

All signals are 'go' for yuletide parade Saturday

Assurance of good weather is only need

Everything was pronounced as "set" today — except of course the weather — for Post's second annual Christmas Opening parade here Saturday morning.

The word from the North Pole, received at The Dispatch at 4 p. m. yesterday, was that Santa Claus has accepted Post's invitation to be guest of honor in the parade and will ride on a miniature stage coach drawn by Shetland ponies. The parade is scheduled for 10 a. m. with the line of march changed this year.

The parade will "form" on East Main Street around the Avenue F intersection and will move west down Main Street, around the courthouse square and back east to its starting point.

ONE OF THE new parade features this year will be the appearance of the crack ROTC drill team from West Texas State University — the Sam Houston Rifles.

Parade Marshal Barry Thompson arranged for the 45-man unit to come for the parade and the parade committee voted Monday to pay car expenses and luncheon for the team while here from parade funds raised from over 45 supporting local merchants.

Elwood Wright, chairman of the parade committee, has arranged with Chief of Police Leldon Miller to "rope off" the west half of the 100 block East Main to give the drill team enough room to do a little fancy stepping during or right after the parade.

OTHER NEW parade features this year include the decorated bicycle and decorated doll buggy divisions.

Parade Chairman Wright is hoping for real participation in both divisions by local youngsters.

Three prizes will be given for the top three decorated bikes and buggies.

In the decorated doll buggy division, first prize will be a popular Barbie Doll with three wigs and an extra set of doll clothes; second prize will be a doll hair dryer, and third prize an 18-piece hostess ware baking set.

In the decorated bicycle division, first prize will be a Vrrrom engine for a bike, which looks and sounds like a real motor. Second prize will be a Monopoly game set and third prize an authentic scale model Morgan horse set containing stallion, foal and mare.

The decorated bike division is open to both boys and girls of any age. Advance entries do not have to be made. Entries in both doll buggy and bike divisions are asked to be at the assembly area 20 to 30 minutes ahead of the parade's 10 a. m. starting time.

ALL PARADE contest divisions will be judged in the assembly area prior to the start of the parade.

Dale Schmidt, high school float coordinator for the parade, told The Dispatch Wednesday afternoon that the float lineup now numbers seven.

The senior class entry in the competition for four float trophies — first, second, and third, and most unique — will be Santa's Showboat. The Junior Class entry will be a Christmas caroling scene. Sophomores will enter a float depicting the Nativity. The freshmen will have a divided float — one side depicting the "old days of Christmas" and the other side the "new days of Christmas."

The DECA Club float will be a train — Santa's Christmas Special. Theme of the floats for the Spanish Club and the Pleasant Valley 4-H Club have not been announced.

ANOTHER NEW parade feature this year will be the honoring of a group of pioneer area residents who will ride in new cars in the parade as "honorary parade marshals."

Post's three auto agencies — Collier Chevrolet-Olds, Floyd's Pontiac-Buick-GMC and Scott-Pool, Inc. — are providing 1965 cars to carry the pioneers.

Both the Post High School Band and the Post Junior High Bands will be in the line of march and parade officials were hopeful of obtaining two or three more area bands to "liven up" the parade.

Dave Sanford will be the parade announcer and the downtown loudspeaker system is being checked this week so all parade announcements can be heard throughout the business district.

A large crowd is expected — especially if the weather cooperates. No bad weather was in sight on the long range forecast. Last year the parade was postponed two weeks because of the Kennedy assassination and then hit by a hard sandstorm which delayed its start for 60 minutes.

SANTA CLAUS told The Dispatch by long distance phone from the North Pole yesterday that he is happy with the invitation to come to Post and be the guest of honor in the Christmas Opening parade.

"This is my busy season here at my toy workshop," Santa explained rapidly. "In fact I'm snowed under."

(Snowed under, Santa said, was his term for being "covered up" as they say here in Texas.) (See Parade, Page 8)

A thorough drive

Chest campaign near conclusion

What shapes up as the most thorough campaign in Garza County's Community Chest history was off and running this week, hopeful of reaching its $10,200 goal by next weekend — and possibly by tomorrow.

Mrs. Irby G. Metcalf, the first woman ever to head the all-in-one fund drive, is aiming her strength at the biggest weakness of past Chest campaigns — reaching the working man and woman on the job.

She has a crew of about 25 Chest workers — most of them women — contacting all Post business area employes this week.

The Garza County big gifts section always has come through with good contributions — usually about 80 per cent of the total. It is reaching the smaller giver that has bogged down in past Chest campaigns.

Mrs. Metcalf reported about $2,500 already turned in by drive workers although the first "report session" isn't scheduled until tomorrow.

Postex Cotton Mill workers have set the example for other salaried employes which Mrs. Metcalf hopes everybody will follow.

Postex employes, in a management-supported campaign completed last weekend under the direction of Personnel Director Jim Poer, have given or pledged $1,350 for the 1965 Garza Chest.

This is over 13 per cent of the total chest budget. And it's a healthy boost over Postex employes' contribution last year when they gave a little over $1,000.

Postex permits deducts from salary checks for workers pledging to the Chest so their contributions can be taken out over a longer period of time.

Mrs. Metcalf said early reports from campaign workers are that no cuts in the amount of Chest (See Chest Drive, Page 8)

Admission policy adopted for Post housing units

Directors of the Public Housing Authority of Post at their December meeting Tuesday afternoon in the city council room adopted a statement of policy governing the admission to and continued occupancy of the 28 local low rent, public housing units now being built.

Full details of the policy will be announced when applications are accepted for occupancy, which probably will come in January.

The directors also discussed the rental schedule to be applicable to the local units, but took no action until a further understanding of the federal PHA proposal is obtained.

Luther Harper, administrator of the project, presented a long list of maintenance tools which the authority will need to purchase. Directors asked him to obtain bids on these items from any Post merchant interested in bidding on them.

Attending the session, besides Harper, were Giles McCrary, Powell Shytle, Frank Blanton, Jim Poer and Jim Cornish.

$35,900 damage suit filed here

Jack Kenneth Spears of Lynn County has filed a $35,900 damage suit in Garza County district court here against Jimmy Dale Redman of Post for injuries suffered in a head-on pickup truck collision just south of Close City on June 15.

Spears was the driver of the pickup with which Redman collided. The plaintiff asks $5,000 punitive damages, $900 for present and future medical bills, $3,000 for a cosmetic defect to his left ear, $3,000 for earnings already lost, $15,000 for loss of future earnings, $3,000 for pain, suffering and mental anguish to date, $5,000 for future pain and suffering, and $1,000 for damages to his pickup truck.

This is the second damage suit filed here as a result of the accident.

Rites conducted for Wynne Collier

Funeral services for Wynne R. Collier, 56, who died at 10 a. m. Monday in Tahoka Hospital after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday, were conducted at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church, Tahoka.

Mr. Collier, who had operated a drug store in Tahoka since 1936, was a former Post resident. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Collier Sr. of Post and the brother of R. H. (Bob) Collier Jr. and Miss Lucille Collier, both of Post.

Born in Ennis, Mr. Collier lived in Post for many years, graduating from high school here in 1924. He was in the drug store business with his father and brother until moving to Tahoka.

Mr. Collier was a past president of the Rotary Club and Tahoka Chamber of Commerce. He also served on the school board and city council. He was a past grand master of the Masonic Lodge and a past president of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association and the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association.

Survivors include his wife, Coye Larson Collier; two daughters, Mrs. Janet Cash of Weatherford and Mrs. Carolyn Cleveland of Bellflower, Calif.; a son, Jack, of the home; the parents, and brother and sister of Post, and three grandchildren.

The Rev. Aubrey White, First Methodist pastor, officiated at the funeral services, assisted by Don Browning, Church of Christ minister from Snyder, and Ralph Beistle, minister of the Tahoka Church of Christ.

Those attending the funeral included many Post friends of the family.

Gins see 'no big rush'

Not going to be any "big year" at Garza's cotton ginners here are predicted for the "short crop." A 15,000 bale crop forecast would be the shortest in seven or eight years of the county's seven gins — the Hackberry Gin — has gone to 24 hour, round-the-clock operations. The other gins are just working one crew long hours.

Planters Gin, which was broken down part of Sunday and all day Monday, was the only gin with much cotton on the yard yesterday. Planters here in Post reported 160 bales on the yard, 1,239 bales ginned to date and "we're covered up."

The gin had been working to midnight or 1 a. m. each night.

Storie Gin reported "steady ginning," no rush, and 454 bales ginned to date with the irrigated cotton making a bale or better to the acre.

Both grade and turnout were reported good there.

The Graham gin reports 2,029 bales ginned to date with 40 bales on the yard. The gin has been running 14 to 15 hours daily with a single crew.

Graham had "no rush" and reported many cotton farmers either as through or almost through.

The Close City Gin reported 1,550 bales ginned and yard clean. The gin has been running only one crew to 10 or 11 p. m. nightly and cleaning up the yard each night. Only about 800 more bales are expected. The cotton has been grading pretty good. Most of it is dry-land cotton.

The Pleasant Valley Gin has ginned 974 bales to date, running 15 hours daily now, had 200 bales on the yard and only expected about 200 more bales from the area.

"We're over our peak — if we had one," the ginner told The Dispatch.

At Southland, the Basinger Gin reported 1,590 bales ginned to date with only 400 or 500 more bales expected. "We're really short in here," was the gin report. Basinger (See Cotton Crop, Page 8)

Director of Activities at Youth Center named

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards, new president of the Garza County Youth Center, have announced the appointment of Mrs. Shirley Moody as director of activities.

Mrs. Moody is employed as an American History teacher in Post High School. Plans are being made for holiday festivities.

The "Spirit of Christmas" — that's the theme for Post's big Christmas parade Saturday morning — descended on Post this week.

Downtown windows and stores took on a Christmas glow. There was almost the smell of snow in the air — mingled with the gin smoke — as the season's second "northern" swept into Texas. High schoolers worked late in garages and empty buildings around town building Christmas floats.

Post's new permanent Christmas decorations went part way — all are up that have arrived.

To add to this "Spirit of Christmas" is this big Christmas Opening Edition of The Dispatch which is literally stuffed with Christmas ads from your local merchants.

The Dispatch is mailing out a thousand extra sample copies into the "fringe areas" of Post's big trade territory this week hoping to pick up a few dozen new subscribers.

Billy Hodges and Jo Beth Dillard

4-H Gold Star Boy and Girl honored

Billy Jack Hodges and Jo Beth Dillard were named Garza County's Gold Star Boy and Girl of 1964 at the annual 4-H Achievement program held Monday night in the county 4-H building.

The Gold Star Boy and Girl pins presented Billy Jack and Jo Beth were only two of numerous awards made at the event, which was sponsored by the Garza County 4-H Council.

Billy Jack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hodges, is a member of the Junior Leaders 4-H Club and held a leadership role in many county activities. He has held office in his 4-H Club for the past three years and has been a member of the livestock judging team for the past two years in addition to achievements in a number of project areas.

Jo Beth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dillard, is also a member of the Junior Leaders 4-H Club, and has been a leader in numerous 4-H activities, having held office in her club and the county council in addition to serving as a delegate to the county council. She has carried out projects in foods and nutrition, clothing, home improvement, and other areas.

Two 4-H members, Patsy Pierce and Birch Lobban, were speakers at the program. "Fifty Years of 4-H" was the title of Patsy's talk, in which she traced the progress of the 4-H movement from 1914 when it came into being through the passage by Congress of the Smith-Lever Act. This act authorized appropriation of funds to be matched at the state and county level to finance an agricultural agent in each county that wished to qualify. A part of the county agent's work was to be implemented among youth.

At first, the boys' clubs were called "Corn Clubs" and the girls' clubs, "Tomato Clubs." They began to be called 4-H Clubs in the 1920's, which was when the business community of the United States began to recognize the great leadership contribution 4-H Club youth were making to the nation's productivity.

Since World War II the 4-H Club movement has spread to 76 nation's productivity.

Post resident's father dies following stroke

W. B. McMillin, father of Stanley McMillin, died at his home in Haskell Tuesday morning at 11 a. m. after suffering a stroke about a week ago.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete at the time The Dispatch was notified of his death. Those planning to attend the services were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McMillin and family, Mrs. Leah W. McMillin and Mr. and Mrs. Percy

Operation Teen-Ager' to be presented here

Operation Teen-Ager', a highly anticipated presentation by four inmates of the Texas Department of Corrections, is to be presented at 7:30 a. m. Monday, Dec. 7, in the high school gymnasium.

General's Youth Conference last July, had the privilege of attending "Operation Teen-Ager" during the conference.

These four men from Huntsville, who will remain anonymous in order to spare their families, will tell how their juvenile delinquency finally brought them a total of over 600 years imprisonment.

"Operation Teen-Ager" had its beginning in the consciences of these four inmates, who came to the conclusion that serving a sentence doesn't repay a thing. They decided that the only original contribution that they could make would be to steer others away from the errors that they have made.

Teddy Scott and Dee Ann Walker are co-presidents of the sponsoring Student Council and County Judge J. E. Parker, Bernard S. Ramsey and the Rev. Edgar H. Graham Jr. are co-chairmen of the sponsoring juvenile board.

Nelson funeral is held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Helmer Nelson, 69, who died Nov. 29 at the Lutheran Sunset Home in Clifton, were conducted at 3 p. m. Wednesday at Faith Lutheran Church here, with the Rev. R. C. Kamrath, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Nelson, who was a resident of the Post vicinity for nearly forty years before moving to Clifton four years ago, had been in ill health for some time. She had been at the Lutheran home in Clifton for the last four years.

She was born Alice Grimland on June 10, 1895, in Bosque County. (See Nelson Rites, Page 8)

SEARCH UNDER WAY FOR POST'S 'LOST' YULE DECORATIONS

The search is on for Post's "lost" Christmas decorations. The decorations were shipped Friday from Dallas.

Twelve of the thirty 50-foot strands of lights and tinsel garlands have arrived together with all the big red plastic Christmas bells.

Missing: 18 of the strands of lights and garlands. Don Dunbar, chairman of the Chamber's retail promotion committee which purchased the new permanent downtown decorations, got on the phone yesterday afternoon to start trying to trace the missing shipment.

With Post's Main Street 100 feet wide from curb to curb, two of the 50-foot light and garland strands are being combined to reach across the street.

City crews already have set up the strands of garlands and lights that have arrived. They intend to put on the lighted Christmas bells later.

There are two 18-inch high side bells and one 24-inch center bell to each 50-foot strand. (See Search On, Page 8)

More than a shopping promotion

The Christmas Opening Parade Saturday morning will be much more than just a Christmas shopping promotion.

Local merchants have provided the funds, it is true. But the high school students have spent a busy week building floats for it. Smaller youngsters are preparing decorated bicycles and decorated doll buggies. It has become an interesting community endeavor.

To refresh memories, it is best to recall how the high schoolers got into float building last year for Christmas.

The Chamber's retail promotion committee wanted to put some punch back into the Christmas season in Post and came up with the idea of a Christmas parade.

But while merchants professed interest and were willing to put up money for it, few if any had the considerable time it takes to build a float. And the floats are what make any parade a real attraction.

Supt. Barry Thompson then proposed that trophies be put up by the parade committee and high school organizations compete for float trophies.

The idea was a huge success.

Despite the Kennedy assassination, which brought on a two-week parade postponement, and then a maddening sand storm on the day of the postponed parade, the parade drew a big crowd and made a big hit with all who saw it.

And what "made" the parade were the Christmas floats.

That's the background for this second annual Christmas opening parade at 10 a. m. Saturday. We hope for better weather, an even larger crowd and a lot of enthusiasm.

This year, thanks to the Post Chamber of Commerce, downtown Post will be garbed for the first time in history in permanent Christmas decorations.

Let's make the parade a fine one Saturday—either by being in it, or by being on the Main Street curb applauding those who are. To the mothers and fathers of smaller youngsters, The Dispatch would urge you to encourage participation by your "small fry set" in either the decorated bicycles or decorated doll buggy divisions of the parade.

These are new parade divisions. It doesn't cost much, just a couple of packages of crepe paper, to decorate a bike or doll buggy. And it's not just winning a prize which the youngsters will enjoy but participating.

Encourage them to enter. Help them decorate. And you'll have a lot more fun yourself watching that parade with a youngster of yours riding or walking proudly down the street.

See y'all Saturday morning. Parade time is 10 o'clock don't forget and the parade starts on East Main this year across the tracks and moves west and back to the starting point again.—JC

There is someone you can help

We, on this newspaper, are as guilty as anyone else when it comes to taking pot shots at the Post Office Department, but we're also just as ready as anyone else to testify to its worth and to come to its aid when aid is needed. And, that aid is always needed during the Christmas season.

The Christmas "rush", which nowadays starts a few weeks earlier than it used to, brings a very old quote to mind: "Neither snow nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." This was said by the Greek historian Herodotus in the Fifth Century B. C., but it still is true of the postal service.

However, Postmaster Harold Voss recently added a thought: "While it is true that bad weather doesn't obstruct postal service, it certainly can slow them down."

He mentioned that planes can't get off the ground, switches on railroad tracks can freeze up. Trucks must move more slowly and cautiously over highways. And, in many places, mailmen might wish for the warmth of an igloo. Even the impish Mr. ZIP can't assure next-day delivery under these conditions.

"Why," you may ask, "does the postmaster bring this up?"

"Simply to let people know that there is a factor that we just can't control, the weather." Postmaster Voss said. "It is important that people mailing Christmas cards and gifts make every effort to shop early and mail early to assure on-time delivery. This is especially true during the Christmas rush when an ever-increasing avalanche of mail moves through the postal system."

Moving the Christmas mail is a hard, tiring job and the local workers who work so diligently during this period deserve all the cooperation they can get.

The postmaster said that shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP Codes will really put "zip" into your Christmas mailings . . . and give your mailman a hand, too.—CD

The way to start your giving

Garza County's Community Chest fund drive is well into its second week and will, of necessity, because of the Christmas season, be concluded within the next few days. Those not directly approached by any of the Chest drive workers are asked to take it upon themselves to make their contribution, either by taking it to the First National Bank or by giving it to one of the workers.

The small givers, and that's most of us, are urged to remind our employer of the payroll deduction plan—if he forgets it himself.

Giving right before Christmas-time may seem a hardship to many of us, but not if we stop to think of the good work done throughout the year by each of the seven Chest-participating organizations. Even at such a time of year, it is better to lump our giving into one solid sum than to be called upon for contributions at seven different times the rest of the year.

So, let's start this year's Christmas giving by making a contribution to the Community Chest.—CD

Your help is needed here

One of the best ways we can slip quietly, without fanfare, into the spirit of the Christmas season is to help out the "Toys for Needy Children" projects already under way here.

Already, one business firm, Wilke's Supplies, and one organization, Mu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, have toy collections under way. The most important thing about helping out on these projects is to make our contributions early. The groups collecting toys will need time to repair or mend some of the playthings donated for Christmas giving.

These projects, if amply supported, will assure Christmas gifts for many children of the community, who otherwise will have nothing.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

Did you ever think about giving up on dandruff remedies and just explaining that some nut sprinkled "stars on your shoulders?" Might as well use those TV commercials to our own advantage if we're going to have to hear them over and over.—Billye Stockton in The Crosbyton Review.

Board Conference publication, a married worker who had two children and a gross income of $3,000 in 1959, paid $30 in income and social security taxes, leaving $2,970 to spend for his family. Today, this same individual must earn $7,424 and pay $920 in taxes before he can buy the same things for his family.—Royce Brown in Southwest Dallas County Suburban.

OF ALL THE things we had to be thankful for on Thanksgiving Day, the balmy weather surely must have ranked high on the list. Also the fact that the "epidemic" of colds, flu, etc., that hit the community wasn't any worse—as bad as it was.

The Man Up the Street says some fellows his age would give a pretty penny to get a haircut like the Beatles.

ON THE SUBJECT of the Beatles, and just to show you how garbled some things can get when they are passed from one person to another, I want to tell you of an exchange of information among my No. 2 son, my wife and myself during the Thanksgiving holiday.

The No. 2 son, listening to a news telecast, passed along to his mother the information that one of President Johnson's beagles had died.

From another room, where I was fighting the flu, I wanted to know what it was all about.

"One of the beagles died," my wife called out.

I thought she said one of the Beatles, so I commented, "Well, I read the other day that one of them was operated on."

"I didn't know that," my wife said.

"Yeah, the one they call Ringo had his tonsils taken out."

"For Pete's sake," my wife said, "it was one of the beagles that died, not one of the Beatles."

"Oh," I said.

Ralph Renpert in the Baltimore Sun says when a resourceful woman he knows gives her husband Christmas cards to mail, she always addresses a postcard to herself and hides it in with them. If she doesn't get the card back within three days, she starts asking questions.

ONE OF OUR readers has called my attention to this prayer by Christopher Morley on the return of a book:

I give humble and hearty thanks for the safe return of this book, which, having endured the perils of my friend's bookcase, and the bookcases of my friends' friends, now returns in reasonably good condition.

I give humble and hearty thanks that my friend did not see fit to give this book to his infant son as a plaything, to use it as an ashtray for a cigar, as a teething ring for his mastiff.

When I lent the book I deemed it to be lost. I was resigned to the bitterness of the loss parting. I never thought to look upon its posse again.

But now that the book is come back to me, I rejoice and am exceedingly glad! Bring in the fat-tailed morocco and let us rebound the volume and set it on the shelf of honor; for this book was lent, and returned again.

Presently, therefore, I may return some of the books that I myself have borrowed.

Our cat Blackie is mailing his Christmas cards early this year, but he is having trouble making out the names on the list of friends who sent him cards last Christmas. When his handwriting gets "cold" it is hard to read.

HERE IS AN old-time editor's advice on when it is proper for a gentleman to remove his hat: "When mopping the brow, when taking a bath, when eating indoors, when going to bed, when taking up a collection, when having the hair cut, when being shampooed, and when standing on the head."

Times have changed. Today a man pays a quarter to park his car so he won't be fined two dollars while spending a dime for a nickel cup of coffee.

Gain in enrollment
Freshman chemical engineering enrollment at The University of Texas is up 70 per cent this fall, reports Dr. Howard Rase, Chemical Engineering Department chairman. He said 71 freshmen are registered this year, compared with 42 during the 1963-64 fall semester. He attributes the increase to a growing demand for more chemical engineers in the process industries, which produce such basic consumer goods as chemicals, petroleum products, pharmaceuticals, and metals.

Wildcat staked, well completed in oil activity

A wildcat location and a completion, both in the Post vicinity, highlight this week's oil activity in Garza County.

L. E. Windham of Rankin will drill a 4,000-foot Glorieta wildcat five miles south of Post, one and one-half miles west of the North-west Rocker A. San Andres pool and three-quarters of a mile south-east of the Kirkpatrick Pennsylvania pool.

It is the No. 1 Kirkpatrick, 2,172 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of Section 1, Block 2, GH&H Survey.

James G. Brown Associates, Midland, No. 2 Slaughter, 12 miles south of Post, was completed to pump 156.30 barrels of 39.5 gravity oil, plus 3 per cent water daily through perforations at 4,920 to 4,958 feet, after injection of 1,000 gallons of mud acid.

The new producer is a west extension and second producer in the Northeast Koonsman Spraberry sand pool.

The operators staked a south offset to the new producer as No. 4 Slaughter, 1,667 feet from north and 2,100 feet from east lines of Section 20, a 5,100-foot test.

Accident victim is recovering

Noel White of the Graham community is recovering satisfactorily this week from injuries received Saturday morning in a two-vehicle accident seven miles west of Post on U. S. Highway 380.

White received a mild brain concussion, lacerated ear and two broken ribs in the accident, which occurred when his pickup truck and an east-bound automobile collided. Mrs. Evelyn Lee of Arlington, whose husband was driving the automobile, received bruises.

The two accident victims were brought to the Medical Center for treatment of their injuries. White's pickup was struck when he drove it onto the highway off a dirt road. He told investigating officers he stopped before driving onto the highway, but just didn't see the approaching car.

Abilene youth fined $10 in county court

Gary Wallace Barnett, Abilene youth, pleaded guilty last weekend before County Judge J. E. Parker to a charge of unlawfully possessing barbiturates.

He was fined $10 and costs. A second charge of unlawfully carrying a pistol was dismissed.

THANKSGIVING DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Power and daughters of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parker were Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thomas and family. In the evening the Powers visited with his mother, Mrs. C. I. Dickinson. Mrs. Parker accompanied the Power family home Sunday and returned to Post Tuesday.

Installation set for committee

Jan. 16 has been set as the date of installation of committee members of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee for 1965.

The meeting was set by County Judge J. E. Parker Tuesday morning at a regular meeting of the committee, attended by six members.

Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman, read a letter from John Ben Shepperd, state chairman, in which he requested members of the Garza County committee to write their state representative and state senator in behalf of continued state support of the state's historical survey and marking program.

The letter from Shepperd also asked that the committee make any applications for new historical markers by Feb. 1, 1965.

Judge Parker announced that the replacement for the Garza County marker destroyed by vandals has been received. The new marker will be placed at the site of the destroyed marker, in the roadside park just northwest of town.

Historic Buildings get plate markers

Two more Official Texas Historical Building Medallion plates have been awarded for structures in Post, John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Commission announced today.

One of the plates was awarded for the original C. W. Post here and the other for the old Sanitarium.

The interpretive plates are placed with the Official Texas Historical Building Medallions on both structures two years ago.

Hudman Funeral Home, sponsor of the plate for the old Post home, and Mason Park Co. of the one for the old Sanitarium.

The plate for the old Post which is at 615 West Main, that the home was built by C. W. Post, the cereal millionaire and founder of the Post, who promoted the settlement and agriculture by land on liberal terms and industries. With the theme "Quantity," he installed solid doors, woodwork, redwood and leather wallpaper in his building, which in recent years been used as an apartmenting, states that this was the hospital in this part of Post was built in 1912 by C. W. Double U Company. Its facilities included an x-ray lab, operating and sterilizing nurses' training, diet kitchen, all-private rooms, each with heat.

The original medallions for two buildings and the interpretive plates were secured through efforts of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee, chairman is Mrs. A. C. Surman.

Rotarians hear talk by Harden

Highway Patrolman Henry Harden explained the organization and operation of the Texas Department of Public Safety of which the highway patrol is but one section, to Post Rotarians at their weekly luncheon in City Hall Tuesday.

Other sections of the safety department, which was organized in 1935, include the narcotics section, the intelligence section to investigate subversive activities and corruption in government, the Texas Rangers, the license weight service, the driver license service, the vehicle inspection section, the safety education service and the communications section which operates a statewide radio network.

Harden showed slides to illustrate his talk.

Highway Patrolman Max Knox also was a guest of the club.

The Rev. Ed Graham made a short talk prior to the program to urge full Community Chest participation on the part of every Rotarian. Mrs. Irby G. Metcalf, Community Chest president and drive chairman, was a guest at the luncheon.

Julius Tanner was introduced as a new Rotarian.

Young and Mr. Stice are exchange vows on Dec. 19

Mrs. C. A. Young are announcing the engagement and wedding of their daughter, Charlotte Maxine, and Mr. Stice, son of Mrs. Cleo Stice of Tahoka. The wedding is planned for Dec. 19. Young is a graduate of Post High School and is attending Young's Hair Design Institute in Lubbock. Mr. Stice is a sophomore at South of Tahoka High School and is a sophomore at South of Lubbock at Levelland. The couple will make their home in Lubbock where both will continue their studies.

Gamma Mu Sorority Christmas Bazaar set for Saturday

The Gamma Mu sorority is sponsoring a Christmas Bazaar to be held at the Community Center on Saturday. The bazaar will include party favors, gift matches, traveling mirrors, carving sets, Christmas wrapping paper, bow makers, monogrammed stationery, candles, and a varied assortment of kitchen giftware. Prices will range from $1 to $2.95. Additional funds were raised recently at a jewelry party sponsored by the sorority with contributions made to the district project, which is helping furnish clothing, food and furniture for the Boys Ranch at Tahoka, and to the state project, which helps support the Birth Defect Center in Galveston.

TOPS Club members hear talk by agent

Miss Juanette Williams, county agent, spoke to the Postex TOPS Club at a recent meeting on "Food for Fitness". Tommy Mitchell won the "queen crown" for the week for losing the most weight. A total of 39 pounds was lost by 14 members. No one had to pay the pig. Those enjoying the meeting held at Wilke's Supply were: Margaret Yates, Edna Smith, Norma Baumann, Louella Bilberry, Jerry Heister, Mollie Kolb, Ruth Martin, Nevada Mullenix, Bonnie Medlin, Neva Bishop, Tommy Mitchell, Carroll Grigsby, and Sue Foster.

Morris-Baldwin vows exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morris are announcing the recent marriage of their daughter, Anne, to David Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baldwin of Dumas. The Rev. Woodrow Adcock, Methodist church pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony read in the church parsonage at Amarillo. The bride chose for her wedding ensemble a light-blue two-piece knit suit and black accessories. She carried white roses atop a white Bible. The tradition of something old, borrowed, new and blue and a penny in the shoe was carried out by the bride. Wedding attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Hill, fraternity brother and sorority sister of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin are at home at 508 22nd St., in Canyon where they are students at West Texas State University.

16 paintings of Circuit Show on display in Post

Sixteen pictures, which are a part of the Region 20 South Plains Circuit Show, were hung at Levi's Restaurant Banquet Room Tuesday and will be on exhibit for a month. The 16 pictures were chosen by Mrs. Juanita Pollard, head of the art department at Lubbock Christian College from 100 pictures that were shown during the Fall Art Festival at the Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock in September.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

I was (and still am) so excited about my birthday gift that I haven't had time to think about aging a year.

Being greeted by one's family at 7:45 o'clock in the morning with a rendition of "Happy Birthday" in front of a roaring fire in the fireplace is really all one could possibly want on a "bit past 21" birthday, but I was informed that I had bigger and better things yet to come.

Knowing that the C house had been a bit lonely since we lost our dog Molly, my family had lined up a dog or two to look over in Lubbock at various kennels. So after our usual half-day at the office on Saturday we took of for the big "family affair decision".

One stop and we had a dog. I'm not sure just who chose who, but home we started with a three-month old Basset Hound and home we arrived.

Things have not been the same since and will not be for some time, I have the feeling.

I'd almost forgotten that having a puppy in the house was like bringing a new baby home. The whole household is disrupted and we spend most of our time saying: "Oh look, isn't that sweet (or clever, or dumb, or laughable)?"

We went to work right away on a name for our new family member while all four of the C's were together. From an impressive list of names including Agnes, Melba, Blanche, Gladys, Maud, Mabel, Phoebe, Elaine, Gertrude, Hortense and Harriet we worked down to a decision between Abigail B and Samantha B. After much haggling we decided on Samantha B and are calling this delightful creature Sam Basset.

Miss Sam has much to learn. Her toilet habits are atrocious and this cold weather is not the time to housebreak a dog. She has to learn to sleep ALL night, not just part of it. She has to learn that she is not a dish and cannot get into the dishwasher. She needs to learn that shoes are for wearing (for humans) and not chewing. She needs to learn that one should eat all of one's food before picking up one's cog dish in one's teeth and prancing about the house. She needs to learn not to sleep on top of the magazines in the magazine basket.

But, more than anything I wish she would learn how to mop, but bright as she looks I doubt that this will come about. However, anyone that can make a woman forget her age deserves to be pampered and since we've all lost our hearts to Sam the pampering will come mighty easy.

I'm looking forward to the Christmas parade Saturday as much as I'm looking forward to a housebroken Sam. One of the reasons is the bicycle and doll buggy division.

I've seen both of these done and they can steal the show away from the floats and bands mighty quick. Back in our old hometown of Arkansas City, Kans., we had an annual (and they still do) Halloween parade called "Arkalah" which was terrific and two of the outstanding divisions were the decorated bikes and buggies.

Some really remarkable ideas can be worked out to decorate both, with the doll buggy usually proving the most popular because of the "voune" ladies pushing them down the street. Of course mothers keep pace at the side of the street trying to look inconspicuous — sort of like taking your child "trick or treating", but not wishing to be seen.

We moved from Arkansas City when the girls were too young to push a buggy down Main Street, let alone own one, so I've always had this inner urge to decorate a

Family gathers, birthday noted

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Boy Hart was the scene of a Hart family gathering on Thanksgiving with 35 enjoying the dinner and day of visiting. Mr. Hart's birthday was Friday so his birthday was also celebrated on Thanksgiving Day.

Those attending included Mrs. Henry Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crenshaw and Leon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Harless and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Riddle and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McCormack and children, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hurt, W. C. Hart and Kenry, all of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Redde Martin and children, Brownfield; H. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hart, Rolan; Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hart, Crane; Richard Hart, South Plains College, Levelland, and Nancy of the home.

doll buggy for a parade. Maybe they'll make it a permanent addition and I can teach Sam to be a buggy pusher.

That might be more successful than the housebreaking bit, cause when she looks at us with those big sad eyes, it's hard to be stern, so I shall continue being a mop-pusher for a few weeks.

I must stop and take Miss Sam off Miss C's lap because she is writing a research paper on Darwin's theory of natural selection, which sounds much more important than "It's My Turn" and the theory of the mop.

Graham club sets date for annual Christmas party

Mrs. Ray McClellan and Mrs. Mason McClellan were hostesses at the Graham Home Demonstration Club Nov. 23 when it met in the Graham Community Center. Members answered roll call by telling of the biggest problem in buying ready made garments.

Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey gave a ten-minute demonstration on "Door Decorations" and a program was given on making Christmas corsages. Club members enjoyed looking at Christmas arrangements.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party, which will be held Dec. 10 in the community center. Refreshments were served to a guest, Mrs. Tommy Young, and the following members:

Mmes. Joan Nolan, Jennie Cowdrey, Frances Coker, Mary Cowdrey, Viva Davis, Mae Gossett, Carolyn Gray, Jane Mason, Bernita Maxey, Sue Maxey, Iris McMahon, Loucille Morris, Jewell Parrish, Orabeth White, Helen Taylor and Glenna Record. Mrs. Innis Thwert and Mrs. Parrish will be hostesses for the next regular meeting, which will be Jan. 14.

A LOOK AT TRICOT BONDED FABRICS

The "pros" and "cons" of tricot bonded fabrics are of concern to consumers, says Lynn Parks, Extension consumer education specialist.

"No linings and easier construction" are echoes of manufacturers of this fabric. Yet consumers want to know if it will serve the purpose for which they purchase it.

Some important facts are gleaned from research and observance of fabrics on the local market. The greatest majority of these fabrics are wool flannel or mohair, cotton, any nylon looped knit bonded with acetate tricot, the specialist points out. Other implications from research are:

With bonded fabrics, because of the chemicals in the bonding, some stains cannot be removed.

The acetate tricot has much poorer strength and abrasion resistance qualities than the wool, and will probably wear out much quicker than the wool flannel.

A regular woven fabric, as a lining, is used to eliminate this five and prevent sagging. The tricot, being a knit, will give and allow the wool to stretch.

Acetate is a heat-sensitive fiber and cannot be pressed at the steam setting on the iron, which is used for wool.

The backing does give more body to sheer fabrics and would be quite good on those such as knit mohair to prevent sagging.

Acetate has poor colorfastness and it should be observed whether change of color in this backing will affect the outward appearance of the garment. The wool will hold its color well.

Acetate could not be washed without damage, therefore, it would be a poor choice to select it bonded to a washable fabric.

The bonded fabrics are easy to handle and would be especially good for an experienced person.

There is a problem of bulkiness at corners and where seams are joined over seams. Ordinarily, an underlining could be cut out at the corners, but this is not possible with this fabric.

Difficulty arises in getting a flat seam, crisp edge, and pointed corners, so the design of the garment should not call for this. The same situation exists with stretch.

MEAT SHOPPER GUIDES

Three safety guides should be considered by the consumer when buying meat. They are the inspection stamp, grade stamp and appearance of the meat itself, says Frank Orts, Extension meats specialist, Texas A&M University.

There should be no confusion between the inspection stamp and the grade stamp. Inspection should be associated with health, and grade, with quality, the specialist points out.

Federal inspection, established under the Meat Inspection Act of 1906, is supervised by the Meat Inspection Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, USDA. Its primary purpose is to protect the consumer by guaranteeing that all meat so inspected and passed is from healthy animals, slaughtered, processed and packaged under sanitary conditions; that it is entirely suitable for consumption when leaving the processing establishment; and that no labels carry misleading statements.

All meat packing plants which slaughter or otherwise process meats or meat products intended for out-of-state shipment must operate under federal inspection, Orts points out. Meat establishments whose products do not enter into interstate commerce must meet applicable state and or city inspection regulations where they are in effect. Such meat may carry a state or city inspection stamp.

All meat shipped interstate must also be inspected and bear the proper stamp, says the specialist. Grading is optional with packing plants doing the processing, although most inspected meat is graded as well.

When meat from inspected plants is passed as wholesome food, all wholesale carcass cuts are marked with a round purple stamp indicating the meat has been inspected and passed. The code number on the stamp identifies the packing house. According to Orts, the harmless vegetable dye used for stamping need not be trimmed from the meat.

All labels used on canned, processed or packaged meats must be approved. Labels are required to give a name that adequately describes the product, a list of ingredients in decreasing order of predominance, net weight, and the name and address of manufacturer or distributor.

Ralls sets vote on school bonds

RALLS — A second election on a $650,000 school bond issue will be held here Saturday, Dec. 5. A previous bond issue in the same amount was turned down by voters in October.

The Ralls school board came up with the same figure after reviewing the needs of the school system and deciding that $650,000 is the minimum that will cover a majority of the schools' present needs.

The bond issue would finance a new high school building, elementary school additions, remodeling of the present high school building for use as a junior high school and improvements to the health and physical education departments.

We Won!

Garry and I won first prize last Saturday! It was the young people's Olde Tyme costume party at the church, and we had a wonderful time.

I go to almost everything the club puts on, and of course there are lots of activities besides parties and dances. We visit hospitals, we collect and repair toys for underprivileged children, and we help with various church events. We have regular religious discussion groups that often get me so interested I continue the discussion around the family dinner table all week long! Mom and Dad don't mind, though. They think it's good for me to be mixing with other young Christians, and they never worry when I'm over at the club.

Your own church offers many enjoyable and worthwhile activities for Christians of every age. Why not join? You'll be warmly welcomed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

... about them: He may accept a free ride in a car with defects which even the driver knows nothing about. The driver and he may take the same chances.

... Everyone is expected to know a little bit about some activities, such as common sporting events, which involve a certain element of risk. For example a spectator at a baseball game is expected to be aware of the danger of being hit by a ball and to take precautions.

... To assume a risk legally, the person has to have a free choice. Thus if the way to a town is over a defective dangerous highway, the driver has no free choice. In one case a driver caused a crash. In it the husband, thrown free of the wreckage, saw the car burning. He ran into the fire to save his wife. Though he was hurt by the entry into the fire the court found the husband had no other real choice, since he could not let his wife burn, there is no assumption of risk there.

Students use computer

Every University of Texas student majoring in business administration is required to add to his storehouse of knowledge a basic understanding and use of that new business tool, the electronic computer. The College of Business Administration reports that it has as many students using its small IBM 1620 computer in their course work as any college of business in the country. Computer programming is incorporated in six courses, one of which is a required junior statistics course.

Graduate fellowships

Graduate School opportunities for support at the University of Texas are described in a new booklet. Approximately 650 graduate fellowships, scholarships and traineeships from various sources will be awarded during the 1964-65 academic year. They range from $1,800 to $3,000, with additional dependency allowances, tuition and fees provided in some programs. Copies of the booklet are available from Graduate School, University of Texas, Austin, Texas—78712.

Control program halts boll weevil advance

Syd Conner, Garza County agricultural agent, reported today the massive boll weevil control program designed to keep weevils off the High Plains has been completed for 1964. The last of the spraying operations took place just before Thanksgiving.

Approximately 13,000 acres in Garza County were sprayed, some for a fourth, fifth or sixth time. The aggregate total for the county was some 60,000 acres sprayed, the agent said.

Before we get off the subject of Christmas, we want to remind our young Dispatch readers that our annual Christmas Coloring Contest will be coming up in next week's paper, so watch for it and get your colors ready to try for a prize in one of our two age divisions.

Cotton crop—

The Hackberry Gin has ginned 3,370 bales to date, but only about half of this is Garza cotton. It had 100 bales on the yard yesterday afternoon.

Officials reportedly are very pleased with the first year's operation of the program. Although final evaluation can't be made until spring. Preliminary evaluations have been very encouraging.

Intensive field checks have revealed up to 90 per cent reduction of the weevil population in the spray zone. Also of major importance is the fact that weevil movement to the West was stopped short when the spray program started.

Approximately 13,000 acres in Garza County were sprayed, some for a fourth, fifth or sixth time. The aggregate total for the county was some 60,000 acres sprayed, the agent said.

The control zone covered about 200,000 acres in portions of eight counties. A total of 1,136,676 acres were sprayed. The entire control zone received four applications, with some of the heavier infested areas receiving five to six applications of technical malathion.

Garza included in geodetic survey

Garza County is included in a seven-month survey now under way by a Coast and Geodetic Survey field party working out of Floydada.

The $85,000 project, which is to cover a 9,100 square mile area in West Texas, is designed to determine the exact location or elevation of points on the earth's surface through the use of precise instruments. The survey is being conducted in cooperation with the U. S. Geological Survey.

Findings are utilized by engineers, surveyors and mapping agencies of the government as a framework for surveying and mapping activities for the development of natural resources, and for engineering projects.

Chest drive—

She pointed out that although the Chest has cut its budget about 20 per cent this year, it only paid 85 per cent of last year's budget out to participating organizations.

Most campaign divisions — big gifts, schools, oil employees, downtown employees, city employees, and county employees — are hopeful of winding up their efforts by tomorrow's "report session."

It probably will take another week to get all the cards out in the farmers and ranchers division, which is being spearheaded by J. B. Potts and Lewis Herron.

If employees will give to the Chest on a united front, Mrs. Metcalf is confident of reaching the $10,200 goal quickly.

"We will see everybody; everyone will be asked," she declared. Chest workers have a "calling card" for every employer in the county. These were typed up after calls were made by phone to every employer in the county to get the names of employees.

"We won't stop until everybody has been contacted," she said. If Mrs. Metcalf's Chest campaign does go over the top by next weekend it will be the shortest financial campaign ever for Garza County — as well as the most thorough.

HOLIDAY VISITOR

Jimmy Wells, who is a pharmaceutical school student at Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla., spent Thanksgiving visiting his mother, Mrs. Louise Her-ring, and other relatives.

1964 Census of Agriculture brings statistics up to date for county

The 1964 Census of Agriculture, now being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, in Garza County, will bring up to date the farm and ranch statistics last collected in 1959.

Here are a few of many facts recorded in the 1959 agriculture census for this county.

There were 343 farms and ranches in 1959, compared with 436 in 1954. The average size of farm and ranch was 1,457.4 acres in 1959, compared with 1,181.1 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the county's farmers and ranchers in 1959 was $4,594,518. The value of all crops sold was $3,661,990. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $932,528.

The 1964 national Census of Agriculture is the 18th in a series which began in 1840. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been undergoing in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever. They ask every farmer or rancher to cooperate in an accurate record of the completed questionnaire by filling out the census receives in the mail and returning it to the census taker calls for.

We wish to express our appreciation to everyone who has so far helped us in our campaign. A sincere thank you to Noel, Orabeth and...

Pierce top scorer in Phillips win

Scottie Pierce, former Post Antelope and West Texas State cager, scored 15 points for high point honors Monday night as the Phillips Oilers defeated Wayland College, 95 to 81.

The game was played at Boys Ranch, near Amarillo, highlighting the opening ceremonies of a new gym recently constructed at the ranch.

Phillips held a 52-38 halftime lead over the Oilers, but the Wayland cagers kept pace with the Oilers in the second half, with each team scoring 43 points.

The Oilers played 12 men in the contest. Others scoring in double figures were: Rascoe, 13; Carrier, 11, and Frazier, 10. Kendrick was high scorer for Wayland with 21 points.

Cagers to Abernathy for contests Friday

The Post Antelopes and Does, winners over Ralls Tuesday night, journey to Abernathy this Friday for games with that school's strong cage teams.

The local cagers' next home games will be Tuesday, Dec. 8, when they take on the O'Donnell Eagle boys' and girls' team, with the girls' game scheduled for a 6:30 o'clock start.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, the Post teams will play in the Floydada tournament.

Both Post teams will get a real test Friday night against Abernathy. Tuesday night, the Abernathy boys easily defeated Hale Center, 86 to 39, with the girls winning 47 to 39.

Lane Wade scored 17 points in the boys' victory, which brings Abernathy's season mark to 3-1. Rex Hester and Terry Turner each had 13 for the winners.

Donna Webb and Denise Barker each had 18 points for Abernathy in the girls' game.

Tech's basketballers face two road games

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech's basketballers visit some former Border Conference neighbors, New Mexico at Albuquerque Saturday night and Arizona at Tucson Monday night.

Both host schools are now members of the Western Athletic Conference.

Before engaging in the Sugar Bowl tournament at New Orleans Dec. 29 and 30, Coach Gene Gibson's Raiders also face Wyoming here Dec. 12, Oklahoma at Norman Dec. 16, Nebraska here Dec. 19, and Colorado here Dec. 21.

Tahoka cagers win

TAHOKA — Tahoka cagers won a pair of games from Lorenzo here Tuesday night. The boys won, 49-48, in overtime, and the girls triumphed by a score of 48-31. Mitchell Williams, with 20 points, was high scorer for the Bulldogs, while Carla McNeely scored 28 points to pace the Tahoka girls.

Southland team opens cage play with two wins

The Southland Eagle basketball team opened its 1964-65 season Nov. 17 with a 64-54 victory over Gail. Rod Callaway was the Eagles' high scorer with 28 points, followed by Duke Altman with 16.

The Southland girls' team, the Eaglettes, have played six other games, winning four and losing two. They lost to Gail, Nov. 17, 52 to 43. Marian Eckert, with 20 points, was the Eaglettes' high scorer, with Connie Wartes scoring 14.

Nov. 24, the Eaglettes lost to Loop, 44-24, with Marian and Connie again taking high point honors for Southland with 11 and 9 points, respectively.

The Eagle "A" and "B" teams won their games against Loop, the "A" team by a score of 74 to 63 and the "B" team, 24-23.

Callaway scored 29 points to lead the Eagles in the "A" game, with Dennis McGehee scoring 13. Ronnie Kiser's 18 points was tops for Loop. Jackie Abshire, with 7 points, was top scorer in the "B" game.

Junior High cagers play in tournament

Post's 8th grade boys' and girls' basketball teams will play Roosevelt Friday afternoon in first round games of the annual Southland 8th Grade Tournament that opens today.

The Post boys, coached by Glynn Gregg, play at 3:50 p. m., following the girls' game, which is scheduled for 2:40 p. m.

If the boys win over Roosevelt, they will play the winner of the

Don Richardson is at Henrietta

Don Richardson of Post, a graduate student at Texas Tech, is doing his vocational agricultural student teaching at Henrietta High School, where he will continue teaching through Dec. 22.

Don, the son of Floy Richardson, is a 1960 graduate of Post High School and a 1964 graduate of West Texas State University with a major in agricultural business. He is qualifying to become a high school vocational agricultural instructor.

Student teaching is a requirement for all vocational agricultural teachers before they are presented their teaching certificate.

Morton Indians win

MORTON — The District 4 AA Morton Indians won their third game in four tries Tuesday night, defeating Muleshoe, 59-42, on the Mules' court. Ernest Chesshir scored 32 points for the winners.

Sandhill cranes smart and swift

Sandhill crane hunters who participated in the Oct. 31 through Nov. 29 hunting season in West Texas agree the still-legged sandhill is as smart as a crow and as swift as a canvasback, report Parks and Wildlife Department field men.

Sportsmen who used blinds around grain fields or tried their luck pass shooting around prairie lakes had good success, but inexperienced hunters usually were not successful because they failed to conceal themselves properly and grossly misjudged the speed of sandhill cranes, which approaches 60 mph in full flight.

Wardens say the sandhill's sharp eye, rapid flight and fine eating qualities will definitely contribute to the crane's game bird stature in years to come.

Concentration of several thousand birds were to be found on almost any prairie lake west of Lubbock. One concentration of 60,000 cranes rested six miles west of Big Spring near a large natural salt lake.

24 geology doctorates

Within the present decade The University of Texas expects to become one of the top 10 institutions granting Ph.D.'s in the field of geology. Dr. Stephen Clabaugh, Geology Department chairman, notes that UT has awarded 24 doctorates in geology since 1960. He anticipates a total of 75 Ph.D.'s for the period between 1960 and 1969. The Geology Department now has 97 graduate students, 52 of whom are working toward doctorates.

SARAH BERNHARDT

Article in historical quarterly tells of great actress' Texas performances

AUSTIN — Sarah Bernhardt, "the greatest actress of her day," arrived in Texas 72 years ago in a brass-ornamented railroad coach, lion and tiger skins covering the floors and Venetian tapestries hung on the walls. In her entourage were four servants, a St. Bernard dog, a parrot, a cage of asps and 140 luggage trunks.

Texas who flocked to see her performance in Dallas discovered they couldn't understand a word. Commented the Dallas Morning News, it was a "French play, spoken in French, and by French men and women."

"The Divine Sarah's" Texas visits, one in 1892 and a "farewell tour" in 1906, are humorously recounted in the current issue of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly, published at The University of Texas by the Texas State Historical Association. The article, by Dr. C. Richard King, associate professor of journalism, relies mainly on newspaper sources.

For her Dallas performance of "La Dame aux Camellias" and "Fedora" in 1892, spectators flooded the city from small towns all over Texas. Her performances in Fort Worth were crowded with people who had traveled from as far as Gainesville.

Miss Bernhardt returned to Texas in 1906, performing in a circus-type tent, relates Dr. King. This innovation by the Shubert brothers was a rebellious act against the Theatrical Syndicate which controlled the booking in nearly all U. S. "opera houses."

Sarah Bernhardt's surprising agreement to act under the "big-top" lent an eccentric atmosphere to her entire Texas tour. In Dallas, despite a temperamental curtain and insufficient lighting, her performance was crowded with 10,000 theatergoers.

In Austin, after three hours of steady rain had turned the tent site on the temporary capitol grounds into a quagmire, Miss Bernhardt's performance was shifted to the Hancock Opera House, despite the threatened foreclosure of the theatre by syndicate officials.

Her subsequent San Antonio performance was a sell-out; prices ranging up to $10 were offered for seats during the first act as 2,000 to 3,000 persons jammed into Beethoven Hall. Apparently the diminutive actress had broken the theatre syndicate monopoly in Texas.

Q. I was recently hospitalized in a VA Hospital for 30 days for treatment of a service-connected disability. After 15 days, I was released for seven days leave, then returned for five more days. Am I entitled to temporary 100 per cent rating for my service-connected disability during the period of hospitalization.

A. No. To meet requirements for temporary 100 per cent rating, you must have received continuous treatment for a period of 21 days. Passes of more than four days within the first 21 days will be considered as interrupting the continuity of treatment.

Q. For the purpose of qualifying for $1,600 toward the purchase of an automobile or other authorized conveyance, does the term "World War II" include any period of continuous service performed by the veteran after Dec. 31, 1946, and before July 28, 1947, if that period began before Jan. 1, 1947?

A. Yes.
Q. I recently retired from Civil Service employment and am filing claim for non-service connected pension from the VA. Will my retirement pay be considered income for pension purposes?

A. Retirement benefits based on a claimant's own employment are not considered income until the amount of the claimant's personal contribution has been received. After he has received an amount equal to his personal contribution all payments will be considered income.

'Keys to Charm' is FHA program

The Future Homemakers of America held a meeting Monday night, Nov. 23, in the Post High School speech room.

Miss Billie Barclay and her assistant were guest speakers from the Robert Spence School in Lubbock, a finishing school for girls. Miss Barclay gave a speech on "The Seven Keys to Charm." This included the correct way of walking, sitting, and speaking. She also gave some of the do's and don'ts of the correct way to dress, and the right occasions for some types of make-up.

The meeting was followed by refreshments of punch and cookies in the homemaking lab in the high school.

Junior High honor roll includes 79

The second six-weeks honor roll at Post Junior High School lists 79 students — 11 on the "A" honor roll and 68 on the "A-B" honor roll.

Students on the "A" roll are as follows:

Eighth Grade — Sharyn Bilberry, Seventh — Kay Herron, Karon Windham, Sharon Windham, Barbara Lucas, Beth Peel, Daisy Mae Smith.

Sixth Grade — Stephanie Davis, Judy Norman, Larry Moreman.

English IV students pen research papers

Senior English IV students are busy writing research papers in addition to their regular class work. After the completion of six-weeks examinations, students are frantically searching for reference materials which might be applicable to their individual topics as deadlines draw near.

Each of the 60 seniors enrolled in English IV will be studying individual topics. Papers will be of several styles, governed by the ability of the student, the topic selected, and the method of presentation. Each student is required to select a topic in which he is interested, narrow that topic so that it can be presented thoroughly, and present it through a particular style. Finally, each student must then select the date on which he wishes to submit his report.

Mr. Glyndol Snodgrass, English IV instructor, set up a calendar on which submission dates and topics were listed. Two reports may be submitted on each Tuesday and two on each Friday from Dec. 11 until March 16. "Under this plan, I can evaluate each report immediately and the student can then make the necessary corrections," stated Mr. Snodgrass.

The training offered through this work will be very valuable to students after they leave Post High School. "Very few people, regardless of whether they attend college or not, go through life without having to research some problem to some degree," stated Mr. Snodgrass. "We can't learn all the answers in school, but we can learn how to find possible answers in a logical manner," he added.

In examining the calendar of topics and dates, topics from many fields of study are readily seen. Architecture, economics, medicine and communications are some of the fields which provide very interesting topics of study.

Several students are writing a critical analysis of the literary style of English authors. This type report requires the student to read the various publications of an author. Then a report will be written concerning not only the style of the author, but also the effect which the author's contributions have made upon the literary world.

Jimmy Carpenter is new student

The new student interview this week is with Jimmy Carpenter. Jimmy was born in Muleshoe, Tex., Nov. 6, 1947. He moved to Post from Andrews and has attended school here since Sept. 1.

Jimmy is classified as a junior and is 17 years of age. His hobby is all kinds of sports, especially swimming.

When asked what he thought of Post High School, Jimmy answered, "I like Post real well, because the teachers are nice and so are all the kids. Everyone seems to be real friendly."

Post Does take game from Puppets, 49-25

The first game of the basketball season for the Post Does was played Nov. 24, at 6:30, against the Spur Puppets.

In the first quarter, the Does scored two points to the seven points scored for the Puppets. At the end of the second quarter the Does led 26 to 13. The third quarter found the Does still ahead 36 to 25. At the end of the game the score was Does 49 and the Puppets 25.

High point girls for the Post Does was Vivian McWhirt scoring 18 points. Edith Johnson scored 17 points and Marilyn Jones made 4 points.

Nora Jane Mock led the Spur Puppets with 21 points.

Final tilts decide Jr. High standings

Thursday afternoon, Nov. 19, the Blue Demons got a third quarter start on the Colts and were able to breathe easier with a 12-0 lead at the end of the game.

Following this game, the Packers squeezed by the Red Robbers in the last 30 seconds when George Torres ran 35 yards for a touchdown to give the Packers an 18-16 win.

These two games decided the final standing in the Post Junior High intramural football league.

The Colts finished in a first place tie with the Packers. The Blue Demons were second, and last but not least, the Red Robbers in third.

Ronnie Pierce hits 38 as 'Lopes defeat Spur

The Post High School boys varsity basketball team had their first ball game Nov. 24. They played Spur's varsity team.

First quarter scores were: Spur 10, Post 8. Post led the scoring at the end of the second quarter 27-22. The scoring kept rising and at the end of the third quarter Post led 37-34. The final scoring at the end of the fourth quarter was Post 56, Spur 48.

High point man for Post was Ronnie Pierce with 38 points. For Spur, high point man was Jack Alexander with 15 points.

Do You Remember

By Don Collier

1958-59 — When all the first grade boys in Mrs. Lusk's room got to bring their army guns to school and guard her desk while she was out of the room?

1959-60 — When all the second graders in Mrs. Rushing's room got to play in a rhythm band?

1960-61 — When all the kids in Mrs. Raphael's room had so much fun putting together that pink napkin Christmas tree, using 300 boxes of napkins?

1961-62 — Boys, can you remember how many buttons you lost playing tag with the girls?

1962-63 — That 100 pages on the 50th state that we had to do in Mr. Alexander's room?

1963-64 — How hard all the kids in Mr. Frederick's room worked on their projects for the Science Fair?

1964-65 — All the kids who took place in these experiences are in the 7th grade this year. I hope we all have many, many more experiences to remember during our school years.

Flowers FOR THE HOLIDAYS

At this time of year everyone is saying—what can I give as a gift to a friend, or my neighbor? She or he could be someone in your class at school or Sunday school.

A beautiful plant that would last all the year through, a small arrangement in pretty permanent flowers that would fit in a small nook that is bare needs the decorated look. These are but two suggestions.

There are friends all about us. Let's don't wait until we need to do something that seems a must. But as tokens of appreciation for all the good things about us as our Lord gave, we will give to remember Him.

STUDENT EDITORIAL

It Hasn't Changed, It's Still Wrong

By Billy Blacklock
 It seems that the question that most of the adult world chooses to discuss is "What's happened to this NEW generation?" With the growing awareness of immorality of the "teen-agers" to add to the fire, the discussion grows more heated.

I believe that unless the "discussions" lead in the direction of the answers, instead of the present trend of merely pointing out the shortcomings of the young people, Vigorous — Sue Litton.
 Wistful — Aren't we all?
 Xanthrochroic — Donna Maddox.
 Youthful — Mr. Davis.
 Zygophylaceous and Zoroastrianism — Look them up and find out!

that this whole nation and all generations of people to come will suffer. The real root of the "new generation" problem is Mommy and Daddy, who, because of their own shortcomings, are not fit to the title, parent!

Because of the many American homes which lack any place for a spiritual growth of its children, the land is being populated by young citizens whose most prominent characteristics are their laziness, cheating, bad temper, tawdry use of sex, selfishness, vanity and greed.

True, not all homes are like this. Many young people are fine, respectable young citizens. But, just a minority is all it takes, evidently, to spoil the whole image. My wish for every home in the nation, starting here in my home town, is that each individual home will learn and reflect the lesson which Peter Marshall teaches in the following words:

"Too long has the price of spiritual achievement been cheapened. I would not deceive you. . . . 'If you want God to be real to you, you have to meet His terms. And those terms are not for cowards who want cushioned lives.' 'Jesus Christ walks in no moral or spiritual twilight. In the high noon of His love there are no neutral tints.'"

Whatever we do is either right or wrong. There is no in-between. There is never a time when wrong can be good. No more than a salty well can bring forth sweet water.

Please do not condemn young people for mistakes, but comfort them. And, don't excuse them because you did the same thing when you were their age. It hasn't changed. It's still wrong.
