Historical committee receives three awards at state meeting

The Garza County Historical Survey Committee won three important awards at the statewide annual meeting of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee and its private affiliate, the Texas Historical Foundation, in Fort Worth last week.

The committee won the second place award in the Millard C. Cope Memorial Award for the Best Program of Work competition. The Garza County committee also qualified for a 1966 Distinguished Service Award, and its chairman, Mrs. A. C. Surman, was named one of the 20 outstanding chairmen of county historical survey committees in Texas for 1966. There are 254 such committees in Texas.

For being awarded second place in the Best Program of Work competition, the Garza County committee will receive a free historical marker worth $200.

Only Kaufman County ranked above Garza County in the awards announced by John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, outgoing president of the TSHSC. Mitchell County placed third.

The Millard C. Cope Memorial

Award is the highest honor that can be extended to a county historical survey committee. The award was established in memory of Millard C. Cope, who was a noted Texas publisher and newspaperman, and who was a member of the TSHSC for many years.

Mrs. Surman, who has served as chairman of the GCHSC since its organization, was cited for her outstanding leadership in carrying out activities of the state and local RAMPS program. Charles Woodburn of Amarillo was elected state president to succeed Shepperd, who served three terms.

Stewart L. Udall, Secretary of the Interior, made the keynote address at the three-day meeting. He said Texas is to be congratulated for having the first organization of such depth and breadth of its kind in the nation and that Texas had the foresight to have the organization function before the Historic Preservation Act was enacted.

He explained the recently passed Historic Preservation Act will permit the government to make matching donations to states, cities, counties and private organizations desiring to preserve national shrines.

"Texans, hold on to your cowboy boots and your drawl," Udall said. "Our country has a stake in Texas history. The unique customs, cultures, and so forth, of our nation should be preserved at all costs."

Those attending the meeting from Garza County were Dr. and Mrs. Surman, County Judge and Mrs. J. E. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runkles, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boren and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duckworth.

Line stores to lop prices

Cash Discount Night will be held Friday

Post's second Christmas Cash Discount Night will be held in nine retail stores here Friday night with prices cut 10 per cent on all cash purchases.

The cash discount will be in effect from 6 to 8 p. m. at all participating stores with Wacker's announcing it will remain open until 9 p. m.

Participating in the event this year are Martin's, Herring's, Post Pharmacy, Marshall - Brown's, Maxine's, Hundley's, Bob Collier, Drug, Wacker's and Western Auto. The event was inaugurated last year and proved quite popular with local Christmas shoppers who enjoyed the opportunity for leisurely evening shopping plus savings as well for cash.

This is the second Christmas season event conducted here by Post merchants. Despite a cold front which sent temperatures tumbling last weekend, Saturday afternoon's Christmas Fiesta was rated as another successful promotion.

Santa Claus, driven into town in a white convertible behind the high school band, was greeted by a large and enthusiastic turnout of youngsters despite the chilly weather.

It was so cold that Santa had to abandon his decorated chair at the East Main and Ave. I intersection every now and then to "warm up inside."

There was a good crowd downtown all afternoon with parking places at a premium. Besides a concert of Christmas music by the high school band, shoppers also enjoyed the Maines Brothers' band, The Blackouts and Clifford, Joy and the Caprock Ramblers.

A wide variety of merchandise prizes were given away all afternoon at the bandstand with Dave Sanford presiding over the drawings. The $50 cash winner was Mrs. H. W. Schmidt.

Rotarians hear talk on tuberculosis drive

Syd Conner gave Post Rotarians a short talk in support of the Christmas Seal drive conducted by the West Texas Tuberculosis Association at their weekly luncheon Tuesday.

He showed a film on tuberculosis following his talk in which he urged support of the Christmas Seal campaign to raise funds for the work against TB and other respiratory diseases.

162 arrests, citations

Collection of fines at new high here

November was by far the "biggest" month in the history of Post's police department and corporation court, according to the monthly report made by Police Chief Bill Gordon at Monday night's city council meeting.

Fines collected on 162 arrests or citations totaled $3,445, as compared with $686 for the month of October.

Traffic fines accounted for only $245 of the total. The biggest amounts came from fines totaling $1,335 on 61 drunk charges and $1,115 on 33 drunk in car charges.

Bandit draws prison sentence

Bobby Jack Kight of Lubbock pleaded guilty here Friday to being the "black stocking mask" bandit who held up the White Top Liquor Store last Sept. 26, but what happened to the $300 to $400 in cash he took as loot in the holdup still remains a mystery.

Is it hidden somewhere in the northeast Garza County area near the liquor store along with the gun used in the holdup, or did Kight have accomplices in another vehicle who carted off the gun and money?

Kight claims it was the latter, Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Clabron says. District Judge Truett Smith heard Kight's guilty plea after the court had appointed Tom Gamblin as Kight's attorney.

Kight was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary with credit for the time served in jail since his arrest, which was less than an hour after the holdup.

Found in Kight's car that night were the stocking mask used in the holdup, the billfold of Clay Lindsey, store operator, which was taken in the holdup, and a case of beer also taken by the bandit.

Granville Pelham of Muleshoe seeking $42,500 in damages from Clifford Warren Cullar as a result of an auto accident at Broadway and 15th Street Oct. 17, 1965. Pelham was a passenger in a car driven by Jimmy Lee Gregory of Post which allegedly was struck from behind by Cullar's car.

T. E. McClanahan of Lubbock is seeking $931.06 damages from Adrian Cook of Post for an unusual collision which occurred in Slaton Jan. 27, 1964. A trailer being pulled by Cook came loose from his car and hit McClanahan's car on a parking lot near the highway. McClanahan seeks to recover alleged damages to his vehicle. No one was injured.

There's vaccine for red measles

Local health officers said today there is a vaccine available for protection against red measles, a number of cases of which have been reported here.

The vaccine offers protection in some instances even after the person has been exposed, one health officer said.

The red measles cases treated here thus far have been mild, but the disease can be hazardous to children, it was explained.

The vaccine may be obtained by contacting local physicians.

Cotton, trailers lost in flames

Fifteen bales of cotton and seven trailers were destroyed by fire about 1 a. m. last Friday at the Basinger Gin in Southland.

There were approximately 100 bales on the gin yard and it was reported the loss would have been considerably larger if the trailers had been closer together. The fire was fanned by a strong wind.

The burning cotton and trailers were extinguished by Post and Slaton firemen.

These losing cotton were Sam Ellis, two bales; Smallwoods, six bales; V. C. Wheeler, two bales; C. E. Basinger, two bales, and Lawrence King, two bales. Oscar Henrich lost three trailers.

The Post firemen have also answered three other gin or cotton fire alarms. They were called to the Close City Gin early Monday afternoon to extinguish a power pole that had caught fire. They also extinguished fires at the Pleasant Valley Gin at 12:40 a. m. last Thursday and at the Close City Gin at 4:30 a. m. last Friday.

51st birthday for Mason & Co.

Mason and Company is celebrating its 51st anniversary with a big anniversary furniture sale beginning Friday. The firm's announcement ad on the sale appears on page 3 of today's Dispatch.

On page 7 is a 51st anniversary message too from the Mason Funeral Home.

The firm was organized as a partnership in 1915 by Marshall Mason and W. L. Davis, a Georgian contractor who came to Post to build for the town's founder.

The late Mr. Davis retired in 1941, selling his interest in the furniture store and funeral home to the late Mr. Mason.

James Minor, returning from World War II service, became a junior partner in the firm with his father-in-law. He purchased Mr. Mason's interest and became sole owner of the firm Jan. 1, 1966.

The anniversary furniture sale will run until Christmas.

We don't know of any public board hereabouts which has worked harder with a tough community problem than the Garza Memorial Hospital trustees.

To one of them over the weekend came one of those unsigned notes which read: "Why don't you do this?"

Enclosed was a newspaper clipping which told how one town had solved both its "doctor" and "hospital" problem by leasing its hospital and clinic for many years to a new physician they acquired from another community.

We doubt if whoever wrote the unsigned note would actually have wanted our hospital board to do what was done in this particular instance.

As we understand the particular case, to secure the doctor the community named in the article had paid $25,000 worth of their new doctor's back debts, and picked up the tab on moving expenses to their community as well. Then the doctor set up shop and really boosted the rates at both "his" clinic and "his" hospital.

Oh, we can understand the note writer, all right. She was frustrated and the clipped story made everything sound so simple.

But hospital and doctor problems for small towns are far from simple any more. Every one almost defies solution and ours is no exception.

Our hospital trustees are exploring every possibility in their efforts to find an answer. They deserve all the public support we can muster behind them.

We don't know how many Post fans will be at bowl games over the New Year's weekend, but Editor Charles Didway of the Post Dispatch will be one of them. Our sports editor proved he knew his football when he "outkicked" the field in the all-fall Oton Enterprise football contest and won himself two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game, plus hotel reservations and some miscellaneous expense money.

One competitor that we all know

From now until the very last minute of the Christmas shopping season, there is a big competition going on for our gift dollar, and one of the competitors is worthy of our consideration. That competitor is our Post merchant. He is the fellow who pays taxes in Post, who supports our schools and churches. He is the one who devotes time and effort to make Post a better place in which to live. He is the only one of these competitors who gives a hoot about what happens to any of us personally, and he cares enough that he will attend our parties, sing at our weddings, and mourn at our funerals. In every way he is our friend. This friend of ours needs something from us. He needs the dollars we are going to spend for gifts this Christmas. If he doesn't get a fair share of them, it is going to be hard for him to keep on building Post, paying its taxes, supporting its churches and schools. If this friend gets entirely too few of our dollars this Christmas, or any other time, he could have to close up shop. Post can't afford the loss of too many of these fellows. The Post merchant is outdoing other competitors for our gift dollar in many ways. He offers a nearby location so that it won't cost a lot to go to his store. He has a store full of the newest and most attractive gift wares. His prices are fair. He offers such services as gift wrapping and free delivery. He will be here to make good any defective items, or to exchange one that doesn't fit. He will seek for ways to serve us, not clip us. Why not at least give him first chance at our gift dollars?—CD

Small town problems assaulted

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, much to the credit of its enlightened leadership, is turning its attention to the problems of small towns, which certainly are plentiful enough and serious enough to merit study. The Small Town Task Force of the WTCC has been at work on the program since Nov. 16, having set the ball to rolling on that date in a meeting at Olney. Fifteen West Texas towns have been selected for pilot studies, with the first phase of the project being initiated this week when members of the Task Force meet with the leaders of the subject towns for the completion of a questionnaire. Towns selected for the pilot studies are Anson, Bronck, Crane, Dublin, Garden City, Hale Center, Hamilton, Littlefield, Montone, Olney, Robert Lee, Stanton, Stephenville, Spearman and Threeforkmorton. The reader will note that Post is not included in the towns selected for the pilot studies, but our town and other cities with less than 12,000 population will be included in the plan as soon as the pilot questionnaires are studied by the Task Force. The plan calls for the Task Force members to meet with the mayor, chamber of commerce president and manager, school officials, newspaper men, county commissioners, cultural leaders, women's club presidents, youth leaders and other key business people in the selected town. An in-depth questionnaire covering community problems, assets and potentials, prepared by a panel of specialists, will be completed by the local leaders. Recommendations for solutions of problems or exploitation of assets and potentials will not be made at this time. These recommendations will be made later, after the study is completed. Tourist attractions, school systems, recreational and cultural facilities, industrial potentials, transportation, water supplies, churches, tax structures, agriculture and ranching and many other facets of a community's complex makeup will be examined by the local leaders. John Ben Shroyer of Odessa, the hard-driving president of the WTCC, says this is not an academic study, but rather an "action" group. It is driving for results. The exodus of people from the farm to town, and from towns to cities, is one of the trends of our times—a trend that is presenting problems both for the small town and the big city. For the small towns, their decline reduces retail business and tax valuations, which in turn affect schools and the quality of education, and revenue to support necessary municipal and county services. For the cities, the burgeoning population puts heavier demands upon them for schools, streets, water, parks and other facilities needed to sustain communities. The economic and social forces at work are often bigger than those affected by them can control. But there are ways to relieve, if not completely offset, some of them. An entire region, even an entire state, has a stake in this for there is a harmful imbalance if poverty pockets exist side by side with booming urban centers. Concerned people in Post and in all size communities will be eager to support this effort of the WTCC, and will await its outcome with interest.—CD

Less lenient toward houseflies

There isn't much, if anything, that can be said for the housefly, but there is much that can be said against him. Houseflies are pesky enough in the summer when there are swarms of them, but they're even peskier in the winter when the few hardy ones that remain are as hard to drive away as the wolf from the door. Buckle down to your desk to do a day's work on a winter morning and you're almost certain to have a fly buzzing around before you much more than get off the ground. There's a peculiar thing, too, about these "kinner" houseflies that make such pests of themselves in the off-season. Kill one, and another immediately takes his place, suggesting that perhaps they line up to take turns buzzing about your head. We're even getting to the point this winter where it doesn't bother us too much when somebody takes a fly swatter and whacks the daylight out of a fly that has lit on our desk. That used to get us, because we're jumpy by nature, and had rather do it ourselves when it comes to killing flies within our jurisdiction. Another thing that always has bothered us no end is for someone to swat a fly near where we are eating. We'd much prefer to keep him shooved away from our food than to have him squashed in plain sight while we're eating. But, as we said, we're getting less and less lenient toward flies. Especially after reading this in a newspaper: "From April to August the descendants of one pair of houseflies, if all survived and reproduced normally, could total 197 quintillion. That is enough to cover the surface of the earth to a depth of more than a foot." So, we've about made up our mind to stop shoeing flies and start swatting them.—CD

ALMOST LOST sight of in the early Christmas rush is the fact that Sunday, Dec. 11, is "Safety Sunday" in Texas and has been proclaimed as such by Gov. John Connally. Safety Sunday is sponsored each year by the Texas Safety Association. In his proclamation, Governor Connally urged all citizens to join in a united effort to awaken the conscience of every driver and further urged the pastors of all churches to remind their members of the personal and moral responsibility "to drive carefully, to obey the traffic laws and to protect the sanctity of human life in our State."

The man up the street says that people who complain that they don't get all they deserve should congratulate themselves.

"THE POST DISPATCH is a newspaper that does many things for many people," Roland Stegemoller of the Southland community said Friday when he came into the office to place a classified ad. To prove his point, Roland told of the time a few years back when he ran an ad in The Dispatch to sell an Oliver cotton stripper. His ad was read by a couple from East Texas while they were at a local farm implement house looking for just what Mr. Stegemoller had for sale. The East Texan and his wife drove to the Southland man's place to buy the stripper and, during their visit, learned that one of Stegemoller's neighbors was a distant relative of the Post Texan's wife. Later, the couple asked Mr. Stegemoller for directions to the Heckville Gin, whose manager they were acquainted with. The upshot of their visit to the gin was that they learned that the gin manager's wife was a distant cousin of Mr. Stegemoller's, which was something that even Mr. Stegemoller didn't know. "Ever since," he said, "I've told people they should read The Post Dispatch to keep well informed."

Santa Claus letters have started arriving at The Dispatch office via the U. S. mails. Keep 'em coming, kiddoes, and — if you think of it—don't forget the ZIP code.

ALFRED HINDS, Haskell Free Press columnist, came up with a list of questions in that newspaper to find out if a person is really educated. He said a person had received an education if he could answer the following questions with a "yes."

- Has your education given you sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them?
- Has it made you public-spirited? Has it made you a brother to the weak? Have you learned how to make friends — and to keep them?
- Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself? Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?
- Do you see anything to love in a little child?
- Will a lonely dog follow you down the street?
- Can you be high-minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?
- Do you think washing dishes and hosing cotton just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?
- Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?
- Can you look out on the world and see anything but dollars and cents?
- Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see anything in the puddle but mud?
- Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars?
- Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator?

Our No. 2 son called the other night, said he and his wife were making out their Christmas list, and wanted to know what some of the members of the family wanted, needed or expected for Christmas. He concluded the conversation by asking his mother if she didn't need some new pie pans. That came as no surprise, because his mother always has a pie or two baked for them to take home when they come to see us.

I slipped that one in as a wedge for this item "PIES," which I recently clipped:

"Also cranman, pineapple, banana, green currant, gooseberry, strawberry, red raspberry, black raspberry, yellow raspberry, blackberry, Dutch blackberry, buckberry, elderberry, date, prune, fig, butternut, buttermilk, walnut, peanut, vinegar, Boston cream, tomato, green tomato, apricot, turnip, squash, pumpkin, fruit, quince, oranges, Rosevelt, boiled cider, boiled cider - apple, sauce, potato, oatmeal, chocolate, rice, humbug, green tomato - chicken crust and pecan."

Sherry Bevers becomes bride of John Haire here Saturday night

Miss Sherry Bevers and John Phillip Haire were united in marriage Saturday night at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist Church amid a setting of pink snapdragons, candles, and baskets of palm leaves.

The Rev. Joe Vernon officiated at the reading of the double ring vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel D. Bevers, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Haire.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a fitted gown of white peau de soie featuring appliques of roses extending from the neckline and tapering below the waist. The long sleeves extended to a point over her hands. The train, fastened at the waist, was accented by a bow at shoulder length and she carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible.

Miss Ann Hendrix was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Bobbie Compton, Miss Peggy Bevers, sister of the bride, and Miss Beverly Stolle of Lubbock.

They wore identical pink crepe floor-length dresses fashioned with empire necklines, scooped necks and elbow-length sleeves. Maroon colored bows formed their headpieces with the color being repeated with velvet ribbon as sashes and gloves to complete their ensembles. Each carried a long-stemmed dark red rose, tied with pink streamers.

Misses Nedra and Rhonda Moseley, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles wearing maroon empire-styled dresses with pink belts, pink headpieces and white gloves.

Jackie Dunn was best man. Groomsmen were Jackie Stewart from Sul Ross College in Alpine, Al Mayberry of Merkel, and Johnny Kemp. Seating the guests were John H. Ramsay of Austin, cousin of the bridegroom, Jimmy Redman, Fred Myers and Mark Bevers.

Mrs. Ted Scott played "God of Our Fathers, Whose Almighty Hand" for the wedding march. Mrs. Bo Jackson sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and "O Perfect Love", accompanied by Mrs. Scott.

Fellowship Hall was the scene of the reception immediately following the ceremony. The table, laid with a white organdy appliqued cloth over pink was centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and red roses. Crystal appointments were used. Wedding cake, punch, and nuts were served.

Mrs. Jack Haire of Slaton, Mrs. Travis Lancaster, Miss Judy McCampbell and Mrs. Morris Tyler served. Registering the guests was wedding cake.

Cousins and aunts of the bride were members of the house party. For travel to Hot Springs, Ark., the bride wore a two-piece suit of green silk and wool with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The couple is at home at 1505 West Main St., Clarksville. The bride, a graduate of Garland High School and North Texas State University in Denton, is a district child welfare director. Mr. Cearley graduated from Pecos High School and attended NTSU for three years where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is employed at Red River Arsenal.

MISS NITA WILSON

'Christmas Around world' is Music Club program Monday

The Post Music Club, a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, met in the home of Mrs. Willard Kirkpatrick at 7:30 o'clock in the evening Monday. Co-hostess was Mrs. Garland Huddleston.

The president, Mrs. R. L. Marks, thanked all the club members for the time and hard work spent on the op-er-ta, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", which was presented the end of October.

After the club collect Mrs. Bo Jackson introduced and welcomed guests: Miss Melvita Floyd, Mrs. W. R. Moxley and Mrs. M. J. Malouf, former club member.

Roll call was answered by each member telling an interesting fact about MacDowell and his music. Mrs. Jackson led the hymn-of-the-month, accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Dietrich.

CALIFORNIA GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carmichael of Fresno, Calif., and Mrs. Jewell Whitman of Lockhart have been visitors in the home of their sister, Mrs. E. E. Cass, and their mother, Mrs. Bettie Carmichael. They were all Thanksgiving dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Cass' daughter, Mrs. E. D. Harrison, in Juyton. The California guests, Mrs. Cass and her mother all visited in Lockhart recently.

The club voted to donate not less than $10 to the United Fund. After the fact was made known that none of the 1st and 3rd grade teachers could play the piano for musical instruction in the Post school, a number of members volunteered to help with music when needed.

A collection of two pennies for every year of each club member's age was taken to donate to the McDowell Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Jackson presented the program "Christmas Around the World" and the club chorus sang "Holly and the Ivy", "Good King Wenceslaus", "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen", and "Coventry Carol."

A trio composed of Mrs. Bill Shiver, Jim Pover and Leo Stewart sang "Good Christian Men Rejoice." Mrs. Puddington sang "What Child is This" to the tune of "Greensleeves."

The program will be repeated in the Post schools Dec. 16.

The evening was concluded with a musical gift exchange.

Others attending besides guests and those mentioned were: Mrs. Thomas Jones, F. W. Kirkpatrick, Glenn Norman, P. N. Smith, Ed Swanson, Bill Pool, Bob Olson, Tom Bird, Doree Jones, John Boren, Robert Macy, Don Pennell, Ray Hart, Jerry Thurst, Doug Hillock and Curtis Lee.

MRS. JOHN ALLAN CEARLEY (Janie Sharon Storey)

Storey-Cearley vows read at ceremony in church at Avery

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Janie Sharon Storey and John Allan Cearley at 7:30 in the evening, Nov. 19, at a candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church at Avery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Storey Jr. of Garland. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cearley of Pecos, former Post residents. The bridegroom was born in Post and is the grandson of pioneer residents of the Close City community—the late Mr. and Mrs. Oran R. Cearley. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Allphin of Tahoka.

The Rev. Augustus Downing, pastor of the Avery Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony as the couple repeated their pledges under an archway twined with leatherleaf fern and blue and white chrysanthemums. Commode palms and white satin bows outlined the semi-circular chancel rail. Baskets of white gladioli and lemon leaves stood at either side of the arch. Spiral candelabra entwined with greenery held white cathedral tapers and a lighted white cross illuminated the scene. White rosettes marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of original design fashioned in Empire mode. The bodice of Alencon lace featured a portrait neckline and long sleeves fastened at the wrists in petal points. The gently flared skirt was of candlelight peau de soie. The lace in La Vie En Rose pattern banded with silk feat formed a wattle train which was held at the shoulders with tiny flat bows of silk and extended to chapel length.

A double crown of pearls held the tiered elbow-length veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a crescent bouquet of white orchids and feathery carnations on a Bible belonging to Mrs. Coy Hudson of Pecos, sister of the bridegroom. She carried out the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue.

Miss Karen Kay Storey of Garland, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Miss Shirlee Bouton of Garland was bridesmaid. They wore empire gowns fashioned with bodices of sapphire blue satin peau de soie and long skirts of forest green velvet. Their headpieces were Dior roses of blue peau with whimsy veils of blue tulle. Each carried long-stemmed blue carnations.

Miss Lisa Storey of Midland, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress of sapphire blue velveteen was accented with wide bands of white lace. She wore a flower circlet hat and carried a white basket of flower petals.

John F. Cearley served his son as best man. Coy Hudson of Pecos, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Lighting candles and seating the guests were Byron Storey of Avery and Keith Storey of New Boston, cousins of the bride.

Miss Linda Jackson of Avery was soloist for the pre-nuptial selections, "More" and "Because". She was accompanied by Mrs. Buddy Fox of Avery, who played the traditional wedding marches.

The mother of the bride chose a two-piece suit of azalea pink wool. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of teal blue re-embroidered lace. Their corsages were of white and pink cymbidium orchids, respectively.

A reception followed at the church. Blue and white chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl centered the serving table, which was laid with moss green taffeta under white net, draped in a swag effect. Lime punch, nuts, and mints were served with the four-tiered wedding cake.

Cousins and aunts of the bride were members of the house party. For travel to Hot Springs, Ark., the bride wore a two-piece suit of green silk and wool with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The couple is at home at 1505 West Main St., Clarksville. The bride, a graduate of Garland High School and North Texas State University in Denton, is a district child welfare director. Mr. Cearley graduated from Pecos High School and attended NTSU for three years where he was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is employed at Red River Arsenal.

Among the out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Butler of Post, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Howell Jr., of Lubbock.

Cherry is the undisputed leader among flavors for medicinal preparations.

Clarksville is scene of rehearsal dinner

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cearley of Pecos honored their son, John Allan, and his bride-elect, Miss Janie Storey, at a dinner following the rehearsal of their wedding.

Given at the Branding Iron in Clarksville, the dinner featured steaks. Decorations carried out the chosen colors of the bride-elect. Place cards marked the places for the honored couple, the parents, members of the wedding party and some of the out-of-town relatives. Gifts were presented by the couple to their wedding attendants.

Thou shall let him go free. —(Jer. 34:14)

Rather than seeing the negative things few have seen in another person, turn our thoughts to the Christ within him. See the spiritual self, the innate good at the center of his being. See him filled with joy, faith and peace. Christ has given him freedom to live his own life.

Area couple battles hawk in automobile

A hawk that crashed through the windshield of their automobile ten miles north of Midland recently gave a Lubbock couple a hard time.

The hawk landed in the laps of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mahurin and before the car could be stopped had grabbed both of them with its talons and would not let loose.

The Mahurins killed the hawk after stopping the car. Their only injuries came from broken windshield glass shivers, which they had to pick out of their flesh.

FOR PREVENTION OR HEALING... CALL A DOCTOR

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Johnny's sick!" The words strike fear in your heart, although your child's name may be Mary, Jane, or Bob. You put him to bed and call the doctor. You give him medicine and nurse him tenderly.

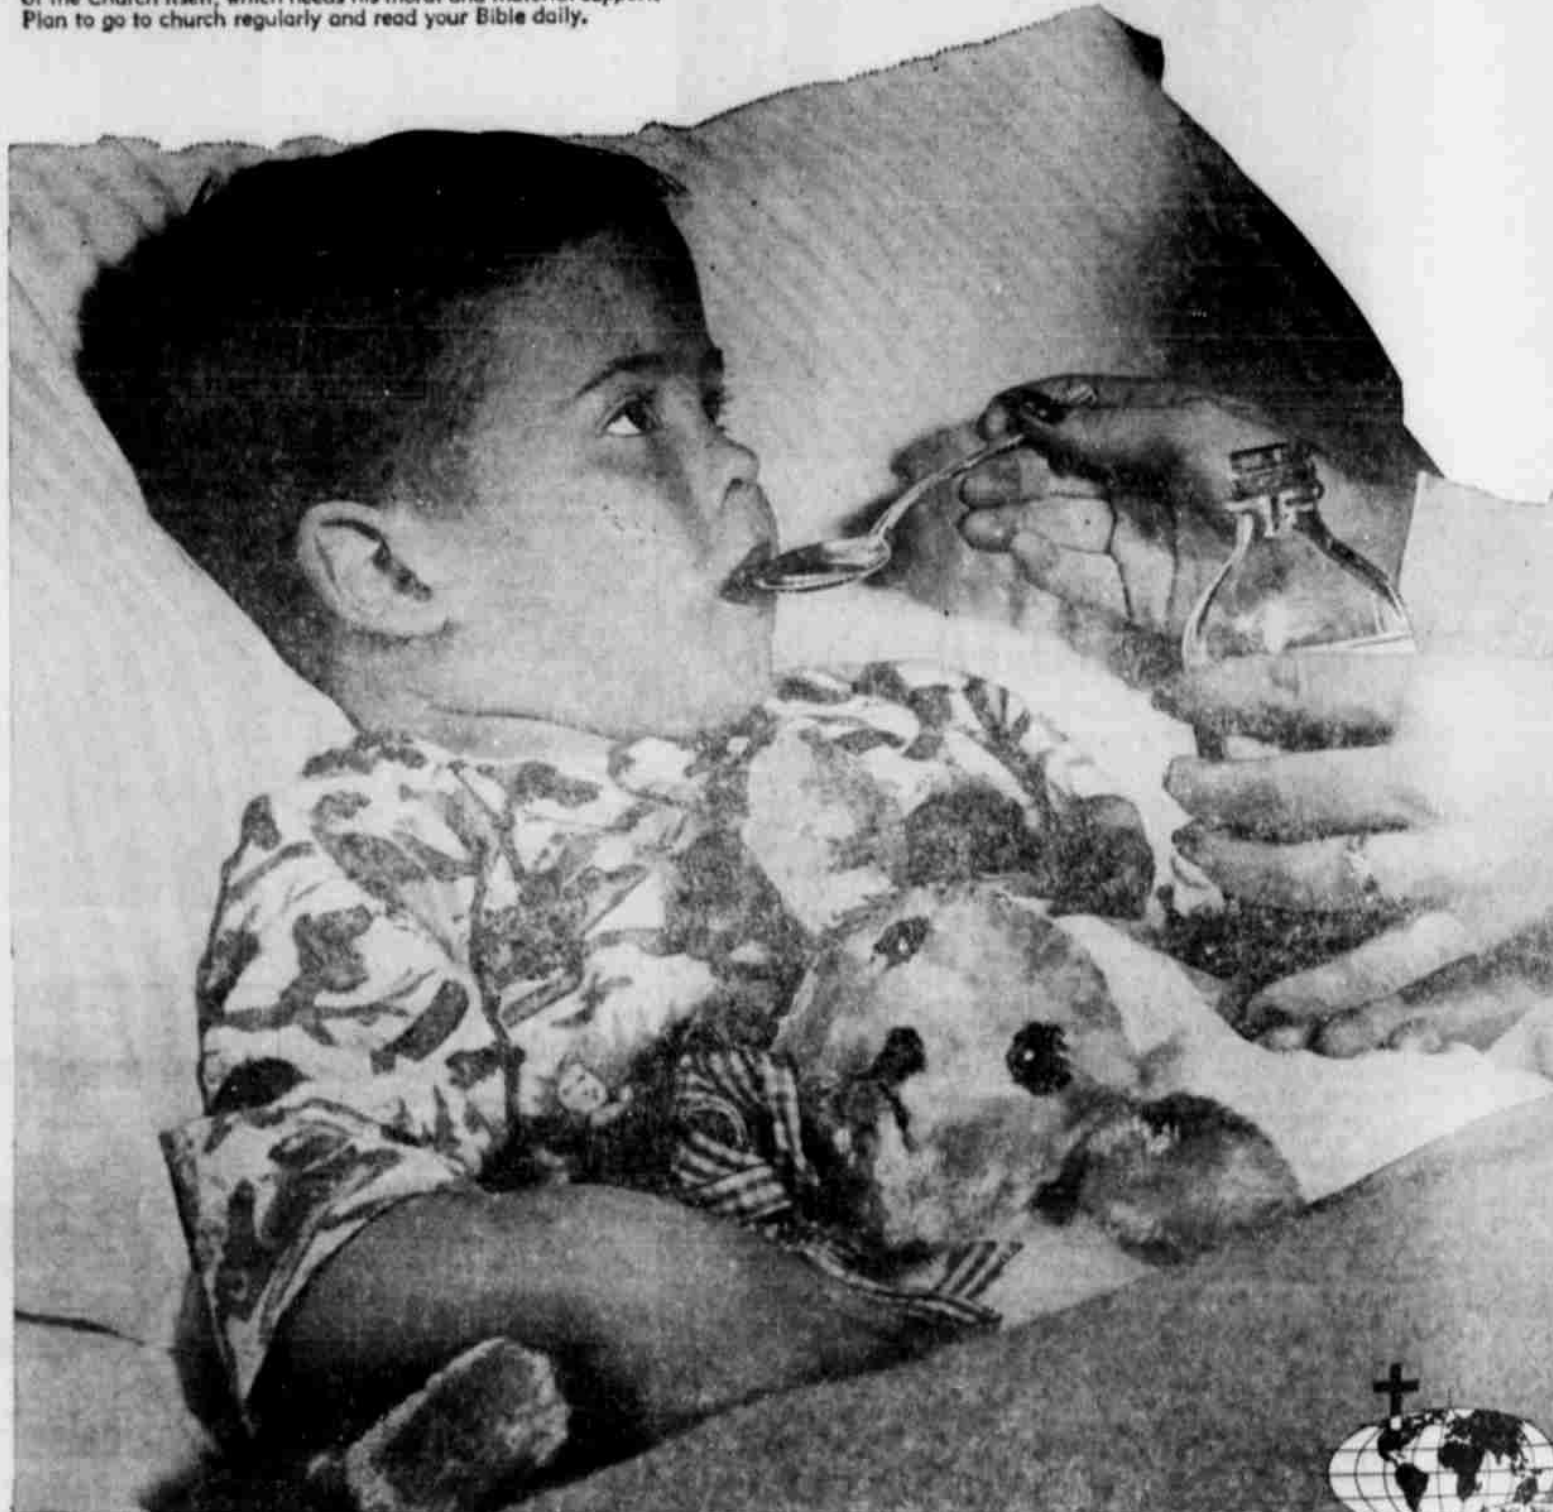

It is easy to tell when your child is not well — physically, that is. And it is comparatively easy to provide whatever is necessary to heal him. But do you feel as much concern for his soul?

Perhaps you have not noticed symptoms of spiritual indisposition. Perhaps you have thoughtlessly disregarded his spiritual needs. Yet his body is only temporal. His soul will live on — and on — and on!

Your Church is like a doctor — ready to heal illnesses of the spirit, but even more eager to prevent them.

Attend Church regularly with all your family for spiritual check-ups, just as you call on your family physician for physical care.

Work proficiency certificates go to city employees

AUSTIN — An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Charles Williams, Post water superintendent, and to Pete Maddox and Bobby R. Harper, plant operations specialists for the Post water supply system. The citations reflect the regard in which the men are held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of the men's efforts to better prepare themselves for the duties of their profession.

Some stores in the United States and Canada depend on Christmas shoppers for a fifth of the sales they make during the entire year, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

Busy year ahead for FFA chapter

By Elaine Bland
(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles describing the purpose and organization of clubs in Post High School.)

The Future Farmers of America is a non-profit, non-political, non-sectarian farm youth organization of voluntary membership, designed to take its place along with other organizations striving for the development of leadership, the building of a more permanent agriculture, and the improvement of country life, according to FFA National Executive Secretary William Paul Gray.

Among other things, members of FFA learn leadership and character development, sportsmanship, cooperation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism. The membership is made up of boys between the ages of 14 and 21.

The organization was founded in November, 1928. The code the boys live by is: "We will conduct ourselves at all times in order to be a credit to our organization, chapter, school and community." Their colors are National blue and corn gold.

Under the counsel of Mr. Howard and Mr. Wilke, the Post chapter of FFA has planned a busy year with a full calendar of events. There are 65 members in the Post chapter, including the Greenhand chapter.

Natha Jo Mears is serving as chapter sweetheart and Edith Johnson as Greenhand sweetheart.

Initiation held for Greenhands

By Dennis Ray
Twenty new members were initiated into Greenhands at the regular Future Farmers of America meeting Nov. 21. Following a short business meeting, the new members were initiated with one hand being dipped into green paint. The boys were required to wear the green paint for one full day.

The new Greenhands are: Larry Barner, Jay Bird, Timmons Bull, Larry Cummings, Garland Davis, Arnold Fry, Rocky Gribble, Jerry Hair, Johnny Hair, Karl Hall, Joe Irons, Don Maxey, James McBride, Herbert Mitchell, Mike Moriarity, Bobby Snow, James Stone, Dicky Wallace, Kim Wilks, and Ronnie Williams.

The new members will be presented Greenhand pins.

Teacher uses balloons and models for demonstrations in chemistry

If anyone happened to walk by Mr. Gee's third period class last week they might have been pretty amused to catch the students blowing up balloons advertising a brand of bread or Mr. Gee twisting them, forming figures, and popping them.

Actually, the chemistry students aren't being taught to blow up balloons and Mr. Gee is not trying to sell bread, but he was showing how nitrogen charge clouds were formed.

When two nitrogen charged clouds combined to form a nitrogen molecule, three of the single charged electrons disappeared (demonstrated by popping three of the balloons) and forming double-charged electrons.

Mr. Gee also demonstrated this same process to us with the use of molecular models, which, if you didn't know better, would appear to be tinkler toys. Mr. Gee isn't really teaching us to play with toys. He just knows that charge clouds models need to be thoroughly understood by his students and he also knows that the simpler he tells us about them the better we understand it.

Christmas cards are made at club meeting

By Debbie Cross
The Arts, Crafts and Hobbies Club met in the Junior High lab and immediately started to work.

Some of the members completed billfolds, which are very nice. Most of the girls made Christmas cards and decorated them with glitter, stars, etc.

The period went by too fast, but we enjoyed it.

The Lynn County News at Tahoka reports that Don Gass killed a 30-pound bobcat on Thanksgiving Day while hunting quail southeast of Draw. Gass killed the bobcat with his shotgun after it ran under a barn.

Life Insurance? For A Child? For Christmas?

For parents and grandparents, it's a nicer idea than you may think. For when all the other gifts are gone, this gift will keep right on giving.

That's because of a brand-new policy from Life Insurance Company of North America that offers children aged 15 days to 15 years insurance worth $1250—for just $60.

Not $60 a year. Just $60—once! When the policy is put into effect, there are no more premiums for anyone to bother with until your child or grandchild reaches age 23.

And then it becomes a gift all over again.

For at age 23, the policy you give this Christmas automatically turns into $5000 of permanent insurance. Your grown son or grandson may continue his policy at the youthful rate of $75 per year. It costs girls just $71.75.

But there's more.

At ages 25, 27, 29 and 31, your original gift may be increased by as much as $5000 each time at standard rates. And there's never a medical or other exam.

To give a present that can keep on giving for years, stop in.

Fire hits gin at Hackberry

Forty-one trailers loaded with cotton and one truck loaded with cotton were lost in a fire on the Hackberry Gin yard shortly after noon Tuesday.

The Station fire department answered the call.

The destroyed truck was owned by Van Foster and was loaded with cotton belonging to Robert Lee Hagler. Trailers and cotton which burned belonged to 16 or 17 farmers.

The losses were reportedly covered by insurance.

"Anyone with questions on record keeping and income tax management is invited to attend the meeting," the county agent said.

Christmas 'tree' up on courthouse lawn

The Chamber of Commerce's 670-light "Christmas tree" was erected on the courthouse lawn yesterday by Southwestern Public Service employees and turned on last night for the first time this year.

The "tree" consists of strings of Christmas lights strung to the ground from a telephone pole. At night it makes a beautifully lighted tree which can be seen the length of East Main street.

Lions hear about TB unit's work

A program on the work of the West Texas Tuberculosis Association, of which Garza is a member county, was presented by R. S. (Syd) Conner at Tuesday night's meeting of the Post Lions Club.

Conner, who is a Garza County director on the association's board, showed a film on the progress of preventive medicine in the control of tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases, and urged the Lions to support the Christmas Seal program.

Douglas Hillock, Post High School band director, was a guest at the meeting.

Lion Bryce Martin will be in charge of the program at the Dec. 13 meeting.

Deadline set for essays on peace

Saturday, Dec. 10, is the deadline for submitting entries in the peace essay contest being sponsored locally by the Post Lions Club, according to Jack Alexander, the club's contest chairman.

The contest is open to youths between the ages of 14 and 22, with a $75 U. S. Savings Bond to be presented to the first place winner in the local contest.

The prize winning essay here will be entered in the district contest. The top prize to be awarded by Lions International in the world-wide contest is $25,000.

City Council—

& Abbott, tax evaluation engineers, was renewed by the city at 3 1/2 per cent, the same it has been for the last several years. The firm evaluates oil, utilities and industrial property for tax assessment purposes.

The city manager said the cost of the service to the city last year was $920, but that it will be "a little higher" this year because of new oil production.

The new flat-bed truck on which the council voted to ask for bids will replace a 1960 model truck now in use by the street department. The two-ton truck, equipped with a hydraulic hoist, will cost about $3,500, the city manager said.

Bonuses to be paid by the city at the Christmas party next Thursday will be $50 to employees who have been with the city a year or longer, and bonuses in proportion to length of service to those who have been employed for less than a year.

In voting to lease the acreage at the old reservoir for grazing, the council included the provision that if there is a duplication in the highest bid, the lessee will be decided by lot.

The offer considered by the council on the purchase of two well sites in the old water field was made by H. F. Wheatley who originally sold the land on which the wells are located to the city. The council decided on an "asking price" of $500 for the two sites, which include pumps, pipe, etc.

MAYOR LUCAS told the council that he and the city manager have received letters from the Texas Municipal League asking that the Post city council go on record as approving a city sales tax of 1 per cent.

The 1 per cent sales tax, the mayor explained, would bolster revenue from ad valorem taxes, which are becoming inadequate for most municipalities' operations.

If the legislature were to pass the permissive sales tax measure at its next session, towns and cities then would be able to call elections on whether or not to levy the sales tax.

He pointed out that some towns and cities might not find it necessary to call an election to levy the sales tax for their needs, but if they did the legislation would empower them to do so.

The council authorized the mayor and city manager to write the Texas Municipal League that it is "undecided" at this time about whether it favors the proposed permissive sales tax legislation.

Another triple producer here

The George R. Brown oil interests announced today that their F. G. Robinson No. 9G is now being completed as a triple producer from the B, C and D zones of the San Andres.

The well is located a quarter of a mile northwest of the old city limits in open country.

The Robinson No. 9G, a new dual producer, has been potentialized at 83 barrels of oil and eight of water from the San Andres B zone and 113 barrels of oil and 9.45 barrels of water from the D zone.

Brown's latest drilling test, the Earl Rogers, Et Al No. 1G, was reported drilling at 1,900 feet yesterday morning. It is located just south of US - 380 just outside the old Post city limits.

Besides his parents, Huntley is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mayeth L. Clark of Harlingen, and two brothers, Glenn of Milpitas, Calif., and Carl D. Huntley of Las Vegas, Nev.

Does win consolation in tourney at Forsan

The Post Does, behind the 46-point performance of Sherry Woods, defeated Lakeview, 75-62, Saturday afternoon to win the consolation championship of the annual Forsan Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Does lost to Flower Grove in their first game of the tournament Thursday, 57 to 49, with Flower Grove winning the game at the free throw line. The Does hit 29 goals from the field to only eight for Flower Grove, but managed only nine free throws against 39 for the winners.

The Does advanced to the consolation finals by overwhelming

Loraine, 77-41, Saturday morning. Woods' 46 points in the win over Lakeview came on 17 field goals and 12 free throws. Freshman Sharon Windham scored 12 points, Edith Johnson and LaGayluah Young, seven points apiece, and freshman Karon Windham, two. The Post guards were Marcia Newman, Linda Altman, Cheryl Pennell and Vicki Martin.

Lakeview trailed by only six points, 36-30, at the half, but Coach Jiggs King's Does upped their margin to 17 points in the third period, then coasted to the win.

In the Does' 77-41 victory over Loraine, all the girls saw action, with Johnson's 26 points topping the scoring. Woods scored 19; Karon Windham, 12; Sharon Windham, 10; LaGayluah Young, eight, and Karen Lee, two. Seeing action at the guard positions were Newman, Pennell, Linda Altman, Martin, Jaynie Josey, Jane Hutchins, Voda Beth Voss, Kay Altman, Theresa Sims and Glen Ann Barley.

Against Flower Grove, the Does stayed even until the final period when the winners pulled ahead on free throws. The score was tied at 36-36 going into the fourth quarter. Johnson led the scoring for Post with 24 points. Woods contributed 14; Sharon and Karon Windham, five each, and Young two.

Starting forwards Woods and Johnson and starting guard Linda Altman fouled out of the Flower Grove game.

Sherry Woods is leading scorers

With 142 points on 57 field goals and 28 free throws, Sherry Woods is leading the Post Doe scorers through their first six games. Her game average is 23.7.

Second in the scoring with an average of 18.2 is Edith Johnson, who has scored 109 points on 47 from the field and 15 from the free throw line.

LaGayluah Young has scored 45 points and freshman twins Karon and Sharon Windham 36 and 47 points, respectively, in games through last week's Forsan tournament.

Post loses to Dimmitt in consolation finals

Despite Ronnie Pierce's 33 points, the Post Antelopes lost to the Dimmitt Bobcats, 64 to 62, Saturday in the consolation finals of the 16-team Plainview Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Dimmitt overcame a seven-point Post lead in the fourth quarter to win the consolation trophy.

Coach Wilbert Bigott's Antelopes, with five squad members having had only three days practice after concluding the football season, lost to Lubbock Coronado, 62-60, in their first round game, then won over Lorenzo, 87-79, and Shallowater, 72-62, to go into the consolation championship game.

Coach Bigott said that considering the Antelopes' late start on their basketball campaign, he was pleased with their showing in the tournament.

In the Dimmitt game, Post was behind, 14-12, at the end of the first quarter and 32-30 at the half, but outscored the Bobcats, 23-16, in the third period to take the lead. Pierce's eight field goals sparked the Antelopes' third quarter surge.

A five-point fourth quarter was Post's downfall with Dimmitt coming on strong to score 14 points in the same period.

Post came from behind in the Shallowater game, scoring 27 points in the fourth quarter after trailing, 48-45, at the end of the third period.

Against Lorenzo, the Antelopes won the game, 87-79.

Through the Post Antelopes' first four basketball games — all played in the Plainview tournament — Ronnie Pierce is leading the scoring with 119 points, an average of 29.7 points a game.

Davis Heaton is second in scoring with 48 points for a 12-point average.

Cub Scout box is sent to Vietnam

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Another week, another column. Where do the weeks go? Thanksgiving has come and gone and it is just 20 days until Christmas! Hope all of you are leisurely getting your shopping, cooking and baking done. No rushing around getting all tired and upset and forgetting what this wonderful holiday is really all about. How tragic to wake up Dec. 25, sick of all the Christmas gaiety, tired of carols and Christmas trees, weary of all the hurry, glad it is all over! Instead of this, we should be preparing ourselves so that we can be ready to find the overwhelming, exciting truth of Christ's birth and meaning of Christmas.

Southland Cub Scout Den 9 sent a box recently to Pfc. Manuel A. Cardenas, who is in Viet Nam. A letter was received by Mrs. Joyce Odom, den mother, thanking the den. Manuel said he shared it with his buddies and they sure enjoyed it. He said to thank everyone that had a part in remembering him. He also said that paper, envelopes, pens and other writing materials were very scarce so the Den has taken on the project of collecting these items and sending them to him to share with the other boys. If you'd like to help with this project call Mrs. Odom at 996-2411.

As this troop is new they don't have any funds so they are having a scrap iron drive. If you have any old junk iron call Mrs. Odom, or Mrs. Belk 996-2932 or Mrs. Wheeler, 996-2971.

Mrs. Paul Winterrowd and children recently visited her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gresham at Lake Whitney.

Here's another address of one of our boys in the service that you might like to send a Christmas card to: Cpl. Gerald R. Gerner, 2019400, 13th MT, Bn. 5th Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif. 92055.

One hundred five persons registered at the 50th anniversary all-day service at the Southland Baptist Church. Bro. Eddie Fortson of Dallas was speaker at the morning service. Bro. David Ray of Bonham and Bro. H. Gray of Idalou were afternoon speakers. Sam Ellis read the church history and there was special music. Mr. and Mrs. Buford Jones held the honor of being on the church roll the longest.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Meyer recently visited the Willie Beckers. Mr. Meyer is with the marketing trade development of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Haire who were united in marriage Saturday. May God grant them a long and happy married life.

THE POST OFFICE here has been changed to a Rural Branch office under the supervision of Rush Wheeler, postmaster at Slaton. Mrs. Patsy Gilliland is the clerk-in-charge. Mail will be continued to be addressed the same way. The new post office is located next door to the old one. New hours are 9 a. m. to 12 and 1 to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday and 9 a. m. until 12 on Saturday.

Mrs. L. L. Lightfoot and Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Lightfoot of Fort Worth were weekend guests of the Paul Winterrowds. Sunday they all attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lightfoot in Lubbock.

Mrs. Freddie Townsend, the former Miss Barbara Mock, was honored with a bridal shower Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Buddy Hall.

David Dabbs has been dismissed from the hospital where he has been a patient since Nov. 11, and is convalescing at home. We are all so happy that you are home, David, and hope you will get to go back to school real soon.

Lt. and Mrs. David McInturff, (formerly Beatrice Kiesel) arrived home Sunday from Quantico, Va., where David has been stationed. They will visit here with Mrs. Selma Kiesel and other relatives until Jan. 5 and then will go to Camp Pendleton, Calif. I sure am looking forward to seeing Beatrice and meeting David.

Blane Dyess was on the sick list last week. Hope you are feeling much better, Blane.

Well, our ball games didn't turn out too well last week. Boys and girls played good games, but were up against some good competition. Tuesday night they played Taboka and our girls won but the boys lost. Friday they played Slaton and had some tough luck. In the girls' game, four of our girls fouled out leaving us only five players, but Slaton beat us only 10 points. Slaton boys also beat us nine points. Saturday morning both teams played Gail and we lost both games. Keep up the good playing kids. I think you are doing real good.

All men everywhere fair targets for deadly germ of tuberculosis

Richman, poorman, beggarman, thief... Doctor, lawyer, Indian chief.

To the tubercule bacillus — the deadly germ of tuberculosis — all men everywhere are fair targets.

In fact, a doctor who had TB and who recovered, almost as if by miracle, opened the first tuberculosis hospital in America. He was Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau.

As for the poor man, one of America's first Christmas Seals was sold to a ragged newsboy. He put his penny on a postoffice counter in a Delaware town and said: "Gimme one. My sister's got it."

(His penny helped keep open a destitute tuberculosis hospital.)

Surely educated people will not be struck down nowadays by TB. Surely, they will!

Hear the case of the charming West Texas teacher, Eleanor Henry (not her real name), who with her moderately well-to-do husband enjoyed a frequent evening of bridge with close friends.

They noticed, of course, that Alma did cough a lot. "Chronic bronchitis," Alma told them.

Then Alma and Herb moved away. They were missed, of course, but Eleanor really didn't feel like staying up for bridge any more. She seemed always to be tired.

All Texas school employees now are required to have chest x-rays as a part of the Texas Plan for the Eradication of TB. Eleanor used the economical West Texas Tuberculosis Association mobile x-ray unit to get hers. It was arranged for by the school administration.

When Eleanor's report came back, she knew she had good reason to be tired all the time.

A follow-up visit to her doctor, confirmed it. Eleanor had tuberculosis. It didn't take long to ask the questions that made it clear. Alma's bronchitis was no such thing.

Alma had what the World Health Organization says "is generally conceded to be the most important specific communicable disease in the world as a whole."

Because Alma diagnosed her own illness instead of letting her doctor do it, she had made a close and dear friend one of the 50,000 in the United States to fall victim to active TB every year.

One of the primary things done by Christmas Seals is to educate people who play bridge—and those who don't; people who teach—and those who don't; people who are well off—and those who aren't, to understand tuberculosis better.

The job is done in schools, clubs, businesses, by newspapers, radio and TV, by mail and by film.

A Christmas Seal is purchased at whatever price the donor cares to pay to help educate his friends, his relatives, and even his enemies to the dangers of ignoring a chest ailment.

OUR READERS Write

AN OPEN LETTER TO COACH GREGG

First of all, I would like to congratulate you on your successful season with the Post Antelopes. I think it is apparent that you had a fine group of boys and coaches to assist you.

However, from the Iowa Park Post game, surely you must see that we need to encourage more boys to come out for football. Our boys were totally exhausted, while Iowa Park remained fresh because replacements were brought off the bench repeatedly.

From our 8th grade team on through varsity, there are only a chosen eleven, twelve or fourteen boys who are "good enough" to play in the game. Are these boys such bad athletes that they are not capable of playing on the kick-off receiving team, offensive or defensive teams? They seem to be good enough to go out to practice, to be knocked around, and stepped on by the "chosen eleven." I think any boy who loves football enough to take the time and energy to come out to practice two or three hours every day, running, hitting hard and doing all of the exercises it takes to become a football player should be rewarded by being allowed to play at least part of the game. Imagine what would happen if you only took eleven boys to a game and one of them was injured. Where would you be then?

Are our coaches so rushed for time that they cannot build this kind of team, or are they not capable? I don't think so.

I think we could develop more and better ball players if these

Oil production nears 100 million barrels

County had a 1965 crude production of 5,960,100 barrels, its total to 90,508,100 barrels since its first discovery in 1859, compiled by the Texas Continental Oil & Gas Association show.

County's 1965 production rate averaged 13,863 barrels a day. The figures also show that Texas oil production reached the one billion barrel total in 1965 for the first time since 1957.

There were 1,007,489,000 barrels of crude oil, valued at more than $3 billion, produced in 200 of the 254 counties during 1965, statistics show.

Since production records began 70 years ago, the state has produced a total of 28,403,016,481 barrels of crude.

Andrews County continued to be the leading county in oil production, with 76,908,300 barrels, although all sections of the state have several high producing fields.

"The state's excellent oil and gas conservation system must be given credit for the widespread and continuing development of production throughout Texas," said W. A. Landreth, Fort Worth independent operator who is president of Texas Mid-Continent. "Under our state laws, administered ably by the Texas Railroad Commission, the state's petroleum resources development has been encouraged from the driller to the refiner."

In 1965, Texas had three counties that produced in excess of 40 million barrels. Besides Andrews, Ector County had a total of 61,266,600 barrels and Crane County produced 43,952,300 barrels.

In addition, five other counties produced more than 20 million barrels in 1965 and an additional 24 had production in excess of 10 million barrels.

Gregg remains the only county in the state that has produced more than two billion barrels, while three other counties — Rusk, Ector and Andrews — have produced more than one billion.

Lights of Christmas tree to bring peace and joy to millions of homes

Lights of the Christmas tree, beautiful when reflected in the eyes of a child, will bring joy to millions of homes this season, as they have for centuries.

How did it begin? Why do we light trees and lights with the Babe whom Christians call the Messiah?

There are several stories about the origin of the Christmas tree. In Scandinavia once worked trees, and explains World Encyclopedia, they made evergreen trees part of Christian festivity when they became Christmas trees.

Legend tells how the first Christmas tree was shown in a house in the English missionary (later called Boniface), about 1,200 years ago, while he was in what is now northern Germany. Winifrid found a group of children at an oak tree, about to cut it down to use for a child to the god Thor. Winifrid stopped the sacrifice and told them of the "blood oak." As the children were cutting the tree, a fir tree appeared. Winifrid told them that the tree was the tree of life, and that it was the tree of life, and that it was the tree of life, and that it was the tree of life.

Legend tells how the first Christmas tree was shown in a house in the English missionary (later called Boniface), about 1,200 years ago, while he was in what is now northern Germany. Winifrid found a group of children at an oak tree, about to cut it down to use for a child to the god Thor. Winifrid stopped the sacrifice and told them of the "blood oak." As the children were cutting the tree, a fir tree appeared. Winifrid told them that the tree was the tree of life, and that it was the tree of life, and that it was the tree of life.

Granbury rated over adversary

Granbury is a 7-point plus favorite over Daingerfield in their Class AA semifinals game at Mesquite Saturday by the Harris Rating System.

Granbury defeated Iowa Park, 31-16, last Friday to advance to the semifinals round, while Daingerfield upset defending champion Plano.

Granbury recovered four Iowa Park fumbles, one on the Granbury one-yard line, in their win over the Hawks, who had eliminated Post the week before. Iowa Park was about even with Granbury in statistics, but the four lost fumbles spelled their downfall.

In this week's Class AA semifinals game, Sweeny is an 18-point favorite over Bastrop. Sweeny advanced last week with a win over San Antonio Randolph, while Bastrop was edging Hardin-Jefferson.

Post Does lose to Tulia girls

Down 12 points at the half, the Post Does closed the final gap to two points before losing to the Tulia Hornettes, 56-54, here Tuesday night of last week.

Post led at the end of the first quarter, 14-9, but scored only nine points in the second period to Tulia's 23. The Does outscored the visitors by five points in each of the two final periods, but their rally fell short.

Scoring for the Does were: Sherry Woods, 18; Karon Windham, 13; Edith Johnson, eight; Sharon Windham, eight, and LaGayluah Young, seven.

The Post guards were Marcia Newby, Cheryl Pennell, Vickie Martin and Linda Altman.

Phone call rates will be reduced

SAN ANGELO — Reduced long distance rates for most station-to-station calls within Texas will become effective Jan. 1, 1967 for customers of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, Southwestern States Telephone and Four States Telephone Companies, according to E. H. Danner, president of three companies.

State-wide reductions on three minute calls vary from five to fifteen cents on most station-to-station calls over 56 miles in distance within Texas. Reductions for calls over three minutes are even greater, according to Danner. The reductions apply to calls made during the time when "day rates" are in effect as well as to all intrastate (within Texas) station-to-station calls made during the "night rate" hours after 8 p.m. and all day Sunday.

The new tariffs reflecting the reduced rates will be distributed to all offices handling long distance calls at the earliest possible date, Danner stated.

"Your Credit Is Good"

City sportsmen are spooked by park denizens

BURNET — Some of the folks patronizing Inks Lake State Park near here during the mild fall may have trouble settling down when they return home.

Most of the guests, since the deer season opened, are helping harvest one of the most bountiful venison crops in modern times. Many of them hunt in nearby Llano County, known as the "Deer Hunting Capital".

Degree of success is indicated by the fact that 16 Dallas hunters bagged 45 deer, since a bonus, or third, deer is allowed under the antlerless harvest arrangement.

After taking their game to the Burnet locker plant, the hunters return to the lake shore camps to find a herd of fraternizing deer looking for campers. One towering buck had 14 points.

At night, dreams amid the outdoor Utopia gain realistic sound effects from the playful deer, feasting on mistletoe cropped from the oak trees by the park staff. This nocturnal music is bulwarked by the jabbering of an estimated 20,000 ducks, mainly gadwalls, feasting on the lake aquatic goodies.

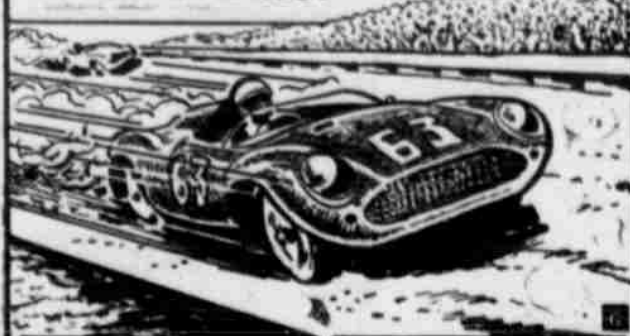

Between hunts, the open weather has provided unusually good fishing for black bass, crappie and catfish.

It's no wonder Park Manager Bill Dickinson speculates about the personal re-adjustment of the city folks exposed to this pristine treatment.

Dickinson said he never has seen such an abundance of everything, including hunters. They occupy most of his screen shelters and

Library Listening Post

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

REAL librarians always stare incredulously when you talk to them about running a library with voluntary help. This is understandable because they have spent six long years being trained to do the job, and they just can't believe that a bunch of amateurs can walk in and take over.

Well, we have. True, it hasn't been easy. We've made mistakes, and we'll make more, but we're shaping up, and here are 17 reasons why: Monday, 9-12, Sandy Cowley; Monday, 4-7, Iva Sanders and Dot Perdue; Tuesday, 7-9, Rosemary Chapman; Wednesday, 9-12, Roberta Herron and Evelyn Neff; Wednesday, 1-4, Bernice Eubank and Peggy Dennis; Wednesday, 4-5, Betty Cook; Wednesday, 5-7, Joy Parker; Thursday, 7-9, Juanita Parrish and Pee Wee Pierce; Friday, 9-12, Bertha Irons and Marilyn Miller; Saturday, 9-12, Ruth Ann Newby and Sue Shytles; Saturday, 1-4, Estelle Davis. (Saturday afternoon hours will be temporarily closed until further notice).

In addition, we have numerous substitutes, such as Maxine Cummings and Richard Lee, who are doing an excellent job.

Maury Shiver, president of the Library Aides Committee, is trouble-shooter for the whole group and deserves a round of applause for answering all sorts of pesky questions, and helping with substitution problems. This can be a big headache, but Maury takes it all in stride.

Now hear this: The arch enemy of our volunteers is boredom. We have books to entertain you, books to educate, and books which do a little of both. Use them!

We have received "Life Pictorial Atlas of the World" by the editors of Life and Rand McNally from Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cornish. I do not know how they brought themselves to part with it, for it is a real beauty. Come on down, dreamers.

Petra Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cowley have also given us some good books this week.

Mother just sent me a "Facts and Fantasies About TB and RD" bookmark. She has been wanting me to quit smoking for 12 years now. If you want your free "Facts and Fantasies About TB and RD" bookmark, there are 209 more at the library. How's that for one-upmanship?

Why not put the Post Public Library on your Christmas shopping list? Speaking of Christmas, don't miss our cheery new bulletin board arrangement. It is quite stunning, particularly in view of the fact that it was composed by Ruth Ann Newby and Richard Lee.

For those of you might enjoy them, we are also displaying reproductions of old French paper dolls and coloring books, "Locomotive Advertising in America 1850-1900", "Grandma Trooley's Old Fashioned Picture Book for Boys and Girls", "Choice Pages From Early American School Books", and a recreation of the 1849 illustrated edition of "Saint Nicholas", of which only two copies are known to exist. Our facsimile was taken from the one behind locked doors in New York's Fifth Avenue Library.

Personal: Dear E. Please come back. We need you. There is no one to put up the catalogue cards since you've been gone. Rm.

Texas farm property continues to rise in value, specialist reports

COLLEGE STATION — The upward trend of farm property values continues to increase the assets of Texas farmers, Boyd Andrews, Texas A&M University Extension resource development specialist, says farm property prices increased an average of 17 per cent from 1963 to 1965.

Andrews obtained his information from a study conducted last summer. Data were gathered from a 26-county sample which included counties from each of the state's 17 type - of - farming areas.

Only bona fide sales of 20 or more acres, outside of any city limits and recorded on warranty deeds were studied. Andrews limited his study to exchanges for husbandry purposes.

Per-acre land values in the irrigated farming areas of the lower and upper Rio Grande Valley and southern High Plains seem to be closely correlated to agricultural production and net farm income. But this dependence on agricultural conditions was not evident in other sections of the state, he noted.

Factors external to agriculture seemed to have a great influence on land values in other sections, Andrews said. Prices have steadily increased unlike the fluctuations noted in the Rio Grande Valley and the southern High Plains.

The specialist said the closeness and adequacy of recreation, by type of farming, special investment, and some factors strongly influenced values in parts of the state. These factors are important because of population centers located in the areas. Improved transport facilities, higher incomes and increased leisure time among residents.

The further importance of effect is pointed up by the fact 15 per cent of the buyers in study lived in Harris, Dallas, Tarrant and Taylor counties.

"...you'll be a Man, my son!"

RUDYARD KIPLING

Rudyard Kipling appreciated better than most the making and meaning of a man.

And if he were alive today, he'd undoubtedly have applied the famous quote above to America's newspaperboys. By faithfully delivering the news day-in-and-day-out, fair weather or foul, a newspaperboy learns responsibility at an early age.

He learns enterprise. Dedication. Dependability. How to fill an important place in the community.

And he learns the value of money and saving, too . . . and of looking ahead to the future. That's why many a newspaperboy develops the habit of buying U.S. Savings Bonds regularly. Maybe to help put himself through college someday.

More than that, newspaperboys have done their communities and their nation a real service since 1941 by buying Bonds and by helping to promote and sell Savings Bonds and Stamps.

The nation's brothers and dads in Viet Nam thank you. The Treasury Department and Uncle Sam salute you. And someday, when you're a Man, my son . . . you'll thank yourself for having been a newspaperboy.

Bond sales for October $3,500

J. B. Potts, chairman of the Garza County Savings Bonds Committee, has announced that bond sales in Garza County totaled $3,578 during the month of October. Sales for the first ten months totaled $77,721, which is 65 per cent of the 1966 sales goal of $120,000.

During the month of October, Texans purchased $13,520,322 in Series E and H savings bonds. This is an increase of 13 per cent over the same period of 1965. Total sales to date amounted to $125,194,374, which is 98 per cent of the state's goal of $147.5 million.

"A $25 bond purchased for $18.75, for example, is a gift that keeps on giving," Chairman Potts said. "Attractive gift envelopes are available at all banks. Savings bonds aid in control of inflation and support our men in Vietnam."

Poverty more widespread among Texas Spanish-Americans, study discloses

COLLEGE STATION — Poverty is more widespread among Spanish-Americans in Texas than in other Southwestern States.
The 139,663 families of Spanish surname in Texas whose incomes were less than $3,000 constituted nearly 52 per cent of all Mexican-American families in the state and 57 per cent of all poor Latin-Americans in the five states of Arizona, California, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.
These are among the findings of a study recently completed by W. K. Upham and D. E. Wright of Texas A&M University's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.
Since the average Spanish-American family had 4.6 members compared with 3.3 for Anglo-White and 3.4 for Negroes, the relative economic and social deprivation would appear even greater for the Latin, say the researchers.
Analyzing the 67 countries with the largest Latin populations, containing 93 per cent of the Spanish families, Upham and Wright found the incidence of poverty ranged from a low of 18 per cent in Jefferson County to a high of 83 per cent in Dimmit County. In every case the Spanish-American poverty rate was higher than that of Anglo families, and in 13 cases the Spanish family poverty rate was at least three times as high as that for the remainder of the population.
The researchers urge that attention be directed to the educational approach to poverty, among others, since their study shows a clear relationship between poverty and the lack of education.
No real progress is likely to be made unless a way can be found to raise educational levels among the state's least educated major group, conclude Upham and Wright. They believe the problem may best be approached at the local level.
