R. N. HUCKABEE WILL SPEAK AT PRO RALLY SUN.

Rev. R. N. Huckabee, pastor of the First Methodist Church at Quanah, has been selected by local prohibition officials to be the principal speaker at the county-wide mass meeting that is to be held in the Methodist Church at 8:00 o'clock Sunday night.

Rev. Huckabee is a forceful and well informed speaker and an invitation is extended to everyone to hear him on this occasion. Vernon Pyle, chairman of prohibition forces in Foard County, will preside at the meeting. He states that plans will be formed at this meeting for a county-wide campaign for the retention and enforcement of the 18th amendment and for a victory over wet forces in the coming election on August 26, at which time the beer amendment is one of four to be voted upon.

Local churches are dismissing their services for the Sunday evening meeting.

"We hope to have every community in Foard County represented at this meeting," Mr. Pyle said.

Oswald won in the second round from T. Weatherall, Electra, 2 up, but to Edwards lost to M. P. Gentry, Clarendon, 3 and 2. Oswald lost in the quarter-finals to Ed Foxhall, Memphis, 1 up.

Miller, lone fourth flighter, beat Robert Hughes, Quanah, 1 up in the first round and then dropped from the tournament.

Last year Griffith won the fourth flight consolation championship in the Green Belt tourney at Electra.

At Childress Monday he won third place in the driving contest. Billy Holmes of Shamrock won first, driving three balls for a total of 711 yards on the rain-soaked fairway. Whitney Anderson of Vernon was second with 671 yards, and Griffith third with 667 yards.

Co. Health Office Suspended; Annual Audit Begins July 1

It was voted at the regular session to suspend the office of county health officer. Dr. J. M. Hill was serving in this capacity. The court explained that the action was taken due to slow tax payments, the condition of the general fund and the fact that the amount set aside in the 1933 budget for this office had already been expended.

At the same session of the court F. J. Short, a Dallas accountant was employed to audit the books of the county and the common school districts. He will also prepare a county budget in connection with the audit. In 1932 a law was passed by the Legislature requiring counties, cities and school districts to have budgets of proposed expenditures.

Mr. Short is to begin work on the audit on July 1.

Officers Elected by Local Masonic Lodge

Gordon Gribble was elected worshipful master of the local Masonic lodge at its regular meeting on Monday night of last week. Other officers were elected as follows: John Long, senior warden; Vance Swaim, junior warden; Merl Kincaid, treasurer; Claude A. Adams, secretary; A. T. Schooley, tiler.

Mr. Gribble succeeds Paul Crews as worshipful master and Mr. Adams is successor to S. E. Scates, who has served as secretary for the past several years.

APPENDICITIS OPERATIONS

Miss Johnnie Ruth Wisdom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wisdom of Thalia, underwent an appendicitis operation Monday night.

Mrs. Dwight Higgs of Crowell was operated on for appendicitis Monday night.

Both are getting along nicely.

HARVEST OF '33 WHEAT CROP IS NOW UNDERWAY

Foard County's wheat harvest really got under way this week, although the first load of 1933 wheat for this county was received here on June 1.

Due to reduced acreage and greatly reduced yields, the production in Foard County this year will be the shortest since 1930. The total production for the 1933 season is generally estimated at around 200,000 bushels.

Harvest was delayed about a day this week as a result of light showers over the county Monday afternoon. Most combines and binders were able to resume work by Tuesday afternoon.

Large Attendance at Baptist Brotherhood Banquet Mon. Night

About fifty-five were present for the banquet of the Baptist Men's Brotherhood in the basement of the local church Tuesday evening, at which time members were hosts to their ladies and several visitors from Thalia. The meal was prepared by members of the brotherhood.

Vernon Pyle brought the devotional, after which Duke Wallace led in prayer. I. T. Graves explained the work and purpose of the brotherhood. The three objects of the organization were said to be: enlistment, educational and social service.

Vocal numbers during the banquet program were given by a trio composed of Mrs. A. F. Wright, Mrs. W. W. Griffith and Mrs. Hub Speck and a quartet composed of Valton Wallace, E. A. Dunagan, Duke Wallace, and W. H. Dunagan. Mrs. Arnold Rucker served as accompanist.

The feature of the program was an address, "The Man that Was Not Missed," by Rev. O. L. Savage. Bad blood, bad marriage, bad politics and bad religion were given as the principal reasons that the man referred to in the address was not missed at the conclusion of his earthly career.

Rev. W. A. Reed of Thalia spoke on behalf of the visitors from Thalia. He expressed a desire to see a man's brotherhood organized at Thalia. Visitors from there were G. A. Neill, R. C. Johnson, Mrs. and Mrs. G. A. Shultz, Rev. and Mrs. Reed and children, Erwin and Evelyn.

H. C. Roark, president, opened the banquet, after which Mr. Graves had charge of the program. W. R. Womack pronounced the benediction.

Lodge and Rebekah members are now selling tickets for it. The picture will be shown on Friday night only, with the show beginning at 7:45 and 9:15 o'clock. The admission is 10 cents and 25 cents.

CROWELL GYMNASIUM LOAN IS APPROVED BY R. F. C.; $3,000.00 PROJECT IS SELF LIQUIDATING

A telegram from Congressman Marvin Jones was received by the local R. F. C. committee last Friday morning, stating that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had approved a loan of three thousand dollars to the Crowell Independent School District for completion of the gymnasium on the school grounds.

Later in the day a telegram to the local school board was received from G. R. Cooksey, R. F. C. secretary. The message read as follows: "This corporation has approved purchase of not exceeding three thousand dollars principal amount 6 per cent revenue bonds of the Crowell Independent School District of Crowell, Texas, at a price of par and accrued interest. The conditions of which corporation's purchase is to be made are now being drafted in final form and copy will be sent you as soon as ready."

No Tax Increase

As a result of this action Crowell will have one of the finest gymnasiums in this section without adding a cent to the cost of operating the local school system and without involving any future increase in taxation, since the law making it possible for school districts to secure loans for recreational projects also definitely specifies in Section 2 of H. B. No. 845 that "Projects financed in accordance with this law are hereby declared to be self-liquidating in character and supported by charges other than taxation."

The Crowell school board's application for the loan specified that it would be paid back over a period of ten years from receipts of the gymnasium. H. B. No. 845 states that such a building and its receipts are to serve as security for the purchaser of the bonds issued by the school board. The law definitely provides that the obligation shall never be a debt to the school district and that the purchaser of the bonds shall have a franchise to operate the gymnasium in case of foreclosure.

Built on Faith

Unusual faith and diligent effort have been shown by N. J. Roberts and L. A. Andrews, chairman and secretary of the local R. F. C. committee, in their work on this project. Ground was broken for the structure on Jan. 24 and at present the construction of the gym is more than half finished. The basement for the 80 by 82 foot building has been completed. It is seven feet deep and heavy stone completely covers its walls and extend several feet above the surface of the ground. Frame work for the walls has been erected and rafters now extend over all the gym with the exception of the playing court. The entire seating capacity has also been blocked.

Due to lack of material, no work has taken place on the project in several weeks, however, construction will be resumed in about one month and in all probability the building will be completed by the time school opens.

Donations Help

Donations of material and services from various sources, together with the use of common labor paid for out of R. F. C. unemployment relief fund, have made possible the construction of the gym thus far.

In the later part of 1932, L. I. Saunders, local contractor, drew plans for the gym and donated them to the local committee. Although the project at that time seemed like a wild dream, nevertheless, Roberts and Andrews were not to be discouraged in spite of seemingly insurmountable obstacles and proceeded with their plans after they had been approved by the local school board.

The beginning of excavation work on Jan. 24, was started shortly after the action of the commissioners' court in donating the discarded Foard County jail to the school board on condition that the board would be responsible for clearing the lot where the old jail stood. Wrecking of this old landmark was started Jan. 30 and the stone and steel from it have played a major part in the construction thus far.

A few days after this donation, the West Texas Utilities Co. donated its old power plant building. Valuable dimension lumber and other material were secured from it.

During the time of the evacuation, the use of 28 head of horses and mules was made possible through the donation of their services by local business men and farmers. All that the R. F. C. committee had to supply was feed.

Through permission of the school board, the old ball park and its exhibition building were wrecked and its lumber used for sheeting and sub-floor.

Old Wells Raided

Other material was secured by removing about 10,000 brick from several abandoned wells; digging up of water pipe on abandoned water lines and securing enough for water and gas lines and selling an additional amount to get funds to buy other material; wrecking of an old house which was partially destroyed by fire in order to secure one-fourth its lumber, which amounted to several

ACCEPTS POSITION IN POST OFFICE AT TEXON

Paul Crews left Wednesday for Texon, where he was to begin work Thursday as a clerk in the post office of that city. Mr. Crews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Crews and formerly worked in the Crowell post office. Edgar Kimsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kimsey, and a former resident of Crowell, is the postmaster at Texon.

Another Crowellite cast his lot with the people of Texon several weeks ago in the person of Tom Beverly, who is now a pharmacist in that city.

Local Eastern Star Installs Officers

The following officers were recently installed by the local Eastern Star lodge: J. W. Bell, worthy patron; T. B. Klepper, associate patron; Mrs. T. Claude A. Adams, worthy matron; Miss Ida Mae Yount, associate matron; Mrs. O. O. Hollingsworth, conductress; Mrs. Bula Pate, associate conductress; Mrs. Stanley Sanders, secretary; Mrs. M. N. Kenner, treasurer; Miss Nettie Maude Yount, warden. Three of the five star points have been appointed as follows: Miss Mattie Russell, Ada; Mrs. W. W. Griffith, Ruth; Mrs. Grover Cole, Esther. The other two will be appointed later.

Finishing Material

The funds made possible through the $3,000 R. F. C. loan will be used principally in the purchase of the following: brick for veneering the walls; channel iron roof, hardwood floor, seating material and other equipment.

When completed the building will comfortably seat over 750 people; will have two dressing rooms with adjoining shower baths and various other features. Such a building can be used for a wide variety of community affairs, in addition to athletic events.

Legal Technicality

Before work started on this project, the local school board made an application to the R. F. C. for a loan of $3,000 from the fund set aside for self-liquidating projects. Whether this loan would be granted or not, was unknown then, however, work proceeded on faith that it would be made.

Prospect of favorable action by the R. F. C. on the loan came soon afterward, but it was discovered that a legal technicality would prevent the local school board from securing the loan, even if it should be approved by the R. F. C. This was on account of the State law which prevented a school board from binding successors in office, thus making it impossible for the board to secure a loan on more than a one-year basis, and the application for the R. F. C. loan had been made on a 10-year self-liquidating basis.

The removal of this obstacle was attributed to the splendid work of George Moffett of Chillicothe, representative, and Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, state senator from this district. Had it not been for their untiring work on House Bill No. 845, introduced and originated by Mr. Moffett, it would be impossible for school boards to secure loans of this nature.

This bill, which makes it possible for school districts to secure loans for building recreational facilities on a self-liquidating basis, passed the House on April 17. Early in May the Senate passed the bill and shortly afterward it became a law when signed by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Marvin Jones Acts

Considerable discouragement resulted when several weeks passed after the Moffett bill became a law and yet no action from the R. F. C. Faced with the possibility of having to go through a tremendous amount of red tape a second time in making application for the loan, Roberts and Andrews placed their case clearly before Marvin Jones of Amarillo, Congressman from this district, and requested his aid on the project. A few days later Jones telegraphed that the loan had been approved.

So far as is known, Crowell is the first city to secure a loan from the R. F. C. on this type of project.

Baby Born Here Is Judged Perfect In Contest at Austin

Little Marylynn Male, eight and a half months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Male of Austin, who was born last September here at the home of her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Hines Clark, has the distinction of being the prize winning baby of Austin, having made a perfect score of 200 points last Thursday in a Better Babies contest in that city.

The contest was sponsored by the Auxiliary of the American Legion and is an annual event. One hundred and eight babies vied for honors and all were sent through thorough examinations by eighteen physicians of Austin.

Marylynn's mother was formerly Miss Frances Clark, who was reared in this city. Mr. Male is well known in Crowell, having served as engineer here in connection with the installation of the local sewerage system. He is now an engineer in the State Health Department.

Small Child Attempts To Drink Lye Water

Bert Crimm Martin, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin of the Black community, is recovering from injuries received to his mouth and throat as the result of attempting to drink lye water last Friday in the yard of his home. The water was being used to clean an auto radiator and a small amount of it was left in a bucket, which the child found. It is believed that the child did not swallow any of the lye.

Since Sunday the little boy has been confined at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kamstra in this city. For several days he was unable to drink or take nourishment, however, he is now able to drink milk.

FOARD SCHOOL CENSUS GAINS 148 THIS YEAR

Foard County's school census figures for this year have been approved by the State Department of Education and a gain of 148 scholastics, or about ten per cent, is shown over last year. The total for this year is 1,666, compared with 1,518 for last year.

This does not include persons of scholastic age in Foard County who are in a school district outside of Foard County. Last year there were 55 Foard scholastics listed with the Five-in-One school in Wilbarger County and five Foard scholastics for Knox County. Granting that these figures are about the same this year, Foard County's total scholastic population is around 1,730.

The census figures, as approved by the State Department of Education for the past two years, are as follows:

NEW GAS SAND IS REACHED IN TEX. OIL TEST

Another large gas sand was reached in the Texas Co.-L. K. Johnson No. 3 oil test last Saturday afternoon at a depth of 3,486 feet. All efforts to stop the gas flow had failed up to Thursday afternoon. The gas flow has not been gauged, however, it is not the heaviest sand that has been encountered in this test.

The present sand is about 25 feet in depth. The largest sand reached in the test thus far was encountered at a depth of 3,125 feet on March 8. This sand measured forty-one million cubic feet daily.

On Dec. 1, 1932, at a depth of about 3,098 feet, a gas sand estimated at 30,000,000 cubic feet was reached and it was several weeks before the gas was shut off so that drilling could be resumed.

The test is located on the L. K. Johnson ranch and is about twenty miles west of Crowell.

Frances Allison and William Ricks Marry

The marriage of Miss Frances Allison and William Ricks, popular young couple, took place Sunday afternoon, June 11, in the residence of the justice of the peace at Frederick, Okla. Miss Wilkie Dickerson of Davidson, Okla., a close friend of the bride, was present for the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Wichita Falls and other points, Mr. and Mrs. Ricks returned to Crowell on Tuesday and established their home in the residence of Mrs. Ricks' father, George Allison.

Both parties to the marriage were born and raised here. The bride graduated from Crowell High School in 1931 and attended Draughton's Business College at Wichita Falls the following year. She is an accomplished musician and has served as pianist for many local functions.

Mr. Ricks is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ricks, pioneer Foard County residents. He was a member of local high school football team in 1930. He is now operating a farm near Crowell, however, he and his wife will reside in Crowell.

Publicity Is Given Gymnasium Project

Crowell has already received favorable publicity regarding its work on the gymnasium project and is due to receive more.

Before it was known that the loan would be approved, Fred Thompson, "The Rambler," of the Wichita Falls Record News, highly complimented the work that had been done on the project and held it up as a model for Wichitans to follow in their effort to secure a downtown gym.

After giving details of the work that the local R. F. C. committee had done he commented, "But should Crowell fail to get the R. F. C. money, we'd bet our last suit of B. V. D.'s that citizens there would finish that gym anyhow. The boys up there get things done. Crowell's aggressiveness should serve as a model for Wichitans. We want a big gym here, but all the sportsmen can think to do about it is to smoke cigars in committee rooms while writing earnest letters to some one far away whom they hope will ship in enough cash to finance everything from the excavation to the pearl-rimmed door-knobs."

The editor of a New York magazine, "Commerce and Industry," has written for details of the local project and states that one of his staff writers is preparing a feature article in regard to Crowell's resourcefulness on the project.

about the world economic conference now in session at London. He stated that Texas' welfare was affected by the results of this conference more than any other state, since the greater part of Texas' cotton, wool and other products, in which it leads in production, must find markets outside of this nation.

Mr. Ferguson gave an account of his recent trip to Wilmore, Ky., and furnished interesting descriptions of visits to various points on the two routes used on the way to Wilmore and the return to Crowell.

Messrs. Bomar & Co., who have charge of the tank, have just received the new engine for their new motor boat which will soon be seen gliding upon the balcony waters of the big tank. This will add much to the tank as a pleasure resort. Let the good work go on.

were returning from the lake the horse that they were driving became frightened and ran. Mrs. Thompson was thrown out before the horse had gone very far, yet she sustained serious injuries. Mrs. Carter was considerably bruised. Her little son, J. T., remained in the buggy for some distance, but was finally thrown out and was more or less cut and bruised.

THE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR THAT'S DIFFERENT

The compressor is the thing that makes automatic refrigeration possible. Each and every electric refrigerator employs a system whereby a compressor compresses a liquid until it vaporizes, then after vaporizing it returns to its original liquid state to be compressed again.

Therefore, one can see that the compressor is the heart of the system and subject to severe service. All other refrigerators except the NORGE use piston and push rod system exactly like your automobile uses for power, several wearing parts to be replaced sooner or later.

The ROLLATOR, found only in the Norge Electric Refrigerator, consists of only three moving parts housed in a bath of oil—a roller rolls and there is ice.

We were offered practically every electric refrigerator on the market, but we chose the Norge Rollator, because of its record—long life, less noise, less current.

By All Means Investigate the Norge!

Large advertisement for Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich. June 5, 1933. LOW PRICE CARS VS. CHEAP CARS. We do not build a low-price car: the cost to us of building our car is pretty high. But we do sell a high quality car at a low price. Almost every new Ford V-8 car we have built so far this year, has cost more to manufacture than its selling price was. As you buy them at only $490 to $610, we have to depend on increasing volume to make up the difference. The reason for this is simple: — a manufacturer who gives good value must expect to lose money on the first cars he sells because he cannot charge all his costs to the people who are first to buy. But with the purchaser it is different — he cannot afford to lose anything on a car. It must give him full value from the first, and keep on giving him full value for years. Two things make possible our combination of low prices and high cost quality: 1. Volume Production 2. Taking only one profit. First, we set our price at what would be fair to the public on the basis of economies we enjoy in volume production. Then, in order to justify and maintain our low price we must get volume sales. Thus it comes that a car which is really high-cost to make, is also low-cost to buy. There is a difference between a cheap car and a low-priced high quality car. Ford prices are always fixed at a point which makes it profitable for a customer to buy. Good and lasting business must produce profit to the buyer as well as to the seller. And of the two, the buyer's profit must be, comparatively, the larger one. It pays us to sell the Ford V-8 because it pays you to buy it. Henry Ford

On Foard Farms

By FRED RENNELS County Agent

T. F. Lambert of the Rayland community has a fair fruit crop in spite of the fact that it has been a very hard year for fruit.

Even though this country is not rated a first class fruit country, there are very few localities in the state that could produce a better orchard than Mr. Lambert's.

The fact that the Lambert orchard is good is not an accident. During the recent dry weather, he hauled water in barrels and watered his young trees so they would not be stunted.

The Lambert farm, in addition to producing fruit, cotton and feed, has about 20 acres of alfalfa.

Eight acres of alfalfa was sowed last fall and the first cutting from this field produced about one ton per acre.

Plenty of cows, chickens and hogs are kept on the Lambert farm for home use and some of the products are sold each week to assist in keeping up the general expense of the farm.

T. J. Cates Grows Good Potatoes

Good preparation, mulching, good seed, good cultivating, mulching with straw are some of the necessary things to do in order to produce good Irish potatoes in this country.

preparation of the land and mulching and cultivating to save the moisture that he did get. His potatoes are fine. He has two varieties, the Irish cobbler and the Early Triumph.

Kills Prairie Dogs

A fairly good prairie dog kill was secured by J. B. Easley on his ranch west of town by using poison grain. Even though there is an abundance of green grass for the prairie dogs, it seems that they like the grain and no trouble is experienced in getting them to eat it.

Prairie dogs can destroy grass very fast, especially during dry years.

The poison which is being used in killing the dogs is milo maize. It has been mixed by the U. S. Biological Survey especially for killing dogs and can be secured through the county agent's office at 3 1/2 cents per pound.

Spirit of Crowell People Complimented

In sending a remittance for the renewal of her subscription to the Foard County News, Mrs. Reid Williams of Loveland, Colorado, also enclosed an interesting letter. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Self and is superintendent of the Department of Public Instruction of Larimer County, Colo.

In speaking of her home town paper she said: "I always enjoy it more than any other paper or magazine that we get. Reid always says that he has to wait until I get the Foard County News digested before he can expect me to prepare the Sunday dinner. It usually comes on the Sunday morning train."

"I have certainly been delighted with the honors that the Crowell School has won this year. It's the spirit of co-operation that puts things over in that great little city when they cannot be put over in other places. I am still of the opinion that it is the finest town on the globe and it will come back in a few months and you folks will wonder what you ever had to worry about. When people there make money, they spend it freely and that is what it takes to make things prosper in a hurry."

"My work has been most delightful here in the schools the last three years. I have to travel a lot in the mountains and that is what I enjoy in the summer time. Next week we are to make a trip to a school which will take 225 miles of travelling. Incidentally the fishing is good, the roads are splendid and nights and days are delightfully cool. I often wish for some of my folks or friends to take these trips with me."

Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the following words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, authorizing the sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight."

Christian Science Churches

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 18.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah 48: "Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel; I called; I am he; I am the first, I also am the last. Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together."

Included with other passages to be read from the Bible will be the following from Genesis 1: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

Citations will also be read from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," one citation being as follows (p. 502):

"Genesis i. 1. In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

"The infinite has no beginning. This word beginning is employed to signify the only,—that is, the eternal verity and unity of God and man, including the universe. The creative Principle—Life, Truth, and Love—is God. The universe reflects God. There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected. These ideas range from the infinitesimal to infinity, and the highest ideas are the sons and daughters of God."

SERMONETTE

LIVING A FULL LIFE

By Arthur B. Rhinow

"It's hard to see him go," the grandson remarked; "but there is comfort in knowing that he has lived his full life."

He referred to the age the deceased had attained. He was nearly four score years old when he died. Blessed be his memory.

But I said to myself, "Is the fullness of life to be measured by years? Surely not. Many a life of eighty was empty, and many a life of thirty-five was rich and full, because it always gave unstintedly of its very best."

Sometimes we meet with men who boast of having "lived", meaning that they were able to gratify all the desires of the body. But in doing so they probably starved the finer instincts within them that longed for expression. A sane control of the passions always lead to a fuller, richer life, and where they are left to grow rankly they strangle the higher life that strains to assert itself.

And the man who makes the principal or sole aim of his efforts to advance his own interests, who is determined to succeed, no matter how much suffering he thereby causes others, he lives a small life even if he is inflated with pride. The mere getters always remain little men and women; it is the givers who live the full life.

But, strange to say, these givers who always give of their very best are the very ones who realize that they cannot attain the fullest fullness of life while here on earth. They look forward to a fuller development beyond the grave. With this faith in their hearts as urge and star, they experience the ever more abundant life. To them Easter is more than a holiday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Jesus Rises from the Dead

Lesson for June 18th. Mark 16:1-20

Golden Text: Mark 16:6

The words of our Golden Text, "He is risen," were spoken by the white-robed messenger at the tomb of Jesus to the women who had come early on the Resurrection morn to anoint their dead Master.

When they arrived they found that something very unusual had happened. There had been a mighty earthquake, the huge stone before the sepulchre was rolled to one side, and in the tomb was an angelic figure.

Naturally the women were frightened. But the angel reassured them. "Do not be terrified," he said. "It is Jesus you are looking for. He is risen! He is not here!" What those women needed was faith, faith in a living Lord. It was to that faith the angel called them.

Of course the Easter story has in it the elements of fact as well as the elements of faith. The Golden Text may be considered a statement of fact as well as the pronouncement of a faith. But the faith is more significant than the fact. It is this Easter faith in a Christ triumphant over death that constitutes the foundation stone of the Christian Church.

What actually happened on the day of Resurrection we do not precisely know. But we can, with perfect confidence, look at Jesus with the eyes of faith, and say "He lives!" And we can remember our loved ones, hidden from sight, and can say, also with faith, "They, too, are alive!" Then we can look at ourselves again in faith, and cry, "We too shall live!"

But the Easter faith is much more than the assurance of immortality. It is a faith we desperately need for the proper conduct of the affairs of every day. Marshal Foch once said that morale is more important than material. Now morale is the fruit of faith, the faith St. John calls "the victory that overcometh the world."

Too many of us try to live within the narrow walls of proof. We seek to explain everything. What we need to learn is to release our energies in the spirit of a great adventure of faith.

Although he owned a meat market, he got nothing but pork chops for a year, Peter Kupiac of Chicago alleged in a bill for divorce against his wife.

How She Lost 18 Pounds of Fat

For Less Than $1.00

"Will say in regards to Kruschen: I took it to reduce. I lost 18 pounds after using one bottle and feel fine. Just bought one more bottle today and expect to lose 18 more pounds. I now weigh 148 and feel fine." Mrs. Harry Robinson, Akron, Ohio (Jan. 6, 1933).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFELY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully please you—money back. W-4

by ELINORE BARRY

Fourteenth Instalment

Joyce Ashton, poor steed, suffered loss of memory in a morning accident in riding taxi cab two years ago, after a fall from her horse. Her memory restored, to find her Frills, the wife of Niel, as Frills, California fruit packer, had determined to tell nobody of her life in the past. From the conversation of Frills and letters in her desk she learned that she had been a pleasure-loving young woman signing herself "Frills". She was not giving to a baby Sophie was carried. Could it be her baby, Frills asked? She also found herself in an affair with a man named Maitland. In San Francisco, she went while her husband was on business, she met Ainsworth, a poet whose she had always admired. When returned home, she decided to write to Neil than Frills. But this line was dangerous, for Neil was pathetically to win back her love, at his they call upon Neil's mother, GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"You live here alone and asked Joyce." "I forget Claud Alfred," replied with a smile. "I giggled at the fiction of Alfred. Why had she known the first that there was no Alfred Tremayne?"

"I found out, among other scintillations of information, that back was his real headquarters which he went away every month and stayed in San Francisco, New York, New Orleans, St. Louis, Boston or various mid-west cities. He had now been in shack for three months and had to stay until he finished present book, which would probably be about two more months."

"I'll come out again soon," he quickly and spurred her on to a galloping start. She waved and without looking back. "I rode home in a daze. Mechanically she undressed, bathed, and ate her dinner. Dinner she retreated to her bed and settled herself luxuriously to couch."

"I lay in her blissful trance. She both of Robert Ainsworth's fingers them, stroking with worshipping fingers, opening covers, glancing at the first pages, tasting, and then putting the delight of reading. "I wondered how the shack looked at night, what Robert Ainsworth thought at that moment while she thought about him."

"I sleep on that wide couch by the window, or out of doors the multitude of stars gravely watch overhead in the deep sky?"

worth, coming up at a gallop. "I was just thinking as I rode along that to have to eat lunch alone on such a day was enough to make the angles weep!" Joyce's heart lightened at a bound. Deep gratitude flooded her at this casual but warm reception. She smiled happily, all her doubts dispelled. She was glad, glad that she had come! And during the three hours she stayed with Robert Ainsworth, eating lunch with him, helping him wash the dishes, and listening to his nonsense, she continued to be glad.

The conversation was kept, as if by mutual consent, light and bantering, impersonal. "I've finished Glittering Pavements," she remarked in a pause, "but I'm saving The Rose Adobe a little longer. It's such riches to have two books by Robert Ainsworth at once! You can't think how I adore your writing. I wish I could express myself better," hoping he would not think her stupid; "of course, you don't need any praise from me, but I do want you to know how much I enjoy your books. Everything you write is so satisfactory . . . it has suggested Neil."

He smiled at her and in his smile there was no trace of condescension nor mockery nor bored disgust. It was a cheerful, complete understanding, even a grateful smile. It warmed Joyce to the tips of her toes, made her feel as if he had accepted her as a friend, an equal, not just a girl who might be flirted with. "Nice girl!" he commented briefly. "Strength . . . something to bite on. You couldn't say anything to please me any better than that."

"When she was leaving Ainsworth said, 'Do you think you can find the way if you drive out sometime? I'm sort of looking forward to meeting Dickie. You'll bring him sure, won't you?' " "Oh yes, I can find that back road and I'll bring Dickie. But . . . but I can't help worrying about . . . about interrupting you?"

"Forget it! While Claud Alfred's away I do as I damn please in the matter of visitors. I often work at night too, you see. There isn't much else that's more tempting to do out here so I tear off quite a bit each twenty-four hours just whenever I feel like it. No particular hurry, either."

She dismounted from Rosita just as Neil drove his car into the garage. When he joined her and they turned toward the house together, he said, "Been out long, Frills?" "Why, most all day. It was so lovely and I had my lunch so I kept going farther and farther."

"All right," she said. To her disappointment Joyce found that she would have to wait a couple of days in order to obtain the car she wanted. And when they ran into Ross and Clarice Emerf, Neil suggested their staying up in San Francisco a second night and making a party to go to the theatre together.

The following day they started back to Manzanita in the new roadster, a beautiful car, but entirely unlike the "Easter Egg," for its mirror-like enamel surface was a deep blue, almost black. Three whole days since she had seen Robert Ainsworth! That was the thought which pushed all others into the background as they approached Manzanita.

When Joyce arrived at the shack she found Ainsworth engaged in giving his horse a thorough currying. He stopped and came to welcome her and Dickie, displaying a most satisfactory amount of enthusiasm. After a stick had been thrown for Dickie until the little dog was weary and panting, Robert and Joyce talked. And as usual, the world drifted for Joyce far away from this lonely spot.

Toward the end of the afternoon they happened to be inside the house for a moment, standing in front of the bookshelves while Ainsworth hunted for a volume of poems which he had mentioned and from which he wanted to read to her.

Joyce watching him as he bent over the bookcase, his eyes running swiftly over the titles along the shelves. Her heart filled with sudden pain. She loved him! She adored him! This feeling which surged through her was the kind of love she had dreamed about, for which she had wistfully yearned as a young girl. Instinctively, she recognized it. Was love always partly pain? Ainsworth was speaking, but she hardly heard what he was saying.

"Oh, damn the luck! I must have left it in the city last time. I'll get it when I go up next week if I can remember to . . . I want to read you one on the Eucalyptus Grove. You'd like it . . ." he turned.

"Joyce looked silently up into his face" and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local government affairs, it hereby is ordained:

"(2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favorable vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favorable vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favorable majority of the votes cast within a favorable majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto."

"(3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for the county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensations of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filed by an election contracting more than one county. Existing herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In cases of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5). Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the standards thereof be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6) a. Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified votes cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger it shall not be affected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were imposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are or hereafter may be provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In case of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected thereby shall cease to control, and the county Charter provisions shall control.

"c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or Amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or a town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favorable majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purposes hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000), or more, to effect more sufficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on one ballot, leaving unscratched that particular clause which expresses his vote on the proposed Amendment to which it relates. Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. Garden Suggestions Given By Foard Home Demonstration Agent

The following garden information has been submitted by Miss Dosca Hale, home demonstration agent, and should be of interest to many people of this county:

June Insects

Melon lice make it difficult to grow either watermelons or cantaloupes if they get started. They collect on the under sides of the leaves, and in a short time cause the leaves to curl. Vines should be thoroughly dusted with nicotine sulphate, a 2% dust. This should be done during the warm part of the day. This is more effective if a sheet or something is spread over the plants for a minute or two after the dusting to confine the dust.

Squash bugs affecting squash watermelons, cantaloupes and cucumbers are grayish-brown or green sucking insects, half an inch long. Their eggs are black and found on leaf surface. They are hard to control. Egg masses should be collected and bugs hand picked and burned. Boards should be laid near the roots of the plants. The bugs collect under these and can easily be destroyed. Nicotine dust mixed with sulphur, half and half, will sometimes run them out of a patch.

Storing Vegetables

There are a number of vegetables that should be stored rather than canned. Irish potatoes, onions, peas and beans may be stored at this time. Irish potatoes do not always keep unless refrigeration is provided. There should be plenty of ventilation, especially during the first ten days. A cool, dark, well ventilated place is best for them. They may be placed beneath the house on the dry ground on the north side. The ground must be elevated and the potatoes kept better if they are placed on slatted support. They should never be placed more than three potatoes deep. The surface of potatoes should be thoroughly dry before storing but they should never be left in the direct sunlight. The potatoes should be left in the ground until the skin is toughened enough that it will not break readily when rubbed by the thumb.

Bermuda onions are not easily kept. Spanish Valencia, Prizetaker, and Australian Brown are varieties better adapted for farm storage. As soon as onions are taken from the fields—after the tops begin falling over—the tops are clipped off and they are piled in a shady place. They should be turned every day until they rattle like paper when handled. A cool, dark, well ventilated place should be used for storing.

Dry peas and beans should be heated to a temperature of 140 degrees for ten minutes to kill weevil eggs or larvae. They may then be stored in gallon syrup buckets or lard cans. They are used for eating and not for planting.

June Vegetables to Plant

New Zealand spinach is a hot weather leafy vegetable that may be planted now. It does not go to seed so early as other varieties of spinach. The tops are taken off for greens and in a few days more leaves are put on so a few bunches will afford enough greens for a small family and some to can. The taste is practically the same as that of Bloomsdale or any other variety of spinach. June corn planted now will give some late roasting Okra can still be planted and plant can be set out. Bush or string lima beans prefer hot weather in the summer garden.

In 1932 more than $20,000 worth of materials were turned into 600 worth of products by workers supervised by the Commission for the Blind.

One of the world's longest suspension bridges is across the Delaware river in Philadelphia—it has a span of 1750 feet.

Enjoy These Exclusive Advantages of Modern Electric Cookery

Let modern Electric Cookery take the place of tedious old-fashioned methods in your home by installing an Electric Range now. You'll appreciate Electric Cookery for these distinct and exclusive advantages:

MODERN . . . Automatic timing and temperature control permit you to cook entire meals without constant watching.

FAST . . . Modern ranges make electric cookery faster. Less water is used, which cooks foods faster . . . and makes them better and more healthful, too.

ECONOMICAL . . . Electric Cookery provides not only economical operation, but gives distinct savings in food cost through minimizing the shrinkage of meats and bulk foods.

CLEAN . . . Clean, flameless electric heat cooks without blackening pots or pans. No scouring, no scraping. Kitchens stay clean with little work.

SIMPLE . . . The principles of Electric Cookery are so well defined, the methods so clear-cut that even inexperienced cooks always obtain excellent results.

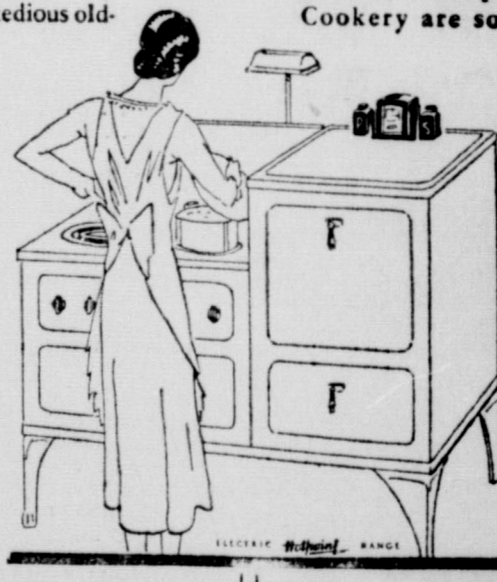

ACCURATE . . . Simple processes and automatic control enable women to prepare perfectly cooked meals more accurately than when timed by human mind.

COOL . . . Perfect insulation retains the heat in the oven so well that it does not escape into the room. Electric Range kitchens stay cool.

HEALTHFUL . . . Electric Cookery gives you tastier, more healthful foods. Natural flavors are preserved. Health-giving minerals are retained.

SAFE . . . Electric Cookery is flameless . . . no poisonous gases or disagreeable odors . . . no fire danger.

TIME RELEASING . . . Electric Cookery releases your time from "pot watching" for more pleasant tasks or pastimes.

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric service to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.
