Louie Burkes too obligated to serve

Luttrell is new head of Chamber

Charlie Luttrell was elected president of the Post Chamber of Commerce for 1963 at a special meeting of Chamber directors late Wednesday afternoon.

The action came after Louie Burkes, general manager of Postex Cotton Mills, declined to accept the presidency because he was too busy and too obligated at present to take on the responsibilities involved.

Burkes was originally named last week to the office when he was out of town and unable to attend the meeting.

Luttrell is manager of Luttrell's Texaco Service and was recently elected by the membership to a two year term on the board of directors.

Record crowd sought for Feb. 22 affair

Tickets go on sale for annual Chamber banquet

Tickets, priced at $2.50 each, went on sale today through Chamber directors and the Chamber office for Post's 1963 Chamber of Commerce banquet which will be held Friday evening, Feb. 22, in the old high school gym.

J. B. Potts, retiring Chamber president, emphasized that there will be no need for anyone to stand this year—that the largest possible crowd can be comfortably seated for one of the best annual affairs in many a year.

Charlie Gibson, high Burlington Industries official, will be the featured speaker. He will fly here for the banquet with other Burlington officials from South Carolina. Both the Postex Cotton Mills, a

Big game hunter to show film, lecture here

Clyde Sussens, 36-year-old South African native big game hunter and lecturer, will show and narrate a film, "Savage Africa" in the Primary School Auditorium at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, under sponsorship of the Post Lions Club. Sussens will show the color, sound film which he made on one of his many African safaris, will lecture briefly before the start of the film and will conduct a 30 minute question and answer period to conclude the two and one-half hour presentation.

Sussens, who is normally employed by the governments of Rhodesia and South Africa to hunt rogue animals, has conducted a number of safaris and is now booking others to begin in July.

It was such a safari that the film, "Savage Africa" was made. It is billed as one of the finest wildlife movies ever produced.

Sussens started his hunting career at the age of 10 and shot his first lion at 13. When he was 18 years old he turned professional. He has doubled for many movie stars in jungle pictures. His latest was for Dana Andrews in "Duel in the Jungle."

Sussens and his wife, Gloria, a former Johannesburg beauty queen, will arrive in Post Wednesday in his famous truck (with a trailer built into the rear). Inside the plush trailer home are many still life action photos taken on his safaris.

Tickets for the film and lecture are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Final rites held for W. H. Self

Last rites for W. H. Self, 81, who moved to what is now Garza County in 1901, were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Self, who was a retired farmer, died Friday in a Big Spring hospital.

Born in Brown County, he came to what is now Garza County when he was 20 years old and moved into Post from the northeast part of the county about 20 years ago.

Mr. Self was married to Miss Connie Glo Phelps on May 4, 1912, in Post. He had been a member of the Baptist Church for 20 years.

The Rev. C. B. Hogue, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Clifford, Curtis, Marvin, Wilbur, Nolan and Charlie Williams Jr.

Mr. Self is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Viola Park of Lubbock and Mrs. Pearl Jenkins of Fort Worth; four sons, George E. Self of Post, Walter G. Self of Albuquerque, N. M., Arlie Gene Self of Weatherford and John Ross Self of Odessa; 13 grandchildren and five great-children.

CORRECTION PLEASE!
In last week's Dispatch report on county financing over the last four years it was incorrectly reported, due to an error in copying figures, that law enforcement expense, other than salaries for 1962 was $65,495.75. Actually this was the total for such expense for four years. The 1962 figure for the year was only slightly more than $17,000.

Four-laning US 84 would make it 13 times safer

The death rate for a two-lane highway is 13 times greater than that of a four-lane divided highway, all other conditions being equal, Julian F. Smith, resident engineer for the state highway department here, told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in an interesting program giving the civic clubbers all the facts on the upcoming Precinct No. 1 $85,000 bond election.

The program was headed by County Judge J. E. Parker who had a panel of speakers that included, besides Smith, Precinct No. 1 Commissioner Jack Myers, Bank posed stretch of US-84 in Garza County was "the last stretch" for which right-of-way purchase for widening to four lanes has not been secured "between Lubbock and Roscoe."

He said "only a technicality which is being worked out" has prevented work on widening of US-84 to begin in northern Scurry

County. Smith commented that Garza County has given the state highway department "excellent cooperation."

THE HIGHWAY ENGINEER told Rotarians the state will spend "over $1,000,000 as its share of the cost in four-laning the 15 miles of US-84 in question if the precinct approves bonds for the purchase of half the right of way.

Smith also went on to point out that the two-lane highway stretch on US-84 is diverting considerable traffic, according to highway studies, off US-84 because of traffic congestion to farm to market roads designed for only 45 mile per hour. See BOND ISSUE, Page 8

Crackdown is sought on vice conditions

The city council Monday night gave Police Chief Elton Corley the "go" sign on a sharper crackdown on gambling and prostitution within the city limits.

Corley told the council he had been making more headway in his campaign against prostitution than he had against gambling and asked if a city ordinance could be passed against gambling.

"The way it is now," Corley said, "we're supposed to have a warrant to make an arrest for gambling and by the time we get the warrant the gamblers are gone."

The police chief said "two or three" domino parlors are being operated here on Sunday and that the wives of some of the players are among those complaining.

"We need something we can hold it down with," Corley said.

City Attorney Carleton P. Webb, who was present at the council meeting, said there is no city ordinance against gambling, but "you can prosecute under the state law."

He added, however, that a warrant is necessary before arrests are made to make a case against gambling stand up in court.

The police chief said he had taken steps against prostitution through a number of arrests for vagrancy and that he intended to keep up his campaign against it.

"I am getting the names of girls staying at certain hotels and other suspected places here, and I am going to make a habit of checking them regularly," Corley said.

"Do the best you can—we are behind you," Mayor Powell Shytle told the police chief.

County Judge J. E. Parker said yesterday that the county, too, is anxious to wipe out gambling and prostitution.

"Our hands are not tied and we'll go along 100 per cent on any campaign to stamp it out," Judge Parker said.

The county judge added, however, that since warrants are required to make a case against gambling stand up in court. See CRACKDOWN, Page 8

Monday meeting slated in county on screwworms

A county-wide meeting to help save the state's screwworm program, which is doomed to die March 31 unless $1,000,000 is raised, has been called for 8 p. m. Monday night, Feb. 11, in the district courtroom.

The meeting has been called by Arnold Sanderson, chairman of the Garza County Animal Screwworm Foundation.

Sanderson told The Dispatch yesterday that all 176 of the Garza counties with interest in the screwworm eradication program have been advised by post card of Monday night's meeting.

This group of 176 raised some $4,000 for the county's initiation into the eradication program.

"We're not setting a county quota this time," Sanderson said, "we're just expecting whatever we can get."

Sanderson and County Syd Conner were in Austin recently to meet with trustees of the Southwestern Animal Screwworm Foundation.

The trustees of SWAHRF have stressed five points in appealing for funds to continue the program. They are:

1. It is vital to raising the remaining $1,000,000 necessary to fulfill the original $3,000,000 goal.
2. This amount must be raised by March 1, 1963.
3. The basis for contribution will remain the same: 50 cents per animal unit and 10 cents each for goats, sheep and hogs.
4. Everyone will be asked to contribute, including persons who have previously made contributions.
5. Everyone will be quickly notified when the producer goal has been reached.

Valentine beauty to be selected

Post High School's "Valentine Sweetheart" will be selected at 8 p. m. Thursday, Feb. 14, in a contest sponsored by the Future Homemakers of America chapter.

The Valentine's Day beauty pageant will be held in the primary school auditorium with out-of-town judges picking the winner.

Some 30 Post High School beauties will vie for the title of "Valentine Sweetheart." Each contestant will be sponsored by a Post High School organization.

In addition to the parade of beauties, there will also be special entertainment, sponsors of the contest said.

There will be an admission charge of 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Proceeds will be used to send FHA chapter representatives to the state FHA meeting in Dallas.

1,170 poll taxes paid in county

A total of 1,170 poll taxes have been paid in Garza County by voters for 1963.

Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton reported the figure was considerably larger than had been expected after the poor start on poll taxes in early January and through December.

It was still considerable below the "off general election year" record of 1,381 set in 1961.

A late poll tax rush carried down to the final day for poll tax payments last Thursday.

Five reasons bond issue favored

Precinct No. 1 voters of Garza County will go to the polls a week from Saturday—Feb. 16—to vote upon the proposition of issuing up to $85,000 in bonds to be used only for the purchase of right-of-way to expand U. S. Highway 84 into a four-lane highway northwest of Post from the top of the caprock to the Lynn County line.

The Dispatch strongly urges Precinct 1 voters to vote FOR the bonds for several reasons.

First, the cost is not great. Probably all of the $85,000 will not be needed. What isn't actually used to purchase right-of-way—and the precinct shares half and half in this expenditure with the state—will go to immediately retire that unneeded portion of the bonds. It will not be used for any other purpose.

Second, the four-laning of US-84 through northwest Garza County will be of considerable benefit to the residents of Precinct 1 who will be using it regularly. It stretches into an important segment of Post's trade territory and the four-laning will make it a much safer highway for all concerned.

Third, we owe it to the State Highway Department to cooperate with them on one of the state's high priority highway projects. The state highway department has been very good to the Post area. It has brought a large warehouse facility to Post and established an engineering office here to facilitate work in this area. These have important local benefits.

Fourth, for the farmers who like to see more and more hard-surfaced farm to market roads in the Garza area, they must consider that cooperation works both ways. There are still several farm to market roads sought for this vicinity. When the highway US-84 expansion is taken care of, such roads will follow.

Fifth, this area along with our sister communities in the White River Municipal Water District realize the value of a good hard-surface road net around the soon-to-be-completed White River dam and lake. Again cooperation works both ways.

Highway funds have been allocated for some time now for the US-84 widening project. Any further delay would be exceedingly harmful to highway department planning and this area as well.

Half of the right-of-way costs is a mighty small share of the highway improvement which will be made.

Your commissioners' court, your Chamber of Commerce, and all area leadership are solidly behind the project. But it can fail through apathy if you—the voter—fail to go to the polls Saturday, Feb. 16, and put your stamp of approval upon it.—JC

Chamber enthusiasm at new high

The Post Chamber of Commerce will end a solid year of progress and accomplishment Feb. 22 when the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet is held in the old high school gym.

With two of Post's important industries—Postex Cotton Mills and Brown Brothers—to be recognized for their many community contributions, a record crowd should be on hand.

The year has seen the Chamber return to firm financial footing, the addition of new members, and the accomplishment of several important projects.

President J. B. Potts has kept a firm hand on the throttle and worked with real enthusiasm at the helm. The board of directors has been earnest and busy.

The 1963 year is being entered with Chamber enthusiasm at a new high for recent years. Leadership has passed to a new and capable board of directors.

Much lies ahead. With the White River dam to be virtually completed by year's end, its potential water supply opens a whole new field for industrial development.

Recently, a Dispatch editorial explained what the Retail Merchants Association of Post was, and what it did. This has brought the request for an editorial on what is the Chamber of Commerce?

To be briefly stated, a Chamber of Commerce is the fusion of the entire leadership and active boosters of a community into one organization for that community's betterment.

It enters many fields, performs many tasks. It is not just an "industry hunter," or a "business promoter." It throws its strength behind many projects to help develop the community in all its aspects.

The first project move of the new 1963 Chamber directors was to throw unanimous support behind the Precinct 1 $85,000 bond issue for the four-laning of US-84 through right-of-way purchase. That is one example.

A Chamber of Commerce is just as strong, enthusiastic, and active as its membership.

Find a wide-awake progressive town and you find at its helm a strong and active Chamber of Commerce.

Within its organizations factions can be united and harmony prevail. Its objectives are long range as well as short range. Its members work unselfishly for the community's good. In that objective everyone can unite.

That is a Chamber of Commerce.—JC

Scouts observe 53rd anniversary

The Boy Scouts of America, who have a sizeable investment here in the C. W. Post Memorial Boy Scout Camp, are observing their 53rd anniversary this week.

Since 1910, more than 36 million Americans have been identified with the work of the Boy Scouts of America. There is scarcely an American family that has not felt its influence.

The theme of this year's observance, the 53rd, is "Strengthen America—Be Prepared, Be Fit."

In 1916, six years after the Boy Scout movement came into being, Congress recognized that Scouting's development and promise of usefulness to the future of the country warranted federal protection.

The Federal Charter that Congress granted gave a legal foundation for Scouting and stated that its purpose "shall be to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues."

Scouting has measured up to the expectation of that 1916 Congress.

This is not only a week for Boy Scouts and their leaders to observe, but it is also one for observance by the rest of us. Post has two active Boy Scout troops and one Cub Scout Pack. There is still a need for expansion in order to take in boys not now engaged in Scouting. That is where the rest of us come in. No citizen should let an opportunity go by to help develop and expand the Boy Scout program in his community.—CD

Open meetings and open records

Two bills to guarantee the public's right to see public records and to attend important government meetings come up for house committee action in Austin this week.

Their chances of legislative passage are fairly good after several years of effort in their behalf.

The Dispatch heartily supports both measures. The two bills are similar to proposed measures supported by Sigma Delta Chi, the national professional journalistic society.

Twenty-five states now have open meeting laws and 35 states have laws requiring that government records must be open to inspection of their citizens.

Most Americans think that open meetings and open records have always been guaranteed. But they haven't. They aren't today in Texas.

Here in Post we have open meetings of all public boards and open records for citizens to inspect. We can thank far-seeing community leaders and public officials for that.

The proposed Texas law would apply to all records and all meetings right on up the line from the town level to the legislature itself.

Things can change in Texas in the way of giving the public free access. That is unless the law is "loud and clear."

This isn't a newspaper goal, it should be a public goal because it is guarantees for the public which is being sought.

Support these measures. Let your state senator and your state representative know that you support them. Write them.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

Newspaper people have a hard time spelling correctly and I doubt that we'll ever get to the point where we can put out an edition without a misspelled word in it somewhere. The longest word in the dictionary used to be "antidisestablishmentarianism," but no more. Third edition of Webster's New International Dictionary contains a 45-letter blockbuster: "pneumocoultramicroscopic-silicovocanoktonosis." In case you wonder what the meaning of the new word is... it's a miner's lung disease.—Wendell Tooley in The Floyd County Hesperian.

P. T. Barnum, the famous circus owner, once said: "I've had a lot of people tell me how to run my circus. I've listened to most of them. But it is a strange thing—most fellows who tell me how to run the show end up by wanting to borrow a few dollars."—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Temptation bothers some folks most when they can't find any.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

You think you have trouble! In Russia the worker who arrives five minutes late is arrested for sabotage. If he arrives five minutes early, he is arrested for spying, and if he arrives on time he is arrested for owning a capitalistic watch.—Marvin Tomme in The Rails Banner.

Be kind to each other. Reports are that free pulbearers are getting scarce under the Kennedy administration.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

CONGRATULATIONS right here a week before Valentine's Day — are in order for a number of Post people. First off, our congratulations to the Boy Scouts and the Cub Scouts, who this week are observing the 53rd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Congratulations also to Ken (Lil Abner) Rankin and Stanna Butler on being elected "Mr. and Mrs. PHS"; to Mrs. Eleanor Cooke on being named "Artist of the Month" by the Post Art Guild, and to Mrs. Laverta Lovell, chairman of last Thursday's Mothers' March, and all the women who helped her make the annual MOD event a big success.

WE, HERE AT The Dispatch, always like to extend such congratulations right before Valentine's Day... it shows our HEART is in the right place.

The man up the street says a lot of the wrinkles in a business man's face are trade marks.

STOP WORRYING about what Junior will do when he grows up—better go see what he's up to now.

It had been so long since I'd seen this, that, when I ran across it again in last week's Haskell Free Press, I immediately decided to reprint it. You, too, might enjoy it. "The Weekly Newspaperman's Prayer:

"O, Lord, have mercy on this guy as we wander here below, gathering news and spreading tales about the folks we know. It's true he's inquisitive—a very nosy guy, his one redeeming feature is, he's seldom known to lie. He has his nose in everything that happens here on earth, no matter what your standing is, how high or low your birth. You try to steal some money and present a pretty tale, this bird comes out and tells the truth as to why you went to jail. You wreck your car on one short beer, or so you firmly stated; this man reports the judge declared, you were inebriated. The preacher brings his sermons in, the lawyer brings his will, the plumber states in big, bold type, he must collect his bill.

"This man prints news about the time you first saw the light of day, about the things you did on earth and when you passed away. He has to delve in everything from politics to treason—at times he is convinced that even murder is in season. It's queer how folks will do nice things, then drop a little hint as how it wouldn't hurt a bit to have it show in print. Then that same guy, while flying high, will cut some foolish caper, and go to any length at all to keep it from the paper... And so we ask thy mercy as we near the Golden Stairs—you put us here to stick our nose in other folks' affairs."

With the electronic "brains" taking over, we are getting nearer and nearer to that day when we'll be identified in everything by number instead of name. This year, for instance, taxpayers are being reminded that under a recent law they are required to enter their identifying "tax account" numbers on 1962 income tax returns filed in 1963.

For the individual, this "tax account" number is his social security number, or similar number issued for tax reporting purposes if he has never had employment under social security coverage.

SO, IF YOU'VE never liked the name your parents gave you, you can quit worrying about it and start worrying about whether or not you're going to like the number, or numbers, you'll go by in the future.

Let none of us forget that each of us are a part of all of the people who can be fooled some of the time.

TWO BIG COYOTES tied to the front of Jimmy Moore's pickup truck one day last week were two more of the more than forty of the varmints that Jimmy and his neighbor, Pug Walden, have rid the country of this winter. Jimmy says they've killed most of them out north of town, near their places, but that a number have been killed elsewhere in the county. Two of the coyotes were dispatched near Terrace Cemetery, just east of town, and five were killed on the Dalby place.

A big help in the two-man war on coyotes are Jimmy's hounds, and all the big ones are battle-scarred from their coyote fights. The county no longer pays a bounty on coyotes. If it did, Jimmy and Pug probably would be the biggest bounty collectors in the county.

Ex-Garza youth busy in Argentina

Ronnie Gollehon, former Garza County youth who is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts, is now making friends for the U. S. in Argentina.

The 22-year-old New Mexico college graduate, who has won virtually every agricultural honor available in eastern New Mexico 4-H club work, has been working with Argentina families as an International Farm Youth Exchange member.

The young goodwill ambassador selected Argentina for his IFYE assignment because of his extensive training and experience in livestock projects.

He will return to the U. S. in April.

Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gollehon, who live on a farm near House, northwest of Clovis. Ronnie moved with his parents from Garza County to eastern New Mexico in 1945. A few more months Texas will have a wonderful new fishing lake. One of the reasons is that the Texas Game & Fish Commission just recently has poured thousands of large mouth bass into the new Twin Mountain Lake, west of San Angelo.

With a rate of bass in West Texas is very rapid. This was shown only last year when the lake was reopened on Lake water.

The lake had undergone a complete fill. Then it was re-stocked with something like a year those had grown to a catchable size. Some real "keepers" are being taken from those waters.

That is one of the reasons Texas fishermen are looking forward to the time when the Twin Mountain project will start paying.

Concho River, when there was enough water.

Their first real good water came something like a half-century ago with the little Ben Ficklin dam.

Then, as San Angelo grew, the Nasworthy dam, was built. It created one of the finest crappie lakes in Texas.

Finally San Angelo got tired of being constantly flooded from the North Concho. So, the Corps of Engineers was persuaded to build a dam across this stream. True, it was dry most of the time, but it was a demon during flood time.

So it was that Concho Dam was built just north of San Angelo, barely out of the city limits.

North Concho Lake also produced good fishing. In fact, it was so good it was picked for the 1962 State Bass tournament, and it paid off.

HOWEVER, THIS LAKE IS on the desert, so to speak, and is subject to roughness from the high winds that prevail in West Texas. For that reason it really hasn't had the popularity it actually deserved.

But floods persisted in the Angelo area. When rains fell in Western Tom Green and even in Irion county, floodwaters rolled down Spring Creek and the middle Concho and poured into Nasworthy.

It became evident that another reservoir was needed.

Two years ago engineering work was completed and evidence produced to show a dam was justified at the Twin Mountain site.

The dam now has been finished at a spot only 12 miles west of the San Angelo Courthouse, and rains are awaited to fill the lake.

It was built by the Bureau of Reclamation.

All new lakes afford excellent fishing during their first few years, and no doubt this new San Angelo lake will live up to those traditions.

HOWEVER, IT HAS MORE TO OFFER. Not only will it fill up with flood water, but it will be spring fed, too. Many springs along the Merton and Spring Creeks flow into the Conchos.

Meanwhile development work is progressing on Lake Nasworthy. It will be a wonderful little constant level lake.

During recent months developers have been busy running channels from Nasworthy behind some of the lake cabins around it.

This creates a paradoxical situation because generally San An-

March of Dimes Pioneers Plan To Improve Child Medical Care

Top-quality medical care, though often capable of changing the whole life prospects of infants and children with crippling disorders, is unavailable to the majority of these patients.

That is why The National Foundation-March of Dimes is pioneering with a project designed to remedy this situation by financing a network of more than 50 treatment centers across the nation for birth defects, arthritis and polio.

But fully twice this number of centers is needed because of the magnitude of the problem. This urgent need is one of the chief reasons for the current March of Dimes campaign here this month.

"No other health organization in the United States, or for that matter not even the federal government, has attempted any such comprehensive network of special treatment centers," Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, said recently.

"We invested a great deal of study and thought in this project before we began in 1960 with the three pilot units patterned after our polio respiratory centers," he added. "But even with all this planning and preparation—which included medical conferences across the country—we did not foresee the full magnitude nor the urgency of the needs that these special treatment centers very soon brought to light."

Some Headway Made
"The thoughtful and compassionate generosity of the American public has permitted the March of Dimes to make some headway in meeting the research and medical-care problems posed by 250,000 infants born each year in our country with major birth defects; and the 42,000 children and adolescents crippled by some form of arthritis or rheumatic disease."

These treatment centers for birth defects, arthritis and polio, whose costs are borne directly by about 500 March of Dimes chapters as well as national headquarters, are affiliated with more than one-half of the medical schools in the United States. They are located from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Canadian to the Mexican borders.

'Health Teams' Used
Each provides continuous and comprehensive care for inpatients or outpatients by specialist members of "health teams." In the case of birth defects, this would often mean a pediatrician, a pediatric neurosurgeon, a urologist, orthopedist, physical therapist, medical social worker, psychologist or psychiatrist, and others. Similarly, all of the special medical and other skills needed for the research study and the treatment of arthritis are enlisted in the "health teams" at the arthritis centers sponsored by the March of Dimes.

These March of Dimes-financed centers are the setting sometimes for family dramas where emotions range from despair to jubilation. More than once have parents given up hope for their child only to find that early treatment has made it possible for their youngster to escape serious disability or death. It is so often a matter of prompt action and expert treatment that makes the difference.

In a review of the progress in scarcely two years of these special treatment centers, Dr. William S. Clark, director of the medical department of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, reported:

The Guiding Principle
"What we have been achieving through our centers may seem breathtaking and miraculous to some people. But the underlying principle involved here is really very simple. It has been the guiding principle of The National Foundation-March of Dimes throughout its first quarter century, the anniversary of which we observe this month. It is this:
"Do something to prove that the best care can be brought out of our great medical centers and hospitals to America's doorstep in every town and village, and the American public, seeing that it can be done, will demand that it must be done. That's the March of Dimes in a nutshell."

William Harvey, an English physician, first described the circulation of the blood through the body in 1628, says World Book Encyclopedia.

Social Security law changes are of great import

Relying on a well-meaning neighbor's advice about social security benefits may prove to be costly if the neighbor is unaware of the most recent amendments to the social security law.

The district manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office, John G. Hutton, pointed out that several hundred proposed changes to the social security law are introduced into Congress each session. While only a small number of these proposals become law, those that do may materially affect benefit rights. Such things as the amount of covered work a person needs to be eligible for benefits (less now than it used to be) or the amount of money a person can earn while continuing to collect benefits (more than it used to be) are affected by the amendments.

Neighbors may try to save a person a trip to the local social security office by giving advice on retirement benefits, disability payments or cash benefits to surviving widows and children of a deceased wage earner, but the only way to make absolutely sure that the information is up-to-date is to call or visit the office.

Many hundreds of dollars have been lost by persons unaware that those 72 years of age or older can earn as much money as they wish and still draw all of their social security monthly checks.

Surveys have also shown that very few persons are aware that social security disability benefits may be paid to a man or woman at any age with sufficient social security coverage provided they are unable, because of their illness or disability, to do any substantial work.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Post on Tuesday, Feb. 12, in the district courtroom at 9:30 a. m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

Human cross-circulation—permitting a second person's heart and lungs to pump the blood of a person under surgery—was developed by an American surgeon, C. Walton Lillehei, in 1954, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

'Knight of Road' finalists named

The award is the highest honor a commercial driver can receive under the Hobbs Award Program and is one of the top awards for drivers in the state.

Texas tourist industry registers 7 per cent increase during 1962

AUSTIN — The economy of the State of Texas received a substantial $31 million boost in 1962 as the Texas tourist industry registered a seven per cent gain, the Texas Highway Department announced today.

Making its annual report on the tourist industry, the Department said tourists spent $471 million in Texas during 1962—a healthy $31 million increase over the previous year.

Texas also showed a vigorous gain in total numbers of tourists, with 9.6 million out-of-state visitors coming to Texas in 1962. This was 1.2 million more than the comparable total for 1961—an increase of some 14 per cent.

Under the authorization of the Texas Legislature, the Highway Department carries on a tourist attraction program, compiling and distributing numerous publications,

So the coming of the Twin Mountain dam will mean a great deal to those West Texas fishermen who have been going a long way for their outdoor recreations.

And it will mean a great deal to San Angelo, too, in the way of flood protection and additional domestic water potentials.

films, posters and other material to fill needs for travel information. In 1962 the Department distributed 200,000 travel brochures, and 750,000 highway travel maps.

Eight tourist bureaus are operated by the Department at key entry points to the state, manned by well-trained travel counselors who dispense free information on Texas and skillfully stimulate additional recreational travel by incoming tourists. Some 400,000 tourists visit these bureaus each year.

Rosson appointed to important committee

Renal B. Rosson of Snyder, state representative from this district, has been appointed to the important appropriations committee for this session of the Texas Legislature.

In addition, Rosson will serve as chairman of the committee on representation before the legislature and as vice chairman of the committee on livestock raising.

Other committee assignments drawn by the Snyder legislator include the judicial districts committee and the insurance committee.

What do they have to compete with our middleweight Fairlane?

not a thing!

Fairlane is in a class by itself. It gives you the winning combination of big-car room, ride, performance—yet it handles and costs more like the compacts!

To illustrate, let's compare the middleweight Fairlane with the compact Chevy II which some people mistakenly feel is in the same class. Fairlane is almost 15 inches longer, it has more leg room, front and rear—and 3½ cubic feet more trunk space! Choice of two spanking V-8's or a spunky Six!

Next, compare the middleweight Fairlane with the big...

Chevy, Fairlane is a foot shorter, far easier to park and handle. Yet, amazingly, Fairlane has more effective front leg room... about the same effective head room... practically the same trunk space! Plus Ford's exclusive money-saving twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance! Yet Fairlane is priced hundreds lower—even lower than some compacts! Come see your Ford Dealer... compare for yourself!

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Harrison, Route 1, Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Odam, Post.

A three-tiered candelabra banked with stocks and palms was flanked by a flower arrangement of white carnations holding amber hollow votive cups with small candles to form the scene for the wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original formal-length gown of imported French Chantilly lace over diamond white tulle with a sabrina neckline. The lace bodice was encrusted with clusters of seed pearls and accentuated with medallions of hand-cut lace which came to a point in the back. The lace skirt extended over the hands in the back. The bell-shaped skirt with a pleated back and flowing chapel train featured a princess panel of lace and pearls in front. The bride carried a bouquet of white gladioli atop a pink appliqued handkerchief belonging to her mother-in-law.

Mrs. David Rutledge of Garland, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a plum street-length dress of delustrated satin fashioned with a bell-shaped skirt, round neck and short sleeves. Her hat was of matching material with a short veil.

Miss Pat Odam, Lubbock, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Kenneth Harrison, sister-in-law of the bride, were the other attendants. They wore rose dresses of peau d'oeur of identical design to the matron of honor. They also wore matching hats with short veils. All the attendants wore short white gloves and carried long-stemmed red roses. Their jewelry was a crystal gift from the bride.

Stafford of Lubbock was best man. Paul McDonald of Lubbock, son of King of El Paso were ushers. Ushers were Kenneth Odam, brother of the bride, of Lubbock, and Money Jones, cousin of the bridegroom, from Austin. Gerald Harris, organist, accompanied Charles Helmer, vocalist, of Lubbock.

The reception was held at the home of the bride. The refreshment table was decorated with an arrangement of white stock and candles in white votive cups and featured a three-tiered wedding cake and punch bowl.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Phillip Monzingo, Mrs. Hobart Wallin, Mrs. Robert Harper, Miss Sandra Smith, all of Lubbock, and Mrs. Don Copeland of Fort Worth.

For travel to Colorado, the bride chose a royal two-piece knit suit designed with a large boat neck and elbow-length sleeves. She wore a matching blue veil hat topped with a crown of feathers. Her accessories were metallic gold and a corsage from her bridal bouquet accented her costume.

'Artist of Month' resumed painting after Japan trip

By JUANICE ROBINSON

Mrs. Eleanor Cooke, news reporter for the Post Art Guild, is the artist of the month featured by the Texas Fine Arts Association.

She is exhibiting her pictures in the windows of the vacant building next to Wachter's.

Mrs. Cooke was born in Yoakum and is the daughter of a Methodist minister. She has two children and four grandchildren.

Majoring in business administration, Mrs. Cooke attended Southwestern University and Texas Women's College. Later she entered Anspach Art School, a French school in Dallas. There she studied dress designing and interior decorating. Mrs. Cooke relates that some of her activities in this school was drawing illustrations for movie theatres. This was before the theatres began making stills of actual scenes from movies. She recalls painting a difficult huge scene of a battle which was illustrating a war movie.

After graduating from the art school, Mrs. Cooke taught a children's art class. She then entered the business field as manager of Dunlap's retiring from business in 1958.

Varied interests such as collections of antiques and rocks, painting, crafts, photography, hunting and fishing are all shared by her husband, A. C. Cooke.

A trip to Japan in 1959 was an exciting highlight in Mrs. Cooke's life. After seeing many beautiful works of art in Japan, Mrs. Cooke decided to come home and paint again.

"I paint to relax," said Mrs. Cooke. "If there is anything else to do, it comes first. When my work is done, then I paint."

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

Instead of winning a trip to Nassau I received in the mail (along with a few other members of The Post Dispatch) a handy little metal calendar for the year 1963 through 1990—just what I have always wanted. The contest was one of those pure-luck kind and I'm sure all those who entered received one of these useful gadgets.

I wanted to be sure that it worked so started twirling the dial and found out that including this year and three other years, my birthday will fall on Thanksgiving. By 1990 I'll probably be too old to let that bother me any more. It's a handy little thing so if any of you want to plan that far ahead on anything just give me a call.

Speaking of age, we have an unusual story in the paper today. A Mrs. Hughes who used to live here long ago died and was buried recently in Knox City. The unusual part to me was that at the age of 82, she is survived by her mother, who is 97. Mrs. Hughes was born when her mother was 15. (Simple arithmetic I can do) Sounds like teen-age marriages have been going on for a good many years.

Strangely enough this next tidbit has to do with age also. Bob Curl came in Monday with a letter that he had received from another old-time ex-resident. This lady was in search of some record of an injury she had received in a tornado that hit here in 1911 or 1912. (arithmetic again) years ago we weren't much help to Don. But I learned something. I wish I were aware that we had ever had a real tornado here.

Shortly after Jim Hays retired from his full-time schedule at the Corner Grocery Store, I asked him on day during that zero weather we were having why he wasn't home warming his feet by the fire. His reply was short and to the point: "My wife won't let me stay home all day". I got warmed up just chuckling over that.

Mr. C. Says I'm just a "babe in the woods" when it comes to all this income tax stuff. This was after I read an article about the internal revenue service and was shocked clear to the tip of my seven and one-halves. I read part of this piece out loud to Mr. C. and said there must be some mistake. He said this has been going on for some time and that's when I drew the "babe in the woods" remark.

This is what I read. (In my own words). The wife of a rich Texan (naturally) was mad at her husband and so informed the Internal Revenue department that her husband had been cheating on his tax returns. She was not just a little mad, but a whole lot. For informing on her husband the IRS gave her $50,000 for payment. Of course, her husband didn't know who had informed (squealed sounds like a better word to use—has a nastier sound) on him. At least he didn't till some time later when the IRS jumped on his wife (not really) because she didn't report the $50,000 the government had paid her. The article didn't say, but I'm sure that marriage couldn't be saved.

Are you as shocked as I? I really didn't know things like could and evidently do take place in this country.

I really wish I could think of more to write about tonight because I told myself that as soon as I finished this column I would iron. And I don't really want to do that. A promise is a promise though, so off I go.

DAVEY AND HIS DOG

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Our neighbor has a firm opinion about children and pets: "When a boy is old enough to assume responsibility for the care of a dog, it's time enough for him to have one"

But our Davey is growing up with his dog — his frolicking playmate today, his faithful friend and protector tomorrow.

Our neighbor has an opinion also about children and God: "When my son is able to weigh the claims of religion with a mature mind he can decide for himself whether he wants to go to Church."

What heritage would men have of Truth and Right and Freedom if each generation had not imparted its blessings to the next? It is the faith of our fathers which is ours to cherish, and to teach our children.

Let them grow up with that Christian Faith and it will have its rightful place in their lives.

Post sailor in Navy exercise

USS SOMERS (FHNC) — Roy F. McCullough, boilerman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McCullough of 601 South Ave. M. Post, Tex., is serving aboard the destroyer USS Somers, which was part of the combined force of 20 ships engaged in Exercise Saddle Blanket early in February off the coast of Southern California.

The five-day exercise, held from Feb. 4 through Feb. 8, dealt mainly with anti-submarine warfare training. The operation centered around a fast carrier striking force, with its wide range of detection and strike capabilities.

Cruisers, destroyers, submarines, and logistics ships also were engaged in the operation. The exercise came under the operational command of Commander First Fleet.

MORE SOIL SAMPLES

The number of soil samples tested at the three laboratories operated by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service handled 50 per cent more samples in October and November 1962 than in the same months for a year earlier. We are happy to see this increase, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, for it means that more and more Texans are becoming interested in soil building and improving programs.

Animal Care Know-How Pays Off With Honors for Bryan 4-H'ers

When Gary Vance of Bryan times bird dog field trials he uses a wrist watch that has a special meaning. He received it as an award for placing first in Texas in the 4-H dog care and training program.

Vance

following in the footsteps of his father, Col. Walter Britten, who attended the congress many years ago.

The youth, treasurer of the Texas Junior Hereford Association, was awarded the trip after being named best in the Texas 4-H beef program. He plans to become a rancher.

Britten began his beef project nine years ago with two calves and has built a herd of 35 prize-winning animals. One of his Shorthorn steers was named breed champion at the San Antonio Show and sold for $1,000.

Vance was enrolled in the dog care project three of his five years as a 4-H'er, training two pointers, Mike and Tony. He is a member of the Brazos County 4-H rifle team, an activity that fits in well with the training of bird dogs.

The wrist watch was a gift of Ralston Purina Company, sponsor of the relatively new dog care program for 4-H'ers.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Modern life's supersonic speed is robbing many of sufficient sleep

The supersonic speed of modern life is costing us one of the most vital ingredients of good health—sleep.

Twenty years ago people got plenty of sleep and were better off for it, because sufficient sleep is irreplaceable if denied. People knew about fission in those days but it was the hook and line variety, rather than nuclear. Things have changed . . .

Say you stay up for 20 hours a day. If you follow this routine for a week or so at a time, first thing you'll notice is your hands jumping from nervousness. A dull ache will begin gnawing at the base of your skull. You'll be picky and indifferent toward food.

You'll be quarrelsome—projecting casual remarks all out of proportion. It will sound like an insult when someone says hello. You might think a good night's sleep will fix you up. Maybe it will—on the surface. The nervousness might leave you and the headache might disappear. It could be that single night of sleep will give you the sweet disposition that was formerly sour grapes.

But it's all on the surface. During the stretch of sleeplessness your heart may have been strained, your blood pressure increased, your digestion upset.

Sleep gives the human body a chance to recover from the fatigue of one trying day before the assault of the next. And it has to be natural to be beneficial. That's why sleeping potions are undesirable as a steady diet.

A few hints may help you get a better night's sleep. Do your heavy thinking before supper. Make it a rule that after the evening meal your brain gets a rest. Subdue the lights around the house. Lights keep you alert, besides being tough

Get lots of fresh air. Sitting quietly on the porch might encourage the relaxation so necessary for dropping off into sound sleep. So might a short drive—if you avoid main travelled roads. Reading light fiction is also relaxing, but stay away from the gory private eye stuff.

Develop a bedtime ritual. The more sedate the better, to condition your mind for bed. And when you do retire, deliberately try to blank out those random thoughts that steal into your mind.

TEXAS SUGAR BEET INDUSTRY BOOSTED

Remember what a job it used to be to dissolve beet sugar in a glass of ice tea?

You had to rattle the ice around and almost beat the bottom out of the glass before all the pesky little granules disappeared.

Thanks to vastly improved refining methods, beet sugar has come into its own—both as a table sweetener and in industrial foods.

The sugar beet as a major crop is about to make a big comeback in Texas. A giant refinery costing $18 million is scheduled to go into production at Hereford in the Texas Panhandle on Sept. 1, 1964. The Holly Sugar Corporation of Colorado Springs, Colo., is the builder on a 1,700-acre tract of land two miles east of Hereford.

Mr. Dennis O'Rourke, chief executive officer of Holly Sugar Corp., says initial production will consume some 4,000 tons of beets per day and the pace can be stepped up to 6,000 tons when the crop conditions are right.

Governor John Connally joined with Agriculture Commissioner John C. White recently in congratulating Holly Sugar on deciding to locate in the plains of Texas. O'Rourke said the company's decision was due in a large part to efforts and help offered by U. S. Representative Bob Poage of Waco, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, and other members of the Texas delegation in Washington. Congressman Poage was especially active in securing the plant.

New agricultural industries such as the sugar refinery are a vital need in Texas today. They provide additional employment as well as cut transportation costs, adding to the farmers' profits.

"Establishment of this refinery is a big step toward providing new job opportunities for the citizens of Texas," Connally said. "We have the advantages to attract industries to Texas and are pushing a vigorous industrial development program for the state."

New pastor is named for church at Slaton

SLATON — The appointment of Monsignor Peter Morsch as new pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Slaton, effective Jan. 31, has been announced by Bishop John L. Morkovsky of Amarillo.

Monsignor Morsch fills the vacancy created Jan. 4 by the death of Monsignor Thomas D. O'Brien, who had been pastor at Slaton for 35 years.

Monsignor Morsch, a native of Holland, has held pastorates at Rotan, Odessa, Littlefield and Nazareth.

PRICE DIFFERENCE

The difference between the price of steak and the price the producer gets for his cattle is known as the "marketing" or "farm-to-retail margin." Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, points out that the price per pound for beef at retail must be more than double the live weight price to equal the price paid to the producer for the live animal. And this is before marketing costs are considered.

The great safety factor involved in four-laning highway US-84 from the top of the Cap to the Lynn County line was brought home to Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in a panel presentation of the "facts about the bonds" for the upcoming County Commissioner Precinct 1 $85,000 bond election Saturday, Feb. 16. The fact that a divided four-laner is 13 times safer than the present two-lane highway is really something to consider.

Supporters of the bond issue are working hard with plans to get out the vote for the special election as the most fatal disease in such bond elections is apathy on the public's part. The no votes always get into the ballot boxes. Too often the yes votes never get there because too many stay home, figuring "George can do it" and "they don't need me." Precinct 1 and Garza County has a lot at stake in this election. Let's get to the polls.

17 cases filed in city court

Seventeen charges, covering a variety of violations, have been filed in city police court within the past few days. Those appearing before Police Judge Percy Printz, the offense, date and amount of fine are as follows: Elder Brown, drunk in public, Feb. 5; $20. Tomas Lucines, running stop sign, Feb. 4; $5. Mary Jean Caldwell, vagrancy, Feb. 4; $25. Domingo Vargas, drunk and fighting, Feb. 3; $20. George Vinson, drunk in public, Feb. 3; $20. Jesus Collazo, no driver's license, Jan. 27; $5. Edith M. McCullough, disturbing peace, Feb. 1; $20. Marie Moore Stewart, disturbing peace, Feb. 1; $20. Jess J. McCullough, drunk in public, Feb. 1; $20. Ray D. Redman, running red light, Jan. 14; $5. Billy D. Payne of Haskell, trespassing on private property, Feb. 1; $15. Bailey Crump of Lubbock, fighting, Feb. 1; $20. Clarence McBroom, fighting, Feb. 1; $20. William Elbert Davies, failure to yield right-of-way, Jan. 28; $5. Charles Rae Huff of Lubbock, interfering with officer and abusive language, Jan. 31; $25. Bailey Crump, drunk and disturbance, resisting arrest and abusive language, Jan. 31; $20.

Mothers' March raises $935.48

The Mother's March here last Thursday night raised $935.48 for the March of Dimes, according to Harold Lucas, Garza County chairman for the National Foundation. Lucas said he and other members of the county committee wished to thank all women who took part in the Mothers' March, especially Mrs. Lavertia Lovell, chairman. Lucas said it will be about Feb. 20 before a complete report can be made on funds raised in this year's March of Dimes.

Bond issue—

(Continued from Page 1) traffic, this increasing traffic hazards on all those roads. The present US-84 stretch is designed for 80 miles per hour traffic. County Judge Parker emphasized that the entire county commissioners' court had unanimously approved a resolution stating that any funds from the $85,000 bond issue not needed for the precinct's half of the right-of-way purchase would go to the immediate retirement of the bonds.

A copy of this resolution, certified from the court's minutes, appears as a legal publication in today's Dispatch on page 4. METCALF EXPLAINED that while the appraiser's estimate of total right of way costs for the project are $85,000—which would mean only $42,500 of the bond issue would be actually needed—it was possible that actual costs would run higher than the appraisals for some land purchases.

He told Rotarians he didn't think as a maximum over $60,000 of the $85,000 would be needed. Actually, Metcalf said, it is expected that the bonds can be fully retired in seven years, and maybe less. He said the interest rate would be between 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 percent, but couldn't be actually set until the amount of the bonds to be needed for the right of way purchase could be determined.

Cost of the bonds, if voted, to the average property owner in town would only be between $3 to $7 a year, Metcalf estimated.

Judge Parker, in his opening talk, also pointed to the traffic hazard involved with the present two-lane highway. "The traffic volume has developed to the point where the two lane portions of the highway are now dangerous," he said.

"THIS IN AN opportunity we should take advantage of at the small cost involved to us in the precinct," Judge Parker said.

"If we don't vote the bonds," he emphasized several times, "it will be a black mark against us." Judge Parker said the court felt the $85,000 total cost appraisal figure for the right of way is a "fair one" and that the $85,000 figure is the amount recommended for the bond issue by state highway department experts as the amount needed.

The bonds will be handled by our local bank which has agreed to give us the right to apply the unused portion for immediate retirement of the bonds, Parker declared.

IF WE FAIL TO PASS this bond issue, I feel our farm to market road program will be in jeopardy, Judge Parker declared.

This US-84 widening right now is the state highway department's pet project, he said. When we talk to them about future farm to market roads, the only reply we receive is a question as to what we are doing about obtaining right of way money for the widening of US-84. Parker emphasized that the bond issue must pass by a two-third majority to legally carry.

He said "there are always those who oppose any proposition and if we are complacent and don't get out the vote it will be defeated."

He predicted the bonds will carry 3 to 1 if enough folks take the interest to go to the polls. He added that opposition to any issue always votes, that complacency hinders only the affirmative vote total. To vote in the special election Saturday, Feb. 16, on the bond issue voters must possess a 1963 poll tax and be on the county's property tax rolls.

It was pointed out that the voter must necessarily be a real property tax payer, but is eligible if he pays personal taxes on a car, furniture, etc.

"This will be no burden on the landowner," Judge Parker declared. "Precinct No. 1 has no bonded indebtedness at all right now." He closed by saying that "we must get the vote to the polls if we want these bonds to carry."

Lions and wives hear of Denmark

Susanne Krause, exchange student from Denmark to Post High School, told Post Lions and their wives at a Ladies' Night club dinner at a Ladies' Night club dinner that she had an idea of what America would be like—but found it even better than what she had expected.

She compared the school systems of Denmark and this country and told considerably about her native country.

A birthday cake was cut honoring the birthday of Mrs. John Carter, wife of the club president.

At next Tuesday night's meeting Louie Burkes will bring the Lions a Boy Scout Week program.

4-H'ers Urge: 'Belt 'em' For Safety

"Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt," was the theme of a safety article by 4-H National Safety Winner Gayle Gillen, 17, of Sparta, Tennessee.

Gayle was typical among eight national winners of 400 General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H farm, home and highway projects. The winners also received all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

The "safety-prone" boys and girls pointed out that all new model cars since 1962 are equipped with front seat belt connections.

Safety authorities estimate that some 5,000 lives would be saved annually if everyone wore a seat belt. Moreover, traffic accident injuries could be reduced more than one third.

"Despite increasing purchases of the belts and widely published information on their effectiveness, many people who have belts don't use them," said Gayle.

"They feel they're safe just driving to the store," she added, "but it has been established that three out of four traffic fatalities happen within 25 miles of home. Over half of traffic accidents resulting in either injury or death involve speeds under 40 miles per hour."

The national winners were selected from a group of 42 state safety winners. General Motors, now in its 19th year as safety awards donor, also gave state winners all-expense trips to the Club Congress.

The 4-H safety program is conducted by the Extension Service of the state agricultural colleges, the United States Department of Agriculture and the National 4-H Service Committee.

Other national winners include: Leland Alexander, 17, Okmulgee, Okla.; Jeanette Arburua, 18, Bakersfield, Cal.; Phyllis Brooks, 18, Auburn, Mass.; Bobby Cofer, 18, Forest, Va.; Jim Lowe, 17, Morrison, Col.; Sandra Price, 18, St. Francis, Kan. and Jewell Yordy, 21, Morton, Ill.

Their advice for the nation's motorists: WHEN YOU GET IN YOUR CAR, FIRST FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT, THEN FLIP THE KEY.

Post boy shows champ barrow

Ricky Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Little, showed the champion barrow Friday in the Other Breeds Class of the Junior Show at the Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show in Fort Worth, as Post Future Farmers of America members continued to score high in the show.

Ricky is a Vocational Agriculture III student and this was his second champion at a major livestock show. He showed the champion spotted barrow at the State Fair of Texas in 1961.

Ricky's animal, which also placed first in the lightweight division of its class, sold for 40 cents a pound.

Also in the Other Breeds Class, John Bland placed second with a medium weight animal, Fred Leiby (first with a heavyweight and 12th with a lightweight).

Fred Leiby also placed second with a heavyweight in the Chester Whites Class, and Wendell Johnson placed third.

Crackdown—

(Continued from Page 1) quired for gambling arrests, he thinks the city should pass an ordinance prohibiting gaming. Under a city ordinance, no warrant would be required to prosecute a gambling case in court.

Vagrancy charges are being filed against women arrested as prostitution suspects. Such arrests can be made under breach of the peace violations, County Attorney Webb said.

There was also a complaint at Monday night's council meeting about beer drinking on downtown streets. Webb said such a nuisance is not a violation of state law except when beer bottles or cans are thrown out onto the street.

That is just what has been happening, Corley said, and added that he is going to "keep after it."

The Texas cotton crop is the most valuable crop grown in a single political subdivision in the world.

Scout Troop No. 16 takes hike

Boy Scout Troop No. 16 took a hike Sunday to Cooper's Canyon. The 23 Scouts went all the way on foot, the hike taking 10 hours.

When the troop arrived, church services were held. Butch Ticer, Scoutmaster, gave the sermon.

"After that we built a fire and ate—and did we eat," Troop Reporter Steven Newby told The Dispatch. "Everybody brought all sort of food and we ate it all."

"After that we looked around the canyon. When we were all back at camp we played some games. There was one that we played where you go and hide on the valley sides. When everybody did hide, they all got scratched up because there was thick underbrush and thorny bushes."

On our hike we heard a puppy yelping. When he came in sight we found out he was a Beagle puppy. He tagged along with us and now he is our mascot.

If there are any boys who want to become Boy Scouts, come Monday, Feb. 11, at 7:30 p. m. to the Scout Hut behind Piggly Wiggly's parking lot."

New date is set for polio shots

The date has been advanced to March 24 for the giving of the Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine in Garza County, Phil Crenshaw, chairman of the steering committee, announced today.

The previous date announced was changed to simplify vaccine distribution in the area served by the Lubbock-Crosby-Garza County Medical Society after that group's regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

Crenshaw said the schedule will be the same as it was for the Type I and Type II vaccine—from 1 until 6 p. m. at the school cafeteria here.

The chairman said plans are now under way for the administering of the Type III vaccine on the new date.

President Tyler saw himself burned in effigy before the White House.

Post cage teams take two district tilts from Spur

The Post Does and Antelopes continued their winning ways in District AA play here Tuesday night with victories over the Spur boys and girls teams.

Nita Wilson came off the bench in the fourth quarter to lead the Does to a 46-35 win, and the Antelopes won 47-40, behind the 21-point production of senior David Nichols.

The victory was the fourth consecutive win without a loss for the Does and the third win against two teams for the Antelopes.

Nita Wilson, who sat out the first three quarters, proved the difference in the girls' game. The visiting girls were ahead, 33-32, going into the fourth quarter, but Wilson's quick six points on two field goals and two free throws put the Does ahead, 38-33, and they went on from there.

Spur had led 15-11 at the end of the first quarter and the Does were ahead 23-22 at halftime.

Barbara Craig topped the Post scoring with 21 points. Wilson scored 12; Janith Short, 10, and Marianne Jones, 3.

Diana Clay, with 19 points, led the Spur scoring, followed by Fitzgerald's 12 and Latham's 4.

Starters Janie Carradine, Cheryl Martin and Dee Ann Walker played their usual consistent games at guards with big help coming from Pam Stewart. Vivian McWhirt also saw considerable action at a for-

Oscar Garner, veteran local golfer, scored what is even more rare than a hole in one a week ago yesterday—a double eagle.

Playing with Walter B. Holland and Durward Bartlett, Garner scored a double eagle two on the par 5 No. 5 hole—a 528 yard hole.

He hit a 308 yard drive off the tee. Then with "a slight wind" at his back, he took a No. 6 iron and fired a 220 yard second shot right into the cup.

The iron shot hit in front of the green with the ball bouncing on and

State Capital NEWS

... wants the voters of Texas to elect the Speaker of the House.

... introduced a resolution for a constitutional amendment to make the position of Speaker an elective office.

... favored by the people it would mean much bickering among members, not only during sessions, but between sessions. It would speed up work in the House by enabling the members to get on to business on the opening day of each session. And equally important it would save the State the thousands of dollars as a consequence of the man hours lost.

... serious and bitter personal feuds have developed between members of the House prior to the House's selection of a Speaker as by disgruntled groups during the election.

... and the taxpayer of course. It has been said that the special sessions have been due to the long delays in arranging that has resulted in a vast over the Speaker or leadership.

... does not have this since the people elect the Governor to preside over the Upper Chamber. Both chambers, but only in the case of the people have a voice.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS — More than 100 women marched into a senate meeting on "equal rights for women" and cheered the approval of a constitutional amendment they've battled through several legislative sessions.

"Equal rights" bill — yet to be passed by the Senate — may run into trouble in the House of Representatives.

James Cotton of Weatherford, a foe of the amendment, is the chairman of the House Equal Rights Amendment Committee.

FIRST BILL — First bill introduced by Gov. John Connally is the bill which appropriates $50,000 for a higher education needs; $50,000 for investigation and $50,000 for the Attorney General.

... Connally also made appointments. He named Aubrey Robert D. Bullock to the State Historical Survey Commission, and reappointed Mrs. ... of Houston to the Board of Mansion Super-

ON SCREWORM PROBLEM — Governor Connally met with ranch leaders and he's still a strong supporter of the Screwworm Eradication Program, but won't request the legislature to make emergency appropriations until he sees the results of the programs fund drive.

"I am completely sold on the program," Connally said, "and I am confident the livestock industry will raise the remainder of its quota by March 1."

He said requirements for a state contribution to the eradication program will be considered after March 1. "I do not think we will have the difficulty in securing state appropriations, if the producers can meet their commitment," the governor predicted.

HOME FOR PARKS BOARD — An alternate to Governor Connally's proposal that the State Parks board be combined with the Game and Fish Commission has been offered by the Bayshore Rod, Reel and Gun Club of Baytown.

The club, which believes the merger proposed by Connally would be "catastrophic" for the Game and Fish Commission, argued that the State Highway Department would be a more suitable "partner" for the Parks Board.

As the law now stands, the Highway Department holds the purse strings to all state money allocated for tourist attraction.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY — That old saying "life begins at forty" has been refuted by many workers who claim their troubles start at forty, when their jobs are endangered because of their advancing age.

Governor Connally included job security for people up to 65 in the program he laid before the 58th Legislature, and the Fraternal Order of Eagles has made the matter its No. 1 legislative project.

Bills stating that no state agency or political subdivision of the state may refuse to employ a person solely on the basis of age have been introduced in the senate by Sen. Franklin Spears of San Antonio and in the house by Rep. Will L. Smith of Beaumont.

Bills also provide that no agency of the state or any political subdivision may establish a maximum employment age of less than 65 years.

If the bills pass, it also would be illegal for any individual, firm or association in Texas to refuse to hire, or attempt to fire, anyone

Girls track team in good showing

Members of the Post High School girls track team made a good showing, considering the strong competition, in both events they entered in the Lubbock Indoor Track Meet Saturday night.

The four-lap relay team of Nita Wilson, Cheryl Martin, Mary Ann Stone and Vivian McWhirt placed second behind Lubbock and came in ahead of Fort Worth, Houston and Abilene.

Cheryl Martin placed third and Janie Carradine fifth in the 60-yard hurdles.

"In the relay event, our girls beat three good teams, and I was well pleased with their showing in both events," said Coach Van Kountz.

A large number of Post people attended the track meet.

up to 65 solely on the basis of age.

STAMPS OR CASH — Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron is circulating a bill to require merchants to give customers a three per cent cash discount if they don't want to accept trading stamps as a shopping "bonus."

Schiller is trying to see what sort of support he'd get if he decides to introduce the bill.

BOOSTS OIL QUOTAS — A bill which would make the Railroad Commission allow much greater oil production in Texas has been introduced in the House of Representatives.

Rep. Lloyd Guffey of El Campo has proposed that the commission set 14 days as the minimum operation monthly by any well.

He also wants new fields unprorated until production reaches 10,000 barrels daily.

Every well also would be permitted to produce at least the "average daily capacity allowed by the commission for the preceding 60 days."

TOURIST SLUMP ENDS — four-year tourist slump ended in Texas last year.

State Highway Department says tourists spent $471,000,000 during 1962, an increase of $31,000,000 over 1961.

Number of tourists jumped from 8,400,000 to 10,600,000.

NOT FOR JP COURT — Violators of game and fish laws cannot be tried in justice of the peace courts.

Attorney General Carr issued the opinion in response to a request by Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, chairman of the House investigating committee.

Hollowell said his committee has received reports that such violations were being tried in justice courts contrary to at least two decisions by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Dee Ann Walker sings at Houston in State Choir

Dee Ann Walker returned home Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock after participating in the All-State Choir. Dee Ann stayed at the Continental Houston in downtown Houston.

Dee Ann and the other participants had to be at rehearsal at 8:30 in the morning until 11. They had a two-hour break and returned at 1 and rehearsed until 3 or 4, then came back at 8 and rehearsed until 7:30.

There were 250 students in the choir and Dr. Robert Fountain was the conductor Thursday and Friday nights there were dances for those who wanted to attend.

Friday night they sang a "Symphony of Songs" in the auditorium and the Houston Symphony accompanied them. Saturday night, they sang nine songs a cappella in the coliseum. In the last song the All-State Band and the All-State orchestra accompanied them.

Yvonne Corley party hostess

Saturday night after the Junior play party, Yvonne Corley's house was the scene of a slumber party for the girls that helped give the Junior play.

The group listened to records, ate, and talked to the ouija board, which supplied them with quite a bit of interesting information (didn't it, Linda?).

We all had a wonderful time. Thank you, Yvonne.

Those attending were Linda Penning, Linda Rogers, Linda McMahon, Mary Beth Ford, Marilyn Minor, Maggie Harrison, Betty Jo Hill, Cathy Harlan, Diane Maxey, Diane Kiker, Carol Ann Smith, Susie Jo Schmidt, Joyce Corley, Jackie Patterson, and Yvonne Corley.

Cox, Nichols are senior favorites

By Stanna Butler
 June 28, 1945 was a momentous day for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox, for on that day our Senior class favorite, Lin Allyn Cox, entered the world. Allyn was an exceptional child and before they knew it, she was doing things like walking and saying "Mama" and "Da Da."

When three months old the Coxes moved from Harrington, Kansas, to Post. This 3' 7", brown haired, brown-eyed girl has been very active in school affairs from the first: Student Council, class officer, and Speech Club are just a few.

Allyn's pet peeve is loud, blaring radios. The fabulous "scenic drive" is her favorite pastime. Other favorites are: Actor, Charlton Heston; actress, Susan Kohner; color, green; food, baked potato.

Being very musically minded, she plays the clarinet, alto clarinet, organ and piano.

Upon graduation this spring, Allyn will enter Hardin-Simmons University in the fall and probably

Tramp game is big fun, says class reporter

By Brenda Lee
 In this entertaining old game, one player takes the part of a tramp; the others take parts of householders.

Commencing with the first of the householders, who are arranged either in a line or a circle, the tramp says, "Madam, please give me something to eat. I cannot work for I love my ease too much."

Because he loves his E's (ease) so much, the names of the errands given him must contain the letter "E". So the householder says, "I will give you apples, peas and bread."

As the tramp asks each householder the same question, the last householders are put to it to think of names of food which contain "E" and become hardhearted and name inedible articles.

On the next round the tramp tells them that he loves peas and each answer must contain the letter "P". On the third round he informs them that he wants tea for "Weary Willie" and each food named must contain the letter "T".

On the last round, he states that he is afraid of the bees in the yard.

On the other round the householders have named two or three things (as has been agreed upon), but now they name but one thing, and that not an article of food but a missile or weapon, whose name, however, contains the letter "B".

The fun is greatly heightened if, on the last round, instead of answering separately, the householders, at the tramp's first request, rise simultaneously, shouting the weapons and chase the "hobo" from the room.

5 guesses only in pass the dime game

By Laura Howard
 A dime is passed back and forth around a circle of sitting players, who, however, make motions as if a dozen of dimes were being passed, so that it is almost impossible for the guesser in the center to determine where the real dime is.

When he thinks he has located it he names the person. If right he scores 10, if wrong he loses 5. He has five guesses.

Affirmative is debate winner

By Sherry Woods
 Mrs. Gamblin's geography class challenged Mrs. Allsup's class to a debate. 8-B, after voting, accepted. The subject was: "Why We Should Have Compulsory Military Training" for the affirmative, and "Why We Shouldn't Have It" for the negative.

8-B drew the negative, with 8-A receiving the affirmative. Speakers for 8-A, Mrs. Gamblin's class, were Dick Kennedy and Ricky Borgman, Donny Windham and Ronnie Pierce representing Mrs. Allsup's 8-B geography class.

The judges were: Mr. Davis, Mr. Stone, and Mr. Whittenberg. Two of the judges agreed with the affirmative, that we should have compulsory military training, with the other judge voting for the negative.

Abraham Lincoln, 16th president, never lost touch with his people

By Sue Gilmore
 Abraham Lincoln was one of the world's truly great men. War only made Lincoln believe more strongly that democracy is the best of all forms of government.

Lincoln had great power as President, but he never lost touch with the common people. He never hated anyone, and never wanted revenge.

In spite of Lincoln's high position, millions of people even in his own time, knew him as "Honest Abe" and "Father Abraham."

Abraham Lincoln was born on Feb. 12, 1808, on a farm near where Hodgeville, Ky., stands today. The Lincoln family lived for two years on the farm where Abraham was born. Then he and his family moved to a farm on Knob Creek ten miles away, where they stayed until Abraham was seven years old. Abraham did the work that a boy of his age could do, and spent a little time in school.

In Indiana, Abraham Lincoln grew from a boy of seven to a man of 21. His education can best be described in his own words. "There were some schools, so called, but no qualification was ever required of a teacher beyond 'readin', 'writin', and 'cipherin'' to the rule of three."

"If a straggler supposed to understand Latin happened to sojourn in the neighborhood, he was looked upon as a wizard. There was absolutely nothing to excite ambition for education. Of course, when I came of age I did not know much. Still, somehow, I could read, write, and cipher to the rule of three, but that was all."

Lincoln's service in the legislature gave him his first chance to make a public statement of his attitude toward slavery. In 1837 the Illinois legislature passed resolutions condemning abolition societies. At that time the societies were strongly urging the freeing of the slaves.

Lincoln and one other legislator filed a protest. They admitted that Congress had no power to interfere with slavery in the states where it existed, and stated their belief that "the promulgation of abolition doctrines tend rather to increase than abate its evil."

Their protest arose from the fact that the legislature had failed to proclaim that slavery was an evil thing. This Lincoln and the legislators proceeded to do by declaring that "the institution of slavery is founded on both injustice and bad policy." Twenty-three years later, after Lincoln had been elected to the Presidency of the United States, he said that this test still defined his position on the slavery question.

In the three months between election and his departure for Washington, Lincoln made a trip to meet the Vice President-elect, and another to Columbia, Illinois, for a final farewell to his stepmother. (His mother had died in 1851).

On Feb. 11, one day before his 52nd birthday, he said farewell to his Springfield neighbors and commenced the long journey to the nation's capitol. His route had planned so that it would be the eastern part of the country, giving many thousands of people a chance to see the man who was to be their next President.

The schedule was kept. President's train got to Harrisburg, Pa. There Lincoln was given notice of an assassination plot for March 4, 1861. Lincoln took oath of office and became the President of the United States.

Lincoln sought to heal the wounds of four years of war. But he was not to be permitted to carry his plans. On the night of April 14 he attended a performance at Ford's Theatre in Washington. A few minutes after 10 John Wilkes Booth, one of the best known actors of the day, had shot the president in the head from the presidential box. Lincoln died on the morning of April 15, 1865, at 7:22 o'clock.

To all Americans, and to the people of many other nations, Lincoln has become the beloved symbol of union and democracy.

Mark Twain's Story OF THE READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

Correct grazing grass said absolute 'must'

Correct grazing grass is an absolute must, according to Soil Conservation Service technicians here. This time of the year, they say, is a good time to take stock of your grassland and determine if you are using your grass correctly.
The past 25 years have revealed startling developments in the results of correct grass use. Franklin Crider, in 1947, was the first to make the ranchers conscious of the damaging effect "overgrazing" has on the root system of grass.
Crider proved that use beyond 80 per cent by volume weight stopped root growth for various periods of time, the length of time varying directly proportional to the removal in excess of 50 per cent. He showed that 90 per cent top removal stopped all growth of the entire root system for a period of 47 days. At the end of this 47 days, only a small per cent of the root system had fully recovered. Crider also found out that less than 4 per cent of a plant's root system is damaged if no more than 50 per cent of the top growth is removed.
How can you tell when you are getting correct grazing? The best way is to request assistance from Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting your Garza County Soil Conservation District. They are trained to recognize correct grass use. They also will assist you in analyzing the potential of your ranchland to produce not only the various kinds of native vegetation,

AVOID LEGAL TROUBLES IN REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS
Thinking of buying or building a new home this year? Whether you buy a completed house or simply a lot to build on, how will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.
Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.
Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.
Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders, or because a "mortgage" title insurance policy is being furnished. This seems logical but it is a dangerous theory. The "mortgage policy" protects only the lender, and mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever need be incurred. However, it is risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase. And, even an "owner's" title insurance policy may not cover every possible defect, or the value of improvements added after purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met if any, to make good record title.
Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, court decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

"Let her go, John... I'm sure they're just ignoring the doorbell."

"This tour should make us want to produce and gin better quality cotton on the South Plains. More quality improvements would mean that mills would buy increasing amounts of our cotton."

Garza County Agent

TEXAS LIVESTOCK AUTHORITY RETIRES

John H. Jones, a well-known personality in the Texas livestock industry for four decades, retired on Jan. 31 from his joint assignments with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service. But not for long, for he and Mrs. Jones are going immediately to Bogota, Colombia, to join the Rockefeller Foundation and the Colombian Agricultural Program. His new appointment is for one year.

The Archer County native graduated from Texas A&M College in 1922 in animal husbandry and immediately joined the Experiment Station as a cattle feeder at the Spur substation. He resigned in 1923 to become foreman of a large cattle feeding operation near Fort Worth. He returned to the Texas Station in 1930 to do research in cattle and lamb feeding and build a reputation as one of Texas' outstanding authorities on finishing beef cattle for market.

Jones has worked closely with the substation superintendents in conducting beef cattle and sheep feeding research programs including those that later became the performance tests. Throughout his long and distinguished career, he worked closely with extension personnel in developing the practical from research findings. In December 1956 he became a joint employee with the Extension Service with the title of animal husbandman.

He is the author of many technical, semi-technical and popular type publications and has contributed extensively to the farm press of Texas. He has helped develop many of the practical cattle and sheep feeding practices and rations now in use in Texas and elsewhere. He co-authored the very popular and widely distributed publication, "Emergency Feeding of Livestock," which was prepared as a result of the prolonged drought of the 1950's and its related problems.

WINTER CHECK-UP ON EQUIPMENT

Here is a suggestion from Extension Agricultural Engineer Henry O'Neal on making your farm equipment perform more efficiently next season. He says that now that you have just completed a production season, you have clear picture in mind of the operation when a particular implement made its last trip out of the field. While these details are fresh in your mind is a good time to clean, inspect and repair these machines.

O'Neal suggests that you write down the repairs and adjustments needed on each machine. If you did not operate the machine yourself, talk to the man who last used it so the repairs and adjustments he observed can be noted. With this information, you can easily make all the necessary repairs during the winter months.

As soon as possible after noting the repairs necessary, order needed parts and schedule service work. Like the farmer, your implement dealer needs to prepare for rush seasons. If you consult him ahead of time, he is better able to give you good delivery of parts from the factory. Also, he is able to do a more thorough job with his shop work during the slack season.

WILDLIFE CONSERVATION SPECIALIST RESIGNS

Edwin H. Cooper, wildlife conservation specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service since June 1956, resigned Jan. 31 to become affiliated with a commercial concern in East Texas. His headquarters will be in Jacksonville.

In announcing the resignation, Extension Director John E. Hutchison said, "Ed has developed an outstanding educational program in wildlife conservation and management and is highly respected by extension agents, organizations and groups interested in his field of work. We regret to lose him from our staff but wish him well in his new assignment."

Cooper is a native of San Marcos and was first employed by the Texas Extension Service in 1955 as assistant county agent in Travis County. He holds a B. S. degree in wildlife management from Texas A&M College and has completed all academic work for a master's degree in the same field and from the same institution.

Cooper is the author of several publications on subjects relating to wildlife conservation and management which are widely used by adults as well as 4-H Club members.

STRENGTHEN AMERICA

BE PREPARED—BE FIT!

That's the Theme of
BOY SCOUT WEEK
February 7—13

This is the 53rd birthday anniversary of Boy Scouting in America. Since 1910, more than 36 million Americans have been identified with its work. There scarcely is an American family that has not felt its influence.

President Kennedy, himself a former Boy Scout at Bronxville, N. Y., for two years says of Boy Scouting: "Training and associations of Boy Scout life are invaluable to the individual development of young men and to the quality of young men and to the quality of community life. It has been a most valuable influence in our nation's life, and I know that future energies of the Boy Scouts will add even more to the vigor and strength of our nation."

Five of America's seven astronauts were Boy Scouts and the sixth was an adult leader.

"Participating in Scouting taught me to rely on myself and to handle all small situations early, to take care of all small problems while I was young and learning, before the big ones came along," says Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom. "I know what a force for America a Scout-trained man really is. In a few short years the young men now in our homes, our schools, and our Scout troops will be taking our places, and the legacy we pass on to them will determine whether America as we know it will live or die."

BOY SCOUT WEEK will be celebrated both here in Post and throughout the 20 counties that make up the South Plains Council. Over 300 Scout units, involving over 9,000 boys and over 3,500 adults will participate.

Our congratulations to the Garza boys who are now participating in Boy Scouting and to their leaders who give so freely of their time to support this fine youth movement.

To the boys who are not now in Scouting and to their parents, we urge you to enroll now.

Valentine's Day brings on thoughts of love, also of human heart

Valentine's Day with its hearts inspires most lads to think of love, courtship and dainty morsels of chocolate candy.
 But to Robert Janus, the heart means an organ that does enough work in 12 hours (obviously a non-union heart) to lift a 65-ton tank car one foot off the ground.
 Not content with such an unhappy comparison, Janus goes on to report that the heart pumps blood through about 100,000 miles of blood vessels—a distance equal to five round trips between New York and Sydney, Australia.
 A man's heart is only about the size of his fist, yet it pumps approximately 1,800 gallons of blood through his body each day.
 In its first stage of development, the human heart is like the heart of a fish—only a simple tube. Then it resembles the heart of a frog, then that of a snake. When it's fully developed, it resembles the heart of a bird.
 Janus, unfortunately, should know. He's editor of World Book Encyclopedia. Mrs. Janus doesn't care—she'd better get her heart-shaped of candy, or else.

PRODUCE MORE FEED

About 50 per cent of the cost of operating a dairy is feeding the herd and the dairyman who plans to cut costs and increase profits in 1963 should consider producing more of the needed feed, says Curtis Richardson, extension area dairy specialist. Pasture is the cheapest source of feed for the dairy herd and temporary pastures are of utmost importance. Plan them now, says the specialist, and be ready when planting time rolls around.
