

GEO. WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY SALE SET FOR FEB. 17 DATE

Post's fifth annual George Washington Birthday Sale was scheduled this week by the Post Chamber of Commerce's retail promotions arm for Saturday, Feb. 17.

Local merchants participating in the sale price many items at such ridiculously low prices that the sale story is always one of the big front page stories in The Dispatch.

The Washington Birthday Sale has grown into a nationwide promotion in many large cities on Washington's birthday anniversary, Feb. 22.

Post's promotion is held on the Saturday in advance of the birthday anniversary.

The Chamber will advertise the overall promotion in both The Dispatch and on radio station KPOS. Participating merchants will advertise their own sale items.

So watch next week's Dispatch for a whole edition full of "I can't tell a lie" sales bargains.

Since last week's column about the crumbling Ameen hotel — once the proud Algerita hotel built by C. W. Post about 1908 and one of the finest in early-day West Texas—Mrs. Orabeth White reported to us she was driving by the side of on the hotel on Avenue I recently when a piece of glass "blew off" one of the second floor windows and hit her pickup truck.

How's that for being a wee bit dangerous?

One of the town's leading boosters told us only yesterday that if Post could get "rid of that eyesore" the whole Main Street business section would look "pretty good."

There appears to be no legal problem as far as the city taking over the property for unpaid taxes, but the legal question has been raised as to whether or not taxpayers' money can be legally used to tear down the old stone structure, if the city moved into the picture.

One experienced builder guessed it would cost $15,000 to tear down the old hotel and haul the heavy stone off the property even with big, modern equipment. Somebody else thought that was "way too high."

One of our troubles is we've all grown so used to that shoddy old stone structure we don't even "see it" anymore. But everybody else who drives through town does—and how.

Sure getting the Ameen hotel down is a tough problem—but it is one that shouldn't be ignored. That old hotel sitting there is just like a big billboard right in the middle of our town which reads: "How's this for decay? And who cares?"

Speaking of more pleasant things, that was a whole of a good Chamber banquet here last Thursday night. We count it as the best ever in the 11 in a row we've attended. One of the reasons was the location—a municipal auditorium, big enough after all these years to hold a banquet without the husbands having to hold their wives in their laps. Another was the speaker—a real jokesmith, who "confessed" to us afterwards that here are "no new jokes left in the world" but they can be worked over so as to be recognizable. Third was the three "outstanding" persons honored for their community contributions in 1967—Vernon Scott, Mrs. Rosemary Chapman and Louie Burkes. (See Postings, page 8)

City election is set for April 8

Two city councilmen are to be elected in the annual city election here Saturday, April 8.

A new state law requires that municipal elections be held on Saturday instead of on Tuesday, as in the past.

Post city councilmen whose terms are expiring are Arnold Parrish and Robert Cox. Parrish, who has indicated that he will not be a candidate for re-election, is completing his second term on the council.

Cox was appointed to the council last year to fill the vacancy created by the death of Councilman Jess Rogers, and will be seeking his first elective term.

March 6 is the filing deadline for candidates for the two council positions.

TV cable system franchise sought

The Post TV Cable Company's request for a franchise here was made to the city council Monday night by Jay Huckabee of Snyder, with the council delaying action on the request until after examining a copy of the franchise application at a special meeting at 1 p. m. Tuesday.

Huckabee told the council at its Monday night meeting that his company plans to install a "first class" TV cable system in Post if the franchise is granted.

He said the system would use existing utility company facilities where possible and would bring in for TV viewers a Dallas and a Fort Worth station in addition to the Lubbock stations. Later on, he said, a second Dallas station would be brought in via the cable.

The system would also include 24-hour weather information and two channels of FM music, Huckabee said.

If the council grants the franchise Tuesday, it will be the second they have granted here. One franchise went to Dave Sanford and Leo Holmes several months ago, then was reassigned to Clearview of Post by the city council at its January meeting.

Remodeling completed

Library addition for children use

The newly remodeled room addition to the Post Public Library will be converted immediately into a children's department.

Library trustees met Tuesday afternoon and authorized Trustee David Newby to purchase sufficient new shelving to move all the easy and junior books from the main library room into the former Chamber of Commerce office.

The trustees recently authorized Ben Owen to remodel the former Chamber office with new lighting, new tile floor, a dropped ceiling, and freshly painted walls at a cost

Human relations value emphasized by speaker

Approximately 300 persons, the largest crowd ever to attend a Chamber of Commerce banquet here, gathered in the new Community Auditorium last Thursday night to hear a talk by Dr. Charles W. Jarvis of San Marcos, and to applaud the presentation of three "outstanding" awards.

The crowd also saw new Chamber president Ansil O'Neal inducted into office to succeed Vernon Scott; four new directors introduced, along with holdover and outgoing directors, and plaques awarded by the City of Post to two pioneer citizens who recently retired from the board of the White River Municipal Water District.

The "Outstanding Man" award for 1967 was presented to outgoing Chamber president Vernon Scott, and identical "Outstanding Woman" awards for 1968 were presented Mrs. Rosemary Chapman and Mrs. Maxine Marks. The women's plaques were presented by the Rev. George L. Miller, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, with Louie Burkes presenting Scott's.

TOM BOUCHIER and Dr. A. C. Surman were the recipients of the City of Post plaques presented for their service on the water board, with City Councilman Bob Collier making the presentation.

"Accent on Tomorrow Through Action Today" was the theme of the banquet. Halfway into the huge hall, a sign stretching the width of the building read: "Thanks for Making This a Community Center." The Chamber banquet was the first public event in the new auditorium, which was acquired shortly before the end of 1967 as the culmination of what had been the Chamber's No. 1 project of 1967.

Dr. Jarvis, who is a dentist, kept the crowd in an uproar with jokes but took time out between funny stories to urge his listeners to "be an ambassador for your town."

"NO ONE is worried about what your committees will do — it's what you individuals do that counts," Dr. Jarvis said.

"The small towns are being forgotten politically... they've got to fight for their existence," the speaker continued.

"I'm not going to talk to you about your problems — you know you have them. But I am going to talk to you about the importance of getting along with people. Public relations... human relations... getting along with your fellowmen should be the No. 1 problem in your life."

"You will have to use every faculty at your command to get along with people... ask yourself, 'What on earth am I doing for Heaven's sake?'"

IN PRESENTING the "outstanding" awards, the Rev. Mr. Miller called attention to Mrs. Chapman's work in helping establish a public library here; to Mrs. Marks' efforts as chairman of the fine arts committee of the Chamber of Commerce and in helping inaugurate a program for a community medical center. Mr. Burkes pointed to Scott's record as Chamber president during 1967, particularly his efforts toward the acquisition of the Community Auditorium.

In turning over the Chamber presidency to O'Neal, Scott praised the position of volunteer librarians.

Uranium test drilling may start here soon

The Humble Oil and Refining Company is expected to do some test hole drilling for uranium sometime in the near future on mineral leases they hold 12 miles or so northwest of Post.

This is the latest development in the county's uranium outlook.

Geologists representing a number of firms interested in uranium have been in the county in recent weeks and most promised "to be back" for a more thorough look later.

Humble has held some combined oil and mineral leases north of Post for some time due to its oil activities and a number of months ago added three mineral leases in that immediate area to form some sort of a lease block.

The oil firm is not talking openly of putting down test holes, but trade reports indicate that they can be expected—without any fanfare whatsoever—any time now.

When it comes off this will be the first below surface testing for uranium ever in Garza County. It's something deemed essential by those watching the local uranium picture closely.

There are other reports that Kerr-McGee Corporation of Oklahoma City, which leased a considerable uranium block in northeastern Lynn County early last summer, has now secured a block of other unrecorded mineral leases in the "canyon country" of southern Lubbock County.

A small item turned up in Lubbock's Avalanche-Journal recently in coverage of a city council meeting that some firm was seeking a mineral lease on part of Lubbock's municipal airport.

A mineral lease means only one thing now—uranium interest.

With government contracts for uranium running out in 1970, a big uranium push is on all over the Southwest, where most of the nation's uranium deposits are believed to be located.

The Pioneer Natural Gas Co. which provides Post with its gas fuel, is diversifying into uranium and has a major interest in a big uranium ore deposit which they announced last week as lying south of San Antonio.

J. B. Potts heads foundation board

J. B. Potts has been elected as chairman of the board of directors of the Post Industrial Foundation for 1968. He succeeds Bryan J. Williams in the post.

The election of officers came at a Monday afternoon board meeting at which an applicant was interviewed, but not hired, for the vacant position of executive vice president of the foundation, its only salaried position.

Potts served as vice chairman of the foundation board in 1967.

Victor Hudman was elected vice chairman of the board for 1968 and Harold Lucas was reelected treasurer.

Directors will have a called meeting Thursday, Feb. 15.

5 Garza races draw 14 candidates here

Garza County's 1968 political campaign picture appeared about as jumbled today as the crowded race for the Texas gubernatorial or four more candidates filed Monday, just before the deadline, to bring the field to 14 here for the three county and two county commissioner positions.

Pat N. Walker, former county attorney and county judge, filed on Monday for the county attorney's race against incumbent Preston Poole.

The three other new candidates all jumped into county commissioner races — with A. C. Cash, local implement dealer and farmer, and J. F. Barron, Close City rancher and farmer, both in Precinct 1 and Cecil Foster Sr., local radiator shop owner, for Precinct 3.

That brings the breakdown of the field as follows:

Sheriff: L. E. (Fay) Claborn Jr., incumbent, J. A. (Jimmy) Hollemand and Nathan Mears.

Incumbent T. H. Tipton is being opposed for county tax assessor-collector by V. L. (Punk) Peel.

For county attorney: Preston Poole, incumbent, vs. Pat N. Walker.

Precinct 1 Commissioner: Paul H. Jones, incumbent; Adrian O. Cook, A. C. Cash and J. F. Barron.

Precinct 3 Commissioner: Ben Sanchez, incumbent; Russell Wilks Jr., and Cecil Foster Sr.

The final county registration figure climbed over the 2,500 mark late last Wednesday with the official count now standing at 2,513.

County Tax Collector Tipton stuck to his office until almost midnight last Wednesday through the final hours before the deadline to sign any last minute voter registrants.

But it was a lonely vigil. The last of the voters left the office at 6:30 p. m., 90 minutes after the regular closing time.

As the next and essential financial step in the campaign, Democratic County Chairman N. C. Outlaw announced that the party's executive committee will meet in his office at 2 p. m. Monday to set the assessments of the candidates for the May primary election.

THE COUNCIL authorized the advertising for bids on the new fire truck, tractor and shredder and pickup after being told by the city manager that provision for the purchase of the equipment is included in the current city budget.

Estimated costs of the new equipment is $24,500 for the fire truck, $3,600 for the tractor and shredder, and $2,000 for the pickup.

In its discussion with the temporary community auditorium board, the city approved the board's recommendations on auditorium rental fees, which are $15 for one to 25 persons, $25 for 26 to 50 persons, and $50 for above

Bailey elected to Jaycee post

Joe Bailey of Post was elected as a state director at the Area I winter meeting of Texas Jaycees held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Amarillo.

Frank Blanton of Post, who is a present state director, was an unsuccessful candidate for area vice president at the Amarillo meeting, losing the election to Ronald Wright of Borger.

Blanton conducted a Records and Recognition clinic at the area meeting, and Bailey and Don Ammons of Post served on judging committees.

State Jaycee President Art Herrera was the keynote speaker at Sunday's session.

Jaycees and wives attending from Post were Blanton and Messrs. and Mrs. Ronnie Morris, Joe Bailey, Warren Haskway, Tommy Young and Don Ammons.

Postex Mills program dedicates new marker

Charles A. Gibson of Greenville, S. C., area manager for the Egwin Sheeting Division of Burlington Industries, Inc., told members of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee at their annual appreciation meeting Tuesday morning that he was "pleased to see the attention you are paying to individuals."

"Things don't just happen — they are made to happen by people," Gibson said. "Buildings, historical markers, and so forth, remain, but the people who make these things happen need to be appreciated while they are with us."

THE OCCASION was also the dedication of the Postex Mills historical marker, which has been erected on South Avenue F just north of the mills' community room.

Louie Burkes, Postex plant manager, accepted the marker "on behalf of each of Postex's more than 500 employees." The marker presentation was made by County Judge J. E. Parker, co-chairman of the county historical survey committee.

Gibson also said in his talk that

They helped make dreams come true

One of the highlights of last Thursday's highly successful Post Chamber of Commerce banquet was the presentation of the "Outstanding Man" and "Outstanding Woman" awards, with two recipients, instead of one, being selected for the woman's honor.

Probably at no other time in the history of the awards have they been more richly deserved by the community-spirited persons who received them than they were Thursday night.

Singled out for the honors were Vernon Scott, 1967 president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Rosemary Chapman and Mrs. Maxine Marks.

All three have taken leading roles in helping the community "make dreams come true."

Scott, whose enthusiasm throughout 1967 as president of the Chamber of Commerce helped make that organization's image considerably taller, was instrumental in helping make the dream of a community center come through. Appropriately enough, the banquet at which he was presented his well-deserved award was held at the first public event in the newly-acquired community auditorium.

Mrs. Chapman was selected as one of the two outstanding women in recognition of her untiring efforts in helping Post realize the dream of a public library, and in recognition of the long hours she has devoted to the library as volunteer librarian and to the additional duties of "cataloguer of books."

The outstanding woman honor presented Mrs. Marks was in recognition of her work on a number of community betterment projects, including the raising of funds for a "starter" toward restoration of the old Post City Sanitarium as a county museum, and her outstanding work toward establishment of a medical center here for the indigent, which is another worthwhile community dream about to be realized.

One could go on and on about all three of these Post citizens and their contributions to their community's betterment, but, in the words of one much wiser than he who writes these lines, "there has to be a stopping place somewhere." So, we'll stop with the achievements that earned the trio the "outstanding" awards for 1967. Their efforts not only have made Post a better community in which to live, but also have made the Chamber of Commerce a stronger organization.

They've kept pace with the times

The 6,038,508 members of the Boy Scouts of America are in the midst of their annual observance of Boy Scout Week, which this year is Feb. 7-13.

The Dispatch joins the nation in a salute to these Boy Scouts, who "have kept pace with the times" and "played an indispensable part in the lives of both your members and the nation you serve."

More especially, The Dispatch salutes the local Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts and their dedicated volunteer leaders. The Post community feels especially close to the Boy Scout program through the location here of Camp Post, the South Plains Council's camp, which annually serves hundreds of Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and their adult leaders from over the 20-county council area.

For 34 years, the Boy Scouts of America have shown the world the finest meaning of honor, integrity, loyalty, and patriotism. And they have done it through example, not preaching, by deeds, not words.

They have kept pace with the times, but they have not lost faith in our time-honored traditions.

Since 1918, they have played an indispensable part in the lives of their members and the nation they serve.

Their helping hands have stopped at no barriers.

Our nation is greater for the Boy Scouts' role in its history. And generations of its men and women are physically and morally stronger for their part in the Boy Scouts' great and growing movement.

Since its founding 58 years ago today (Thursday), the Boy Scouts of America has ended each year with a gain in membership. Since 1910, there have been over 44 million boys and leaders identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

No other youth program has had such a beneficial impact on the nation. May the program continue to grow.

1967 was good year for the library

Post people who like to read were able to "double their pleasure, double their fun" during 1967 through the growth of the Post Public Library.

According to figures in Rosemary Chapman's "Library-Lighting Post" column in today's Dispatch, 1967 was a good year for the library. "It doubled our books, doubled our circulation, and more than doubled our membership," Mrs. Chapman writes.

In February of 1967, the library had 3,000 books, today it has 6,000. Books are being checked out this February at the rate of 150 a week as compared to 75 a week one year ago. Library membership has grown from 500 one year ago to 1,152 today.

These figures are indeed gratifying to everyone who had anything to do with the establishment of the library. The figures no doubt are also gratifying to the "sponsors" of the community, who argued from the start that Post had no need of a public library because "people don't read, much or more."

There are a few Eagles and Advertisers and even a Pelican.

It would be interesting to know why some names were selected. For example, consider the Mahomet (Ill.) Sucker State, and Jefferson (Tex.) Jimplicite, and Lawrence, Neb., has a Locomotive; Muncie, Pa., a Luminary, and in Central City, it's the Tommy Knacker.

In Hayden, Ky., folks read the Thousandsticks, and in Westboro, Mass., the Chronotype. We'd feel rather shy about rushing into a crowded room, note pad in hand, and state that we were representing the Oblong Oracle, the Peotone Vidette, the Barnesville Whetstone, Edgerton Earth, Sardinia Censor, Snow Hill Laconic—but someone does.

"There must have been a day when selecting the newspaper name was but a matter of adding a letter or two to that of the town. WHEN THE groundhog came out of his hole last Friday, he saw his shadow just about everywhere he chose to look, and that means six more weeks of winter weather—if there is anything to the old groundhog legend. The weatherman says there isn't... he forecast, the same day, a warming trend and continued fair skies.

Meanwhile, our cat Blackie is making use of the Post Public Library to "bone up" on Washington and Lincoln, whose birthdays are this month.

SOME OF THE weekly newspapers in Texas are ingeniously named. I've observed in keeping up with the three-dozen or so "exchanges" that we receive every week, and in checking weekly newspaper directories to learn the names of those with whom we do not exchange.

Of all the weekly newspapers in Texas, there is only one other Dispatch besides ours, and it's at Lampasas. Coming close is the Burleson Dispatch.

Two area weekly papers with unusual names are the Hesperian at Floydada and the Slatonite at Slaton. Elsewhere in the state, there is the Big Lake Wildcat, Carrizo Springs Javelin, Schluenberg Sucker, Hart Beat, Eagle Lake Headlight, Ferris Wheel, Madisconville Meteor, Mount Vernon Optics Herald, Riesel Rustler, Port Lavaca Wave and Jasper News-Boy.

Another newspaperman who has an interest along these lines is Jim (Cornwall) publisher of the Murray (Tenn.) Eagle, who has done a good bit of "surveying" nationally on newspaper names. He writes as follows:

"Someone spent time contacting a newspaper name that meant something, e. g. Venice Gondolier in Florida, the Lumber City Log in Georgia, the Oakland (Iowa) Acorn, and the Lexington (Mass.) Minute Man.

"There are, of course, some very unusual ones like the Putnam Patriot, the Granite Peal, the East Greenwich Pendulum, the Hereford Brand, the Nome Nugget, the Tombstone Epitaph, DuQueen Bee, Yellville Mountain Echo, Steamboat Spruce Pilot, Keys Keynoter and Beeville Bee-Picayune.

Democrat is a popular name mostly in the South. Arkansas alone has 18 newspapers by that name, but the champion is probably in Leno, Mo., where the title is the Unaffiliated Democrat. The Cecil (Md.) Democrat is opposed by — not Republican, but Cecil Whig.

In Bushy Artz, there's a Dewey Gulch Gazette, and Birmingham, Mich., an Eccentric. Clinton Mo., has the Eye, and St. Paul, Neb., a Phonograph.

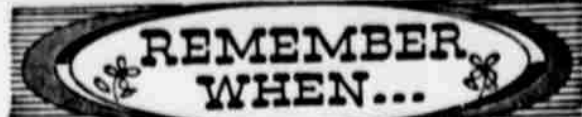

There are a few Eagles and Advertisers and even a Pelican.

It would be interesting to know why some names were selected. For example, consider the Mahomet (Ill.) Sucker State, and Jefferson (Tex.) Jimplicite, and Lawrence, Neb., has a Locomotive; Muncie, Pa., a Luminary, and in Central City, it's the Tommy Knacker.

Library LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

It's been three weeks since I've had a column in the paper so I'm going to assume that I've lost all 12 of my fans and start from scratch. (Fans are so fickle — here today, gone tomorrow.)

Let's begin with the library hours. Will everyone who can't remember them please cut them out and place them in a convenient spot for reference.

Monday: 9 a. m. - 2:30 p. m.
 Tuesday: 7:30 p. m.
 Wednesday: 9:12 a. m. - 2:30 p. m.
 Thursday: 7:30 p. m.
 Friday: 9:12 a. m.
 Saturday: 9 - 12 a. m.

Next, let's look at Best Sellers. As of Jan. 26, Time Magazine lists them this way:

1. The Confessions of Nat Turner, Styron
2. Topaz-Uris
3. The Gabriel Hounds-Stewart
4. The Exhibitionist-Suttin
5. Christy-Marshall
6. The Instrument-O'Hara
7. The Chosen-Potak
8. Where Eagles Dare-MacLean
9. Rosemary's Baby-Levin
10. The President's Plane is Missing-Serling

If you've been wanting to read any of these, we have all but number four.

Our current volunteers at the library are Larry Barton, Pauline Basquez, Jo Cash, Louise McCrary, Barbara McKeown, Marilyn Miller, Ruth Ann Newby, Joy Parker and Pee Wee Pierce. These people are the ones who keep our library running week after week and we're fortunate to have such a fine group.

1967 was a good year for the Post Library. We doubled our books, doubled our circulation, and more than doubled our membership.

Last February we had 3,000 books. Today we have 6,000.

Last February we were checking out 75 books per week. This February we're checking out 150 books per week.

Last February we had 500 "card carrying" members. Today we have 1,152.

The future looks bright. Often "Do-It-Yourself" projects involving a vast amount of time and effort and a large number of people start with a bang and end with a fizzle. Ours hasn't. We're growing steadily and should continue to do so.

Ben Owen completed the work on the new room at the library — it looks great! The ceiling was lowered and new lights put in. A wall was knocked out to provide more space, and a connecting door was installed between the new room and the older part of the library. This was all finished off with a brand new coat of shiny white paint and, thanks to the City Library Board which financed the job, we now have a special section for the "easy" and "junior" book collections.

Ben offered to build us a display rack without charge if he Torino...for people who know there's more to a performance car than painted stripes.

1968 Torino GT Fastback (Top)
 1968 Torino GT Hardtop (Bottom)

Anyone can paint stripes on a car. Ford's performance champs earn their stripes the hard way. Torino swept the first five places in the Riverside 500. It's the Pace Car for the Indy 500. It's the hottest-selling new car in the country! Fairlane took first place in its class for braking and for economy in the Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials—in fact, Ford Motor Company cars won more classes than all other manufacturers combined! If it's performance you want, ride with a winner! See the man with Better Ideas... your Ford Dealer.

FACTS ABOUT THE 1968 TORINO

When Torino takes the first five spots in the Riverside 500, first time out, you know it's tough! These cars, of course, were driven by professionals and were modified to meet the special demands of competition. But the same kind of basic durability and maneuverability are built into every Torino we make. So if you want stripes, get 'em on the car that gives them meaning! Choose from three GT models—fastback, hardtop and convertible. All with a 289-cu. in. V-8, wall-to-wall carpeting, all-vinyl interiors, styled steel wheels and wide-ovals. Or choose the regular hardtop or 4-door sedan. Like the GT's, they've got a new, longer, 116 in. wheelbase for smoother riding comfort, more room and more trunk space. You can even have a Torino Squire wagon, with 2-way Magic Doorgate. See America's hottest newcomer at your Ford Dealer's soon!

Effective Sunday, Feb. 11, the Commonwealth Theaters with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., will take over operation of the Tower Theatre here for a year.

Theater Manager John Hopkins said the local theater will continue to be operated on weekends only.

Hopkins said Commonwealth is taking over operation — not ownership — of the 74 movie theaters of the Frontier theater chain located in New Mexico and Texas for a year.

Owner of the Frontier theater chain died several months ago.

Commonwealth, a well established movie chain in the Midwest, will operate the Frontier theaters from a branch office in Dallas under the name, Commonwealth Frontier Theaters, Inc.

Shower is held in Reddy Room

Mrs. L. D. Lowe was complimented with a layette shower recently in the Reddy Room with Mrs. Robert Mock, cousin of the honoree registering the 30 guests.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lowe's mother-in-law, Mrs. Mittie Lowe, and her sister-in-law, Miss Sally Lowe, of Woodrow.

Mrs. R. E. Shedd and Mrs. Gilbert Blodgett served spiced tea and pink and white filled cookies from a table laid with white lace over pink and centered with a miniature house and miniature dolls.

Hostesses, who presented the honoree with a white and orchid corsage, an electric clock and a painting, were:

Mmes. Tom Johnson, Blodgett, Shedd, Verna Harrison, Liberty Anthony, Bess Gallin, Mattie Hays, Della Davis

Southland home scene of shower

Mrs. Dennis McGehee, a recent bride, was honored with a shower last Saturday in the home of Mrs. M. A. Dunn of Southland.

The serving table was laid with a white net cloth over orchid and centered with an arrangement of different shades of orchid flowers and white candies. Orchid colored punch and filled cookies were served.

Hostesses, who presented the honoree with a white and orchid corsage, an electric clock and a painting, were:

Mmes. Dunn, San Siewert, F. W. Callaway, Herman Dabbs, James Mason, Robert Lee Hagler, Jack Myers, Jerry Meicher, Delbert Abshire, Edmund Wilke and Roper.

Approximately 40 guests called.

The only response I've heard from Mr. C's column concerning the problems of the Ameen Hotel were from a bright young man about town who said he had given it a lot of thought and the only answer he had come up with was three Molotov cocktails.

I immediately volunteered for one. Now all we need is two other takers and that problem will be solved. It will be my luck to have that old eyegore and health hazard catch on fire soon and I'll be suspected of arson!

Antoher of our bright young men about town told us at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last week that 3,108 cars cross our county line per day on Hwy. 84, and a pitch was made to halt as many tourists as possible during the vacation season.

Maybe I need to make two Molotov cocktails!

Hey, I just had a brilliant thought. Remember several years ago when we had the Christmas parades and decorated all the windows of empty buildings in town with Christmas scenes and greetings. I heard lots of good things from in and out-of-town people on that successful project.

How about the Chamber using the same angle for the summer months depicting our tourist attractions. We could advertise our Postex Mills, our sextuple oil wells, our summer baseball program, our park and swimming pool and our rodeo. If these were done tastefully they could remain up all summer and present a pleasant sight to the tourists who stop for gas, food, lodging and shopping.

I am not talking about "Welcome Tourist" signs painted on windows. UGH!

One good window to cover up would be the J & L Cafe — long defunct. Last time I looked in that window I still saw bottles of cat-sap and what have you on the counter in there. Maybe before you cover it up our city health officer might take a look-see and declare it a health hazard. One can only imagine the cockroaches and rodents crawling around in there. Also it might be a good idea to take the sign down so we don't confuse the tourists that might stop there to eat.

Well, I'm just full of ideas, aren't I? Wonder if anyone will pick up the ball and go, go, go. It's suck it to 'em time!

I just happened to be out on the street when the owner came out of the store so I stopped to congratulate him on having such a well-trained dog. The man's name was Maxey Saunders and the dog's name was Taylor. Mr. Saunders acted like it was quite easy to train a dog to be so well behaved.

ON THE WAY UP

Four years out of college . . . assistant to a department head . . . the junior executive considered most likely to succeed.

Fifteen years from now—or twenty—do you think he'll be president of the company?

We haven't the slightest idea. All we know is that, right now, he's on the way up.

Many things determine a man's potential for positions of responsibility and trust; one of them is character.

Character isn't easy to define—it is much easier to recognize.

This man goes to church every Sunday . . . not because he is seeking character . . . but because he is seeking God.

And the people who know him best figure that is one of the clearest marks of his character.

PURINA 20% RANGE CHECKERS TOP 41% PROTEIN CAKE

Many cows are fed a 41% protein cottonseed cake. Yet, a Purina Research test showed that cows daily fed 2½ pounds of Purina 20% Range Checkers averaged calves 19 pounds heavier at weaning than cows on 2½ pounds of 41% cottonseed cake.

Cows may not efficiently utilize 41% protein in their diet. It may be costing you extra money to give it to them. Purina Research has proved that a 20% protein ration blended properly with other ingredients can do a better job of helping cows produce strong calves.

Don't underestimate protein, but don't overestimate it either. Get the right balance with phosphorus fortified Purina Range Checkers at our store with the Checkerboard sign.

Legends about third-floor room of house in Mesquite still circulate

MESQUITE, Tex. — Residents of this Dallas County town are inclined to throw a mantle of mystery about the Stephen Decatur Lawrence Home. But the residents only laugh at such stories.

The mystery is in the construction of the house, which has one small room forming, in effect, a third floor. Locally it is known as the watch tower.

The tower has given rise to many legends, among the more prominent being one that the Jesse James gang used it for a lookout.

But the three sisters who reside there, Opal, Garnet and Onyx (now Mrs. Fowler Summers), maintain that the famous outlaw, Jesse James, never set foot on the Lawrence place, although the Mesquite area at one time was a hangout for some lawless people.

"Papa just built that tower so he could sit up there and look over the countryside," said Opal in an interview with Bill Sloan of the Dallas Times-Herald. "You can see for miles from up there."

Of the lawless ones, said Opal, "Sam Bass robbed a train near here and Belle Starr was born over near Scyene. Jesse came to town all right, but never to this house."

Lawrence believed in building a house to endure. The roof of the house lasted 85 years and only recently was replaced. The remainder of the house is as sound as when it was built in 1878.

Stephen Lawrence and his wife Louisa had eight children, three sons and five daughters. All the girls were named for precious stones — Opal, Onyx, Garnet, Pearl and Ruby.

A brother, Hugh, and Ruby live nearby. Pearl lives in Dallas.

"Our father was born in a log cabin about three miles east of here on what is now Highway 80," says Opal Lawrence. That was in 1853.

"His mother gave him the 640 acres where he built this house when he was 21," recalled Mrs. Summers. "Grandpa came here in a covered wagon from Maryland and they say he only had a dollar and something in his pocket when he got here."

In later years, the Lawrence home was the scene of many parties. When Lawrence was head of the local volunteer fire department, he held an annual dinner for the firemen and their families under the trees on the lawn.

"Nobody in the county knew how to throw a party better than the Lawrences," said one of the town's residents who went to some of them.

Such festivities are rare these days, however. Thievery and vandalism caused the sisters to declare the home off limits to anyone except members of the immediate family.

The sisters still keep the house and grounds in immaculate condition. They mow the lawn and raise many flowers.

They cook and keep house and watch suburbia grow up around them.

Three seniors are in this week's spotlight

By Irene Saldivar
Nedra Childs, Pat Bullard and Donnie Blacklock are members of the senior class anticipating graduation in the spring.

Angelo State College in San Angelo is the destination of Nedra Childs next year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Childs.

During her high school years, Nedra has been a member of FHA for three years, FTA one year, Commercial Club one year, Library Club one year, and pep squad for two years. She has served as an FHA officer for two years and is secretary of the senior class.

Her junior year, she was cheerleader, a cast member of the junior play, and an FHA sweetheart.

Pat, who has attended Post all 12 years, says that she has enjoyed her senior year most. The thing she says will be the highlight of her school years is yet to come — her graduation! After graduation, Pat plans to work.

Being an active FFA member, DONNIE BLACKLOCK feels that going to Fort Worth and Dallas on FFA trips are among the things he will remember most about high school, along with the Junior-Senior banquet.

Donnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blacklock, has been a member of the Library Club for one year, FFA four years and is photographer and business manager for the annual year. Last year he was chosen for Star Chapter Farmer in FFA and now holds the office of sentinel for the club.

In the fall, Donnie plans to begin his college work at South Plains College.

Big Ben Bates, Indiana cowboy, big winner in Denver's National Rodeo

DENVER—Big Ben Bates weighs 225 pounds, and his 6 foot, 6 inch frame affords him a lot of feeling for Denver's National Western Rodeo.

It might have been the comfort of competing in an outdoor coliseum, or the roaring approval of the large crowds, but most likely it was the money.

Bates, 34, of Leroy, Ind., won $5,319 for just 8.2 seconds of skillful steer wrestling action, causing one veteran newsmen to observe that the paycheck "beats union scale." Bates downed one steer in 4.5 seconds, another in 3.7, to win the event.

Nine other contestants—of the 385 entered—also climbed into the Mile High City's rarified rodeo payoff, each winning more than $2,000 during the 19 performances.

White Bates was the big money winner, the all-around cowboy (competing in two or more events) was Dave Hart, Pocatello, Idaho. He pocketed $3,063 in steer wrestling and saddle bronc riding.

It wasn't easy to win at Denver, for all the wolves were gathered, seeking portions of $72,120 in prize money. Heading the pack were five of the six reigning national event champions, plus another 16 former national titleholders.

And in the north country, Madison, Wis., this year joined the list of large winter rodeos approved by the Rodeo Cowboys Association. Some 129 cowboys sought shares over the weekend of the $11,940 in prize money, with Wayne Spencer, Stroud, Okla., snaring the all-around title and $988 in calf roping and steer wrestling.

Professional rodeo's Larry Mahan, 24, Brooks, Ore., is again off to a furious start in the race for the national all-around cowboy title. In 1967, Mahan became the first cowboy to top $50,000 in arena winnings in a single year. He was the 1966 and 1967 all-around champion, and so far this year has won $4,768. Paul Mayo, 25, Grinnell, Ia., the 1966 bareback bronc riding king, is second with $3,373.

Mansfield girl winner of barrel racing event

FORT WORTH — Nelda Patton of Mansfield, with an aggregate 73.9 seconds, was declared the 1968 stock show rodeo barrel race winner Sunday even before the last 15 girls competed in the night performance.

Miss Patton's time was far enough ahead to insure her victory. Mildred Farris of Addington, Okla., was second with 74.5.

Sissy Thomas of Bryan, 1967 winner, finished third.

★★ SALUTING ★★ THOMAS A. EDISON ★★★★★★ -BORN FEBRUARY 11, 1847-

When Thomas Edison, the great American inventor, discovered the electric light almost a century ago, he opened the way for one vital portion of America's 19th century industrial revolution.

Electric power today is not only a vital part of our industrial way of life but our farm way of life as well. As we celebrate National Electric Week next week, Lyntegar Electric Co-op points to its achievements in the ten-county West Texas area it serves.

Today it has approximately 14,000 connections with approximately 5,600 members in Hockley, Lubbock, Garza, Terry, Lynn, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, Borden and Martin counties.

Operating approximately 5,000 miles of lines, Lyntegar constantly is extending additional service into its areas. Some 6,300 irrigation wells are being served at this time, with new ones added throughout the area as the demand is made. Lyntegar currently has an approximate $12,000,000 investment in its electric system.

Herman Dabbs is the director representing an area which includes the Garza County operating area.

Need to import water stressed

J. B. Potts, who several weeks ago toured California's multi-billion dollar water transportation project, showed some 80 colored slides of the trip before Post Rotarians at their Tuesday luncheon in City Hall.

The banker emphasized in a talk prior to showing the slides that "if we work hard we might be able to import water into West Texas by 1984."

He called attention to Dr. Taylor's recent speech at Texas Tech in which the noted atomic scientist predicted that power costs of lifting water up into West Texas from the Mississippi River would be greatly reduced by the time the project was ready for actual importation years from now.

Potts also emphasized that President Johnson's current budget contains over $300,000 for continuing the study of a water import project for West Texas and New Mexico.

Mustangs maul Antelopes in return battle

Guilty of cold shooting and numerous turnovers, the Post Antelopes lost to the Denver City Mustangs, 76 to 60, last Friday night in a District 4AA game at Denver City.

The Mustangs built up a 16-10 first quarter lead Friday night, were ahead 32-23 at halftime and 47-35 at the end of the third quarter.

Q. I have just reinstated my Government Life Insurance policy and don't want it to lapse again. How may I use my dividends to keep my insurance from lapsing?
 A. You have two options, your credit option and your premium option. If you choose to use your credit, notify VA before your next dividend is due and ask them to hold your dividend as a credit against a lapse of premium payment. The VA will hold your dividend to your credit, paying interest until it is used. Then, if your premium is not paid at the end of the 31-day grace period, enough money will be withdrawn from your credit to pay your premium. If you ask the VA to exercise your premium option, your dividend will be converted to pay your premiums in advance as far as possible. You will be billed for premiums again at least one month in advance of your next premium date.

Q. As I understand it, G. I. life insurance has four options available under which the proceeds may be paid upon the death of the insured. Option one is a lump sum payment. Does this mean that the beneficiary must really take the proceeds in a lump sum?
 A. No. This option makes the lump sum available if the beneficiary desires it. Primarily, it makes the proceeds entirely flexible for the beneficiary who may choose to take the entire amount in a lump sum, take part of it in a lump sum and the balance in monthly installments, or takes the entire amount in monthly installments. If the insured makes option one available to the beneficiary, all four options—including life annuities—become available to the beneficiary at the time of the policyholder's death.
