Rites are held Tuesday for 22-year-old gunshot victim

John B. Luna, 22, of 210 North Place, who died about 7:30 p. m. Sunday of a bullet wound in the left temple, was buried Tuesday after a funeral mass at 10 a. m. at Holy Cross Church.

County Judge J. E. Parker, who conducted an inquest, ruled Tuesday that death was caused by a self-inflicted gunshot wound. Judge Parker conducted the inquest in the absence of Justice of the Peace C. Roberts, who was out of town.

Luna, who was an employe of the city, was shot at the city grounds after he had left a car in which he had ridden to the grounds with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Toby Ross, and his step-father's brother, Sheriff L. E. Claborn Jr., who investigated the shooting, said his step-father told him they had taken his step-son to the dump grounds to shoot at tin cans with a .22-caliber gun cut down from a .22 rifle and fitted with a pistol grip.

Sheriff Claborn said he was told by the others that they heard a shot after Luna got out of the car and walked toward the rear of the vehicle and that they turned to see him falling to the ground.

Luna was shot once through the left temple, and is believed to have died instantly, the sheriff said. He was brought to the hospital in the Rosas car.

Besides his mother and step-father, the youth is survived by his wife, Romelia; two sons, Alfonso, 15 months old, and Mario, six weeks old; four sisters, Mrs. Palomia Acevedo, Mrs. Petra Martinez, Leonor Luna and Maria Luna, and two brothers, Roman Luna and Ynez Luna.

The Rev. Richard Casey, Holy Cross pastor, officiated at the funeral Mass. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudman Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Abel Camacho, P. E. Romo, Manuel Cervantez Sr., Manuel Cervantez Jr., Ruben Solis, Prudencio Basquez, Jose Marin and George Ochoa.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. today in Stamford for Mrs. Myrtle Smith, who died Tuesday in a Stamford hospital. She was the mother of Mrs. Joe Callis and the grandmother of Mrs. Katharine Trammell, both of Post.

Mrs. Smith, who would have been 90 years old Sept. 8, was a long-time resident of Aspermont, but for the last three years had made her home with a daughter in Stamford. She was married to the Rev. G. W. Smith, a Methodist minister, Sept. 4, 1892. Mr. Smith died in 1916.

Mrs. Clara Mason funeral held here

Mrs. Clara B. Mason, 75, of Dora, N. M., who died Monday night in Garza Memorial Hospital, was buried in the Southland Cemetery Tuesday following funeral services at 4 p. m. in Mason Funeral Home Chapel.

Mrs. Mason, who was a resident of Garza County for 18 years, had lived in Dora for the last eight years. She was visiting her son, Jim Mason, at Southland when she was admitted to the hospital here three days before her death.

The Rev. A. T. Nixon officiated at the funeral services.

Besides the son of Southland, Mrs. Mason is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Yarborough of Houston and Mrs. Norma Simmons of Dora; two step-daughters; six grandchildren; four great-grandchildren, and a brother, Edwin Learge of Fort Worth.

District 'phone manager of Brownfield succumbs

Herbert F. Emery of Brownfield, district manager of General Telephone Company and a frequent business visitor in Post, died at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock.

Mr. Emery, who was 56, had been with the telephone company for 25 years.

Funeral services were held in the First Presbyterian Church at Brownfield, with burial in San Angelo.

He is survived by his wife, one son, one daughter, his mother and two brothers.

Back to School Promotion weeks later

Post's third annual Sidewalk Sale is scheduled for Saturday, July 25, the Post Chamber of Commerce Promotion Committee decided Tuesday morning in a planning session at Judy's Cafe.

The Sidewalk Sale has been one of the most successful of recent promotions by Post merchants and will be held one day only again this year.

Rites conducted for mother of Mrs. Joe Callis

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. today in Stamford for Mrs. Myrtle Smith, who died Tuesday in a Stamford hospital. She was the mother of Mrs. Joe Callis and the grandmother of Mrs. Katharine Trammell, both of Post.

Mrs. Smith, who would have been 90 years old Sept. 8, was a long-time resident of Aspermont, but for the last three years had made her home with a daughter in Stamford. She was married to the Rev. G. W. Smith, a Methodist minister, Sept. 4, 1892. Mr. Smith died in 1916.

Mrs. Smith was the mother of seven children, four of whom survive. They are Mrs. Callis, Mrs. J. M. Owens of Stamford and Mrs. Ross Smith of Tahoka, and one son, Charles C. Smith of New Orleans.

Also surviving are nine grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were held at the funeral home in Stamford. The Rev. Eugene Matthews, pastor of Stamford's St. John's Methodist Church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Howard Quitt, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Aspermont.

Interment was in the cemetery at Aspermont.

Those from Post who attended the funeral were Mrs. Callis, Mrs. Trammell and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Eckols and daughter, Phyllis.

Barry Thompson attends institute

LAS VEGAS, N. M.—Barry B. Thompson, superintendent of Post Independent School District, Post, Tex., is one of the 47 members of the National Science Foundation sponsored Institute in New Mathematics Curriculum developments currently being held on the Highlands University campus.

Directed by Dr. Galen Ewing, professor of chemistry at Highlands University, and designed to further acquaint curriculum directors, subject matter supervisors, and department heads with the new curriculum developments in chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics, the Institute will be in session until July 2.

Rotarians, wives to have ice cream supper

Marvin Hudman's team lost the Post Rotary Club's recent membership contest to the Rev. Edgar Graham's team and so will host all Rotarians and their wives to homemade ice cream and cake supper at City-County Park next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Head-on crash occurs Monday west of Post

A grinding head-on collision between two pickup trucks Monday morning, 2 of a mile south of the Close City community on FM Road 399 sent four persons to the hospital, one in a critical condition.

Bob Baker, 32-year-old farmer of the Close City community, who was riding in a pickup driven by Jimmy Redman, 26, of Post, had not regained consciousness late yesterday afternoon after suffering a concussion and other injuries in the accident, which occurred about 8:15 o'clock. Baker is in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock, where his condition yesterday was reported "slightly improved" for the first time since the accident.

Redman, who received severe bruises and abrasions and suffered from shock, was reported in improved condition yesterday afternoon at Garza Memorial Hospital.

The two occupants of the other pickup, Jack Spears and Floyd Curry, both of Tahoka, were less seriously injured and were dismissed after treatment at the hospital here.

Highway Patrolman Henry Harden, who investigated the accident, said it occurred on a straight stretch of paved road and under perfect driving conditions.

The patrolman said both vehicles overturned after the collision and rolled into the bar ditches at the side of the road.

The officer's report showed that Redman and Baker were driving southward after having been to look at Redman's cotton crop. The other pickup was traveling northward. Both Spears, who is 26, and Curry, described by Harden as several years older, are water well drillers, Spears was driving the pickup, the officer said.

Redman is employed as a city letter carrier here, but also farms a place in the Close City community.

Both vehicles were heavily damaged in the collision, Harden said.

Spears and Curry were taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. An ambulance was called from the Dillard Morris home near the scene of the crash and took Redman and Baker to the hospital, from where Baker was transferred to the Lubbock hospital.

Grazing privileges on diverted acres 'OK'd'

The U. S. Department of Agriculture Tuesday offered hay and grazing privileges on diverted croplands through Aug. 31 in Garza and 11 other Texas counties, including Dickens.

Emmarhe I. Hartel, manager of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, told The Dispatch Tuesday that the county's disaster committee had requested such privileges because of the effects of the drouth in the county.

Word of the USDA's action was received Tuesday in telegrams from Cong. George Mahon, one to The Dispatch and one to the county ASC office.

The action gives ASC committees in the 12 counties authority to permit livestock grazing and hay harvesting on land diverted from crop production under the conservation reserve and the feed grain and the wheat diversion program.

Farmers are required to obtain approval from the county ASC committee before grazing livestock or harvesting forage on retired or diverted land.

Mrs. Hartel said forms for ready come in.

The first entry for the Cowboy Reunion is an "old-timer", D. R. Wright, who has been coming to the reunion for some 20 years and this year holds the distinction of being the first to sign up.

Wright, who owns his own spread on the Ivan road, out of Breckenridge, will compete as an old-time calf roper — and quite often their time in seconds makes the best of professionals look at their lariat.

Swenson stated "In addition to the prize saddle which will be usual be given to the best old-timer roper over 55 years — and who comes up with the best time in the finals — a new old-timer award is to be given this year. The old-timer who has the best time in the eliminations will be awarded a hand-engraved special make belt buckle."

A total of as many as 500 entries are expected for the cowhand tryouts in all events and these will be actual working cowboys, as professionals are barred.

160 barrels of oil in 19 hours

Humble Oil & Refining Co.'s No 1 Mid-Seale, a deep wildcat four and one-half miles east of Southland, made 160 barrels of new oil, plus 42 per cent water, in 19 hours on latest pumping test of the Ellenburger through perforations at 8,798 to 8,809 feet.

This section in the indicated Ellenburger discovery had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

The project is 19 miles north of the northernmost Ellenburger production in the Permian Basin.

George Pierce of Farmer Supply Co. here is staging an evening opening meeting at the 4-H building Tuesday night (starting time 8 p. m.) with all area cotton farmers and all others interested in cotton production hereabouts.

Dr. Alex (Al) Pope, agronomist for Best Fertilizers, will explain the advantages of side dressing cotton. Side dressing means putting on additional fertilizer after the cotton is partially grown. This increases cotton production tremendously, according to the Best people, and already is a paying practice in many cotton areas.

Dry land cotton farmers also can hedge on their investment, it is pointed out, by putting on fertilizer in two applications with the second one coming after they are far enough along to have a good indication of the cotton making a good harvest.

Al Pope is an agronomist who knows of what he speaks. He has a Ph. D. degree in soil chemistry from Oregon State University and a long and varied experience in the field, coming to Best Fertilizers from the position as coordinator for research in soil chemistry. (See Postings, Page 8)

Lyntegar granted improvement loan

The Lyntegar Electric Co-op, Inc., headquarters in Tahoka, has received a $1,341,000 loan from the Rural Electrification Administration to finance construction of 341 miles of distribution lines for 2,017 new customers and for extensive system improvements.

Cong. George Mahon was notified in Washington Monday by the REA of the loan's approval.

Lyntegar operates in Garza County as well as a number of other counties surrounding Lynn County.

Dr. Durham in talk before Rotarians

New 'break through' in cattle feeding reported

The cattle business is "having its problems", Dr. Ralph Durham, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Tech, told Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall.

"but we're on the threshold of new things in animal husbandry to give cattle raisers more "dollar efficiency."

In a highly entertaining as well as eye opening talk on new developments, Dr. Durham declared: "I'm optimistic about the cattle business. It's about as low as it can go. It's time to get in."

Among the new concepts in cattle feeding, Dr. Durham said it has now been proven that if all the roughage is taken out of their feed, cattle will eat less concentrates than they would with the roughage added.

He said such animals produce good beef at lower cost.

"Of course it doesn't produce contented cows," he added, "but look how much energy a cow wastes chewing her cud 12 hours a day."

"We think we can get by now without roughage in feed lots, which means such lots are not limited by roughage requirements."

He called a feed lot a "fifth pasture" for cattle and that it is good to rest your pasture, especially during a drouth.

"We can now take a baby calf from her mother and put it on automatic feeder and it will do all right," he added.

Brotherhood speaker

The Rev. Clayton Pennington, pastor of Hodges Baptist Church, was guest speaker at the Brotherhood meeting in the Calvary Baptist Church Monday night. Those attending the service were Bobby Gordon, Jim Hays, A. T. Nixon, Oscar Gordon, Jimmy Holleman, Ronnie Ticer, Billy Joe Lofton, Gene Mason, Billy Greene, Lyd A. Odom, Marvin Williams, Harold Britton and Lee R. Jones.

Fire damages auto

Considerable damage resulted late Sunday afternoon from a fire in an automobile owned by Ralph Cockrell while it was parked on the United Super Market parking lot. The fire was extinguished by the Post Volunteer Fire Department.

The long-awaited move into Piggly Wiggly's big, new supermarket at Eighth street and Avenue K will come Sunday. Manager Curtis Christopher has announced. Piggly Wiggly will close down operations at its present store on West Main at the usual time Saturday night, remain closed Sunday for the move, and will open in the roomy new building at the regular time Monday morning.

Not only will Piggly Wiggly have the biggest store in town, but the biggest parking lot as well. It's a beautiful supermarket in every detail. Postings congratulates Piggly Wiggly in their new plant which will enable Piggly Wiggly to handle their full line of merchandise here for the first time, due to the added floor space.

There is a possibility that one or two other Post members will attend the convention, a Jaycee officer said today.

At last Thursday night's meeting, the Jaycees saw a film on nuclear fallout, shown by Jaycee Wayne Richardson of the Soil Conservation Service office here.

The Jaycees meet every second and fourth Thursday night in the Community Room.

Mrs. Gray's father dies in Arizona

Funeral services for David Bruce Hicks, 66, who died Tuesday at Yuma, Ariz., will be conducted at 2 p. m. Friday at the Hudman Funeral Home chapel.

Mr. Hicks, who was the father of Mrs. J. W. Gray of 611 West 12th St., was a resident of Post about 25 years ago. Other survivors include another daughter, Mrs. Christine Worley, who lives in California; a brother, John Hicks of Brady, and five grandchildren.

The Rev. Joe Vernon, First Baptist Church pastor, will officiate at the funeral here Friday. Interment will be in the Terrace Cemetery.

Sanford tells Lions of Chamber's program

Dave Sanford addressed Post Lions Tuesday night at their dinner meeting at Levi's Restaurant on the Post Chamber of Commerce, its plans and organization. Guests attending were the Rev. Clarence Stephens, new Methodist Church pastor, Bob Barry of Lubbock and Terry Harden, son of Lion Henry Hardin.

Proposes old-timer celebration

Ray Farrar, a former Post resident who is now a federal marshal for the Ontario Judicial District of California, has written The Dispatch to propose that a Golden Anniversary celebration be held here this fall for all the "old-timers" of this community and area.

"Most of the old-timers there came to Post in the fall of 1914," Farrar wrote last week, "as my family did. I would like to start a movement for a Golden Anniversary for these people and have a real get-together this fall to celebrate this occasion."

"I know many people here, and other places, that would like to attend."

Farrar urged The Dispatch to "think it over" and through the press "see how many are interested."

Farrar is an ardent Dispatch subscriber, as are dozens of families who have moved away from Post but do not wish to sever the old hometown tie of keeping up with what is going on here through a Dispatch subscription.

The Dispatch thinks the idea is a crackerjack—if enough of the old-timers are interested. What's your reaction? Especially do we want the reactions of the old-timers, both those living here and in other parts of the country.

Please write us a letter and give us your thoughts. We will publish them. If the response is good, The Dispatch feels sure that proper arrangements can be made.

But there is not too much time for the planning that would be required.

So if you think Marshal Farrar's idea for a Golden Anniversary reunion is a good one sit down now and write us a brief letter and tell us. If you have other suggestions, write them.—JC

Post Chamber's biggest program

The Post Chamber of Commerce last week announced a 1964 Action Program which includes 43 specific projects.

Wow! should be the general reaction from most folks to that announcement. And you probably hastily added, "Do they really think they can get all that done?"

The answer to that is that the Chamber CAN accomplish most, if not all, that program if the Chamber of Commerce gets to work and stays at work on these 43 projects.

It doesn't mean that the president is going to wrap them all up in a neat little package stamped "accomplished." It doesn't mean that the board of directors is going to divide up those 43 projects and each director try to get the job done on four of them all by himself.

To go with the 43 projects are 13 different action committees to which these projects are assigned. The success or failure of the Chamber program is going to rest on the success or failure of these 13 committees to dig in, chart a steady course, and work out the problems.

Now it passes into the hands of the action committees, into the hands of the Chamber membership, and into the hands of the many prospective members who indicated during the April workshop that they were interested in the projects they listed—interested enough to serve on committees to work them out, and interested enough to join the Chamber of Commerce.

The Dispatch hopes the action program will be received not only favorably—but enthusiastically.

Not all of the suggestions made during the workshop could be incorporated into the 1964 action program. There were too many for that.

Actually, Chamber directors were advised by the West Texas Chamber, which conducted the Community Workshop here, not to tackle too ambitious a program.

Chamber directors didn't realize how ambitious the program was until it was all down on paper, written and re-written, and then totaled up.

This is the biggest program the local chamber has undertaken in many years, possibly in its history.

It has taken five months of effort to even "get the ball rolling" so to speak.

First, to obtain the desires of the citizens of this community a Community Workshop was held. Planning that required some four weeks of concentrated effort.

Then from the Workshop report, the Action Program was outlined, studied, revalued, and finally adopted.

The third step was in selecting chairmen of the 13 action committees. Fourth, in consultation with the individual committee chairmen the 13 action committees have been selected.

Getting 13 committees into enthusiastic action is the next step. It is obvious at this point why a trained Chamber manager would come in handy right now.

But Chamber directors think first they must show the organization and the community that the Chamber can be properly organized for an action program and that results can be obtained.

If the action program is properly initiated by the 13 action committees, the Chamber admittedly will have a large talking point in its drive for a healthy increase in its membership rolls.

It has been too many years since an all-out, personal contact membership drive for the C of C has been conducted here.

But one is shaping up.

It is one of the 43 objectives of the action program.

To clear the way for it, Chamber directors put a study committee to work on its dues structure to determine what fair share dues should be for various-sized businesses and individual members.

That committee has come up with a plan which has a four point formula in which factors of the formula apply in his own particular case.

It is a membership formula which is today being successfully used by some of the best Chambers of Commerce large and small. It isn't an effort to increase Chamber dues, merely to put them on an equitable plane.

The Chamber today could double its membership if most of the eligible business and professional folks decided to invest in their community's future through Chamber membership.

Some firms simply haven't been asked in recent years. Some have begun disgruntled with Chamber actions, or inactions, in the past, and dropped their memberships.

It costs money to run a Chamber organization which has a full scale action program. But what is more important it takes people, working together, for common community interest.

Both of these ingredients are needed to make the current action program a success.

Several months work have been concluded at the directors' level to get the general overall planning worked out and the workshop held upon which to base its action program.

Enthusiasm and effort can carry a surprisingly large percentage of this program to accomplishment. In fact, the Chamber already is moving ahead toward several of these goals.

In others, only community support is needed for them to be successfully concluded by various local governmental units. Organized support behind specific projects propels them forward. Without organized support the only pressure applied is in resistance to those projects by those who disagree with them, or more importantly get "hurt a little" individually if they are pushed through.

The best example of this is the livestock ordinance.

It is just gaining real public support. Chamber support behind it will help even more. When that support comes forward, the people get action and enforcement.

Another will be a broad street maintenance program long overdue in the city. The city dads are busy mapping a big resealing program for the summer. When the taxpayers tell them that is what they want then it will be that much easier to accomplish, perhaps even to expand the planned program further. The streets badly need resealing. It's certainly in the public's interest to support the program and back it.

There's plenty to be done. Forty-three projects are in the action program. When they are accomplished there are more than 43 more already in line.

The Chamber directors to date have spent five months time organizing for an all-out effort. If they judged the community pulse correctly there are lots of willing hands who are ready to "pick up the ball and run with it."

Now's the time to "start running."

You're probably wondering who started all this? Where did the "push" come from for a big action program, membership drive, etc?

If you'll just stop to remember, it started last fall at a Chamber-sponsored discussion meeting to which everyone interested was invited. At that time some 40 or 50 business men after an evening of talking over community problems decided what was needed to get the Chamber membership working together was a professionally trained manager.

At that time a study committee was named. It worked for four months on its recommendations. Those recommendations were presented to the newly organized 1964 board of directors.

To date its recommendations have been carried out.

That's how come the Community Workshop, the Action Program, and all the work spent in committee organization and assignment.

YOU asked for it, that's who. And if YOU want to keep going on what YOU started, then a lot of fine accomplishments are going to be totaled up at the end of the year.

Whether it nets done or not really is pretty much up to YOU.—JC

RAIN GAUGES, like timepieces, are rarely together. I'd never realized that so many rain gauges in one town could vary so much until I installed one at my house a few years ago. We've about decided here at The Dispatch office that the best way to handle it when all the different rain gauge readings start coming in is to take an average and report the result as the amount of rainfall.

You know, like when you're getting impatient for the lunch hour and your watch says 5 minutes until 12 and the other fellow has 10 minutes until 12, and you agree to split the difference and synchronize your watches at 7½ minutes until 12. By the time you get through checking, comparing and synchronizing, it is time to go eat and you've got it made, at least until 5 o'clock starts approaching and you go through the whole process again. It would be interesting to know how much time is lost that way each day.

THE MAN UP The Street says you're an old-timer if you think of the town square as a place and not as a person.

Something like a couple of weeks ago, they held the first annual homecoming in the Polar community, southeast of Post in the corner of Kent County, and we're still hearing about it. The best written description arrived last weekend from Bessie Randolph, but it reached us too late to publish in last Thursday's Dispatch, which, however, did contain another account of the reunion.

Bessie, whose letter to The Dispatch was postmarked Polar Route, Dermott, Texas, reported that 475 people attended the reunion, with one family attending from as far away as South America, and others coming from Alabama, New Mexico, Arizona, California and Louisiana.

"HANDSHAKES AND greetings were the order of the day," Bessie writes, "as old friends met, some for the first time since leaving Polar years ago. Pictures were made and movie cameras were flashing here and there through the crowd. The children played ball."

The reunion crowd included some 150 former students of the Polar school. "At noon, the tables were heaped high with all kinds of good eats; Rev. Vester Clanton, a former resident, said a prayer, and the eats began to disappear," Bessie continues.

IT ALL SOUNDS as if it was quite an occasion, and Bessie informs us that it will be an annual event from now on, with the 1965 reunion scheduled for the last Sunday in August. She also expressed the Polar community's thanks to "everyone that helped to make this homecoming possible."

Rural mailmen in Ohio have a sideline chore to do while they deliver mail, but it isn't exactly the same kind of a sideline chore that Post's rural carriers are sometimes called on to do. Curtis Davies, Phil Bouchier and J. D. McCampbell are sometimes called upon to distribute livestock census cards upon their rural routes, but, as far as I know, they've never been called upon to make annual game surveys, as the rural mailmen in Ohio sometimes are. The Ohio rural mailmen, in cooperation with the state's department of natural resources, jot down the number of rabbits, pheasants, and quail they see as they drive their routes.

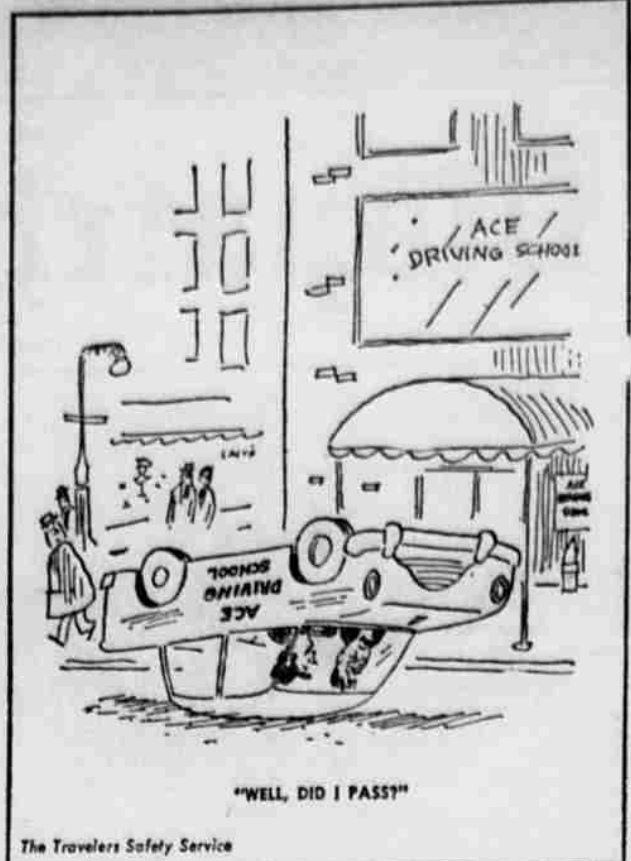

POLICE CHIEF Elton Corley, members of the city council and others, who for the last several months have described the dog problem here as "a big headache" can be thankful that it isn't like it used to be—when four - dog families were as common in Texas as two-car families re today. Jack Maguire, in the current issue of "Texas Parade" magazine has this to say about it:

"Not that Texans were canine fanciers, particularly, but they did believe that every dog had its place. And whether a family had one pup or a dozen, each was expected to earn its keep."

"Top dog was the family pet, which had the run of the house. Another was assigned to guarding the ranch or farm house from everything from rattlesnakes to prowlers. A hunting hound helped to keep game on the table, while the hoo dog had the simple job of herding and leading the family's pig cron. If there was a shortage of rance riders, another dog often helped with the cattle."

And, sneaking of animals, I recently heard an elephant described as a mouse built in government specifications (SvV T just happened to notice: That joke is of a different type than most of the ele-

WINDOW TO THE WORLD
Your eyes are your window to the world. But, even if you are able to read this, your vision may still be defective.

Chances are slightly more than one out of two that something is wrong with your eyes, on the basis of statistics.

Close to 80 million Americans wear glasses. At least two million of these have inadequate vision even with glasses. About one million persons are blind. Another 30,000 Americans become blind each year.

Unfortunately, many misconceptions and myths about eyes are still popular today.

Take eye strain, for example. Ophthalmologists—physicians who specialize in eye care—usually agree that there is no such thing as eye strain. Those pains and discomforts that sometimes follow long hours of watching a jumpy television screen actually are due to eye fatigue. Your eyes need to rest, too.

Children do not outgrow crossed eyes, and this condition should be treated as early as possible. Otherwise, some loss of sight could result.

Good vision is important to safe driving of an auto, but perfect vision is by no means required. The driver who has a few drinks under his belt is much more dangerous than the nearsighted whose defect is reasonably corrected with glasses.

You've probably heard that eating plenty of carrots is good for your eyes. Eating carrots, however, does not necessarily improve vision. Carrots do contain Vitamin A, but only a very small amount of it is needed. And it is found in many of the foods we eat, such as carrots.

Glaucoma—the most common of the serious eye diseases—can be cured. But it can cause blindness if not arrested by treatment and a loss of vision can be prevented by regular checkups for glaucoma, most important, particularly those past 40.

Children should have their eyes examined at the age of three or four, and should be re-examined each year. The child may have grossly defective vision and not know it.

What can you do to protect your eyes and vision? Make sure you and everyone in your family, especially the children—have regular eye checkups. Any change in vision is a definite sign that an examination is needed.

What our contemporaries are saying

There's a sign on Highway 84 west of Littlefield which reads something like this: "Did you look for it in Littlefield first?" It's obviously aimed at shoppers headed out of town towards Lubbock. How about that?—Billye Stockton in The Crosbyton Review.

It is not easy to be alarmed at the many crises facing the world when there is a crimson veil blowing across the face of dawn and a mockingbird is singing from the lofty branches of a cottonwood. It is a brief truce between beauty and reality.—Douglas Meador in Matador Tribune.

A fellow has now discovered a way to hammer nails without hitting his thumb... he has his wife hold the nail.—James Roberts in The Andrews County News.

Women are never satisfied. They are always trying either to put on weight, take it off, or rearrange it.—Harold Hudson in The Ochiltree County Herald.

Screwworms are back in area

— Screwworms penetrated into central and west Texas May for the first time this year and are now in an excellent area to swoop into any area of Texas where farmers and ranchers are watching and treating their wounds.

Emergency eradication measures initiated wherever a screwworm infestation is reported are credited with keeping the native fly population down. Large numbers of flies, reared and sexually sterilized in the Mission plant, are dispersed in areas where infestations are discovered. Sterile flies mating with fertile female flies prevent offspring from being produced. Campaign workers also spray livestock in infested herds and flocks to prevent further infestations.

AGRICULTURE

RELEASED BY THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

John C. White, Commissioner

FARM TO MARKET

You can't go whizzing around the country side with a shopping cart to buy the food you need for your family. With few exceptions, you must depend on that food being funneled from farms throughout the country to retail outlets in your area.

That funneling process, which includes every stop that farm products go through after they are produced until you buy them in your neighborhood store, is known as our marketing system.

The Texas Department of Agriculture works constantly to develop and promote efficient marketing methods which will not only help reduce retail costs, but also increase the habitually narrow profit margin of the farmer.

AT PRESENT, twice as much money is spent on marketing food and other farm products after they leave the farm than is spent in producing that food—and twice as many people are employed as "marketers" than as farmers.

Take the carrots you buy today in polyethylene bags. Not too many years ago, you bought carrots in bunches with the tops on and when you got home you usually wrenched off the tops and threw them away. But the consumer paid for transporting those tops from wherever the carrots were grown to your store.

With the carrots bagged, not only are transportation and handling costs reduced, but the bags reduce loss of moisture and the carrots remain in better condition during transit, in the store, and in your home refrigerator.

THE MOST effective and least costly system for each different packaged product you use is constantly under study. And this study results in a better product for you at a better price. A new insect-proof, multiwall paper bag is being developed which fights off insect infestation long before the consumer ever sees the product.

Instruments and machines are also used to protect you from internal defects in food products. Some of these instruments "see" through the food and sort it automatically without damage to the food.

You are probably not overly concerned with the way food products are loaded on a truck or freight car, so long as they get to you in good condition. But the loading patterns can be important to you. When more efficient loading methods are used, a truck or freight car can carry more in the same space and transportation costs are held down.

It has been estimated that the produce from one out of every five acres growing fruits and vegetables is lost through waste and spoilage after harvest. To reduce this tremendous waste and to insure better quality in the food products which do reach you, the Texas Department of Agriculture will continue to seek new and more successful means of food handling and preservation.

PLANNED SNACKS

School is out, the kids are home and probably wanting something to eat every hour on the hour. The food children eat between meals is important. Snacks should be planned so they provide part of the daily nutritional needs. Many times children and teen-agers are too busy to eat at mealtimes, so mothers have an even bigger responsibility to make the snacks nutritious.

What do you have available for your children to grab and "eat on the run"—popsicles, candy, potato chips and Cokes that provide calories but no vitamin, protein, calcium or other nutrients? There are many nutritional snacks. Replace those popsicles (sugar and water only) with an ice cream bar that will provide that growing child with calcium, phosphorus, protein, riboflavin, Vitamin A and other nutrients.

Instead of candy, why not fill the cookie jar with "enriched" cookies? And by "enriched" I mean cookies that contain nutrition. Peanut butter cookies will add to the day's intake of protein; oatmeal will make cookies higher in the B-Vitamins; the addition of dried apricots will add the nutrients, iron and Vitamin A; dates and raisins will also add iron. So make those cookies more flavorful and more nutritious. The kids will like the added flavor and their bodies will profit from the added nutrition.

FRUIT SNACKS

More and more fruits are coming to the market so these will be easy, nutritious snacks to have on hand. Also, try substituting a vitamin for sugar by substituting a pitcher of fruit juice for those Cokes.

If a group, especially a teenager's group, are in for snacks, they delight in cheese base dips.

FROZEN TOMATOES?

Don't look for it just yet, but some day soon there may be frozen tomatoes on the market, says Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer information specialist. A new freezing method of exceeding-low temperatures of 320 degrees below zero, obtained by using liquid nitrogen, is being tried rather successfully, she says.

The sterile - male technique of insect control is being used in this year's campaign against the Mexican fruit fly. Technique is similar to that being used in the southwestern campaign against the screwworm, a pest of livestock. If the new biological control method proves successful, it will eliminate the need for conventional pesticides in this U. S. - Mexican effort. The campaign is being carried out in southern California.

Son of former Post resident wed Saturday in Fort Worth

Miss Carol Ann Lyle of Fort Worth became the bride of Nicholas Ray Lanotte of Lubbock at the Ridgela Presbyterian Church in Fort Worth Saturday at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lyle Jr. of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Lanotte of Lubbock, former Post residents.

The Rev. Roy Ford, minister of the Lubbock View Christian Church, and the Rev. Clifford Williams officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, heart-shaped neckline and petal-point sleeves and featured a chapel train. A blush elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of orchids and white roses.

Miss Mary Catherine Inglefield of Corpus Christi was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Dee Ann Yelton and Gloria Sue Cantrell. They wore identical floor-length dresses of pale yellow silk organza with portrait necklines. Their headpieces were of matching net and they carried nosegays of yellow daisies.

Best man was Douglas Ford of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Dan Lanotte of Lubbock, brother of the bridegroom, and Wayne Gamblin of Post. Ushers were George Lyle, brother of the bride, and Kenneth Wilson of Lubbock, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed at the Petroleum Club.

The bride chose a white silk suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage for the wedding trip to California.

Mrs. Lanotte graduated from W. E. Boswell High School and plans to attend Whittier College in Whittier, Calif., where the couple will live. Mr. Lanotte is a Texas Tech graduate and will be associated with the United California Bank in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gamblin were among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding.

Mrs. Lonnie Gene Peel Merrymakers hostess

Mr. Lonnie Gene Peel was a guest of the Merrymaker's Club when it met in the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lonnie Peel, Tuesday.

The afternoon was spent visiting and piecing quilt blocks for the hostess.

Homemade ice cream, cake and punch were served to the following: Mmes. Peel, Bonnie Adamson, Pearl Crisp, Mable Martin, H. F. Wheatley, S. C. Storie Sr., Percy Printz, J. F. Storie, Alma Sims, Alice Parsons, E. W. Cross and Arthur Floyd.

Mrs. Parsons will be hostess for the June 30 meeting in her home.

FLORIDA TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shelton have returned from a 10-day trip to Pensacola, Fla., and a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Kemp and two sons. While there, the Sheltons enjoyed deep sea fishing.

Bride-elect is shower honoree Tuesday evening

Miss Carol Dee Hodges, bride-elect of Gary Brewer, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night in the Community Room.

Mrs. Weldon Reed registered 44 guests in the bride's book between the hours of 7:30 and 9 o'clock.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. F. J. Brewer. They were presented with white carnation corsages.

Carrying out the honoree's chosen colors of pink and white, the table was covered with an Irish linen cutwork cloth over pink and featured an arrangement of white daisies and white candles. Pink punch, cakes iced in pink, mints and nuts were served by Linda Pennell and Mrs. John Bland.

Mrs. Marvin Hudman and Mrs. Lowell Short displayed the gifts.

The hostesses, who presented Miss Hodges with individual gifts, were: Mmes. Dillard Morris, Ray N. Smith, Hansford Hudman, O. F. Pennell, Robert Cox, Short, D. H. Bartlett, Hudman, Johnny Ray, Tom Henderson, Arda Long, Barrie Jones, Weldon Reed, V. E. Long, Frank Runkles, W. C. Sullivan, Bland, Wesley Scott, Glenn Shelton and Wilson D. Williams.

SHONGALOO VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fowler of Shongaloo, La., returned home last Thursday after visiting a few days with their daughters and families. Mrs. David Rogers and Mrs. Bill Dixon. They left their grandson, Steve Nutt, for a week's visit with the Dixons and took Pat and Sandy Dixon home with them.

The ship's rudder for steering large vessels was perfected in the 13th century, paving the way for long voyages.

MRS. DAVID HENRY GREENBERG (Corinne Hunt)

Miss Hunt and Mr. Greenberg wed in Poteau, Okla., church

Miss Etta Corinne Hunt and David Henry Greenberg exchanged wedding vows in the First Presbyterian Church at Poteau, Okla., at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, June 1. Dr. Gordon Gray read the double ring ceremony.

The bride chose a street-length yellow silk organza over taffeta frock enhanced with two organza roses at the back waistline. She wore a yellow tulle veil circled trimmed with yellow butterflies. Yellow dyed-to-match shoes, white gloves, and pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, completed the ensemble.

After a wedding trip through the Ozarks, the couple is at home at 115 Ramble, Hot Springs, Ark., for the summer.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Thomas Hunt and

Miss Mathis and Mr. Odom wed in June 10 ceremony

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Warren was the scene of the late afternoon wedding at 5 o'clock Wednesday, June 10, for Miss Ava Marie Mathis and her son, Marvin Delroy Odom.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. L. B. Mathis of Southland. The Rev. Lee Jones, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony.

The bride chose a sheer white nylon dress fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. The dress was enhanced with a cummerbund and a white lace jacket.

Following the ceremony, wedding cake and punch were served to close friends and relatives of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Odom attended Southland schools. He is employed at Piggly Wiggly and they are at home at 511-B West 7th St.

Included in the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Leo Stolle and Beverly and Misses Connie Wartes and Jettie Crawford, all of Southland.

HOME FROM ALABAMA

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Knowles returned last week from Tallahassee, Ala., where they spent several days with his mother. They spent the night in Dallas and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Shultz, Mrs. Hettie Mae Robinson accompanied her brother-in-law and sister home and will also visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duren.

Southland Order Eastern Star holds installation of officers

The Southland Order of Eastern Star, Chapter 779, held its installation of officers service Thursday at the Masonic Hall in Southland with Mrs. Arthur Smallwood as the new Worthy Matron, and Jay Oats as Worthy Patron.

Mrs. Ruth Longtin of Slaton played a prelude of piano selections and guests were registered by Mrs. H. J. Haire and Mrs. Kenneth Davies.

The Bible was presented by Dougie Smallwood, and the square and compass was presented by Tracy Hancock.

Donald Pennell, outgoing worthy patron, called the meeting to order. Mrs. M. A. Dunn served as presiding worthy matron. The outgoing officers entered the chapter room and were seated at their respective stations. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. Mrs. Haire, marshal, led the Pledge of Allegiance, and "America" was sung.

After the welcome, Mrs. Dunn asked the marshal to present the installing officer, Mrs. Sam Martin, who introduced the following installing officers: Mrs. Herbert Dunn, installing marshal; Mrs. Roy Collins, chaplain; Mrs. Longtin, organist, and Mrs. G. N. Smallwood, secretary pro tem.

A short recess was called to prepare for the installation, and the outgoing officers retired. Other new officers are: Cora Fortson, associate matron; Donald Pennell, associate patron; Opal Pennell, secretary; Gloss Davies, treasurer; Doll Haire, conductress; Lucille Myers, associate conductress;

A piano solo "Bless This House" was played by Janice Pinkert. Lucille Myers and Bobby Oats sang "How Great Thou Art".

The Rev. Eddie Fortson, pastor of the Southland Baptist Church, gave the benediction.

Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Jay Oats were in charge of the reception honoring Mrs. Smallwood and Mr. Oats following the ceremonies. The serving table was laid with net over blue and centered with the opened Bible with red roses across the pages, flanked by blue candles. The Mmes. Burketts and Hitt were in charge of decorations.

Several guests from Slaton and Southland attended.

Use of "abracadabra" as a "magic" word began in the second century when it was recited to expel fevers, inflammations and agues.

Betty Tennison Circle finishes mission study

The Betty Tennison Circle of Calvary Baptist Women's Missionary Union met Monday night to complete the Mission Study "Christian Life Development." Following the first 30-minute session by Mrs. Lee Jones, a supper was enjoyed by the group. The study was completed by Mrs. A. T. Nixon and Mrs. W. C. King. Others attending were: Mrs. C. D. Nowell, Estelle Bishop, H. Britton, Eunice Porter, Gordon, Jim Hays, Mabel Brant, Oscar Gordon and Harold Brant.

It's My Turn

Having received no answers to my plea for help in last week's column on non-blooming nasturtiums I have reached the following conclusions: (1) No one reads this column. (2) None of my readers has a green thumb. (3) No one cares if my nasturtiums bloom or not. (4) Many of you have the same problem and refuse to admit it.

But, all my myself I have found the answer. At last I have one bloom! This I'm sure has come about because of all the nasty and degrading remarks I have made about them as I have tenderly weeded and watered them week after week. Finally, one rather weak red one showed up this morning and looks rather shameful. I'm sure now that many others will follow suit and I won't have to write that ugly letter to Northrup King to complain about them selling me all male, all female, or sexless flower seed.

One letter I must get off soon is one to the Diamond Match Company. I bought these paperback match folders ("gophers" to those of you who are the right age) a week or so ago and the cover design is not bad but the darn things are impossible to strike. I have contemplated starting my letter, after salutations, with "I'm all burned up, but not from your matches." I figure this clever sentence will really catch their eye and maybe matches will improve. While I'm writing to them I shall also ask why they expect the public to buy matches that are advertising a product. Naturally, I am all for advertising, as it is my bread and margarine, but I object strenuously to "buying" matches to advertise for a firm who is trying to sell me something.

As you read this column, Mr. and Mrs. C will be lolling around pool soaking up Vitamin D or, as our college C says, "benies" which is short for beneficial rays and is a sample of campus "talk". Well, really, I will be lolling around at pool side. Mr. C will be stuck with dull meetings and that type thing.

Our trip to Houston will be via Santa Fe Railroad and most exciting thing about the trip will be wading through the ditch a couple of blocks below Post station with the grinning porter leaning out with a flashlight (if it is dark enough) warning to be careful of the rattle-snake.

This is true! The last time I went to Houston on the train, it happened. The train was late, night was dark, and a friend's voice lighted our way with a warning "Watch out for snake mam."

We're joining friends from Lubbock on the train and I've them to be sure and be where we will board so they miss the fun. I bet there are many places in the world where one can get off to such an exciting start.

Speaking of transportation, minds me of being involved in connection not long ago when car "running boards" were mentioned. A young teen-ager immediately wanted to know the was. Say what you want, the kids today are missing a barrel of fun. I wouldn't trade all these rides on a "running board" for a trip to Disneyland with Six Flags thrown in.

There was always room for one would hold on with one hand more" and if one was real daring stick out one foot, close one's eyes and really feel like one was flying.

I had a friend who was "only" child and her mother was always good for one wild ride week. We'd head for the count all pile out, jump on the "running board" and be off. Our driver only comment as we whizzed along was an occasional cry of "Tuck your fannies, girls, here comes car."

Johnson-Gollehon wedding is event of June 13 in El Paso

Christopher's Episcopal church of El Paso was the setting for the wedding Saturday, June 13, of Miss Efa Lou (Jo) Johnson and Ronnie Gene Gollehon.

The ceremony was read at 7 o'clock in the evening with Dr. Kenneth Gollehon officiating at the ceremony. The couple are Mr. Johnson of El Paso and Mrs. Eugene Gollehon of Portales, N. M., who are residents of the bride's home in the grandsons of Mr. D. C. Roberts of Post. Mrs. Johnson was married by her father, and she chose a formal gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over a Chantilly chapel train. The bride wore a pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Miss Elizabeth Johnson, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Other bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Bennett, Miss Kay Lucas, Miss Janet Lucas, another sister, and Miss Linda Sue Johnson, who was flower girl. They wore waltz-length dresses in pastel shades of lime, lemon, aqua, rose and orchid with matching Dior roses and circlet veils. Their cascade bouquets of carnations were in matching shades.

Michael Lee Gollehon served his brother as best man. Groomsman were Terry Lee Johnson, brother of the bride; Urshel Doran, Eddie Joe Moseley and Floyd Strickland, all of Las Cruces, N. M. Ushers were Sam Vaskov and Bill Little, also of Las Cruces.

Mrs. Johnson wore an orchid organza gown and Mrs. Gollehon wore beige silk shantung. Both wore carnation corsages.

A reception in the garden of the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. To toast the couple, a Bavarian cup loaned by Gen. and Mrs. James R. Pierce, was used.

After a three-month wedding trip through the Southwest and to the West Coast, the couple will reside in Las Cruces, and continue graduate studies at New Mexico State University. The bride received a BS degree in education and the bridegroom a BS degree in biology. He will be a candidate for an MS degree in agricultural economics.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts were among the out-of-town guests attending.

MRS. DAVID BOYD (Minnie Lee Mathis)

Mathis-Boyd vows are spoken June 13 at Church in Abilene

Miss Minnie Lee Mathis and 2nd Lt. David Boyd, both of Abilene, repeated wedding vows Saturday, June 13 at a candlelight ceremony at 6:30 o'clock in the evening at the South Side Baptist Church in Abilene.

The minister, Dr. Frank Royal, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an archway of greenery, pink carnations and wedding bells. Candelabras flanked the archway, featuring pink candles trimmed with greenery.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Mathis, Route 2, Post, and Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Boyd of Pasadena, Tex.

The bride wore a pink Chantilly lace dress over pink taffeta, designed and made by her mother, featuring a scalloped sweetheart neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists, a bodice coming to a point at the waistline and full skirt with scalloped hem. A pink pearl tiara hid her shoulder-length butterfly veil. She carried a bouquet of shredded carnations atop a white Bible.

Miss Carol Bradley of Dublin was maid of honor. Her dress was of hothouse pink chiffon over taffeta made with a high rounded neckline, a fitted bodice and full skirt. The sleeves came to a point over her hands. She wore matching pillbox hat with a short veil of tulle and carried white carnations with pink and white streamers.

David Lynn of Abilene was best man. Joe McCanlies and Joe Guffey of Abilene were ushers.

Miss Donna Ruth Mathis of Post, cousin of the bride, and Miss Louise Gerner of Dallas were candle-lighters.

Mrs. Jerry Malone sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer" accompanied by her husband at the organ.

Mrs. Jerry Morris and Mrs. Malone were hostesses for the reception held at the church. Guests were registered by Miss Vicky Carter. Mrs. Don Davis, the former Karen Putts, and Mrs. Charles

Priscilla Club meets for sewing, visiting

The Priscilla Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Chester Morris and enjoyed an afternoon of sewing and visiting.

Mrs. Morris served congealed salad and sandwiches to the following members: Mmes. Ted Hibbs, Keith Kemp, Inez Satterwhite, J. M. Lane, Morris Neff, N. C. Outlaw, Sam Eitter and L. A. Barrow.

Recent bride is shower honoree at Justiceburg

Mrs. Bud Schlehuber and Mrs. Sam Bevers Jr., were hostesses for a shower honoring Mrs. Bobby Bevers, the former Miss Carla Ramage of Snyder, June 9 at the school luncheon in Justiceburg.

Misses Denise Schlehuber and Glenna Bevers registered the guests calling between 2 and 4 o'clock.

Yellow punch and cakes, nuts, mints and coffee were served from a table laid with a lace cloth over yellow. A yellow flower arrangement, placed on a mirror and ruffled with aqua net, formed the centerpiece. Yellow candles completed the decor.

A gift tree, hung with kitchen gadgets, centered the gift table. The hostesses presented the recent bride with a set of dishes.

Guests were: Mmes. Albert Bevers and Junior, Bessie Ramage, Maggie Roddy, J. P. Madding, Evelyn Dorman and Betty, all of Snyder; Mrs. W. T. Parchman of Carlsbad, N. M.; Mrs. Spencer Bevers and children, Mrs. Sam Heintz and daughters, Sherry and Peggy Bevers, Post and Mmes. Lee Reed, Dezzie Bevers, Cameron Justice, Riley Miller and Jennifer, Don Robison, Billy Blacklock, Mason Justice, Cecil Smith, Fernie Reed, Chris Cornett, Jim Tidwell, Hardie Ainsworth and grandson, Weldon Reed and children, Raymond Key, Ethel Baisley of Dallas and Miss Vivian McWhirt.

Homemakers hear talk by attorney

The Garza County Young Homemakers met Tuesday at 8 o'clock in the Home Ec department at the high school.

Attorney Pat N. Walker gave an interesting talk on "Legal Advice." It was announced that Vivian Linder of the Lubbock Southwestern Lumber Service Co., will conduct a "Food Workshop" next Tuesday, June 23, at 1:30 p. m. in the Home Ec rooms at the school. All club members and others interested are urged to attend.

Plans were discussed to assist the Barnum Springs Home Demonstration Club with a concession stand at the fair. Several members plan to attend the area convention of Young Farmers and Young Homemakers to be held in Midland, Sept. 5.

CLOSE CITY SOCIAL
The regular monthly social of the Close City community will be held at the school house, Saturday night at 7:30. Each family is asked to bring either ice cream or cake. Games of dominoes, "42" and others will be played.

HOME TO PLEASANT VALLEY
Mrs. B. D. Robinson returned to her home in the Pleasant Valley community Friday. She had been staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Roberts recuperating from a broken hip.

Works of local artist exhibited

Approximately 66 guests registered at the recent art exhibit of the works of Mrs. Johnnie Rogers held at Levi's Banquet Room where the paintings will hang throughout the month of June.

Twenty-four paintings and pencil sketches were shown with the guests choosing as favorites: "The Stranger", a reproduction; "The Flat Top Mountain", an original; "Snow Scene", a reproduction, and "Curious Saddle Ponies", an original.

The serving table was laid with an ecru lace cloth. An artistic arrangement of flowers on driftwood formed the centerpiece. Milk glass appointments were used. Miss Kay Murray and Mrs. Cletus Pollard of Fierro Del Fiego, Argentina, daughter of Mrs. Rogers, served.

Mrs. Hoyt Hill and Mrs. Katharine Trammell registered the guests, including the following from out of town: Mrs. Willie Scott, Mrs. Sue Newton, Eddie Scott and children of Lovington, N. M., Jack Smith of Hobbs, N. M., Mrs. Loretta Owen and daughters of Colorado City and Cletus Pollard and children.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

There are men who carry the weight of the world on their shoulders—but this isn't one of them.

There is no burden so joyous as the responsibility of being DAD.

But — hold on there! Don't forget it is a burden. Someone's future is on your strong back.

And that someone's future involves soul as well as body.

If you want your boy to become a good ballplayer . . . well, you go out and catch with him.

And if you have hopes for his character, his courage, his commitment to things Right and True . . . yes, a boy loves to walk into HIS CHURCH with HIS DAD.

Ten killed in '64 to date on Garza highways

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Garza County during the month of May, according to A. E. Roberts, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for seven persons killed, three persons injured and an estimated property damage of $3,400.

The rural accident summary for Garza County from January thru May of 1964 shows a total of 24 accidents resulting in 10 persons killed, 13 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $16,000.

Safety stressed in new highway improvement plan

AUSTIN — More safety and less congestion for 2,967 miles of Texas highways was the objective Friday of a $166 million improvement program authorized by the Texas Highway Commission.

The biennial Consolidated Highway Program is beamed at correcting traffic problems on parts of the Primary Highway System of U. S. and State-numbered highways in Texas.

The Highway Commission called the 2-year program "vital to our keeping pace with a traffic explosion that is increasing five per cent a year." In view of the diffusion of Texas' 22 metropolitan areas — more than any state — "these city-connecting highways must continue to be systematically upgraded for the good of the cities they serve, as well as the safety and convenience of the through traveler," the commission said.

The 25,000-mile Primary Highway System carries a bigger burden of the state's 50-billion-mile-a-year traffic load than all other systems combined, commissioners pointed out. Yet some 20,000 miles of the Primary system are considered obsolete by contemporary standards, they said.

Of the amount authorized for the Consolidated improvement program, $151 million is earmarked for construction and about $15 million for right of way. The program will be funded from state gasoline tax revenue, license fees and federal grants in aid. About 65 per cent of the cost will come from state funds.

Under the new program, heavily-traveled Primary highways will be upgraded, some to four-lane standards. Widening of bridges, paving of shoulders and other improvements for safety are also included for various highways over the state under the extensive program.

Highway Department studies indicate dramatic improvements in safety statistics result from such

Changes in oil imports sought

AUSTIN — Gov. John Connally and state railroad commissioners were called on U. S. Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall to revise the oil imports program before the next quota period starting July 1. They particularly recommended that the Texas region of surplus be moved to the West Coast where foreign oil continues to fill almost total market growth.

Connally said deterioration in Texas crude prices and production "threaten to erase the slight progress of 1963 and assure a third consecutive year of decline in the state's reserves and productive capacity."

The domestic producing industry, Gov. Connally said, must continue to grow in proportion to total imports under a stabilized price structure.

Vet's Forum

Q. Where should I send a change of address notice for my compensation check? It comes from some place in Chicago.

A. You should mail your change of address notice for any VA payments to the VA regional office where your records are maintained. This is the VA office which authorized your payments. When you move to another regional office area, the VA will transfer your records to this new regional office if you request such transfer.

Q. How do you get a veteran who requires medical treatment into a VA hospital?

A. The veteran or his physician applies for a admission which is forthcoming if he is eligible, needs hospital care and a bed is available. (In service-connected cases, a bed is always available.) In the case of a sudden emergency, the veteran may be taken directly to the hospital but someone acting for the veteran should communicate with the VA Hospital by telephone or telegraph beforehand to facilitate admission.

Q. Are women veterans eligible for VA benefits?

A. Yes. Women veterans are eligible for the same benefits and under the same conditions as men.

programs as the one authorized today. Upgrading a two-lane highway to four-lane divided status, for instance, reduces the fatality rate by more than 30 per cent. When "control of access" is added, the rate drops by 45 per cent.

ORDER FOR BOND ASSUMPTION ELECTION
THE STATE OF TEXAS (COUNTY OF GARZA) (POST INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT)

On this the 1st day of June, 1964, the Board of Trustees of Post Independent School District convened in regular session with the following members present, to-wit: E. R. Moreland, President, Ronnie Bouchier, Ted Aten, David Newby, A. Lee Ward, Russell Wilks Jr., and the following absent: Virgil Bilbo, consisting a quorum and among other proceedings had by said Board of Trustees was the following:

There came on to be considered a petition signed by 20 persons asking that an election be ordered upon the proposition hereinafter set forth, and

It appearing to the satisfaction of the Board of Trustees that said petition is signed by at least twenty resident, qualified, property tax-paying voters of said School District, who own taxable property in said District, and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, and is otherwise in conformity with law, the Board is of the opinion that said petition should be granted, and said election as prayed for should be ordered:

THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF POST INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT:

That an election be held in said School District on the 9th day of July, 1964, which date is sufficient to allow posting notice of said election for 10 days prior thereto and which date is also within thirty days from the date of this order, at which election, in accordance with said petition, the following proposition shall be submitted to the resident qualified property tax-paying voters of said School District for their action thereupon:

PROPOSITION
"Shall the Post Independent School District assume and pay off the following outstanding bonds of said School District issued prior to the creation of said district, to-wit:

Phone contract agreement made

SAN ANGELO—Negotiations between General Telephone Company of the Southwest and Communications Workers of America were concluded last Thursday.

The new three-year contract began June 1, 1964, and wages are retroactive to April 26, 1964. Other details concerning contract agreements will be released later, according to a General Telephone spokesman.

Final settlement on a new contract was reached just nine days shy of one year after negotiations began. Anniversary date of the contract which remained in effect throughout negotiations was July 20, 1963.

Final details and signing of documents will not occur for several weeks, according to Frank A. Lennberg, company spokesman.

RESEARCH PROJECT

A new research project being supported by the Cotton Producers Institute has as its goal improved luster for cotton yarns and fabrics. ## PROTEIN DEFICIENCY Protein deficiency is a major international problem, considering the world as a whole, says Dr. Carl M. Lyman, head of the Department of Biochemistry and Nutrition at Texas A&M University. A high protein diet for older people is advantageous, he said. The deficiency asserts itself in many forms—it is a contributing factor to pellagra, and there's a weakened resistance to disease in the absence of sufficient protein. Dr. Lyman addressed the recent Human Nutrition Workshop at Texas A&M University.

Herodotus wrote of the cotton plant as early as 445 B. C.

Lubbock PCA ranks among top ten of nation's credit associations

LUBBOCK — The Lubbock Production Credit Association ranked among the top 10 associations in the nation in three categories, according to figures recently released by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D. C.

Serving a nine-county area of the Texas Plains, the Lubbock association ranked 10th in total loan volume, fifth in member-owned capital stock and eighth in total stockholder-owned net worth, all climbs in ratings over the previous year.

In all three categories, the Lubbock PCA ranked second among the 36 associations in Texas, trailing only the Plainview Production Credit Association, largest among the nation's 484 agricultural financing institutions.

The Lubbock association had a loan volume of $21,572,000 capital stock totalling $1,982,775 and total net worth of $2,655,629.

"We are very pleased with the growth of our association as reflected in these figures," General Manager Alton Strickland commented. "However they are important only in the increase in services and in benefits we can provide all our members."

The Lubbock Production Credit Association serves Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza and Gaines counties, and is owned and operated in its entirety by more than 1,300 farmers and ranchers.

"We have but one reason for our existence," Strickland pointed out "and that is to provide a dependable source of agricultural credit at the lowest possible cost to our stockholder-borrowers."

The wine industry of Madeira was wiped out in 1852 when a white mildew killed all the vines.

Watch out! Stare too long at a Catalina, and next thing you know you're shattering another sales record in Pontiac's best year.*

People like to look at big, handsome Wide-Track cars, though. And drive them. And buy them. Obviously. We're selling more Pontiacs this year than ever before. Catalinas, naturally. And Tempests. Le Mans. Bonneville. And Grand Prix. Each with Pontiac style. Pontiac ride. Pontiac power. Pontiac resale value. All this is just what you're looking for, you say? Well, okay, go ahead and stare.

*Latest figures show Pontiac a solid third place in sales again, up 24.3% so far in 1964, and every Pontiac bought now sets another all-time high.

Dodgers blank Yankees to maintain wide LL margin

Monday night's games was the first action since Monday, June 8, rain having forced postponement of the games scheduled for Thursday and Saturday nights of last week.

Tom Greenwood blanked the Yankees on three hits in Monday night's Dodger win, while the Dodgers were collecting a total of seven base blows off Yankee hurler Randy Levans.

Dennis Dodson's first inning home run with David Pierce and Larry Mills on base got the Dodgers off to a three-run lead. That was all of the scoring until the last of the fifth inning when a lead-off single by Jim Poir, a walk to Neff Walker, a double by Mills and a single by Dodson produced the Dodgers' other three runs.

Tech coaches to present program here on July 21

Fifteen Texas and New Mexico cities, including Post, will be visited by Texas Tech coaches this summer on a schedule arranged by the Red Raider Club.

Leete Jackson, Red Raider Club executive vice-president, said that in most instances the coaches would visit service clubs at noon, play golf with Red Raider members in the afternoon, and speak at dinner meetings in the evening. A film highlighting Texas Tech's 1963 football play usually will be shown.

Abilene, June 11, was the first stop on the schedule that also includes: June 16, Gaines County (Seminole and Seagraves); June 18, Abilene; June 23, Plainview; June 25, Hobbs, N.M.; June 30, Slaton (night only); July 7, Levelland; July 9, Andrews; July 14, Muleshoe; July 16, Midland; July 21, Post (noon); July 23, Brownfield; July 28, Amarillo; July 30, Albuquerque, N.M.

Phillips makes signing official

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. — (Special) — The Phillips 66 basketball team's roster reached 12, today, with the announcement that 6-7 Scottie Pierce, top scorer and rebounder for West Texas State University the past two seasons, has joined Phillips Petroleum Company.

One of the 12, Ray Carey of the University of Missouri, will not join the team until late January at the end of the first semester of the next school year.

Pierce, who displayed a tremendous amount of desire in two appearances against the 66ers last season, was captain of the West Texas team which turned into one of the finer teams in the area last season.

The ruggedly built 220-pounder is extremely quick for his size, which will make it possible for Phillips coach Bud Browning to use him either at forward or center.

The pivot spot will be completely in rookie hands next season since both Mike Moran and Jim Hagan retired from basketball following the 1963-64 campaign. Tom Black, 6-10 former South Dakota State College ace, will be the other center.

A native of Post, Tex., Pierce was an all-tournament choice with West Texas at the Gulf South Classic at Shreveport in his junior year.

While in high school, he lettered in basketball, football, and track.

The victory brought the front-running Dodgers' record to 7-1, with the regular season scheduled to end June 29. Their closest competitors are the Tigers and Corvairs, each with 4-4 marks.

The Red Sox came from behind with two runs in the bottom of the sixth to eke out their 4-3 win over the Cards Monday night.

Trailing 3 to 2, the Sox opened the sixth with James Stone's single and a one-base advance on an error in the outfield. After D. Woods struck out, Butch Heaton walked and both runs scored on Catcher Jay Bird's two-bagger.

The teams were tied, 1-1, until the bottom of the third when the Red Sox went into the lead on first baseman Jerry Bratcher's run-scoring single.

The Cardinals went back into the lead, 3-2, in the top of the fifth when two runs resulted from singles by Kim Wilks, Mike Nichols, R. Mindiate and Lowell Scrivner, and the score stayed that way until the Red Sox clincher in the final frame.

Both pitchers went the distance, with Butch Heaton getting the win and K. Hall being charged with the loss.

White Sox win pair; move near pennant

With only a week of the regular schedule remaining, Manager Ben Howell's defending champion White Sox appear to be an easy repeater in this season's Babe Ruth League race.

Through games of Tuesday night, the White Sox had compiled an 11-0 record, whereas their nearest competitor, Manager Hoss Smith's Indians, were far back with a 7-3 mark. Manager Kenny Poole's Pirates are third with five wins against six losses.

The White Sox kept their record unblemished Tuesday night by scoring two runs in the bottom of the seventh to beat the Pirates, 4 to 2.

The Sox had jumped off to a two-run lead in the first frame, but the Pirates tied the score with single runs in the third and seventh. Singles by Donnie Windham and Dennis Altman, a pair of stolen bases, an error and a fielder's choice combined to produce the winning runs in the seventh.

Ronnie Pierce was the winning pitcher and Clyde Cash was the loser. Both went the route, Pierce giving up five hits and Cash seven.

Jerry Sullivan, who came on in relief, was the winning pitcher as the Indians drubbed the Cubs, 9 to 3, Tuesday night. The loss was absorbed by Lewis Hise, who went the distance for the losers. Catcher Eliseo Collazo smacked a two-run homer for the Indians.

Last Friday night, the Indians defeated the Cubs, 5 to 2, behind the two-hit pitching of Norman Tanner. Ronnie Nichols, who went the route for the Cubs, was the loser.

Thursday night, the White Sox downed the Indians, 7 to 1, with Pierce picking up the win. Sullivan was the loser. The winners scored two in the second on third baseman Paul Walker's two-run homer, and shortstop Butch Heaton accounted for the losers' only tally with a leadoff homer in the fourth.

In Sunday's semi-finals, Hopkins beat Chuck Ewing of Lubbock, 4 and 2, and Goodbread nipped Ed Sweeney of Lubbock, 1 up.

Jackie Hays of Post reached the consolation finals in the fourth flight, where he lost to Charles Blanton of Lubbock, 3 and 2.

Claud Collier Jr. of Post lost to B. J. Stubbs of Lubbock, 1 up over 21 holes, in the consolation semi-finals of the fifth flight.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Mrs. Robert Cox underwent surgery Tuesday afternoon in Garza Memorial Hospital where she has been a patient for two weeks.

In March, 1853, Congress ordered an exploration at public expense to find the best route for a railroad to the Pacific Ocean.

Post golfer runner-up in meet at air base

Post golfer Charles Hopkins lost to Charley Goodbread of Dallas, 3 and 2, Sunday in the championship flight finals of the Reese Air Force Base Invitational Golf Tournament.

Two rallies by Hopkins fell short after the Dallas golfer scored wins on the first six holes.

Goodbread, who is a student at Texas Tech, birdied the first hole and reeled off five straight pars to win the next five holes and go six-up over the Post school teacher.

Hopkins rallied to win the seventh with a par, but lost that small gain when Goodbread rolled in a six-foot putt for a birdie four on the eighth.

Goodbread three putted for a bogie on the ninth and Hopkins pulled back to within five.

The Post golfer kept gaining when he eagled the par five No. 10 and, after the pair halved their first hole of the day on the 11th, swept to wins on the 12th and 13th with a par and a birdie, respectively.

But Goodbread scrambled to a par on the 14th and won the match when the pair equaled regulation on the par four 15th.

In Sunday's semi-finals, Hopkins beat Chuck Ewing of Lubbock, 4 and 2, and Goodbread nipped Ed Sweeney of Lubbock, 1 up.

Jackie Hays of Post reached the consolation finals in the fourth flight, where he lost to Charles Blanton of Lubbock, 3 and 2.

Claud Collier Jr. of Post lost to B. J. Stubbs of Lubbock, 1 up over 21 holes, in the consolation semi-finals of the fifth flight.

Finals Saturday night

12 teams advance in volleyball tournament

Twelve teams advanced Tuesday night in the opening round of the Post Invitational Volleyball Tournament, which is to continue through the Saturday night finals.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Mu Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Women's teams winning Tuesday night and advancing to tonight's second round of play were the Yipes Stripes of Post, Tahoka Misfits, Tahoka Rascals and Post Idiots. Two other women's teams, Ralls and the Brownfield Flies, advanced to the second round by virtue of byes.

Yipes Stripes defeated the Brownfieldettes, Tahoka Misfits downed the Post First Baptist Church team, Tahoka Rascals defeated the Misfits and Post Idiots overcame McAdoo.

Advancing in the men's bracket were New Home, Post Jaycees, Tahoka Fireballs, Post Flops, Lehey Gin (Brownfield) and Post Independents.

Play will continue tonight, Friday and Saturday nights with action getting under way at 6:30 o'clock each day.

The tournament is being held in the Post High School gymnasium, and a concession stand is being operated.

Admission is 50 cents per person with proceeds to go into the Mu Alpha chapter's local project fund. Trophies will be awarded first, second and third place winners and all-tournament teams will be selected Saturday night.

Post team shut out; no hits!

Eldon Fox of the Lubbock Stressers pitched a no-hit game Monday night in blanking the Post Independents, 6 to 0, in a National Baseball Congress league game on Lowrey Field at Lubbock.

David Nichols was the losing pitcher.

Saturday night, the Post team lost to the Lubbock Hubbers, 6 to 1, in a game cut short by rain.

Last Thursday night, Post won by forfeit from the league's Reese Air Force Base team when not enough players showed up for the game.

Wednesday night, the Post team was playing First Methodist.

Details on the three preceding Post games were lacking because of a lost scorebook.

Entries are open for golf tourney

Early entries indicate a large field for the best ball team play tournament to be held Sunday, June 28, at the Caprock Golf Course under the auspices of the Post Country Club.

The entry fee is $2.50 per person with the entry including a barbecue supper to be held Saturday, June 27, for all club members and all guests who enter the tournament.

Entries for the tournament may be made by signing up at the clubhouse or contacting Mike Mitchell.

OUTSTANDING FROM POST

Ronnie Jackson, an outstanding boy at West Texas Boys Ranch, is shown hanging up the pots and pans, Ronnie is from Post and is scheduled to work away from the ranch this summer.

Building funds donated by San Angelo couple

Vocational building up at area boys ranch

SAN ANGELO — On June 7, the West Texas Boys Ranch dedicated a new vocational building. Funds for the building were donated by Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Carr of San Angelo. This building is a long-time dream for the Ranch.

For years the Ranch has placed emphasis on introductory vocational training and job placement. It has needed a place where the younger boys and older boys could develop more skill in working with machinery etc. The Carr Building has a shop for the younger boys and one for the older boys, a classroom and a library.

In the vocational building the boys will be taught basic skills and given an opportunity to make projects which they can use. One program planned is the upholstering and remodeling of furniture. As a result of the training the boys receive at the Ranch, many of them go on to further a life time trade which was started at the Ranch.

The West Texas Boys Ranch has 66 boys in residence and 16 to 20 in placement a way from the Ranch. The boys are given an opportunity to work away from the Ranch during the summer on such jobs as ranching, garages, etc. This has been very beneficial as it gives the older boys an opportunity to develop more skill, self-respect, and also an opportunity to earn extra money. The Ranch began its operation in 1947 with one boy, Jimmy Johnson, who graduated with honors from San Angelo High School and Texas A&M. He went on to serve in the army, got married, became the father of twins, and was killed about two years ago in an automobile accident.

The basic purpose and goal of the Ranch remains as it was in 1947, to provide a home with a Ranch type institutional setting whereby homeless, dependent, neglected boys can be given the opportunity to become productive citizens.

"Hard-Luck" is a term coined at the Ranch to define a boy who is not a delinquent, but a boy who if allowed to remain in the environment he was in before being sent to the Ranch would surely have gotten in trouble.

In the early days of the Ranch, food, clothing, and shelter, were the primary concerns. However, through the years the Ranch has come to develop a program centered around the social, emotional, and spiritual needs of the boys. The Ranch has its full-time chaplain and the boys accept the major responsibility in carrying out the church program. Each boy gives one dime to the church each week out of his allowance.

The Ranch sponsors its own citizenship program which is essentially self-governing by the boys. The Ranch also has its own rodeo arena, its own air strip, and about three miles of spring creek. The boys fish on a community basis. Everything caught is put in the deep freeze and saved until there is enough for a fish fry.

At various times, the boys have cattle, goat, sheep and pigs and raise their own garden. They also operate their own store which is managed by one of the boys. The boys borrowed enough money to go into business and have paid it back. At the present time they are trying to set up their own credit union. This is excellent training for the boys as most of them

PASTOR RETURNS

The Rev. Richard Casey, pastor of Holy Cross Church, returned last Friday from Amarillo, where he had attended a week's retreat for Catholic priests of the Amarillo Diocese.

WATER VITAL NUTRIENT

Water is a vital nutrient in the human diet. It comprises two-thirds of the adult body weight, and is necessary for building, dissolving, transporting and regulating. Dr. Eugenia Whitehead, chairman Department of Home Economics, University of Iowa, said during the recent Human Nutrition Workshop at Texas A&M University.

have never had this type of training prior to coming to West Texas Boys Ranch.

Throughout the years, since it was founded, the Ranch has continued to operate solely on donations. More than 600 boys have lived at the Ranch. The Ranch accepts boys from ages 8-14 and since January have received over 80 applications and have only been able to take care of 12. At the present time, the Ranch is trying to make arrangements to accept ten boys who definitely need to be at the Ranch.

A boy is kept at the Ranch until he has progressed to the point that he can go into society on his own. This depends on the boys and the community.

Boys are generally referred to the Ranch by churches, interested citizens or professional juvenile workers. Some of the boys go to the Ranch on their own. The Executive Director, Morris H. Craig pointed out that one boy came for a weekend and stayed five years.

"West Texas Boys Ranch is West Texans way of taking care of their own and what they do for the Ranch is done because of love," remarked Morris Craig.

Visitors are welcome at the Ranch at any time and open house is held every Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. The public is invited to join the boys for their Sunday Service which is held at 11 a. m.

Ronnie Jackson of Post is currently being served from Garza County.

Garza hospital had 41.6 pct. May occupancy

Garza Memorial Hospital admitted 41 patients during the month of May and had a 41.6 per cent occupancy rate, Hospital Administrator J. R. Rickels, told hospital trustees at their June 4 meeting. The administrator's monthly financial report, presented at the June meeting, showed an operating loss of $5,447.56 for the month, on a basis of figuring the first five months of 1964. But a total of $9,368.30 is now being collected from insurance companies which would trim the loss to under $1,000. In fact, if the hospital could collect all owed it by its patients would be less than $1,000 in the end for the year. The $5,447.56 in hospital bills for the month, excluding a $5,547.56 payment, included a $704.64 for purchase of new equipment. Administrator Rickels pointed out that some of the equipment purchased when the hospital opened 12 years ago is now having to be replaced. One of the 12-year-old items which is getting close to the time for replacement is one of the hospital's two boilers. A new one will cost $4,900, according to the low bid. Rickels told hospital trustees. A boiler patch job is expected to cost around $550. Trustees instructed Rickels to take bids on patching the old boiler. It has been down since March. The monthly hospital report also disclosed that the average daily census for May was 8.7 patients with three births and four deaths. The hospital in five months has admitted 263 patients for a total of 1,673 patient days for a 44 per cent occupancy for the year to date.

Susan's Stuff

By Susan Cornick

Doug Chance's persistence has finally paid off. He is now employed. Doug began work out in the oil fields this week. Congratulations!

Curtis Hudman, not to be outdone, is the idol of all small children. Somehow I never quite featured Curtis out driving up and down the streets in an ice cream cart, but I guess a job is a job. Besides, he probably gets a lot of satisfaction out of haunting the neighbors with the ice cream bell.

Gary Hays is still working at the Corner Grocery — the Corner Grocery in the middle of the block, that is. That could be confusing.

Our chorus girls, Meredith Newby, Susan Ramsey and Cerretha Jones, have spent their last two weeks at Texas Tech attending a summer music workshop. Tomorrow the workshop will end with a concert consisting of a band, orchestra and a chorus.

Evidently the "Dude", Benny Owen, isn't working too terribly hard cause I hear he made it to a Brownfield dance last Saturday night. He had a date with Glenna Bond of Brownfield.

Ann Greer is helping out at the Flower Shop this summer. Perhaps the boys will be more gentleman-like now and order flowers for special occasions.

Elisabeth Tubbs will leave Saturday on the train for the University of Houston to attend a summer course doing research in psychology. That is if the railroad doesn't strike first.

I don't know how long Mr. and Mrs. C have been planning to go to this newspaper meeting in Houston. Anyway, the elder Miss C and I became interested when we were informed that the family auto was staying at home and Mr. and Mrs. C were going by train. Well, here it is Monday morning and naturally for the first time in two years some of the railroads are going on strike. Perhaps if we keep our fingers crossed the Santa Fe won't go on strike until today. I probably shouldn't have said that! I mean if the Santa Fe does strike the C's may never return home.

Now for a bit of information for the male population of Post. Donnah Holcombe and Sharon Hurley of Bronte are spending the summer with Dr. and Mrs. James Casey. Donnah, who is a junior, is working at Post Pharmacy and Sharon, who will be a senior, is helping Dr. Casey out at the office. We can expect a lot of sick and thirsty boys.

Post won't be the same without Lynn Edwards this summer. Lynn left last Thursday for Gallus, N. M., to spend the summer with her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Edwards. I sure hope all the Indians plan to stay close to the re-

JUNE GARDEN REMINDERS

In June, the results of earlier garden efforts usually begin to provide satisfaction by vigorous growth and flowering in nearly all Texas areas. Regardless of the area, however, maintenance becomes increasingly important during June. Garden pests have been developing as well as the plants, and now is the time when watering, fertilizing and summer pruning activities will require careful attention on the part of all gardeners. Lawns especially will require more care as warm weather sets in. Mowing and edging will now be needed on a regular schedule but deep watering and proper fertilization must also be accomplished.

As temperatures continue to rise all garden plants will require more water. When water is applied, be sure that it is applied in quantities large enough to thoroughly wet all the soil in the root zone of the grass or other plants. Less frequent heavy waterings that supply adequate moisture to a depth of from 6 to 12 inches are much more beneficial than frequent light waterings that do not permit the water to reach the entire root zone of the plants.

As hot, dry weather prevails, the heavy applications of water are also necessary to prevent the concentration of soluble salts in the soil, especially after plants have been fertilized heavily and natural rainfall is below the minimum.

During the fall and winter months there is usually enough rainfall and reserve moisture in the soil to prevent the accumulation of soluble salts to any serious degree. During the past season, however, in many areas of Texas rainfall has been below normal and the soluble salt build-up in the soil may become serious in some areas of the state.

When there is a high concentration of soluble salts in the soil, many plants may show typical symptoms of this problem by developing chlorotic or yellow leaves and later burned leaf-margins. When the condition prevails for any length of time they may become stunted or die. Plants that thrive best in an acid soil are especially susceptible and special attention should be given to azaleas, camelias, gardenias, ferns, and other like subjects. In areas where alkaline soils prevail these plants are best grown in raised beds or in containers to avoid such troubles.

Diane Kiker is spending her summer working at the Golden Years Nursing Home. I'm sure she will brighten their days.

Couples seen, old and new, are Becky Thompson and Larry Osman, Cheryl Martin and Dicky Vardiman, Butch Cross and Pamela Stewart, Ann Hendrix and Robert Johnson, Yvonne Moreland and Tommy Hill, Wyanza Windham and Robert Mock, Lana Haynie and Darrell Young, Pat Martin and Troy Lewis, Deborah McCampbell and Buddy Shipp, Vicki Wilks and Ronnie Hart, Darla Pierce and Gary Daniels, Becky Thompson and Butch Cross, Susan Ramsey and Freddie Simmons, Linda Altman and Danny Pierce, Beverly Duncan and Ronald Simpson, Pat Landreth and Chris Berry, Arleta Robinson and Jimmy Smith, Cheryl Cummines and Butch Alexander, Vivian McWhirt and Jackie Fluitt, Linda Gist and Edwin Lewis, Peggy Thorn and Pat Sullivan and Pam Owen and Joe Hall.

SUMMER JOB

Wayne Gamblin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gamblin, is working at Lubbock this summer for Steve Noble, an accountant.

Look for a silver webbing or yellow, reddish or brown blotches on the undersides of the leaves. Plants should now be sprayed on a regular schedule about 10 days to two weeks apart with a good general purpose insecticide to control red-spider mites, aphids, thrips and scale.

Many tender plants that were frozen back during the past winter are now recovering from this damage by sending up new growth from the base of the plants. Remove all of these shoots except the strongest ones to direct all the vigor into the growth that is most desirable. When such plants are to be grown with a main or singles stem, select the strongest new shoot that has developed and stake it with a stiff stake until it can develop enough strength to stand erect without support.

(Other June Garden Reminders will appear in next week's column.)

Good rains brighten outlook at Grassland

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER
 Who says it doesn't rain in West Texas? Our community received all the way from two inches to 3 1/2 and things sure look good. You can't beat the Plains for variety.

Mrs. W. A. Oden was a "Good Samaritan" Sunday. She cooked and took dinner to her nephew's home—the Vee Odens. Vee's wife broke a leg when she fell about 10 days ago during a wind storm. She is at home now and improving nicely. Her mother is with her.

Mrs. O. H. Hoover went to Plainview Friday to spend the day and night with her daughter, Mrs. Nina Belle Chapman. On Saturday they drove to Childress and spent the weekend with Mrs. Hoover's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. S. Stevens.

Mrs. W. A. Oden visited Mrs. Hoover Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bullock of Dallas, cousins of Mrs. C. C. Jones, spent an evening with her one day last week. Other visitors were her son, Carl, and his wife, Ella Mae.

Visitors in the C. A. Walker home Sunday were Mrs. Lucian Walker and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Walker and Tim of Littlefield. Mrs. A. R. Hensley of Draw is spending part of the week with her cousin, Mrs. Lucian Walker.

Mrs. May Lewis of Wichita Falls had a heart attack last week but is improving. She is a former resident. Mr. and Mrs. James Murray and family visited the C. O. McCleskeys Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker visited the J. D. McGrews in Lamesa Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sherrill attended the Sherrill family reunion at Snyder Sunday.

MR. AND MRS. W. T. Luttrell visited their daughter and family, the Joel Hollaways, in Olney. Mr. Hollaway's father, E. W. Hollaway, is seriously ill in a Levelland hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dubose of Brownfield visited in the W. G. McCleskey home Sunday. Queda Murray was a luncheon guest of Norma Jean Campbell Sunday.

The Carlos McCleskeys spent the day Sunday with their parents. The Rev. and Mrs. Ira Campbell are spending the week in Oklahoma City visiting their children. Terry Brown and some friends visited his grandparents, the C. M. Greers, Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Yeats were in Idalou Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. John B. Spicer. Mrs. Lorene Gerner and Laura took Pfc. Jerry Gerner to Lubbock to catch a jet plane to Los Angeles, Calif., at 6:30 a. m. Tuesday. Four and one-half hours later he called his parents to tell them he had landed safely. Lorene and Laura visited the V. T. Hales in New Home on their way home.

The Bible School of the Church of the Nazarene last week was very successful. They had an average attendance of 52 and closed with a lovely program put on by the children.

Rites for sister of Post woman

Funeral services were held 2 p. m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Ropesville for Wayne O. Perry, 50, a state trooper. Mrs. Robert Cato of Post.

Mrs. Perry, an area resident since 1925, died last Thursday at Taylor Hospital, Lubbock, following a long illness.

She is survived by her husband who is pastor of the Ropesville First Baptist Church; one brother and three sisters. Burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park, Lubbock.

WEEKEND GUESTS
 Weekend guests in the Post were Mrs. Ella Dye and Mrs. Lela Mack were Mrs. Dye's son and daughter, Master Sgt. and Mrs. L. Jackson and daughter of Vicksburg AFB, Calif. The Jackson-in-law and daughter, Mrs. Mrs. Johnnie La Bombarda baby of Porta Rico also visited them. They visited in the home of Mrs. Jackson's parents, Mr. Mrs. Albert Sparlin. The first of the week they visited in Abilene with the Sammys Longs.

RECUPERATING AT HOME
 Mrs. Ollie Stephens, an employee at Post Pharmacy, returned Saturday from Methodist Hospital at Lubbock where she was a patient for three days. Mrs. Stephens is recuperating at home.

OFFICE SUPPLIES

Our office supply business is growing steadily.

You will be surprised at the number of useful office items we now have in stock. We don't have as much display space as we would like—but for the present it must suffice until our business grows to the point we can expand.

We hope that day will not be too far distant.

One thing we promise you!

The regular items YOU need we will order for you — and thereafter stock so they will be handy next time you need them.

Just give "Mrs. C" a ring — 2816. She is our office supply manager and will give prompt courteous attention to your needs.

NEED A RUBBER STAMP?

Don (Corkey) Ammons, our shop foreman, is an independent business man in rubber stamp making. He will give you 24 hours service—less if necessary. Try him next time—and keep your rubber stamp money working right here in Post.

U. S. pushes meat sales to Europe

COLLEGE STATION — An intensive campaign is presently under way to promote the sale of U. S. livestock products, beef and other meats and meat products in Western Europe and the United Kingdom. The program was actually initiated May 26 when Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, acting on behalf of the entire U. S. livestock and meat industry, signed a cooperative market development agreement with the American Meat Institute.

With the overall objective of developing an expanded export market, this program is being carried out through joint financing by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and U. S. agricultural and trade groups, with USDA's contribution coming from Public Law 480 market development funds.

Countries included in the developmental program are the United Kingdom, West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands and Spain. Meat supplies are currently lower than normal in each of these countries because of high marketing prospects in these countries have been reported in the months ahead.

The market development program authorizes a wide range of activities on the part of the exporter and associated U. S. stock and meat groups. These activities include: conducting market investigations to locate potential markets for U. S. livestock products; providing both suppliers and foreign buyers with marketing information; arranging for visits to the U. S. of potential buyers; conducting meat exhibits and trade fairs at international trade fairs specifically in Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 14-23, and Paris, France, Nov. 8-16, and carrying out related promotional activities abroad and obtaining the cooperation of foreign trade organizations.

"Mommy, you forgot...every litter bit hurts!"

It happens in the best of families! Mom or Dad, quite without thinking, tosses aside a bit of trash. And here's how that one litter bit—like every litter bit—hurts! The street or sidewalk takes on a trashy look that gets worse and worse as bit after bit adds to the litter mess. The youngster sees the older and follows suit. How can a child know you didn't mean to? How can you expect your children to be good citizens if you don't set the example? So, Mom—lead the way to the litter basket. Carry a litterbag in your car and use it. When you picnic far from a litter basket, please carry trash out with you. Make it a family project to Keep America Beautiful!

She has flowers flown direct from grower

Ilia Fae Mathis, general addition of many types of nursery plants to the Flower Nook at stock items to her floral offerings. The new addition to the Flower Nook at 413 North Broadway, include the and the ordering of fresh flowers direct from growers in California, Colorado and Florida.

Direct ordering of flowers from growers will enable the recently opened Flower Nook to offer better flowers at reduced rates to customers.

ILA FAE explained she will receive weekly shipments of carnations from Denver, gladiolas from Fort Meyers, Fla., and other cut flowers from San Francisco.

The nursery addition will come this fall when the season rolls around again to the planting of all types of shrubs.

She will offer a wide variety of shrubs for home and business landscaping in easily removable planting cans.

Ilia Fae already has applied for membership in the FTDA — the world famous Floral Telegraph Delivery Association — for the Flower Nook and hopes to receive her membership within the next few weeks.

This world-wide organization of florists would enable a resident of Post, for example, to have a floral arrangement placed on the grave of a fallen war veteran in a French cemetery within a matter of a few hours.

FTDA enables delivery of flowers anywhere in the United States or in most foreign countries within hours. A large clearing house of the association in New York City clears the charges, incoming and outgoing, and mails monthly checks to those with a plus balance and billing bills to those with a deficit balance in such wire service operations.

Flower Nook places any orders now for immediate delivery of flowers in all parts of the country.

For curious readers, it might be explained that the arrangement among the florists is that the receiving florist who places the order for delivery elsewhere, collects the cost of the flowers, and retains 20 per cent of the amount of the order for this service. Eighty per cent of the amount goes to the receiving florist who delivers the flowers and bills the ordering shop.

Ilia Fae says that approximately ten per cent of her floral business comes from out of town orders of delivery locally.

The Flower Nook is located in the same building which houses Parrish Grocery & Market on North Broadway, and is giving free carnations to all who stop in to see her in the new establishment.

Flower orders can be placed day or night at the same phone number — 2998, she points out, as she has an extension with the same number in her home.

ILA FAE CALLS readers attention to the fact that with Father's Day coming up Sunday some local folks might like to delight their Dads with flowers.

Lots of mothers are thrilled by a dozen red roses on Mother's Day, she points out. So why not make Dad happy with flowers too? She suggests perhaps an arrangement of cut flowers for his desk, or a permanent arrangement for his den.

For those families whose Dad is gone, they could honor his memory with a memorial wreath, a potted plant or a permanent arrangement for his grave.

She points out the shop is one of the best equipped in the area to handle the flower assignment for June weddings, so brides-to-be should take note. Mrs. J. P. Ray and Janet were in Lubbock on business Tuesday. The Rays visited her parents in Grassland Tuesday night.

Carol Stolle counselor at Lutheran camp

Carol Stolle of Post, Willie Mae Walter of Slaton, and Betty Crenwelge of Fredericksburg arrived in Chelan, Wash., Sunday from where they will cross Lake Chelan by ferry and then go by bus to Holden Village, an old mining camp given to the Lutheran Church to be used as a church camp for young people from all over the United States.

The girls are among a group of six students chosen as counselors from Texas Lutheran College, Seguin.

The girls will be in camp from June 14 to July 14. They plan a sight-seeing tour on their way home.

Director of music

Wesley Scott is temporarily directing music at the First Baptist Church, where Lex Roby resigned, effective June 1, as minister of education and music. Scott will fill the position until an education and music minister is secured, according to the church bulletin.

FAMILY VISITING

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ford last week were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ford Jr., Susan and Martha, of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Bary Ford and Becca Sue of Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ford and sons of Hialeah, Fla.

JAYTON GUEST

Mrs. W. M. Burkett of Jayton is visiting in the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Frances McAfee.

First Communion for 20 children

Twenty children — 11 boys and nine girls — received First Communion at Holy Cross Church here Sunday morning following two weeks of catechism classes conducted by three Sisters of Mercy from Slaton.

The children were: Erma Delgado, Genoveva Soto, Amelia Gonzales, Refugio Francisco Gonzales, Irene Sanchez, Julia Fuentes, Rosario Sifuentes, Sandra Cisneros, Martha Delgado;

Also Reyes Joseph Delgado, Victor Cisneros, Jose Perez, Narciso Rivera, Ricardo Sanchez, Celestina Guerrero, Alberto Varela, Ruben Ayala, Juan Luis Romo, Francisco Rosas, Ruben Delgado.

In addition to the First Communicants, a large number of other children of the Holy Cross parish received instructions in their religion during the two weeks the classes were conducted, said the Rev. Richard Casey, Holy Cross pastor. There were classes for children of junior high and high school ages.

Post student in science program

HOUSTON — A select group of 40 high school juniors from schools in the nation will attend a Summer Science Training Program to be conducted at the University of Houston under a National Science Foundation grant.

Participating in the eight-weeks program beginning June 22 is Elizabeth Tubbs of Post. Miss Tubbs, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs, is a student at Post High School.

The program is in mathematics, science, logic and research participation.

Students are selected on the basis of state agency test scores and high school recommendations.

Flower Nook—

Flower Nook is the selling of all kinds of arranging materials to people who want to design and make their own arrangements.

Technical instruction also will be provided at no cost, if sought.

The Flower Nook has a full line of materials to make virtually every kind of a permanent arrangement.

Permanent arrangements are just now becoming popular in this area of the country, although they have been "going strong" in other areas for a number of years now.

Their popularity is due in part to the fact that they can be used so many places in the home.

Another unusual service of this floral shop is that permanent arrangements are rented for weddings, showers, and for almost any occasion. This brings the cost down to quite a nominal price for floral decorations.

THE FLOWER NOOK also has on order a full line of artificial fruits and vegetables. These are being imported which will make their prices quite reasonable, Ila Fae points out.

Ila Fae, a graduate of Post High School and a resident of Post since 1945, points out that it is best in ordering flowers for either weddings or parties to place such orders at least two days ahead.

She explains that seasonal flowers wanted for many such occasions might have to be flown in. Few such flowers are grown in Texas.

She said the shop tries to keep a stock of flowers for funeral sprays for late orders on the day of the funeral, but points out that people will have a better selection by calling at least the afternoon before the funeral to place their orders.

Another flower tip she wants to pass along to readers is that when ordering cut flower arrangements for a hospital patient it is best to deliver the flowers in the morning when the patient will have the entire day to enjoy them.

Some order such deliveries in late afternoon when the patient is about to retire for the night. From experience, the Flower Nook would rather make such deliveries the next morning when the flowers would be fresh throughout the day.

Ila Fae is assisted at the Flower Nook by Ann Greer.
