

POSTINGS

The engineering report is out on the feasibility of waterflooding the big Garza oil field, which includes the city of Post. A copy hasn't been received here, as yet, but Buster Moreland of Brown Brothers reports that a meeting of all interested parties in the field probably will be called in the near future to consider whether or not to undertake the waterflooding.

If the waterflooding is undertaken, the White River Municipal Water District hopes to sell the participating oil firms the water to do the flooding with. So the meeting to consider the engineer's report on waterflooding feasibility is being awaited with considerable interest.

From the White River dam site comes word that contractor Steve Luce now has the big earthen dam some 11 feet above the stream bed. The dam is over 450 feet wide at its base, so it takes a lot of dirt moving right now to put on each foot of height. Given another 30 days of work on the dam, Steve might be in good shape for some needed spring rains. We hear Steve is back on schedule now and the way he is going could finish the dam ahead of schedule.

The city-county park development plan will see the big area around the 4-H building, south of the lake, planted to grass this year. The sprinkler system is already in. When the grass is up then the area will be landscaped and a new picnic area opened there. All the hog and cattle pens have been moved out of the area around the 4-H building but one—and it is to go as soon as a hog, which is expecting what's expected of her.

Each year we see the results of long range park planning as something more is done with the limited funds available. Shelley Camp, park board chairman, was telling us the other day that about the only thing which hasn't panned out according to plan were the plantings of the small flowering trees. They just couldn't fight back against the youngsters." Camp explained, "and we've had to replace virtually all of them with sturdier trees."

The new clubhouse expansion out at the Caprock Golf Course is nearing completion this week, which means that soon golfers will have a locker room, a place to leave their clubs and carts, and shower facilities. The grass greens course is getting a steeper bigger play this year. The only problem, right at the present, is water. There isn't too much left right now to keep the greens going. It's that time of year. Last year this week, the bank advertised in 'The Dispatch' for a two inch rain" remember.

Over on page 13 of today's Dispatch you'll find the announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Sherry Duncan that they have purchased Tom's place, across from the junior high school, from Tom Williams and have renamed it "Duncan Cafeteria." Sherry operated the Dairy Mart here for several years before selling it in late February. Tom didn't announce any future plans as yet.

Next week, the city and school board candidates will be given the opportunity to have their pictures in The Dispatch along with statements of up to 200 words. This is the newspaper's contribution to informing the voters about the candidates and their views. Of course, all the candidates may not take advantage of the opportunity. That's up to them. But they've all been invited and we'll use the statements we receive.

Over on page 11 of today's Dispatch you'll find the March Business Page with a feature story and picture about Toby Thomas and the Dairy Mart. We think you'll find this young man's views on his drive-in restaurant business interesting and the young man himself quite enterprising.

$100,000 damage suit filed here

A $100,000 damage suit was filed in Garza district court here last week by a young couple from Ranney, Tex., against a Muleshoe resident. Jerry L. Wilson and his wife, Mrs. A. E. Moore filed the suit against Muleshoe as a result of an alleged head-on collision Oct. 19, 1962, ten miles west of Post on the Tahoka highway. Wilson, 29, a Texas Tech student, was driving a 1961 Buick Wildcat when he was struck and injured by a 1961 Buick Wildcat driven by Rita, who is 18.

HONEYCOMB PILES UP THE TROPHIES
More than 20 trophies have been won by Honeycomb (inset), Ed Sims' mare, on her way to the 1962 world's championship and a flying start toward a repeat performance in 1963. Honeycomb's trophies are shown here in the Sims home.—(Staff Photo)

'Honeycomb' en route to 2nd world's title

Ed Sims' paint mare, Honeycomb, apparently not content with winning a world's championship in 1962, is well on her way to top honors again this year. The six-year-old mare, who has never been defeated in her class, was the world's champion paint halter horse last year in addition to piling up points in the performance classes.

Honeycomb's latest honors, which added a pile of points to her standing for 1963, came at the recent Houston Fat Stock Show and Rodeo where she was named grand champion paint mare. A few weeks earlier, she had received reserve champion honors at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth.

Honeycomb won 22 performance trophies in 1962. She was grand champion of six 1962 shows and reserve champion of four. She placed first 10 times in the aged mare class. With two big 1963 shows already behind her, Honeycomb will also compete this spring at Abilene, Big Spring, Dallas and at Richmond Hills in Fort Worth, her owner said.

Sabin oral Type III

Final phase of polio immunization Sunday

Several hundred Garza County residents are expected to show up at the school cafeteria Sunday afternoon for Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine, which will complete the three-phase here. The vaccine will be administered from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m., according to Phil Crenshaw, chairman of the SOS steering committee. The Type I vaccine was given here last summer. Then, in a switch following controversy over the Type III vaccine, the Type II vaccine was given out of turn here and elsewhere in the areas served by the Lubbock-Crosby-Garza County Medical Society, which sponsors the mass polio immunization clinics.

Nearly 4,000 Garza County residents received the Type I vaccine, but the number dropped sharply for the Type II following the nationwide controversy over Type III. Members of the area medical society recommend that all persons who have received Types I and II of the vaccine complete their immunization by taking the Type III when it is administered Sunday.

O. H. Hoover dies Wednesday night

O. H. Hoover, about 75, retired farmer of the Grassland community, died shortly before midnight Wednesday in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock, where he had been a patient for about a week. Funeral services for Mr. Hoover were pending this morning at Hudson Funeral Home. He is survived by his wife, who is the Grassland community correspondent for The Post Dispatch; one daughter, Mrs. Nina Belle Chapman of Plainview, and five sons, Houston of Littlefield, Herbert of Shallowater, Jerry of Lubbock and Jack and Billy Bob Hoover, both of California.

Progress seen on housing project

The Post Housing Authority held its March meeting in City Hall Monday night and reviewed progress to date on securing sites for 28 federal housing units to be built here. Luther Harper, administrator for the housing authority, reported that options have been secured and abstracts are now being brought up to date on the location for the white units on South F Street. The authority is awaiting approval by the PHA regional office in Fort Worth before securing site appraisal for the location of the Mexican and Negro units. The authority voted to change its monthly meeting time to the first Tuesday of each month in City Hall. Attending were Chant Lee, Lee Ward, Arnold Parrish, Jim Cornish and Harper. The authority is hopeful of getting construction under way here by mid-summer. Federal funds for the project have been approved.

Unlicensed ones in danger

The new 1963 dog tags, which arrived here several weeks ago, are selling at a slow pace, according to City Secretary Wynelle Holland. Mrs. Holland said yesterday that only five dog tags have been sold to date.

Slow dog tag sales are peril to pets that the stray dog problem is gradually leveling off from the head-ache it once was, but that "it is still with us." Dog owners who want to make sure that their pets aren't picked up, impounded and disposed of, if unclaimed, are warned to have them vaccinated and licensed. The vaccination fee is $2.25. Members of the city police force will do the vaccinating. The $2.25 fee covers the cost of the vaccine, Police Chief Corley said. After the dog is vaccinated, the tag can be purchased at the City Hall for $1.

Post men are high bidders

Post men were high bidders on all cattle and farm equipment and grazing land leases on the four farm units of the O. G. Hamilton estate here last weekend. J. B. Potts, executive vice president of the First National Bank whose trust department is handling the estate, told The Dispatch that a total of 31 bids were received, a lot of interest was shown, and results were very satisfactory. He said a total of $41,600 was raised in the sale and lease bidding. J. W. (Dub) Gray was high bidder on the Canyon Valley farm, the Josey brothers, Roy, R. E., Royce, and L. L. Wright, were high bidders on both the farm north of Post and the unit east of Post on the Clairemont highway. W. J. Huddleston of Post was high bidder on the Lynn County farm unit.

11th annual Bee set for 2 p. m.

The 11th annual Garza County Spelling Bee for students through grade 8, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the district courtroom, with contestants expected from Post Junior High, Justiceburg, Close City and Southland. Two contestants will be eligible from each school, according to County Supt. Dean A. Robinson, who is serving his 11th year as Spelling Bee chairman. The Post Junior High School was to have its elimination contest early this afternoon to determine its two contestants. Robinson announced today that Mrs. Dorothy Bouchier will be pronouncer for the Bee and that Mrs. Helen Livingston, Mrs. Eva Mae Kennedy and Charles Didway will serve as judges. The winner of the Garza County Bee will go on to the regional contest in Lubbock on April 6, from where the winner will go to Washington, D. C., for the national Spelling Bee. The Post Chamber of Commerce again this year will award a total

Stampede, Junior rodeos to combine in one show

Aug. 7-10 are dates set for 1963 event

Directors of Post Stampede, Inc., and the Post Junior Rodeo Association reached an agreement Tuesday night to combine the two rodeos for the 1963 show. The one rodeo will be held Aug. 7, 8, 9 and 10, dates previously set by Post Stampede, Inc., directors for their annual show. The show will combine features

TAG SALES SLOW AT OFFICE HERE

Tax Assessor-Collector T. H. Tipton says business is a little slow at his place and he would like some customers. Tipton and his office deputies are selling 1963 registration plates for motor vehicles. The thing about Tipton's merchandise is that if you don't have them properly displayed on your car or truck by April 1, you can be fined. So Tipton knows he is going to make the sales, he just wants people to come on down to the courthouse these pretty, sunny days because the last two or three days in March may be fairly rushed.

Sports banquet is set for tonight

Post High School's all-sports banquet will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the junior high school gymnasium (old high school gym). Athletic Director Harold Teal announced today. Plans for the banquet have been under way for the last few weeks, but a definite place for the event was not announced until today. "We needed to see how many tickets would be sold before we could decide definitely where to hold the banquet," Teal said. Tickets are to remain on sale until 6 p. m. today. Tickets will not be available at the door Friday night, according to Teal. They may be purchased for $2.50 each at any of the business places displaying banquet posters. "We're still short on tickets for some of the high school athletes to be honored," the athletic director said this morning. He reminds sports fans who will be unable to attend the banquet that the ticket they purchase will admit one of the athletes.

Officer slate is presented Lions

Members of the Post Lions Club, many of them still "sore" from Friday night's benefit basketball game with Beta Sigma Phi sorority members, heard a report from the nominating committee at Tuesday night's regular week meeting. The Lions' new officers will be elected April 9 from the slate nominated by the committee, with nominations also being accepted from the floor at that time. Members of the nominating committee were Dr. John E. Carter, Victor Hudman, Al Norris and Travis Thomas. The Lions had to settle for a 17-17 tie in their basketball game with the sorority members after having some of their points "taken away" because they were made while the members of the sorority team were carrying referee "Flaming Fanniellou" Ramsey from the floor bodily. Both the Lions and sorority members expressed themselves as "well pleased" with the turnout and the proceeds. A crowd of about 300 attended and the net proceeds already are near the $175 mark, with some of the ticket sellers yet to report. The Lions Club and sorority will use the proceeds for their respective community welfare projects.

Dodson's barrow reserve champion

Robert (Pete) Dodson of the Post High School chapter of Future Farmers of America showed the reserve champion Spotted Poland China hog at the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show in Lubbock Tuesday. Young Dodson's reserve champion barrow was bred by the Post FFA chapter. The champion in the Spotted Poland China class was shown by Terry Barton of Abernathy. A number of other Post FFA boys and Garza County 4-H Club members exhibited livestock at the show, but there were no other high placings. Post's FFA chapter and the county's 4-H organization were also represented in the stock show princess contest held Saturday. Vivian McWhirt, chapter sweetheart, represented the FFA and Sherry Bevers represented the 4-H organization.

Land judging is set for Friday

The annual land judging of the Mesa District of the Future Farmers of America will be held in Post at 3 p. m. Friday. The Garza Soil Conservation District and the county's Young Farmers organization will assist in conducting the contest, according to Ike Trimble, FFA chapter advisor. Four fields, selected by Soil Conservation Service personnel, have been selected for the land judging, Trimble said. A plaque for the first place team and individual medals for the three high point judges will be furnished by the SCS. Banners for the first, second and third place teams will be furnished by the FFA district.

One-act play contest at Spur on Tuesday

The Post High School entry in the one-act play contest at Spur next Tuesday will be "Mooncalf Mugford." The six member cast includes Alyn Cox, Jimmy Wells, Cheri Moore, Linda McMahon, Teddy Scott and Kenneth Barnes. Howard Carlyle, speech instructor, is the play director. The play was presented before Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon Tuesday in City Hall.

County's spellers to compete Friday

Kennedy and Charles Didway will serve as judges. The winner of the Garza County Bee will go on to the regional contest in Lubbock on April 6, from where the winner will go to Washington, D. C., for the national Spelling Bee. The Post Chamber of Commerce again this year will award a total of $30 in cash prizes to the three top spellers on the county level. First place will win $15; second place, $10 and third place, $5. Blue ribbons and ball point pens will also be presented the first, second and third place winners. White ribbons will go to all other contestants.

We're boosting state park plan

A bold, new program for the development of Texas' state park system was proposed to a group of legislators in Lubbock Friday.

The program was prepared by Texas Tech with E. J. Lichtenow, the man who planned the city-county park here, as the chief architect. Actually, the program is a 20-year plan which would cost an estimated $200 million over that span.

The plan is to spend approximately $1,000,000 annually for the development of the system. The upkeep of the entire system when completed would cost $1,500,000 (average of 35 cents per visitor) plus what would come back in concessions, etc.

Texas now has a rickety park system of 6,000 mostly undeveloped acres. The Tech plan proposes to add 273,000 acres of more land to bring the total to 435,000 acres. Of this total 100,000 acres would be preserved in its natural state and 235,000 would be developed for recreational purposes.

The recreational portions of the proposed park system would be located within easy access to Texas' 22 metropolitan centers thus putting them close to 85 per cent of the state's population.

It is estimated that by the year 1,000, 75 million persons annually would visit the parks. Such a system would create an annual $200 million tourist business for the state, studies show.

The new state parks program would give Texas a state parks system second to none in the country. It would be paid for on a pay-as-you-go basis and be developed gradually.

The Dispatch is heartily in support of this program for two reasons.

First, is the mushrooming cost of state government we can think of no other project in which the citizens themselves would receive as much for their money. We can think of no project so worthwhile which would reach and be enjoyed by so many people.

Second, Texas must go to work if it is to develop its tourist industry. The park system is a natural lure as are all types of recreational facilities.

The proposed park plan not only fits the needs of our citizens but the development of our tourist business as well.

Most folks who don't come into direct contact with tourists fail to understand the value of tourism to any state. For example, our fine highway system will be much better financed via tourists who pay those state gasoline taxes too. Sales taxes on meals and lodgings provide more such income.

In fact, if the state park system would create the $200 million of new tourist business each year the tourists, almost by themselves, would build and pay for all the new parks.—JC

On writing your congressman

If you're joining the growing trend of writing to your congressman on issues affecting yourself or some organization to which you belong, there are a number of things it wouldn't hurt you to know—if you don't already.

In other words, if you want your appeal to your congressman to get results, you've got to do more than "just write him." Beforehand, you should (1) know your congressman; (2) know your subject; and (3) know the procedures to follow.

Taking these three points one at a time: 1. KNOW YOUR CONGRESSMAN. If you don't, it is more than likely your own fault: a congressman is about the easiest public servant to meet. Up for re-election every other year, he has little time to spend hence work up grass roots support, or find material support. He must continually maintain all of these prerequisites. If he loses these contacts, he will be replaced by a new man who has been "out meeting the people."

When he gets back to his district, he is eager to meet as many constituents as possible. He wants to know you and your problems, even more than you want to know him. Next time your congressman comes home, go to his office and meet him. Then, later when you get in touch with him, he will have a personal feeling about your problems.

2. KNOW YOUR SUBJECT. One Texas congressman has said that of the sackful of mail hauled into a congressman's office every morning, only about one letter in 25 will be from a constituent who really knows his subject.

The congressman has, at best, only three or four staff members to answer about 300 letters a day. They can't tarry trying to explain in detail what the facts are, because tomorrow will bring in another 300 letters. So, the misinformed letter-writer receives a vague but pleasant reply that pleases no one, including the congressman.

3. KNOW THE PROCEDURES TO FOLLOW. Observe all the usual rules of letter-writing, making sure that it is properly addressed, etc. Don't take up the congressman's valuable time or that of his staff members with irrelevant matter; be brief and to the point.

The best evidence, as in court, is your own personal experience. Base your request on what you know from your own experience. Give your congressman facts and figures concisely. Tell him how the issue would affect your own business.

These few time-tested and proved pointers will make any communication you send your congressman more effective.—CD

Automobile thefts made easy

"Criminals are not really deterred by inconvenience. They are willing to work hard to commit a crime," writes J. Edgar Hoover in the current Law Enforcement Bulletin sent to peace officers across the nation.

Automobile theft, in particular, is real easy nowadays, says the nation's chief crime fighter.

American automobile owners operate what amounts to a "red carpet" service for car thieves. Perhaps in no other violation does the criminal have it so easy as in car theft. Much of the time, the thief merely enters the unlocked car, starts the motor with the key found in the ignition, and drives away.

Is it any wonder, then, that automobile thefts were 9 per cent greater in 1962 than the year before?

In 1962, a record high of 228,000 automobiles, valued at $200 million, were stolen.

About 96 per cent of those arrested for auto thefts were persons under 25 years of age. Significantly, approximately 54 per cent of all persons charged with auto theft were referred to juvenile courts.

So, it seems clear that careless drivers who fail to properly secure their automobiles are inviting young people to break the law.

Right now there are probably from 100 to 150 automobiles parked on Post's Main Street. More than likely, only a few of them have their doors locked and most of them have the ignition keys left in the switch.

All of which brings to mind the time-worn saying, "As much of prevention is worth a pound of cure"—CD

The trouble with freshman English

We recently heard a high school administrator bring out a good point in the matter of many college freshmen being sadly deficient in their English classwork.

This high school administrator contends that the fault is not entirely in the high school from which the college freshman graduated.

"If college English professors ever make up their minds as to what is most important in the study of English, then much of the problem can be solved," the high school man said.

He pointed out that in the average college, one freshman English teacher might attach the most importance to creative writing, while across the hall another freshman English teacher might stress grammar, and still another, English Literature.

If the freshman student happens to be in the class where creative writing is stressed and he hadn't attended a high school where his English instructor placed as much emphasis on creative writing, then the student's grades are going to reflect his shortcomings.

On the other hand, the freshman college student might have been under a high school instructor who placed more stress on grammar or on Literature. Hence, his grades would be better if he were in a college class in which the teacher placed the most importance on those phases of English.

It appears that there is plenty of room here for more coordination between high school and college classwork, and its being brought about undoubtedly would do much toward improving the freshman student's progress in college English.—CD

SPRING WAS supposed to have put in its appearance at 3 o'clock this Thursday morning, but since this column is being written well ahead of that time, I can't be sure that spring actually sprung this morning. If it didn't, it'll be the first time, but the stage things are in nowadays you can't tell what is going to change.

Also, if Noah Stone of Post Auto Supply went through with his customary smoke-fire plumb-bob experiment to determine the direction of the wind at sunrise on the first day of spring, we'll have something to tell you in a Dispatch about that. The old Indian legend Noah carries out, you'll remember, is that the direction of the wind at sunrise on the first day of spring tells us what kind of crop year we'll have.

Bethany College choir to sing here March 23

The A Cappella Choir of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla., will appear at the Church of the Nazarene here, 30th Street and Avenue K, at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, March 23, in a concert of sacred music.

The choir, directed by Lester L. Dunn, professor of voice, makes more than 50 appearances each year, including a spring tour of 1,300 miles for 14 concerts. They travel in seven states, including Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas. The choir has given more than 400 concerts and traveled 40,000 miles during the past 16 years of Dunn's leadership.

Thirty-six voices are chosen for the choir each fall through tryouts from the student body of over 1,200. Membership is not limited to students of the Fine Arts Division. They sing from memory a variety of hymn-anthems, sacred classics, spirituals and gospel songs, without accompaniment.

Bethany Nazarene College serves a student body of over 1,200 annually at the 25-acre campus in Bethany, Okla., just northwest of Oklahoma City. Dr. Roy H. Cantrell is president of the school, which is backed by 900 Nazarene churches in its seven-state educational zone.

Four-year degrees are offered in religion, physical sciences, education, social sciences, and humanities. Special attention is given to ministerial training and teacher education. BNC is fully accredited by the North Central Association, the state of Oklahoma, and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Dunn, a graduate of Bethany Nazarene College, received a master's degree in music, majoring in voice, at the University of Oklahoma in 1941. He has also studied at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and the University of Europe. He has participated in several Fred Waring choir workshops. Dunn was honored in 1958 with the "Fellow Award" of the National Association of Teachers of Singing, Inc., Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts. He has been a member of the BNC faculty 28 years.

Rev. Curtis Smith, assistant pastor, is traveling with the choir. He will speak at the concert concerning the college and interview prospective students.

The pastor of the Post Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Kendall White, announced the public is cordially invited to the concert. There is no admission charge.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

RELEASED BY THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

COST-CUTTING IN COTTON GROWING

Cotton is still regarded as King of the south but it is one of the most expensive crops to produce. The first breakthrough of this economic barrier may have been achieved recently during experiments at the High Plains of Texas.

The first unorthodox step was in planting the rows only nine inches apart on irrigated land. Purpose of the nine inch middles was to determine how much cultivation could be eliminated. Cultivation during the growing season to get rid of weeds is a major cost item in cotton production.

The initial tests were conducted at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock. Cotton was planted in the nine-inch rows, instead of the usual 40 inches, and an application was made of a pre-emergence herbicide. On this first experiment, a bumper crop was taken from a one-acre plot without a single cultivation.

The close row spacing produced plants that were more ideally adapted to stripper harvesting than plants grown in 40-inch rows. The closely spaced plants were short and had few branches and thin stems.

THE EXPERIMENTS were conducted primarily for the High Plains of Texas and Oklahoma where stripper harvesters are in fairly common use. These machines harvest cotton by stripping both mature and immature bolls from the plant.

Both the narrow-row and the wide-row plots in the experiment were sprinkler irrigated three times with three inches of water. The water activated the herbicide and aided seed germination. Both plots received the same fertilizer treatment—80 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds of phosphorus per acre applied before planting.

Close plantings may not work in the humid areas of Texas and the South where boll rot is a problem, however. These growing conditions may be tested by this method later. And tests have not yet been made on the harvested cotton's spinning quality.

Nevertheless, for certain areas of Texas where irrigation is available, the experiment may be a significant factor in reducing the high costs of cotton production.

'Bon Voyage' is feature at Tower

Moviefans who like their screenfare light and breezy and loaded with laughs have a real entertainment treat in store for them at Walt Disney's rollicking new Technicolor romantic-comedy, "Bon Voyage," now showing through Saturday at the Tower Theatre.

Based on the delightful best-seller, "Bon Voyage" is the story of a typical American family's misadventures on their first European "dream vacation."

A glittering array of talent comprises the cast, headed by Fred McMurray and Jane Wyman. Others include Deborah Walley, Michael Callan, Tommy Kirk and Jessie Royce Landis.

RECORD MOON FLIGHT STRUCTURE

New moon flight facilities for Cape Canaveral, shown in artist's rendering above, are now being designed by a combine of four New York City architectural and engineering firms. The 360-foot tall space vehicles, destined to take American astronauts to the moon, will be erected and checked out in the immense assembly building and then transported three miles to the launch pad.

CPI supports research on penetration of cotton leaves by certain chemicals

LUBBOCK — Research on how to get certain chemicals to penetrate surfaces of cotton leaves in a way that will help growers fight insect and other problems more effectively is now under way at Stanford Research Institute.

A $35,000 grant for the project was announced today by Roy Forkner of Lubbock and LeRoy Durham of Plainview, Cotton Producers Institute trustees for West Texas. Research support by the Institute, as well as a consumer advertising campaign, is aimed at increasing markets and profits for growers.

In the project, researchers are investigating cotton leaf surfaces in an effort to determine how and why leaves may or may not absorb specific types of systemic chemicals, especially insecticides. Initially, the research will be concerned with naturally occurring variations of chemical and physical properties of the cuticle, a thin film on the surface of the leaf, as they affect entry of applied chemicals into the plant.

The project will complement basic and applied research on systemic insecticides now being done under an Institute grant at the University of California, Riverside.

Development of an effective method for foliar penetration and absorption of insecticides would be a boost for growers. It would enable them to put needed quantities of chemicals on plants at the right time for improved protection from pests. It also may broaden the range of chemicals offering promise for use as systemic.

An Institute agreement with the Board of Directors of the National Cotton Council make the Council staff available without charge for developing and servicing research and promotion projects.

SIX FLAGS OPENING

The 1963 season for Six Flags Over Texas will commence on Saturday, April 20. The third operating year for the historical theme park, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, has been set up to begin on a Saturday and Sunday basis only until June 1. For the months of June, July and August, Six Flags will be open seven days a week. Following Labor Day in September and continuing through Dec. 1, the park will revert to a weekends only operation.

The Storie Ranch received one of 46 memberships issued to breeders of registered Aberdeen-Angus in Texas during the past month.

It's the Law in TEXAS

HISTORY OF WILLS

Courts see that your intention of "will" as to property is carried out after you die. Before then you may revoke or change it any time. The passing of property to heirs is one of man's oldest transactions. As far back as the Egyptian, Assyrian and Jewish civilizations, we have wills written and witnessed on papyrus, clay tablets, etc. In one will an early testator left some of his property to his wife and named a guardian for his children. The Hammurabi code (2100 B. C.) permitted a father by deed to favor his son.

Under early Roman law the head of a house could tell the patrician assembly his wishes, but later Roman law favored a written will to keep the testator's plans secret until death. It also favored having a firm record of his wishes, not resting on memory.

By 1200 A. D. England, where we got our law of wills, was quite well advanced: The church courts (like our probate courts) supervised disposition of property according to a "testament" of how the testator wanted his property to go.

Church courts supervised personal property (movables like armor or personal effects); land was passed on by wills which the king's court handled. Hence today we speak of "last will and testament" since English courts came to pass on both real and personal property, so that one court could handle the whole estate.

English church courts had "executors" who carried out one's testament. To die "intestate" (without a testament) was almost like dying unconfessed. Sometimes the church in the interests of a man's soul could give some of the man's goods to others besides his family. Then, as now, some property had to be left to the surviving wife and children.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

PRESBYTERY MEETING

The Rev. Ed Herring and Elder Burney Francis are attending a meeting of the Plains Presbytery at Childress today. Rev. Herring is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church and Mr. Francis is a church officer.

Potato-Cheese Sauce For Chops

Superb sauces hold the key to successful meat cookery, so the wise homemaker is the one who seeks out new recipes to give meals new flavor and added glamor. One such sauce that is extra-delicious served over broiled lamb chops has been developed by the Borden Kitchen. The easy-to-make sauce combines two convenience foods—cheese slices and instant whipped potatoes. The instant whipped potatoes, which come in 8-servings and 16-servings packages, can be prepared in as little as six minutes. This sauce-meat combination is a real food for fitness. It contains worthwhile amounts of health-giving vitamins, minerals and proteins.

Lamb Chops In Potato-Cheese Sauce
(Makes 6 cups sauce—enough for 1/2 cup sauce per chop or six servings)
12 rib or loin lamb chops 3 cups (two 6-oz. pkgs.) shredded pasteurized process Gruyere cheese slices
1-1/2 cups (4 servings) instant whipped potato flakes 1 tablespoon salt
3-1/3 cups (two 14-1/2-oz. cans) evaporated milk, undiluted 1 teaspoon white pepper
1 cup white wine, optional

Broil lamb chops. In a medium-size saucepan, prepare 4 servings of instant whipped potatoes according to package directions. Set aside. Pour milk into a large saucepan. Place over medium heat until milk is hot. DO NOT BOIL. Add cheese, salt, pepper and potatoes. Cook, stirring constantly until cheese melts and sauce is well blended. Stir in wine. Cook an additional five minutes—stir occasionally. Serve piping hot over lamb chops.

Absentee voting is going slow

Two absentee ballots had been cast in the city election and none in the school election up to 3 p. m. yesterday.

Absentee ballots for the city election, which is April 2, are to be cast at the City Hall, with the deadline for voting absentee three days before the election.

Those wishing to vote absentee for the April 6 school election may do so at the county clerk's office, with the deadline also three days before the election.

City voters are to elect a mayor and two councilmen in the April 2 election. Candidates for mayor are Harold Lucas and John N. Hopkins. The candidates for the two council seats are J. B. Potts, Ed Sawyers, Bob Collier, Frank Blanton and Chant D. Lee.

Two school trustees are to be elected April 6 from among candidates Malcolm T. Bull, Martin Nichols, Wallace Simpson and Virgil Bilbo.

School count in Garza drops 15

The number of Garza County scholastics enumerated in the 1962 school census is down 15 from last year's count, it was reported today from the office of County Supt. Dean A. Robinson.

The 1963 total is 1,747 as compared with the 1962 total of 1,762. Scholastics in the Southland school district are 216 as compared with 208 last year, a gain of eight. The Justiceburg district has 42 scholastics this year as compared to last year's 35, a gain of seven. The Post-Independent School District is down 26—from 1,441 last year to 1,426 this year. The Close City school district has 74 scholastics as compared with last year's 78—a decrease of four.

Profit sharing plan announced by Burlington

NEW YORK, N. Y. — A profit sharing retirement plan for wage employees was announced today by Burlington Industries, leading textile manufacturing company.

The new program, approved by the Board of Directors in a meeting here today, is designed to provide retirement benefits for non-salaried employees who are eligible under terms of the plan.

Charles F. Myers, Jr., president, said that "the purpose of the profit sharing retirement program is to provide additional security for our employees, and to create greater awareness of the importance of profits and of our employees' contribution to profitable operations."

Details of the new plan were not disclosed, pending full explanation to employees at the Company's many plant locations. However, it is understood the plan is effective immediately, and that each year, subject to profits will be contributed by the Company to a bank trustee, to be held and invested for benefit of the participating employees.

A company spokesman said the profit-sharing plan, had it been in effect during the Company's 1962 fiscal year, would have required a contribution of approximately $3,800,000.

District is down 26—from 1,441 last year to 1,426 this year. The Close City school district has 74 scholastics as compared with last year's 78—a decrease of four.

Plans completed for Good Friday

The Good Friday service, sponsored by the Post Ministerial Alliance, will be held from 12:30 to 1:15 p. m. April 12 at the First Baptist Church. It was decided Tuesday at the regular monthly meeting of the ministerial group.

Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, was named president of the Alliance to replace the Rev. Ed Herring, First Presbyterian pastor, who resigned the office.

Announcement was made at the meeting of two singing groups that will appear at local churches. The A Cappella Choir from Bethany College, Bethany, Okla., will sing at the Church of the Nazarene at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, March 23. The McMurry College Chanters from Abilene will sing at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. April 5.

Automobile fire at Graham extinguished

The Post Volunteer Fire Department answered an alarm from the Graham community late Monday afternoon to put out a blaze in a 1956 model automobile owned by Elmer D. Jones.

The firemen have also answered two grass fire alarms in the last few days, but neither of the fires was as big as the grass fires of the previous week.

Texas theme is carried out in club's program

The Amity Study Club carried out the "Texas" theme in its program when they met March 12 in the Community Room. Mrs. Jack Burruss and Mrs. Russell Wilks Jr. were hostesses.

Mrs. V. L. Peel, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Plans were discussed for the club's fund-raising project—a beauty contest—to be held in April. Mrs. Thurman Francis is chairman of the contest committee. The district convention to be held in Lubbock at the Pioneer Hotel March 29 and 30 was also discussed.

Roll call was answered with members naming Texas' greats. Mrs. Pat N. Walker gave a resume of Texas' poet laureates, and Mrs. C. H. Hartel gave an interesting talk on J. Frank Dobie, a Texas writer and a weekly columnist for leading Texas newspapers.

Those attending were: Mmes. Ronald Babb, W. C. Bush, Bob Macy, Wayne Carpenter, Leo Cobb, Marion Duncan, Thurman Francis, George Miller, Peel, Lorene Scarbrough, Walker, Charles Black, Tom Greenwood, Jack Gray, Darrell Stone, and the hostesses.

Next meeting will be in the Reddy Room March 26.

Jim Rogers new P-TA president
Jim Rogers, pharmacist at Bob Collier Drug, was elected president of the Parent-Teacher Association for the 1963-64 year last Thursday when P-TA met in the Junior High library for a called business meeting at 4 o'clock.

He will succeed Phil Crenshaw who has held the office for two years.

Other officers elected for the new term are: Jack Alexander, vice president; Mrs. Wanda Potts, secretary; Mrs. Joy Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Raphael, historian, and Mrs. Betty Yancey, parliamentarian.

The slate of officers was presented by Herb Smith, chairman of the nominating committee. His committee members were Mrs. Jim Peel, Mrs. Betty Jo Bilbo, Don Marth and Jack Alexander.

Mrs. B. D. Litton served cookies and coffee to those present.

Mrs. Lew Baker is Fellowship hostess
The Christian Woman's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met Monday afternoon at 2:30 in the church parlor with Mrs. Lew Baker as hostess.

After Mrs. Hub Haire opened the meeting with prayer, Mrs. Charles Luttrell gave the worship service. Mrs. Lee Davis Sr. was in charge of the lesson taken from the Old Testament discussing chapters, 28, 30 and 39 from Exodus. Mrs. Davis also gave the answers from "World Call."

Those present included a guest, Mrs. Lillian Tizard, and the following members: Mmes. Jack Bures, Haire, Luttrell, Davis, Janie Davis, K. Stoker, Ida Robinson, F. C. Barker, Willard Kirkpatrick, J. B. Jones and Max Mitchell.

It's My Turn ...

—By MRS. C.

I'm so sorry that Mrs. H. A. Thurlo got bitten by a mouse last week and has to take a series of rabies shots. If anyone had to be bitten I wish it could have been a member of the male sex.

I've been terrified of the darn things for years knowing full well that they'd bite and have received all sorts of jeers from any male around. (Mostly, Mr. C.) I turn into a completely feminine female at the sight of one and have wrangled more than a few dinner invitations out because of knowing one was in the kitchen under an appliance of one kind or another.

Even the Misses Cs scoff at my fear and I've found artificial mice of all kinds hidden in appropriate spots around the house. I'd much rather have a snake in the house than a rodent of any kind and I'm glad to know that my fears are not entirely groundless.

I broke into a loud chuckle last week while punching the Pleasant Valley news. Mrs. Max Chaffin wrote that a Mrs. Jim Hall was admitted to the hospital when the Post Dispatch hit the newsstand. I realized that we might make a few people sick but heaven forbid that we cause anyone to be hospitalized. Our deepest apologies, Mrs. Hall. Hope we didn't cause anything too serious!

I hope Ed Warren will forgive me for printing the following bit from a paper dated in March of 1948. I just couldn't resist the temptation on finding this piece while gathering up the "Yesteryears" material.

We all have our bad days when interruptions can drive you out of your mind so I feel I know what prompted this blast-off. Here we go:

(Quote) Notice to school teachers: The Post Dispatch is happy to

Couple honored at '42' party
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barton, who are leaving to make their home in McCaulley next week after residing in the Barnum Springs community for 16 years, were honored in that community with a "42" party last Friday night.

Homemade cookies, cake and coffee were served to the 14 couples attending.

The community presented the honored couple with a table and the Barnum Springs Home Demonstration Club made them a gift of a table lamp.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams and Quay, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Long, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Pennell, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ray, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Pierce and daughter, Mrs. Velma Long and Mrs. June Hemp-hill and Mrs. M. H. Barton and children of Lubbock.

cooperate with the Garza County schools in every way possible, including providing—whenever available—cardboard for poster assignments.

But the Post Dispatch staff is not adequate to wait on hundreds of school children who call at the office one at a time for a sheet of cardboard in a single day, as they did yesterday.

It is suggested that a teacher assigning posters to students call in advance at the Post Dispatch and buy cardboard which she can resell to the students.

The Post Dispatch believes this plan will save trouble for its own employees and also for the students and their parents. (Unquote)

I mean you can tell that somebody had had it up to here and didn't care who knew it.

We have solved this problem by bringing the poster board up front on those rush days and yelling, "Thick or thin?" (that means 10 or 20 cent) before most of the students have a chance to say what they are there for. It's usually the tag end of the day when they hit and we enjoy seeing those care-free faces, so keep right on coming in.

It's an amusing thing about posterboard. Most customers, including parents, make the measurements with their hands before even saying what they want, and seem to be grateful that we understand sign-language. Another thing I've noticed, the kids just buy one sheet but most mothers play it smart and buy two sheets to save a trip back for a ruined one!

I'm always running across items when writing the "Yesteryears" and wondering if some one would really like to have certain things repeated in the paper. Just last week, I saw, while scanning the society page, that Mrs. Pat N. Walker had danced the Irish jig at a club meeting for the St. Patrick's Day program five years ago. I decided (perhaps wrongly) that Mrs. Walker maybe would rather not be reminded of that day so left it out of "Five Years Ago."

I feel I must explain to some one about a phone call to the Post Dispatch a few weeks ago. I don't know to whom I am apologizing but want to explain that I am only human and not a bit psychic.

We have two lines coming into our office but really only one number. If 2816 is busy when one calls, the phone automatically flips over to 2817. Naturally if both lines are being used, one gets a busy signal. If 2816 is not being used and the phone rings on 2817, we know right away that it is a wrong number. The wrong number is usually Post-tex Mills whose number is 2818.

Feeling a bit devilish one day when the phone rang on 2817, I answered not by saying, "Post Dispatch," but by saying, "I'm sorry you have the wrong number." I took advantage of the silence on the other end for a good minute and further mystified the party by saying, "You were probably dialing 2818." All I got was a few splutters and a quiet click in my ear.

Bride-elect honored Monday Community Room shower

Community Room was the scene for a bridal shower honoring Mrs. Sharon Kay Moore, bride-elect of Douglas T. Rodden, Monday, March 18.

The receiving line were the bride, Mrs. Noah Stone Sr., Mrs. Moore, Mrs. John V. Rodden and her daughter, Janice, of Lubbock.

Mrs. Moore chose a pale blue striped dress enhanced with an orchid corsage. Mrs. N. W. Stone Jr., sister of the bride-elect, registered the flowers.

Flowers were used throughout the room. A cutwork cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with an arrangement of pink and white flowers carrying out the colors of the honoree.

Squares, nuts, mints and a nut were served to the guests.

Mrs. Eckols is chapter hostess
Louise Simpson gave the program on "The Church of the Day Saints," when Xi Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night in the Community Room.

Mrs. Mary Eckols was hostess for the meeting. A benefit bridge held last Saturday in the Community Room was quite successful.

Those attending were: Mrs. Sue Cornell, Bernice Eubank, Johnny Francis, Joan Hill, Mitchell, Shirley Moore, Joanne Louise Simpson and the hostess, Mrs. Mary Eckols.

Japan trip plans are told class
The Amiga Class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday night at the Community Room at 7:30 and enjoyed a program by those planning to be a part of the New Life Movement in Japan.

Mrs. C. B. Hogue, Mrs. Wesley Scott and Mrs. James R. Matthews told of their preparations for the trip. All of the couples will leave at different times and serve in different places.

The Scotts will leave April 6 to work for three weeks in Fukunaka, and the Matthews will leave April 10 to work in Saga for three weeks and with the Hagues in Imabari for two weeks.

Mrs. Homer McCrary, Mrs. L. P. Kennedy Jr., Mrs. Leo Cobb and Mrs. Glenn Potts were hostesses and served cherry pie, punch and coffee to the group.

Others attending were: Mmes. Frank Runkles, Ben Ault, Pat Blacklock, Bailey Matsler, Ray N. Smith, Tom Williams, Winnie Henderson, Louie Burkes, Wayne Pennington, Lowell Short and Marvin Hudman.

W. H. Shaws hosts to weekend company
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shaw of 110 East 4th St. were hosts over the weekend to a number of their children and grandchildren.

The Shaws' visitors were their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Green of Fort Worth; also the following children and families of Post: Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Shaw and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shaw and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Warren and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Ammons and children, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Seals and daughter.

Also present were grandchildren Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roy Seals, Mr. Leslie Seals.

They all went to the Clarence Warren home for dinner Sunday and then went to the Little League Park to play ball.

'Okinawa' program at church circle meeting
The Naomi Circle of the First Methodist Church met last Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. W. R. Graeber at 9:30.

Continuing the study, "On Asia's Rim," Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mrs. J. E. Parker and Mrs. Homer J. Irons presented the program on "Okinawa."

Mrs. Graeber, the study leader, gave the devotional. Scotch bread, fruit tarts and coffee were served to the following members:

Mmes. Jim Hindley, Joe Callis, R. T. Smith, Darrell Eckols, Buerger, Parker, Irons and Edwards.

Couple hosts Saturday night to seniors at cafeteria meal

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams were hosts for a dinner Saturday night at 6 o'clock honoring the Post High School senior class in their cafeteria.

The serving tables were covered with white cloths with floral arrangements donated by The Flower Shop carrying out the class color scheme of white and orchid. Two silhouettes of graduates were featured at the head table.

Mrs. Williams welcomed the students and Glenn Polk made a "thank you" speech for the class. The dinner menu consisted of steak, creamed potatoes and gravy, green beans, tossed salad, hot rolls, cherry cobbler and iced tea.

Misses Carol Hodges, Jaquita Box, Linda McMahon, Margie Harrison, Diane Maxey and Judy Balentine, junior Home Ec students, served.

Other invited guests were the class sponsors. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. John May. Seniors attending were:

Diana Bias, Stanna Butler, Janie Carradine, Chris Cornish, Alyn Cox, Gayle Heaton, Vonda Howell, Willa Hoyle, Glenda Hutto, Marianne Jones, Norma Julian, Susanne Krause, Cheri Moore, Ann Pennington.

Club planning family party
Plans for a family party were made when the Mystic Sewing Club met with Mrs. Lillie Short last Friday.

The party will be held March 28 in the Southland School lunchroom with Mrs. Mary Ellis and Mrs. Winnie Henderson as hostesses.

Mrs. Short served sandwiches, pickles, olives, lemon pie, coffee and Cokes to the following: Mmes. Eva Bailey, Ellis, Henderson, Jimmie Hudman, Thelma Kuykendall, Estlea Nichols, Aylene Runkles, Mae Shipley, Nell Windham, Cecil Gray and Miss Henrietta Nichols.

Rebecca Circle meets at Methodist Church
Mrs. R. A. Moore was the study leader when the Rebecca Circle met at the First Methodist Church for its study of "Today's Children for Tomorrow's World."

Assisting with the program were Mrs. Charlie Voss, Mrs. Tillman Jones and Mrs. L. G. Thuet Sr.

Others present were: Mmes. Don Osborn, Jimmie Redman, Waggoner Johnson, Jess Rogers and A. M. Lucas.

Club pieces quilt top for March 12 hostess
Members of the Merry-makers Club pieced a quilt top for their hostess, Mrs. Clarence Martin, March 12.

Plans were made to meet with Mrs. Scott Storie and quilt a quilt for her March 26. This will also be gift day.

Refreshments were served for Mmes. J. F. Storie, Nels Crisp, Wren Cross, Arthur Floyd, Percy Priniz, L. H. Peel, Boe Wheatley, Alice Parsons, Bonnie Adamson, and Alma Sims.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NO PLACE TO GO

All dressed up, the expression goes, and no place to go. These boys are hardly "dressed up." But the rest of the description fits them perfectly.

They are two of the millions of American children who are growing up WITHOUT A CHURCH. Boys with the God-given right to grow up in faith . . . with the American right to worship God freely according to the dictates of their own conscience. But someone hasn't understood their rights.

Parents who make no provision for their children's religious education are, in effect, robbing these children of the most precious heritage of every American. Grownups who, by the tell-tale example of indifference, encourage boys and girls to emulate the Godlessness that the Iron Curtain seeks to foster are undermining the spiritual substance of our nation.

No more serious problem faces America today than the children who on Sunday morning in a land of churches have no place to go.

Honestly, now, are you creating the problem—or helping to conquer it?

SHAMROCK TO HOST ROTARY CONFERENCE

Shamrock, Tex., will be host April 4-6 to the annual conference of District 573, Rotary International. The Post Rotary Club will be represented with its president-elect, James Mitchell, slated to be one of those attending. From left to right in the picture are Tom Harrison, president of the Shamrock Rotary Club; Floyd Stark, district governor, and Marvin Tindall, conference chairman. Forty-five Rotary clubs in the Texas Panhandle comprise District 573.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

Availability of pesticides is one of benefits of today's Space Age

Today is not only the Space Age, One of the main benefits of living in this chemical age is availability of numerous pesticides. They have been essential for the improvement of our agricultural output and therefore for raising our standard of living. Also, these pesticides have been helpful in the control of many insect borne diseases. Unfortunately, the most effective pesticides are often the most toxic and precautions against them the most difficult to enforce. In 1962, 13 Texans died as a result of mis-handling of these toxic materials. With the increased use of these highly toxic materials, both at home and in industry, it is essential that we stress safety measures at every opportunity. Listed below are some important points to remember when handling and using toxic insecticides.

Ginners of state will make award to 4-H Club boy

A Hale County 4-H Club member, 17-year-old Dale McEachern, will receive a $100 award for outstanding cotton production in Dallas, April 2.

Presentation of the award will be made at the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association annual convention, according to Wilmer Smith, New Home, president. The ginners organization sponsors the award in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service.

McEachern harvested two bales of cotton to the acre in 1962 to climax a seven year project with cotton. His production history—never below a bale an acre on his five acre demonstration plot—coupled with his participation in research projects to earn him the honor.

Club members from all cotton growing areas of the state entered records in the contest. Extension Service personnel under 4-H director Floyd Lynch at Texas A&M College selected the winner.

McEachern has participated in such research experiments as a water cut-off date investigation by the Lubbock Experiment Station. He also has cooperated in the field testing of several new cotton varieties.

Although he is quick to adopt the latest practices to increase his yields and quality, McEachern admits "It is a lot easier to make a good crop when the severe weather misses you."

He has seen hail destroy one crop and weather severely damage another. The hailed-out cotton was not counted on his record.

McEachern grows cotton on the family farm and plans to continue farming when he completes his college education. He's a senior at Plainview High School and the son of William T. McEachern.

Dramatic 'Days of Wine and Roses' film to open Sunday, Tower Theatre atching a daringly different love story, "Days of Wine and Roses," starring Jack Lemmon and Lee Remick, opens Sunday at the Tower Theatre and continues through Tuesday. The no-holds-barred romantic drama probes the terrifying, tangled triangle of a handsome young married couple and their bout with the bottle.

Heretofore renowned for his brilliant comedy performances, Lemmon in a virtuoso change of pace portrays a go-getting public relations man who suddenly discovers he and his lovely wife have unwittingly become alcoholics, plunging headlong toward self-destruction.

Miss Remick, whose shimmering talent and ability to suggest a simmering sexuality beneath an almost child-like innocence have skyrocketed her to stardom, plays the wholesome young girl who disintegrates into a drink-sodden wife

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.

You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa.

The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense?

Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Tailgate chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.

...BIG REASON FOR ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYING

Tiny tots are lots of fun as they take their first steps or say their first words. But, there's a "catch" — just as in all good things — and the catch is hard work. It's hard work to wash and dry diapers and baby's clothes but not if you have an electric clothes washer and dryer.

Reddy does the hard work of washing and drying. And baby's clothes and diapers come out of the electric dryer so-o-o clean that they're a delight to hold against your skin.

Yes, baby IS a big reason for an electric clothes dryer — a most delightful reason to be sure.

What They Wore... by PHYLLIS JOYCE

DURING WOODROW WILSON'S ADMINISTRATION, WOMEN WERE DRESSING LIKE IRENE CASTLE AND DANCING THE CASTLE WALK.

WITH THE START OF WORLD WAR I, MANY AMERICAN WOMEN PACKED AWAY THEIR FRIVOLOUS CLOTHES AND DONNED UNIFORMS SUCH AS THIS RED CROSS FIELD WORKER, AND JOINED IN THE WAR EFFORT.

WAR DID NOT STOP ALL THE PLAY AND SWIMMING WAS A FAVORITE SPORT OF THE DAY. BATHING SUITS BECAME SHORTER BUT STILL HAD LONG SLEEVES.

TODAY... WHEN BUYING WOMEN'S OR GIRLS' APPAREL LOOK FOR THIS LABEL—THE SYMBOL OF DECENT, FAIR LABOR STANDARDS AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

By Garza County chapter

Disaster relief report of Red Cross received

The American Red Cross last year conducted 336 major disaster relief operations, the Garza County Red Cross Chapter reported today. In these, nearly 550,000 persons received emergency food, clothing and medical help and 33,600 families received long-term recovery assistance.

An analysis of the nation-wide Red Cross disaster relief activities for fiscal 1961-62, just received here, shows that the ARC spent $12,928,305 to help victims of natural disasters. The aid ranged from emergency care to the repair or rebuilding and refurbishing of homes.

The catastrophes — hurricanes, floods, tornadoes, and fires—killed 585 persons, injured 17,178 others, destroyed 5,394 homes and damaged a total of 96,400 dwellings.

Reflected in the statistics are figures for Hurricane Carla, which struck the Texas coast in September 1961, and the Mid-Atlantic coastal storm of March 1962.

The biggest relief operation was Carla, during which the Red Cross spent about $5,600,000 to provide mass care to 383,030 persons and rehabilitation aid to 17,539 families. Red Cross relief efforts for the Mid-Atlantic coastal storm exceeded $1,000,000 for long-term aid to 3,279 families and emergency help to over 25,000 persons.

Disaster relief was carried on by 534 chapters in 49 states and one unsular territory during the 12-month period. Of the 336 relief operations, 209 followed fires, 37 floods, and 30 tornadoes.

The other categories were 14 for other storms, two for hurricanes, and 24 for such catastrophes as transportation wrecks and explosions.

Congress has charged the Red Cross with the role of the nation's official volunteer disaster relief agency. In its congressional charter, the agency is made responsible for carrying on a disaster preparedness program as well as providing relief to victims.

The Red Cross defines emergency relief as food, clothing, shelter and medical assistance in the period immediately following a disaster. Long-term or rehabilitation aid is help in the repair, rebuilding or refurbishing of homes, assistance with medical costs arising from disaster-caused injuries, occupational supplies, and equipment for small businesses suffering losses in a disaster. Such help meet needs which the victims cannot meet with their own resources.

All Red Cross aid is given without charge. It is designed to close the gap between what a stricken family can do for itself and what is needed to return it to normal living.

In carrying out its relief program, the Red Cross works with civil defense, local, state, and other federal agencies. Should a disaster be of such magnitude that the Red Cross chapter in the community is unable to cope with the problem, skilled Red Cross disaster relief specialists and funds from the national organization are quickly made available.

Postcards save time and money

Sheriff Fay Claborn says his new postcard system of notification of both jurors and grand jurors for jury duty is going to save the county both time and money, besides saving jurors time as well.

His new postcard notification to jurors contains a listing of persons who are disqualified to serve or who have a legal exemption from serving. The back of the card has space for an affidavit for those taking their legal exemptions from jury duty.

This saves the exempted jurors from answering the jury call on the opening day of court, taking the exemption then, and saves the

Victorian Era is showcase feature

The Victorian Era is the theme of the English IV showcase. Two showcases are filled brimful with the choice English IV class projects for this semester.

There are drawings of Victorian authors, machinery invented in that era, Victorian musical instruments, a Victorian house, maps showing where the important authors of that time lived, and drawings of the different coats of arms. There is a chart of Victorian English Literature. Dolls are dressed in the Victorian costume and even a Victorian school is recreated with styrofoam and dolls. The furniture of that era is represented by a miniature chair.

Posters showing Victorian architecture and fox hunting are also included.

Linda Floyd is a new student

Post High added a new student from Fort Worth this week. Her name is Linda Floyd. She is 5'2", has auburn red hair, and dark brown eyes. She is living with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Floyd.

Before Linda moved here she attended Everman High School in Fort Worth. Linda was Sophomore favorite sophomore vice-president, and was elected third most beautiful girl in school in Fort Worth. Linda was serving on the Student Council for her second year. She was cheerleader her Freshman year and also cheerleader in the 7th and 8th grades.

Linda is classified as a Sophomore and is taking English II, World History, Algebra I Home-making II, and P. E.

Linda says she loves the school because the kids and teachers are so friendly. Linda likes Algebra I and her favorite teacher is Coach Gregg. She loves to eat hamburgers and said that she likes red and black best because it's the only color she looks good in (but we know different).

The student who impressed Linda most her first day was Diane Borgman. She was friendly and helpful, which Linda, as a stranger, appreciated very much.

Welcome to our school, Linda!

This 'n' That

The Senior Class want to thank Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams for the wonderful supper Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford, Royce and Mrs. Leola Williams of Lamesa visited Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Williams, Mary Alice, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fleming Sunday.

Congratulations to Susie Jo Schmidt and Dee Ann Walker on becoming president and vice president of the Student Council for the 1963-64 school year.

N. R. King and Wendell visited in Welch.

Friday the 22nd there will be an all-sports banquet honoring the varsity athletes of PHS. Admission is $2.50. Let's all buy a ticket and honor our athletes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. John May attended the Senior supper Saturday night.

We hear that some of the students walked three or four miles over the weekend, but no more 50-mile hikes were attempted.

Mrs. Dan Yandell, Joanne and Dana Sue of Odessa visited Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fleming over the weekend.

Barbara Craig played volleyball at Wilson Saturday night. She played with the "Hill Tops" from Lubbock. They won first place and received a beautiful trophy.

Wanda Williams and Linda Rogers visited in Snyder Saturday.

Wonder why Doyle, Tony, and Sammy didn't attempt again to ride their bikes 50 miles. It is a little farther than you thought it was. Right, boys?

Mary Alice Cleveland was lonesome after Walt McCoy went back to Abilene.

Norma sure does have a pretty new cedar chest. Wonder who gave it to her? Pat?

"Iceland," wrote Danny on his test paper, "is about the same size as my teacher."

The National Honor Society's showcase is honoring their new members. The basis for selection of these members was citizenship, scholarship, leadership and service. Fifteen per cent were chosen from the Senior class, 10 per cent from the Junior class, and 5 per cent from the Sophomore class.

Susie Schmidt, Dee Ann Walker to head Council

By Gary Brewer
Last Thursday the Post High School elected Student Council president and vice president for the coming school year.

The president was Susie Jo Schmidt, a senior, and vice president was Dee Ann Walker, who will be a junior.

To be eligible for candidacy each student had to have three teachers and five students sign his ballot and then they could run for either office.

The new president and vice president will take the place of James Mitchell and Starna Butler, who now occupy the positions, and who will graduate this year.

Children in the first five grades are about to finish all the books the library has on their level, loaned by the state; therefore, they will be looking for more books for summer reading.

Army mobile unit visits high school

Wednesday, March 13, a United States Army mobile unit visited Post High School during the noon hour and fourth period.

The mobile unit is a small traveling museum. It displayed equipment that was used by the Army from the frontier days up to the present time. Some of the more outstanding things displayed were a book of firing regulations, a Cavalry bugle, a Colt pistol and other equipment used during the U. S. Indian campaigns.

Equipment used by Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders and equipment used during the Civil War were also shown. Included among the equipment used during the World Wars I and II were a gas mask, a trench knife, a hand grenade, and a radio receiver and transmitter.

Whole beef hamburgers new Dairy Hart feature

Toby Thomas, new proprietor of this week—"whole beef hamburger" at the Dairy Hart at 412 North Broadway. Toby explains that he purchases whole beef and has it all ground for his busy drive-in.

up for his hamburger at the Jackson Brothers Food Locker here. You've heard of whole hog sausage, well this is whole beef hamburger meat.

"It makes a mighty tasty difference," says Toby. "Come on out and see for yourself."

Thomas says he is planning to raise his own beef in the future and have it butchered at Jackson Brothers.

Toby, in being interviewed for the feature story of The Dispatch's March Business Page this week, said that the bulk of a drive-in restaurant's business is food.

"We have our regular dinner and supper runs, but we find that people also snack all through the day," Thomas, a relative newcomer to Post, said.

The Dairy Hart pulls quite a bit of highway trade, heavier in the summer of course than in the winter, as well as a lot of local trade.

Toby said Sundays are different though. People drive around a lot on Sundays "so we have a lot of soft drink business."

You'd be surprised—at least Toby was—by the amount of "call in" business too. Thomas said people call up for say a sack of seven or eight basket burgers (hamburgers with french fries) or for several steak sandwiches in baskets (with french fries).

Toby figures this is part of the new American leisure—to call in and order food for the family, pick it up a few minutes later, and then serve it five minutes after that back home on the family dinner table.

Teenagers stick mostly to the hamburgers and french fries, Toby reports. In fact a large percentage of the Dairy Hart's food sales are in hamburgers, steak sandwiches, and french fries.

"But we have enough demand for fish, chicken, and shrimp to carry it regularly on our menu and have it on hand for quick serving," Thomas said.

Coffee isn't such a big item of drive-in fare, Toby says.

Right now he's finding out what his local customers like best.

Strangely enough, Toby first got into the drive-in restaurant business "working his way through college." He paid his way through a year at Texas Tech working in a drive-in and also met college expenses at Abilene Christian College at Abilene by working in a drive-in there.

Toby went into army service after college, serving some 37 months at Travis Air Force Base in California and Fort Richardson in Alaska.

After service, Toby was employed by the Rexall Chemical Co. at Odessa, but kept wanting to "get into business for myself." So it was only natural that he would turn to the drive-in restaurant business.

The Thomas family includes his wife, Helen, and two youngsters, Elizabeth, 5, and Roberta, 2. Toby is still looking for a family home for them here.

The Thomases are members of the Church of Christ.

Toby is offering some "get acquainted specials" to run through the weekend in his big ad on this business page today. He invites everyone who hasn't to stop in and see him and try his food and service.

And those who have been out to the Dairy Hart, he urges you to come back again—and soon.

Oh yes, Toby has the "same hours" too as Shorty did at the Dairy Hart. Weekdays he's open from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on Sundays from 2 p. m. to 10 p. m. The Dairy Hart is closed each Wednesday.

The Dispatch's
March

Thomas, who purchased the Dairy Hart from Shorty Duncan in late February, is very enthusiastic about his new home town.

"I've found Post to be the friendliest town I've ever lived in," Thomas says. "All our customers are really nice. And the teenagers are A-1 here."

Thomas says he has lived in a good number of towns and Post tops them all for friendliness.

"What we strive for at the Dairy Hart," Toby says, "is the quickest and best service possible. Nobody likes to wait and the traveling customers are always in a hurry."

To improve the service, Toby has installed a drive-in order window on the south side of the Dairy Hart where customers can drive up and give their orders without getting out of their cars.

They can park elsewhere to leave the window open for others and when their order is ready drive back to the window, pick up and pay for their order, all without leaving the car.

Toby plans to get a directional sign in on the drive-in window as soon as possible.

Thomas is just working into the "swing of things" again in the drive-in restaurant business.

When he took over from Shorty he advertised: "The same menu, same prices, and same friendly service."

But Toby figures to make some menu changes as he goes along.

Area ginners take trip to Alabama

By MRS. MAX CHAFFIN

Weldon McGehee, president of the board of directors of the Hackberry Co-op Gin and on the executive board of the Co-op Oil Mill in Lubbock (pshaw, that was a long one), and T. W. Bryson, manager of the Hackberry Co-op Gin took off in a chartered plane from Lubbock the first day of the week and flew to Pratt, Ala., to see the new machinery that is being manufactured for Continental Gin Co. The pair were to be gone two days if fair weather prevails.

What a lovely setting for a fond "adieu" to Mrs. W. H. Barton of Barnum Springs, the home of Mrs. Leta Smith, our Garza County Home Demonstration agent. Mrs. Barton has worked hard here in Garza County as chairman of the fair and as a faithful council member. Those from this area who paid tribute to our honoree (don't you dare look that one up because you won't find it) were Mrs. Carl Payton and Mrs. Robert Mock besides the council members who served as hostesses, Meses, Max Chaffin and Maurice Fluitt.

Correction on last week's column—Mrs. Dillard Dunn was not in the hospital but plenty sick at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meeks and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards have taken a trip to the coast of Texas and New Orleans.

Mrs. S. M. Lewis visited with Mrs. Jim Sain, her daughter, in Slaton last week.

Sad news was received via phone from Magnolia, Ark., on Saturday. Frank Chaffin, the late J. D. Chaffin's oldest brother, passed away suddenly in Magnolia at the age of 82.

The Dawson Samples of Lubbock visited with the Spencer Bevers and the Carl Paytons of this community one day this past week.

Cindy Altman and Lou Alice Edwards spent the night with Sue Pritchard on Saturday night.

Did you know that the George Baker's living room is really lovely as the refinishing is completed?

Robert and David Mock visited Mrs. Marthy Mock in Slaton on Saturday.

Mrs. Charlie Scott honored Mrs. Wesley Scott with a birthday dinner last Friday night. Wesley Scott, Mike, Mrs. Elmer Hitt and the Vernon Scotts were the invited guests.

The James Sheltons attended the Lions-Scority basketball game in Post Friday night. Also there were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Taylor and daughter, Sharla, and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Livingston from this area.

Mrs. Jim Hall seems to be getting along a little bit better now and has had her two sons, Comer and Elmer, of Littlefield with her on Sunday to speed along her recovery. Also, her grandson, Teddy Lay, came from Dallas to see about her and they all had dinner with the Pete Lancasters.

Floyd Reese and Myrtle Johnson stopped by the Clovis Robinsons' home on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Carolyn Edwards was "at home" this past week.

The Eastern Star members of this area treated the Masons of the Southland chapter to a dinner at the Southland School cafeteria on Friday night. Ham, baked beans, potato salad, pickles, onions, pie and coffee and tea were served to 48 diners. Those who got to go from here were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chilcoat, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burkett, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lewis, Mrs. Thelma Burkett and Mrs. Sam Martin.

The Spence Bevers inspected the foundation of the Floyd Hodges dairy barn (future, that is) this past week.

MR. AND MRS. WILL Barton went to Sweetwater for a few days and returned Saturday. They went to see Mrs. Barton's sister, Mrs. August Dressler, who is very ill in the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Hall took Mrs. Barton back there Sunday to be with her sister.

David Mock spent Sunday with his grandparents, the Lee Wards.

A gala affair at the Elmer Hitts on Sunday. Mrs. Hitt had the birthday and invited all her children, grandchildren and Mrs. Thelma Burkett and the Carl Chilcoats. Jerry Hitt was the only one who didn't make it home for this birthday dinner.

The Earl Kenneys of Lubbock spent the day at the Carl Paytons on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Scott traveled to Abilene over the weekend and saw Shirley Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Don Scargill.

Max Chaffin moved his drilling rig onto the Spence Bevers place to try for a water well.

Weldon McGehee and Clovis Robinson journeyed to Carlsbad, N. M. on Saturday.

Our new arrivals, the L. M. Sherberts, have already had out-of-town visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Graham of Lamesa.

Aunt Dolly stayed two days with the James Sheltons last week.

Mrs. T. W. Bryson has been sick with the flu.

I had hoped to say that ye ole flu bug had left these parts but I can't say it yet. Artie Baxter and Carrie Guess are still under a doctor's care with that old germ. Here's hoping you feel up and at 'em soon!

Mr. and Mrs. Alvi Robinson have been to Eunice, N. M. this past week to visit her two sisters, Mrs. Bill Owen and Mrs. Bill Twilley.

People are really starting the week right this week. On Monday, the Spence Bevers had Mrs. L. C. McCullough from Post drop by in the morning, then Mr. and Mrs. Bonney Hodges of Post in the afternoon and Mrs. Leta Smith. The latter went home with a freshly baked loaf of Oreta bread, the lucky thing. (This is a new bread made down the road from me). The others must have left too soon!

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wheatley invite you all to attend the lectureship this week at the Post Church of Christ as they haven't missed one.

Lee Bartlett dropped by the T. L. Barnes this last week.

Kay and Ray Altman celebrated their birthday last Monday. Their guests were Mrs. Francis Sargent of Slaton and Stanley Abshire and Norma Eckert spent the night with them.

Mrs. Earl Kenney and Mrs. Carl Payton visited the Robert Mocks Saturday afternoon.

Elmer Hitt, Ed Cummings and Curtis Driver came back from their fishing trip and brought a few fish but they said that it was too cold away down there in the South for most of the fish!

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pool and family of Big Spring spent Sunday and Monday with Mrs. Charlie Scott.

The James McKenzies of Post visited Princess and Betsy Saturday at the Max Chaffin place.

(Princess and Betsy are two registered Shetland ponies who are boarding and roaming (not rooming) in our pasture.)

MR. AND MRS. ALVI Robinson visited Mr. B. C. Norton and family over the weekend in Seminole.

The Norton's son Carroll, was home for the weekend from Baylor.

Agnes Rinker's brother-in-law, Herb Aushburn of Long Beach, Calif., stopped by the T. L. Barnes last week en route to Oklahoma on business.

Sam Horton has been visiting again at the Pleasant Valley store.

The James Sheltons attended the Junior Fat Stock Show in Lubbock on Monday.

C. E. Patterson of Lubbock visited old friends at the Pleasant Valley Store and in Mrs. B. D. Robinson's home on the same day.

The Vancil Bowns were out to the Ben Altman home Sunday.

Peak day load of gas reaches new high mark

AMARILLO — A record peak day load of 370,287,000 cubic feet of gas was put through Pioneer Natural Gas Company's pipeline system this past Jan. 11, according to figures released today by Billy G. Grant, superintendent of the Company's gas measurement department at Amarillo.

During a severe arctic snap throughout Pioneer Natural's service area in middle January, temperatures dipped to 16 below zero at Lubbock. In Amarillo and surrounding areas, the mercury dropped to 9 below. Other areas throughout the system, which serves 41 Panhandle-South Plains counties, had similar numbing weather.

The peak deliveries of gas were handled from 8 a. m. on Jan. 11 to 8 a. m. on Jan. 12, and topped the previous wintertime peak load of 312,118,000 cubic feet which had occurred on Jan. 9, 1962.

Gas supplies were adequate on the peak day and there were no failures of a critical nature, according to T. S. Whitis, Pioneer vice president in charge of transmission.

Mrs. Spence Bevers visited Mrs. Jim Hall and Mrs. L. M. Sherbert this past week.

Pat came home on the weekend to the Henry Wheatleys with a friend from college, West Texas State College and Plainview, Peggy Dunlap.

Mrs. C. R. Scott stopped by Mrs. S. M. Lewis for a visit last week.

Mrs. Carl Payton enjoyed coffee with Mrs. Floy Richardson Tuesday.

Visitors in Mrs. B. D. Robinson home on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts of Post, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dixon and Steven of Plainview.

The Wayne Chaffins were out from Lubbock for a visit at Mrs. Lena Chaffin's home Saturday.

A pretty colleen born on St. Patty's Day, Miss Kathy Green celebrated her birthday at the Spence Bevers. A switch took place; Bill and Larry Bevers spent the afternoon at the Joe Greens in Slaton.

A track meet for A and B high school boys at Rotan on Saturday. The boys who entered from Pleasant Valley were: Billy Joe Hall, Don Altman, Troy Lewis and Ronald Saunders. Winners (who warmed up with that famous cereal) were: Johnny Haire, second in the 220 and 100 yard-dash and Webster Crawford, fourth in the 880 yards.

News from the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts, in Kansas. They have purchased themselves a home while Jack is in the Air Force. It is one of the wide trailers—two bedroom complete with air conditioning. That is the way to move while you are in the service; carry your home with you!

CLOSE CITY NEWS

Now for the little news gathered from the Close City area.

The Charles Morrises had Mrs. Carolyn Gray and Caren as visitors last Tuesday, and also Mrs. Barbara Ethridge and Cindy.

Jessie Lofton and Joe Boren of Post came out to the Howard Teaff home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Solomon of Denison visited in the Charles Morris home last weekend.

And that concludes the new from this correspondent.

Frank Gotch was one of the greatest wrestlers of all time.

William Muldoon was known as the father of American wrestling.

O. H. Hoover under care of specialist in Lubbock

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER

O. H. Hoover who has been in Garza Memorial Hospital for several days, was transferred to Lubbock Methodist Hospital Thursday afternoon where he would be under the care of a specialist. His condition has not improved. Billie Bob Hoover and Major Jack Hoover who live in California have been at their father's bedside the past few days. The other Hoover children who live here have also been helping to care for their father.

Several people from Grassland and the Graham Chapel communities visited the Hoover children and Mrs. Hoover in the lobby of Methodist Hospital Sunday. We received word Tuesday that Mr. Hoover has had surgery for the removal of two blood clots. The doctor says he now has a 50-50 chance to recover.

Mrs. E. B. Mathis, who has been a patient in the Tahoka Hospital for several days, was well enough to return to her home Saturday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Yeats and son, Jackie, and family of Snyder were here Sunday.

Howard Davis from Virginia has been here visiting the LeRoy Davis family and his father and mother, the W. M. Davises. Mrs. Davis has been very ill for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goree and children of Floydada spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Walker.

Mrs. Edith Inkleberger was a visitor in the W. G. McCleskey home Tuesday afternoon.

W. G. McCleskey and Mrs. Bernice Gribble visited in the M. C. Richey home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allen and granddaughter of Lubbock were guests of the C. O. McCleskeys Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Melton left Friday night for Edgewood to be with her father, Mrs. Berry, who suffered a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jones of Ropesville were guests in the home of her sister and family, the J. F. Moores, Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Joins, who lives at San Denito in the Rio Grande Valley, arrived Friday to visit relatives here and in Lubbock. The C. O. McCleskeys and the W. L. Bribbles had lunch with Mr.

Fondue: Fun To Serve And To Eat

A fondue is fun to make—and fun to serve and eat, too. The real basis for the excellence of the fondue is the cheese itself: Pasteurized process Gruyere. Choice aged Swiss cheese is used in processing Gruyere cheese, and the result is a high quality nut-sweet cheese. Dunk crusty pieces of French bread or toast chunks into the fondue, and then deposit them on a small plate. Let guests take turns helping themselves by swirling the speared toast in the fondue, and remind them to swirl the mixture in only one direction. Borden kitchen experts point out that this is important to prevent the mixture from curdling.

Gruyere Cheese Party Fondue

(Makes 5 cups Fondue OR Ten 1/2 cup servings)

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon white pepper
- 3 cups homogenized milk
- 6 cups (four 6-oz. packages or 24 one-ounce portions) shredded Gruyere cheese
- 2 tablespoons Sauterne wine, optional

Melt butter in chafing dish pan* over hot water. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Gradually stir in milk. Cook, stirring occasionally, until the mixture is smooth and thickened. Add shredded cheese. Stir slowly IN ONE DIRECTION 30 to 40 minutes or until cheese is well blended. Just before serving, add Sauterne wine and stir steadily in one direction until mixture is velvety. Serve accompanied by toasted buttered bread squares or toasted buttered half-slices of French bread. Provide guests with long-handled forks for dipping toast into fondue mixture. Keep mixture warm over gentle chafing dish heat.

*A double boiler is fine for making one-half of the above recipe.

visited Grandma Gribble Sunday afternoon.

John Gray, brother of the late Mrs. H. A. Roberts, is in Garza Memorial Hospital. "Unkie" as he is so fondly called by members of the Roberts family, fell Saturday morning injuring one of his legs. The leg wasn't broken but shows a fracture. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murry visited the J. D. McGrews in Lamesa Sunday. They also visited the Bill Archers and the Ronnie McGrews and Shari Lynn of Welch.

Edd Love of Lovington, N. M. has been here with the Hoover family the past week. He is a brother-in-law of Mr. Hoover.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Rash and family are moving from Burkholder to Lubbock. Billie will be stationed at Reese Air Base.

Kalgary trio find eight rattlers at dam site

By MRS. GLENN E. JONES

Cecil Fox, Henry Slack, Henry Johns and Leon Greer went rattlesnake hunting at the White River Dam site Sunday. They found eight.

Mrs. Henry Slack was honored with a surprise birthday party Friday night at the home of Mrs. Aletta Walker. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slack, Mr. and Mrs. Buran Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jones and Gary and David. Birthday cake, coffee and punch were served. Everyone enjoyed playing "84".

The White River Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Buran Jones at 2 p. m. Friday. The program was given by Mrs. Vona Fisher. The subject was "Driver Education and Seat Belts." White cookies decorated with green shamrocks, punch, and coffee were served to Mes. Wanda Parsons, Patsy Humble, her grandson, Darry Keith Jones, Vera Briggs, Elvaleta Havens, Vona Fisher, Lenora Jones and sons. Hostesses were Mrs. Effie Jones and Mrs. Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Fox of Spur celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary by having dinner at the White River Lunch Room on March 15.

Dick Bowden, superintendent of the White River Dam spent last weekend at his home in Dallas.

Mrs. C. W. Hinson went to Lamesa Thursday to see her mother, Mrs. John Self, who was celebrating her 84th birthday.

Boney Winkler and Carla attended the Girl Scouts Father and Daughter Banquet at the Crosbyton luncheonroom Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Starr visited with relatives at Throckmorton last week.

The Jimmy Alexanders have been to Albany to visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bronson visited Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Humble last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Jones of Crosbyton and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Winkler attended the Lions Club Pancake Supper at Lubbock Saturday night.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Cannon and Mrs. Velma Smith went to Lubbock Tuesday and looked at new houses.

Steve Luce, contractor on the White River Dam, had business in Austin last week.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — A $3,000,000 budget bill has been passed by the House of Representatives.

Before it cleared the House and went on to the Senate, the bill elicited several cries of anguish from some who protested agency budgets as too small and some who claimed certain allotments were too big.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo claimed appropriations for the State Armory Board and the State Board of Control were too big, since they involved $1,000 salary raises for executive directors of those agencies.

Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady claimed deputy commissioners in the Texas Education Agency draw a total of $14,800 more than the Legislature authorized.

Townsend also tried to cut out a $250,000 appropriation to improve the newly-donated Wheatley Ranch in Blanco County as a state park. He claimed the money was needed for established parks. But this move failed.

HIGH COST OF FLYING — Another attempt to cut a specific recommendation out of the budget bill almost was successful.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford tried to get the House to "ground" the State Land Office airplane. He pointed out that $100,000 is appropriated annually for operation and maintenance of a high-powered Land Office plane.

Cotten showed a photostatic copy of the plane's flight log for the year ended October, 1962. He stated, "In a year's time, only 68 flights were recorded. Sixteen were test flights to familiarize the pilot with the plane before he broke the propeller when he collided with another plane in a hangar and then he had to take eight more test flights to familiarize himself with 'the new propeller!'"

Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs disagreed. He said that the plane is necessary for aerial surveys and photographs to confirm the 1941 state land survey.

Cotten insisted that the Land Office should hire commercial aerial photographers, as the Texas Water Commission does.

Cotten's amendment to strike out the plane appropriation failed by a narrow 72-68 vote.

LOW COST OF EDUCATION — Complaints about too-low appropriations came from members who said allotments for higher education in 1964-65 are too small.

The last Legislature appropriated $139,600,000 from the State General Revenue Fund for higher education in 1962-63.

State college administrators requested $243,000,000 for the coming two years. Former Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board recommended $226,000,000. Gov. John B. Connally recommends $225,000,000. Paducah Rep. Bill Healy's appropriations bill allows for $187,600,000 to educate the bumper crop of war babies that is expected to begin to flow into state colleges next year.

Rep. Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth claimed the Healy committee had slashed Arlington State College's library budget so drastically, the school might not be accredited next year.

So, Parmer and Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth begged for an amendment to raise Arlington's appropriation. It failed by a vote of 94-41.

The $172,000 needed to make the Texas Maritime Academy in Galveston a reality was absent from the appropriations bill. But Governor Connally said, "I have real hope of getting the Legislature to restore the maritime money." He didn't say whether he had any hope of getting the allotment for higher education boosted.

COUNTY BUYING EASIER — Rep. Vernon Beckman of Denison got a green light from the House Committee on Counties on his bill to raise the amount a county purchasing agent may spend on emergency purchases without advertising for competitive bidding.

Since 1925, the amount that may be spent without competitive bidding has been $150. Beckman said this is unrealistic in the view of rising costs. He proposed it be raised to $300. However, the subcommittee set it at $300.

Reps. Henry Grover and J. C. Whitfield of Houston won approval from the House State Affairs Committee on their bill to require competitive bidding on public school purchases above $1,000.

SALES TAX FREEZE FAILS — An attempt by Rep. John Allen of Longview to pass a constitutional amendment to freeze the state sales tax at two per cent and keep food and drugs exempt failed by a 72-84 vote.

However, food may remain safe from the sales tax if a measure by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas and Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity passes. They have proposed legislation to simplify sales tax bookkeeping for grocers. Since grocers have been the ones fighting for a blanket tax, this bill may satisfy them.

TUITION RAISES PROPOSED — Representative Atwell picked up a recommendation by the Commission on Higher Education to double state college tuition, and filed a bill to raise it from $50 to $100 a semester.

Governor Connally has ignored the commission's suggestion.

Rep. Dick Morgan, Republican from Dallas, chose "a good compromise." He introduced a bill to raise tuition to $75 a semester.

Children of members of the Texas National Guard who have been killed in the "cold war crisis" since 1950 will be provided free tuition in state colleges, if a bill by Representative Parmer is passed.

STATES RIGHTS STAND — The House passed a resolution to ask Congress to call a constitutional convention to leave legislative reapportionment to state legislatures. Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock said, "This may be the last time the state can take a stand on what may be the last of state's rights."

If the proposed amendment is adopted by a sufficient number of states, Texas could insure a rural, dominated legislature, despite urban growth.

Vet's Forum

Q. What are the average ages of living veterans?

A. According to the Veterans Administration, average ages are as follows: Spanish-American War, 85; World War I, 68; World War II, 44, and Korean Conflict, 33.

Q. The VA is urging veterans who draw compensation and pension and who also have GI insurance to have their insurance premiums deducted from their compensation or pension payments. If I do this, how will I benefit?

A. The VA points out such procedure would not only avoid the chance of a lapsed policy, but would also save the veteran the time and cost of drawing a check or money order and mailing it to his VA insurance office.

Q. What is the first step in applying for a GI loan to buy a home?

A. First a certificate of eligibility must be obtained from a VA regional office. These certificates now show the expiration date of the veteran's entitlement to obtain a loan.

Kuykendalls are moving out west

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Kuykendall have sold their home at 1009 West 11th St., and will move to Ennis, Mont., Friday or Saturday of this week.

The Kuykendalls are in the process of purchasing a ranch in the Madison Valley outside of Ennis and 72 miles northwest of West Yellowstone Park. The ranch land includes a one-half mile lake front where they have gone trout-fishing for the past 12 years. A cottage is situated on the lake-front and the Kuykendalls invite all of their friends to come visit them for fishing, hunting in the mountains or just resting.

Mr. Kuykendall will continue his air charter service as a sideline from the ranching business.

The Kuykendalls have four children, Kathy and Doug, who are school age, and Penny and Lisa.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cash of Route 2 have purchased the Kuykendall residence.

HIGH—AND DRY

With half the big blade hanging in space, a bulldozer gouges a rocky road up a Colorado peak in the never-ending search for oil. Humble Oil & Refining Co. recently built a 6 1/2-mile mountain road to reach the Free World's highest drilling site—two miles above sea level in the Colorado Rockies. Drilling crews worked around the clock to sink the wildcat well before winter storms blew in. They beat the snow, but their work and an estimated investment of $350,000 were in vain. The well was dry, a dramatic example of the more than 17,000 dry holes drilled in the U. S. each year.

with the flu this past week.

Visitors in the Bud Schlehuber home Thursday were Mrs. Douglas McWhirt and Mr. and Mrs. Babe Norris and Casey.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

By KATHARINE TRAMMELL

Mmes. Darrell Eckols and J. P. Parnell and your correspondent were among the 18 Girl Scout leaders of the Caprock Council who enjoyed the "rigahs of vigah" at Camp Rio Blanco last Friday night and Saturday morning.

Everyone brought a sack lunch for supper and exchanged scouting ideas in a roundtable discussion during the meal. This exchange of experiences is one of the most rewarding results of a leaders' get-together.

The first test of "vigah" was a midnight trek to the green latrine and we were all so glad we had brought our flashlights. Did you ever look for a whippenoop log at 12:15 a. m. while another group was gathering firewood for breakfast?

The REAL test of our "vigah" came when we prepared and ate breakfast around the campfire Saturday morning with the north wind blowing at the traditional West Texas rate. One can only say that the wind did not interfere with anyone's appetite.

We laid a trail for a "wide game" to be followed by the group who were to be there over Saturday night and made use of the compass and the whippenoop log.

Lunch was cooked over a campfire at a choice site down in the canyon, out of the wind and near the edge of White River. Everyone felt that this was a fitting climax to the Campcraft course and made the six Monday nights to Lubbock well worth the effort.

Miss Mary (Skeet) Anderson, our instructor, awarded us with Campcraft Certificates and badges of the American Campcraft Association. Post leaders receiving certificates were: Mrs. Darrell Eckols and Mrs. Katharine Trammell.

All due apology to Mrs. Cornish and JFK on the use of "vigah".

April plentiful suggest eating 'high on hog'

COLLEGE STATION — April will be a good time to eat "high on the hog," both literally and figuratively.

Texas consumers also may well choose the better cuts of beef, because both pork and beef are on the nine-item April list of plentiful foods, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The list features pork and carrots, as April supplies of each promise to run far above usual trade needs.

Beef rates a spot on the list for the first time in 1 1/2 years. Prices on both pork and beef are noticeably lower than last winter.

Also plentiful are milk, eggs, potatoes, peanuts and all peanut products, including peanut butter, canned freestone peaches and canned ripe olives.

The monthly list is prepared by the Agricultural Marketing Service, a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with producers, processors and the food trade. When supplies of any food exceed expected demand, it is eligible for official listing as a plentiful.

Distributors and retail grocers cooperate in the Plentiful Foods Program by providing special promotions, including lower prices on many items.

Extension home economists suggest that consumers will find it to their advantage to serve plentiful foods, as foods in abundance usually provide economy, ready availability and wide choice in quality.

STRONGER BOARD, PAPER

A derivative of cereal grain has been found to make stronger insulation board and paper, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Zinc xanthate, an insoluble cereal product, was used in USDA tests. The best experimental boards containing 10 per cent of the derivative were lighter but one and a half to two and a half times stronger than commercial insulation boards of similar density.

Lumbermen's meeting set for Fort Worth

AUSTIN — Over 5,000 lumbermen, suppliers of building materials, and manufacturers will convene in Fort Worth April 6, 7, 8, for the 77th Annual Convention and Exposition of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas, the largest trade show of its type held in the Lone Star State, according to Lionel L. Campbell, Temple, president of L. A. T.

Retail lumbermen will gather to look over the latest developments in building materials and related lines and attend a series of programs devoted to helping lumbermen to render better and more complete service to their individual communities.

FAMILY VISIT

Mrs. W. E. Dent returned last Thursday after spending four days in Lubbock visiting her daughters and families there.

More than $16 million spent in Texas last year in TB control

AUSTIN — More than $16 million was spent in Texas last year in tuberculosis control, Dr. Robert B. Morrison, incoming president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, told the group at its annual meeting here Sunday.

Dr. Morrison, an Austin chest specialist, succeeds Joe H. Sorrels of College Station, professor and research engineer of Texas A&M College.

Dr. Morrison remarked that "more than $16 million was spent in one year in one state to control a disease which many Texans think is almost non-existent." He stated that nearly $13 million of the total of $16,235,351 was spent on TB hospitals, including those operated by the state, cities and counties, the Children's Hospital at Corpus Christi and the Veterans Administration Hospitals. An additional 1 1/2 million was spent by the departments of health—state and local. Third largest expenditure was by the tuberculosis associations. They spent $1,011,782 in 1962, he stated, and noted that this was contributed funds, in contrast to the other funds, which were derived from taxes. The remaining funds were spent by the public welfare departments, the vocational rehabilitation divisions and the visiting nurse association.

"These figures are under the actual figure," the physician stated. "They only include sources from which we have definite figures. A number of the agencies did not respond to our request for figures, and we have not included any estimates of probable spending in this report."

About 100 doctors and lay health leaders from across the state were in attendance at the Sunday meeting, at which a program and budget for the 12 months ending March 31, 1964, were adopted.

BROTHER DIES

Roy Rawlings, a brother of Mrs. L. A. Presson, died last Saturday morning after a lengthy illness in the Veteran's Hospital in Oklahoma City. Funeral services were held Monday in Edmond, Okla., the family home. Mrs. Presson had returned recently from a visit with her brother.

CALL ON SCREWORMS

Knowing immediately where every screwworm case in the Southwest is located has become so important to the eradication program that arrangements have been made so livestock producers can call the Mission headquarters collect when a case is found. Producers are urged to call day or night Justice 5-1646, Mission, whenever an infestation is found. They are asked by the program officials to do two things—collect about 10 worms from the wound, place them in water or alcohol and hold for instructions and report the infestation by telephone to Mission.

Woman's foot is cut when wind breaks doorglass

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Davis visited Thursday morning in Post with Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright. Mrs. Wright received a bad cut on her foot the Sunday afternoon the sand and wind blew, when a storm door she was opening at her home blew shut and the glass fell on it. It took 12 stitches to close the cut. We are glad to report the foot is improving.
