

Lubbock Boy Has Suffered 7 Years From Stomach Trouble

Son Kept Going Downhill Until He Took Orgatone, Now Able To Do Anything," Says Mrs. Cone

"I never saw anyone pick up so fast as my son has since he started taking Orgatone," said Mrs. Rosa B. Cone, of 70 Ave. O, Lubbock, Texas, while talking with the Orgatone representative recently. M. A. Cone, Mrs. Cone's son, is a very well known carpenter, of this city.

"He suffered awfully from indigestion and a general run down condition of his stomach for the past several years," she continued, "he just going down hill all the time. He tried everything he would eat would get on his stomach and cause gas to form which made him uncomfortable hours after each meal. He would get those bloating spells so bad, he couldn't rest well at night. He had a bad case of constipation, had rheumatism in his legs so bad, times, he could hardly get around to his work. He was getting to nervous and would roll and toss night and when morning came would get up feeling worse than when he went to bed.

"We read so much in the papers about the good Orgatone was doing many people and finally a friend of mine advised him to take it. So he started on it. Orgatone has done him a world of good, and he is looking much better. The indigestion doesn't bother him anymore, and he can eat anything he wants. He seems to have more strength and energy and goes out his work feeling fine and doesn't complain about feeling bad as he did. Orgatone has certainly helped my son, so I am more than glad to give this statement. We are both grateful to it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained in Crowell at the Reeder Drug Company.

KEEP CLOSE GUARD ON BROKERS' LOANS

S. Officials Say There's No Chance of Leak.

Washington.—Utmost precautions to keep secrecy prior to publication of weekly brokers' loans figures, regarded widely as the single most important barometer of stock market activity, are taken by the federal reserve system.

Reports circulated recently in Wall Street that a "leak" existed by which these figures are obtained prematurely by some brokers are discounted by reserve system officials who made public their method of handling the loan report, issued at 4 p. m. each Thursday.

Compiled in the New York federal reserve bank each week on the basis of reports from reporting member banks in New York city, the detailed report showing the total of loans to stock market operators for a week are telephoned here each Friday at 3:15 after close of the stock exchange.

Locked in Room.

The report is received at the reserve board's offices here by one man who is locked in a room with a messenger shortly before that time. Without leaving the locked room, the man telegraphs the figures and places them in a sealed envelope addressed to Gov. Roy A. Young of the federal reserve board.

When prepared, the reports are entrusted to the messenger, who rushes directly to Governor Young's office. On the dot of four o'clock the envelopes are unsealed and the reports placed on the press table in the governor's spacious office on the second floor of the treasury department's gray stone building.

In the opinion of reserve board officials, this procedure eliminates completely any possibility of a leak in the city from Washington. The reserve board has been advised by the New York reserve bank that extremely careful precautions are taken there to be sure the figures are not released in advance.

Indicator of Trading.

Because of fluctuations in the stock market in recent months interest in the weekly report by the reserve board and the extent of borrowings by brokers in New York has been intense. In the last six months the weekly brokers' loans figure has constantly risen until nearly $7,000,000,000 is considered an indicator of the volume of trading in the New York exchange.

Responding to questions raised in Wall Street about the accuracy of the reserve board's brokers' loan figures, officials explained that the report does not represent the total borrowings by brokers inasmuch as only loans made through member banks are reported to the reserve system. In recent years an increasingly large percentage of brokers' loans have been made direct to the market by private banks, corporations and foreign agencies.

Lendings by these private agencies aggregated $1,472,000,000 on September 30, and such direct lendings to the stock exchange have increased $400,000,000 in this year alone. This amount of loans unreported through official channels makes prediction of what the loan report will show decidedly uncertain, officials emphasized.

Of course, it is impossible that the women always weep at a wedding because it reminds them of the day when they made the same mistake.

A CORRECTION

In the Majestic advertisement for L. A. Beverly & Co. last week a mistake was made in that the wrong cut was run. Also a mistake was made in the reading where it said that the "tubes are guaranteed for 100 hours." It should have read, "the tubes are guaranteed for 1000 hours." The ad is run this week showing the corrections.

THE FOARD COUNTY JAIL

The recent jail break here, while not a serious one, yet it brings out conclusively the fact that the old Foard County jail has gone far beyond its period of usefulness as a place for the safe-keeping of prisoners. The jail is also in a deplorable condition from a sanitary standpoint. The ease with which the three negroes escaped from the jail reflects its condition from a safe-keeping standpoint.

A common remark in a joking manner among Foard County people for some time has been that "any person remaining in the Foard County jail over three days should be sent to the insane asylum instead of the penitentiary." There is more truth than poetry in that remark. The recent escape is the fourth one that has been made in the past few years and a good part of the time the jail has been empty, thus reflecting the high type of law-abiding citizenship of Foard County. However, such a condition cannot be expected to exist forever.

At the present time it is necessary for prisoners of any importance to be kept in jails at Vernon, Wichita Falls or Quanah. Two Foard County prisoners are now in jails at Wichita Falls and Vernon. With the present condition of the jail, the life of the jailer is continually in danger as well as the property of the citizenship of the county. The first thing an escaping prisoner usually does is to steal a car to perfect his get-away.

The jail here is over thirty years old and is a distinct eyesore to the community in its present location and condition. The last two sessions of the grand jury have recommended that steps be taken to improve jail conditions here. As it is now their recommendations have reached a point of necessity. Just imagine the necessity if an oil boom was to break loose? And such a condition is more than an optimistic dream. Not taking conditions just as they are, Foard County is badly in need of improved jail facilities.

Our Christmas Issue

The News will add a Christmas section to its regular issue of December 13. One of the sweetest stories in this issue is entitled "Teddy's Search for the Christmas Spirit." Another good feature will be "Christmas Reflections" by J. H. (Jim) Lowry.

Joe Sappington, clever writer and humorist, has a story under the title: "A Long Delayed Letter to Santa Claus."

On the Woman's Page, Mrs. Margaret Stute tells of ways to make Christmas more practical and attractive.

On the Boys and Girls Page Aunt Mary does not forget her dear children. She has a wonderful story on the Christ Child.

Our Christmas issue will contain other good reading matter—something to interest every member of the family. Also there will be many bargains advertised for Christmas shoppers.

Wach and wait for the News' Christmas issue.

New Subscribers Coming in Daily

In the last few days 20 new subscribers have been added to the list of readers of the News besides the many dozens who have renewed their papers for another year. With an average of five persons to the family this means that 100 more people are reading the paper.

We are glad to have these new subscriptions and it is encouraging to us in that it makes us feel that we are publishing a paper worth the money as these new subscribers have come to us without solicitation on our part. They have taken the paper because they want it. The addition of this number of new readers adds to the value of the News as an advertising medium.

The annual fall subscription campaign is now in full swing and before it closes we expect to add many more new readers to the list, besides receiving renewals from all those who have been taking the paper, some of them having been readers since the paper was started.

The bargain rate of $1.50 will be on only for a short time, so if you haven't renewed for another year, come to our office or mail us a check which will receive our prompt attention.

Father of Local Man Died in Brownwood

H. Bryan Ray, owner of the Crowell Laundry, was called to the bedside of his father, J. H. Ray, of Brownwood Tuesday. He reached his father just a short while before death came Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bryan Ray and son left here Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral services which were to be held Thursday. J. H. Ray was a pioneer of the Brownwood section.

Letters Given

thur Bell and Crews Cooper also won letters but were out of town at the time of the banquet.

Crowell will lose eleven letter-men this year, with graduation taking a big toll. Those that are lost to the team are: Guy Todd, Ernest Spears, Arthur Bell, R. J. Thomas, Jr., Joe Ben Roberts, Ralph Cogdell, Charlie Ashford, Robert Oswald, Ernest Patton, Leo Horn and Cotton Ganns.

Two sophomores, Bill Middleton and George Fox, were included in the list that were awarded letters. Both are backfield men. Mitchell Allee, another sophomore, failed to letter this year but his experience in practicing with the squad this year should make him a star player next season.

Miss Alene Lanier, cheer leader, and Miss Everice Owens, sponsor, will be given sweaters as soon as they arrive.

After the boys had donned their sweaters, they were called upon for short talks with the subjects ranging from "How Cotton Picking Has Improved My Football," to "Secrets of Attracting the Opposite Sex."

Others present at the banquet that made short talks were Mrs. Grady Graves, Mrs. Irving Fisch, Mrs. I. T. Graves, Alene Lanier, Everice Owens, Evelyn Sloan, Josephine Griffith, J. H. Lanier, Jr., and Teddy Burrow.

Trophy Given
The feature of the banquet came with the presentation of the beautiful silver trophy by Mr. Fisch to Ernest Patton, who was elected by his teammates as the most valuable player on the Wildcat team this season.

Guy Todd won the trophy offered by Mr. Fisch last year. The trophy this year was a large silver loving cup with perfect replica of a football player in action on the top of it. Ernest made a short talk of appreciation of the honor conferred upon him. He has played left tackle on the team for the past season, having played three years with the team. His steady defensive work has been of great benefit in holding opposing teams to low scores. He could always be depended upon to play a steady game throughout every contest. The presentation of the "valuable player" trophy concluded the banquet.

The deepest appreciation for Mr. Fisch's kindness to the football team was expressed many times during the banquet. He has always had the interest of the team at heart, has carried the players to games in distant cities and has gone to much expense in providing trophies and banquets for the team during the past two years.

Thalia Church

the church were Rev. Emery and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Holder and daughter; Clayton Holder and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Donald, Audrey Burnett and myself. The others are not here today with me but it seems I can see their familiar faces, hear their plaudits of Thanksgiving and feel their spirits hovering near. Their children and their children's children are probably here. It seems that I should see the faces of Mr. and Mrs. Lat Johnson, for they were faithful members for many years and also Mr. Pigg. I can still hear Mr. Johnson leading in that great old hymn, "We're Marching to Zion" and can hear the fervent sweet prayers of Nannie, his wife. From their home they are probably looking down upon this meeting today and are happy in the progress you have made and the good you are doing.

"As the last living representative of the original church, I speak in behalf of those who have gone ahead. I know you will carry on and this church will continue to grow and not until the judgment day can we know what the rewards will be and what the future has in store for your church."

Rev. Melton, who preached the sermon for the services, spent part of his boyhood days on a ranch near Thalia. He is now pastor of the 7th and James Street Baptist Church in Waco, where he has been for the past 17 years.

SANTA CLAUS LETTERS MUST BE IN BY MON.

The Christmas Edition of the Foard County News will come out next week and all children who wish to have their Santa Claus letters published at that time are urged to send their letters in immediately.

A large number of letters have already been received and it is hoped that even more letters will be received from children of Foard County.

Entranced by Strains of "Magical" Calliope

That herald of the circus, the calliope, made its first public appearance in July, 1856, screeching "Old Dan Tucker" down the Worcester & Nashua railroad.

A contemporary account describes the effect as "magical, may wonderful, exciting and amusing. Men left their workshops and rushed for the railway. Women and children swarmed like ants when their anthill is trodden on, agrin with wonder and delight. The horses danced prionettes to the music; the very pigs relaxed the tension of their tortuous tails, and stupid calves . . . snuffed the music-laden air their pendent tails outstanding straight behind.

"'Twas marvelous, and we should not have been surprised if all the bending woods, charmed by the Orpic strains, had walked adown the shaded hills and made obeisance to the Calliope . . . even as Birnam wood came down to Dunsinane!"

Great French Soldier Knelt Long at Altar

One day in France when thousands of guns were roaring, an American named Evans went into an old church to examine it. As he stood there with bared head satisfying his respectful curiosity a gray man with the stars of a general on the collar of his shabby uniform entered the church. Only an orderly accompanied him; no glittering staff of officers—just an orderly.

The American soldier paid little attention to him at first but was curious to see him kneel in the church praying. The minutes passed until three-quarters of an hour had gone, before the man arose from his knees.

Then Evans followed him down the street and was surprised to see soldiers salute the man in great excitement, while women and children stopped in their tracks with awe-inspired faces.

It was Foch.

Among His Souvenirs

Donald MacFiddle, a famous Scotch musician, had many admirers in this country. On one concert tour he had just arrived in New York and was walking from his room to the theater. A young woman admirer who recognized him determined to procure some souvenir of the great man. It was raining, and from beneath her nice new silk umbrella she called to him. MacFiddle stopped and gazed at her from beneath his old cotton umbrella, green with age.

"Oh, Mr. MacFiddle," the woman said, "if you would only give me some light remembrance of yourself—no matter how small!"

The great man surveyed her keenly, glanced once up at his old umbrella, then in a burst of words, said: "Certainly, my dear young lady. I shall be delighted. We will exchange umbrellas."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Cucumber Long Delicacy

De Candolle says that cucumbers were originally from the East Indies, but other botanists ascribe them to Asia and Egypt. Literature proves them to be more than 3,000 years old in Asia, and it is known that they were brought into China 149-86 B. C. They were known to the Greeks and Romans and were mentioned by Pliny, who says that they were grown in Africa, and that they were such a favorite with Emperor Tiberius that he had them daily on his table. Charlemagne ordered them planted on his estate in the Ninth century, and they were grown by Columbus in Haiti in 1491. Capt. John Smith mentions them as being cultivated in Virginia in 1584.

Druggists as Opticians

In these days of optometrists, oculists and opticians, it is interesting to recall that not so many years ago eyes were cured for by druggists, as is evidenced by an ad Jonathan Day ran in the Onondaga Standard: "The subscriber keeps constantly on hand for sale, a complete assortment of concave and convex spectacles, on steel and silver mountings. Goggles and magnifying glasses. He can remedy any defect in sight by age. Spectacle eyes set on moderate terms. "At the sign of the Mortar and Spatules."—Detroit News.

Silver Leaf Healing

Silver leaf has been found to be a superior substitute for salves and tinctures in the treatment of cuts, wounds and burns as demonstrated by many experiments at the hospital of the Vienna university. The silver leaf is simply laid on the wound and its effect is greatly to accelerate the healing process.

Not only does it rapidly dry up the wound, but it apparently exerts a bactericidal action, as a result of which infections and other complications can be avoided.

A Wave Is a "Sea"

The term "sea" and "seas" has a variety of uses. A sailor never says "wave" or "waves," he speaks of "seas." A sea may be rolling toward you—that is a "head sea." One at the side is a "beam sea"; then the ship rolls. And a sea coming up astern is a "following sea"; then your ship tosses, and it is a point of debate among sea-sick travelers which of the two sorts of motion—rolling or pitching—is less agonizing.—From "Sea-Lore," by Stanley Rogers.

Calls Firemen to Rescue Canary

Chicago.—Two hundred firemen, three trucks, four engines and a fireboat, responding to an alarm were met by a weeping woman who begged them to save "Billy Boy." He proved to be a canary on the top of a brewery. After an effort to catch the wary bird, which flitted a step or two ahead of them, the ladders, came down and the firemen went home.

Imagine your Motor

Constantly immersed in Oil

That, in effect, is what happens when you fill your crank case with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—none of its hundreds of moving parts are ever without lubrication.

CONOCO Germ Processed MOTOR OIL

A MOTOR OIL, to do a 100% job, must lubricate all the time. That means that it should provide a lubricating film at every stage of motor operation including starting when the engine's cold. In other words, the motor should have a perpetual oil bath.

And that's exactly what happens when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil for the very good reason that this super-lubricant because of the patented germ process by which it is produced, actually combines with the bearing surfaces to form a film which adheres indelibly. It never leaves the bearings—and that means constant lubrication.

Think of the saving this means to the motoring public! Automotive engineers estimate that from 40% to 60% of the destructive wear and tear on a motor is caused in the starting operation because, with ordinary oil in the crankcase, the moving parts have no lubricating film when the engine is cold—and the oil is not distributed until 5 or 10 minutes after starting. Imagine the abuse to the engine during these periods of running with absolutely no lubrication! No wonder Conoco Germ Processed Oil is hailed as the revolutionizing motor lubricant. Its "carry-over" film has solved the greatest lubrication problem of the day. It assures longer life and smoother operation in any motor where it is used.

And never forget that to produce Conoco Germ Processed Oils the exclusive germ essence principle is applied to only carefully selected paraffin base crudes, resulting in a lubricant with greater film strength, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater stamina and lower friction than any other oil on the American market.

Draw up to the Conoco Red Triangle and give your motor a perpetual oil bath. Ask for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

TRANSLATES INDIAN "BOOK OF GENESIS"

Expert Takes 30 Years to Complete Epic Poem.

Washington.—An American aboriginal narrative poem, described as the Indian "Book of Genesis," has been translated into English. The work was completed by J. N. Hewitt of the bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian institution after thirty years of work.

The poem traces the Indian conception of the creation of man and is expected to prove a valuable contribution to American letters, both for its intrinsic literary value and for the light it throws on the workings of the Indian mind in attempting to solve the eternal problem.

Before his "arrival and creation of man and the world" there was believed to have been a "sunless and moonless skyland, lighted only by the snowy white flowers of the great tree of light."

Much confusion is created in the mind of the average reader by the amazing phenomena detailed in the poem. This, Mr. Hewitt explains, is because of the unsimilarity of creative thought between Indian mythology and the workings of the more familiar European mythology.

Debaehiyawakho, for whose origin there is only nebulous explanation in the primitive lyrics is portrayed as the creator of man while his brother, Ohaa, roughly corresponds to the theological devil, according to Mr. Hewitt.

The creator won the government and rulership of all living things by a game of bowl and plum pits with his grandmother, in which he shook as dice the heads of chideeeds kept magically alive and acting according to his bidding.

The songs and stories which generation after generation of Iriquois have handed down by word of mouth depict the adventures of the two brothers. They are prepared for their first appearance by Mr. Hewitt, who, deprecating the loss of emotional stress which is lent only by the Indian tongue, believes the beauty of the primitive imagination, which is retained in the translation, will compensate for this loss.

Rail Fares in France Less Than Before War

Paris.—Despite the general rise in prices during the last ten years, French railway fares for passenger traffic are one-third cheaper than before the war, figured on the gold franc basis. These facts have been circulated in a report on the management of the French state railways.

In 1914 it cost 0.112 francs (gold or paper) to travel one kilometer (first class); today the price is 0.4595 (paper) francs. Accordingly the rates have gone up 392 per cent in paper, but they have gone down 32 per cent in gold, the report shows.

French passenger rates are the lowest in the world today, it is revealed, being exactly 68 per cent of prewar rates. The percentages for other countries (present tariffs compared with 1914 gold rates) are:

United States, 149; Italy, 72; Great Britain, 150; Czechoslovakia, 80; Germany, 154; Spain, 97; Holland, 157; Switzerland, 162; Austria, 100.

He's 53 Years Old, Yet Has Never Been Born

Southsea, England.—There is a fifty-three-year-old man living here who, officially, has never been born. He is further worried by doubt as to whether his real name is James Mead or that of his twin brother, John.

A sick benefit society to which James belongs recently asked to see his birth certificate. On inquiry at the place of his birth James discovered that although his twin brother's name was registered he was nonexistent.

James has now revealed that at the christening of the twins the boys were so alike that one wore a red band around the arm and the other blue. When they were disrobed the gowns became mixed, and although the mother pointed to him and declared that he was James, he is still doubtful if she really knew which was which.

Barmaid in England Takes Pastor's Place

Banbury, England.—During the absence of the regular preacher Miss Varney Hancock Cashmore, twenty-six, single-haired barmaid of the Marlborough Arms, conducted the services at the Unitarian church and created a favorable impression among the congregation.

Miss Cashmore is president of the Banbury Young People's guild, which encourages young people to conduct services. She has studied elocution and is said to have a fine voice.

"It has always been my ambition to be a preacher," she said after her first appearance in the pulpit. "I like to talk and do not feel the least bit nervous in the pulpit."

At the Marlborough Arms Miss Cashmore combines her barmaid's work with household duties.

Gland Grafting Makes Tunneys of Young Boys

Paris.—A normal life span of 150 years may be possible for men and women of the future, in the opinion of Dr. Serge Voronoff, the Russian rejuvenation expert. Gland-grafting operations he has tried on monkeys, rams and bulls, will enable man to attain a normal life of a century and a half, he said recently in an interview.

Results of such gland operations have remarkable effects not only on adults, but on children. He said children of nine could be given the force and vigor of the average person of twenty-five and the person living to be one hundred and fifty, would retain the youthful force of thirty.

"I have experimented on all kinds of animals," Doctor Voronoff continued. "I have prolonged the life of rams to twenty-six years in comparison to the normal thirteen years. That gives promise of what can be expected by man."

Chinese Seal Will Be Carved in Rare Jade

Shanghai.—Nationalist China's official seal is to be carved from a stone rich in tradition as in beauty.

A large and exceptionally rare specimen of the famed "flesh color" jade, measuring five inches by seven, was recently discovered in Sinkiang and is being presented to the state council by the chairman of the Sinkiang provincial government.

Jade is considered a stone of good omen in China, and Chinese value it as much for its fortunate auspices as for its beauty.

Jerusalem.—A curious "record of sale" is reported in "The Dear Hayom," Hebrew newspaper.

A young patient in the Hadassah hospital in Jerusalem agreed to turn over his share in the next world for $2 (approximately $10). Payment by the purchaser, an older man, is to be made in monthly installments of 19 shillings.

Pistols Kill 2 Boys

Baltimore.—Two boys were killed the same day when their boyish companions pointed pistols at them, and they went off. The victims were John Pollack, 13, and John Kellner, 15.

In Croat young women present an apple to the man of their choice, and information received is that he usually bites.

Defeat Had Good Result

Kentucky history records the "Battle of the Blue Licks" as the bloodiest engagement between the whites and the Indians of the pioneer days. It was in this battle of August 19, 1782, that 450 Shawnee Indians, led by British and Canadians and the notorious renegade Simon Girty, ambushed 200 comrades of Daniel Boone and slew and scalped more than half of them. Including Boone's youngest son, Israel. Recent dedication of two memorials by Kentucky called attention to the fact that this battle, while a great disaster, yet aroused the pioneers to the danger of their extermination west of the Alleghenies. Reorganization of the whites followed and with reinforcements and supplies from Virginia the Indians ultimately were driven beyond the Ohio river, never to return.—Detroit News.

PARTY FOR NIECE AND NEPHEW

Mrs. T. S. Haney entertained on Thanksgiving afternoon with a party honoring her niece and nephew, Marjorie Ann and Bobby Cope of Quanah.

It was a warm afternoon and games were played on the lawn. Then an impromptu program was given, the guests furnishing the numbers themselves, and songs and readings and dances formed an interesting program.

Those who enjoyed the happy party and the hospitality of Mrs. Haney were Frances Henry Johnson, Mozelle Lemons, Mary Elizabeth Hughston, Beverly Hughston, Mary Evelyn Edwards, Ruth Ferguson, Ruth Catherya Cates, Florene McCaskill, Irene McCaskill, Ada Evelyn Smith, Jane Harrison of Paducah, Tom Alton Andrews, A. Y. Norman, Tom Ray Roberts, Billie Newton Klepper, Roy Seale West, Ned Owens, A. Y. Bell, Jim Claude Cates, George Cates, Van Hines Mitchell and the honor guests.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mrs. A. Y. Beverly entertained a number of little boys and girls on Monday afternoon, celebrating the sixth birthday of her son, Joe Wallace. The house was pretty in Christmas decorations. After all had arrived, each little guest gave a reading or a story, each of which was enjoyed.

The guests all had a good time and wished Joe Wallace many more happy birthdays. He received a number of nice gifts. The following little folks were present: Margaret Claire Shirley, Wanda Faye Beldeman, Reid Sanders, Helen Harwell, Margaret Long, Beverly Hughston, Frances Henry Johnson, Ted Crossnoe, Billie Newton Klepper, George Thomas Burrese, Harry Harwell, Jimmie Williams, John Clark Long, Edwin Edgin, Mark Magee, J. M. Hill, and Thomas Alton Andrews.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

A big birthday and Thanksgiving dinner were combined last Thursday at the J. H. Self home in honoring Mr. Self's 70th birthday. A number of the Self children and relatives were present for the affair.

A fifteen pound goose was baked for the dinner. It was sent from Colorado by Mrs. Reid Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Self, who was unable to be here. A large cake with candles decorated the center of the table.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

The Columbian Club enjoyed a delightful Thanksgiving program in the home of Mrs. S. T. Crews, Wednesday afternoon, November 27.

An interesting feature of the club meetings this year has been the roll call. Each member is assigned a subject and answers roll call with something new on this subject at each meeting. Flowers, science, music, new recipes and numerous other subjects enliven the program.

With Mrs. T. L. Hughston directing, the following program was given: Mrs. M. M. Kenner read President Hoover's Thanksgiving Proclamation. With Mrs. Crews at the piano, Mesdames H. Schindler and T. B. Klepper sang "Praise to God, Immortal Praise." Mrs. T. L. Hughston talked about "Home on Thanksgiving Day." Florine Miller played "Brownies' Cradle Song" and Mary Elizabeth Hughston "The Mocking Bird." Mrs. T. P. Reeder discussed "The Significance of Thanksgiving Day" and Mrs. I. T. Graves read Edgar A. Guest's poem, "Thanksgiving."

"Should Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day be Combined?" made the topic for an enjoyable round-table discussion. A delicious plate lunch with favors suggesting Thanksgiving Day was served. Associate members present were Mesdames J. H. Lanier, Sr., H. Schindler and J. R. Beverly. The guests for the day were Mesdames T. M. Beverly, J. H. Lanier, Jr., C. E. McGowan and Misses Mary Elizabeth Hughston and Florine Miller.—Reporter.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Mrs. A. D. Campbell was hostess to members of the Adelpian Club Wednesday, November 27. Mrs. L. Kimsey led a very interesting lesson on Amateur Theatricals. The history, aims and methods of the Little Theater were discussed by appointed members. The Dallas Little Theater and synopsis of several plays suitable for amateur presentations were interesting topics for discussion.

The purpose of the Little Theater is not only for presenting plays but for an art medium and in three thousand Little Theaters now in existence more is being done for real art of theater than in commercial theaters.

The club was glad to welcome Miss Martha Schlagal as a new member. A lovely refreshment plate consisting of chicken salad, olives, potato chips, coffee and date cake was served to club members.—Reporter.

Second Escape Made From Foard County Jail Saturday Night

The second jail break within a week from the Foard County jail occurred Saturday night when a man by the name of McElreath escaped in the same manner that the three negroes did last Wednesday night, by removing a stone from the jail. McElreath jumped to the ground instead of using a rope made out of bedding.

However, he was caught by Sheriff Que Miller and Marshal R. J. Thomas within an hour and a half after making his escape. He was recaptured just north of the Quick Service Station after being chased for some time by the officers. He was in jail on charges of gambling, drunkenness and the possession of whiskey.

Play at High School Thursday and Friday

A very interesting play, "Jimmie's Wives," with a cast consisting of local talent, will be presented at the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday night, December 5 and 6, under the auspices of the T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Church.

In addition to the play, a number of other features have been provided including numbers by a girls' chorus, "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," with a large number of small children, and the "Men's Follies," in which a number of men of the town are dolled up in women's clothes. The same program will be presented each night.

The different types of trees will be displayed in the windows of the Russell building, next to the post office, by consent of Sam Russell. After seeing these it is hoped that all wanting trees will leave their orders with any of the following men: Dr. Hines Clark, Que R. Miller, Julian Wright, Clint White, C. B. Graham of Margaret, and C. B. Morris of Thaddeus. Any other Legion member in the county will also be glad to take orders for trees and then turn them over to the executive committee.

Nice trees will be sold from as low as 75c to $1.50. Fir trees, seven to eight feet in height, will be used in decorating the business section.

These trees do not have to be trimmed or worked on otherwise to be put in nice shape, for they will be ready to set up on arrival. A fir tree is different from the cedar tree in this respect. Foard County people are used to seeing the cedar trees throughout the year and naturally a fir tree seems more Christmas-like here, while a cedar tree would do about as well in a section where they do not grow like they do in Foard County.
