Christmas glow spreads over Post and vicinity

Residents of Post and Garza county were all set today to observe Christmas, with one person's guess as good as the next one's as to what kind of Christmas it will be weather-wise.

Weekend weather predictions were for clearing skies and rising temperatures after several days of the winter's worst blast, so it appears that a White Christmas might be out of the question.

Everything except the weather is pretty well settled for this Christmas. The usual run of late gift shoppers were crowding the stores the first of the week, and the community's children are waiting Santa Claus' visit Christmas Eve night.

Hundreds of the eager-eyed children awaiting the visit of St. Nicholas were dismissed from school Friday afternoon, along with several hundred older ones, for what is probably the longest Christmas holiday period in the history of the Post schools. Classwork will not be resumed until Monday, Jan. 6, giving the students and faculty members a 16-day holiday.

Nearly all Post's college students are home for the holidays, with most of them having as long a time off as Post's public school students.

Three churches have announced special services for Christmas Day. They are the Faith Lutheran Church, at 8:30 a. m.; Holy Cross

Catholic Church at 10 o'clock, and the First Presbyterian Church at 11.

Nearly all the city's churches used Christmas as the central theme of Sunday's services. There were cantatas Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church, "Love Transcending," and at the Church of the Nazarene, "The Infant Holy."

Other churches had held cantatas or other special Christmas programs earlier. The Post High School choir presented the cantata, "Love Unending," at the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, Dec. 15.

The annual Christmas tree and party at the Justiceburg Baptist Church was held at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

All clubs, lodges and other organizations have held their Christmas parties. One of the earliest of these was the Post Volunteer Fire Department's annual party, which was held Dec. 6. The City of Post held its Christmas party Dec. 12, and Garza County officials and employees Dec. 19.

The Post Public Schools' three choirs presented a program Dec. 18 in the primary school auditorium.

It will be Christmas throughout the day Wednesday at radio station KPOS, where the Post Ministerial Alliance is sponsoring the "Story of the Nativity" broadcast beginning at 10 a. m. There will also be other special Christmas broadcasts throughout the day.

Again this year, a highlight of the Christmas season will be the Live Nativity Scene on Christmas Eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornish, 307 Osage. There will be three 20-minute showings—6:30 p. m., 7:30 and 8:30.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lula Morgan Baker, 90, who died Friday night in Garza Memorial Hospital after an extended illness, were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church.

Mrs. Baker, who lived at 184 East Fifth St., had been a resident of Post since 1920. She was born Lula Morgan Welch on Oct. 23, 1873, in Tennessee, and was married to Alfred M. Baker at Sparks, Tenn., in 1904.

The Rev. Clinton Eastman of Slaton and the Rev. L. R. Jones, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services.

Burial was held in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Johnny Mickey, Ronnie Ticer, Orrian Clary, Oman Ticer, Marvin Hudman and Ben Owen.

Mrs. Baker is survived by two daughters, Miss Cora Baker of Post and Mrs. Nell Sartain of Slaton; one son, Billy Baker of Slaton; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Young of Salem, Ore.; one sister, Mrs. Mattie Hogan of Sparks, Tenn.; three grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Usual rush on Yuletide mail

"We are trying to maintain our schedules, but we're also making every effort to accommodate our patrons," Assistant Postmaster O. V. (Oliver) McMahon told The Dispatch today amid the annual Christmas hustle and bustle at the U. S. Post Office here.

The post office has not changed its opening and closing schedule during the busy Christmas season.

The volume of incoming and outgoing Christmas packages is about the same as in past years, but there has been a slight drop-off in the number of Christmas cards handled, the assistant postmaster said.

The drop-off trend in Christmas cards, he said, is probably due in part to the fact that many people are sending their Christmas cards by air mail.

The post office schedule is 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. weekdays and 8:30 a. m. until noon Saturdays.

The post office has not put on any extra help for the Christmas rush, but many of its employees have been "stretching out" their work periods, McMahon said.

All-District 4AA

Honors earned by Antelope gridder

Guard and linebacker Danny Odom of Post was one of two players making both the offensive and defensive All-District 4AA team selected last Wednesday night by the coaches at a meeting at Wolf-ford.

The only other player to make both teams was tackle Thurman Williamson of Denver City.

Odom, a senior and one of this season's Antelope tri-captains, was named to a guard position on the offensive team and to a linebacker spot on the defensive unit.

Other Post players making one of the first teams were Pat Sullivan, center, and Benny Owen, back, both on the offensive unit. Sullivan, a senior, was also an Antelope tri-captain. Owen is a junior this year.

Antelopes receiving honorable mention on the offensive team were Ronald Simpson, junior, end, and Pat Cornell, senior, quarterback.

Receiving honorable mention on the defensive unit were Danny Pierce and Teddy Scott, both juniors.

Rickels attend funeral in Spur

J. R. Rickels, Garza Memorial Hospital administrator, and Mrs. Rickels were in Spur Friday to attend funeral services for his grandmother, Mrs. Letha Mae Rickels, 70, who died Thursday in the Spur hospital.

The funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. at the Church of Christ. Burial was in the Spur Cemetery.

Mrs. Rickels, a native of Yoakum County, had been a Spur resident since 1924.

She is also survived by a son, Adrian Rickels, and another grandson, J. D. Rickels, both of Spur.

2 suspects being held in break-in

Two Latin-American youths were being held in the county jail today as suspects in a break-in at the Post Elementary School building early Sunday morning.

The youths were arrested at a house a few blocks from the school building after being tracked there by Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Merritt and City Policemen Oscar Gray and Junior Shepherd.

Officer Gray nabbed one of the youths as he ran from the school building about 4 a. m., but the suspect broke loose and got away. Officer Shepherd and Deputy Merritt were called into the search and tracked the suspects in the snow to a house a few blocks away.

Deputy Merritt said today that one of the boys being held is under probation and the other was only recently released from the reform school. The boys are 17 and 18 years old.

It had not been determined early today whether anything had been taken from the school building.

Lighted cross is atop radio tower

If the weather cleared briefly anytime over the weekend you will see the largest Christmas decoration in the Post area—a lighted 100-foot-high cross—by looking west to the top of the Cap just off the Tahoka road tonight.

Earl Chapman's Rucker "A" crew were scheduled to erect the cross bar for the cross this weekend—if the tall 150-foot tower didn't stay iced and frozen.

The tower is the local oil service company's radio tower and is located just atop the Cap south of the Lubbock road.

Chapman got a 100-foot string of lights up the tower last week, but then the weather closed in. The cross-bar was ready to go up Saturday whenever the weather "broke."

It's Rucker "A"'s way of saying Merry Christmas to the entire area.

This is the kind of a Christmas story we like to write. It didn't start out being a Christmas story at all. Actually it started out as a summer project.

But it is ending as one of the nicest, most heart-warming Christmas stories we know.

At the start of last summer the United Presbyterian Youth, the young people's (teen-age) group of the First Presbyterian Church, were looking for a summer project—you know, the kind they could feel they were really doing something for somebody in the Christian way.

The project they selected was to take one afternoon each vacation week—for a couple of hours or more—and visit two of the local nursing homes—the Twin Cedars Nursing Home and the Golden Years Nursing Home. They had (See Postings, Page 5)

S telephone cut-over is Santa's gift in rural areas

Rural residents of Garza County were given a Christmas gift when the telephone company cut over to the new Verbenia exchange area here Friday to personally supervise the cut-over, which took place at 3 p. m.

Emery himself made the first call on the new extended area service by selecting Cecil Bland's number from the temporary directory listing Verbenia exchange subscribers.

"I talked to Mr. Bland a little after 3 o'clock and the circuits were real nice and clear," Emery said.

General Telephone had already tested both extended area and toll service into Post last Monday, the district manager said.

"The tests were made for the purpose of ascertaining tone quality and making sure that they met all requirements," Emery said.

James Wright, manager of Caprock Telephone Co., Inc., of Spur, which installed the new Verbenia exchange, could not be reached by The Dispatch Saturday for his comments on the cut-over.

Earlier, Wright had informed The Dispatch that some 20 additional rural subscribers are expected to be tied into the new Verbenia exchange in the next few weeks.

Meanwhile, Caprock Telephone has issued a temporary directory containing alphabetical listings for the new exchange, and this temporary directory lists 79 subscribers. They live north, east and south of Post in areas of Garza County which heretofore have not had extended area service into Post.

Extended area service means that subscribers in the area can call Post directly.

Some Christmas Thoughts

The best of America is its Christmas.

In this brief holiday span—of a few days before and maybe a couple after—most people let their guard down, and let their goodness flow through.

When it is over, they take down the tree, pack away the bright holiday decorations for another feverish 12 months, and almost glumly turn to face the winter ahead.

* * *

The true joys of Christmas come not from the huge pile of presents under the tree.

They come from the heart, and from one's peace of mind which somehow is much easier to find at Christmas time.

Christmas has grown in this modern rush-a-day world to be almost a haven on the calendar for the weary and sore oppressed.

While the typical American small town can not as yet afford a new-fangled psychiatrist with his symbolic couch, the "small city" is well aware these days that the pace—a better put, the chase—has grown to almost fantastic proportions as we Americans pursue we know not quite what with all the old-fashioned puritan zeal.

What has happened to the leisurely paced mode of living of past generations? Certainly it has been sacrificed to our modern cult of materialism.

About all that we have left—is Christmas.

* * *

We fervently hope that Christmas still means as much to today's children as it did to the children of my generation — when we were children.

But we suspect that even here we have lost gobs of ground to our materialism. We see signs that our boys and girls measure Santa with a dollar mark for a yardstick.

Maybe we are wrong. Maybe we are just anxious and afraid that even Christmas may be slipping away.

* * *

Certainly, our critics to the contrary, we are sure that Christmas is slipping away from our churches.

How many of our churches will be open Christmas Day on the birthday of Jesus? We are said to report that their number is few indeed.

We look back over the years to the tremendous impact that Christmas always left upon us through the beautiful retelling of the Christmas story and the glory His birth brought to this world.

It is a story told best in its simplest form. Somehow, in recent years, it sounds in modern dress so much more complicated than it once did. Perhaps that is because we tend to think of everything as complex these days. Or maybe it is just because such a simple story today would sound unreal.

* * *

Certainly, the Christmas season is a very good time to sit still for a little while and look back down the road, and then look up ahead, before we turn again to looking at life around us.

* * *

Of course, there is a simple solution to all of this—but it's probably too simple for us to accept. The spirit of Christmas which most of us enjoy for but a few days each year is actually a way of life we somehow think we can't afford for all 365 days.

We don't have to put our guard back up after the holiday decorations come down.

It wouldn't take nearly the determination to accomplish that a man puts out to lose 30 pounds and give up smoking at the same time when at last he is convinced in no uncertain terms it is for his own good.

We can find peace of mind and a simpler life.

We don't pretend to know what such a change in living would do for the American economy. It might be catastrophic. But we do know what a wonderful thing it would be for most of us Americans.

* * *

And Merry Christmas to you, our readers—for all of 1964.—JC

THE ABOVE, Virginia, is a Christmas tree. It is not like most of the Christmas trees you'll see, but it is the kind of Christmas tree most parents would like to have in the living room on Christmas morning.

This issue of The Post Dispatch, published Monday, Dec. 23, wraps things up for this year as far as we are concerned. The next Dispatch you read will be the first one of 1964—dated Thursday, Jan. 2.

THIS IS THE way our cat, Blackie, would have looked if we'd sent him to the post office with our Christmas cards instead of taking them in ourselves. The way the post office personnel glared at us for coming in so late with our cards, we sorta wished we'd actually sent Blackie in with them.

THE Man Up the Street says there is nothing that infuriates a woman more than not being asked to join a club she doesn't want to belong to anyway.

"It's what's up top that counts," says a teacher we know.

IT WAS LOUIS the Seventh of France, back in the 15th Century, who said of his prime minister, "Let George do it; he's the man of the time." Now, it's simply, "Let George do it. I haven't the time."

George never misses an opportunity to further his cause. Recently he sat down and wrote the following letter:

"Dear American:
"My name is George. I'm an all-around handyman, and I'd like for you to feel free to use my services for any and all chores, errands or duties which you may be too busy to perform.

"Any time there's something that needs doing and you'd rather not, you just let old George do it.

"I'll write to your congressman for you; I'll write your newspaper editor; I'll serve on the school board in your place; I'll do anything you're too tired or too preoccupied to do. With me around, you can be as lazy as you like. Or you can just have fun. The more the merrier, I always say.

"My services are available to you for all the tedious, time-consuming things you'd rather duck doing.

"You haven't time to vote? Just let George do it. No time for jury duty? I have. You don't want to accept committee assignments and extra responsibilities, anyway? Let George do it.

"Now, you ask, why should you leave important jobs to somebody you've never met? Well, that's a reasonable question; so let me put your mind at ease. I'm no beginner. Maybe I'm not as famous as Khrushchev is, but if it hadn't been for me—you'd never have heard of him. And that goes for Mussolini and Stalin and Hitler, too. I made those guys! And the big time racketeers in the United States! You name 'em; without me, those guys would be nothin'! Why do I want to run errands for you? When I'm the guy who runs all those 'big wheels,' why do I want to run errands for you? Don't you see, I get a kick out of electing presidents for school boards and unions and countries. All those things you used to do before you took up chasing dollars and golf balls and things. Don't feel like you're imposing. I'm glad to be of service. Helping you I'm really

MR. AND MRS. WILL TEAFF

Teaffs are to observe Golden Wedding date Sunday

Mrs. Will Teaff, resident of the Close City community, celebrated her 38th year of matrimony Sunday, Dec. 29, at the Community Room. The ceremony was officiated by the Rev. H. H. Haire, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Teaff is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Potts. She and her husband have four children: Roy, Jr., and Mrs. Delia Teaff; and Mrs. Nancy Catherine Madril. The couple has 23 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

My sweater and I in my room just settled down to the house when at the door there appeared our Miss two hours early to surprise and my spouse.

The nicest thing about going home or coming home Mr. C and I first left when we went home every day and I remember griping about it, but wouldn't do it for anything.

When part came when our Cs were very young and their whole wardrobe for the trip plus all the Christmas for all of the family. Time we all rode several miles in the front seat of the trunk and back seat with luggage and gifts.

There were the years when Santa Claus' toys had to be packed and packed for the home trip and then they again to return home.

I clearly remember the year we were bringing a doll to the C girls. We ordered it to be put together to be all there, taken down and in the car, put up again Christmas Eve, taken down for Christmas, packed in and put up again the minuscule into our house.

It was not made of plastic so it was good shape many years ago it was outgrown and given to someone else. Frankly I hated it.

The reason we had so much fun was because the good state usually manages to have one or two during holiday time. We grew up with stories about people being killed for "weather" that we, small ones, were prepared with items as boots, shovels, water, food, and what.

When we were much younger we really enjoyed all that. It was usually delightful to sit in front of the fire (after work is done) and have them come home to you.

When Ammons called me to the office to ask me to see the Christmas tree Valdez had made. I made a quick trip out and this creation looked like a pale blue paper sack in a chicken-wire cage trimmed with dark.

When I was with family Mr. C. Williams left by train to spend Christmas with his family and family in Houston. I spent the New Year's with her son-in-law and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Arceneaux, La.

OES officer is special guest at Dec. 17 meeting

A special guest of the Order of Eastern Star at their regular meeting Dec. 17 was the Deputy Grand Matron of District 2, Section 2, Mrs. Beulah Spears of Abernathy.

Mrs. Spears brought greetings from the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Mollie Goodpasture, of Brownfield. The theme of the grand matron for the year is "The Upward Reach" and she requests that each local chapter recognize the need to help in the cause of mentally retarded children, assist with research in the field of arthritis and to observe special Masonic days and National Education Week in March.

Jack Kennedy gave the invocation preceding a turkey dinner served to approximately 40 persons in Masonic Hall. The suite of rooms at the hall were decorated with a wide assortment of Christmas arrangements including a Christmas tree where the gift exchange took place.

A Christmas money corsage was presented to Mrs. Spears by Mrs. E. R. Moreland. Christmas songs were sung and a program of good wishes given by the deputy grand matron under the direction of Mrs. Malcolm Bull. Mrs. Bull was also in charge of the gift exchange.

Mrs. J. E. Tanner and Miss Henrietta Nichols were in charge of collecting fruit, candies and jelly to be packaged and taken to shut-ins for Christmas.

Another special guest was Mrs. Maxine Lewis of Southland. Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Tinnie Smallwood, Mrs. Dana Smallwood, Mrs. Wilma Burkett, Mrs. Cora Fortson, all of Southland, and Brooks Spears of Abernathy.

Games were played and Carl Cederholm led the group in singing Christmas carols. Fifty persons attended the party.

Mental health topic of panel discussion at club meeting

"Mental Health Problems in Our Community" were discussed by a panel when the Woman's Culture Club held an open meeting at the Community Room last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. R. Thaxton introduced the panel moderator, County Judge J. E. Parker, who introduced his panel members, Dr. John E. Carter, the Rev. C. B. Hogue and Bill Shiver, director of instruction in the Post schools. They told of the part that laws, medicine, religion and education play in local mental health problems.

Dr. Carter told the part medical help plays in mental problems, emphasizing the three forces that influence a person's mental attitude: the endowments they are born with, home and community.

Mr. Shiver remarked that the schools plan a program to enable a child to prepare for his place in the community, home and world, guided by good teachers.

Rev. Hogue explained that the ministry works with the doctors, counseling, showing the healing ministry of worship and teaching; with the schools, and law enforcement in healing of the emotions. The panel agreed that the home and community is reflected in the children of our community.

Ministers, teachers, and parents present took part in the question and answer session that closed the program.

Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth opened the meeting with a welcome and was in charge of the White Christmas offering for the Wichita State Hospital, a club project. She also led the group in the club collect for a closing prayer.

Mrs. Tillman Jones was song leader for the singing of carols. The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a snow scene arrangement. Red spiced tea was served with fruit cake topped with whipped cream by the hostesses, Mrs. J. H. Haire, Mrs. Bruce Evans and Mrs. Lew Marks.

3 accidents on icy roads here

Hazardous driving conditions, including iced-over streets, got the blame for three accidents over the weekend.

Automobiles driven by Dan Rankin, Texas Tech student, and Howard Ardis were heavily damaged in an accident at 9:55 a. m. Sunday at the 10th Street and Avenue M intersection.

Rankin, who driving south on Avenue M, suffered a slight cut on his right ear, when his automobile was struck at the intersection by one driven by Ardis, who was driving east on 10th Street.

City Policeman Junior Shepherd, who investigated the accident, said he gave Rankin a traffic ticket for running a stop sign.

In the first of two accidents reported Saturday, an automobile driven by Leta Fay Stanley struck the rear end of Fred Wadkins' car as he turned into the driveway at his home on the corner of 13th and Avenue M. The Stanley automobile was the only one damaged, the officer's report showed.

Two automobiles were damaged at 3:20 p. m. Friday in a collision at Main Street and Avenue M. The cars were driven by Billy L. Shumard and W. W. Stanley, according to Officer Shepherd's report. Shumard was driving north on M and Stanley east on Main.

Cut-over

(Continued from Page 1) callers from the Verbena exchange will not have to pay toll charges for calls into Post, nor will toll charges have to be paid from Post, to telephone subscribers on the Verbena exchange.

The City of Post several weeks ago negotiated an agreement with General Telephone to boost main station rates here 10 cents monthly to pay the cost of extended area service provided by the company.

Long-distance service to the Verbena exchange became operative with Friday's cut-over for extended area service. Verbena exchange members will receive the same long-distance service as do Post exchange subscribers through the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. office in Lubbock.

BETHLEHEM, BIRTHPLACE OF DAVID

The city of David, which is called Bethlehem...

Bethlehem is a name dear to the Christian's heart. Old Testament times it was a place of holy memory. Bethlehem Jacob buried his beloved wife Rachel. Here Moabitess, gathered grain in the fields of Boaz.

Bethlehem was the home of David, a man after God's heart, saint and sinner, king Jerusalem, national hero and poet. Here, as a shepherd boy, David slew a lion to protect the sheep of his flock.

Having been a shepherd in his youth, it was natural in the Twenty-third Psalm, to give this relationship of a shepherd to his sheep a spiritual application. As his sheep had to guide them, so he, too, had a Shepherd who loved, supplied all his wants.

Shall we not think of our great God in the same way? God watching over us we have nothing to fear, no greater danger. There are no questions which God cannot answer, no problems which He is not able to solve. He is constantly running over.

David is no longer shepherding his sheep, but David's Son, the Lord Jesus, is always with us and as our God, leads us on the way to life eternal and supplies all our needs.

The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want. God's mercy shall follow me all the days of my life. Amen.

HOW THEY FLY...

Six New Years — count them! Six sets of good resolutions—remember them? And now another year coming up . . . all too quickly . . . how they seem to rush by!

As always, the beginning of another year is a good time to consider how much happier and better life is when God is in it. And just as important is the resolution to share this knowledge with others.

True, any Sunday can be a new beginning. But strengthened by past experience, make this year a truly memorable one. Start taking your family to church regularly. Claim your birthright of peace and forgiveness in sincere worship.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
