

Something in his tone stung her; suddenly she remembered. She had begged his help and pledged herself.

It was her doing, not his, and she was begging off! Even now, married to him, she was longing to escape, to break her word. Had he found it out? She had a strange feeling of being in a dream and walking through an empty street with a stranger—forward a fate yet more strange. His silence, too, began to weigh upon her. She thought suddenly that it was their wedding day—his wedding day—and he loved her! A feeling of remorse shot through her, a feeling of shame.

They had reached the hotel now and a small suite overlooking the same park that faced the church where they had been married.

The curtains had not been drawn and, moving mechanically to the nearest window, Nancy stood looking out upon the city street with blank unseeing eyes. All her senses seemed alive to but one thing, Richard's presence and the sharper consciousness that they were alone together in a strange place.

To him it was a moment of intolerable complexity. He saw the girl he loved, his wife at last, young, lovely, appealing in her evident distress. Yet this, which should have been a moment of exultation and joy, was one of bitterness. How perfect she was, and she was his. The thought surged through him and kindled him like a flame. He forgot the way of getting her for an instant, because she was actually his!

Husband of Former Crowell Woman Dies

Dr. J. J. Johnson of Sulphur Springs, prominent physician of that city for many years, died suddenly last Saturday morning from a heart attack. Mrs. Johnson, who was Miss Marvin Daughtry before her marriage, lived in Crowell with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Daughtry, who were among the early settlers of this county, and has visited here many times since. She is a sister of Mrs. M. M. Hankins of Quanah.

Dr. Johnson was not only one of the leading physicians of Sulphur Springs, but was one of its best loved citizens and leaders. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church in that city.

Dr. Johnson is survived by his wife and two grown sons.

J. Roberts, president of the association. The association also appreciates the patronage given the bean dinner first Monday.

H. D. Club Notes

"I have planned to make a bedroom of this room ever since I came here," says Mrs. Herman Gentry, bedroom demonstrator for the Community Home Demonstration Club. The room to which she refers can not be entered from the rest of the house except by going around to the porch, as the doors both open on the outside. She plans to move one of these doors so that it will open into another room and put a window in its place.

The room is now being used as a general storage place and contains no furniture. "It needs everything," according to Mrs. Gentry.

The improvements planned by Mrs. Bert Walton for her bedroom include a built-in closet, improved bedding, walls and floors, and a rearrangement of furniture and accessories. The plans may even include a new room, according to Mrs. Walton who is bedroom demonstrator for the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club, and lives about five miles from Crowell on the Thalia road.
