How Safe Is Your Farm?

From July 30 is being observed over our Nation as National Farm Safety Week.

Two million farmers, and their families or hirelings were hurt in some kind of accident. Were you one of two million? Enough time because of them to have half of the wheat crop country. Because of them, and one half day's food supply every person in this country never produced.

Are you doing to make farm or home a safer place to live? If you can answer the following questions you are doing a great deal: Do you keep guards in place over shafts, belts and chains to prevent being caught in them? Do you block machinery, and off the power before adjusting or unclogging it? Do you keep children away from machinery?

Do you slow your tractor to one-half miles per hour at walk before using brakes, apply brakes smoothly and do you keep tractor speed to one-half miles per hour off-the-road operation?

Is gasoline stored outdoors, in a special isolated building, bright red containers? Are you careful not to surmount animals when approaching?

Do you keep the bull in a pen, and use a staff to lead?

Have cattle been dehorned or bear's tusks cut short? Are small children kept away from pens and barns?

Are hammer and axe heads, handles in good condition? Do you have a definite place every tool when not in use? Do you stroke from behind whetting tools to avoid cutting the hand if the blade moves forward?

Are ladders and steps well and kept in good repair? Are ladder openings and ways handrailed, do hay frames extend through the

Are all floors solid, smooth continuous? Do you avoid storing loose nails overhead?

Are mows adequately lighted with switches located conveniently, or hoops provided for lanterns?

Are all electric circuits equipped with proper fuses? Do you avoid overexposure to sun, and avoid heat collapse by drinking plenty of water and taking plenty of salt?

Do you avoid open fields alone trees in thunderstorms? Have you adequate fire fighting apparatus?

Have you a first aid kit? Do you know first aid?

Oil Interest Still High In This Section

Honolulu Oil corporation and Devonian Oil company No. 1 Payton, section 1421, T7 survey, in northeast Garza county, is rigging up a pumping unit to make a test of the producing ability of the zone at 3,544-64 feet.

That formation has swabbed at the rate of about 45 barrels of oil and about double that amount of water, on the last test reported, before operations were suspended to install the pump.

Kent county also came in for considerable notice, when it was revealed that the lone prospector in that area, Blackwell Oil & Gas company's No. 1 House, in the northeast corner of the county, was running extremely high on an important point.

The Texas company No. 1 Tunnel, section 451, block 1, EL survey, in southeast Lynn county, was digging below 3,977 feet in hard lime.

Philips Petroleum company No. 1-A Bartley, section 1372, block 1, EL survey, in east-central Lynn had progressed under 3,039 feet, and was drilling ahead in unreported formation.

Thomas W. Doswell No. 1 Cantrell, section 29, block 32, EL survey, in northwest Borden county, was reported fishing for stuck tools, on a bottom of 4,451 feet in lime.

Carl Eminger Is Photo Interpreter For AAF In England

An Eighth AAF Bomber Station, England — Determining bombing results of Eighth AAF B-17 Flying Fortresses of this base is the duty of Captain Carl F. Eminger, 31, of Post, photo interpreter, whose reports are used by higher headquarters to evaluate the effectiveness of aerial bombardment toward weakening the Nazi war machine and to determine if it is necessary to press further assaults to completely destroy the function of the target.

Eminger was Soil Conservation representative when he lived in Post before entering the army.

When the big bombers return from attacking vital military targets in Nazi Europe, the aerial cameras, which recorded the actual bombing of the objective, are rushed from the planes and the film is immediately developed.

Capt. Eminger, with special equipment, studies every minute detail of the bomb explosions and their damage to the target.

Preparing necessary information concerning the targets, and briefing the combat crews prior to an air attack, are other duties of Capt. Eminger.

Commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Reserve Corps, Capt. Eminger was called to active duty on February 3, 1942. He taught map and zero photo reading at the Armored Force School, Fort Knox, Ky., for 14 months and then was in an intelligence section of the 10th Armored Division, Fort Benning, Ga. Transferred to the AAF in June 1943, he attended Photo Intelligence School at Harrisburg, Pa., and was subsequently attached to this heavy bombardment group.

General Rains Over County Of Aid To Late Crops and Range Land

Garza county farmers are still wearing satisfied smiles over recent rains which improved farm and range lands. The fall broke a mid-summer drought, and was a lifesaver for late feed crops, the cotton crop and pasture lands. It replenished depleted stock water supplies, filling some tanks so that they ran over the spillways.

Rainfall averaging from 1.38 inches to 2.82 inches fell over Garza county last Thursday and Friday, July 30 and 31. The local office of the Soil Conservation Service received the following reports from various Garza county farmers, at whose farms standard rain gauges have been installed:

Bud Stevens, near Graham, reported 2.46 inches; Lee Reed of Justiceburg, 2.59 inches; S. M. Lewis, of Pleasant Valley reported 2.82 inches; W. F. Norman, whose farm is 8 miles northwest of Post, reported 2.59 inches; C. P. Witt, of Kalgary, 1.38 inches.

The rain received in Post last week was 2.78 inches according to the Double U gauge and Sunday's rain was 52 inches.

Sunday's rain was heavier in the northeast part of the county than in the south part. C. P. Witt, of Kalgary, reported 31 inches and Lee Reed, of Justiceburg, reported 13 inches.

Scout Camping Season Opened At Camp Post

Nearly 100 Boy Scouts from northern South Plains council began the summer camping program at Camp Post, Sunday, according to G. M. Unger, council executive. Others for scouts elsewhere in the council will follow. Enrollments for them still may be made, he said. Each camp lasts one week.

The first is for scouts in Castro, Swisher, Briccoe, Hale, Floyd, Crosby and part of Motley counties. Transportation was provided by the boys, chiefly through a pooling arrangement among parents, Unger reported.

The opening event was an Indian campfire ceremonial to which parents were invited Sunday night at 9:30. Frank Runkles, scoutmaster of troop 8, sponsored by Lubbock American Legion, was in charge.

The swimming program has been cancelled because Two Draw lake, which is used for that purpose, does not contain enough water despite recent rain. If the lake is filled, the swimming program will be resumed.

J. E. Robinson Thanks Voters

I want to take this method of thanking the voters for the grand vote you gave me in my race for County Judge. I felt a little blue Saturday night but after thinking it over and considering that it was the first time I had ever offered myself as a candidate for public office and that it was the eighth time my opponent has been in the race in this county I think I have done well and assure you that I appreciate each one who voted for me and to the ones who did not that there is not the least hard feeling and I also appreciate you as friends.

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LINDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for July 30

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

GIDEON'S FAITHFUL FEW

LESSON TEXT—Judges 7:4-15. GOLDEN TEXT—There is no restraint to the Lord in saving by many or by few.—1 Samuel 14:6.

Man power is said to be the secret of victory. Our nation is concerned about the shortage of man power in critical manufacturing centers. The armed forces are calling for more and more men and women.

That will all make it a little strange to study and teach the lesson for today, for here is the story of a crucial military campaign in which the leader, Gideon, was told by God to cut down his forces. This happened again and again, until he had less than one per cent of his original force, which was one too large, humanly speaking.

What singular thing was going on? God was at work and He did not want Israel to look to the arm of flesh, but to Him.

Three questions are raised and answered in this interesting story:

I. Quantity or Quality? (7:4-7).

The Lord is looking for men to do His work, but He cannot use men who are afraid or careless. This was the lesson Gideon learned, and it applies to our day as well.

When Gideon started out he had 32,000 men (Judg. 7:3). Not willing that they should glory in their own strength and knowing that many of them were cowards at heart, the Lord told Gideon to let those who were afraid, go home. When the mob had left there were only 10,000 left.

How sad it is that so many are "fearful and afraid" (v. 3) when it comes to going into battle for the Lord. They sing cheerily, "Stand up, stand up for Jesus, ye soldiers of the cross; let courage rise with danger," etc.; but when the bombs of Satan begin to fall, or the bugle calls for an advance into the enemy's territory, they have disappeared to places of comfort and safety. What good are such soldiers? The Lord told Gideon to send them home; perhaps the church should do the same.

Then came the second test which appears in our lesson. Those who took the comfortable and easy way to drink (v. 6), were not alert and ready. Down went the number to 300; but these were men who were ready to obey, who were alert and courageous.

The church needs to learn that large numbers are not the answer to her problems. God is interested in numbers, be sure of that, but He is more concerned about quality than quantity. Let us get more people who are truly regenerated into the church, and not just more people.

II. Man's Power or God's Power? (vv. 15-18).

Strange as was the plan for recruiting, the plan of battle was even more unusual. Lights, broken pitchers and trumpet blasts are hardly the accepted weapons of warfare, nor does the method sound like military strategy.

This was no time for questions, for logical arguments, for the usual organization of war, for now God was about to work. He was ready to show His power quite apart from the ability of man, and He had a right to work as He would.

Wise and blessed is the church which knows that there comes a time when the thing to do is to put plans aside and let the Lord work. No one will question the value of organization and proper church "machinery," but we need to ask ourselves whether we have not become so organized that we impede the work of God.

Observe on the other hand that it was "the sword of the Lord and of Gideon"—not just the sword of the Lord. God is all-powerful. We must not hinder His glorious working. But He worked through men, do not forget that! He used Gideon, and He used Gideon's little band.

God's power must accomplish God's work, but that power flows out to the world through yielded and obedient men.

III. Running or Standing? (vv. 19-21).

The enemy "ran and cried and fled." The sword of the Lord and of Gideon had put them to rout. Well may the enemies of God be terror-stricken when He begins to work through His servants.

All this was done "by faith," for we find Gideon's act of turning "to fight the armies of the aliens" listed among the exploits of faith (Heb. 11:34).

Now, see what Gideon's host was doing while the enemy ran (v. 21). "They stood every man in his place." No need for frantic hurry with them, no fear, no excitement.

God works that way. Remember the children of Israel at the Red Sea? The water ahead, and Pharaoh's host to the rear. What to do? "Fear ye not, stand still and see the salvation of the Lord." (Exod. 14:13).

Perhaps the word is coming to us just now—Trust God rather than the power of man! Stand still and see what He will do, for His own glory!

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words. Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it. This title is simply: "Good Soldier." It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army. For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. Mrs. Marvln Truelock, Community Correspondent

The revival of the local Church of Christ began last Friday and will continue for two weeks. The pastor from Slaton is the evangelist. Although there was a rain Sunday afternoon, there were services that evening.

The Methodist revival beginning date has been changed from Monday, August 2nd to August 7th-13th. This date was moved because of a change of plans of the visiting evangelist, Rev. Peterson.

The Barney Walkers left Thursday afternoon to visit her sisters near San Antonio. They expect to be gone a week or ten days.

Mrs. Judy Spurlock and baby of Lubbock are visiting her parents the C. S. Oats.

Everett Samples and two daughters, Lena Mae and Joetta, left early last week to visit relatives in Pampa.

Supt. J. P. Hewlett and sons, John and Wilmeth, came home Friday night from San Benito. They spent the week end at Wilson with Mr. Hewlett's brother.

Robert Sartain returned recently from Arp, Texas and points in Louisiana.

Mrs. John Leake and sons and nephew, Donald Basinger, are visiting the Joe Leakes in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Heywood Basinger and son, J. Martin, are expected home the last of the week from visiting relatives and friends in Oklahoma.

Southland Boys In Service

Pvt. J. D. Donahoo has written two letters from "Somewhere in France." The first one arrived in three weeks; but the other made better time—coming in on the 15th.

Wayne Whited is trying to write home a letter a day from Italy. He says that country is like coming back home after a stay in North Africa. His last few rations have contained candy, and they get good American ice cream at the Red Cross canteen.

Billy Becker writes that he was 50 miles from Port Chicago but the explosion knocked him down.

Mrs. Helen Angle writes that her husband, Leonard Angle in Italy, recently sent her a package which contained a pearl and coral necklace, a pair of officer's spurs, a silk handkerchief and a brown silk cap for their baby. Mrs. Angle is working in a shipyard in California, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lieske are also staying.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES FROM SMALLER TOWNS MAKE BEST STUDENTS

Austin— Small town high school graduates make the best students in junior colleges, Dean John Thomas Davis of John Tarleton Agricultural College told the third annual Junior College Conference at the University of Texas recently.

"Large school systems run students through in mill lots, so that they acquire a facile memory to reproduce needed facts on examinations," he asserted, "but they never learn to think."

Dean Davis cited one chemistry class at John Tarleton which made an exceptionally poor record. A check revealed that every class member came from one of the state's largest cities and all had "flunked out" of A. & M. before entering Tarleton.

"All those students had average or superior I. Q., but they had never learned to use thought processes, and knew nothing of how to study," he said.

THREE OUT OF FOUR WILL CAN

Three out of four women expect to eat fruit and vegetables at home this season, according to a nationwide survey reported by the Office of War Information. Canned peas, tomatoes and asparagus were restored to rationing by OPA after supplies on hand had sold so rapidly, making room for the new pack. Civilian supplies of peas, tomatoes and asparagus are expected to be 20 per cent smaller during the current pack year than during the pack year ended July 1.
 To help pack the current fruit and vegetable crop, 700,000 full-time or 1,400,000 part-time workers must be recruited, the War Manpower Commission says. Because of the dependency of overseas service men on canned fruits and vegetables it is imperative that these foods be made available to them.

Views of Neighboring Editors:

Terry County Herald— And while we are wishful thinking, let's not think German soldiers are going to surrender in droves.
 They are putting up a stiff fight in Western Europe, as well as in Italy. They are giving ground fast on the Eastern front because the Russians have a couple of million troops to about every 150 miles.
 So, play safe and buy another bond.

Texas Spur— Not many hard-headed business men bother themselves about the great purpose of human life.

Halls Banner— If any of you see Mr. Tojo in the next few days tell him for us that as far as we are concerned the Hara Kiri season is officially open. According to the code of Bushido, there is no crime but failure, and the only thing to be done about it is Hara Kiri. And so with the American Navy weaving closer and closer to Japan with the net that will mean the destruction of the Nips, with the Marshalls gone, with the Marianas gone, with Sipan lost, and the American Navy growing stronger and bolder every day, Japanese admirals and generals are getting fired from their jobs, even Tojo himself. Somebody must have failed. And so we hope the Hara Kiri assumes epidemic proportions soon.

Scurry County Times— With this nation engaged in an all-out war of the most intense fury, putting of fair price ceilings on used automobiles by OPA is recognized here as one of the most beneficial things that has happened since tire and gasoline rationing began. After gasoline and tire rationing went into effect, a hue and cry was raised about black market operators, but nothing was said for a season about price of used cars going sky high. Dealers in many cases got to the point where they could sell used cars at 225 per cent of the pre-inflation prices they brought two and three years ago.

Certainly we should have a lid clamped on prices of used automobiles if we are to ration gasoline and tires. We have price ceilings for other merchants of all kinds, and OPA, at long last, recognized that merchants selling used cars should be subject to price regulatory policies, too.

Had we continued letting used cars be sold at enormous profits, we should have also turned loose fifty goods men and grocers and let them "soak the public" on prices of everything from "sow bones" bacon to prints for house dresses and ducking for cotton sacks.

With Ernie Pyle at the Front

Gen. Eddy Commands One Of Best Combat Divisions

Commander Dares Enemy Fire to Be With His Fighting Troops

By Ernie Pyle

IN NORMANDY—One of the favorite generals among the war correspondents is Maj. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commander of the Ninth division.

We like him because he is absolutely honest with us, because he is sort of old-ahoe and easy to talk with, and because we think he is a mighty good general. We have known him in Tunisia and Sicily, and now here in France.

Ernie Pyle

Like his big chief, Lieut. Gen.
 Omar Bradley, General Eddy looks more like a schoolteacher than a soldier. He is a big, tall man but he wears glasses and his eyes have a sort of squint.

He talks like a Middle Westerner, which he is. He still claims Chicago as home, although he has been an army officer for 28 years.
 He was wounded in the last war.
 He is not a glib talker, but he talks well and laughs easily.

In spite of being a professional soldier he despises war, and like any ordinary soul is appalled by the waste and tragedy of it. He wants to win it and get home just as badly as anybody else.

When the general is in the field he lives in a truck that used to be a machine shop. They have fixed it up nicely for him with a bed, a desk, cabinets, and rugs. His orderly is an obliging, dark-skinned sergeant who is a native of Ecuador.

Some of his officers sleep in foxholes, but the general sleeps in his truck. One night, however, while I was with his division, it got too hot even for him. Fragments from shells bursting nearby started hitting the top of the truck, so he got out.

The general has a small mess in a tent separate from the rest of the division staff. This is because he has a good many visiting generals, and since they talk business while they eat they must have some privacy.

Usually he stays at his desk during the morning and makes a tour of regimental and battalion command posts during the afternoon.
 Usually he goes to the front in an unarmed jeep, with another jeep right behind him carrying a machine gunner and rifleman on the alert for snipers. His drivers say when they start out:

"Hold on, for the general doesn't spare the horses when he's traveling."

He carries a portable telephone in his jeep, and if he suddenly wants to talk with any of his units he just stops along the road and plugs into one of the wires that are lying on the ground.

General Eddy especially likes to show up in places where his soldiers wouldn't expect to see him. He knows that it helps the soldiers' spirits to see their commanding general right up at the front where it is hot. So he walks around the front with his long stride, never ducking or appearing to be concerned at all.

One day I rode around with him on one of his tours. At one command post we were sitting on the grass under a tree, looking at maps, with a group of officers around us.

Our own artillery was banging nearby, but nothing was coming our way. Then, like a flash of lightning, here came a shell just over our heads, so low it went right through the treetops, it seemed. It didn't whine, it swished. Everybody, including full colonels, flopped over and began grabbing grass. The shell exploded in the next orchard.

General Eddy didn't move. He just said:

"Why, that was one of our shells."
 And since I had known General Eddy for quite a while, I was bold enough to say:

"General, if that was one of ours all I can say is that this is a hell of a way to run a war. We're fighting toward the north, and that shell was going due south."

The general just laughed.

The general also likes to get up at four o'clock in the morning once in a while and go poking around into message centers and mess halls, giving the boys a start. It was one of these night meanderings that produced his favorite war story.

It was in Africa. They were in a new bivouac. It was raining cats and dogs, and the ground was knee-deep in mud. The tent pegs wouldn't stay in and the pup tents kept coming down. Everybody was wet and miserable. So, late at night the general started out on foot around the area, just because he felt so sorry for all the kids out there.

As he walked he passed a soldier trying to redrive the stake that held down the front of his pup tent. The soldier was using his steel helmet as a hammer, and he was having a bad time of it. Every now and then he would miss the stake with the helmet and would squash mud all over himself. He was cursing and fuming.

The general was using his flashlight, and when the soldier saw the light he called out:

"Hey, Bud, come and hold that light for me, will you?"

So General Eddy obediently squatted down and held the light while the soldier pounded and splattered mud, and they finally got the peg driven. Then, as they got up, the general said:

"Soldier, what's your name?"

The startled soldier gasped, leaned forward and looked closely, then blurted out:

"Goddemighty!"

During the Cherbourg Peninsula campaign I spent nine days with the Ninth Infantry division—the division that cut the peninsula, and one of the three that overwhelmed the great port of Cherbourg.

The Cherbourg campaign is old stuff by now, and you are no longer particularly interested in it. But the Ninth division has been in this war for a long time and will be in it for a long time to come. So I would like to tell you some things about it.

The Ninth is one of our best divisions. It landed in Africa and it fought through Tunisia and Sicily.
 Then it went to England last fall, and trained all winter for the invasion of France. It was one of the American divisions in the invasion that had previous battle experience.

The Ninth did something in this campaign that we haven't always done in the past. It kept tenaciously on the enemy's neck. When the Germans would withdraw a little the Ninth was right on top of them. It never gave them a chance to re-assemble or get their balance.

The Ninth moved so fast it got to be funny. I was based at the division command post, and we struck our tents and moved forward six times in seven days.

That works the daylight out of the boys who take down and put up the tents. I overheard one of the boys saying: "I'd rather be with Ringling Brothers."

Usually a division headquarters is a fairly safe place. But with the Ninth it was different. Something was always happening.

They had a bad shelling one night and lost some personnel. Every now and then snipers would pick off somebody. In all the time I was with them we never had an uninterrupted night's sleep. Our own big guns were all around us and they would fire all night. Usually German planes were over too, droning around in the darkness and making us tense and nervous.

One night I was sitting in a tent with Capt. Lindsey Nelson of Knoxville, when there was a loud explosion, then a shrill whine through the treetops over our heads. But we didn't jump, or hit the dirt. Instead I said:

"I know what that is. That's the rotating band off one of our shells.
 As an old artilleryman I've heard lots of rotating bands. Sometimes they sound like a dog howling.
 There's nothing to be afraid of."

"Sure," said Captain Nelson,
 "that's what it was, a rotating band."

But our harmless rotating band, we found a few minutes later, was a jagged, red-hot, foot-square fragment of steel from a 240-mm. German shell which had landed a hundred yards away from us. It's wonderful to be a wise guy.

High Staff Officers Given Secret Protection

In the early days of the invasion a whole bevy of high-ranking Allied officers came to visit us—Generals Marshall, Eisenhower and Arnold, Admirals King and Ramsey—there was so much to see you just bumped into our generals without even begging pardon.

Being generals, they know they must appear to be brave in order to set an example. Consequently, a high-ranking general never ducks or bats an eye when a shell hits near.

 The military police charged with conducting this glittering array of generals around our bivouacs tried to get them to ride in armored cars.
 But, being generals, they said no, certainly not, an armored car he us, we'll just go in open command cars like anybody else. And that's the way they did go.

"SOAK THE RICH" MEANS YOU

The average citizen had little concern over taxes five years ago.
 "Soak the rich" was the stock method of raising increased public revenue. Even up until two or three years ago, it seemed as if the so-called rich could always be assessed through business or death taxes to raise public revenue.
 But we have had a shock—"soaking the rich" will no longer pay the tax bills. From now on, the tax collector must "soak" everybody.

Labor, for example, has found in deductions from its pay checks, what taxation means. In other words, industry and labor are at least in the same tax boat.

Gross earnings and gross wages mean nothing. Jobs must be created out of net earnings. Homes must be built out of net wages—the money remaining after tax deductions.

The only hope of workmen and industry to increase their net incomes after the war, is to see that government gets out of every non-essential, money-spending activity and tax-exempt government business project that destroys taxpaying private enterprise.

Every postwar program to put government into business competition with its private citizens, takes money out of the pockets of industry and the worker. There is no Santa Claus except the man and the business that dig for the tax collector.

NEW NON-HIGHWAY GAS COUPONS

New, non-highway, serially-numbered gasoline coupons, E-2 and R-2, are now being issued in strips to farmers and other non-highway users. OPA has announced. The new coupons will be good concurrently with the E-1 and R-1 coupons now in circulation. The five-gallon R-2 coupons are printed in blue ink, and the one-gallon E-2 coupons, in black ink. While neither of the new coupons is good for highway use, the E-2 specifically carries the legend—"Not good for obtaining gasoline to propel registered vehicle."
