

The Post Dispatch

Post, Garza County, Texas, Thursday, May 30, 1963

Number 52

The Dispatch is pleased to announce it will have a new column in the next several weeks. The Bill Hogue has consented to write about his impressions of the area in a regular weekly feature entitled, "Impression on a Monday." As Bill says, they will be just that—not facts, but his impressions of the four Oriental sessions—Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, and Macao. We're sure our readers will find them interesting. Watch for the feature next week.

You'll note on page 3 that James Miller will open the big 48th Anniversary Sale at Mason and Commercial Friday. Which calls attention to the fact that this firm in just more years will be celebrating its Golden Jubilee. What we want to call your attention to in our big sales announcement is comment about "this day of most houses, wholesale houses, something for nothing." It's not in the furniture business just that—not facts, but his opinion—"trying to convince everybody that they literally give away. They don't of course—it's a come-on to get prospects in range of their high pressure salesmen."

Stings welcomes a new neighbor on our left, Marie and Nolan Miller, who will open their new cafe next door to The Dispatch today. The Millers recently returned from Compton, Calif., where two years Nolan has been a partner in the Frye Roofing Co., which manufactures roofing materials. The Millers opened and operated the Hi Way Cafe here for four years before moving to California and have decided to prefer Post to the West. You'll find their announcement on page 8 of today's Dispatch.

The folks down at Post Implement Company are featured on The Dispatch's business page on page today. We find these business men interesting to write and feel readers enjoy looking at these photos "from the other side of the counter."

Ben Henry Tate stopped in the yesterday to get his Dispatch signed to follow him to Jacksboro. He jokingly told him when city got into any water trouble sponsor a long distance call. But Henry already had this figured out. He explained he was taking a city map along with him so when anybody called on him, he would have it for ready reference and he could give them a quick answer. The Tates are scheduled to leave Post Thursday morning. He'll officially become water superintendent of Jacksboro Saturday. As for Tate's successor here, Mayor Harold Lucas had only report, "we're looking."

Straying polecat is cornered and killed
An unwelcome "visitor" in the block of West 5th Street—a polecat—was killed with a stick Tuesday afternoon by Police Chief Elton Corley.
The police chief was called after a group of children saw the animal. They chased the polecat into a yard and dispatched it with a stick as the head.

Alaska, Montana Post youths leave for summer work

Young Cokrum and Larry... left Sunday afternoon for their vacation work far from home.
They will work this summer for U. S. Park Service in Glacier National Park in Montana, and Larry will be employed in fire-fighting as a "smoke jumper" for the Bureau of Land Management in Alaska stationed at Fairbanks.
Cokrum is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cokrum and is driving to his destination in Montana. Larry, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph... will accompany him that day and then hitch-hike on to Alaska.

POST WOMAN CELEBRATES 94TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Nancy R. Davis, one of Garza County's oldest residents, celebrated her 94th birthday last Thursday at her home in Post. She is shown here with the two birthday cakes she received.

Birthday no excuse for being idle, says pioneer resident

Mrs. Nancy C. Davis hadn't forgotten that Thursday, May 23, was her 94th birthday. She just couldn't see why that wasn't as good a day as any to wash her windows and tidy up the curtains.
So, when her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alta Davis, and a neighbor,

Mrs. Jim Hays, called to bring her birthday cakes and wish her a happy birthday, they found the spry little woman just as busy as if it hadn't been her birthday.
Mrs. Davis lives alone at 509 South G. Place, next door to her son, Guy Davis, and his wife, Alta.

She has been a resident of Post since 1915, when she and her husband, James Rufus Davis, who died nearly 19 years ago, moved here from Cottonwood, in Callahan County.

Mrs. Davis was born May 23, 1869, in Lebanon, Mo., and she and Mr. Davis were married in Missouri in 1887, moving to Texas in the late 1890's.

Mr. Davis farmed for a number of years after moving to Texas, but most of the time he lived in Post, he was employed at the Post-tex Mill.

Mrs. Davis is a charter member of the Calvary Baptist Church, which she helped build, doing almost as much work in its construction as any of the men on the job.

Mrs. Davis' daughter-in-law and Mrs. Hays, who stayed for a visit last Thursday after bringing the birthday cakes, recalled that when the old Post-tex Hotel was remodeled into a building for the Calvary Baptist Church, Mrs. Davis worked hour after hour pulling nails.

"Then she took the lathes that had come from under the plaster in the old hotel building and the nails she'd pulled and built her..."

Memorial Day service at 10 a. m. Thursday

Post will observe the traditional Memorial Day holiday Thursday as a Chamber of Commerce holiday with many stores and places of business closing.
Terrace Cemetery is reported to be "in the best shape ever" for the trek to visit the graves of loved ones.

The VFW and American Legion posts will jointly sponsor a Memorial Day service honoring Garza's war dead of all wars at 10 a. m. Thursday in the cemetery.

Dave Sanford, president of KPOS radio, will be the Memorial Day speaker for this service.
The Rev. Joe Green will bring the opening and closing prayers.

A firing squad salute will follow the roll call of deceased veterans.
At the conclusion of the service VFW and Legion members will decorate all veterans' graves in the cemetery.

18 beginners are learning English

Classes began at the primary school Monday for non-English speaking youngsters who will be starting to school for the first time next September.

Eighteen pupils had enrolled for the 46-day school through Tuesday and a few others are expected, according to Noel Clemmons, primary school principal.

The classes, which are from 9 until 12 Monday through Friday, are being taught by Mrs. Frank Blanton.

This is the third year the special classes have been held and they have proved a big help to non-English speaking students starting to school, Clemmons said. Of the 24 who took the course last summer, 15 were promoted this spring from the first into the second grade.

Pleasant Valley burglary solved

Two youths are out on $1,000 bonds and a 16-year-old juvenile faces a juvenile hearing here next Wednesday for allegedly breaking into the Pleasant Valley store last Wednesday night, May 22.

Deputy Lloyd Merritt, who made the three arrests last Friday, said John Valdez, 18, of Lynn County and Max Vargas, 19, of Lubbock had signed statements and are out on bond pending grand jury action.
The juvenile is from Lynn County too.

Taken in the burglary were a flashlight, two cameras, about 40 packages of cigarettes, several cans and packages of Fritos, four cartons of chewing gum, a number of cigars, canned goods, and several boxes of candy.
Much of the stolen goods was recovered, Merritt said.

FOREIGN STUDENTS VISIT

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Blacklock Monday were Miss Lai Fu-mai and Miss Chen Wan-jung of Taipei, Formosa, and Mrs. I. E. McDade and daughters, Kathy Williams and Judy McDade of Carlsbad, Tex. Miss Lia and Chen are graduates at Texas Woman's University in Denton where Miss Williams also is a student.

Scholarships go to six graduates

Six graduating Post High School seniors were presented with scholarship awards Friday night at graduation exercises at Antelope Stadium before they joined 46 of their classmates in receiving their high school diplomas.

Delton Robinson, co-valedictorian with Marianne Jones, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson, received two of them—the traditional $100 valedictorian scholarship, and a $300 scholarship presented by the '46-'56 Club for the first time for both outstanding athletic achievement and scholarship.

Robinson was a high-scoring half-back on the 1962 Antelope football eleven.

Glenn Polk, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Polk, was presented with a $250 scholarship award for any accredited college in Texas from the Post Parent-Teacher Association for both scholarship and participation in school activities. Polk was president of the senior class and one of the six honor students.
A $150 scholarship from Xi Delta Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was presented by Mrs. Darrel Eckols to Lenny Howell, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Graydon Howell.

Marianne Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, received a $100 scholarship as co-valedictorian.

Two $75 scholarships to Draughton's Business College in Lubbock were presented to the two outstanding commercial students of the graduating class, Frankie Gary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gary, and Norma Julian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rinker.

The $300 scholarship from the 46-'56 Club was raised through member dues and the sale of football programs at the 1962 Antelope home games.

PAUL FAULKNER, dean of men at Abilene Christian College and commencement speaker, told the graduating seniors and a large crowd of parents and friends that "this is a commencing not an ending."

He emphasized that all the knowledge acquired in the 6,000 years history of the world to date will be "doubled in the next 20 years" and that "America is looking to you for new leadership."

Termed "stickability" one of the most important things in life, Faulkner challenged the seniors to "face responsibility."

"It's not what you have, but what you can do with what you have that counts," he told them.

City to expand site provisions for club stock

The city council completed plans for providing space at a site just south of town for 4-H Club and FFA livestock at a special meeting last Friday afternoon.

The City of Post already had made the site available for 4-H and FFA members' hogs, but within the provisions Friday to include calves, sheep and other club livestock projects.

Mayor Harold Lucas said the City will complete a one-inch water line to the site, which is on the north side of the original city dump grounds, within the next few weeks.

During the several months they have used the site for their hogs, FFA members have hauled their own water to the site.

Mayor Lucas said the city will install the water line at its own expense, but that the cost of the water will be paid by the club livestock owners on a pro rata basis.

The mayor said County Agent Syd Conner and FFA Chapter Advisor Ike Trimble have been informed of the council's action and authorized to build additional pens at the site.

The site has been used for hogs since their pens were moved from the 4-H Club building several months ago.

For month of May

Building permits take year's biggest surge

May is closing out as the biggest building permit month this far in 1963.

Up to Tuesday noon, six permits had been issued since May 1 for construction totaling $101,500, which is more than four times as much as the $23,950 total for the first four months of the year.

Additional time for livestock move

Enforcement of the city's new livestock ordinance, forbidding the keeping of livestock or fowl within 300 feet of a residence, will be put off another two weeks, Mayor Harold Lucas announced today.
Originally, two weeks were given livestock and fowl owners to comply with the ordinance.

Lucas said the additional time is to avoid inconveniencing those who need to get new pens built elsewhere.

WITH JAPANESE LEADER

The Rev. and Mrs. Bill Hogue of Post are shown with Mr. Matsamura, chairman of evangelism in Japan for the Baptist convention and a church pastor. The picture was made when the Hagues visited with Mr. Matsamura in the Hotel Okura in Tokyo. Commented the local pastor of the Japanese leader, "He has a tremendous personality."

Hogues home with adopted daughter

The Rev. and Mrs. Bill Hogue arrived home Friday afternoon after four weeks in the Orient with an adopted Korean daughter, Jana Li, to introduce to their four sons.

The Hogues flew into Lubbock and were met at the airport by their sons along with representatives of the congregation of the First Baptist Church here and other area friends.

The Hogues were the last of Post's oriental travelers to return home.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hogue represented Texas and Post in the Japan New Life movement, speaking in Imabari, Japan, on the island of Shikoku.

They spoke, along with Dr. and Mrs. Jim Matthews, who are formerly of Post, to hundreds of people in a large city auditorium and then the Baptist Church.

A total of 158 decisions for Christ were registered during the New Life engagement in Imabari with other decisions noted in this small Japanese church with 30 regular members.

Finishing their assignment in Imabari, the Hogues toured mission areas and cultural cities in central Japan.

From there they flew to Hong Kong where they were assigned to a Swatow dialect Chinese congregation for several days. The church was without a pastor, but the house overflowed with people who were for the most part refugees from the Red China mainland.

Rev. Hogue spoke in two Chinese churches and an English speaking church while in Hong Kong.

During the week in Hong Kong, the Hogues visited Macao, a Portuguese colony on the Red China mainland. Mission areas were viewed as well as the Red China border and communes across a stretch of water separating the small colony from the mainland on one side.

Judge rules for defendant here

District Judge Truett Smith entered a judgment for the defendant here Monday in Christine Palmer's wage suit against the Well Service Co.

Action came after a district court jury had heard the plaintiff's case. The jury panel was scheduled to return to court this morning for another case on the court docket.

Judge Smith also granted two divorces here Monday.

Wynonne Ramage was granted a divorce from Billy Ramage with custody of the minor child to the mother during the school year and to the father during the summer months.

Bobbie Lavone Schafer was granted a divorce from Chester Norman Schafer with custody of the two minor sons awarded to the father.

Lloyd Mock named new fire chief

Lloyd Mock has been appointed fire chief of the Post Volunteer Fire Department to succeed Robert Cato, who retired from the position three weeks ago after eight years as fire chief.

Mock, who is employed by Brown Bros., et al. oil operators, has been a member of the fire department since 1956 and was assistant fire chief before his appointment to succeed Cato.

White River tax collections good

White River district tax collections for 1961 totaled 92 per cent of all levied and for 1962 taxes, 87½ per cent with more coming in daily, Tom Benton of Ralls, tax assessor-collector for the district, told Post Rotarians Tuesday.

Benton outlined the history of the White River project, pointing out that taxpayers of the four towns had three times overwhelming approved the district and had been told each time that taxes would be levied.

He explained current taxes are going to pay the interest on the $4,000,000 borrowed to build the dam and water pipelines and that the taxes would continue until such time as money derived from sales of water by the district was sufficient to pay loan payments and the interest.

The interest on the $4,000,000 he said is between $350 and $400 daily. Overall, in the four town collection of 1961 taxes were 93½ per cent and of 1962 taxes 89½ per cent to date.

He pointed out that the district has a 50 cent tax rate, taking 50 per cent of real value of property assessed, as compared to a $1.50 rate on a 35 per cent of true value for the City of Post.

Benton pointed out that all the property within the city limits of Post will be taxed this year, as compared to only property within the original square mile townsite for the first two years of district taxation.

This will jump the district's true property valuation from over $33,000,000 to around $40,000,000 for the four towns, he reported with most of the boosts coming in Post.

Criswell funeral held, Aspermont

Funeral services for W. V. Criswell, 65, of Aspermont, who died last Friday in the Golden Years Nursing Home here, were conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church at Aspermont. Burial was in the Double Mountain Cemetery at Peacock.

Mr. Criswell, who had been paralyzed for two and a half years, had been in the nursing home six days. He was a retired farmer and had lived in Stonewall County most of his life.

He was the father of Billy Criswell who has lived in Post since 1958. He is also survived by his wife; two other sons, M. L. Criswell of Andrews and Bobby Criswell of Kermit; and two daughters, Mrs. Dale Anderson of Bakersfield, Calif., and Dianna Criswell of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Criswell and children returned to Post Monday night after attending the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. McMahon of Post also attended the funeral.

Miss McWhirt will represent the Mesa District in the area Sweetheart Contest. She will be a junior in Post High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McWhirt of Justiceburg.

Also representing the Mesa District in area competition will be the Post FFA talent team of John and Billy Bland, guitarists.

Winners of the area sweetheart and talent contests will be eligible to compete in the state FFA contests along with the winners from nine other areas at the state FFA convention in Lubbock on July 17-18.

First fire in 14 days causes minor damage

The first fire alarm in two weeks sounded Monday afternoon, sending all three trucks to a house at May and Oak Streets, where only minor damage resulted.

Monday's alarm was the 79th since the fire department's new fiscal year began on Dec. 1.

The last previous fire before Monday's was May 13 on the S. C. Storie Jr. farm, where spontaneous combustion was blamed for a fire in a feed silo.

Chapter Sweetheart to compete

FFA members to area meeting

Nine members of the Post Future Farmers of America chapter, along with their chapter sweetheart, Vivian McWhirt, and chapter advisor, Ike Trimble, will attend the Area II FFA convention in Snyder tomorrow and Saturday.

Miss McWhirt will represent the Mesa District in the area Sweetheart Contest. She will be a junior in Post High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McWhirt of Justiceburg.

Also representing the Mesa District in area competition will be the Post FFA talent team of John and Billy Bland, guitarists.

Give the wheat farmer credit next year in wheat, one of the nation's most important crops.

When the wheat growers turned thumbs down on the May 21 wheat referendum on the Kennedy administration's program for the 1964 crop of tighter production and marketing controls, they also rejected continued high price supports.

That could mean more or less of a free market in wheat for the first time in the United States in some 30 years.

It's that what the wheat farmers want? Maybe yes, and maybe no.

They know there is still a good chance to get something more out of Washington, although the first reaction in the capital from both the administration and the congress was to "wait and see what happens."

Attempting to control production has never worked well—and probably never will. It has been costly, but it still hasn't cut the surpluses which continually were grown at a guaranteed price for governmental storage.

The other half of America's free enterprise system—the free enterprise part of it—saw to that. Farm science has made rapid strides and the farmer was quick to adapt to new methods which would increase his yield if it meant more profit.

One of the knotty problems of wheat production was that the farmer who wasn't really in good wheat country got into the act producing wheat for a guaranteed governmental price at which even he could make a profit.

Pull the floor of the guaranteed price out from under the farmer who grows wheat outside the natural wheat country and you put him out of the wheat business mighty quick, because he can't compete on a cost basis.

That returns most of the wheat market to the prime midwestern wheat country, which starts in north Texas and extends north all the way across the Dakotas.

But after 30 years of new farm practices, new fertilizers, new equipment, and larger unit farms, the prime wheat country turned loose on its own might surprise everybody by what it could produce.

Now the May 21 wheat referendum is behind us, it is going to be interesting to see what happens next in wheat.

Whether it will mean chaos, or whether something new will emerge remains to be seen. The old method hasn't worked. It has squeezed the farmer tighter and tighter, but created heavy cost and huge surpluses.

At least something new appears ahead.

You've got to give the wheat farmer credit. He has the courage of his convictions—even if his only conviction right now is that the present program isn't the answer.—JC

I TOLD SOMEONE 'way back in April that it would rain in May.

I've heard any number of people say that they've never known it to be so cold this late in May. But I still contend that our memory plays tricks on us. I'm one of those complaining about the chilly weather and the fact that the heaters were taken down and the air-conditioners put up a month ago, but I've been doing some serious thinking on it and I remember at least a couple of other Mays when the weather got this cold this late. One was in May of 1941 when we moved from Littlefield to Muleshoe and when the rains really hit the South Plains, some places measuring more than 40 inches for the year. The other was the May of 1950 when we moved from Brownfield to Levelland and when a long drought was broken by some big rains, but not as big as the ones in 1941.

NOW IT MAY not be as cold when you're reading this as it is while I'm writing it, which is Thursday afternoon, May 23, on account of we're having to speed things up so we can get the paper out early and let the boys in the back shop have Memorial Day off. The rest of us—those up in the front shop—will also take the day off unless something comes up—we think.

Speaking of the rain, my wife has finally found time to put up the rain gauge the First National Bank gave us two years ago. She first put it up in the front yard, but there was no rain and lots of wind that night, so the only thing that happened was that the rain gauge was blown down.

THE NEXT DAY, my wife put the rain gauge up in the back yard, and I defy any wind to blow it down. I don't know how she anchored it, but it's apparently there to stay. The only thing left now is for me and my wife to get together on our readings of the rain gauge. She reads it first when she goes out to bring in the morning paper, but her reading never jibes with mine. The day after the big rain, we were arguing over our respective readings at lunch when my No. 1 son made a brilliant suggestion. He looked over at my daughter, who was here on a visit from Dallas, and said, "They need two rain gauges—one 'His 'n' one 'Hers'."

My friend up he street says money doesn't always bring happiness. He says a man with 10 million dollars is no happier than a man with two million.

I HEARD A professional gag-writer say that no joke is new; that the ones we think are new are nothing more than variations of old ones. He may be right. If he is, the following joke must have lots of variations, because it is one of the oldest jokes in the world.

It was brought back from China by Marco Polo to Italy. From Italy the gag crossed the Atlantic and an American version emerged with a turkey. The original goes like this:

A European in China ordered roast duck for dinner. The cook brought it in, but one leg was missing. The visitor questioned the Chinese about this, suspecting the cook had hacked off the leg for himself.

"Nonsense," said the cook. "All ducks in China have one leg."

"I'll have to see that," said the visitor. So the cook took him to the backyard where the duck flock was having its evening nap, each with one leg doubled up out of sight under its feathers. "See," said the cook, "all got one leg."

The European caught on that he had been had, and he let out a yell of appreciation. The ducks woke up and let down their other legs. "There you are," said the foreigner. "They really have two legs." He thought this would embarrass the cook but, undisturbed, the Chinese replied:

"Of course, and if I had just yelled at dinner when I served you the duck, the other leg would have come down, too."

(Confidentially, that's not only one of the oldest jokes in the world, but also one of the worst.)

Motto of L. L. Bean, whose sporting goods company in Freeport, Maine, does an annual business of $2,300,000: "Taint the money that puts your business up. It's having something that no one else has as good as."

WALTER HAYS, who is here from Ojai, Calif., visiting his brother, Jim Hays, and other relatives, made the trip by automobile—alone. What is unusual about that is that Mr. Hays is 79 years old. He's been driving from California to Post and other points in Texas just about every year, but up until this year was accompanied by his wife. Mrs. Hays passed away last year. From Post, Mr. Hays will go to Dallas for a visit before coming back by here and then home to California.

Cemetery upkeep improves

When families drive out to Terrace Cemetery Thursday to decorate the graves of loved ones on Memorial Day they will find the cemetery looking its "best ever."

Things have improved considerably here in the last few years as far as cemetery maintenance is concerned. It wasn't but a few years ago that the call went out each May for volunteers to come out with trucks and equipment for a cemetery "clean-up day."

Now the cemetery sexton has an assistant to help with the cemetery care at all times of the year when needed. When the winter slack season comes the assistant is rotated to work in another city department where he would be needed more.

The cemetery now has its own equipment too—including big power mower, blade, etc.

Tourist gains in Texas

It's about vacation time again—and one of the questions is not where to go but how much business will vacationers bring to Post this year.

Some years there has been considerable more travel than in others—and those carloads of motorists are helpful indeed to local restaurants, drive-ins, filling stations, garages, etc.

If it's a good "vacation business summer" here we can chalk it up to two reasons—the boosters are really at it again, and there has been a pickup in Texas vacationing.

It's just as important for Post as for other points around the state for the promise of improvements made by the recent session of the legislature.

Texas, at long last, is going after the tourist biz for real, as the current slang goes. It has established a state operated tourist agency and

No longer are "clean-up days" required each spring. The cemetery is in good shape all year around.

With the $15 a year dues for lot holders and the sale of new cemetery lots, the cemetery fairly well pays its own way. Not all the way of course, but what extra is needed to keep it even comes from the city's general fund.

Townpeople can take pride in our pretty, well-kept cemetery. They can also remember that this is another progressive step forward made in Post only recently.

When you're out at Terrace Cemetery tomorrow, take a good look around. You'll be surprised and pleased. It's this kind of quiet progress which is good for our community.

We don't think anybody will complain that it isn't worth the small price paid.—JC is for the first time being given some limited advertising funds.

Not only that but the state system is due for a long needed overhaul under new management. One thing that attracts the tourist dollar is a well run state park system. Within a few years improvement in this one area should net Texas business a few additional millions of dollars annually in the tourist business.

Developing tourist attractions in Texas calls for well organized promotion and everybody's cooperation. It can also become highly profitable to the state as well as the business economy. Texas stands to reap a good tax harvest too from the tourist trade in sales taxes, gasoline taxes, cigarette taxes, hunting and fishing licenses, etc.

It all adds up, and is something too long overlooked here in the Lone Star state.—JC

TV ratings take big toll

This summer, due to the economics of reruns, you'll keep on seeing some of your favorite television shows. Next fall, however, it'll be another story. You won't be seeing some of your favorite shows then, because the ratings have spoken and many of the shows we're viewing now won't be with us.

In other words, not enough of the 1,333 families in selected areas of the nation looked at those shows at the right time.

It is no secret by now, of course, that the sponsors, in dropping or keeping a show, can only depend upon the ratings—or so they say.

We have a sneaking feeling, however, that the ratings can be wrong, and the more we read in what little time we have to scan the TV program news and notes, the more we're convinced we may be right.

Some of the shows that won't be back next fall and some of which may be among your favorites include: "Hawaiian Eye," "GE True Theatre," "The Lloyd Bridges Show," "The Real McCoys," "Dennis the Menace," "The Untouchables" and "Leave it to Beaver," just to name a few.

Maybe there is no better way than the ratings system to determine which television show to keep on the airways. But, after looking at some of the replacements next fall, we're pretty sure we'll doubt it.—CD

It's National Highway Week

This is National Highway Week and a good time for Texas to blow its own horn over having led all other states in road-building progress since 1956.

Highway engineers from other states and 19 Latin-American countries who have wondered how Texas has done it heard State Department Engineer D. C. Greer speak on the subject in Washington, D. C.

A pay-as-you-go plan has been one secret of success. Greer said, in building a highway network of 65,000 miles. Some other states run into road delays because of bond elections and sales.

Greer told his listeners that his department's

Maximum speed limit raised

It's easy to miss all the "goings-on" and the new laws enacted by the recent session of the legislature. That's why you may have missed the story in the dailies about the legislative passage and the signing by Governor Connally of a 70-mile-per-hour maximum speed limit which can be applied by the state highway department to roads on which the extra 10 miles of speed can be safely handled.

It becomes effective sometime in July, as we recall, and is certain to apply to all four-lane highways.

Just what stretches of highway will be zoned for daytime 70 miles per, of course, will be worked out in the next month by the highway department.

But it is certain to be a big aid out here in wide open West Texas where there are lots of miles to cover between towns and the terrain is so flat that extra speed can be safely handled.—JC

Reception is held following 8th grade graduation

A reception was held in the Community Room following 8th grade graduation exercises last Thursday to honor the class, their parents and relatives.

The graduation theme of "Hitch your Wagon to a Star" was carried out in the centerpiece on the serving table. Blue and white, the class colors, were used for the punch and cakes.

Mrs. L. G. Thuet Jr. was the reception chairman. Serving on her committee were: Mmes. David Newby, J. C. Gatlin, Bobby Pierce, Dorothy Perdue, Jim Rogers and Noal Clemmons.

Following the reception a dance was held at "Teen Town". The room was decorated with glittered stars suspended from the ceiling. The refreshment table featured a globe and graduation cap carrying out the blue and white colors. Cookies and punch were served. Many teachers and parents were present for the party.

Chairman for the dance was Mrs. Thomas S. Greenwood. Her committee were Mmes. R. E. Josey, Bill Woods, J. M. Hutchens, Ann Altman and Noal Clemmons.

Children and grandchildren of J. J. Wells' join for reunion

The sons and daughters and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wells were all together for the first time since 1946 for a weekend family reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells and family moved from South Texas in 1936 where they farmed in Canyon Valley. They moved to Post in 1944.

Some of the family arrived Friday night for the all-day reunion held at the 4-H Building Saturday. They enjoyed both the noon and evening meal in the building.

Included in the 42 members of the family attending the reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Merle Carmichael of Lincoln, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Wells and two sons, Greenville, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wells and three sons, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells and family, Grand Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hill and daughter, Floy, of Sand Springs, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Smith and family, Johnny Wells, Mrs. Louise Herring and Jimmie Wells, all of Post; Mr. and Mrs.

Noel Wilson and children, Brownfield, and a brother of Mrs. J. J. Wells, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Varner of Abilene.

Joe Smith accompanied his uncle and family, the Frank Wells, home to Grand Prairie. He is the son of the O. W. Smiths. Most of the family returned to their homes on Sunday.

Mrs. Dietrich's piano pupils presented here

Mrs. H. J. Dietrich presented her piano students in a spring recital at the First Methodist Church, Monday, at 8 p. m.

Pupils participating in the recital were: Karen Haley, Brenda Haley, Jodie Cash, Mark Fluitt, Randall Crenshaw, Crystal Nichols, Mark Crenshaw, Debbie Gray, Ginny Edwards, Timmons Bull, Mickey Saldivar, Doris Jean Manuel, Benita Noble, James Mathis and Kay Herron.

I bet the C's dog Molly is the only dog ever to be mentioned in a class history at graduation exercises. It was almost like having two daughters graduate.

My mind kept flitting more to the past than the present as I sat there waiting for the procession to start. The date of my graduation year came to my mind and I did some mental arithmetic. My mental figuring being none too good, I decided that I was coming up with the wrong figure. But my mind kept fiddling around with it and soon I was forced to face the fact that 1938 taken from 1963 does give one an answer of 25.

To get THAT off my mind I tried to think of more pleasant things such as how gay and young I felt on receiving my diploma. By the way, when did they stop giving out rolled diplomas? The ones given out here Friday night are lovely bound ones but I couldn't help miss the rolled ones tied in ribbon with the school colors.

I remembered that all of the girls wore white dresses and the boys wore dark suits. The cap and gown were saved for college graduation.

I decided I certainly wanted to be in fashion so had mine as short as possible (much to the embarrassment of my mother) to take that long walk across the stage of a brand-new auditorium.

I can't remember who handed me my diploma, who spoke, what the weather was like (I have given up weather forecasting) if the orchestra played or what. But I do remember receiving a diploma tied with purple and gold ribbon with most of my knees showing.

Monday—the first day of vacation. I bet a few mothers not in the know thought the pace would slack a bit. Well it doesn't.

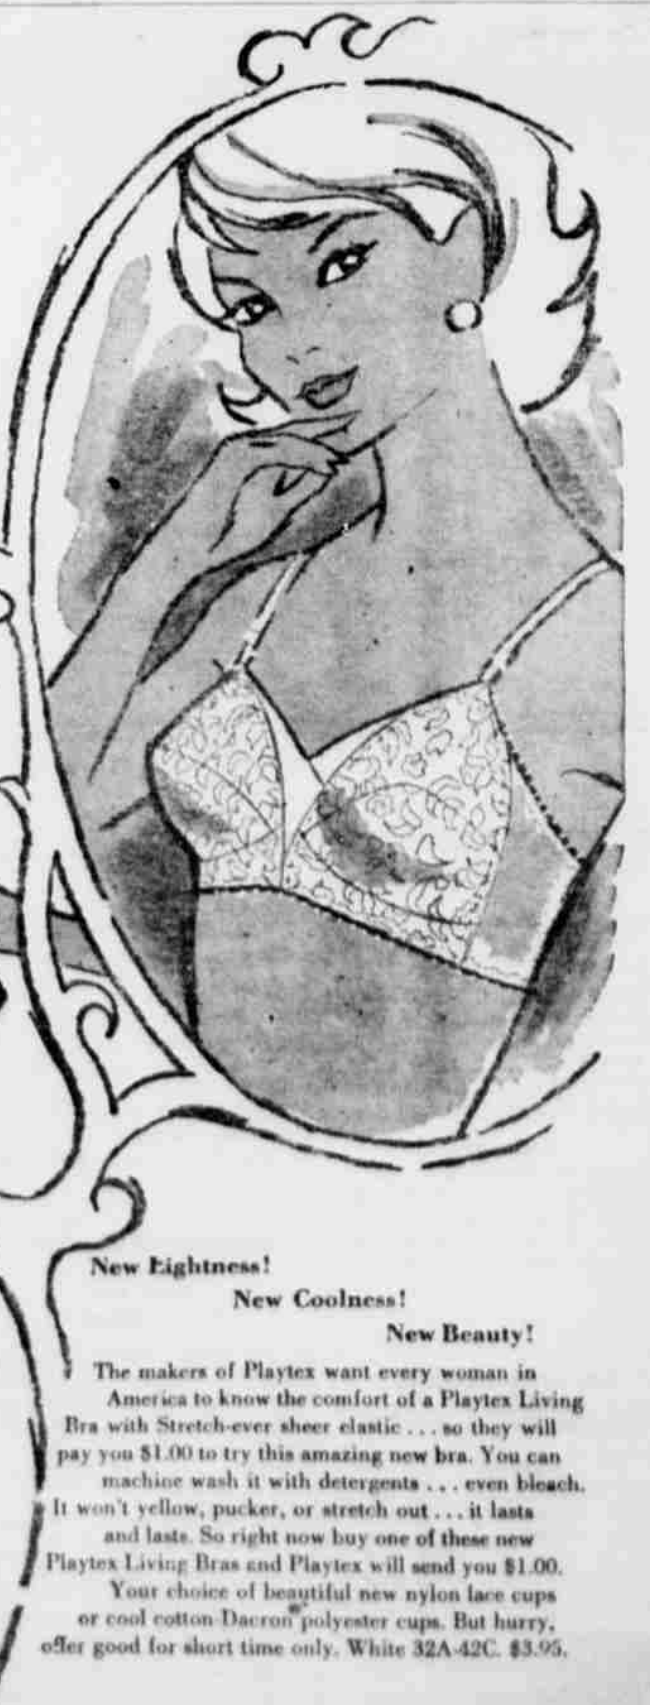

First off, there is Vacation Bible School. I've worked many a year with it and am all for it but I also remember hating to think of all the washing and ironing it would cause—a clean dress in the morning plus a pair of shorts or two to finish out the day. Then too, it meant that one had to get up at the same ole time.

Of course we're already into baseball but I'm sure the pace picks up. I see mothers rushing their sons to practice and then rush off to games. And as soon as church school is over, the swimming lessons start, students start out at the crack of dawn (my crack comes later than some) to learn to drive automobiles, it's time to get teeth filled, teeth straightened, eyes checked, to start or stop taking piano or organ lessons, go to Boy Scout camp, Girl Scout camp, Girl Scout Day camp, church camp, just plain camp, etc.

You know what? Before you get squared around real good it's time for school to start.

But it's all worth it, and eventually your children reach the age of doing all this on their own and eventually they are gone and instead of sitting back and enjoying it, we become grandparents (this I've observed) and start the whole routine again when the little ones come to visit for the summer.

PIONEERS For TOMORROW

Pioneers are as plentiful today as ever . . . indeed, in this world of ever-new frontiers, you too, are a pioneer.

As such, you bear great responsibility, for defined, "a pioneer is one who goes before, preparing the way for others to follow."

The Church reaches out to you in greatest urgency. It needs you to help, by example and precept, combat the greed and intolerance that today threaten our world.

The Church needs you as another pioneer in Christian example and thinking. You can help prepare the way for others by promoting generosity, kindness, and love toward all other human beings.

Through the Church you can, as a pioneer, strive most effectively toward generous, tolerant tomorrows for your fellowmen.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

AUSTIN — Gov. John B. Connally is giving a great deal of thought to the appointment of a successor to William J. Murray Jr. He says he hopes to find a replacement before the Senate adjourns on May 24, so his choice will be confirmed.

The governor stated he also is working hard on appointments to the "Committee of 25." This is a committee which will be charged with an extensive study of education beyond the high school. He has personally interviewed every candidate. Aim is to pick people who have the respect of the public and the teaching profession.

CONNALLY ACCOMPLISHMENTS—Governor Connally can claim a record of accomplishment with the Legislature, which has carried out the following items on the list

1. A bill authorizing the Texas Water Development Board to acquire water storage space in federal or local reservoirs is ready for Connally's signature.
 2. Revision of the antiquated state Code of Criminal Procedure probably will go to a Senate-House conference committee to iron out differences.
 3. Loan regulation bill is near final passage.
 4. A constitutional amendment removing the ceiling on welfare grants has passed the Senate and is ready for House action.
 5. Padre Island National Seashore bill has been signed into law.
 6. Proposed constitutional amendment repealing the poll tax passed the Senate and awaits House action. A bill to set up a registration system to replace the poll tax and a revision of the election code are close to final form in conference committees.
 7. A tax package—mainly increases in sales taxes on cars and clothes and a year-long extension of the corporation tax—has been signed into law.
 8. A Senate-passed bill limiting governors to two elected terms now awaits House action.
 9. Municipal annexation bill, which sets some limits on the power of cities to annex territory is ready for his signature.
 10. Measure creating the Texas Tourist Development Agency has been signed into law.
- Both houses also have passed the bill to create a 25-member Committee To Study Education Beyond the High School; bill giving San Angelo and Pan American colleges senior status and full state support; and the Game and Fish-Parks Board merger.

SOME EXCEPTIONS — Connally's plan to reorganize the State Banking Commission ran into banker opposition. But a bill allowing Connally to name one member to replace Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr probably will get through.

His proposal to give the governor authority to control budgets of state agencies within the total dollar limits set by the Legislature got a chilly reception from a House committee and hasn't been heard from since.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS — Proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. William Moore of Bryan to give women equal property rights was passed by the Senate back in January. It was then sent to a House committee headed by Rep. Jim Cotten of Weatherford. Cotten waited until the first week of April to hold a hearing, then never named a subcommittee to consider women's rights.

Finally, an impatient House hammered by demands from impatient women voters, instructed Cotten's committee to bring the bill out for a vote. Cotten withstood all pressures — even a full-scale committee revolt — until the House took the bill away from him and sent it to the House Insurance Committee.

Some action is promised, but there's no word as to when.

WHITHER SHALL IT WAVE? — El Paso Sen. Frank Owen's bill to forbid the flying of the flag of the United Nations on or in public buildings ran into what may be a fatal delay in the House.

Delay motion came on the heels of a speech by Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth. He said legislators have received a flood of mail favoring the Owen bill, which attacked leading Texans like former Sen. Tom Connally, former president Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Lyndon Johnson as being "tools of the communist conspiracy."

These men will live on in memory when their detractors are "lost in the junk heap of history," Green declared. Bill's House sponsor, Rep. Walter Knapp of Amarillo, replied that "the mere fact that a lunatic fringe is supporting this bill is no reason to turn it down."

Further debate was postponed a week, which could mean indefinitely.

HOLIDAY CONFIRMED — For the first time since the reconstruction era, a Negro holds a state office as a member of a major board.

Senate confirmed the appointment of the Rev. C. A. Holliday of Fort Worth to the State Board of Corrections, despite early opposition to Connally's choice.

TEXTBOOK COMMITTEE named—The 15 people who will pick textbooks for consideration by local school boards have been given the oath of office.

Included were Alton O. Bowen, Bryan; Benton L. Brockette, La Marque; Wayne Craddock, Palestine; Avery R. Downing, Waco; Miss Marie Esman, El Paso; Mrs. Lonie Garretson, Pittsburg; Mrs. Frances Gavenda, McAllen.

Also Miss Neida Jobe, Lubbock; Mrs. Christine Kirkpatrick, Denton; Mrs. Fannie L. Knight, Sherman; Dr. John W. McFarland.

Southland graduates, sponsors return home

SOUTHLAND—Members of the Southland High School graduating class and their sponsors have returned from a senior class trip that included visits at Six Flags Over Texas and in Mississippi.

Those making the trip were seniors Johnny Haire, Sharla Taylor, Webster Crawford, Bobby Albright, Jackie Dunn, Robert Mock, Larry McNeely, Sue Pritchard, Lou Alice Edwards, Cindy Altman, Mary Lou Halliburton and Kathleen Smith and Supt. F. W. Callaway, Mrs. Hubert Dunn and Mrs. Hub Taylor.

The Moors grew cotton in Spain.

Sterilization of boll weevils new weapon

An arsenal of modern weapons is being thrown into the battle against the cotton farmer's long-time foe, the boll weevil.

Work on the weapons is being done at the Boll Weevil Research Laboratory, Mississippi State University.

One of the first steps taken at the laboratory was development of methods to find out what compounds there are in the cotton plants that may have some bearing in the boll weevil war. The methods have yielded a chemical that attracts weevils and one that repels the insect.

Another important line of research involves sterilizing male weevils in an attempt to eradicate the pests by causing females to make ineffective matings with the sterilized males.

The researchers apparently are not overlooking any angle in their attempts to come up with a way to free the cotton industry of the multi-million-dollar cost of the weevil. They are trying chemicals, resistant cotton plants, basic studies of the plant and pest, biological control, engineering, economic research, and experiments with rearing the insects.

An extract of the cotton plant causes weevils to feed on such non-cotton objects as green beans, wood and bottle corks. Another extract somehow causes weevils to search for it, and still another is avoided by the insects.

When a cork stopper was treated with an arrestant and a square with a repellent, the weevils fed voraciously on the cork and ignored the square. These compounds have not yet been treated in fields since they were discovered too late in the season.

The male-sterile work did pass a limited test in Louisiana. In Plaquemines Parish, 10 egg-laying females were released in a corner of a six-acre field on July 26. Beginning on August 1, a release schedule was set up for sterile males. The number of sterile males was based on calculations of the females' egg-laying potential, and eradication was obtained by Nov.

effective natural enemy. Resistant varieties of cotton show promise, too. Scientists report multiple-choice tests have shown that some varieties suit the weevil's appetite more than others. These and other results lead scientists to believe it may be possible to develop a resistant variety into commercially suitable lines.

Canned tomato price wrong due to error

The Dispatch's Piggy Wiggly ad of last week due to a typesetting error incorrectly listed No. 303 cans of Mountain Pass tomatoes as three cans for 25 cents instead of two cans for 25 cents.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example.

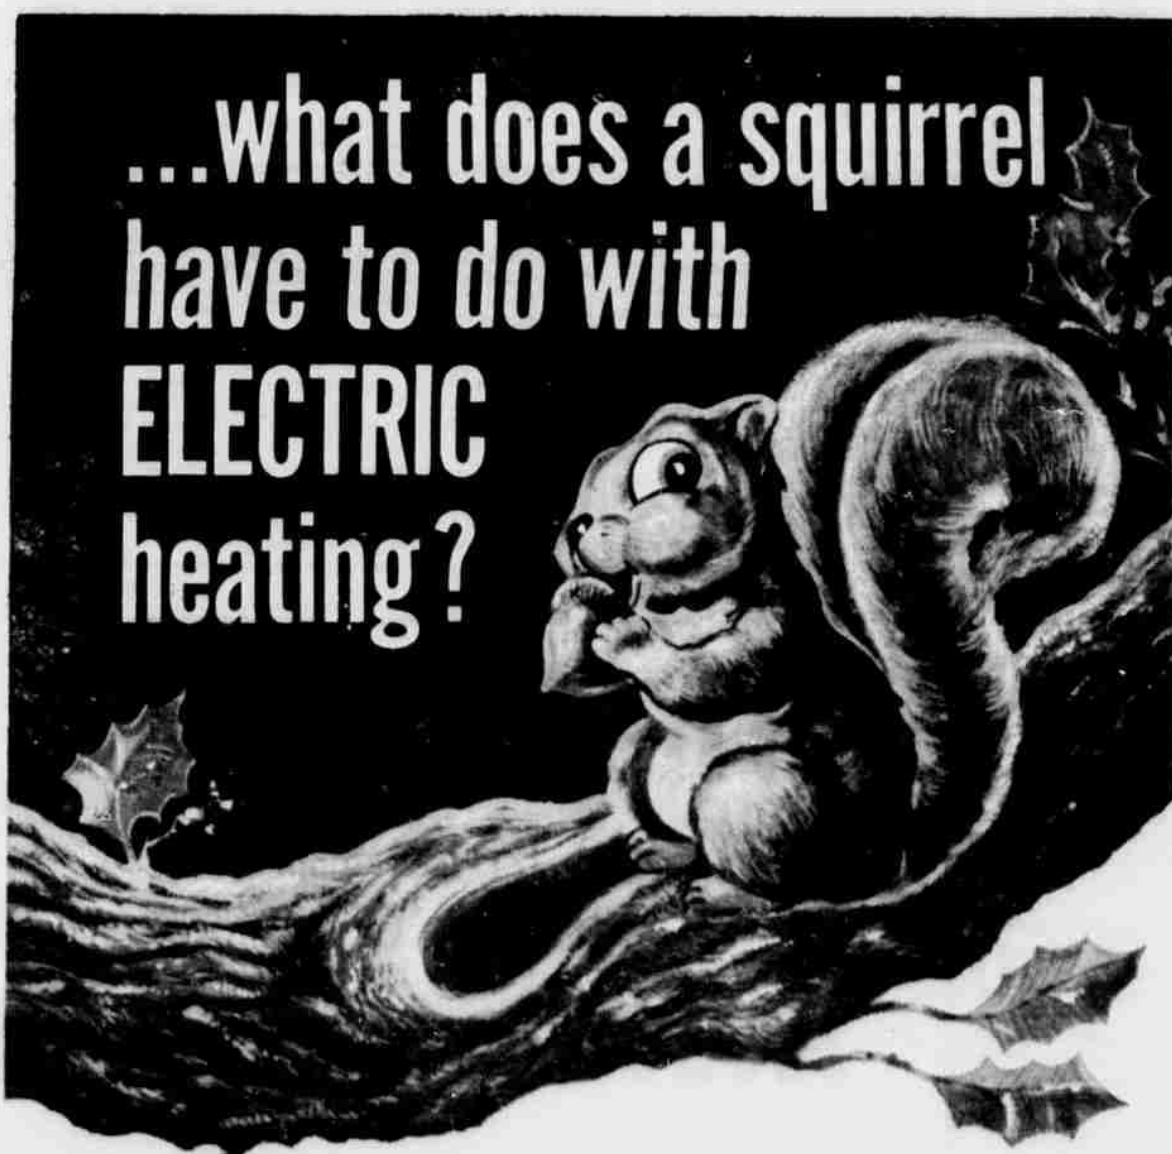

People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.

When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense.

And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

...what does a squirrel have to do with ELECTRIC heating?

■ We can learn a great lesson from the squirrel. He's noted for his foresight and planning. Early in summer he starts to gather delicious nuts, when he doesn't need them — then he stores them for the coming cold winter season, when he will need them. We can use the same principle in our homes. Now is the time to install clean electric comfort heating... you'll be warm and snug when the next winter winds start to blow.

Fire destroys family's home and possessions

By MRS. LUCILE WALKER
We were sorry to hear that the Elmer Little family who lived on the old Grady Burkhardt place, lost all of their household possessions in a fire that completely destroyed the house about 2 a. m. Monday morning. These people will need clothing, bedding, furniture, etc. We understand they will live in a small house on the C. M. Greer farm, one-half mile south of Grassland until other arrangements are made. They were working for Alton Greer.

Well, the rains finally came and what a blessing, even though it did wash the fields, and destroy most of the early crops. There will be moisture enough to plant over, and plenty of time for a bumper crop. Incidentally, this correspondent was caught away from home Tuesday evening in the storm—started from Lamesa at 10:30 p. m. and arrived home Wednesday morning at 3 a. m. The lakes and high water had the roads closed up to our farm.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Burk and sons visited J. F. Burk in Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene Sunday. They report he is still paralyzed on his right side, but is able to eat some solid food now, but is still unable to speak.

We were talking to Mrs. E. M. Walker Saturday morning and she told us she and her father, W. M. Davis, spent three days with her son and wife, the James Davis Walkers who live at San Augustine. She informed us that James and Pearlina are engaged in raising some fine Charbray cattle. Mrs. Walker is making her home with her father since her mother died.

MR. AND MRS. FORREST CHAPMAN and May Lou Cross of Plainview were luncheon guests of his sister, Mrs. E. M. Norman, Sunday.

Mrs. A. R. Mills of Lubbock spent Tuesday with Mrs. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker visited relatives in Lamesa and Seagraves over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Norman and Cheri Lee left Wednesday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cox, in Usage, Kans.

Mrs. D. G. Cook of Tahoka, mother of Mrs. Gus Porterfield, fell last week injuring both of her arms. She is staying with the Porterfields for a few days. We hope she is soon able to be up and about as she has always been so active in church work, and working in her flower garden.

Mrs. Dorace Huff and Mrs. Myrtle Hoover visited Mrs. Jessie Gregg in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday. They report Jessie is feeling much better, and is able to be up in a wheel chair and spends some time visiting in the lobby with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston Hoover of Littlefield were luncheon guests in the Hoover home Thursday.

VISITORS IN THE W. G. McCLESKEY home Monday were: the Rev. and Mrs. Campbell, Neida Murry, Joy and Kelly Law, Mrs. Gladys Moore, Mrs. Edith Inklebarger, Mrs. Tom Murry and Mrs. Lucy Cunningham.

The Odie Campbells were luncheon guests of the H. D. Gartmans Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harrison were pleased to have their granddaughter, A'leta Parks, with them over the weekend. A'leta is only two months old and is their only grandchild. Their daughter, Dottie and her husband, James, and another couple were spending the weekend at Lakte Thomas, so "Grandpa" Harrison, just happened to be in Lubbock and brought the little lady home with him.

Mrs. W. G. McCleskey's sister, Mrs. W. M. Dubose of Brownfield came by Wednesday; so the W. G. McCleskeys and the Dubose family journeyed over to the C. O. McCleskeys and had lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Huffaker visited Mrs. E. B. Gregg in the hospital Sunday. They also visited the W. G. McCleskeys on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Murry spent Saturday and Sunday in Rotan visiting the Kenneth Rogers. The flew to Seoul in Korea on May 20 and arrived at 6 a. m. during a heavy rainstorm.

For the next several days, the time was spent in adopting little Jana Li (Kim Ki Ran) as a daughter, and in visiting missionaries and Baptist mission activities in Korea.

They left Seoul last Thursday for their return flight back to Texas, bringing with them besides their new daughter a little two and one-half year boy they took in new parents in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Mr. Hogue told The Dispatch this week that English is widely spoken in the Orient and although they had an interpreter during their church services, they had a little trouble in communicating with English wherever they went.

The Baptist pastor said that English is the major "other language" taught in Japanese schools.

Murrys are driving a new Chevrolet. Happy motoring, Murry.

Mrs. (Jo) Ted McDonald and children attended church in Post Sunday. Mrs. McDonald is here to help her mother, Mrs. W. G. McCleskey who injured herself in a fall recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allen of Lubbock visited Thursday with both the McCleskey families.

Mrs. Cordie Laws who has been visiting her daughters, Mrs. Ches-barrington in Anaheim, Calif., and Mrs. Ella Mae Miller of Reedley, Calif., will arrive in Post Monday at 8 p. m.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pabworth on the birth of a daughter who has been named Kimberly Diane. Paternal grandparents are the W. & Kings of Grassland and the maternal grandparents are the Vernon Kellys of Tahoka.

Vacation Bible School will begin Monday, June 3, at the Grassland Church of the Nazarenes. All of the children of the community are cordially invited to attend. Classes will be from 9 until 11 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McDonald and family were luncheon guests in the home of the C. O. McCleskeys, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker attended commencement exercises at Post last Friday. It was quite an impressive performance we thought, as we had never witnessed a graduation exercise outside. The graduates looked so nice in their black caps and gowns with the green carpet of grass on the football field—very beautiful indeed.

The Rev. Yeats, pastor of the Grassland Methodist Church, left Monday morning for the annual conference in Abilene. The Gus Porterfields plan to attend later on this week.

work consists of surveying for park highways and other facilities.

Two other college students from Post, Roy Joe Carter and Benny Clary, are also employed in national park work. Benny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Iven Clary, was to leave this week for his summer job at Walnut Canyon National Monument, near Flagstaff, Ariz. He is a student at Texas Tech.

Roy Joe, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter, is at Banderera National Park, near Santa Fe, N. M. He attends Arlington State College.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Children's Day will be observed Sunday at the First Christian Church both during church school assembly and the morning worship service. The Rev. Bernard S. Ramsey's sermon topic will be "It Takes A Lot of Livin'". His sermon topic for the 7 p. m. worship service will be "How Shall We Escape?"

CRANE VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bob Trammell and Suzanne, who live in Crane, spent the weekend here visiting his mother, Mrs. Katharine Trammell.

OPENS AT TOWER SUNDAY

The restaurant atop the Space Needle at the Seattle World's Fair forms the unusual setting for a romantic scene between Elvis Presley and Joan O'Brien in "It Happened at the World's Fair," showing at the Tower Theatre here Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Faulkner warned that the lack of self control and self discipline leads to the large number of dropouts from colleges and to failures in the world ahead.

In closing the speaker said "I am encouraging you young people to be patriotic."

Herb Smith, pastor of the Church of Christ, gave the invocation and benediction.

DELTON ROBINSON and Marianne Jones gave co-valedictories, following which Dee Ann Walker sang "Halls of Ivy." Supt. R. T. Smith introduced Faulkner.

Janith Short read the class history following Faulkner's address.

Principal T. C. Clark presented the scholarships. The Limelights sang "Moments to Remember." Supt. Smith presented the graduating class to E. R. Moreland, president of the school board, who presented each of the 52 graduates with his or her diploma.

The high school choir joined the senior class to sing "May You Always," the class song, and the school song, under the direction of Georgie Willson.

The processional and recessional were played by the high school band under the direction of Bruce M. Evans.

In the junior high school commencement program in the primary auditorium Thursday night, David Newby urged graduates to concentrate next "on finishing high school."

He emphasized that 60 per cent of eighth grade graduating classes here have been failing to finish high school.

Newby said he hoped they could go on to college, but the first goal must be to finish high school because education in this modern world is all important.

Crosbyton slates exhibit creative art for June 8-9

CROSBYTON — Crosbyton County Pioneer Memorial Building will sponsor a creative art exhibit June 8 and 9 as a part of the organization's effort to encourage art in the area.

Everyone is invited to exhibit works of art and children's art is especially requested. Invitations to exhibit are extended members of the Post, Spur, and Rails art clubs.

Paintings and art works will be accepted at the building on Friday, June 7, until 5 p. m. Exhibit hours will be from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. Saturday and from 2 until 5 p. m. Sunday, June 9.

Hostesses for the exhibit will be members of the Crosbyton Art Guild and parents of local art students. Coffee and cookies will be served.

There will be no fee for exhibiting paintings and there is no limit to the amount exhibited by each artist. No judging will be done. For further information, those interested may contact Mrs. Elzie Roberts of Crosbyton. All paintings displayed are to be picked up at 5 p. m. Sunday, June 9.

Post youth graduates from McMurry College

Victor (Sonny) Hudman graduated cum laude with a BA degree in chemistry Monday morning at McMurry College in Abilene.

He left Tuesday for Dallas where he will attend the Southwest Medical School. Next fall, Victor will teach a course in gross anatomy at the college on a teacher's fellowship, and attend classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman and sons, Joe and Curtis, attended the baccalaureate exercises Sunday night and the Monday graduation exercises.

Birthday—

self that picket fence you see right out there around the yard," said one of Mrs. Davis' visitors.

Mrs. Davis attended church regularly until about two years ago when her health began preventing it, but she still is frequently seen at the Sunday services.

With the help of a hearing aid, Mrs. Davis still enjoys her radio, but has never become much of a TV fan, choosing not to waste her eyesight on it.

"She'd rather save her eyes for reading and for writing letters," her daughter-in-law said.

The birthday cake Mrs. Alta Davis brought her mother-in-law was baked by Mrs. Jesse's Davis of Lamesa, another daughter-in-law, whose husband is deceased. The Lamesa woman and her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Gore of Hobbs, N. M., planned to visit Mrs. Davis Sunday, not being able to be here on her birthday.

Another neighbor, Mrs. M. C. Hodges, who is 82, baked Mrs. Davis a pie for her birthday and sent it over by Mrs. Hays.

Mrs. Davis, who calls nearly everyone she meets, "Honey," said she has no formula for living to such a ripe old age.

"In fact, honey," she said, "I just don't know why the good Lord has let me live this long."

She is the only one living of her family of nine brothers and sisters and also the only remaining one of 22 grandchildren on her father's side of the family.

Guy Davis of Post is her only surviving child. One daughter died in 1900, another only last February, and a son in 1957.

Mrs. Davis, apparently anxious either to get back to her window cleaning or to enjoy a birthday rest, ended the interview with a "Well, goodbye, honey; you can take my picture again when I'm 95."

Abraham Lincoln died in a small brick house opposite Ford's Theatre on Tenth Street in Washington, D. C.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS 'HIGHWAY WEEK'

Mayor Harold Lucas today joined state and national officials in designating this week—May 26 - June 1—as Highway Week and urging that special attention be directed to the needs of our highway system.

The week has been proclaimed state-wide by Gov. John Connally and nation-wide by President John F. Kennedy.

The proclamation urges that the citizens of Texas "take note of the immense highway problems and needs facing this state as its economy continues to expand, and to support a sustained program of highway improvement and modernization so that Texas highways can continue their indispensable contribution to traffic safety, the growth of our economy and the national defense."

Few cases filed in JP court here

Traffic was light in county and JP courts during the last week.

No criminal cases were filed in county court and only a few in Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts' court.

Those charged, together with fine and costs if paid, are as follows:

- W. G. Langs, failure to yield right of way, May 27, $20.70.
- Roberta Dillard, May 27, disturbance.
- D. M. Lang, no RRC permit, May 27.
- A. D. Halford, no RRC permit, May 27.
- C. L. Morris, no lease to haul, May 23, $16.50.
- M. J. Elmore, operating unregistered vehicle, May 26.
- E. M. Dempsey, May 22, drunk, $24.70.

14 pay fines in city court here

Fourteen persons have paid fines on various charges in city police court within the last seven days.

The number included two youths said by city police officers to be about 21 years old, who were fined $5 each on charges of "contesting speed on a public street." They were Marvin Delroy Odum and Phillip R. Crenshaw.

Others paying fines and the offense were as follows:

- Homer Lee Wilson of Lubbock, drunk in public, $20.
- John Nelson of Lubbock, drunk in public, $20.
- Carlos Jack Vardiman of Snyder, drunk and disturbing the peace, $25.
- Buddy Daily Jr., drunk in public, $20.
- Mires J. Elmore of Hereford, traffic violation, $10.
- V. A. Campbell of Snyder, drunk in public, $20.

Babe Ruth play Cubs holding on to league lead

The Cubs and the Pirates both played in Babe Ruth League play on Saturday night to break a three-day tie, but still leave two teams—same Cubs and Pirates—deadlocked for the lead, each with three wins against one defeat.

Going into Saturday night's game, the Indians were "up" with the Cubs and Pirates, but were shelled by the Pirates, 2 to 1, to drop into a second place with the White Sox.

The Cubs won by forfeit from the cellar-dwelling Braves when the latter team was unable to field enough players to play the scheduled game.

Monday night, the Braves vs. the Indians and the White Sox vs. the Cubs were scheduled.

The Pirates scored six runs in the first inning and nine in the fourth in their run-away win over the Indians, who scored one in the first and another in the third.

W. Jackson was the winning pitcher and Steve Stone, the Indian starter, took the loss. Danny Cooper and Roy Long also pitched for the losers.

Collazo, the Indians' catcher, scored both his team's runs. He homered in the first inning and scored on Long's single after walking in the third.

WEEVIL REPELLENT EXTRACTED FROM COTTON

A substance that repels boll weevils has been extracted from cotton plants by Department of Agriculture scientists. The repellent is one of three substances now taken from the cotton plant itself which has potential value in controlling boll weevils.

Scientists first isolated the substance that attracts the insect to the plant. Then the plant was found to have a feeding stimulant which encouraged the weevils to "Eat Heartily". But when the attractant extracted from the plant was warmed to room temperature, part of it vaporized. The part of the substance that remained proved repellent to the boll weevils.

The three chemical elements—attractant, stimulant, and repellent—are all taken from the cotton squares or flower buds. They hold possibilities for several ways of controlling boll weevils. A hopeful possibility, for example, is that plant breeders may be able to develop cotton varieties either with such a high content of the repellent that the plants will repel weevils, or with such a low content of the attractant that the plants cannot attract the weevil from any great distance.

The third element, the feeding stimulant, does not have the power to attract weevils but it offers the possibility of forcing them to starve on the wrong kind of diet. Weevils are voracious eaters of almost anything on which the stimulant has been poured—even cork and wood.

Agricultural Research scientists are continuing their work on the three substances to learn more about their properties and to identify them chemically. They are also searching for cotton strains that may have a high or a low content of the repellent, attractant and feeding stimulant.

To speed up this search for promising strains, test crops are being grown in the winter in Mexico and in the summer in Texas and the Southwest. If useful strains are found, they will be crossed with cultivated varieties in an attempt to develop cotton plants with chemical components that will help control the boll weevil.

Schedule is set for swim pool; starts Monday

The weekly swimming pool schedule, featuring a recreational morning on Saturdays for teenage boys as well as a ladies' morning on Tuesdays, was announced today by Glynn Gregg and Charles Black, pool operators.

The schedule will go into effect Monday.

A beginners' swimming course of nine lessons will be offered three mornings each week for the next three weeks at a cost of $3.50 per pupil.

Pre-enrollment is now under way at the pool. Swimming classes will be taught Monday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

The first class session is scheduled for Monday.

Gregg said water soccer and other games will be played Friday mornings by the boys. Ladies' morning has been moved to Tuesday.

Twenty-swim season tickets now are on sale at the pool for an almost 20 per cent admission price savings.

Other groups wanting pool time can secure them if enough interest is shown, Gregg said. The pool is also available for private parties when not in use on its weekly schedule.

All except three cage lettermen back for Raiders

LUBBOCK — Three of Texas Tech's 11 basketball lettermen announced today will be lost by graduation.

Bobby Gindorf of Pampa, Milton Mickey of Lockney, and Gilbert Varnell of Sewanee, Tenn., are the three seniors.

Returning to Coach Gene Gibson's Red Raiders will be juniors Mike Farley of Lubbock, Mike Gooden of Lubbock, Bill Murren of Atlantic City, N. J., Tom Patten of Carlsbad, N. M., and Sid Wall of Dallas; sophomores Harold Denney of Amarillo, Glen Hallum of Brownwood, and Royce Woolard of Midland.

Charles Steinman, Abilene senior, receives a trainer's award, and Bill Jones, Houston junior, a manager's emblem.

Coach Charlie Lynch's freshman numeral winners are James Adams of Midland, Jim Elliot of Marshall, John (Dub) Malaise of Odessa, Bobby Measels of Seminole, Dave Olsen of Las Cruces, N. M., Norman Reuther of Fort Worth, David Schmidley of Levelland, James Stephenson of Borger, Billy Tapp of Lubbock, and Russ Wilkinson of Lubbock.

Post golfer's 68 wins at Floydada

Charles Hopkins' four-under-par 68 won low amateur honors in the Floydada Pro-Am Monday at the Floydada Country Club, in which 95 golfers from over the South Plains participated.

Runner-up to the Post school teacher was Jim Graves of Plainview with even par 72.

Low pro honors went to host Bobby Westfall, who shot a 69.

Low ball play was won by a Ralls foursome with 59. Two teams tied for second with 61, one of those teams including Hopkins and Julius Stelzer, also of Post.

Spur football captain named

SPUR — Junior end Jesse Powell has been elected captain and quarterback George Neaves, co-captain of the Spur Bulldog football team for 1963, according to Coach John Poindexter.

Two coaching positions have also been filled at Spur with the employment of Mike Payne and Pat DeBusk, both of whom graduated this month from Hardin-Simmons University.

Payne will be the Bulldogs' backfield coach and DeBusk will coach the junior high and freshman teams.

The Spur Bulldogs are district opponents of the Post Antelopes.

In Little League play

Top teams win by single run

The Dodgers nosed out the surging Corvairs, 7 to 6, Saturday night to keep a tight hold on first place in Little League standings and remain undefeated with a 4-0 mark.

Saturday night's other game was also decided by one run with the Red Sox edging the Cardinals, 5 to 4, to slip in second place with a 3-1 record.

Monday night, the Corvairs beat the Cardinals, 8 to 3, to climb past the Yankees, who lost to the Tigers, 9 to 3.

The league's two top teams, the Dodgers and Red Sox, will play in the first of Saturday night's two games. Tonight, however, the Tigers will have an opportunity to knock off the front-running Dodgers.

THE STANDINGS

Dodgers	4	0	1.000
Red Sox	3	1	.750
Corvairs	3	5	.428
Yankees	2	3	.400
Cardinals	2	4	.333
Tigers	2	4	.333

Colt .45s to open eight-game home stand on Monday

HOUSTON — The Houston Colt .45s return to Colt Stadium Monday, June 3, to open an eight-game home stand against the Los Angeles Dodgers, San Francisco Giants, and Chicago Cubs. All eight games will be night games starting at 8 p. m.

Walt Alton's Dodgers, currently one of the hottest teams in the majors, will play three straight night games on Monday, June 3; Tuesday, June 4, and Wednesday, June 5. Wednesday night will be Ladies Night.

The continued fine pitching of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, and the hitting of Ron Farris, big Frank Howard and Tommie Davis has the classy Dodgers battling neck and neck with the champion San Francisco Giants in the National League pennant race.

The Giants, led by Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou, will play in Houston's Colt Stadium in a big three-game weekend series Friday night, June 7, Saturday night, June 8, and Sunday night, June 9.

Sunday, June 9 will be the first Sunday night game in the history of the National League. Houston obtained special permission to play Sunday night baseball after June 1.

The Chicago Cubs, who the 45s defeated four straight times in early May, return to Colt Stadium for single night games on Monday, June 10, and Tuesday, June 11.

A "Milking Contest" between Houston's Don McMahon and the Giants' Ed Bailey will be held prior to the Friday, June 7 game in honor of "Dairy Night".

Results

Thursday, May 23: Red vs. Tigers and Yankees vs. Dodgers, postponed because of wet field.

Saturday, May 25: Red Sox 5, Cardinals 4; Dodgers 7, Corvairs 6.

Monday, May 27: Tigers 9, Yankees 3; Corvairs 8, Cardinals 3.

Schedule

Thursday, May 30: Yankees vs. Cardinals; Tigers vs. Dodgers.

Saturday, June 1: Red Sox vs. Dodgers; Yankees vs. Corvairs.

Monday, June 3: Cardinals vs. Tigers; Red Sox vs. Corvairs.

Post Implement manager compares trading tractors to selling cars

Trading tractors for farmers is a lot like trading cars for the local motorist, Ronald Babb, manager of the Post Implement Company, says.

But while there are points of similarity, there are differences too.

Babb is quick to point out. For one thing, one of those red Farmall tractors lasts a whole lot longer for many farmers than does a modern car, Ronald explains.

SEVERAL OF THE M model Farmalls which came out in 1939 are still being used by area farmers. That means they've been in service for 24 years now.

Of course, Babb says, some farmers try to trade every two or three years while others use their tractors just as many years as possible.

One of the most interesting items in the Post Implement Co. showroom is a 1929 Farmall tractor, sitting alongside one of the 1963 Farmalls.

Ronald points out that a "trading session" on tractors is often a longer one than the automobile salesman experiences. Most farmers buying tractors have one to trade in just like car owners. And "list price" doesn't mean much.

Just like cars too a lot of new tractors are sold on credit, but instead of monthly payments as for autos, tractor payments come around annually—after the crops are in.

TRACTOR COMPANIES don't come out with new models each year like the auto makers, but the new models are coming out much faster in the last eight years than ever before.

And some of the tractor refinements—just like the "extras" on cars make them easier to drive and increase their service.

YOUR FARMALL REPAIR TEAM

Pictured above in the spacious shop of the Post Implement Co. in front of a Farmall tractor being overhauled and with some of the special repair equipment handy are, left to right, Allen Johnson, parts manager; Robbie Oakley, mechanic; Ronald Babb, manager of the International Harvester implement house; and Bob Robinson, shop foreman. Missing is E. A. King, the shop's setup man who was out making a delivery.—(Staff Photo).

For example, power steering on new tractor models is just as handy on a tractor as on a car. Then there is the torque amplifier which doubles the tractor's forward speeds from five to ten, like the over-drive on a car.

A third "tractor extra" on the new models is the live power take-off to harness tractor power for other types of farm work.

A tractor maker doesn't offer quite as many models as a major automobile company, but there is a real demand for four or five different tractor models, varying in power and size. Farmers who need the larger models to work a lot of acres usually have a small tractor handy to do the small jobs.

UNLIKE THE CAR business, which usually can count on fairly steady sales the year round, tractor selling in this area usually is concentrated in a four months period from November through February—after the cotton is in.

Babb said Farmall tractor sales in the area are divided about half and half between diesel and butane models.

"Nobody stocks gasoline tractors anymore because of their higher operating costs," he points out. "If anyone wants one we special order it."

Ronald says only one farmer in this area has a late model Farmall designed for gasoline fuel.

OVER IN THE CORNER of the Post Implement Co. showroom are some little red Farmall pedal tractors for the youngsters. They make ideal Christmas presents for the kids who want a tractor "just like Dad's."

"They're just as sturdy too," Shop Foreman Bob Robinson

power and size. Farmers who need the larger models to work a lot of acres usually have a small tractor handy to do the small jobs.

UNLIKE THE CAR business, which usually can count on fairly steady sales the year round, tractor selling in this area usually is concentrated in a four months period from November through February—after the cotton is in.

Babb said Farmall tractor sales in the area are divided about half and half between diesel and butane models.

"Nobody stocks gasoline tractors anymore because of their higher operating costs," he points out. "If anyone wants one we special order it."

Ronald says only one farmer in this area has a late model Farmall designed for gasoline fuel.

"I don't know how I ever did without it."

When you come up with one tool that does the job of two or three, frees at least two tractors for other jobs, and pays for itself as it goes, you can understand why more than one farmer would make such a statement.

This is exactly what has happened in the case of the amazing Rolling Cultivator, an implement that has brought unprecedented acclaim from farmers, dealers, county agents and other agricultural specialists from one end of the country to the other.

Here is a high-speed cultivator—working up to 10 miles per hour—that will break crust, mulch soil and weed crops cleanly in one operation. It will even form beds if you want it to—at the same time. With the Rolling Cultivator, it's once-over, all-over, perfectly, swiftly, and you can save enough time, labor and money to pay for it in one season (one farmer said "one week").

It would take all the pages of this paper to give you the complete story of how the patented and only true ROLLING CULTIVATOR has saved crops and made money for farmers from coast to coast. All we can do is give you an idea of its worth and ask you to:

Come by for a demonstration Then you can judge for yourself.

School year final program presented

MRS. BUD SCHLEUBER, Justiceburg school program given May 22 at 8 o'clock. The program consisted of musical numbers by all grades, a play, and a graduation, with Linda Bobby Torres and Joe Vasquez graduating into the second grade. Rafael Rios and James were given certificates for perfect attendance this year. I the teacher, Mrs. E. C. has nerves of steel and to put on such a nice program. We all enjoyed it very much. Coffee, punch, cookies and were served following the program. Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, and Mrs. Chris Cornett and Henry Key and Mrs. Douglas were presented gifts by Woman's Club. Out of towners attending the program were Clyde and Rev. and Mrs. Dale and children of Fluvanna Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boren.

BRACERO LAW DEBATE

Dear Friends:

On Wednesday, May 29, the House is scheduled to debate and vote on the proposed 2-year extension of Public Law 78, the bracero law. We had sought to get the House Committee on Agriculture to improve Public Law 78, but a majority of the members of the Committee felt that a simple extension of the present law would have a better chance of being approved by the House.

Opponents of the legislation have served notice that they will put up a hard fight to defeat extension of Public Law 78. I believe we can extend it. The greatest threat lies in the possibility that amendments may be adopted imposing additional hardships on bracero users. I shall actively support extension of the law, and I shall oppose hurtful amendments.

I thought you would like to know of action being taken here in regard to bracero legislation. I would be pleased to hear from you at any time concerning problems confronting the farmers of our area.

Best wishes to all.

Sincerely,

Rep. George Mahon

Cotton bagging being produced for '63 use

LUBBOCK — Commercial production is already underway at one mill and another is rapidly setting up to produce all-cotton bale bagging for use on the 1963 crop, according to Plains Cotton Growers Association, Inc. The producer organization has been the moving force behind this program and now uses the language of the space age to report that all systems are on a "go" basis.

The Cotton Processing Company of Texas, located at Gonzales, is now turning out bagging patterns. West Cotton Mills, at West Texas, plan to be in production in the near future. Both mills have been approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to make the bagging under its agreement to furnish $1 per pattern of the manufacturing cost up to 100,000 patterns. This payment will be made directly to the manufacturer, and the bagging will be handled through normal channels rather than through PCG as was the case last year.

In order to qualify for this payment, the bagging is required to meet rigid specifications set up by the USDA regarding weight, size and strength of material. The all-cotton bagging has attracted wide attention in the cotton industry as it will make a much improved package of the U. S. cotton bale as well as furnish a potential market for some 300,000 bales of U. S. grown cotton.

Minimum weight specifications for the new type bagging is only eight pounds per pattern compared to 12 pounds for the traditional jute. Both the Commodity Credit Corporation and Southern Mills have adopted rules which will make tare-weight allowance for the lighter weight to protect the producer from loss as a result of the cotton being sold, or bought, on the basis of gross weight.

While the cost to the user will still be above that of jute bagging, the cost will be below that of last year, and it is anticipated that volume production, plus the fact that used cotton bagging can be resold for more than double the price of jute, will eventually bring the cost into line.

PCG advises that bagging suppliers can get additional information by contacting either of the two mills listed. Ginners are urged to place orders as soon as possible with suppliers, and PCG stands ready to be of assistance in any way that it can.

BROWN COUNTY REUNION

The annual Brown County reunion and picnic will be held Sunday, June 2, starting at 10:30 a. m. in the Mackenzie State Park building, Lubbock. All former Brown countians are invited to attend and bring basket lunches with plates, cup and silverware.

Garza bond sales nearing halfway

Irby G. Metcalf Jr., chairman of Garza County's Savings Bonds Committee, reports that Series E and H Savings Bonds sales in the county totaled $3,787 in April.

Sales for the first four months of 1963 total $48,016, which is 43.6 per cent of the year's goal of $110,000.

April bond sales in Texas totaled $12,327,195 and for the first four months were $52,615,020, which represents 34.9 per cent of the state's 1963 bond goal.

"The 1963 Freedom Bond Drive is in full swing throughout the nation," Metcalf said. "Literally thousands of bond volunteers are working to bring the bond message to all Americans. We of the Garza County Bond Committee urge all citizens to buy at least one bond during our Freedom Bond Drive, which ends July 4."

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

By KATHARINE TRAMMELL
 Day Camp registration is Friday, May 31, from 2:30 to 4 p. m. at the Girl Scout Little House. All registered Girl Scouts are eligible to attend Day Camp and the camp fee is $3. Day Camp is June 10 through 14 at the City-County Park with Mmes. Darrell Eckols and Jim Poyer as director and assistant director.

Camp Rio Blanco Open House is to be next Sunday, June 2, from 3 to 5 p. m. and every interested adult and child who wishes to see the camp is invited to come. The camp is 5 miles east and 1 mile north of Crosbyton. Cars will park at the front gate. Come prepared: wear comfortable shoes and a sun hat, as hiking will be the order of the day. Picnics cannot be accommodated on the camp site as Supervised Troop camp and other activities will be in progress. Make your plans now to take the family and go see what "cookie" money does and where your Girl Scout goes to camp.

Brownie Troop No. 84 met May 22, at the Girl Scout Little House. They made dunking bags which are to be used to scald their dishes and cutlery at Day Camp. Sue Britton served refreshments to Jan Bilbo, Phyllis Eckols, Jo Beth Gandy, Jessie Lee George, Patricia Greenwood, Cynthia Hall, Jean Huffman, Debbie Hundley, Patricia Mann, Crystal Nichols, Vicki Odom, Kathy Smith and Mrs. Eckols.

Troops No. 286 and No. 390 went to Supervised Troop Camp at Camp Rio Blanco Saturday at 10 a. m. and returned Sunday at 11 a. m. They slept in four wagons at the Covered Wagon Unit. Each one carried his own sack lunch for Saturday noon. Supper and breakfast were cooked over the campfire. Saturday afternoon a long hike was taken, which included wading in White River. Sunday morning devotional was conducted by Mrs. Trammell and each girl and leader related what had inspired her in her observations of God's great sons were also guests.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stone visited in Captain, N. M. with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dean Jr., from Wednesday until Friday and then visited in Abilene with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Stanley, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis and Carol were Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Peel.

Those enjoying this camping were: Zelika Freeman, Vicki Ray, Kay Litton, Iris Howell, Kay Mary Carter, Kathy Blacklock, Lyle and Linda Parnell, Paul Pierce, Mickey Taylor, Brenda Ward, Becky Poyer and Mrs. J. Poyer, J. P. Parnell, Eckols, and Trammell.

Dr. Mary Walker, famous U.S. spy who wore male attire, was pioneer woman suffragist and doctor in the Civil War.

Post cadet to be June 2 graduate

LEBANON, Tenn.—A cadet from Post, William Scott Lockwood Hamilton, is a member of the senior class at Castle Heights Military Academy and is scheduled to receive a diploma during commencement exercises Saturday, June 1.

He is the son of Lt. Col. L. Lockwood, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, and Mrs. Gordon Hamilton of 502 West Main St., Post.

New York attorney James L. Rankin, who served as U.S. Solicitor General during the Eisenhower administration, will be principal speaker in an exercise beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday.

The commencement week will begin Friday night, May 31, with the Commencement Ball which will hold Military activities and presentation of awards will highlight the Saturday program.

The cadet from Post is a member of the Adjutant Staff and Band. He holds the rank of Cadet Sergeant in the ROTC.

One receives the inspiration to be a devoted Scout when one hears those Intermediate and Cadet Scouts reveal their life of God in Nature. These girls are deeper than we adults give them credit for; we could take lessons from them.

Those enjoying this camping were: Zelika Freeman, Vicki Ray, Kay Litton, Iris Howell, Kay Mary Carter, Kathy Blacklock, Lyle and Linda Parnell, Paul Pierce, Mickey Taylor, Brenda Ward, Becky Poyer and Mrs. J. Poyer, J. P. Parnell, Eckols, and Trammell.

Dr. Mary Walker, famous U.S. spy who wore male attire, was pioneer woman suffragist and doctor in the Civil War.

Adventures in ADVERTISING
Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER
 During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.
 Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."
 You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

Don't you read before you buy?
 Not only do they read; they cut out and show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and orders.
 When people are an advertisement in print, they are more likely to buy... features... and points of nationally known products and services. (And people do... because they buy.)
 Advertising in print is a handy thing. You can always check back; the message is still there even if your attention is distracted.
 When you add it up, print advertising—the kind you read in this newspaper—makes sense. And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sense.

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN
 Now this is the day the newspaper should always be printed. Do you know why? I can watch my favorite program, Ben Casey, in peace because I have already written the news!

The Garza County Home Demonstration Tour of Interior Decorators in Lubbock on May 21 was a great success. Practically every one in the Pleasant Valley Club went. The tour was sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and 20 ladies from this area visited Custom Kitchens, Design Today, Carroll Interiors, Town and Country Interiors and a beautifully decorated home in Lubbock. Our club was represented by Meses, Carl Payton, Robert Mock, Maurice Fluff, Spence Bevers, Vernon Scott, B. L. Thomas and guests Barbara Ann Mock and Mrs. Earl Kenney of Lubbock.

Burnett of Lubbock visited in the James Shelton home at the beginning of last week and Mrs. Roark stayed on until Friday.

The Robert Mocks were off to Lake Thomas last Thursday and returned the next day.

Mrs. Lena Chaffin and I called on Mrs. Sonny Wade, Mrs. J. I. Northcutt and Mrs. Wesley Northcutt in Post last Friday.

The F. D. Wheelers invited the James Sheltons over for cards last Friday night.

Duke and Don Altman went to a "sweet sixteen" birthday party in Post last Friday. It was Donna Bowen's happy time.

MR. AND MRS. Johnny Sherbert of Lamesa were down at the L. M. Sherbert's for the weekend.

Those witnessing the Senior graduation in Post on Friday night from around here were: Mrs. Spence Bevers, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hitt, Myrtle Johnson, Barbara Ann Mock and me; also, the Howard Teaffs of Close City.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Payton were in Lubbock on Friday visiting their folks, Mrs. Earl Kenney. (If you noticed, Mrs. Carl Payton wasn't home last week; she was gone, gone, gone! And I'm not through yet; I have another little item about her!)

Curtis Lancaster was 12 years old on May 25 and David Mock was there to celebrate it with him.

Mrs. Spence Bevers, Mrs. Bonnie Hodges and Geraldine Hodges attended the Caroline Kasinger bridal shower at the Reddy Room in Post on May 25.

Another Mother's Day item, Mrs. Don Brestrup and two sons spent the day with the Will Bartons.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Graham were at the L. M. Sherberts on Sunday.

Weldon McGehee entertained at Clovis Robinson's on Sunday evening.

The B. L. Thomas family attended a deer hunter get-together on Sunday, May 26.

Mrs. T. L. Barnes and Agner came over to the Max Chaffins on Sunday and we had a nice chitchat.

Mrs. Floy Richardson and Mrs. Carl Payton went to the South Plains Art Guild in Lubbock on Saturday at the Municipal Arts and Garden Center.

Expected arrivals: Mrs. Bob Sproul of Ft. Davis at Clovis, met by the Will Bartons and Mrs. Buddy Hall and then on to Littlefield for the graduation exercises of Mrs. Brestrup's oldest son, on May 27. The next day Mrs. Bob Sproul's oldest son, Joe Frank Sproul flies in to Lubbock with his friend Miss Pat McElroy from New York City.

Don't forget Vacation Bible School at the Pleasant Valley Church, starting on June 3 and ending on June 7. Mark it on your calendar! It's going to be a good 'un. All children are invited to attend.

Weldon McGehee and Clovis Robinson journeyed to Capitan on Friday on business.

Voluntary grower-financed plan seen as 'life-saver' for cotton industry

LUBBOCK — While cotton's present plight deeply troubles growers, reports from the High Plains and across the Belt show they are taking positive action to expand a plan they believe offers the only long run answer to their problems.

Roy Forkner of Lubbock, High Plains chairman for the Cotton Producers Institute, today said a check shows participation in the voluntary grower-financed plan ranging up to 100 per cent at some gin points.

"Support of the Institute shows growers mean to protect their investment in cotton," Forkner said. "It will take time, but we can be thankful the Institute is this far along."

Strong belief in the Institute and active action by growers and processors play a big part in building support, reports indicate.

The Seagraves Co-op Gin inaines County, Tex., where participation last year was 88.2 per cent, is an example.

"WE HERE AT THE GIN think the Institute is a very good program and have encouraged our members and patrons to go along with it," said L. B. Fox, manager.

This past season we printed the gin on our gin ticket and told producers if they didn't want to go along, we would refund their money. We did refund $980 out of $10. We think this was good for the first year."

Last year customers of the Farmers Gin and Cotton Co., Stanton, Tex., put 100 per cent of their volume behind the plan. Manager

Bernard Houston explained: "Growers believe the Institute can help solve their problems. Take verticillium wilt, which is hitting us real hard. Our funds already are working to solve this problem."

The Producers Cotton Oil Co., Fresno, Calif., at the request of two state steering committees, has set up an accounting procedure which allows all growers ginning with the company to participate in the plan. James B. Mayer, executive vice president, recently presented the Institute with a check for $249,031 on behalf of 1,068 contributors in California and Arizona who gin with the company.

"The high degree of support indicates growers realize cotton is in trouble and needs the expanded research and promotion provided by the Institute," Mr. Mayer said.

Ronald Weaver, manager of the Petersburg (Texas) Cooperative Gin and a past president of the Texas Cooperative Ginners Assn., said, "We feel a positive collection procedure will give every grower a chance to invest in his future." Grower participation at the gin totaled $13,468 last year.

The Paymaster Gin at Sawyer Flats in Texas last year recorded a 96.6 per cent participation. M. M. Hand, chairman for Gaines County, attributes this to growers' realization that they must help themselves.

"IF YOU BELIEVE in something, you can do a much better job of getting other people interested," R. D. Hughes, Blytheville, Ark., grower and ginmer said in explaining how participation at his gins hit 72 per cent last year.

Osgood Rawson of Safford and F. C. Layton of Thatcher reported Graham County, Ariz., has hit around the 95 per cent mark for two years because "people are sold on the Institute, and we have a good group of people here who work together."

In Kern County, Calif., participation at the Arvin Cooperative Gin reached 100 per cent in 1962. "We realized cotton had many ills, but the Institute has set them before us dramatically," said Kenneth Frick, vice chairman for the state.

Last fall Manager Hunter Pratt of Duncan Gin Co., Inverness, Miss., stated, "Our business is cotton and we are for the Institute 100 per cent." The record at this, the largest volume gin in the state, shows Mr. Pratt had the situation sized up correctly.

"WE JUST BELIEVE in the plan and what it can do," explained W. C. Bryant in telling how the Spillway Gin Co., Dorena, Mo., recorded better than a two-thirds participation the first year.

Growers initiating the Institute this year are showing the same positive approach to helping themselves.

"Sign-up at our county meetings indicates growers are determined to protect their investments in cotton," reported J. E. Mayes, of Mayesville, S. C., chairman. "Eighty-five per cent of the production represented by the Founders Committee already is in the program."

James A. Minter, chairman for Alabama, stated 50 per cent of the production in Dallas and Autauga Counties was signed at only two organizational meetings. "Comments show growers here realize that cotton's future in the long run will depend heavily upon its total research and promotion program."

From the Coastal Bend area of Texas J. H. West of Bishop and M. E. Dechred of Taft report excellent response. Eighty per cent of the producers at the first six meetings signed agreements. These represent more than 90 per cent of the production in two counties.

Nowhere in the vast complexity of Nature are the mysteries of life and death and the struggle for survival more pronounced than among the microbes. Fortunately, most microbes are not harmful to man, but almost all are hostile to one another.

Thus for some time, man has striven to follow Pasteur's advice: "Use bacteria to combat a disease caused by other bacteria." Man has learned—and is learning—to borrow from microbes the substances which they secrete to kill other microbes; the result—antibiotics.

are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving, they divide the entire community estate between them.

NO WILL? WHO INHERITS PROPERTY?

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? Who will inherit your property? Your husband, wife, children, mother, father, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies "intestate" as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it—but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated, and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property, and for all of the many possible combinations of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all of the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descendants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the child would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse already owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death, and the law adds nothing to this share where there firm here since April, 1961. He has lived in Garza County all his life—except for two years of Army service.

The Post Implement Company besides handling Farmall tractors and parts also sells a variety of farm implements needed in the area, including Krause plows, R&J crust-busters, Lilliston rolling cultivators, Johnson shredders, and Phares-Wilkins sand fighters.

IN FACT Babb in his firm's feature ad on the business page today is featuring the rolling cultivators, a new implement the company took on less than two months ago.

"Farmers like it," Babb says. "We've really gotten a rush on it."

The implement business is divided into a lot of seasons. Besides the tractor buying season and tractor major overhaul season already listed, there's the Krause plow and shredder season in the fall.

Ronald says August is officially "the slow season"—usually nothing is moving that month.

Three of the four IH dealerships in which Basinger owns or shares ownership have their own short wave radio stations for quick and inexpensive communications. Post, Southland, and Crosbyton have their own licensed stations.

When there's a call for a tractor or implement part at one house and it can't be filled from stock, a quick check is made of the other houses to see if they can supply it quickly and possibly if somebody is coming this way with something else and can bring it. Slaton is hooked into this unique communications network by phone from Southland.

Basinger has a short wave set in his own vehicle. Babb says the local house soon will put another in its pickup. Such can save a lot of miles, he points out, as he emphasizes that the Post house serves a lot larger farm trade territory than most folks imagine.

Grassland is rejoicing over beneficial rains

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
(This column was delayed and not received in time to publish last week.)

Grassland had another good rain Sunday afternoon. We hear it rained about 2½ inches in and around Grassland. Some fields were hailed out but there is plenty of time to replant with all of this good moisture. The rain was very spotted with some reporting from .70 up to 2½ inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Huff and Traci ate supper Saturday night with the Adrian Cooks in Post.

Mrs. H. C. Gribble was hostess for a home appliance party Friday afternoon. After the party Darla Murray, Joy Laws, Lucy Cunningham, Maggie Murray and Mrs. Ira Campbell visited Mrs. W. G. McCleskey. Other visitors the past week were Mrs. Bob Norman, Mrs. Edith Inklebarger and the Rev. Ira Campbell. Mrs. Desie Gartman, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gribble and Mr. and Mrs. Bert McDonald and family.

Mrs. Ted McDonald of Selah, Wash., formerly of Post, pulled a fast one on her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey, Saturday night. She and two of her daughters walked in about 2 p. m. and was there surprise and joy in that house. Mr. McCleskey had quite a time keeping Mrs. McCleskey from jumping up and down, broken knee and all. Incidentally, her knee is improving.

Mrs. Bea Allen of Midland spent the weekend with her brother, the Rev. Campbell Smelser, and family.

Everyone was glad to see Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ritchey at church Sunday for the first time since December.

Mr. and Mrs. George Spears visited a while with the McCleskeys recently. Other visitors were Mrs. Dot Kirby and sons of Post.

THE REV. JESSE YOUNG former pastor of the Grassland Methodist Church was speaker at the family night program in Fellowship Hall Friday night. The ladies served homemade ice cream and Cokes. Mrs. Young came with her husband.

W. M. Davis and daughter, Mrs. Mittie Walker, and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davis have returned home from San Augustine.

Mrs. Hoover visited Mrs. Marion Inklebarger Friday afternoon. The ladies of the Thursday Club were entertained in the home of Mrs. O. H. Hoover May 16. The evening was spent chatting. Mrs. Hoover served a salad plate for refreshments and frosted punch. Present were: Ada Oden, Lillian Stevens, Bernice Propst, E. M. a Jones and the hostess. Lillian Stevens will have the next meeting June 6.

Mrs. Ada Oden has had her entire house redecorated on the inside. Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Townsend did the work and it sure is nice.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Turner of Lubbock visited in the L. S. Turner home Sunday.

The Jerry Hoover family of Lubbock spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. O. H. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Mutt McGaugh and son, Mike, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Propst. Visiting Miss Gladys Fox Sunday were the Gus Porterfields and Mrs. O. H. Hoover.

MRS. FERGUSON wife of a former pastor of the Nazarene Church in Grassland is here visiting. She spent Sunday night and part of Monday with the J. F. Moore family.

Luncheon guests in the Hulan Murray home Sunday were the Bert McDonalds, the James Murrys and the Tom Murrys.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rogers and children are here visiting their parents and other relatives.

J. F. Burk brother of Mrs. L. Walker and L. B. Burk, is in Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene. He suffered a stroke and is paralyzed in his right side. He was still in poor condition late Saturday.

Mrs. Dottie Parks and daughter, A'leta of Lubbock were visiting her parents, the O. C. Harrisons, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Inklebarger and daughter went to church in Spur Sunday. Mrs. Inklebarger's brother-in-law the Rev. James Farmer did the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary McGrew and daughter, Tammie, visited his grandmother, Mrs. Edith Inklebarger, Monday. Gary is on furlough from California where he is a Navy man.

We are glad to report that Mrs. E. B. Gregg is showing improvement since her amputation. She is still hospitalized and will be for some time but is improving.

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

Plinking Time!

That son of mine—he sure has the shooting bug, and he's determined to pass it along to everyone else, too!

The other day a neighbor of ours was complaining about the lack of shooting opportunities at this time of year. "Why don't you come with us on our picnic next Sunday?" Mike grinned broadly. "Betcha we can change your mind!"

When we all arrived at our favorite picnic grounds (there's an old fence set against a steep hill that makes a perfect backdrop), Mike started tying cans of water to the top rail of the fence, and then he drove in some nails and placed "bustible" targets on them—cookies, candy wafers, two-by-two blocks of wood, and charcoal briquettes. He'd even cut out paper silhouettes of crows and small game animals and pasted them on cardboard squares!

Well, Bill Nelson changed his mind, all right. He had a great time plinking away at the swinging cans of water and shattering the other targets—and so did the rest of us. Mike had made his point. There's plenty of shooting fun to be had at any time of the year!

Methodist VBS to end Sunday

Vacation Bible School will conclude this Sunday at the First Methodist Church with open house for the parents during the Sunday School session and a program in the sanctuary at 6:30 p. m.

"Friends Near and Far" is the general theme for the classes, which started Monday at 9 a. m. and will continue through the week including Saturday.

Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick is the director and Mrs. Kay Kirkpatrick is in charge of refreshments. Lead teachers are: Mrs. Jim Poer, nursery; Linda Bias, three-year-olds; Mrs. Earl Chapman, kindergarten; Mrs. Joe Callis, primary 1; Mrs. Bob Macy, primary 2 and 3; Mrs. Don Marth, junior 4, and Mrs. Ronald Babb, junior 5 and 6.

TO GRANTS, N. M.

Helen and Daisy Mae Martinez, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Martinez of Route 2, Post, left Tuesday to spend two weeks in Grants, N. M., where their niece is to undergo major surgery.

Built by mission priests more than 200 years ago, a ditch in San Antonio, Texas, still is used for irrigation.

Q. Who administers National Cemeteries in the United States?

A. (a) The Department of the Army through the Office of the Chief of Support Service of the Army administers 86 National Cemeteries in the U. S. and its possessions. (b) The Department of the Interior through the National Park Service administers ten others. These ten are located in Sharpsburg, Md.; Fredericksburg, Petersburg and Yorktown, Va.; Dover, Pittsburgh Landing and Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Gettysburg, Pa.; Vicksburg, Miss.; and a small one in Washington, D. C.

Q. Who administers cemeteries where American servicemen are buried in foreign countries?

A. The American Battle Monuments Commission administers the U. S. Military Cemeteries and Memorials on foreign soil.

Q. Can I reinstate my GI insurance?

A. With some exceptions, a policy converted to a permanent plan can be reinstated at any time with evidence of good health and payment of all back premiums with interest. A permanent policy surrendered for cash cannot be reinstated, except for men in active service. Under certain conditions, five-year term insurance can be reinstated only if lapsed over three months.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Last week a strong and vigorous 50-year-old Central Texas dairyman suddenly crumpled unconscious to the floor of his dairy barn while going about his routine chores. The doctor's diagnosis was quick and sure: Stroke. That's one of the most ominous words in the language today. What does it really mean?

The medical term is "cerebral vascular accident," because it is caused by a cerebral vascular disease. The body's vascular system is the brain's network of blood vessels. Thus, cerebral vascular disease refers to diseases of blood vessels in the brain.

Brain cells require a good blood supply in order to work properly—more so than most other body cells. When something happens to that blood supply, the brain itself is impaired.

That something could be the result of a hemorrhage, thrombus, embolus, compression, or a spasm. Each one of those key words is a major cause of paralysis.

A hemorrhage (bleeding) is the result of a break in a brain artery which allows blood to escape and damage surrounding brain tissue. Apoplexy or stroke is this type of a hemorrhage.

A thrombus is caused by a clot of blood forming in a brain artery, stopping the flow of blood to the part of the brain it supplies. When a clot is formed in a diseased heart or elsewhere in the body and pumped to the brain to plug up an artery, it is called an embolus.

A tumor, swollen brain tissue, or a large clot in another vessel may press upon a brain vessel to stop the flow of blood. This is called compression. A spasm is caused when a brain artery temporarily constricts or tightens up, reducing the flow of blood to a particular brain area.

With present medical knowledge it is not possible to prevent the majority of cerebral accidents, except—high blood pressure, for example—can often be helped by mo-
