Two deadlines in recent days, one on poll tax payment and the other on candidate filing, have set the stage here for the political campaigns leading up to the first Democratic primary election on May 2.

For the first time in a number of election years, every precinct and county race coming up this year is contested, a list of candidate filings following the Monday deadline showed.

Last Friday's poll tax deadline found 1,797 poll taxes paid for one of the biggest poll tax payment years in Garza County's history. In addition, 65 exemptions were issued new voters, who will get a free vote this year after having reached voting age since Jan. 31, 1963.

It is estimated that there are between 200 and 300 persons 60 years of age or over in the county, who are not required to pay a poll tax to vote.

That would put the county's voting strength at well over 2,100 for this year's elections.

The filing list released this week by County Democratic Chairman N. C. Outlaw shows four candidates for sheriff, three for county attorney, two for tax assessor-collector, seven for Precinct 1 commissioner, four for Precinct 2 commissioner and two for Precinct 3 commissioner.

L. E. Claborn Jr., the first to announce his candidacy for sheriff, has three opponents in his bid for re-election. They are Lloyd H. Merritt, Claborn's former first deputy; Conor Howell and Ralph Welch. Carleton P. Webb, seeking re-election as county attorney, has drawn two opponents, Preston Poole and Thomas W. Gamblin.

T. H. Tipton, a candidate for re-election as tax assessor-collector, is running against Mike E. Custer for the office.

The most crowded race of all is that for Precinct 1 county commissioner, where Jack Myers, seeking re-election, has six opponents. They are A. L. Norris, Paul H. Jones, Bernie C. Jones, Racy Robinson, Howard Freeman and L. H. (Lonnie) Peel.

There are four candidates out for Precinct 3 county commissioner, including the present office-holder, Ozell Williams. His opponents are J. A. (Jack) Kennedy, Ben G. Sanchez and Irvin Cross.

In the race for Precinct 1 constable, which is being vacated by J. A. Johnson, are John C. Harrison and Edward (Eddie) Shaw.

David Rattiff of Stamford, a candidate for re-election as state senator from this district, is opposed by Keith C. Wheatley of Dallas. Candidates who will not have opponents on the Garza County Democratic ballot are: George Mahon for U. S. congressman; Renal B. Rosson of Snyder for state representative, and George H. Hansard of Lamesa for district attorney.

★ SIREN IS NOT HEARD BY ALL THE FIREMEN

Inability of some of the firemen to hear the fire siren is cutting down on turn-outs for fires, Fire Chief Lloyd Mock told the city council Monday night.

The fire chief suggested that the old fire siren be put back into use or the new one moved to a location from where it can be better heard.

"Personally, I could hear the old one better than I can the new one," Mock told the council.

The fire chief said when the wind is out of the west or southwest, many of the firemen don't hear the siren now in use.

Mock also suggested the alternative of blowing both sirens when there is a fire.

Mavor Harold Lucas told the fire chief the city council would talk over with the county the proposal that the siren be moved from its present location on the courthouse lawn.

Fire Chief Mock also told the council that he is one of those in favor of shortening the time the siren is blown for a fire.

Retirement dinner honors Dick Wood

W. L. (Dick) Wood of 308 West 13th St., who has retired after nearly 20 years as local manager of West Texas Gas Co., and later Pioneer Natural Gas Co., was honored last week at a retirement dinner at Levi's Restaurant.

Mr. Wood, who has been a resident of Post since Jan. 1, 1916, was paid tribute by company officials from throughout the West Texas Division, as well as by local employes and personnel from other offices in the Lubbock district.

Both Mr. Wood and his wife, Gladys, were presented gifts at the dinner.

The program, arranged by Wilma (Boo) Olson of the local office, consisted of a clever "take-off" on the television program "To Tell the Truth."

Among the large number present were Herman F. Heath, Lubbock district manager; H. R. Budke, executive vice president of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.; R. M. Curry, vice president, West Texas Division; C. J. Quinlan, superintendent of distribution; Ed Donaldson, purchasing agent;

John Julian, district superintendent; Charles Mercer, personnel department; Gene Tindell, editor of the company magazine; Bill McCarrill and Pat Kennedy of the company's new business department; Ansil O'Neal, local manager; Mrs. O'Neal and Mrs. Maggie Davis, Mr. O'Neal's mother; Charlie Cooper, local employe, and Mrs. Cooper.

Mr. Wood, who was born at Tolar, in Hood County, came to Post Jan. 1, 1916, on crutches (he was 16 years old at the time) after a doctor had told him that a move to West Texas with its higher altitude and dry climate might help him.

He went to work feeding dogie calves on the Charlie Callis ranch, east of Post, and by Spring could walk without his crutches.

His next job was delivering groceries for M. J. Stacy, his delivery wagon being pulled by a horse that had originally belonged to C. W. Post, the town's founder.

On May 3, 1917, the newcomer to West Texas married Miss Gladys Everett, whose family had moved to Post in 1907, the year the town was founded.

Dick joined the Army in 1918, but the Armistice was declared the morning he was to leave for training camp. "The train station was as close as I ever got to Gay Paree," he recalls.

Later, he began plumbing and doing windmill jobs for Jimmy Samson and Higginbotham-Bartlett Co., and in 1924 began contracting plumbing and windmill jobs for himself.

He helped lay the pipe when gas was piped here in 1928 by the West Texas Gas Co. One of the buildings he plumbed was the Masonic Lodge building, where the (See Dick Wood, Page 8)

It's open season on voters now with 20 county "hunters" already on the trail, candidate cards in hand by the thousands. With competition for every office and a real seven-man jam bidding for the county commissioner's job in the first precinct, the voter is going to have the opportunity to visit at the county political level just as much as he desires until the May primaries.

All of the 20 candidates who tossed their hats into the proverbial ring are Democrats. If there is going to be any Republican primary here in May the only decisions will be over a mighty few state contests for positions on the GOP ticket. With President Johnson now in the White House, Texas Republicans were not able to muster enough enthusiasm to entice county-level candidates into the field, certainly not in Garza County. This local Democratic liberal who would like to see the so-called Republicans get out of the Democratic primary.

Democrats are probably more to blame for this than the so-called Republicans, however. As long as it still costs $1.75 to vote in Texas for state and county offices, despite the U. S. constitutional amendment against poll taxes to the contrary, you can't blame the so-called Republicans for getting as much mileage as possible out of their buck and six bits. And you can bet they won't be ignored either by the 20 county Democratic candidates now roaming the area for votes.

Conor Howell in race for sheriff

Conor Howell has authorized the Dispatch to announce in this issue his candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Garza County, subject to the Democratic primary elections.

"I farm on Route 2, Post, and have been a resident of Garza County since 1914. I have decided to make the race for Sheriff of Garza County only after due deliberation and promise, if elected, to serve everyone alike and to the best of my ability.

"I am a firm believer in cooperation between and among all branches of law enforcement—city, county, state and federal. If elected your next sheriff, I pledge myself to work at all times with that degree of cooperation in mind, and also to the best interests of the citizens of Garza County individually and collectively.

"My family consists of my wife, two sons and one daughter, with one son leaving soon for military service. Having lived in Garza County off and on for 50 years, I am interested in the county's welfare and progress and feel that the sheriff's department is a vital and important part of any county government.

"My intentions are to see as many of the voters as possible between now and the date of the first primary election on May 2. In the meantime, I earnestly solicit your support and influence."

City votes for halt on Broadway parking

The city council Monday night passed a no-parking ordinance on Broadway between 8th and 10th Streets and for 80 feet into the block between 10th and 11th Streets.

The action on the ordinance came at the council's regular February meeting, at which they also ordered the city election for the first Tuesday in April, discussed the method of issuing warrants to finance the sewer system extension project and authorized a survey to determine necessary sewer laterals.

The City of Post had been asked earlier by the highway department to regulate parking on Broadway. The vote to pass the ordinance came after a discussion in which it was pointed out that the parking of trucks on Broadway, particularly between Main and 10th Streets is constituting a traffic hazard and that a number of near-accidents had taken place in recent weeks.

In accordance with the ordinance, the city will erect no-parking signs in the areas of Broadway involved, the council said.

Three city councilmen are to be elected in the city called for the first Tuesday in April, which is April 7. Councilmen whose terms are expiring are W. S. (Walter) Duckworth, Arnold Parrish and Wesley Scott.

Candidates for the council positions have until 30 days prior to the election to file their candidacies with City Secretary Wynelle Holland.

The sewer system extension warrants discussed by the council were authorized by the city last June. They will be issued for what (See City Council, Page 8)

Feb. 20 at roadside park Llano Estacado marker dedication date is set

The Llano Estacado marker erected by the Texas Highway Department at the roadside park about eight miles southeast of Post on U. S. Hwy. 84 will be dedicated in a ceremony at 10:15 a. m. Thursday, Feb. 20, Frank (Chief) Runkles, secretary of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, announced today.

Speakers at the dedication ceremony will be Supt. of Schools Harvey B. Thompson, County Judge J. E. Parker and Julian F. Smith, resident highway engineer.

Runkles said Supt. Thompson had informed the committee that he will arrange to have all local high school students of American History transported to the site by school bus for the ceremony. The public is also invited, and ample parking space is available at the site, Runkles said. The large metal historical marker commemorating the Llano Estacado (Staked Plains) was furnished by the highway department in cooperation with the county historical survey committee, of which Mrs. A. C. Surman is chairman.

Mrs. Surman announced at the February meeting of the committee, held Tuesday, that the state committee had also approved an official metal historical marker for the site of the old Llano Ranch in Garza County.

The chairman also gave a report to the committee on results of a recent survey of existing historical markers in the county. She said all markers were found to be in good condition except two located in the roadside park just northwest of Post.

One of these markers, from which the plate was stolen about 20 years ago, was in memory of C. W. Post, town founder and donor of the site. The other marker, (See Dedication, Page 8)

Art works representing many local and area artists will be on display in two of the educational wing classrooms.

The Lenten Cantata next Wednesday evening will feature nine religious numbers by the 12-member choir. (See Open House, Page 8)

Carleton P. Webb is to seek re-election

County Attorney Carleton P. Webb has authorized The Dispatch to announce his candidacy for re-election, subject to the Democratic primary elections. Webb said a formal statement to the voters in regard to his candidacy will follow.

Res conducted Monday for victim of car-bus crash

Funeral services for L. M. Sherbert, 63, of Route 1, Post, who died Monday about 2:30 a. m. last week in a car-bus collision nine miles northwest of Post on U. S. Hwy. 84, were conducted at 2 p. m. Monday in the Holly Springs community, near Canton, Tex.

Sherbert, who had been employed as a miner at the Pleasant Grove Mine for a year and a half, was Garza County's second traffic fatality of 1964.

Highway Patrolman Henry Harwood investigated the wreck, which was traveling southeast on the car driven by Mr. Sherbert.

The bus was making a left turn in front of the bus and struck almost broadside.

Highway patrolman said the bus knocked about 270 feet from the front of Mr. Sherbert's car and was about 75 feet from the front of the car.

The crash was at the intersection of the highway and FM 397 near a heavy fog. Harden said the driver of the bus, David Cecil Smith of Lubbock, applied the brakes after seeing the car turn to avert the collision.

Five passengers injured in the crash were taken to a Lubbock hospital, where they were treated and released. The bus was on a route from Lubbock to Dallas.

Sherbert moved to the Pleasant Valley community from Lamesa. He was a member of the First Church.

He was survived by his wife; three sons, Johnny Lamesa and Gary Jackson, both of the home; a daughter, Jack Sherbert of Lubbock; and his parents, Mrs. Bessie Sherbert of Canton, Tex.

Funeral Home was in charge of burial arrangements.

Superintendent cites imposing list

Schools busy with many new projects

School Supt. Barry Thompson said Tuesday morning before the school board that he has an imposing list of changes and improvements in the schools in the coming year.

Thompson declared that he would accept the responsibility for the program here, "within 18 months," he said, "I will be able to see the results of my program."

Thompson said that what separates mediocre education from excellent education is "the margin of greatness." This, he added, is dynamic. (See Rotary Talk, Page 8)

Post firms salute Boy Scouts

The Boy Scouts of America observes its 54th anniversary during Scout Week, Feb. 7-13. Since 1910, more than 36 million Americans have been identified with its work. There is scarcely an American family that has not felt its influence.

On page 11 of today's Dispatch more than 40 business and professional firms are saluting the Boy Scout program locally, as well as nationally and internationally. These firms support the Boy Scout program in many ways because they are fully aware that it is one of the best possible preparations for adulthood and participating citizenship.

Post, through having right at its back door the C. W. Post Boy Scout Camp, has felt the influence of the Boy Scout program much more than has the average town of its size. This huge camp is the focal camping point of the 20-county South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America. In addition, Post has active Explorer, Boy Scout and Cub Scout groups, covering all ages of the program.

In 1916, only six years after the Boy Scout movement had gained a foothold in America, Congress recognized that Scouting's development and promise of usefulness to the future of the country warranted federal protection. The Federal

Charter it granted gave a legal foundation for Scouting and stated that its purpose "shall be to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies, the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

How well Scouting has measured up to the expectation of Congress may be seen in some comments of the late President Kennedy and America's first astronaut.

President Kennedy, himself a former Boy Scout, once said: "Training and association of Boy Scout life are invaluable to the individual development of young men and to the quality of community life. It has been a most valuable influence in our nation's life, and I know that future energies of the Boy Scouts will add even more to the vigor and strength of our nation."

Five of the seven astronauts were Boy Scouts and the sixth was an adult leader.

In this area we have over 13,000 boys and leaders in the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America, who find that Scouting is a game, but that it also is preparation for adulthood and participating citizenship. We hope the Boy Scouts a happy 54th anniversary.—CD

New school trustee filing system

The dual voting system brought about by the new National Constitutional Amendment and doing away with poll tax payments as a prerequisite to voting in federal elections isn't the only new system that will face voters here this year.

Adoption by the board of trustees of Post Independent School District a few months ago of a new election ruling in the election of board members means that the ballot won't look the same in this year's trustee election in April as the ballots of bygone years.

All candidates for school trustee will be voted upon and elected separately for positions on the board. Each candidate filing for election or reelection will be required to designate on the ballot which place on the school board he seeks.

There are seven places—one for each board member. At the time they adopted the new election ruling, trustees drew for places on the board. Places to be voted on in this year's school board elections are 1, 2 and 3, and the trustees drawing those place numbers at the board meeting will so designate if they file for re-election.

New candidates will designate when they file for school board election which place they wish to fill on the board.

The positions do not limit candidates from various localities in the district. A candidate from the southern part of the school district may oppose a man from the northern part, etc.

There are a number of advantages to such an election procedure, as well as some disadvantages. The Dispatch is of the opinion, however, that the advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

Under the new procedure, each voter will know who they are voting for and that a majority of votes will not elect one man and miss another good candidate for the board. One of the disadvantages is that there is a possibility two good prospective board members will be campaigning for the same position, but that can happen under any election procedure.

Candidates' doubts and lack of knowledge of the new ruling can be taken care of by making a thorough study of the new ruling before filing. Any doubts the voters might have about how the new system operates can be overcome by publicity and by help from the election officials when they go to vote.—CD

Post Jaycees off to good start

The newly-organized Post Junior Chamber of Commerce is off to a good start with 22 members and there no doubt will be more in time for them to qualify as charter members.

The new Jaycee organization, with young and energetic business and professional men making up its membership, will be an asset to the Post community. The organization's chief concern is progress at the community level.

There have been two other Jaycee organizations here, one formed in 1953 and the other a few years later. Neither lasted, but both carried out a number of worthwhile projects while they were active. The new Jaycee group appears, to be off to a much better start than either of the other two, and this newspaper predicts that the new organization will survive.

The Post Jaycees are receiving help in their organization work from the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is one of the outstanding Jaycee groups in the nation. That fact alone presages nothing but success for the new Post Jaycees.

A truly representative membership of Post's young men is another thing that will assure the new Jaycee group's success. Young men who have not yet investigated the benefits of membership in the Jaycees and the benefits accruing to a community from the efforts of such an organization are invited to attend one of the Jaycee meetings.—CD

Hunt for doctors continues here

The Dispatch is just like everybody else. We don't know how our local doctor situation will turn out.

Most communities usually depend upon doctors to find them, or one doctor to bring in another. When that fails—and it has here—the citizens themselves have to step in.

The doctors' hunt goes on. Extraordinary efforts have been made to attract doctors. But it is a difficult situation.

Post needs at least four practicing physicians and could use five.

The hospital situation is just as much of a question mark to us. It will not be solved of course until several new physicians move to town.

If that requires a prolonged wait then other developments may have to come.

While the situation may be difficult, this newspaper always is inclined to be positive in attitude. We are thankful that the current efforts to attract physicians have been undertaken by responsible, public spirited citizens and we think the community as a whole is appreciative of these efforts. All of us should be.

Other towns have experienced doctor problems such as ours and have eventually solved them.

In the past, Post has attracted physicians and then failed to keep them. That has compounded the current problem. This time, we must not only attract in new physicians but keep them in Post.

Since the problem is not an easy one, a complete solution cannot be expected quickly.—JC

What our contemporaries are saying

Too many fathers want their sons to have the things they never did have—like straight A's on their report card.—Harold Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald.

Now in a lighter vein we present this story. At a Texas bowling alley during the week, a young woman sat puffing at a cigarette between turns at the lane. She got up to bowl. She picked up the ball. And suddenly she noticed blue smoke pouring out of the neck of her blouse. "Oh, my gosh," she said, heading at a run for the woman's lounge, "my falsies are on fire." This story just goes to show that all the horrible things that smoking can do for you health-wise is just half the story.—Neal Estes in The Stanton Reporter.

At least Adam didn't have one problem—he didn't have to listen to Eve talk about all the other men she could have married.—Marvin Yonnie in The Rails Banner.

A modest pat on the back develops character

If given young enough, often enough and low enough.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

The things men build in the designs of their dreams finally perish, but the good, the beauty and the truth of their lives becomes an eternal heritage. Greatness is the flakes of gold in small things beneath the sands when the river has run dry.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Sometime ago I was the recipient of a book entitled "Better Memory," written by Dr. Bruno Furst. I read a portion of the "Better Memory" book, and meant to finish it one of these days, but the sad part is I have forgotten what I did with it.—Al Hinds in The Haskell Free Press.

Girls who try to be talking encyclopedias should remember that reference books are never taken out.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

THINGS DIDN'T go too well with the weekend's moon shot, but everything's still all right here on earth. The groundhog saw his shadow Sunday and scurried back into his hole, which means six more weeks of winter weather, and it didn't waste any time getting started Monday morning.

The Man Up the Street says appearances are deceiving—a dollar looks the same as it did ten years ago.

SOMEONE WHO READ our Puzzled Thrump recipe in last Thursday's column goes us one better by sending in this recipe for:

HIPPOPOTAMUS STEW
It calls for one hippopotamus (medium sized), two rabbits optional, salt and pepper. You carefully cut the hippopotamus into small, bite-sized pieces. Add enough tasty brown gravy to cover and simmer slowly at 465 degrees for about four weeks, or until tender. This will serve 3,800 people. If more guests are expected, two rabbits may be added, but do this only if necessary, as most people do not like to find hare in their stew.

This, from the Santa Fe Magazine, sounds oddly familiar. Could be I've run it before, but it's pretty good, so I'll take a chance:

When the white man discovered this country, the Indians were running it. There were no taxes. There was no debt. The women did all the work. . . And the white man thought he could improve on a system like that.

I'VE GOT ANOTHER dilly this week for our puzzle fans. Known as the Smith - Jones - Robinson classic, it is a lively test of reasoning power. It is reported that in one group of 240 people trying it, only six came up with the solution. But there is no "catch" in it, and the answer has been worked out by many people in five to ten minutes. The Dispatch's one-year "puzzle" subscription (we've awarded three in the last few months) will go to the first reader turning in a correct solution. So, good luck!

WHO IS THE ENGINEER?

On a train, Smith, Robinson and Jones are the fireman, brakeman and engineer, but NOT respectively. Also aboard the train are three businessmen who have the same names: a Mr. Smith, a Mr. Robinson and a Mr. Jones.

1. Mr. Robinson lives in Detroit.
2. The brakeman lives exactly halfway between Chicago and Detroit.
3. Mr. Jones earns exactly $20,000 per year.
4. The brakeman's nearest neighbor, one of the passengers, earns exactly three times as much as the brakeman.
5. Smith beats the fireman at billiards.
6. The passenger whose name is the same as the brakeman's lives in Chicago.

WHO IS THE ENGINEER?

These elephant jokes, that I thought had gone the way of the Tom Swifities, keep cropping up. Why do elephants have grey trunks? Answer: Because they're all on the same swimming team.

THIS WEEK'S PLUG: The newest items on sale in Post and Garza County are the 1964 automobile and truck license plates at the tax assessor-collector's office.

Not only are the Americans getting "clobbered" in the Winter Olympics in Austria, but other strange happenings are taking place there. One skier and one bobsledder were killed on practice runs even before the Games got under way, and a number of others were injured. Later, a Swedish hockey player broke his stick in a game with the Canadians, then almost brought on an international "crisis" by throwing the part of the stick still in his hand in the face of the Canadian coach. Three American skaters who finished far back in their races took refuge behind police barriers to keep away from reporters, and the police roughed up some of the newsmen who tried to get through the barriers. Saturday, a French girl skater punched a policeman in the law when the policeman tried to keep one of the girl's admirers away from her. Do you suppose all this is just a reflection of the international situation in general?

He will oppose Jim C. Langdon for Democratic nomination for the four years remaining on the term of William J. Murray, who resigned in 1963. Langdon, now serving by appointment, has announced he will run.

Owens called for a return of the Railroad Commission "to the people, in the tradition of the late great Olin Cuberson."

A BOY AND HIS HEROES

One of the keys to a boy's character is his choice of heroes

For a hero is more than a portrait on the wall. A hero is an ideal — a blueprint of greatness.

And where does a boy find his heroes?

He finds them in books and on the playing field . . . in his school, his family, his Church.

The Church's contribution to a child's gallery of heroes is unique.

Bible study and religious education not only introduce him to the greatest lives ever lived . . . but they teach him how to build the same qualities of heroism into his own life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FFA barrows score high at Ft. Worth

Post Future Farmers of America members showed two reserve champion barrows, one in the junior division and one in the open division over the weekend at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

Postings—

The first of these is the Farmer Supply Co., a partnership composed of Wallace Simpson and George Pierce, which on page 11 of today's issue announces its sponsorship of a soil fertility meeting in the Garza County 4-H barn next Monday night at 7:30 p. m. Specialists of Sol-U-Phos liquid fertilizer will be on hand to present the program and answer all questions from farmers in attendance.

The Farmer Supply Co. has leased the building formerly occupied at 715 North Broadway by the Ralph Welch electric shop. George and Wallace report that four above-ground tanks, 10,000 gallon capacity each, will soon be installed for handling the new liquid fertilizer and the tanks will be hooked up so that a farm customer can order just the right blend of his liquid fertilizer to do his land and crops the most good. As we understand it, the firm also will handle an excellent line of dry pellet fertilizer, Servis shredders and blades, and will lease or sell all types of applicators needed to apply their fertilizers. Other lines also will be added in the farm and chemical supply field. You'll be reading more about all this later. The big thing right now is the soil fertility meeting Monday night at the 4-H barn and you have an invite to be there. Refreshments will be served.

You'll note on page 9 that Melvin Williams of Route 3 is the new sales representative for the Garza area for Northrup King hybrid sorghums.

The third new business to announce on Dispatch pages this week is Massey's Conoco Station, operated by Valton Massey, at 105 North Broadway. Massey has 14 years of experience in this area as a mechanic and has been operating Massey's Garage on the Lubbock Highway until opening the station this week. He will specialize in mechanical and motor tune-ups. His announcement will be found on page 8 of today's Dispatch.

Garza entries in El Paso show

A number of Garza County youth, both 4-Hers and FFA members, are showing livestock this week at the Southwestern Livestock Show at El Paso.

County Agent Syd Conner and Jimmy Bird took the stock to El Paso Friday together with 3 of the contestants, Billy Jack Hodges, Larry Johnson and J. W. Basinger.

N. R. King took the other three contestants to El Paso, leaving after school Monday afternoon.

Showing stock were Larry Johnson, hog; Hodges, hog; Wendell Johnson, calf; Joe and J. W. Basinger, calf each, and Jay Bird, two calves.

Rain and sleet add .28 inch of moisture

Post hasn't received its first full inch of moisture yet for 1964, but it's getting mighty close.

The rain and snow flurries this week produced a total of .28 of an inch of moisture in the official rain gauge at the courthouse. Added to the .53 of an inch received last Wednesday, this brings the moisture total for the year to .81 of an inch.

1964 license plates go on sale here

There is no real news value in who buys the first new auto license plate in Garza County each year. "I always take the first," T. H. Tipton, county tax assessor-collector, explains. He sells them out of his office.

The new 1964 auto plates went on sale here Monday and up to late Wednesday 113 had been sold.

The new tags are black with white lettering this year.

Note for the economy minded: There's no increase in price of tags this year.

The Old Time

"Man has always had a fall out problem—baldness."

Fred Leiby's medium weight barrow placed second and was reserve champion of its breed in the open division.

Other places won by Post exhibitors were as follows, according to Ike Trimble, FFA chapter advisor: Gene Nowell: 4th, lightweight Berkshires.

Fred Leiby: 6th, lightweight Berkshires; 6th, medium weight Berkshires; 4th, medium weight Chester Whites; 4th and 11th, medium weight other breeds; 5th, medium weight Chester Whites; 7th, medium weight other breeds.

Dick Kennedy: 14th, heavyweight Durocs.

Charlie Brown: 13th, lightweight other breeds.

Charles Wallace: 15th, medium weight other breeds.

David Heath: 3rd and 7th, heavyweight other breeds.

from which the plate was also stolen, was erected to Garza County by the Texas Historical Foundation during the Texas Centennial in 1938.

Mr. Smith, the resident highway engineer, said that the State Highway Department has prepared a bronze plate to install on the C. W. Post marker at the roadside park.

Another member of the county committee, Walter Duckworth, reported that his subcommittee is still searching for unmarked graves of Confederate veterans in Garza County. He said they had recently found one and will make application to the state committee for a stone marker, which is made available by the federal government for Civil War veterans.

Chief Runkles brought the committee up to date on work being done at C. W. Post Memorial Scout Camp to preserve the sites of the old Llano Ranch house, the grave of the first child born in the county, and the old hand-dug, rock-walled well, all located near where the Llano Ranch marker will be erected.

George (Scotty) Samson reported on the progress his committee is making working with residents of the Graham community in recording that community's history on tape and collecting materials for the archives of Garza County.

Judge Parker informed the group that progress is under way to prepare a place at the county courthouse for files and archives of the county historical survey committee. He expressed his appreciation to members of the committee for "extremely fine work you are doing to help preserve our historical heritage."

Mayor Harold Lucas presented a report concerning the City of Post's interest in the committee's effort to find a suitable display place for historical items.

School Supt. Thompson was installed as the newest member of the local historical committee. He represents the Post-Chamber of Commerce.

The committee agreed to sponsor some sort of observance during Civil War Centennial Appreciation Week, which is next April 20-26.

Lee Ward—

Other board members attending were Giles McCrary, Jim Cornish and Blanton. Also present was Luther Harper, the administrator for the local authority.

Harper reported as soon as the regional office of the Public Housing Authority in Fort Worth approves architectural plans for the 28 local public housing units, advertising for construction bids will be placed. This is expected in the very near future.

$20,000 damage suit filed here

Bud Odom has filed a $20,000 damage suit in Garza County District Court against the Western Oil Transportation Co., Inc., and Roy Gilmore as a result of a truck collision Aug. 23, 1963, on a caliche road, four miles southwest of Post.

Odom asks $17,500 for loss of earning capacity as a result of injuries and for mental and physical pain, $1,500 for medical and hospital expenses to date, and $1,000 for such future expenses.

In his suit, it is alleged that Odom was a passenger in a pickup truck driven by John Putman, who "seemed to faint or pass out" causing the slowly moving pickup to go out of control and slowly angle across the road toward the approaching truck, driven by Gilmore.

Odom charges negligence on the part of Gilmore in not taking evasive action to avoid the collision.

City council—

(Continued from Page 1) ever amount is necessary to finance the extension of the sewer system in the east and northeast parts of town. A federal grant has been approved for one-third the total cost of the project, which it is estimated will run a little more than $62,000.

City Supt. Eddie Warren said the contract for the sewer project has been mailed to the successful bidder, Clyde Construction Co., of Odessa, whose bid was accepted by the city and the acceptance approved by the state health department.

The necessary sewer lateral surveys will be made in the city offices. The city superintendent explained that the survey is necessary so it can be determined how many residents of the areas to be served by the extended sewer system will want tie-ins. This needs to be done so cost estimates for the lateral lines can be made, he explained.

The council voted to renew the contract with Prichard & Abbott, tax engineers, for 1964 city tax valuations, providing the new contract to be submitted by the firm is satisfactory to the city.

The appointment of a citizens' advisory committee was discussed by the council, but no action was taken on it. Twenty-four names have been submitted by a council committee for appointment to the citizens' group. The council said it would take a little more time to decide what size committee to appoint, and that those appointed would need to be contacted to see if they would serve.

The council accepted the resignation of Irbj G. Metcalf Jr., as a member of the Post Housing Authority and appointed Frank Blanton to replace him. The appointment of Blanton was recommended to the council in a letter from the housing authority.

Water problems facing the city at this time, mainly those arising from uncertainty as to when White River water would be available, were discussed. It was pointed out that steps need to be taken between now and summer to assure the city of an ample water supply if water from the new lake is not available by then.

Representatives of the city will meet with the White River board of directors at the board's regular meeting on Feb. 20 to discuss White River contract clauses that have a bearing on the city's potential water problems.

Polic Chief Elton Corley asked the council to consider the need for installation of a radio receiver at the police dispatcher's office here that will receive on the Department of Public Safety frequency, which is needed for severe weather reports and for other purposes.

The council voted to increase the salary of street department employee Wendell Landroop to $350 a month from the $135 a hour he is now receiving. The pay increase was recommended by City Water Supt. Jimmy Holleman. In addition to his regular work as a street de-

The educational wing includes 4,200 square feet of classroom area, kitchen, pastor's study, and the Hazel Stallings Memorial Library.

The exterior of the church structure features a 48-foot high free-standing cross, which is lighted at night.

The church building committee, which was in charge of the entire project, is composed of Bryan J. Williams, S. E. Camp, and Julian F. Smith.

The Rev. Edgar H. Graham is the church's pastor.

Holy Cross—

(Continued from Page 1) the present schedule of Mass at 10 a. m. at Holy Cross Church will continue until it is determined by attendance if a second Mass is necessary. He will conduct services at Blessed Sacrament Mission in Wilson at 5 p. m. each Sunday.

The Rev. James Erickson of Slaton had been pastor of Holy Cross since its establishment in 1955. He is also pastor of Our Lady of Guadalupe Church in Slaton and had been in charge of the mission at Wilson.

Perez rites are conducted here

Funeral services for Mrs. Blanch (Coot) Franklin Perez, 66, who died Thursday, were held here Saturday at the Spanish Church, of which she was an active member.

She was born Nov. 16, 1897, in Milan County, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Franklin.

Burial was held in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Mrs. Perez is survived by three daughters; six sons; three sisters, Kattie Lee, Ruby and Carrie Strings, all of Thorndale, Tex., and two brothers, Adolph of Thorndale and Willie of Slaton.

Mr. Wood went to work for the gas company as local manager on Jan. 25, 1945, and was manager until his recent retirement.

He helped organize the Post Volunteer Fire Department and was a member for 37 years until his retirement in 1956. He has been active in civic affairs, having been a member of both the Lions and Rotary clubs.

"I don't dread retirement as some men might, because I plan to keep busy and active," said Mr. Wood, whose hobbies include gardening, playing "88" and woodwork.

Rotary talk—

(Continued from Page 1) and not static. The superintendent said the tools for this "edge of greatness" is research, experimentation and the constant search for those things which will work well.

Among the changes Thompson listed already as "under way" here are:

Improvement in materials for teaching, some $7,000 worth already in purchases this year, which was paid for in part through a state grant.

Development of curriculum guides to provide constant instructional direction for all teachers and aid new teachers.

Complete reevaluation of "our testing program".

A math appreciation program for grades one to five, before students erect mental blocks against math and "learn to dislike it."

Experimental classes in both the first and third grades in plain geometry, begun only two weeks ago.

Reading motivation through first grade "opportunity groups."

A reading skills library for grades two through five.

A specially designed reading program as a sixth grade "opportunity project."

Remedial math projects at the seventh grade level.

An English appreciation project at the high school level.

In closing, he announced that Post schools are one of the five in the state which have been approved, effective last Friday, for a mathematics experimental project which involves use of transparencies in plane geometry and algebra.

This will provide us with an additional $1,400 worth of teaching materials, Thompson said, and will "give our math program a shot in the arm."

Maintenance talk to Young Farmers

Tractor maintenance was the subject of this month's meeting of the Garza County Young Farmers, held Tuesday night in the 4-H barn.

Donald Siler from the John Deere Co. district office gave the program and showed a very informative film, Siler in a talk following the film pointed out the things most farmers neglect in their regular tractor maintenance. He also gave some solutions to "cold weather starting problems."

The Shyles Implement Co., local John Deere dealer, furnished refreshments for the meeting.

Next month's meeting subject will be on farm storage buildings. All farmers, both young and old, are invited to attend the meetings if interested.

January 'light' month in fines

January was one of the "lightest" months in arrests and fines since the city police court was set up here over two years ago, according to Police Chief Elton Corley's report at Monday night's city council meeting.

Total fines collected during January were $344.

Of the total, $170 was paid as fines on drunk charges. Traffic violations accounted for $40 in fines.

Two fines totaling $40 were paid for discharging firearms inside the city limits.

Six persons arrested during the month served time in jail instead of paying fines, the police chief's report showed.

Florida was purchased from Spain in 1819 for $15,000,000.

Post artists' work exhibited at Lubbock

Mrs. Johnny Rogers and Juanice Robinson were among area artists who entered paintings in the Texas Fine Arts exhibit at the Memorial Garden Arts in Lubbock.

Mrs. Rogers entered an oil painting of an oil rig and Mrs. Robinson entered an oil painting of a summer vacation scene at Tres Ritos, N. M.

The 150 entries were judged by Oris Palmer of Dallas and hung in the art center through the month of February.

Club holds meeting for missionary work

Does and Antelopes defeat Spur cagers in loop tilts

High School's basketball team, the Antelopes, and the Does, defeated the Spur girls in District 13-2 conference games Tuesday night at Spur in District 13-2 conference games.

Does brought their conference mark to 4-0 with a 28 to 17 victory over the Spur girls in a hard-fought defensive battle. The Antelopes, who were 1-1, defeated the Spur girls 44 to 28.

Three field goals and one free throw by Nita Wilson and one from the Bulldogs.

In the girls' game, the teams were tied 3-5 at the end of the first period, but the Does had pulled into a 15-9 lead by halftime and were ahead 19-15 going into the fourth quarter.

The boys' game was close for two quarters, with the Antelopes leading 9 to 6 at the end of the first quarter, but having to settle for an 18-18 deadlock at the half. Post scored 20 points to Spur's 5 in the third period to take a commanding 38-23 lead going into the final period.

Freshmen are in McAdoo Tourney

Post's freshmen will play Matador at 8 o'clock tonight in a first round game of the McAdoo Junior High Basketball Tournament.

Post's 8th grade team were entered in the tournament, but withdrew because of a conflict with other games.

If the freshmen, who have won 11 and lost only one this season, defeat Matador tonight, they will play again at 4 p. m. Friday against the winner of the Spur-Lockney freshman game.

Other freshman teams in the tournament are Floydada, Crosbyton, Lorenzo and Slaton.

Freshman Coach Charles Black said Ronnie Pierce, who was recently promoted to the varsity

Freshmen rally in second half to beat Tigers

Behind 13-6 at the end of the first quarter and 21-20 at the half, Coach Charles Black's freshman basketball team came back in the second half last Thursday night to defeat Freshship's freshmen, 58 to 38.

The Post cagers found the range in the third period to score 20 points to Freshship's 8, and kept up the pace in the final period by outscoring their opponents, 18 to 9.

Three Post cagers hit in double figures, with Filemon Vargas getting 17, Donnie Windham, 13, and Jimmy Bartlett, 10.

Freshman star makes big leap to varsity

One might have known that if anyone here ever made an overnight jump from the freshman to the varsity basketball squad, the name would be Pierce.

Pierce has been the "magic" name in high school basketball here ever since the 1957-58 season when Scottie Pierce, now of the West Texas State Buffaloes, started setting new basketball records as a sophomore for the Post Antelopes.

The latest Pierce to leap into prominence in the roundball sport here is a 6-foot, 3-inch red-haired freshman, whose first name is Ronnie. He is not related to Scottie Pierce, but when Ronnie was promoted from the freshman to the varsity squad late in January, he joined Scottie's brother, Danny, as a member of the Antelope squad. Danny, who stands just a fraction under 6 feet, 5 inches, is the Antelopes' leading scorer.

The two Pierces in the line-up have given the Antelope offense a much-needed boost and brought a broader smile to the face of Coach Wilbert (Will) Bigott.

Ronnie's first varsity experience after coming up to the varsity from the freshman team was a minute and a half against Slaton, in which he scored one field goal. A few nights later, he scored 20 points against Denver City, topping the scorers on both teams, as well as being the only Antelope to hit in double figures. Still later, he took scoring honors against Freshship with 25 points.

Ronnie's success with Coach Charles Black's freshman team in compiling an 11-1 mark won him the promotion to the varsity squad.

In a recent junior high tournament at Snyder, Ronnie scored 48 points against Snyder's Travis Junior High in his team's 79-50 victory. Coach Black thinks the 48 points scored by Ronnie might be a record for a freshman cager.

In the 10 freshman games in which Ronnie played, the Post quintet averaged 62 points a game, which also might be a record.

Coach Black says Ronnie has the best "touch" at the basket he has ever seen. His favorite shot is a reverse lay-up, but he hits from most anywhere across the center stripe.

Ronnie is also outstanding on defense, and his freshman coach said having him out on the court is "like having a coach out there."

"He immediately looks for the type of zone the other team is using, and briefs his teammates," Coach Black said. "He has more potential than any boy I've ever coached; he thinks basketball."

Ronnie is a straight-A student and also excels in sports other than basketball. He was quarterback on the freshman football team until he broke his right leg in a practice

4 Tech teams will see action Saturday

LUBBOCK — Four Texas Tech athletic teams will be in action Saturday, two of them on the campus.

Swimmers engage Denver University at 3 p. m. Saturday, and the freshman tankmen hold an exhibition with Midland High School the same afternoon.

In Dallas cagers play Southern Methodist in a regionally-televized contest Saturday afternoon, and 30 miles away, in Fort Worth, track men run in the Will Rogers Indoor Games.

Raiders and Mustangs to play Saturday in TV basketball game

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's basketballers meet Southern Methodist University in a regionally-televized game in Dallas at 2 p. m. Saturday.

It will be the first telecast of the current season for the Red Raiders but by no means will be history making for Texas Tech. The 1958-59 Red Raiders became the only Southwest Conference basketball team ever to appear on national television when they whipped University of Missouri 80-70. They've been on regional TV several times, the last occasion being the decision over SMU in a playoff to determine the Southwest Conference playoff representative for 1962.

Last year the Mustangs won a pair from Tech although the two teams finished in a fifth place tie.

MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

The Post Ministerial Alliance will hold its February meeting at the First Methodist Church, Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 2 p. m. "This will be a very important meeting and all ministers are urged to be present," stated Bernard S. Ramsey, president of the Alliance, in announcing this meeting.

LIBRARY ADDITIONS — Texas State Library last week obtained an historic treaty and an historic suit of clothes. Both are certain to be viewed by thousands in years ahead.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough presented the Library a certified State Department copy of the El Caminito treaty signed by President Johnson along the Texas-Chihuahua and El Paso — Juarez borders. The treaty, placed on display in a glass case, ended a century-old boundary dispute.

Governor Connally, at the Library's request, turned over to the State archives the black, light-weight suit he was wearing when he was seriously wounded in Dallas. He was the first Texas governor to be the victim of an assassination attempt. The suit bears bullet holes in the back, front and right sleeve. Also placed in the archives is the blood-stained shirt Connally wore on the tragic November day, and his black and gold silk tie.

DIVERSION PAYMENTS—Agri. Comm. John C. White says Texas farmers should not count on a cotton land diversion payment plan, as has been rumored.

White says Texas farmers should go ahead and release their unwanted cotton allotments back to their local ASC committees so the permits can be reassigned to other parts of the state. He urged cotton growers to protect their future allotments by releasing unused permits before the Feb. 4 deadline, as in years past.

BRACERO PROGRAM — The U. S. Congress has extended the bracero program for another year — through 1964 — as a compromise between the close-out or phase-out argument by states where the contract laborers from Mexico are unemployed. However, figures from the Texas Employment Commission indicate that a phase-out has been in effect in Texas for the past two years.

Henry LeBlanc of the commission's farm labor division reports that 38,000 braceros worked on Texas crops in August, 1961; 12,917 in August, 1962; and 12,008 in August, 1963.

Senior play is Friday night

By Linda McMahon
This is the week of the long-awaited Senior class play. "Drums of Death", a three-act mystery by Howard Reed, will be presented at 8 p. m. Friday, Feb. 7, in the primary school auditorium.

The play is being produced by special arrangement with The Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago.

Howard Carlyle is director of the play and is being assisted by Senior class sponsors Glenn Gregg, Mrs. N. R. King and Charles Hopkins.

Senior Gossip

If anyone is wondering how long it is to graduation, you can find out from almost any Senior, the day, hours and minutes. Would you call that anxious?

What's this new fad of wearing western hats, Mary Beth? It seems as if it caused a little excitement, maybe all Seniors should get one!

Be sure to buy play tickets from the Seniors to the play tomorrow night.

Diane Kiker and Mary Beth Ford don't seem to like "Tiger Town" as well as everyone else. It seems that they went back for more and didn't find anything.

It seems the "cute little phone calls" have started again. Really, enough's enough!

It seems as Shirley Sappington, Diane Maxey and Betty Hill are going back to their second childhood. Sunday they were swinging in the park. You'd better wait a while and get out of the first one first.

FARM REAL ESTATE UP
The value of farmland increased a third after 1953 while the net income of farmers changed very little. Thus farm real estate prices increased to about 10 times net income per acre by 1959, as compared to six times the net income per acre in 1930-54.

DAIRY PRODUCTS
Americans consumed an average of 33 quarts of milk in ice cream and other frozen dairy products in 1963, U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Reading program tests are given

By Argan Robinson
Monday morning the preliminary examinations for a new reading program in Post High School were given. The reading and vocabulary program is offered to only the top 20 students, preferably Seniors, and lasts from 9 to 12 weeks.

The first test was one that would decide upon which level the program would be given. The second test determined which students would be qualified to take it.

The course will include a vocabulary booklet, a reader regulator, which is a special type of projector, and lessons with instructions given through the aid of a tape recorder.

Everyone feels this program will be very beneficial to those planning to go to college. It should increase the ability of the participants in reading and comprehension to a great degree.

Daddy Date Night is held by FHA

By Carol Camp
Monday night, Jan. 27, the Future Homemaker's of America had a "Daddy-Date Night". The girls "asked" their daddys out to a banquet.

The homemaking classes prepared the dinner. They had fried chicken, baked beans, potato salad, tossed green salad, cookies and iced tea.

After eating, several games were played for the entertainment. I know all the girls enjoyed their fathers taking them out. I bet the fathers enjoyed taking their daughters out! "How about it, Dads?"

Rites for sister of Post woman

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McAlister and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lee attended funeral services in Slaton Jan. 29 for Mrs. Livingston's sister, Mrs. Clara Lynch.

Mrs. Lynch, 68, was a longtime resident of Slaton.

The funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Bryan Ross of San Angelo officiated, assisted by the Rev. C. L. Eastman, pastor of the West View Baptist Church.

Besides the sister of Post, Mrs. Lynch is survived by three children, Charis Wild of Jayton, Homer Wild of Lubbock and Mrs. Robert Hall of Jayton; five other sisters, Mrs. Roy Holt, Mrs. Eunice Hazelwood, Mrs. Bill Mosley, Mrs. Jimmie Wright and Mrs. W. K. Fry, all of Slaton; four brothers, Tom Harlan of Goree, Jay Harlan of Littlefield, Felix Harlan of Cooper and George Harlan of Slaton, and eight grandchildren.

DRIVE IN DAIRIES

Drive in dairies have tripled their sales since 1957 in California. The drive ins accounted for almost 6 per cent of all milk sales in that state during the past four years. The drive-in milk markets are located on heavy traffic routes that commuters take on their way home from work or next to large shopping centers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

News from your County H. D. Agent

With this issue of The Dispatch, I am beginning a weekly column, I plan to include information related to homemaking that I hope will help you as you plan and provide for the needs of your family.

Such areas as foods and nutrition, clothing, laundering, household furnishings, management, etc., will be discussed from time to time, as well as stories of interest about people of Garza County.

If you have a special interest or problem you would like discussed in this column, feel free to suggest subjects. Call or write the home demonstration office, 495-2050, courthouse.

HOME DEMONSTRATION MEMBERSHIP

Home demonstration club membership in Texas is composed of urban homemakers, rural non-farm women, and homemakers living on farms and ranches, Juanette Williams, home demonstration agent, emphasizes.

Many home demonstration clubs are made up exclusively of urban and rural non-farm women. The program is open to all women, and clubs may be organized wherever there is sufficient interest among the women to request clubs.

Home demonstration clubs are just one of many groups or audiences with whom home demonstration agents work, however, Miss Williams explains. Home demonstration agents work with all groups of interested persons—urban as well as rural. Any group desiring a program related to home economics, or any individual can request assistance from the home demonstration agent.

A statewide survey of the home demonstration club program—which was made in 1957 and 1958—showed that 25 per cent of the Texas Home Demonstration Club members were rural non-farm women, 22 per cent were urban women, and the remaining 53 per cent actually lived on farms or ranches. The study was made to obtain information as an aid in program planning and development

FORMER ADMINISTRATOR WRITES ON HOSPITAL

Dear Editor:
I am a subscriber to what I call my home town paper because it is a communication system between my past and the present. In my past there are about 40 years of memories, some good and some not so good.

I remember another time when your hospital, your board of trustees and the medical staff were meeting too often and staying too long. Why? I think it was some grievance against Dr. Tubbs. The employees were shook up and the commissioners court was undecided who was right and who was wrong. After several months of and numerous bottles of tranquilizers for the administrator someone came up with the idea that a member of the commissioners court should resign and take the administrator's position and try to straighten things out. Well this native son took the job and being a country lad took the horse by the tail and looked the situation square in the face.

After several months of 1000 hours trying to pronounce and spell some of the longest names and words he had ever encountered he began to wonder why they did not just call it an aspirin. There was always one thing after another he needed help with, and being honest, when he did not know the answer asked the people who did know, such as the medical staff, the commissioners court, George (Scotty) Samson, numerous others and always the county judge. Of course the county judge at that time was just an ex-cowpuncher and did not have a lot of book learning, but as the saying goes he was a man you could ride the river with. Without all their help I would never have mastered being a hospital administrator.

Then one day I noticed no one asked about the previous turmoil and I learned another great fact of life, if you don't feed fuel to the fire it goes out. There was never a problem that could not be solved if the parties involved will honestly try. However, this will not work if all of their so-called friends are telling them what their enemies are saying about them.

I had my differences with Dr. Tubbs in the beginning as administrator, but by trying and being honest with each other a very close trust developed. I never asked for his advice that I did not receive it, not with malice but with understanding. I would be proud to recommend him to any board of directors here in Chowchilla for membership on my medical staff.

If for some reason or other his conduct, professional or otherwise, was such that other members of the medical staff or the board of trustees was complaining, it was the administrators' responsibility to work something out. If he could not handle the situation, then go to the board. Before a board of trustees or commissioners court suspend a doctor from the medical staff they should put aside all personalities and ask if it is in the best interest of hospital and community, and be very sure it is not a little exercise of the power they have as such. A decision suspend a doctor from the staff should be given a lot, and let me repeat a lot, of serious thought. Was it lack of capability, lack of cooperation or conflicting personalities? Capability with experience improves, perhaps lack of trust prevents cooperation. In a position of this kind we must tolerate all types of personalities.

The question I asked when I saw the article in your paper of the hospital not having a local doctor on the staff was "where was everyone?" Someone should have been there to throw some water on the fire before it got out of control. I hope they don't burn the place down, because people might not remember that I was representing part of them from the time the bonds were voted until the hospital was built, the first three years of operation and three years of administration. When I left Post I left a little part of me there other than the name on the cornerstone.

I never was one to air my dirty linen that some of the people had read that some of the people had hung Garza Memorial Hospital out on the line for everyone to see.

Very truly yours,
L. E. (Buck) Gossett
Administrator Chowchilla District Memorial Hospital, Chowchilla, Calif.

EXPRESSES HER OPINION

Dear Editor:
I would like to express my opinion on the hospital situation and Dr. Tubbs.

Dr. Tubbs is the finest doctor I have ever met. (I have lived and been in 22 countries during my life). He is well-informed in medicine and takes an active interest in the community.

Dr. Tubbs is a perfectionist as stated in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal on Jan. 26, 1964. This should be our standard in Post or any other place. We want the best and you cannot beat Dr. Tubbs for giving his very best.

I beg the hospital board to reconsider their decision or call in a committee from the Lubbock-Crosby-Garza Medical Society to help the hospital board with their differences.

If the Post hospital refuses Dr. Tubbs, I feel, and my family and friends feel, a real doctor who is dedicated to the practice of medicine is being denied a privilege he should have, if anyone.

Just take a look at Dr. Tubbs' waiting rooms of a week and see how many people in Post rely on him. Compare the number of other waiting rooms and see for yourself who the majority of people in Post visit when ill. This is important! You may never find another doctor of his caliber in a lifetime in Post. Keep him; he is valuable; you can't do any better!

I speak as a patient, as I do not know Dr. Tubbs otherwise besides seeing him in church, when he isn't tending a sick patient.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. G. M. Chaffin
Rt. 1, Post

LETTER OF PROTEST

Dear Editor:
This is a letter of protest against the hospital board and the commissioners court for the manner in which they have mishandled our hospital. The citizens of the county elected their commissioners to do their job for the benefit of all the people, and they should not show favoritism for any one person or group of persons.

Let us not sit calmly by while the hospital board and the commissioners court dictate to us about our hospital.

Let the tax payers' opinion be known by voice, in print and at the polls. We will not let a few dictate to us about our choice in doctors and hospitals.

It's the Law in TEXAS

AVOID LEGAL TROUBLES IN REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

Thinking of buying or building a new home this year? Whether you buy a completed house or simply a lot to build on, how will you know whether you are receiving a good title to the property you purchase? The safest method is to have a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A "warranty deed" from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available, a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership than possession of the title. Texas means that you own state.

Some purchasers of land safe because the title is examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the lenders, or because a "mortgage title insurance policy" is obtained. This seems logical but dangerous theory. The "mortgage policy" protects only the mortgage lender and not the times willing to accept less good reasons, the chances that the mortgage will be paid that no expense in perfect title would ever need be in. However, it is risky business you when you are putting your savings into the purchase, even an "owner's" title insurance policy may not cover every defect, or the value of improvements added after purchase.

These are a few of the why a title examination is a important safeguard to you. When is completed, the attorney you a written opinion stating conclusions as to who owns land, the defects in or against such ownership, requirements to be met, if make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of court decrees and other documents; the consideration of affecting the title occurs the application of statutes and decisions in the various states disclosed in the abstract.

The Iron Curtain isn't soundproof.

If you owned a radio set behind the Iron Curtain, what sort of programs would you hear?

From Communist sources, endless propaganda. Newscasts that twist—or suppress—the truth about home conditions and the world outside. Commentaries and criticism that are really just "commercials" for a single product—Communism.

Fortunately, however, the Iron Curtain isn't soundproof.

Try as they will, the Communists can't keep out the voice of Radio Free Europe. Nor can they prevent us hearing what they themselves tell—and don't tell—to their captive peoples.

Radio Free Europe speaks daily, in their own languages, to millions of listeners in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania. But—first—it monitors all the radio stations in these five satellite countries, and studies all their magazines and newspapers. It analyzes what they give out as news, and notes the lies, distortions and omissions.

These are then exposed—with tremendous impact—in RFE's own newscasts.

Radio Free Europe lets its audience know what is really happening in their enslaved countries—and right in their home towns. It answers Communist accusations. Spotlights rifts and failures. Reminds these 80 million captive people that they still have friends. And suggests some ways in which they themselves can help to regain their lost personal freedom.

In effect, RFE has become both their local newspaper and a national, opposition press that nobody can stop them reading—with their ears.

Radio Free Europe is a private American enterprise, supported by voluntary subscriptions. Help to get the truth through the Iron Curtain—by mailing your contribution to:

Public notice as old as human civilization

Time To Separate

EDITOR'S NOTE: Too many newspapers—and readers—take public notice for granted. They do not recognize it as one of the basic elements of our democratic system. In recognition of this fact, William M. Long, manager of the Colorado Press Association, asked Dr. Charles L. Allen, professor of Journalism, at the University of Colorado, to write a series of articles about public notice to educate publishers and readers alike. This and succeeding installments will be published by The Dispatch.

It came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed, every soul into his own city.

Joseph also went up from Nazareth, out of the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:)

to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

The Bible tells of many times when the people were notified to appear in some government department in which there was no appeal. But public notice was born before Joseph and Mary went to Bethlehem.

When did it begin? Its origins are shrouded in the mists of antiquity. So long as there has been a society of human beings with the need for systematic government, there has been public notice.

In the society of ancient Greece, the Agora, but they had no part in public affairs. Those who could be informed by the Agora discussions, therefore, were the relatively small number of men who had first-class citizenship.

The Roman Forum served the same purpose, and in that era, too, most of the people of the city were denied full citizenship. Posting of public notices was common in both the Greek and Roman eras, because there was no method of printing or otherwise disseminating copies of public notices.

At best, these public discussions, posted public notices, and the "town crier" type of vocal notice, were poor methods of keeping the people informed. In an age when the governing oligarchy cared little whether or not the people were informed, it made no difference how public notice was done.

When printing was invented, it was at first used only for church printing, Bibles, psalms and the like. Then it was used in trade in small printed pieces not unlike our modern handbills. But all of these miscellaneous pieces were without system, regularity or dependable distribution. We may assume, I believe, that boys distributing handbills in the late 15th, 16th and 17th centuries (and there were relatively few such printed pieces) quickly learned to throw some in the rubbish heaps, just like boys do today.

No one, given his preference, would trust any serious and important notice to a handbill.

Early in the 16th century and

Public Intelligencer and its sister publication were devoted primarily to official public notices.

Cromwell's decisions in all important matters were made the subject of official notices under the general head of "Advertisement" in these two official newsbooks. In 1655, after a petition from the leaders of a large group of Jewish immigrants for permission to live in England with protection, Cromwell published such an "Advertisement" of his decision. The official public notice was separated, as is done today, from the news announcement of the arrival of the Jews.

Entire publications were filled with official public notices, from 1665 on, whenever the King, or his ministers, or the officials of London, had important regulations to establish. On July 6, 1665, at the height of the black plague epidemic in London, a special publication (probably without regularity of frequency)—called "The Newses. Published for the Satisfaction and Information of the People. With Privilege."—was put out for the express purpose of establishing regulations governing the burning of infected clothes, furniture and even dwellings.

Only two publications were officially allowed during the period of England's history known as the Commonwealth. Mercurius Publicus was one of these, and the other, called The Publick Intelligencer, was started in 1655. Both of these were small format "newsbooks" with pages about 5 x 7 inches.

The public notice function of these official newsbooks was evident from the very beginning. In the first issue of The Publick Intelligencer, dated "from Monday, Oct. 1, to Monday, Oct. 8, 1655," the first article was headed: "A Declaration of his Highness Council in Scotland, for Election of Magistrates." It was an official announcement of elections which Oliver Cromwell, Lord Protector of England, had authorized.

This public notice began: "Whereas by an Ordinance of his Highness the Lord Protector of the Commonwealth of England, Scotland and Ireland, and the Dominions thereunto belonging, bearing date the twelfth of April, one thousand six hundred fifty-four, Scotland is United into one Commonwealth with England, and therein it appears, that the Shires and Burghs of Scotland, by their Deputies convened at Salketh, . . ."

The entire publication is given over to official notices to the public of England and Scotland. All other succeeding numbers of The Public Intelligencer and its sister publication were devoted primarily to official public notices.

The entire publication was devoted to these plague regulations and they were signed by the Lord Mayor and the Sheriffs of London. The publication's "advertisement" was separated from the official public notices by a rule and a special heading.

Here is an official public notice printed in a London newspaper of 1679, in paid space, following the usual advertisements:

"These are to give Notice, That the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, and the Commissioners of Surveyors for the City of London, and the Liberties thereof; have constituted and appointed Samuel Potts and Robert Davies, Citizens, to be the General Rakers of the said City and Liberties, and do keep their office in Red Lyon Court, in Watling street, where any person or Persons that are desirous to be Employed under them, and Carters and Sweepers of the Streets, may Repair from Eight a Clock in the morning, till twelve a Clock at noon, and from two till six at night, where they may be entertained accordingly: And if any Gardners, Farmers or others will be furnished with any Dung, Soyl or compost, may there agree for it at reasonable rates; and all Gentlemen having private Stables, and all Inholders and Masters of Livery Stables, and all others, are desired to repair thither, for the carrying away of their Dung and Soyl from their respective stables and other places, according to an Act of Common Council for that purpose."

Ads for such common chores as manure collection were not seen in English newspapers of this day. This was not an ad, but an official public notice commanded to be published by the Lord Mayor of London.

Ordinary advertisements became so numerous in English newspaper

Scouting Can Make The Difference

Scout Week

BOY SCOUTS FEB. 7-13 OF AMERICA

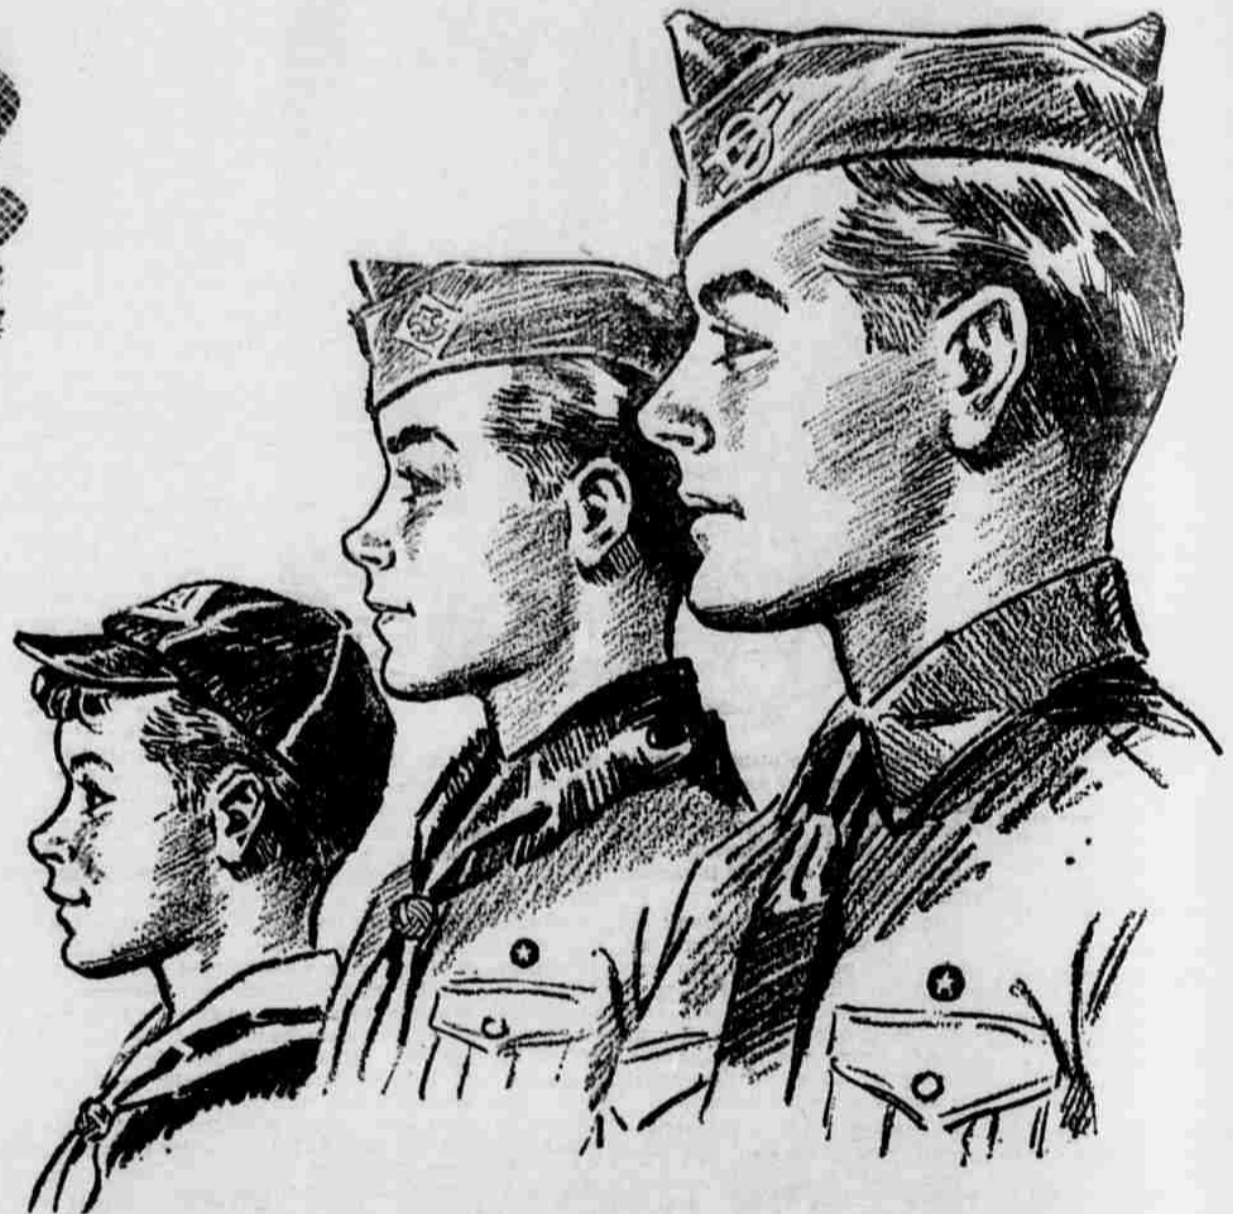

The 10,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, will observe the 54th anniversary of the Scouting movement during Scout Week, February 7 to 13, with the theme, "Strengthen America . . . Scouting can make the difference."

They will join nearly 5,400,000 other Scouts and leaders in every part of the nation in rededicating themselves to the Scout Oath on Saturday, February 8, the actual birthday of the movement in America.

Scout Week will be observed nationally by over 130,000 Scouting units in every city and town and in thousands of villages and hamlets as well as including 325 in the South Plains Council.

"This year the Scout Week observance will be conducted at the unit level," says Dr. J. Davis Armistead, Council Commissioner, of Lubbock. "In this way we believe a boy's membership in the movement is more meaningful and colorful to him. We also like to have every member invite another boy of his own age to attend the Scout Week meeting so that he may share the excitement of the program."

The Council's 325 units and 10,000 members will conduct various meetings in observance of Scout Week. Packs and members will conduct "Blue and Gold Open Houses", with prospective members and their parents as guests. Parents nights meetings will be held by nearly all of the Scout Troops. Displays of Scout hobbies will be shown and those who have progressed in rank will be honored at formal Courts of Honor. Emergency preparedness skills will be demonstrated and patrol stunts, songs, and games will precede a closing ceremony. Explorers will address boy and adult groups at high school assemblies, service clubs, church groups, P. T. A.'s and Scout Troops.

PREPARING THE BOYS OF AMERICA TO LIVE IN TODAY'S WORLD

It is far too easy in the small city with the rush of local events and activities to overlook emphasizing to the youth of our community the importance of the Boy Scouting movement. It is too easy for us too, as parents, to overlook the valuable training so afforded in Boy Scouting.

Let us participate as parents and encourage our boys to actively participate if they are not already enrolled in the program.
