

Six die as car plunges off US-84 down bluff, found by truck driver

A Latin-American family of six—all unidentified here at 8:45 a. m. today—were killed sometime last night when their car plunged off US-84 down a bluff approximately 20 miles southeast of Post.

It was the highest death toll for a single highway accident in the county in over a decade.

The wreck was discovered by a truck driver who was riding in a high cab truck.

He stopped at the wreck scene and found a small boy still breathing in the wreckage. The four other members of the family were dead. He placed the child in his truck and brought him to Garza Memorial Hospital. The boy was dead on arrival.

While the truck driver was stopped at the wreck scene, a Lubbock county sheriff's car sped back into Post and notified local authorities requesting ambulance, wrecker, and notification of the highway patrol.

Name of the truck driver was not immediately available. He returned to the wreck scene. He said other motorists passing the wreck scene could not see the death car at the bottom of the bluff or embankment, but he saw it because he was so high in the cab. Highway patrolman Max Knox and Henry Hardin drove to the wreck scene and radioed back for Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts to come to the wreck scene for an inquest.

BULLETIN
Driver of the car tentatively was identified by the Bell Funeral Home of Snyder as Gregario Rangel, 26, of Lubbock.

Five of the six bodies were taken to the Snyder Funeral Home. It is believed the others in the car were Rangel's wife and his four children.

It was first thought there were only five killed, but the sixth body of a baby was found under the body of the father after it was taken from the wreckage.

Roby resigns his duties here at Baptist Church

Lex Roby, minister of music and education at the First Baptist Church here for the last four years, has resigned, effective June 15.

Roby and his family will move to Odessa where he will be minister of music at the Crescent Park Baptist Church, of which the Rev. C. B. Hogue is pastor. Rev. Hogue is a former pastor of the Post First Baptist Church.

Roby resigned his position here last Sunday evening at the close of the worship service. He and his family will leave June 1 for a two-week vacation in California before moving to Odessa, where he will direct all music activities of the church there.

During the four years Roby has been at the First Baptist Church here, he has been very active in music activities of the community, having been called on to sing for many funerals and weddings and to sing and play the violin for special music programs in the high school. He has sung for two high school baccalaureate services here and will be singing again this year in the one Sunday evening.

Rev. Ed Herring dies at Phoenix

The Rev. Ed Herring, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, died of cancer early Wednesday in the Good Samaritan Hospital at Phoenix, Ariz. He was 30 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. Saturday in the University United Presbyterian Church at Tempe, Ariz.

Mr. Herring came to Post as pastor of the Presbyterian Church July 1, 1960, from Junction City, Kans. He left Post late in April of last year to become the university Presbyterian pastor for Arizona State University at Tempe.

He had been critically ill for many weeks.

Survivors include his wife, Leah, two small sons and one small daughter. He was a native of California.

Mrs. Herring has requested that no flowers be sent for the services. Those wishing to contribute to a memorial in his memory at the San Anselmo Seminary near San Francisco, where the Rev. Herring studied for the ministry are asked to leave their contributions with the Rev. Edgar Graham, Presbyterian pastor here.

Leon M. Jewel's funeral is held

Leon M. Jewel, 69, a resident of Garza County for about 40 years, who died Tuesday night, was buried in the Justiceburg Cemetery Wednesday following funeral services at 10 a. m. in the Hudman Funeral Home chapel.

Mr. Jewel, a native of Franklin, Pa., died about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night in Garza Memorial Hospital, where he had been since May 12. He became ill several weeks ago and was in the John Sealy Hospital at Galveston for about two weeks before being transferred to the hospital here.

He was a former oil field worker, having been employed in Garza County's discovery fields in the Justiceburg vicinity in the mid-1920's. In recent years, Mr. Jewel was engaged in plumbing work in Post.

There are no immediate survivors.

The Rev. L. R. Jones, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, officiated at the funeral services.

Interment was under direction of Hudman Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Mason Justice, Add Jones, Bandy Cash, Weldon Reed, Harry Wood and Jim Morgan.

Storm brings planting moisture

Pleasant Valley and Southland areas received the heaviest moisture. Up to three inches was measured there. Close City reported between 2.25 inches and 2.6 inches.

South and east of Graham community the rain measured up to one and one-quarter inches.

THE OFFICIAL gauge here on the courthouse lawn measured .81 inches, bringing Post's moisture total for 1964 to only 2.50 inches. In the northern part of town gauges measured over an inch however.

North of town most reports indicated .60 of an inch, but reports from Grassburg, Verbena and other sections in the eastern and northeastern portions of the county were "just a light shower." J. E. Bridwell reported a half-inch on his ranch east of Post.

The Post Dispatch

Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, May 21, 1964

This is the graduation edition of The Dispatch and it is just chucked full of dozens of congratulatory ads wishing Post High School's 57 graduating seniors the very best.

When we asked City Superintendent Eddie Warren yesterday if the new White River lake had caught any water from Friday night's storm, he said no. He reported the only thing the lake has caught recently is 100,000 baby bass which is received a week before.

Lay Advisory Committee

Stepped-up curriculum recommended by group

The second in a series of reports on the recommendations of the lay advisory committee, which appears in today's Dispatch, concerns the curriculum recommendations made by the citizens group. First and foremost among them is the proposal to initiate a distributive education program in Post. This program may sound unusual to some readers—students working downtown on the afternoons of school days—but it is a tried and tested state educational program which is working well today in dozens of Texas cities and towns. It helps keep youngsters in school and it prepares them for better job opportunities when they are graduated from high school in retail, wholesale, and service businesses. It deserves the lay advisory committee's estimation a chance to show what it can do here in Post. Not everybody who walks up on the platform each May at Antelope Stadium to receive his or her diploma is going to be a scientist, engineer, doctor or lawyer. Few of them are. The better prepared others are to earn a livelihood in adult life, the better. And this is one way of helping to keep Post-educated youngsters in Post.

Elmer Cass rites are held Sunday

Funeral services for Elmer Edmund Cass, 72, of 110 North Ave. Q, who died last Friday morning in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, were conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member.

Mr. Cass, who was born Aug. 8, 1891, in Cooke County, had been a resident of Post and vicinity for 45 years. He and Mrs. Cass were married in 1914 at Hollis, Okla., and moved here a few years later. Mr. Cass had been a Baptist for 50 years.

He was a retired farmer and lumber yard employee.

Besides his wife, Edna, Mr. Cass is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Erma Lee Harrison of Jayton; two sons, Harold of Post and D. L. Cass of Midland; one brother, Conrad Cass of El Cajon, Calif.; two step-sisters, Mrs. Alice Wright of Hollis and Mrs. Mildred Smith of Hobart, Okla.

Annual Memorial Day Rites Slated

The annual Memorial Day service of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday, May 30, at Terrace Cemetery.

Barry B. Thompson, superintendent of the Post schools, will be the speaker at the program, which will also include the roll call of Garza County war dead and decoration of war veterans' graves.

Max Chaffin, commander of the VFW post, said it is hoped that "as many business places as can be will close from 10 until 11 a. m. to honor our war dead."

He estimated wind strength at the core of the storm at between 80 and 100 miles an hour, but

57 seniors to receive diplomas

Graduation exercises to be Friday, May 29

Fifty-seven Post High School seniors are to graduate and 79 eighth grade students will be promoted into high school in exercises next week.

The graduation program for the seniors will begin with the baccalaureate program at 8 p. m. Sunday, May 24, in the elementary school auditorium. Commencement exercises will be at 8 p. m. Friday, May 29.

The baccalaureate address will be by Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church. The professional and recessional will be by the high school band under the direction of Bruce Evans.

The Rev. J. R. Brincefield, Assembly of God pastor, will give the invocation and Principal T. C. Clark the benediction.

Rev. Brincefield will also give the scripture reading, and Mrs. Rosa Gambelin of the Junior High faculty, the 23rd Psalm. Lex Roby, minister of education and music at the First Baptist Church, will sing "The Lord's Prayer." "How Great Thou Art" will be sung by the high school choir, directed by Georgio M. Willson.

The eighth grade promotion program will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday, May 28, in the Junior High assembly room.

Perfect attendance certificates and other awards will be presented prior to a short address by Rev. Ramsey.

Following is a list of the seniors scheduled to receive diplomas:

Annual club project

Lions will sell brooms Saturday

broom sale will be held Saturday, May 23, with a big portion of the proceeds remaining here for use in the organization's community-wide sight-welfare program.

Members of the Lions Club are taking orders now for delivery of brooms, mops and other household goods on Saturday when the merchandise arrives from the Texas Lighthouse for the Blind, where it is manufactured.

Anyone wishing to place an order for a broom or mop is asked to contact a member of the club, or they can buy one Saturday.

The Post Lions Club's annual one of the projects the money raised from the broom sale will help pay for is the $900 reading test equipment the Lions Club presented the Post schools a few weeks ago.

Final plans for Saturday's sale were made at Tuesday night's meeting of the club. The program also included a talk by George T. Cates, division manager for the National Federation of Independent Business, and songs by a Post High School girls' sextet.

Meeting of the club

A brief report was made on the District 2T-2 Lions convention held over the weekend at Snyder. The Post club received a third place plaque for its showing in a point-contest based on activities, attendance, etc. The club won a similar plaque at last year's convention.

Also presented the Post club at Snyder was a special certificate for 100 per cent member support of the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville.

Miss Carolyn Matsler was the Post club's candidate in the district Lions Queen contest. "Carolyn didn't win, but she did a fine job of representing us," one Lions Club member said.

Victim of mine mishap buried

Rites were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Monday in the Church of the Nazarene here for Charlie H. Brown, 57, of Carlsbad, N. M., who died Saturday following a mine accident.

Mr. Brown, who was 57, resided here prior to moving to Carlsbad, N. M., where he was a member of the Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife, Mrs. Susie Brown of Post; sons, Howard Brown of Dallas; a daughter, Roy Brown of Carlsbad; and two grandchildren, Donna Karol and Bobby Joe Brown, both of Post.

The Rev. Carroll Sandes of Arapahoe, N. M., officiated at the funeral services.

Interment was in Terrace Cemetery under direction of Mason Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Tom Millie, Lonnie Welborn, Woodrow Sanders, H. F. Sanders, Hubert Anderson and Dee Hodges.

Post girl injured riding mishap

Thirteen-year-old Bland, 14-year-old Junior High School student, were taken home Wednesday afternoon from Garza Memorial Hospital where she had been for eight days after a horse she was riding reared up and fell on her.

Bland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Bland, suffered a broken collarbone and a broken leg in two places and other injuries.

She had gone with her mother to pasture in a car to get the horse and was riding it back to the barnback. The horse shied.

County Agent Syd Conner said all the cropland on top of the mountain northwest, west, and south of Post received good moisture measurements.

Teacher incentive and the budget

School district trustees at their May meeting last week tentatively adopted the budget for the 1964-65 school year.

But they did not give it their final approval. That will come later after board of equalization meetings in June. Then property valuations of the newly consolidated district can be accurately determined and the tax rate set.

This means there still is time for change in next year's budget—still time to consider whether or not we wish to put proper teacher incentive into our newly-launched quality education program.

We think we should. In fact, The Dispatch has never been more sure of anything in its editorial life under its current management.

At the May board meeting, trustees removed from the budget "for further consideration" two salary incentives to teachers. One was the proposed to match the state increment of $225 a year for teachers holding master degrees. The other was a $100 incentive payment to each teacher who completes three hours of summer college work in an approved course of study.

Both would cost an estimated total of $5,750 a year. This is considerably less than one per cent of the total proposed budget. In fact, it is only 1.3 per cent of the proposed cost of teachers salaries for the year alone.

Imagine, buying some real teacher incentive for little more than a one per cent salary increase. Before considering this proposition further, let us consider another point.

Quality education which came to Post in 1964 cost school district taxpayers not a single penny more.

Not only is your new administration "quality education conscious," it is also the most "thrifty one" as well we have observed in a long number of years on the educational reportorial beat as a newsmen.

Consider for a moment this proposed 1964-65 budget. It was the most laboriously prepared one in the history of the local schools. Weeks and weeks of work—probably more of it after 5 p. m.

Every one is an honor student

The academic honor students have been named at Post High School and feverish preparations are under way for next Friday night's commencement exercises.

Every time we've seen the term "honor student" used here lately, we've stopped to think that every member of this year's graduating class and of every other high school graduating class in the land is an honor student.

Every student who walks up to receive his or her high school diploma in this year's exercises in an honor student because he has completed 12 years of public school education and is not included among the ever-increasing number of drop-outs that are causing this nation so much concern in its race to keep pace.

It is indeed an honor, boys and girls, to be a high school graduate and not a drop-out.

But, now that you have shown extremely good judgment in completing your high school education, you should show the same good judgment in selecting the road you will set out upon at this point. Many of you have already done that. Some of you will be going to college, while others will remain at home to take your place in the community. Either route is honorable, if you make it so. The ideal situation, of course, would be for every member of the graduating class to be able to go on to college.

But, whichever you do, go to college or stay at home to find employment, just remember that your place in society 10 or 20 years from now will be largely determined by the road you set out upon at this point.

Do-it-yourself census . . . maybe

Have you ever heard of a do-it-yourself census? If not, you're likely to if an experiment to be conducted this month in Louisville, Ky., by the Census Bureau works out satisfactorily.

The reasoning behind the experiment probably is that since the American people are adept at collecting taxes from themselves for the Internal Revenue Service, why not let them count themselves for the Census Bureau. Think of the manpower and money that could be saved.

In the Kentucky experiment, the Bureau wishes to find out whether a high percentage of citizens will fill out and return a sample census form sent through the mail. The plan, which combines do-it-yourself features with automation, could reduce materially the need for a nation-wide, door-to-door census in 1970.

What our contemporaries are saying

Many are looking forward to the pleasure of not reading the book Fidel Castro is reported to be writing.—Olin Miller in The Seguin Gazette.

We've lived in West Texas most our life and haven't gotten used to the sandstorms. But, it's still the greatest country anywhere. Fine people. Modern. Progressive. Sound financially. Every sandstorm, we think about how hot it gets in summer down around Dallas and Waco and Austin. We think about how tired one can get in rain down around Houston or over in East Texas. We think about the beds getting wet from perspiration at night. We think about the chiggers and mosquitoes. And, then, the sandstorms don't seem so bad. It's a privilege to live on the Plains.—Frank Hill in The Lynn County News.

Nobody gets into as much hot water as the fellow who insists on standing up for his rights.—The Olney Enterprise.

Good councilmen of Rails: Just a note to let you know that according to papers from over the than before 5 p. m.—went into it. Budget preparations involved not only the entire administration, but the entire faculty.

Why? Simply to get the most education possible out of every available dollar. There are more quality education improvements in that budget, plans for purchase of more badly needed classroom equipment and library books.

Any voiced opinion from anybody that there is any useless "fat" in this budget is pure hogwash.

When the reader stops to consider that there will be 127 more students in school district classrooms next year than there are today, it can be said that even with new built-in "quality education" benefits, the cost of education per child is going to drop next year.

Certainly the average cost per student must drop if the total budget increase is under $5,000 for 127 more youngsters in the classrooms. That is why The Dispatch wants to emphasize that NOW—not later, or not maybe—is the time to put a very small amount of our tax dollars into teacher incentive for quality education.

We can afford a 1.3 per cent salary increase. If the figures in the weeks ahead show we do not have that $5,750 to spend for teacher incentive above the tentatively approved budget, then we can make a choice of these two teacher incentives or something else.

Current financial estimates are that the $5,750 can be afforded at no increased tax rate or any increase in the present school district formula for percentage of tax valuation to true value.

But if it can't, this newspaper suggests—and asks your support as school patrons—putting back in the teacher incentive plans and taking out something else.

If you agree, speak to your school trustees about it. If you don't agree, we would urge you to tell them that.

We think our teachers this year have earned a straight answer to the questions—a yes or a no, but no maybes.—JC

The answer to the question each of you no doubt is asking, "What does the future hold for me?" will vary with individual talents, aptitudes and ambitions. But, for those of you who do not go on to college, this is true: Right here in your home county, you will find broad scope for growth, progress and outstanding achievements in the career of your choice. Whatever your aim may be . . . farming, business, selling, or just plain homemaking . . . you will find here a world of opportunities to build solidly for success.

Go to college if at all possible. If not, when you look to the future, look first at home among the people you know and in an environment in which you have been raised.

And, good luck, graduates—whatever you decide to do.

And now a word to members of this year's 8th grade graduating class. For the first time, there will not be a formal 8th grade graduating program this year. But that does not make your achievement in completing the first eight years of your education any the less noteworthy.

You, too, are honor students for staying in school, and that honor will grow and become brighter with each shining hour as you go on and complete your high school education. Just remember, 8th graders, even though there are millions of drop-outs in this nation of ours, there just isn't any place for the big majority of them.

So, congratulations to you, too, 8th grade graduates.—CD

The Census Bureau test will involve some 750,000 people. They will be sent the census forms by mail, and asked to fill them in and return them to the Census Bureau in two or three days. The forms will be of a type that can be fed directly into a computer. If a sufficiently large number of people do as asked, the Bureau may adopt the plan for the 1970 census.

A national census by mail would save the nation millions of dollars. It might even be welcomed by those who for one reason or another, including interruption of a favorite TV program, would not care to have a census taker barge in on them.—CD

United States you are not alone in your doggie problems! A few such notices come in from places like Wareham, Mass., where the dog ordinance was lifted because "no one wanted to obey it." From Globe, Ariz., an editor there declares the only reason a dog problem exists is because people are thoughtless and lazy. He continued by recommending 10 minutes each day for training (dogs) to be good citizens. Probably, he might have included a few of the masters and been done further ahead. So, we all have our headaches.—Marvin Tomme in The Rails Banner.

You can't keep a good man down, but enough beating over the head with adversity's tomahawk will leave him so addled that he may go in the wrong direction.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

Didja hear about the feller who walked into an office in Washington inquiring as to the whereabouts of the headquarters for I.B.I.'s "War on Poverty"? "I want to surrender!" he declared.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

HOW TIME FLIES! Thirty-seven years ago today (May 21, 1927), Charles A. Lindbergh landed in Paris as the first man to fly solo across the Atlantic. How many of our readers remember the occasion?

My wife says she remembers Lindbergh's arrival in Paris, mainly because it came on the same day as her birthday. She warned me not to say which birthday.

THE MAN UP the Street describes a genius as somebody shrewd enough and lazy enough to do things right the first time.

"Could you give me some pointers on how to run a newspaper?" the avid young journalism student asked the publisher.

"You came to the wrong person," the publisher said. "Ask one of my subscribers."

BEING TOLD HOW to run his newspaper isn't the only sore spot of the average weekly newspaper publisher. The story is told about the country editor - publisher who got tired of being told that he did not report the news without bias. Some of his disgruntled subscribers charged him with being a liar. In angry retort, he announced that in the issue of the following week he would tell the full truth about everybody and everything.

It need hardly be said that this edition of the paper was awaited with fearful anticipation and when it came off the press, here are a few of the items the townspeople found printed there:

"Dave Conkey died at his home last Friday evening, and there was a big funeral Sunday afternoon. The minister said it was a loss to the community, but I doubt it. The community is better off without him. The doctor said he died of a heart attack. Nonsense — whiskey killed him."

"The Wednesday Literary Club met at the home of Mrs. Gadabout. The program stated they were going to study Shakespeare's play, 'Much Ado About Nothing.' Well, they didn't. The lady who was assigned to present the paper had never read the play, and so they had no program. But they made up for it by gossiping about every member who wasn't there, and the whole afternoon was really like the play—much ado about nothing."

"Winifred Jones and Jim Smith married Saturday at the Methodist parsonage. The bride is a very ordinary girl who doesn't know any more about cooking than a jack-rabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date loafer. He spends most of his time hanging around the pool hall. He has been living off his old folks at home all his life and is not worth shucks. It will be a hard life for both of them."

I've sometimes thought of writing everything that goes in The Dispatch in the same plain, unvarnished style as the above—and then hopping a freight train for parts unknown the morning the paper comes out.

A MAN 102 years old boasts he's always been fond of whiskey to-hacc and women. Just wait. That fast living will get him yet.

One of our readers has discovered a standard business or committee form that fills the bill for most of us:

PROGRESS REPORT
For the Month of—

From: —
During the interim period considerable progress has been made in the preliminary work directed toward the establishment of initial activities. The background information has been surveyed and the functional structure of component parts of the component organization has been clarified.

Considerable difficulty has been encountered in the selection of optimum materials and experimental methods, but this problem is being attacked vigorously and we expect that the development phase will proceed at a satisfactory rate. In order to prevent unnecessary duplication of previous efforts in the same field, it was necessary to establish a survey team which has conducted an extensive tour through various facilities in the immediate vicinity.

The Committee held its regular meeting and considered important policy matters pertaining to the over-all organization levels and staff responsibilities that develop on the personnel associated with specific assignments resulting from the broad functional specifications. It is believed that the rate of progress will continue to accelerate.

COTTON IN NETHERLANDS
This month the U. S. cotton industry begins, in the Netherlands, the most concentrated market development program yet undertaken to promote overseas use of U. S. cotton. A number of promotional methods will be used in the three-year program and from it are expected to come guidelines for future cotton market development around the world. The Dutch cotton industry will help finance the program.

NEW PROCESSES BOOSTS COTTON USES
 — that flexible, versatile, washable product—can now be produced with a "locked-in" finish.

With competition growing each year from synthetics, any new development in cotton is good news to farmers. Two radically new developments in recent years promise of giving cotton production a much needed shot in the arm.

Stretch fabrics which hit the market with such success in the past few seasons contribute a great deal to the cotton market. Stretch pants and all kinds of sportswear made from fabric which snapped back into shape were immediate favorites with the consumers.

Q. When a veteran is to be admitted to a process which permits locks in a cotton shape to pants creases or hat corners, a multiple number of locks by using these moldable stretch fabrics, manufacturers are able to speed and cut down the producing cloth items.

ENOUGH TO DEVELOP stretch cotton contributed to the birth of the permanent stretch cotton product. During the research on stretch fabrics, chemists made cloth with more than 10 per cent stretch by a process called mercerization. These fabrics fitted contours of the body better than ordinary cotton. Chemists reasoned that if they stretched "around corners" and molded to a permanent shape, the process would be a permanent stretch fabric with a solution of sodium hydroxide, which stretches by making the fibers twist and shrink. The cloth is wet with chemicals of the type used to make washable cotton. Finally it is dried over a heated mold of a set shape. The heat of the steam the fabric and causes chemicals to "lock" it into shape.

Chemists see several advantages for moldable cotton and more are being discovered as the new material is used. For example, mold-

Q. Is it true that those servicemen who hold on to their GI insurance in-service premium waiver may be depriving their dependents of certain benefits?

A. In some cases, keeping the in-service premium waiver could be detrimental to the interests of dependents. They would be unable to receive Dependency and Indemnity Compensation under the law if the insured died with the waiver in effect. Since it differs for individual cases, each serviceman should check to see how his family will be affected.

Q. Has World War II entitlement expired for GI home loans?

A. Not for all World War II veterans. Entitlement may be used for ten years after discharge plus one additional year for each 90 days of active wartime duty. However, all World War II entitlement does expire on July 25, 1967.

County's traffic toll mounted by three in April

The Highway Patrol investigated three rural accidents in Garza County during April, according to Sgt. A. E. Roberts, patrol supervisor of this area.

These three wrecks accounted for one person injured and an estimated property damage of $2,215.

The rural accident summary for Garza County from January through April of 1964 shows a total of 18 wrecks resulting in three persons killed, 19 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $13,315.

School will soon be out and children will be popping out in all directions, Sgt. Roberts warned. They will be running from behind parked cars, trees or shrubs. Watch for children coasting down sloping driveways and streets.

This means that motorists must be constantly on the alert at all times during the summer months for children popping out from unexpected places.

"Remember, children are unpredictable," Sgt. Roberts said. "Let every child be a living warning sign."

LBJ will address University grads

AUSTIN — President Lyndon B. Johnson, who has often referred to himself as a "proud son-in-law of The University of Texas," will forge even closer bonds to the institution May 30 as he delivers the UT commencement address and receives an honorary doctorate.

The University will confer an honorary Doctor of Laws degree on President Johnson and an honorary Doctor of Letters degree on Mrs. Johnson.

President Johnson is a 1930 graduate of Southwest Texas State College. Mrs. Johnson holds two earned degrees from The University of Texas: Bachelor of Arts, 1933, and Bachelor of Journalism, 1934.

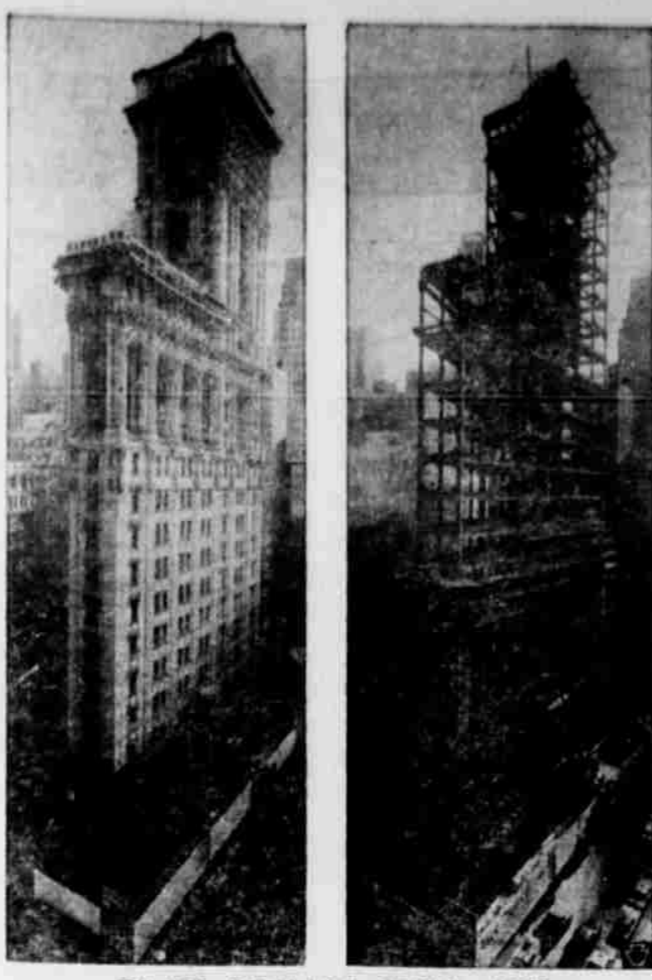

June draft quota in Texas is set at 234

TIMES SQUARE STRIP ACT
 The former New York Times building on Times Square is now completely stripped to start life anew as the Allied Chemical Tower. The demolition crews, working on what was the highest steel pipe scaffolding ever erected in New York (left above), are leaving only the 60-year-old building's bones in place.

THE DDT STORY

AUSTIN — Diseases transmitted by insects have been on the wane since 1939. That was the first year DDT (an abbreviation of the formula dichloro - diphenyl - trichloroethane) was first used.

The new insecticide was quick to make history. Its effect on lice was particularly striking. It deloused heads in a few hours and they stayed deloused for several weeks.

Dr. J. S. Wiseman, a State Health Department entomologist, tells this story to illustrate the point:

During World War II, an American service officer visited a North African jail to delouse prisoners. The men assembled and the officer used a small hand sprayer to puff a small amount of DDT powder between the prisoners' skin and clothing.

As expected, there was a great deal of chafing and hilarity in the face of what seemed to be such a childish procedure—compared with showers, shaving of heads, "stoving" of garments, and application of lotions.

WHEN HE HAD FINISHED, the American, who had carried on his task with great thoroughness, said to the men:

"Tomorrow morning I will come back to check on the action of the powder. If any of you can present me with a live louse I'll reward him with a pack of cigarettes."

Everyone was cheerful at the thought of the cigarettes and all were certain they could easily qualify for them. They spent the whole night eagerly hunting for lice.

Next morning, when the officer returned, the men assembled and brought out their catches. There were only 10 lice in all. Not a single man had been able to catch

It's My Turn
 — By MRS. C.

We all have days when we wished "we'd stood in bed" and Friday was that kind of day.

Occasionally we have to leave a bit of news out of the paper for lack of space and occasionally a line will get dropped out of a story and continue to make sense (the story, that is) so the error does not get caught on proof.

The phone rang merrily off and on with callers informing us that these occasional errors had occurred. So I spent most of the morning apologizing, which is fine—I don't mind telling people that we're sorry but I always have the feeling that they don't really understand. I also have the feeling that we've disappointed someone terribly and I hate that.

Take the case of the dropped line in a story. I'm sure three mothers had a heck of a time trying to explain to three children why their names were left out of a story when the three mothers didn't know either. So, if Sherry Compton, Mark Terry and Patricia Davis will forgive me, I'll explain to everyone that you three did exhibit drawings and paintings at the Mother's Day showing at Levi's Banquet Room along with the other students of Juanice Robinson. Have another exhibit sometime and I'll lead off the story with your names.

Even Ben Howell fussed at me for leaving out a personal about their daughters, Vonda and Frankie, and Frankie's husband and two sons being home for Mother's Day. He said he was really in the dog house with his wife because she suspected he never got to the office with the item. Because it was Ben I could say "get off my back", but I did offer to call and tell Mrs. Howell that Ben was on the ball.

Well, complaints (well-deserved) did slack off in the afternoon so I got a bit of work done and decided I'd fix the Cs a nice dinner. Baked potatoes and broiled steaks sounded good, so home we dashed and in went the potatoes. You all know what happened then. The electricity went off and that was the end of those fine plans. I didn't know whether to call Ted Hibbs and see if he wanted to take us out to dinner or drop in on our across-the-alley neighbors, the Ansil O'Neals, to share their dinner.

Mr. C made up my mind by taking me out for a hamburger. We left a patio door open while getting our food, so all the sand that blows before it can rain here, came into our family room.

By this time, our delight with the rain erased most of the bad happenings of the day and we were off to help chaperone a dance at Teen Town. That sounded rather pleasant until we arrived and found the ceiling dripping with water. The teen-agers had already

Importance of small business is stressed here

Of the 4,700,000 businesses in the United States, 4,500,000 are small businesses, says Cates, division manager in the National Federation of Independent Business, told Post Rotarians day noon in City Hall.

"They employ 30 million workers, over half of the nation's force," Cates declared in a speech about the problems of the business man with "big business," "big government" and "big unions."

"If each of our 4,500,000 business men could employ one more worker there would be enough for the nation's unemployed to fill the hole he declared. "It would wipe out unemployment."

Cates said the national movement today "is taking another look at small business" because of its importance.

He said there is a lack of understanding of the importance of the small business man in the American economy. Every American town or city is built by small business men, he said.

"They do the community work—in Chambers of Commerce, clubs, churches, and on public boards and committees," he added.

"Next week is Small Business Week," he said. "Do you think you will recognize them for their contributions?"

The federation, which Cates presents, determines the list of small business men on the list of federal and state legislation and forwards a summary that thinking to their respective national and state legislatures. The national level, they also before congressional committees in regard to legislation in the federation is interested.

"Only by banding together the small business man can his voice be heard in government," Cates said. He added that he had never seen a man who had not been in new polls among small business men on state problems. "I never asked for anything," he quoted the governor as saying.

Post tenor is presented in Tech recital

Bobby tenor, was presented in a senior recital at 4 p. m. Wednesday, May 11, by the Texas Technological College Department of Music in the Music Building on campus.

Bobby, who is minister of music and education at the First Baptist Church here, was accompanied by Ann Sides.

The recital was presented in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Bachelor of Music degree. Bobby is a student of Charles Post, who opened with "Sebben, crubben, 'Ta lo sai" (Torelli), "O del felice arbor" (Gluck), "Danza, danza, fanciulla" (Durante) as the first part of his recital.

He sang "And God Created Man" (Bach), "In Native Worth" (Schubert) as Part II. Part III "Serenade" (Mahler), "Liebst du um Schönheit" (Wolf) and "Fussreise" (Schubert).

Following intermission, the tenor presented "Hear My Cry" (Dawson) and "Psalm 23" (Trent).

The concluding Part V was "Si-Non" (Williams), "The Sky Above the Roof" (Williams), "There is a Love" (Bury) and "Eighteen" (Taylor).

Mrs. T. L. Jones, extreme left, presented awards the Woman's Culture Club had won at the state convention of TFWC, and officers were installed at the club's meeting Wednesday of last week. From left to right are Mrs. Jones and newly installed officers Mrs. Bryan E. Morgan, press representative; Mrs. A. Lee Ward, civic chairman; Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, presi-

VFW Auxiliary installs officers

Ann Chaffin was installed as the new president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a recent meeting at the VFW hall.

Agnes Welch was the installing officer. Others taking office were: Pearl Wallace, senior vice president; Sarah Sprayberry, junior vice president; Jessie Lofton, secretary-treasurer; Agnes Welch, chaplain; Johnny Rogers, conductor; Edith Childress, guard; Henrietta Warren, three-year trustee; Martha Compton, second-year trustee, and Maggie Jones, one-year trustee.

The club meets the second Tuesday of each month at the hall.

CHECKUP IN HOSPITAL
Mrs. Ollie Stevens, an employee of Post Pharmacy, entered Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Sunday afternoon for a checkup and was dismissed Tuesday. She returned to her position at the pharmacy Wednesday morning.

Officers installed May 13 at Woman's Culture Club meeting

The Woman's Culture Club climaxed a year's study on "American Literature" with a luncheon at Levi's Banquet Room, May 13.

Mrs. Joe Vernon and Mrs. A. C. Cooke were special guests. Installation of the 1964-65 officers was conducted by Mrs. R. L. Marks. She charged the officers to courage, purity and constancy in their duties of office and closed with a quotation from the writings of Paul: "Be kindly, affectionate, one with brotherly love, in honor preferring one another . . ."

Officers installed were: Mrs. C. R. Thaxton, president; Mrs. James Minor, first vice president; Mrs. Louie Burkes, second vice president; Mrs. J. F. Storie, recording secretary; Mrs. Ira Lee Duckworth, corresponding secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Bryan E. Morgan, press representative; Mrs. A. Lee Ward, civic chairman; Mrs. Bruce Evans, music chairman; Mrs. Homer J. Irons, literary chairman.

Mrs. Lee Davis Sr., gave a talk on "Texas and the Civil War" for the Garza County Historical Survey Committee as part of a statewide program in observance of Texas Civil War History Appreciation Week. Mrs. Davis said that Texas, a half-settled frontier at the start of the war, was the only state where secession was decided by the vote of the people. She pointed out that every Texan wanted to be in the calvary and teaching them to be foot soldiers was no easy task. Mrs. Davis told of the trade established with Mexico at this time and of the many small factories built to meet the needs of the people.

Mrs. Tillman Jones, a delegate to the state convention in Houston, presented two certificates awarded to the club on the state level. The certificates were for participation in the CARE program and a literary award.

The in-coming president, Mrs. Thaxton, spoke briefly on the course of study and special programs and projects for the new year. Departmental chairmen were recognized and commented on the proposed program. Chairmen are: Mrs. M. J. Malouf, Americanism; Mrs. E. A. Warren, fine arts; Mrs. Marks, education; Mrs. Mason Justice, special projects; Mrs. Jones, Texas Heritage; Mrs. Irons, friendship; Mrs. J. R. Rickels, public affairs; Mrs. Duckworth, international; Mrs. Minor, natural resources, and Mrs. Burkes, home life.

A gift of crystal was presented to the out-going president, Mrs. Duckworth.

Bouquets of roses and bells-of-Ireland, arranged by Mrs. C. I. Dickinson, adorned the luncheon table.

Sheep, wool industry subject of speaker at CWF meeting

To conclude the year's programs, the Christian Woman's Fellowship enjoyed an interesting program by Mrs. Bert Dennis of Gall, when it met Monday afternoon at the First Christian Church.

Invitations were extended to members of other churches to attend.

Mrs. Lee Davis, was in charge of the program and opened the meeting with a devotional, which was written by an invalid friend of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Luttrell, in California. Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick led in prayer.

Mrs. Davis introduced the speaker, Mrs. Dennis, who lives on a sheep ranch with her husband and is state president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Wool Growers Association.

Mrs. Dennis pointed out that San Angelo was known as the Sheep Capital and Wool Center of the world. There are 287,000 sheep ranchers in the United States including 12,000 in Texas, raising 30 million sheep. Mrs. Dennis described the types of sheep and grades of wool, showing samples of wool and mohair materials. She displayed pelts ranging in colors from dyed deep pink, green, yellow and snow white. The auxiliary takes orders for these pelts and delivers them.

The speaker said that sheep serve two main purposes—food and clothing. Lamb is easily digestible and high in protein. By-products include lanolin for cosmetics and pharmaceutical products and strings for musical instruments.

Mrs. Dennis said that George Washington and Abraham Lincoln wore suits made of wool at their inaugurations and that the flag made by Betsy Ross, which still exists, was made of 100 per cent wool.

The highlight of the lecture was a color film of the 1963 week-long pagantry including the Miss Wool Contest. One of the gowns modeled by Miss Wool in the film, a white evening dress, was designed by Mrs. Gordon Young of Del Rio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Kennedy Jr.

Tea was served to the following: Mmes. J. E. Parker, D. C. Williams, Ira Lee Duckworth, W. L.

SHARON JOBE

Sharon Jobe is to receive BA degree at SMU

Miss Sharon Jobe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards of 1005 West 10th St., will be awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree June 1 by Southern Methodist University, Dallas.

Miss Jobe will be one of nine graduates in the field of Speech and Hearing Therapy, and has met the standards for all-level teacher's certificate as well as for the American Speech and Hearing Association.

While a student at SMU, Miss Jobe has been a member of Floor Counsel, Forum Committee, nominee for Engineers Queen, and is on the Dean's Honor Roll. She is a member of Zeta Phi Eta, national honorary, and of Delta Gamma, national social sorority, having served the latter as assistant scholarship chairman and as recording secretary.

During Miss Jobe's senior year, Delta Gamma has been heaped with many honors: First place in scholarship on campus, winner of seven intramural awards and the sweepstakes trophy for the second year in a row, first place winner in sing-song campus-wide contest with 24 other vocal groups, and received two trophies in connection with Manada, the annual spring carnival.

Miss Jobe plans to work in Post this summer and is employed by the Lubbock school system beginning next fall.

Series of teas, other courtesies held for members Senior class

Many courtesies have been extended to individual members and to the 1964 graduating class of Post High School during the last 10 days. Included in the activities are the following:

Linda Pennell and Linda Rogers were named honored guests when Mrs. Lorene Scarbrough and Mrs. J. W. Rogers Jr., entertained the Senior girls with a Coke party, May 13 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards.

The table was decorated appropriately for the "almost graduates." Sandwiches in the shape of diplomas, potato chips, candy mints and Cokes were served.

Hostess gifts to the honorees were autograph puppies, which were signed by all the guests. Special guests were Mrs. Curtis

Williams and Mrs. O. F. Pennell. Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cross and Mrs. Pearl Nance were hosts to the Senior class when they entertained in the Cross home with a barbecue supper, May 12.

George McLaurin was the honored guest.

The group played games and went on a scavenger hunt. It was reported that one of the groups on the hunt almost brought back a rattlesnake, but decided not to, as it wasn't on the list. Being thrown in the horse trough proved to be one of the highlights of the evening.

George's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McLaurin of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crader of Edmondson were additional guests.

The Future Homemakers of America entertained with a tea last Friday for the Seniors. It was held after school in the Home Ec department. Punch and cookies were served.

The "wise old owl of wisdom" was the centerpiece on the serving table. Streamers, bearing the names of Diane Maxey, Margie Harrison, and Linda McMahon, extended from the centerpiece. These girls have been closely associated with FHA during their high school years.

The Community Room was the scene for a tea honoring Shirley Sappington, Dianna Barron and Shirley Bostick, and the other Senior girls Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Childs, Mrs. Douglas Tinton and Mrs. Thurman Maddox were hostesses for the affair. Mothers of the girls were also guests.

The graduation motif was carried out. The names of the honorees were placed at separate tables. Orange and white colors were used. Refreshments of punch, cake squares and nuts were served.

Miss Julia Childs, assisted by her mother, Mr. W. H. Childs, was hostess for a breakfast in honor of the Senior girls, Saturday morning at Levi's Banquet Room.

Yellow mums were featured in the decorations.

Church group attends missionary convention

Several members of the Church of God of Prophecy attended the State Missionary Convention in Lubbock, May 14-16.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Sylvia Harden of Cleveland, Tenn.

Attending from Post were the Rev. and Mrs. James Moore, Mr. and Mrs. James Nesmith, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Shedd and their families, and Mrs. Lawrence Hall and Mrs. Alice Byrd.

Amity Study Club members' picnic event of May 12

Members of the Amity Study Club were guests of Mrs. W. C. Bush at her ranch home east of town May 12 for their annual picnic.

Mrs. Ronald Babb and Mrs. Wayne Richardson were hostesses.

The picnic menu consisted of fried chicken, barbecued beans, potato salad, relishes and homemade ice cream.

For recreation, the members played volleyball.

During a short business meeting, Mrs. George Miller, in-coming president, named standing committees. The club voted to study "Cities of the World" for next year's course of study.

Those attending were: Mmes. Babb, Bill Carlisle, Bud Davis, Wayne Carpenter, Marion Duncan, Thurman Francis, C. H. Hartel, Miller, V. L. Peel, Lorene Scarbrough, Darrell Stone, Pat N. Walker, Preston Poole, Richardson, Noel Clemons, Douglas Cunningham, Don Tatum and Bush.

Officers will be installed at the final club meeting of the year, May 26. Mrs. Bob Collier and Mrs. Hartel will be hostesses.

Moreland home is scene of sewing club meeting

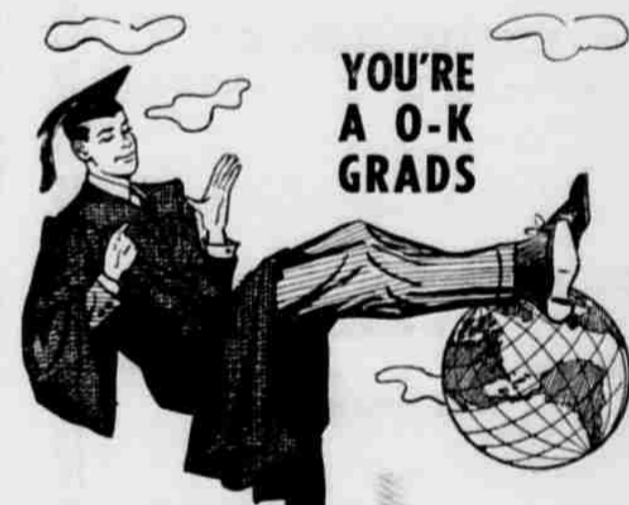

Mrs. Estella Moreland was hostess to the Mystic Sewing Club when it met in her home last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Moreland's mother, Mrs. Addie Henkhaus of Corpus Christi, was a special guest.

The hostess served ice cream sundaes to the following:

Mmes. Henkhaus, Nell Windham, Estlea Nichols, Winnie Henderson, Thelma Kuykendoll, Lucy King, Eva Bailey and Miss Henrietta Nichols.

Miss Nichols will be hostess for the May 29 meeting.

A MATTER OF DEGREE

Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant? Already Bobbie's parents are planning for his future. They're saving to give him the best education obtainable, because they want him to be happy and successful . . . a son to be proud of.

It would be splendid if a good education automatically led to happiness and success, but unfortunately it doesn't. Many well-educated men and women have failed utterly when it came to living a stable and worthwhile life, because they lacked the strength of character that would have sustained them.

There is no better training ground for the building of character than the Christian Church. There children are encouraged to follow a way of life that will not fail them, and to respect themselves and their fellows.

Give your child every chance to succeed. Make sure that his education includes a thorough knowledge of the time-tested Christian truths.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

84-year-old widow receives honors as Texas Baptist Mother of Year

HOUSTON — An 84-year-old widow from Houston who once helped support nine of her 13 children by taking in washing and ironing after her husband's death has been named 1964 Texas Baptist Mother of the Year.

She is Mrs. Annie Wood, a spry great-grandmother with 13 children, 43 grandchildren, and 54 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Wood was honored Sunday, May 10, during Mother's Day services at the First Baptist Church of Stafford, Tex., a Houston suburb. She was presented a portrait with an engraved plaque as winner of the state-wide award.

A special committee appointed by the Baptist Standard, Texas Baptist weekly newsmagazine, and the public relations office for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, selected the Houston woman to receive the award after going over nominations from Baptist churches throughout the state.

The committee cited Mrs. Wood for "outstanding contributions to Christianity through raising 13 children in a Christian home during the hardships caused by the death of her husband."

Said one of the honoree's daughters: "I don't know how she did it—bringing up 13 children in those days."

It was 1932 when Mrs. Wood's husband, J. C. Wood, died of a brain tumor caused by a blow on the head by a heavy board. Wood, a carpenter by trade, was working on the church building in Troy, Tex., just north of Temple, when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Wood, with nine children in support, then took in washing and ironing to supplement income from older sons who helped support the family.

The 84-year-old Baptist Mother of the Year admitted it was no easy work, especially with two daughters in college during the depression years. "The Lord just gave me the strength to carry on," she said.

Mrs. Woods today is so active and spry that one of her daughters said her doctors have to give her pills to slow her down. She lives in Houston with her youngest daughter, Mrs. William Fretwell, office secretary for district four of the state Baptist convention.

Other daughters of the Mother of the Year are: Mrs. Guy (Rose) Filippo, a school teacher in Temple; Mrs. Lorraine Fisch of Taylor, a teacher in the Manor Public Schools near Austin; and Mrs. Flay (Evelyn) Baugh of Temple, vice president of the Baugh Shoe Co.; and Mrs. W. H. (Edith) Wood, a beautician, of Houston.

Sons of the Baptist honoree are: Charles Wood, a plumber of Holland, Tex.; Olvin Wood, a service station owner in Refugio; Robert Lee Wood, an electrician in Farmington, N. M.; Maj. Barton Wood, stationed at Holloman AFB in New Mexico; and Claude Wood, a cattle buyer; Sam Wood and Tom Wood, both service station owners; Woodrow Wilson Wood, a welder, all four of Stafford, just south of Houston.

It's the Law in TEXAS

NEW PROVISIONS IN DRIVER SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW

To make the Texas Safety Responsibility Law as effective as possible, the 1963 Legislature enacted several amendments. The strengthened law became effective Jan. 1, 1964.

To protect your driver's license and motor vehicle registration, you should know the following facts about this new law:

In any accident in which a person is killed or injured or where there is damage to the property of any one person to an apparent extent of at least $25 or more, the operator of every motor vehicle involved is required within 10 days to report the accident in writing to the Texas Department of Public Safety. If the accident involved death, personal injury or damage to one person's property of at least $100, the accident then comes under the Safety Responsibility Act and its requirements must be met. Accident report forms can be obtained from any law enforcement officer.

The Department of Public Safety is required by the new law to suspend the drivers licenses and all motor vehicle registration plates of both the operator and owner of vehicles involved in an accident coming under the Safety Responsibility Law, unless:

Evidence of liability insurance coverage in the minimum amounts of $10,000 where one person was injured or killed, $20,000 where more than one, and $5,000 for property damage is reported to the Department of Public Safety, or a release signed by damaged or injured persons is filed with the Department of Public Safety. Other evidence of financial responsibility is covered by the new act. In addition, the operator and owner must file proof

We'll always remember the class of 1964 as Champions

Your performance speaks for itself.

Schools at Spur will integrate next term

SPUR — The Spur school board has voted unanimously to abolish the dual (integrated) school system beginning with the 1964-65 school year.

A recent opinion poll put before the people by the school board resulted in a vote of 78 for integration of the entire school system and 11 against. The alternate choice was partial integration—grade one and grades 9 through 12.

The gin was invented in 1793.

NOW... GREAT NEW ENCO EXTRA!

PUT A TIGER IN YOUR TANK!

New Power-formula Enco Extra gasoline boosts power three ways... preserves the power of new engines... restores lost power to many older engines:

- 1. Cleaning Power! Dirt can clog even a new carburetor in a few months of normal operation—causing hard starting and rough idling. Your very first tankful of New Enco Extra will start to clear away these deposits to improve power and mileage.
- 2. Firing Power! Spark plug and cylinder deposits can cause misfiring, pre-ignition and hot spots. New Enco Extra neutralizes these harmful deposits to help your engine fire smoothly and efficiently.
- 3. Octane Power! Octane requirements for new cars are up again this year. New Enco Extra has the high octane that most cars now need for full performance, smooth acceleration and passing power without knocking.

You'll get something extra for your money with New Power-formula Enco Extra—it's like putting a tiger in your tank! Happy Motoring!

Lay committee—

job training with the various local businesses participating in the program.

For each two units of credit, the student would receive 175 class periods of instruction plus 525 hours of supervised work experience each year. The student would receive nominal pay for the work experience.

Students would have to be 16 years of age to qualify for this new educational program.

Texas colleges and universities accept distributive education credits with the exception of several highly technical degree programs.

In other words, students taking the distributive educational course could go on to college if they so choose.

By receiving payment for the on-the-job training, some students who might not otherwise be able to afford to finish high school could do so.

Merchants having such student trainees working for them could employ them on Saturdays, if they so desired and it was acceptable to the students. But the required work would be done on Monday through Friday afternoons each week.

The lay advisory's sub-committee on curriculum visited the Levelland school system which has such a program in its high school and found the program working very satisfactorily.

Selection of students for various training positions in businesses here would be on the basis of vocational interest in and aptitude for various occupations and the business man would interview applicants interested in his particular business and make a selection.

Once a Post distributive education program is approved, the state would provide the salary payment for the teacher.

Principal cost of the program would be an initial expense of approximately $1,000 for basic instructional supplies for the classroom portion of the program.

The curriculum sub-committee found considerable interest among various business men here in such a course. On-the-job training programs would be set up by the class instructor with the business man taking a student into his business.

The lay advisory committee also recommended that school trustees investigate the state's industrial cooperative training program, which is similar to the distributive education program but would apply to other businesses, such as mill training, garages, printing and other types of industrial work, to determine its feasibility here.

Approximately 20 to 30 students would be the estimated maximum class for any distributive education class.

In recommending the establishment of a program for the accelerated or gifted students at the high school level, the lay advisory committee urged adoption of a program which would be conducted after school hours and in addition to regular school work.

This would be handled through the establishment of a faculty tutorial committee.

The lay advisory committee found that the local high school is not large enough to have a separate course of study. Such a program for gifted students would be made available to those exceptional students interested in taking part in the program. It would be done without any special recognition or extra credit and would be an effort to provide additional work on a well-rounded program for all fields to better prepare such students for superior college achievement.

Little, if any, additional cost would be involved in such a program, the committee found. The present school administration expressed its willingness to set up such a program, if desired by the community, and felt that teachers would volunteer their services for the tutorial committee.

Other curriculum recommendations of the lay advisory committee together with a brief explanation of each is as follows:

Recommended that a library program be instituted at the elementary school level here. This already was instituted the last semester of the current school year with the purchase of 500 books. The former junior high school building has a library room, but had no books. A qualified library is necessary at this level for southern association accreditation now being sought.

Recommended an organized physical education program to be administered at the elementary level. No cost here. It would be physical education and not just recreation. This also is needed for southern association accreditation.

Recommended that a Latin-American teacher be recruited to promote incentive and to teach at the pre-school and/or first grade level. The administration already has adopted this recommendation for the 1964-65 school year.

Recommended that driver education be continued in the summer only. The thought of the committee here was that the present program is sufficient for students and parents who want such a program and that badly needed educational funds could best be spent on "quality education" features.

Rains come—

said although both highway department and sheriff cars followed the storm no twister funnels were sighted.

The framework of the new community building at Graham was leveled by the high winds, but most of the lumber can be salvaged for a new start.

Winds blew down television antennae here and ripped off the locked screen door of the Dave Sanford home. It also blew down several sections of fence.

THE STORM knocked out phone service to an estimated 250 town and rural subscribers of General Telephone here. Don Osborn, combination man in charge of local phone installations and repairs, reported.

He said two poles were knocked down on rural lines, one by a lightning strike and the other by wind.

The winds cracked phone cables in four different places letting water seep in and short out phone lines.

Approximately 155 phones in Post were affected, Osborn estimated.

A cable splicing crew was rushed in from Lamesa and worked through to midnight Saturday when most of the service was restored. Osborn spent Monday and Tuesday checking out isolated rural trouble calls and replacing fuses.

Lightning of a surge of power burned out the PABX phone equipment at the bank.

"The first drought breaking rain always gives us the most trouble, lightning is involved," Osborn said, especially when high winds and ad reared up when two loose horses ran by.

A physician gave the girl emergency treatment at the Bland home southwest of town, before she was brought to the hospital.

Elaine, a member of this year's 8th grade graduating class at Post Junior High, will have to be in bed for about five more weeks. She won't be able to take part in her class's promotion exercises next Thursday, but she is listed as one of the graduates anyway, a school official said today.

Recommended further study for determining the feasibility of adult evening and summer courses to make full use of our facilities. At the present, the committee found no great demand for adult training here.

Recommended that a counseling program be instituted to involve students, parents, teachers, recent graduates who are college students, principals and further that business and professional people be contacted and used to supplement the counseling program. The committee in this recommendation envisions an essential start on a badly needed counseling program at little, if any, educational expense. Counseling is needed here, as elsewhere, the committee found to start pointing students early for their careers so that proper course selections may be made. The administration this year made the first beginning on such a counseling program.

Recommended an intensive reading program starting at the elementary level and escalating thru the secondary level. An experimental intensive reading program this year was highly successful. The committee wants it expanded as fast as possible to reach all students.

Claud Collier is NFOIB chairman

Announcement of the appointment of Claud Collier Jr., of the Collier Chevrolet-Olds Co., at Post as chairman of the Garza County chapter of the National Federation of Independent Business, was made today by Jerry Henderson, District Manager of the Federation in this area.

Each business and professional man member of this organization maintains a voting membership, and is polled by ballots regularly throughout the year on bills and issues that affect independent enterprise at the national state levels.

In an effort to do everything possible to maintain the American way of life, and keep our free competitive system of business, the businessmen express their own personal opinion on the ballots each month and turn them over to Collier, who makes tabulations of the total number and the manner in which they voted.

These tabulations are sent, with the underlying signed ballots, directly to the desk of Congressman George Mahon, at Washington, D. C., and to State Senator David Ratliff. They are the only means whereby independent business and professional people can keep in continuing, organized, personal, direct contact with their national and state legislators on measures that affect, locally and nationally, free enterprise opportunities.

The National Federation of Independent Business is a non-profit organization that has the largest individual membership of any business organization in the United States and independent business and professional men of every vocation participate with voting memberships, regardless of the other civic or trade affiliations.

"Flood waters" caused by the Friday night downpour washed out the scheduled Southland cemetery "work day" scheduled for Monday. Mrs. Hub Haire reports the annual cemetery clean-up effort was postponed one week to Monday, May 25.

Roby resigns—

During the past four years, Roby has served as Training Union director of the Lubbock Baptist Association, as a member of the Association's music committee, music director for several camps at the Plains Baptist Camp at Floydada, and has directed music in many revivals in the South Plains area.

Under his leadership, the First Baptist Church has offered music activities for almost every age group in the church.

Before Roby came to Post, he served in the First Southern Baptist Churches of Oxnard, Palm-dale and Oroville, Calif. The first church he worked in as music director was at Happy T.x., while he was attending Wayland College. The pastor at Happy was the Rev. C. B. Hogue.

Roby married the former Beth Brian. Her father and his four brothers were all Baptist ministers. The Robys have three children and Mrs. Roby is currently one of the kindergarten teachers in the First Baptist Church.

Roby will graduate from Texas Tech on May 30 with a Bachelor of Music degree with a major in voice.

Dodgers beat Corvairs to widen Little League lead

Defeated Dodgers continue to pack today in Little League standings, but will be tonight by the Cardinals with a 2-2 mark are tied with the Yankees.

'Cash' register is ringing for Tigers

That season, Norm finished with 132 RBIs to rank second only to Vic Wertz among lefthanded hitters in Detroit lore. Wertz had 133 in 1949, his first term in Detroit.

Since the Detroit sportswriter's story appeared, Cash has boosted his RBI total to 26, which is only one behind the league leader, Leon Wagner of the Cleveland Indians.

Against Washington Monday, Cash collected a homer, a double and a single to drive in three runs. Tuesday he hit his seventh homer of the season with a man aboard for two more RBIs.

Both postponed games will be made up, probably within the coming week, according to League President Bob Pace.

The front-running Dodgers were given a score by the Cardinals Saturday night before winning, 10 to 8. The Cards led 6-1 going into the bottom of the third, but a Dodger uprising produced nine runs to put them out in front, 10-6. The Cardinals came back with single runs in the fourth and sixth frames. Starter Tommy Greenwood and Dennis Dodson shared the pitching duties for the Dodgers. R. Valdez was the starter and loser for the Cardinals, relieved by Terry Moreau.

Neff Walker, with three hits in three trips, led the Dodgers at the plate. Moreau and Buster each got two hits for the Cardinals.

Successive hits by Mike Scott, R. McAfee and L. Barnes enabled the Yankees to push across two runs in the seventh inning Monday night to edge the Corvairs, 14 to 13. The time taken to play the extra-inning game forced a postponement of the scheduled game between the Tigers and Dodgers.

McAfee, the third of three Yankee hurlers, was the winner, and T. Moreau, the fifth of five pitchers used by the Corvairs, absorbed the loss.

Randy Levens, the starting pitcher, had three hits for the Yankees, including a third inning home run. Moreau homered for the Corvairs in the fifth frame, in which they scored 12 of their 13 runs.

Catcher Carl Hall's three-run homer in the bottom of the sixth broke a 5-5 deadlock and gave the Cardinals an 8-5 win over the Tigers Saturday night. Hall's circuit smash came off Billberry, the third of three Tiger pitchers. Scrivner went the route to receive credit for the Card victory.

Sox defeat Indians, 5-1, in 10 innings

The White Sox scored four runs in the tenth inning last Thursday night to chalk up a 5-1 victory and fight off the challenge of the Indians, their closest competitor, in the Babe Ruth League race.

The ten-inning contest is believed to have been the longest Babe Ruth League game, in any wise, ever played here. The contest was the highlight of a week that saw three games postponed by rain, one last Thursday night and two last Friday night.

Manager Ben Howell's White Sox won the game after two were out in the top of the tenth. Paul Walker drew a base on balls and pitcher Ronnie Pierce won his own game with a home run. The Sox then added their lead when Duke Altman reached first on an error and scored on Larry Johnson's triple, with Johnson scoring on Donald Windham's single.

Pierce retired Indian batters Odom, Cooper and Collazo in order when the Indians came to bat in the bottom of the tenth.

Pierce pitched the entire game, as did Jerry Sullivan, the losing pitcher.

The Indians had taken a one-run lead in the fourth when Sullivan doubled and scored on Norman Tanner's single. The White Sox tied the game in the seventh when Mike Burks' single scored Larry Johnson, who had reached base on an error.

Pierce struck out 14 batters in his ten-inning stretch.

The Pirates scored all their runs in the second inning Tuesday night in a 4-2 win over the Cubs. One of the Cub runs came in the third frame and the other in the sixth.

WHEAT PROGRAM CHANGE

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a change in the recently enacted '64 voluntary wheat program. The change provides that wheat produced on any farm on which the 1964 wheat acreage is within the farm allotment will be eligible for price support loan or purchase based on the national average of 1.30 per bushel. Eligibility for price support only will be determined on the basis of the wheat acreage on each individual farm and not as previously announced.

Nita Wilson named to North All-Star squad

Nita Wilson, who was captain of this year's Post Doe basketball team, has accepted an invitation to play for the North in the all-star basketball game at the coaching school in Waco July 18-19.

Duggins was coach of the Friona Squaws, who defeated the Does in the bi-district playoff and then went on to win the state Class AA championship.

Independents lose to Skyliners in first league tilt

The Post Independents lost to the Lubbock Skyliners, 5 to 2, at Lubbock Monday night in an opening game in the National Baseball Congress League.

Post Doe Coach Mary Lee Stockton will attend the coaching school and she and Nita will leave July 15 for Waco. The Post girl will get three days of practice before the all-star game, which is scheduled for Saturday night, July 18.

The Post team, managed by Royce Anthony, will play the Reese Air Force Base team at 9 p. m. Saturday, and the Lubbock Hubbers at 7 p. m. Tuesday in their next league outings.

Seven forwards and seven guards have been selected for the North all-star squad and the same number for the South all-stars. The North all-stars hold a big edge in games won in the series of all-star games.

Post went ahead 2-0 in the top of the second against the Skyliners Monday night, but that was all their scoring, with the Skyliners' Whitaker allowing no hits and striking out 13 batters the rest of the way.

Miss Wilson was a member of the high school girls' basketball team all four years and was named all-district every year. She established a new scoring record for Post school cage teams.

None of the runs scored by either team were earned.

Nita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilson.

Golf tourney is postponed here

The Scotch foursome tournament scheduled for Sunday at the Caprock Golf Course has been postponed to Sunday, May 31, a Post Country Club member announced today.

Anyone wishing to try out for the Post team is invited to attend workouts at the Babe Ruth diamond here, Manager Anthony said.

The tournament will begin at 1:30 p. m., with guests and ladies especially invited to play. Prizes will go to four teams.

The first recorded State Fair of Texas was held in Dallas in 1859 and drew an attendance of 2,000.

The entry fee is $2 per person and all entries are required to be in by 6 p. m. Saturday, May 30 to Mike Mitchell or D. H. Bartlett.

Honor students' autobiographies tell highlights

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The nine honor students of the 1964 graduating class at Post High School this week keep a long tradition alive by writing their autobiographies for publication in The Post Dispatch).

CURTIS HUDMAN

On the stormy night of Jan. 8, 1946, a new boy was born in Lubbock. The parents of this boy were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hudman. After considerable thought, they named me Curtis.

My parents brought me home to Post and patiently waited until I was old enough to go to school. At this time I enrolled in the Post Primary School. Everything proceeded normally until I graduated from Post Junior High.

My entrance into high school opened a whole new life for me. There were so many new things to do I hardly knew where to begin. It was during the last few years that I really began to take an interest in school activities. However, the increased freedom and activities were accompanied by more responsibilities and harder schools.

In closing I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to everyone who has helped me to attain some of my goals in life. This group which has done so much to help me includes the teachers and administrators of the school, my Scout leaders, and the countless other people in this town, without whose help I know I could never have succeeded in doing the things I have done.

LINDA PENNELL

I was born Feb. 6, 1946, in Garza County. I arrived into the cold, cruel world to find that I already had a brother, Novis, who was eight, and a sister, Maritta, who was five. They found me to be adorable except for a few bad habits such as crying every time my daddy (or any man) came near me.

My first cruel blow in the world came when I was three years old. I awoke one morning to find that I had acquired a sister, Cheryl, who took my place as the center of attention. I survived this blow, however, and lived the next few years with a maximum of spankings resulting from my extreme mischievous and stubborn nature.

The big day arrived. I was starting to school. During my first school year, I acquired another brother, Joe. I also gave my mother the shock of her life by coming in from school on the bus with one arm in a cast and the other in a sling. I had fallen from the top of the slide and had broken one arm and sprained the other.

Through the next few years I led a normal life: going to school and fighting with my brothers and sisters. Sometime during the course of these years I learned to milk cows. I remember that I just couldn't wait to learn, but when I had to get up every morning and milk the cows before I went to school, I wondered how I could ever have been so eager! I, being a typical farm girl, also got plenty of practice chopping cotton with my older brother during the summer. I wanted more than anything to have my very own Maritta so that I couldn't go to the field.

I survived the years and quickly found myself at the end of the 8th grade. I had the honor of being historian of my class. My favorite sport was basketball where I had the distinction of being the tallest guard on the team. I also loved choir; I sang tenor along with Linda McMahon and Lynette Potts in the High School Choir.

During my Freshman year, we moved to town. This was a very happy occasion for me because it meant no more milking cows! My freshman year was fairly uneventful except for the fact that I was chosen "Miss Onionhead" at Freshman Initiation. I received my first scholastic sweater and lettered in basketball.

My sophomore year passed quickly and uneventfully and I found myself a Junior in High School.

MAY'S 'GIRLS OF THE MONTH'

Edith Johnson (left) and Yvonne Moreland are the May "Girls of the Month" in the Future Homemakers of America chapter at Post High School. On the table is the centerpiece and the punch bowl used by the FHA chapter at a tea for the Senior girls. Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, is in her first year of FHA and is Junior Chapter president. Yvonne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Moreland, is in her second year of FHA work.

Through these two years I really gained an insight into the things that were to come.

I had now reached the highlight of my high school years. I was a Senior. The year has passed quickly and has been full of surprises and events. I have survived Physics and Advanced Math, but it was a long and tiring struggle. I have seen through my four short years a remarkable transformation in myself and in my school. I leave Post High School with mixed feelings. I regret that the years have gone by so quickly and that I will not be a part of the new improvements and exciting plans for Post High School in the years to follow. However, I am looking forward with great anticipation to the years ahead in order to appreciate the foundation I have received in this school and this community.

I have made many friends and I have many fond memories to carry with me, whatever my station.

WAYNE MASTERS

On May 29 of this year, I, Wayne Masters, will graduate from Post High School. This will be what I have been working toward ever since I started school in Easterby Elementary School in Fresno, Calif.

I was born in Fresno, Calif., on Feb. 14, 1946, and went to school there through the third grade. When I was eight, we moved to Cotton Center, Texas, where I went to part of the fourth grade. I finished the fourth grade in Hale Center, Texas, when we moved to a farm west of Hale Center in 1955. I attended Hale Center Elementary and Junior High Schools through part of the seventh grade. When I moved near Post in 1957, I attended Close City school through the rest of the seventh grade and then transferred to the Post school system for the rest of my Junior and High school years.

When I started Post High School in 1960, graduation seemed as far away as the moon. In my four years in high school the unending help of my teachers and school officials has encouraged me to work and graduate this year. Without

Post High Choir is near season's end

By Linda McMahon

The Post High Choir's season of singing is drawing to an end. At the last performance of the choir here at Post, Slaton's choir helped to present a concert. Mr. George Willson, Post director, and Mrs. Davis, Slaton director, led the two choirs in a beautiful group of selections.

During the program, Mr. Willson presented the choir award, which is an award for the outstanding choir student given each year. This year the medal was given to Teddy Scott. Teddy has been an exceptional student in Mr. Willson's choir for several years, and this year was an all-state choir alternate.

The next program to be given by the Post Choir is May 24, when the choir will sing a hymn at Baccalaureate services here at the football stadium.

The special groups of choir are still busy preparing programs. Both the boys' and the girls' sextets will sing two numbers May 29, Commencement. The girls' sextet is preparing to sing for the Lions' Club and also for an 8th grade banquet.

All in all, the choir has had a wonderful year and enjoyed the tours, cantatas, concerts, contests, and special programs in general. We're all looking forward to hearing the Post High School Choir of 1964-65. We're sure they will continue to be an asset to our community.

Girls get lesson from visitor on life restoration

By Mary Barnes

Tuesday, May 12, Mrs. Duncan's Homemaking II and III classes were privileged to have Mrs. Lois Greathouse with us, courtesy of Lyntegar Electric Co-op of Tahoka.

To acquaint us with the need and use of mouth-to-mouth respiration and heart massage, Mrs. Greathouse showed us a film, "Pulse of Life." This film was of actual cases where life was restored by one or both of the above methods.

Mrs. Greathouse demonstrated the proper technique of mouth-to-mouth respiration and heart massage on "Annie," a mannequin built for this purpose. Then each class member practiced both methods. We now feel if the need ever arises we will be more capable of helping restore a life.

Our thanks to Mrs. Greathouse and Lyntegar for helping us learn this vital lesson.

gabra kept me up every night during my Freshman year. It seemed like I was always behind in one class or the other.

My Sophomore year it was even worse! I know Mr. Hopkins was glad to see the last of me. My Senior year has been the best of my life. And the best part was learning I will graduate with honors.

I have enjoyed my years in Post, especially my high school years. I will always remember the many friends I have made and I will always be grateful to my teachers and the other people who have guided and helped me during these years.

ARGAN ROBINSON

Argan Robinson, born Dec. 7, 1945, was the first child born into the William Robinson family.

The first two years of her life, her family lived in Lubbock while her father filled his capacity in the Air Force at Reese Air Force Base. The following year they moved to Post where both her parents had lived most of their lives.

Argan's pre-school years were those of an ordinary, but happy, little girl.

The first five years of school presented themselves as a testing ground for Argan. She thoroughly enjoyed the new discoveries and the new friends awarded her through her efforts to do well anything she undertook. She was to appreciate more in the years to come the guidance given her by her elementary teachers.

During her years in Junior High, Argan discovered her like for boys, sports and pretty clothes. She discovered several talents no one knew she had. Since then, she has had piano lessons from Mrs. Boo Olson and Mr. George Willson, and has been a member of Mr. Willson's choir for seven years. She also has had art lessons from Mrs. Gladys Presson and Mrs. Ronnie Boucher. Piano recitals, art exhibits and musical plays were the highlights of her Junior High years, and then were topped with the excitement of 8th grade graduation, when she graduated as fifth in her class.

When her high school career began, Argan felt a whole new portion of her life had begun. She had already won several awards for her art before she was introduced to high school, and was looking forward to putting it to work there.

During her four years in high school, she has done bulletin boards, showcase displays and hall decorations for different organizations and activities.

Argan has been a member of the Drama Club, F.H.A., Pep Squad, participated in speech plays and held a part in both the Junior and Senior plays, has participated in programs that were broadcast over the local radio station, and was a member of one of Mr. Willson's sextets for two years.

During her Junior and Senior years, she was a class officer and has been active in extra-curricular activities of her class. Her last year in the Pep Squad found her painting antelopes on the hoop used during football season as the football boys made their entrance on the field.

Soon she will graduate with honors and plans to continue school at Columbia Business College in Odesa.

In her church life, Argan has been a member of the First Baptist Church for ten years. She has taught in Vacation Bible School, has helped in mission work near Santa Fe, N. M., and plays the piano frequently in various classes. She has been a member of the choir and has enjoyed doing any job that might be offered her.

For the future, Argan plans to combine the things she enjoys doing and adding to them to make a well-rounded life. She feels that without the education and experience in relation to people that she has had here in Post, it would be much more difficult, or perhaps impossible, to gain the goals she has set for herself.

MARILYN MINOR

I was born Aug. 3, 1946. I had one big brother called Jimmy. He was four years older than I. The age difference was extremely good, because I got most of the attention.

I was barely six when I started to school. I thought I was really getting up in the world and I thought I knew everything there was to know. This attitude soon changed.

I was a tomboy my first four years of school and I didn't see any reason why I had to go to school. But, when I got to the 5th grade, I decided I was growing up, and I started running around with my own kind.

The years passed by very fast. Before I knew it I was graduating from the 8th grade. I had discovered that school was worth the effort, so I had begun studying a little more. I graduated from the 8th grade as an honor student.

When I got into high school, I knew that it would be one of the most important experiences in my life, so I decided to make the best of it.

School was fairly hard for my Freshman year, but it became much easier as the years went by. I tried my best in everything I set out to do. These 12 years of school have helped me in many ways. It has made it easier for me to go out on my own.

LINDA ROGERS

A bundle was suddenly dropped on the Rogers family on Sept. 24, 1945. This surprise was I, Linda Joann Rogers.

My parents were very distressed, as five different bundles had been aimed at them in previous years. The five bundles developed into my brothers and sister. They are Billie, Bobby, J. W., Patsy and Tommie.

After a family discussion, it was decided that I was to be kept for a trial period. The family became fond of me after a while, so I became one of them.

My daddy was a driller in the oil field and my family moved around quite a bit during my pre-school years. When I finally became six, we moved back to Post where I was enrolled in the first grade.

My big event in grade school happened in the second grade when I was Mother Goose in a play!

The years went by fast and soon I was in the 8th grade. This year I was the winner of a declamation contest. I thought I was "all grown-up." The next year, however, I decided I was a kid again. The upperclassmen in high school have a way of making Freshmen feel very young.

The four years of high school have been ones which I will remember all my life. I don't believe anything in life can compare to the feeling of knowing you have finally become a Senior.

High school has been just wonderful for me. I believe the thing that has meant most to me in the last few years is the band. I was thrilled to be president of it this year. I was also very happy to receive the John Philip Sousa Band Award.

Now, as school is nearing an end, I am very sad to think about the wonderful things I must leave behind, but I am very anxious to take my place in a world which has unending opportunities for young persons. My aim in life is to use what I have learned through the years to become a credit to my family, town and Post High School. The Senior class motto, "Not merely to exist, but to amount to something in life," shall now become my motto as an individual.

EDDIE ALLSUP

On the 29th day of May, 1964, I, Eddie Allsup, will complete one of the most valuable phases of my life. On this day I will graduate from high school. I moved to Post and started high school in the same year, 1960. Since then, I have attended two other schools, at Morton and Archer City.

I started life's road on Dec. 4, 1945, at Granite, Okla. I finished the first grade and part of the second grade in Mangum, Okla. After the first semester of my second year in school, we moved to Texas, where I have lived ever since.

My parents are Dewitt and Betty Allsup. My father is a medical technician and my mother is an English teacher. I have two brothers, Gene and Rex.

I am deeply indebted to all my teachers and counselors, for without their help I might not have even graduated, much less graduated with honors.

SUSIE JO SCHMIDT

Late one typical East Texas night, Aug. 8, 1946, the town of Gladewater was silenced. The only sound heard in the hospital was the cry of a young lady who had just made her entrance onto the stage of life. She had a very long road ahead of her, and when she left that hospital room, she would have to face the world—a world full of friendly faces and hypocrites.

After much consideration, this child was given the name Susie Jo. She seemed to make a big hit with her four brothers and one sister. When Susie Jo was ten months old, she was invited to make her debut in Post, Texas. She fell in love with Post at first sight. She loved everything about her new home.

The years passed quickly, and the date for her screen test finally arrived. Miss McWhirter helped her to make the first grade a success. Other producers and directors such as Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Gandy, Miss Brown, Mr. Willson, and Mrs. Davis were also responsible for making grade school a big hit.

Following grade school, the sixth grade was a big step for Susie. Her biggest problem was going to the right classes at the right time. Miss Wristen, Coach Hahn, Mr.

Willson, Mrs. Florence and Mr. Teal. They were important in the completion of Susie's Junior year.

The last year of Susie's high school career faced her with many challenges. She took part in Annual work, Student Council, and Pep Squad. Many other activities were also included in her schedule. She decided to take an important step—foreign movies. Under the observation of Mr. Robertson, a new director, she began her French role.

Susie Jo Schmidt has now reached the peak of her high school career. Her most prized possessions are patriotism, true friends, and memories of the wonderful years behind her.

At this time, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Clark receive the award for their work as co-producers of the play thus far completed. Mr. Snodgrass, Coach Bigott, Mr. Pollard, and Mr. Willson, who has given up by now, receive the awards for best supporting actors. Unfortunately, Susie Jo does not receive an award for her performance.

Susie Jo has a long road ahead of her and she hopes to be able to face all trails with a strong feeling of pride and ambition.

SERPENTINE PASSAGEWAYS and vast subterranean chambers inside Texas Longhorn Cavern in the Highland Lakes area of Central Texas evoke this look of wide-eyed amazement from a youthful visitor to the cavern. Reputedly the third-largest cavern in the world, Texas Longhorn annually attracts more than 45,000 visitors who express, in varying degrees, similar reactions to the cavern's underground marvels. Parts of the cavern are named for Texas outlaw Sam Bass who used the cave for a hideout in the 1870's and is alleged to have buried a $2-million treasure there. The cavern is focal point of 708-acre Texas Longhorn Cavern State Park located near Burnet, just off U.S. Highway 281 on Park Road 4.

Post student and teacher to attend science program

A Post High School junior and her science instructor are among 500 Texas high school students and teachers who have been invited to participate in the Fourth Texas Nuclear Science Symposium at the University of Texas June 7-10.

Carolyn Matzler and science teacher Leonard Tittle will be the guests of the Southwestern Public Service Company at the Austin sessions.

The symposium is a joint sponsorship program of the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, of which Southwestern Public Service Company is a member.

A limited number of Texas high schools are invited to submit student candidates for the symposium each year. Selection is made on the basis of academic qualification and leadership ability. Carolyn's outstanding score on the National Science Foundation qualifying test indicated her skills and interest in science.

The nation's leading nuclear scientists will lead the lectures and discussions at the symposium, and tours of the University of Texas laboratory facilities will also be taken by the students and teachers.

Lawn Mower Safety - No. 3

Power lawn-mowers are built for safety and easy use. However, inattention and carelessness can cause accidents. Simple care and attention can prevent them. Protect yourself and others by following these safety steps:

- When starting your mower engine, be very careful to keep your feet well away from the blades.
- NEVER use a power lawn-mower that is not completely safe. Check and tighten all nuts, bolts and screws often to be sure.
- Treat electricity with respect. Never use a plug-in electric mower in the rain or when the grass is wet.
- Fuel can explode. Fill the fuel tank before starting the engine. Never add fuel when the engine is running.

SHERIFF OF GARZA COUNTY

SATURDAY, JUNE 6

I have devoted 24 hours a day of my time to the Sheriff's office and, if re-elected to a second term, will continue to do so, in enforcing the law and handling the other duties of the office, I have tried to be fair and impartial to everyone.

Your support and influence and your vote Saturday, June 6, will be just as sincerely appreciated by me now as it was when you first elected me to the office.

Storm blows down frame work of Graham building

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
The rain finally came last Friday and so did the wind and sand. My that wind blew so hard! The frame work was up on the Community Center building and the wind blew it all down. Tin was blown off of buildings and trailers overturned. We haven't heard of too much expensive damage done. We are thankful for the rain.

Mrs. Eggie Stewart returned Friday from the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock where she had been a patient since last Monday. She is improving and we hope she will soon feel much better.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Evans of Lubbock visited Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason McClellan and Patti Ann visited in Amarillo over the weekend with Capt. and Mrs. Joe Aimo and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Newberry visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gossett.

Elmer D. Jones and Gary visited Sunday in the Andrews hospital with his brother, Norman. They report he wasn't feeling too well. We wish for him a quick recovery.

David McBride is recuperating from the measles and is feeling better. Mrs. Grover Mason and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit visited in the McBride home Saturday and Mrs. L. E. McBride and daughters were Sunday visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon and Mr. and Mrs. Quannah Maxey played "88" in the Ray McClellan home Friday night. They all played in the Maxey home Saturday night and were joined by the Jimmy Doggetts.

The Fred Gossetts visited Thursday evening with the Aubrey Ritchies.

Darlene Jones attended a slumber party Friday night in the Darla Pierce home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Oakley of Abilene visited a few days last week with the Bryan Maxey family. Mrs. Oakley accompanied her parents to Odessa to take Mrs. Franklin Maxey and children home after they had visited here for a week. They visited Norman Jones and Pete Ethridge in the Andrews hospital.

Mrs. Elmer Dee Jones and children visited Sunday afternoon in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock with Clyde Borum.

MR. AND MRS. Mack Ledbetter and family spent the weekend in Vernon visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Lofton.

Beth Peel spent Friday night with Sandy Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluit were Sunday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Morris McClellan.

Terri, Gegg and Bard Laurence of Lubbock spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stone.

MEAT BUYING TIP

Meats with the lowest price tag per pound aren't necessarily your best buy, say Extension Service food and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M University. Some meats have more bone, gristle, and fat than others. You get a bonus from meat with no bone. AUSTIN — There is a certain amount of excitement around the capitol. An old friend is about to depart. The old friend is the majestic old building. For many years it was the home of the Game and Fish Commission (now part of the Parks and Wildlife Commission). The building soon is to be demolished. The building was built by order of the 58th Legislature, to make way for a new building.

The white limestone building with its graceful towers and elegant facade is an old-timer. Built in 1875, it was the Travis County Courthouse until 1929, when Gov. Dan Moody and the Legislature bargained and bought the building for the state for $48,000.

Although the Walton building was known to sportsmen and conservationists coming to call on the Game and Fish Commission, it also was the home of the vocational education office of the Texas State Board of Education, the Rehabilitation Commission, and the Texas State Board of Health.

When the Walton building was to be demolished a decision was made by the State Building Commission, composed of Gov. Waggoner, Atty. Gen. Waggoner, Atty. Gen. Carr, and Charles Coates of Carroll Hill, chairman of the Board of Control.

POLLUTION BY SALT WATER — At the request of the Railroad Commission Atty. Gen. Waggoner is reconsidering his opinion that the Texas Water Pollution Control Board has jurisdiction and perhaps granting power over oilfield water disposal.

Oil operators told a special committee reviewing the opinion that much of the oil industry has not accepted the new Board's jurisdiction, and look instead to the Railroad Commission for disposal regulation.

Water conservationists support the Board's authority, claiming that the 1961 Legislature gave the Pollution Control Board jurisdiction over pollution by oil and salt water under Art. 751d.

TRAVEL WRITERS' TOUR —

Texas Tourist Development Agency is looking at West Texas for a repeat of its successful April tour for out-of-state travel writers.

On the first go-round, the agency led the writers from Dallas to San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Houston and several other cities in the eastern half of the state.

In November, they plan to take them to such favorites as Palo Duro Canyon, El Paso and Juarez, Big Bend National Park, Fort Davis and the Davis Mountains, Guadalupe Peak, Fort Clark and Alamo Village at Brackettville.

Feature articles in metropolitan dailies and national magazines already are reflecting the favorable reaction to what the writers saw in Texas on the first tour. Agency spokesmen feel the result of the valuable free publicity should mean more tourist dollars in every Texan's pocket this summer.

HOSPITAL BUDGET DRAWN — State Hospital Board has requested a $128,000,000 budget for the next two-year fiscal period. It includes a $28,000,000 increase for operating expenses and $13,200,000 for new facilities.

These new institutions would be constructed if the budget is approved by the Legislature: Mental hospitals for Dallas and the Gulf Coast area (4,000,000 each); Special schools in West Texas and Corpus Christi (2,500,000 each); and a food service training school (250,000).

HIGHWAY FACTS CITED — State highway spending has grown from $40,200,000 in 1940 to an expected $145,000,000 this year, reports State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer.

He also cited these facts: Total Texas highway mileage has increased since 1941 from 20,359 miles to 65,798; autos have increased from 1,700,000 to 5,500,000; Highway Department has grown from 7,600 to 16,000.

Greer also noted that while Texas has 22 more metropolitan areas (50,000 or more population) than any other state, it still ranks fourth

DOLLS—for YOUNG and OLD

Little girls aren't the only ones who treasure dolls. Adults do too. Queen Victoria was a very famous doll collector. So was Montezuma II, the last chief of the Aztecs. There are so many collectors in the U.S. that there is a National Doll and Toy Collectors Club.

"Billikin" was the first widely popular American doll, way back in 1908. "Bye-Lo-Baby" made history in 1924, and the Shirley Temple doll became the most popular doll ever in 1934. The first doll with a wardrobe was "Patsy," in 1926.

Today's dolls, such as "Tammy," have exciting collections of clothes and matching accessories—even including a shiny sports-car. Teen-age Tammy's new little sister "Pepper," is a pert 'n' pint-sized charmer, button-nosed and eight inches tall. Ideal has given her firmly jointed arms and legs, and a turning head.

among all states in rural population.

RAILROAD-FIREMAN FIGHT RAGES — Atty. Gen. Carr said he is going to see how several suits filed against railroads turn out before he decides if he has authority to enter a dispute involving discharge of some locomotive firemen.

Railroad brotherhoods say the state's "full crew law" should be observed after a federal arbitration board award permitted dismissal of firemen on some diesel engines.

Walter Caven, Texas Railroad Association attorney, said several prosecutors have agreed they won't accept complaints involving dismissals of the firemen.

Lubbock and El Paso prosecutors were among those who would not file complaints against the railroads under the full crew law, said E. F. Jergins of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

YOUTH CONFERENCE SCHEDULED — The second annual Texas Attorney General's Youth Conference will be held here July 10-12. More than 1,600 junior and senior high school students will attend.

Delegates will discuss juvenile delinquency, vocational training, public awareness projects, church and youth activities and other projects resulting from the 1963 meeting.

Program is based on the idea that Texas youth can find solutions to their own problems.

Noting that 40 per cent of Texas crimes are committed by youth under 21, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr termed the conference a vital step toward finding new cures to an old problem.

REDISTRICTING HEARING — First meeting of the Texas Legislative Council Committee on congressional redistricting is tentatively set here for the weekend of May 30.

Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, chairman, said he probably will call an informal session at that time, as most study committee members will be in Austin anyway for President Johnson's address at the University of Texas.

Hearings in major cities over the state, to seek public advice on how to carve up districts on an equal-population basis under court order,

COTTON PRODUCTION TIPS FOR ROLLING PLAINS

The Rolling Plains has many boll weevil "HOT SPOTS" this year. In these communities, large numbers of weevil went into hibernation last fall. Indications are survival is higher than normal.

Boll weevils have demonstrated they are capable of taking all the profit out of growing cotton once they get out of control. It is estimated 100 overwintered weevils per acre in a field on June 15, with 20 per cent survival in squares, will destroy 100 per cent of the squares in that field. The migration is capable of destroying all squares in 17 additional fields of the same size by July 28. They have moved at least 30 miles into new territory in one season.

The control of overwintered boll weevils in a field is not difficult when all weevils are out of hibernation before the earliest squares reach the one-third grown stage. In this case, all that is needed is one or two effective applications of insecticides before squares are one-third grown. Then weevils will be killed before they have a chance to lay eggs or reproduce. When this is done on a community, county and areawide basis, the weevil population is virtually wiped out before they have a chance to cause damage, buildup or spread.

An effective educational program, followed-up with an organized effort to make the program a success, is badly needed in every community and county where boll weevils were present last fall.

There are folks that do not believe growers can be encouraged to work together in the solution of this problem. They seem to forget that our country was built by community cooperation. In the early days, farmers got together when they had a problem. It was discussed thoroughly—a solution was agreed on and an objective set—and a capable leader was selected. Then, everyone went to work to see the job done. With a renewal of this type of community and county cooperation, the boll weevil can be eradicated. The County Program Building Committee should provide the organizational "set up" for reaching this objective.

CATTLE NUMBERS

Texas cattle numbers are the highest in history. More than 10 million head were on hand on Jan. 1. However, Texas A&M University's livestock marketing specialist, Ed Uvacek, believes the state has reached its high peak in the current cattle cycle.

Uvacek said cattle numbers in the U. S. are also at a record high. The total on Jan. 1 was in excess of 106 million head. The record high cattle population represents the seventh year of a buildup in cattle herds.

A national downturn in cattle numbers will begin this year or in 1965, the Texas A&M specialist predicts. When liquidation begins, Uvacek expects a three year period when cattle numbers will become successively lower.

Marketings from Texas feedlots in the January-March period this year totaled 292 thousand head or 18 per cent more than in 1963, he said.

NEW ROPING CLUB

JAYTON — Members of the Jayton Roping Club are fixing up a lighted arena here. Gus Fincher is president, the new roping club and Brantner is secretary.

Prices of choice beef carcasses are expected to gradually decrease after May, he said, probably reaching their lowest levels in the September-October period. Uvacek predicts that good carcasses will decrease in price to lower levels in the July-September period.

The marketing specialist says feeder and stocker calves are now at their best demand for the year and should drop much lower as the heavy movement of late summer and early fall marketings begin.

He said beef and veal imports into the U. S. during the January-February period were 11 per cent below last year.

A Moment With God

THE LIFEGIVER

He breathed on them and said unto them, Receive ye Holy Ghost. John 20:22

A man's breath is a sign of life; when he stops breathing he dies. So when God created man, He "breathed into him the breath of life, and man became a living soul." This breath of life is associated with the Holy Spirit, who in the Bible is called the Giver of life. The very word "spirit" means "breath." A wind is a tremendous breath. You can see the breath of God does in Ezekiel's vision of the dry bones. Here the prophet is commanded to say to the wind, "Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain that they may live." And so it was done.

There is an even greater miracle than the creation of physical life: the rebirth of a soul dead in trespasses and sin. When God created man, He could fashion man without resistance but there is plenty of resistance in the process of re-creation. Man fights against the divine invasion; if he is born again, it is a tremendous victory of the Holy Spirit. We therefore are new creatures in Christ are bound to give all glory to God for the radical change He has effected in us. Certainly we do not serve no credit for it, for we did all we could to block it. But God has had His way with us; we no longer exist in dark hopelessness but are truly alive in Christ, our Lord. And this is life that has no ending.

O Lord and Giver of life, we give thanks to Thee that Thou hast breathed into our souls the freshness of eternity. Amen.

Prometryne sprays control weeds in growing cotton

New Prometryne® 80W herbicide not only controls most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses when applied as a preemergence spray, it does the same job when applied after weeds and cotton are up.

Postemergence applications

Put Prometryne to work any time after cotton is six inches in height . . . and before weeds are about two inches high. Direct the spray at the base of the cotton plant so that weeds are thoroughly sprayed . . . while at the same time minimizing contact of the spray with cotton foliage. At the low rates used in postemergence applications before layby, Prometryne kills on direct contact with the weeds.

Layby spray works all season

Keep Prometryne working for your crop all summer with a spray at layby. In this application, the rates of Prometryne go up . . . to extend weed control right on through the growing season. At these higher rates, Prometryne kills existing weeds and remains to pick off later germinating ones as well. Carried down to the weed root zone by rainfall or overhead irrigation, Prometryne is absorbed by the roots of germinating weeds. Soon after the weeds break ground, they yellow and die.

Controls weeds and grasses

Three years of research by State and Federal experiment stations proved the effectiveness of Prometryne in controlling most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses. Among the problem species handled by Prometryne are: pigweed or carelessness, annual morning glory, crabgrass and goosegrass.

Safe to use

Prometryne is safe to cotton when used according to label directions. It leaves no residue in cotton seed. It can be applied safely and is non-irritating to humans and animals. Do not, however, plant a fall seeded crop the year you use Prometryne.

Fits your conditions

Prometryne works with you . . . whatever your cultural practices and weed conditions may be. Use it as a post-emergence spray after both weeds and cotton are up. Use it at layby to give protection through the season. Use it both ways if the weed situation so dictates.

Plan to use Prometryne for post-emergence and/or layby weed control on at least a portion of your cotton acreage this year. See for yourself what outstanding, economical weed control it can provide.

Six Flags trip made by band

By LINDA ROGERS
Band President

"Six Flags or Bust" has been the motto of the Post High School band for the past four months. Finally, the date arrived and we left the band hall Friday, March 13, at 6:20 a. m. for Six Flags.

The trip was made in chartered TMN&O buses. The ride down was rather uneventful, with the exception of several students who kept having attacks of motion sickness.

We returned to Six Flags on Saturday to finish our tour. We left there at 2 p. m. to return home. We stopped to have supper at Snyder and arrived home later that night.

This trip was a thrilling experience that will long be remembered by everyone attending.

We would like to extend our appreciation to those who made the trip possible. A word of thanks especially to our bus drivers and our sponsors, Mrs. Maxine Cummings, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. Donald Windham and Mrs. Bobby Pierce. The band would also like to thank our director, Mr. Evans, for making this trip and all the other things we have done this year possible.

SCS says loss of topsoil like loss of money

It takes nature several hundred years to produce one inch of soil. Therefore, soil lost now because of wind or water erosion will not be replaced during our lifetime.

Surface soil, or "topsoil" as it is often referred to, is the most productive and most vital part of the soil profile. With each inch of surface soil loss also goes part of that soil's ability to produce crops. If all the surface soil is removed, a soil's ability to produce at an economical level is lost. Organic matter and fertilizers must then be added to bring that soil back to an economical production level.

Loss of surface soil is actually like a loss of money. If crop production is to be kept at a high level, the fertility that is lost must be replaced artificially, which costs money.

Every effort within practicability should be made to protect this surface soil from erosion. Each soil, because of their different characteristics, require different practices and different levels of management for protection. A level, fine-textured soil only requires a small amount of residue and cultural practices for protection, while a sloping, medium-textured soil needs a large amount of residue, terracing and cultural practices for adequate protection.

Treat your soil according to its needs for protection and improvement. The Soil Conservation Service will be glad to help you determine what kind of soil you have and what practices are recommended for their protection.

SUSPENSE SHOCKER

The all-new suspense shocker, "Children of the Damned," is now showing through Saturday at the Tower Theatre. It is a story of six children with astounding intellects and how the mysterious circumstances surrounding them endanger the world.

20 Seniors tell plans for future

By Mary Beth Ford

Members of this year's Post High School graduating class were asked what their plans are. Following are some of the answers, with more to appear next week:

Linda McMahon: I plan to work this summer in Kansas. Then I am going to San Angelo College.

Pat Cornell: I am going to work at Texas Electric, then go to Tech.

Jackey Fluit: I am going to farm this summer and then go to Tech.

Susie Schmidt: I am going to Dallas for a month and then I plan to attend San Angelo College.

Nita Wilson: I am going to teach swimming this summer and I am undecided as of yet about the college I will attend.

Linda Cowley: I am going to work at Postex Cotton Mill this summer, then I am going to beauty school.

Cathy Harlan: I am getting married Aug. 20.

Carol Hodges: I am getting married July 3.

Dianna Barron: I am going to a business school in Plainview.

Diane Maxey and Shirley Ann Sappington: We plan to start in July at Columbia Secretarial College in Odessa.

Linda Pennell: I am going to work this summer and start to Tech in September.

Margie Harrison: I am going to work and then go to Columbia Business College in August.

Nancy Bingham: I am getting married June 25.

Larry Guy: I plan to work this summer and then maybe go to West Texas State.

Yvonne Corley: I plan to go back to beauty school.

Mary Beth Ford: I hope to work

Polar homecoming is scheduled for June 7

A homecoming celebration will be held in the Polar community, in Scurry County, Sunday, June 7.

A basket dinner will be served at the school building at noon.

Everyone is invited, especially former residents of the Polar community and former students of the school.

Post woman enjoying visit in California

Mrs. L. C. Herren, who is visiting a daughter in La Mesa, Calif., wrote a letter to Mrs. Sybil Hall last week telling her about her arrival there and activities.

Mrs. Herren said the airplane trip was fine except for a few rough spots. She commented on the clouds being so beautiful.

Since arriving, Mrs. Herren has been fishing at the pier. She said one has to watch the fish on stringers or the seals will come right up and get them. She planned to attend a fishing contest held there last Saturday.

Tractors humming after rain in Grassland area

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
 Boy, oh boy, wasn't the rain fine? We need some more though. The winds blew real hard in our community tearing some roofs off small houses and a porch off a house in Grassland. Lots of tree limbs were blown down but no hail for which we are thankful. The rain measured from one and three-tenths to two inches. The tractors are sure humming.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ritchey and J. F. Moore visited the W. G. McCleskeys Sunday afternoon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Johnston of Colorado Springs, Colo., on the birth of a son. The mother is Norma Lou Huffaker Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Huffaker Mrs. Huffaker is staying with them.

Visitors in the Bob Norman home Sunday were their daughter, Wanda, and family of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Smith. Wanda brought her new baby to show her parents.

H. E. Huffaker and Gene Parrish were on a fishing trip to Falcon Lake recently. They report fair luck.

The Rev. and Mrs. Randy Clifton and family of Spur visited the Bud Inkleburgers Sunday.

L. G. WOODS, who lived in the Grassland community for a number of years, passed away Saturday morning in the Medical Arts Hospital in Lamesa. Mr. and Mrs. Woods operated a Helpy-Sely laundry here at one time. The family has many friends in the community. Survivors include his wife, Mittie, two sons, Henry and H. W., all of Lamesa. Attending services from Grassland were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker and Kathy, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Smith went to the funeral home Saturday.

Mrs. Eva Childs called on Mrs. C. A. Walker Monday afternoon. Nancy Norman was in a piano recital Saturday. Mrs. J. A. Wright of Slaton is her teacher. Mrs. Norman told me they were in Slaton during the storm and she said she had never seen so much water.

The Rev. J. E. Yeats, pastor of the Grassland Methodist Church, has an eye infection. Mrs. G. S. Porterfield took him and his wife to an eye specialist Monday morning. His eye is better.

Mrs. Lucy Cunningham is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Reed, in Crosbyton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Melton and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Dubree returned home Sunday from a two-week vacation in East Texas.

H. W. Mershon of El Paso visited his sister, Mrs. Ethel Fox, and his nieces, Ms. E. A. Thomas and Miss Gladys Fox, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gribble and children visited in the Kelly Laws home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. C. B. King, a sister-in-law and her grandson, Gary Don, spent the weekend in Fort Worth visiting relatives and working in the cemetery there.

MRS. C. C. Jones tells us that her son, Marion, will have to go to the Mayo Brother's Hospital in Rochester, Minn., for an operation. It is a very serious operation that they can't perform in Lubbock. You remember he was hit in the face when a valve blew up with about 70 pounds of pressure. We wish for him a successful operation.

Mrs. C. C. Jones went to Post to a family gathering at the home of her son, Carl, and family. Attending were her sisters, Mrs. Ivy Young, and Mrs. Calvin Cooper and a cousin, Norman Bullock, of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harve Shannon of Lake Buchanan visited in Mrs. E. A. Thomas' home recently. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Happy Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Buel Draper of Tahoka.

Visiting Mrs. C. C. Jones Wednesday afternoon were her three sisters, Mrs. V. V. Laws of Tahoka, Mrs. Ivy Young and Mrs. Calvin Cooper, and Mrs. Jones' son, Carl. Mrs. Lorene Gerner took her mother, Mrs. Haley, to the doctor for a checkup. Mrs. Haley then stayed Friday night in the Gerner home. She says that is why it rained so hard so she will try it again real soon.

Mrs. Amos Gerner visited Mrs. Buford Mathis and Grandma Mathis Sunday afternoon.

Virgil Haley visited his mother Friday afternoon and while there he repaired her storm cellar.

Mrs. Fay Claborn and Lorene Gerner visited their mother Monday.

Visitors of Mrs. O. F. Haley Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Carol Brown.

The J. M. Haley family visited in the home of his brother, Virgil, at New Home Friday night.

Oh, yes, the Gerners have heard from their son, Jerry. He has purchased his plane ticket and is ready to take off as soon as they give him the "go" sign.

NEW MEXICO VISITORS
 Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sanders of Artesia, N. M., were in Post Monday to attend funeral services for Charlie Brown. They returned to their home Tuesday. Mr. Sanders was employed by Postex Mills for 16 years, leaving here in 1944. The Sanders have lived in Artesia for two years.

ODESSA GUESTS
 Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. Odessa Cummings and children were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Tucker of Odessa.
