FIRST DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY SATURDAY

SPECIAL ROAD TAX ELECTION FOR PRE. NO. 2

The voters of commissioner Precinct No. 2 of Foard County will have the opportunity on Friday, July 27, to decide whether or not to place on the commissioners' court shall assess and collect a special road tax of fifteen cents on the hundred dollars valuation.

James Swain, county judge, ordered an election to determine whether voters wish on this matter a petition signed by the required number of qualified voters and property taxpayers had presented requesting the election. An official order for the election appears elsewhere in this issue of The News.

Almost two years ago, Aug. 6, 1932, the 15-cent special road tax in Precinct No. 2 was voted off by a majority of 137 to 60. At the same time the special road tax was removed in Precinct No. 4 by a vote of 69 to 52.

Only qualified voters who are property taxpayers residing in Precinct No. 2 will be eligible to vote in this election.

REVIVAL OPENS AT METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY

Plans have been completed for a Methodist revival of two weeks that will begin Sunday morning at the local church with the pastor, Rev. Geo. E. Turrenson, in charge. The preaching at the meeting will be done by the Rev. Hubert Thomson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Tolbert. Watkins of Hedley will have charge of the singing and his wife will be pianist.

Services will be held each morning and evening, the morning services on week days beginning at 10 o'clock and the evening services at 8 o'clock in the open air between the Methodist and Presbyterian churches.

Local churches have announced the dismissal of their services Sunday morning in order that members of their congregations may have the opportunity to assist in giving the revival a good start. Arnold Ruckel's orchestra will assist with the musical program Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at other times during the revival.

Rev. Thomson, who will do the preaching, is a very successful pastor and the local church feels fortunate in securing his services. He was born in this county and spent a few years as a child here.

LOAN PERIOD EXTENDED

The period for making application for government wheat loans has been extended to Wednesday, August 15, according to official information reaching here this week. Application for the wheat loans may be made at the office of the county agent.

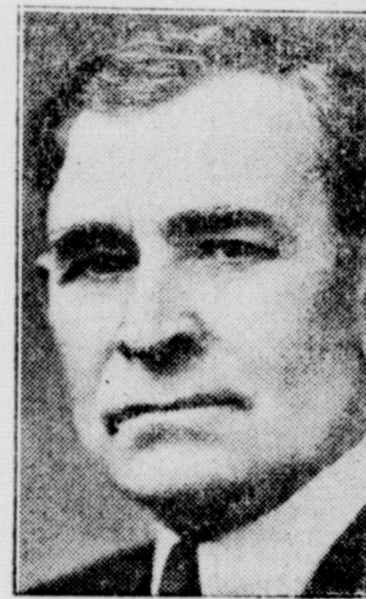

Speaks Tonight

George Backus of Vernon, candidate for Congress, will speak in the business section of Crowell tonight (Thursday), using his loud-speaking equipment in order that he may be distinctly heard by all in attendance. This will make it possible for people to comfortably sit in their cars and listen to him.

Mr. Backus spent last week in the extreme eastern part of the district and reports that he is running much stronger there than he did two years ago.

YOUR NEXT GOVERNOR

Bottom row: Maury Hughes of Dallas, Edgar Witt of Waco, and Clint Small of Amarillo.

As a result of the withdrawal of Edward K. Russell of Red River County, the above six men are the only Democratic candidates in the race for governor of Texas. Two of this number will enter the runoff campaign following Saturday's primary which will no doubt develop much interest over the state as a whole up until the time of the second primary, Aug. 25.

"Oswalt for Judge" Auto Caravan Left Here This Morning

About twenty cars of local citizens, including the local band, left Crowell this morning to boost the candidacy of R. D. Oswalt of Crowell for district judge in the three counties of the district, Hardeman, Wilbarger and Foard.

The first stop on the all-day tour was to be at Quanah. Other points to be visited included Chillicothe, Medicine Mound, Odell, Oklaunion, Harrold, Elliott and Thalia.

Dr. R. L. Kincaid, Vance Swain and E. L. Draper were to serve as speakers on the tour.

Friends of Mr. Oswalt, who is now serving as county attorney of Foard, have been very active in his behalf the past week.

Conservative Use of City Water Is Asked

Co-operation of the people of Crowell in using city water as conservatively as possible is requested by Mayor C. T. Schlagal. There is not an alarming shortage of water at the present time, however, if the present dry spell continues an emergency will have to be faced later.

Bicycle Riding On Sidewalks Will Be Stopped in Crowell

A notice signed by the mayor and city marshal appears elsewhere in this issue warning bicycle riders that the state law and city ordinance will be enforced which prohibits the riding of bicycles upon sidewalks in either the business or residential section.

"We especially seek the co-operation of parents of children owning bicycles to assist in stopping this practice," stated Mayor C. T. Schlagal. Last week a Crowell man was bruised about the body when the rider of a bicycle on a local sidewalk ran into him.

TO PENITENTIARY

Dave Webb, who has been in the Foard County jail since Dec. 26, 1933, was taken to the state penitentiary at Huntsville Tuesday by a representative of the state prison system.

He was given a sentence of five years at the February term of court when found guilty of forging a check on S. E. Norris.

NEW OIL BLOCK IS SECURED ON WISHON RANCH WEST OF CROWELL BY FT. WORTH MAN

HOSPITAL NOTES

Miss Martha Schlagal, who underwent an operation for appendicitis last Thursday, was able to be removed to her home this morning.

Mrs. R. E. Click, who resides at the Natural Gas Plant, submitted to an operation on last Wednesday and is reported as improving nicely.

Mrs. S. E. Woods of Gilliland underwent a major operation Friday. She is improving.

J. A. Crawford of Gilliland is in the hospital receiving medical attention this week.

Pampa Girl Hurt in Accident Here Sun.

Miss Viola Haggard of Pampa received severe cuts about the face Sunday morning at about 8 o'clock as the result of a collision of the sedan in which she was riding with the Chevrolet coach owned and driven by W. A. Cogdell.

The accident happened as Mr. Cogdell left the Fox station in the west part of town to cross the highway. The other machine was headed toward Crowell and the two met in about the center of the highway.

Miss Haggard was in the rear seat of the sedan in which her aunt, Mrs. John Haggard of Pampa and Mrs. Haggard's daughter, Mrs. O. D. Myatt, also of Pampa, were riding. Both cars were badly damaged, however, Miss Haggard was the only person injured. She was rushed to the local hospital. Monday she was removed to Dallas for treatment by a plastic surgeon.

The three women had been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bell and were returning to Pampa when the accident occurred. Mrs. E. S. Haggard of Dallas, sister of Mrs. Bell, accompanied them here for a visit and returned with them to Dallas Monday.

O. J. Weaver of Ft. Worth independent oil operator, has obtained a block of 4,320 acres on the J. W. Wishon and K. N. Haggood ranch, just west of Crowell. The five-year lease on this block calls for the beginning of an oil test on it within about three months, the depth of which is to be four thousand feet if oil is not found in paying quantities before 4,000 feet is reached.

The Wishon & Haggood ranch consists of 17,535 acres, beginning at a point about two and one-half miles west of Crowell and extends about 11 miles west from there. Mr. Wishon has a three-fourth interest in the ranch with K. N. Haggood of Dallas having the other fourth interest.

No oil tests have been previously drilled on this ranch.

Three geologists completed a geological survey on the ranch last week. The Weaver block on this ranch will be selected from recommendations made by these geologists.

FOARD OIL TESTS

Depths below 3,100 feet in the Texas Company's No. 5 L. K. Johnson and 1,200 feet in James Blair Baker's No. 1 J. W. Beverly have been reached this week.

LOCAL YOUTH RECOVERS FROM SERIOUS INJURY

Milton Callaway, 22, has almost completely recovered from the serious injury that he received on Wednesday, July 18, when struck on the head by a baseball as he was watching a game at the Good Creek picnic. He remained in an unconscious and semi-conscious condition until Sunday. He was able to visit about the business section Tuesday and resumed normal activities Wednesday.

Six years ago, March 12, 1928, Milton was seriously injured when struck by a baseball while attending school at Foard City. The ball at that time struck within less than one inch of the part of the head where the ball struck him last week.

Voting Strength in Foard Heavier Than For 1932 Primary

Foard County's voting strength this year is considerably heavier than it was for the last election year, 1932. Total poll tax payments this year amount to 1,497, compared with 1,139 two years ago, a difference of 358.

There is a gain in voting strength in each voting precinct of the county. The total number of poll tax receipts for the four Crowell boxes amounts to 723, or almost half of the county total.

Poll tax payments by precinct in Foard for 1932 and 1934 follow:

Voting Box	1934	1932
No. 1, S. E. Crowell	101	75
No. 2, N. E. Crowell	344	175
No. 3, S. W. Crowell	71	55
No. 4, N. W. Crowell	207	174
No. 5, Margaret	178	105
No. 6, East Thalia	102	67
No. 7, West Thalia	104	80
No. 8, Foard City	112	92
No. 9, Black	47	18
No. 10, Vivian	88	75
No. 11, Rayland	88	70
No. 12, Good Creek	55	43
Total	1497	1139

The actual voting strength of the county is not known, since many are entitled to vote who have not paid a poll tax. Included in this number are those who have just become 21 years of age, those over 60, and persons who are disabled.

FREE VOTE INFORMATION

Any person becoming 21 after Jan. 1, 1933, and before any election in 1934 at which he or she wishes to vote is entitled to a free vote. Only such persons as become 60 years of age on Jan. 1, 1933, or prior thereto are entitled to a free vote.

The date of a person's becoming 60 years of age will likewise govern as to a person becoming blind, deaf, dumb, permanently disabled or losing a hand or foot. Therefore the right of exemption for causes next above named for any given year is dependent upon whether or not such cause existed on Jan. 1 of the preceding year.

Election Officials Will Operate Under New Law This Year

Twelve voting boxes will be open to the voters of Foard County for the first Democratic primary Saturday. S. T. Crews, county Democratic chairman, has delivered election supplies to the following precinct chairmen:

- A. D. Campbell—No. 1, southeast Crowell.
- J. R. Beverly—No. 2, northeast Crowell.
- Lee Black—No. 3, southwest Crowell.
- T. V. Rascoe—No. 4, northwest Crowell.
- Claude Orr—No. 5, Margaret.
- E. G. Grimley—No. 6, East Thalia.
- A. B. Wisdom—No. 7, West Thalia.
- Adam Weatherall—No. 8, Foard City.
- R. G. Nichols—No. 9, Black.
- Ike Everson—No. 10, Vivian.
- T. F. Lambert—No. 11, Rayland.
- A. L. Davis—No. 12, Good Creek.

Presiding officers are required to telephone or personally deliver returns to the county chairman immediately upon completing the count, under the Neal Unofficial Election Returns Act.

Quickest possible action on the part of election officials is requested in order that Foard's total returns may be made known locally and wired to state officials and the Texas Election Bureau shortly after the closing of the polls.

This will be the first time for election officials to conduct an election under the Neal Unofficial Election Returns Act.

Failure to comply with it provides for the assessment of a fine.

Many Visiting Odd Fellows Present for Meeting Last Week

About seventy-five visiting Odd Fellows from lodges at Quanah, Chillicothe, Vernon, Truscott, Elliott and other points were present for the regular meeting of the local L. O. O. F. lodge last Thursday night, at which time the Initiatory, 1st, 2nd and 3rd degrees were conferred upon five Crowell candidates.

Four degree teams from the Quanah, Vernon and Crowell lodges and one picked team, composed of members from different lodges, conferred the degrees.

New Pastor Here

REV. J. A. PHIPPS, D. D.

The new pastor of the Crowell and Chillicothe Presbyterian churches, Rev. J. A. Phipps, is pictured above. He is with the Crowell church every second and fourth Sundays.

Next Sunday, the 5th Sunday for July, he will preach at the morning hour at the Christian Church for union services of the Presbyterians and Christians. Sunday evening services at local churches will be dismissed on account of the beginning of the revival meeting at the local Methodist Church.

In recent years, Rev. Phipps has served as pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Celina, Kaufman and Kemp and is a former moderator of the Dallas Presbytery and commissioner of the general assembly at Pittsburgh, Pa. He has had a long experience as pastor, evangelist and educator.

Rev. Phipps came to Crowell and Chillicothe through the influence of Rev. E. C. Cargill, Presbyterian pastor at Seymour for many years, and a close friend of Rev. Phipps for the past thirty years.

FINAL TRANSFER WARNING ISSUED BY SCHOOL Supt.

Final warning is issued from the office of the county school superintendent, Vance Swain, regarding the transfer of school pupils from one district to another.

Only three more days remain in which transfers may be made, since Tuesday, July 31, is the final day for making transfers. The office of the superintendent will be closed Saturday on account of the first Democratic primary and for that reason school patrons are urged to complete their transfer work Friday if possible, in order to avoid the final rush on Monday and Tuesday.

Pupils from rural districts who plan to attend the Crowell schools during the coming year must transfer to the Crowell district, whether or not their grade is taught in their home district, if they wish to avoid paying tuition. When pupils transfer, their portion of the state school fund is transferred to the district in which they enter.

The State Department of Education will also pay part of transportation expense for pupils transferring to an accredited high school if their high school grade is not taught in their own district.

Baptist Church at Margaret to Begin Meet Sun. Morning

Beginning Sunday morning, a revival of two weeks will be conducted at the Margaret Baptist Church with Rev. Foster Russell doing the preaching. Rev. Russell is a resident of the Margaret community and in recent years has been attending the Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth.

Services both morning and evening will be conducted in the open air. Miss Johnnie Mae Short will serve as pianist for the meeting. Rev. C. D. Baggett, pastor of the church, will be present to conduct the revival.

THIRTY-SIX ABSENTEE BALLOTS CAST HERE

Up to Wednesday afternoon of this week thirty-six absentee ballots had been received at the office of the county clerk, Grady Magee. Wednesday was the last day for absentee voting in person and today brings to an end the period for absentee voting by mail. Several more absentee ballots are expected to be received in the mail today.

DIST. RACES TO ATTRACT MOST INTEREST HERE

A heavy vote is expected in Foard County Saturday for the first Democratic primary, despite little interest in most county races caused by lack of opposition. Considerable interest has developed in the district and state races, which is expected to draw most of Foard's qualified voters to the polls at the 12 voting boxes in this county.

It is estimated that between 1,400 and 1,500 voters will cast their ballots in the first primary Saturday. A total of 1,497 poll tax receipts were issued from the office of the tax collector, R. J. Thomas, this year compared with 1,139 two years ago, a difference of 358.

Usually the total vote cast is less than the number of poll tax receipts issued, however, this was not the case for the first primary in 1932, since the total vote was 1,274, or 135 more than the poll tax total.

The number voting at the first primary in the past several years in Foard County follows: 1926—1,432; 1928—1,731; 1930—1,590, and 1932—1,274.

Over the state as a whole the first primary of 1932 attracted the largest number of voters in Texas' history.

Except for the officers of county and district clerk, commissioner of Precinct 4, justice of the peace of Precinct 1, and Weigher of the Margaret precinct, there will be no opposing names on the ballot, although a "write in" campaign has been started in the county attorney's race.

Much interest is being shown in the following district races: judge of the 46th judicial district; state senator of the 23rd district, and for Congressman of the 13th district.

R. D. Oswalt of Crowell and three Vernon men, John Myers, L. P. Bonner and the incumbent, W. N. Stokes, are the candidates for district judge.

Ben G. Oneal, incumbent, Ruben Loftin, Harold Dycus and Perry Browning have attracted considerable interest in their race for state senator, as have W. D. McFarlane, incumbent, Sam B. Spence and George Backus, candidates for Congress. All of the senate candidates, with the exception of Dycus, live in Wichita Falls. Dycus lives in Archer City.

Of the Congress candidates, Backus lives in Vernon, Spence in Wichita Falls, and McFarlane in Graham.

State Races

The race for governor is naturally attracting the most interest in the state contests. Since the withdrawal of Edward K. Russell of Red River County, the six remaining candidates are: Tom F. Hunter, C. C. McDonald and James V. Allred, all of Wichita Falls, Clint Small of Amarillo, Edgar Witt of Waco, and Maury Hughes of Dallas.

Next in interest is the United States Senate race with Tom Connally, incumbent, Jos. W. Bailey, Jr., and Guy B. Fisher as opponents.

A close race between Walber Woodward of Coleman and Wm. McCraw of Dallas is predicted in the attorney general's race. Clyde E. Smith of Tyler County is also a candidate for this office.

Gunman Slain

While leaving a small theatre in Chicago Sunday night, John Dillinger, U. S. public enemy No. 1, met death in the same manner that he had meted it to numerous others, but this time it was the Indiana bad man who was a target for bullets fired from revolvers of Federal officers. A double-crossing "girl friend" of the desperado led him to his death.

Whitfield-Crews

From Democrat (Mo.) Leader.—Miss Kittie Ferguson Crews, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Crews, was married at her home one mile east of Fayette, Mo., Tuesday morning, July 20, to Mr. Jesse A. Whitfield of Crowell, Texas.

It was while visiting her brother, Frank, and sister, Mrs. Robert Cooper, that the bride met Mr. Whitfield, who then wooed and won this fair daughter of old Howard County.

Sailing at the rate of 40 miles an hour, Louis Bleriot, a Frenchman, crossed the waters that separate France from England Sunday in his airship. He won by this feat the prize of $5,000 offered by the London Mail.

"Biggest Days" Coming

August 10, 11 and 12 are going to be the biggest days yet in Crowell, for the 1st Annual Old Settlers' Reunion will take place at that time.

The management has procured a splendid line of amusements for this big event, including Sampson,

To The Voters of Foard County:

In connection with my candidacy for re-election to the office of

County and District Clerk

I have made a personal canvass of a major portion of the voters of the County, but have not, however, been able to see each of you personally to solicit your consideration and support in the Primary election of next Saturday.

I wish to take this last means of thanking the people of Foard County for the opportunity of serving you as such officer for the past three and a half years, and to assure you of my appreciation of your support for my re-election to this office. I promise that if I am re-elected I will try to repay in services for the confidence you place in me. Thanks.

FULLY QUALIFIED By Training and Experience The office of district judge is of vital importance to all the people. The desire to attain the honor of a call to the bench is a worthy ambition in any man, yet it is not a political favor to be bestowed nor is it a mere goal to be reached. The office not only calls for the highest and best in the man chosen as district judge, but at once calls for the man best fitted to consider, determine and administer law and justice. LOFTIN OR ONEAL?

With four men in the race, it now seems that it is up to the voters to decide whether Ben G. Oneal or Ruben Loftin will be state senator of this district.

This is the only race in which The News is inclined to take a definite stand and with the best interests of the people of Foard County and the state as a whole at heart, we do not hesitate to state at this time that we are for Oneal.

Our first reason for taking this stand is because Oneal has made an excellent record as a public official during his first term as senator and is entitled to a second term.

Ruben Loftin and his campaign offer us the second reason for supporting the present senator.

We admit that Loftin is quite a campaigner, but the sad part of the situation is the manner in which he and those stumping for him can bring in the votes for their side with untrue and misleading statements.

Many good and honorable citizens are going to vote for Loftin on the strength of statements of this nature that he has made. For that matter we might be inclined to vote for him if we knew that all statements made by him and his representatives were true and sincere—but we certainly have good reason to know that all of them are not, but just the part of a contemptible method of gathering votes.

Houston McMurry, an attorney of Henrietta, who spoke for Loftin in Crowell Saturday afternoon, left a number of local citizens believing that Senator Oneal had practically robbed them of funds for educating their children. Of course the majority of voters can really be touched in a vital spot when they feel that the welfare of their children is being tampered with, and any worthwhile person certainly should be willing to fight for the rights of his and other children.

Instead of robbing the school fund, as McMurry lead local voters to believe of Oneal, your present senator is to be commended for the work that he has done for them.

Oneal's service as co-receiver in the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. case is the main talking point in this connection. Oneal's legal ability and knowledge of the oil business played a major part in the suit in which the attorney general recovered a cash judgment of $1,073,500.00 for the State of Texas, yet Loftin, McMurray and other Loftin workers do not mention the benefits from this service, but attempt to convince voters that the receiver's fees and expenses came from school funds.

The truth of the matter is that the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Co. paid all costs, including the receivers' fees and the entire amount of the judgment, $1,073,500.00, recovered by the State of Texas and credited to the permanent school fund. No other disbursements of any kind were made from it.

While this is the first time that The News has committed itself on the senator's race, so far as Loftin or Oneal have ever been concerned, yet McMurry in this talk Saturday charged that The Foard County News was supporting Oneal and had done so four years ago also.

Both statements were entirely untrue at the time and served as further evidence that honesty must not be considered the best policy in Loftin's campaign.

After his talk, McMurry was asked where he gained information that The News took a stand for Oneal four years ago and he answered that Loftin had told him that such was the case.

Had McMurry's statement been true in this respect, we would have no apologies to offer had we taken a stand for Oneal in this paper in 1930, but the facts of the case are that we did not and our volume of 1930 papers is open to anyone wishing to check up on this fact. For his and Loftin's benefit, McMurry was invited to make this inspection while here, but failed to do so.

McMurry based his opinion that The News had taken a stand for Oneal this year upon the news article that appeared last week regarding political predictions on five different races in which eight of nine local men predicted that Oneal would lead in the county and district in the first primary. This was not an expression of The News, but the opinion, not necessarily the preference, of nine local men whose political views and preferences as a whole are by no means alike. This feature was conducted in as fair and impartial manner as possible and this fact was admitted to McMurry by two local Loftin supporters who were among the nine making the predictions and who were with the representative of The News who talked with McMurry following his campaign speech.

It seems that the "back to the farm" movement is advocated only by people who have no idea of going themselves

CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE WITH 1934 COTTON CONTRACT IS REPRODUCED IN DETAIL

Below is given in detail the terms of the certificate of compliance that all farmers who executed a 1934 cotton contract must fulfill before the second payment on their contracts can be made.

All cotton on the contracted farms will be measured by the community committeemen and farm supervisors, assisted by the operator of the farm. It is hoped by those in charge that the measuring can be completed within two weeks after the work is begun.

The certificate of compliance follows:

Certificate of Producer
(And certificate of landlord if producer has signed the contract as managing share tenant.)

The undersigned "producer" having entered into the 1934 and 1935 Cotton Acreage Reduction Contract, bearing the above serial number hereinafter referred to as "the Contract", with the Secretary of Agriculture, represents and certifies as follows:

(1) I am fully acquainted with the terms and conditions of the Contract covering the farm described therein (hereinafter referred to as "this farm").

(2) The acreage of growing cotton on this farm, at the date of this certificate, together with the acreage of cotton heretofore harvested on this farm in 1934 is _____ acres, and is not more than the "acreage which may be planted to cotton in 1934" under the Contract, as stated in (B) above.

(3) An acreage of tillable land suited for the growing of cotton and representing in productivity a fair average of the cotton land on this farm has been designated in the manner required by the Contract and Administrative Rulings as the acreage rented to the Secretary of Agriculture. Said acreage is hereinafter referred to as the "rented acres" and is not less than the rented acres required under the Contract as stated in (A) above.

(4) None of the rented acres have been used in 1934, or are being used, for the production of crops for sale or livestock or products thereof for sale.

(5) The total acreage planted in 1934 to all crops for harvest on this farm does not exceed the acreage planted to crops for harvest in 1932 or 1933, whichever is greater.

(6) The acreage planted on this farm in 1934 for harvest to wheat, corn, rice, or tobacco for sale does not exceed the acreage of such crops so planted in 1932 or 1933, whichever is greater, except as has been permitted under a contract with the Secretary of Agriculture and under Administrative Rulings relative thereto.

(7) The number and kind of livestock designated in the Act as a basic commodity (or a product of which is so designated) being kept for sale (or sale of a product thereof) (hogs and dairy cattle) has not been increased on this farm in 1934 over 1932 or 1933, whichever is greater, except as has been permitted under a contract with the Secretary of Agriculture and under Administrative Rulings relative thereto.

(8) The producer represents and certifies (and if the producer has signed the Contract as managing share tenant, the undersigned producer and landlord each represents and certifies) that no cotton has been or is being grown in 1934 on any farm owned, operated, or controlled by him except on a farm or farms either (a) under a 1934 and 1935 Cotton Acreage Reduction Contract (Form No. Cotton 1) or (b) under a 1934 Nonparticipating Cotton Acreage Agreement with the Secretary of Agriculture (Form No. Cotton 18) or (c) specifically exempted from the terms of paragraph 2 of the Contract, under the provisions of Administrative Ruling No. 7 and or 7A (a) according to the specific statements now on file in the County Office prepared in accordance with the provisions of said Administrative Ruling 7A (a).

(9) The producer represents and certifies (and if the producer has signed the Contract as a managing share tenant the producer and landlord each represents and certifies) that he has not adopted any device or scheme of any sort whatever in contemplation of the signing or existence of the Contract, the purpose or effect of which is to deprive any tenant on this farm, whether such tenant rents for cash or a share of the crop, of his share of any payments under the Contract or of any other right of the tenant under the Contract.

(10) The producer certifies that the provisions of paragraph 7 of the Contract have been and are being complied with on this farm.

(11) Rental payments due under the Contract have not been pledged except to secure money or credit for the purpose of carrying on the current operation of this farm (not for rent or any past due indebtedness or other purpose not related to the current operation of this farm).

(12) Without limitation by reason of any specific representation made hereinabove the producer, and, if the producer has signed the Contract as a managing share-tenant the landlord also, has been and is complying with the provisions of the Contract, as accepted by the Secretary of Agriculture, and makes the representations contained in this certificate for the purpose of establishing his claim for payments due from the United States under the Contract.

Applications Being Received for Tax Exemption Blanks

Applications for cotton tax-exemption certificates are being received by the county and community committees at the office of the county agent, Fred Rennels.

It is explained by Mr. Rennels that everyone who is growing cotton in 1934 must make application for tax-exemption certificates if the grower expects to market cotton tax free. It is necessary for those who have not signed the 1934-35 cotton acreage reduction contracts to have their acreage and production information, on the farm that they are now farming, over the period from 1928 to 1932, inclusive.

This information is used by the county committee and the State allotment board in determining the number of bales that may be marketed tax free.

The past week has been used in taking applications of those who have not signed the 1934-35 cotton acreage reduction contracts. All farmers who have signed the 1934-35 reduction contract will be notified when to appear before the committee to make application for their tax-exemption certificates.

All non-contract signers are requested to make application for their certificates not later Tuesday, July 31.

MISREPRESENTATION OF SENATOR BEN G. ONEAL EXPOSED

For purposes of their own, Ruben Loftin, candidate for the State Senate against Senator Oneal, and two or three others are spreading a report that Senator Oneal, as a co-receiver appointed by the 98th District Court of Travis County, got some of the public free school money, as a receiver's fee.

To set at rest for all these mistatements, we give below the certificate of the Clerk of said district court which shows:

1. Senator Oneal was receiver in only one case.
2. This was case of State of Texas vs. Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company, et al.
3. That Attorney General Allred in this suit recovered a cash judgment for the State of Texas for $1,073,500.00; that all of same was paid into State Treasury.
4. That the judgment ordered the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company to pay all costs including the receiver's fees; and that the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company did pay all costs including the receiver's fees.

STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TRAVIS.

I, George H. Templin, District Clerk of Travis County, hereby certify that: Senator Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls, Texas, was appointed Receiver in only one case, to-wit:

Cause No. 52748, styled State of Texas vs. Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, et al. This was the case in which Attorney General James V. Allred recovered a cash judgment totalling $1,073,500.00, all of which was paid into the State Treasury as per the certificate of the State Treasurer.

The Court's judgment specifically provided that all costs including Receiver's fees should be paid by the defendant, Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, which was done.

The Court's judgment further directed that after the payment of the State's judgment for a total of $1,073,500.00 and all costs, including Receiver's fees by the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company, then the Receivers should turn over to the Mid-Kansas Company all property involved, including any balance of money on hand in the hands of the Receivers, which was done according to the Receivers' report on file in this court. According to the Receivers' report the balance on hand, to-wit: $139.95, was paid over to the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company according to the Court's judgment and no part of it was due or paid to the State because the State had already been paid the total amount of its judgment, to-wit: $1,073,500.00.

There was no other judgment rendered in favor of the State other than this judgment for $1,073,500.00.

Witness my hand and seal of office this 13th day of July, 1934.

(SIGNED) GEO. H. TEMPLIN, District Clerk, Travis County, Texas. By Carl Edw. Bock, Deputy.

(SEAL) July 5, 1934.

I, E. B. Barnes, Acting Treasurer of the State of Texas, do hereby officially certify as follows:

1. That on the 26th day of Sept. 1933, Attorney General James V. Allred paid into the State Treasury of the State of Texas to the credit of the Permanent School Fund the sum of $1,073,500.00 in cash, same being the amount of the judgment recovered by the State of Texas against the Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company on the 23rd day of September, 1933, in Cause No. 52,748, styled State of Texas vs. Mid-Kansas Oil & Gas Company.

2. That the entire $1,073,500.00 was credited to the permanent school fund and no other disbursement of any kind or character has been made therefrom. To certify which witness my official name and the seal of the State of Texas at Austin, this 5th day of July, 1934.

(Signed) E. B. BARNES, Acting Treasurer of the State of Texas.

(SEAL)

Concerning MR. LOFTIN

Since State Senator Ben G. Oneal, who has made this district, a good State Senator, and is now running for a second term, and since on last Saturday afternoon, Ruben Loftin, another candidate for this same office, sent a speaker here, who indulged in considerable mudslinging against Senator Oneal, now the friends of Senator Oneal wish to ask Ruben Loftin, who has already served three terms in the Texas House of Representatives and was defeated for a fourth term, and who was defeated for even a first term as State Senator, the following questions: and since he (Loftin) caused a lot of things to be brought up at the last minute, it is just as fair for him to answer these things at the last minute, as it was for him to jump up charges against Sen. Oneal at the last minute:

1. When Ruben Loftin was a member of the House of Representatives, why did he vote to give back the State taxes of Cameron and Hidalgo Counties for a period of twenty-five years, thus taking from the State Treasury more than a million dollars? These counties are in the rich orange and grapefruit section of the Rio Grande Valley, where land has sold for $500.00 an acre. The droughts that we have here are just as bad as the floods they have there. Yet Loftin voted to give them back their State taxes and never lifted his finger toward the same kind of tax relief for this part of Texas.

2. In the 38th Legislature, why was he "Absent—Unexcused" from 208 roll calls, in a session lasting only 65 days?

3. In the 39th Legislature, why was he "Absent—Unexcused" from 439 roll calls in a session lasting only 66 days? Is this the kind of a man you want to send to Austin to represent you in the State Senate?

4. Why is it he makes such golden promises now as to what he will do if elected a member of the State lawmaking body again? He did not perform so well when he was a member before. And after all performance is what counts, not promises.

Gas Tax Evader Is Given Sentence in Tex. Penitentiary

Austin, Tex., July 24.—Fewer gasoline bootleggers and more automobiles combined to boost state revenues from the gasoline tax for the first half of 1934 $2,500,000 above the same period last year, the Texas Good Roads Association reported today.

This extra income will add $625,000 to the state common school fund, $625,000 to refund county bonds and $1,250,000 to the highway fund.

Comptroller George H. Sheppard, scanning the reports of his 60-man field "army" provided by the 1933 law, reported an increase of $445,261 in gas tax collections for May, his total collections for that month exceeding $3,000,000.

The comptroller predicted an even larger gain for June, totals for which are not yet complete. He also hailed a resounding court victory for the state last week in a test case on gas tax enforcement.

In that case, the head of a refinery was convicted in Travis County district court of filing false reports on motor fuel sales, and sentenced by a jury to the maximum of two years in the penitentiary. He appealed. While numerous operators have been fined under the law, this was the first prison sentence yet meted out for tax evasion, and the comptroller feels it will be a deterrent to prospective violators.

As another factor in the gas tax gains, the road association pointed to the fact that 94,952 more motor vehicles had been licensed in Texas up to July 1 than were registered on the same date last year.

Adding a minute part of a rare metal, rubidium, to mercury used in mercury lamps has resulted in the development of a lamp whose light approximates sunlight.

Constructed with a continuous slot that makes it possible to bring the flame closer to the cooking vessel, a new round gas burner is said to have a high efficiency.

ORDER OF ELECTION

The State of Texas, County of Foard.

Whereas, a petition signed by the required number of qualified voters and property tax payers residing in Commissioners' Precinct No. 2, as that political subdivision in Foard County, Texas, is fully described in Volume 4, at pages 180 to 200, both inclusive of the Commissioners' Court Minutes of Foard County, Texas, requesting that an election be had in said political sub-division to determine whether the Commissioners' Court by virtue of Article VIII, Section IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas, and Article 6790 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, shall or shall not levy, assess and collect a Special Road Tax of Fifteen Cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of all taxable property situated in said Commissioners' Precinct No. 2, Foard County, Texas:

Therefore, I, Vance Swain, County Judge in and for Foard County, Texas, by virtue of the authority vested in me by law do hereby order that an election be held on the 17th day of August, A. D. 1934, at the several voting boxes in said political sub-division for the purpose of determining whether the Commissioners' Court shall or shall not cause to be levied, assessed and collected a Special Road Tax of Fifteen cents on the One Hundred Dollars valuation of all taxable property situated in said political sub-division; that said Election shall be held in conformity with the laws pertaining to general elections in so far as they are applicable.

No person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he or she is a qualified voter under the constitution and laws of the State of Texas and is a property tax payer residing in said political sub-division. All votes of such election shall be by ballot, and the voters desiring to vote for the assessing, levying and collecting said fifteen cent road tax shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "FOR the assessment, levy and collection of said tax," and those opposed to the assessing, levying and collecting said fifteen cent road tax shall have written or printed on their ballots the words "AGAINST the assessment, levy and collection of said tax."

Public notice of this order shall be given for at least twenty days before the date of such election by publication thereof in the Foard County News, a newspaper

THE BOOK

... the first line of which reads, "The Holy Bible," and which contains Four Great Treasures ...

by BRUCE BARTON

A MASTER GATHERS PUPILS

To all the temptations Jesus answered, "Get thee behind me, Satan," and He emerged from the wilderness with a clear-cut picture of His mission and His program. He saw very quickly that He could not adopt John's methods. John was an ascetic, a reformer, a denouncer. Jesus was fond of people, loved social life and liked to be in a crowd. John said, "Flee from the wrath to come." Jesus said, "God is your Father, and has made the world as a happy place for His children." The two messages were complementary, but, while the friendship of the cousins was firm and their respect for each other deep and true, they were utterly unlike in personality. Each must speak the truth as he saw it and in his own chosen way.

Bruce Barton

It was an age when philosophers in cities like Athens and religious teachers in Palestine moved about out-of-doors and gathered as they went.

It is interesting to remember that the name by which Jesus most liked to be called was "Master," not a master of servants but a master of pupils, a schoolmaster. And the name He gave to His associates, "disciples," means simply "pupils."

The story of the way in which He gathered these men is full of interest. He seemed to have no studied method. "As Jesus passed by" He called one and another, saying, "Follow me," and the man who was called left his fishing, or whatever his work might be, and followed instantly.

The significant thing to remember is His amazing faith in plain ordinary folk. He did not look over the Blue Book or the Directory of Directories, saying to Himself, "This is the most important mission that any one ever undertook; I must have the very best and ablest assistants." On the contrary, it was almost as though He said, "If I can pick up about a dozen honest chaps who are physically strong enough to stand hardships and simple enough to let their faith carry them beyond intellectual doubts, I can trust this message of mine to their keeping and feel sure that it will never die out."

That supreme confidence in common humanity sets Jesus apart from most other leaders who have attempted large things, and the magnificent way in which His faith was justified is one of the finest proofs of His divinity.

It will be worth while to look briefly at these pupils of His. How many of us know anything at all about them, or could even write a list of their names? The first two of the permanent disciples were John, the son of Zebedee (with whom was afterward associated his brother, James), and Andrew. Andrew was apparently the sort of man who likes to discover good things and then tell them to a brother or to some one else with more initiative than himself. That is the fate of many of the world's most useful characters.

Witness my hand and official Seal this 21th day of July, A. D. 1934.

CHURCHES

Christian Science

Sunday, 11 a. m. Subject for Sunday, July 29, 1934. Subject: "Truth."

Sunday School at 9:45. Reading Room open Monday, Thursday and Saturday 2 to 5 p. m.

Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Methodist Church

At the church Sunday the revival meeting will begin at 11 and in the evening we will have "all out of doors" for our meeting place with the tabernacle for the preacher and choir. It surely will not be necessary to have to urge the members to attend, but we want to stress the necessity of every member giving personal invitations to friends and bringing those who have no way to come. May you dedicate your ears to the service of the Lord in this meeting. Will you not come up to the help of the Lord? Please do not sit up so late awaiting election returns that you will be unfit to attend Sunday morning. This is one way of breaking the Sabbath. Last Sunday saw an increase in attendance and good music furnished by the men's class. Two hundred and fifty will not be too many for Sunday. Such a start will be inspiring to all. Rev. Hubert Thomson will be the evangelist and Bob Watkins and wife, singer and accompanist. GEO. E. TURRENTINE.

First Baptist Church

9:45—Sunday School, 11:00, Sermon—"How Great is Jesus Christ?" 7:30—Training Services. Night services will be dismissed for the Methodist revival. W. M. U. and Sunbeams meet Monday at 4 p. m. Come to church Sunday. O. L. SAVAGE.

Truscott-Foard City Methodist Church

There will be no preaching services at Truscott Methodist Church Fifth Sunday in July on account of the Baptist revival being on at Truscott.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock a. m. at Truscott each Sunday morning. S. E. Mills, Supt. If you are not attending Sunday school elsewhere you are cordially invited to our Church where we have classes and departments for every age and group. You will find a very hearty welcome here.

The Foard City Methodist Church begins a two weeks' revival Sunday morning, Aug. 5th. Rev. Marvin Brotherton of Margaret will assist the pastor, O. C. Stapleton, in this meeting. The public is very cordially invited to all these services.

We expect to have good music and good singing in these services. Rev. R. A. Stewart, presiding elder of the Vernon district, will be at Foard City the second Sunday in August to preach for us at 11 o'clock a. m. Dinner will be served at the church at noon and quarterly conference will be held soon after lunch.

This is the third quarterly conference for the church in 1934. All church officials, including stewards, trustees, recording steward, district steward, Sunday school superintendents, president of Epworth League and presidents of missionary societies are urged to be present at this quarterly conference. The Family DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

DANGEROUS ERRORS

This week I observed a circumstance that impressed me profoundly and which I deem worth passing along to you.

A young man had been complaining with "a pain in his side" which he attributed to lifting a heavy object of some kind; it was a deep, ed pain, rather low down in the right flank. He kept on with his ties about the farm, and was annoyed a week or more. He noticed pain getting more pronounced, and spoke of tending to his mother about a bad taste in his mouth—and constipation—led the mother to family diagnosis—he was "bilious;" "his liver was torpid," as was common with him at times. There was no fever apparent, and he remained up and around, until—

They administered a full dose of liver pills—the sort that has failed. These acted with violence, and the boy went to bed with alarming symptoms! The family physician was called, who saw the serious nature of the trouble—appendicitis with abscess! The boy cathartic all but killed the young man!

He was hurried away to a hospital in the big city, where the facilities for operation were ample. The surgeons found a ruptured abscess of the appendix, with peritonitis already set up. The giving of an irritating physic was a most dangerous thing to do, under the circumstances.

They saved his life, but it was a close call. It took four times as much hospital attention, including several transfusions of blood, to keep the pulses going.

I have written several letters on this subject, and I hope this fact or warning is not superfluous; NEVER give a harsh purgative in case of abdominal pain.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

by Charles E. Dunn

Micaiah Speaks the Truth.

Lesson for July 29th. 1 Kings 22.

Golden Text: 1 Kings 22:14.

This is a day of international conferences. It is the custom, in some quarters, to disparage such gatherings because they seem to accomplish so little. It must be remembered, however, that the very fact that nations assemble for purposes of consultation is, in itself, a great gain. And the more they get together the more the technique of their negotiations is improved.

Now the lesson admits us into the presence of two ancient monarchs engaged in consultation. Here we have an early example of international cooperation. It is all the more illuminating because the two men were opposites in character. One of them, Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, was a good ruler who carried out the religious reforms of his high-minded father, Asa. The other was Ahab, one of the worst of the kings of Israel despite his energy and courage.

Was this alliance an evil? The apostles of isolation would answer "Yes! Samaria, with its corrupt court, was no place for a statesman with the decent impulses of Jehoshaphat." And they would continue, in the same strain, to argue against the entrance of the United States into the world Court or the League of Nations.

It seems clear, however, that the agreement between the two kingdoms was fundamentally good. It certainly ended the long hostility between them. To be sure, the joint military adventure against Syria came to a sad ending at the battle of Ramoth-gilead. The candid Micaiah spoke the blunt truth in foretelling this disaster to Ahab's lying prophets. Micaiah is refreshing in his honest proclamation of doom. But the loss of a battle does not invalidate the principle of united effort. Uncle Sam rightfully placed his tremendous resources at the disposal of the Allies in 1917 even though he thereby contracted the worst head-ache he has ever had. We must learn to be internationally-minded despite every risk.

Christian Science Service

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 29.

The Golden Text is: "Lead me thy truth, and teach me: for the art the God of my salvation; thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:5.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God of truth and without iniquity; just and right is he" (Deuteronomy 32:4.)

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth is the intelligence of the mortal mind. Error is the so-called intelligence of mortal mind. Truth is the light which dispels error. As mortals begin to understand Spirit, they give up the belief that there is any true existence apart from God" (page 282-283.)

SYNOPSIS—Three weeks after a team colored roadster had been wrecked in the sea at the foot of a cliff, a girl calling herself Anne Cushing appears at the right town Marston. She has eight, tight unsewn, a ranch loaf thirty miles away. Barry Duane, her nearest neighbor and man, Boone Petry procure a car, loaded down with supplies, they start across the desert. Marston her reticence has raised suspicion.

The water in her pitcher was splashed in it vigorously, the foot still tapping at odd moments, but an intermittently marked time, but a disapprovingly marked time. Now why she have to do that silly trick? Why she any sense at all? Why anything which might start shoddy, even Martha, wondering where she had come from and that she had been before she had stepped off the two-thirty-eight at Marston? She must be the more careful.

Dressing was a swift matter in these days. Insinuating odors of soap and coffee were creeping in, she went out of doors first. Over by the horse corral she heard a sudden series of thumps, and dancing hoofs on hard ground. Rounding the corner of the corral she caught sight of Barry Duane. The dancing sounds came from the prettiest pinto Anne had ever seen, penned in the corral and being playful rushes at the gate. On the ground beside Duane was a saddle.

"Barry Duane, what are you doing?" "Oh, hello!" He turned with a grin. "Do you mind having a pinto down and ask me to exercise him occasionally, name's Comet. It's a great ride, country around here. I know he's pretty good trails."

Her eyes shone. She tried to say, "But you mustn't do such things. It's awfully good of you to want to, but I really can't." "What's the matter with them?" "Miss Anne's the matter. Miss Bagley, she can't get over the shock of findin' that there wasn't any tag on her coat, and Miss Caswell at the post-office, she says it's awful queer that Miss Cushing never gets letters from home like other folks."

"Well," said Martha sharply, "what did you tell her?" "What could I tell her?" Petry scratched a worried head. Her beam a lady, I couldn't very well cram her remarks down her throat, could I?"

"No," said Martha dryly. "Bein' a man, you wouldn't know how. Now see here, Boone Petry the next time you hear any such interesting conversation goin' on, just slide up and tell 'em you know for certain, only you wouldn't tell anybody but them, that Miss Anne hasn't any folks except cousins she's never seen, and she run away because her guardian wanted her to marry a rich old rake that she hated."

Petry grinned. "All right, Martha, just as you say." Martha's mouth quirked briefly and sobered again. "Look here, do you suppose Barry's heard any of this?" "Don't believe so. If anybody'd ever said it to him, he'd have sailed in and took 'em apart."

Martha looked worried. "No," she said grimly, "he wouldn't take 'em apart. He'd just turn 'em mad and freeze 'em until they cracked. And he'd rage inside all the way home, because he's awful fond of Miss Anne."

Inside of the house a voice was singing, a lilting soprano. Petry listened for a moment, eased the box softly to the table and tipped out again. Anne was restless. She was alone, for Martha had gone to Marston to spend the day, leaving shortly after breakfast with Petry. At first it had been rather fun. She had roamed from the house to the creek and back to the house again, but little by little things that she wanted to forget had crept in.

gion seemed to make him angry. If you need more help, let your neighbors take a hand. Or if you won't do that, Tranquillo has a nephew who will come by the day, and I'll see that he doesn't overcharge you. I hate the idea of your grubbing in the fields. It doesn't fit you at all.

"I'm a hard-working woman, you know, not a princess in an ivory tower." "You'd make a better princess than anyone I know."

She caught a dark flicker in his eyes. A warning little bell chimed somewhere in her head. Barry Duane was not the kind who made careless love.

The days ran by as swiftly as water slipping over a dam. There was still plenty of work to be done, but the first furious onslaught was over. Things were shaping up, indoors and out.

Every morning Anne ran out to look at the new green of her alfalfa fields. There were hours in the kitchen garden or out on the porch. Evenings she often sat with pencil and paper and thoughtfully puckered brow, trying to figure profits and losses, the cost of stock and what she ought to do next year.

Barry was looking after some neglected work on his own ranch, but every few days he found an excuse to stop at Trail's End. The obliging Boone Petry detoured to Trail's End every time he drove in to Marston and occasionally when he didn't. Martha developed an uncanny presence in guessing when Petry was due and piling up errands and odd jobs for him.

They were out on the steps one day when Petry drove up, the old car piled with supplies. "There's your package from the mail order house, Miss Anne, and here's a letter for Martha. No letters for you or me. Shall I take the groceries around back, Martha?"

He usually walked straight through the front door to the kitchen, as did everybody else, but today he flickered an eyelid at Martha and tramped around to the back door. Martha followed him.

"Look here, Martha, some of those old hens in Marston are talkin'!" "What's the matter with them?" "Miss Anne's the matter. Miss Bagley, she can't get over the shock of findin' that there wasn't any tag on her coat, and Miss Caswell at the post-office, she says it's awful queer that Miss Cushing never gets letters from home like other folks."

"Well," said Martha sharply, "what did you tell her?" "What could I tell her?" Petry scratched a worried head. Her beam a lady, I couldn't very well cram her remarks down her throat, could I?"

"No," said Martha dryly. "Bein' a man, you wouldn't know how. Now see here, Boone Petry the next time you hear any such interesting conversation goin' on, just slide up and tell 'em you know for certain, only you wouldn't tell anybody but them, that Miss Anne hasn't any folks except cousins she's never seen, and she run away because her guardian wanted her to marry a rich old rake that she hated."

Inside of the house a voice was singing, a lilting soprano. Petry listened for a moment, eased the box softly to the table and tipped out again. Anne was restless. She was alone, for Martha had gone to Marston to spend the day, leaving shortly after breakfast with Petry. At first it had been rather fun. She had roamed from the house to the creek and back to the house again, but little by little things that she wanted to forget had crept in.

ed on their first ride together. For over an hour she rode slowly. Then she reined in and dismounted. Comet watched her with head, unblinking eyes as she climbed out to a boulder of red sandstone. It made a natural seat.

For a long time she sat there. The sun's rays were slanting from the west. Little by little the warmth and light were fading from her face again. She jumped up abruptly. She suddenly realized how low that sun was. "Comet!" she called. "Come, boy, we're going home."

No answering whinny came to her call. There was no sign of the pinto. Anne stood very still for a moment, telling herself that she wasn't scared. It was her own fault; she ought to have "tied him to the ground," as Petry called it. She gave an anxious glance at those slanting rays and turned quickly on her way.

A swaying of bushes on a lower slope caught her eye, and then in an open space there was a flash of glossy piebald flanks. She called with all the strength of healthy young lungs. The pinto caught the sound, looked back and hesitated. She was within a hundred feet of him when he frisked capriciously, broke into an easy canter and stopped at a safer distance.

She could have wept with vexation. More slowly this time, Anne followed him with coaxing voice and outstretched hand. This was a nice game, and Comet was feeling childish and gay. He let her come quite near and then wheeled and cantered off again.

When she came to the next open space, there was no sign of the pinto. She stopped and called again. There was no sound. The graceless Comet had gone light-heartedly about his own business, and she must get back to the trail and make her long way home.

The trail? The thought startled her. She made a turn, blankly strange, and came suddenly on a wall of rock. It rose sheer, two hundred feet or more, directly in her path. She turned and looked back uncertainly, wondering where the first wrong turning had been. Back of her was the blank wall of cliff, and ahead and on both sides stretched an endless reiteration of trees and undergrowth and rocks in bewildering confusion.

There was no trail. She was lost. Barry lounged comfortably in a big chair and wondered why Petry was so late. He had been out in the blazing Junipero all day, but he knew that Petry had convoyed Martha Larrabee in to Marston to spend the day, and the efficient Martha would not have allowed any such late returning to her own duties. Probably the old rascal had invited himself to supper at Trail's End.

Barry was thinking of a shabby little ranch house in a small valley, where a girl was gallantly tackling a man's job. It was a queer occupation for a girl like Anne Cushing to choose. Usually girls as pretty and dainty as Anne wanted anything that kept them manicured and permanently waved.

For a moment the fading sunset lights played a curious trick on him. He saw a shadowy figure in the chair opposite him, with luminous eyes and a curved mouth that smiled at him. He was always thinking of Anne. And he had known her only a few short weeks.

Steps came from the rear, heavy and hurried, and Petry's head appeared. "Ain't Miss Anne here?" "No." Surprise turned quickly to apprehension. "What's the matter?" "I dunno exactly." Petry looked increasingly uneasy. "You see, I brought Martha home, but Miss Anne, she'd gone out somewhere for a ride. That was two hours ago. Of course they ain't any reason why she shouldn't go off for a ride and come home late, but it kinda bothered me."

SHE LOST FAT
High Blood Pressure
Here's Today's Live News For Fat Women—And Men, Too Read It—Please.
"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly a year for my health, and for high blood pressure and rheumatism and it helped both. My blood pressure was as high as 290 when I started to take Kruschen. I weighed 255 and now I weigh 214, that is losing 41 lbs. in about nine months and I feel fine. Wouldn't go without Kruschen Salts in the house." Mrs. W. Eckhoff, Saginaw, Mich.
Besides melting away ugly, excess fat Kruschen constantly keeps the bowels regular and free from waste that is always apt to poison the system.
Fat folks should give Kruschen a month's trial—it never disappoints—you'll feel so much better after taking one inexpensive jar which you can get at any drug-store in the world—keeps you cooler in hot weather.

CONSUMERS SHARE PROCESSING TAX PROPORTIONATELY
That processing taxes on farm products included in the Agricultural Adjustment program are collected at the point of processing does not mean that the tax falls disproportionately on states where manufacturing plants are concentrated. Tax collections are heaviest in the large processing centers but the tax is spread out as a part of the price of the product paid by consumers regardless of the location of the plant where the tax is collected.

About 19 per cent of the total wheat processing tax has been collected in Minnesota but Minnesota consumers pay no more than their share of the processing tax. Minneapolis is an important milling center and a large share of the tax, eventually shared by bread buyers throughout the country, is collected at that point. Similarly, Chicago is a processing center for hogs. Up to June 1 of this year, nearly 22 million dollars in processing taxes were collected in Illinois out of a total of 47 million dollars in hog taxes collected. North Carolina is a processing center for textiles and tobacco, so more than 19 million of the total processing tax of 128 million dollars on cotton, and nearly four million of the total of 14 million dollars collected in tobacco processing taxes were collected in that state.

Processing taxes, shared proportionately by consumers over the entire country, add but a small fraction to the retail price, but bring a large per centage increase to the farmer. For instance in the price of a loaf of bread that is attributable to the processing tax is only half a cent but the price for wheat including rental payment that is received by wheat farmers who signed contracts has tripled. The cotton tax raises the price of a shirt only a nickel but, as a result of the tax, the price received by the cooperating cotton farmer has more than doubled.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION
The United States Civil Service Commission has announced open competitive examinations as follows:

Chief engineering draftsman, $2,600; principal engineering draftsman, $2,300; senior engineering draftsman, $2,000, and engineering draftsman, $1,800 a year, for work on ships. Optional branches are (1) ship piping, (2) ship ventilation, (3) marine engines and boilers, and (4) electrical (ship). Closing date, August 10, 1934.

The salaries named are subject to a deduction of not to exceed 5 per cent during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, as a measure of economy, and also to a deduction of 3 1/2 per cent toward a retirement annuity.

All States except Iowa, Vermont, Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia have received less than their quota of appointments in the apportioned departmental service in Washington, D. C.

Full information may be obtained from the Secretary of the United States Civil Service Board of Examiners at the post office or customhouse in any city, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Popularity Contest At Rialto Aug. 1st

A "popularity contest" will be conducted at the Rialto Theatre on Wednesday evening, Aug. 1, in which a number of Crowell firms will have local girls representing them. The public is invited to come and help pick the most popular girl in this group.

The contest will be judged by popular applause, with three judges to decide who receives the greatest applause. Those in the group will be eliminated down to four and one from that number will be judged "Miss Crowell." First, second and third prizes will be given.

There will be a parade in Crowell Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock as an advance feature of the contest. R. M. Davis is manager of the contest. Mrs. Davis will be mistress of ceremonies. "Glamour," with Constance Cummings, will be shown on the screen.

ROTARY LUNCHEON

A. F. Wright was in charge of an interesting program at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday which was attended by all local members, two visiting Rotarians, A. T. Chaney and E. A. Sanders of Quanah, and F. L. Renels, Jr., of Crowell. Hubert Brown came into the club as a new member and was welcomed in a short talk by Eli Smith.

Brief and humorous biographical sketches of several members were given by H. E. Ferguson, O. L. Savage, who returned Saturday from the Red Cross Institute in Utah, discussed first aid work and plans for promoting first aid teaching here.

Mrs. O. O. Hollingsworth and son, Woodrow, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hollingsworth and baby left Sunday for a visit with relatives in Oklahoma City and Chickasha.

LOCAL PEOPLE TO HAVE FIRST AID TRAINING

A course of "first aid" instruction will be started within the near future in Crowell by Rev. O. L. Savage, who returned last Saturday from Como Springs, near Morgan, Utah, where he attended the Red Cross Institute, lasting ten days from July 8 to July 18.

He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Savage and Rev. and Mrs. Paul J. Merrill and son, Rev. Merrill, who divides time as pastor of the Henrietta and Crowell Christian churches, represented Henrietta at the institute. The party left Crowell on the night of July 1.

Both men will provide their communities with the benefits of the information that they gained at the institute. Arrangements have been made for Rev. Savage to conduct a course of first aid training in the local school system this fall. It is also planned to organize an adult class soon which will receive first aid instruction from Rev. Savage.

A number of local organizations co-operated in a financial way in sending a representative from Crowell to this institute. While many valuable courses were offered at the institute, Rev. Savage and Rev. Merrill concentrated their efforts on first aid and life-saving.

The purpose of first aid training is to prevent accidents and to equip individuals with sufficient knowledge to determine the nature and extent of an injury. This does not mean that the first aider is expected to make a complete and accurate diagnosis, such as the physician makes, but he should be able to come to some decision as to the nature and possible extent of the injury.

Another purpose is to train the first aider to do the proper thing. Likewise, knowing what not to do is equally important.

The American Red Cross First Aid Text Book, from which Rev. Savage will teach, includes the following: first aid, its need and use; anatomy and physiology of the body; dressings and bandages; wounds; shock; wounds requiring additional consideration; artificial respiration; injuries due to heat and cold; injuries to bones, joints and muscles; poisons; unconsciousness; common emergencies; transportation, and first aid kits.

The importance of first aid instruction cannot be overestimated. Each year accidents cost the American public $2,700,000,000.00, which is $200,000,000.00 more than this nation spends annually on every form of education.

Auto accidents have also cost the lives of more American people than this nation has lost in all wars in which it has participated. The lives of thousands of these auto accident victims could have been saved through proper first aid treatment.

CEMETERY WATER

City water is now available at the Crowell Cemetery, having been turned into the line that was recently completed from Crowell to the cemetery.

Sanitary Program To Be Resumed in Foard Co. at Once

A sanitation program for the construction of sanitary pit type toilets, previously carried on under the CKA, is starting again. It will now be possible for the individuals of the county to have the advantage of free labor in the construction of their new toilets.

The only expense necessary is that of the material used which usually amounts to around $5.50, exclusive of the house. Quite often, the individual can either reconstruct or utilize the old house as is, without extra cost.

Everyone who had their orders in previously and were not taken care of, and, also, anyone who is interested will please get in touch with the County Relief Office at Crowell. Be sure that you have the correct address at which the unit is to be installed.

This office is trying to give every one in the county the advantage of this program and it will be necessary that its staff hear from those interested immediately.

SILGHTLY INJURED

Gerald Knox's face was severely skinned and a few bruises suffered about his body as the result of his first attempt to drive a motorcycle Saturday night.

FARM NEWS ITEMS By the County Agent

Foard County has made application to the Federal Government to be placed in the emergency division. Drouth conditions in the western part of the county have become very serious, due to the fact that stock water is exhausted and the grass on many of the small farms and ranches is gone. Efforts to get the classification of Emergency Relief extended to this county has not succeeded, but the officials and interested farmers and stockmen are still making efforts and it is thought that the county may be certified to most any date.

Late Feed May Be Planted

In the event that rain should fall within the next few days or weeks, we will have time to grow lots of feed in the county, and especially roughage. Red Top sorghum, feterita, millet and in fact many of the other feeds will have time to make at least plenty of roughage if sufficient rain should come by August 15th.

Fall Wheat for Pasture

Due to the present shortage of feed, every farm in the county that is in any way adapted to growing wheat, should have their land prepared and ready to sow in order that the early pasture may be had. Some of the most prosperous years that this county has ever had partially resulted from the excellent wheat pasture that was available for fattening livestock. In reference to early sowing, it might be had judgment to sow the entire crop early as real early wheat does not always produce the most grain, but enough acreage for pasture, at least for the farm livestock, should be a good investment this fall and winter.

Alfalfa

Alfalfa seedings should not be neglected this fall. There are many acres in the county that are adapted to alfalfa and this fall may be the best time in history to get a stand. At least it would be a good bet to have some land well prepared and some seed ready to sow from the latter part of August to the 15th of September. In some localities, alfalfa has been successfully grown in rows. This method is worth investigating, where the land is not especially well adapted to alfalfa.

AAA Farm Meetings

Every community in the county is conducting farm meetings for the purpose of studying the farm administration programs. These organizations have been formed by the communities and will take up the study of current problems relating not only to the Adjustment programs, but to all problems of interest to the community. The Farm Demonstration Council which is composed of the members of the county committees assisted by the community committees will assist in the various meetings.

ALTUS BEATEN IN GOLF MATCH WITH CROWELL

Crowell upset the dope in the Texas-Oklahoma Golf Ass'n. Sunday afternoon by defeating Altus 13 to 11 in a golf match on the Altus course.

As a result of the victory, Crowell is now in a tie for fourth place with Electra. This tie will be broken when the two clubs meet in the match on the local course on August 5.

Frederick won over Vernon Sunday, 17 to 3, and is in first place in the standing. Paducah's victory over Electra and Altus' loss to Crowell places these two teams in a tie for second place. Vernon is in the cellar position.

Scotch Golf Tourney Won by Oswald and Kincaid Last Week

The annual Scotch golf tournament of the local country club was won last Friday by the team composed of Bob Oswald, Jr., and Merl Kincaid who defeated Alton Bell and R. J. Roberts in the final match.

On their march to victory, Kincaid and Oswald defeated Alva Spencer and Pete Bell in the first round and then disposed of Eli Smith and R. D. Oswald, Sr., in the second round. In the semi-finals they beat T. S. Haney and Oscar Boman.

In reaching the final match Bell and Roberts won over Raymond Burrow and Bill Elliott in the first round; Jack Thomas and Vern Walden in the second, and Grady Magee and Tanner Billington in the semi-finals.

Thirty local golfers participated in the tournament this year. Last year's Scotch tourney was won by M. L. Hughton and Tom Reeder, Jr., who defeated Ernest Spears and Dow Miller.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shelton, R. E. Sparks, Mrs. W. J. Sparks and Mrs. Gladys Ballard and son, R. L., attended the funeral of Roy Woods in Abilene Friday afternoon. He was killed in an automobile accident near Anson Thursday morning. Mr. Woods was a nephew of Mrs. Shelton and Mr. Sparks. He was 33 years of age and a former resident of this county. He is survived by his widow and six children.

RECEIVES DEATH MESSAGE

Mrs. G. Y. Carroll received a telegram last Sunday that her father, R. C. McDonald, 79, had died the previous day at the home of a son in Atlanta, Ga. The deceased's home was in Reidsville, N. C. where Mrs. Carroll and her family visited him last summer. Mr. McDonald had visited here in 1929. Sixteen of the 18 children born to him survive.

An honest confession may be good for the soul, but it doesn't help one's reputation.

Caravan Here From Wellington to Boost Small for Governor

About fifty citizens of Wellington, traveling in twelve automobiles, visited Crowell last Thursday afternoon in the interest of Clint Small of Amarillo, candidate for governor of Texas.

The delegation was accompanied by a band. Following a brief concert, R. H. Templeton, prominent attorney of Wellington and a pioneer school teacher in Crowell, spoke about the candidacy of Mr. Small, a former resident of Wellington.

LEADS DISTRICT

Jack McGinnis, salesman for the Maytag Crowell Company, Maytag dealers for this county, lead the district for the sale of Maytag washing machines during the month of June. The number of machines sold by Mr. McGinnis during this period was eleven. The district includes thirteen counties in this section of the state. The award given Mr. McGinnis for this excellent record was a silver Maytag emblem.

Banquet Attended By Over 40 Tues

About forty men attended banquet of the local Farmers Business Men's Association (F. B. M. A.) that was Tuesday night at the DeLuxe

John Rasor, president, announced the following committees: program for August Tuesday—Geo. D. Self, Dave S. and H. K. Edwards; program for next banquet—Rev. O. L. Savage and A. F. Wright; ticket for next banquet—W. F. Kincaid and R. R. Magee.

Eli Smith was in charge of program which was featured by numbers by "Eck" Robertson, nationally famous fiddler, who Jim and Bill Ewing and L. V. Robertson as accompanists on guitar and banjo.

The principal address of the evening was given by Rev. O. L. Savage, who discussed first aid knowledge that he gained at the Cross Institute in Utah and plans for promoting this work here.

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car. We like sales, but fair-dealing and the confidence of our customers are desirable too.

For one thing, we refuse to poison any one's mind against another make of car. We know what our car is and what it will do, and we are ready to tell you about that. But to imply defects in another car is not our business.

We have done our utmost to encourage intelligent buying of motor cars by showing purchasers how to protect their own interests. All that a good producer asks is a customer who knows quality when he sees it. An intelligent purchaser will speedily conclude that only a bad product requires bad sales methods.

We refuse to keep dinning in your ears that the Ford V-8 is the best, most economical, lowest priced car. That is claimed for several cars. Obviously it cannot be true of all. There comes a point where claims and adjectives and all advertising hysteria disappears in its own fog. Personally, I prefer facts.

We say the Ford V-8 is the best car we have ever made.

We say that our 8-cylinder car is as economical to operate as any lower number of cylinders.

We say that we have always been known as the makers of good cars and that the many good, well-balanced qualities of our present car place it at the head of our line to date.

Any one wishing to do business with us on these principles will find our word and the quality of our product to be A-1. What we say about economy, operation and durability will stand good anywhere.
