

Hopkins wins over Lucas by 30 votes in mayor's race Tuesday

Swearing-in is set for Friday

The third time proved a charm Tuesday for John Hopkins, with the theater manager scoring an upset win in the mayor's race over the incumbent, Harold Lucas.

Hopkins received 264 votes to Lucas' 234, with a total of 507 votes cast.

Hopkins had lost two previous mayor races to Lucas, in 1963 and 1965.

Three city councilmen, Bob Collier, Lewis C. Herron and D. C. (Billy) Hill Jr. were re-elected without opposition—except for a smattering of write-in votes.

In last Saturday's school trustee election, three trustees also were elected without opposition, Giles Dalby going on the board as a new member and Russell Wilks Jr. and Earl Chapman being re-elected.

The 507 votes cast in the city election was 33 more than were cast last year, but 216 under the 908 votes cast in 1964 when three councilmen were elected from a field of four candidates in a torrid race. The second highest total of votes cast in a city election came in 1961 when 763 voters went to the polls.

In Tuesday's balloting on the uncontested city councilman positions, Collier led the ticket with 441 votes. Hill received 438 and Herron, 425.

Fire Chief Lloyd Mock "led the ticket" in write-in votes, receiving 15. Three write-in votes each were cast for Bobby Pierce, Pat N. Walker, David Newby, Frank Blanton and Elwood Wright.

Getting two write-in votes apiece were Jim Huntley, Marvin

Williams and Robert Lee Hays. One write-in vote each went to Dan Cockrum, Bill Pool, Giles McCrary, James Minor, Wesley Scott, Fred Myers, Conor Howell and Raphus Foley.

Voting in Saturday's school trustee election was the lightest in recent years here, with Dalby, the top vote-getter, garnering 61.

Wilks polled 59 votes and Chapman, 57, with two write-in votes going to David Newby.

The vote in last year's school election was 300.

Hopkins, the new mayor-elect, is a former member of the city council, having been elected in the late 1950's and going off the (See Two Elections, page 8)

Library to get reading room

Baseball committee is given park control

The Post city council voted Monday night to give the Central Baseball Committee control over the entire acreage inside the city-owned David Nichols Park after appointing Councilman Lewis C. Herron as the council's representative on the committee.

The council's action followed a discussion with the four members of the Central Baseball Committee over use of the two baseball diamonds at the park by groups not connected with the Youth Summer Baseball program.

It was agreed that groups wishing to use the baseball diamonds will be required to make their requests directly to the baseball committee and meet whatever requirements the committee sets up for care of the playing fields and facilities.

Central Baseball Committee members meeting with the council were Bobby Pierce, president, Pat N. Walker, Teen-Age League; Jimmy McLeroy, Babe Ruth League, and Bill McBride, Little League.

In other action at Monday's regular April meeting the council also:

—Voted to remodel the former Chamber of Commerce office as a Post Public Library reading room.

—Appointed a board of tax equalization and set a tentative date for its first meeting.

—Voted to sponsor installation of a Texas State Historical marker on the courthouse lawn.

—Voted to purchase 1,000 feet of new fire hose for the Post Volunteer Fire Department.

—Heard Police Chief Bill Gordon's police department report for March.

In voting to remodel the former Chamber of Commerce room for a library reading room, the council also voted to award the remodeling contract to Higginbotham - Bartlett Co., which had made the lowest of two bids on remodeling a storage room for the purpose.

Tom S. Gates

Highway worker here retires

What does a man do when he retires?

Tom S. Gates, who retired last week as a chief inspector for the Texas Highway Department, has one of the answers.

Tom says he has enough yard work and other work around his home here to keep him busy until perhaps next October, when he may go into something else.

Gates had spent 25 years with the Texas Highway Department when he retired and had been back in Post every since the resident highway engineer's office was opened here ten years ago.

Resident Highway Engineer Julian F. Smith and other highway department employees here honored Gates with a barbecued chicken dinner last Thursday evening at the City Hall.

They presented him an automatic fishing reel and a home-made plaque with an artificial fishing lure and the lettering "Tom Cat" on one side. On the other side of the plaque were the signatures of his fellow employees.

"We gave him the fishing reel because we know he isn't going to spend all his time doing yard work," one of his fellow employees said.

Except for four years, Gates has been in highway construction work since 1929 when he started out as office manager at Snyder.

In 1936, he accepted a position with the U. S. Department of Interior, but was back in highway work four years later.

Tom has done all his highway work in Texas except for six years he was with the New Mexico highway department.

"There's a big difference building highways in Texas and building them in New Mexico," he says. "I learned a lot about how not to build highways while I was (See Tom Gates, page 8)

NEW FOUNDATION-CHAMBER TEAM

Mrs. Helen Livingston, Chamber of Commerce secretary, points out various points of interest here on a city map to Thomas L. McKeown, Jr., new executive director of the Post Industrial Foundation. The Chamber and the Foundation have a new joint suite of offices in the McCrary building with the two organizations sharing the office expenses. Mrs. Livingston will work with McKeown on industrial foundation projects as well as carrying out her regular duties as Chamber secretary.—(Staff Photo)

Mrs. T. C. Polk called the other day to tell us to advise our readers to get their Christmas cards in the mail now if they wanted to get early delivery for 1970. When we asked her what she was talking about, she said only last Friday she had received a letter from a cousin, Mrs. F. L. Sanders, which was mailed in Goldendale, Wash., Feb. 1, 1964, according to the postmark on the envelope. There was no explanation accompanying the letter as to why it was being delivered 38 months late. That's the reason Mrs. Polk is urging quick action on those 1970 Christmas cards.

The Dispatch family lost one of its long standing members last Friday when Abel Camacho, our backshop floorman, resigned from his newspaper's employment to move his family to Dallas to be closer to some of his wife's relatives. Abel gave us plenty of notice—almost an entire month—for which we were grateful. Ronnie Morris, who had been working our backshop part-time, is a full-time employe now that Abel has departed. Abel was a faithful employe of this newspaper for over 25 years.

Post's April Dollar Day last Friday and Saturday was reported to be an outstanding success by most of the 13 participating merchants. The cooperative effort in bargaining generally pulled a real crowd to town Saturday. So look for another good Dollar Day offering around the first of May.

Cotton meeting here tonight

The First National Bank will sponsor an information meeting on cotton varieties at 7:30 p. m. tonight in the district courtroom. All area farmers invited to attend.

Speakers for the meeting will include Louise Burkes, superintendent of Postex Cotton Mills who will explain staple length requirements; Lavon Ray, plant manager for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station; and Shelby Brown, irrigation specialist in experiment station program.

We're trying to give farmers the best available information on cotton for 1967. J. B. Potts, bank president, said in commenting on the program.

Industry hunter making contacts

Thomas L. McKeown Jr., new executive director of the Post Industrial Foundation, went right to work this week to begin "establishing contacts with Post's allies in industrial development."

This will include visits with the industrial specialists of the Southwestern Public Service Co., the Santa Fe Railroad, General Telephone of the Southwest, Pioneer

Natural Gas Co., the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Industrial Commission, and "industrial development" staffs of correspondent banks in Dallas and Fort Worth.

He will go to Amarillo Friday to visit with Larry Milner, new industrial man for Southwestern Public Service Co., Joe Clark, industrial agent for the Santa Fe railroad, and Pioneer Natural Gas Co. officials.

Next week, McKeown plans to be in Austin to visit the professional staff of the Texas Industrial Commission and will attend the 49th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Del Rio, April 23-25, "to let them know Post is active full time in industrial development."

Later this month, he will be in the Dallas - Fort Worth area to contact industrial staffs of the Republic National Bank and the Texas Bank and Trust Co. of Dallas, and the Continental National Bank of Fort Worth.

"The object of all these visits," McKeown told The Dispatch yesterday, "is to discuss with them what I would like to do and get their ideas and suggestions."

He said he will discuss with them what facts to include in a brochure on Post and an industrial fact book on Post, which will be prepared and printed in the next few months.

McKeown prepared such material for Corpus Christi where he served the last two years as executive director of the Corpus Christi Industrial Commission before coming to Post.

The fact book would contain all the general statistical information about Post and Garza County.

McKeown said both the brochure (See Industry Hunter, page 8)

Industrial group, chamber to share office suite

The Post Chamber of Commerce directors at a special meeting last Thursday voted to move the Chamber office from the city building into the McCrary Building where the Chamber will share a two-room office suite with the Post Industrial Foundation.

The directors also approved use of Mrs. Helen Livingston, Chamber secretary, for office duties by the Post Industrial Foundation.

The Chamber will share office expenses with the foundation in the new office suite, with the enlarged quarters giving ample room for the needs of both organizations.

Chamber directors heard Thomas L. McKeown Jr., new executive director of the industrial foundation, outline his program for the foundation at its regular April meeting yesterday morning.

Jim Jackson also reported to Chamber directors yesterday on the second annual junior livestock show and future plans of that organization. Directors commended (See Office Suite, page 8)

New trustee sworn in

Board reorganizes following election

Post Independent School District trustees at their April meeting Tuesday night reorganized for another school year by re-electing all board officers, including Russell Wilks Jr., as board president.

Supt. Bill Shiver reported it appears likely the state will approve for full support a second agricultural unit and instructor for Post High School for the 1967-68 school year.

GILES DALBY was sworn in as a new school trustee, replacing Ted Aten, now a county commissioner who did not seek re-election in Saturday's school district election.

Kay Kirkpatrick was re-elected vice president of the board and Earl Chapman was named for another year as its secretary.

"It looks as if we will have the necessary number of students sign up for agriculture for next year to secure the second state unit," Shiver told the board. "Questionnaires are now being filled in to prepare for the visitation from the state agency. We are moving as fast as we can to achieve this (See School Board, page 8) day.

Second March rain for county

Post and Garza County received a second good March rain within an eight-day period early Friday morning.

The official measurement at the courthouse here was 1.01 inches of moisture but reports over the county varied from a half inch to 1.75 inches.

The heaviest fall was in the Graham area and south of Graham. In the Pleasant Valley and Close City areas a reported 1.25 inches was received. Moisture was lightest in the northwest part of the county.

The city received 1.22 inches of moisture on March 22.

Farm experts called the pair "real fine rains for this time of year" but hastened to add that a lot more is needed.

Sports barbecue set for April 25

The Post schools will sponsor an All Sports Barbecue, for all local athletes who participated in the interscholastic league program for grades seven through 12 in the city-county park at 3 p. m. Tuesday, April 25.

The cooking and preparation will be done by the school staff. Supt. Bill Shiver announced.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS

Joe Williams, maintenance foreman here for the State Highway Department, was reported in serious condition yesterday at West Texas Hospital in Lubbock. Mr. Williams was admitted to the hospital early Monday afternoon.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

City Councilman Jess Rogers underwent surgery last Thursday at Garza Memorial Hospital after having been admitted to the hospital March 26. His condition was reported as "not too good" yesterday.

Trying beats just sitting still

Post this week embarks upon a new era of community cooperation in its search for future growth with the opening of the Post Industrial Foundation office in the McCrary building by an experienced "industry hunter."

No miracles should be expected in the quick recruitment of new payrolls here.

It simply doesn't work that way. Industry hunting is a highly competitive business. The odds are long to land new industry even for communities well organized for the effort.

But against this, there is no chance at all for the small community which simply doesn't try.

Post now is trying—and trying hard. Months of preparation probably lie ahead before the community's industrial presentation can be assembled in necessary detail.

It is essential to keep in mind that Post is just embarking on a search which other, and much bigger, cities have been pursuing for years. Starting from scratch, so to speak, means we have a lot of catching up to do.

The important point is—we have begun to move. We have progressed through the "talking stage" into the "action stage" where private funds have been laid on the line in support of the industrial search.

The Dispatch welcomes Thomas L. McKeown Jr., our new "industry hunter," to Post. We pledge to him the full support of this newspaper in his efforts. We urge our readers likewise to give their full measure of support to his difficult undertaking.

We can envision some important gains for this new program right from the start. We anticipate a whole new era of community cooperation, community enthusiasm, and community planning. The community is going to be "involved" and involvement is highly important. Those who have pledged their money to finance the undertaking are "involved" right now.

The Post Industrial Foundation already has come a considerable distance down the road. We have fallen into step with the efforts of the Texas Industrial Commission to attract new industry to Texas. We have accepted the TIC recommendations—the proven ways of going about industry hunting. We have sold this procedure to our town and raised the financing to make the foundation possible. The elected directors of the foundation have spent a lot of time and effort in the search for and finding the man to head the foundation's professional effort.

The combination of the Chamber of Commerce and Industrial Foundation offices into one is another excellent step forward in community cooperation.

Few communities our size anywhere have jumped feet first into such an industrial promotion program as Post is now undertaking. It is a challenge to all of us—but with the challenge should come the warm glow of realization that Post has more strength and determination than most towns our size to move forward.—JC

Go ahead... write your Congressman

Many Post and Garza County citizens often make the statement that they are going to write their Congressmen about this or that, but they rarely get around to doing it.

The reason some of these people don't go ahead and write their Congressmen is because they feel that a letter from a lone constituent won't receive any attention. Just the opposite is true.

Your Congressmen and Senators are politicians, and politicians retain their office through reelection. To do so, they must be responsible to the will of their constituents.

And, if your Congressmen belong to an opposite party, don't think they will ignore your opinions. They want to please all the people all the time, even though they know this is impossible. Being on the opposite side politically may make them doubly eager to find some common ground to win your support.

In writing your Congressmen or Senators, remember the following guidelines:

1. Write on your personal or business letterhead. Sign your name legibly.

2. Know your subject. Identify it, preferably giving the House or Senate bill number you're writing about.

3. Assemble beforehand all information and supporting facts about your viewpoint. Express your thoughts and conclusions in your own words.

4. State your reason for writing. Your own personal experience is your best supporting evidence. Tell him how the issue will affect you, your family, your business, your community or your state.

5. Don't use stereotyped phrases and sentences from form letters. They'll be taken for "pressure" mail and will make little or no impact.

6. Be reasonable, don't seek impossible things. Don't threaten.

7. After you've told him where you stand, ask him to state his position in a reply.

8. If he pleases you with a vote on an issue, write and tell him so. Much of the mail received by Congressmen and Senators is from displeased constituents. When he receives a letter complimenting him, he'll remember.

9. Timing is important. Don't wait until a bill is brought up to the floor and a roll call is imminent. Good timing as when to send in your letters can be determined if you maintain a continuing interest in legislative issues.

So, make your opinion known in Austin or in Washington. Congressmen want to hear from you. The late Sam Rayburn described the typical representative Congressman as "the voice of the people in national affairs. He can't be the voice unless he knows what they're thinking. If he doesn't think as they do, he won't be there long."

New argument to shop at home

One of the most unusual new laws to emerge from the current session of the Texas Legislature is the optional one per cent sales tax permitted cities if residents of the city vote it upon themselves.

Cities are plagued with far worse tax problems than smaller municipalities for many reasons, including expensive extension of services brought about by skyrocketing population growth. The tax load has become almost unbearable for big city property owners and the Texas League of Municipalities succeeded in getting the sales tax through the legislature despite Governor Connally's initial objections.

All of which raises two interesting questions to ponder here as Lubbock's mayor announced over the weekend he will press for a fall vote on a Lubbock city sales tax to obtain tax relief as quickly as possible.

The first question is will Lubbock residents vote a new tax upon themselves? You can look for a well-organized campaign in support of the sales tax when election time rolls around, with property owners generally supporting the move.

But even with the property owners approving, the sales tax is sure to face an uphill fight, especially if the opposition organizes.

The second question will need an answer if the sales tax is voted. Will area shoppers who drive into Lubbock to shop from dozens of smaller communities become aroused enough by a Lubbock tax to either cut down or cut out such buying trips in protest to paying for Lubbock's municipal development?

This is going to be one per cent more added to cost which even the discount houses can't write off.

Some will argue that one per cent additional is not enough to cut the Lubbock trade flow from its trade area. And this well may be. But since the one per cent is a tax, it may be received with a great deal more resentment than one would suppose.

Anyway, with smaller towns not looking ahead to any city sales taxes as yet, a Lubbock city sales tax could well jar a little retail volume off Lubbock's area volume.

For a time, at least, it should be a new argument to shop at home.—JC

Post Jaycee in important office

The election of Frank Blanton to the board of directors of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce at the area meeting held recently in Amarillo brought new honors to the Post Jaycees, of which Frank is a charter member.

As state director of the 15,000-member Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Post Jaycee is assigned the Levelland, Lorenzo, Lubbock, Morton, Post, Spur and Tahoka clubs.

His duties will be to coordinate these clubs' many programs in Community Development, Leadership Training, Youth and Sports, Health and Safety, and Agriculture, and to assist the clubs develop strong internal organizations.

He will encourage young men to participate in their communities' activities through their belief that young men below the age of 25 can make the world a better place in which to live.

Frank is well qualified for his new duties as a state Jaycee director. During his membership in the organization, he has been president, director and inter-club director and has served on the State Elections Committee.—CD

Lions do good turn for Cubs

The Post Lions Club is living up to its reputation of being a community service organization by voting to sponsor Cub Scout Pack 314.

Organized only a few months ago, the Cub Scout pack has made rapid progress even without a sponsoring institution, and now that the Lions have voted to sponsor it, the pack can be expected to gain an even greater standing in the Boy Scouting program in Post.

The Cub Scout program is for boys just growing up to Boy Scout age and, like its more advanced counterpart, is a valuable contribution to the training and welfare of the community's youth.—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

County Judge Rod Shaw, speaking to the Lions Club here, defined prejudice as "being down on something you're not up on."—Speedy but it sure holds a lot of gravy.—Burnis Lawrence Nieman in The Slaton Slatonite.

Have you heard about the experimenter who crossed a potato with a sponge? Tastes terrible. —Speedy but it sure holds a lot of gravy.—Burnis Lawrence Nieman in The Slaton Slatonite.

MARCH WENT OUT last Friday sort of like a wet lamb, and the weather forecasters say we can look for the usual April showers.

That about takes care of the weather and all we need to do now is start worrying about the way Daylight Saving Time is going to upset our lives when it goes into effect April 30.

SINCE I ALWAYS have a hard time remembering whether we're an hour behind or an hour ahead of Eastern Standard Time, or an hour ahead or an hour behind Mountain Standard Time or two hours behind or two hours ahead of Pacific Standard Time, I look for nothing but trouble when the time comes to go on Daylight Saving Time.

The man up the street says the nice thing about a college education is that it enables us to worry about things all over the world.

ONE OF OUR readers says that on a recent trip he saw the following poster in an office, headlined, "Notice to Callers":

Friendly calls—10 minutes.
Salesmen with "real deals"—Half a second.
Life insurance agents—15 seconds.

Salesmen with sample you can eat or drink—Two hours.

Friends letting us "in on the ground floor"—One second.

Friends talking hunting, fishing or golf—Most of the day.

Those wishing to pay bills—All day.

Customers—Eight hours.

Wealthy relatives in their 80's—Any time.

Relatives wanting jobs—Three seconds.

Bill collectors and tax collectors—All day (tomorrow).

The best argument I've seen yet for outlawing pellet guns is the story on the front page of Monday morning's Lubbock paper of a six-year-old Morton boy being killed by one of the damned things.

ONE OF OUR ministers reports there is an old disease that is making a strong comeback in our area. Its technical name is "Morbus Sabbaticus."

Morbus Sabbaticus, or Sunday Sickness, is a disease peculiar to church members.

The symptoms vary, but it never interferes with the appetite.

No physician is ever called. It always proves fatal in the end—to the soul.

It is becoming fearfully prevalent and is destroying thousands every year.

The attack comes on suddenly every Sunday; no symptoms are felt on Saturday night; the patient sleeps well and wakes feeling well; he eats a hearty breakfast; but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over for the morning.

Then the patient feels easy and eats a hearty dinner. In the afternoon, he feels much better and is able to take a walk and read the Sunday papers; he eats a hearty supper, but about church time he has another attack and stays at home.

He wakes up Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday.

MY WIFE SAYS that if everything grew as easily as radishes and onions I'd be a pretty good gardener.

April is the only month in the year when a person has to be constantly on his toes. There's always some kind of a deadline creeping up.

DID YOU EVER hear of corn-cob jelly? A neighboring editor clipped this item from an Arkansas newspaper:

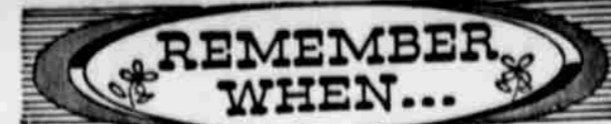

"We visited with the Dee Wolfe family Sunday and ran into a very pleasant surprise. Dee's wife, Lodean, gave us a sample of her corn-cob jelly. We have eaten it and could hardly wait to get home to try it again. It's delicious—better than any apple jelly you can buy in a store. We have heard of many uses for corn-cobs, but this is the best of them all."

Burglary foiled at Slaton store

SLATON — Two Slaton policemen and a Lynn County deputy sheriff combined to nab three burglar suspects "in the act" here the night of March 26.

Two men were arrested inside the White Auto Store and a third man was arrested when he drove by, apparently to pick up the men in the store.

Officers reported the suspects had approximately $1,300 worth of merchandise stacked by the back door at the auto store, and about $2,000 worth of merchandise was found in the trunk of the car driven by one of the suspects.

The goods in the car reportedly were stolen from Kimbrell's Grocery in Wilson.

Charged with the break-in at the Slaton store were three Lubbock men—Charles R. Gray, 23; Gerald D. Burleson, 21; and Walter L. Roberts, 25.

Officers making the arrests were Slaton policemen Gene Carpenter and Don Blackberry and Lynn County Deputy Doyle Woody.

Area officers alerted on burglary at Sudan

Area law enforcement officers have been alerted on a burglary at Sudan in Lamb County in which about $1,000 in merchandise was taken from the White Auto Store.

Reported missing in the burglary were a 25-inch color television set, a combination TV-stereo-radio, two electric drills, one electric saw, several tools, five cartons of .22 caliber shells and two air rifles.

At least two persons were involved in the burglary, according to the Lamb County sheriff's department.

It's the Law ...

RIGHT TO 'GET EVEN'

Haled into court for beating up neighbor's son, Hawkins offered the following explanation: "He threw a rock at my little girl, so I went over and taught him a lesson."

But the court rejected Hawkins' excuse and ordered him to pay damages. Pointing out that the girl was no longer in danger at the time her father intervened, the judge said the right to protect did not include the right to punish.

By and large, the law does not give you the right to "get even" or a wrong inflicted upon you or your loved ones.

The reason lies in the "conflict" between the individual and society. The individual gives up the right for society's promise to do it for him.

To be sure, it may be difficult in particular cases to determine whether a person was acting to protect or to punish. Take this case.

A night watchman was rushed by a man wielding a knife. Drawing his gun, the watchman killed the assailant with two fast shots. In due course, he himself was arrested and brought to trial on a homicide charge.

"His first shot was legitimate self-defense," conceded the prosecutor. "However, his second shot was fired after the man was already wounded. That was no self-defense. It was punishment."

But it also appeared that the victim, though wounded, was still conscious, close, and dangerous. Dismissing the charge, the court held that the watchman's second shot was within the reasonable scope of self-defense.

In other hands: A landlord and tenant got into an angry scuffle, during which the tenant was knocked to the ground. While he was lying there helpless, the landlord gave him a swift kick in the head.

Because of the kick, the landlord was later held liable for assault and battery. The court said that, with danger past, the landlord had clearly acted out of sheer selfishness — and must therefore pay damages.

It was the law's way of echoing the warning of the poet La Fontaine: Revenge, however sweet, is rarely bought."

Daylight Saving Time to start on April 30

Garza countians and other Texans need to prepare to move the hands of their timepieces forward one hour on April 30. Otherwise they'll not be in tune with the times.

Texas woman is honored for work on Oxford Bible

LUBBOCK — A red letter day in the life of Lubbock's Arline Harris will be April 13 when a major contribution to the biblical field this year will come off the press. What is it, and what has Miss Harris to do with it?

"The New Scofield Reference Bible," a completely revised edition of one of the most popular study Bibles ever published, will be released on April 13 by Oxford University Press.

As recording secretary of the Scofield Revision Committee meetings, Miss Harris transcribed the full proceedings in addition to research on possible word changes in the new Bible. She met twice yearly in three-day meetings in Chicago with the editorial committee.

Other types of work Miss Harris did before that major assignment were drafting, statistical work, promotional secretarial work, publicity, and free-lance writing.

Miss Harris, a native of Lubbock, is a graduate of Texas Tech and Baylor University. She is the author of numerous articles in religious and secular publications and well known for her editing work, including a number of books by Southern Baptist authors.

The new Oxford Bible will have a first printing of 300,000 copies. Adequate stock will be in the Lubbock Baptist Book Store April 15, when Miss Harris will be honored for the work she contributed to the new Bible.

Opinions differ as to whether Texas, once on Daylight Saving Time, can ever get off. Amendments calling for a trial run and for a statewide referendum on the issue were resoundingly defeated.

Broadcasters, railroads and airlines opposed the bill. They emphasized the need for uniformity of schedules among states.

Operators of theatres, restaurants and farms backed the exemption measure.

The U. S. postal savings system, instituted in 1911, was terminated by Congress on March 28, 1966.

BECKY RICHARDSON

Tech student overcomes hardships to continue courses, gain honors

Becky Richardson, Texas Tech freshman from Brownfield, who suffered a broken leg in an automobile accident in October, has made the Dean's List at the college with a grade point average of 3.25.

Becky is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Richardson, formerly of Post. Her grandparents, all residents of Post, are Mrs. Willie Richardson of 117 South Ave. Q, Lacy J. Richardson of 103 South Ave. S, and Mr. and Mrs. P at Blacklock of Route 1.

After Becky spent 21 days in a hospital and 10 days at home following the accident, missing a full month of classes, her professors advised her to drop her courses rather than fail them.

With the assistance of her mother, Nora, Becky attended her classes at Tech on crutches, the two commuting from Brownfield until after the first of the year.

Two of Becky's classes had to be reached by flights of stairs, one with 48 steps and the other with 52. Mrs. Richardson would walk behind her daughter until she reached the classroom in case she slipped on her crutches.

The mother and daughter readily admit the weeks weren't easy, but they received cooperation from those at home in addition to the students at Tech and the profes-

GRANDPARENTS VISIT

Easter Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Womack were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Address of Snyder.

NEW MEXICO VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Pate of Clovis, N. M., visited recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pate.

"Several students had been taking notes for me the whole time I was out or I couldn't possibly have made it," said Becky.

When Becky returned to school after the Easter holidays she thought the time had come to stand on her own two feet — with the help of one crutch!

She has learned to carry her books and handle the crutch with ease and Mrs. Richardson can stop the commuting and waiting.

Becky is majoring in government, taking 12 hours, which includes English, history and math.

Announcing Buick's new GS-340.

(The improved GS-400.)

If you read the papers, you know how great our new Buick GS-400 is. (It's the one in the background.) And you also know you don't get a GS-400 for peanuts. It's a great car. But it's just a little rich for some people. So we set to work and designed the GS-340. It has a smaller engine (but the whole machine weighs less), the interior is clean and simple and tasteful. And it has the same conventional paint job (see the safety stripes and hood scoop?), and, of course, all the GM safety features. So now you have a car that costs less than the GS-400, but one with its own special brand of excitement. How can you best that kind of a combination?

SEE YOUR QUALITY BUICK DEALER.

Choir, flute trio are heard at Post Music Club meeting

The Methodist Youth choir and a flute trio from Post Junior High School presented the program Monday night at a meeting of the Post Music Club, a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, at the First Methodist Church.

The meeting was opened with a reading of the Federation's constitution.

Dispatch brings couple news of granddaughter winning a scholarship

Post couple was unaware last week that their granddaughter had won a $500 scholarship until they read about it in The Post Dispatch.

The couple is Mr. and Mrs. J. Evans, whose granddaughter, Rebecca Lynn Foster of Memorial High School, Houston, won a place in the 1967 State Better Home-maker of Tomorrow contest.

The article appearing in The Post and listing the state winners from General Mills, which sponsors the Betty Crocker event, is on page 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Foster, the son-in-law and daughter.

In Our Time

HAIR IS A CHARACTERISTIC OF ALL MAMMALS... BUT THE "COP-BALL" WHO FIRST DISCOVERED THAT HIS LONG HAIR COULD BE ARRANGED TO GIVE HIM SOCIAL STATUS INTRODUCED HIMSELF TO THE AGE OF PROGRESS...

THE REST IS HISTORY... HE ARRANGED THE WHEEL, THE SHIP, THE AIRPLANE...

WHILE IT IS TRUE THAT HAIR STYLES FOR MEN HAVE CHANGED OVER THE YEARS, THE PRINCIPLE REMAINS THE SAME, AS LONG AS HE REMEMBERS THAT FIRST CHORE EACH DAY HIS STATUS IS ASSURED.

FOR THE MAN WHO HAS TROUBLE KEEPING HIS HAIR "SHIP-SHAPE" THERE IS A NEW HAIR SPRAY FOR MEN ONLY THAT WILL DO IT.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

I became better acquainted with "Emily" and "Amy" during the past week and all because of our eldest Miss C. If you're a careful reader you'll notice an engagement announcement on this page and you'll realize the flurry of activities we tried to cram in while the Misses C's were home for an Easter and spring break from college.

I rushed right up to our friendly Post Public Library to check out Amy Vanderbilt's book and then rushed out to borrow a copy of Emily Post's book to compare the two. Outside of Amy being a bit more adamant I'd say they agree on most things and with a bit of common sense thrown in I mostly agreed with them.

I also came by a copy of "The Christian Wedding" and found that the author thinks finding out what the church has to say about marriage is at least as important as "Modern Bride" and "Emily Post." In speaking about flowers and decorations in the church, the pamphlet pointed out that ostentation should be avoided. It read: "Rare is the minister who has a never once had to snake his way, vestments and all, through such a jungle of greenery that he fully expected to be greeted at the altar by Tarzan and Jane."

Making out the wedding list probably entails more stewing than most arrangements that have to be made. One keeps thinking one is through until one becomes wide awake in the middle of the night thinking: "Heavens, we forgot great aunt Maltida." The way to solve this, I've decided, is to get your order in the mill immediately and then it's late to keep adding names.

I found out I'm not a normal mother when Miss C was trying on wedding gowns. As the bridal consultant (sometimes referred to as a lady who sells wedding dresses) placed a veil on Miss C's head, she turned to me and said: "This is when most mothers burst into tears." I really can't believe this, but got so choked up thinking about it I had tears streaming down my face — from laughter.

Our married couple - - - spent one day picking out their china, pottery, etc. That brought back memories as to our first pottery. EVERYONE in those days had Fiesta pottery. There were several colors and everyone did something different as far as choice of color was concerned but everyone had the same stuff. I grew to hate it.

The stuff wouldn't break. Chip, yes, but not break. I used to toss it around and just hope it would hit the floor but it never did. Finally, I just boxed it up and waited for the next rummage sale to take place. I kept the pitcher until recently (for what reason I don't know) but finally heaved it out.

One didn't even get a break from it if one was invited out to eat since EVERYONE had it. That pottery firm must have been able to close up shop and retire from all the selling they did during the late thirties and early forties.

The Misses C's left for San Antonio Sunday morning and we were so efficient while they were home I'm not even going to think about weddings until they return the first of June.

I've been accused of being a fool since I started writing this column but not quite that big of a one!

Library Listening Post

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

I have on occasion paid the exorbitant price of "Esquire" purely for the pleasure of reading Dwight MacDonald's reviews. He hasn't liked a book yet, the old rascal. Now I find myself in the position of being able to turn the tables on my favorite grump but, unfortunately, HIS book IS good, perhaps because he has done no more than compile the works of others.

"Parodies, An Anthology from Chaucer to Beerbohm and After", is a delightful collection of satire and humor which has a great deal of fun with writers such as Stein, Huxley and Marquand and institutions such as "Time", "Life", and "Eisenhower."

As "Booklist" remarked, "Those who do the parodying are, in many cases, as well known as those parodied." For instance, there is Peter De Vries on James (From Here to Eternity) Jones, John Updike on Jack (On the Road) Kerouac, and Nathaniel Benchley on James Gould (By Love Possessed) Cozzens. My own particular favorite is Wolcott Gibbs' parody of Ernest Hemingway from which the following excerpt is taken:

THE COOK: I am a little tired of cars, sir. Do you know any stories?

I know a great many stories, but I'm not sure that they're suitable.

THE COOK: The hell with that.

Then I will tell you the story about God and Adam and naming the animals. You see, God was a very tired after he got through making the world. He felt good about it, but he was tired so he asked Adam if he'd mind thinking up names for the animals.

"What animals?" Adam said.

"Those," God said.

"Do they have to have names?" Adam said.

"You've got a name, haven't you?" God said.

I could see . . .

THE COOK: How do YOU get into this?

Some people always write in the first person, and if you do it's very hard to write any other way, even when it doesn't altogether fit into the context. If you want to hear this story, don't keep interrupting.

THE COOK: O. K.

I could see that Adam thought God was crazy, but he didn't say anything. He went over to where the animals were, and after a while he came back with the list of names.

"Here you are," he said.

God read the list, and nodded.

"They're pretty good," he said.

"They're all pretty good except that last one."

"That's a good name," Adam said.

"What's the matter with it?"

"What do you want to call it an elephant for?" God said.

Adam looked at God.

"It looked like an elephant to me," he said.

THE COOK: Well? That's all.
THE COOK: It is a very strange story, sir.
It is a strange world, and if a man and woman love each other, that is strange, too, and what is more, it always turns out badly.

For those who might wish to compare Mr. Gibbs' version of Hemingway with Hemingway himself, the library can provide copies of "A Farewell to Arms", "For Whom the Bell Tolls", and "The Old Man and the Sea".

Many thanks to Patty and K. Kirkpatrick for the magazine, "Good Housekeeping", and to Ryla and John Lott for the lovely new books.

I am flying to North Carolina today to visit my sister. As everyone knows Thursday is a Safe Day, George Miller has volunteered a "Library Listening Post" for next week which I know you will all enjoy, and I will be back the week after that with more new books and, hopefully, many hot tips for our library from that notorious Chapel Hill librarian, Vicki Jones.

Study scheduled by church group

The Christian Education Committee of Plains Presbyterian will hold an in-depth study for laymen at the First Presbyterian Church Saturday with registration at 9:30 a. m.

This study is designed to complement the Fall Leadership School conducted each year in Amarillo. The study will explore three areas of study: How Church History Identifies Presbyterians; How Church Government Identifies Presbyterians; and How the Confession of 1967 Identifies Presbyterians.

The study is especially recommended to all church officers and Sunday School teachers. Other interested adults and high school students are also invited to attend. Registration is $1 and those attending are asked to bring a sack lunch. Beverages will be furnished. The session will end at 3 p. m.

SERMON TOPIC ANNOUNCED

The Rev. George L. Miller, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, will continue his series on "The Apostles' Creed" Sunday at 11 a. m., speaking on "The Holy Trinity."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When Jimmy Clark crowned the tiny church with the steeple it touched my heart.

Incidentally, I admire Jimmy Clark and I am interested in everything he does. When he brushes his teeth or rides his tricycle, or climbs the sliding board at the playground I admire his concentration and his careful workmanship. And when he cuddles into his Daddy's lap at bedtime or walks hand in hand with him up the church steps on Sunday he looks like an angel.

I think you have guessed it by now, haven't you? I'm Jimmy's mother — and a doting mother at that. I think Jimmy could accomplish just about anything . . . doctor, lawyer, merchant; why he might be President some day.

But whatever he becomes, I want him to be a good man; strong and true of character, firm in his principles. I want him to have God as his partner. That's why I go to church every Sunday and take Jimmy. It's the best insurance I know for a happy and fulfilled life.

Teachers to attend summer institutes

Two Post Junior High School teachers, Mrs. Ruby Lobban and Mrs. M. Breedlove, have been given National Science Foundation grants for the 1967 summer term.

Mrs. Lobban will be one of 33 teachers of junior high school mathematics attending San Jose State College, San Jose, Calif., from June 6 to Aug. 4 as a part of the summer session there.

Mrs. Breedlove will attend the summer term at North Texas State University, Denton.

The Summer Mathematics Institute to be attended by Mrs. Lobban is part of a nation-wide program to assist teachers who wish to increase their knowledge of mathematics and science.

The courses offered will be Contemporary Mathematics for the Junior High School and "The Structure of Elementary Algebra." In addition to the two courses offered, there will be laboratory sessions and discussion periods.

Mrs. Lobban has taught junior high mathematics in Post for the past 12 years. Prior to that, she was at Justiceburg for 11 years as principal and elementary teacher, and also taught two years at

Post High School Happenings

By Marcia Newby

This week has been very busy with the preparation of Interscholastic League events which, with the exception of the one-act play, which has already been presented, will occur this Saturday at our very own high school. Of course, all PHS students are clamoring to enter as many events as possible and luckily, there are enough for everyone. The Future Teachers of America (FTA) will act as hosts this Saturday, to make sure no one gets lost wandering around our school. I'm sure some of us will wish we COULD get lost, but the faithful FTA hosts and hostesses will be there to help us find our way.

Other preparations are being made for the district track and volleyball meet which will be held in Denver City tomorrow. We volleyballers learned our lesson last year when we won zero out of two games, so we're ready to seek revenge. Coach Reynolds track boys will also be out to make a good showing so Slaton, Denver City, Morton, Frenship and Stanton better BEWARE!

The Choir Banquet last Saturday was very enjoyable for all. The food was delicious and expertly served by several of the choir students' mothers. We were also professionally entertained by the "Wranglers," a girls' sextet from South Plains, not to mention the exceptional skit performed by some of our very own choir members (who never told us they were actors and actresses). Edith Johnson deserves a "congratulations" for her sweetheart, although a kiss from Clyde Cash ought to be enough for anyone!

Dee Ann Walker spoke to the Spanish classes last week about college life. As a sophomore at Baylor University, Dee Ann described her college Spanish course and talked about college in general. We all enjoyed Dee Ann's talk very much and will benefit by her helpful suggestions.

HIGH SCHOOL EDITORIAL

Things Do Pile Up This Time of Year

My, how time flies! It just seems like a couple of weeks ago when our boys were out on the football field winning district. Actually, though, that was quite a while ago. Since then an entire basketball season has passed on by, the Juniors have given their Class Play and given a car wash, Mr. and Miss PHS were named, plus a variety of other parties and club meetings. So many things are going on all the time that we just can't seem to get everything done.

Here we are, with only a little over six weeks of school left, and so much to do. Besides getting in research papers, and school assignments, the Senior Play is yet to come. The Interscholastic League Contest is also very close at hand. The Junior - Senior Banquet and Mother - Daughter Banquet are yet to be given. Senior Day is right around the corner. Cheerleaders are still to be chosen for next year. Also officers for certain clubs are to be elected for next year. And then, of course, there is the rush of getting things done for the Graduation Exercises.

With so much to do and so little time to do it in, the students, as well as the teachers, are developing ulcers. There is no sense in worrying so much. After all, every year the same thing happens. If they managed to get everything completed last year, year before last, and the year before that, then so can we.

SPELLERS GET READY

This year's Garza County Spelling Bee champion, Debra Aaron (right), and alternate Irene Walls are preparing for the regional Spelling Bee to be held soon in Lubbock. Debra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Aaron and Irene's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Walls. The girls are 8th grade students of Post Junior High School.—(Staff Photo)

Art Craft Club making a variety of articles

The Art Craft Club at Post Junior High again is busy making various things.

Friday, there were many interesting things made, including containers made from plastic bottles with a decoration of flowers, cross-stitching, and covering coat hangers with yarn.

Several are working with leather, with two billfolds and a belt already under way.

Some unique April Fool's cards were also made.

We always enjoy our work in arts and crafts and we enjoy making things for our home.

PHS sing-song contest seen as coming event

By Gaylon Hutto

You all remember Mitch Miller and his sing-along groups. Well, Mr. Martinez, the man with the new ideas, has decided to try his hand at sing-alongs in Spanish!

Haven't you heard people in the halls singing songs or humming tunes you don't know? If you have not, you soon will. And more than likely it will be some of the Spanish Class "sing-along" groups.

So far the "group" has learned three Spanish songs and still has several more to learn.

Most of the songs are from a Trini Lopez album and they include "Amor," "Tengo Nada," and the Spanish version of Davy Crockett— "Pancho Lopez."

Possibly, if word should get out, Mr. Martinez and his group will challenge Mr. Wilson and his choir to a sing-song contest.

Year after year, we do things you'd never do to demonstrate Ford's quiet and strength. This year's tests were the toughest yet. But the durable Ford came through again — quiet and strong. That's because the 1967 Ford is the strongest, quietest Ford we've ever built. Over 150 important parts have been strengthened and improved. And the '67s offer plenty of convenience and luxury features too. SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission that's fully automatic and fully manual. It all adds up to a pretty strong argument for saving at your Ford Dealer's now. Quieter because it's stronger...stronger because it's better built.

Bonus adjustments for some exhibitors voted

Adjustments in bonus money going to exhibitors at the Junior Livestock Show here March 16-17 were voted by members of the Garza County Junior Livestock Association at a meeting Tuesday night.

The action was taken after a review of the 1967 sale disclosed that some of the top animals in each class did not receive adequate bonus money as compared to the lower placed animals in the same class.

The members voted that some of the exhibitors with top placing animals should receive additional bonus money, with the money to be paid from left-over jackpot funds, which were collected from merchants and individuals for the support of the sale.

Also discussed at the meeting was the need of a larger show barn for next year's show, but no answer to the problem was arrived at, according to Joe Irons, president of the association.

School board—

The superintendent said the state would pay the full cost of the second ag unit thus enabling the district to add a state-supported fifth grade teacher to relieve crowded classroom conditions in that grade which has hindered the fifth grade program to some extent this year.

Shiver pointed out that the district combined their industrial arts program with a second half agricultural unit this year without state support in the hope of obtaining state approval for the coming year. This, he said, now appears likely.

The district lost five teacher units from the state program this year due to enrollment losses last year. State support is based on the average daily attendance.

THE SUPERINTENDENT said that if student attendance holds up well this spring it is possible for the district to gain another state-supported classroom unit for next year besides the agricultural unit addition.

"That's why the administration is refusing to excuse any absences in advance (family trips, etc.) unless absolutely necessary," he said. "We can save district taxpayers $5,000 next year by gaining another classroom unit. When we tell parents why we have this policy, they are cooperating well."

Shiver told the board that an excused absence doesn't help with the average daily attendance figures upon which state support is based. Excusing the absence only enables the student to make up his work, the superintendent says. As far as the state is concerned he or she is still absent "whether we excuse that absence or not."

SHIVER ALSO told the board that trustees by the end of the school year should have in their hands for study the recommendations of the high school faculty, principal and superintendent, for improving the high school curriculum and program.

He said the graduation requirements of Post High School may need to be raised so that graduating seniors don't slack off their studies in their final semester.

With only 20 credits required for graduation, the administrator said, it is possible for students to need only a half credit or so in the final semester of their senior year.

"So too many of them are letting their studies go from February on — instead of bearing down for college preparation," he explained.

He said a high school faculty committee is considering the recommendations of the faculty and that the committee will work out a detailed proposal this spring.

"We can only recommend, however," Shiver told the board. "You will have to act to establish any changes, any toughening of the program."

He added he didn't expect students to like such changes, but they were being considered for the students' own good in better preparing them for entrance into college.

UNDERGOES CHECKUP
R. G. "Wilkie" Wilkerson returned Monday from Big Spring where he had gone Wednesday of last week for a physical check-up at the Veterans Administration hospital.

Tom Gates—

Gates says he has seen many changes in state highway administration and construction, most of them in the last ten years.

Most of the recent changes, he says, have come about through the federal government "getting into" state highway construction.

A native of De Leon, Gates was graduated from high school there and attended Simmons University, now Hardin - Simmons, and Powell University, which also has been absorbed by H-SU.

He is married to the former Miss Allene Gates, daughter of Bob Warren, pioneer Post pharmacist, and the late Mrs. Warren.

The Gates are parents of a daughter, Mrs. Joe Beb (Ann) Bumbass, of Lubbock, and have two grandsons.

Last Thursday night's dinner in Tom's honor was highlighted by decorations on the theme of "THD" for Texas Highway Department and "TSG" for Tom S. Gates. Mr. Smith was master of ceremonies. He presented Tom the automatic fishing reel on behalf of the group, and the plaque was presented by St. Usery.

Those attending the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Usery, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Tatum, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Greenhaw, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kennerly, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCampbell, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Josey, Marvin Blevins and Bob West.

He told the Dispatch yesterday that his watchword as mayor will be conservatism in all phases of city government, but that he needs to "get my feet on the floor" before he makes a more definite statement as to his policy.

He said he favors more thorough planning before going into programs and projects affecting the citizens and taxpayers.

"I don't think a city government should do anything on impulse, but should study a program or project from all angles before going into it," Hopkins said.

He said he would always be opposed to any tax raises or new tax levies unless absolutely necessary.

"And that includes a city sales tax," he added.

"I believe any city should make every effort to operate within its budget — and a sensible budget at that," the mayor - elect concluded.

Mendoza funeral will be Friday

Funeral services for Trini Caudillo Mendoza, 45, who was dead on arrival at West Texas Hospital in Lubbock at 6 p. m. Tuesday, will be held at 10 a. m. Friday at Holy Cross Church here, with the Rev. Richard Casey officiating. Burial will be at Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Mason Funeral Home.

Mendoza, of Pomona, Calif., was found unconscious in the Lubbock city jail Tuesday afternoon. He was serving out a $25 fine.

Police said he became ill Tuesday afternoon in his cell, and was unconscious when other prisoners called his illness to the attention of the jailer.

The body lay in the emergency room of West Texas Hospital for about four hours before a justice of the peace could be located. Mrs. Pearl Lawrence finally was brought from Slaton to hold the inquest. A verdict was pending late Wednesday.

Caudillo was born May 21, 1921, at Sweetwater and was a veteran of World War II. He worked as a farm laborer.

He is survived by six sisters, including Mrs. H. L. Jimenez of Post, and by five brothers.

The industrial foundation director explained that an industrial contact team for Post will be organized for the purpose of meeting with all industrial prospects when they visit the city.

Each member of the team would have a specific topic to present to industrial prospects," McKeown explained, "such as transportation facilities, taxes, general community facilities, agricultural situation, etc."

McKeown promised that "we will try to maintain the community's interest in the industrial development program by keeping the community as well informed as possible on what we're doing."

The new industrial foundation director reported for work Saturday morning and brought his wife, Barbara, with him to aid in the selection of a new home, which the McKeowns purchased at 393 Mohawk.

Mrs. McKeown flew back to Corpus Christi Sunday where she will sell the family home there before moving to Post with their three children, Patricia, 5½ years, Michael, 4, and Anne, 2.

McKeown hopes to have his family arrive by the end of the month.

The new executive director was scheduled to meet with Post Industrial Foundation directors at their regular April meeting at 4 p. m. this afternoon. He met with Post Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday morning to get acquainted.

Commerce room has been made available by the Chamber office moving across the street to the McCrary Building, the council decided that it would make a better reading room and can be remodeled at less cost than the storage room.

The remodeling plans call for a partition and door, dropped ceiling and ducting of air - conditioning off the city hall cooling system. It will not be necessary to add rest room facilities, as originally planned, since they already exist in the room to be remodeled.

The council anticipates the cost of the remodeling to be under the $495 that Higginbotham - Bartlett bid for remodeling of the storage room.

Lowell Short was reappointed to the tax equalization board and Ira Farmer and Wesley Scott were appointed as new members. Elton Lee and James Mitchell were named as alternate board members. May 25 was set as the tentative date of the tax board's first meeting.

Installation of the marker on the courthouse lawn will cost the city about $200, Mayor Harold Lucas said. The council was asked by the Garza County Historical Survey Committee to authorize the marker as a "matching marker" for the one commemorating Garza County's first courthouse officials.

Request that the city purchase 1,000 feet of new fire hose was made by Fire Chief Lloyd Mock. The high - pressure hose will include 400 feet of one and a half inch hose and 600 feet of two and a half inch hose.

Fines collected in March totaled $1,402.50, according to the police chief's report, with only $220 of the total amount coming from traffic fines.

Thirty - seven traffic tickets were issued during the month, but 24 of those receiving tickets either hadn't appeared or the charge against them had been dismissed, the chief's report showed.

Four automobile accidents were investigated by city police during the month and 49 warning tickets were issued.

Of the $270 in traffic fines collected in March, $120 was in payment of charges filed in February, according to the report.

Lead changes hands in two rodeo title races

DENVER, Colo. — The national lead in two of professional rodeo's 1967 title races changed hands on the weekend, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said Monday.

Myrtis Dightman, 32, a Negro cowboy from Houston, Tex., forged to the front in bull riding competition and Clyde Vamvoras, 25, Burkburnett, Tex., shoved Oregon's Larry Mahan from the driver's seat in bareback bronc riding.

Dightman, a seven-year veteran who was eighth for the bull riding championship last season, pushed his prize money total to

In so doing, Dightman became the first colored cowboy to challenge for a national rodeo title since accurate records were started in 1929.

Vamvoras also found the winner's circle at Edmonton, pocketing $931, to boost his total to $6,440, and step $358 ahead of Mahan.

Mahan, however, barely felt the financial pinch as he won $1,203 himself in riding events, commuting by plane between Edmonton and a concurrent rodeo in Portland, Ore.

Other title races remained materially unchanged, Shawn Davis of Whitehall, Mont., is the leader in saddle bronc riding, Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio, Tex., in calf roping, John W. Jones of San Luis Obispo, Calif., in steer wrestling, and Art Arnold of Buckeye, Ariz., in team roping.

Slaton repeats as golf winner; Post is second

The Post Antelope golf team finished second to defending champion Slaton in the District 4AA golf meet held Tuesday afternoon at Slaton.

Both Slaton and Post qualify for the regional tournament in Lubbock April 22 at Meadowbrook.

Morton finished third in the district meet, Post's No. 2 team, fourth, and Frenship, fifth.

The Antelopes' No. 1 team shot a 370, which was 31 points behind Slaton's winning score of 339.

Byron Johnson of Slaton fired a 79 for the lowest score of the day, with Post's Jimmy Bartlett shooting an 82 for the second lowest score.

Other members of Post's No. 1 team are Felton Gatlin, Larry Johnson and Mike Scott. The No. 2 team is composed of James McBride, Joey Lee, Ronald Thuet and Ben Miller.

Wilbert Bigott is the Antelopes' golf coach.

Tennis team at Texas Tech is toast of campus

LUBBOCK — Currently the toast of the Texas Tech campus, the Texas Tech tennis team meets Baylor University in a Southwest Conference match here Saturday afternoon.

Coach George Philbrick's netters, for the first time in history, defeated Rice 4-2 here last Saturday. The Owls were defending Southwest Conference champions.

Most observers figure the triumph puts Texas, with more experience than Rice and Tech combined, in the favorite's role this spring.

Last spring Baylor won its first net match from Tech.

Only other sports action in Lubbock this weekend will be Tech's first full-scale scrimmage of the spring football season, in Jones Stadium Saturday afternoon. A track meet with Texas Christian and University of Texas (Arlington) was moved up to Thursday.

Baseballers are in Albuquerque for games with University of New Mexico Friday and Saturday.

Next week the Raider golfers are hosts to Texas Tuesday and Baylor Friday. The tennis team has matches here with New Mexico State University Friday and Texas A&M Saturday. The track team will participate in a meet with Abilene Christian and Baylor at Abilene next Saturday.

The spring training wind-up game has been set for April 23.

Post pair enlist in Marine Corps

Two young men from Post, Linford Clarence Warren and Roy Britton, have enlisted for four-year hitch in the U. S. Marines.

The pair will leave Monday for San Diego, Calif., and Marine boot training.

Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Linford Warren and Britton the son of Mrs. Gay Britton, all of Post.

'Lopes score 33 points at Kress

The Post Antelopes scored their highest point total thus far this season Saturday when they garnered 33 points in the Kress invitational track and field meet.

Pete Morales won the mile run in 4:49, bucking a high wind, for his fourth victory of the season against no defeats.

Norman Tanner picked up 10 points with a second place finish in the 120-yard high hurdles and a fifth in the shot put.

Dick Kennedy tied for third in the high jump at 5 feet 9 inches, and Ronnie Petty finished fifth in the 440-yard dash.

The mile relay team placed fifth and the 440-yard relay team sixth.

Babe Ruth loop tryouts Friday

Tryouts for Babe Ruth League baseball will be held Friday, April 7, Jimmy McLeroy, newly-elected president of the league, said today.

Boys from 13 through 15 years of age are invited to report at the Babe Ruth League diamond at 5 p. m. Friday for the tryouts. Registration cards are available at the schools here.

McLeroy was elected president of the league at a meeting last Thursday night. He succeeds Glen Barley.

Cheerleaders elected at Southland schools

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Howdy! Did you miss the Southland news last week? Sure was hoping you did and that you would phone me your news this week, but no such luck! We sure had a grand fishing trip. The weather could have been better and it could have been worse, so we can't complain too much. At least we had pretty good luck fishing. I said before I left that we were going to bring back a barrel full and we almost did! It has been real dry at Buchanan Lake and the bluebonnets were barely there. Most years around Easter they are in full bloom, but not this year. Of course, Easter came a little early, didn't it? We stayed at the Circle S Resort on the lake and it is owned by two very nice people, George and Margaret Strachan. They sure make you feel like you belong there. Well, I could go on and tell you some good fish stories but maybe I better not. We would like to extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Anderson in the loss of his brother, Sam Anderson of San Angelo, who passed away Sunday. May God comfort you in your sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton attended the Easter Pageant at Cisco again this year. It rained some and was pretty cool, but around 20,000 people attended this wonderful affair any way. The Bartons went down Saturday and returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton visited their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts and family in Balmorea recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke returned home Saturday after spending several weeks at LBJ Lake.

Say, have you heard this one? "Some of us are always so far behind that the future is already gone before we get there." That's me in a nutshell.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker were Sunday dinner guests of the Floyd Forester family near Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Becker and sons spent several days at Lake Wall recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belk and children spent the Easter weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Beck, in Carlsbad, N. M. Easter Sunday they helped Mr. Beck celebrate his 87th birthday.

Spence Bevers took his children fishing at the White River Dam one day during the Easter holidays, but I don't think they had too much

BEER—A big boost to the economy!

The brewing industry each year contributes over 1.4 billion dollars in federal, state and local excise taxes. Wages and salaries in the brewing industry account for almost 500 million dollars, and the purchase of packaging materials from other industries runs over 550 million. So next time you enjoy a cool, refreshing brew after hard work or play, remember—BEER is good in more ways than one!

Buy Bonds where you work.

They do.

Sometimes it seems the job is 50% walking, 50% waiting, and 50% fighting. It's tough, tiring work. But these brave men believe in it. A majority of our servicemen overseas are helping to pay the bill for freedom through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. Would you like to show these men their sacrifice is appreciated? You do it—and you walk a bit taller—when you buy Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 at maturity in only seven years... are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen... have special tax advantages... can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McGehee and Dennis and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dabbs and David went to Falcon Lake during the Easter holidays. They report one of the best fishing trips they ever had. Caught a lot of fish and Mr. Callaway even had to jump into the water one time to retrieve his fishing rod. Got his rod but lost his hat!

Rodney Callaway visited his parents during the holidays, returning to Cisco Junior College Tuesday.

Mrs. Wes Donahoo spent the holidays in Lubbock visiting with her grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. Loyd Hagen and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Becker and children went to Possum Kingdom Lake during the Easter holidays.

Sheri and Darrell Wilke will attend a Luther League Convention this weekend at San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Lester and Teri and Allen of Commerce visited relatives and friends here during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Alice Martin has just returned from a visit to Arkansas, which she made with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Haynes. They visited in Texarkana with a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Medor, and then went to Prescott to visit some more cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Collins, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Weatherington. From there they went to Harrisburg to visit Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith and had the misfortune to run into the flu. They visited Mrs. Bertha Clements at Ravenden and while there they came down with the flu, but all recovered okay, even though Mr. Haynes had to spend several days in the hospital. Mrs. Martin said even though she did get sick, she still enjoyed her trip very much.

Mrs. Alice Martin has a stack of photography magazines to give away to anyone interested in photography. If you are interested, call 996-2043.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lancaster and Mrs. Alpha Taylor spent Monday in Amarillo.

The Southland Athletic banquet has been set for April 15 at the Howard Johnson restaurant in Lubbock.

The new cheerleaders for next year were elected Monday. They are Karen Melcher, head cheerleader, Dayzeene Dunn and Sheri Wilke. Karen and Dayzeene were cheerleaders this year, along with Libby Sales. Congratulations.

Until next week, remember that a quarrel is like butter, the longer it stands the more sour it grows. Please call me your news. Pray for peace in Vietnam.

Lunchroom Menus

Meals served in the Post school cafeteria next week will be as follows:

Monday: Barbecue beef on bun, buttered broccoli, crisp cabbage, carrot salad, fruit pie, orange juice, milk.

Tuesday: Pinto beans cooked with chili seasoning and salt pork, potato salad, chilled tomatoes, pineapple cheese salad on lettuce leaf, cornbread, milk.

1965: USAC-supervised tests proved that a '65 Ford rode quieter than a $17,000 Rolls-Royce.

1966: After comparison rides, owners of the world's most expensive luxury cars like Jaguar and Mercedes-Benz agreed that a '66 Ford was quieter.

1967: At the Lake Placid Olympic ski jump a '67 Ford took leap after punishing leap and rode away still quiet, still strong. Other '67 Fords went on a bone-jarring steepchase ride and a grueling trip up and down the Los Angeles Coliseum steps. The results were always the same: still quiet, still strong.

Year after year, you're ahead in a Ford — ahead in quiet, ahead in strength.

Year after year, we do things you'd never do to demonstrate Ford's quiet and strength. This year's tests were the toughest yet. But the durable Ford came through again — quiet and strong. That's because the 1967 Ford is the strongest, quietest Ford we've ever built. Over 150 important parts have been strengthened and improved. And the '67s offer plenty of convenience and luxury features too. SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission that's fully automatic and fully manual. It all adds up to a pretty strong argument for saving at your Ford Dealer's now. Quieter because it's stronger... stronger because it's better built.

Because future astronauts cannot remain strapped in chairs during month-long space journeys, tests are underway to develop restraining devices to prevent them from floating aimlessly within the ship's cabin. At General Electric Company's Missile and Space Division, weightlessness in space is simulated under water and tests made on holding devices such as toe traps and hand holds. Here, the "spaceman" checks mobility and dexterity in relation to spacecraft instrumentation and control panel design. The underwater tests represent another key step in learning as much as possible about man's reactions in space. Space research is one of many advanced projects underway in more than 50 General Electric laboratories in the United States and overseas.

Justiceburg re-elects three school trustees

By MRS. D. F. McWHIRT
We would like to start the news of this week by being thankful again for the good rains. They varied from one inch to one and one-half inches in our community. Mrs. Harlie Ainsworth, Mrs. Billy Blacklock and Mrs. Eileen Nance held the trustee election on Saturday at the schoolhouse with Riley Miller, Bill Mize and John Boren being re-elected. Mrs. Sam Bevers and Glenn were called back to Odessa last Thursday night due to the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Gladys Morgan. Mrs. Morgan was some improved when they returned on Sunday. They stopped in Snyder to visit Mrs. Dezzie Bevers, a patient in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to the C. C. West Texas area to get railroad

ANDREWS — A 78.25-mile short rail line has been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the Permian Basin Railway Co. The line will serve Andrews, Seminole, Odessa and Seagraves. The tracks will be laid from just within the switching limits of the Texas and Pacific Railroad at Odessa to the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad just south of Seagraves. The company will also lay down 2.1 miles of spur trackage. The next step is financing the estimated $10 million needed.

Garrison issues tornado warning

AUSTIN — Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged Texans to review tornado safety precautions. "While tornadoes can occur any time of the year," Garrison said, "April, May and June are the peak months." U. S. Weather Bureau records indicate that Texas leads the nation in total number of tornadoes per year. The annual average of 80.7 is based on a record of 1,210 confirmed tornadoes from 1951 through 1965. "It is especially important for every school, church, hospital, hotel, business house, and industry to establish an emergency plan," Garrison said. "To know what to do when a tornado is approaching may mean the difference between life and death." A circular on tornado safety is available from most local Civil Defense offices. POST MAN BUYS BULL V. L. Peel of Post recently purchased an Aberdeen-Angus bull from Storie Ranch of Post, it is reported by the American Angus Association of St. Joseph, Mo.

Ranchers Association organized at Lubbock

LUBBOCK—Southwestern Ranchers Association was the name chosen by area ranchers "to perpetuate the tradition of ranching." The group will meet annually on the first day of the ABC Rodeo in Lubbock. Officers are Dean W. L. Stangel of Lubbock, president; Jim Humphries, Guthrie, vice president; and Porter Garrett, Lubbock, secretary-treasurer. Committees will study the feasibility of a permanent location and headquarters.
