WILL GAMBLE DIES RESULT OF ACCIDENT

W. M. Gamble, 54, died in the Baptist Hospital at Abilene Friday morning, Nov. 20, at 12:10 o'clock as the result of pneumonia that developed following the auto accident, 7 miles from Abilene, in which he and his father, J. R. Gamble, 79, were injured on Wednesday morning, Nov. 8, between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Besides pneumonia he suffered a dislocated shoulder, back and leg injuries, and severe bruises over the chest and body. He was slightly ill before leaving Crowell to go on an important business trip. The sedan in which the two were riding overturned and he was thrown out of the car and landed on his head and neck in a fall which caused partial paralysis on the left side of his body.

Last reports were that he was getting along nicely and that he would be returned to Crowell within a short time.

The cause of the accident is undetermined. It occurred in a tiny section and a tourist who happened to be passing called a car to call an ambulance. J. R. Gamble was unconscious several hours following the accident. His son was unconscious about 15 or 20 minutes.

All immediate relatives, including his wife, three children, six brothers and two sisters, were at his bedside when death came, with the exception of his father, who was in the hospital at the time. He was conscious until a very short while before death.

Pioneer Resident
Mr. Gamble was a pioneer resident of Foard County, coming here on August 23, 1887, by ox team with his parents when he was 10 years of age. With the exception of 12 years, he had spent the rest of his life in Foard County.

He is survived by his wife, two sons, Johnny and Thalia, Perry and Margaret; one daughter, Mrs. Herman Greening; of Crowell; six brothers, Sim, Pete, Mack and George of Foard County, Jim of Menard, Texas, Rufus of Plaska, Texas; two sisters, Mrs. C. C. Lindsey of Thalia and Mrs. Mollie Free of Gambleville, and his father, J. R. Gamble, of this city, and six grandchildren.

Will L. Gamble was born in Hill County, Texas, on May 21, 1877. He moved with his family to Hamilton County, where they remained a few years before coming to what is now Foard County on Aug. 23, 1887, when Mr. Gamble was ten years of age. They settled on a farm, about eight miles east of Crowell in the section that is now known as Gambleville.

In 1896 he married Miss Mollie Holland of Wilbarger County at Vernon and to this union four children were born, three of whom survive. A daughter, Faye Gertrude, died of diphtheria at the age of 14 as the result of being kicked by a horse.

Mr. Gamble was one of the early cowboys of this section, however, he has spent most of his life farming. With the exception of 12 years he and his family have lived in Foard County since first coming here. They lived near Hollis, Okla., for 6 years, near Eldorado, Okla., for 4 years, and in Kimble County, near Junction, Texas, for 2 years. He had lived in different parts of Foard County and for the past 7 years he had lived on a farm, about a mile and a half southwest of Crowell on Highway 81. During the early days here he also worked as a freighter and hauled goods from such points as Quanah, Vernon and Wichita Falls.

Funeral Services
His body was brought to Crowell overland from Abilene on Friday evening and funeral services were held at the Crowell Baptist Church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. W. A. Reed, pastor of the Thalia Baptist Church, officiating. Rev. B. J. Osborn, local Methodist pastor, assisted with the services. Two special vocal numbers, a duet by Mrs. H. W. Gray and Mrs. C. D. Haney, and a solo by Mrs. Adolphus Wright, with Mrs. Arnold Rucker as accompanist for each number, took place at the services.

Pall bearers were: Paul Shirley, M. S. Henry, W. B. Johnson, George Allison, Glen Offield and H. C. Roark. Flower girls were: Jessie Faye Gamble, Juanita Gamble, Wanda Gamble, Texas Gamble, Juliet Free, Barbara Joiner, Christine Joiner, Hazel Gamble and Mrs. Sewell Roy.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Gamble, Plaska, Texas; Mrs. Ed Lisensky, Spur, Texas; Mrs. S. B. Scott, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Gamble, Sayre, Okla.; Mrs. Harry Fletcher and daughter and baby, Vernon, and John Gamble, Sayre, Okla.

There was such a large crowd at the funeral that it was impossible for all to get into the church. Interment was made in the Crowell Cemetery. During his life here Mr. Gamble made hundreds of friends and his passing is genuinely regretted by all who knew him.

IN HOSPITAL
Elmer Key of Thalia has been in the local hospital since Sunday for medical treatment.

COTTON GINNINGS
Cotton ginnings in Foard County to Nov. 14 amounted to 9,796 bales as compared with 3,253 bales at the same time last year, according to U. S. census figures given The News by W. B. Griffin, local enumerator.

ADVICE GIVEN ON CURING AND KILLING HOGS

During the past few days numerous inquiries have been coming to the county agent's office relative to recipes for curing pork. Most of the inquiries have been made about the dry curing method, however, a few have been interested in the brine cure or sweet pickle process. Both methods are given in detail and also some other helpful and timely suggestions which have recently been given by the meat specialist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College have been furnished. The News by Fred Bennett, county agent.

Previous Treatment
Hogs to be slaughtered should be kept off of feed from twelve to twenty-four hours before killing. A hog that is given a shrink bleeds better and is more easy to dress. The hog should not be handled roughly or unduly excited just before he is killed. Meat from an overheated or bruised hog spoils much more easily in curing.

Killing
For best results the hog should be stuck with a knife and allowed to bleed to death. A good stick is very important. A great deal of scouring of hams is due to improper bleeding.

Scalding and Scraping
The water for the scalding should be around 150 degrees under ordinary conditions. If the weather is extremely cold it should be 155 to 160 degrees.

Hazel Adams Becomes Wife of Clyde Wright

Miss Freddie Hazel Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Adams of this city, became the wife of Clyde Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wright, also of this city, in a wedding at Frederick, Oklahoma, which was performed Saturday afternoon by the Methodist pastor of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright are well known to the younger set of this city and have many friends here. Mr. Wright is employed at Roy Hanna's Station. Until her marriage, Mrs. Wright was a student in Crowell High School. They are now making their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith and Miss Mary Fox accompanied the young couple to Frederick. Mrs. Wright has spent most of her life in Crowell. Mr. Wright has lived here for the past six years.

QUANAH WINS OVER CROWELL BY 19-0 SCORE

Quanah's Class A team presented the most sensational offense that Crowell has ever met in defeating the Wildcats 19 to 0 in a football game at Quanah last Friday afternoon. However, the Wildcats gave the Indians a real scare and as the teams entered the last quarter of the game the score was 7 to 0.

Quanah's team averaged better than 170 pounds to the man while Crowell's average was but 149, a difference of over 20 pounds to the man.

The large number of Crowell fans at the game went wild with enthusiasm when in the first few minutes of play Dick Todd took a pass from Roy Mullins and made a sensational run.

"Crowell Has Cleanest Team We Have Played" Says Quanah Hi Coach

The Crowell Wildcats are not only made a record of being one of the finest football teams in this section but also have gained the respect of their opponents as being the finest kind of sportsmen. This fact has been substantiated by many oral and written statements to local school officials, the last of which is a letter from Coach Dan Stallworth of Quanah in which he states "Crowell was by far the cleanest team his boys had played this year."

Mr. Stallworth's letter follows:
Coach Grady Graves, Crowell, Texas.
Dear Graves: I want to express our appreciation of the fine sportsmanship of your boys in our game last week. My boys all said that they were by far the cleanest bunch they had played against this season. And you have the kind of a team that you and your town should rightly be proud of.

I hope that we may continue our pleasant relationships in the other sports this year.

With best wishes for continued success, I am
Sincerely,
DAN W. STALLWORTH.

Such expressions as these are to be cherished next to actual victory. They cast a very favorable reflection on the players and their coach and make local fans even more proud of their team. Clean athletic teams are of inestimable value in giving a town as a whole a reputation for clean sportsmanship.

Will One of These Men Be the Democratic Nominee for President?

From present indications, one of the above nine men will be selected to oppose President Hoover, when the Democrats hold their national convention next summer.

Crowell Basketball Prospects Bright Again This Season

Regular basketball practice is scheduled to start at Crowell High School Friday, that is if Olney beats Chillicothe Thanksgiving in winning the championship of District 3-B. Should Chillicothe defeat Olney then a triple tie for the district lead will result and the football season will be over by no means.

Basketball prospects for the Wildcats this year are excellent and fans have high hopes that Crowell will again win the district title and also climb the ladder even higher than that. Crowell won the district championship for the first time last year and came very near winning the bi-district and a trip to Austin, but was eliminated by Nocona.

Bill Middleton and John Todd are the regulars back from last year. Ralph Burrow, Ragsdale Lanier and Guy Todd are the other regulars that finished school last year and it will be a difficult task to fill their positions as capably as they handled them. Among other members of the squad of last year that are back are: J. M. Crowell, Dick Todd, Harold Hinds and Loraine Carter.

CROWELL WINS FIRST GAME

Without any preliminary practice to speak of, the Crowell High School boys basketball team defeated Kings High School of Hardeman County 24 to 8 in a game at Kings' Wednesday night. Those playing for Crowell were Bill Middleton, John Todd, Loraine Carter, Harold Hinds, J. M.

FIRST WINTER WEATHER FELT IN FOARD CO.

Near freezing temperatures have existed in Foard County most of the week since the arrival of the first real winter weather here last Saturday, however, as yet there has not been a real frost or freeze. The Plains section of the state has had below freezing temperatures most of the week and a severe sleet storm on the north Plains did considerable damage to telephone lines Monday.

Rain here Sunday amounted to 1.7 of an inch. Rain started falling here again Wednesday and by Thursday morning it had amounted to .63 of an inch and was still falling slowly, making the total for this week over eight-tenths of an inch. The rain has fallen in a very slow manner and maximum benefit from it will be received.

PEP SQUAD MASCOT

Crowell and Dick Todd.
Kings plays a return game with Crowell here next Friday.

Fall Gardens in Foard Often More Successful Than Those in Spring

The reports of the home demonstration women of Foard County show that fall gardens are often more successful than spring gardens in this vicinity. A check taken in different clubs shows that most of the women had an average of five green vegetables growing in their gardens at the end of the second week in November. The vegetables found in the largest number of gardens are onions, lettuce, tomatoes, turnip greens, okra, spinach and carrots. Most of these vegetables will grow in West Texas gardens the year round, so there is no reason why every farm home should not have a year round garden with several vegetables for winter use.

The importance of vegetables as a source of both minerals, vitamins and bulk, and the expense of fresh vegetables show how important it is that a few fresh vegetables be raised the year round.

At the close of the third week in November Mrs. T. F. Welch of the Foard City Home Demonstration Club had 14 varieties of vegetables growing in her garden. There were two varieties of spinach, kohl rabi, turnip greens, mustard, rutabaga, bunch beans, lima beans, cream peas, onions, lettuce, okra, carrots, parsnips and tomatoes. As late as the middle of August Mrs. Welch had sweet corn, black-eyed peas and beet. All through the summer Mrs. Welch had a variety of fresh vegetables in spite of the dry weather. She irrigates with gypsum water and moves her garden spot every few years.

Mrs. G. M. Canup also of the Foard City Club has five varieties of vegetables growing in her garden and very little irrigating has been done.

A check on the Ayersville Club showed an average of five vegetables being grown in fall gardens. Mrs. Sikes had nine varieties.

The West Side Club showed an average of eight varieties being grown. Mrs. J. L. Kinchloe leading with ten varieties.

Science has found by analyzing the average human body that it contains the following substances in solution: Lime enough to white wash a chicken coop, phosphorus enough to tip 2200 matches, iron enough to make one nail, potassium enough to explode a toy cannon, fat enough to make about seven bars of soap, sugar enough to fill one cup, also nitrogen, oxygen and water.

Since vegetables are rich in these minerals we see the importance of having a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables, because if these minerals are not supplied in sufficient amounts the human body is weakened and many diseases follow.

CROWELL BOYS WIDELY KNOWN RADIO ARTISTS

(Special to The News)
By MILES (Skeet) HART
One day last week the Pacific Coast, collectively and individually, turned to its radios and tuned in on the feature broadcasting program of Station KRMT, The United Artists' Studio, at Hollywood, California. Just as the clock struck eleven o'clock in the morning, these words pervaded the ether of Sunny California:
"I'm going to make a lot of you old Texans jealous this morning. There's a big bunch of you scattered around over the western part of this continent listening to what I'm going to say and when I say it you're going to be hopping mad for there are a lot of you who'd give your head and ears to be going back to Texas right now. Listen, I received a letter from my mother this morning and she said she had about sixty young chickens which would be ready for frying about Christmas. So I'm going home to Texas for Christmas. I'm going to be gone two weeks and I'll bet there's a lot of you folks who wish you could put your feet under Mother's table this Christmas."

California is full of old Texans and many of them were listening in that morning and, without doubt, many of them did wish that they could taste once more the good old Texas cooking that this young man was talking about. And many of the Texans recognized the voice of the young man who was making their mouths water. A certain number of the listeners could recall the speaker when he was a tow-headed youngster fussing and fuming about the streets of Crowell because he wasn't old enough to achieve his ambition to be admitted to membership in the Crowell Boy Scout Troop. Some of them even recalled how his persistence finally gained him a sort of honorary membership in the troop long before.

The Magnet . . .

No CITY, no town, can long exist industrially unless it can retain its home industries and, perhaps, attract other industries.

What influences an industry to locate in a particular community? Quality and cost of labor; quality, cost, extent and availability of raw material; a market for its product, and last, but far from least, the availability, dependability and cost of electric power.

Electric power is the motive power of industry because it makes possible the most efficient use of machinery, and because its cost is almost negligible.

The modern transmission line electric system, therefore, is not merely a company furnishing dependable electric service, it is a magnet attracting and keeping industries . . . and jobs . . . in the territory it serves!

To West Texas' unexcelled advantages from the stand- points of natural resources, raw materials, intelligent labor, low production costs, an enthusiastic market and a policy of genuine cooperation with new industries, the West Texas Utilities Company—serving 125 prosperous cities and towns in West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity"—adds the provision of the dependable and inexpensive electric power supply demanded by modern industries.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford cars. Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time. 21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather. Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2,284 cents a mile—less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance. Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile. Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy. In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford cars in all branches of Detroit police work averaged 2.9 cents a mile! Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation. Few branches of transportation demand such grueling service. The records show that low fuel and oil consumption is but one of the Ford's many economies. Ford materials, simplicity of design and accuracy in manufacturing provide unusual strength, stamina and freedom from replacements and repairs. The individual car buyer as well as the purchasing department of a city or a business cannot afford to ignore the proved economy of the Ford car. FIFTEEN DIFFERENT BODY TYPES $430 to $640 (F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost. Economical time payments through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Co.)

LOCATING THE CAPITAL

Among the troublesome questions which confronted Congress in the early days of the republic was that of selecting a permanent seat of government. Between 1774 and 1788 the old Continental Congress held sessions at various times in no less than eight different towns.

These were Philadelphia; Baltimore; Lancaster, Pa.; York, Pa.; Princeton, N. J.; Annapolis, Md.; Trenton, N. J.; and New York. This continual moving about of the seat of government caused Francis Hopkinson, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence to facetiously suggest that the capital be readily moved from place to place as desired.

When the new government under the present constitution was formed in 1789, the seat of government was temporarily located in New York, but was removed to Philadelphia the following year. After much discussion the present site was selected and the corner stone of the capital was laid by President Washington on September 18, 1793, with Masonic ceremonies.

The government was removed to Washington in 1800, during the administration of President Adams. Of the condition of the place at that time a writer says: "The new city's streets and parks existed on paper only. New arrivals saw gangs of laborers making the first improvements since the clearing away of the forest trees on what has become the most famous historic street in the country, the broad stretch of Pennsylvania Avenue.

AUTHOR OF "DIXIE"

Whenever the stirring tune of "Dixie" is played, particularly in the South, it is met with hearty applause. Thus, do Southerners pay tribute, unconsciously as a rule, to an Ohio Yankee.

For "Dixie" was composed by Daniel Decatur Emmett, born in Mount Vernon, Ohio, in 1818. Emmet, like that other writer of Southern songs, Stephen Foster, never lived in the South.

Emmet was one of the organizers of the first negro minstrel company to tour the country, formed in 1842, when it opened in Chatham Square Theatre, New York. He was afterward associated with Dan Bryant, and in 1865 he formed his own company. He retired in 1878 and died in 1904 at the age of 89.

The song "Dixie" was written in 1859 and instantly became popular. The South adopted it and now after 72 years it stirs its hearers with undiminished enthusiasm.

In 1927 a tablet to Emmett's memory was unveiled in the churchyard of the Calvary Episcopal Church at Fletcher, N. C., the first memorial erected to him in the South, marking another link in the chain which binds the reunited country.

Second Woman Senator

Senator Thomas H. Caraway's widow has been appointed to succeed her husband as Senator from Arkansas. Mrs. Rebecca Felton of Georgia was the first of her sex to sit in the Senate.

A WOMAN SENATOR

For the first time in its history, the United States Senate is to have a woman member who will actually take part in the proceedings of that body, in the person of Mrs. Hattie Caraway, appointed to succeed her late husband, Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway of Arkansas.

One other woman, Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton of Georgia, was Senator for one day, under a complimentary appointment, but performed no actual service.

Mrs. Caraway will serve under her present appointment until a special election is held in January, in which she is a candidate for the unexpired term of her husband, and for which she will probably have no opposition. She will then serve until 1933, and has agreed not to ask for re-election.

The growing custom of appointing or electing the wives of dead officials to succeed them in public office is sentimentally fine, but whether it is always in the public interest is open to question. When the wife is really fitted for the office concerned there could be no legitimate objection, and in the case of Mrs. Caraway it is said that she is fully capable of performing the duties of Senator.

Almost any bright woman would be an improvement on the average present-day occupant of a Senate seat.

A QUICK MILLENIUM

When I was in London I read an interesting, and rather pathetic, newspaper article by the "baby member" of Parliament. His is Frank Owen.

He recalled his maiden speech in which he proclaimed: "High hopes brought this Parliament into being. We will make it a Parliament of high endeavor."

He had been full of fine plans in those days. For one thing, the timble men were to have higher wages. "We got them another 1s. 6d. a week," he says, "and then the State sacked some of them. "We looked forward to the debates on unemployment and agriculture and the mines," he adds, "and spoke from the back benches when the heavy guns were at dinner."

He was twenty-three in those days. Now he is twenty-five, and wiser. His hopes have faded.

He thought he was going to play a large part in changing England and the Empire. Instead of this he is "spending his time answering letters issued by organizations ordering us

(a) to vote for humane slaughter of beasts (b) to vote against it, (a) to open cinemas on Sunday (b) to close them, (a) to prohibit sweepstakes (b) to extend them."

He has about reached the conclusion that all effort is futile, and that the world is on its way to perdition.

Some of us who are older can tell him from our own experience that he is now at the age of greatest discouragement. We, too, came into life full of determination to set things right instantly. We were frankly critical of the bungling of our predecessors. There should be no more mistakes and no delay!

In a couple of years we, too, were in the depths of despair, deeper than we have ever been in since.

It is not clear to any human mind just what is the whole purpose and plan of human life. But two things are reasonably apparent.

First, it does not seem to be any part of the program to have the millennium come quickly or easily. Gain is won only as a result of sweat and blood, and time.

Second, as we get older we see more clearly how destructive it would be if all good ideas of youth were allowed to become immediately effective. The first two Great Reforms in whose service I myself labored were both successful. I think now that both were bad mistakes.

So in our later years we give up the idea of a quick millennium. Some of us do it in deep discouragement. Others say: "I cannot lick the world, but there is one part of it I can lick, namely, myself. I'll see what I can do with that."

It's a good sporting proposition. And who knows? Maybe the spread of that simple idea is the real plan.

John Philip Sousa was 77 years old the other day, and still directs his famous band with dash and vigor. He was wary of giving interviews on his birthday, and related how he had once been misquoted by an Atlanta paper. He told a reporter that his favorite recreation was trap shooting, but the paper printed it "crap shooting." He has been shy of reporters ever since.

Another fake advertising scheme is being worked successfully in various places, it is said. The promoters sell advertising in a radio log book, collecting small amounts in advance. Then the swindlers skip without getting out the book. It seems that business men would have learned to avoid such schemes by this time, but Barnum's estimate that a sucker is born every minute appears to hold good, and then some.

GRID GOSSIP

(By Mack)

Jack Roberts Jr. won the contest of last week and also succeeded in guessing the actual score of the S. M. U.-Navy game which was 13 to 6 in favor of the Texans.

Games this week practically end the football season, although there will be a few other games played until the first of the year.

Results of last week, together with Roberts' predictions, with winning teams and actual scores coming first follow: S. M. U.-Navy, 13-6, 13-6; T. C. U.-Baylor, 19-6, 20-0; Rice-Arkansas, 26-12, 19-7; Texas-Centenary, 8-0, 27-0.

The following are predicting scores for games this week: Jack Roberts Jr., 1; Gordon Bell, 2; Teddy Burrow, 3; Fred Kimsey, 4; Robert Oswald, 5, and Vern Walden, 6.

Their predictions follow:

Table with columns 1-6 and rows for Texas, A. & M., S. M. U., T. C. U., Rice, Baylor, Centenary, and Arkansas.

The above games should be the hardest fought of any played in the Southwestern Conference this year. A. & M. has displayed surprising power this year and even when the Aggies are weak, they are hard to beat on Kyle field.

T. C. U. will likely be playing over their heads to beat the undefeated Mustangs and therefore enter into a tie for the conference championship. The game is being played at Fort Worth, but nevertheless we think S. M. U. will win, 13 to 6. All are predicting S. M. U. to win.

Rice should beat Baylor at Houston by the score of 19 to 7. Everyone is also predicting the Owls to win. Gordon Bell and Fred Kimsey pick Arkansas to beat Centenary at Shreveport. This will be Centenary's final bid this year for Southwestern Conference championship and we believe that the Louisiana boys will win by the score of 20 to 6.

We pick Vern Walden to win first; Teddy Burrow, second; Jack Roberts Jr., third; Robert Oswald, fourth; Fred Kimsey, fifth, and Gordon Bell, last.

Well, the football season is practically over. Surely seems that it has been a record breaker for getting over in a hurry, at least it seems that way to us. It doesn't seem but a short time ago when the Wildcats first started practice and now, unless post-season games result, Crowell will be playing its final game of the year at Paducah Thanksgiving and a number of the players will end their service for the Wildcats.

John Todd, the veteran of the squad, will complete his fourth year and with his departure will go the record of being one of the finest linemen that this section has ever known. Coach, Acker of Olney paid tribute to John in stating that he was as good a tackle as he had ever seen on any high school team. John's value to the team has certainly been great.

Recie Womack, the other tackle, has also been a power in Crowell's far-famed defense. He is completing his third and final year on the squad. In Womack and Todd we feel that Crowell easily had the best pair of tackles in the district. Coach Graves has always been able to depend on either player. Fans were always sure that they would find either player ready for any game and with John on one side of the line and Recie on the other, local fans have been afforded a feeling of security for the team's success.

Elliott Rogers, who played a portion of the season with the Wildcats three years ago, is now one of the leading players for Sweetwater High School. Sweetwater has one of the best records of any team in West Texas. What time he was with the Wildcats it is understood that he is playing in the line at Sweetwater. He moved with his family from Crowell to Sweetwater and immediately became a member of the Sweetwater club.

"Smokey" Zachary, whom local fans will never forget as the individual that exploded Crowell's chances for the bi-district championship in basketball last year, is now a member of the S. M. U. freshman football team and at this Thanksgiving season the Wildcats and local fans should give thanks that there is no chance for this outstanding Nocona High School star to duplicate his performance of last season.

After winning the district last year, Crowell defeated Nocona 48 to 27 at Nocona in the first game of the bi-district series. In the next two games Captain Zachery was all over the court in leading his team to 25 to 17 and 23 to 20 victories and instead of a trip to Austin for the Wildcats, the Nocona Indians got it instead.

In this connection we might say that basketball prospects for Crowell this year are very good.

STUDENTS GIVE THANKSGIVING PROGRAM AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

A number of pupils of the grammar school, under the direction of Mrs. Vern Walden and Miss Frances Hill, teachers, provided an entertaining Thanksgiving program at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday.

Readings were given by Helen Harwell, J. M. Hill Jr., Ruth Ferguson and Mary Frances Bruce. The vocal numbers were given by a chorus consisting of Dorothy Pauline McKown, Mary Bell Bell, Marjorie Fox, Camille Graves, Mary Elizabeth Hughston, Mary Lou Fudge, Ada Evelyn Smith, Florene Miller, Ruth Burns, Virginia Mae Coffey, Lois Evelyn Norris and Ruth Ferguson, with Miss Hill as accompanist. Peggy Cooper and Tom Ray Roberts joined the chorus in providing a whistling number. Short talks about Thanksgiving were made by Evelyn Lee Cauthon and Ann Mabe.

Solon Featherston of Wichita Falls gave a short talk. M. S. Henry was in charge of the program.

The regular luncheon next week will not be held due to an inter-city meeting at Quanah next Thursday evening for the clubs of Vernon, Quanah, Crowell and Childress.

Hog Curing—

160 degrees. At that temperature it takes about three minutes to properly scald a hog. Most everyone has had the experience of getting the water too hot and cooking the skin on the hog. This can be avoided if care is taken in heating the water. The head and feet should be cleaned first, as they are more easily cleaned when the hog is first removed from the barrel or vat.

Cleaning and Dressing

After the hog has been scraped thoroughly it should not be allowed to touch the ground or a muddy table. After scraping, hang the hog and wash off with warm water, scraping down towards the head. After shaving or singeing the hairs off the carcass, wash thoroughly with cold water. When the hog has been thoroughly cleaned it should be opened up and the entrails removed. It is best to allow the meat to cool thoroughly before cutting; however, it should not be allowed to freeze.

Cutting

There are two general methods used in cutting pork. The most common method used in this section is to remove the back bone whole from the carcass, removing the ribs likewise. The Extension Service meat specialist recommends the method of splitting the carcass down the middle of the backbone and removing the shoulder between the fourth and fifth ribs. The shoulder is then divided into picnic and butt by cutting across the shoulder at a point where the neck bones were taken out. The side is then divided into back and belly.

Dry Cure

For 100 pounds of meat to be cured use: 8 lbs. of salt, 2 lbs. of brown sugar, 2 ounces of saltpeter. Rub half of this mixture on the meat and pack it down in a box, barrel or stone jar. Save the other half of the mixture. At the end of seven days repack the meat and rub on the remainder of the curing mixture. Let the bacon cure not to exceed one and one-half days per pound piece. For example: if your pieces of bacon weigh ten pounds each, they should be cured not to exceed fifteen days. Let the hams and shoulders cure 3 days per pound per piece. For example, fifteen pound hams should cure for forty-five days. Let the shoulder butts cure 1 day per pound per piece.

Brine Cure or Sweet Pickle

For each 100 pounds of meat to be cured use: 12 lbs. of salt, 3 lbs. of brown sugar, 3 ounces saltpeter, 6 gallons water. Dissolve the curing mixture in water and bring to boil. This should be done on the day the hog is killed. Allow the brine to get thoroughly cold. Never pour warm brine over the meat. Pack the meat in a clean oak barrel or stone crock. Hams should go in first, with the skin side down, next the shoulders, skin side down, and last the bacon, skin side up. Weight the meat down with a rock so that it will not float in the brine. Use a hard flinty rock. Now pour the cold brine over the meat. All the meat should be covered with the brine. Place the curing barrel in a cool, well ventilated place. After seven days the meat should be repacked to insure a uniform cure. The time for remaining in cure is the same as dry cure. Ten pound pieces of bacon not over 15 days. Fifteen pound hams not over forty-five days.

Storage

If the meat is to be kept for some time it should be wrapped in paper or placed in tight bags and then hung in a dry, cool, dark and vermin-proof place. Use plenty of paper and be sure there are no openings for flies to lay skipper eggs.

Individual participation is sought in all our services. You will help greatly by taking such part and giving such help as requested by the leaders of the church work. Willing workers and not highly qualified workers is the great need in the church today. Everyone can be a willing worker.

At this Thanksgiving season, let us not fail to be truly thankful to God for all the many blessings we enjoy. This thankful spirit is best manifested in happy, joyous, willing service to others in sharing with them of such things as God has blessed us with, that is, our love, sympathy, time, knowledge, encouragement, as well as our material goods.

Christian Women to Meet

The next meeting of the study class of the women of the Christian Church will be held Thursday, Dec. 3, at the home of Mrs. Pete Bell at three o'clock.

Christian Science Churches

The subject of the lesson-sermon was "Soul and Body" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 22.

Psalms 104:1 furnished the golden-text. "Bless the Lord, O my soul. O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honor and majesty."

This passage from the Bible (II Corinthians 5:1) was included in the service: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens."

Embraced in the lesson-sermon were also the following citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Because Soul is immortal, it does not exist in mortality. Soul must be incorporeal to be Spirit, for Spirit is not finite. Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light" (p. 335). "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit" (p. 223).

PAUL'S LETTER TO PHILEMON
Philemon 4-20

This is the time you will surely read an entire book, and without asking "What chapter, please," as did a certain theologian when Prof. Purves indicated a verse for special study. Then you will need to make certain of the pronunciation, which is on the long "e".

Onesimus is a slave who stole from his master Philemon, and then ran away. Finally he turned up in Rome and dropped in at one of Paul's meetings. Now Paul knew Philemon well and may even have recognized the slave. At least Onesimus was a totally different man following his conversion. Then he consulted with Paul about the right way to recompense Philemon, for he was still the chattel of the owner. Obviously, only one person could be the judge, but Paul made the approach easy by the gracious letter which he wrote and which Onesimus, possibly with Tychicus, was the bearer.

Art in letter writing is splendidly set forth in this short letter. Some people just write bare facts in their letters and others make themselves vivid both in direct expression and as you read between the lines. It is a joy to read a letter from such a friend.

Much is packed into the salutation. The family of Philemon is included in the greeting. The commendations will be pleasing to the recipient, and it must be kept in mind that Paul is writing for a purpose: to gain kindly treatment of runaway Onesimus.

Slavery today is all but over in the world. There are obligations still with reference to enslaved humanity which rest on each one of us. The Golden Text is sweeping in its scope: "There can be neither bond nor free—for all are one man in Christ Jesus," Galatians, 3:28. How do you think Philemon received Onesimus?

HELP OR HARM

Two young men had become addicted to morphine. Realizing their plight, they applied to Bellevue Hospital for treatment. After a period of struggling and suffering they finally conquered the terrible habit with the help of doctor and nurse. They were dismissed as cured.

When they left the hospital, a man approached and wheedled them into accepting a free dose of the drug, ostensibly to cheer them after the long abstinence, but in reality to re-awaken the desire so that they would again become customers.

"The fiend!" we exclaim. Whether he was acting on his own behalf or for a powerful ring, as is probable, we do not know, but his work or their work is fiendish beyond words.

The human kindness that builds hospitals spends fortunes to lift poor victims out of their misery, and these monsters pull them down just to enrich their own pockets. Seldom, if ever, has the difference between light and darkness in the human heart been more marked than in these deplorable cases. It is almost like heaven and hell.

So we fulminate in righteous indignation and perhaps we forget that we are all involved, for humanity is one. Every one of us either raises up or pulls down, and no aloof indifference excuses us. The line of demarcation is very distinct, although at times we may not see it because our vision is blurred.

In thought and word and deed, in your attitude toward your nearest kin and dearest friends, as well as humanity at large, you either help or harm. You may not be angel or fiend, but you align yourself with one or the other.

THE BIBLE AND THE DEPRESSION

When the days are dark, men need its light. When the times are hard, men need its comfort.

When the outlook is discouraging, men need its confidence. When despair is abroad, men need its word of hope.

There are luxuries that may well be spared. There are even necessities that can be curtailed. But the Bible, indispensable at all times, is still more indispensable in times like these today.

The Bible is not a book of political maxims or of economic theories. It is not a book of maxims or theories at all. It is a book of living principles. Its spirit is the spirit of brotherliness and good will. It is a summons to helpfulness: "Bear ye one another's burdens." It is a summons also to self-respecting independence: "Let every man bear his own burden." It teaches charity, but also justice. It calls us to the giving and serving which the strong owe to the weak, and those who have to those who lack; but it also strikes straight and clear at the moral defects in individuals which are responsible for a large part of the poverty and suffering of the world; and also at the moral and economic defects in society, in business relations, and in the distribution of the common resources of the world, which are responsible for the remaining part.

Christ is the only hope of individuals and of society. And the Bible is the only book which tells His story. It alone preserves His words, which are spirit and life. It alone records His deeds by which He saved the world, and would save it now if we would obey Him.

The best thing men can do is to spread the Bible and to get it read and obeyed. This would be the end

The FAMILY DOCTOR

by JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

SPEAKING OF TEETH

I doubt if any one ever fully appreciates his or her teeth quite so much as when they have just been all extracted by the dentist. When the victim struggles through the agonizing days, trying to "break in" a new set of artificial teeth he remembers what a treasure he has lost in his natural teeth; if it were to do over again, he'd treat those native molars and incisors with a great deal more of respect than he did when he had them.

The modern advice as to care of the teeth is plenty voluminous: the ether-wave sizzles with the bray of the charlatan. The hawk mercilessly besets you with his sugar-coated nostrum, and wise columnists hand you tooth-theories, sophistries and "isms." . . . There and many more. Why should I add my bit? Well, common sense at this time may not be amiss.

There is no law on God's green earth that requires obedience as to how often you should see your dentist, or how often a man or child should apply a nostrum to any part of the mouth, gums, teeth or throat. Just the simple, well-known admonition: Be clean, and against any harmful practice—and consult your dentist at the first symptom of rebellion in the dental region. There is no minimum or maximum on your visits to the tooth doctor; go when you need his services, be it one, none, or twenty times a year.

Continual and senseless scrubbing of the teeth is highly capable of doing grave harm; many a case of pyorrhea has been set up by the use of septic tooth brushes; the enamel of your teeth was not put there as a field for exploitation by the swarm of nostrum-vendors that infest the land. Nature gave us about all we need in food-elements for keeping the teeth clean. Look for them and use them—and don't believe everything you hear.

COUNTY FEDERATION MET AT FOARD CITY NOV. 19TH

The Foard County Federation met Nov. 19 at the Foard City Church. Miss Russie Raspberry led in the singing after which the Lord's prayer was repeated in unison.

The president conducted a business session and turned the meeting over to Mrs. Melvin Moore of Margaret, who had prepared the program.

Mrs. Mark Henry brought news from the Lubbock convention.

Mrs. Lewis Sloan presented some school children in two entertaining numbers. A dialogue "The Mumps" was portrayed by Kenneth Halbert and Lavoyce Lefevre.

Edith Marie Gover sang "Yesterday."

Several authorities on the promotion of world peace was quoted by Mrs. Clint White.

At noon the Foard City Home Demonstration Club presided over a covered dish luncheon at the club house.

It was observed that the reception room of the club house boasted a new floor covering. The floor covering was a prize from "Achievement Day."

The afternoon session opened with a song with Miss Raspberry leading. A well-planned group of ideas was set forth by Mrs. Henry Ayers.

Facts concerning the origin and observance of book week were given by Mrs. Alton Andrews.

Those present especially enjoyed the review of J. B. Priestly's book, "Good Companions," by Mrs. Reese.

The meeting closed with the singing of a pep song.—Reporter.

CROWELL P. T. A.

The Crowell P. T. A. met Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 17, at 4 o'clock at the school auditorium.

Miss Woods was leader for the afternoon and her subject was "Book Week." Miss Woods gave a talk on the "Origin of Book Week," she stated that the theme for Book Week was "Around the World with Books." She was assisted on the program by Mrs. Andrews, who gave a talk on Magazines for the home, and Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, who gave a very interesting report of the State P. T. A. Convention at San Antonio.

Mary Elizabeth Hughton displayed posters made by pupils in the Intermediate Department.

Mrs. E. V. Halbert, Pantry Demonstrator for the Foard City Club, planned a budget of 725 containers for her family of four, but a check shows that she has about 1,000 containers.

In West Texas the wise housewife can save a surplus in the productive years because every few years there is a complete failure either in fruits or vegetables.

On visiting Mrs. Halbert's pantry, Miss Grubbs, District Home Demonstration Agent commented especially on the good quality of the products found there.

Mrs. Halbert has collected her menu recipes and bulletin files. Mr. and Mrs. Halbert raise more than enough poultry and dairy products for home use, and also raise and cure an adequate supply of meat.

Mrs. T. W. Cooper, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Vivian Home Demonstration Club, has filled a budget of 300 containers of food to use in preparing well balanced meals for the unproductive months.

Mrs. Cooper has nineteen varieties of vegetables growing in her garden at the present time. These are lettuce, mustard, kale, turnips, radishes, Swiss chard, collards, celery, cabbage, sweet pepper, onions, okra, three varieties of spinach, carrots, beets and lima beans.

Mrs. Cooper used the sub-irrigation system during the past summer and found it very profitable. She is planning to use a hotbed for lettuce, mustard, etc., during the most severe months this winter. In this way she will have vegetables the year round.

Following the initiation of the new members, the following officers were elected: Tom Kenner of Waxahachie, president; Miss Nancy Field of St. Jo., vice-president; and Mrs. Robbie Stroop of Cleburne assistant secretary and treasurer.

Trinity is a charter member of the Scholarship Societies of the South. The local chapter is named for Dr. S. L. Hornbeak president emeritus of Trinity who was one of the founders of the Societies of the South.

AYERSVILLE CLUB

The Ayersville club met Nov. 19, with Mrs. Dave Shultz. There were 15 present, nine members, 5 visitors and Miss Hale. A very interesting demonstration was given on angel food and spice cake.

A business meeting was held and Mrs. Henry Ayers was elected as the new president. A new election was held on account of Mrs. Wise, our recently elected president, moved from our community. We were very sorry to lose her from our club and community.

The club adjourned to meet some time in December at the school building in a social meeting. The time of meeting will be announced later.—Reporter.

MARY CLAYTON GIDDINGS HOSTESS AT PARTY FRIDAY

Refreshments of pumpkin pie, whipped cream and hot punch were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Harwell, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Cole, Misses Annie Mae Ellis, Lula Bowley, Deulah Bowley, Dosca Hale, Louise Pechacek, Jewel Mullins, Dorothy Hinds, Gussie Rich, Minnie Ringgold, Winnie Thompson, Mae Sollis, Messrs. Henry Black, Dan McKown, Harry McKown, Grady Magee, Julian Wright, Mason Brown, Fite Crowell, Byron Davis and Mrs. Giddings.

The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in all appointments throughout the evening.

Club Women of Foard Plan Pantry Budgets

A family of five will need about 750 containers of food during the six unproductive months in West Texas. This budget together with some fresh fruits, vegetables and meats will enable the housewife to plan adequate meals, according to Miss Dosca Hale, home demonstration agent.

of musical entertainers known as "Stewart Hamblen's Southern Aces" and their very excellent broadcasts are gaining daily in popularity. The group now forms KRMT's feature program and it is said that their growing popularity has added enormously to the advertising income of the United States Artists' Studio.

One has only to tune in on the program to realize, before ever an announcement is made that he is listening to a group of Texans. The very songs and the conservation carried on between the members of the troop are redolent of the Texas atmosphere and one of their most popular numbers has proved to be "My Brown Eyed Texas Rose." One can distinguish, even through the air, a sort of home-sickness for Texas which all the bravado of devil-may-care youngsters cannot erase.

As one of the troop is reputed to have said, "We may live in California all our lives, but we'll still be only temporary residents."

Crowell people will recall that even ten years ago, when Stewart Hamblen moved away from the town, he was beginning to be favorably noticed for his skill in playing the ukele and for his charming boyish voice. Particularly will one memory stand out. That is of the scene in the District Court Room when young Hamblen, then about twelve years of age, assisted the late D. L. Reavis in the rendition of an entertainment for some local charity. On that occasion the budding young artist rendered, to the echo of spontaneous applause, encore after encore, to the obvious delight of that old musical master, Mr. Reavis, who had predicted the appreciation of the audience. His voice, at that time, was immature and lacked the timbre which it later acquired, but it held the forecast of great things to come. These great things are only beginning to be realized and experienced radio entertainers of the West Coast predict that his popularity will not wane but will, on the contrary, increase with time.

Mr. Hamblen is also becoming known throughout this section as an impresario of radio talent, having arranged and placed the services of a number of excellent groups of entertainers. The programs of these other groups are in most instances arranged and worked out by Hamblen, who seems to have a sort of sixth sense which enables him to judge to a minute degree just what will please an unseen audience.

Stewart Hamblen is the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Hamblen, now of Sweetwater, Texas. His father was for four years pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Crowell. Upon leaving there the Reverend Hamblen was sent to a pastorate at Stamford, Texas, where Stewart finished his schooling. Mrs. Roy Ricks, a sister of Stewart, is at this time a resident of Crowell.

The daily program of the "Southern Aces" is broadcast from Hollywood at an hour corresponding to 1 o'clock p. m., Central Standard Time, on a frequency of five hundred seventy kilocycles, and at that hour the switchboard of the station is invariably congested with incoming telephone calls and telegrams commending the Aces for the excellence of their programs.

When lunchtime comes and the clock registers high noon in California, the local radio fan hears with a sigh the end of the "Southern Aces" program. Then he turns to his radio and gives the dial a twist, and a frequency of thirteen hundred sixty kilocycles picks up the station announcement of KGER, of Long Beach, California.

"This is Station KGER, of Long Beach. We will now entertain you with our daily feature program: 'Tennessee Joe and his Cumberland Gap Ramblers.'"

And here one has an opportunity to listen to another old Crowell boy who has set the radio world by its ears. The young man who is featured in this program as "Dinky" is J. W. Oats, the 19-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oats, who moved from Crowell to California some eight years ago.

Dinky was a bit too young when he left Crowell to be very well remembered by the most of its citizenship, but a certain number will remember that he was a chipper young fellow who found great delight in toying with a violin or most any other stringed instrument while he was still wrestling with the intricacies of long division. He will be remembered by others as the pride and delight of his grandfather, the late Reverend J. S. Woods, Crowell leader of the Primitive Baptist Church.

And doubtless a great number of the old time Western songs which so delight the ears of the vast radio audience were learned at the knee of that self-same old grey bearded grandfather, who was able to recall many lonesome nights spent on the prairies of Foard County, singing a herd to sleep with "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie" and other songs of that sort. Probably, too, Uncle Jim Woods, taught him by the words and tune of the KGER theme song, "Keep on the Sunny Side of Life."

That song, "Keep on the Sunny Side," has come to mean only one thing to the West Coast, and that one thing is Dinky and the Cumberland Gap Ramblers. Even when the troop is engaged for private concerts or for banquets or any affair of that sort they invariably begin their program with the theme song. Tennessee Joe sings the song, but Dinky plays the violin and yodels an accompaniment which evokes the enthusiastic applause of his auditors.

Dinky and the group with whom he plays has a great collection of old songs and they offer a standing prize to any listener who requests a song more than thirty years old which they cannot play. So far only one prize has been awarded.

When Dinky first began his career in radio, some year or so ago, he was with a troop known as the "Lone Star Rangers." He soon became the feature artist of that program, specializing in yodeling. In a voice test conducted in a Los Angeles radio station about six months ago he sang the highest note of any singer present, reaching G above high C. This feat won him quite a bit of publicity in the West and since that time his services have been constantly sought for. To this date he has found it to his advantage to work as a member of such groups as that of Tennessee Joe, rather than to organize an entertaining group of his own.

The fan mail of the Cumberland Gap Ramblers is enormous and it is likely that more than half of that received is addressed to Dinky. The troop recently received some beautiful hand-made gifts from native esquimos of Alaska, who had been listening to their programs coming in over the portable radio set of some Christian missionary. Letters reach them almost daily from numerous foreign countries, nearly all of them commenting on the excellence of Dinky's yodeling numbers.

The Cumberland Gap Ramblers have become familiar of great audiences in this section by reason of their personal appearances at various theaters, as well as by reason of their original and amusing publicity stunts.

The entire city of Los Angeles chuckled recently when the troop was found by a policeman wandering through the city park, attired in farm clothes and with squirrel rifles and axes over their shoulders. The policeman remonstrated with them, declaring that the carrying of the guns was illegal. When questioned, the men told the officer that they were hunting squirrels and bee-guns.

"But," said the officer, "you can't hunt in here. This is the city park!"

"Guess not," said Dinky. "Paw bought this land yesterday from a man who met us at the depot. And Stranger, we intend to hunt squirrels and bee-trees as much and as long as we please."

The affair caused quite a sensation in the city before it was discovered that it was merely a publicity stunt. Sums of money were raised in the city to defray the expenses of obtaining the release of the squirrel hunters from the city jail and the radio station's fan mail increased to such an extent that the strength of the postman was sorely taxed for many days.

These two young men, Stewart Hamblen and J. W. Oats, have become two of the most popular entertainers in the West and demonstrate once more what perseverance, coupled with ingenuity, can do for the youngster who has faith in himself. Foard County may pride itself on their achievements.
