RAIN CLOUDS BRING SAND TO CROWELL

Precipitation in Many Parts of County; Wind at Quanah

Clouds which caused many Crowell people to hurry home Tuesday night to pull down windows and close doors, to hunt storm cellars, and to protect rain, hail, and sleet, turned out to be a sand storm to be followed with only about one-tenth of an inch of rain.

Rains were reported at Quanah, the western part of Foard County, and parts of Knox County, but a measurable amount of the precipitation fell in Crowell or at City Lake, which has but one or two more days' supply of water at the most.

A half-inch rain fell at Quanah, about two inches fell from a mile or two south of Quanah to a mile or two south of Pease River, and precipitation ranging from half an inch to three inches fell in the Indian, Black and Good Creek communities.

Three inches of rain were measured several miles west of Truscott and on Antelope Flat, but no rain fell at Truscott. Several houses were damaged considerably by hard winds in the Quanah territory.

Rain in South Texas

Extensive rains that have caused loss of lives and property have been in the southern parts of the state. San Antonio, Austin, Laredo, Eagle Pass and surrounding territory have reported unusually heavy rains.

Twelve persons had been reported drowned and five others missing in flood waters in South Texas Wednesday.

GAS PLANT TO PIPE DRY FUEL TO UTILITIES

New Line to Be Rushed To Completion in Two Months

A long-term contract has been signed between the Texas Company and officials of the West Texas Utilities Company whereby the utilities company will secure gas fuel for operation of its Lake Palestine electric plant near Quanah from the Foard County oil and gas field of the Texas Company.

Four surveys for the line were made and the contract was agreed upon several days ago. The pipe line will extend from the McAdams-Johnson leases of the Texas Company in Foard County to the Lake Palestine plant, following the shortest possible route and will include two crossings of Pease River, thus providing an auxiliary line in case of damage by flood water.

Officials of the Texas Pipe Line Company were in Quanah last week in preparation of letting the bid to one of several applying pipe line construction companies. The expense of the new line will amount to many thousands of dollars and the project is to be speeded to completion within 60 days.

WOODRUFF IS HEARD HERE SATURDAY AT 3

Hughston Introduces Former Legislator To Listeners

Grady Woodruff of Decatur, candidate for Representative to Congress from the 13th District, spoke in Crowell Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A large crowd heard the speech in behalf of his candidacy which was broadcast over all the business district by his own loud speaking system.

Senator Woodruff was introduced by T. L. Hughston of Crowell. A large delegation accompanied Mr. Woodruff from Seymour. Among the delegation was his mother, which was a surprise to the speaker. A group of girls sang and a fiddle band played for a political rally following Mr. Woodruff's talk.

Mr. Woodruff outlined for the listening voters the platform on which he is making his Congressional campaign.

With reference to trusts and monopolies Mr. Woodruff said, "Re-vitalize and enforce the anti-trust laws; force the disintegration of uneconomic mergers, combines and monopolies, and prevent additional ones from developing; break down centralization of ownership and control over the machinery of processing and distributing necessities of life, for wider distribution of employment and profits, and for the protection of labor and the small producer and distributor."

"I favor strict regulation of public utilities in the interest of the consumer and small investor, with protection of the rights of states, through established Commissions, to regulate rates for services, both interstate and intrastate, with restrictions upon the jurisdictional powers of federal courts to interfere with such regulation."

LOCAL SCOUTS TO MAKE TRIP TO CARLSBAD

Boys to Make Tour in Truck; No Charge For Caverns

Members of the Crowell Boy Scout organization will make a three or four-day tour in August to the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, according to Henry Black, local scoutmaster.

No charge will be made for the scouts to enter the Caverns so that the only expense borne by the boys will be their portion of the actual cost of eating and transportation. The Scouts will be accompanied by the scoutmaster and Ebb Scales, member of the executive board. Arrangements for transportation have not been made definitely, but Mr. Black stated that the boys would make the trip in a truck. Benches will be made for the back of the truck for the boys to ride on.

SCREW WORM SPECIALIST TO AID COWMEN

Demonstration to Be Given; Was Here Wednesday

Harry S. Myers of Wichita Falls, who was recently appointed by the United States Department of Agriculture as supervisor of this district in the division of Screw Worm Control, was in Crowell yesterday in connection with his work here.

Ten counties, Foard, Knox, Wilbarger, Wichita, Hardeman, Archer, Clay, Montague, Cooke and Baylor, are in his district. After a survey of the district, he will begin holding meetings and giving demonstrations on this work which the department has undertaken.

"I hope to contact every rancher and farmer in the district who is interested in screw worm control and I feel that the department has a real service to offer," Mr. Myers stated.

The treatment recommended by the Bureau of Entomology is benzol 50 per cent commercial as a killer of screw worms, and pine tar oil with a specific gravity of 1.065 to 1.085 spread over the wound as a fly repellent.

Myers recently attended a short course of instruction held at the A. & M. College of Texas. All stockmen are requested by Mr. Myers to report any infestation of screw worms to the county farm agent.

FOARD VOTERS HEAR McKEE'S TALKS SATURDAY

Vernon Candidate for "Soak the Rich" Taxation

Thomas Hudson McKee of Vernon, candidate for Congress from the 13th District, addressed a group of voters Saturday afternoon at 2:15 on the west side of the square.

Loud speaking equipment allowed the speech in behalf of his candidacy for Congressman to be heard throughout the business section.

In his 45-minute speech he outlined his platform discussing the high points of it. "I favor nationalization of certain public necessities which, by their very nature, are too important to be held in control of private individuals to be exploited for private profit. By those I mean banking, credit and currency," Mr. McKee said.

"I'm like my friend Huey Long in that I favor a policy of soak the rich and share the wealth. I favor a radical tax on the large incomes and bank accounts so that the money-men will put their money into improvements and higher wages," he stated.

Regarding the agricultural program he said, "The government should guarantee a fair return to the farmer on his investment like it guarantees the railroad its legitimate profit."

"The present administration has disregarded the work and recommendations of the Civil Service Commission," he said. "It has made supposed Civil Service jobs appointive disregarding qualifications thus costing the government and tax payers hundreds of millions."

PENSION MONEY FOR AGED WILL ARRIVE TODAY

158 Applications From Foard County Are Filed

Envelopes carrying old age assistance money to the aged of Foard County are scheduled for arrival today, according to information received from the state commission. Advance information stated many of the checks would be delivered to their rightful owners July 1, but none of the money due Foard County's old persons was received yesterday.

One hundred and fifty-eight applications for old age assistance were filed in this county, according to information from district headquarters. The checks for this district, which will amount to about $100,000, were mailed out of Austin the night of June 30; and it was predicted that most of the checks would be in the hands of their rightful owners yesterday.

Those who will receive assistance in the Wichita district will average $20 each.

Orville S. Carpenter, pension director, stated it was likely all pensioners would receive their checks by today. They may be cashed at local banks.

Checks for the first payment amounted to $641,645. With the first approved list at 40,099, investigators continued their inquiry into the merit of other applicants among the 190,000 who sought the new type of government aid. Mr. Carpenter estimated that 65,000 persons would ultimately be on the approved list.

He reviewed to a large crowd the administrations of Roosevelt and Hoover, giving comparisons and contrasts of the two men, their platforms, their accomplishments and the successes of their terms of office as president of the United States.

In discussing the recent Republican convention, Mr. McFarlane charged that virtually the same platform that has always characterized the G. O. P. campaign promises had been adopted after having been written by the "Old Guard." He said that practically the same promises were made by Herbert Hoover in his campaign for president in 1928 and stated that soon after the election they were forgotten.

"I am against the numerous useless boards and bureaus of the government and have introduced legislation to eliminate them," he said with reference to the many government organizations.

Regarding the agricultural plan Mr. McFarlane said, "In 1932 at the time of Roosevelt's entrance into the White House the farmer was getting less than cost for his products. At present the price of the farmers' products are more than doubled as an average. Cotton was selling at 5 cents per pound and now it is bringing nearly 12 cents."

In discussing the recent Republican convention, Mr. McFarlane charged that virtually the same platform that has always characterized the G. O. The last water will probably be pumped from the City Lake of Crowell tomorrow, according to C. T. Schlagal, mayor.

"The city's water supply from the lake will probably be exhausted tomorrow and water from the wells is rapidly becoming scarcer," Mr. Schlagal said. "The wells are failing very rapidly."

Work was started this morning to try to obtain more water from wells, but it was not known how much the water supply could be increased.

Mr. Schlagal urges that all users of the Crowell city water use every method possible to economize with the water so that the supply may not be exhausted before more water is caught. "The condition is becoming very serious," he said, "and the people cannot be too careful not to waste it."

NO GASOLINE FOR DRUNKEN DRIVERS

There is no way for preventing automobile drivers from drinking if they are so inclined, and there is little chance of apprehending them after they have enough to make them a menace to traffic until the actual damage has been wrought. An innovation, however, in striking a preventative measure is the move that several cities throughout the country that have adopted a city ordinance prohibiting service stations from selling gasoline to drunken drivers.

In such an ordinance, the responsibility for determining intoxication is placed upon the station attendant and a fine is the penalty for any attendant who violates the ordinance. The spirit of the law is to formulate a willing co-operation among all retail gasoline dispensaries in the community, and to make it a matter of civic pride and safety as well as a law. One city operates the plan without benefit of statute at all. While such a law or agreement cannot eliminate the drunken driver, it can do much good in curtailing the practice to a minimum status. If drivers who were drinking knew that that station attendant would be compelled to call the police when he drove up for gasoline, he would soon change his habits and stick to private quarters out of his car, when inclined to drink. It is hoped that a majority of towns and cities will adopt a similar plan in the crusade to eliminate this great hazard from the streets and roadways. The risk is great enough when everyone keeps sober.

European Railways Building Stainless Steel Trains

EUROPE is adopting the light-weight, stainless steel train developed in the United States. Shown here is one of 20 two-car units being built in France for the State Railway by a licensee of the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia, which pioneered the use of stainless steel in railway construction.

The French trains are similar in basic construction to the eight Budd-built Zephyrs of the Burlington Railroad, the Flying Yankee of the Boston and Maine, and the Super Chief which is being built for the Santa Fe. Twelve two-car stainless steel trains like those of the French are being built for the Italian Railway by Piaggio and Co. in Genoa, another licensee of the American company.

BETTER CHANCES

Exceedingly good news awaits the college graduates of 1936. University departmental heads, who usually have advance information on possible jobs for senior students in their departments find more jobs are open for them than at any other time since 1931.

Agriculture, industry and business are looking for college graduates this year. Many business and industrial organizations have been faced with a gap in their personnel forces because of depression economies. As a result, not only are there four times as many requests for college graduates this year as in 1935, but the starting wage level has risen.

Whereas the top salary a young graduate could expect last year was $100 a month, compensation this year is $125 for the best positions and $100 for "average" jobs. Those that formerly paid practically nothing now offer up to $85 a month.

This represents the beginning of a foothold for youth. The absence of that foothold has been one of the great tragedies of the depression.—Iowa City, Ia., Press-Citizen.

One way to make walking a popular thing again, is to have congress pass a law prohibiting it.

Generally speaking, law suits are the most expensive kind of suits to have, and they can't be dry cleaned.

PADUCAH NINE LOSES SUNDAY TO CROWELL

Local Pitcher Allowed Only Seven Hits; Well Scattered

By driving across 14 runs in the first four innings the Crowell baseball team held the Paducah nine to 4 runs in the eighth to trounce the enemy and bring the home team's percentage back up to the .500 mark. The fray was played in Crowell Sunday afternoon.

Jack Rogers hurled for Hollingworth's lads and held Paducah to only 7 hits in the nine innings. Three of these came in the eighth at which time the visitors did their only scoring. The other four hits were well scattered.

Ellis started at the mound for Howard Powell's players but was jerked in the second inning in favor of Ledbetter who, after the rest of the second and the third innings, held the Foard boys to only one run.

In the Crowell half of the first inning Graves sent a bad hop over the shortstop's head for two bases. Ashford connected with a single. An error and a two-base hit by Duckworth and H. Green hit by a pitched ball helped to account for the three runs.

Rogers, greeting Ellis in the second inning with a home run, started a five-run rally. A couple of walks, hits by Sloan, Junell and Duckworth and Green with a pass because of getting hit again were the high points in the obtaining of the 5 runs.

Three hits, two bases on balls and an error accounted for five more runs in Crowell's half of the third. Again in the fourth Crowell pushed a tally across the plate. An error, a walk and a single by L. Green produced the run.

Both teams went scoreless until the eighth inning when, after one man went out, Paducah staged their only rally of the afternoon. Singles by James and Garrison, a two-bagger by Biddy and a dropped fly ball allowed the foreigners to score four times. The score at the end of the eighth and at the end of the game was Crowell 14 and Paducah 4. Both squads were retired with ease in the ninth innings.

Hitting honors went to Duckworth who garnered no less than three safe bingles, the first of which was good for two bases. Graves and Ashford of the Crowell nine were each good for two hits and James of Paducah was the only visitor that was capable of as many as two safeties. Rogers, local twirler, copped a four-bagger in the last of the second inning to add to a good day of pitching.

Individual scoring went to Graves who crossed the plate four of the six times he came to bat. Ashford scored three times and Sloan and Junell twice crossed pay dirt.

A somewhat depleted line-up for Paducah might have been one of the reasons for Crowell's easy victory. The Bridwell brothers and one of the Biddy boys were not on hand for the match.

Cowboy Reunion Will Open Today; Boasts Many Improvements

Stamford.—Final preparations have been completed by officials of the Texas Cowboy Reunion for the opening of its seventh annual rodeo and round-up here July 2-4. All buildings, grandstands and corral fences have received a new coat of paint. The ground of the arena has received a sani-soil treatment, a preparation to prevent dust, which is calculated to be one of the most appreciated improvements that has been made this year.

Ornamental trees and native mesquites on the grounds have made good growth in the past twelve months and will furnish some shade to comfort and cool the weary cowboy or other visitors who seek shelter from the sun. A high wire fence has been built on three sides of the 42-acre Reunion tract and a steel woven wire fence with four ornamental gates adorns the main entrance. Additional comfort for spectators has been provided by placing foot rests on all seats in the grandstands, and by adding awning-like extensions to the roofs to keep out the sun.

ELDORADO NINE STILL LEADING COTTON BELT

Crowell Squad Goes to Medicine Mound Next Sunday

Crowell, Eldorado and Medicine Mound were the winners in the scheduled games in the Cotton Belt Baseball league defeating Paducah, Quanah and Truscott, respectively.

Eldorado's victory over Quanah placed the Oklahoma boys a full game and a half ahead of their nearest rival and shoved the Hardeeman County boys back into the cellar.

Truscott's loss to the Medicine Mound team lowered their percentage to .600 per cent. The Mounds team jumped from the cellar up to the fifth notch in the standing.

Crowell's win over Paducah enabled the Foard boys to move into a tie with the Cottle players, both squads having won 5 games and lost 5.

Games Last Sunday

Crowell took Paducah at Crowell 14 to 4; Eldorado won over Quanah at Quanah 11 to 8; and Medicine Mound downed Truscott at Medicine Mound 16 to 5.

Games Next Week

Crowell at Medicine Mound; Truscott at Paducah and Quanah at Eldorado.

Officials plan to give the patrons their money's worth at all performances. A full carload of 4 and 5 year old wild Brahman steers has just been received for use in the steer-riding contests. There is a herd of 75 strong, kicking cows, with spring calves alongside, for cowboy teams in the wild-cow milking contest to wrestle and contend with. A new string of bucking horses is on hand, too, for the bronc busters to ride or attempt to ride as the case might be. And some of the toughest horses of last year will be in the arena again this year to do their best and worst to put the rider on the ground or make him pull leather. In the list of old horses is found only those with a bad reputation, such as "Doctor Blackwell," "Candy Wagon" and "Lightning." Aside from purely rodeo events there will be many other things to interest and entertain the visitors, a round of parties and dances will compliment visiting sponsors and other guests. There will be a square dance nightly at the bunkhouse especially for the oldtimers, but the younger cowboys are not barred, and they always join in the merriment. Band concerts will provide downtown entertainment the first day, the grand parade is to be a chief street attraction the second day, and the Old Fiddlers' contest at the City Auditorium will entertain hundreds on the third day.

Numerous ranches have indicated that they will send their chuck wagons again this year. These wagons will be assembled in a fenced area where wood, water and beef are furnished, and where other needed commodities may be had from the chuck wagon commissary, a new feature added to simplify provisioning the chuck boxes. Chuck wagons are fascinating to visitors of all ages and this year in order to make all may have the opportunity of eating at one of them, tickets for a noon day meal may be purchased for a small fee.

The Reunion draws a list of notables each year. Last year the late Will Rogers characterized the show. Governor James V. Aldred has attended nearly every year and the governor has given positive assurance that he will be back this year. Arriving in Stamford at noon on July 4, he will head the afternoon parade and pilot it to the rodeo grounds where he will be a guest at the afternoon performance.

Classes Fort Worth With Gayest of World Capitals

Because of the Fort Worth tradition . . . or at least largely so . . . Billy Rose is director of what is acknowledged to be the largest prize devoted exclusively to entertainment in the world, the Fort Worth Frontier. Only three other towns in America could have secured his services, New Orleans, San Francisco and Chicago.

The Fort Worth enterprise did not spring full grown from the Rosean cerebellum. He has cudeged the idea for several years, even before his "Jumbo" was produced. Back further still in pre-Billy Rose Music Hall days he schemed. An amusement enterprise of huge proportions . . . the largest in the world to be truthful . . . in which several great attractions might be seen at moderate admission fees . . . such was the Rose vision.

When Fort Worth wanted to celebrate 100 years of history . . . leaving the historical part to other communities . . . by a "wild and Whoop-ee" party Rose, as the foremost of living American showmen, was offered the job. He accepted with alacrity. It wasn't entirely that the financial deal was to his liking, either. It was that Fort Worth was and is Fort Worth.

"There are certain cities in the United States noted for their liberality while others have equal repute for piety. In the latter class such chaste communities as Los Angeles, Boston, Cincinnati and Dallas, Fort Worth, Reno, Chicago, New Orleans, Butte and San Francisco come in the other category. Ever since its cow town days Fort

In discussing his relief plank he said, "I favor, pending the realization of such essential reforms, an adequate standard of constructive public work relief for all destitute and unemployed families or persons, whether resident or transient, to the end that those who are forced to remain unemployed and destitute, may be secure in their homes and lives."

"At first I was against the bill in its present form because of an interest cost to the government, but after the question narrowed down to that or nothing I favored the payment of the debt to the soldier which should have been paid directly after the war as were other debts against the national government. Other agencies whose services and products were used by and for the government were reimbursed according to estimated profits that would have been made, but the soldier who did the actual fighting was not paid until nearly 18 years afterwards."

Two of his agricultural proposals are: (1) continuation of the present policy for the encouragement of the voluntary conservation and re-vitalization of the soil, with such changes in the machinery of the law as experience indicates necessary; and (2) close the domestic market to agricultural products of foreign origin now being admitted in competition with our farmers and livestock raisers.

"I favor the continuation of benefits to veterans of our wars upon the present scale as a minimum, with a liberal policy of hospitalization and medical care for the disabled regardless of whether such disability be service-connected," he stated.

In connection with his twelve years' service in the Texas Legislature Mr. Woodruff said, "Among other things I supported legislation creating the Child Welfare Division of the State Board of Control; helped reorganize the prison system and establish it on a new basis of financial solvency and socially constructive operation."

"I also supported legislation to unite the state and federal agencies in paying pensions to the needy aged men and women of Texas," he stated.

The revival will do two things: In the power of the Spirit it will first convict the church of sin, have her confess sins one to another, put her on her face in prayer, return her from backsliding. This done the second part is sure and certain—the conviction and conversion of the lost. If you are a Christian you do not even have as much right to stay out of revival as the fireman would have to go back to sleep when he heard the fire alarm. The Golden Text is: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exodus 20:3).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? . . . For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:34, 36.)
The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. CALIFORNIA GOLD FIRST FOUND ON SUTTER RANCH

It was on the land of John Sutter, a Swiss emigrant to California, that gold was discovered. Sutter had gone there in 1839, and by the time California became United States territory following the Mexican war he was the owner of an immense tract which he called New Helvetia and which, from his "fort" located at the junction of the Sac-

The trail, it is expected, will be completed in 1936. Distinctive metal signs are to mark the entire route.

This trail—sponsored by the Forest Service in co-operation with Pacific coast outdoor recreation groups—is to be almost entirely through wilderness areas.

It will traverse the Mount Bak-

Claims were staked by all comers, and Sutter was left to petition congress for some sort of redress—which was never granted.

Rubinoff Holds World Record for Broadcasting

Rubinoff and his violin—and Chevrolet—are a combination that few, if any, radio listeners in the United States have not received in their homes via the air. The famous violinist and his Stradivarius, stars of the Chevrolet Musical Moments programs, have the distinction of going on the air from more broadcasting stations than any other program in the history of radio. Three hundred and seventy-eight stations broadcast Rubinoff three times a week, a total of 1134 fifteen-minute programs. That figures out at 283 hours, and if one week's programs were broadcast one after the other, day and night, it would require 11 days. The illustration shows Rubinoff, carrying his precious violin, posing with his car after a special appearance at Detroit.

Frontier Show at Ft. Worth to Open July 18; 162 Acres

Fort Worth.—Definite date for the opening of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial was announced today by Billy Rose, producing director, and the Board of Control. The Mammoth entertainment extravaganza will open its gates to the public on July 18th with four big shows and a carnival world of lesser attractions scattered over the 162-acre festival grounds. Setting of the date for the opening, was purposely deferred until it could be determined when the entire Frontier Centennial grounds would present a complete and finished appearance, will be a red-letter day in the whole history of entertainment. No other enterprise ever has been conceived along such unique lines as that of the Fort Worth Frontier Centennial. Dedicated to the sole purposes of entertainment, it is so planned that even its few exhibits of historical interest will fit into the holiday pattern. Along the Frontier Village Street, where historical collections will be housed in a replica of a pioneer town, an assortment of town characters will enliven the place with picturesque entertainment. Major shows will be the Casa Manana, or cafe-theatre show, a mammoth musical extravaganza, "The Last Frontier," a wild and whoop-ee show based on the story of the old West, and Billy Rose's "Jumbo," imported from the New York Hippodrome. As interesting as any of these, though briefer, will be the free show in the Pioneer Palace, to be given from a stage set in the wall above the mirrored bar. With mirror background, lusty old ballad music and new ones by Billy Rose. (Example: "The Guy With the Handlebar Mustache"), the Pioneer Palace show will follow the tempo of the gold rush, the frontier, the gay nineties. All over the grounds will be such attractions as Sally Rand's Nude Ranch and such bait for the kids as ferris wheels and merry-go-rounds. It will be the State's largest and finest festival ground.

Be Careful July 4 To Avoid Tragedy

Austin, July 1.—On July 4, 1936, Texans will celebrate along with the State's Centennial year, the one hundred and sixtieth anniversary of National Independence. Thousands of visitors will be in Texas on this National holiday, and it is up to loyal Texans to do everything possible to see that this day brings pleasure and not tragedy to our visitors and ourselves, says a warning from the State Department of Health. "While there certainly is no desire to minimize the joys of this nation-wide holiday," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, "it is only common sense to respect hazards to life and limb, and to govern one's actions accordingly. Not so many years ago the newspapers on each July 5 would publish columns detailing the tragedies that were invariably associated with the handling of dangerous fireworks by careless persons. For a number of years now, however, the press has been placing particular emphasis on the need for a 'Safe and Sane Fourth

Meeting to Be Held At Texas Centennial

An Evangelistic Meeting at a Centennial is new and sets up another frontier for Christian activity. The Disciples of Christ will engage in such an enterprise under the leadership of one of their foremost preachers, Dr. Raphael H. Miller, pastor of the National City Christian Church, Washington, D. C. Dr. Miller is a past president of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ. He and Mrs. Miller served as Fraternals delegates to the Christian Churches of Great Britain in 1933. He is the author of "Who Lives In You," a book which has received great public acceptance. Dr. Miller will preach each evening from June 28 to July 11. The service will begin at 6:45 and conclude at 7:45. A choir of 200 voices from the Dallas Christian Churches will furnish the music. R. E. Shepherd, formerly the "Singing Mayor of Wichita Falls," now director of FHA in Dallas, will direct the singing.

Gold Medallion to Admiral Byrd Commemorates His Lonely Vigil

A SUPERBLY human note was struck at a recent dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City tendered by combined American industry to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd—"in acknowledgment of his invaluable contributions to science and to pay tribute to those qualities of heart and spirit that make him universally admired and an inspiration to his countrymen." During the course of the dinner at which the Admiral spoke briefly, for the first time, of the appalling experiences of his lonely vigil in the shadow of the South Pole, he was presented with a four and one-half inch gold medallion symbolizing American Industry's tribute to his heroic exploit. The face of the medallion depicts the Admiral seated at the radio in his tiny advance weather station tapping out "All's Well" to Little America, while the reverse side bears the following inscription:

Child's Energy and Ability Should Have Direction in Summer

Austin.—Schools are closed for the summer all over the State, and citizens interested in the welfare of the future generation are confronted with the fact that a vast amount of energy and ability may go to waste if skill and patience are not employed in directing growing children in this playtime season, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "The civic, moral, and educational value of developing the natural talents of each child," Dr. Brown said, "has a far-reaching influence on the health, knowledge, and character of the future men and women of this State. The child need not be directed in each little act that he performs. Let the summer vacation season be the time when the child has a chance to develop his own individuality. Many an artist, statesman, or competent executive has come from humble surroundings. But looking back of this, we probably will find that this outstanding individual had a chance to develop his natural talent.

"It has been observed that children grow faster during the summer months than at any other time. This is explainable, perhaps, because it is then that they are out in the sunshine and fresh air. Good health is essential to physical and mental growth. The prime factors of good health are care of the body, nourishing food of the right kind, regular habits, sufficient sleep, rest and play, and a happy state of mind.

"Of course, where the child lives and under what conditions, means a great deal as to the type of recreation he will find during the summer. The city child will look forward to trips to the country or hours spent in the play grounds and swimming pools. The child living in the country will have many things to do that will keep him in the sunshine most of the time.

"Let us all work toward the end that each child may feel at the end of summer that he has worked out some of his own ideas and dreams, and still developed his physical and mental capacities during these few months of play."

A Texas Girl Will Be Crowned Centennial Queen in Cotton Bowl

Dallas.—Some Texas girl, now behind a store counter, in a classroom, or in a kitchen, will be crowned Queen of the Texas Centennial Exposition by Ginger Rogers the night of July 31 in the Cotton Bowl at the Exposition.

In addition to this honor and its attendant distinctions, the winner will be awarded a trip to Hollywood as guest of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, and will be granted screen tests which, if successful, will find her a place in pictures.

Appearances of the contestants in this official selection will be presented in four night reviews of Queen's Night, electrical extravaganza, in the Cotton Bowl at the Centennial Exposition, the first of which will be held the night of July 4. Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees will be featured in this presentation, and the radio crooner will announce and escort the winner in this first semi-final selection. Jean Harlow and Alan Jones have been tentatively booked to appear on the first two dates.

Afternoon previews of the contestants will be held in Chrysler Gardens to decide the winner, but announcements will not be made until that night's presentation in the Cotton Bowl.

The evening presentations will be held in connection with the elaborate electrical pageant, Queen's Night. Contestants will appear on the ten floats of this mammoth show, and will be featured with the guest star of each of the four evenings.

Any Texas girl, who has been a resident of Texas for at least six months, may enter the competition. In addition to the Exposition, the selection has as its sponsors the Dallas News and the Dallas Journal, Hollywood Electrical Pageant Company, Inc., radio station WFAA, and Chrysler Motors. Application blanks and rules and regulations governing the selection may be obtained from any Chrysler Motors dealer in Texas.

Brazil Nut Crops Never Planted and Not Picked

There is no stranger harvest than that which supplies the demand for Brazil nuts, observes a writer in Pearson's Weekly. No human hand has ever sown the seeds, nor does the crop ever need picking. It lies, patiently waiting man's pleasure, on the sodden forest floor of that immense stretch of tropical jungle land in the lower Amazon valley. Here flourishes the Brazil nut tree, or castanna do Para, as the natives call it.

Despite this unusual lavishness of Nature, no harvest could be harder to win; none is fraught with more risks. Before reaching the wild nut groves, the castanheiros (nut gatherers) must penetrate hundreds of miles of fetid streams and swamps, home of flesh-eating fish, venomous water snakes and electric eels. The final stages of their journey must be backed through dense matted undergrowth, where poisonous thorns, orchids, spiders and insects contest every yard of their progress.

You too may find quick relief. Why wait forty minutes for relief when Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills will relieve you in ten to twenty minutes?

LIBRARY NEWS

One of the most recent additions of the county library is "Arctic Adventure," by Peter Freuchen, a great modern adventurer. As a young medical student he joined an expedition, exploring East Greenland. In his book Freuchen tells of how he lived for years, gayly, dangerously and intimately among the Eskimos.

Another new adventure story is "The Last Puritan" by George Santayana, who has won far-reaching fame as a philosopher, poet and essayist. This is a book full of ironic wisdom, and is heartily recommended to all those who like to think while they read.

Grasshoppers Thrive On Modern Farming

Agricultural activities for the last 20 years have helped rather than hindered grasshoppers in the Great Plains area, according to Dr. J. R. Parker of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In Montana, where hopper damage from 1930 to 1934 was estimated at more than $17,000,000, cultivation of land originally in native grass has increased their egg-laying grounds and food supply. Bare patches of fairly compact ground appeal most to egg-laying grasshoppers. The patches must be near plenty of vegetation that will be green and succulent for the young hoppers.

Before the soil on Montana ranges was disturbed, such conditions could be counted on only in river bottoms, and on sunny slopes of uplands in the plains and foothills east of the main range of the Rockies and between the Canadian border and the Yellowstone River.

Now they are common on about 5,000,000 acres of homesteaded grain crops and on thousands of miles of roadside, railway right-of-way, fence rows, and ditch banks, as well as in the old locations. Formerly, continued drought dried up vegetation over a wide area, starved grasshoppers and checked heavy infestations. Today, even in extremely dry years, hoppers find enough to eat without going very far from their hatching grounds.

The effectiveness of other natural checks—fungal and bacterial diseases that kept down the grasshoppers when they were confined to the flood plains of rivers and along small streams—has been reduced by man's agricultural activities. Hoppers are now able to spread from the low, moist land—where in rainy weather disease is rife—to higher land too dry for disease which they were unable to inhabit before the planting of corn, small grains, flax, alfalfa, and sweetclover.

Science, Research Must Co-operate

Co-operation between specialists is desirable in agricultural research, and often it is essential. In discussing the co-operative spirit in research, Dr. C. A. Browne recently gave a practical example of this as he has observed it in the United States Department of Agriculture. Dr. Browne, who is in charge of chemical research in the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, said:

"Some of our highly trained chemistry experts are engaged in synthesizing new chemical compounds for killing injurious insects. But when they have discovered a new compound, let us say for the spraying of apple trees, it must first be tested upon the right insects by entomologists. If the results are favorable the compound must then be examined by plant physiologists to see that it is harmless to the bees that gather nectar from apple blossoms. A pharmacist must be asked to determine whether residues of the compound left upon apples have any injurious action upon the health of consumers. A soil scientist may also have to be summoned to ascertain whether the proposed insecticide has any unfavorable effect upon the soil."

"It may thus be necessary for our chemistry expert, if he is to be a successful specialist, to collaborate with specialists in five other fields of science."

"That 13,000,000 muskrats are trapped annually, but unfortunately we do not know how many are being produced. The number may be 10,000,000 which would mean rapid extermination. It may be 15,000,000, which would mean a continuing supply. We have no reliable facts for the country as a whole, but good business management of the fur bearers would require something similar to a balance sheet that would reveal the kill and the replacements."

The Biological Survey, therefore, has encouraged State game agencies issuing trapping licenses to obtain laws requiring reports of trappers, so that the individual States might calculate the number and kinds of fur animals taken annually. This would make possible reliable estimates on the total annual take in the whole country.

Seven states now require trappers to report their catch and 19 gather information from various sources. The Biological Survey compiles such figures as are available on the number of trappers and the number of fur animals taken in the various states.
