SENATOR W. J. BRYAN IS VICTIM OF FEVER

Washington, March 22.—United States Senator William James Bryan of Florida died at the Providence Hospital at 8:30 o'clock this morning of typhoid fever.

It was only seventy-three days since he took his seat as the successor of the late Senator Stephen R. Mallory, who died Dec. 2, and 33 days of that time was spent in his fight against disease. Several times during Mr. Bryan's illness his friends despaired of his recovery but as late as last night the report was given out that his condition had taken a turn for the better.

Mr. Bryan's death today, therefore, came as a surprise and a distinct shock.

In physique Mr. Bryan was unfitted to withstand so protracted fever. He was slight of build and of nervous temperament. He came to Washington early in January from the warm climate of Florida and from the day of his arrival was far from well. Finally he was compelled to give up and was taken to Providence hospital. During the last few days of his illness he was attended by specialists from Johns Hopkins University Hospital, Baltimore.

In Mr. Bryan, the Senate loses the seventh member by death since the adjournment of the Fifty-Ninth Congress, March 4 a year ago. They were the two late Senators from Alabama, Mr. Morgan and Mr. Pettus, Mr. Mallory of Florida, Mr. Lottimer of South Carolina, Mr. Proctor of Vermont, Mr. Whyte of Maryland and Mr. Bryan.

Curiously, the last two were the oldest and the youngest members of the body. Mr. Whyte was 84 years old and Mr. Bryan less than 32.

Although Mr. Bryan was in the Senate too short a time to impress his individuality on legislation or to take a prominent part in the consideration of matters in common, it is conceded that had he lived, he would have become a forceful part of the majority.

Mr. Bryan was born in Orange, Fla., Oct. 10, 1876. He attended the schools of his State and Emory College, Georgia, graduating from the latter institution in 1896. Three years later he was graduated from Washington and Lee University, and in 1899 began to practice law in Jacksonville, Fla. Until a short time before his appointment to the Senate he had served as solicitor of the Duval County Criminal Court.

He was married to Miss Janet Allen of Lexington, Va.

Mary Louise, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Witherston, celebrated its 1st birthday last Saturday. A number of youngsters near the age of Mary Louise were invited. Those present were Misses Lucy Bonnar and Frances Hill and Mr. Jack Roberts Jr. The day was very much enjoyed and will be long remembered by them as the first of its kind.

Gov. Johnson Candidate

St. Paul, Minn., Mar. 23.—John A. Johnson, governor of Minnesota, today gave an authorized statement to the press announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency of the United States. This announcement is made so that his friends will not be misled by reports published that he had denied that he would be a candidate and would soon issue a statement formally forbidding the use of his name as a candidate against William Jennings Bryan, with whom it was claimed he had an understanding that he would not oppose the Nebraskan in his "fourth battle."

The Governor is an aggressive candidate for the nomination at the Denver convention, not a receptive candidate, as has been reported. The Governor and his friends are quietly working for the nomination, and one of the results of their efforts will be a solid delegation from Minnesota in the National Democratic convention, who will place him in nomination there as "the man who can win at the polls."

Stilwell Appears for Funds

President Stilwell of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient has sent a letter to stockholders asking that while the officers of the company are again undertaking the sale of bonds and stock in Europe, the stockholders subscribe either to one-year 6 1/2 per cent joint notes of the two construction companies which are building the railroad, each $1000 note being secured by $2,000 in first mortgage bonds of the railroad company, with a bonus of 40 per cent in preferred and 40 per cent in common stock; either of these subscriptions to be made at par. The funds thus obtained are to be used in pushing construction as fast as possible. Mr. Stilwell concludes as follows:

"I cannot urge on you too strongly the necessity of completing the sixty-seven miles of track necessary to connect the road between the Red River and Benjamin. This will give us a line in operation from Wichita, Kan., to Sweetwater, Texas, and will enable us to secure a great deal of through business. We have experienced very trying times and it has been difficult to carry on construction work during the past ninety days, but we have continued to do so, and I hope our stockholders will now come to our assistance and enable us to build this sixty-seven miles so necessary to the success of the enterprise. This will give us 484 miles of continuous track in this one section which ought to show earnings of $20,000,000, or much more than we have invested in the entire line up to the present time.—Houston Post.

The St. Louis Republic contained an article this week stating that Foard county, Texas is the only county in the United States that keeps its officers in jail. It is something that our people should be proud of, and we want to say that our county officers are as good as the average too.

TOBACCO DISTRICT

INTENSELY ALARMED

Lexington, Ky., March 22.—Driven by panic fears because of warning letters and visits from night riders, farmers in nearly all of the forty-two counties in the White Barley tobacco district are busily destroying their tobacco beds and at the present time less than one-third of the number usually planted have been started.

In many counties huge signs have been erected on buildings and high places near by declaring the intention of the farmer not to raise a crop this season.

Realizing the difficulty of making a living for their families in case the decision to raise no tobacco is adhered to, many tenant farmers are preparing to move to other States, while many farm owners have placed their property on the market with the avowed purpose of leaving Kentucky. The killing of Farmer Hedges in Nicholas County yesterday and the raids in Woodford and other counties last week have increased alarm. In announcing their determination to go elsewhere the tenants declare that it will be impossible to subsist from the proceeds of crops of hemp, wheat and corn.

In the neighborhood of Mount Sterling many farmers have received threatening letters, with which were matches, powder and poison, and in both farm districts and tobacco towns armed guards have been placed at threatened points. Conditions throughout the State are declared to be worse now than at any time since the tobacco war began.

Vernon Tragedy

The people in the business portion of the city were startled Tuesday afternoon by the firing of a pistol in the vicinity of the Panhandle Hotel. Crowds rushed to the scene to learn that M. Fox had shot W. H. Midgett, the piano dealer who has been in Vernon for several weeks, but whose home is in Dallas.

The trouble grew out of the fact that the officer had arrested Midgett upon the arrival of the north-bound Denver Tuesday afternoon and had taken him to the Justice's office where he plead guilty and paid his fine. Constable Fox then accompanied his prisoner to the Panhandle Hotel to aid him in securing a room for the night. Here an altercation occurred which resulted in Fox firing two shots, the first missing, the second entering the right side, passing through the spine and coming out through the left side. Midgett died about 7 o'clock in the evening.

Fox gave himself up to the officers and had his preliminary trial Wednesday morning and was released on a bond of $2,000.

The remains of Midgett were shipped to Dallas for interment.—Vernon Record (Mar. 18)

After escaping from his wife and sister-in-law, Justice ran to the railroad tracks 100 yards from the house, where he was overtaken by some men and a physician summoned, but death resulted in a few moments.

Decades ago he survived by a widow and two children.

ENGLISH VIEW OF VISIT.

One of the Most Significant of Modern Times.
London, March 21.—The announcement that the United States has accepted the invitation of the Japanese government for the Atlantic battleships fleet to visit Japan was received with the greatest interest here; first, as putting an end to the friction and war talk, and second, as one of the most significant naval demonstrations of modern times.

It is anticipated that Japan will assemble her fleet in its full strength at Yokohama to greet the visitors. In such event if only the American fleet makes the journey, there will be a fine spectacle—never before paralleled in Far Eastern waters; and it will be welcomed by all as a sign that British diplomacy has been successful in averting serious friction between the two great naval powers of the Pacific—the one England's ally, and the other England's friend."

He is already in possession of original data of prevailing winds, and hints that his flight will be over Texas, Arkansas, through Missouri, Illinois. He may be forced to go to Lakes Erie and Ontario to get favorable wind that will take him to Maine Coast.

Mr. Forbes is confident of accomplishing the feat.

EDUCATIONAL AND CO-OPERATIVE UNION OF AMERICA

TRAINING BUSINESS METHODS

Farmer is Taking His Cue from the Business Men.

The Farmers' Union is the only farmers organization that does not delegate its law making power to representative bodies, but it differs from other farmers' organizations that have existed. Kindred organizations, such as the Farmers' Alliance and the Grange, delegated their making power to representative bodies, but they gave only political agitators a chance to speak the body and inject into them the same old worn out schemes for political purposes—to gratify personal ambition of the said agitators. Other kindred organizations were also wrecked upon the same old worn out schemes. With bold faces standing out prominently as danger signals, is it any wonder that those who conceived the Farmers' Co-Operative and national Union wisely enacted in its constitution a clause that prohibited even a discussion in a Union of any political or religious matter, so that any member guilty of offense shall be expelled from Union after a second offense.

In a referendum upon the safety of the Constitution, the Union from swaying influence of "stump speech" oratory that creeps into many representative bodies clothed in the name of Co-Operative constituents. It is true that the Farmers Union has its state and national meetings, but these bodies must be held in secret sessions and matters to be passed upon by the Unions before they can be called by the Farmers' Union. The Farmers' Union is the business men. They have learned that business men cooperate for protection or promotion of their interests and they have wisely entered into their deliberations for three good cotton warehouses in the south, owned and controlled by Farmers' Union members. They have helped the farmers than anything they ever received or ever will receive through any political source. They have shown the way that will be worth more to you than any of your best politicians could ever do in the legislature. If you will plant in your minds the investment of the people's money in the south for the next six years and all the expense money of the Atlanta cotton warehouses, the politicians stand at home.—Our Nashville, N. C.

Little Bannerettes

A body that is sound enough to let me hours a day ought to condemn me for not coming to join the Union and attending the Union at least a month.

If the good work go on, educate, and then tell us how you do it and what you think of the new way.

If the good work go on, educate, and then tell us how you do it and what you think of the new way.

Why then should we not revolutionize the old systems that have retarded the cotton producers? We will see, we will see, we will see, as a lot of funny things we woolen mites by not being permitted to work with the "best society."

The building of capital has its teeth set in the bosom of the laboring man's pants, and petitions and resolutions will not induce him to let go the fun we derived from idleness by not being permitted to walk in the tall grass with the elbow high of both America and Europe.

How About Cutting Cotton?

What are you going to do with the cotton crop this year? You must decide now. How to you would be to put most in corn, potatoes, peanuts, and what to plant about ten acres in corn to feed the stock. You must plant your place and when you do it you will not have to study so much about big cotton crop, for carrying out the cotton. You will have to foil with much cotton or corn, for you will have all of it at home.—Winnfield, La., Union member.

How your colors by being the best corn in your community.

Prove to your neighbor that his is a good thing that he should do. He has made a better man of you, a happier family of yours.

closer relation between the business man and the farmer will destroy the prejudice now existing.

Understand this: there will be fewer years of an unpleasant character.

THE WEEK'S EPITOME

A FINE INVESTMENT FOR A SMALL AMOUNT.

The Dallas News, after speaking of the things that have been done by some towns to draw trade and show appreciation of the farmers' patronage, adds:

There is one thing, however, that seems to have been overlooked to a great extent by the enterprising citizens of the cities which have been looking after such matters, and that is the oversight is the apparent insignificance of the plan, and the fact that the cost of maintaining it would be so small. This is the provision for the care of the farmer's vehicles and stock during his stay in town. While this item may appear, upon first thought to be of secondary importance, it is nevertheless a very important one to the man who drives his farmer's horse, and particularly to the one who has to remain over all day, as is sometimes the case. It is found even in cities with high rates where horses may be tied, not taking into account the fact that they should be protected from the weather also. It is a remarkable fact that to many men, the owners of the stock, do not even care of their animals they should, not only as to looking after the money spent in the purchase of the stock, but as a matter of kindness and mercy to the dumb beasts.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT WHITE LEAD IS?

White Lead is the standard paint material all over the world. It is made by corroding metallic lead into a white powder, through exposing it to the fumes of weak acetic acid and carbonic acid gas; the lead is then ground and mixed with linseed oil, making a thick paste, in which form it is packed and sold for painting purposes. The best thing it does to give proper consistency for application by the addition of more linseed oil.

The above refers, of course, to pure, genuine White Lead. The adulterated and fake "White Lead," of which there are many brands on the market, is generally some sort of composition containing only a percentage of white lead; sometimes no White Lead at all; in such stuff, barites or ground rock, chalk, and similar cheap substances are used to make bulk and imitate the appearance of pure White Lead.

There is, however, a positive test by which the purity or impurity of White Lead may be proved or exposed, before painting with it.

The blow-pipe flame will reduce pure white lead to metallic lead. If a supposed white lead be thus tested and it is only partly reduced, thus leaving a residue, it is proof that something else was there besides white lead.

The National Lead Company guarantee all White Lead sold in packages bearing its "Dutch Boy Painter" trademark to prove absolutely pure under any test. And that you may make the test upon your own home, they will send free upon request a blow-pipe and everything else necessary to make the test, together with a valuable booklet on paint. Address, National Lead Company, Woodbridge Building, New York.

A contemporary publication says that what the skeptical Congress has done would not make a book as large as a common almanac. Would it even cover the inside of the covers? But what it has talked about doing! It would fill volumes!

The Baltes controversy is winding nothing for him or making enemies against him, but is bringing the two factions to daggers' points, and blows are being dealt from which Texas will suffer politically for many years.

The Knox County News has again changed hands, E. B. Atterbury having bought the plant. Mr. Atterbury has before owned and published the News, but for a few months has been sowing wild oats, judging from his salutatory in last week's issue. It has already been asserted that alfalfa is proving a more profitable crop in West Texas, and since he is new at the helm of the News for life, he may plant a patch of the famous foreign crop, put a few bugs on it, and through the columns of the News tell the world of the unsurpassed opportunities of Knox county.

The people of Crowell were very royally entertained four nights this week by Prof. Pickett who delivered a course of lectures on hipitation and other subjects of great interest. The lectures were very interesting and instructive.

T. S. Patton.

In this issue appears the announcement of T. S. Patton for election to the office of commissioner for precinct No. 4.

Mr. Patton has rendered splendid service in this capacity and asks the support of the voters of his precinct again. He is a man in whom the people can place confidence and they will make no mistake if they see fit to give him their support.

The reduction in the cotton acreage throughout the South will assist materially the farmers in their fight to secure a reasonable and profitable price for their cotton. If the acreage is kept at what it is or increased, with a reasonably good production, the farmer can have small hopes of getting the price he should have for his cotton crop, but if the acreage is reduced, the first essential will have been accomplished in the great campaign for higher prices for the fleecy staple—Greenville Banner.

Alfalfa planting time is fast passing. If the ground has been plowed and allowed to catch the rains in time to settle before the seed are broadcasted on it, the chances are yet favorable for a good "catch" of alfalfa this spring in the region within 150 miles of Red river. If rich land is selected for alfalfa, the crop can be expected to pay almost anywhere in the southwest except where cotton dies very freely from so-called alkali, root rot. When a wheelbarrow seeder is used, 16 pounds of seed will do as well as 20 sown without this even distributor. The land should be in very fine condition in all cases. There is no reason for planting small alfalfa seed amidst clods. They cannot grow and thrive there any more than turnip or cabbage seed will.

These seeds are all of nearly the same tiny size. Alfalfa hay is worth as much for feeding as an equal weight of wheat bran. Pound for pound it is worth more than corn for stock work. While it should have some grain fed in connection with it for best digestive results, there is no hay that goes on the market that is as good as alfalfa.—Farm and Ranch.

When you hear people talk of gardening it means vegetables for the table this spring and summer. Let us do more of that this spring than ever.

HOPEFUL CONDITIONS IN FOARD COUNTY

Judging from reports from all over the county, the farmers are in better condition for the coming spring crops than usual. The winter has been mild and they have been permitted to give their attention to the preparation of the soil for the various crops. The farmers are only awaiting the coming of the warm spring weather when they can plant. They all report plenty of moisture in the ground and are filled with inspiring hopes, by present flattering prospects, for great crops of cotton, corn and feed stuff. The man who has every thing in small grain wears a broad smile when he speaks of his hundreds of acres of wheat as green as an ungrazed mid summer meadow, and he wears broader ones when he thinks of the harvest of only a few months in the future and when the grain will be stored in the granary.

These conditions give life and activity to business in general and a feeling of contentment and happiness pervades the entire country.

Walked from Arkansas

After a short rest here, he continued his journey to Paducah.—Vernon Record.

Towns Cleaning Up.

In compliance with the request of State Health Officer Brumby, many of the towns and cities in Texas made a special effort on the day set for cleaning up the towns, and many that failed to do so have since taken up the matter and set a day for such work themselves. This means better health for these towns and cities during the summer. And it means a greater degree of respect for them by visitors as well as among themselves.

Crowell is getting ready to handle the seep. She has already spit on her hands.

New say, no doubt you have regretted not taking some bargain which is forever gone. Don't reproach yourself for letting this golden opportunity pass. J. W. Cooper is offering a bargain and must sell. See his ad elsewhere in this issue.

"Crowell Is Growing"

Again we halt long enough to tell our readers of the amazing growth of our little city. We who are on the ground and hear the ceaseless sound of the carpenter's hammer notice the contrast in its former and its present state less than those who make occasional visits to the town.

These visitors are forcibly impressed with the wonderful improvements the town is constantly making along all lines. They invariably express surprise and in some instances are almost amazed. Now and hand-some residences have been erected here and there on what were only a few months ago vacant lots until the whole appearance of the town is changed from what it was a few years ago, and the remarkable fact about it is that its growth has been steady and free from inflated booms so often disastrous to towns of its size. Its growth is healthful and is in proportion to the strength of natural causes maintaining it.

It is hoped that Crowell will never experience one of those booms, and will not if every citizen will keep his head and exercise common sense about matters generally. Booms pervade communities of excitable citizens.

Crowell is, however, bordering upon ground where each advanced step should be measured with caution. It is more than a village, and must be so regarded by its own citizens, and as a town every day becoming larger, a system of sanitation becomes imperative, and upon that matter the News hopes that wisdom and judgment will rule.

On Friday night the 13th of March the Catesville school gave an entertainment which was very much enjoyed by all present. The program was well carried out, the recitations, songs and plays being highly interesting. The music rendered by Sambo was of a character to make one's foot work a little in spite of him self.

Mixed with the music and recitations were some splendid dialogues full of fun and calculated to make one laugh heartily. Among these special mention should be given the Book Agent and the Old Professor's Speech by the little darkey getting over the grip. Then there were Dr. Cureall and the Photograph Gallery which were well acted.

Now when any one thinks that Catesville cant do a thing right, let him come down and see.

A MOTHER

How many American women in lonely homes to-day long for this blessing to come into their lives, and to be able to utter these words, but because of some organic derangement this happiness is denied them.

Every woman interested in this subject should know that preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by the use of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Maggie Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was greatly run-down in health from a weakness peculiar to my sex, when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. It not only restored me to perfect health, but to my delight I am a mother."

Mrs. Josephine Hall, of Bardonia, N. Y., writes: "I was a very great sufferer from female troubles, and my physician failed to help me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound not only restored me to perfect health, but I am now a proud mother."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration.

Why don't you try it? Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address: LYON MASS.

GIVES HONOR TO THE SOLDIERS.

Privates the Real Heroes of Gettysburg. According to Gen. Pickett.

The wife of the confederate Gen. Pickett contributes to McClure's an article called "My Soldier," which, without making any direct statement, leaves one with a conviction of the appalling ineffectuality of war.

"My Soldier said one day that he should be glad to be in every war that had a just issue. I had been taught to believe that the war with Mexico lacked it, and when I asked him, he replied: "At West Point some of us were reprimanded for expressing doubts of its justification, and I was one of them. After we were in it, we had to fight it through, and, since it had to be done, I was glad to do my share."

Later on, when the war of secession broke out: "I pray God that this dreful revelation which has come about because of misunderstandings, and for which I see no real necessity, may yet in some way be averted."

When the die was cast, Gen. Pickett, naturally, though sorrowfully, chose the side where were his own kith and kin. He distinguished himself at Gettysburg. "When he reached Gettysburg he was again and reentered to Gen. Lee, his face was wet with tears as he pointed to the crimson valley and said: "My noble division here!" "Gen. Pickett," said the commander, "you and your men have covered your selves with glory."

"My Soldier replied: "Not all the stars in the world, Gen. Lee, could atone for the widows and orphans this day has made."

Some years later, George Augustus Sala, said the hero where his own kith and kin. He distinguished himself at Gettysburg. "When he reached Gettysburg he was again and reentered to Gen. Lee, his face was wet with tears as he pointed to the crimson valley and said: "My noble division here!" "Gen. Pickett," said the commander, "you and your men have covered your selves with glory."

Value of Fruit. Too much cannot be said in favor of giving the children all the fruit they want. Dr. John Tatham, in a lecture not long ago, made a special plea for a diet more generally enriched with fruits for young children. "The parents of the young for twenty years," said Tatham, "might perhaps be described as a relic of our simian ancestry, but it is also an expression of constitutional weakness, and the intense costliness which children enjoy in partaking of it is something which should not be denied them without good reason."

The banana is one of the most nourishing of all fruits, and has been recommended as a useful food for typhoid fever patients, inasmuch as, although a solid food for all practical purposes, containing as it does some 85 per cent. of nutritive matter, it does not possess sufficient water to irritate the ulcerated mucous membrane. Nearly the whole amount taken into the stomach is absorbed. The banana contains much iron and is therefore recommended to anæmic patients.

Rather Discouraging. Mr. Slim chunting for a new boarding house—is the lady of the house in? Servant—No; she's gone for a policeman. "What are the terms for board here?" "Cash."

"I mean how much a week?" "Ten an 15 a week, 'cording to room."

"I presume she makes a deduction for people who stay a month or two?" "I don't know. No one ever stays that long"—New York Weekly.

He Slips Back Who Stands Still. No man in daily life ought to be satisfied with what life now is; he ought every day to be looking forward to some of the possible improvements.—Everett Hall.

A REMARKABLE MAN.

Active and Bright, Though Almost a Centenarian.

Shepard Kollock, of 41 Wallace St., Boston, N. J., is a remarkable man at the age of 88. For 40 years he was a victim of kidney troubles and doctors said he would never be cured. "I was trying everything," says Mr. Kollock, "but my back was lame and weak, and every exertion sent a sharp twinge through me. I had to get up several times each night and the limitation of my life was a heavy settlement. Recently I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, with fine results. They have given me entire relief."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Couldn't Take the Case. "You'll have to send for another doctor," said the one who had been called, after a glance at the patient.

"Am I so sick as that?" gasped the sufferer. "I don't know just how sick you are," replied the man of medicine, "but I know you're the lawyer who cross-examined me when I appeared as an expert witness. My conscience won't let me kill you, and I'll be hanged if I want to cure you. Good-bye!"

Billion Dollar Grass. Most remarkable grass of the century. Good for three reasons: good annually. One Iowa farmer on 100 acres had 800,000 worth of seed and had 200 tons of hay besides. It is immense. Do try it.

Strenuous Method of Saving Life. Two officers who were hunting wolves on the Dry mountain in central Servia lost their way in a fog. After wandering for 14 hours one of them lay down in the snow and speedily became unconscious. His comrade found him with cords placed him in a sitting position and then rolled him down the mountain. He slid down the slope at terrific speed, and reached the bottom safely, being found an hour later in an exhausted condition by a peasant. He is now in the hospital being treated for the lacerations he received in bumping over the rocks during his descent. His companion is unhurt.

One Woman's Wrongs. Mrs. Smallpiece who found only a few dimes in her husband's pockets that morning—I am just sick of this profligacy along year after year. Why don't you do something to make money?

Happy Old Age. Most Likely to Follow Proper Eating. As old age advances, we require less food to replace waste, and food that will not overtax the digestive organs, while supplying true nourishment.

Such an ideal food is found in Grape-Nuts, made of whole wheat and barley in long baking and action of diastase in the barley which changes the starch into sugar.

The phosphates also, placed under the bran-coat of the wheat, are included in Grape-Nuts, but left out of white flour. The wheat is necessary to the building of brain and nerve cells. "I have used Grape-Nuts," writes an Iowa man, "for 3 years and feel as good as any younger man I know of 62 years ago. I am over 74 years old, and attend to my business every day."

SO RUDE OF HIM.

"Why won't you see Herr Schmitt today, Erna?" "Well, and then?" "Then he sneezed into it."

VOLUME 18.

With this issue the News it enters upon its 18th year, and while we have had no intention of celebrating its anniversary, we hoped to at least to give it a new dress, but have been disappointed in that. It will appear, however within a very short time, perhaps next week, in a modern-styled dress of ten point Century Expanded, which we are sure will give it an improved appearance.

It would be interesting, would space permit, to give a historical sketch of the News, to review the meandering scenes along its pathway of seventeen years' travel, much of which are uninviting to Newspaper men. The News has experienced gloomy days, but most of those who have been at its helm feel a degree of patriotic pride at having made sacrifices to lengthen its existence until it reached a self sustaining stage, and the present management bows its acknowledgement to their noble, heroic endeavors and feel the weight of heavy responsibilities in trying to direct its future course.

The News is here to stay so long as it receives the hearty patronage of the business men of the town and the citizens of the country, and will always be found endeavoring to promote the interests of Foard county and Crowell. It heartily believes there is a great future for the town and is quite sure that the State can boast of no territory of the same area more highly favored with natural advantages than Foard county.

Entering upon its 18th year, the News asks a continuance of its present splendid patronage, and promises in return every effort possible to merit same and to give value received. We ask that you join hands with us in an effort to place this county properly before the people of the world.

Test Its Value.
