WHITWASH FORMULA

The Extension Service of A. & M. College of Texas has submitted the following formula as the best for making whitewash. The following recipe makes 6 1/2 gallons of whitewash and the covering capacity of 30 square feet to the gallon:

Well Burnt Rock Lime—6 quarts.
Spanish Whiting or Burnt Alum, powdered—1 ounce.

White Sugar (same as sued on the table)—16 ounces.

Rice Flour—3 pints.
Liquid Glue—16 ounces.

Boiling Water—5 gallons.

If Hydrated Lime is used instead of the Rock Lime, you should use 9 quarts instead of 6 quarts. Let the above mixture set for 24 hours and strain before using.

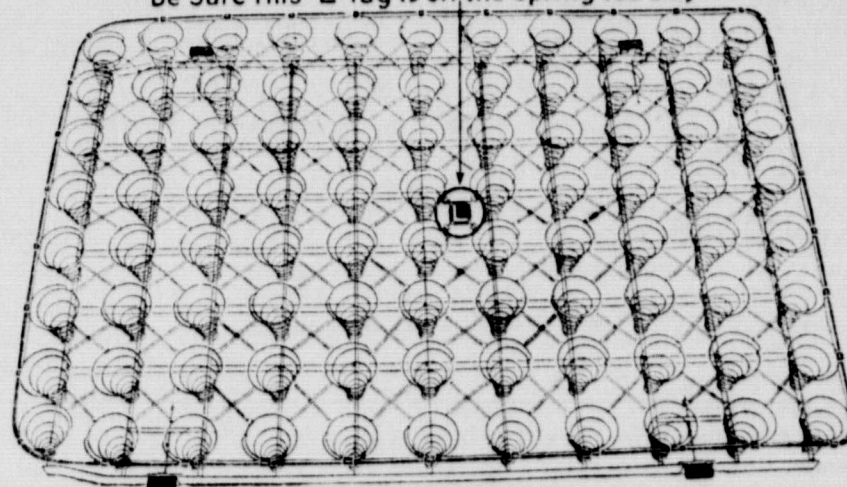

The above mixture can also be used on fruit trees or in painting barns, fences, chicken houses, etc. This whitewash will stay on and the rain will not wash it off like the ordinary whitewash.

Attention! Hog Raisers

The figures shown below come from Dr. Hess' Research Farms.

In twenty-five experiments, using over 200 hogs, at our Research Farm, we have proven that—you can take an average litter of pigs, separate them into two even bunches, feed them exactly the same except that to one bunch you add Dr. Hess' Improved Stock Tonic; the Tonic hogs will beat the non-Tonic hogs to the 200-lb. mark by nearly 30 days; the Tonic hogs will be 40 pounds per pig heavier than the others. The cost of production in the Tonic pen will be 1c per pound less than the non-Tonic pen, and the cost of the Tonic will be only 10c per pig per month.

Let us sell you some of this tonic and help you to increase your profit on your hogs.

CONOCO-ETHYL is weatherproof

B-r-r-r-r! Whew!

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs at its best twelve months out of every year. It knows no seasons.

It gives the same quick start in February as it does in May—and it follows through by delivering steady, sustained, "knockless" power against the piston heads.

That's important! It's not hard to find a motor fuel that will start easily. Your chief concern should be in what it does after starting.

Being a combination of Conoco, the Triple-Test Gasoline, and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound developed by General Motors, Conoco Ethyl is the ideal motor fuel. You'll feel the difference in the operation of your car the very second you switch to Conoco Ethyl.

So why not join the thousands of contented Conoco Ethyl users? Why not get out of your car all of the power which its designers put into it?

Start the habit today by drawing up to a Conoco Ethyl Pump—at service stations and garages.

Foard County Should Have Master Farmer Entrant This Year

In the past three years the Master Farmers Contest has been conducted in Texas, Foard County has not yet had an entrant and it is hoped by the county agent that conditions will justify several entrants in the contest this year that is sponsored by the Progressive Farmer in connection with the Extension Service of A. & M. College. Ten farmers are selected each year.

A strict and rigid score card is used in judging the entrants and in the case where several farmers are entered from each county, a county elimination is first held with local men acting as judges who follow the official score card in determining the county winner. A representative of the Progressive Farmer next tours the state, picking those that have a chance to win and afterwards a committee composed of three representative judges, usually the state agricultural agent, state home demonstration agent, and a representative of the Progressive Farmer, pick the ten winners.

The contest is one of the outstanding features sponsored in Texas and attracts wide interest. All entrants are judged on a score card basis which includes such details as conveniences in the home, livestock, profits realized, diversified program, equipment, and various other details. Fred Rennels states that with a good crop year, he feels sure that there are four farmers in Foard County that have the qualifications required in the score card.

In the past three years four farmers of the lower Panhandle have won in the contest, two of these being in Hale County, one in Lubbock and one in Floyd County.

County Basketball Tournament Played In Crowell Saturday

The senior girls teams of Margaret and West Rayland, and the Crowell Junior boys and the Foard City seniors, played in the final games of the Foard County basketball tournament last Saturday night at the gymnasium, with the Margaret girls winning the championship in their class and the Crowell Juniors in their division.

The most exciting game of the tournament was the final one between Senior girl teams of Margaret and West Rayland in which Margaret won by the close score of 11 to 10. Both teams displayed good work and played on an equal basis for most of the game. The Crowell Juniors easily won their final game by defeating Foard City 24 to 5. Crowell's snappy short passes went through the Foard City team easily.

The tournament was held to decide the champion teams of Class B, Senior Boys; Class A, Junior Boys; and Class B, Senior Girls. Starting at 10 o'clock, the Thalia girls drew West Rayland which ended 22 to 10 for West Rayland. Foard City drew the Margaret boys for the next game which ended with a score of 15 to 12 in favor of Foard City.

In the afternoon Crowell and Thalia Junior boys locked horns with Crowell emerging on the heavy end of a 27 to 10 score. Middleton of Crowell and Wisdom of Thalia were the main stars of this game. The Margaret girls defeated Foard City 24 to 8 in the second game of the afternoon. The West Rayland boys drew a "by" and played the winner of the morning game, which was Foard City for the Class B championship. This game was a very thrilling one and the score ended 14 to 15 in favor of Foard City. The final games mentioned above were played Saturday night.

All of the teams displayed wonderful sportsmanship and a good crowd attended all of the games. The proceeds of the tournament will be used to defray the expenses of the Interscholastic League Meet to be held here March 22 and 23.

Ragsdale Lanier, referee of the tournament, proved himself to be an efficient official and he officiated free of charge. Last year $25.00 and expenses were paid for an out-of-town referee who did no better than Lanier.

SCHOOL NOTES

The results of the elimination contest for selecting a cast for the State One-Act Play Tournament in May, took place Tuesday after school, with Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, Miss Louise Bah and Miss Thelma Shaw serving as judges.

There were three contesting casts of four members each and the pupils were judged for natural ability; voice being the points of grading. The play selected is Christopher Morley's "Thursday Evening," and the winning cast includes Jack Welch, Blanche Schooley, Iva Pearl Teague, Ludell Green and with alternates or understudies in Moody Bursey, Harriet Evelyn Swaim, Leona Knox, and Margaret Calvin.

This will be presented to the public by the Parent Teachers Association on Friday, March 8th, as this organization has very graciously obligated themselves for financing the contest.

"We are Austin bound," is the slogan of both cast and alternates, so let the public get behind the cast and see that they "bring home the bacon."—Contributed.

"WALKING PICTURE" IS THE LATEST WRINKLE IN FILM EFFECTS

And now comes the "walking picture" as a new cinematic wrinkle.

It was devised during the filming of "A Single Man," which will open at the Rialto Theatre Monday as a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, co-starring Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle.

When Harry Beaumont, the director, wished to obtain an effective shot of Cody breaking into a dog trot from a slow walk, he had a camera assistant set the pace for the player, a camera strapped upon his back.

In this manner the camera action synchronized with the rise and fall of Cody's steps and upon the screen gives the audience the impression of running ahead of the actor.

"A Single Man" is an adaptation of the famous stage play originally written for Cyril Maude by Hubert Henry Davies. It concerns a bachelor novelist who doesn't realize his youth is gone until he starts chasing a flapper. When he is tired out he seeks the affection of his prim but beautiful secretary.

In the stellar supporting cast are Marceline Day, Edward Nugent, Kathryn Williams, Eileen Manning, and others of note. F. Hugh Herbert and George O'Hara wrote the screen play.

WHITE SHOWS SPEED

Clint White returned Tuesday afternoon from a 1,300 mile trip in which he carried freight by truck for most of the time. He stated that the trip was made in less than 50 hours driving time. Leaving Crowell Saturday, he carried freight to Ranger and from Ranger he went to San Antonio and returned with a truck load of household goods belonging to C. V. Van Orman, district tool pusher for the Humble Oil Co., who recently moved here. The Van Orman family is moving into Miss Emily Purcell's residence.

Feeding of Baby Chicks

There is no question, but that the best way of feeding baby chicks is to purchase some grade of baby chick feed and then follow the instructions coming along with particular feed you are using. Baby chicks do not eat very much, hence the cost need not be a objection. The average good grade commercial baby chick feed is much better than any home mixture you can prepare. Baby chicks need a well balanced ration and one easily digested. The average home mixture, as balance ration is 100 per cent guess work, and only too often anything but easily digested. Would you expect a baby to eat the food grown people eat? Why then expect baby chicks to do that and live? Just a little common sense in this respect will do much to keep thousands of chicks from dying before they are 3 weeks old. A good baby chick feed must contain all the ingredients necessary to maintain body health and growth. Crooked breast bones in chicks and turkeys often are caused by faulty feed, in that the ration is not properly balanced. Chicks that are stunted at any time, even for only a short period, will never over come the handicap. Chicks grow very fast hence a balanced ration is of great importance. Pure drinking water in clean vessels, and a fresh baby chick starter, properly balanced will do wonders in promoting the growth of the chicks.

Green Feed

We recommend giving growing chicks once a day all the fine cut, tender, juicy, fresh green food they will eat. They should be given some green food after they are ten days old. Chopped green lettuce, green cabbage, green oats, bur clover, bermuda grass, barley, sudan, all are desirable. Anything green, tender and succulent will do. A little planning ahead will make it possible to have this green feed for the chicks.

Water and Milk

Chicks of course must have plenty of water to drink at all times. A chick will suffer sooner for a lack of water than for a lack of feed. There should be plenty of drinking vessels so they will not have to crowd around them. Never let them go dry. More than one half of the chick's body is nothing but water. Water is cheap, so why not provide it in abundance and in such a way they cannot get into it to spoil it and get wet and chilled. The water should be provided in special containers suitable for chicks and made for this purpose. We are talking about clean drinking water for the chicks, and replaced often enough to be kept clean. If you have milk of most any kind, be sure and give it to the growing chicks instead of the hogs or dogs. There is nothing better than milk for growing chicks. It is best to give the milk sour. Buttermilk also is very good.

Feed Requirements

It is sometimes desirable to know about the amount of feed consumed by chicks up to a certain age so that feed may be purchased in the proper quantities. It will take about 1 1/2 lbs. grain to feed a chick up to 6 weeks old. It will take an additional 8 lbs. growing mash and about 12 lbs. grains, or a total of 20 lbs. to bring the chicks to maturity.

SOCIETY
MRS. O'NEAL HONORED

"I've wandered to the village Tom Upon the school house playing ground Which sheltered you and me But none were there to greet me, Tom, And few were left to know That played with us upon the green Some twenty years ago—"

Very forcibly was this poem brought to the minds of the eleven women who gathered at the home of Mrs. Jack Roberts last Saturday afternoon to visit for a few hours with one of their schoolmates who had "wandered back to the village" after a sojourn of twenty three years in another part of the state.

Their honor guest was Mrs. Lizzie Wells O'Neal of Dalhart who was making a very brief visit to Crowell. These present were Mrs. H. Kinsey, Mrs. Bert Self, Mrs. Tom Bell, Mrs. Pearl Carter, Mrs. Bob Allee, Mrs. J. M. Hill, Mrs. Hines Clark, Mrs. Rob Wells, also of Dalhart, Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Mrs. Jack Roberts and Mrs. O'Neal.

These women with a few exceptions began and "finished" their education in the old three room school house which stood on the site of the present ball park. They are all about the same age and married about the same time. Their courting was done in the horse and buggy days, their chief diversion was a Sunday afternoon buggy ride to Sloan Springs or R. R. Bell's Tank, and of course, an occasional party. About the time these young ladies made their debut into Crowell society play parties were in vogue. Charles Thompson was usually master of ceremonies and lead in singing "Lead her up and down the old Brass Wagon," "Skip my Lou," and "Jooie." All went well till the night some enterprising young musician substituted a French Herp for Charlie's singing and then their parties became dances, and as dancing was wrong they resorted to the more dignified "Social." Refreshments were unheard of unless perchance it was a "candy pulling." There were no telephones so "dates" were made by a friend who carried the note on horseback, and waited for the formal reply. Often times getting in a good word for himself while waiting.

If the party was in town they walked and mesquite shrubs being even more numerous then than now the loss of a scollap from an embroidery ruffle was common, but they never worried about a runner in their hose, they were the 25 cent cotton variety that wouldn't "run."

Should their escort have the price, he would take his girl by the cold drink stand and treat her to a strawberry glassade, or Dr. Pepper, and if there happened to be red lint in the bottom of the glass they knew it came from the blanket that wrapped the ice.

These young ladies' travels consisted of a trip to Quannah once or twice a year, and that usually on a freight wagon.

Picture shows were unheard of in those days, but they can recall an occasional magic lantern and Punch and Judy show.

The outstanding event from year to year that no other generation can ever know was the regular visits of Mollie Bailey's circus. She had no printed program and didn't need them for each thriller followed in the succession as it had the year before.

These were the days before the railroad, the electric lights, telephones, cars and air mail service.

Don't think for a moment that these women spent their precious afternoon "bining for the 'good old days." Rather they are happy to be privileged to live and rear their families in these days of convenience and wonderful opportunities.

They hope to have many more of these friendly gatherings.

"And when our time is come Tom, And we are called to go I hope they'll lay us where we played Just twenty years ago."—Contributed.

Washington's Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Richmond entertained a circle of their friends on Friday, February 22, in a very royal way. In the afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock Mrs. Richmond and the ladies enjoyed bridge at their home. Two tables were laid with dainty bridge appointments featuring hand painted score cards. Mrs. Alton Bell won high score and Mrs. T. S. Haney second score.

At six o'clock the gentlemen joined the party at O'Connell's where a sumptuous dinner was spread. Here too the patriotic scheme was carried out. The tables were set with Colonial clothes and center decorations and Elizabeth Kincaid dressed as a dainty dame of the Washington period served the tables.

Grape fruit cocktail, chicken, dressing, creamed potatoes, peas, olives, cherry pie topped with whipped cream and coffee and mints made up the menu.

After dinner a theater party completed the round of gaiety.

The personnel of the party was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bell, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Haney, Mr. and Mrs. Dow Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Fay Biedleman, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan O'Connell.—Contributed.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Mrs. M. S. Henry entertained members of the Adelpian with a lovely planned Valentine party at her home, Wednesday, February 20. Six hundred and contests featured the entertainment for the afternoon. Bright colored miniature vases were given as high score prizes for each table, and also the winner of the contests. Table covers, napkins, score cards, and favors were suggestive of Valentine Day.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lanier and children with the exception of Granville went to Knox City Sunday where they celebrated the birthday of Mr. Lanier at the home of his mother, Mrs. M. E. Lanier, of Knox City. Mrs. J. H. Lanier prepared the cake and Mrs. Eugene Hopson of Knox City, Mr. Lanier's sister, prepared the dinner and the day was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of relatives present.

COMMUNITY CLUB

The club met with Mrs. Roy Todd on February 20. Due to inclement weather few members were present. The lesson for the day was substituted by general discussions. The most interesting of these discussions being "gardening," on which our next lesson is based. Miss Freeman gave an outline of what the other clubs are doing.

The hostess entertained with a contest which was enjoyed by all.

Refreshments were served to the members and Miss Freeman.

The club enjoyed a delightful "Washington's Birthday" party at the home of Mrs. Will Erwin with Mrs. Jim Shok assisting in the entertainment. Songs and contests filled the evening with genuine pleasure for all. A plate of southern style cooking concluded a most happy occasion.—Reporter.

As a weather prognosticator we are a failure because we know nothing about foretelling what the weather man is going to deliver us in the way of rain, cold, etc. But we do claim to know something about building materials, paints, varnishes and the many different items that go to make up a good and substantial building whether it be a modern home or the building of a chicken house, hog house, barn, garage, implement shed or what ever kind of building you may be contemplating.

T. P. Reeder has just completed some modern additions to his home here in Crowell in the way of a sleeping porch and other improvements.

The City Lake will be open for fishing, to the folks of Foard County, during the months of March and April.

We have some mighty good receipts for making a good whitewash, same may be had for the asking. Call for them and at the same time ask for color cards on paints, enamels and alabastine. It is getting time of the year we should beautify our homes with a new coat of good paint.

The finest eulogy on George Washington is "First in War, First in Peace, and ever kind of building you may be contemplating."

C. D. Stephenson Says
14 Degrees Below Zero

A letter written by C. D. Stephenson, who with his wife is spending the winter at Rosewood, Ohio, to his daughter, Mrs. Ben Hinds, says they had a little cool spell up there and the thermometer registered 14 degrees below zero. The letter was written on the 21st. He also states he had been on two sleigh rides behind two race horses that have records of a little more than two minutes. Mr. Stephenson says that he and his wife have both had the flu but were well at the time of writing.

HARMONICA PROGRAM

On Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. S. T. Crews had charge of a program for the P. T. A. in the High School Auditorium. The music pupils of Mrs. Crews and Miss Mary Sam Crews furnished the program and each one performed creditably, both to himself and his instructor. The outstanding feature of the program was the work of the Harmonica Class. This class was organized about ten weeks ago by Mrs. Crews and this was their first public appearance. The numbers they rendered were splendidly done.

Interest in the harmonica has been revived lately, mostly through the efforts of Albert Hoxie, Jr., of Philadelphia. There are 70,000 school children of Philadelphia alone playing the harmonica. It has been called "The Musical Pal of Mine" and is being taught in the effort to have music in every home in the land and to deepen an interest in music, for through music comes contentment and happiness.

Crowell is fortunate to have this organization and it is the only town of its size in this section of the state to have one that we know of. There are about 25 of our boys and girls engaged in the study of this instrument.

On each Wednesday morning different departments of the school have programs in the auditorium and each program is interesting and instructive and the patrons of the school would find it well worth their time to hear and see these programs and at the same time furnish encouragement and enthusiasm to our children and their teachers.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mrs. W. B. Tysinger is doing nicely following a major operation Tuesday.
