NEW RIGHT-OF-WAY ON HIGHWAY 16 OPEN

DISTANCE CUT FROM CITY TO PEASE RIVER

Wednesday of this week marked the official opening of the new right-of-way on Texas Highway No. 16 from Crowell to Pease River. The McClellan Construction Co. of Wichita Falls having completed work on the grade and drainage structures the previous day.

The distance to the Pease River bridge, which connects Foard and Harbeman counties, is 7.47 miles over the new right-of-way, or approximately one mile shorter than the old route.

The new right-of-way proceeds straight north from the main street of Crowell and follows a direct route to the Pease River bridge. The maximum curve now is only two degrees, while on the old highway there were about six square turns.

The largest bridge is over Raggedy Creek, four miles north of Crowell, and was built at a cost to the State Highway Department of about $9,000.00. It has five concrete girder spans and is 142.5 feet long.

From the Crowell city limits to a point about five and one-half miles north of this city the right-of-way follows a new route. From there to Pease River the route is about the same as the old one, but much straighter.

In constructing the right-of-way in the city limits of Crowell, a number of concrete crossings were removed.

While no arrangements have yet been made by the State Highway Department for a new bridge across Pease River, yet the grade at Pease River was constructed so as to connect with a new bridge when it is built.

The last 600 feet of the highway at the river has a fill averaging 9 to 10 feet in depth. This fill extends about 100 feet beyond the point where the present bridge starts.

A preliminary survey for a new Pease River bridge was made several months ago by B. K. Garrett, resident engineer for the State Highway Department in Foard and Knox counties, and his staff of engineers here.

A carnival, sponsored by Crowell High School for the benefit of the high school band, will be held in the high school building Friday night, April 13, at 8 o'clock. Funds derived from this event will be used to buy letter sweaters for band members, to create a fund for the purchase of uniforms, and other expenses incidental to the operating of a first class school band.

Will Choose Queen
The four classes of the school have already chosen candidates for "Queen" as follows: Seniors—Mozelle Lilly; Juniors—Geraldine Carter; Sophomores—Mary Elizabeth Hughton; Freshmen—Mozelle Lemons. The candidates were chosen Monday at assembly.

Each morning at 9 o'clock the flag of the class which is ahead is raised and allowed to fly for that day. The Freshman class was off to a flying start and raised its flag Tuesday, but the Juniors forged ahead Wednesday. Voting on the candidates is by the usual method of "penny per vote" and by books donated to the school library which are good for 25 votes per book.

Anyone having books that they would like to add to the school library and also help a candidate, are requested to get in touch with some student.

The contest closes at 5 p. m., April 13, and the winner will be announced at 8 p. m. in the auditorium, where a very formal and elaborate coronation will take place along with a varied musical program. After the Queen has been crowned, the carnival spirit will prevail with various concessions operated in rooms over the building. Through the co-operation of local merchants an auction sale will be held in the auditorium immediately after the crowning of the queen.

SINGING AT GAMBLEVILLE
The public is invited to the singing that will be held at the Gambleville school Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock.

Bigger and Better Foard County News With New Lay-out

In line with the Spring season, The News makes its appearance this week in a new "dress," or to more accurately state—an old dress made over in a new style. The new change is a permanent one and not just of a seasonal nature.

With this issue The News departs from the set-up of six columns to the page that has existed since the fall of 1928 and inaugurates a new size to its paper. By increasing the size of the newspaper and by cutting the size of the columns from 13 to 12 ems, The News now has seven columns to the page. In 1928 The Foard County News changed from five columns to six columns, 13 ems wide, the set-up that governed the make-up of this paper until now.

This change has been made in line with progress and will afford us the opportunity of giving our readers a better paper. The average issue of 8 pages now and in the future will have about a page more of matter than was possible with an 8-page paper of six columns to the page. With the additional space we are permitted to have features each week that were impossible in the past.

Standard Width
The column-width of The News is now the same as that used by all daily papers, while in the past our columns have been one em wider than the standard width of 12 ems.

From a mechanical standpoint the change has required work of increasing the size of the chases (the forms which hold a 2-page made-up), various adjustments to the press and folder, and scores of other details. Precision work of increasing the capacity of the chases was done by Esca (Peck) Brown at the wedding department of Self Motor Co.

This advance step was supervised by J. V. Robie, shop foreman at The News, and T. B. Klepper, editor and owner, who became associated with The News in January, 1928, and who witnessed the change from five columns to six columns in 1928.

Upset Features City Election Here Tues.
An upset came in the city election in Crowell Tuesday with the result that B. F. Ivie, whose name was not printed on the official ballot, was one of the two aldermen elected. R. J. Roberts was successful in his candidacy for reelection. His name and that of Leo Spencer, another alderman, were the only ones printed on the official ballot.

J. E. Harwell ran third place in the election as the result of 17 write-in votes given him. A total of only 40 votes were cast in the election with the unofficial vote being as follows: B. F. Ivie—19; R. J. Roberts—18; J. E. Harwell—17; Leo Spencer—14. Eight others were also voted upon by the write-in method.

REV. MERRILL TO PREACH HERE SUNDAY MORNING
Rev. Paul J. Merrill of Henrietta will preach his first sermon at the local Christian Church Sunday morning in the capacity of part-time pastor of the church. He will not be here Sunday evening due to the fact that he is scheduled to open a revival at that time at the Highland Heights Christian Church of Wichita Falls.

WITH LILLY MOTOR CO.
Bill Matthews of Vernon assumed duties last week as salesman for the Lilly Motor Company, local Chevrolet dealers. Mrs. Matthews will move to Crowell as soon as a residence can be found for the couple to live in.

Receipts at the Crowell High School Gymnasium since its opening early in January have been sufficient to take care of bonds, interest and general operating expenses with a balance of 65 cents remaining in the bond fund, according to L. A. Andrews, secretary of the Crowell school board.

Total receipts at basketball games during the past season amounted to $525.40. Disbursements were: Bond No. 1—$300.00; interest to Sept. 1, 1934—$171; general operating expenses—$53.75, making total disbursements of $524.75, leaving a balance of 65c.

The bond payment and interest was to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at Washington, the government agency that loaned $3,000.00 for the purpose of constructing the local gym.

The loan was made on a ten-year self-liquidating basis. The Texas law making it possible for school districts to secure loans for recreational facilities provides that such loans must be self-liquidating and supported by charges other than taxation.

No other bonds nor interest will become due this year. The next interest payment of $81.00 will be due on March 1, 1935, and the next bond payment will be $300.00, which is due Sept. 1, 1935.

BACK FROM AUGUSTA
Jim Minnick has returned to his ranch near Foard City after spending the past three months at Augusta, Ga., for the winter polo season. He served as captain of the Augusta polo team and his son, Jimmy, Jr., was one of the four regulars on this team.

Bill and Roy Barry of Byers, Texas, formerly of Crowell, played with the Wichita Falls team while it was at Augusta. While in Augusta Mr. Minnick witnessed the masters' invitation tournament, the outstanding golf event of the winter and in which the world-famous Bobby Jones attempted to stage a comeback.

Mr. Minnick reported only fair success in the sale of polo ponies, but expected better business along this line at Augusta next winter.

Unusual Calendar For '34 to Cause April Term Court

The next term of district court in Crowell will open on Monday, April 30, and will be known as the April term. Many old-timers cannot recall when another term of district court in Crowell opened in April.

The court sessions are governed by a definite schedule set by law with the result that the first session of the year opens on the 6th Monday after the first Monday in January; the second term begins on the 17th Monday after the first Monday in January and the third and final term of the year opens on the 30th Monday after January's first Monday.

The unusual coincidence this year results from the fact that the first Monday in January came on the first day of the year and that the 17th Monday following the January first Monday comes on the last day of this month, April 30.

Grand jurors to appear in court on April 30 are as follows: J. H. McDaniel, C. L. Adkins, S. J. Lewis, Roy Ayers, S. J. Boman, J. J. McCoy, R. H. Cooper, G. E. Davis, C. O. Nichols, J. F. Matthews, W. B. Jones, T. F. Lambert, Silas Moore, L. H. Williams, John Risor and R. F. Derrington.

Three Men Arrested In Foard Co. Facing Mule Theft Charges
Three men arrested last week by the sheriff's department of Foard County are now in jail at Memphis charged with theft. Loyd and Cecil Booth, who have been living on a farm in the Margaret community, and Sid Murphy were the men arrested.

Loyd Booth was arrested at the farm Tuesday night and the arrest of Cecil Booth and Murphy when they appeared at the farm Saturday night. All have been transferred to the jail at Memphis. The father of Cecil and Loyd Booth was arrested at Quanah last week.

All of the men have had complaints filed against them charging mule theft. Additional complaints were filed against them at Wichita Falls Monday in connection with the theft of two mules from the Iowa Park-K. M. A. road, over two weeks ago. Pieces knocked from the bed of the truck when these mules were loaded were the pieces missing from the truck belonging to the Booths, according to local officers.

A lister stolen near Memphis was found by officers on the Booth farm near Margaret.

CONOCO INTRODUCES A Remarkable new MOTOR OIL

Its lower consumption and greater protection to motors proved by the most convincing test ever made!

This new oil has a tremendously increased "film strength"—and a penetrating oiliness to always protect your motor. The "Hidden Quart" never leaves a dry spot or a bearing without lubrication—it resists dilution—and eliminates much trouble caused by carbon and sludge.

The process which gives these exclusive new features is protected by recent U. S. patents. Conoco refines a high quality paraffin base oil and then adds the extra oiliness that is absolutely necessary to obtain the protection and low consumption every motorist should demand.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil excels in the most convincing test ever made, under the supervision of the AAA Contest Board.

AAA Sanction No. 3001

In presenting New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil you are furnished facts of performance. You will at once be convinced of the direct value of this new oil. A test so dramatic, so honest, that it will go down in history!

This test was held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association supervised all details, thus assuring an unbiased opinion. Six new regular stock cars were delivered direct to them. They tested and measured each to obtain an equal condition in all.

Six brands of motor oil, of the same S. A. E. grade, were used. Five of them, all purchased by the AAA on the open market, were nationally known, widely recognized leaders. The other one was New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. All cars were then carefully broken in for 2500 miles. Five quarts, a new and complete fill, were put in each car and the cranks sealed. Then the real battle for supremacy began. The cars were driven for as long as the motors continued to operate.

Here are the results: Oil No. 4 quit at 1713.2 miles; Oil No. 6 quit at 1764.4 miles; Oil No. 5 wrecked the motor at 1815.9; Oil No. 1 ceased its lubricative protection at 2266.8 miles; and Oil No. 3 at 3318.8 miles.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil carried on to a total 4729 miles! Over three thousand miles farther than the first oil to go out, and over fourteen hundred miles farther than the final oil of the five!

It is the Germ Processing principle, only used by Conoco, that won the test. This "Hidden Quart" that lubricates all parts at all times—that stays up in your motor and never drains away. Drive into a Conoco Station or Dealer for a fill. You are getting the most in lubrication value that money can buy.

Warning TO NEW CAR OWNERS...

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market. Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

1 The Representatives of the Contest Board of the AAA who supervised every detail of the test.

2 Five quarts of each brand of oil were carefully put in the cars by AAA officials.

3 The official sealing of cranks was after final fill of five quarts was put in.

4 These were new motors before the test. They were wrecked to prove to you how to protect yours.

Regulations for Gov't. Seed Loans Are Announced

Headquarters for emergency crop loans from the government have been established at the office of the county agent and farmers desiring loans should apply there. According to the regulations under which the crop loans are to be made this year, any farmer who secures a loan must obtain a statement from the county production council, where one exists, that he does not intend to increase his acreage or production in violation of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program.

In counties where a county production council has not been set up, before any application for a loan will be considered the farmer who is applying will have to give satisfactory evidence that he is co-operating with the production control program of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The maximum amount of an emergency crop loan that may be obtained by any one individual is $250, the minimum is $25.

Applications for loans in any amount from $25 to $150 may be accepted by the emergency crop loan office provided the farmer does not have sufficient security to obtain a loan elsewhere.

A farmer applying for $150 or more must first make application to the Production Credit Association for a loan from it. Rejection of this application by the Production Credit Association will be considered sufficient evidence that other credit is not available and the applicant may then make application to the emergency crop loan office.

Terrace Land Strips Allow for Retired Government Acreage

Cotton, corn and wheat acres contracted for retirement in Government contracts this year may be taken out of production in strips along terraces or contours, Fred Rennels, county agent, has been advised by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The contracted acres need not be in one solid block but may be scattered in these strips, he says. This gives the farmer the opportunity to lay out a complete terracing or contouring system for his farm, and to complete the work of building terraces in his spare time during the year. If there is no legitimate use for these strips within the terms of the contract, they may be left bare during the growing season and sowed down to small grains in early fall to prevent winter blowing, he adds. A simple way of fitting the contracted acres to the terraced strips is to first measure the total length of the terrace lines. Multiply this distance by the average width of the strip to be left out along the terrace, say at least 30 feet. Divide the sum thus obtained by 43,500 (square feet in one acre) and you have the acres taken out by the terraced strips. If the farmer desires to take out more land than this, he may increase the average width of strips to suit. If these strips take out more land from production than he has contracted or can spare, he may plant on enough of the terraced strips to get the desired result.

The 18th amendment never was ratified by Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Mrs. A. T. Miller Dies at Clarendon

Mrs. A. T. Miller, a former resident of Foard County, passed away at her home in Clarendon Sunday evening, April 1, 1934.

She had been ill for about a week with measles and complications arose from which she did not recover.

Mrs. Miller's maiden name was Naomi Burk and she was born near Niles, Michigan, in 1859. She was married to Harry Nielson, who lived only a few years. She came to Foard County in 1890 and made her home with her brother, the late Judge G. L. Burk. In 1892 she was married to A. T. Miller and they resided on their farm near Thalia until 1914 when they moved to Clarendon. Mr. Miller died about three years ago. Their daughter, Mrs. Cap Morris, has resided in Clarendon with Mrs. Miller since the death of her father. Mr. and Mrs. Morris had, until that time, lived at Thalia.

Funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and were attended by a large number of friends. Mrs. Rob Bannister and Mrs. Bob Bell, nieces of Mrs. Miller, and J. S. Ray and Frances Woods attended from Crowell.

Immediate survivors are the daughter, Mrs. Cap Morris, one sister, Mrs. Hattie Krohn, Eau Claire, Mich.; two brothers, Ed Burk, Boseman, Mont., and Earnest Burk of Denver, Colo.

Local People Attend Funeral in Cooke Co.

Mrs. Maud McCracken, 61, died at her home four and one-half miles from Gainesville, last Friday and was buried in the Fairview Cemetery Sunday. She was the mother of Mrs. Joan Kidd of the Gambleville community and O. A. and B. W. Solomon of Crowell and had visited in Crowell and Foard County last summer and had made many friends here.

Mrs. Kidd was with her mother several weeks preceding her death and B. W. Solomon and family reached there a week before death.

Mrs. J. M. Allee's courtesy in furnishing us with it. She had clipped it from the April 19, 1900 issue of The Foard County News and had put it away.

Last week while she and her brother, Geo. P. Brown, of McKinney, were looking through some old books they found this clipping.

It is interesting to note that a number of those listed in the above Spring program will soon be watching their own children perform in spring graduation exercises.

Director of Sanitary Program in Foard Co. Returns to Austin

J. C. Root, who has directed C. W. A. sanitary work in Foard County since Dec. 18, returned to his home in Austin Tuesday. He issued the following statement before leaving:

"It seems as though the sanitary program has come to an end. There have been 128 units installed in all parts of the county. About 200 more remain to be installed besides those that have not signed up, but would like to have them.

"It is with much regret that I leave so great a project when there is so much to be accomplished. There will probably be some arrangements made to carry on this work when activities are resumed, but if there isn't, I would suggest that all who possibly can have some one who is familiar with this work to assist them in the construction, or do it themselves. This can be carried out in either manner at a small cost.

"I want to thank everyone in behalf of the Health Department and myself for the wonderful cooperation accorded us in this work. The county judge and commissioners have gone out of their way to be of service to this program of which I appreciate very much. The merchants and the people as a whole have all shown an interest and desire to co-operate whenever possible.

"The workmen have all contributed more along the line of work than was expected of them. The city officials and the health officer have helped immensely. I wish to thank the Foard County News for the splendid manner in which it has conveyed my messages to the people. I leave with the hope that I will be able to return soon."

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 8.
The Golden Text is: "The thoughts of the righteous are right; but the counsels of the wicked are deceit" (Proverbs 12:5).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For though there be that are called gods... But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and in Him... (I Corinthians 8:5-6.)"
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We lose the high significance of omnipotence, when after admitting that God, or good, is omnipotent and has all-power, we still believe there is another power, named evil. This belief that there is more than one mind is as pernicious to divine theology as are ancient mythology and pagan idolatry" (page 469.)

CAPITOL NEWS LETTER

By W. D. McFARLANE
Congressman, 13th District

Independent Offices Appropriations Bill

On Monday, March 26th, by a vote of 59 to 16 the Senate yielded in the conference on the difference between the House Amendments and those proposed by the Senate. The House Amendments restoring 5 per cent of the pay cut to Federal Employees effective February 1st, 1934, and another 5 per cent on July 1st, were substituted for the full 15 per cent advocated by the Senate. The amendment liberalizing the Veterans' laws not only restored at 75 per cent of their compensation as of March 19, 1933, some 29,000 presumably direct service connected disabled veterans to the compensation rolls but also provided the following benefits: 100 per cent of compensation to veterans with direct service connected disabilities; hospitalization for veterans unable to care for themselves; restoration for all veterans of the Spanish War enlisting before August 12, 1898, at 75 per cent of their compensation; restored Philippine and Boxer veterans at 75 per cent of their compensation; Spanish-American War widows restored to 75 per cent; and prohibiting the reduction of the compensation of any veterans blinded in service below that of March 19, 1933. On Tuesday, March 27th, the President vetoed the bill and sent it back to Congress with the recommendation that the Veterans' and pay restoration questions be separated from the bill and placed in separate bills. On March 27th in a vote that upset all expectations, the House by the overwhelming majority of 319 to 72, the bill was immediately sent to the Senate and that body began discussion of the motion to override the veto and in spite of the administration's efforts to secure the support of the members of the Senate, voted for the motion by the unexpected majority of 63 to 27. The vote came late in the afternoon of the 28th and was a surprise to everyone for the issue was in doubt until the last minute. No one expected that there would be nine votes more than was necessary to override. It was the Administration's first defeat and the eleventh veto that has lost since the war. The President has issued no statement since leaving for a short fishing trip on Tuesday.

Vinson Navy Bill

Before leaving for his short vacation Tuesday the President signed the Vinson Navy Bill authorizing the building of the Navy to the 1930 Treaty strength as set out in the London Naval Limitation Treaty. This measure carries no appropriation but is only an authorization and the President expressed hope that the limits set in the above treaty would be extended in 1935. It was hailed by some as a great move toward the maintenance of peace in the world.

Air Mail

On Monday, March 26th, the House adopted the conference report on the Administration's Air Mail Bill authorizing the Postmaster General to use the Army Air Corps, personnel and equipment for flying the mail for a period of one year. This bill also brought relief to the men at present engaged in this service who have been without funds since the beginning of their work flying the mail. Meanwhile temporary contracts will be granted the commercial operators until the Army is fully equipped and trained to carry on. The new regulations concerning the bidding for these contracts were issued Friday.

Bankhead Cotton Bill

On March 29th, the Senate approved the Bankhead Cotton Bill allowing a tax free production of 10,000,000 bales of cotton by a vote of 46 to 39. All cotton produced in excess of 10,000,000 bales is to be taxed 75 per cent of its market value but the first six bales gained of each planter's crop will be exempt. Long staple was exempt and several other technical amendments were added to the original bill.

Tariff Bill

After six days of debate the House passed the tariff bill giving the President broad powers in tariff questions by a vote of 275 to 111. The powers granted the President are the authority to enter into tariff agreements without Congressional consent and the power to raise or lower existing tariffs by 50 per cent. In spite of the fact that nearly 40 amendments were offered only two were voted in, these being the limitation of the authority to 3 years and the specification that foreign debts may not be cancelled.

She shook her head weakly, trying to take a step toward the door.

There was a terrible pause. She did not lift her eyes to Roemer's face.

but he still held her. He was holding her when they heard a step in the hall and the door half ajar—was thrown wide open. Page's arm fell from Nancy's waist, he straightened himself and looked around.

Richard Morgan stood on the threshold.

The two men faced each other, then Richard's glance swept from Page to Nancy. It seemed to ignore Page as unworthy of any consideration and fixed itself upon her. Richard came quietly into the room.

"Nancy," he said, "I've come to take you home."

Page turned on Richard. "What does this mean? What have you done to her? She says you've married her—look at her; she's wretched!"

Morgan was startled; she had told Roemer of her marriage then; what else had she told him?

"I've come for my wife," he said sharply, "and what I've done—or what she does—is no concern of yours."

Page Roemer's face blazed with anger. "It's this much my concern—she came to me for help!"

Richard's thin lips tightened, he turned his eyes on Nancy, met hers and held them.

"Is that so?" he asked her in a low voice, "did you come to this man for help?"

Nancy, still leaning on the table, swayed a little.

"I don't know—why I came," she replied at last, faintly.

Richard ignored him and went to her.

"Nancy, I've come for you," he repeated in his low deep voice, his eyes searching her face.

She met them and her face quivered like a child's. She lifted her hands from the table slowly, gropingly, and tried to walk toward the door, but her steps faltered and she swayed. Richard put an arm around her, guiding her.

"Nancy," cried Page, "I won't let you go like this! It's got to be explained; you're too wretched. Look at her, Morgan, does she look like a bride? What have you done? If you're a man you'll let her go."

Richard stopped, turned slowly and measured him.

"This is no affair of yours, Roemer," Richard said shortly, "neither you nor any other man will interfere between me and my wife. Come, Nancy."

Without another word Nancy turned weakly and went out with her husband.

It had turned cold; a February wind touched her face like an icy hand. She stood waiting on the curb while Richard whistled up a taxi and helped her into it. She leaned back in the corner and shut her eyes. She felt weak, and ill and, when her eyes closed, she seemed to behold visions. She saw Roddy's blank face and open mouth when she gave him the money, and her father! Then she felt Page Roemer's kisses on her face, and the hot blushes burning her own cheeks. A newly wedded wife in another man's arms! Nancy groaned suddenly and hid her face in her hands.

The taxi stopped and Nancy stirred and looked up.

"Be careful of the step," said Richard calmly, holding out his hands.

He held her firmly, keeping his hand on her arm, while he paid and dismissed the man. Then they went up the path together. Not a word was said, but Nancy found it difficult to walk alone. He opened the door and she walked unsteadily into the house. She had no other place to go.

"I'll telephone to your mother at once," said Richard, "they're anxious. Sit down here, Nancy, until I come."

He pushed a chair forward and she sank into it. She was lying back in the chair with her eyes closed when she heard Richard's quick step in the hall.

"You will be my guest, Nancy, until you can decide what you wish to do," Richard's voice said gravely. "It's the best way to avoid scandal. I"—he hesitated—"I can send a marriage notice to the newspapers. Afterwards it will be as you wish. I"—he stopped again.

She was leaning back on the pillows, her face averted.

She drew a long breath. "Thank you," she said simply.

Then she arose, passed him, and went to the door. She put out a steady hand now and opened it, looking into the front hall. It was empty. She was going without a word, but Richard reached her. He caught her in his arms, pressed her close to his heart.

"Nancy," he said hoarsely, passionately, "my wife—stay with me—don't go—stay. I'll make you love me, I'll win you, Nancy, give me my chance! Stay with me, dear," he urged her almost violently; his love had broken down his pride.

She broke away shaking all over; anger and shame and fear held her.

"You promised to let me go—you said you didn't want a wife who didn't love you—I don't, you know I don't! Father will pay it back—let me go!"

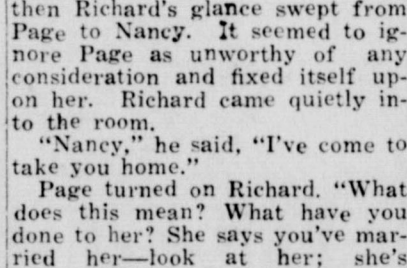

He let her go and stood like a man turned suddenly to stone.

"Good-bye, Richard—forgive me, good-bye."

He was silent and she ran out of his house into the night.

Angie Fuller kept house for her uncle. Major Lomax had never married. There had been an early and a tragic love affair. Diana Aylett had accidentally shot herself on the eve of their marriage. It was hard to associate romance with the old major. Yet there had been a love affair that seared.

When the smoke of that tragedy cleared away, Lomax found it had killed the power to love another woman. And once, in the Gordon's garden, he had caught Nancy Virginia reaching high for a sprig of lilac. She looked for just one minute as Diana had looked the day she died. Nancy did not know why the old man stared at her. She tossed her sprig of lilac to him.

The old man put it in his buttonhole, patted her hand, and went on. Nancy had no idea that she had won a champion for all time.

The morning after Nancy's return, Angie had to get the breakfast. She came into the dining room, her face rosy from the fire.

She set the plate of rusk down in front of her uncle and retired behind the old silver coffee-pot. She was thinking of Rod Gordon.

It was the first time he had ever been in town without coming to see her. They were old neighbors; they had been boy and girl sweethearts. He had walked straight by the house and never looked at it, and Nancy had said nothing about his visit home! What did it mean?

Maio Lomax ate a piece of rusk with an audible crunch and turned over his newspaper.

"Hello," he exclaimed, stopping to read an advertisement more carefully. "The Gordon house for sale whole outfit—furniture and all!"

Angie was astonished. A shaft of terror shot through her. Had something happened to Roddy?

"Why, uncle, it just can't be true—they love the old house so!"

He shoved the paper across the table. "Read that!" he said crossly.

He was cross because, like Angie, a shaft of alarm had shot through him. He had heard something from a cousin of his in New York, old Beaver, accountant in the Grenough Trust Company. Old Beaver said Roddy was running after a fast woman and was in debt. Lomax knew that William Gordon's resources were narrow. "Trouble somewhere? The major's old mouth hardened.

"Gordon called me up late last night—wanted to know about selling some securities," he ruminated aloud, more to himself than to Angie. "He had about five thousand in Liberty bonds."

H. D. and 4-H Club Activities

A real oak chest for less than $1.00 was secured by Mrs. F. E. Diggs of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club. She took an oak dresser which was bought when she first started housekeeping, removed the mirror and converted the base of it into a chest. The drawers were removed and a piece of ply board used for the side. The top was turned and hinged on and the whole varnished after the old finish had been removed. The veneer board was bought for thirty-five cents and that with the varnish and a pair of hinges was the only expense. As a companion piece for the chest a solid oak book case had been made from a bed that had been in the family for a number of years.

A newly refinished dining room is one of the recent accomplishments of Mrs. W. B. Jones, wardrobe demonstrator for the Foard City Home Demonstration Club. She has repared the room, and repainted the woodwork in ivory. The room is now much lighter and more attractive, according to Mrs. Jones. The livingroom is to be refinished with paper of a tan background and woodwork painted a buff color.

The West Side Home Demonstration Club met Marth 28th with Mrs. P. P. Cooper with twelve members present. The lesson on "Good Reading" was led by Mrs. Roscoe Eubanks, assisted by Mrs. P. P. Cooper, Mrs. Bryson and Mrs. Tate. The club will meet

April 11 with Mrs. Roscoe Eubanks.

WEST RAYLAND CLUB
Providing good reading material for each member of the family was considered one of the best ways to cultivate a taste for good literature during a round-table discussion at a meeting of the West Rayland H. D. Club with Mrs. J. E. Young, March 27.

Mrs. L. B. Dunson suggested that when children are small their interest in reading may be aroused if the parents will read aloud to the assembled family.

The club unanimously voted to support the County Council's budget plan for financing the council's various projects.

Ten members and one visitor, Mrs. H. W. Young, were present. The club will meet with Mrs. Sam Kuehn, April 10. Plans for the short course will be discussed. All of those wishing foundation patterns made at this time bring 5 yards domestic, commercial pattern, pins, tape measure and scissors.

GOOD CREEK CLUB
The Good Creek H. D. Club met March 20 with Mrs. Fremont Chatfield with 6 members and Miss Holman present.

A program concerning Texas writers was given with Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Chatfield and Mrs. Trauek taking part. Miss Holman discussed adequate storage space and the portable closet. The next meeting was set for April 3 with Mrs. A. L. Cox.

GAMBLEVILLE CLUB
A durable and attractive clothes closet can be built in anyone's home for little cost, says Miss Holman, home demonstration agent.

The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

The menopause, I mean. Since this comes to all females who pass the median line in life, I am talking to at least half the adult population in our homes.

From intimate observation of many hundreds of cases, I have learned, first, no two women pass through this change in exactly the same manner, or with the same symptoms. Second, the management must fit the individual case; no remedy is used as a routine. That should kill the patent nostrum for "female trouble."

The menopause in the normal woman is a physiological process, not a disease. But in case of the woman who has other lesions to combat, then comes the need of the wise physician's counsel.

Severe and exhausting hemorrhages at the menopause, those that increase each month in severity and produce anaemia and weakness, should cause the doctor to look carefully for fibroid tumor of the uterus. In a certain number of cases, the X-ray acts happily, if in telligent hands; if it is tried and fails, I have found that surgical measures are less pleasing than if the X-ray were not used. The best way is, remove the tumor as soon as possible.

For the distressing "hot flashes," the most reliable remedy is REST. The wife who carries on her housework through this kind of a season is a heroine indeed—and a martyr. It is real suffering. By rest, I mean cut out 75 per cent of the work; stop scrubbing, lifting, making beds, and such; or, go to bed and stay till the horrible flushes are better—they will cease in time.

Your doctor must advise you. Let the ready-made nostrum alone.

The Gambleville Club met with Mrs. E. A. Dunagan as hostess and Mrs. Lowellyn Morgan as leader, on March 29.

The way to build a clothes closet which could be moved from one home to another was very interesting. Mrs. Garnet Jones gave a report on the last counsel meeting.

There were 12 members present and Mrs. Homer Ketchersid and Mrs. A. F. Derrington as new members.

The next meeting will be Thursday, April 5, with Mrs. Ray Jonas as hostess and Mrs. E. A. Dunagan as leader.—Reporter.

The only low-priced car

with fully-enclosed Knee-Action Wheels

and what a difference that makes in performance and dependability

Simple as a Shock Absorber!

Chevrolet's "fully-enclosed" Knee-Action is, in reality, a gigantic shock absorber, built solidly on to Chevrolet's big, heavy frame, with the front wheel solidly anchored to the "shock absorber" arm. The result: When the front wheel comes in contact with a bump or hole, it rises or falls to absorb the shock.

A smooth, restful, gliding ride... a bounceless back seat... a new feeling of safety and relaxation in high-speed or rough-road travel. All these pleasures are yours with Knee-Action wheels. And if your car has enclosed Knee-Action, like Chevrolet's, you not only get this gliding ride at its best, you also get two other extra advantages. One of these is shock-proof steering. And the other is dependable operation, thoroughly protected against wear and tear. The patent rights on this special kind of Knee-Action are held exclusively by General Motors. That's why no other low-priced car has it. Also, no other has a Fisher body, cable-controlled brakes, a Y-K frame, or a Blue-Flame engine of unsurpassed economy.

People of Black Community Hosts to Large Crowd With Program and Feast At Home-Coming Celebration Sunday

One of the happiest occasions experienced by the people of the Black community took place last Sunday when they acted hosts to former residents of that community who now reside elsewhere, many of whom still live in this county.

A program was given in the morning, extending over into the afternoon and at the noon hour a bountiful dinner was served to a large crowd. The welcome address was given by Miss Vetrice Collier and the response was made by J. H. Thomson of the Delwin community in Cottle County, a former resident of the Black community. The remainder of the program was taken up with chorus singing, solos, quartets, and piano numbers and talks by Rev. Geo. E. Turrentine and Rev. O. L. Savage of Crowell, and Oscar Leverage of the Black community.

About 100 Foard County people and the following out-of-county visitors were present for this occasion:

Mr. and Mrs. Una Compton, Minco, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Thomson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey and Miss Alice Evans, Paducah; Mr. and Mrs. Will Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Clark, Denton; Mrs. Chloe Bishop and daughter, Miss "Boots", Burkburnett; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bursley, Memphis; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Johnson and Misses Ruby and Mozelle Gregory, Hardeman County; Miss Vetrice Collier, Medicine Mound; Mr. and Mrs. Audra Pierce, Eldorado, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. George Bateman, Ringling, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Moody,

A picture of the works and healing of Jesus, His crucifixion and His resurrection was given through the drama and it was very impressive and thought-provoking throughout.

The characters were: Simon the Leper, Recie Womack; Judith, his sister, Elsie Faye Roark; Susanna, his betrothed, Eloise Saunders; Amon, his brother, Henry Black; Lazarus, his friend, Charles Ferguson; Mary, sister of Lazarus, Madge Moyer; Martha, sister of Lazarus, Alcie Meade Lilly; Jalon, another leper, Berl Lovelady.
