

Gov't to pay Garza farmers $1.7 million in September

Federal money to provide big economy boost

An estimated $1,712,202 will be pumped into the Garza economy during the first two weeks in September when government checks are mailed to farmers here in the grain sorghum and cotton programs.

The estimate was announced yesterday by Mrs. Inez Hartel, manager of the ASC office here, in response to a query by The Dispatch. "Talk" around town had been that federal checks on the agriculture program might total a million dollars and come maybe in late August.

Mrs. Hartel said the $1,712,202 figure is a close estimate of what Garza farmers are scheduled to receive in price support payments for acres grown and payments for acres diverted in the grain sorghum and cotton programs together.

She said the government payments this year will be much larger than in recent years because this is the first year most Garza farmers have participated in the acreage diversion program in cotton.

Farm observers predict farmers will receive approximately as much from the government this year as the two programs as they will realize from their cotton harvest late in the year and early in 1967.

With business reported "slow" over the entire West Texas area, the $1,712,202 in federal funds is expected to provide a healthy boost.

School to start here on Sept. 1

Students will troop back into the classrooms here Thursday, Sept. 1, for the start of the 1966-67 fall term, Supt. Bill Shiver announced today.

A three-day workshop for all county members in preparation for the start of school will be held Monday through Wednesday, Aug. 21, Shiver added.

But it won't be long until students and teachers alike will get their first holiday. There will be school Monday, Sept. 5, which is the traditional Labor Day holiday.

The Christmas holidays are scheduled for Dec. 21 through Jan. 2, the Easter holidays scheduled for March 24-27. School will end May 24 with graduation scheduled for May 25, according to the school calendar Shiver has compiled.

The calendar is subject to any changes by school trustees at their next meeting, Shiver said.

Rodeo decorations put up by Lions

Lions club members began their annual task of putting up rodeo decorations in Post's downtown area Tuesday night following the club's weekly dinner meeting in the hall.

Merchants who haven't as yet been contacted and want the rodeo decorations are asked to call either Post or Lee Davis.

Club funds raised from the decorations project will be used to buy prizes for the needy.

Prizes were recently given by the club to Mrs. Florence Carrizo, Hope Carrizale, Iva Cruise, and William Jackson.

Guests at the club meeting were Mrs. Jones, Kelly Newman, new pastor of Christ minister, and David Williams, out-of-town guest.

Women candidates

Wanted! Some Garza county girls, age 13 or under, who want to be queen of the upcoming Post Stampede and Junior Rodeo.

With Friday, July 29, the entry deadline, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lott told The Dispatch yesterday that they had not had a single entrant.

The queen contestant who wins the most tickets to the rodeo will be designated 1966 Rodeo Queen and also will receive a belt buckle as a prize.

to fall business prospects here. Mrs. Hartel said government payments at about the same time last year to Garza farmers totaled only $248,394, which means a boost of $1,463,808 of federal funds into the county this year.

She explained that last year Garza farmers received federal payments of $194,000 on the feed grain program and $54,394 on the cotton program.

But diverting cotton acres this year has been made much more attractive to farmers by the government in an effort to reduce the huge cotton surplus nationally. The breakdown between feed grains and cotton on the 1966 payments are $326,000 for feed grains and $1,386,202 for cotton.

Garza farmers this year have planted 25,000 acres to cotton and diverted 13,000. They have diverted 47,000 acres in feed grains and approximately the same number of acres.

Only 35 Garza farms participated in the cotton acreage diversion program last year when the program was far less attractive.

Mrs. Hartel pointed out that the feed grain program is "less attractive" this year than last, but received more participation from county farmers anyway.

You can expect some moisture any day now.

In an effort to break the July drought here, the First National Bank today on page 8 advertises for a "life saving rain."

The local bank established the custom of advertising for rain to break the drought several years ago and on each occasion it has sought rain through the advertising columns of The Dispatch. It has received measurable moisture within a reasonable time.

The bank advertises itself as a "full service bank." It lists many banking services to claim the title, and to it should add a very significant one—rain making.

We can only hope that J. B.'s ad was big enough this week to attract all the rain he and we want.

He threw so wide and high that Clyde Cash the batter, had no chance to get wood on the ball though he poked that bat out there just as far as he could.

Sidewalk promotion abandoned to heat Big rodeo sale is due Sat. Aug. 6

Due to the current July heat wave, the Post Chamber of Commerce Retail Promotions Committee has decided to abandon the Sidewalk Sale for July and replace it this year with a big one-day Rodeo Sale on Saturday, Aug. 6.

To add color to the big rodeo sale promotion, all store managers and personnel are requested to dress in rodeo or cowboy costumes for the day.

$10 gift certificate prizes will be offered and then come downtown Saturday, Aug. 6, and "shoot from the hip" on the bargains.

The Rodeo Sale will be the weekend in advance of the annual Post Stampede and Junior Rodeo which will open Wednesday night, Aug. 10, for a four-night stand at the Post Stampede arena.

Damage held to basement as— Methodist pastor finds fire quickly

The Rev. Curtis Lee, new pastor of the First Methodist Church, was in the right place at the right time Saturday afternoon.

If her hadn't been at work in his second floor study of the church about 4 p.m. that afternoon, the church probably would have been badly damaged by fire.

Mr. Lee smelled smoke. He said it smelled like somebody lighting candles. He stepped out into the hall and saw smoke.

That's how he discovered a fire in the church kitchen, located in the basement of the church.

He called the fire department and the volunteer department was on the scene in the matter of about "two minutes" and extinguished the blaze which started around the kitchen stove.

The damage, not as yet fully determined, will run to several hundred dollars.

Most of it was smoke damage to the kitchen, the fellowship hall in the church basement, and the entrance hall to the basement.

The wall behind the stove, a kitchen cabinet near the stove and the stove itself were badly damaged by the flames.

The loss was covered by insurance.

Rites conducted Wednesday for Mrs. A. W. Bouchier

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Stonemetts Bouchier, 92, widow of A. W. Bouchier, and Post pioneer resident, were conducted at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Bouchier died Monday in Garza Memorial Hospital to which she had been admitted as a patient three days earlier.

Born Jan. 4, 1874, in Calvert in Robertson County, Texas, as the daughter of Philip and Elizabeth Stonemetts, Mrs. Bouchier moved with the family in 1880 to a ranch in Bandera County.

It was there her father, who with her grandfather served with General Hood's Brigade of Texas in the Civil War and fought at the siege of Atlanta, was fatally injured when a horse fell on him.

Mrs. Bouchier moved with her mother and uncle to Colorado City with a herd of cattle in 1882. After completing school at Colorado City, she attended Baylor Female College at Belton.

In 1894, she was married to A. W. Bouchier of Garza County. After the marriage, Mr. Bouchier sold his ranching interests at Serris Blanca in Hudspeith County and moved to Colorado City.

Mr. Bouchier in 1897 bought a part of the old Jumbo Ranch and leased some state land from the late J. B. Slaughter just over the Garza County line in Borden County.

The Bouchiers moved from Colorado City to this ranch in 1900.

After 13 years on the ranch, the Bouchiers moved to Post in 1913 so the smaller children of the family could attend school here.

Mr. Bouchier died in 1928.

Mrs. Bouchier was a member of the Baptist Church for 75 years (See Bouchier rites, Page 8)

Man held here in home burglary

Kenneth F. Teague, 31-year-old drifter, is being held here for grand jury action on a charge of burglarizing the W. C. Knox home at 705 West Sixth Street early Saturday afternoon.

Teague was arrested by county officers after pawing a watch stolen in the burglary while Police Officer Otis G. Shepherd Jr., was investigating the burglary.

Shepherd said the burglar entered the Knox home by breaking in a back window about 12:30 p.m.

Stolen were a camera and flash attachments, worth $125; a watch, valued at $35; binoculars valued at $50, and two radios valued at $65.

The lost was all recovered from Teague.

Shenherd was listening to county officers discussing the arrest via radio while returning from his investigation, so the "case" was quickly solved.

Shotgun assailant is fined $250

Uless Vicks, 25, local Negro, was fined $250 and costs by County Judge J. E. Parker Monday on an aggravated assault charge because he ended up an argument by shooting John D. Davis, another Post Negro.

The shooting with a single barrel 20 gauge shotgun took place at about 5:30 a.m. Sunday just east of May on Oak Street.

Shot in the head with buckshot pellets, Davis was treated at Garza Memorial Hospital and released.

Vicks gave himself up to Police Officer Bob Adkinson.

Davis was charged in justice of the peace court with simple assault. He allegedly hit Vicks before Vicks shot him.

POST'S MAID OF COTTON ENTRY

Summer to be even busier for Dee Ann

Miss Dee Ann Walker, who will represent Post in the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest, is so busy here this summer with two jobs she will have little idle time as she prepares for the two busy days and nights of contest judging in Lubbock's Municipal Auditorium Aug. 29-30.

Currently, an attractive redhead is employed as a teacher's aide in the Post schools summer program for educational deprived students and also as youth director and church organist of the First Methodist Church. As a teacher's aide this summer she teaches music to approximately 100 children.

Her vital statistics, as far as the contest are concerned, include 19 years old, 5 feet, 8 inches in height, brown eyes, red hair, and measurements of 36-24-36.

She will return to Baylor University for the fall semester as a sophomore, majoring in education. While at Baylor in her freshman year she worked in a mission for underprivileged Negro children.

The South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest is a preliminary to the National Maid of Cotton Selection which will be held by the National Cotton Council in Memphis, Tenn., in late December of this year.

The South Plains Maid of Cotton, representing the High Plains cotton area of West Texas, will be an automatic finalist in the National Selection.

The National Maid of Cotton, ultimate goal of all the entries, will make an international tour in 1966, beginning in January and lasting until August.

Winner of the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest will win an all-cotton wardrobe and an expense-paid trip to the national finals in Memphis. Her first and second alternates will receive $100 gift certificates.

Contest rules provide that background, personality and appearance will be of equal importance in the selection of the Maid of Cotton.

Finals of the South Plains Maid of Cotton contest will start at 8 a.m. Monday, Aug. 29 and will be concluded with the Maid of Cotton Show which will be held in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 30.

The Maid of Cotton Committee also reserves the right to conduct a preliminary prior to the finals if the number of entries exceeds the number of candidates that can be properly presented at the judging.

"Meeting new people in new surroundings has always been exciting to me," Dee Ann wrote in submitting her contest application. "I enjoy being in the midst of activity."

She said that the greatest part of her life has been spent on the South Plains and that she realizes "the important role that cotton plays in our lives."

Miss Walker was selected last week by the Post Chamber of Commerce as its entry in the South Plains Maid of Cotton Contest. The civic organization will pay her expenses for the contest.

Precinct 1 and 2 levies reduced, but—

County tax rate set again at 95 cents here

The new county tax rates will remain at 95 cents per $100 taxable valuation for the new tax year, but precinct road bond levies in precincts 1 and 2 have both been reduced.

This sums up the action taken this week by the Garza County Commissioners Court following completion of six days of hearings as the board of equalization on the booster taxable real property valuations.

County Judge J. E. Parker said Precinct 1's road bond tax has been cut from 50 cents to 35 cents and that Precinct 2's tax has been trimmed from 30 cents to 25 cents.

With the county taxable valuations boosted from $14,000,000 to near the $20,000,000 mark this year through the new equalization program, precinct rates could be cut with the precincts receiving as much actual tax money on the lower rate as formerly.

The county, which is now programming to pay off past deficits, will hold its tax rate the same and thus receive considerably more revenue via the big increase in property valuations.

Judge Parker said the breakdown of the county tax rate will be one cent for jury fund, five cents for permanent improvements, 64 cents for general fund, 10 cents for regular road and bridge fund, and 15 cents for special road and bridge.

"All in all," Parker said, "I feel we have a real good equalization program. Of course it isn't perfect. No such program ever is."

A total of 178 county taxpayers registered during the five days of equalization board hearings last week, but only about 15 of them carried their objections before the equalization board after having the program and their individual taxable valuations explained to them by other personnel.

The county judge said all interested parties should see (See Tax rate set, Page 8)

Evaporative coolers don't help enough
Unbroken heat wave beginning to tell

The prolonged West Texas "heat wave" is beginning to tell on people as well as crops.

High humidity, despite the lack of rain, has made evaporative cooling of little benefit here this month and most householders and merchants are growing weary of the unbroken heat spell.

Usually Post gets a "weather break" or two in July, with a cooling spell even if rain doesn't fall. But there hasn't been a temperature break in the entire month to date.

Good recreational facilities cost money

Probably a lot of the taxpayers and water users of the four member towns of the White River Municipal Water District don't understand the new lake's recreational problem.

It's twofold, stated simply—more water and more money needed.

When the lake fills—and someday it will after a real soaker hits in the White River watershed—recreation is going to be all-important at the lake.

Right now, without too much water, the recreation is limited to bank fishing and picnicking along the shores. But with more water will come the boats and a full recreational boom.

White River directors have a unique situation at the new lake which can become one of the finest recreational lakes anywhere in Texas for its size. They can develop it as they choose because the water district owns all the shoreline.

In other words recreation at the White River Lake can be developed to the maximum extent and controlled for the benefit of all lake users. Almost nowhere else in Texas does the lake district own all the shoreline.

But all of this will cost money.

Already directors have taken a number of recreational steps. Two hundred cabin sites have been staked and opened for leasing. Up to now, these sites have been made available only to persons living in the four member cities. Next month, the remaining sites will be opened to the general public.

Commercial development of recreational facilities at the lake have been assured with an exclusive lease to a group of Crosbyton business men who have put pride ahead of profit and are planning some excellent facilities. The lease gives directors essential control so that adequate facilities will be provided.

One picnic area has been opened up. In another year or so there will be a second "fish to market" surfaced road into the lake from the Spur side with that highway going across the top of the dam.

A whole lot more needs to be done, of course, but a good start has been made. To make the lake an ideal recreational facility of which we can all be proud is going to cost considerable money over the next few years.

This money won't come from water revenues or taxes. All of this income is legally committed to operations of the water district as a water producer and payment of principal and interest on its $4,500,000 construction loans.

Recreation money must come from recreational sources—no other. In other words the people who enjoy the recreation at the lake must pay the bill.

Principal sources of such recreational income right now is the fishing permits. Of importance too is the cabin site lease money, but so few sites have been leased to date this is not as yet a big fund producer.

A third source for many other lakes is a gate charge — of 25 cents or so — for everybody driving into the recreational area for any purpose other than cabin owners and families. Directors have taken no action on a gate charge because as yet without more water they don't consider the lake well enough developed recreationally to merit such a charge.

Gate charges actually are essential for any recreational facility which attracts crowds because the cost of maintenance in any such area is so high.

Within the next couple of years, all the state parks will require a gate charge simply to pay the cost of cleaning up after the littering public.

A sportsmen's club at Crosbyton has protested such a gate charge for taxpayers and water users of the district. They want some kind of a "pass" for district taxpayers and water users.

This would be difficult to administrate and subject to the usual "pass the pass around" abuses.

What it boils down to is simply this. If the new lake is to become a fine recreation area, it is going to cost a whole lot of money and the recreational users should pay this bill.

The Dispatch doesn't think the area cities want a lake that doesn't measure up when the opportunity is there to make it an excellent recreational area.

By and large, people want good facilities and don't mind paying for them. The four member cities are paying taxes and water charges solely for a water supply. We cannot expect a good recreational facility thrown in for nothing—as recreation costs plenty of money to develop.

The Dispatch would urge the public to encourage their White River directors to continue to pursue the present course of step-by-step development of the new lake as an excellent recreational area. Unless all recreational users are ready to pay the cost of recreational development the lake can never be developed to anywhere near its recreational capacity.—JC

Are we ready to "think big"?

A good many Texans remember John Ben Shepperd as a Texas Attorney-General who had the look, the polish, the political savvy, and a bit of ability as well as personality.

Now that the name has been brought up a list of our readers are probably wondering, "I wonder what John Ben Shepperd is doing now?"

The answer is John Ben Shepperd this year has thrown all of his boundless enthusiasm and energies into being president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. And he will become a WTCC head we all will long remember.

Shepperd for the last few weeks has been roaming West Texas making a "pitch" for all the West Texans to get together—and get with it.

First, he talked some 271 experts into getting together and making a study to determine if West Texas is, or can be, a place where "thinking people would want their children and grandchildren to live."

This collection of experts logged some 81,000 miles and spent a total of 3,394 man hours in study and deliberation.

What was the result? The experts found many things wrong with West Texas. But they also found many things right and worth developing.

The outgrowth of their study was a West Texas Chamber "Action Program" for Shepperd's term of office. Already 14 legal-sized pages long it is scheduled for approval in August.

But Ben is already on the road "selling" it to all who listen. He is nearing completion of 11 district meetings designed to discuss the "action program" and seek more suggestions.

Shepperd told a dinner meeting the other day toward the end of his current tour that "there is a strong possibility that West Texans are not thinking big enough."

John Ben Shepperd is "thinking big." He has the courage and the energies to try to put a real regional promotion "action program" to work for us all.

All Shepperd needs is our support. Elsewhere in today's Dispatch is an article by Walter B. Moore, editor of the Texas Almanac, entitled, "West Texas today has both potential and problems."

It cites the need for strong, courageous leadership, after it explains the potential and problems.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce can be a strong "ally" of Post in our search for new industry just as it can be for hundreds of other towns in this area. But it must have the area's support to make its program work.

Are we ready to "think big" too?—JC

I'M GRINDING out this column before we get away, but if everything goes well (and nowadays who can tell?), we'll be in Dallas when you're reading it. I hope our going brings a rain ... sometimes it does.

It's no easy matter to plan a vacation where you won't miss something going on in the old home town. I'd like to have been here for the Little League and Teen-Age baseball tournaments, which will be over by the time we get back. My wife consoled me by reminding me that I'd be back in plenty of time for the rodeo.

THE NEIGHBORS have promised to water our flowers for us while we're gone, and a friend in the country is going to "board" our cat, and says that when she brings it back in, just for good measure she'll bring us two or three more to keep it company. There's nothing like having friends and neighbors!

My wife says she wants to enjoy the week's vacation we're going to take, since she has just learned that one of my brothers, three of my sisters and a brother-in-law are coming out from Oklahoma to visit us in August. There's also nothing like having kinfolks!

Bailey Mayos to move here from Littlefield

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Mayo and two sons will move from Littlefield to Post the last week in August, where Mayo will assume his new duties as work unit conservationist for the Garza Soil Conservation District. He will replace Gary Reed, who has been transferred to a similar position at Wellington, Tex.

Mayo's wife's name is Mary and their two sons are Dewayne, 13, and Byron, 7. Dewayne will be in the 8th grade and Byron in the second grade.

Mayo moved to Littlefield last December from Levelland as a soil conservationist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He is a native of Winters, Tex., where he completed his high school education, and holds a bachelor of science degree in agronomy from Texas Tech. Mrs. Mayo was born in Hockley County and is a graduate of Levelland High School.

Funds approved for Palo Duro park

AUSTIN — Approval of $271,494 in matching Federal funds for the development of outdoor recreation facilities at Palo Duro Canyon State Park has been received from the Denver Regional Office of the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Will Odom announced.

The total cost of the project including the State's share, will be $542,988.

Two new concession facilities will be built at the vast 15,103-acre Panhandle park. One will be a 2,500 square foot concession building to be located in the floor of the Canyon and will serve the entire park. This facility will offer the visitor grocery items, prepared food, souvenirs, ice, gasoline, oil, sundry drugs, notions and camping supplies.

The other concession area was included in the addition to the 1,300 seating capacity amphitheatre. This addition also includes a prop storage room, a ticket booth and dressing rooms.

Upon completion of the project, Palo Duro Canyon State Park will provide 26 trailer camp sites, 45 tent camp sites, and 75 picnic sites. Other facilities include rest rooms and showers, an interpretive building, and a park headquarters building. Miscellaneous items include the electrical system, roads, boundary fencing, and park signs.

A complete new water system will be built to support both the existing facilities and those included in the project, as well as those planned for future development.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park, largest of the Texas State parks, is located southeast of Amarillo in Randall and Armstrong counties. Visitation to the park was 256,439 in 1964.

Kansan named judge for South Plains Fair

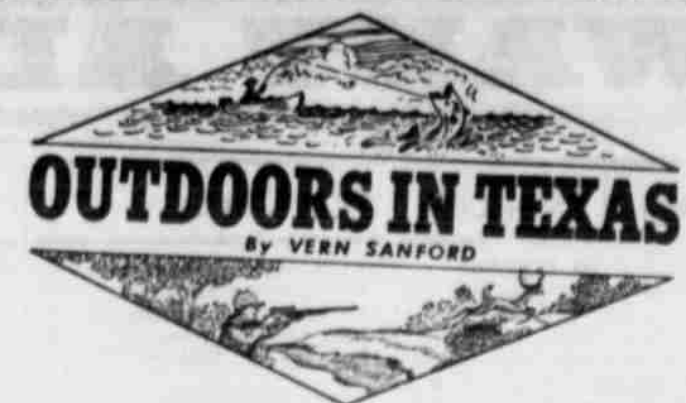

LUBBOCK—Dr. Calvin L. Drake, an associate professor of animal husbandry at Kansas State University in Manhattan, has been selected to judge beef cattle entries at the 49th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair here Sept. 26-Oct. 1.

Paul E. Gross will serve as superintendent of the show, which is offering premiums totaling $4,175 in 39 classes of competition among registered Angus entries.

Drake, a native Kansan and former K-State student, returned there last April after a tenure at Virginia Polytechnic Institute at Blacksburg, Va.

Student tax return can be money maker

Each year thousands of students work in summer jobs. Their employers, in accordance with the law, withhold taxes from their wages. A lot of students do not earn enough during the summer to require them to file an income tax return. However, it is very important that they file a tax return shortly after Jan. 1 next year, so they can get their refund. If a student does not file a tax return and claim his refund, the Government doesn't know he has a refund coming. In the case of many students, filing a tax return can be a profitable task.

By VERN SANFORD

Stock tanks and farm ponds are becoming more and more prominent on the Texas fishing scene. Nowadays you seldom find a pond even if it's constructed for livestock watering purposes, that is not stocked with some sort of fish.

State and federal fish hatcheries provide fish to private landowners at no charge. All a person must do is apply for them.

When a pond goes sour and fishing gets poor, the landowner invariably wants a hatchery to add more fish. This is a fallacy. By putting tiny fingerlings in a pond where adult fish already are present, all that would be accomplished is feeding the big fish at considerable expense. Under normal conditions, less than one per cent of the fish spawned actually grow into catchable size.

STILL, A pond does need restocking occasionally. This happens when undesirable fish such as bullhead catfish, shad, carp, suckers or small sunfish cause the fish population to become unbalanced.

Best approach then, says Wallace C. Klusmann, a wildlife conservation specialist at Texas A&M University, is to completely remove all the fish in the pond and start all over again.

This "cleaning out" of a pond can be accomplished by chemicals. Two of the most popular toxicants for eradicating fish are rotenone and toxaphene.

Rotenone is the easy and practical way to remove most fish from private ponds, Klusmann says, but seldom dies it give a 100 per cent kill of bullhead catfish.

Usual recommendation for rotenone is five pounds of five per cent powder per acre - foot of water (an acre - foot is one surface acre of water one foot deep). Three pounds per acre - foot usually is sufficient in warm water (65 degrees or above), if thorough and even distribution can be made.

Klusmann says best results are obtained when the water is at its lowest yearly level during the summer months.

Klusmann recommends that rotenone powder be mixed with water until the mixture is about the density of milk.

Pouring the mixture behind an outboard motor gives good distribution.

IN AREAS inaccessible by boat, the mixture can be sprayed on the water from the bank. Small areas also can be treated by "mud-bailing"; that is, mixing the powder with enough water to form a paste and then tossing balls of mixture into the water.

Powered rotenone can be purchased at most livestock supply stores since it is sold primarily as a grub control for cattle.

Fish killed with rotenone are edible if cleaned when fresh, Klusmann points out. Rotenone is not a poison in the true sense since it kills fish by suffocation.

Rotenone loses its toxicity in seven to 14 days and then the pond is ready to be restocked.

People, cattle, sheep, dogs, cats, frogs and most other vertebrate animals are not affected when swimming in or drinking water treated with rotenone. However, continued inhalation can cause irritation of the membranes of the nose and throat.

Klusmann warns that it is unlawful to use rotenone in any public body of water. It is to be used only in private ponds for management purposes.

TOXAPHENE CAN be used in ponds for complete kills when the fish are not to be used for human consumption. Usually a more complete kill can be obtained with toxaphene than with rotenone. A 100 per cent kill of bullhead catfish is possible.

Recommended dosage is four ounces of 60 per cent toxaphene per acre - foot of water. This should be mixed with enough water to permit spraying or distribution by pouring behind an outboard.

Treated water is not toxic to livestock if recommended dosages are used. But care must be taken to avoid spilling the concentrated or diluted form on skin or clothing.

Always the heart of our business

Why do most drugstores sell everything from breakfast to dance wax . . . ? The answer is simple. It is a matter of economic necessity. Americans, thank goodness, are generally healthy and there are not enough prescriptions to keep all drugstores going. Thus, we sell a variety of merchandise. By so doing we are able to stay open and tender assistance whenever and wherever it is needed. Prescription service, however, continues to be the heart of our business and we are always pleased to assist you when medication is needed.

Some advice for teen-age groom

COLLEGE STATION — Although volumes have been written about the teen-age marriage and the teen-age bride, little attention is given to the teen-age groom.
 "It takes two to make a marriage, and many young couples discover that there is more to marriage than they had realized," says Mrs. Patsy Yates, Texas A&M University Extension specialist in family life education.
 She points out that a West Coast counselor, Professor Ben Ard who teaches at San Francisco State College, advises the teen-age groom: "Now that you have married the girl, try to make friends with her."
 Due to the youth of the couple and the speed of courtship, it isn't surprising that many young couples discover shortly after marriage that they love each other but really don't like each other, Mrs. Yates says.
 Friendships don't just happen. They are built over a period of time. Dr. Erich Fromm insists that mature love is built on respect, understanding, knowledge and caring for the other person.
 "Knowledge and understanding, even of one's self, is difficult. The teen-age groom will do well to begin making friends with his wife by seeking knowledge and understanding of her as a person," Mrs. Yates says.
 Oil from cottonseed is used for cooking oil, margarine, soap and paint.
 Cotton is non-tergenic.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

I have a new title. No more are you to refer to me as just Mrs. C. According to one of my New York City readers, I deserve the title of "Warmongering Mrs. C." How about that?

I was put into my place good and proper, via mail, from a reader who disagrees with me violently about the war in Viet Nam. I submit that my NYC reader has a right to his opinion on the matter but I fail to understand why he thinks I shouldn't have.

He comments: "Your column is comically insane when you pass on the daily trivia, but when you carelessly comment on the forces and crises of today's world, you expose your lack of thought and research into those areas."

In case you're all at sea and wonder what this is all about, let me recall a recent column when I made a few comments about a train ride and Army and Marine recruits who were off to San Diego in good spirits and not carrying signs saying "We don't wanna go."

Stone brothers hold reunion

The five Stone brothers and their families enjoyed a family reunion at the Graham Community Center last Saturday.

Noah, Virgil, James, Dale and Albert are the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. Stone who came to Garza County in 1916—50 years ago—and settled on a Double U farm after living in Pilot Point. Albert lives on the old home place on Fifty-five descendants, including Route 1.

Children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, were present at the reunion. Eleven relatives were unable to be present.

Swim party held for MYF at local pool

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Herron at a swimming party held recently at the City-County Swimming Pool.

Approximately 45 members and guests attended the party which was concluded with a picnic and games at the park.

He points out to me (as though I were a mere child) that every college male that takes the draft test is in effect saying "I don't wanna go." I think probably everyone, whether he lives in New York City or not, understands this. But there weren't any of them on the train ride I took.

He then goes on to insult all of you readers by saying: "People who read your column probably thought you were talking about some train ride you took. I can just imagine what fun Freud, Jung and your reverend teacher, Dr. Spock, would do with what you said... all the psychotic imagery you managed to put in those few paragraphs."

Mr. NYC is living in a dream world I'm afraid. He thinks if everyone says "I don't wanna go" we'll have no more wars. That possibly might come about in a few centuries but an awful lot of changes will have to come about and neither he nor I will live to see it nor will our children or their children's children. Now he'll accuse me of being a thoughtless oracle, I'll bet.

"It's entirely too hot here in Post, Texas, to continue this discussion," Mr. NYC Reader, I say as the sweat runs off my brow. "We seem to be as many miles apart on this subject as we were during the last presidential election when I took a pot shot at far right-winger Barry Goldwater."

I enjoy the letters though, and I hope you'll appreciate the fact that I did not "upset" you by running your letter under "Our Readers Write."

It was my week for mail. I even received a letter from E. S. Ameen in answer to my letter concerning the Ameen Hotel building. No results on my suggestion that "our town" would be prettier without it but I did get a "thank you" for washing the windows and an ad to run in The Dispatch concerning "For Sale" terms.

Keep them cards and letters coming! It's one way of knowing I'm still being "read."

Interplanting row crops now being demonstrated by seven area farmers

PLAINVIEW — The High Plains Foundation Farming System of interplanting row crops is being demonstrated by seven farmers on the High and South Plains in cooperation with the High Plains Research Foundation.

Lloyd Langford, Associate Agronomist on the Foundation staff, is working with these farmers in displaying the effectiveness of this farming system of two rows of cotton, a blank row and two rows of grain sorghum, forage sorghum or castorbeans. Each of the seven farms demonstrating the High Plains Foundation Farming System has a 4' x 8' sign identifying the farmer and the High Plains Research Foundation.

These demonstration areas of the High Plains Foundation Farming System are being observed by neighboring farmers. Data from these demonstration will be reported on each farm operation in the 1966 Annual Research Report of the High Plains Research Foundation. The reports will include agronomic, quality and irrigation results achieved by each farmer.

The farmers cooperating with the Foundation in these tests are as follows: Ed Wuerflein, who farms northeast of Muleshoe in the Pleasant Valley Community, has cotton interplanted with grain sorghum; Carl Sanderson, north of Earth, has 75 acres of cotton interplanted with castorbeans; Eldon Gohlke, southeast of Littlefield has two different varieties of cotton interplanted with grain sorghum and cotton interplanted with forage sorghum. In this last system, the forage sorghum and blank rows can be used as diverted acres without penalty.

Neil Landrum has a 126 acre dryland interplanted field one half mile south of Whitbarrel. This is a demonstration of Paymaster 111

Children need no hot weather dietary changes

Hot weather imposes no special dietary requirements for healthy infants and children, except for increased water intake.

If infants and children eating well-balanced diets do not tolerate ordinary heat stress, they rather than changing their diet should be investigated for illness says the American Medical Association's Council on Foods and Nutrition.

"Poor appetites and faulty eating habits may result from the uncontrolled use of cold drinks with high calorie content, or from failure to take enough outdoor exercise, or from over-indulgence in between-meal snacks. It is unwise for adults to 'condition' children to dislike hot weather or to foist summertime food fads on them," says the AMA Council.

When the summer sun bears down and the weather is hot, inside and out, parents often give thought to changing the family dietary pattern. Would salt be added? Should certain "heavy" foods be prohibited? Does baby need a change in his formula?

The requirement for protein seems to be unchanged or possibly even increased in hot weather. If table salt is used in ordinary amounts in cooking, and is readily available at meal times, extra salt should not be needed except in very active people.

The children need more liquids in the summer to offset loss through perspiration, but this need likely will be met by the youngsters themselves. They'll get thirsty. Mother's problem is to see to it that they quench their thirst most often with plain water, and not overdo high-caloried drinks.

cotton and waxed Kaffir grain sorghum. Owen Benn, on highway just north of Abernathy, has an interplanted field of cotton and grain sorghum. Ewald Quebe, at Cereal north of Aiken in Floyd County, has a 95 acre field of cotton interplanted with castorbeans. Delton Stone, two miles north of Heckville in Crosby County, has cotton and grain sorghum interplanted.

The High Plains Foundation Farming System of interplanting cotton with grain sorghum and/or castorbeans can be seen at the Tenth Annual Field Day of the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, Tex., Thursday, Sept. 8. Field scale planting of this system is a part of the J. Frank Triplett Research and Demonstration Farm program. The farm is eight miles west of Hale Center and five miles north of Cotton Center.

The Post Dispatch

Made from a star-spangled recipe that's 25 years old

The cake above is something we whipped up to help celebrate the 25th birthday of the United States Savings Bond program.

Although there will be no confetti, no horn-blowing—in fact, no party—there are a number of reasons to celebrate this quarter-century observance.

Since the first one was sold on May 1, 1941, Americans have bought more than $150 billion worth of Series E and H Bonds and still buy them at a $4-$5 billion-per-year clip.

About $100 billion have been cashed and spent for homes, college tuition, new cars and furniture, emergencies—and helping dreams come true for millions of American families.

Over half the Bonds bought are purchased on the Payroll Savings Plan—a voluntary, automatic plan that works wonders for people who might not otherwise save a nickel.

Today there are outstanding almost $50 billion in Bonds—a solid financial rock for millions of Americans.

And today, Savings Bonds are a sure way for all Americans to support our men in Vietnam. While they are there, none of us can remain aloof on the sidelines.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with the Treasury Department and The Advertising Council.

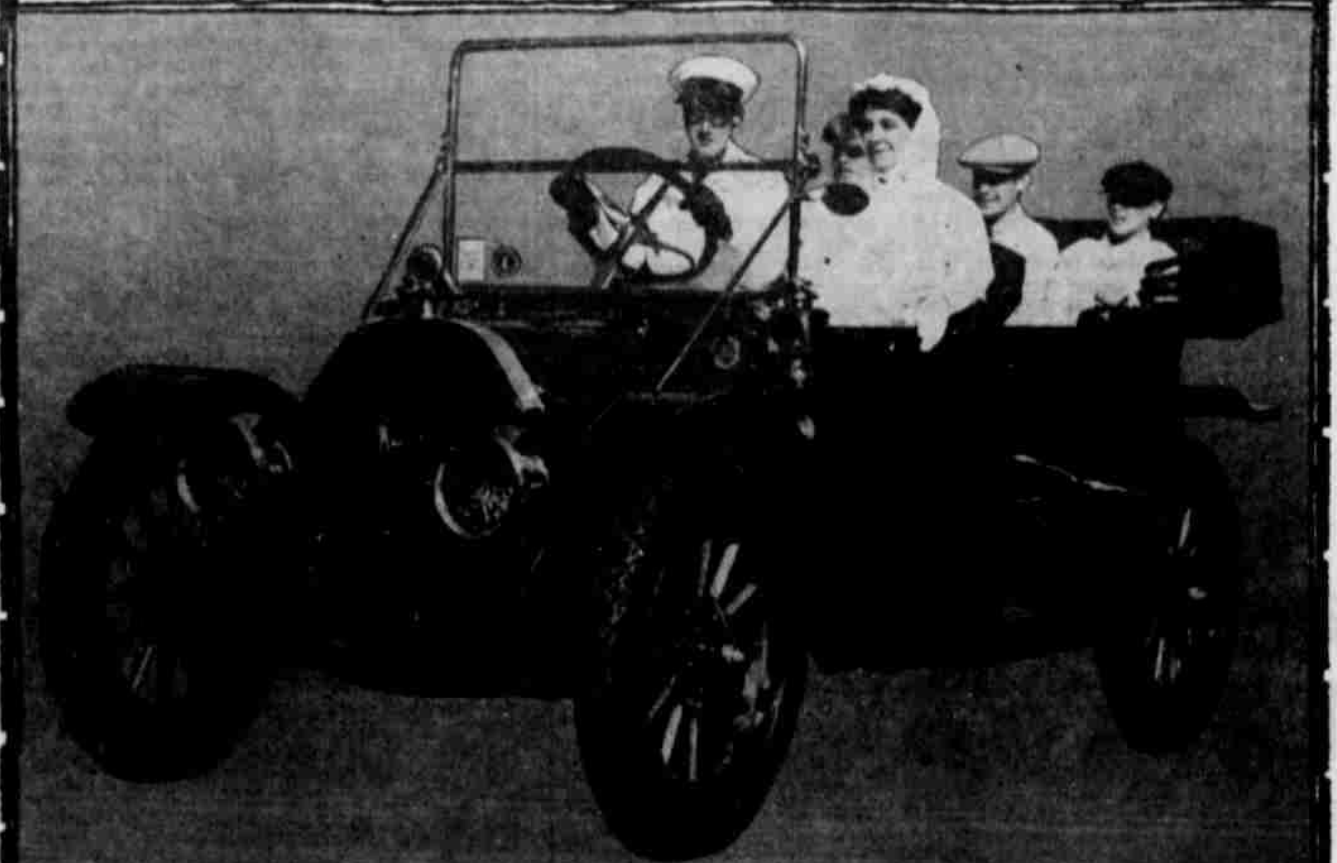

Now it's just an antique, a relic of a bygone era. Formerly it served a practical purpose, a special need. Today, Grandfather's horseless carriage is completely outmoded.

Some philosophies are also out of date. New ideas grip our minds and challenge the intellect. We would not want a "horse and buggy" philosophy in this modern world of growth and change.

Some things do not change, for they are eternal. For example, man's soul and his need of God. No modern invention can ever make God and the Church obsolete. Society is different today than it was in Grandfather's day, but man's spiritual needs are the same.

Discover the value of the timeless in the midst of time. Worship God in your church this week and find the eternal truth which spans the ages.

Church's role in community told

"Each community has a personality like an individual," Mr. Lee said.

The minister said the church's role in the community is two-fold (1) The role of churches is to be at the business of helping every man to understand he lives under the sovereign reign of God, and (2) to demonstrate that the sovereign love of God can take root in Christian life.

As usual we're good at finding our own mistakes a mite too late. So we ran the ad, corrected, on page 8 in the press run made Thursday to give the bank full value for their money.

Post and Floydada clash in 6 p.m. Friday feature

Losers bracket teams play twinbill tonight

Post and Floydada, the only two unbeaten teams left in the Jaycees' Teen-Age Tournament, will clash at 6 p.m. Friday to see which club advances into the Saturday finals of the double elimination event.

Each holds one victory over the other in pre-tourney play. Post defeated Floydada here 7-0, and losing in a nine-inning game at Floydada 9-7.

POST ADVANCED Tuesday night by defeating the Wilson Missions 5-0 in a second round game while Floydada received a forfeit from Louisa when only three Lorenzo players and the manager showed up for the game.

Tonight's twin bill action will all be in the losers' bracket. Slaton is scheduled to play Spur, a team scored yesterday to replace Lorenzo in the tournament with one loss against them, at 6 p.m., and Cotton Center will take on Wilson at 8:30 p.m.

Losers in each of tonight's games will be eliminated from further action.

Tournament Director Frank Blanton scheduled the Post-Floydada clash for the opener of the twin bill Friday because of his efforts to keep Cotton Center, if it wins tonight, playing at the 8:30 p.m. hour because of their long travel distance to Post.

Tonight's two loser bracket winners will meet in the 8:30 p.m. contest Friday.

FINALS OF the tournament will come Saturday night when the Floydada-Post loser plays the loser's bracket winner in the 6 p.m. game with the winner going against the winner of the Post-Floydada game at 8:30 p.m.

Since two defeats are required to eliminate a team, a tripleheader might be required Saturday night should the undefeated final be beaten in the 8:30 p.m. game.

Tournament Director Blanton said should a third game be required that night it would be scheduled for only five innings due to the time element unless the two managers agree to a seven-inning contest.

Trophies will be presented to the tournament champion and runner-up Saturday night with individual trophies also going to members of the title club.

Other trophies will go to the pitcher with the best earned run average in the tournament and the player selected as the tournament's most valuable.

POST DREW a surprisingly tough opponent in Wilson Missions Tuesday night when the Wilson club unveiled a new curve ball pitcher.

Softball meeting is set for Monday

All young men interested in playing in a late summer Post softball league are asked to meet at 7 p.m. Monday night at Judy's Cafe.

Possibilities of organizing a league under Jaycee sponsorship will be discussed at the meeting.

F. Garcia, who shutout the locals on one hit for four innings.

It was a scoreless game until the Altman brothers, Dennis and Duke, cracked out doubles, sandwiched around an infield error on Bill Jackson's ground ball to plate the first two runs in the top of the fifth.

Garcia tired visibly in the sixth and Post broke the game open with a six-run uprising.

An infield error on Roy Sappington's ground ball was followed by a single by Leftfielder Don Windham, a double by Ron Pierce, a fielder's choice, a single by Clyde Cash, a walk to Paul Walker, all with none away, Jimmy Bartlett's sacrifice and an infield error on Joe Hudman's grounder accounted for the rest of the scoring.

Singles by Davis Heaton and Cash with two away in the seventh brought in the final Post run.

MANAGER PAT Walker started Norman Tanner on the mound and he pitched hitless ball for four innings. The only baserunners he permitted were two on passes in the third.

Ron Pierce came on in the fifth to finish up and permitted but one hit, a single by Lupe Garcia with two out in the sixth.

No tourney games were scheduled last night.

In the first round twin bill Monday night, both Floydada and Post advanced with easy victories.

Floydada combined six hits and as many Slaton miscues—four by the third baseman—for a 7-2 victory over Slaton American Legion Juniors in the opener.

In the nightcap, Third Sacker Roy Sappington and Second Baseman Duke Altman paced a 12-hit Post attack with homers for a 12-1 decision over Cotton Center.

Sappington's round-tripper was a grand slammer over the right centerfielder fence with the bases loaded in the seventh to account for four runs of the locals' five-run rally. Altman's blast over the left field fence came on the very first pitch of the game.

Doyie Nichols went the route for the locals, giving up only four hits in different innings, striking out six and walking none.

Cotton Center got its only counter in the bottom of the fourth on a hit batsman, a theft of second and a double by Third Baseman Williams.

Post scored three in the first, two in the second, another pair in the fifth, and five in the seventh as Duke Altman, Sappington, Shortstop Davis Heaton and First Baseman Ronnie Pierce each collected two hits apiece.

Floydada broke open its game with Slaton with a four-run rally in the fourth on three singles and a homerun by Centerfielder Covington.

Flaydada held a 3-2 lead at the time.

Marlar of Floydada hit a homerun to open the second and Leftfielder Washington of Slaton banded out a solo round-tripper in the sixth.

Before huge crowd here

Little Leaguers fall to Lamesa champs

Lamesa won the Area IV Little League Baseball Tournament here Friday night with an easy 15-5 victory over Tahoka, but only after squeezing out a tense 2-1 triumph over Post's Little League All-Stars in a first-rounder Thursday night decided by an outfield error in the final inning.

Post walloped O'Donnell 15-2 Friday (bird) to capture third place. Tahoka had defeated O'Donnell 20-0 in the other Thursday night first-rounders.

THE POST-LAMESA clash, which drew the season's biggest crowd to the Little League diamond, was a tight round duel between Kyle Jesse, who went the route for the locals, and Robert Hardburger who went the distance for Lamesa.

Post took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third inning when Catcher Robert Mendieta led off the frame for Post with a homerun over the rightfield fence.

Josey was breezing along with a no-hitter until Adams came up to pinch hit for Lamesa with two down in the fifth and hit a homerun shot over the centerfield fence to tie the game. Lamesa won it in the sixth without benefit of a hit.

Josey walked Shortstop David Sisson to lead off the inning, but got the next two men on a strikeout and a pop fly to center.

THEN PITCHER Hardburger hit a fly ball into short rightfield. Rightfielder Thomas Zachary came in for the ball and First Baseman Kim Owens went back for it. Both figured the other would take it. Zachary fell down in a final frantic drive, the ball rolled through in the fence for an error on the rightfielder and Sisson went off and running scored from first to win the ball game.

Hopkins, partner in tie for second

Post golfer, Charles Hopkins, and his partner, Carol Beavers of Lubbock, tied with four other teams for runnerup honors in the annual Snyder Country Club Open at Snyder Sunday.

The Hopkins-Beavers team held a five stroke lead Sunday going into the final 18 holes, but faltered and scored only a 69 for a 36 hole total of 134 shots.

Winning the tourney with a torrid closing 64 Sunday were Henry Hanson and Cloyce Talbott. Hanson is golf coach at Texas A&M and Talbott is a Snyder golfer.

Biggest attraction of the tourney, despite their low finishes, was the tourney appearance of Darrell Royal of Texas and Arkansas' Frank Brovies, recognized as the two top football coaches of the Southwest Conference.

Post Teen-Age club hits hot .344 for league campaign

Ten members of the Post Teen-Age baseball squad finished the 13-game league season, completed at Petersburg last Thursday night, with batting averages of over .300.

Joe Hudman, an outfielder, led the squad in batting with an even 500, getting 11 hits in 22 official trips to the plate and scoring 10 runs.

Three other Post players had seasonal averages in the .400 class. Catcher Don Windham hit .425 with 20 hits in 41 at bats, scoring 17 runs; Robert Jackson had five hits in 12 at bats, scored six runs for a .417 average; and Outfielder Clyde Cash batted .400 with 13 hits in 22 at bats, tallying 14 runs.

The team's 200 or better hitters include Davis Heaton .375 (13 hits, 20 runs in 40 at bats), Ronnie Pierce .323 (14 hits, 14 runs in 42 at bats), Roy Sappington .313 (13 hits in 39 at bats and 15 runs; Jimmy Bartlett .321 with nine hits and 11 runs in 28 at bats; Norman Tanner .315 with six hits, five runs in 19 at bats; and Dennis Altman .304 with 7 hits, 9 runs in 23 at bats.

Other batting averages were Doyle Nichols .292, seven hits and 12 runs in 24 at bats; Duke Altman .288, 13 hits, 18 runs in 45 at bats; Paul Walker .267, six hits and 15 runs in 28 at bats; and Phil Vargas .110, two hits and three runs in 18 at bats.

As a team, the squad batted a sparkling .344 for the 13 league contests.

The batting statistics were compiled by Donald Windham, team scorer.

Two named to all tournament team

Two members of the Post Babe Ruth All-Stars have been named to the District II Babe Ruth All-Tournament team for the July 18-23 event at Denver City.

Named were George Torres, centerfielder, and Gary Martin, second baseman and pitcher.

The champion Lamesa team placed five on the all-tournament team. Brownfield three, Tri-City (Denver City, Plains and Seagraves) three, Slaton one, and Frontier (Morton, Sundown, and Whiteface) one.

Brownfield ousts Post, from Babe Ruth meet

Post's Babe Ruth League All-Stars were eliminated Thursday night from the District II Babe Ruth League Tournament at Denver City when Brownfield came up with a three-run rally in the top of the seventh to break open a 4-4 tie game and win, 7-5.

The locals rallied for one run in the bottom of the seventh, but couldn't keep their last gasp rally going.

It was the second loss for Post, which dropped their opener to Lamesa 8-3 and then bounced in whip Frontier 5-1 in their second start of the double elimination event.

Gary Martin started on the mound for the locals, was replaced by Steve Colizzo in the fourth, with Jay Bird coming in during Brownfield's winning rally in the seventh to finish up.

Post took a 1-0 lead in the first on Centerfielder Joe Torres single, a sacrifice by Jay Bird, a walk to

Petersburg wins title game, 2-1

Post's Teen-Age team literally "ran out of luck" in the last three innings of the regular season at Petersburg last Thursday night and dropped a 2-1 extra-inning decision to Petersburg's area team and the league championship with it.

In the most interesting game of the season, Randall Ellison, Petersburg's big southpaw, whipped Post again, giving up only three hits and striking out 15.

But he had a lot tougher time of it this time than he did in two hitting the locals for a 3-1 victory here June 23 in the only other meeting of the two clubs.

THE TOUGHEST of the three "breaks" — and this one literally was a break — occurred in the extra inning.

Filemon Vargas, who had come in to relieve starter Doyle Nichols of Post in the fourth with runners on second and third with but one away, was sailing along.

He had gotten the side out in the fourth on a dinky roller in front of the plate which catcher Don Windham had pounced on, driving the baserunners back to their bases and then striking the batter at first, and then getting out shortstop Ted Ater.

From then on — to the eighth — he was invincible, not permitting a Petersburg runner to reach base.

He faced only nine men in the fifth through the seventh, striking out six of them, including the side in the bottom of the seventh.

BUT THEN came the eighth. In the top of the inning, Vargas led off for Post and was successfully running out a missed third strike when he tripped over the first base sack and fell on his right shoulder.

He stayed in the game and got no farther than first as Ellison here-down and struck out the next three Post batters in a row to give him four strikeouts for the evening.

Vargas warmed up at length in the bottom of the eighth as Manager Pat Walker stood near the mound to see if the arm was okay after the fall.

Filemon thought it was, but it wasn't.

WHEN HE cut loose with his first pitch to the leadoff hitter he grabbed his arm in pain. He had broken his right collar bone in the first base spill.

Manager Walker called Cash in from leftfield to replace Vargas. Cash got the first out on a grounder to third, but walked catcher Weems. Givens, next up, hit a long smash to center which Paul Walker hauled in for the second out.

Then the roof fell in. First baseman Sherrod hit a slow bouncer to short and beat it out with the scorer giving Heaton an error on the play that moved Weems to second where he scored when Givens slashed a ground single to center.

If Vargas hadn't been hurt, he and Ellison might still be matching strikeouts.

THE OTHER two breaks came in Post's top halves of the sixth and the seventh.

In the sixth Duke Altman, who had scored Post's only run, lined to right centerfield and the scorer gave the rightfielder an error on the play (why, this writer wouldn't know). Rightfielder Jimmy Bartlett then hit a hard grounder down the third base line which Scarborough dove for and knocked down but had not time to get to his feet and make a play. The scorer gave Scarborough an error on the play instead of the hit which Bartlett deserved. That put two runners on with none away.

They advanced to second and third when third sacker Roy Sappington fouled out down the right field line.

But Ellison bore down again to whiff catcher Don Windham and force the next batter to ground out, second to first.

BUT, IF that wasn't enough, Post got a runner to third with none away in the top of the seventh, but still couldn't get the winning run across.

Heaton beat out a missed third strike, took second, then third on two passed balls by the catcher. Ellison struck out Paul Walker.

With Clyde Cash at the plate, the squeeze play was put on. As Heaton streaked for home, Ellison (three high and outside. Cash couldn't get his bat on the ball and Heaton was an easy out at the plate.

Post got its only run out of the game before a single out had been made in the game.

Duke Altman led off with a double to right center and scored when Jimmy Bartlett, next man up, slashed a bad hopper into rightfield which the scorer officially termed an error on the first baseman. Bartlett was out trying to make a second on the throw home.

POST GOT only two other base-runners aboard before the sixth. Leftfielder Joe Hudman led off the third with a single but Ellison got the next three on a grounder, strikeout and pop to left.

Heaton opened the fifth with a single and got all the way to third on a wild pitch and a passed ball, and forced Nichols to bounce out to short.

Petersburg got its first run in the second when they loaded the bases on two hit batsmen and a single. The tally came on a little looper into right center. But a Petersburg runner was caught off second on the scoring play for the final out.

Petersburg got runners to second and third with two away in the third, but Nichols got Sherrod for his first strikeout to end that threat.

Southland grads of '31 hold their class reunion

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Have you been to the mountains this summer? Just about every other person that I have talked to lately has either been to the mountains or planning to go in the very near future. Wouldn't it be nice to be there right now? If you have been, call and tell me all about it so I can share it with your friends and neighbors.

The Southland graduating class of 1931 held their class reunion on Sunday in the school cafeteria. This class has been having these reunions every 5 years for quite some time. There were 38 guests there were 38 guests for the Pot-Luck dinner and around 50 people in all called during the day. In 1931 there were 12 graduating seniors and yesterday (Sunday) there were seven of them at the reunion. They were Winifred Bocher, Ruth (Fields) and Pete Crawford, Dale Spence, Hazel Gregory Craft, Alene Gray Onstott and Ruby Ellis. I think that this is a wonderful tradition having these reunions every 5 years. More classes should have them.

Speaking of class reunions—the 1941 class will be having their's on Aug. 7th. Don't forget this important date. It will be held at the Station American Legion Building, beginning in the morning with lunch at 1:00 p.m. and during the afternoon until everyone leaves. See you there.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Gravell from Slaton and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon from Lubbock were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Peggy and Virginia and little granddaughter from Brownfield visited with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong are the parents of Mrs. Gilbert Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lee Lange and four children from Austin visited with Edmund and Yours truly on Friday. They were on their way to the mountains in Colorado and New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Havis have just returned from a visit through Colorado and New Mexico. Two places that they visited in particular were Meeker, Colo., and Ruidoso, N. M. Mrs. Havis reported that in places in Colorado that they need rain very bad and that it is very hot.

Former Post family moves back to city

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hopkins and three children returned to Post over the weekend to make their home after living in Lovington, N. M., for approximately eight years.

Mr. Hopkins is employed at Cash Implement. While in New Mexico he was parts manager of Lovington Implement.

The Hopkins' three children are Susan 8, James 4, and Carl 1. They are residing at 918 West 6th St.

Mrs. Hopkins is the daughter of Mrs. Minnie Shepherd.

The Southland Methodist Revival will begin the coming Sunday, July 31, at 8:00 p.m. Brother Hugh Daniels from Tahoka will be the guest preacher. This revival will last one week and everyone is invited to come. There will be two revivals going on the same week at different times. The Baptist Church will also be having their revival. They will be held at different times, so that you can attend both if you would like.

The Methodist Revival is being held at the Graham Chapel Church this week, having started Sunday night and will end on this coming Sunday, July 31. Brother Max Browning from Wilson is the guest preacher. Everyone is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Oats and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bloxom from Slaton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hargrove on Sunday.

Mrs. John Gaskalla and daughter Mary Jo from Columbus, Ohio, were luncheon guests on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Mason. Mrs. Gaskalla and daughter were on their way to Abilene. This is the first time that these two families had seen each other in eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mason went to Brownfield on Wednesday to pick up their daughter, Mickey, who had been visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Rowden, for several days. Pam and Jan Rowden returned home with the Masons and spent several days visiting with different relatives here in Southland. They returned to their home in Brownfield on Saturday.

The cheerleaders of Southland school are at Texas Tech this week attending the cheerleading school. They are staying on the campus and the school lasts from Sunday afternoon until this coming Friday. The three girls that are attending from here are Libby Sales, head cheerleader, Karen Melcher, and Dayneen Dunn. Guess these girls will come back home with a lot of new ideas, and a bunch of new "yells."

Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, Dahlonna, Breonna, and Jerry have just returned from a week's stay at beautiful Lake Whitney and Ft. Worth. At Lake Whitney, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gresham and in Ft. Worth they visited with Mrs. Winterrowd's mother, Mrs. Francis Lightfoot, and with a brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Lightfoot. On the way back they stopped at Pecos Kingdom Lake for a short time. While at Lake Whitney they enjoyed a nice fish-ry.

Watch out for dependable Dale Landsman

In the old-time westerns you could always tell the good guys from the bad guys. On out highways, today, it couldn't matter less. Because even the best of drivers get involved in the worst of accidents. Take a guy like Dale Landsman. He's never been in an accident. Never breaks a law. Yet, he still says, "That's why you have to drive defensively."

every second of every minute you're behind the wheel. Out on the highway, that means protecting yourself by staying well to the right. And warning any oncoming driver if he strays into your lane. Don't depend on the actions of other drivers and you won't end up on the receiving end of their mistakes or sudden moves. You can depend on it.

Watch out for the other guy!
