FIRST LOAD OF 1933 WHEAT IS RECEIVED HERE

Foard County's first load of 1933 wheat was combined on Les Hammonds' farm, a few miles south of Thalia, last Thursday, June 1 and was brought to Self Grain Company in Crowell late Thursday afternoon. The load reached Crowell at almost the same hour and day that the first load arrived here last year.

The 85 bushels of hard winter wheat in this load tested 60 pounds, 1. B. W. Self, manager, paid seventy cents per bushel, 11 cents above market price, as a premium for the first load. The field from which this load was taken averaged about 30 bushels per acre.

First loads of wheat during the past few years have been as follows: 1930—June 6, John Carter. 1931—June 9, E. V. Halbert. 1932—June 1, Jim Shook. 1933—June 1, Les Hammonds.

The wheat harvest is well under way in the county now and a few carloads of 1933 wheat have already been shipped from Foard County.

Pioneer Resident of Foard County Taken By Death at McLean

Mrs. W. L. Campbell, 63, pioneer resident of Foard County, was found dead in her bed Saturday morning, June 3, at her home in McLean, Texas, where she had lived since leaving Foard county in 1917. She had been in ill health for the past few years.

Martha Dora Sandifer, maiden name of the deceased, was born on July 9, 1870, in Collin County. She became the wife of W. L. Campbell in 1888 and shortly afterward they moved to Hardeman County, the part of which is now Foard. For a great many years they lived on a farm a few miles east of Crowell. They left this county in 1917 and had since lived at McLean.

Eight children survive. They are: Mrs. Rob Wells and Mrs. Geo. Wells of Dalhart; Mrs. Inez McLarty, Mrs. Hansel Christian, Mrs. Vernon Rice and Roy Campbell, all of McLean; Dewey Campbell of Lubbock and Leslie Campbell of Pampa. All were present for the funeral services in the McLean Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. Interment followed in the McLean Cemetery. Mrs. Campbell was a member of the Baptist Church.

Three sisters, Mrs. L. G. Andrews of Crowell, Mrs. L. D. Campbell of Vernon and Mrs. Lewis Chapman of Bardsdale, Okla.; two brothers, C. P. Sandifer of Crowell and Robert W. Sandifer of McKinney; five half sisters, one brother and five grandchildren also survive.

Crowell people attending the funeral were: Mrs. L. G. Andrews, L. A. Andrews, Miss Maye Andrews, Dwight Campbell, Mrs. Charlie Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shirley, Mrs. Pearl Carter, Miss Nora Banister, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson and son, Charlie.

Former Foard County residents in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Campbell of Vernon; Mrs. J. B. Harrison, Paducah; Mr. and Mrs. Beaty Andrews and son, Amarillo; George Wells, R. A. Wells, Robert Wells and Mrs. Wade O'Neal, all of Dalhart.

Mrs. Campbell seems to have had a premonition of a sudden death, for she left a letter in the care of one daughter, with explicit directions as to her funeral. These were carried out.

She had numbers of friends in Crowell and Foard County who are grieved at her passing.

U. S. EXAMINATION

Notice of examination for the position of "Collector of Cotton Statistics" in Foard County for the Bureau of the Census at Washington is now posted at the Crowell postoffice. Applications for this position must be in Washington, D. C., by June 27.

New Baptist Pastor At Margaret Visits

Rev. C. D. Baggett, who recently moved to Margaret to assume duties as pastor of the Baptist Church there, was a visitor in Crowell this week. For the past two years he has been the school superintendent at Big Valley in Hardeman County. When school ended, he and his wife and two children moved to Margaret.

For the past ten years he has devoted a part of his time to the ministry, however, in the future he intends to devote his entire time to it, he stated. At present he conducts services at the morning and evening hours every second and fourth Sundays. Senior and Junior B. Y. P. U. organizations have recently been organized at the Margaret church and are now in operation.

Rev. Baggett stated that he was very pleased with the co-operation that was being shown church work by people of the Margaret community. He formerly lived in Roger Mills County, Oklahoma.

Submission Moffett Bill Is Stopped By Dallas-Houston Men

George Moffett of Chillicothe, representative in the Texas Legislature from this district, visited in Crowell a short time while on his return to his home following the adjournment of the 43rd session of the Legislature last Thursday.

Proof that the big cities are solidly against the Moffett resolution, proposing an amendment to the constitution limiting representation from any one county to six, as shown by the action of Senator Walter W. Woodul of Houston and Senator George Purl of Dallas who filibustered for over two hours at the closing session of the Legislature in order to prevent the Moffett bill from coming to a vote in the Senate.

This bill had previously passed the House by an overwhelming majority and Mr. Moffett stated that he had 22 votes, one more than necessary, lined up in the Senate favoring the bill. However, the two big city senators, Purl and Woodul, kept the proposed amendment from being submitted to the vote of the people as a result of their tactics near the close of the 43rd session.

Two weeks ago The News gave a detailed account of this bill. Two years ago it passed the House by a large majority and lacked only two votes of securing a two-thirds majority in the Senate. It will now be two more years before this resolution can again be introduced at the Legislature, however, the opposition should find it exceedingly difficult to stop the popular measure at that time.

Marriage of Local Youth Is Announced

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Vernon Odell (Joe) Smith, of Crowell to Miss Geraldine Cato of Vernon on Easter Sunday, April 16, at Frederick, Oklahoma, with Rev. H. W. Stigler, Baptist minister of Frederick, performing the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cole of Vernon accompanied the couple to Frederick.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mrs. Z. W. Smith of Crowell and has lived here since coming to Crowell in January, 1928, from Panhandle, Texas. He is employed with the Texas Natural Gas Company here.

Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cato of Vernon and is a graduate of the high school there. She will come to Crowell with Mr. Smith Sunday, at which time the young couple will establish their home with the groom's mother.

RE-FINANCING WORK STARTED ON TEX. FARMS

The first loan from the $200,000, 000.00 fund appropriated by Congress to re-finance farm mortgage indebtedness and to aid the farmers to redeem their foreclosed farms, was made in Texas this week. The loan was for the amount of $3,000.00 and was made to a farmer and stockman in Brazoria County.

J. C. Thompson of Crowell will act as the local correspondent for Foard County and the north part of Knox County and all eligible farmers entitled to assistance through this division may call on him. A. P. Graves of Houston, agent of the Farm Loan Commissioner, at Houston, reports that the Texas division is now organized and in position to handle incoming business with dispatch.

Additional information concerning this matter may be found on page 3 of this issue of The News.

GRADUATES AT DECATUR

Miss Johnny Mac Short, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Short, who lives northeast of Crowell, graduated from Decatur Baptist College, a junior institution at Decatur, at commencement exercises on May 30. Dr. Moore, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Decatur, gave the commencement address. Diplomats were presented by Dr. Ward, president of the college. Dr. Howard Williams of Dallas delivered the baccalaureate sermon at services the previous evening.

Miss Short was a member of the 1931 graduating class of Crowell High School.

CARROLL WINS $5.00 FOR BRINGING MOST ROOSTERS

G. H. Carroll, who lives east of Crowell, secured the $5.00 cash prize offered by W. H. Moyer, local manager for Armours Creameries, for the largest number of roosters brought to him on either Saturday or Monday.

Mr. Carroll brought forty-five roosters and received the $5.00 premium in addition to the regular list price. Mr. Moyer stated that over 1,500 pounds of roosters from all parts of this section were brought to the local Armours produce station on the two days.

MIDDLEBROOK HORSE TAKES FIRST PRIZE IN SHOW HERE TRADES DAY; ORR AND POTTS WIN 2ND AND 3RD

A large crowd was in Crowell for Trades Day on Monday despite the fact that the day came at one of the very busiest times of the year on the farm, with planting being rushed to completion and preparations for the wheat harvest underway.

The horse show proved to be a very interesting feature and over sixty saddle horses were in Crowell during the day, 51 of which took part in the parade and judging in the afternoon.

Billy Jake Middlebrook's 5-year old paint was awarded first place in the saddle horse division. Joe Orr of Margaret won second place and C. H. Potts of the Wishon ranch took third place with their horses.

G. W. (Uncle Bud) Harrell, 75, who lives about four miles northeast of Crowell and Billy Roy Cooper, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cooper, won prizes for being the oldest and youngest riders at the horse review.

Seven youngsters, six of whom rode Shetlands, took part in the parade. The second youngest rider, Wilson V. Bond, age 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bond of Margaret, handled a full size horse alone during the parade and review. Dr. J. M. Hill presented each of the young riders with dimes and blue ribbons. They were: Kenneth Greening, 6; Billy Roy Cooper, 3; Wilson V. Bond, 4; Joyzelle Tysinger, 6; Ruth Cates, 5; Margaret Claire Shirley, 8, and Laverne Kenner, 7.

The first event of the afternoon was a band concert by a local band under the direction of Arnold Rucker. Headed by the fire truck, the parade of horses in single file started at 2:30 o'clock and continued through the business section and ended on the south side of the square, where the judging took place. The judges were A. A. Blair, C. D. Stephenson and Fred Gibson. Geo. D. Self was announcer in calling the names of the riders, who rode in pairs before the crowd and judges, after which they returned to their positions, followed by the performance of another pair.

Those who participated in this part of the show were: Jo Griffith, Edward Gafford, W. A. Dunn, Frank Dunn, Joe L. Orr, Bud Harrell, Billy Jake Middlebrook, Eskridge Kenner, Tim Kenner, Trace Bradshaw, Melvin Moore, John Goddell, Dock Jonas, Fred Mabe, Merrill Allee, R. B. Cates, Charlie Haseloff, Lewis Rettig, Luppy Scarborough, George Cook, Bill Bond, Norman Dollar, C. H. Potts, Henry Greening, Milton Connell, J. W. Connell, J. W. Brewer, Delbert Kenner, Adala Jones, Lea Whately, Mrs. B. Sellers, J. W. Wishon, Steve Roberts, J. W. Curtis, Wallace (Ras) Conner, George Cates.

The six horses reaching the second elimination belonged to and were ridden by Billy Jake Middlebrook, Joe Orr, C. H. Potts, Bill Bond, W. A. Dunn and Luppy Scarborough of Hardeman County.

Prizes were awarded as follows: For best horse—one latigo and off-buckle strap, M. S. Henry & Co.; one 33-foot lariat rope, Lanier Hdwe. Co.; half sole one pair shoes, Mabe Shoe Shop; bottle horse liniment, Ferguson Bros.; haircut and shave, Schlagal's Shop.

Second best horse: one dollar's worth of groceries from each of the following: M System, Haney-Razor, and Fox Bros.

Third best horse: suit cleaned and pressed, The Wright Cleaners; special dinner, DeLuxe Cafe.

Oldest rider: 4-lb. sack of flour, T. P. Duncan & Son; year's subscription to Foard County News.

Youngest rider: pound box of candy, Reeder's Drug Store.

Jimmie Mattern

Jimmie Mattern of San Angelo, Texas, the first person to attempt a solo flight around the world, is pictured above. He left New York last Saturday morning and after fighting fogs, rain and wind, he finally landed in Norway. Later he reached Moscow and from there he flew to Omsk, Siberia. Wednesday he took off for Chita, Siberia, however late reports indicate that he was forced down on this part of the flight.

The Texan hopes to beat the Post-Gatty record of circling the world in 8 days and 15 hours, however, his primary object is to be the first person to fly around the world alone.

Crowell and Tipton Will Play in Next Local Baseball Game

After getting their first taste of victory in a league game in several weeks, at Burkburnett last Sunday, the Crowell baseball club will be out for another win over the league-leading Tipton, Okla., nine in a baseball game here Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

The local baseball diamond is being changed to the polo field, about 2 miles southeast of the city near the cemetery, and the contest with Tipton will mark the first time that a game has been played there. This will be Crowell's first game under the direction of the local club's new manager, Amos W. Lilly.

S. E. Norris Married In Mexico May 18th

S. E. Norris of Crowell was married to Mrs. Gertrude Parker of Laredo, Texas, at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, on May 18. The ceremony was performed by Miguel F. Calderon, leading official of that city.

Following a wedding trip to Corpus Christi, Austin and Hamilton, where they visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Norris returned to Crowell on Tuesday of this week and are making their home at Mr. Norris' home, about two miles northeast of this city.

Mr. Norris has been engaged in farming and cotton buying here for a number of years.

Funeral Held For Luther Martin at Thalia on Tuesday

Luther Martin, 29, of the Rayland community died Monday night at a Vernon hospital following a recent operation for appendicitis. Funeral services were held from the Thalia Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon with Elder R. L. Colley, minister of the Vernon Church of Christ, officiating. Interment was in the Thalia Cemetery.

The deceased was principal of the ward school at Five-in-One the past four years. He was born in Oklahoma and moved with his family to Rayland about 15 years ago. He attended Central Oklahoma State Teachers College at Edmond, Oklahoma, and the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Martin of Rayland; four brothers, Lester of Elmore City, Okla., and Homer, Ira, and Emmit of Rayland; and four sisters, Mrs. L. C. Evans of Bomarton, Mrs. E. W. Crisp of Post, Mrs. Maurice Fite of Quanah, and Miss Josie Martin of Rayland.

Active pall bearers were J. M. Boswell, Ira V. Younger, T. T. Beazley, James Ross, Karl Guggisberg and Chas. Glyna. Honorary pall bearers were Ed Lehman, Henry Tolman, F. A. Streit, O. L. Ferrin, B. P. Abston and B. E. Roberts of the Five-in-One school board and Erceell W. Brooks of the State Department of Education, Austin.

Foard Co. Receives Check for $13,556 From Surety Co.

A check for $13,556.29 was received by the County of Foard this week from the Dallas office of the American Surety Company of New York, sureties for Que R. Miller, former sheriff and tax collector of Foard County.

On May 2 of this year an agreement was reached between the commissioners' court and the surety company on this matter. In district court here in February of last year, a trial by jury resulted in Miller's sureties being held responsible for a shortage totaling $24,912.32. At the time the American Surety Co. was held responsible for $20,815.66 of this amount and four local men for the remaining $4,106.66. On appeal by the American Surety Co., the court of Civil Appeals of Amarillo reformed the judgment to the extent of $5,222.27 in favor of the surety company. Later the company came to the county with a proposition that was finally agreed upon.

Vance Swaim, county judge, made a business trip to Dallas last week in connection with the matter.

CO. PROHIBITION MEETING HERE SUNDAY, JUNE 18

A county-wide prohibition rally will be held at the Methodist Church in Crowell on Sunday evening, June 18, at 8 o'clock as the result of a decision reached at a meeting of about 15 local prohibition leaders in the office of Vernon Pyle, county chairman, on Tuesday afternoon.

B. D. Sartin and J. H. Crouch of Wichita Falls, chairman and executive secretary respectively, of prohibition forces for the 23rd Senatorial district of Texas, which includes nine counties, were present for the meeting and discussed details of the fight that it would be necessary to wage to defeat the beer amendment on Aug. 26 and also the work that was necessary in preventing the repeal of the 18th amendment.

Mr. Pyle named I. T. Graves to look after the matter of securing a speaker for the rally here on June 18. Announcement of the program for this rally will be made in The News next week.

Discontinue R. F. C. Work after June 15

The local committee handling the R. F. C. funds for unemployment relief has received instructions to stop all work by June 15, according to information furnished The News by N. J. Roberts and L. A. Andrews, local committeemen.

With harvest in full blast, it is thought that all hands will be able to find employment.

LOCAL BANK IS READY TO PAY AUG. 1ST. C. D.'S

Notice is given in the Crowell State Bank ad in this issue that it is now ready to pay face value for all First State Bank certificates of deposit due on August 1, 1933.

When the Crowell State Bank opened for business on Dec. 29, 1931, it took over about $99,000.00 of the old First State Bank's obligations. Ten per cent of this amount was paid at the time of the opening and to the present time over two-thirds of the amount has been paid to depositors of the old bank. About $33,000.00 is all that remains unpaid and half of this is included in the certificates due on August 1. The other half is included in the certificates due on Nov. 1, 1933.

The Crowell State Bank purchased the assets and assumed the liabilities of the First State Bank, which closed here early in November, 1931. The opening on Dec. 29, 1931, of the new financial institution, capitalized at $25,000.00, came after agreements had been signed by depositors of the closed bank, calling for gradual withdrawal of their deposits. These agreements were secured from those who had $25.00 or more on deposit and all payments have been made as agreed to.

Following the nationwide bank holiday, called by the President of the U. S. on March 3 of this year, and lasting about two weeks, the local bank opened without any restrictions on deposits and continued its affairs the same as before the holiday.

Underweight Children

Need More Iron in Their Blood! Children who are thin and pale and who lack appetite are usually suffering from a deficiency of iron. When the blood lacks iron it becomes thin and poor and fails to nourish. Then a child loses appetite and becomes still thinner and weaker—and easy prey to disease. To build up your child, give him Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. It contains iron which makes for rich, red blood. It also contains tasteless quinine which tends to purify the blood. These two effects make it an exceptional medicine for young and old. A few days on Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic will work wonders in your child. It will sharpen his appetite, improve his color and build up his energy and increase his resistance to disease. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is pleasant to take. Children like it and it's absolutely safe for them. Contains nothing harmful. All stores sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic. Get a bottle today and see how your child will benefit from it.

WHERE AND HOW LOANS ARE MADE UNDER THE NEW FEDERAL EMERGENCY FARM MORTGAGE ACT

Special to The Foard County News through Autocaster Service:

In the first two days after the passage of the Federal Emergency Farm Mortgage Act, applications for relief were received from 269 farmers. Most of these applications were sent to Washington indicating that few farmers know where the Federal Land Banks for their districts are located.

There are twelve of these banks, and in connection with each of them a Loan Commissioner to operate under the new law has been appointed. These new loans are made to refinance farm indebtedness, provide working capital for farm operations and to aid in the redemption of foreclosed farms. They are not, primarily, made for the purpose of refinancing farm first mortgages. This is to be done through the Federal Land Banks working in connection with the present holders of first mortgages.

There Are Loan Limits

Loans under the new law are limited to $5,000 to any one farmer. The amount that may be loaned, added to existing mortgages or other debts secured by the farm property, cannot be more than sufficient to bring the total debt up to three-quarters of the appraised value of the property. These are second mortgage loans, repayable over a series of years, and an agreement has to be obtained from the holder of the first mortgage that he will not proceed against the farmer for failure to pay the principal of the first mortgage.

Applications for loans under the new law should go to the Federal Land Banks for the district in which the farm is located. These districts are:

- First District, Springfield, Mass.: Serves the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. Charles Windholz, Commissioner's agent.
- Second District, Baltimore, Md.: For Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia. George Stevenson, agent.
- Third District, Columbia, S. C.: For North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Henry S. Johnson, agent.
- Fourth District, Louisville, Ky.: For Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. Agent not yet appointed; address simply "Federal Land Bank, Louisville."

First Farm Loan to Illinois Farmer

The first loan under President Roosevelt's $200,000,000 Emergency Farm Loan Bill was made at the St. Louis office of the Federal Land Bank. Photo shows E. A. Purvines of Pleasant Plains, Ill., (right) receiving a $5,500 check from Commissioner E. J. Bodman, (left) as Mrs. Purvines looks on. In the rear is Wood Netherland and O. J. Lloyd, president and vice-president of the St. Louis Federal Land Bank.

- Fifth District, New Orleans, La.: For Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. William L. Pryor, agent.
- Sixth District, St. Louis, Mo.: For Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas. Ernest J. Bodman, agent.
- Seventh District, St. Paul, Minn.: For Michigan, Wisconsin, North Dakota and Minnesota. Jerry P. Riordan, agent.
- Eighth District, Omaha, Neb.: For Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming. Bert Waddell, agent.
- Ninth District, Wichita, Kansas: For Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. Graves Shull, agent.
- Tenth District, Houston, Tex.: For the state of Texas alone. A. P. Graves, agent.
- Eleventh District, Berkeley, Calif.: For California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona. William H. Wolf, agent.
- Twelfth District, Spokane, Wash.: For Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. L. A. Scollard, agent.

How To Get Loan

Farmers desiring to borrow under the new law should write for information to the agent for their district. Address "Loan Commissioner's Agent, Federal Land Bank" and the name of the city in which district headquarters are located.

Wells to Describe Montana and Glacier National Park Wed.

Carveth Wells, explorer and Continental Oil Company radio entertainer who says he saw fish climb trees in Malay and shivered in a snowstorm on the African equator, is scheduled to tell some tall but true stories about Montana and Glacier National Park, Wednesday night, June 14, over 20 N. B. C. stations.

Montana, according to Wells, would still be a great mountain playground if Glacier Park had never existed. But that doesn't mean that Glacier isn't a real phenomenon, he says. The Glacier Park lakes, for example, are the most beautiful in the world, and the streams that feed them appear milky.

The Conoco program may be heard by local listeners who tune in on station WFAA, WOAI or KOA Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Plans are Completed For Green Belt Golf Tourney June 12-16

Billy Holmes' title as champion of the Green Belt Golf Association will be at stake as the ace shots of nine or more Panhandle cities when Childrens becomes the center of attraction in Panhandle golf circles June 12-16. The 20-years-old Shamrock shot maker copped first honors at Electra a year ago and added further laurels to his record by winning the Caprock tourney in Childress last fall.

Other prominent golf figures of the Green Belt who are expected to tee-off in the qualifying rounds June 12 are Reginald Greenhaw, and Frank Foxall, both of Memphis; Roy Farrell of Vernon; Ira Merchant of Clarendon; C. P. Sanders of Childress. To this list of the Panhandle's golfing illustrious will be added other names as the final date nears.

Greens, tees, and fairways of the Childrens Country Club eighteen and also hazards have undergone a program of extensive improvement which has set the course into its best condition. Bunkers and pits and a water hazard have been built this spring to make the course the most difficult in this area. Clarendon players who traversed the course in a dual meet last Sunday praised the course as the best in the belt.

Clubs which have indicated their intentions of entering the tournament include: Frederick, Okla.; Vernon, Paducah, Quanna, Memphis, Shamrock, Clarendon, Crowell, and Childress. Promoters of the event predict that 125 players will be registered.

One of the features of the occasion will be a division for men of more advanced years, the senior flight. Candidates for that and for flights other than the first will be permitted to qualify on Sunday, June 11.

From Margaret items—The show on Saturday night was first class but the attendance was small. There was church service, one dance and one kissing bee, and each drew a part of the citizens.

From Foard City items—There was a poverty party given at the LeFevre home Monday night. Everyone was dressed suitable for the occasion. The hostess was too timid to entertain the large crowd, so they entertained themselves by playing yard games. Orval Weatherall won the prize for "swatting the Kaiser." Miss Lelah Jones and Dick Crossnoe were the worthy prize winners for being the most poverty stricken couple.

You HAVE BEEN INVITED TO DINNER ... 300 MILES AWAY

Relax!

... you can make it easily. This trip is going to be a real joy. Every bit of scenery, each moment of the day is to be yours. No bumps, no ruts, no chug-holes, no danger signs, and no detours to mar your pleasure; just smooth, effortless driving. The Texas Highway over which you are to travel is paved with Concrete ... a part of the Travelax Route.

Relax as you drive along. No need to grip the wheel like a vise. Hold it easily, just firmly enough to guide your speeding car over the non-resisting, perfectly smooth Concrete. Let yourself fully enjoy Travelax-ation (that freedom from driving strain, that feeling of comfort, safety, security, and relaxation which comes to motorists when they drive on Concrete Highways.) You will reach your destination feeling fresh...free from the after effects of driving strain.

You will enjoy Travelax-ation when you drive on CONCRETE highways.

Texas has more than 3,000 miles of Concrete Highways. These Concrete (Travelax Route) Highways afford Texas motorists and tourists their opportunities for Travelax-ation. They provide the most economical motoring routes; open during all seasons of the year. Always smooth and inviting to you and your car.

When you are planning to make a trip, be sure to find out if you can reach your destination on Concrete. In addition to smooth, easy riding, the cost of your trip can be much less on Concrete. There will be less wear and tear on your car, and you will use less gasoline and oil.

The next trip you make that is partly on Concrete, and partly on other types of highway surfaces, check these things and see how they are true. Know the facts and you will insist on Concrete Highways.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide:

"Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local government affairs, it hereby is ordained:

"(2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favoring vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county, having a population less than that above specified, to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a favoring vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately kept but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately kept and separately counted, and unless there be a favoring majority of the votes cast within and a favoring majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial, tax, fiscal, educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State, and no provision having such vice shall have validity as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto.

"(3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: the continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event, in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers, and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, reorganization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of and the compensation for all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide that Judges of County Courts (including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Judges thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such Charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any Court. The duties of District Attorney and County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the Constitutions or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, make the same elective or appointive and prescribe the time, qualifications and conditions for tenure in any such office; save, that no such Charter other than as hereinafter authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensations of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filed by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms hereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit or total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4). Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by those resident qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In cases of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially, fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5). Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for services, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6) a. Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of the people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and not two-thirds of the qualified votes cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger it shall not be affected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions, and limitations which prior to the merger were imposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularly, it is provided that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedures, and within such limits, as now are or hereafter may be provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In case of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected hereby shall cease to control, and the county Charter provisions shall control.

"c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, (or Amendment thereof) for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any additional purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or a town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7). No provision of this Constitution in consonance with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation, and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favoring majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and, no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purposes hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

"Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following: "For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people thereon."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people thereon."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on such ballot, leaving unscratched that particular clause which expresses his vote on the proposed Amendment to which it relates.

S. J. R. No. 30

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto another section, Section 51a, which shall read as follows:

"Section 51a. The Legislature shall have power to authorize by law the issuance and sale of the bonds of the State of Texas, not to exceed the sum of Twenty Million ($20,000,000.00) Dollars, bearing interest at a rate not to exceed Four and one-half (4 1/2) per centum per annum, and payable serially or otherwise not more than Ten (10) years from their date, and said bonds shall be sold for not less than par and accrued interest and no form of commission shall be allowed in any transaction involving said bonds. The proceeds of the sale of such bonds to be used in furnishing relief and work relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardships resulting from unemployment, but to be fairly distributed over the State and upon such terms and conditions as may be provided by law and the Legislature shall make such appropriations as are necessary to pay the interest and principal of such bonds as the same becomes due. The power hereby granted to the Legislature to issue bonds hereunder is expressly limited to the amount stated and to two years from and after the adoption of this grant of power by the people. Provided that the Legislature shall provide for the payment of the interest and redemption of any bonds issued under the terms hereof from some source other than a tax on real property other than indebtedness as evidenced by the terms hereof shall never become a charge against or lien upon any property, real or personal, within the State.

"Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State on the Twenty-sixth day of August, A. NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

H. J. R. No. 43

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Subsection (a) of Section 20, of Article XVI, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows: "(a): The manufacture, sale, barter or exchange in the State of Texas of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever except vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight, (except for medicinal, mechanical or sacramental purposes) are each and all hereby prohibited. The Legislature shall enact laws to enforce this Section, and may fix time to time prescribe regulations and limitations relative to the manufacture, sale, barter, exchange, possession for sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight; providing, however, the Legislature shall enact a law whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct, city or city may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale for beverage purpose of vinous or malt liquors containing not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcohol by weight shall be prohibited within the prescribed limits; and providing further that in all counties in the State of Texas and in all political subdivisions thereof, wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option election held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article 16, of the Constitution of Texas, shall continue to be unlawful manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county or in any spirituous, vinous or malt liquor or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicant whatsoever, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in said county or political subdivision held for such purpose shall determine it to be lawful to manufacture, sell, barter and exchange in said county or political subdivision of vinous or malt liquors containing not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight, and the provision of the subsection shall be self-enacting."

"Section 2. The foregoing Amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of the fourth Saturday in August, 1933. Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich. May 29, 1933 WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars. The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving. Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results. Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture. Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable. Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon. Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense—initial cost, operation, maintenance. Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance. Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience. Henry Ford

THE STOREKEEPERS

Those of us who are past middle age can remember when the kindly neighbor whose job it was to sell us the necessities of life was known as a storekeeper.

Later on, his son inherited the business, if it had not gone to the wall, adopted a slightly more aggressive attitude toward the securing of trade, and called himself a merchant.

Later still, the department store and mail order house came into existence, recently followed by the chain stores, which now seem to menace the small merchant, and even threaten to drive him out of business.

In spite of these revolutionary developments, however, thousands of independent merchants are making money today. They are doing it through adopting scientific methods of buying and selling, through the employment of systematic accounting, through a study of their customers' requirements, and through advertising.

But a great many scorn such new-fangled ideas, and stay in the rut in which their forefathers ran their course. They are headed for bankruptcy and don't know why. But to anyone with a fundamental knowledge of modern business practices the reason is plain. These failures are not business men, nor even merchants—they are only storekeepers.—Exchange.

Information Received From Ass't. Attorney Gen'l. on Homesteads

Through R. D. Oswalt, county attorney, Vernon Pyle, tax assessor of Foard County, recently made inquiry to the attorney general of Texas in regard to the homestead situation in Texas.

The following letter was received this week from Edward Clark, assistant attorney general:

R. D. Oswalt, Co. Attorney, Crowell, Texas.

Dear Sir:—Your letter of the twenty-seventh ultimo, addressed to Honorable James V. Alford, Attorney General, has been received, which reads as follows:

"Under the constitutional amendment exempting homesteads up to three thousand dollars, State ad valorem.

"Can a taxpayer claim homestead exemption without actually residing on the premises claimed as exempt?"

"Where a taxpayer owns a block of land in an incorporated town and has three houses on same, and occupies one of the himself, the others are occupied by tenants, when occupied, and the value of such property does not exceed three thousand dollars.

"Can the owner of such property claim his exemptions, all of said property, where he is entitled to exemption?"

"Where one owns city property and farm property, and resides on the city property, may such owner claim his exemption as the farm?"

"Can the surviving spouse without dependents claim exemption?"

"Where one owns small tract of land in one county, and a larger tract in another county, and resides on the small tract, may such owner claim an exempt the land in the other county?"

Without a detailed statement of facts I am unable to answer your first question. However, as you know, the constitutional amendment only exempts "resident homesteads."

Therefore, one could not claim such homestead exemption unless in truth and in fact such property was a resident homestead. Under the law, one might be temporarily absent from his homestead, or he may have temporarily moved to some other place and not with the intention to abandon his homestead and, not having acquired any other homestead, still be entitled to the exemption.

If the property is a resident homestead, as contemplated by law, the owner of same would be entitled to the exemption irrespective of whether or not he actually resides on the premises.

In reply to your second question, please be advised that it is my opinion that the person who owns a block of land in an incorporated town would only be entitled to exemption on the lot on which he resides, and he must pay the State ad valorem tax on the lot or lots which are occupied by tenants, as he clearly would not be entitled to any exemption on same by virtue of our constitutional amendment exempting homesteads from State ad valorem taxes.

In reply to your third question, please be advised that it is my opinion that a person could only claim exemption on the city property where he resides and would be entitled to no exemption on farm property which is not a part of his resident homestead.

In reply to your fourth question, please be advised that if the homestead was acquired during the marital relationship, then the homestead exemption continues in the surviving spouse and she would be entitled to exemption from the payment of State

On Foard Farms

By FRED RENNELS, County Agent

Sheep

Last January Raymond Whatley of the Vivian community purchased twenty-two head of Ramboulet ewes at $2.50 per head. Up to date he has twenty-five head of lambs from his flock after losing seven head during lambing season. His wool from the twenty-two head brought him about $1.00 each net. He recently weighed one of his lambs which is about four months old and he tipped the scales at eighty pounds. It was necessary for Mr. Whatley to expend about $50.00 for fencing. He has found that an ordinary six wire fence will hold his sheep fairly well. Mr. Whatley stated that it had always been his opinion that sheep would ruin grass for other livestock, but has found that they are keeping the weeds down and that his grass is just as good as it has ever been. He is planning to increase the number of his flock as well as the quality. He purchased a registered Ramboulet buck recently. Mr. Whatley thinks that there are many farms in the county that could profitably keep a small flock of sheep without reducing the other livestock on the farm.

Allen Fish's Sheep

Observing that early lambs usually bring the top price on the market, Allen Fish managed his flock so that his crop of lambs would be ready for market about Easter.

He constructed a self-feeder from plans furnished by the Extension Service of A. & M. College. Milo maize, oats and sorghum roughage were fed to his sheep from the time that they were large enough to eat. The feeder was placed inside lot and the lambs had access to it through a creep. When Mr. Fish marketed his lambs they averaged around 75 pounds. He received top market price for his entire crop of lambs. The entire fish farm is fenced sheep proof. He uses them to clean up his grain fields after harvest and finds that they are able to turn otherwise wasted grain into a profit.

Killing Rats

Almost every day some one inquires how to kill rats. There seems to be an unusually heavy infestation over the entire country, and best results could be obtained if some co-operative action could be followed in each community.

It is said that the common brown rat breeds from six to ten times a year and produces an average of ten young at a litter. Young females breed when they are four months old. At this rate a pair of rats, in three years, 18 generations, would be increased to 359,709,482 individuals, provided none of them died during the time.

There are many ways of exterminating rats, but perhaps the quickest way is by the use of special poisons. This poison can be secured from the local drug stores and it is claimed to be non-poisonous to any other animals.

Ground fresh meat is one of the best rat baits. The poison is thoroughly mixed with the meat, then rolled into small balls the size of a marble and placed in the runs and around where the rats feed. Ham-burger meat makes a good bait. A pound is supposed to make 100 to 150 baits, depending on the size of each bait.

BRUCE BARTON

Writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

WEAKNESS OF GENERALITIES

"When you are going about your business, be as kind as you can. Be thoughtful of the other travelers on the highways of life. Take time to look for those who have fared less fortunately; lend them a helping hand whenever you can."

Bruce Barton

I say Jesus might have uttered such generalities. But if He had, do you suppose that they would ever have been remembered? Would the disciples have recorded them? Would our age ever have heard His name. He was far wiser in the laws and habits of the human mind. Instead of the commonplace phrases written above, He painted this striking picture:

A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves.

There's your illustration and your headline. If you had lived near Jerusalem or Jericho; if you often had occasion to use that very road, wouldn't you want to know what happened to that unfortunate traveler?

"They stripped off his raiment," the parable continues, "and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead." Pretty soon a priest came by and seeing the victim said to himself: "That's a shameful thing, the police ought to do something about these outrages." But he crossed over carefully and passed by on the other side. A certain respectable Levite also appeared. "His own fault," he sniffed, "ought to be more careful." And he too passed by. Then a third traveler drew near, and stopped—and the whole world knows what happened. Generalities would have been soon forgotten. But the story that had its roots in everyday human experience and need, lives and will live forever. It condenses the philosophy of Christianity into a half dozen unforgettable paragraphs. The parable of the Good Samaritan is the greatest advertisement of all time.

Take any one of the parables, no matter which—you will find that it exemplifies all the principles on which advertising text books are written. Always a picture in the very first sentence; crisp, graphic language and a message so clear that even the dullest can not escape it.

What Happened To The One Lost Sheep

What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth his friends and neighbors, saying unto them, "Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep which was lost."

I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons which need no repentance. . . .

Crowell Team Wins Baseball Game Over Burkburnett Nine

The Crowell baseball club won over the Burkburnett all stars at Burkburnett Sunday by the score of 9 to 7. William Bell for Crowell and Zink for Burk started on the mound but neither could hold the foe and both had to be relieved, and Rasberry and Alexander took the hill for their respective clubs and pitched good ball the remainder of the game. The fielding of Roberts for Crowell and the hitting of Jenkins was the feature of the game.

The box score:

Table with columns for CROWELL and BURK, and rows for individual players with statistics for AB, R, H, PO, A, E.

ROTARY CLUB VOTES TO SPONSOR ORGANIZATION FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Talks on Hi Y work by Jim Boswell of Plainview and I. T. Graves and advice from Eli Smith to the club's latest addition to matrimony circles, Merl Kincaid, featured the program at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday.

The purpose of Hi Y organization (high school Y. M. C. A. bodies) and their method of operation were discussed by Jim Boswell, former a district official in this work who a student in Plainview High School. Supt. Graves expressed a desire to see this work started in Crowell High School. The club voted to sponsor an organization of this kind when school begins next fall at George Self, vice-president, who presided at the luncheon in the absence of the president, H. E. Ferguson, named Fred Rennels, H. E. Edwards and Mr. Graves as members of a committee to look after this matter.

Following Mr. Smith's humorous address to Mr. Kincaid, he presented the newlywed with an end table on behalf of the club members.

Christian Science Churches

"God the preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, June 11.
The Golden Text is from Psalms 37: "For the Lord loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever."
Included with other passages to be read from the Bible will be the following from Psalms 121: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; he that keepeth thee will not slumber. Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. The Lord is thy keeper; the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand. The sun will not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord shall preserve thy going out, and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following from the citations to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 487): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."
"This faith relies upon an understood Principle. This Principle makes whole the diseased, and brings out the enduring and harmonious phases of things."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Jesus on the Cross

Lesson for June 11th Mark 15:1-47

Golden Text: Romans 5:8

We have arrived at a supreme moment in the dramatic story of Jesus. He is now on the Cross, soon to die after unspeakable anguish. It is the blackest day in history, the day of mankind's most atrocious crime.

But such is the paradox of the crucifixion that we call the day of the Master's death not Bad Friday but Good Friday, and think of Him, in His agony, not as a miserable failure, but as a King on His throne.

We are aware of Rev. Chas. E. Dunn the magnetism of the Cross, so well expressed in that great text in the fourth gospel, "And I—if I am lifted up from the earth—will draw all men to me." The novelist Thackeray felt its attraction, for we are told that one day, as he was walking in Edinburgh, he saw the wooden crane of a quarry sharply etched against the sky. He stopped, gazed earnestly, and quietly said, "Calvary!"

Note, too, the spiritual power centered in the Cross, the power of a victorious Redeemer whom, as Paul says, "God hath highly exalted." The shame of the Cross is a badge of glory! For wrong does not win! No, indeed! Right wins, for God's Spirit is there, and that Spirit is indomitable!

Again, the Cross is the Way of Life. The early Christians eagerly kept the Cross in sight, and were known as the companions of the Way. We Christians of today are also comrades of the Way.

Now what do we mean by the Way of the Cross—Two things. First, we mean the abandonment of those forces of evil responsible for the execution of Jesus, and all similar crimes. Second, we mean a dedicated life of complete sacrifice and devotion. And both of these are bound up with the crucifixion. How are we to get rid of sin? By the saving power of the Cross. "Christ died for our sins," as Paul assures us. And how are we to launch ourselves into the selfless ministry of the Christian adventure? We are to do so by following the path of the Via Dolorosa even unto Calvary.

SERMONETTE

THE DAREDEVILS

By Arthur B. Rhinow

I saw a cartoon recently, showing a little boy shooting putty bullets at a chained elephant. The picture was entitled "The Daredevil." The elephant seemed to be amused. Of course he was, if his intelligence was at all able to grasp the situation. What harm could a pellet of putty do to his tough hide, no matter how hard the little fellow might blow through his toy tube. His amusement probably helped him to forget the chain on his foot, at least for the moment. The elephant looked so big and the boy so little.

The picture reminded me of little men and women who delight in criticizing and ridiculing the truly great, especially when they catch them at a disadvantage. What daredevils they think they are. Tow they are flushed with pride when they can throw a handful of mud at the man who probably carries their burden on his great heart. And if he appears to be friendly and without following, then mockery is on display.

Is the great man hurt by those pesky darts? Indeed, he is. Few things in life are harder to bear than to be hurt by those you love, for whom you work and suffer. But the great heart usually rises above the hurt, and then the pain is often tempered by amusement. How funny these little men and their little cavilings are after all.

Let mental dwarfs accuse spirit-filled men of being full of new wine. Let the rabble say the prophet is out of his mind; let the shallow-proud laugh at the church; let carry on, nevertheless, with the conviction that honesty of soul is invincible.

WHEAT PRICE

Our exact words made in June, 1932: "Use your own opinion, we might be wrong, however, we firmly believe wheat stored under 35 cents will bring 50 within the year and with winter wheat crop almost half, perhaps more."

And here is our prediction for 1933-34: "Should spot wheat go down in the forties, we believe it a safer hold than last year. Don't let the markets take your wheat away from you because there will be a scramble for wheat later. With crops much less than half in the Southwest, we firmly believe that wheat will sell for 75c within the year."

OUR POLICY

To give the best of service at all times.
To secure the highest market price for your wheat every day.

Correct weights and test, quick unloading, quick settlements, and errors gladly corrected.

AWAKENED WOMAN

by ELINORE BARRY

Thirteenth Installment

Joyce Ashton, poor stepph, suffered loss of memory in a skidding taxicab accident in the city. One morning two years ago she woke, after a fall from her bed, to find her memory restored, to find her husband, the wife of Neil Frills, a rich California fruit packer, determined to tell nobody of her predicament but set about learning what she could of her life in the past. From the conversation of friends and letters in her desk she gathered that she had been a pleasure-loving young girl. One letter that troubled her was from a woman signing herself "Bliss," blaming Frills for not giving her a baby Sophie was carried off. Could it be her baby, Frills asked? She also found herself involved in an affair with a man named Maitland. In San Francisco, she went while her husband was away on business, she met a poet named Ainsworth, a poet whose name she had always admired. When she returned home, she decided to be a pianist to Neil than Frills. But this line was dangerous, too, for Neil was pathetically devoted to his wife's love.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

in the hills Joyce had found a group of pines on the edge of a young redwood grove. When she came down on her back in the warm sun and looked up through the leaves at the blue sky, she felt as if she were floating in space.

She lay thinking of Neil, and with the thrill of satisfaction she decided that she showed no evidence of being the old Frills.

She had now met practically every one who moved in their circle in the city and had found out enough of their history and circumstances so she could get by safely in most of the month was not yet up but she summarized her impressions of the knowledge she had gathered, that she had given her environment a fair study and was entitled to draw her conclusions and plan her future course without further research.

As to Neil, she had made a list of enlightening and cheering stories concerning him. He was a golfer but did not care for it; he liked liquor but never drank to excess, and disliked risqué more than most of his acquaintances guessed. He believed in his own part in the life of the community but he would have been glad to stay at home four evenings of a week to enjoy the quiet pleasures of private life.

Her return from San Francisco had once more been forced to the problem of her relations with Maitland. He had telephoned her several times the first day she was out, and on the second day, just as she was ready for a ride on Rosita, he had appeared and caught her. . . . Joyce let her thoughts dwell dreamily for a moment on Maitland and instinctively found herself comparing him with the scorn to two men—Robert Ainsworth's standard, Maitland had no chance at all—it was not unfair even to compare them.

Maitland had once or twice attempted to reopen the subject of love, but Joyce had continued to treat him with such unmistakable coldness that he was baffled and let her alone.

Her thoughts she now came with a quickening of her pulse, the problem of her relations with Maitland had gone out together every evening and cooked a supper right up on a hillside overlooking the valley. They lingered until it was dark, watching the creep out into their places, hugging her knees, sat and stretched out close to her, smoking pipe and playing gently with her ears.

Suddenly Neil had rolled over to Joyce, and, putting his arms around her waist, laid his head on her lap. Joyce leaned back resting her weight on her hands behind her. She did not touch him. She had lately led every slightest demonstration of affection toward him, for had come to the disconcerting conclusion more than once that Neil finding it harder and harder to his feelings in check.

He could not help realizing that he was both unwise and unkind for to slip her hand in his to smooth her hair, to lean against him when she sat together, to do any one of dozens of little caressing things she found herself, in her likable pity for him, involuntarily quite innocently inclined to do.

The slightest motion of this sort a flame of hope leaping into her eyes.

How long could this go on? It became more and more difficult for them both. Joyce trembled to recall the tenseness with which Neil had finally released his hand on her the previous evening.

She had been curious to see what the one woman Neil seemed to like, and the meeting with her came two days after her conversation with Ethel about the dinner at Rhoda Maitland. It was near eight o'clock and Joyce, dressed in her evening clothes, was waiting for Neil to come home and take a ride with her before dinner.

She had just left the mirror in the living-room when she heard a motor and looking out saw a small, shiny black roadster drive up to the door.

The girl who got out was dressed in white linen with a white felt sport hat and white buckskin oxfords. She was certainly rather pretty, with her big blue eyes and small neat features. . . . Joyce wondered who she was and nervously herself to the ordeal of meeting another stranger who was not a stranger.

"Sorry to bother you, Frills, but I'm out on business this afternoon," began the girl, smiling in a half-apologetic, half-defiant fashion, "and your name is on the list I had given me to call on. We want to raise a lot more money this year for the Orphans' Vacation Camp up in the Sierras and so the committee is planning a big fair and entertainment. We want to find out what you'll do for it. Will you enter the horse show and take on one of the acts in the evening?"

Joyce listened to this appeal with mixed emotions.

"Of course, I'm . . . I'm interested in it," began Joyce slowly, feeling her way and smiling pleasantly as she spoke, "but I'm not riding any more in shows and I'd rather not take part in any entertainments, but I'm . . . I'd like to help in any other way?"

Her acquiescence was received with grateful effusive thanks. The girl then rose, hesitated for a moment and said, with a little wistful air which Joyce felt instinctively was not wholly genuine, "I wish we might be friends. I do so like to be friends with every one. If there's anything I can do . . . I'm so sorry."

Who was this girl anyhow? wondered Joyce, slightly exasperated by her meek manner. There had evidently been some unpleasantness between Frills and her. But before she had to speak she was saved by the arrival of Neil.

"Well, look who's here! Hello, Joyce, how are you?" he exclaimed, shaking hands cordially with her. Joyce Abbott, of course.

"Well, why not sit down? What's your hurry?" went on Neil in his heartiest manner. "What do you know? How's the new car working?"

"Oh, it's just fine—but I must run along now. I just came to ask Frills if she'd help on the affair for the Orphans' Vacation Camp. Good-bye and thanks ever so much."

"Good-bye," said Joyce. She spoke shortly, more because she could not think of anything to say than because she wished to be disagreeable. Neil accompanied the caller out to her roadster. Joyce, watching surreptitiously, was again amused to see the interest with which Neil listened and the appealing little glances Joyce Abbott threw at him from her expressive blue eyes.

"I've got her number," thought Joyce, "she's the ultrafeminine sort who clings and makes the men feel big and strong and masculine."

Thinking over the past month, Joyce was conscious of a baffled feeling of dissatisfaction when it came to her knowledge of Frills' own past.

In another direction also Joyce felt herself checked. She was no nearer accomplishing her purpose of getting back her baby than she had been when she received the first letter from Sophie. A second letter had arrived that morning—exasperatingly vague, very short and again minus an address. Joyce tormented herself trying to solve the problem, but her determination did not weaken.

Her thoughts swung round again to Neil. What was she going to do? To continue indefinitely living in the same house with him as they had been doing was impossible. She had not known what she was undertaking when she made that decision.

"I suppose I should have gone away in the first place," she thought discouragedly; "I can't realize inside of me that I'm married to Neil Packard and I keep having all wrong about living with a man so intimately and yet not really intimately. I'll never lose that feeling of uncomfortable shyness and strangeness. I know, until . . . unless, oh, dear!"

There might be among them a few congenial spirits but she did not feel any too hopeful. Yet after all, what did it matter? She reproved herself sharply for allowing the standards of Robert Ainsworth to influence her. He was nothing to her, she told herself.

As she sat there motionless, she was startled to see a man appear. With a little gasp of amazement Joyce recognized Robert Ainsworth.

"Do you remember me?" asked Joyce.

"Oh, Lord, how like a woman! Of course I remember you, worse luck!" he added with such profound gloom that Joyce giggled. "You're my public, you know!" He looked at her quickly and broke into a smile.

"Here—please let me take your horse and turn her out into the corral."

make good coffee."

He was back in a surprisingly short time and said, "I never eat anything except bread and butter and fruit and coffee for lunch but I have plenty of truck in the shack and I can make anything you like. Orders taken until two-thirty."

"Oh, please don't think of getting anything for me except coffee," protested Joyce quickly. "I have my sandwiches which I really must eat or Roxie's feelings would be hurt."

"Well, the coffee will be done in a few minutes. Sit down or stand up or do whatever you feel like doing. Just let me present you with the keys to the city."

He put the coffee pot on as he spoke and Joyce asked, "Do the keys of the city include permission to ask questions?"

"On all free admission days, yes. Except, of course, when Claude Alfred is around. He's just a little bit queer that way. Ever since he threw the mother of five children into the brook because she asked him whether he thought a man's necktie should match his socks, I've had to warn casual visitors not to ask him questions."

"Well, I'm glad he isn't around because I want to ask—"

"Oh, I know. You want to ask how I happen to be here. You want to say how extraordinary it is that we should meet here, after meeting in San Francisco. You want to get personal. You're perfectly charming, Joyce Ashton, and I'm terrified of you. If I seem to be talking a lot and at random you've only yourself to blame. My well-known poise is shattered—"

He broke off abruptly, and Joyce dropped limply into a chair. Nothing could have surprised her more than to hear Robert Ainsworth talking to her in this manner.

"Well, go ahead and tighten the clamps," he continued. "You've heaped coals of fire on my head by your sunny acceptance of everything—haul me over them!" He smiled but Joyce knew he was in deadly earnest.

"Sentence suspended!" she gravely retorted. Their eyes met with mutual approval for a moment, and then Joyce lightly turned the conversation to the world of books.

Suggestions Offered To Prevent Diarrhea

Austin, Texas, June 8—The season of the year when the most complaints are received on account of diarrhea and dysentery or "Summer Complaint" is here and the Texas State Department of Health has issued a warning to parents in regard to this, and offers the following suggestions to prevent its occurrence. The chief causes of diarrhea include impure milk, water, contaminated foods, overheating, fever from any cause, too much sugar or cream in the diet, overfeeding and underfeeding.

Mother's milk is the safest food. However, if other milk must be used, the supply should be clean and pure. The water should be clean, pure and boiled. Any other articles of food should be fresh and clean and no unsuitable articles of food such as cake and candy should be given.

If a feeding formula is used, it should be one prescribed by a physician and it must be prepared with extreme attention to cleanliness and kept cold until used. The baby should be fed at regular intervals and should not be forced to eat when he is not hungry. The baby should be kept cool and comfortable in hot weather, should not be overclothed and should be given plenty of clean water to drink. Any infections which develop in the nose, throat, ears or other organs should receive prompt attention from a physician.

If diarrhea develops, feeding should be stopped or greatly diminished and an abundance of water should be given. Cathartics should not be given except on the advice of a physician. If the diarrhea does not improve within a short time, a physician should be called and a complete examination should be made.

The three F's, flies, fingers, and food are the three sources of danger to the baby. Flies carry disease germs to the baby and to its food. Fingers and hands that are not thoroughly washed before preparing the baby's food are likely to be germ carriers also. All milk and water that is intended for the baby should be boiled for five minutes, then carefully covered and kept in a cool place until used.

Abilene Youngster Is Crowned Champion of West Tex. Golf Ass'n.

R. D. Oswald Sr. won the championship of the third flight consolation at the annual tournament of the West Texas Golf Association that was held in Wichita Falls last weekend. In honor of his victory he was given a sterling silver cake plate. He beat L. H. Creager of Mineral Wells one up in the final match.

Four Crowell golfers participated in the tournament, which was the largest that has been held in Texas in several years. A total of 159 linksmen qualified. T. P. Duncan Jr. qualified for the championship flight with a 78, one of the lowest qualifying scores of the tournament. Stayton Bonner of Wichita Falls was medalist with a par 72.

Oswald and T. S. Haney qualified for the third flight and Grady Magee for the fourth. There were five flights in the tourney. Duncan lost his first match to Guy Underwood of Wichita Falls. An extra hole was necessary to determine the winner, Underwood winning by one stroke. Haney dropped out of the meet after qualifying. Magee and Oswald lost their first matches also.

Carnes Wilson of Abilene defeated the defending champion, James Phillips, of Ranger in the final of the championship flight. The new champion is only 18 years of age.

FOARD CO. CLUB GIRL TELLS OF BEDROOM WORK

Muzette Hendrix, 4-H Club girl of Foard City who was announced last week as winner in the county bedroom improvement contest for girls, has written the following account of her work in this line:

When our demonstration agent asked me to be the bedroom demonstrator for our club I thought she had asked me to do something that was very near impossible. I thought that during these hard times I could never manage to make the necessary improvements without spending more money than I felt that I could spare.

After thinking a great deal over it, I finally decided that I would figure on the cost of the things I would have to buy, and if it were at all possible, I would certainly improve my room for it surely needed it as bad as a room could.

One day while I was at school mother went to town to see what paint enough to refinish the floor and the odd work of my room would cost. Imagine how delighted I was, when our landlord said he would furnish what paint we needed, as getting the paint was the greatest problem and now that was solved I set to work in real earnest.

Before Improvements Made

First, I shall describe my room as it looked before any improvements were made. It is fourteen feet square and used to have a partition dividing it into two rooms. We had previously torn out the partition leaving the ceiling half gray and half dark brown and the whole thing so dark and smoked that you could scarcely tell whether it had ever been painted or not. The walls had been covered with two or three coats of paper, which was so ragged and dirty that you never could have guessed what color it used to be. The canvas was so rotten that it had fallen away from the walls in several places.

Every available space was driven full of nails and first one thing and then another hanging on them. There were no pictures, for I didn't want to hang a picture on such a wall as that. The doors and window facings were a dark ugly brown, in fact everything was so dark and cheerless that I didn't like to stay in there any more than I could help.

My floor was unfinished except a nine by twelve linoleum square which was worn badly around the edges.

The furniture consisted of a scarrred iron bedstead, oak dresser, and an old trunk that had seen its best days long ago. The only redeeming feature which my bedroom had was a fairly good sized clothes closet that we built in one corner when we removed the old partition and it needed a better door than the one it had.

In telling the story of my improvements I shall use the pronoun "we" instead of "I" for if it hadn't been for mother, the rest of the family, and Miss Hale to suggest and encourage I never could have done it.

Sand Removed

The first thing we did was to clean out the sand which had accumulated in the left. Then we tore off all the old wall paper, patched, and retacked the canvas. One side of the wall was so rough there was no use to hang paper over it, we covered it first with cardboard boxes which we obtained at the store for the asking. This made a nice smooth wall over which the paper was easily hung. We selected a paper of very light tan with mingled designs of gray, light blue, green and yellow.

We gave the ceiling and wood work a good scrubbing with soap and water, then gave them two coats of cream colored paint.

After removing the linoleum and thoroughly cleaning the floor, we gave it a coat of ground color paint and two coats of brown floor paint.

Now we are ready for the furniture. By scalding the bedstead in strong lye water, then lots of hard scraping, we succeeded in removing the old varnish. We enameled it a dark cream color. Mother needed the dresser in another room, and we wanted to try our luck on making a dressing table anyway. This we made of old scrap boards that were scattered about the place. It has a long drawer in the top and two shelves underneath with a green print curtain all around. The top of my dressing table was too rough to paint, and we just tacked white oil cloth to match the mirror frame. We made a bench for the table from an old screen door frame, padded the top with cotton, and made a slip on cover for it to match the curtain around the dressing table.

Make Writing Desk

I wanted a writing desk, but what could we make it of? We searched the whole place over and couldn't find a thing except an old sewing machine. I had no idea that we could make anything to answer for a writing desk, but we set to work. As we worked out one idea another would come to us. The result was that when we finished, I had a nice little desk. It has a drawer made from a cheese box which is large enough to hold my stationery and any papers I might want to keep. We had a little table made of a top of an old phonograph, with broom handles for legs, which I used for my bed-side table. I planned to paint this, my desk, my bench for the dressing table, and my chair with paint from the ceiling, but there wasn't quite enough. My mixing what there was with a little brown left from the floor, we made a light tan paint which is prettier, I think than the cream would have been. We repaired an old straight chair and rebottomed it with "tow-sacks," painted it tan, and put a cushion covered with green print in it.

Next we moved a lot of useless junk out of the clothes closet, tore out a high shelf, and made a lower one to place the top of the papering of my room so I papered the closet with pieces of wall paper left from papering other rooms and newspapers, which makes it cleaner if it doesn't look as well. We had green print enough to make a shoe bag which we tacked on the door. Another shoe bag made of a piece of old cotton sack dyed green hung underneath the shelves.

Curtains from Sacks

The opening between my room and the dining room has no door, and we made a curtain of old cotton sacks, dyed green, when they were hung they looked better than one might think. A bucket for a waste paper basket and two bottles for vases were enameled green. Two bricks were painted brown for door stops.

My window drapes are made of a dark cream scrim. It was decided to leave off shades to admit more light. The bedspread is of natural color osenburger. The bed pillow is made of a piece of cotton voile. A small braided rug made of gunny sacks dyed green, and the natural color is on the floor by my bed.

A large picture, which I received at the dress contest is hung over the small table at my bed side. Two small pictures are hung on each side of the mirror over the dressing table, and one sets on the book shelf which is on top of the writing desk. I forgot to mention my book shelf above. It is made of goods boxes painted cream. The furniture of my entire room, except the bed, is home made, and since everything has been improved it is very much easier to keep and looks so much better that I enjoy working in it now.

The cost of improving my room was $7.85 and I consider it is well worth that amount.
