

Saturday's Book Fair to provide old-fashioned 'happy time'

An old-fashioned "happy time" is scheduled for adults and children Saturday evening when some 15 local organizations join the Friends of a Public Library to sponsor a gay, colorful Book Fair on the south side of the lake in City-County Park.

All proceeds from the fair, above actual expenses, will go to purchase books for the Post Public Library.

Parents are urged to bring all the youngsters because a lot of the fair entertainment is aimed right at the younger set.

The fair will open at 5 p. m. for a four-hour stand, ending at 9 p. m.

Eating will play a large part in the fun for fairgoers so those coming won't have to worry about an evening meal.

If by chance, Post should get a Saturday afternoon thunderstorm, the fair will be moved inside the nearby 4-H building. A few of the fair events are billed for inside anyway — rain or shine, including dominos for the oldsters.

Among the eating booths planned for the fair are a hot dog stand, a booth selling cakes, cookies and brownies, a soft drink stand, a booth selling pop corn and snow cones, and one selling Mexican food.

For the youngsters there will be rides on the city's big red fire truck, pony rides, and donkey cart rides.

What's more there will be a balloon dart throw for prizes, a used toy booth where a youngster with parent in hand can really latch on to some bargains, a "spook house" which will leave the entire family shaky, a penny toss, some very novel splatter paint picture making, and a fishing booth for more prizes.

For the oldsters there will be a real bargain bonanza at the "country store" not to mention a white elephant booth, a bean guessing game, and dominos.

Friends of a Public Library are going to give $10 away to one of their new members who buys a dollar membership at their membership booth that night.

There are probably more local organizations cooperating in the Book Fair than in any other local promotion in the last 20 years.

Operating booths or games at the fair will be the Post Rotary Club, the Post Chamber of Commerce, the Post Jaycees, Post Jayceeettes, Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church, the United Presbyterian Women, the Post Music Club, the Xi Delta Rho and Mu Alpha chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, Amity Study Club, the Women's Culture Club, Mu Alpha chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, the Post Art Guild, the Post Volunteer Firemen and the Friends of a Public Library.

Music also is included in plans for the colorful Book Fair.

A combo, consisting of Cecil Bland on standard banjo, Bill Bland on standard guitar, Ira Farmer on the fiddle, and Greg Jones on the electric bass guitar, will play at various times throughout the evening.

Then there will be two roving groups of young musicians. One will be composed of Lorry Chapman and Kim Mitchell, playing standard guitars, and the other will include Kurt Chapman on the tambourine and Christy Davis on the mirachas.

Earl and Rosemary Chapman have taken on a special individual project of providing a big downtown banner advertising the Book Fair and an attractive decorated entrance to the Book Fair ground, under way Saturday morning.

Mrs. Helen Cornish and her Book Fair committee, which includes Mattie Collier, Barbara McKeown and Rosemary Chapman, will accept "late entries" from any other organization which wants to join the fun for the Book Fair.

And all the folks in town and area are invited to come to the Book Fair Saturday night for a real "happy time."

Police tactics said building up hate here against law and order

Group complains to city council

The city police department's methods and manners in dealing with minority groups here is "building up hatred for law and order that will take years and years to get out of these people's minds," the city council was told Monday night by the spokesman for a six-member delegation that met with the council.

The police department is being run like "a frontier sort of thing" despite the fact that legislation has been enacted for local governments to upgrade their police departments, lawyer Pat N. Walker, the delegation's spokesman, charged.

Other members of the delegation, which met with the council at its regular May session, were Elwood Wright, Jim Prather, Earl Chapman, Mrs. Louise Valdez and Mrs. Valdez' daughter.

The group told the council that there have been numerous instances of Latin-Americans and Negroes being physically mistreated when arrested by police, and that a "tremendous amount of pressure" is put on them to plead guilty.

The delegation's spokesman also accused the police of being "highly discriminatory" in their law enforcement methods. "They have one method of dealing with Anglos and another for dealing with Latins and Negroes," he said. "The darker your skin, the bigger bump you are likely to get on your head."

Walker also said that police are not treating minority groups with human dignity in dealing with them, and that "stripping these people of their dignity concerns me more than their physical mistreatment."

"I don't think it's the police department personnel I think it's the system," Walker said.

Elwood Wright, a service station operator, said he thinks police tactics in making arrests of members of minority groups, "is hurting our town, and I know it's hurting our business." He said police intimidation has cost him "lots of out of town customer's that he used to have."

Earl Chapman, general manager for Rucker "A" Well Service, complained to the council of police mistreatment of a number of his nine Latin-American employees following their arrests on charges of being drunk and other misdemeanors. "They're sick and tired of it, and I'm plenty sick and tired of it, too," Chapman said.

Jim Prather, rancher, said he feels "these people (Latins and Negroes) have no respect for the law, only a fear of it."

Walker's suggestion to the city council was that it appoint a committee to completely revamp the police department and change the present "system" used in enforcing the law among minority groups.

Lewis C. Herron Jr., one of three councilmen present at Monday night's meeting, suggested to Walker that his group form a committee and make specific recommendations to the council in regard to the police department and its operation. Herron's suggestion was supported by Councilman Donald Windham and Frank Blanton, who were attending their first regular council meeting following their election April 6.

Councilman Windham said he was in favor of calling a special meeting of the council to discuss the complaints against the police department "as soon as all five councilmen" can meet together. Councilmen Bob Collier and D. C. (Billy) Hill were not present at Monday night's meeting.

Police Chief Bill Gordon denied the delegation's accusations against his department when asked by The Dispatch Tuesday to comment on them.

Chief Gordon said the police used physical force only when necessary to make an arrest or to defend themselves. He said the only

City council meets

The city council voted Monday night to pay for approximately $40 worth of paint, lumber and other materials for repainting of the exterior of the old Ameen Hotel building and boarding up of the building's windows and doors.

The work, designed to make the building less of an "eyesore" for the town, is expected through here this summer, will be under the direction of David N. Newby, chairman of the tourism committee of the Post Chamber of Commerce. Post citizens have agreed to do the labor on the repairs to the building, Newby told the council.

All the upstairs windows and doors at the rear of the building will be boarded up, along with the downstairs doors on the east side, and everything on the exterior will be painted, the council was told.

The money to pay for the materials will come from the city's industrial development fund, City Manager Eddie Warren said.

In other action at its regular May session, the council:

- Passed an ordinance to issue the truck warrants.
- Set May 21 as the date of letting a street seal — coating bid.
- Heard a progress report from the members of the civic auditorium board; authorized the board to handle the letting of auditorium moving bids, and instructed the city attorney to proceed with efforts to get the title to the auditorium properly cleared.

City patrolman resigns position

Richard Brush, a member of the city police department for the past ten months, has resigned, effective Friday, Police Chief Bill Gordon said today.

Brush told The Dispatch that he has accepted a position as a security patrolman at the John Connally Technical Institute, Waco, a branch of Texas A&M University. He will attend school at the institute while serving as security patrolman.

Brush will start his new duties May 16, returning to Post on May 30 for his marriage here June 1 to Miss Shannon McCampbell.

The Post Dispatch

Forty-First Year Post, Garza County, Texas Thursday, May 9, 1968 Number 50

Our congratulations to Band Director Herb Germer and his 65-member Post Antelope Band for their outstanding performance in the big Tri-State Musical Festival at Enid, Okla., last week which drew about 15,000 high school bandmen in 250 bands from six states.

In all that talented competition, the Antelope Band just missed grabbing "sweepstakes" honors in their division by less than five points.

The local youngsters in their first "go" at interstate band competition, received four Division I ratings, and members of the band won six more Division I solo and ensemble medals.

The kids did a tremendous job in getting ready for the big musical festival. They not only had to practice and work hard on their music but gave dozens of hours of free time to "car washes" and other money raising events to secure the funds to finance the trip.

Most Post folks only see their band at the fall football games, but there is a whole lot more to a good band than a snappy halftime drill and some high stepping majorettes.

Herb Germer, Post's hustling new band director, deserves a world of credit for our band's fine showing. He inspired the youngsters to tackle a very big assignment.

Mayor Hopkins lists broad-based program

A three-point program calling for immediate reduction in the city's police force, a meeting with White River Municipal Water District directors on tax reductions, and appointment of citizens' committees to study the problems and future of the City of Post was presented by Mayor John Hopkins at Monday night's meeting of the city council.

Mayor Hopkins presented copies of his proposed program to the council near the conclusion of its three and one-half hour session. The three councilmen present — Lewis C. Herron Jr., Donald Windham and Frank Blanton — decided to postpone action on the proposals until all councilmen are present. Councilmen Bob Collier and D. C. (Billy) Hill Jr. were absent.

The complete text of Mayor Hopkins' proposed program follows:

"I would like to propose the following program for the administration and improvement of our public affairs:

- "I propose an immediate reduction in our police force and its allied expenditures.
- "I propose that the City Council arrange a meeting with the directors of the White River Municipal Water District and the councils of the other three towns for the purpose of ascertaining when we may expect a reduction in White River taxes.
- "I propose that the mayor, subject to the approval of the council, be authorized to appoint citizens' committees to study the problems and future of the City of Post. In this respect, I recommend, subject to your approval, and will make appointments for the following committees:

Post band barely misses sweepstakes at Festival

Receiving four Division I and one Division II ratings, the Post High School band missed sweepstakes honors by only 4.90 points at the 35th annual Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, Okla., last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Competing in the Triple C division, Director Herb Germer's 65-member band received Division I ratings in sight-reading, marching and inspection and a Division II rating in concert, scoring 95.20 points out of a possible 100.

Six Division I solo and ensemble medals were also won by the Post musicians, the director reported.

It was one of the best, if not the best, contest performances ever turned in by a Post High School band.

Approximately 15,000 bandmen, representing 250 bands from six states, attended the Tri-State Festival.

Nine members of the Post band played in the Tri-State Honor Band. They were Kim McClellan, Larry Cummings, Jim Hutchins, Mike Petty, James Pollard, Zolika Freeman, Mickie Taylor, Debbie Cooper and Joey Lee.

Other area bands attending the festival included Hale Center, Petersburg, Marton, Denver City and Jayton, with Petersburg receiving honors as the outstanding concert band in its division.

Dedication of park marker is Friday

An official Texas Historical Marker stating the historical, economic and tourist-related facts about the city of Post will be dedicated at 9:30 a. m. Friday, May 10, at the City-County Park, it has been announced by Mrs. A. C. Surman, chairman of the Garza County Historical Survey Committee.

Don't miss Saturday's Book Fair!

Attendance and participation in Saturday's Book Fair at the City-County Park by the "rest of us" is all that will amply repay the Friends of a Public Library and all the others taking an active part for their all-out efforts to make the Book Fair a big success.

Plans for the Book Fair were begun several weeks ago and have "snowballed" to the point where Saturday's event bids fair to be one of the most successful benefit affairs ever held in Post—weather permitting, of course.

Members of the Book Fair committee have been amazed at the response of women's clubs and other organizations to sponsor booths at the fair. Most of the organizations unable to sponsor booths because of lack of time or previous commitments have made cash donations to the project.

Smith vs. Yarborough on June 1

The Dispatch editorially predicted at the beginning of the current gubernatorial campaign that Preston Smith and Don Yarborough would meet in a June 1 runoff to determine which will be the Democratic nominee for governor.

At the beginning, The Dispatch also saw Smith going on to win that runoff and become the next Texas governor.

We still think so, but there are some interesting considerations involved.

True, Yarborough led Smith Saturday in the regular primary by almost 40,000 votes, but . . .

Actually, Yarborough, the liberal, while piling up 487,193 votes actually was favored by only 24 per cent of the record outpouring of Democrats who went to the polls.

Preston Smith with 369,996 votes gathered in between 21 and 23 per cent of the total vote. He is strictly a conservative.

So between them, the two runoff contenders actually got only 45 to 46 per cent of the Saturday vote—less than a majority. That means over half of the Democratic voters preferred neither when it came to picking in the 19-candidate field.

Now the question is who will get all the votes June 1 that were cast for somebody else Saturday?

On first glance, Smith stands to benefit the most. That is because the eight candidates who were eliminated Saturday were considered generally as conservatives. If they voted the same way June 1 and all swung to Smith, the lieutenant-governor would win by a virtual landslide.

But it won't work out exactly this way. First, the voting June 1 will be nowhere near the 1,692,000 vote record set Saturday because there will not be so many runoff elections at county, district, legislative, and congressional levels across the state to attract the voters to the polls.

The big draw June 1 is going to be Smith vs. Yarborough. This means that the size of the turnout is going to reflect the personal drawing

SUNDAY, MAY 12, is Mother's Day, and since there just isn't too much any of us can say for mothers, I am going to devote most of this week's column to tributes to them. First, Wanda Beal answers the question:

WHAT'S A MOTHER?

She's a compound of wondrous things—soft hands, a warm heart, tears of joy.

Mothers look different from other women. Their hair isn't always done in the latest style, and sometimes it isn't done at all. A mother's clothes sometimes smack of home-made, but she's proud of her thrift and her sewing ability.

A mother is a woman who can bake a cake with six other hands helping her, and still have it turn out fine.

Mothers' shoulders sometimes times smell of sour milk and if you are very observant, you'll note safety-pin holes in her clothes, even her Sunday best.

Mothers frequently have runs in their hose. Likely as not Junior didn't park his trike off the sidewalk.

A mother is different. She likes chicken wings and backs, things the kids and Daddy spurn. She never takes the last chop on the plate, and she always saves the candy from her tray at the club to bring home to the children.

A mother may not have ulcers, but she has versatile tears. They show anger, weariness, hurt or happiness. Once, when Daddy forgot an anniversary, Mother cried. One Saturday he brought home chocolates when it wasn't her birthday or anything, and she cried then, too.

Sometimes it's hard to know just what kind of tears a mother is weeping.

A mother is someone who can repair the kitchen sink—after Daddy has spent time, tools and expended not a few curs words.

A mother is a person who can change diapers all day, feed the baby at 2 a. m. and still share Daddy's delights when baby's first word is "da da."

A mother is put together of wondrous things—soft hands to caress a tired head, firm fingers to guide a growing child along the right path, and a warm breast to shield her little one against the world.

When a mother dies, she must face Him with her record of accomplishments. If she's been tops in caring for her children, she'll get the most sought-after position in heaven, that of rocking baby angels on soft white clouds, and wiping their celestial tears with the corner of her apron.

And Dr. W. Waldemar N. Argow wrote for Sunshine Magazine this—

GRATITUDE FOR MOTHER

I am grateful for the divine mystery of motherhood whereby a human soul is created and sent on its eternal pilgrimage.

I am grateful for the mother who bore me and built my life out of hers; who nourished me with her own body and walked to the brink of the grave that I might live.

I am grateful for the lonely nights when she wrestled with God, dreaming of the person she would have me be.

I am grateful for the warm bosom in which she hushed me to sleep; and for tender hands that caressed my cheeks.

I am grateful for the voiceless prayers, the unflinching solicitude that followed my childish waywardness, and her suffering that brought me back to the narrow path.

I am grateful for the nameless outpourings of love that have guided my steps through darkness to light, over high and low ways, over smooth and rough places, in sorrow and joy, in failure and success.

I am grateful for the golden memories that linger like a benediction, too sacred for utterance, too deep for analysis, too high for comprehension.

I am grateful for all the mothers of men, whether of flesh or spirit, whose divine mission the world forgets to praise, yet without whom life would have no loveliness.

I am grateful for the faith that in this universe there is abiding love of which these mothers of ours are the holiest revelation.

All Around Cowboy race gets tighter than ever

DENVER, Colo. — Only $79 separates the two leaders in the race for professional rodeo's coveted All Around Cowboy title. The title, which goes to the cowboy winning the most in two or more events during the year, was won by Larry Mahan, 24, Brooks, Ore., in 1966 and 1967. Mahan garnered a record $51,996 last year in saddle and bareback bronc riding and bull riding. He got off to a fast start in 1968, then fell off the pace. Iowa's Paul Mayo, 25, took the All Around lead in mid-February and in early March Mahan trailed by more than $1,000. It was the first time Mahan was not the leader in nearly two years. The Denver-based Rodeo Cowboys Association said today that Mahan entered four events at Seattle's Pacific Indoor Rodeo, which ended April 28, and collected cash in each.

He won the bareback bronc riding event, and $467, while Mayo placed second and pocketed $350. Mahan also placed fourth in bull riding, worth $133; was third in saddle bronc riding, taking $221; and in an event that is new to him this year, won $104 in calf roping. His total Seattle prize money of $293 increased his year's take to $11,318. Mayo's bareback bronc riding earnings brought his lead in the All Around race to $11,397. The RCA said total prize money at more than 500 rodeos approved by the association this year should exceed $3.6 million. Professional cowboy athletes have won nearly $47 million in the past 15 years.

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
I've been having the best time wandering around town and admiring the many attractive posters that members of the Post Art Guild have made to advertise the Library Book Fair. Perhaps "compelling" would be a better adjective than "attractive". Every time I see the word "food", I can hardly WAIT until 5 p.m. Saturday, May 11.

The most novel idea in displaying Fair posters comes from Markey Rasbury. The posters at her beauty shop are hung on the ceiling directly above each sink. For once there's something interesting to look at while getting your hair washed.

It's very seldom that one can combine a good time with a good cause, and I certainly intend to take full advantage of the Library Fair. Spend too much? That's O.K. It's for a good cause. Gain a few pounds? So what? It's for a good cause. No kidding, I LOVE good causes. Also I love good music, hot dogs, snowcones, popcorn, rides, splatter painting, bean-guessing, dominos, penny tosses, used toys, and Country Stores. How about you? (Say YES and BE THERE!)

Best of all, I love to throw darts. Frankly, I feel sorry for the Post Music Club because when I get through with them, they won't have one single balloon left. Tell you what I'll do — just to make the game a little more interesting — side bets accepted, double or nothing, and to even the odds, I'll even throw left-handed. (What? Oh, All Right, Helen, All Right, let the amateurs keep their grubby little pennies.)

Since Mrs. Cornish, Fair chairman, obviously doesn't want me hounding in on the dart-throwing, and Dr. Tubbs, county health officer, won't allow me to have a kissing booth unless I pass his health test first, I am at a loss as to what sort of concession to have for myself. Guess I'll just have to help Earl decorate the City-County Park. That should be wild.

Maybe I will have a SURPRISE booth. Does anyone have any good suggestions? If so, let me know.

Everybody, DO plan to come to the Fair—you'll love it too!

Found an interesting item in the suggestion box today:
Dear Rm.

Due to Preston Poole's book review on "Horse Tradin'" by Ben

K. Green, J. C. and I both read and thoroughly enjoyed it.
Jewel F. Steel

Judging from Jewel's letter and from other flattering comments that I've heard around town this week, the book reviews by Post Library patrons were a resounding success. We'll do our best to have more — it appears that the "arm twisting" was worth it!

TODAY'S REVIEW: "Jubilee"
by Margaret Walker. Reviewed by Mrs. Gladys Presson.
"Jubilee", a novel published in 1966, was written by Margaret Walker, a Negro woman, and is the true story of her own great-grandmother. Mrs. Walker is a graduate of Northwestern University, where she majored in English. At present she is teaching in Jackson, Miss.

"Vvry" was born in slavery, the daughter of her owner and master. Her mother, a handsome house servant, died early and left Vvry to fight her battles alone. Her close resemblance to her white half-sister, Lillian, did not help her in her relations with her mistress. Lillian's mother, nor in her daily life on the plantation, and there were many humiliations, and much unhappiness.

When freedom, much longed for, and long anticipated, did come, it was far different from what she had expected. The trials and hardships of Reconstruction times are told in detail and Vvry's long struggle for education and a better way of life for herself and her children, is an epic tale.

"Jubilee" has been called another "Gone With the Wind" from the Negro's point of view. Historically, it covers an important era in our history. And, it is not only interesting, but is well written from a literary standpoint.

Would you like to be popular, successful and admired? If so, write YOUR book review today. Copy may be turned in to me or dropped in the suggestion box at the library.

$6,130,750 FHA loan funds used in Lynn, Garza

A total of $6,130,750 in loan funds has been used in Lynn and Garza counties to support family farms since July 1, 1964. Billy H. Stewart, local supervisor for the rural credit agency said today. Approximately $1,894,720 was advanced in 1967.

Currently 216 rural families in Lynn and Garza counties are using the supervised credit services of the Farmers Home Administration.

The supply of FHA credit, which supplements the credit supplied by banks and other private credit sources is one of the measures recommended by President Johnson to provide family farmers an opportunity to earn parity of income.

New handbook on Medicare ready for distribution

Within the coming weeks, older people in Post will be receiving a new copy of "Your Medicare Handbook," a new up-to-date guidebook on their Medicare benefits, how the program works, and how payments are made.

John G. Hutton, social security district manager, said the new handbook highlights the changes enacted in the 1967 social security amendments, improving protection and simplifying Medicare procedures. It has also been made easier for older people to read and understand.

In developing the new edition of "Your Medicare Handbook," Hutton said, the SSA sought the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts in the field of communications and representatives of professional organizations.

Delivery of the new red, white, and blue edition to the 19.6 million Americans 65 and over will be completed over the next six weeks, Hutton said.

In an introductory letter on the inside front cover of the new handbook, Robert M. Ball, commissioner of Social Security, reminds older people: "If you need further information or want help concerning your Medicare protection or any other social security matters, please get in touch with your social security office. The people there are always glad to help you."

Mrs. Bob Olson was elected president of the Post Music Club at the Monday night meeting of the nationally federated club in the home of Mrs. Jerry Thuet with Mrs. Don Pennell as co-hostess.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. George Miller, Vice President; Mrs. Ray Moxley, secretary; Mrs. Dan Lamb, treasurer; Mrs. B. O. Jackson, historian; Mrs. Pennell, chorus director; Mrs. Thuet, chorus accompanist.

The meeting was opened with the hymn - of - the - month, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," and followed by the reading of the club collect.

The club voted to donate $37 to the community center and use its remaining funds to purchase needed music for the coming year. The club also voted to set up a balloon dart throw for the Library Book Fair which will be held this Saturday night.

The club has been asked to provide a musical program for the marker ceremony honoring Mrs. Marjorie Post, June 8. Mrs. Pennell will be in charge of securing music and musicians, including non-members of the club.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

"Is that right? Are you sure? Goodness me! I don't believe it. Aw. Ah. Oh, Swannee. My goodness. How many boxes are still out? Who's winning in the sheriff's race? You don't mean it! How about Precinct 3? Are you going to give the results on the radio? Why aren't all the boxes in? What did they do at Justiceburg? How's the governor's race coming?"

These are some of the questions and remarks one hears on election night at The Post Dispatch. It all gets pretty exciting down here with both phones ringing constantly. I'd never have made it Saturday night and retained my sanity if it hadn't been for Powell Shytle's dropping in and helping out. Mr. C stays at the courthouse waiting for the boxes to be brought in before calling me the results and with Editor Didway and Corky Ammons working at Box I as election officials, this leaves Mrs. C to handle the phone chore. Powell started dropping by a few years ago and usually shows up when I need him the worst. Thanks, Powell.

Even though we had the right answers before the boxes were all in, some people just wouldn't believe me when I told them that all the county incumbents had been re-elected. Even though Box I and Verbera weren't in as yet, Mr. C had checked the trend at Box I and explained to me that the election was all over but the shouting. A few diehards wouldn't accept this and kept calling back for complete results — which we happily furnished up until 11 o'clock. About that time I said "to heck with it" and locked up.

Delighted as I was to have the phone strike end it was fun (if one could get an answer) having long distance calls placed by executives instead of the same old dull routine by operators. I had to place a long distance call last Wednesday and though it wasted a lot of my time, it was at least fun. I got a male voice in Lubbock and gave him the number in Waco I was trying to reach. After much ringing and no results, he informed me he was going to go another route and would eventually get me through if it took all day.

He finally reached Waco and was answered by another male voice who immediately said: "Is that you, Lew?" "Yes, it's me and I had a fine time trying to get you." "Well, how are things out there in West Texas? Does the sand still blow?" asked the Waco man. "Oh, no," said Lew, "we don't have much of that anymore. That's a lie," said Mrs. C.

You must all pray for good weather this Saturday night. Just in case there is anyone in town that is not aware of it — those who live under ground — the library Book Fair will take place Saturday on the south side of the lake at the City-County Park. Excitement is running high as everyone attends to last minute details. We just moved inside as we will do Saturday night if necessary. Just be nice and pray for good weather as it will be so much more fun outdoors where a Fair belongs.

All of you men who don't intend to take your wife out to dinner on Mother's Day make up in advance for it by bringing her to the Book Fair and filling her up on hot dogs and Mexican food (we hope). See you there!

Grassland woman home from vacation in West and Hawaii

Mrs. E. A. Thomas of the Grassland community, returned last week from a three-week vacation which took her to Arizona, California and Hawaii.

Mrs. Thomas flew from Lubbock to Yuma, Ariz., to attend the golden wedding anniversary of a cousin, Mrs. W. L. Varner, and Mr. Varner the evening of April 13. The following Tuesday Mrs. Thomas and another cousin, Mrs. Pauline Hopper, flew to Los Angeles, where they boarded a plane for Hilo, Hawaii. They landed in the rain and were met by a tour guide who presented them with leis.

On the way from Hilo to Kona they passed an active volcano. After seeing the historical places of Kona they flew to Maui, the valley island where sugar cane is an important crop. At Kawai, they saw pineapples growing, and then went to Honolulu where they spent six days.

Among the highlights of Honolulu were a luau featuring Polynesian food, dinner at a Japanese tea garden, dinner at a show at the Polynesian Culture Center, a cruise to Pearl Harbor, and dinner at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

They sailed home on April 26 on the SS Lurline, the trip taking five days. They were met in Los Angeles by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas with relatives. Mrs. Thomas returned to Lubbock where she was met at the airport by Mrs. Hi Turner, Mrs. M. L. Thomas and Mrs. Eve Childs.

Mrs. Thomas said it was a wonderful trip but it will take a long time to realize just how much they saw and heard.

Former Postite gains honors for work in china painting

A former Postite has made her mark in the promotion of china painting and has been named to "Who's Who in American Women." She is Mrs. Ruth Little, who with her husband, Brack, an employee of Bryant-Link Co. in Post a number of years ago, now reside in Lubbock where Mr. Little has ready-to-wear stores in Lubbock and Hereford.

Mrs. Little, who visited in Post recently with Mrs. W. R. Graeber, has published two books entitled: "Painting China for Pleasure and Profit" and "Old Lamps and New". Both books are illustrated with color and black and white photographs.

The artist was featured in the state Federation of Porcelain Art Clubs magazine in the April edition. The editor, Martha Copp, said: "Ruth Little, one of our most faithful members, has been accepted for 'Who's Who in American Women' We are so proud of Ruth and all the many things she has done to promote china painting. Her books are so helpful to beginners and accomplished artists alike. Ruth studied with teachers in the United States, Vienna, Austria, and Munich, Germany. In her experiences in the art of painting, she has been so willing to share with others the fruits of her knowledge."

Former Post woman's husband inaugurated as college head

CHICKASHA, Okla. — Mrs. Robert L. Martin, wife of Dr. Martin, who recently was inaugurated as president of Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts, came in for her share of attention during the two days of special events planned in their honor.

The luncheon following the dedication was, in a sense of the word, dedicated to Mrs. Martin. Decorations, in keeping with her name, were daisies, the same flower being used in a hedge surrounding a fountain that centered the ballroom floor.

The luncheon was attended by the presidential party and the more than 150 delegates from colleges, universities and learned societies.

Dr. James E. Russell of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Educational Policies Commission was inaugural speaker.

Garza County Agent

COTTON PRODUCERS ADVISED ON PROPER SEEDING RATES

With the cotton planting season almost here, Garza County producers should give careful consideration to proper seeding rates.

Studies at the South Plains Research and Extension Center show that an optimum plant population ranges from 20,000 to 30,000 plants per acre on 40-inch rows.

A planting rate of 20 pounds of good quality acid delinted seed per acre will provide a sufficient number of plants. In fact, if every seed produced a plant, there would be more than enough plants required for maximum yields.

With an average of 4,000 seed per pound, a 20 - pound per acre planting rate could produce 80,000 plants. However, under actual field conditions about 60 per cent emergence may be considered. Therefore, the plant population would number about 48,000 per acre with a spacing of slightly more than three inches between plants. Under skip row conditions the planting rate may be increased by 10 to 20 per cent.

Farmers in the county sometimes use excess planting rates to compensate for possible adverse planting conditions or loss due to hail. Actually, this practice is rarely justified and would be of benefit only if hail took out 50 to 90 per cent of the seedlings.

Why this range of hail damage? With an initial population of 48,000 plants per acre, a hail destroying up to 50 per cent of the seedlings would leave 24,000 plants per acre, enough for maximum yields. On the other hand, if hail damage of 90 per cent or more occurs, replanting would be necessary even if a planting rate of 40 pounds were used.

Often stands are replanted which should be left, it's always best, if possible, to leave that early first stand. Replanting in June places the boll maturation period in an unfavorable environment for producing high quality fiber. An early crop, even with a reduced stand of a plant every six to eight inches, will usually make the producer more profit in quality lint than thicker stands of replanted, later maturing cotton. As hail damage occurs later in the season, the decision on whether or not to replant becomes more critical.

Excessive planting rates may cause more problems than they solve. Seedling disease is usually greater with high planting rates. This is particularly true if higher rates are used to compensate for poor quality seed.

Furthermore, high plant populations will result in taller plants with higher set bolls which delay maturity and contribute to lower micronaire fiber. Equally import-

Burlington shows record sales for March quarter

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Burlington Industries, Inc., today reported record consolidated net sales of $400,144,000 for the quarter ended March 30, 1968, compared to sales of $337,060,000 for the same period last year.

Net earnings for the quarter were $20,483,000, equal to 81 cents per share on 25,322,000 shares outstanding at March 30. For the comparable quarter last year, net earnings were $12,895,000 or 51 cents per share. Earnings are based on current Federal income tax rates.

For the six months ended March 30, net sales were $791,860,000 and net earnings were $40,515,000 or $1.60 per share. In the comparable six months last year sales totaled $674,760,000 and earnings were $29,041,000 or $1.15 per share.

Charles F. Myers Jr., chairman and chief executive of the leading textile firm, said that the high level of March quarter operations attained by most divisions of the Company is continuing in the current quarter.

The Board of Directors, meeting in New York today, declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share, payable June 1, 1968 to shareholders of record at the close of business May 10, 1968.

New post-emergence weed control available to sorghum growers

CHICAGO — A new herbicide for sorghum, that overcomes many of the serious disadvantages of present day weed control methods, has just been announced by Velsicol Chemical Corporation.

Banvel herbicide is absorbed by weeds and penetrates down through the plant to the roots. Pigweed (carelessweed), one of the worst weeds confronting sorghum growers is controlled with one application, as is sunflower, lambsquarter, purslane, annual morning glory, and other annual broadleaf weeds.

Presently, pre-emergence herbicides are used locally and put on before weeds appear. Since every year is not a weedy year, these pre-emergence herbicides are often wasted in dryer, non-weedy years. One of the important advantages of Banvel is that it does not have to be applied until the weed problem appears. This saves wasted material and labor.

Another fact is that many new varieties with improved fiber quality are less tolerant to high plant populations than the familiar rapid fruiting varieties grown in the past years.

A MOTHER'S SECRETS

Mothers have secrets that they keep for their children... like the present Rick plans to give Dad on his birthday.

But mothers also have secrets of their own... dreams of what they hope their children will become.

And woven into the fabric of every mother's dream are threads of character, morality, courage, faith. The threads are there, but unseen—simply part of the finished design; a son or daughter to be proud of.

But in such dreams we should study the threads and realize the loom on which they must be woven. The qualities that give strength and beauty to a life come from thorough religious training!

So a mother's dream should not remain a secret. It must be her husband's dream, too. For together, with the guidance and help of the Church, they can provide the Christian home so necessary to the fulfillment of their hopes.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Post Public School News

The Post (Texas) Dispatch Thursday, May 9, 1968 Page 7

Future of graduates foretold by prophecy

The Seniors of the Post Public School, which appears in the Senior banquet, really quite stunned. I thought she was going to teach band at some high school, but instead I guess she really was made for the Salvation Army Band.

The next thing I saw nearly shocked me to death. Guess who I saw coming out of a barber shop? James McKenzie. He looked great with his crew cut. That was a shocker but the real one came when I saw whose barber shop it was — Larry Rosas'. He must have flipped his wig!

The next thing I had to do was to burst in on a meeting to see Annie Bell. She seemed quite happy at the moment. She had just been elected president of the Metrecal for Lunch Bunch!

Then I had the real pleasure of seeing our own star mile runner, Pete Morales, at the Olympics. The funny thing was that he was running around up in the stands among the people shouting. As best as I could make out he was saying, "Peanuts, Popcorn, or Crackerjacks!"

Well it seems that Teresa Maddox and I finally got through our beauty courses and we went all the way to the top in just a short while. We are the hairdressers of two of the most sought after movie stars in Hollywood. Teresa does Lassie's hair and I get to style Gentle Ben's!

Next, I just happened to find D'Wayne and Nedra Gannon, the former Miss Nedra Childs, in D'Wayne's office. Seems like Nedra is D'Wayne's private secretary. Seems like D'Wayne had everything in hand. Every order he gave Nedra answered with "Yes, D'Wayne dear. Right away, D'Wayne dear." Well I must tell you that I couldn't believe my ears so I waited around until they went home. Then was it ever a different story. There D'Wayne was, apron around waist, a baby in one arm and a frying pan in the other, all the time saying, "Yes, Nedra dear, of course Nedra dear, just as soon as I change the baby's diaper, Nedra dear." Good old Nedra hasn't lost her touch!

Now I came upon a very touching scene. I saw Gaylon Hutto pacing the floor, smoking cigarette after cigarette, in some waiting room. Well you can imagine what I thought, but I was wrong. Sheri had just ran into a tree in Gaylon's new car and he was waiting to hear how much the repairs were going to cost him.

Well I finally made it back to the states and the first person I ran into was Gary Young. He has opened his own men's shop and is doing very well. I wasn't at all surprised to find that the only thing he sold was "Bever Coats."

Adrienne Cook and Jane Hutchins are still going to all the Army football games. But when I saw them Army was playing Navy and they were yelling for Navy. Could be somebody has been fighting.

I figured Danny Cooper would be the one to specialize in one particular field and I guessed he probably would be the only one to stay in Post. Well he did and he's now employed at Post High School as the only person who can sign the absentee slips.

Charles Harper II has opened up his own magazine stand and it looks to be doing pretty well. The only thing I didn't understand was that he kept handing the magazines out from under the counter.

James McGuire and Wiley Miller are still sharing the same room although it has bars on the windows. Will those boys ever learn to stay at home on Saturday night?

Isabell Valdez hasn't changed one little bit. She's still changing her hair color every day and has developed a new hair color that will do just that.

I found Nick Pantoja in the funniest place on my little trip. He's working in a glue factory. But, I don't think he's washing his hands after he gets off from work.

Miriam Smith has become the singer of her graduating class. I learned that she just put out a new record named "Georgy Girl."

Irene Saldivar is still the same old reckless driver she always was but I think maybe that she is trying to get out of the habit of running over people. I saw her go into the U. S. Senate and I just naturally figured she was trying to get something done to the bad roads. Well, she was trying to get something done all right, she was photographer for Playboy. He was always taking pictures in school. The real reason he didn't get the job was because he didn't own a camera.

Later on, I ran across our two movie stars in the class. Natha Jo Mears and Zelika Freeman finally made it to the big time. They both have their own television series about Natha Jo's favorite hobby and Zelika's dream. Natha Jo always loved to ride horses and now she's doing it all the time—the name of her show is "The Tales of Natha Jo." Zelika always wanted to be an airline stewardess, but I guess you might say she is doing the next best thing. The name of her series is "The Flying Nun!"

The next time I looked down, I was right over deepest, darkest Africa and you'll never believe who I saw there. Side by side in their own little hospital I found Patsy Pierce and Ronnie Petty. Patsy didn't look too happy but maybe that was due to the fact that she was holding her nose emptying bed pan after bed pan. Ronnie never could stand the quiet so I was real surprised to see him running around in his doctor's white with a black magic marker marking out all the "Keep Quiet" signs all over the hospital.

Post Band—

The band left Post last Thursday morning in two school buses, with the trip mainly financed by money the band had raised itself. Trip sponsors were the Rev. and Mrs. Curtis Lee, Mrs. Geraldine Butler, Mrs. Bertha Irons, Mrs. Maxine Cummings, Mrs. Georgi Lee Davies and Howard Freeman.

The band and its sponsors stayed in two motels at Kingfisher, Okla., traveling back and forth between there and Enid.

The conduct of the band members was exemplary in all respects, according to the band director.

"I have been teaching five years and have never been associated with any group of youngsters that are more willing and want to do well than these kids," Mr. Germer said. "I believe it is a credit to Post and the school system to have produced such a fine group of teen-agers."

Post youth saved from drowning

A drowning was narrowly averted at the White River Lake Sunday afternoon.

Four boys pulled unconscious David Sellers, 15, of Post from the lake after he had "gone under for the fifth time" some 50 feet off shore.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sollars, was rushed to the Crosbyton Clinic Hospital after he was given artificial respiration at the scene.

Little League roundup

Yankees going strong with three victories

Post's Little League is echoing the cry heard in the American League a few years ago—"How are we going to stop the Yankees?"

The Yankees, sponsored by Post-Mills and managed by Richard Dudley, have scored a total of 67 runs in winning their first three games and taking over the top spot in Little League standings.

Monday night, the Yanks clobbered the Tigers, 32 to 5, in a game cut to four innings because of the 15-run lead rule.

The Yankees scored 12 runs in the first and third innings, six in the second and two in the fourth, while holding the losers to a single run in the third and four in the fourth.

Ronnie Ammons was the winning pitcher, yielding but four hits, two of them by Graydon Johnston. The Yankees raked starter Donnie Hair, Johnston and Steve Hays for 15 hits, with Jay Pollard getting four of them and Jackie Blacklock three. Pollard and Ray Basinger homered for the winners.

In the second game, the Wildcats edged the Cardinals, 3-2, with John Redman besting Tony Conner in a pitchers' duel. Conner's single was the only hit off Redman, while the losing pitcher was almost as effective, giving up only three hits — singles by Wesley Redman, Robert Slatter and Kelvin Adkinson.

Redman fanned 11 batters and Conner wiffed 10.

Saturday night, the Yankees downed the Dodgers, 16-1, with Garland Dudley the winning pitcher and Jackie Jennings the loser. Dudley limited the Dodgers to three hits — singles by Bryan Poer, Randy Babb and Bill Dixon. The winners got only five hits off Jennings, one of them a home run blast by Jay Pollard.

The Wildcats slammed the Cards, 15-7, Saturday night, with Redman hurling the win and Augustine Cerda charged with the loss. Redman, who gave up only four hits, aided his own cause with a pair of home runs.

The Tigers drubbed the Red Sox, 17 to 7, in a four - inning game last Thursday night, with G. Johnson the winning pitcher and Rodney King the loser. The losers' only hits off Johnson were singles by Charles Clanton, King and Dempsey Zachary. The Tigers collected five hits.

In Thursday's first game, the Yankees outlasted the defending champion Cardinals, 19 to 15, with Ronnie Ammons the winning pitcher and Carl Holder the loser. The Yankees got 12 hits, with Basinger and Garland Dudley getting three apiece, while the Cards collected nine, with Mark Terry getting three of them.

Joe's mother will be remembered as the former Miss Almata King, a graduate of Post High School.

Teen-age club is in Connie Mack League

Post will have a teen-age baseball team this summer for boys from 16 to 18 years of age, Pat N. Walker, who will manage the team, said today.

This season the team will not be affiliated with the Texas Teen-Age League, but will be in the Connie Mack League, which also includes Wilson, New Home and Taboka.

The newly - elected directors for the Post team said the Connie Mack League affiliation is a better alignment for Post, in that it reduces travel expense and hazards. It is also felt that the Connie Mack League can help build a better rivalry among these four neighboring towns than there would have been in the old teen-age league alignment.

Practice began April 29 for the Post team, with league play scheduled to open June 6. Walker said

State track meet

Miler, shot putter win second places

Norman Tanner placed second in the shot put and Peter Morales second in the mile run at the state track and field meet in Austin last weekend to give Post High School 16 points and an eighth place tie with Bellville in the Class AA division team standings.

Tanner missed the first place shot put medal by less than five inches with his best effort of the season, a 55-1 1/2 heave. Jimmy Ashby of Anahuac won the event with a throw of 55-6 1/4, and Jesse Williams of Brownsboro was third with a 54-8 effort.

Morales, who was last year's Class AA state mile champion, lost at Austin Saturday to Paul Chandler of Cameron on a track made slow by a Friday night rain that forced postponement of the event until Saturday.

Morales kept the lead for three laps, but the Cameron miler won the race in the home stretch with a time of 4:23.2. Morale's time was 4:25.3.

The two Post High trackmen made the best showing of any District 4AA athletics in the state meet. Dwayne Young of Denver City placed third in the 440-yard dash. Calvin Lockett of Midland

Carver came in fifth in the 880-yard run and David Avery of Stanton was sixth in the broad jump.

Others from Post who attended the state meet included track coach Waco Reynolds, coaches Glynn Gregg and Billy Hahan, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Windham, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Morales and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Tanner.

STRICTLY SOUTHERN by H. H. HAMBON

THE EXPRESSION "FAIR-TO-MIDDLIN'" ORIGINATED IN THE OLD SOUTH WITH THE EARLY GRADING OF COTTON. COTTON WAS GRADED FROM THE "FAIR" QUALITY, TO THE BETTER "MIDDLIN'" VARIETY.

BEFORE THE CIVIL WAR, SOUTHERN BELLES WERE SUPPOSED TO ACCEPT HOSPITALITY ONLY UP TO A CERTAIN POINT; THEY POLITELY ACCEPTED BARBECUE OR DINNER INVITATIONS, BUT ATE A MEAL BEFORE THE EVENT, SO THEY'D SEEM TO BE FAINTY EATERS!

TODAY, SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY IS THE ONLY WAY A NORTHERNER CAN GET A TASTE OF 'KEBEL VELL' BOURBON WHISKEY! THE DISTILLERS REFUSE TO SELL THEIR BRAND ABOVE THE MASON-DIXON LINE, PREFERRING TO CATER EXCLUSIVELY TO SOUTHERN TASTES!

Vietnam View

as reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by
GySgt. Bob Montgomery

Hgo Dinh Chi used to be a Viet Cong tax collector. Now he's the newly elected chief of a hamlet growing on the white sands of Red Beach, north of Da Nang.

Residents of the hamlet find nothing unusual about having a former VC as their chief, because not so long ago, they were also Viet Cong or VC sympathizers. Now they are building a new life as the followers of the Republic of Vietnam government in Hoa Khanh, a Chieu Hoi (Open Arms) hamlet.

Since opening in December 1967, the hamlet has become the home of over 100 Chieu Hoi families. Granted amnesty by the RVN government, they are coming to the hamlet from all corners of Quang Nam province.

With money given them by the government and with the aid of the Civil Affairs section of the nearby Force Logistic Command, they are building houses, finding jobs, and becoming responsible citizens.

The people represent a cross-section of the Viet Cong military and guerrilla infrastructure. Some were VC hamlet chiefs while others had lesser jobs. One admits carrying a captured M-14 rifle and taking part in several fire fights against Marine patrols.

One of the biggest problems faced by the returnees is finding work. The impact of large numbers of ralliers on a small farming community makes it difficult. Some Hoi Chanh (individuals) have been given jobs with Armed Propaganda Teams (APT) trying to persuade the families of known VC to cooperate with the South Vietnamese government.

While all cannot work with the APT units, many are given jobs by the U. S. military.

"When there is a job opening at Camp Books, I always give the Hoi Chanh priority," said Capt. P. R. Caldwell, PLC Industrial Relations Officer. "These people have come to us on their own and I feel they deserve every opportunity to prove themselves."

Recently, a nearby Seabee unit built a medical aid station and conducts a clinic three times a week. Helping the corpsmen are two former VC medics.

Since the Chieu Hoi program began in 1963, less than one per cent of the ralliers have changed their minds and gone back to the Viet Cong.

In the near future, with the help of FLC civil affairs specialists, the hamlet is to get a school for the hamlet's 144 school-age children.

The butt-plate of the old M-14 rifle used to insure Marine's accuracy. Recently, a walking "Butt-plate" saved three U. S. Marines from walking into a Viet Cong ambush.

Butt-plate is a year-old mutt belonging to the Marines of Combined Action Platoon Hotel-5.

Earlier this month, Butt-plate sniffed danger as his Marines walked a night patrol. Lance Cpl. Michael A. Wonn, 21, Whitehall, Mich., said he and two other Marines paused briefly on a trail, when Butt-plate started barking. Wonn said he and the others quickly took cover.

"Butt-plate barked once like he had been kicked. We fired in that direction and the VC fired back," Wonn continued. "They were probably waiting in ambush, but Butt-plate gave them away."

After initial firing, the Viet Cong broke contact and fled.

It's a rare occurrence when a Marine is shot in the back, then casually plucks out the bullet and nonchalantly strolls away.

That's exactly what happened when Cpl. Jeff Ault was struck by a ricocheting round in Hue.

Ault and another Marine, both combat correspondents with the 1st Marine Division, were walking to the Hue press center when a firefight broke out near the city's stadium, a half-mile away.

Suddenly something whirred through the air and hit Ault in the back.

Several Vietnamese kids were on the sidewalk playing with slingshots and Ault, jarred forward by the impact, suspected the laughing children.

"I thought one of the kids had hit me with a rock or something," he said, "as the children kept laughing."

The other Marine noticed a small hole in the back of Ault's shirt and told him. Impulsively, Ault reached over his shoulder. When he found the hole, the correspondent plucked out an AK-47 automatic rifle round that had struck his back.

For the first time the children cringed. Ault held up the bullet and laughed as half the youngsters gasped and the others took off running.

Presents winning paper in contest

Mrs. Janice O. Grape, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Pierce of Post, chief therapy technician at Holy Cross Hospital at Austin, has won the first place Award of Merit in a statewide scientific paper contest sponsored by the Texas Society of X-ray Technicians.

For her winning paper, which was open to all members and students of the organization, Mrs. Grape was presented with a trophy, a certificate of award and a $50 check.

Mrs. Grape presented her paper, "Cancer Therapy on Long Distance Lines," at the Society's annual meeting in Dallas last month.

In it she describes how Austin's Holy Cross Hospital makes use of a computer at Houston's Baylor University College of Medicine. The system is the first to be used in patient treatment anywhere in the world and has been in successful operation since last November.

Mrs. Grape, a recent bride, is a graduate of Terrell's Laboratory School of X-ray, Fort Worth, and is a registered radiological technologist.

Justiceburg folks are visited in hospital

By FRAN McWHIRT

It is time for writing the year again and I'm completely well. The primary is over and all the boys are happy with the outcome of the election. The Little League ball games have been playing baseball evening and they are playing Saturday evening and your correspondent had to be in the hospital again Thursday for more x-rays and I came out Saturday at noon. I'm so glad to be out of the hospital.

At the time of this writing Mrs. E. Robinson, a patient at West Texas Hospital, was reported as being any good at all. Also, Mrs. Reed was real bad Friday at the Fernie Reeds, Weldon and Mrs. Lee Reed and Barbara and family were with him. But he is a little better. They also visited with the Johnson who has under-back surgery.

Bill Smith visited in Post Saturday with his niece, Mrs. Travis and family and his sister, Mrs. Kate Samples, who is visiting her daughter.

Dr. E. C. Franklins spent the weekend at their cabin at Cloudcroft, N. M.

The Jack Ainsworths left Saturday for California. They are returning to their home in Hawaii after a month's visit in the states with relatives.

The Weldon Reeds were dinner guests of the Carlos Bass family Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller and children were Wednesday dinner guests of the Douglas McWhirts. The Millers were celebrating their 18th wedding anniversary.

Those holding the election at the school house were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Key, Mrs. Pearl Ainsworth, Mrs. Bandy Cash and Mrs. Bud McLaurin.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pettigrew of Brownfield and Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Morgan of Slaton visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pettigrew, during the weekend.

Mrs. Winnie Tuffing left Saturday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Larry Kline, and children in Lancaster, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Miller and Jenny and Clyde Miller of Fluvanna were weekend visitors in El Paso.

Grassland home saved from blaze in attic

By MARY LEE LAWS

Here we are once again, don't know whether you'd call Monday a spring day or not but here in West Texas the wind and sand isn't too uncommon.

Looks like we have several people in our community that are sick and in the hospital. I'll start with Artie Young, who is in the Post hospital, with pneumonia. She entered the hospital Monday and is still there at the time of this writing.

Rockey Gribble underwent eye surgery a week ago Tuesday in Dallas Presbyterian Hospital. The Leonard Gribbles had a call after the surgery and it was successful. Later in the week they had a letter from H. C. and Micki. Rocky is doing fine but they haven't let him up and move around. They don't know when they will be at home. Rockey's address is 8200 Walnut Hill Lane, 6th floor, room 633, Presbyterian Hospital, Dallas, Tex. 75231.

Ruel Smith is still in West Texas Hospital since undergoing major surgery April 29. He is in room 604 and seem to be in good spirits and looking lots better. He, too, doesn't know when he'll be home.

Granny Ramsey fell a week ago Monday and was taken to Tahoka Clinic by ambulance. They took x-rays but she suffered no broken bones — just was real sore for several days. She is now in Lavoy Nursing Home, being admitted on Saturday.

MRS. C. M. Greer's house caught on fire a week ago Tuesday afternoon. It didn't burn down but the fire in the attic did lots of damage and the water damage was real bad too. Thanks to the Grassland people and the Tahoka Fire have been a total loss without them.

Chip and Aleta Parks of Odessa have been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harrison, for a few days. They went home Friday.

Mrs. C. C. Jones has the most beautiful garden of iris. She has around six or seven hundred different varieties. Several people have toured the garden — too many to mention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dubose of Brownfield stopped by on the way home from Mineral Wells last week and visited the W. G. McCleskeys.

Ruth Ingle ate dinner Friday with Mary Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bush visited Artie Young in the Hospital last Wednesday. Mrs. J. B. Ray and Mrs. Evie Mason also visited her.

Mrs. Amos Gerner visited her mother, Mrs. O. F. Haley, in the nursing home Sunday and took her for a drive. They visited awhile with Ruby Claborn.

The Bill Ingles visited the Dean Laws Saturday night.

Jerry Turner of Perryton visited Jerry Gerner over the weekend. They visited in Snyder Sunday afternoon with relatives.

Visitors and Sunday dinner guests of the Tom Murrays were Mr. and Mrs. Hulan Murray and children of Lamesa. Mr. and Mrs. James Murray and children and the Bert McDonald family.

Dart tranquilizer halts 15 canines

Mrs. Liddie Timmons and family and Glen Savage of Andrews were weekend guests of the Bill Mizes.

Ben Miller went to Odessa over the weekend to visit the Vaughn Harrises and the Sam Dillards.

The Justiceburg Women's Club met Friday at 2 p. m. to plan the end-of-school picnic. Those attending were Mrs. Riley Miller, Mrs. John Boren and Mrs. Bill Mize.

Mrs. Lee Reed was in Slaton Friday night to see her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks and to visit another brother and family, the Lester Brooks of Iowa Park.

Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blacklock were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blacklock and children of Spur, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Daniels of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blacklock and Gregg of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blacklock of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Blacklock and children of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Blacklock and Larry of Post and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seward and children of Waco.

The new dart tranquilizer gun recently purchased by the police department has been used in the capture of 15 stray dogs, Police Chief Bill Gordon reported to the city council at its meeting Monday night.

The gun was purchased to use on dogs the policemen are unable to catch on foot.

The police chief also reported that 30 dog calls were received by the police department during April, 30 dogs put in the pound, sev-troyed, and a total of 37 animals en sick dogs picked up and destroyed.

Two dog bite cases were reported during the month and two dogs are still in the pound, Chief Gordon told the city council.

The paper shirt collar was invented in the United States by Hunt in 1854.

Joe Basinger is sixth in state high jump

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE
Hello there. It is Monday again and I have only collected a few items of news! How about you? Haven't you done anything interesting, been anywhere, seen anything unusual? If so, please call me so I can put it in Our Column!

COACH AND MRS. Bob Dyess, Joe Basinger and Bill Bevers left last Thursday morning for Austin where Joe and Bill participated in the state track meet. Joe placed 6th in high jump. Mrs. Clarence Basinger, Mrs. Sam Ellis and Miss Joni McNeely of Tahoka and a son went to Austin for the event. They returned Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klaus returned last week from a trip to Bay City, Sealy and Elgin, where they visited relatives and friends. They enjoyed the bluebonnets and other wild flowers and the trees and grass which were so green this year due to a large amount of rain. While they were gone, they attended the funeral of a sister-in-law of Mr. Klaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Royall Pinnell of Midquite spent Sunday night with the Donald Pennells on their way to the annual Pinnell - Pennell reunion in Bakersfield, Calif. which will be held Saturday.
