

GETTING OUT

On the LIMB by EDDIE the EDITOR

Two or three people stopped me during the past week to comment on last week's column about the very fine Post School Band and the fact that the community doesn't adequately express its appreciation of the band personnel.

One of them, who doesn't want his name used here, suggested that there is another school situation which needs "airing out." It concerns basketball and the unfortunate fact that, even though Post is considered an important cog in the district conference, there is absolutely no local interest and, consequently, no support.

Those of you who read the Post Dispatch Sports Page with any consistency realize that the Post boys and girls enter all of the tournaments, that last year the boys were in the district championship playoff and that twice since 1945 the girls have played in the state tournament.

Readers of the sports page also know that the Post Dispatch gives as much space to basketball—if not more, because there are more games to cover—than football, and that it probably isn't lack of publicity which causes the scarcity of interest.

Some of the readers may have noticed also that while the Post boys and girls are always entering tournaments away from home, that we never have a tournament here anymore.

Sports are sort of like women's social affairs, in one respect. Any woman knows that unless she gives a party once in awhile to pay off her "obligations" that the day will come when she will no longer be invited to parties.

How long can Post expect to enter its boys' and girls' teams in the various tournaments without playing host to a tournament once in awhile?

And why don't we have basketball tournaments here? I asked Supt. G. E. Day, who is the girls' basketball coach, about this the other day and he recalled that for several years, he and Coach Bingham tried unsuccessfully to sponsor both boys' and girls' basketball tournaments here and not enough people came to pay for the use of lights let alone the several hundred dollars that it costs for trophies, awards and officials.

The biggest crowd that has attended a tournament here in recent years was in 1946, a year when the local girls won the district championship here and went on to the state tournament. Even that crowd was made up of fans from other towns in the district. You could count the Post fans on your fingers—in a year when Post was winning.

In the years that followed, when the Post girls continued to be leaders in the district playoff, even fewer fans attended the local tournaments and the girls who went to the state tournament at Hillsboro left here unheralded and even unrecognized.

I remember a recent Rotary Club program at which Mr. Day was the speaker and he said some of these things. It was suggested by some of the listeners that perhaps the lack of interest was due to not enough publicity.

As the newspaper is devoting lots of space each week to basketball and as there is no radio station here to shout the date of the games over the breakfast and dinner tables, about the only thing left to do—besides telephoning all potential patrons the time and place of the games—would be to distribute window posters with game schedules, like they do in football.

Better Stock Market Is Result Of New Advertising Spree

Babson Park, Fla.—A revolutionary event is taking place on Wall Street. It is one reason for the better stock market which we recently have enjoyed. I refer to the new advertising campaigns of conservative banks and stock exchange firms.

and Exchange Commission after the 1929-32 debacle. The dignified "card" advertising has tended to die out because of lack of returns. Another thing: Up to recently 90% of the financial advertising was to get people to buy new stock issues. Very little attention was given to continue investors interest in these issues after they were once sold. Hence, the market declined and investors often were compelled to take a loss if they later needed to sell. Almost no money was spent to interest investors in the standard issues which, for many years, have paid dividends and had a ready market.

Let me add that most of these advertisements are written in simple language which every reader can understand. Some have been prepared by expert ad writers and are pulling good results. All this is revolutionary. It has never happened before since the Stock Exchange was started in 1792. This new policy has great possibilities.

When I was a young man I worked for the Saturday Evening Post which then had a small circulation and very little advertising. At that time "national advertising" was almost unknown. As Henry Ford was the father of mass production, so my friend Cyrus Curtis was the father of national advertising. Mr. Curtis had three rules for successful national advertising. These were: (1) The ads must tell what the product can do for the readers. (Most of the advertising of that day merely glorified the concern doing the advertising.) (2) The ads must be of short sentences and words of one or two syllables. (This rule developed experts in advertising. There then were very few advertising agencies.) (3) The products advertised must be worthy, obtainable everywhere and sell at a stable price.

As I read these new financial advertisements, I think they conform to Mr. Curtis' rules (1) and (2). They surely have a "new look" and if continually improved, should bring good results. "But"—as Mr. Curtis would say—"advertising to be successful must be continuous. Millions can be lost in advertising as well as made by getting discouraged and curtailing just before reaching the jack pot."

Important Warnings Mr. Curtis' rule (3) meant that the product must have a "stable market and, if possible, a fixed price." Stock Exchange firms cannot promise a fixed price for their wares. But they can talk only of security, income and marketability, making no reference to "profit possibilities." I go further and say (and this is very important) to make this new advertising campaign a permanent success, the Stock Exchange must stabilize prices and eliminate the big gyrations for which the Exchange has always been blamed. This, moreover, can be done. The other must is that these firms cannot succeed by advertising only in the big city newspapers.

The idle money which is safe investment with income can best be found in small cities and towns. Magazines cannot reach "grass roots" prospective investors, but the main control the family investment policy can best be reached in small daily and weekly newspapers. Veterinarians say that practice of letting dry cows for themselves on scanty rations and fields, without supplementary feeding, amounts to a great deal of low return to reproductive disease and calf and milk production.

Garza and the World

By EVELYN BOYD

This probably is my last time to write Garza and the World. My successor, here at the Post Dispatch, may carry it on under the same heading or she may choose to write a different type of column, or no column at all. As I have not even met her at this writing, I have no way of knowing. I understand she is a well-experienced, versatile writer and I suspect that she will produce sparkling weekly commentary on something or other in this space.

I am at long, long last—after something like 17 or 18 years in the newspaper profession—approaching a new phase in my life—that of being a homemaker, housewife, baby sitter and plain ordinary citizen.

The first thing on the program is to try to teach the one-year-old Small Fry the meaning of the word "no" and that some things around the place belong exclusively to Mom, Pop and General, our dog.

After I get the house cleaned up and all of the dresser drawers and closets rearranged, I'm going to see if I can still sew. I learned to sew as a child, but I lost interest in it at the end of high school days. I think I'd like a certain amount of it now, and I'm going to get my first practice by making the Little One a western suit.

For basketball, this poster isn't practical, because there are so many games the schedule can't be rigid. The coaches do well to know two or three weeks ahead of time when and whom they will be playing, but these details are always announced in the paper in advance of the games.

What shall we do? Call off basketball altogether? We wouldn't have a football team if we never had any fans, and I don't think Post will ever amount to much in basketball unless the fans get behind them and show some enthusiasm and an essential amount of financial support.

I would like to have some letters and telephone calls from anyone who has some constructive suggestions along this line.

A reader, who had noted our lament about the need for speed limit enforcement and caution signs on the Tahoka highway in the school zone, came in the other day with an excellent idea. He realizes that it might take at least five years to put his idea into effect, but it's not too soon to start beating the drums.

This reader, who is a Main Street merchant, thinks the Tahoka Highway should be re-routed to miss the high school and the new grade school and to come around by the courthouse and down Main Street.

Main Street, of course, is already a part of Highway 380, which we call the Tahoka Highway. The problem would be to get the traffic to turn off at a point west of the high school and this probably could be worked out.

It's an idea worth considering.

We like to receive these constructive ideas. Tom Power gave us the one above. Does anyone else have any?

What Our Contemporaries Are Saying:

GET NEW BANK—The doors of the new $225,000 building of the Brownfield State Bank & Trust Co., will be opened at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and remain open until 10 o'clock Saturday night to hundreds of visitors expected to attend the formal opening.

With the exception of a few finishing touches, the first floor and basement of the new building have been completed and are ready for use. Not quite ready for occupancy yet, with plastering still under way, is the second floor of the building, the east half of which has been camera at home and not even looking at the decorations unless they are startling enough to attract my attention, anyway.

It will be a treat to just sit and gossip without having to remember what who said about what people went where for next week's issue of the paper. I will have to break myself of the nosy habit of asking grueling questions. That's the trick of the reporter's trade, you know—asking questions.

If Mamma will keep the baby, I expect to go to the beauty shop every week and get my hair and fingernails done up like the other girls do, and I will see if Dr. Young will trust me once more to keep a dental appointment made several weeks in advance.

I will set aside a certain period of each day for doing nothing but romping and playing with my little boy and nothing short of an emergency will interfere with this all-important routine. This one desire is the main reason I am retiring from the newspaper work that I have always loved so well.

Retiring? Well, just from newspaper work. I started my picture book, "Mamma's Diary," the day Don was a year old and I expect to have it ready for publication a year from now. I got the idea after I pulled him out of the garbage can to eat his lunch and discovered that General had eaten the lunch while my baby climbed up on a table to take a clock off the wall, and I snapped a picture of him.

Goodbye, Good Friends!

Minute Editorial

This is City Clean-Up Week, as proclaimed by the City Commission for purposes of improving safety conditions as well as the general appearance of the city. It's success depends upon every individual. HAVE YOU DONE YOUR PART? Have you disposed of the blown papers, dead weeds and trash that are causing a fire hazard in your yard and on the vacant lots which you own? Only you can do this. Neighbors or city workers do not have the right to clean up your property. Only you can make Post a safer, prettier place to live. Now is the time to Clean-Up, because later on the wind and the sand will be blowing and if all that trash and debris catch fire during the windy season, there could be a calamity. Do you want such a calamity to be your fault?

According to Wallace Blankenship, owner of the Blankenship Theatres, this new theatre is the latest and most modern theatre on the South Plains. Blankenship said high post war prices and scarcity of materials was the main factor of the delay in construction of this new building. The new Rose Theatre is to be completed in 100 working days. # Post City Ordinance Prohibits Riding Bicycle On Sidewalk

For the first time in a number of years, Post has a city marshal, M. L. Holland, who moved from Levelland and started work this month.

Duties, according to Mayor T. Herd, are to enforce the laws of the city.

Looking back over the city's history, a book to learn what some of these city laws are, a Dispatch reporter found worthwhile information as well as some outmoded laws which will not have to be enforced by Mr. Holland.

The city marshal's authority is outlined in Ordinance No. 5 which authorizes municipal authorities to make arrests without warrant of "any person or persons found in suspicious places, and under circumstances which reasonably show such person or persons have been guilty of some felony or breach of the peace, or threaten, or are about to commit some offense against the law." (Signed by Mayor W. L. Davis, May 2, 1916).

Ordinance No. 6 prohibits the keeping of hogs within the corporate limits of the City of Post, May 2, 1916.

Peddlers Taxed

Annual taxes on certain occupations are levied in Ordinance No. 8. These taxable occupations include traveling vendors of patent medicines, auctioneers, persons selling on commission, itinerant physicians "except dentists practicing from place to place in the county of their residence," shooting gallery, billiard and pool tables, nine and 10 pin alleys, hobby horses, flying jennies, etc., foot peddlers, clock peddlers, theatres, opera houses, menageries, acrobatic performances, sleight of hand performances, concerts, pawnbrokers, waterworks, companies, skating rinks, medicine shows, cigar dealers and sewing machine dealers.

The tax for every foot peddler is $2.50; every foot peddler with one horse or one pair of oxen, $3.75; every footpeddler with two horses or two pair of oxen, $5. This does not include traveling vendors of literature, poultry, vegetables, fruits or other country produce exclusively, and fruit trees exclusively.

Cigaret Dealers Taxed

Each dealer in cigarettes owes the city $2.50 a year. The ordinance was signed by Mayor Davis May 16, 1916.

Ordinance No. 9 makes it unlawful for any person to pursue a taxable occupation without a license, the fine not to exceed $100, May 16, 1916.

Ordinance No. 12 regulates the cleaning of premises "to protect the public health of the city, creating the office of sanitary officer." This ordinance, signed by Mayor T. R. Greenfield June 6, 1916, authorizes a fee for city hauling services which shall be collected each month in advance. The fee ranges from 25 cents for each residence to $2 for livery stable, wagon yard or transfer company's barn.

Ordinance No. 13, regulating the use of automobiles and motor vehicles, ordains among other things that: "Every operator of an automobile, motor vehicle or motorcycle shall have attached thereto a suitable bell, gong, horn or other appliance for giving notice of its approach so that when such alarm is given it may be heard at a distance of 300 feet. It shall be the duty of any operator to give the alarm when approaching any street crossing where persons or vehicles are standing or are in the act of crossing the street; and in all instances it shall be the duty of the operator to give alarm before attempting to turn a street corner, such alarm to be given at least 50 feet before reaching such crossing or street corner.

Must Report Accidents

"If any accident or injury shall happen on account of any automobile, motor vehicle or motorcycle coming in contact with any person, vehicle or animal, it shall be the duty of the person operating such automobile, motor vehicle or motorcycle to stop and render assistance if necessary, and it shall be the duty of such operator to immediately report to the city secretary of this city his name, address, and number of automobile or other vehicle." July 4, 1916.

Ordinance No. 15 makes it unlawful for owner to permit dogs to run at large without first paying annual license, provides for the impounding of dogs and fixes a penalty, Sept. 19, 1916. The license fee was $1 a year for male dogs and $2.50 for each bitch. The fine was not more than $100.

On Aug. 8, 1923, when Marshall Mason was mayor the above ordinance was amended to make the annual license fee $5 for each male dog and $7.50 for each bitch.

Beginning in September, 1916, when T. R. Greenfield was mayor, an ordinance was passed once a year leaving a poll tax for the year on all male persons between the ages of 21 and 60 years not exempt from payment of poll tax under the Constitution and laws of the state, and providing for the collection of said tax. The tax law was levied for current expenses.

Bicycle Speed Limit

An ordinance passed at the same time regulated the use of bicycles. It said, in part: "Any person who shall ride a bicycle on any street in the City of Post, at a rate of speed greater than 12 miles per hour, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $1 nor $1 nor more than $50."

"Any person who shall ride a bicycle, velocipede, or any other vehicle upon any sidewalk within the City of Post, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than $1 nor more than $100."

In December, 1916, the city passed an ordinance providing for the payment of a reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons found guilty of the offense of arson within the corporate limits of the city. The reward is $100.

An ordinance passed June 1, 1917 made it unlawful for "any team or animal attached to any carriage, wagon, dray or other vehicle, or any animal not so attached when same is not hitched or tied and is left in the charge of some competent person" to remain parked in a certain area of Main Street longer than five minutes. The ordinance also applies to cars or other motor vehicles.

At the same time an ordinance was passed prohibiting the expectorating or spitting on the sidewalks or on the floors and walls of public buildings within the city limits and providing a penalty of not more than $50.

Ordinance No. 60, passed Oct. 7, 1937, provides for the regulation of all persons, firms or corporations engaged in the business of purchasing, selling, bartering or exchanging new or second-hand motor vehicles within the city limits and provides for licensing and license fees and prescribes a penalty. A city license is required for the transaction of such business.

A total of 88 ordinances has been passed here.

Fellowship In Oil Research Offered

A part-time research fellowship in the chemistry and chemical engineering department at Texas Technological College in Lubbock has been established by the Western Company of Midland, President D. M. Wiggins has announced.

The fund, designated as the Western Company Fellowship, also provides the equipment and chemicals needed in work on hydrogen sulfide corrosion and its prevention.

B. J. Bucy, graduate student in chemical engineering from Snyder, will receive the first fellowship grant. He will carry on research on corrosion under the supervision of the Tech chemical engineering faculty.

Dr. A. G. Oberg, professor of chemical engineering, said the research grant will focus attention on "a very costly problem" that has long plagued oil field men in West Texas and southwestern New Mexico.

Mrs. Jim Cloud of Lubbock spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Vida Brant, and her sister, Mrs. J. N. Power, and family.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Dale of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Meeks Wednesday night of last week.

Earth Tremors Are Recorded By Tech Laboratory

If and when earthquakes ever hit the southwest the only instrument now capable of recording the full shock is in operation at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Dr. Leroy T. Patton, director of the Texas Tech Seismographic Observatory, says it is the only one located between Little Rock, Ark., and Tucson, Ariz. He said the Tech Observatory cooperates with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, and sends its reports regularly to 36 other observatories in this country.

"Here at Tech we are able to record tremors from distant points, sometimes on the other side of the earth, through movement of the concrete pier in our observatory," Dr. Patton says.

The pier or base vibrates and in turn causes delicate instruments (which, incidentally, have to be kept in perfect working order 24 hours a day) to record the tremor. A horizontal pendulum on the pier changes the vibration into electrical energy. These waves are transmitted by other machines onto a photographic film.

Dr. Patton says the observatory records about two or three quakes a week. The "most quaked" areas apparently are Japan, Siberia, Argentina, Mexico and the Pacific Islands.

Over Deductions In NSLI Payments Will Be Refunded
Veterans who receive National Service Life Insurance dividend checks from which previous overpayment by the Veterans Administration has been deducted, were advised by Robert W. In a few cases, cash payments made by the veteran and deductions previously made by the VA, plus the amount deducted from the dividend, exceed the indebtedness of the veteran to the government.
The refund of these overdeductions will be made automatically as soon as advice regarding the such individual dividend check is received by the Lubbock Regional Office from Washington, D. C. In view of the necessity for full information being supplied to the Regional Office by Washington, veterans are urged to contact the local VA office, since the accounts will be adjusted automatically as soon as the information is received, Mr. Sisson stated.

Heating Cable Suggested For Livestock Use
Farm livestock and poultry need water in the winter just as they do during the hot summer, but frozen hydrants and water pipes often cut off the winter supply.
Lewis Herron, Garza County agent, says there is something you can do about this problem.
He suggests the use of heating cable, because it is easy to install, is safe and efficient. The heating cable is wrapped around the pipes and valves. If the temperature falls below freezing, a thermostat turns on the electricity, the cable warms up the pipe and prevents the water inside the pipe from freezing. The cable is coated with rubber-type insulation material and it works on the same principle as any other electric heating unit.
Heating cable comes in various lengths. The cost of operating the unit will vary with the length of pipe heated, the amount of water going through the pipe, outside temperature and insulation. For a temperature of 10 degrees above zero the tape is run straight along the pipe; for 7 degrees above zero, spirals are 6 inches apart; and for zero or below the cable is wrapped 2 inches between spirals, says Herron.
Use of the heating cable does not create a fire hazard, points out Herron, but he does caution users to follow the directions of the manufacturer. Be sure the cable is properly installed and protected with the right size fuse, says Herron.
If it isn't practical to use heating cable to keep the water flowing, he suggests constructing a frost-proof hydrant. The water pipe should enter the building through a 6 or 8 inch tile extending from the floor to below the frost line in the ground. A stop and waste cock in the pipeline is used to shut off the water below the frost line. A few inches of gravel should be placed in the bottom of the tile for it will permit the water to seep away as the stop and waste valve is closed and the faucet opened. The tile above ground should be insulated with several inches of sawdust or commercial insulation, says Herron. The stop and waste cock arrangement makes hydrants safe from freezing even outside in below zero weather if the hydrant and lead pipe are drained after it has been used.
Winter isn't over and chances are very good that Texas livestock and poultry producers will have plenty of opportunity to use either a heating cable or frost-proof hydrant to keep water flowing to their herds and flocks, says Herron.

Sell Off Old Flock As Soon As Pullets Start Laying, Poultry Experts Advise

Garza County poultry raisers were urged to sell off the old flock as soon as the pullets go to the laying house by a trio of poultry experts from the extension service at College Station who spoke here last Thursday.

Some 100 from the county attended the meeting. Speakers included J. C. Williams, extension service poultry husbandman; W. A. Braddy, poultry marketing inspector for the extension service; and E. H. Reed, from the poultry department of Texas A&M College.

Braddy, who discussed buying and caring for baby chicks, urged poultry raisers to buy through hatcheries listed with the Texas Poultry Improvement Association. Reed recommended feeding a half grain, half mash ration for laying hens, in a discussion of feeding.

Williams' topic was on housing and culling. According to him, it is cheaper to raise baby chicks to laying age than to feed old hens who have had one season.

"By the time pullets are in 20 per cent production, take them to the laying house and confine them there doing their laying period," he said. "When a system of buying baby chicks in the spring is used, the old birds should be sold off when the chicks reach the laying house. It is cheaper to raise baby chicks than to feed old hens who have decreased in laying ability."

Lewis Herron county agent, was in charge of the meeting.

Plans were made for the Panhandle-South Plains Fair participation and 4-H Club summer camps when county agricultural and home demonstration agents of District 2 met in Lubbock Monday.

Lewis Herron and Mrs. Jewell Strasser, local agents, attended. A general committee was appointed to work with the fair. Kate Adele Hill is district home demonstration agent. Joe L. Mathis of College Station was in charge of the meeting of agricultural agents.

Local Buying Of Savings Bonds Declines In 1949

The people of Garza County invested $83,806.50 in U. S. Savings Bonds during 1949, according to the annual sales report received by T. R. Greenfield, county Savings Bonds chairman, from Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman. This compares with sales of $152,089.75 for 1948.

Of the 1949 total, Series E, the so-called "people's bond" accounted for $80,362.50, as compared with $95,049.75 E bond sales in 1948. Series F and G sales were $3,444.00 as compared with $57,040.00 in 1948.

Total sales for the entire state were $191,499,098, as compared with $196,448,280 in 1948. Mr. Adams' report said. This is a decline of 2.5 per cent. However, Mr. Adams declared that sales last year were highly satisfactory in view of economic trends and because of a 3.9 per cent increase in the sale of E bonds, from $139,591,216 in 1948 to $145,114,738 in 1949. Series F and G bonds accounted for $46,384,351 of the state's sales total last year.

Mr. Adams said that the people of Texas today hold more than $1.5 billion in Savings Bonds, a substantial share of which are owned by citizens of this county. These savings, he added, give the community, as well as the individual owners, a high degree of financial stability.

Recipes Given For Cabbage Slaw, Other Salads And Baked Spareribs With Fruit

Today's recipes, menus and "timely tips" are from the "This Tastes Good in Texas" series issued by the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

Cabbage Slaw
One quart cabbage, finely shredded, 1/2 cup green pepper, minced, 1/4 cup sweet pickles, diced, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1/4 cup cream, sweet or sour, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard and black pepper.
This is a salad easy to prepare and well flavored. Mix the cabbage with the green pepper and pickles. Combine the sugar, salt, vinegar, cream, mustard and pepper. Pour over the cabbage. Blend carefully, but well—and serve at once.

Complete Menu
Cheese souffle, buttered green lima, broiled tomatoes, cabbage slaw, cornbread, butter, apple crisp and milk.

Timely Tips
Raw cabbage contains more vitamin C (ascorbic acid) than cooked cabbage, so eat it liberally in salads and in slaw.
Today, cabbage should be cooked for minutes instead of hours. Short cooking saves the delicate cabbage flavor and crisp texture. Five minutes of boiling does the trick for shredded cabbage.
Cabbage Salad Combination: The following are pleasing combinations when mixed with cabbage and dressings such as boiled, French, or mayonnaise:
Radish and onion, green pepper, carrot and green pepper, carrot and peanut, carrot, raisin, and ripe olive, cucumber and beets, diced ham and green pepper and nuts and cheese.

Baked Spareribs
Two sides spareribs (4 lbs.), 2 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 cup dried prunes, 1 1/2 cups dried apricots, water for soaking fruit and 1/4 cup brown sugar.
Brown spareribs in small amount of fat on top of stove. Soak dried fruit in water about 15 minutes. Use 1 cup of water in which fruit was soaked and mix with the sugar and salt. Place fruit around meat in roasting pan. Pour sugar and water mixture over ribs and fruit. Cover and bake in a slow oven (325 F.) about 2 hours. Uncover and allow to brown in oven about 15 minutes.

Menu Suggested
Baked spareribs with fruit, sweet-sour green beans, escalloped potatoes, carrot strips, celery curls, egg custard and milk.

Tips Are Given
Pork should always be cooked well done before serving. When buying pork look for: Meat of light greyish pink

Lions Club Gave City Markers To City Of Post
The Post Dispatch was all mixed up, in more ways than one, on the city news published in last week's issue.
The first part of the story, pertaining to new street intersection markers, said that the nine new intersection markers which arrived here recently were bought by the Post Chamber of Commerce. The markers were bought by the Post Lions Club, the money having been given to the city more than two years ago.
The same story told of the city's attempt to get a stop or caution light erected at the intersection of Broadway and the Tahoka Highway. The portion which should have been jumped to Page 8 was accidentally inserted in the Main Street column and the Main Street jump was put under the Street Marker heading on the jump page.
For the sake of the record: The city article said that at least two traffic checks had been made during the preceding week, by highway officials, at the intersection.

SPEBAQA Concert Proceeds Go Into Tech Scholarship
Pear-shaped tones and mellow harmonies from barber shop quartets are expected to provide a sizeable scholarship for a music student at Texas Technological College in Lubbock next fall.
The Lubbock Texas No. 1 Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America has announced that net proceeds from their concert, March 18-19, will be used to establish the Tate-Robinson Memorial Scholarship at Tech. Last year, the concert netted $1,000.
Ray Wells, president of the Lubbock Chapter, said the scholarship would not be reserved for vocalists "but will be open to all student musicians." He said that a joint committee of Tech officials and SPEBSQA members will be asked to administer the fund, which is named in honor of two deceased members of the local chapter.
The March concert will feature the "Varsity Four" quartet from Purdue University. The group received medalist honors at the International convention in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1949.
Big Spring.
Glenda Grantham visited with her cousin, Mrs. Audie Watson, in Slaton Saturday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Myers and children visited with Mr. Myers' sister and family, the Owensens in Tulla Sunday.
