32 Foard County Men Among Delegation of 32 Texans Promoting Farmers Union Plan in Washington

Washington — A delegation of 32 Texas farmers and ranchers met this week expressed disappointment in the attitude of Department of Agriculture officials toward farm price support and emergency relief measures to control the critical dust damage.

Among the 32 Texans who attended the trip, four were from Foard County: D. L. Campbell, N. Barker, W. F. Statter and Claude Callaway.

The delegation also represented the County Farmers Union which will hold April 15 in order for the group to give a report on their trip to Washington.

Members of the group attended meetings of the House and Senate Committees on Agriculture, and officers of the National Farmers Union proposed a comprehensive "package" farm program as an alternative to the Eisenhower Administration's plan to cut price support levels under the sliding scale.

The Farmers Union proposal included (1) adoption of a food allotment or stamp plan program to expand food consumption among the aged, dependent children, in welfare institutions, the blind, and other low-income families; (2) extension of mandatory price supports at not less than 90 per cent of parity for the basic farm commodities, dairy products, feed grains, and livestock; and (3) adoption of an International Food Reserve and a program of selling U. S. food "surpluses" for local currencies, in order to put U. S. food production to work fostering lasting world peace and economic development in backward areas.

Department of Agriculture officials, in conferences with the Texas group, insisted that the present Farmers Union Administration loans are adequate for dealing with the wind erosion problem. But the Texans pledged their support to a drive by the Farmers Union for passage by Congress of bills introduced during the week which would authorize incentive payments for soil chiseling and listing under a special Agricultural Conservation program.

Rep. Harold Lovre, South Dakota Republican and a leader in the Congressional fight against President Eisenhower's proposal for lowering farm price supports, told the delegation that the downward trend of farm income must be reversed in order to protect overall national prosperity.

"I fail to see how we can get parity of income for farmers without getting parity prices," Lovre declared. "We should be working for 100 per cent of parity, not merely 90 per cent, because 100 per cent of parity is nothing more nor less than what is fair," the South Dakotan declared.

Parity is not "rigid" or "fixed," Lovre declared, since the parity ratio goes up and down with the cost of things farmers must buy. "The price-cost squeeze is the best argument I can think of for supporting farm prices," he said.

The Texans conferred with Senators Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel, and with Rep. Sam Rayburn and other members of the Texas delegation in the House. They also met with a number of Congressional leaders from other states to impress upon them the importance of preserving effective price supports, rural electrification, soil conservation, and other farm programs.

The delegation traveled to Washington by chartered bus, and returned home Monday.

Note: The following interview is by Shirley Wehba about her father, Fred Wehba. It is another in the best taken from English IV interviews.

FRED WEHBA
 Fred Wehba's story is filled with both pathos and humor. It has the earmarks of the typical American success story although Fred himself is very humble concerning this so-called success.

Wehba was born in the age-old historic town of Nazareth—referred by Christians as the place where Jesus our Lord grew to manhood. And, as Mr. Wehba regretfully said,

"Unfortunately, I didn't stay in Nazareth long enough to remember the historic landmarks mentioned in the Bible, as the tragedy which changed my life struck in the year that I was four."

Bowing his head for a moment, Mr. Wehba looked up smiling sadly as he went on.

"When I was four, my father died. It wasn't so much actually his dying that upset our whole life, but my father had incurred a lot of debts not wanting to tell my mother of his financial straits because of the custom at that time. Whether it was a custom or not, my father had such a high sense of honor and pride that he would not tell his family that he could not afford the way we were accustomed to live.

"It was a hard blow for my mother, for she was a high-born lady, and was accustomed to ease and luxury. But her pride came to her rescue, and she packed all four of us children back to the town that was her people's home. This town's name was Jeddah. Syria. Pride prevented her from taking charity; consequently, she had to work very hard. My older brother at that time was twelve. Many Syrian families were sending their boys to America just as soon as they became old enough to stop being children. This had been going on more since 1860. The people were so oppressed by their Turkish masters that they would smuggle their children, if necessary, to America! The Utopia of their dreams, the land of promise and opportunity."

Here, Mr. Wehba paused, his eyes filled with unshed tears. "I hope you in America will never know such oppression. My mother arranged a loan and sent my brother on to America. He was to find work and send money for us to come over.

"Unfortunately this didn't happen as soon as Mother anticipated. It seemed that my brother had forgotten us. The first world war was upon us, and I was old enough to help and to be the 'man of the family.' You wouldn't believe it, but I worked many a day in the broiling sun swinging a heavy mallet breaking up large stones for roads for the equivalent of a dime here. Soon I saved enough money to buy a small donkey. I was about nine or ten at the time, and I was very proud of myself. Now I could carry wheat and other grains from the Arabian camp where my mother sewed, cooked and was general handy-woman for the entire tribe. The old shiek protected her, for he had sworn to be her brother."

Suddenly, he looked up with a wry smile.

"If that little donkey could talk, it would relate some very amusing incidents. But far from being amusing, the harrowing experience; in fact, the most harrowing escape of my life was indirectly caused by that little beast the first world war was going on and hunger and famine had begun to be felt in the country. A load of wheat was incentive enough to kill anyone."

"One early morning, the year I was fourteen, I had my donkey loaded with bags of wheat the old shiek had given us in payment for my mother's work. It was dawn, and I was trying to hurry with the load into our village. It was a long trek through part Arabian territory. Deserters of the Turkish army and Arabs alike lurked, ready to steal and kill for food. The awareness of this danger made me push that donkey faster. With a 'whish' from the bushes, I suddenly felt two men spring upon me. For a moment I was taken by surprise. Then fear and desperate need gave me the superhuman effort to wrench myself from my assailants. They were two burly Arabs (bedouins). Involuntarily, a prayer for God's help left my heart, as I was sure I could not escape. One came at me with a sharp gleaming knife. The other one was trying the load from the donkey's back. In a split second I leaped on him knocking him down on the rocky path. His head must have hit a rock for he seemed to have been knocked out. At the same time the fellow with the knife was upon me slitting my throat. I was young and slippery as an eel. To this day, I consider it a miracle that the knife didn't go deep enough to cut the artery. But I had slipped out of his grasp; and spying a lantern on the other Arab's person, I quickly grasped it, bringing it down upon his head. He fell with a groan.

"I didn't have a minute to lose. Quickly, I dragged the donkey and ran back to the Arabian camp. I had lost so much blood that upon my arrival, I fainted away. When I awoke, I was in my mother's tent. I felt a bandage around my neck. Mother was crying and rejoicing at the same time. She later told me the old shiek had sent his personal physician who took many stitches in my neck and hand. She said God had spared me for her. Later the old shiek sent some of his own soldiers after the renegade Arabs who proved to be from his own tribe. He punished them. When I was well enough to travel, he gave me the wheat that I had lost and a bodyguard to see me safely home."

Wehba stopped, then added, "There isn't much more to tell. Mother had finally received word that Saied, my older brother, was in the United States Army and was in France. Not long afterward, he was discharged and sent after my older sister and I. That trip took six months, but telling about it would make the story too long. We were given the wrong passports.

"We arrived in the States in the summer of '21. It was a glad reunion. My mother's nephews lived in Healdton, Okla., the same town my brother lived in. Visiting them, I noticed three girls making their home with them. Curious, I asked their relationship to my cousins. They explained that they were their first cousins, and had been taken from their parents. They had been placed there at the death of their parents. The youngest girl attracted me with her pretty demure way. This girl later became my wife. I quickly learned the grocery business which my brother operated. As you see, I am still in it. The next year we sent after mother and my younger sister."

As he closed his story, Fred Wehba again expressed his appreciation and love for his adopted country, adding,

"God Bless America."

SOFT LIVING EXACTS ITS TOLL

Brig. Gen. Tonis Renfrow claims that Americans are getting weaker as the years roll by. The early American was a hard individual who walked miles and relied upon his own physical power as his future. The early American took pride in his work, believing that no matter how small the task, it should be done well. Now days most of us only work enough to get by, and we do not put out all the effort that we can. We are relying upon machines to do our manual labor; therefore, we do not exercise our leg muscles by walking; instead, we ride in cars.

As Renfrow says, "No one can estimate what the automobile has cost the American people in muscle, or the radio, television and motion pictures in active participation in recreation." Renfrow says we should plan for the future if we are to maintain our country, as the Russians are growing stronger day by day. And the only way we can win the next war is by our physical fitness and our mental ability.

THALIA MINISTER SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

The high school faculty and students heard an interesting talk expertly delivered by C. H. Casada, new minister of the Thalia Church of Christ.

The theme of Mr. Casada's talk was efficiency. He implored the audience to "strive to be efficient" in everything they undertake—in their work at school, in their jobs, even the smallest everyday task. He pointed out the life of Christ as an excellent example of efficiency. If everyone would pattern his life after the life of Christ, efficiency would be achieved automatically.

Though His was the only perfect life, we can have a beneficial one if we will only follow His teachings. Christ taught efficiency, his every action spoke of efficiency. It is a stepping stone to success; therefore, we should "strive for efficiency" for who does not desire success?

PLANS MADE FOR JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The Junior class room mothers, Mrs. Goodie Meason, Mrs. Bill Bell, Mrs. Otis Gafford and Mrs. Gerald Knox, met Tuesday afternoon to discuss plans for the Junior-Senior Banquet, which will be held April 15 at the school cafeteria.

Committees from the Junior class, consisting of Frances Kincaid, Sue Meason, Betty Bartley, program; Billye Bell, Carolyn Smith and Billye McCoy, decoration; Gordon Graves, Robert Kincaid and Chun Gafford, entertainment, also met with the mothers.

The menu and program are well planned. Wait for the mysterious secret, the theme, until the big night.

CHEERLEADER ELECTIONS SLATED FOR NEXT TUESDAY

Endless hours of practice will be ended next Tuesday because of the election of next year's yell leaders.

Candidates will show their wares in an all-school assembly Tuesday morning. Each student and future freshman is entitled to try out and to vote. Six students will be chosen.

The aspiring leaders must have an A minus citizenship average and must be passing in all subjects the preceding semester.

Each candidate is requested to turn in her name at the office by Friday, so that the try-outs can be scheduled.

SHULTZ, GARRETT ATTEND TRACTOR MAINTENANCE SCHOOL

Norman Shultz and Aldon Garrett, accompanied by Joe Burkett, attended a tractor maintenance school in Childress last Thursday and Friday.

The school opened on Wednesday night with a banquet at the Gay Cafe. The school was sponsored by the Stanolind Oil Co. for 4-H and FFA boys.

On Thursday they attended classes of care, maintenance and safety. One thing they regard as very important: never hook anything above the rear axle or the tractor will turn over.

Friday morning they studied different fuels: butane, diesel and motor oil. Friday afternoon they closed out the school with a short report from everyone on tractors. Norman and Aldon say they learned many valuable things about safety and maintenance of tractors and enjoyed every minute.

Friday was a big day last week. The long-awaited invitations and annuals arrived.

Excitement was contagious Friday and all this week as everyone had everyone to sign every one else's annual. It has been requested that there be no annual autographing during classes.

The annuals have white leather covers designed with a Wildcat and "Roundup—1954." The editors deserve never-ending praise for their work in producing such attractive books.

The senior invitations are similarly designed with an encircled "CHS" and a Wildcat. Senior Class—1954 is blazed across the face of each announcement.

It can be said that these arrivals were among the year's highlights.

THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER

Well, it looks as though we are coming into the home stretch. Just about six more weeks, five for the Seniors, lucky critters, and this folly will be ended.

With Easter vacation only two weeks away, we hope you will have a fine time. Easter vacation always rolls around just about the time everyone is getting sick and tired of school and each other, and it serves a perfect interlude to rest to prepare ourselves for the last drive.

Good luck on the report cards. We've said enough about grades, but don't forget we have one more chance to redeem ourselves. Everyone is eagerly awaiting the Jr.-Sr. banquet.

Everyone is going crazy signing annuals, but it's a lot of fun, isn't it?

Roma Jan Spikes, a cute blond-headed freshman, stands about 5' 4" and has enough personality to fill up all 64 inches and then some.

Aside from being a cheerleader, winning the "friendliest girl in school" title, belonging to the Dramatics Club and the Thespian Society, and being elected president of the Sub-Junior Adelpian Club for next year, Roma Jan is the vice president of her class and our freshman of the week. Speech is her favorite subject while math is the hardest. Her

Phillips Announces New Type Gasoline

A new "high performance" automotive fuel, made possible by the use of aviation gasoline components recently released from government priority, has been developed by Phillips Petroleum Co.

The new gasoline contains Di-isopropyl, a high test ingredient originated by Phillips, which made possible more powerful, higher anti-knock fuels for combat aircraft. Until recently, the use of super aviation gasoline components has been restricted by military authorities for use in high performance aviation gasoline. These have now been released for use in automotive gasoline, and Phillips is able to use not only Di-isopropyl but also HF Alkylate, both originated and first manufactured by Phillips.

According to Phillips research authorities the new gasoline, designated "Flite-Fuel for your car," offers important performance advantages. It provides increased power, higher anti-knock quality, greater fuel economy, and freedom from stalling.

Equally important, say Phillips authorities, are the clean burning qualities of the new gasoline. Use of natural gas components, which leave scarcely any carbon residue, eliminates the necessity for special gasoline additives to combat engine deposits.

Distribution of the new gasoline has already begun, and it will be available in the near future at all Phillips 66 service stations.

The Most Important People

Joseph T. Meek, the head of an Illinois retail association, made a talk not long ago before a women's club group. In the course of it he made this memorable observation: "The greatest mistake the housewife can make is to presume that voting is not for her, that a trip to the polls is a waste of time! The most important people in the world to her are her two United States Senators, her Congressman, and her . . . State legislators. By one vote these legislators can upset a budget, put prices beyond reach, drive needed merchandise off the market, create black markets, produce unemployment, increase taxes to the point where there is nothing left with which to buy. Or they can do just the opposite. They can balance a budget, put into play free prices, free wages, free incentives . . .

"It is time the women of America made going to the polls, and why they go to the polls, as much of an essential as their every day shopping."

What Mr. Meek said applies to everyone old enough to vote, men as well as women, and it also goes beyond the act of voting. It is the duty of us all to watch the political scene between and during the elections—and to do what we can to elect those candidates whose philosophies seem to us to offer the best hope for maintaining a strong and free nation.

Fort Worth—Beef finally out-ranked pork during the past year as the per capita consumption of beef soared to record heights and the crop of hogs was off. It is expected that the nation's eaters will continue their "beef binge" at least for the rest of this year as cattle marketings continue heavy.

Cattle trade at Fort Worth Monday indicated no slackening in the beef demand as packers seemed fairly eager for supplies and paid fully steady to stronger prices. The stocker trade was fully steady to strong on the better quality kinds, despite the fact that the dry conditions in most places remained unrelieved.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $23, the latter price best for commercially fed cattle here in about a month. Two lots of cattle brought that top, one was 4 steers at 1021 lbs. sent in by McClung Land & Cattle Co. of Johnson County. Lee Campbell, Comanche County, had a trucklot at 840 lbs. at $23, too. Other representative shipments of steers and yearlings included: J. Doyle Peters, Tillman County, Okla., with some steers at 979 lbs. at $21.50; W. H. Ritchey, Hendrix, Okla., three loads of steers at $18, with a trim. J. T. Gilbreath, Deaf Smith County, had a load at 856 lbs. at $21.50; O. W. Holcomb, Erath County, a load at 747 lbs. at $21; J. B. Jagers, Hamilton County, a load at 824 lbs. at $21; B. L. Durham, Blue Ridge, a load at 860 lbs. at $19; E. H. Harkins, Sweetwater, a load at 935 lbs. at $21.

Fat cows brought $10.50 to $13.00 and canners and cutters $7 to $11. Bulls $10 to $15.

Best fat calves sold for $17 to $20.50, several lots in the $19 to $20.25 bracket included sales from S. B. Atlas, Johnson County; Orville Olson, Hamilton County; and Johnny Smith, Erath County. Most of these top calves were obviously of the creepfed variety. Medium and lower grades sold from $12 to $17.50.

The better stocker steer calves and steer yearlings drew $17 to $19, and heifer calves and heifer yearlings averaged $2 to $3 under comparable steers. Stocker cows $10 to $13.50.

Calamity Jane's real name was Jane Burke.

A record-making special session of the Legislature was rapidly winding up business this week with various types of knots tied on the governor's "package program" deadline for April 13.

Teachers seemed assured of their long-sought pay raise of approximately $400 per year, state employees were due to get about $120 more, a $10 million building program for four state institutions was slated, and Communists faced darker days.

Governor Allan Shivers had called the two pay issues the main unfinished business of his administration. His floor leader in the House, Representative Joe Kilgore of McAllen, had obtained a smashing 110 to 34 victory for a $26 million-plus tax plan to pay the salary increases.

An increase in the production tax on natural gas for $14 million will be the largest part of the load. A higher franchise tax on corporations is expected to yield about $9 million, and an additional levy on beer another $3 million. Included in the bill was an amendment taxing trading stamps estimated to raise $4 million.

It had been expected that the Senate would approve the tax plan without much debate since that body had already voted for the items calling for more taxes as desired by Shivers.

Speaker Reuben Senterfitt, who opposes new taxes and has differed with Governor Shivers on the best way to raise teacher pay, voted against the Kilgore tax proposal. But he helped to suspend the rules for quick final passage of the bill.

Kilgore commended the "presiding officer's fair and impartial manner."

A new gas gathering levy, instead of the production tax, was before the Senate after House passage as a substitute for the law declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Due to the uncertainty of the proposal in court actions, Representative George T. Hinson offered a token tax bill aimed at pipeline companies in order to test the legality of such a law.

If courts held the tax to be valid, the rate could be boosted to replace the production tax on producers and royalty owners.

Legislators went speedily and grimly about the business of setting up stern penalties for Communist Party membership and other subversive groups or acts. They had reduced various proposals to provide for fines up to $20,000 and 20 years in prison for membership in the party.

Prohibited by the bill would be any act intended to overthrow, destroy or alter the constitutional form of government by force or violence or a conspiracy with that purpose.

Aiding, contributing to and belonging to an organization with that objective also would be prohibited.

County and district attorneys would be authorized to take the necessary legal steps rather than the attorney general.

Although the bill provides for search warrants to be issued on affidavit of two citizens to seize certain records, Senator Rogers Kelley, the sponsor, said the provisions adequately safeguard the rights of individuals.

For all of the grimness with which the Legislature tackled the problems posed by the State Industrial Commission and submitted by Gov. Shivers, there were comic sidelights.

A resolution by Rep. Jack Fisk of Wharton proposing to invite Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin to speak before the House on communism provoked an uproar. Rep. C. E. Hughes of Sherman suggested that McCarthy be asked to speak on "political influence in the Army" rather than "communism," and Rep. R. W. Baker of Houston said, "Let's lay McCarthy on the table, subject to call of the Army."

University of Texas students were agitated by the invitation to Sen. McCarthy to deliver a San Jacinto Day speech in Houston on April 21.

More than a thousand students met and started petitions of protest against the invitation to McCarthy "to speak at an official state shrine in a formal commemoration of the death of Texans for Texas freedom."

Political smoke continued to make undistinguishable the figures who will line up in the gubernatorial sweepstakes this summer. There was one clearly distinguishable figure, and he was departing from the lineup. John C. White, 29-year-old commissioner of agriculture, declared he would not be a candidate for governor and would run again for the job he wrested from veteran J. E. McDonald four years ago.

Governor Shivers, Speaker Sen-

In the News . . . 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the issue of the Foard County News of Friday, April 4, 1924:

The death of Richard Lynn, a former Crowell resident, occurred in Pecos on Feb. 29, 1924. Mr. Lynn, native of New York City, lived in Crowell for many years where he tuned pianos for a living. He was an accomplished violinist and played in the big theatres in New York City. At one time he worked as a reporter on the New York World. He organized and conducted a large orchestra while in Crowell.

H. D. Poland and his force commenced construction Tuesday on a new filling station for M. N. Kenner which is expected to be completed and in operation by May 1.

The storm that struck this county last Friday afternoon was one of the most destructive in many years. Quite a lot of damage was done to outbuildings over the county and two persons are known to have suffered bodily injury.

Crowell won in the county track meet held here. Robert Long was high point man for the crack Crowell team; Crawford Burrow was high point man for class B division; and Haskell Norman was the outstanding star of the junior team.

Dr. M. M. Hart of Newport was here the first of the week visiting his family.

J. H. Lanier and family visited in Knox City Sunday.

Walter Ross, who has been confined to his bed with pneumonia, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Welch have gone to Rochester, Minn., for medical treatment for Mrs. Welch.

John A. Storey of Vernon has announced his candidacy for District Attorney.

A. T. Fish of Vivian is a candidate for Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, and Tom Johnson has entered the race for public weigher, Justice Precinct No. 1.

Wilburn Ayers of El Paso has bought the Russell Grocery store in Crowell.

terfitt and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey devoted their several attentions to legislative matters and said nothing.

Ralph W. Yarborough, Austin attorney, who ran against Shivers two years ago, has stepped up his speaking program. His case was strengthened with White's announcement as both men were strong "Loyal Democrats."

Clyde B. Kennelly, assistant attorney general, resigned April 1 to devote full time to his campaign for congressman in the 9th District. He is opening headquarters in his home town of Rosenberg.

C. T. Johnson of Austin, candidate for lieutenant governor, called for a state law requiring publication of school district financial statements.

Campaigning in South Texas, he said the need is emphasized by the misuse of funds charged recently by state officials in a district in that area. He said such a law would also result in better

Praise for Country Press

Lavish praise for the country press recently came from a top government official — Secretary of Commerce Weeks. He said: "When the history of this age . . . is fully described, great credit for maintaining our freedom will go to the American press, and particularly the country and suburban newspaper."

"The weekly press is the community's loyal, trustworthy, warm-hearted friend. It knows everybody. It goes into every home as a welcome guest. It keeps neighbors acquainted with each other. Its advice is wise and its sympathetic interest is genuine. It fosters civic pride and an enterprising community spirit. It is the stout champion of the moral principles that make America great. And it tells the truth."

Dimes, quarters and half-dollars are legal tender up to $10.

About $16,000,000 worth of paper currency is printed daily.

YOUR Senator Reports

by LYNDON B. JOHNSON

A West Texan asks what I consider the number one problem before Texas. I think the answer to that question is water—water for people, water for crops, water for stock, water for industry.

For most of our state, 1953 was a year of drouth. A few facts tell the story. The average temperature for the year was two per cent above normal. The greater part of Texas had 50 to 75 per cent of normal rainfall . . . far West Texas only 25 per cent. Amarillo had the driest period in the history of its weather station; the Rio Grande ran dry at Laredo; the first time in the record books; San Antonio had one of its driest years since 1925.

I have followed the Weather Bureau reports closely. The early reports for 1954 are not encouraging. Only parts of East Texas have received 50 to 100 per cent of normal rainfall. Far West Texas went down to 25 per cent of normal in the 13 weeks that ended March 15. Central Texas could boast of 25 to 50 per cent normal.

Water is not just a farm problem. It's a big city problem too. Weather Bureau reports on 17 Texas cities for the week ended March 15 showed only two—Galveston and Houston—with any rainfall at all. It was insignificant.

Waterfowl Migration from Texas Coast to the North About Due

Austin—The climax to the mighty migration of the feathered millions from Texas is approaching down on the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Coast.

Reports to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission indicated that the most celebrated of the north-bound flocks—the whooping cranes—are poised for their mysterious flight to their summer nesting grounds.

Emphasis on this momentous wildlife event has been made this year because of the concentrated effort to attain maximum public cooperation in protecting the whoopers, now reduced to a mere twenty-four in number.

The Executive Secretary said this team showing, between the general public and the acknowledged wildlife authorities, already has stirred unprecedented interest in the spring migration. Field men are aiding the countless unofficial watchers by helping them identify the various species, especially the larger birds which resemble the whoopers.

National Buyers' Guide Features Texas in April Edition

A modernistic Texas longhorn steer stampedes all over the front cover of the Texas edition of National Buyers' Guide this month. And its brand appears throughout a colorful 30-page editorial section devoted to the business story of the Lone Star State.

It's done in a big way. Has to be, according to Alexander Haegen, the publisher, because you can't "fence in" the commercial importance of Texas.

National Buyers' Guide is distributed nationally to thousands of prospective buyers of farms, ranches, business enterprises and income properties. Some 2,000 of such properties are described in each issue of the 230-page magazine.

Governor Allan Shivers advises prospective investors that "in Texas there are no limits to progress. Thousands of firms have found Texas an excellent place to locate factories, offices and to conduct business."

days, the Texas papers have been filled with beautiful pictures of bluebonnets in full bloom. There is no scene which creates so much nostalgia in the breast of a Texan. It is the very essence of the Texas springtime and the pictures are mighty welcome to those of us who live so many miles from home.

A Basic Problem: It may seem a far cry from Texas bluebonnets to the hydrogen bomb but somehow I feel there is a certain link between the two. We are trying to preserve the basic values of life—of which the right to enjoy Springtime and feel the Resurrection is one. Our ability to control and use the hydrogen bomb is the key to our success.

The American people have been deeply disturbed by the enormous destruction generated in the blast of the bomb. Stories are rife. Rumors are spreading through Washington and the Capitol. Many of these stories are undoubtedly exaggerated. I was a charter member of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee and I will never forget the differences between the reality and some of the speculative stories.

But however exaggerated the stories, the reality is bad enough. The hydrogen bomb means either the end of war or the end of civilization. There may still be small localized wars in the far corners of the earth. But mighty nations cannot fight a hydrogen war without destroying civilization itself.

It seems to me that all Americans should be able to unite in the aftermath of the hydrogen bomb. We all want peace. We all want the preservation of our cherished freedoms. We all want the right to worship at a church of our own choosing and to work at a job of our own choosing without er three, hoping they will be even better.

CHS COOKS CUT CAPERS

Food is the foremost thought in many teenagers' minds. These culinary capers are for their benefit.

First on the menu is baked goose (Billye Bell) eaten with gusto by Henry Black, Eddy Rickard and Tiny Taylor. Red Hot Pepper, Joe Don Thompson, adds spice to anything.

If you're going on a picnic, be sure to take along plenty of fresh fruit, for instance, that peach, Francine Coffey.

For those who prefer cigarettes are Zody, Gail, Frances and Sue. To sweeten up things Maxine Walker is the perfect ingredient, and for spice use a little Thaxton. Going back to fruit, the girls prefer that orange, Larry Johnson.

A little wine adds flavor to any meal. Right? How about Carolyn Smith?

Then there's that sweet chick, Nelda Kay.

Flash! Marilyn Monroe is coming to CHS with a five year contract to teach boys P. E.

FADUCAH POUNDS LOCAL NINE 8-1

The Paducah Dragons made the most of their six hits and numerous Wildcat miscues to crush the Crowell Wildcats 8-1 in the Cats' first practice game of the 1954 baseball season.

The Cats did well considering they have not played baseball in the last three years while the Dragons have.

Cat hurler, Gaylon Whitley, allowed only one earned on six hits, the other runs were due to errors. Two pitchers used by the Dragons issued ten bases on balls while Whitley allowed nine. Billy John Rader was the only Cat to secure a hit when he singled in the third inning.

The Wildcats meet South Lockett tomorrow for their second practice tilt before they again tangle with the Dragons in the conference opener.

The repairman: "Why don't you watch where you're going."

The drunk: "Why don't you carry a wrist watch like everyone else?"

An eight year old boy wrote into an essay contest about why "I like the Jack Smith Show." He wrote, "I like the Jack Smith Show because the Lone Ranger is after it."

ADELPHIAN CLUB

The Adelpian Club observed an International Relations program in its meeting at the club house on Wednesday, March 31. Mrs. Doyle Kenner, as program leader, presented Judge Leslie Thomas and Henry Black as guest speakers for the afternoon. Judge Thomas very ably discussed "The Texas Mexican and His Problem" in which he gave the idea that if the Mexican child can be kept in public school through the grades, at least, they can be helped to a higher standard of living and working. He thinks that through the better educated child, the adult Mexican can be reached. He cited one Mexican who had lived in this country for 45 years, as being unaware of the legal action necessary for him to become a citizen of the United States. Mr. Black brought to mind forcible how deeply indebted to Mexico for culture in various ways the United States is. The architecture of Texas is typically Spanish. Many towns, cities and counties bear Mexican names. The music of Texas is colored by Mexican culture. Mrs. Tom McCandless and Miss Martha Rettig were hostesses to a large number of members and guests.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

"Coordinate accessories with the complete appearance," Mrs. Mary Brown stated to members of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club meeting in the home of Mrs. A. B. Calvin April 2. Mrs. Brown advised that a person should have one or two centers of interest. Gloves should be carried by the fingers. Gloves seem to be leaving the clothing picture somewhat. Mrs. Horace Phelps, president, conducted the business session. The group voted to pay $2 to the county dress revue fund. Members answered the roll call with an accessory they would like to have. Mrs. J. C. Prosser was awarded the hostess prize. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Henry Ross and Mary Brown, visitors; A. H. Lax, a new member; Buster Cates, Horace Phelps, W. J. Garrett, Nick Chatfield, Cecil Carroll, J. C. Prosser and the hostess. The next meeting will be in the Cecil Carroll home on April 16. The demonstrations will be belts and skirt bands.

THALIA H. D. CLUB

"Accessories are very important to the well dressed woman," Mrs. Ray Brown, Home Demonstration Agent, told the Thalia H. D. Club Thursday afternoon, April 1 when the club met in the home of Mrs. H. W. Gray. Mrs. Ed Huskey, secretary, was in charge of the business meeting and the club accepted the resignation of Mrs. W. A. Johnson. Mrs. Faye Whitman was elected president and Mrs. Betty Moore, vice president. The club voted to present a "hostess gift" at each meeting. The minutes were read and all business taken care of. Mrs. Gray, hostess, served ice cream, cake, and Cokes to Mesdames W. A. Johnson, Jesse Moore, Bertha Chapman, Ed Huskey, Leotis Roberts and Waldon Johnson, and to three visitors, Mrs. Fred Gray, Mrs. Beverly Gray and Mrs. H. A. Casada. The club meets with Mrs. Robert Hammonds at the next meeting April 14.

W. S. C. S.

The monthly social meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service which was held in the home of Mrs. S. T. Crews on Monday afternoon, was opened with a piano solo, "Will There Be Any Stars" by Mrs. Crews. Joint hostesses with Mrs. Crews were Mrs. E. R. Roland, Mrs. Hartley Easley and Mrs. E. W. Kidd. "Just When I Need Him Most" was sung by the group with Mrs. C. W. Thompson directing. Mrs. Crews presented two little music pupils, Edna Newman and Joyce Calhoun, who each played a number. Mrs. M. J. Girsch served as devotional leader. Mrs. Clint White, as leader, discussed the 5th chapter of "Within These Borders," the study book of the W. S. C. S. Mrs. C. W. Thompson reviewed an article, "A Pink Blanket and a Blue One," a story of Mexican life. The hostesses served a delicious salad course to a large number of members and guests.

HENRY CIRCLE

The Henry Circle met April 5th in the home of Mrs. Bill Bell with Mrs. Jack Walker as co-hostess. Mrs. Lewis Sloan gave the devotional based on Luke 23:44-49 and Luke 23:21. She gave "Girls Town Established with Faith Foundation," by Amelia Anthony. Mrs. Foster Davis gave the chapter, "Mexican Beachheads in the North" from the study book, "Within These Borders." The special feature was given by Mrs. Moody Bursey on "Evangelism Techniques of Church Member Visitation." She also read the poem, "Only Borrowed." Refreshments were served to thirteen members. The Supreme Court convenes on the second Monday in October. Supreme Court justices engaging in private practice may be impeached.

Home Demonstration Notes

MRS. MARY D. BROWN

Don't forget—Council will meet this Saturday, April 10, instead of the usual third Saturday to avoid the Easter holidays. I hope that you will make every effort to attend. Since spring is here many of us will begin to think of storing winter woollens. Moths will find their hope in the wash water with the new liquid solution EQ-53. This new moth proofing solution goes directly into the wash water. A few spoonfuls in the wash or rinse water leaves a minute quantity of DDT in the wool to ward off insects. Treatment with EQ-53 protects wool in storage for a year or more. It is also convenient for blankets in use the year around. When woollens are washed or dry cleaned, they will need re-treatment. More than 80 firms manufacture the product under various trade names, but EQ-53 appears in prominent print on most containers. Our recipe for this week is for

Baked Fish

3 lbs. fish (red snapper), 1 small can tomatoes, 1 small can peas, 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco sauce, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 3 tablespoons shortening, salt and pepper. Prepare fish (frozen or fresh) and place in a well greased pan (using the 3 tablespoons shortening). Pour other ingredients over the fish and bake at 350 degrees for one and one-half hours.

News from the Congress

by Congressman Frank Ikard

The passage in the Senate this week of a bill giving statehood to Hawaii and Alaska raises the question again as to whether or not we should admit to the Union states which geographically are not a part of the North American continent. As I am sure you will recall, a bill dealing with Hawaiian statehood alone passed the House last year. The approval in the Senate for both Hawaiian and Alaskan statehood means that the whole matter will again have to be taken up in the House. The Alaskan statehood bill has been pending in the House committee for well over a year. It is anybody's guess, of course, what action the House will take. It seems to me, however, that it is an extremely dangerous precedent to set. I would favor a commonwealth status for Hawaii, but I do not feel that it should become a part of the Union. All of the arguments used in favor of admitting Hawaii as a State could be used for the admission of Puerto Rico, Cuba, or almost any other country as far as that goes. It seems to me that one of the easiest ways to dilute the strength of our nation is to spread out from this continent, and start admitting new territories.

This week the President has signed the new excise tax bill, the effect of which is to substantially reduce the excise taxes that are paid on the purchase of many home appliances, cosmetics, and admissions and tickets for transportation. The effect of this act will be to reduce taxes approximately one billion dollars. This law will put a 10 per cent ceiling on most items taxed and the cuts became effective on the first day of this month.

The legislative schedule in the House has been stepped up substantially within the last two or three weeks as a result of the efforts on the part of the leadership to bring a large portion of their program before the Congress for the excise tax bill that I have just mentioned, the income tax bill, and the housing bill, all of which are very long, technical and controversial bills, have been passed by the House. Despite the fact that a great deal of work has been done during the last few weeks, it still seems to me that it will be impossible for Congress to adjourn around the first of July as was originally predicted. My guess still is that we will be lucky if Congress is through here by Labor Day.

During this time of the year, thousands of tourists come to Washington to see the cherry blossoms. As I mentioned last week, the Cherry Blossom Festival this year is the first week in April. As I came to the office this morning around the Tidal Basin, there were literally thousands of people driving and walking through the trees which are now in full bloom.

Visitors in Washington this week were J. Holford Russell and son, Lt. W. M. Russell, Tip Hall Sr., Marshall Pierce, H. M. How, of Denton County; Lee Lovell of Wichita County; R. N. Barker, Claude Callaway and Dwight Campbell of Foard County; and Herbert Fleming, Earl Howard, Odell Liggett and Comer Tuck of Clay County.

Seventy-two acts of Congress have been held unconstitutional. Treason is the only crime defined by the U. S. Constitution.

Old-Time Cowboys Look Forward to Stamford Reunion

Stamford — Pioneer cowboys already are looking forward to the Texas Cowboy Reunion and officials are busy with plans for the unique occasion in Stamford though it is almost three months away—July 1, 2, 3, and 5.

Each year, between 400 and 500 old-timers of the range gather to greet former associates, swap stories, do some square dancing and domino playing and eat chuckwagon fare. And the sprier ones compete in the old-timers' calf roping contest. Some bring bedrolls and sleep out under the sky. The early-day cowboys are guests at the big rodeo which is a feature of the reunion.

Quite an elaborate plant has been constructed since the reunions began back in 1930—Roundup Hall, scene of a nightly square dance; the Pavilion, where more modern dances are presented each night; the Bunkhouse, where business sessions of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association are held; the chuck wagon area where 2,000 visitors are fed. Then there is a sparkling lake, a guest house and the rodeo arena and grandstand, with a seating capacity of approximately 7,500.

W. G. Swenson of Stamford, manager of the SMS Ranch, is president-manager of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, which is host to the cowboys and produces the rodeo. Otto E. Jones of Colorado City, manager of the Spade Ranch, is president of the old-time cowboys' association. To be eligible for membership, a man must have been a cowboy who worked on the range at least 35 years ago. The annual celebration is a four-day affair, climaxing on Glorious Fourth, but as the falls on Sunday this year, there will be no rodeo that day. There will be afternoon and night performances on the three days.

The Hawaiian Islands recently joined the U. S. in 1898.

Montana was the first to have an old-age pension.
