Gamblin elected head of new library group

Tom Gamblin was elected president of The Friends of a Public Library, Garza County, Texas, Tuesday night as some 45 library enthusiasts turned out in the junior high library to elect officers and directors of the new organization and adopt its by-laws.

Gamblin, chairman pro-tem of the fledgling organization at the start of the meeting, announced that the library group already had over 100 dues paid active members. Others paid their $1 membership dues at the conclusion of the meeting.

Other officers elected along with Gamblin to two-year terms were: Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Kirkpatrick, second vice president; Mrs. Bryan J. Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Hopkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bob Pace, treasurer.

Directors elected to two-year terms were: Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, Mrs. David Newby and Mrs. T. C. Clark. Directors named to one-year terms were J. B. Potts, Lonnie Duke and Mrs. Wesley Scott.

It was announced that the Post Dispatch Club was the first organization with 100 per cent membership and that five Post businesses also were 100 per cent members.

including all employees. The 100 per cent firms are Post Pharmacy and Bob Collier, Drugists; the Medical Center, Pioneer Natural Gas and Mitchell Malouf's Dry Goods. New by-laws of the organization provide that Friends of a Public Library shall be a non-profit, non-partisan organization with the following major purposes and objectives: (1) to maintain a friendly association of persons interested in books and libraries; (2) to focus public attention on services, resources and needs of a public library; (3) to stimulate benefactions, such as gifts, memorials, endowments and bequests; and (4) to undergird the total library program of public libraries in Garza County.

Dues were set as $1 for active individual membership, $5 for individual sustaining membership, $25 for individual patron membership, $100 for individual life membership, $5 for sustaining organization membership and $25 for organization patron memberships.

The nominations committee, of which Mrs. Harry A. Tubbs was chairman, presented two nominees for each office and 10 nominees for directors. Several nominees for directors were made from the floor following the election of officers.

Gamblin has called the first meeting of the board of the organization to meet next Tuesday night to continue setting up committees and to make plans to conduct an all-out membership campaign.

The word from the highway department resident engineer's office here is that bids for the four-lane of US-84 from the top of the cap northwest to the county line are now scheduled to be opened June 21 or 22 with construction getting under way almost immediately after that.

It takes some eight weeks to process the project's start and advertise the bids.

Resident Engineer Julian Smith says best "guesstimates" on the project's cost is between $950,000 and $1,000,000 for the complete job. He said it should be completed and open to traffic by the latter part of the summer in 1967. No detours will be needed of any length, just a couple of cross-overs which shouldn't slow traffic much.

The year-long project should bring an influx of a number of families of construction workers into Post which is always helpful economically. Tahoka picked up some 80 families a couple of weeks ago for the duration of a big water pipeline project. The merchants got so enthused, the Lynn County News came out with virtually a special edition to welcome them.

Board votes boost in hospital room rates

Room rates at Garza Memorial hospital have been increased, possibly for the first time in the hospital's 14-year operation, through unanimous vote of hospital trustees at their April meeting last Tuesday night.

The board's became effective Sunday.

The increases were: Semi-private room with bath, formerly $150, now $113. Private room, no bath, formerly $125, now $115. Private room with bath, formerly $110, now $100.

The action was taken by trustees after Hospital Administrator W. C. Stivers made a comparison with the rates of other hospitals of like size in the area and with the recommended rates of Blue Cross.

Trustees at the monthly meeting also received a very favorable financial report on the hospital's operation for March.

It showed hospital billings were $3,781.88 over expenses for the month and left the hospital $2,212.91 in the black for the first three months of the year as compared to a $1,499.28 operating loss for the first quarter in 1965.

Trustees also noted that for the first quarter of 1966, the hospital was $7,000 under its budgeted expenditures.

Trustees approved payment of $5,092.98 in bills which included a check for $768.33 owed the Casey-Bausman Clinic. Trustees authorized that this payment be held in escrow pending a final financial settlement of the dissolved partnership.

Trustees and administrator still don't know whether or not the county hospital will qualify under the Medicare program due to be launched July 1.

"All we know now," said one trustee, "is that the only hospital in Texas which would qualify under present qualifications would be Parkland in Dallas."

Preston Poole is elected by Lions

Preston Poole was elected president of the Post Lions Club for the 1966-67 club year at the organization's annual election of officers Tuesday night.

Poole, who is county attorney of Garza County, will become president of the club early in July, succeeding Jim Jackson.

Other officers elected Tuesday night were: Henry Harden, first vice president; Lee W. Davis Jr., second vice president; Carl Aycock, third vice president; Weaver Moreman, secretary; Jess Rogers, treasurer; Gordon Lee, Lion tamer, and Lonnie Duke, taitwister.

Jack Alexander and Travis Thomas were elected directors for one-year terms and Jess Hendrix and Bryce Martin, directors for two-year terms.

Lions Harden and Hendrix will be the club's official delegates at the Lions district convention in (See Lions Elect, page 8)

4-H leadership contests slated

Garza County 4-H Club leadership contests — in public speaking and share-the-fun — will be held Saturday, April 16, at the 4-H building, starting at 9:30 a. m.

The elimination contests will be for the purpose of determining Garza County's representatives in the District 2 leadership contests to be held in Lubbock on Saturday, April 23.

The public is invited to attend the contests here Saturday morning, County Agent Syd Conner said.

Junior livestock meeting April 21

An important meeting of members of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association will be held at the county courthouse at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, April 21, for the purpose of electing six new directors, who, in turn will elect new officers for 1967.

All 1966 and 1967 members of the association are urged to attend. In addition to the election of directors, plans for the year are to be discussed.

Officers of the association say they hope the same thing doesn't happen that happened last week when a meeting was scheduled for Thursday night, but not enough members attended to elect directors.

"Your attendance at next Thursday night's meeting is important to the future success of the organization" is the message to members of the livestock association.

Junior Rodeo meeting set for next Tuesday

The Post Junior Rodeo Association will try it again after not having enough members present at a meeting Tuesday night to elect directors and officers.

The association has re-set the election meeting for 7:30 p. m. Monday, April 18, in the district courtroom. "We hope we have enough present to do something this time," said Lester Nichols, resident, in urging that all stock holders be present.

CAT GETS TRAPPED IN AIR-CONDITIONER

Last Friday wasn't a Friday the 13th, but it was a bad luck day anyway for a large black cat that got caught in an air-conditioner at a vacant house at 306 West 14th St.

Neighbors who heard the cat's howls as it tried to free itself, called the police department, with Police Chief Leldon P. Miller responding.

Miller said the trapped animal had the squirrel-type blower going around and around as it frantically tried to find a way out. The police chief wedged the blower with a stick, took one side off the air-conditioner, and the frightened cat climbed out.

Absentee voting starts Monday

Absentee voting for the May 7 primary elections will get under way Monday, April 18, and continue through May 3.

Those wishing to vote absentee in person may do so at the county clerk's office. Mail requests for absentee ballots also are to be sent to the clerk's office.

City-county adoption of airport agreement made

Appoint 4 of 5 board members

The Garza County Commissioner's court and Post's city council in separate meetings Monday adopted a city-county airport agreement and named four of the five members of the joint airport board.

The agreement establishes the powers and duties of a five-member joint airport board to construct and operate the yet-to-be airport.

The county named Julian Smith, state highway department resident engineer, to a two-year term on the new airport board and Thomas W. Gamblin, local attorney who served on the Chamber's successful airport committee, to a one-year term.

The city named Jimmy Hundley, World War II flyer, to a two-year term on the board and Giles Dalby to a one-year term.

The four board members named by city and county will select a fifth member, subject to the approval of both the city council and the board.

Honors county's first officials

The agreement provides that the board shall have the power to "plan, acquire, establish, develop, construct, enlarge, improve, maintain, equip, operate, regulate, protect and police the new airport, air navigation facility or airport hazard to be jointly acquired."

THE AGREEMENT also provides that the board shall have the powers and duties as set forth in the Texas Municipal Airports Act subject only to the limitations established in the agreement.

Dedication of marker scheduled for Sunday

The largest crowd ever to attend the dedication of a historical marker in Garza County is expected to attend the dedication Sunday afternoon of an official Texas historical marker for the county's first officials.

Many former residents from out of town are expected to be in the crowd at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the 18 by 28-inch cast aluminum marker is dedicated on the courthouse lawn.

This particular marker is unique in that it was received as a prize by the Garza County Historical Survey Committee for the committee's program of work. It is known as the Willard Cope award marker.

The lettering on the marker reads as follows:

"Garza County. Created in 1876. Attached to Borden County 1891-1907. Organization came July 8, 1907, at the OS Ranch. According to legend, even the horses 'voted' to gain the required 75 ballots. First court was held under a tent; first courthouse built in 1908.

"It is to the memory of these pioneer men who became the first county officials that this marker is dedicated in sincere appreciation for the part they played in the organization and development of Garza County.

Former Post resident found dead in home

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the First Baptist Church at Snyder for Mrs. John W. (Hazel) Beggs, 50, who was found dead at her apartment in Lubbock Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Beggs, a former resident of Post, was pronounced dead about 9:45 a. m. Wednesday at her home by Peace Justice George H. McCleskey, who ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Mrs. Beggs' body was found lying on the floor of her bedroom at the end of a bed.

Mr. and Mrs. Beggs were residents of Post and vicinity for a number of years. They lived on the Beggs ranch, west of Post, before moving into town while their son, Dickie, was attending Post High School. They moved to Lubbock about 1957.

Stage coach, wagon models his hobby

It's out of the ordinary when a man whittles out wooden stage coach and covered wagon models with two hands, but when he does it with only one hand, it is even more unusual.

Charlie Nickens, retired restaurant cook who has been making stage coach and covered wagon models for about four years, has two hands, but his left hand and arm are practically useless as the result of an accident.

"Oh, I can move the arm and hand around a little, but they're no good to me when it comes to making anything," Nickens said. "That's my left hand there," he said, pointing to a small vice clamped on the end of his work table.

Nickens uses only a pocket knife, a coning saw and a small sanding wheel in making the stage coaches and covered wagons, which are exact replicas of the ones seen on television western dramas.

Nickens' small workshop is cluttered with the materials and gadgets he uses in making the models, but somehow the clutter appears orderly. When he wants to show you something he knows right where it is.

The pocket knife Nickens uses in whittling out his plywood models he purchased second-hand a year and a half ago for a nickel.

"It was a bargain, of course, but not much of one, as you can see for yourself," he said.

Where does he get the ideas for his stage coach and covered wagon models?

"They come out of my head," (See Hobbyist, page 8)

Library Week has new meaning here

The philosophy of a successful rebel general in the War Between the States was, "Get there fastest with the mostest."

By straining a point or two, we can see where that Confederate general's philosophy has been adopted by the group of Post people who are doing the spadework for organization of a Garza County chapter of Friends of Texas Libraries—with a public library as their goal.

The library boosters aren't too strong in numbers at the moment, but they expect to gain in numbers—and strength—as the weeks go by.

Right now, members of this group are selling memberships in the county chapter of Friends of Texas Libraries, the organization of which they expect to complete at a meeting Tuesday night.

The membership fee is $1 a year and everyone who joins this first year will be a charter member.

Incidentally, April 17-23 is National Library Week, and what better way could we here in Garza County observe it than by paying our $1 membership fee in the new library organization—by getting in on the "new library movement," as it is appropriately called.

This new library movement has been making friends and influencing people right along. One of the most encouraging developments yet came last week when the City Council decided to make vacant space in the city hall building available for a library and to ask for remodeling and repainting bids.

This could well be one of the first major steps in what might one day be a city-county library of which any town the size of Post and any county the size of Garza could be proud.

The city hall quarters would not be adequate, of course, for what the new library group has in mind, but it would be a good start and with the proper development the library would grow into what the library boosters do have in mind.

Also, National Library Week is a good time for us to remember that it symbolizes a service and a need that are of the utmost importance in this complex modern world.

A library is many things. It is, first of all, a repository of the thoughts, the wisdoms, the failures and successes, and events great or small which marred or brightened the centuries which have passed. It holds, within its confines, the history of man and nature.

A library exists to provide knowledge and understanding. It has no limits—everything ever known under the sun is within its province. A library is timeless, in the sense that it embraces all of time.

It is impossible to conceive of a world without libraries. Never in the endless reach of history has knowledge been so important. That is true of the knowledge that lies behind the miracles of science and invention which are transforming life more swiftly than we realize. And it is true, above all, of the knowledge that comes out of the past and that deals with the principles and attitudes and values that transcend the material and give true meaning to the existence and perpetuation of mankind.—CD

Medicare off to jumbled start

The jumbled start which Medicare is making gives us the shudders.

There doesn't seem to be anybody "in the know" as yet as to exactly how the multi-billion dollar federal health program for the aged will operate.

Congress had to rush through a special bill extending the sign-up for Medicare's voluntary insurance plan and added benefits for 90 days. It had to be done. There were a million Americans over 65 who haven't responded. The trouble is—how to reach those million old folks. They didn't reach them the first time—and they probably won't the second go-round either unless they devise some new strategy.

But what bugs us the worst about Medicare is the seeming void which now exists over qualifying hospitals to handle Medicare patients.

One of our hospital trustees told us over the weekend that according to hospital qualifications now known for Medicare that the only hospital in Texas which would qualify would be the big Parkland complex in Dallas.

This is so stupid it almost defies comment.

Plans must be devised to qualify virtually every hospital for Medicare patients because those patients need to be as close to home as possible so their family and friends can visit them.

If Medicare rules for hospitals are too stringent it will throw the hospital situation throughout the nation into complete chaos. The big well-equipped hospitals will be swamped with Medicare patients and won't be able to handle them, or anybody else either.

This doesn't make sense. All of which will be discovered in good time. But it does seem sensible for the government planners to look far enough ahead to see what a mess Medicare is headed for as it draws ever closer to its July start.

Proper hospital qualification rules should have been drawn up long ago—rules everybody can live by. Hospitals right now ought to be qualifying for Medicare, not waiting around with the fidgets wondering what comes next.

As we said at the beginning of the editorial, Medicare gives us the shudders.—JC

HURRY! FRIDAY'S the last day!

There's no doubt about Easter being one of the most enjoyable holidays of the year. Helping make it so as you get older are the younger people's visit and such things as hiding colored Easter eggs for a four-year-old granddaughter.

MONDAY NOT only was the day after Easter, but it also was the first day of the 1966 major league baseball season, which got off to a start with one game in each league and then opened up with a blast Tuesday. The big question this season is, "Will the Yankees come back?" Something else I'm wondering is whether the collar standings will change this season in the National League. For the last three seasons, the New York Mets have finished in the cellar and the Houston Astros just a notch ahead of them in ninth place. Well, it won't be long before the answer to these questions will start taking shape and we'll know before the snow flies.

The man up the street says drivers who drive fastest past a school are the same ones who took so long getting through it.

NO REFLECTION on anyone locally, but here is an interesting story once of my readers was thoughtful enough to clip and send me.

One day in 1917, a man took a pair of shoes to a cobbler to be half-soled. The next day, he was inducted into the army, sent overseas, won the war, came home, married, raised seven children, survived the great depression, served in World War II, weathered inflation, taxes, and in 1963 decided to retire.

He sold his house and, as he and his wife were cleaning out the attic, he found the suit he was wearing the day he was drafted for World War I. In the pocket was the ticket for the pair of shoes he had forgotten.

The next day he went to the address on the ticket, and to his surprise, the shop was still there.

He went inside and handed the ticket to the girl at the counter. She stared at it, then took it to a wizened little man in the rear of the shop.

He looked at the ticket quizzically, then came to the front of the store.

"This your ticket?" he asked. The customer nodded.

"These your shoes?" Another nod.

The old man looked at the ticket again.

"Okay," he said, "they'll be ready tomorrow."

I've been unable to find a county around here with as many candidates for county judge as there are in Garza County, but while looking through the papers, I learned that there are seven candidates in one of the county commissioner races in Kent County, which also might be a record. Kent County also has five candidates for justice of the peace. Considering the number of voters in Kent County, the votes in that one precinct where there are seven commissioner candidates are going to be spread pretty thin.

ONE NEW soft drink which, as far as I'm concerned, won't go far as I'm concerned, isn't going any place is FRESKA.

If you don't want to make predictions now on how the major league baseball races will come out, on account of having to wait so long to see how near right you were, why not try your hand at guessing who'll get the Oscars in the Academy Awards next Monday night? Richard Burton is up for one and if he doesn't get it, he'll still be an Oscar behind Mrs. Burton (Liz Taylor), who got one several years ago for her role in "Butterfield 8."

HURRY! FRIDAY'S the last day!

Brush control in Garza County has meant higher producing grasslands

By IMON NEWMAN
Soil Conservation Service

Several thousand acres of brush control has been applied in the Garza Soil and Water Conservation District during the past few years. This has enabled ranchers to convert brush-infested, low grass producing ranges into higher producing grasslands.

Different forms of control have been applied to meet different situations. On mesquite-infested areas where there was a substantial amount of the better grasses remaining, aerial chemical control has been applied and proved successful. On more heavily infested areas where there were very few of the better grasses remaining free-dozing and root-plowing have been applied in conjunction with grass seeding. This is a more costly operation than spraying, but it is necessary on heavily infested areas that have been badly depleted and have predominantly less desirable grasses remaining.

The control of brush by spraying or mechanical means is only the beginning of restoring brush-infested rangeland. Good grazing management must follow to get the most economical return for the money invested.

Areas that have been treated should be deferred the entire growing season following treatment. This allows the grass to re-establish and produce seed. Livestock should be carefully managed on brush controlled areas to prevent their destroying young grass seedlings that may be replacing brush. Proper stocking is important in attaining and improving stands of desirable grasses and suppressing and retarding the re-establishment of brush.

The proper selection of brush control methods to fit the particular situation, together with a sound grazing management program enables ranchers to convert brush-infested areas into high producing rangelands.

Soil Conservation Service personnel are available to assist you in developing a brush control program.

Licensing required of day care facilities

House Bill 15 of Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes requires that day care facilities for children be licensed. Mrs. Rosemary Holcomb, licensing worker, points out.

These facilities must meet minimum standards specified by the state and which were decided and set up by a group of day care directors from throughout the state and child specialists.

This prorate is for the protection of children who are in day care and also protects the day care director, the parents and the community.

Along with the homes meeting given standards, the directors are required to use good child care practices.

Mrs. Holcomb, the licensing worker, may be contacted through the county judge's office.

Civil War veteran was first treasurer

Editor's Note: This is the third series of articles prepared by Garza County Historical Survey Committee on the county's courthouse officials.)

Benjamin Franklin Wilks, served with the Confederate Army throughout the Civil War, elected as the first county surveyor when Garza County was organized in 1907, and also served as justice of the peace in 1918.

He was born in 1841, he was the son of William Wilks and former Susan Walker. He had sisters, Sadie and Mary; two brothers, Billie and Sam, and spent early life in Austin.

Wilks' first service in the war came in 1861, the year war began. He was in Company G, Sixth Texas Infantry, Garza County's Brigade, Pat Cleburne's Division, Hardin's Corps, Army of Tennessee, commanded by Gen. Joseph E. Johnston.

Mr. Wilks took part in the battles of Arkansas Post, Chickamauga, Missionary Ridge, where he was wounded; Ringgold, Resaca, New Hope Church, where he was again wounded, and Franklin, Tenn. He was wounded a third time in the battle of Franklin, where he was taken prisoner and made to stand in the snow until his feet were nearly frozen. As a result, he lost all his toenails.

When the Civil War ended, in 1865, Mr. Wilks returned to Austin, where he married Nannie Glasscock on Feb. 10, 1870. Eleven children were born to the couple, three of whom — Mrs. Nettie Barrow of Post, Oran Wilks of Odessa and Tom Wilks of Brownwood — are still living.

The family lived in Travis County, where Mr. Wilks raised horses, until 1884 when they moved to Colorado City. In 1886, they moved to Snyder, where Mr. Wilks went into carpenter work. After moving in 1902 to what later was to become Garza County, Mr. Wilks

'RMTD Disease' is attacked in sermon

A malignant and highly contagious ailment, diagnosed by Bernard S. Ramsey, minister of the First Christian Church, as the "running my town down disease," was attacked by the minister in his Palm Sunday sermon April 3.

"It is one of the worst epidemics of one of the most serious sicknesses that can attack any individual, any home, any church, any city, any state or any nation anywhere," the minister said.

"Frankl. I deeply resent this 'RMTD disease' and there is no excuse for anyone to keep their eyes so plastered to the ground that they can't see a single star left in the higher horizons of their city," he continued.

The minister admitted that there are room for improvements here, just as there are in every town, but that these problems should not be made an occasion "to drop the corners of our mouths and sigh and whine and fret and fume about what a 'lousy' place Post has become."

"Why not let this be a challenge instead?" the minister asked. "I think we need this Palm Sunday very badly . . . need it because the dark future which seems to hang like an ominous pall over our city can either be a tomb or a prelude to Easter."

"If we travel back along the corridors of time," the minister continued, "it is an undeniable fact that every generation of history has looked toward the future with foreboding."

Among the speaker's examples were the Christians of the First Century, who "set their faces steadfastly to go to Jerusalem" and who made great things happen in spite of the darkness of the future.

"They didn't run their town down," he said. "Instead they dug their roots down all the deeper and built upon the foundations of their Risen Lord a city more bright and fair than the golden-domed temple there — a City of God."

"If there are enough red-blooded Christian men and women of courage in our time and in our town who will, instead of letting some Typhoid Mary infect them with RMTD disease, set their faces steadfastly to go to Jerusalem and shout a few 'Hosannas' instead of 'Crucify,' they may yet leave a creative mark upon the shape of things to come and turn down what seems a dark future into an Easter dawn."

"The tragedy of our time and of our town is that so many people are getting life with 'Nay' rather than 'Yes.' They get sick with sickness — running my town down."

"Have you an open heart? There will always be an Easter?" Minister Ramsey asked in closing.

Thousands of Indians in Alaska still speak the Tlingit language.

In case you think you might be stung

Some people seem to feel that prescriptions are outrageously priced. The truth of the matter is this: Last year the average American bought about 3 prescriptions for a total cost of around $7.50. An average of less than $3.00 per prescription. Sure, some drugs cost a lot. So do television tubes—for the same reason. They're expensive to manufacture. New and improved production methods, however, bring prices down. Penicillin, for example, costs only a small fraction of what it did when it first came out. Your pharmacist has a professional knowledge of drugs and can tell you this. They are fairly priced. You get what you pay for. We are always pleased to serve you.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

I hadn't given much thought about Miss C the elder's college major coming in handy as far as our family life is concerned until she arrived Wednesday night. You see, she is majoring in special education for the deaf and consequently is learning to lip read.

As I was completely without voice Wednesday night our conversation would have been nil if she hadn't been able to do a bit of lip reading.

I put up with all the usual laughs and comments including a new one which was: "You're not so bad off because at least you can 'print' what you have to say when you can't talk." If I started printing everything I have to say Mr. C wouldn't be in business very long.

We had a delightful Easter as I'm sure all of you did who had family at home. Editor Didway mentions in his column that their holiday was brightened with the hiding of Easter eggs for their four-year-old granddaughter. Ours was brightened by hiding Easter eggs for our almost 21-year-old daughter and her guest. As her guest is 6 feet 4 we concentrated more on high places than low.

Post, and I suppose most towns, always seems so much brighter when all the kids are home from college. It's fun to come downtown and see everyone greeting each other while looking merry and bright.

We ran into Benny Owen who is home from a bit different type of college — the Army college — and I had to ask how he liked Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., because Mr. C was stationed there during one of our other wars and the place holds lots of memories.

I wonder so often if Waynesville, Mo., has grown since those days. This little town — population 468 — is located about four miles from the fort and at that time contained a grocery store, a variety store that was more of a 2 1/2 to 7 1/2 cent type place than a 5 to 20 cent type, a half dozen cleaners, several liquor stores, a bedraggled dress shop, and a drug store that served the best grilled cheese sandwiches and hot fudge sundaes that I have ever eaten any place. (No worry about calories in my younger days.)

We were fortunate enough to live in a lovely place in the country while there. The Ozarks are a delight in the spring and we wived spent many an hour tramping through the hills with a sharp eye peeled for copperheads which are as plentiful there as rattlesnakes are here.

From the beautiful Ozarks we were transferred to the flatland of Gainesville, Tex., to make our first acquaintance with the Lone Star State. Two things remain in my memory about Camp Howse and Gainesville. One was that there were more people buried in the cemetery than lived in the town at that time due to it being the end of "one" of those trails west, and the other being that every time the wind blew I wondered if Mr. C would get crushed by one of the temporary "tinny" buildings that were held up by guy wires at the camp.

From there Mr. C left for Europe and from here Benny Owen and Danny Odum, who have been together through schools here, basic training and Fort Leonard Wood, will leave the latter part of April for Viet Nam.

We make progress?

OUR READERS Write

ENJOYED ARTICLE

Dear Editor:
I read Paul (Polly) Duren's article in last week's paper and enjoyed it immensely.
Speaking of the first teacher, that was Miss Dyvera Elkins—not Mrs. Elkins. Miss Elkins was a very lovely young lady, but I don't think she married until she left Post.

I wonder why someone doesn't mention H. B. Murray. He was the first county clerk of Garza County and later he bought "The Post City Post" from Stockton Henry. It was published in a small building just south of the old courthouse and had a sign in front that read "Post City Post—Get Down and Hitch."
I worked here for Mr. Murray in 1911 and 1912; set type by hand in a stick and dumped it into a galley.

Mr. Murray was married to an Elkins girl, sister to Miss Dyvera. The Murrays had a son named Don and a daughter, Hazel. The last I heard of them they had moved to Colorado.

Why doesn't Mrs. Dezzie Babb Dickinson come forward and tell us about the early days of Post? She was one of the first school children in Post.

Mrs. Anice White Steed of Dallas also was an early-day school girl. They tell me Anice recently suffered a broken hip. We're sorry, Anice, and we hope you will soon be up and about.

Another one who is never mentioned is the late Garrie E. White, brother to Anice. He did lots to help build Post in the early days. Garrie married Miss Willie Dyer, who was working in Post but her home was near Tahoka. Mrs. White lives in Lubbock now. She is a twin sister of a local lady, Mrs. J. P. Manly.

The twins recently visited another sister, Mrs. Muzelle Guinn, in San Angelo. We understand they dined overalls and went fishing, but caught nothing but a turtle. Better luck next time, gals.

Mattie Dyer Morris
Slaton

P. S.: When I was working for Mr. Murray, one day a man came to the front of the newspaper office and Mr. Murray went up and talked to him. When he came back, he said, "That man paid me for his marriage license I let him have on credit while I was county clerk." Maybe the man wanted to see if the girl was worth the $1.50.

WHITE ELEPHANTS

To the Editor:
Glory hallelujah! Post and Garza County will soon have another white elephant to keep the hospital company, and it will be practically free. The federal government will pay the most of it, and the upkeep will be almost nothing—just a manager and four secretaries and three maintenance men. I sure hope we have pretty secretaries, they are so easy on the eyes, and I expect to spend a great deal of time there caring for my plane. And I would like to recommend our ex-school superintendents as managers.

And we should vote a bond issue and build a coliseum that will seat fifty thousand people, then we would have three white elephants. I think that would be nice. Then we could have the officials of the war on poverty hold their convention here.

Worms and weevils will not eat cotton planted on a farm covered in mortgages, so the farmers can reasonably expect 90 per cent increase in production. That will give them more money to spend, and the merchants can mark their merchandise up to be able to pay their taxes. That will enable the people to save more money when we fly to Lubbock or Dallas to shop. Who wants to stand in the path of progress? Wish you all the way.

H. F. Wheatley
Route 2, Post

P. S.: When we were working on the airport, we forgot that we might need lights. But, now we need them so we can see to build it. So, let's include lights and an all-weather air condition system in the library. It is all free—the state will pay it.

A NOTE OF THANKS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a school of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, real democracy for education can never be. There are few good reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: 1. For his own sake; 2. For his children's sake; 3. For the sake of his community and nation. A few lines from the Apostle Paul, which words have proved and will continue to prove true in every age: "Dearly and tenderly love one another."

My dear wife died a year ago. Now there's just myself and my little daughter Janice. Don't feel sorry for us, though, because we're managing pretty well.

Last year when the blow came, I admit I went to pieces. We'd only lived in the neighborhood for a few weeks, and it's hard to say what would have happened if it hadn't been for our church. Suddenly I was surrounded by friends. The minister came at once with convincing words of comfort that helped me to face life again. His wife alerted other members and they brought meals, laundered clothing, took care of Janice, and ultimately found the wonderful elderly housekeeper we have now.

I had never given much thought to the meaning of Christian fellowship. Today I know that miracles of kindness can result when people unite in following the "perfect pattern" of self-sacrifice and unpassionate love.

Senior class prophecy revealed at banquet

Holla folks. This is your 6 o'clock news with Harry Reasoner. It seems that the greatest senior class to ever graduate from Post High School, the Seniors of 1966, made the news tonight. First the sports. Alabama lost in its 99th straight loss under coach Ricketts Welch. After losing to Sippewy Rock State Teachers College, 106-0, they sneaked up on the Alabama Baptist College this week to lose by 105-0. Coach Welch says the Alabama football team can beat their next top opponent, Birmingham, Alabama City Junior High, under 100 points. Chamberlain announced his retirement today. "With all these super stars and especially my Cathy Orf, I just can't make the team," was Chamberlain's statement. Cathy, of course, was the reason they raised the goals to keep her from putting dents in the goal when she hummed her head on it for a rebound.

She has won Academy Awards for her parts in the "Purple Heart," "The Red Rambler," "The Worst Story Ever Told," "The Red Nose," and "The Saw Who Didn't Go Out in the Cold." Carolyn Walker is the musical star. She sings the nationally famous songs, "These Boots Are Made for Takin' Off" and "The Ballad of the Red Toboggan."

Pam Owen, Arleta Robinson and Cheri Cummings have now put Garza County in a population race with Lubbock County. Pam has a tripled the population of Southland since her marriage. Arleta and Cheri aren't doing bad in helping Post.

Linda Woodard, the famous reader, has set a new record. She has just read and has just given her one-millionth book review. She broke the record held jointly by Post Public School Librarians Audrey Snow and Sherry Burks. Their record was only two below Miss Woodard's record.

That now brings us to the miscellaneous news:

THAT FAMOUS fearsome, four- some of soldiers known as the Phenomenal Postites made up of Johnny Kuykendoll, Jimmy Carpenter, Freddy Cockrell and Robert Sneed did it again. The American soldiers had been in a fierce battle when the foursome charged over Hill 132, 40 miles south of Saigon. The only trouble is that Hill 132 was captured two days earlier by the Americans of the First Infantry. No report on the four AWOL soldiers has come in at the present.

Newly elected president of the Millionaire Secretaries of America is Pat Martin. Driving her brand new 1975 Chevrolet Sotmobile and handing out one-thousand dollar bills as campaign cards she won the office hands down over all other opponents. She spent so much money getting elected president of the club, that she is now broke and is a member of the War on Poverty of Broke Secretaries.

She plans to invoke a Bachelor's Tax for being unmarried, free marriage licenses, reduction in taxes for married men, and equal rights for men. She thinks she has full support from her sheriff, Peggy Claborn. Peggy selected as her head deputies Lou and Sue Usery. The new party could become a national power, in the regular life, are bookkeepers from Amalgamated Practice Sets, Inc.

Sandra invented the new style of hair styling known as the "Eagle". It is copied after the American Bald Eagle. You simply shave your head. Ruby also invented a new style known as the "Pot Luck." You take what the hairdresser feels like giving you.

Bruce Masters, the world's 1000th architect, has finally solved his major problem. He couldn't make a river run over his house and a former waterfall. He finally figured out how to solve his problem. He built his house beside the river and said to heck with the waterfall.

VOLKSWAGEN announced they are changing its design today. The new head of the firm, Elaine Pate, stated that the car just needs a change. The new Volkswagen is a whole lot fancier than the little bug. Leta Stanley, the chief designer, along with the head of the company, Miss Pate, has made the car have a special feature so that you can write on walls and make a quick getaway. It also has an extra compartment for carry-spray cans of paint and a sand-blaster in case of an accident.

Congratulations to Rick-ey and good luck on your new book "How to Write a Newspaper with Pat Landreth and Pat Martin in the Room."

Dear Abby, Judy McCampbell was hired by the AP to take up the slack left by the retirement. Judy stated that she will following the footsteps of Dear Abby. Almost immediately afterwards, the United Press International announced that they have syndicated their own lovelorn column called "Dear Jo Ellen." It is much like Dear Judy except she plans to be concerned

His herd was made up of a cross-breed. His new kind of cattle is called a "Congus". It is a cross of a coon hound and an Angus. ention by that famous basketball player Cathy Orf. She wants better quality material to work with. She states that clothes will be out of style in New York unless better zippers come up.

The whereabouts of those two missing persons, Betty Sue Hutchins and Billy Hahn is still unknown. They were last seen at the Junior-Senior banquet in March of 1966. It is believed they offend some person with their will and prophecy, respectively, and were either given the shoes of concrete bit and thrown to the bottom of South Lake or were just taken care of by some other well-known method. To any person knowing the murderer or the murderer himself, we offer the following. The Juniors and Seniors of 1966 would like to thank the murderer and are offering a $23 reward and a free 4-year scholarship to Texas A&M or if he doesn't want the scholarship, a free night on the town in Justiceburg, Tex., will be furnished, sponsored by the Juniors and Seniors of 1966.

Claud H. Jackson rites held here

Funeral services for Claud Hay Jackson, 78, who died Saturday at his home in Slaton, were conducted at 3 p. m. Monday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Post. Mr. Jackson, a carpenter, was a resident of Post for 17 years, from 1928 until 1942, when he moved to Carlshad, N. M., and then to Slaton seven years ago. He was born Jan. 30, 1896, in Clarksville, Tex., moving from there to Post. He was a lifelong member of the Baptist Church. Mr. Jackson is survived by his wife of Slaton; five daughters, Mrs. T. W. Gilliland of Carlshad, N. M., Mrs. George Jenkins of Amarillo, Mrs. J. W. Rogers of Clayton, N. M., and Mrs. Marvin Harris of Hereford; two sisters, Mrs. Maysel James and Mrs. Pearl Taylor, both of Post; one brother, Andrew Jackson of Carlshad; 20 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Mr. Wallace, Nazarene minister from Slaton. Burial was in Terrace Cemetery.

Hobbyist—

(Continued From Page One) Nickens said, "Once I know how something looks, I never forget it. I suppose I've got what you'd call a 'picture memory'." He is meticulous in his work, once making seven tops for one covered wagon before he made one that suited him. "I take my time," he said, "I don't have much else to do." One of Nickens' covered wagons, which he valued at $15, won first prize in the handicraft division in the Garza County Fair last month. What did he do with it? He gave it to a youngster whose pig had won first place in the stock show. A few days ago, Nickens made a mule train for Post's Chief of Police Leldon P. Miller. "No, I didn't make the mules," he said. "I bought them, but I made the wagon and it's hand-tooled from start to finish — no machinery used." Nickens, who has been a resident of Post since 1919, lives on West 4th Street, just off Broadway and behind the Space gas station, under the direction of Mason Funeral Home. Nephews of Mr. Jackson were pallbearers.

Tom Power buys Wyoming agency

Tom Power, Post's former Ford dealer for many years, has purchased the Volkswagen dealership in Casper, Wyo., and left Lubbock Sunday to take over his new business. Mrs. Power and their three daughters will continue to reside in Lubbock until the end of the spring school term when they will move to Casper to join Mr. Power. Power had entered the life insurance business in Lubbock after selling the Ford dealership here in late 1964 to Wesley Scott and Bill Pool. The Powers have sold their new home in Lubbock to Eddy Martin but Mrs. Power and daughters will continue to reside in it until school is out. Casper is a city of approximately 40,000 and is Wyoming's leading oil and ranching center, located only a few miles from the famous Teapot Dome oil fields.

He told us the Snyder school board gave him a month's leave of absence for his serious fling at politics. A news release from Judge John F. (Jack) Onion's headquarters in San Antonio in his race for the state court of criminal appeals, which arrived in the mail yesterday, announced that Preston Poole will be Onion's campaign manager in this county.

The three girls were introduced by County Agent Syd Conner. They will compete in the county elimination contests Saturday morning in their respective categories.

Larry Hutchins is spelling winner

Sixth grader Larry Hutchins outspelled 27 other contestants, including his older brother, Jim, last Thursday to win the Post Junior High School spelling bee. As winner, Larry will represent Garza County in the regional spelling bee at Lubbock on April 30, since a county-wide spelling bee was not held here this year. Runner-up to Larry was his brother, Jim, who is in the 8th grade. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hutchins, both of whom teach in the Post schools. Jim was described by Junior High Principal James E. Pollard as a "dark horse" entry, having decided only the afternoon before to study the National Spelling Bee word list and enter the event. Mrs. Tillman Jones was nouncer for the spelling bee judges were Mrs. Rosa Gage, Mrs. Mary Lee Wristen and Sandra Alexander.

Audition is set for talent show

First, second and third place prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded for the top three performances in each of two divisions—senior and junior. An audition for the talent show is to be held at 6 p. m. Thursday, April 28, in the primary school auditorium. All amateur talent is urged to attend this audition. All types of acts—singers, dancers, instrumental groups, pantomimists, etc.—are invited. The only requirement is that they be amateur. Anyone wishing to audition is asked to telephone 2854 or 3245 for further information.

Political advertisements are starting to come in. All of which leads up to the story about yesterday afternoon when a pleasant young man came into The Dispatch's backshop where we happened to be "helping out" and politely introduced himself. I was about to reach for another political card when he surprised me by handing me a pack of five cigars of a new brand being introduced locally. That would have been the nicest surprise of the week — except that we gave up cigars for the umpteenth time back in February.

We don't know whether it would be considered one of his official duties or not, but Mayor Harold Lucas caught a three and one-half pound channel cat at the White River Lake Saturday night. That's not the biggest catfish in the world but it does prove those catfish in the new four-city lake are beginning to grow.

Don't tell us there isn't a whale of a lot of library interest here. A checker in one of the super markets stopped us when we were in with a grocery proof yesterday morning to inquire who was elected treasurer of the new library organization the night before, so she would know where to mail her dollar for membership. The new library group already has over 100 paid up members. It just might have 500 in another 30 days.

Dedication—

(Continued From Page One) ger at C. W. Post Boy Scout Camp. The invocation will be by the Rev. Joe Vernon, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The welcome from the city will be by Mayor Harold Lucas and from the Chamber of Commerce by Glen Barley, president. Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the county historical survey committee, will introduce honor guests and recognize donors toward the marker installation program. The donors include Louie Burkes, Postex Mills, planter box; First National Bank, flowers for planter box, and George "Scotty" Samson, the committee's historical marker chairman, who directed the installation of the marker to be dedicated. Following the talks by Mrs. Wood and Judge Smith, Supt. William F. Shiver of the Post schools will talk on "Cooperation in Naming Geographic Sites." Following the marker dedication, visitors will be invited by Mrs. Walter Boren, committee publicity chairman, to view the pictures of the first county officials, which will be hung in the courthouse. Committee chairman Walter Duckworth will invite visitors to drink chuck wagon coffee, and Julian F. Smith, also a member of the committee, will give recognition to the Chamber of Commerce and Boy Scouts. Visitors also will be invited to register in a tent representing the first courthouse. The program will close with a benediction in song by Vernon Scott. This will be the 11th official Texas historical marker to be erected in Garza County. Others are at Postex Mills, Verbena church, old Post Sanitarium, old C. W. Post home, Llano Ranch site, Llano Estacado, Terrace Cemetery gate, old Presbyterian church, a marker to C. W. Post, the town's founder, and a replaced Texas Centennial marker.

Norm Cash blow propels Detroit to opening win

Norman Cash, Garza County's gift to major league baseball, rapped a run-scoring single in the ninth inning that gave Detroit's pennant-minded Tigers a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees in their baseball season opener Tuesday.

Cash's single came off Yankee veteran Whitey Ford before a New York crowd of 40,000, the largest in 14 years for a Yankee opener. Cash had a hot hitting streak in spring training going for him when the regular season opened Tuesday. Through weekend exhibition games at Houston the former Post High School athlete had hit safely in 19 of his last 22 spring training games.

The big first baseman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bandy Cash of Justiceburg, other relatives and a number of friends from Post saw him play at Houston.

HAVE NEW GRANDSON

Marvin Dakan is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vardiman. Mrs. Vardiman and son, Dickie, and Cheryl Martin, spent the Easter weekend in Andrews.

EASTER IN LUBBOCK

Chief of Police Leldon P. Miller and wife and daughters spent Easter in Lubbock with his mother, Mrs. L. P. Miller. All of Mrs. Miller's other children and families were there, including a daughter and son-in-law from California, who will leave soon for Japan, where her son-in-law will be stationed with the Navy.

Top point-getter is on 'doubtful list'

With the Post Antelopes' over-all showing depending on the condition of their top point-getter, Ruben Solis, Coach Glynn Gregg's trackmen are getting ready this week for the District 4AA track and field meet Friday at Frenship (Wolfforth).

Solis hasn't been at top strength since injuring his foot a month ago at Hale Center, and is a long ways yet from being back in top form, Coach Gregg said.

If he can stay on the foot at all Friday, Solis isn't expected to have much trouble winning the half-mile run, since no one else in the district has come close to him this season.

Even if he is able to run the 880, however, it is doubtful if he will be in condition for the other events in which he has won points this season — the 220-yard dash and the mile relay.

"Ruben is confident and says he feels okay, but I don't know about his condition after such a long layoff," the track coach said Tuesday.

Miller Pete Morales, who like Solis hasn't lost this season, is in top shape for the district meet and is expected to breeze to a victory in the mile run.

First and second place winners in the district meet qualify for the regional meet at Lubbock April 22-23.

Both Solis and Morales are defending district champions in the half-mile and mile runs.

Coaches Gregg and Billy Hahn are entering boys in every event in the district meet, where defending champion Denver City is expected to repeat, although the Mustangs aren't as strong as they were last year.

With Solis in top form, Post would be fighting it out with Morton and Slaton for second place in the team standings, with either of the three capable of outscoring Denver City if they can split enough places.
