

Garza's oil discovery to be commemorated Saturday

Official Texas Historical marker for "First Oil Produced in Garza County" will be erected at 5 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 5, at the site of the well. Mr. A. C. Surman, chairman of the Garza County Historical Marker Committee, has announced that the marker will be placed on Hwy. 94, just northwest of the Garza County post office. The marker with Swedish effect is sponsored by the Garza County Historical Marker Committee.

small derrick constructed by the George R. Brown oil company under the direction of E. R. "Buster" Moreland, superintendent.

David N. Newby, production superintendent for the R. S. Anderson oil interests, will be in charge of the program and will serve as master of ceremonies.

"The purpose of the program," Mr. Newby said, "will be to recall as much of the early oil development as possible from first-hand accounts of those who participated in the early day events."

Hospitality will be in charge of Winnie Tuffing, historian of the GCHSC and a resident of the Justiceburg community. Cold drinks will be served by the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The inscription on the marker reads as follows:

"Garza County's first oil well (3 1/2 miles east),
"After several unsuccessful ventures from 1911 to 1919, the first oil producer in the county was completed on J. M. Boren property at Justiceburg in 1926.
"The well was begun in 1924 by Phelps, Caldwell and Blackwell Oil Company. It produced a total of 1,641 barrels before it was abandoned in 1932.
"In 1932 four producing wells were completed south of Post; a refinery was built near the city.
"Garza County has a number of fields, and its 1,500 wells have produced more than 85,000,000 barrels of oil."

Post brothers to compete in national steer roping

Brothers from Post, Jim Prather, are among five Texas ropers in the finals. Tim, 27, is ranked fifth in national standings, earning $2,513 in steer roping the past season. His biggest single win last year was $1,418, won in the calf roping event at Pendleton, Ore.

Jim, 34, is 10th nationally with winnings of $1,687. Last year he finished in 11th place for the coveted title, and was eighth in 1965. Ranch-raised, he was coached by former calf roping champion, Royce Sewalt. He joined the Rodeo Cowboys Association in 1965; his biggest single win last year was $1,090 at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Other Texas ropers in the finals are: Walt Arnold, Silverton; Bill Teague, Crane; and Jim Bob Altizer, Del Rio.

Altizer, 35, heads into finals action with a strong lead and $5,163 won so far this year.

Each man ropes six steers at the finals, seeking the lowest total time and a lion's share of the prize money. Cash won at McAlester is added to a roper's seasonal earnings to determine the national champion.

The Rodeo Cowboys Association, Denver, Colo., tabulates the earnings of each member throughout the year.

The 1966 steer roping champion, Sonny Davis, Kenna, N. M., finished the 1967 season in eighth place, but will not compete in the finals because of a knee injury.

Anyone with a geiger counter knows there are plenty of uranium deposits in Garza County.

The unanswered question is whether they are of sufficient quantity to be commercially feasible.

Some 17 major companies during the next four years have announced plans to drill some 46 million feet of hole in search for uranium in the United States and Canada.

This four-year search is aimed at new governmental uranium contracts which will be coming up in 1970. Uranium will cease to be a government monopoly in 1970 and then may be sold to private buyers which greatly widens the market.

So a new uranium search is on which will cost millions of dollars.

Uranium and atomic energy are going to start going places in a hurry, according to leading scientific journals. It is forecast by 1980—only 13 years from now—150,000 Americans will be using atomic energy in some form or other, principally for heat and power.

Backing up and looking at the picture from the Garza end of the stick, the problem is to attract some of these major firms into Garza County for a looksee at our uranium.

Some core drilling will be needed to determine the commercial value of county deposits.

To date, nobody has core-drilled (See Postings, page 8)

4-H achievement banquet Friday

Climaxing the observance of National 4-H Week and the start of a new Garza 4-H club year, the annual Garza 4-H Achievement Banquet will be held Friday night in the 4-H building with over 100 4-Hers, their parents and dignitaries expected to attend.

Speaker for the banquet will be Henry Adair, head of the psychological department of South Plains College at Levelland.

The program also includes presentation of 4-H year pins, record book trophies, Friends of 4-H award, adult leader pins, record book ribbons, achievement awards and Gold Star awards.

Trustees' decision

Hospital's emergency room still available

Although Garza Memorial Hospital's operations have been "suspended", its emergency room is now available for use by Post's two physicians for "dire emergencies", such as auto wrecks, etc.

Hospital trustees in a special meeting Saturday with Dr. Harry A. Tubbs voted to authorize use of the emergency room whenever needed by Dr. Tubbs and Dr. Cecil Oakes providing that the physicians furnish the personnel and necessary supplies.

Dr. Tubbs said he would guarantee the costs for use of the emergency room with the understanding of course that any emergency patients treated would not be hospitalized after emergency treatment.

Trustees of the hospital also held a joint meeting with the Garza County Commissioners Court Friday afternoon at which both bodies agreed to leave the authority for the care of the hospital during the "suspension period" with the trustees.

Two weeks ago the trustees had voted to return the care of the Santa Fe plans to end passenger service here

The Santa Fe Railroad plans to discontinue its passenger train service through Post just as quickly as it can obtain permission from federal and state regulatory agencies.

Santa Fe officials announced yesterday immediate discontinuance of all passenger service on its big system except for a few of its "name trains" running from Chicago to the West Coast.

For this community, Lubbock, Slaton, Snyder, and the many other Texas towns and cities up and down the line, it will mean the loss of the daily evening passenger train, No. 76, to Houston and the early morning passenger train to Clovis, N. M.

Santa Fe officials said the railroad's decision was based on the anticipated loss of $35,000,000 of annual revenue caused by the Post Office Department's cancellation of mail hauling contracts for passenger trains.

The railroad's statement termed the loss of the mail contracts "a sudden and devastating blow to the continuance of services that were already marginal or being operated at a loss."

Approval for the discontinuance of such services must be given by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Texas Railroad Commission and regulatory agencies in other states affected.

While railroad officials are hopeful of obtaining such permission within a few weeks, hearings by the various bodies could slow down the decision for months.

Whether towns and cities serviced will protest the discontinuance of the passenger trains is a moot question right now.

Lubbock's mayor, W. D. (Dub) Rogers Jr., has declined comment at present, pending a study of the situation.

Mayor John Hopkins here this morning termed the loss of passenger service to Post "a blow to our town and to all the towns and cities up and down the Santa Fe line."

He said he and the city council will be studying the situation and the possibility of joining other towns and cities in protesting the discontinuance of such passenger service in hearings to come before regulatory bodies which must approve the railroad's request.

Post has had regular passenger service for the last 55 years—or since the railroad came to Post in 1912.

Station Agent George Barker told The Dispatch this morning that all railroad employees here were notified of the plan for discontinuance of service yesterday (See Santa Fe Plans, page 8)

City is presented request for boost in electric rates

Southwestern Public Service Co.'s request for a residential and commercial rate increase averaging 7.62 per cent was presented to the Post city council at its regular October meeting Monday night, with the council taking no action on the request.

Glen Barley, local manager, and Jack Davis, auditor for the utility company's southern division, appeared before the council to point out that this is the company's first rate increase request in 16 years and is part of a rate simplification and adjustment program being submitted to city and town governing bodies for approval.

The city council was told that the rate increase has been approved in about 15 of the 60 towns served by the company since the announcement was made some three weeks ago that the increase would be sought.

The new rates would raise the company's rate of return on its investment from 5.65 per cent to 5.93 per cent, Barley and Davis told the council, adding that 6.5 to 7 per cent is generally regarded as (See Electric Rates, page 8)

The marker's inscription noted that the home was famous for its hospitality in the town's early days, and that same hospitality carried over at Saturday's dedication event, at which Judge J. M. Boren's son and daughter-in-law, Walter and Gwendolyn Boren, were hosts.

County Judge J. E. Parker gave a talk on Judge Boren's life, paying him tribute not only as one of the county's first elected officials, but also as one of its most respected and admired citizens.

Ross Edwards of Lubbock, author of "Fiddle Dust," gave a review of Judge Boren's written account of his experiences with a pack of lobo wolves.

Many of the old-timers present who knew Judge Boren were given an opportunity to speak briefly, and some of these pioneers also told interesting stories of the Boren home in the town's early days. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Boren were

Garza helps out 'Beulah' victims

More than forty boxes of clothing, bedding and other supplies left Post by truck Tuesday morning for the Red Cross collection center at Lubbock, from where they will go to South Texas for the relief of Hurricane Beulah victims.

Jim Sexton, county Red Cross chairman, said the response of Garza County individuals and organizations to the Red Cross appeal has been wonderful and far exceeded anything he had hoped for.

In addition to clothing contributions by local families, Postex Mills contributed three boxes—about 15 dozen—sheets.

Members of the Post Junior Chamber of Commerce packaged the supplies Monday and they were hauled to Lubbock Tuesday morning in a City of Post truck. The First National Bank made the building between the bank and post office available as a collection center for the supplies.

Farmer-Rancher barbecue draws large attendance

A crowd estimated at more than 300 attended the farmer-rancher appreciation barbecue at Antelope Stadium last Thursday evening as guests of the Post Chamber of Commerce, local merchants and area cotton gins.

The meal was catered by Jackson's Cafeteria was set up just inside the north stadium gate, and was eaten on long wooden tables placed in the center of the gridiron.

The crowd heard a hard-hitting address by Horace McQueen, farm director of KLBK-TV, Lubbock, and was entertained by the "Holy Roman Empire," a Post High School combo.

McQueen's talk was on the role the farmer and rancher plays in the nation's economy, particularly that of the smaller towns, and on "American politics abroad" as related to this nation's agricultural tie-ins with foreign countries.

McQueen predicted that next (See Barbecue, page 8)

Post homecoming will be Oct. 20

Plans are shaping up fast for the annual Post High School homecoming to be held Friday, Oct. 20, A. J. McAlester, president of the Ex-Students' Association, said today.

The homecoming football game will be between the Post Antelopes and Stanton Buffaloes at 7:30 p. m. at Antelope Stadium.

All the ex-students' homecoming activities will be held in the old bowling alley building. They will include a barbecue at 5 p. m. and a dance following the football game.

The barbecue is open to the public with tickets to be sold in advance and at the door at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

The Roy Roberts Combo of Lubbock will play for the homecoming dance, also open to the public at $3 a couple.

Garza farm tour next Tuesday

Local business men are invited to participate in the annual Garza County Farm Tour which is scheduled for next Tuesday morning.

School buses will provide transportation for visits to farms in the Close City and Pleasant Valley communities.

The tour will form at the ASC office here and leave at 8:45 a. m. with the buses returning to Post at noon to conclude the half-day tour.

The tour is annually co-sponsored by the vocational agricultural department of the high school, the ASCS office, SCS office, FHA, the extension service and the Post Rotary club.

The area FHA supervisor will be the tour's principal speaker.

Impromptu talks made by Lions at meeting

Members were called upon for brief, impromptu talks by program chairman Victor Hudman at the Tuesday night's Lions Club meeting.

Announcement was also made that the Lions' annual pancake supper will be held Oct. 24. Charles Adams of Postex Mills was a visitor at the meeting.

Student Council holds meetings

By Micki Sterling
The Post High School Student Council held two meetings recently to hear committee progress reports.

The committee for trash cans reported the prices and sizes of the trash cans and the Student Council ordered 4 small ones.

Rosas is Library Club president

By Nedra Childs
The Library Club of Post High School held its first meeting Friday, Sept. 29, to elect officers.

The elected officers are: President, Larry Rosas; vice president, Jane Hutchins; secretary, Barbara Bartlett; Student Council representative, Adrienne Cook; and reporter, Nedra Childs.

The Library Club is made up of students who work as assistants in the library during different periods of the day. These assistants look books to make sure they are in the right places, repair old books, organize magazines, and students with their various duties.

Members of the club are: Linda Maddox, Voda Beth Voss, Jimmy Johnston, Charles Baker, the Blacklock, Sandra Cole, Jim Hutto and Arnold Fry. Mrs. Margaret Lee is librarian and director of the group.

FTA committees for year are appointed

By Karen Lee
Tuesday night, Sept. 19, the Future Teachers of America held an organizational meeting in the Speech room. There were 37 students present.

The group decided to make the first Thursday evening of each month their official meeting date. Plans were also made for the Mr. and Miss FTA speech contest which will be held the first Thursday in November. President Jane Hutchins and Vice President Ronnie Petty read the speeches which won in the state contest last year.

Five committees were appointed at the meeting. They were the Program committee with chairman Ronnie Petty and members Emily Potts, Adrienne Cook and Karen Lee. The FTA Ways and Means committee consists of Delbert Rudd, chairman, and James Pollard and Terry Cross.

Another committee is the year-book committee with Voda Beth Voss serving as chairman with Jane Strofer, Barbara Lucas and Patsy Pierce.

Serving as the chairman of the Social committee is Teresia Maddox with Nedra Childs and Sulinda Little helping her. The last committee is the Publicity committee with Larry Rosas serving as chairman and Zelika Freeman and Karon Windham helping.

Band marches in big Fair parade

By Zelika Freeman
Monday morning, Sept. 25, the Post Antelope marching band marched in a Parade of Bands at Lubbock and attended the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

About 37 area bands participated in the big downtown parade. While the bands were marching and playing between 10 and 12 a. m., a panel of judges viewed the bands, choosing the best three.

Later, at the fairgrounds, the winning three bands were announced and were awarded $75, $50 and $25, respectively. They were: Abernathy, first; Denver City, second; and Hale Center, third.

After the parade, band members were free to attend the fair, and the group returned to Post that evening.

The trouble with morning is that it comes at such an ungodly hour.

Good Behavior Helps the Student

I think some of the students of Post Junior High School are behaving as they should. Many of the students are not to blame.

We should try to improve more on our behavior to our fellow students and to our teachers and quit talking back and being smart.

The pupils from the 8th or the 6th or 7th grade should be kind to each other and help each other out. And one thing I forgot — we should behave in the hall between classes. We shouldn't hit girls either. — Kim Owen, 8th grade class president.

Junior High Student Council opens stand

This year's Student Council at Post Junior High School has begun making money by opening the concession stand for all the 7th and 8th grade football games. Thanks to the Junior class for letting us use the concession stand.

The money made from the sale of concessions will go to buy plants and shrubs around the building. We plan to use part of the money to buy paint with which to paint the poles around the school. Then we may put benches under the poles.

It seems as though our football team followed cheerleader Vicki Martin's suggestion about burning up Frenship. We are all very proud of our boys and are looking forward to the game Saturday with Midland Carver.

A victory dance was held at Teen Town following the football game. The dance featured the Locks from Lubbock.

Jan Wilks was honored on her birthday Friday night when a few friends came to her house for a celebration. Those attending were Paula Cravy, Beth Peel, Sharon Windham, Karon Windham, Nancy Hart, Martha Miller and Kay Heron.

Post exes home from college to see the Antelopes beat Frenship were Dick Kennedy, Billy Jack Hodges, Janie Josey, Ronnie Pierce, Bobby Dean, La Gayluah Young.

Everyone still seems to be trying to get over some of the wild rides they rode at the fair during this past week. Those attending other than the band members who were there all day Monday were Jane Hutchins and Curlie Odom, Sulinda Little and Jackie Huff, Emily Potts, Helen Cheshire, Donna Stewart and Dennis Altman, Jan Wilks and Jimmy Bartlett, Reba Hair and Betty Dean, Jane Strofer, Steve Nobby, David Pierce, Adrienne Cook, and Gary Hays, Daisy Smith, Karen Sneed, Filemon Vargas, Pete Morales, Nedra Childs and D'Wayne Gannon, Jerry Crenshaw and Sue Johnson, Bobby and Debbie Sneed, Jean Perez and Nick Perotola, Micki Sterling and Norman Tanner, Jan Wilks, Beth Peel, Larry Rosas, James McKenzie and Jimmy Johnston.

Let's Improve Our School Spirit

Most of you know that our Post Antelopes have won one out of four games this season. With five games left to play our fighting 'Lopes could come out ahead.

Our school spirit has been pretty low because of the three losses in a row. However, after our victory last Friday night, our spirit should jump high. Let's show the Antelopes that we are behind them all the way in each of the five remaining games on the schedule.

Not only do we solicit the help of the student body, but we would also like to encourage the adults to stay in the stands until the last second has ticked away on the clock and the Antelopes are leaving the field, preferably victorious.

Let's hope we want you know that we will be behind you and urge you to keep on fighting and to continue your good sportsmanship! — Emily Potts, Editor.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Is the headache a malady of the United States only or do the masses of the underprivileged countries also suffer from such dire ailments?

I don't know the answer to the above question (or I wouldn't have asked it) but I'm pretty certain they don't have to suffer through all the TV commercials showing the various expressions caused from headaches and telling us what to do about them.

The "rope" one and the parents of the kids who love pillow fights and bathing the family dog in a tub seem to be most popular right now. I can give a little advice to the parents with the children. If they wade in swinging bottoms they wouldn't suffer from them. That relieves tension beautifully. I always found.

What's with this number bit on the headaches? I've never had enough of them (does that make me queer?) to start numbering.

Well, anyway all this got me to

First county judge

Judge Boren's letter told of early times

(Editor's Note: The following autobiographical sketch on the late Judge J. M. Boren was furnished The Dispatch by a member of the Boren family in connection with the dedication Saturday of the historical marker at the home of the first county judge. The autobiography is in the form of a letter from Judge Boren to his daughter.)

Dear Mildred:

I will try to give you a little history of my life and if you can use any of it in your theme, O. K.

Born in Berryville, Ark., 1870, moved with Father's family in two horse wagon, with one extra horse. Started in fall of 1877 and arrived at Florence, Williamson County, Feb. 10, 1878, on road about three months. Delayed at Dallas on account of sickness of my Mother. Father bought farm in Williamson County and I lived there until summer 1879. Traded farm for cattle and moved to Coleman County. This was the first of my cowboy days, as Johnny and I had to drive these cattle from Williamson County to Coleman County, on the trail from summer until late fall. This was before the days of wire fences and we had to loose-herd the cattle all winter to keep them from running off.

We lived in a tent, nine miles north of Coleman, all winter and went to school part of the time that winter to a Mrs. George Barker. The school house was one-room log house with dirt floor and puncheon benches—split logs with legs mortised in. That was an extremely cold winter and there was heavy loss in cattle, especially so with the South Texas kind that we had. So the next spring we were practically out of the cattle business.

Father thought best to sell out and try something else, so he sold all except seven milk cows and two yoke of oxen. With this two yokes of steers hitched to one wagon we made the trip to Bell County in spring of 1880. Stayed there on a farm with family until 1892, then brother John and I came back to this county (Garza) and I went to work on the OB Ranch. For first two years I worked part time in Fisher County on OB Ranch. It was while I was working on this Fisher County ranch that I met your Mother, Ella Bridges.

I worked on the two ranches about ten years. For the first four years I drew a salary of $25 per month for regular ranch work, after that time, when I was doing trail work, as foreman, I got $2 per day extra. I did their extra trail work for six years. I drove herds from ranch to various places, such as Amarillo, Clarendon, Panhandle City, Canyon, Bovina, etc. Usually drove about 2,000 two-year-old steers in a herd. Would usually take from 30 to 40 days to make the round trip to any of the points mentioned in north, but beef herds drove to T. P. on south, about 75-mile drive, would take ten or twelve days. The ranch consisted of approximately 200 sections of land and usually had about 8,000 or 9,000 cattle, but at the time the Long men sold to Connell they tallied 11,000 cattle, but this included about 3,000 steers they bought.

I left the ranch in Sept. 1899 and on Oct. 3 at Roby got married to your Mother and was staying temporarily at my Father's in Fisher County when there was a special call session of the Legislature for the purpose of abolishing the Absolute Law that was then in force. This was holding the settlers out of this county, as the large ranch owners having most of the land under lease, would not let their leases expire but would renew their leases before it was out by overlapping the lease, in order to prevent some settler from making an application to buy, which would force Land Commissioner to sell to settler instead of releasing to ranch owner. This condition was very unsatisfactory to all concerned, as the Attorney General's ruling was, that an application to buy or lease, either, had to be filed after expiration of absolute lease, so it was just a matter who could file first application, as to who would get the land. This was the cause of the land pulls you have heard me speak of. However, the Special Land Pull Session of the Legislature did not abolish the Absolute Law but seemed to yield to heavy pressure brought on them by ranch owners, and adjourned without doing anything except scare the lease owners so much that they sold their leases to their friends, which would give them a prior right to buy the land, as it was always on the market to the man that had it leased. It was under this condition that I secured the prior right to buy and avoid the rush that Mr. Tuffing, Perry Crowley, and others had to go through with to get their land.

We moved on the land in Jan. 1900, lived in a tent long enough to say we were actually living on the land at the time of application, and long enough time for the land to be awarded to me on Feb. 7, 1900. Then I hauled the number from Lorraine and Roscoe a distance of 75 miles. I hauled first load and then Bros. John and Dee made next trip for me, while I started building the house. Soon after that the Tuffings came in and we realized the need of a post office. Mrs. Tuffing agreed to keep the office if I would carry the mail, twice a week, which I did for five months free of charge, before the postal department would pay a carrier, then I got "city minded" and built fence line phone into Light a distance of about 16 miles, then a little later Mr. Clark and Mr. Justice joined me and we built the first phone line in the county. I think this was about 1900 or 1902.

June 15, 1907, the citizens of Garza County petitioned the Commissioners Court of Borden County for permission to organize. This petition was granted and that date we had the election at the OS Ranch, the only voting box in county. Best I remember there were about 84 votes polled at first election, and your Dad was elected to office of Judge without opposition and ser-

'Happiness Is' sign feature of pep rally

By Jane Hutchins
Last Friday during the pep rally in the gym, there was a sign that read, "Happiness Is Wishing the Antelopes Good Luck," which all the student body signed. This sign indicated spirit throughout the school and showed the team we were behind them all the way in their game against Frenship.

An added attraction was a skit by one of the cheerleaders, Vicki Martin, who thought Frenship was boring and came running out with a cup of what everyone thought was water—but it was really gasoline.

Our speaker at the pep rally was Mr. James Pollard, who read five terms in succession.

PAY BILLS PROMPTLY To Enjoy Continued CREDIT

The credit bureau's message to the consumer is simple. Pay promptly. Spelling it out clearly—never let an account go past due without payment or immediate contact with the creditor.

Never allow an account to become an item charged off to profit and loss. This means that the merchant has given up hopes of collecting and has changed your account from an asset to an expense item. The item is automatically recorded in the files of the credit bureau. There it cannot be changed or altered unless subsequent dealings with the same firm results in a better record.

Never allow an account to be listed in the collection department of the credit bureau. Payment in full will result in better credit reports, but the item must remain on file for many years to come—perhaps for the rest of your life.

Your credit record is a picture of your character and has been found to be an extremely accurate guide to your future actions, particularly pertaining to whether you will pay future contracts and debts.

Keep your picture bright and shining and enjoy all the conveniences of the machine age. You can cut off the advantages of credit buying by disregarding or ignoring warnings of your merchant friends.

—And where we'll stop, who can know?
We do have the best educational system in the world. But what will your child think and want and demand once we've educated him?

For in our system—unlike the Russian — we impart truth rather than ideas. We give our children the tools of thought, not the party line.

Does your child know that the center of all truth is God? Does he measure his aims by Christian standards of faith and morality? Has he learned where unbridled human passions of greed and power and selfishness can lead? Does he respect the religious faith and spiritual opportunities which motivated American Liberty?

Nobody can brainwash an American family. But it's up to each American family to choose every Sunday between the "around and around," and the center of truth—GOD.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MIDLAND CARVER

Saturday Night

October 7

in

High School Stadium

With their first 1967 triumph and an opening District 4AA win under their belts, Coach Glynn Gregg's Post Antelopes will be out to make it two in a row Friday night when they invade Midland to play Midland Carver, newcomer Negro high school to the district.

Midland Carver dropped their district opener last week, 40-6, to Morton's resurgent Indians at Morton. Midland has won one, tied one and lost two. Their other defeat was to Lubbock Dunbar, Class AAA Negro high school of Lubbock.

Carver has more size and speed than the Antelopes who will need a "full game effort" to match some of their earlier "second half efforts" to win this one.

Action picks up at Southland as harvest begins

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Howdy! Hope all is well with you, wherever you are. This little community of ours is buzzing with activity. Harvest time is a time of joy for everyone concerned. After working all year without paycheck it feels good to take a load of grain or a trailer of cotton to town and come home with a check. Boy, if I could only get my hands on one of those checks, I could go to town and have a ball! But seems like there is always someone there ahead of me. Anyway, it is good to see the farmers busy with the harvest that the good Lord has given to us.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winterrowd's mother, Mrs. Frances Lightfoot of Fort Worth and Mrs. Bill Winterrowd of Amarillo have been here visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Becker of Slaton visited with us on Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Myers moved into their new home here one day last week. It is a beautiful brick home and I know they must be so very proud of it.

SOUTHLAND lost its football game with Three Way last Friday 16 to 14. I thought it was a good game, but our boys had several tough breaks that lost them the game. They have an open night this Friday but will play Loop at Loop Friday, Oct. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Dyess of Spur visited Coach and Mrs. Bob Dyess and children Monday.

Judy Klesel went to Kerrville recently to visit with her roommate, Nancy Holmes', mother, Nancy and Judy are students at Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Vernon of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Wilke returned home Monday from LBJ Lake.

Mrs. Claude Roper, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Rackler, underwent surgery last week at West Texas Hospital. She is doing real fine and will probably come home on a day this week. She is in Room 508.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Voight and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Limmer of Slaton visited Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker spent several days at Lake Stamford recently.

Thornton Jones from Colorado visited with Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Ellis Saturday. They used to be neighbors at Estacado.

Jr. High games will be filmed

The 7th and 8th grade football games with Tahoka here Tuesday, Oct. 10, will be filmed.

Every athlete suited out will participate in the games.

The Athletic Department feels this will be a great teaching aid and will benefit the games.

We would like for all fans and parents to come and support the teams. Help us to have two wins on film. We feel like this will be long-term investment.

Angerer serves aboard aircraft carrier Essex

Communications Yeoman Third Class Donald K. Angerer, USNR son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton I. Angerer of 310 W. Lynn, Slaton, Tex., and husband of the former Miss Brenda J. Holly of 616 S. Ave. I, Post Tex., has returned to Newport, R. I. after a four-month deployment to Northern Europe and the Mediterranean aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Essex.

During the deployment the Essex participated in NATO operations with Norwegian, Danish and Dutch navies. The operation consisted of detecting, localizing, tracing and simulated kills of enemy submarines.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN

Library Aides Chairman Mary Prather has announced the names and schedules of the library volunteers for the fall season. Who would like to fill in the blank? Call Mary at 2613.

Monday: 9-12 a. m. Ruth Ann Newby; 2-4 p. m. OPEN; 4-6 p. m. Pauline Basquez, Barbara Newbolt.

Tuesday: 7-9 p. m. Pauline Basquez, Barbara Newbolt.

Wednesday: 9-12 a. m. Mary Prather, Rosemary Chapman; 2-4 p. m. Barbara McKeown; 4-6 p. m. Joy Parker.

Thursday: 7-9 p. m. Pee Wee Pierce.

Friday: 9-12 a. m. Jo Cash.

Saturday: 9-12 a. m. Louise McCrary.

In order to acquaint LLP readers more thoroughly with our selfless, hard-working volunteers, we have promised a short biography of each. Here then, is the first and, wishfully, the last in a series of interviews entitled "Spotlight on the Stars".

Q. Perhaps we could begin by telling the reading public your name, Mrs. ?

A. Newby. Mrs. David North Newby.

Q. Very good. Thank you, Mrs. North-Newby. Now, tell me . . .

A. NEWBY.

Q. I beg your pardon, Mrs. Newby. I understood it to be North-Newby as in Ormsby-Gore. Very distinguished, really, these double surnames.

A. You've only known me for ten years. What is this, anyway?

Q. It happens to be an interview and for your information, an interview is supposed to be conducted in a brisk, business-like fashion.

A. I still don't see why you have to use that phoney British accent. If you want to be brisk and business-like, why don't you say, "Chapman — With the Post Dispatch", and show me your press card?

Q. I don't have a press card.

A. How do I know you really ARE who you SAY you are then?

Q. Actually, I think it might be better if we started again on a more friendly, informal basis. May I call you "Ruth Ann" for the remainder of the interview?

A. No.

Q. Well then, as I was saying some time ago, "Tell me, Mrs. North - Newby, are you enjoying your work as a volunteer at the Post library?"

A. No.

Q. I see. Let me put it this way. Of the many little chores that the majority of our volunteers so cheerfully perform around the library each week, which is your own particular favorite?

A. Writing to my girls. We have three away from home now, you know. As a matter of fact, I was just getting off a few letters on the library typewriter when you came in. Did you know that the "i" sticks?

Q. Somehow I doubt that this is the type of information your fans want to hear about at the moment, Mrs. North - Newby. To be perfectly honest, I've never conducted an interview before and I don't quite seem to have the hang of it yet — Can you think of some interesting questions that I could ask?

A. How about, "If you were a flower, which kind would you be and why?"

Q. That doesn't sound so interesting to me.

A. Why not? They asked it on the Johnny Carson show last night. Oh, well. How about, "Were you ever arrested?"

Q. O. K. Were you ever arrested?

A. No.

A. Here's a good one. "If you could have written any book in the library, which one would it be and why?"

Q. O. K. Which and why?

A. This is the dumbest interview I've ever had.

Q. Dumb, dumb, dumb. You're the dumb one.

A. I can tell you one thing — If you seriously plan to interview every volunteer in this library, they'll all quit.

Q. Maybe they will and maybe they won't. It depends.

A. Ha, depends on WHAT?

Q. On whether or not they can think of better questions for me to ask them than you can.

Some farmers harvesting grain in Kalgary area

By FRED A HARDEN

Light showers fell in our community Tuesday evening, measuring from 3 to 1/2 inch. Wednesday morning it was quite cold and some light frost was reported. It wasn't enough to hurt anything. Some cotton is opening up but it lacks some maturity before we have a killing frost. Some farmers are busy harvesting grain and haling hay and report a fair harvest.

Not much visiting this week. Several attended the fair in Lubbock. Monday school was dismissed for the fair and some of the children attended. Others enjoyed a day at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Williams visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson and children for lunch on Tuesday. They were supper guests of their son and family, the Leon Williams, of Floydada Tuesday was Mrs. Williams' birthday. Since she was away visiting she was surprised Wednesday night with a cake and ice cream supper at the Marina. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slack, Mrs. Ralph Parsons, Freda and David, Kelly Karr, The Doyle Hinsons and Ralph Parsons were unable to attend. A gift of dress material was presented to Mrs. Williams.

Sept. 30 to Oct. 7, 1967

As They Learn, They Serve...and the Future Is Brighter, Thanks to 4-H'ers

With pride, we salute our Garza 4-H Club members, for their efforts and achievements. Through their Head . . . Heart . . . Health program, they are learning better ways of farming and homemaking, better ways of working together, better citizenship for a brighter tomorrow. Valuable 4-H training for our youngsters means much to our community today . . . and will mean still more tomorrow, for experience shows that the worthwhile work, the aims and ideals of 4-H, do much to foster the priceless qualities of leadership. We take pleasure in congratulating our 4-H boys and girls, and wish them the best of success in all their projects.

Grassland families hosts to visitors

By MARY LEE LAWS
 Mrs. Madelle Cowan of Longmont, Colo., visited her aunt, Mrs. Alice Spears, at Lavoy Nursing Home last week.
 Charlie and Vivian Craig spent the weekend in Jal, N. M., visiting her sister and family.
 I want to correct an item in last week's paper. It stated that the Charlie Craigs went to Denver City to see Mrs. Craig's nephew who suffered a heart attack. Instead he is a cousin and he lives in Hobbs, N. M., and he suffered a stroke.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jurd Young went to Midland Wednesday. On their return Friday they brought their granddaughter, Pamela Young, home with them for a few days.
 Beulah Tew visited Mrs. R. L. Craig Friday afternoon.
 The Dean Laws visited in Lamesa Sunday with the R. A. Weatherbys, Victor Bullards and Donnie Fairweathers.
 The Rev. and Mrs. Joe Serratt visited the Bill Ingle family Sunday afternoon.
 Mrs. Emma Jones visited her sister, Cordie Laws, Saturday and was a luncheon guest. Viola Greer visited with them.
 Olan Long, Roy Huffaker, Kenneth and Bobby left Sunday night for a fishing trip to Falcon Lake.
 The Buck Thompsons visited Mr. and Mrs. Jurd Young Sunday afternoon.
 The Rev. and Mrs. Joe Serratt were Sunday dinner guests of the Ruol Smiths. They all went to the singing at Berry Flat in the afternoon.
 Mrs. S. A. Binze of Tahoka visited ed Mrs. O. H. Hoover Monday.

 Thursday night Mrs. Amos Gerner fixed supper for Johnny Kuykendall and Laura Gerner. Johnny left for Alaska to report back to duty.
 Larry Brown, who is getting along fine on his crutches, visited Mrs. O. F. Haley one day last week.
 Mrs. Cordie Laws spent Thursday night with Emma Jones. Friday they went to Post to visit their sisters, Mrs. Ivy Young and Mrs. Nanny Cooper, and spent the night.
 Mrs. Debbie Sneed of Post visited the Amos Gerners Wednesday.
 Mrs. O. H. Hoover visited Mrs. Turner one evening last week.
 Johnny Kuykendall visited the Gerners Thursday morning. Wade Gerner visited Laura Gerner Friday afternoon.
 Mrs. Amos Gerner visited her mother, Mrs. O. F. Haley, Wednesday afternoon and took her to visit Ruby Claborn. Mrs. Haley is doing fairly.
 Ruby Claborn and Mrs. Amos Gerner visited Friday in Lubbock with Laura Gerner, Peggy Claborn and Julia Childs.
 The Jurd Youngs visited the Walter Joseys Sunday night.
 Zuelia Thomas and Mrs. Fox returned from a week's stay at Lake Buchanan recently.
 The Dean Laws visited the Rayburn Pitts Monday night.
 Spending the night Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Rayburn Pitts were her mother, Mrs. Annie Bethany, and her sister, Kathryn Smith, of Pecos. They helped Marlene Patterson celebrate her birthday Wednesday with a dinner party.

Letters to the Editor...

THANKS DISPATCH
 Dear Editor:
 It has come to my attention by receiving a copy of the Dispatch the excellent coverage your paper gave to the Texas Highway Department in helping us to celebrate our 50th Anniversary. Not only did your paper do an outstanding job, but those individuals who advertised and paid their respects are sincerely appreciated. This type of recognition is part of what makes our job of serving the public such a pleasure.

 Best wishes for your continued success with your newspaper in that area.
 Yours truly,
 O. L. Crain
 District Engineer
 District Five

 More than 14 million out-of-State and foreign visitors toured Texas by car in 1966, the Texas Highway Department reports.

Topics of value at FHA meeting

By Martha Jo Walls
 The meeting held Monday by the Future Homemakers of America chapter was filled with topics of value to everyone.
 First, a devotional, "Let's Kill the Giants," was given by Kay Litton. Carolyn Ledbetter, Donna Stewart, Sue Litton, Donna Maddox, Nancy Robinson, Barbie Gilmore, Nancy Norman and Nancy Basinger. The "giants" they intended killing were disobedience, laziness, sex, vocational worries, jealousy, temptations, and bad tempers.

 Secondly, Harold Lucas talked to us on the topic, "Citizenship Challenges You," which gave us all something to think about.
 Thirdly, the FHA members have taken on the job of selling a line of home products. You are encouraged to listen to the girls when they come around to your house.
 After the meeting was closed, the Little Sisters elected officers. Refreshments were served.
 In the old days if you wanted to know if a girl had knock-knees, you had to listen.

Justiceburg community has new correspondent

By FRAN McWHIRT
 Well, hello again everyone. I am back trying to be your news correspondent and again will ask your help in obtaining news items. I want to thank Mona Key for filling in for me this summer. Also would like to encourage all the people here to turn out for the dedication service of the historical marker to be presented Saturday at 5 p. m.
 Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dillard of Odessa.
 Mr. and Mrs. Carl Good of Levelland stopped by Friday on the way to Albany to visit the Frank Breedens. They came back on Sunday and were dinner guests of the Douglas McWhirts.

 Mrs. Sam Bevers Jr. was hostess of a home appliance party last Friday afternoon at the school cafeteria. Mrs. Evelyn Dorman of Snyder was demonstrator. Cake and cold drinks were served to Mrs. Jim Tidwell, Mrs. Lee Reed, Mrs. Fernie Reed, Mrs. Riley Miller and Mrs. Douglas McWhirt.
 Mrs. Bud McLaurin was called to Amarillo Friday to be with her son-in-law, Doyle Cameron, who had undergone major surgery. She is staying a while with her daughter and grandsons while Doyle is recuperating.
 Mrs. Raymon Key was on the sick list during the weekend. Sunday visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Key and Mrs. Cameron Justice.
