

Special recognition to Civil War theme

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following theme by Post High School student Judy Ballentine was written for the Civil War Centennial observance sponsored here by the county Historical Survey Committee. Judy's theme received special recognition and a copy of this certificate from the state committee.

CIVIL WAR THEME
By Judy Ballentine
The nation never faced a crisis so strange and bitter, and never so much blood nor felt so much hate. No other event has so deeply kept the nation's soul as the Civil War. Thousands of young Americans found themselves suddenly fighting war with one another. There were as many reactions to the war as there were men. Some ran away when the shooting started, others fought, but were not properly trained for war. The most noble reactions by far were the acts of bravery and courage. All the men of all areas of the United States were involved in this war. I would like to tell you of some of our town, Post, Texas, and their experiences in the Civil War.

and the Granberry Brigade. Wilks was born in Travis County, Texas, in 1841. He remained until he joined the army and served for Gen. Joseph Johnston. Mr. Wilks fought in many battles of the Civil War. I will list them as they were listed on his record:
1. Battle of Arkansas
2. Battle of Chickmauga
3. Mission Battle
4. Ringgold Battle
5. Battle of Franklin (wounded)
6. Battle of Resaca
In the Battle of Franklin, Mr. Wilks was wounded in the leg and also taken prisoner by the North. While imprisoned, he was made to stand in the snow, which he did for so long that he had no toenails on either foot. Surviving the war, Mr. Wilks came to Post to live, where he remained until his death in 1921.
The Civil War will remain in the minds of men forever as a bloody and gruesome war. It is with great respect and admiration that I have done research on these participants in the Civil War. We will never be able to repay these men.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Miss Ballentine also included a sketch on Civil War veteran Lewis W. Coleman, which will be published in a later issue of The Dispatch.)

Mechanical topping of cotton can save real harvest money

HALFWAY tex. — Research results from mechanical topping of semi-open boll varieties of cotton indicate that the practice can be profitable to cotton producers in the High Plains of Texas, according to James Valliant, Water Engineer at the High Plains Research Foundation. Increases in net returns have approached $50 per acre when compared to standard grown stormproof varieties of cotton.
The staple length was increased by topping, which may help expand the cotton market of the High Plains. Fertilizer response was increased when the cotton was topped. Other benefits obtained from mechanical topping are the elimination of the top foliage and small immature bolls which furnished food and shelter for insects. There is also uniform crop height for harvest.
Research tests indicate that topping of stormproof cotton is not considered profitable, Valliant said. Details of the cotton topping results on Grege, Lockett 88-A and Paymaster 88-90 for 1963 are available in the 1963 Foundation Research Report No. 112 on the "Comparison of Yield and Quality of Mechanically Topped Cotton with Untopped Cotton." Cotton topping research has been underway at the Foundation for the past three years.
"Farm Centered Research" on cotton topping is underway on a small acreage basis at the following farms, according to Valliant: Terry Goen, Earth; Charles Frye, the Easter community south of Hereford; and James Stair, Providence Community northeast of Plainview. The following farmers are testing this practice in the immediate vicinity of the Foundation farm at Halfway: James McDaniel, Don Graham, and Claude Fargason.
At the Foundation, Valliant has enlarged the cotton topping research program to include seven varieties for the year 1964. Five semi-open boll varieties in the research work at the Foundation are as follows: Paymaster 88-90, Paymaster 111, Austin, Dekalb 108, and Lockett 47-89. The long staple cottons in the cotton topping experiment include: Acala 442 and Acala 1517-BR2. These two varieties are popular in New Mexico and California.

It's My Turn

By MRS. C.

I'm sort of like the little colored girl who got off the train at the Houston station in front of me and after being greeted enthusiastically by many relatives said: "I've seen so much at Disneyland and California, I can't tell you anything."

We saw so much that cost so much I hardly know where to begin. I better begin with an apology to the Santa Fe Railroad. Gone are the days when Post passengers get on the train via the bar ditch. The train makes two stops - one for freight and mail, and another one for passengers. We almost felt like VIP's.

Proof that I spent my time loitering around the swimming pool can be seen by my peeling nose and forehead and a blistered lower lip. The sun is right hot in South Texas.

I am also peeling in a few other places but since I'm not following the new "bare" fashion trend, you will only be aware of this if you catch me scratching.

The "bare" top look had come to Houston but only, as I understand, on models in window displays. They really must be eye-catchers because one small sports shop near our hotel was boarded up when the window once was, due to a male motorist being unable to take his eyes off the model, and running right smack through the window.

I wonder if the fashion designers flouted all the dangers of the new style and all of the lokes that are making the rounds. The most common one seems to be about the man whose wife purchased a "bottom rail" frock and commented to friends that it was perfectly obvious that he had married his wife for her money.

I still can't believe all I saw or heard on our trip to the almost completed Dome Stadium. Mr. C will have to take me back for a baseball or football game when it is completed to really appreciate it. That building is just too big to sit in at the present time and realize the full scope of what it will be.

The stadium will house two restaurants holding 600 and 800 persons, two restaurants behind the fence of the baseball diamond, catering to those in the bleacher seats (which to me looked as good as any other) with Italian and French foods, plus concession stands that are never supposed to run out of anything.

One little gem that we picked up concerning playing baseball in an air-conditioned stadium is the fact that baseballs being hit are affected only by barometric pres-

What a shot! Photographers love to find a scene like this. Flowing water . . . a background of trees . . . a church spire in the distance . . . these always make an outstanding picture.

Wherever we travel we see Christian churches in harmonious settings, and there's a tendency to think of them as "part of the scenery."

But what an important part they are! Every one is a House of God, dedicated to His service. Every one is a community focal point, helping in a thousand ways to broaden and beautify the lives of its members. And every one is a vital link in the shining chain of Christian belief that stretches around the world.

Not far from where you live, there's a church that could give your life a new dimension. Whatever doubts and fears you may have, bring them to God in His House. You can rely on His promise that He will not leave you comfortless.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BASIC 4 FOOD GROUPS

This is the first in a series of articles related to the importance of the Basic Four food groups in daily life.

Home-makers are faced with the problem of feeding their families a year. This means home-makers must plan, prepare and serve around 1,000 meals a year, a big responsibility to plan, a big job to stay within the budget, the required nutrition, and be a manager of time and energy.

Doing a good job of this, home-makers should be familiar with the Basic Four Food Guide, and cost of food.

The first food listed on most lists, the meat, is usually the expensive item on our market. The Food Guide states that more servings are needed for this requirement.

Meats are expensive and two servings of meat each day can be expensive unless we learn to be wise shoppers. Take chicken; it can be bought fresh in three different forms—whole, cut up or in selected pieces. A whole chicken is usually less expensive, but requires more time. Which is most valuable to you, the money or the time you can save?

"Planning a trip?"

It's the Law in TEXAS

CHILDREN IN CAMP

It's a good idea to give written consent for necessary medical care if your child leaves home for a visit or a camping trip, or if you plan to be away for any length of time.

For example, a summer camp nurse may bring a boy into a hospital with an acute case of appendicitis. But the doctor may well hesitate to go ahead and operate without the parents' consent.

Is the doctor arbitrary, and is such permission just a legal technicality? No, he is well within his rights, though he may give first aid — but only for emergency treatment where a child's health or life may be at stake. He is likely to put off follow-up care until he can reach the child's parents. A relative or baby sitter generally cannot grant consent for a child's treatment.

Even an adult must request medical care on his own before a doctor can give it to him. Children cannot do this.

By going to your doctor you show willingness and consent to accept his treatment. Your consent is assumed also when you ask for a house call by the doctor, or if as a result of an accident you come to hospital for emergency treatment. If you are unconscious, the doctor may well give you emergency care, yet later he should get your consent to further treatment.

Minors cannot consent to medical treatment, and except in dire emergencies their parents or guardians must give it for them.

The consent should not be broadly or loosely phrased, but should be as specific as circumstances permit.

The principal reason for having the consent in writing is to avoid later misunderstandings. It is a protection both to the patient and physician.

In the Middle Ages readymade wagon wheels were sold in England's markets like auto tires now are sold.

Mustang Hardtop

Some people just didn't realize how much Fords have changed. Then, they came in to see Mustang — and took their first good look around a Ford showroom. They saw the hottest line of cars in America... the "Car of the Year" Award winners... the best-built Fords ever. They saw cars so smartly styled, so easy to handle, so good to drive, that they made this the best sales year in Ford Division history even before the Mustang came out. They saw America's leading performance car — the Super Torque Ford (hardtop sales up 54%). They saw America's most famous personal luxury car — Thunderbird — with sales up 68% over last year's record. They found out why Falcon almost outstepped Chevy II and Valiant combined. And why Fairlane is a pace-setter in its own field. One look can make you fall in love with any one of Ford's 46 models. A test drive can make you a Ford man forever.

July 9-12 in Austin

Youth delegates to attend conference

The Garza County Juvenile Board will send five delegates and board chairman Bernard S. Ramsey to the second annual Attorney General's Youth Conference in Austin July 9, 10, 11 and 12. It was announced here today following a meeting of the board.

The five youths attending the conference along with the board chairman will be Ronnie Pierce, Sherry Woods, Steven White, Jimmy Johnston and Susan Ramsey. The expense-free trip and attendance at the conference is being made possible for the local group by the First National Bank, Rotary Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, City of Post, and Lions Club.

The purpose of the conference is to stimulate existing church, civic, youth and other groups to devote more of their energies on projects designed to help youth meet the challenges of their generation through projects developed in seminars during the conference.

Hail damage—

River drainage area.

Tom Bouchier, president of the White River Water District directors, reports that the new earthen dam "hasn't caught any more water" during the past week.

Measurement at the dam is still only 20 feet, which is below the height necessary for the water to reach the filtration plant's intake pipe.

A number of hail insurance claims have been filed with local agents during the past week and the first of the insurance adjusters were expected in Post today to start adjusting these claims.

The number was nothing like the 1963 totals at this time however.

THE HEAVY DAMAGE to the Hackberry Gin occurred about 7:30 p. m. last Wednesday when winds estimated at near 100 miles per hour demolished the burr topper, conveyors and the cyclones (big fans).

Several hail losses to cotton were reported in a Saturday afternoon storm which hit in the Graham area and west of Close City. Phone lines were downed in both the Graham and Grassland areas, it was reported.

A. C. Cash is one of the farmers who is replanting for the fourth time. His cotton is in the Close City community.

DON OSBORN maintenance man here for General Telephone, reported that lightning in the Saturday evening storm struck the phone line leading into the L. G. Thuet Jr., residence west of Post on highway US-380, and burned the line down and went into the house through the telephone and burned the wall in two or three spots.

No one was injured.

He also reported lightning strikes burned the rural phone line near Grassland to the ground in three places.

High winds here Saturday night put a number of local phone lines out of order in three or four spots.

ANOTHER KIND OF DANGER—a big tank truck—caused the worst phone damage here of the week, however.

It broke a 30-foot telephone pole at North Broadway at 3:30 p. m. Monday and damaged the phone cable putting out 26 phones. Most of them were restored that day and the repair work completed by a crew by early Tuesday afternoon, he said.

Southwestern Public Service Co. reported only minor lightning damage on lines into oil wells north and northwest of Post over the weekend which was quickly returned to operation by repair crews from Lubbock.

POST ITSELF received .30 of an inch of moisture in the official rain gauge at the courthouse in the Saturday night storm.

This brought the June moisture total here to 3.20 inches and the 1964 moisture total to 5.76 inches.

The purpose of the conference is to stimulate existing church, civic, youth and other groups to devote more of their energies on projects designed to help youth meet the challenges of their generation through projects developed in seminars during the conference.

There will be some 1,600 Texas youths attending the conference, which is also to teach the youngsters new ideas for combating delinquency which they can implement in their own communities in cooperation with the adult community.

"It is the intent and purpose of the Garza County Juvenile Board," Mr. Ramsey said, "to use the youth attending the conference as a nucleus for the organization of a youth group to work with the adult juvenile board in all matters of interest and well-being of the youth of Garza County."

The board operates under the supervision of County Judge J. E. Parker.

Tubbs named to TMA committee

Dr. Harry A. Tubbs has accepted appointment to the rural health committee of the Texas Medical Association, with the appointment extending through the TMA's 1967 sessions.

The executive secretary of TMA on behalf of the president, Dr. Max E. Johnson, asked Dr. Tubbs to serve on the committee.

The main objectives of the committee are to strive for improvement of rural health; study, survey, research and exchange information on rural health; to keep physicians and the public posted on all phases of doctor distribution in the state, and to assist physicians desiring location and communities needing physicians.

Dr. Curtis R. Haley of San Augustine is chairman of the rural health committee.

for running a red light and not having a driver's license. Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed against him in county court by highway patrolmen. Shepherd said.

Another man was riding in the pickup with Alvarez, the officer said.

Shepherd estimated damage to the DeShazo's automobile as "total," and to each of the other two vehicles at $300.

A truck driven by Delbert Lee Chambliss of Odessa truck a telephone pole near the Phillips Quick Service Station, 512 North Broadway, Monday afternoon. Most of the damage was to the telephone pole, with the truck receiving only a damaged bumper and fender. The truck was traveling north on U. S. Hwy. 84.

Automobiles driven by Floyd Carpenter and Edsel Cross were heavily damaged in a collision at 10:30 a. m. last Thursday near the L. E. Claborn Sr. home on North Broadway. Neither driver was injured, according to Police Chief Elton Corley, who investigated.

from which it was taken, and failed also to place such salt water in a water tight container so that the salt water could not percolate into the earth thereby polluting fresh water stratas.

The suit alleges that the plaintiffs' underground water supply was polluted, thereby destroying the usefulness of their domestic water well and that such negligence destroyed all the sub-surface fresh water on said tract thus rendering their home useless.

The suit says the salt water pollution became evident on Aug. 18, 1963, and by reason of such alleged pollution the plaintiffs' home and farm have been damaged and the market value of their land permanently impaired.

The suit further alleges that the tract, which had been worth $500 an acre, dropped in value to only $150 an acre following the alleged pollution. The Johnstons also asked interest at 6 per cent on the amount of damage from the Aug. 18, 1963, date of the alleged pollution.

The tract is located northeast of US-84 in the northeast quarter of Section 1246, TT Ry. Co. survey.

Meeting held on side dressing

A fair turnout of cotton farmers at the 4-H building Tuesday night heard Dr. Alex Pope, agronomist for Best Fertilizers, discuss the advantages of the side dressing of cotton with fertilizer.

Dr. Pope told farmers it wasn't too late to put down fertilizer in side dress form. He also explained the reasons why various types of fertilizer should be used in various types of soil for various types of crops.

Refreshments were served after the talk and question and answer period.

The information meeting was sponsored by Farmer Supply Company of Post.

Seal coat bids will be opened

The City Council will meet at 2 p. m. Friday to open and read bids on the seal coating of approximately 100 blocks of city streets, scheduled for this summer.

Specifications for the seal coating were prepared and advertising for bids handled by Kenneth Stewart of Odessa, who was employed by the city as engineer for the project.

City Supt. Eddie Warren said the exact number of blocks to be included in the project will depend on the bid prices. At least 100 blocks of streets are in need of seal coating. It has been estimated that the total cost will be about $25,000.

No absentee ballots cast

No absentee ballots have been cast through yesterday in the upcoming bond assumption election of the newly consolidated Post Independent School District.

Absentee voting will end in the county clerk's office here at 5 p. m., Friday, July 3.

The election is scheduled for Thursday, July 9, at which time voters will be asked to approve the assumption of the bonded indebtedness of the old Post Independent School District by the newly consolidated district which includes the former Close City school district.

Following approval of the project by the health authorities, the city will be able to tie in lateral lines already laid and to lay new laterals in the Lincoln addition, Warren said.

Post golfer wins in area tourney

Charles Hopkins repeated Sunday as champion of the Gaines County Invitational Golf Tournament with a seven-under-par performance over the 54 holes, five strokes ahead of his nearest competitor, Ben Alexander of Seminole.

Hopkins led the field in Saturday's round with a 104, then came through with turns of 35-36-34 Sunday to win the championship. He had set a new tournament record in winning the title last year.

This time, the Post school teacher's 209 effort was two strokes short of his record-breaking 207 of a year ago. Roger Camp of Post tied with Doc Nolen of Seminole for second in the President's Flight and easily won a sudden-death playoff for the second place prize. Camp and Nolen had finished with 227s, one stroke behind winner Mike Moorhead of Lubbock.

Two other Post golfers, Oscar Garner and Jackie Hays, won the consolation championship in the first and second flights, respectively. Claud Collier Jr. shot a 95 Sunday for sixth place in the third flight.

Holland loses to champ at Snyder
Walter B. Holland carded a 27-hole 116 Sunday to finish in fourth place in the consolation bracket of the Snyder Invitational Golf Tournament.

Eugene Mitchell of Houston, who won the tournament, defeated Holland, 5-4, Saturday in the first round of the championship flight preceding Sunday's medal play. The Post golfer had a rugged day of it against Mitchell, who was the defending champion. Holland was 11 over par at 81 in the match.

Susan's Stuff
 By Susan Cornick

The C's returned home from Houston, Sunday, to find everything around the ole homestead quite normal, of course, they haven't checked the grocery stores yet to see the charge slips, which I don't understand myself, since we ate hamburgers night and day, or noticed the mileage on the auto or the gasoline bills. That should leave a lot of mothers wondering, including my own.

 Completely unaware of her fate to come, Linda Bias went to get a Coke with Meredith Newby and Susan Ramsey Monday afternoon. Linda ended up being honored with a surprise going-away party at the Newby home given by Meredith and Susan. Invited, were Mary Ann Stone, Becky Thompson, Julia Childs, Lana Haynie, Pat Martin, Betsy Shyles, Cerretha Jones, Aletta Robinson, Dee Ann Walker, and myself. Susan and Meredith presented Linda with a charm bracelet and two charms. Linda left Monday night with her family for San Antonio where they will live. We're sure sorry to see Linda leave.

Permian sediments are oldest in Garza county

By LARRY LOCKWOOD
Soil Conservation Service

The only geological formations in Garza County are the Permian redbeds, the Triassic redbeds and the Pliocene Ogallala formation.

The oldest geologic formations in the county are the Permian redbeds in the eastern and western parts of the county along the walls of the main mesa. The sediments were deposited by the Permian sea that covered all of this area.

The Permian sediments range from clay shales to very fine sand and silt stones. Gypsum also precipitated out in the sea because of dry climate at that time. The Carey, Woodward, and Quinlan soil series developed in the fine sands and silts, while the Vernon, Weymouth and Tillman series developed in the clayey redbeds.

The sediments immediately overlying the Permian deposits are the Triassic redbeds. These sediments were deposited in another sea, but are similar to the Permian redbeds and the same soils develop in it.

The last great seas to cover this continent were the Cretaceous seas. All of Texas was covered at this time. Cretaceous sediments were deposited over all of Texas, but they have been eroded away on the rolling plains. The only exposed Cretaceous is along the Caprock.

During the Pliocene period the present Rocky Mountains were uplifted to about 20,000 feet and eroded down to their present height. As the eroded material flowed out of the mountains, sediments were deposited as the flow came onto the level plains. The Pliocene deposit of alluvium outwash is known as the Ogallala formation. This formation consists of clay, sands and gravels.

During the Pleistocene Age, the eastern edge of the Ogallala formation was eroded back by the headwaters of the Brazos River to form the present Caprock. The Ogallala was eroded down to the Triassic and Permian redbeds on the rolling plains. The Ogallala, which covers the high plains, was wind-reworked during the Pleistocene Age, and the Amarillo, Olton, Zita, Portales and Masker soils developed in the reworked Ogallala.

Recent materials have been deposited as fill in the valleys and local outwash at the base of the steep escarpments. Wind sorting and deposition of sandy material from the river beds and sandier surfaces has deposited several of very sandy materials. Soils of the Spur, Miller and Bippers series occur in the valley fill. Ber-

Q. Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premium?

A. Yes, you may. You should notify the Insurance Service of the Veterans Administration Office where you pay your premiums to hold future dividends to your credit, at interest, to meet premiums if you should fail to pay when due.

Q. I served less than a year in the Army between 1942 and 1943 and was honorably discharged at my own request to accept employment in essential industry. Will I be entitled to a pension when I become 65 years old?

A. Pension may be granted at any age if a veteran has the requisite honorable service and is unable to follow substantially gainful employment due to disability.

Q. I had service during both World War II and the Korean Conflict but I have heard that the later period would be used in determining my deadline for a GI loan. Is

Tourist Industry Report published

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Department today announced publication of the 1963 Texas Tourist Industry Report.

The 16-page booklet describes in striking detail results of the annual survey conducted by the Department. The cover depicts, in brilliant natural color, scenes from the state's outstanding recreational areas.

According to the survey some 11.7 million out-of-state guests came to Texas last year. They poured approximately $32.2 million into the state's economy. The report points out:

"This was new money, which generated new jobs, new construction, new business. This report is clear proof that every Texan has a stake in the state's travel industry."

The State Highway Department traditionally has been active in promoting tourist travel in Texas. The Department operates seven hospitality centers on key highways entering the state and publishes and distributes travel-oriented literature, including the official Texas Highway Map.

300% Increase In 4-H Agricultural Awards

It will soon be awards time in 4-H, and this year should see nearly 3,000 winners added to the steadily growing list of top-rated agricultural club members.

Fifty of the 800,000 boys and girls enrolled in the national 4-H Agricultural program will win a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November. Six will receive a $500 scholarship and the remainder will merit county medals.

Delegates to the Congress will help to celebrate 10 years of sponsorship by International Harvester in this particular program. However, the company has supported 4-H in several areas since 1918, according to the National 4-H Service Committee.

Agricultural projects undertaken by 4-H'ers throughout the state help to improve the home farm and to prepare the way for future jobs on and off the farm.

Local 4-H Club leaders, county and state extension workers, parents and residents of the community all have a share in helping the youngsters select and complete one of the many projects in the agricultural program.

The county extension office can supply additional information about joining a 4-H Club or organizing a new one.

Warns against fees to civil service schools

AUSTIN — Austin Postmaster Oliver Bruck advised the public against paying fees to civil service schools. It costs nothing to compete in civil service examinations, he said.

There is no school operated in connection with civil service by the Federal government, and no school is given advance information which is not available to the public without cost, Bruck stressed.

Baptist Father of the Year honored

DENISON — A 39-year-old medical doctor from Denison, Dr. W. S. Fry, who attends church "every time the doors are open and is one of the few doctors in the city who will make house calls" has been named as the 1964 Texas Baptist Father of the Year.

Dr. Fry was honored during special Father's Day services Sunday, June 21, at the Parkside Baptist Church of Denison as recipient of the state-wide Baptist award.

A special committee representing the Baptist Standard and the public relations office for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, the award's co-sponsors, selected the Denison man to receive the award, citing him for "always being available when he is needed by his community, his church, or his family, no matter how busy he might be."

Dr. Fry and his wife Opal have two daughters — Elsie Marie, 16, and Ester Lynne, 9. Each of the family members is an active church worker.

BEEF, VEAL IMPORTS

U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman says beef and veal imports into the U. S. during 1964 are expected to be at about the 1959-63 five-year average. His statement indicated this is level of beef and veal imports advocated by many groups in the cattle industry. He noted the reduction without legislation, and with cooperation of major beef exporters.

"Daddy, you forgot...every litter bit hurts!"

It happens in the best of families! Mom and Dad heading up a family day can forget that every litter bit hurts... in more ways than one. Every litter bit thoughtlessly dropped blemishes the beauty of a picnic spot that belongs to every American family... contradicts the early citizenship training you want your children to have in the home, as well as in school, camp, and scouting. Kids are realists, right? If you're a litterbug, even unknowingly, why shouldn't they be? So, Dad, please—lead the way to the litter basket. Use a car litterbag. Carry litter out of camping areas. Make it a family project to Keep America Beautiful!

POISONOUS SNAKES — Fear of snakes will cause many a would-be camper at this summer, even though statistics show that in the U. S. people are killed or seriously injured in their bathtubs than by snakes.

Unreasoning fear or ignorance cause more harm than an actual snakebite. For example, a snake who once trod on a rattler wakes up screaming in the water. And a hunter, spiked by a wire thought he had been bitten by a snake and very nearly died of shock.

True, these are extremes. But if you do regard the snake as a vicious and cunning brute with a deep-seated hatred of man, you are mistaken. Instead, it is timid and retiring. The earth-bound reptile will react to man as it would to any big and threatening creature, but it much prefers to slide unobtrusively away.

Poisonous snakes of the U. S. include the rattlesnake, copperhead, cottonmouth moccasin and coral snake. One of the most prevalent in Texas is the rattlesnake.

Should you encounter a rattler, the safest thing to do, usually, is

July production oil rolled back

AUSTIN — July oil production will be cut back to the lowest level since March, 1963, by order of the Texas Railroad Commission.

In response to purchasing forecasts by 13 major companies, the Commission set July maximum production at 27 per cent potential, or 2,788,655 barrels daily, compared with the present 2,845,371 barrels.

Presidents of five Texas producers associations declared the decision "regrettable" and said it would hamper efforts to get the U. S. Congress to effect a "very substantial reduction" in oil imports.

Commissioners also scheduled a July 16 hearing on the 1947 yardstick for fixing oil field allowances.
