Man charged with stabbing his ex-wife to death here Monday

Mother of four is victim; bond denied suspect

Ray Teel, 34-year-old Postex Mills employe, is being held in the Lubbock County jail without bond after being charged here with the knife slaying of his ex-wife, Edith Robinson, 32, Monday morning in a bedroom of her home at 205 South Ave. D.

Murder with malice charges were filed against Teel by County Attorney Preston Poole and Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn in the court of Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts.

Teel was arraigned on the charge in the court of Justice of the Peace George H. McCleskey in Lubbock, where he had been in custody since about 10:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Denied bond, Teel was committed to the Lubbock County jail by Sheriff Claborn for safekeeping.

Mrs. Robinson, the mother of four children by Teel, was found on the floor of her bedroom. She had been stabbed more than 20 times, and a kitchen knife with a six-inch blade was found on her body.

Sheriff Claborn discovered the body about 10:30 a. m. Monday after going to Mrs. Robinson's home on information radioed his office by the Lubbock police department.

The Lubbock police had been called by a doctor at Methodist Hospital after the doctor had talked to a man identified as Teel.

Sheriff Claborn said Teel had gone to the hospital's emergency room and had asked to see a psychiatrist whom he said his ex-wife had been going to. The sheriff said Teel did not get to see the doctor he had asked for, but that his conversation with the other doctor led the latter to call the police.

After getting the radio call from the Lubbock police department, the sheriff went to Mrs. Robinson's home. He said the front door was unlocked and he could hear the television set going.

The sheriff said he decided to check with Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brooks, whose home is nearby, before going into the Robinson home.

He said when no one answered his knock at the Brooks home, he returned to the Robinson home and entered by the front door.

The sheriff found Mrs. Robinson's body lying on the floor beside her bed, wrapped in bed covers. He called Justice of the Peace D. C. Roberts and the county attorney. In the meantime, Highway Patrolman Henry Harden had arrived to assist in the investigation.

An autopsy performed Monday afternoon by two local physicians determined that Mrs. Robinson had been dead since early that morning.

Sheriff Claborn said that when he and the county attorney questioned the older two of Mrs. Robinson's children, who attend school here, they told them their mother's bedroom door was open when they left the house for school Monday morning. The sheriff said the bedroom door was closed when he entered the house.

One of Mrs. Robinson's other children attends a school for the deaf in Dallas and the other, who is of pre-school age, lives with his grandparents, the sheriff said.

The sheriff said the autopsy disclosed that Mrs. Robinson had been stabbed more than 20 times in the upper part of her body, including her back.

Sheriff Claborn said he was told that Teel arrived at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock at 9:45 o'clock Monday morning.

Funeral services for Mrs. Robinson were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at the Calvary Baptist Church, after which the body was transported by Hudman Funeral Home to Lafayette, Ala., for graveside services at 2 p. m. today (Thursday).

The Rev. Jimmy McGuire, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, and the Rev. Charles Plunkett, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, officiated at the funeral services here.

Mrs. Robinson, born Oct. 14, 1934, in Shawmut, Ala., had lived in Post about five years, moving here from Austin, Tex.

Survivors are a daughter, Patti Teel, and three sons, Raymond Jeffrey, John William and Gerald Ray Teel, all of the home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brooks of Post, and two sisters, Mrs. Diane Farrington of Russellville, Ala., and Mrs. Mary Jon Webster of Post.

Solid gains over four-year span

Harold Lucas is back working full-time for himself this week in the insurance and real estate business after four busy and productive years as mayor of Post.

During those two terms he gave generously of his time and efforts to improve this community. Certainly the record of accomplishment of the Lucas administration is impressive.

Some of the major gains include the Post Municipal-Garza County airport, which will be dedicated next month; the new Post Public Library, a remarkable community "do it yourself" effort with a real assist from the city; the 27-unit Post Public Housing project, which has been many years in the "effort stage" but became reality only two years ago; a city manager type of city government which has added greatly to the efficiency of city affairs; a planned and balanced budget; White River water and a guaranteed water supply, another long range project; remodeling of city hall and addition of new city equipment, all paid for on a cash basis.

Probably appreciated most by the harried local taxpayer is the fact that the city through the four years of the Lucas administration suffered no "crises" of a financial nature, made no boosts in taxes, and wound up with a sound financial record.

During this period, the city was the only local taxing unit to hold the tax line.

A mayor's duties—here in Post or elsewhere in small town or big city—are such that plenty of controversy is always stirred in the political pot. The electorate is quick to remember those things which individually they opposed, but often overlooks the solid gains which are made over a four-year span.—JC

A sure cure for minor worries

Well, now we can sit back until early October and forget some of our troubles. The major league baseball season opened Monday, which means that some fellows given to fretting and fuming over something that doesn't amount to a hill of beans can forget it, whatever it is, and start worrying about such things as what has happened to the Yankees, when are the Houston Astros and New York Mets going to start climbing out of the National League's second division and what will the Dodgers do without Koufax.

Here in Post and Garza County, baseball fans will also follow the fortunes of Post and Justiceburg's Norm Cash, who is expected to have another great season at first base for the Detroit Tigers.

The little woman can also forget some of her minor worries now that the baseball season has opened. She can stop worrying about how to get a little help from her husband around the house and start worrying how to get him from in front of the one-eyed monster and out of the house for awhile on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Television has done even more than Houston's entry into the big leagues to bring major league baseball closer home to us out here in West Texas. Many fellows who can't tell you the names of his district's congressmen in Washington or Austin can tell you the name of the clean-up batter for the Chicago Cubs or the Washington Senators.

Just the same, it wouldn't seem like summer without baseball.—CD

Protect yourself against peddlers

One racket that must be a lucrative one is the "gypping" of homeowners by fraudulent bug killers, else there wouldn't still be so much of it going on. On the other hand, it could be that some people never learn.

Running the bug killer a close second at this time of the year is the out-of-town door knocker peddling worthless hospitalization policies.

We've had both breeds of peddlers here at one time or another in recent months and, since some gypers never seem to learn better, some of them probably will be back.

Residents of Post are reminded that they are protected by city ordinance against such types of fraudulent operation.

The first thing a resident should do when approached by one of these door-to-door salesmen is have him produce a license or permit issued by the city secretary. If he cannot show such a permit, the police department should be called immediately.

Residents are asked not to sign anything or enter into any kind of agreement with any salesman until they have checked with officers, insurance offices or other types of business the caller says he represents.

Legitimate operators, of which there still are many making house-to-house calls, will be glad to produce a city permit if his line of work calls for one.—CD

Attend Monday's all-bands concert

One of the most enjoyable events near the end of every school year is the all-schools band concert, which this year will be held next Monday night in the high school gymnasium.

Douglas Hillock has done an excellent job at all levels in his first year here as band director, from the beginners' band right on up through the high school band.

All four of the school bands will be heard at Monday night's public concert. The admission charge is being made to defray expenses of the high school band's annual banquet to be held later in the month.

Everyone is urged to attend the concert and hear these young musicians, who, along with their director, are a credit to the school and to the community.—CD

IF YOU ARE looking for some place to go during April and if you are one of the few people who hasn't been told where to go, you more than likely would be interested in what the new Texas Calendar of Events has to offer.

The Dispatch receives a brand-new copy of the Texas Calendar of Events every six months or so from the Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department. The current calendar lists nearly 450 events in 177 cities from April 1 through Sept. 30.

UNDER WAY THIS week in Texas and winding up Saturday or Sunday is the Dallas All-Star Rodeo, Pan American Days at Edinburg, the San Antonio Charity Horse Show, FFA Rodeo in Hillsboro, two-day Strawberry Festival at Poteet, University of Texas Roundup Weekend at Austin, Texas State Singing Convention at Stephenville, and Lubbock Quarter Horse Show on Saturday, which on such notice might be the easiest event for most of us to dash off to.

Our cat Blackie wouldn't be in such an all-fired hurry to get his income tax mailed if he'd just stop to think that the deadline is Monday, April 17, this year, instead of Saturday, April 15.

THE MAN UP the street says it's strange how people never act as you would have done if you had been them.

Just as I was ready to abandon as an old wives' tale the ideal that 13 is an unlucky number, I have been brought up short. The Treasury Department reports that the total of U. S. debts has reached 13 figures — $1,529,700,000,000, which is more than one-and-a-half-trillion dollars.

ON THE CHANCE that I might want the advertising department to "plug" this column sometime, I am running here the answer to the question, "Who is the reader of newspaper advertising?" asked by Dr. S. S. Talbert, chairman of the Journalism Department of the University of Mississippi. So, who is the reader of newspaper advertising?

—He is a boy looking for a puppy, or someone with a litter of mongrels needing homes.

—He is a builder looking for a loan, or a banker looking for an investment.

—He or she is the whole community with unsatisfied wants and needs.

"This is not a hypothetical question," Dr. Talbert continues, and the rest of the article points out:

—He is likely to be more intelligent and more literate than people who respond to other advertising.

—He is likely to have more money to spend than other people.

—She is over 80 per cent of the women about to go grocery shopping.

—He is nearly every man considering the purchase of automobiles, trucks and tractors.

—If she is older, she looks for advice on foods, electrical appliances, sewing and parties.

—If she is a teen-ager, she sets the pace in selecting skirts, slacks, and sneakers.

—If he is a teen-ager, others follow him to dress shops, cycle shops, and sports stores.

—The newspaper reader is someone looking for a house to rent, or someone trying to rent a house.

—He is a lawyer looking for a typist, or a typist looking for a job.

—He is a tycoon looking for a Cadillac, or a salesman looking for a tycoon.

Recent news that the price of a postage stamp may be advanced to six cents leads one Post woman to observe: "It used to be when a postage stamp cost two, three or four cents, it tore up a nickel. They solved that by increasing the price to five cents. Now, when they go to six cents, it will tear up a dime."

224 antelope in Borden County

SAN ANGELO — Racing suddenly greening mesquite brush, wildlife personnel counted 1,512 Permian Basin antelope during the spring Texas Parks and Wildlife Department aerial census.

The mesquite brush country check is deliberately postponed to determine numbers surviving the winter. There's always the risk, such as unseasonably hot weather blended with showers as this spring, to blitz-sprout tree growth and hide the herds beneath a green canopy.

Project Leader Bob Sinclair said 1,092 head were counted in Reagan and Irion counties of which 40 per cent were bucks.

Borden County had 224 head, Sterling County, 100; Glasscock County, 45, and Mitchell County, 50 head.

Reagan, Irion and Borden counties have provided most of the antelope hunting by permit in past seasons.

'Tobruk' on the screen at Tower

Thrill-packed high adventure combined with stark war drama and sprinkled liberally with deceptive intrigue best describes Universal's multi-million dollar World War I epic, "Tobruk," now showing through Saturday at the Tower Theatre.

Starring Rock Hudson, George Peppard, Guy Stockwell and Nigel Green, the film is filled with hard-hitting, explosive action from the first Technicolor frame to the final climactic scene. Director Arthur Hiller weaves a strong story, sterling performances and unusual photography into a fascinating screen presentation of high adventure.

The original story by Leo V. Gordon takes a little known actual incident of World War I and dramatizes the eight-day assignment of a handful of soldiers to knock out the big guns at Tobruk and to destroy Rommel's movement possibilities to pave the way for Allied invasion.

Peace Corps test will be Saturday

Post area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 15, at Lubbock.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicated a limited language-learning ability, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The Placement Test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail. The application form, not the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. 20525.

The Placement Test takes about an hour and a half.

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

... from the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN — A $170,000,000 pay raise bill for Texas school teachers now is in its flight through legislative thunderclouds.

Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, sponsor of the legislation, steered it through the Senate Education Committee with ease.

Aikin indicated he will move for Senate passage after the general appropriations bill is passed. He has sufficient votes to send it to the House.

Texas State Teachers Association President Sam M. Anderson of Big Spring told the Committee that this school year opened with an actual shortage of 1,200 teachers. Furthermore, some 5,000 of those now employed would not be working if capable replacements were available. By fall the teacher shortage is expected to grow worse unless salaries are improved.

TSTA says Aikin's bill — which provides raises of $61 to $100 a month with the biggest going to teachers with less experience — still would leave Texas teachers $4 below the national average.

Raises would necessitate a state appropriation of $170,000,000 for the next two years. Local school districts would add about $17,000,000 a year more, as their share.

Additional state money involved is almost as much as Gov. John Connally's entire $187,300,000 tax program. For that reason this bill will play a significant part in the overall financial complexion of this legislative session.

Connally's spending and revenue plans include $50,000,000 for teachers... or a total raise of five per cent across the board. This is about one-third of what TSTA wants.

While there is general feeling that teachers will get more money again this session, House sentiment appears to lean toward a lower figure than that covered by TSTA's bill, but a higher one than recommended by the governor.

COMMITTEES GO TO WORK — Quick action by various committees of the House and Senate in reporting out notable bills will keep Senators and Representatives busy during the coming weeks. Bills coming out:

—Senate Constitutional Amendments Committee reported favorably without debate or controversy the proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio to lower the state voting age to 18. Bernal didn't even get to present his testimony or the numerous witnesses from all over the state.

—Same committee favorably reported a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville to gradually do away with ad valorem taxes.

—Rep. Temple Dickson of Sweetwater pushed through the House Judiciary Committee his Tort Claims Act, which would do away with the doctrine that prohibits suits against the state and local governments without permission of the Legislature.

—Senate Education Committee recommended passage of Sen. Wayne Connally's bill to exempt students from low-income families from having to pay tuition and fees at state-supported colleges and universities.

—Enabling bill to allow the Parks and Wildlife Department to issue $75,000,000 in bonds to finance the purchase and development of parks around the state was reported favorably by the House Committee on Parks and Wildlife. Its companion constitutional amendment to authorize the bonds has been passed by both houses, but in different forms so it, too, is pending.

BILLS SIGNED—Governor Connally has signed two of this session's major bills into law: (1) Local option authority for cities to levy one per cent sales taxes and; (2) Strengthening of the Sunday closing law.

Sales taxation at local level will be delayed until after August.

Under Sunday closing law amendments, merchants cannot sell 42 named items—including clothing, toys, furniture and hardware — on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays. Old "emergency purchase" certificate is out.

Two lesser bills also got Connally's signature. One establishes the Texas Fine Arts Commission on a permanent basis. Other allows the Parks and Wildlife Department to acquire, restore and maintain historical structures and sites and those relating to prehistoric animal or plant life.

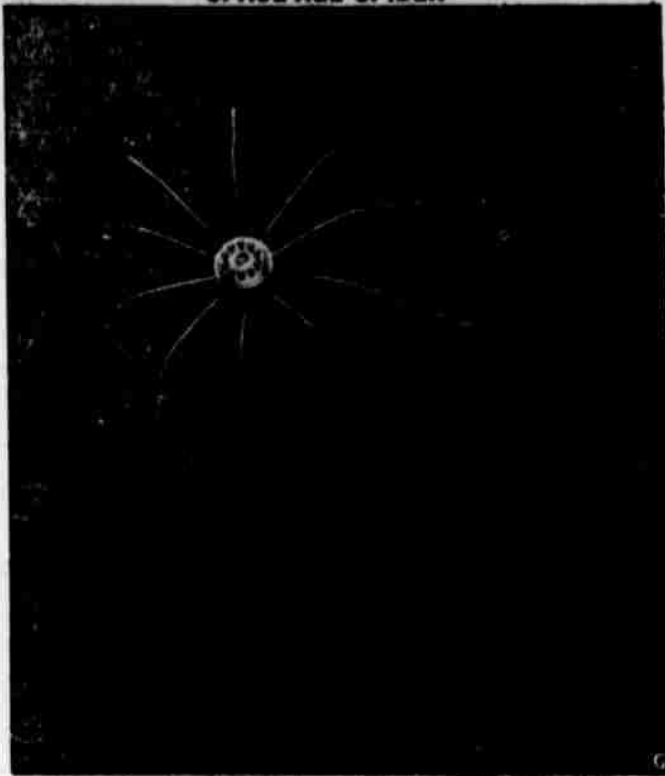

OLD-AGE BENEFITS—Awaiting the governor's signature is a bill by Senator Bernal to make eligible for old age assistance payments 10,000 persons who have lived in Texas 25 years or longer... but who are not U. S. citizens.

Bernal said that no one knows how many elderly non-citizens there are in Texas, though the figure may run as high as 12,750. However, State Department of Public Welfare figures that 5,900 will sign up the first year and 10,000 the second.

Estimated cost to the state is approximately $1,000,000 the first year and $2,000,000 the second.

"CIVIL RIGHTS" BILL PASSED — First state "civil rights" bill in recent history has been passed by

SPACE-AGE SPIDER

The technology of "micro-electronics" enables General Electric engineers to construct entire circuits about the size of pinheads.

The eye of this "electronic spider," no bigger than a period at the end of this sentence, is the circuit. The legs are "output-input" connectors which tie the circuit to other circuits.

The Electronics Laboratory, where the tiny circuit was developed, is one of more than 50 General Electric centers involved in advanced scientific and technological projects.

TAKES OPPOSITION

Dear Editor:

I was born and reared in Garza County, and have always looked forward to receiving and reading your paper. I have enjoyed your editorials, and mostly agreed with your opinions. However, I would like to ask where you got your information for the article, "Social Security Is a Good Buy," in the Thursday, March 30, edition of your paper.

I wish to take opposition to this article, and to your statement that "Well-informed insurance officials agree..." No well-informed insurance official, or insurance agent, would agree that Social Security is cheaper than private life insurance, or better than savings accounts. I have heard many well-informed insurance officials — both company officials and agents — speak on the subject of Social Security, and have never heard one comment that it was a good deal.

The enclosed brochure pretty well explains what the life insurance industry thinks of Social Security. Even though this material originated in 1961, we think it is still pertinent, and points up the dangers in our Social Security Program.

Personally, I feel that Social Security is a "political football" whereby the American public spends billions of dollars each year without ever knowing where it is going, and certainly not knowing for sure that "it will be there when we get there."

I have many good friends on the payroll of the Social Security Administration, and this is no reflection on any of them personally. They are fine people, and are doing a good job of administering a program that keeps even most of them confused.

Again, would you please tell me the source of your material. Yours truly,

Eldon Roberts
General Agent
Western Republic
Life Insurance Co.

Dear Mr. Roberts: The article to which you take opposition, "Social Security Is a Good Buy," is a considerably shortened news release from the Social Security Administration. We admit to lax editing in shortening the article in that we did not directly quote the Social Security Administration so as to pinpoint them as the source of the article. What the life insurance industry thinks of Social Security is no secret to anyone, and we are always glad to present both sides.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

About the only time I stay up late to watch TV is when the Oscar awards are made and to see the Miss America Pageant. I'm so sleepy this morning after watching the BIG show Monday night I can hardly see out. Our touch of dreary winter doesn't help a bit either.

Mr. C even stuck it out with me last night, mainly to smile smugly every time the show "Grand Prix" won an Oscar. The last time we were in Houston both "Grand Prix" and "The Sand Pebbles" were showing and I rather leaned toward seeing the latter. However, we knew where the theatre was located at which "Grand Prix" was showing and it is in Cinemascope, so that's where we ended up. I came out knowing much more about car racing than I'd ever thought I'd like to know and with the sound still ringing in my ears.

I was not surprised that the show won an award for the best sound effects. There was lots of sound and it was most effective.

I, for the first time, was happy that Elizabeth Taylor won an Oscar for her acting in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?". I just couldn't bear the thought of one of the Misses Redgraves winning anything. That's not an intelligent statement for me to make as I have not seen either of them in a movie. I just think they look rather kooky and the glasses on Vanessa were just too, too much.

I felt the same way about Julie Christie winning an Oscar last year until I saw her in Dr. Zhivago.

Post women to attend district WSCS meet

The Spring meeting of the Lubbock District of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Methodist churches will be held Friday at St. John's Methodist Church in Lubbock at 10 a. m.

Local women planning on attending are asked to call Mrs. Jimmy Hundley or Mrs. A. C. Cooke so they can plan on the number of cars necessary for the trip.

The group will meet at the church at 8:30 a. m.

go and then I loved her. And she certainly looked kooky last night in her mini-dress. That might be one of the few times that we'll ever see Bob Hope a bit speechless.

But back to Elizabeth Taylor. Her grandparents (on her mother's side) lived in our hometown of Arkansas City, Kans., and I've always felt a girl with a good solid background like that should have known better than to have married Eddie Fisher. Ugh!

Mr. C has a sure conversation stopper as far as Elizabeth is concerned. Anytime she is being discussed in a group we are in he's the only one that can casually throw into the conversation that he has seen her in bed!

If this hadn't happened before we were married it might stop a few of our conversations also. But it happened long ago when Mr. C and two hometown friends were touring Europe after graduating from college. While they were in London, England, they were guests in the home of Elizabeth's parents and were invited upstairs to see the children. Elizabeth, who was 12 years old and had just made the movie "National Velvet", was in bed asleep as they peeked in on her.

It was nice the TV strike ended so we could all see the Monday night show. It's going to be interesting during news-time tonight to see if Mr. Huntley and Mr. Brinkley say good night to each other. It will also be interesting to see what Johnny Carson does now. I'm afraid I won't miss him too much as I never stay up late to watch "The Tonight Show." The only time I watch is when we're out of town and staying in a motel and I can watch from bed, and that doesn't happen nearly as often as I'd like.

I'm thankful for the extravaganza of Monday night if for no other reason than it gave me some column material for this week. Yesterday I was completely devoid.

Ground is broken for San Antonio HemisFair Hall of Texas History

SAN ANTONIO — San Antonio's HemisFair, '68 site was the scene Thursday of spectacular ground-breaking ceremonies for the huge Lone Star Hall of Texas History, the more than half-million dollar exhibit of the Lone Star Brewing Company.

Using a gigantic thirty-foot tall spade, Lone Star Brewing Company president, Harry Jersig and executive vice president Charles Kuper, led a group of dignitaries in rites marking the start of construction of the unusual building.

Speaking to more than 300 guests assembled for the affair, Jersig said that not only the eyes of Texas, but the eyes of the world would be on San Antonio during the forthcoming HemisFair, '68. He said that the exhibit being built by the Lone Star Brewery would be one of the most unusual ever planned for Texas.

Program is approved to beautify highways by screening junkyards

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission today approved a program to beautify the state's highways in 86 counties by screening 134 junkyards with right-of-way landscape planting.

The 1967 junkyard screening program will be submitted to the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads for acceptance under the federal Highway Beautification Act of 1965. If the Bureau of Public Roads concurs the federal government will pay 75 per cent of the $664,300 estimated cost of the program.

Junkyards will be screened in 22 of the Texas Highway Department's 25 districts throughout the state under the 1967 program. The department initiated its junkyard screening program in January, 1966, with nine projects which were completed by its own maintenance forces.

In early 1966 the department also conducted an inventory of junkyard and roadside signs in compliance with provisions of the beautification act. The inventory disclosed a total of 1,220 junkyards, dumping grounds and other unsightly blight along the state's federal-aid highways which could be concealed by landscape planting or would require removal away from the right of way.

The beautification act provides that any state failing to cooperate in the junkyard screening and beautification program will sustain a 10 per cent reduction in allotments for the building of highways. The penalty for Texas would amount to about $20 million a year.

The high spot of our family album! We've only seen Meg hold this solemn expression once before, when she was a freckled angel in the Sunday School pageant . . . and then she wasn't quite so cross-eyed!

Meg's our darling adopted daughter, and usually she's a little livewire . . . full of surprises. It was Meg's enthusiasm for Church School that led us to improve our own record of church attendance. It was Meg's searching question, "Why don't we ever thank God for dinner like the Andersons?" that revived the custom of meal-time grace in our home. And it was Meg's worry about "the poor hungry children" that eventually drew us into our work for the Mission Fund.

Frankly, we used to be "fringe Christians," giving God very little of our time or thoughts. Meg was God's instrument in showing us that our church really needs us . . . and that it is a blessed thing to be needed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Juniors, Seniors are working on research papers

Both the Juniors and Seniors are working hard to get their research papers completed.

The Juniors are writing research papers on topics pertaining to history for their American History class. The contents of the paper will be given an English grade also.

The Seniors, on the other hand, are writing their papers completely for English. The topics are limited to authors and literary works.

The students have been going to the library once a week since February making out bibliography cards and taking notes on index cards. For most of the students, this is the first time to construct a paper in such a way and it is a little confusing.

The completed paper will consist of a cover sheet, a rough outline, a final outline, a bibliography, note cards and foot-notes.

If you see a Junior or Senior dragging through school Thursday or Friday, just think they are conscientious and stayed up a little late so they would be sure to get their research paper in on time.

Post High School Happenings

By Marcia Newby

Post High had a fairly successful day last Saturday at the District Track and Volleyball meet in Denver City. The girls second place in volleyball surprised most everyone, including the girls themselves. Winning anything is a new experience for us, so we were quite pleased with even second place. We had hopes of beating the Denver City Fillies, but we couldn't quite do it. I think our main trouble was that we didn't have a girl who whooped and hollered like one of the girls did. But now that we know the key to success, Denver City will be no obstacle next year.

The Senior play is rapidly progressing and has promising signs of being a great dramatic production. Half of almost every rehearsal is spent arguing about how the set should look or exactly who should be the one to scream in a high shrill voice (the boys always want to do that) or about which direction is upper left or lower right. But the wrinkles will be ironed out and "Hobgoblin House" will be presented April 21. For those wanting to buy reserved seats — ACT NOW! There's a limited number. Contact any likely Senior and your request will be taken care of. Remember that date—April 21!

The Interscholastic League competition went very smoothly last Saturday with no major skirmishes between the rival schools. Mr. Shiver was pleased with Post's showing, but strongly encourages more students to participate next year. He is a strong believer in starting young and would like to see a good number of interested freshmen in the future, as well as upper classmen. This is your warning! Volunteer for an Interscholastic League event next year or dreadful things may happen. Our goal for next year will be "BEAT BIG RED!"

MAKES HONOR ROLL

Harvey L. Pennell has made the first semester Dean's Honor Roll in the School of Arts and Sciences at Texas Tech. Pennell graduated from Tech in January and is now working toward a master's degree in physical education. He is married to the former Bennie Chandler of Lubbock and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Pennell of Southland.

So you'll get to be President of U.S. Copper two years later.

What's your hurry? You've got a whole lifetime ahead of you.

Plenty of time to work and make money and own a house and belong to a club and buy insurance and be a big success or a small success or not and have a cardiogram once a year and cut out polyunsaturated fats while you're trying to nurse an ulcer and watch your chest sink slowly into your belly and do the rest of the kind of things that most people end up doing even if they don't plan on it.

What's your hurry? You're only young once. And that once is now. And now is the time, probably the only time you'll have a chance to do something you don't have to do. Something out of the pattern.

Something far and on your own and away from the person you are and the life you've lived. Something full of doing things maybe you never would have or could have done unless you had to. Something full of seeing things you never would have seen unless you stood there. Something like joining the Peace Corps.

What's your hurry? You know everything you want to do will still be here to do in a couple of years. The only thing you don't know is what a couple of years in the Peace Corps will do for you.

Maybe it'll help you get to be President of U.S. Copper faster. Maybe when you get there it'll help you be better. Or maybe it'll help you find out you don't want to be President of U.S. Copper at all.

Information on cotton is given at meeting

"You're starting out with probably the best subsoil moisture you've had in several years," irrigation specialist Shelby Newman told area farmers at a First National Bank - sponsored cotton information meeting here last Thursday night.

Not all the information was as optimistic, however, as the statement about the moisture. Farmers learned that growing long staple cotton successfully isn't going to be easy under area conditions.

There are good possibilities, however, that longer staple cotton can, and will, be grown on a considerably larger scale here in future crop years. Longer staple varieties already being grown to some extent, or likely to be grown following the completion of experimental studies, include Del Cerro, Acala 15-17b and Paymaster III.

Louie Burkes, plant manager at Postex Mills, told the farmers that the Del Cerro variety of longer staple cotton already being grown in this area is of too low a micronaire for the mill to use.

"We'd like to use all of this cotton you're planting, but it just won't make sheets to government specifications," Burkes said. Earlier, he had explained that a big percentage of the output at the mill is sold to the government for use by the armed forces.

Burkes also explained that the machinery at the mill here simply won't handle cotton that doesn't measure up to requirements as to staple length, micronaire, etc.

He told the farmers that the cotton being raised here is used mainly in the manufacture of coarser materials, such as work shirts and denims. "And buying habits are changing," he said, "to where people are not buying as much of this material as they used to."

Lavon Ray, plant breeder for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, told the farmers to "use good seed and plant them right to produce a good quality crop of cotton."

Ray explained that variety is not all that affects the staple length of cotton, but that irrigation also has a bearing on it. "Drought and lack of water will reduce staple length and fiber strength," he said.

Micronaire, Ray said, is essentially a reading of the maturity of cotton and can be affected by environment, as well as by a number of other things.

"You may have to go to the two-harvest system to successfully grow long staple cotton," Ray told the farmers.

Presentation on excavation made

Artifacts from an excavation on the Lee Reed farm near Justiceburg and a copy of a bulletin containing a description of them were presented to the owners of the farm Sunday by three members of the South Plains Archaeological Society.

The excavation, made in January of 1966, resulted in the find of five projectile points, a knife and three scrapers, some of which have been typed.

The site unearthed was described by archaeologists as an intermittently used shelter. Petrographs were found on the walls of the shelter, and pictographs were found nearby.

The paper on the excavation appeared in a bulletin of the Southwestern Federation of Archaeological Societies.

The artifacts were presented Mr. Reed by Claud Brown and the bulletin by Emmett Shedd. Johnny Warlick also attended the presentation.

Industry report—

(Continued From Front Page) Public Service Company will print a four-page, two-color folder for Post to distribute to industrial prospects just as it will do for all other communities in its utility area.

McKeown discussed making an "inventory of industrial sites" available in this area before foundation members and various other aspects of the program. He said he wouldn't recommend "extensive media advertising" for Post but would want to advertise in the Texas Parade Magazine put out by the Texas Industrial Commission and in other specialized magazines aimed at industrial executives all over the nation.

He said a labor survey of this community may be undertaken here too before actual contact is made with industrial prospects. McKeown told members of the foundation they would receive monthly news letters to keep them abreast of the foundation's progress. He urged foundation members to discuss the proposed program among themselves and with board members.

He emphasized that he wanted any ties on industry which is seeking plant sites.

Cotton ginners elect Woodsboro man president

DALLAS — J. F. Michna, 52-year-old Woodsboro gin operator near Corpus Christi, is the new president of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association. He and other officers were introduced during that organization's 54th annual meeting which attracted over 5,200 ginners and their guests.

Bill Thompson of Shallowater was elected vice president and Tony Price of Dallas was named executive vice president. Conly Bell of La Villa in the Lower Rio Grande Valley was elected chairman of the Association executive committee.

Michna was honored during the convention as the state's outstanding cotton ginners and received the Horace Hayden Memorial plaque from the National Cotton Ginners' Association.

He succeeds Jake Capriellan of Crockett. In the annual report to the Association membership at Tuesday's session, Capriellan said he would point out that the ginning industry would be in much better condition today if the new government cotton program had been allowed to reduce surplus cotton stocks over the intended four year period rather than the sharp cut-back achieved in one season. Surplus stocks of cotton are expected to decrease by more than four million bales this year.

He said there was some optimism in the industry and this largely prompted by the recently enacted research and promotion act to be financed by cotton producers.

Professor writes book on Southern Baptists

WACO — Fourteen years of research by Dr. Rufus B. Spain, history professor at Baylor University, have developed into a book which will be published next month by the Vanderbilt University Press.

"At Ease in Zion: A Social History of Southern Baptists, 1855-1900," began as Spain's doctoral dissertation at Vanderbilt in 1949. He finished research and completed writing the book less than two years ago.

Spain said his book was not an institutional history of the Southern Baptist Convention but a social history and a study to determine the influence Baptists had on public ideas and thinking.

Competition keen in Spring school meet

The intra-schools relays meet held Wednesday of last week was described by Athletic Director Glynn Gregg as "highly successful — so much so that we plan to hold another one next Spring."

Most of the events were held on the football field at Antelope Stadium, but a few were run off on the track just east of the stadium.

Scores of students participated in the four divisions — senior high boys, senior high girls, junior high boys and junior high girls.

As an example of the students' interest in the competition, Coach Gregg said more than 60 boys were entered in the junior high boys' 50 - yard dash alone. "We just lined them up across the field and let them go," the coach said.

High school senior Dick Kennedy was named by Coach Gregg as the meet's outstanding individual. He won first places in the senior high boys' 50, 75 and 100 - yard dashes and ran on the winning 440 - yard relay, 440 - yard shuttle relay and 880 - yard relay teams.

Traffic safety laws under consideration by State Legislature

AUSTIN — The Texas legislature is now considering 22 bills designed to put into effect Governor Connally's Highway Safety Program.

The proposed legislation would provide for universal driver education for all teen-agers; strengthen the vehicle inspection program; raise the minimum driver's license age to 16 with driver education and 18 for those teen-agers who have not taken driver education.

The penalty for conviction of driving while a license is suspended or revoked would be increased under the new laws and rehabilitation schools to train problem drivers would be established by the Department of Public Safety. All drivers would be required to take a road test in the type of vehicle they will be licensed to operate.

Traffic Courts of Record would be established if the pending legislation is passed. Motorcycle operators and passengers would be required to wear protective headgear and commercial driver schools and driver training instructors would be licensed.

Vet's Forum

Q. I am presently attending college under the new G. I. Bill. I plan to marry soon. How should I notify the Veterans Administration that I have a dependent so that the rate of my educational allowance can be increased?

A. The Veterans Administration will pay the additional allowance for your dependent from the date of notification of your marriage. This may be done by letter. The additional allowance will not be paid, however, until a copy of the marriage certificate is furnished.

Q. I am planning a trip abroad next year and am making some arrangements concerning my financial matters. I receive a disability compensation check from the Veterans Administration each month. I understand that mail service in some foreign countries is a bit unreliable. Could I arrange to have my checks sent to my bank during my trip?

A. Yes. There is a procedure whereby you may have your checks sent to a bank for deposit to your account. Your bank will assist you in making the arrangements. The VA must know, of course, where to mail the checks and so a change of address must be submitted.

Q. I am a World War II veteran, and have just paid the last installment on my 20-year G. I. home loan. Am I entitled to another loan before the July 25, 1967, deadline for World War II veterans?

A. Full repayment of a G. I. loan does not, in itself, entitle you to another loan. However, your entitlement may be restored until July 25, 1967, if you are forced to sell for certain compelling reasons.

Grassland mother, four children all have mumps

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER

I am very sorry I didn't write any news last week. Hope you didn't miss it too much. I was in the hospital at Post. Am at home now and doing very well.

It's trying to rain outside. Hope it succeeds.

W. M. Davis was so pleased and happy about his birthday card I received. He received 33 cards and enjoyed them so much.

Visitors with Mrs. Hoover since she came home from the hospital were Mrs. Oden, Bernice Propst, Mrs. Era Aien, Mrs. Gus Porter, Mrs. Edith Inklebarger, Mrs. M. L. Thomas, Mrs. H. W. Edwards Sr., and Voy Norman.

Had a letter from Minnie Hood and she was telling me how much she loved her card. Mrs. A. C. Hood, enjoyed her card shower. She received 180 cards.

We are so sorry about Mrs. Ollie Huffaker falling and breaking her wrist. It was a very bad fracture. They put her on a plane after having it set and she flew to Colorado Springs, Colo., so her daughter can care for her.

Maureen Rich of Dallas has been visiting her mother and other relatives for several days.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lee on the birth of a son, Dennis Ray, born April 3, weighing 3 lbs., 7 ozs. Mr. Lee is a farmer.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the Greer family on the loss of their husband and father. May God in his infinite love and mercy comfort them in their sorrow.

Mrs. C. M. Greer is going home with her sister, Mrs. Lillie Lewis, on an indefinite stay in Ojai, Calif. They will leave as soon as their sister-in-law, Mrs. Jim Hester, of Lamesa improves some. She is very ill. We wish for her better days real soon.

The Rev. and Mrs. Onie Reed were overnight guests of her mother, Mrs. Lucy Cunningham, one night last week.

MRS. ELMER GRAY passed away Saturday morning. Funeral services were held in the Taboka Church of Christ with burial at the Post cemetery. We extend the family our sympathy.

The Draw - Grassland WSCS entertained the Taboka WSCS with a special luncheon April 5 in the dining hall of the Grassland Methodist Church. Mrs. Mildred LeMond gave a report on the annual WSCS conference held in Arapahoe. There were 15 ladies present and everyone enjoyed the present and the luncheon.

Joy Spears has gone to Sanford, Ia., to visit her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McCleskey at son, Delbert, were Sunday afternoon guests of the Kelly Laws.

The Tom Murays and Lucy Cunningham were Sunday luncheon guests of the W. G. McCleskeys and all went to a singing in the afternoon.

The V. L. Meltons came home from East Texas Friday where they had visited relatives.

JANETTE McCLESKEY and all four of her children had the mumps at the same time. They are a swelled up bunch. We are glad to report they are all okay now. They had quite a siege.

Uncle Mac and Aunt Nora Ritty are on the sick list. They have not been well for some time. We wish for them better days real soon.

Mrs. Reba Turner visited her daughter, Jane, and family and a brother who has been real ill in Houston. She came home via Center and visited her mother and sister there. Hope you had a nice trip, Reba.

Janette McCleskey and children spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Melton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pierce and Reba Hair visited the Rusty Dans before they took their son, Bobby, back to West Texas University. Bobby had spent the weekend at home and his parents took him back as he was not feeling well.

Bernice, H. C. and Mickey Gribble went with Vince to Post Sunday to an art exhibit in which Vince had a charcoal drawing.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gerner went to Dallas last week to the Ginner's Convention and also visited Louise Gerner.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gerner, Naomi Morman and Madaline Mathis attended funeral services for Mont Robinson, the father of Ruth and Reba Mathis. We extend our sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McCleskey and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Gerner stayed at the funeral home in Tahoka with Mrs. Gray Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Watson spent several days recently in Eloy, Ariz., visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMond visited in Littlefield Sunday afternoon with the Huston Hoovers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Mensch and Mac Dora were overnight guests of the W. E. Pierces Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pierce and son, Eddie, visited Burl Moore on Sunday afternoon. They also visited a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mensch, who is moving with her family to Oklahoma. Her husband is already there and will come back for the family.

W. E. Pierce and sons and a Mr. Owens and son are going fishing at Hico and Menard. Good luck, fellows.

Lt. and Mrs. Ted Primrose and son, Tim, left Grassland Thursday for the journey to Portsmouth, Va., where he will serve as a resident at the Naval Hospital there. He has been on a ship making trips from New York to Vietnam for some time. We will miss Jeri a lot. She has been in Grassland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy LeMond for a number of months. We wish for them the very best in their new home.

MINISTERS UNDER THE MICROSCOPE. The library has acquired two new books that — in their different ways — put the ministerial profession under a critical eye. One, "How to Become a Bishop Without Being Religious", is a last year's best-seller written by a Methodist minister, Charles Merrill Smith. The other, "Barchester Towers", is an English novel written in the 1800's by the Victorian author Anthony Trollope. Since the two books represent widely different points of view, it is surprising to find they have so much in common.

Trollope was not a minister. He was not even a church-goer. Therefore, his insights into the human foibles of the ministry are all the more remarkable. The chief character in his book is the Bishop. He is a mild-tempered and thoroughly hen-pecked man. His wife considers herself to be the real bishop of Barchester, and keeps her husband squarely under her thumb. All would work well but for the presence of a family chaplain. Mr. Slope, who aspires to power also. This oily character plays the bishop against his wife in an effort to secure a better position for himself. The descriptions of how Mr. Slope tries to work his way up the ecclesiastical ladder are delightful. And the political maneuvering set in motion by the warfare in the Bishop's house becomes a case history in ministerial hypocrisy.

Trollope is entertaining and harmless because he is writing fiction. Charles Merritt Smith is entertaining but far from harmless for is he writing satire. His book is addressed to the young minister who is just starting out on the road to success. It is a long and difficult road, and few men have the fortitude to reach their goal. This book will make the trip a little easier. Here are instructions on the kind of clothes to wear (conservative cut and colors, preferably black) the kind of wife to marry (on the plain side, preferably a girl who always wanted to marry a minister, and best, one who is independently wealthy), how to raise money (make the people feel guilty), how to preach (make the people laugh, make them cry, make them feel religious) and many more helpful hints. It's all tongue-in-cheek, but often hits a sensitive nerve that makes the reader wince.

Reading these books makes us painfully aware of the humanness of ministers. There is much hypocrisy in the clergy no matter how much we try to ignore it. But two things come out of this reading. The modern minister's sins are not new, they are as old as Trollope, old as Boccaccio, as old as the Bible itself. And secondly, the people in the pew have always accepted them without complaint. In fact, one suspects the laymen prefer it that way. The secret of success for a minister is to make his people happy, and leave true religion up to God. Reading these books is like peering through a microscope and suddenly discovering you are looking into a mirror.

Sourpuss with false teeth now laughs loudest

"Because of terrible yellow denture stains and bad breath, I always felt back from smiling. Everyone called me 'sourpuss.' One DENTUR-KLEEN FOAMING TABLET made the difference. All stain and offending food particles were foamed away. My false teeth have never looked so clean and white, felt so fresh, thanks to foaming DENTUR-KLEEN."

tractors humming along in Southland vicinity

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

This is a wonderful time of year. I just love spring, a time when nature comes alive. The grass is getting green, the trees are budding into full bloom, the early flowers are bringing forth their lovely colors, the birds are singing, and everything and everybody is busy getting ready for another summer! On every side of us, tractors and their drivers are busy from early until late, getting the ground ready for the seed. Yes, spring is a wonderful time of the year!

The Southland track team and their coach, Bob Dyess, attended the District Track Meet Saturday at Sundown. Southland did pretty well, getting 37 total points. The results follow: 440 relay, third; 800, Jackie Abshire, first; 100-yd. dash, Dan Eckert, second; 220-yd. Dan Eckert, second; mile relay, third; pole vault, Bill Bevers, first, setting a new record with 11-4; high jump, Dennis McGehee, first with 5-8, and Joe Basinger, second with 5-4. Congratulations, boys.

We would like to extend our sympathy to the family of Mrs. Oda (C. S.) Oats who passed away at 10:10 p. m. Thursday at Methodist Hospital. Mrs. Oats had lived in this community for the past 42 years. Her funeral was held at the Southland Baptist Church Saturday and she was buried in the Slaton Cemetery. She is survived by her children, Noel Oats, Gloss Davies, Judy Spurlock and Dorothy Golden, two sisters, seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. May the Lord comfort this family in their hours of sorrow.

Coach and Mrs. Bob Dyess and

Mrs. C. S. Oats rites conducted

Funeral services for Mrs. C. S. (Oda) Oats, 78, resident of the Southland vicinity for 42 years, were conducted at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Southland Baptist Church.

Mrs. Oats died at 10:10 p. m. Thursday in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, where she had been a patient for a week.

She was born Nov. 14, 1888, at Charleston, Tex., where she and Mr. Oats were married Nov. 19, 1905. They moved to the Southland community in 1925 from Delta County and farmed there until Mr. Oats' death in 1956.

Survivors are a son, Noel Oats of Route 2, Slaton; three daughters, Mrs. Judy Spurlock of Lubbock, Mrs. Dorothy Golden of Seminole and Mrs. Kenneth Davies of Slaton; two sisters, Mrs. R. B. Stell of Lubbock and Mrs. W. I. Worden of Charleston, seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The Rev. H. W. Hill, pastor and the Rev. Eddie Fortson of Dallas officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in Englewood Cemetery, Slaton.

Funeral held for Mrs. Sarah Gray

Mrs. Sarah O. (Sadie) Gray, 72, of Route 2, Post, was buried in Terrace Cemetery here Monday afternoon following funeral services at 2:30 o'clock in the Tahoka Church of Christ.

Mrs. Gray, a resident of Lynn County since 1917, died Saturday morning after a lengthy illness.

The Rev. Shelby Bishop and O. J. Stanley, both of Tahoka, officiated at the funeral services. Burial was under the direction of White Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Mrs. Gray is survived by her husband, C. E. Gray; one daughter, Mrs. Ruby Shedd of Post; three sons, Chester of Sundown, Lester of Jasper and Cecil Gray of Lubbock; three sisters, two brothers, 11 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Grandsons were pallbearers.

Father of Post women buried

Last rites for M. E. Robinson, 72, who died at 11 a. m. Friday in Medical Arts Hospital at Lamesa following a short illness, were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Lamesa.

Mr. Robinson was the father of Mrs. W. G. Mathis and Mrs. Bishop Mathis, both of Post. He had lived in Dawson County 62 years where he had been a Baptist minister and farmer.

Other survivors are his wife, two sister, four brothers, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The Rev. J. B. Vickery of Lubbock and the Rev. Rupert Townley of Bowie officiated at the funeral services. Burial was in the Lamesa Memorial Cemetery.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Sunday guests in the home of Miss Wilma Johnston were her nephew-in-law and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Don H. Pennell.

children spent a week recently in the Big Bend country camping, fishing and sightseeing. They saw a lot of beautiful country and fish.

Friends and relatives paid a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke a week ago Wednesday to help Mrs. Wilke celebrate her birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Wilke and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Becker and Edmund and Yours Truly. Games of "42" and "88" were played and refreshments served.

The Southland Board of Education met in regular session Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Donahoo visited their grandmother, Mrs. Wes Donahoo, Wednesday night and also visited in our home for a short time.

Darrell Wilke was elected vice president of the Northwest Texas Conference Luther League at the Spring confab which was held at San Angelo April 8-9.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts of Balmorhea spent the weekend in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Barton. Jack is a pilot and they flew down. Wonderful way to travel, I would imagine.

WELL, THE P. W. CRAWFORD home is the scene of much rejoicing this week. As you know, two of their sons have been serving with Uncle Sam. Sgt. Donald Wayne Crawford, who has been in the Canal Zone for the past 19 months is home and has been discharged, so now he is just plain Donald Wayne. Their other son, Webster, has been in Vietnam for some time now, and he will be coming back sometime this week and is expected here about the first of next week. He will serve the rest of his time here in the States. So you see, the Crawfords do have reason to be happy and I am happy for them. Good luck in your civilian life, Donald Wayne.

One sad note in the Crawford home is that Mrs. Crawford's brother, Frank Moore, who lives in Kansas, is on the sick list and has been quite ill. We hope that all goes well with him and his family.

The Cemetery Association of Southland met this past week in the home of Mrs. Herbert Dunn and made plans for another community workday to be held May 8. Southland has one of the nicest kept little cemeteries in this part of the country and we owe a big thank you to the men and ladies that work with the association and see that the work is being done.

Alex Cisneros is the "groundkeeper" out at the cemetery and I, for one, would like to say that he is doing a fine job. Thanks to all of you. Remember the date, May 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker went to Lake Stamford over the weekend.

Joan Gindorf, daughter of Chris Gindorf II was confirmed, Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church at Wilson. God bless you, Joan.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Zieschang and Edmund and Yours Truly entertained with a fish fry Sunday evening for a group of friends.

Dayneen Dunn, Patsy Dunn and Mickey Mason attended the Spring Festival in Slaton Saturday night.

MRS. JACK ROBERTS and Mrs. Larry Gamble were honored with a double pink and blue shower on Saturday.

The Santa Fe Railway Company picked up the burned and wrecked tank cars from beside the tracks this week and moved them out of Southland. It still scares me when I think of that terrible wreck. If it had happened on our crossing, our house and everything we have would probably have burned. It happened on the next crossing from us. Wow!

The Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Fortson, former residents now living in Dallas, were in Southland Saturday with the Rev. Mr. Fortson assisting with funeral services for Mrs. Oats.

Mrs. Nellie Mathis' yard is getting a face lifting. Her kids, Dee and Carolyn Hodge and Marie and DelRoy Odom have set out grass and flowers and planted a garden. Mrs. Mathis retired from the post office last September so now she will have more time to work in her garden. Her gardens here in town are showing up too. Bro and Mrs. Hill's sure look pretty, and Mrs. Ellis always has a nice one. I am sure there are others that I haven't seen. Of course, I am always behind, and haven't planted mine yet. I've gotten it all watered, now if only I can talk Edmund into planting it!

Until next week, take care!

Medical student doing related work in Post

Charles Tubbs, student at the University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston, is spending a two and one-half month period doing school - required related work with his father, Dr. Harry A. Tubbs, at the Medical Center here.

The Tubbs family spent last weekend at the Big Bend National Park, after which Elisabeth returned to her studies at the University of Texas.

Layman to fill pulpit in minister's absence

Max Mitchell, chairman of the official board of the First Christian Church, will fill the pulpit at the 11 a. m. worship Sunday in the absence of the minister, Bernard S. Ramsey, who is attending the annual convention of the Texas Association of Christian Churches.

Mr. Mitchell has chosen as his sermon subject: "God and a Man". He will be assisted with the service by Jack Alexander who will preside at the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Post man to present archaeological paper at area symposium Saturday

A paper on "A Probable Jornada Burial in Garza County, Texas," will be presented by Emmett Shedd of Post at the Third Regional Archaeological Symposium, Eastern New Mexico and Western Texas, to be held Saturday, April 15 at the West Texas Museum in Lubbock.

The Post man's paper is to be presented at 11:30 a. m. at a technical session in the museum auditorium. An abstract of the paper follows: "A burial containing a large fractured pot sherd identified as Jornada black and red-brown was excavated on Nov. 26, 1966. The sherd had been cut along one side, rendering it useless as a vessel, but suitable as a cover for a portion of the anatomy where it lay. The skeleton was that of an adult female."

At a banquet at 7:30 p. m., Curtis Tunnell, state archaeologist for the State of Texas, will discuss "Historic Indian Sites and Spanish Artifacts."
